

Attorney to rule on zoning change

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

A group of citizens opposed to duplexes being built in their Fifteenth Street neighborhood must wait for a ruling by Earnest Langley, city attorney, who is out of town the first part of this week.

Langley's legal expertise is needed as a result of an inconclusive zoning change request vote Monday night. Hereford City Commissioners, by a 3-1 margin, vowed most of the block north of Fifteenth between Blackfoot Avenue and Avenue F would not be rezoned to "B-Two Family Dwelling."

According to a local ordinance, however, overruling a zoning commission's change request requires support from at least 75 percent of the entire commission. Monday evening, Mayor Wes Fisher was absent, meaning the three votes against the proposed zoning alteration represented just 60 percent of the governing body.

Dudley Bayne, city manager,

Group opposes proposal

brought up the ordinance and claimed neither the zoning nor city commission could consider the particular request again. It was up to Langley to determine whether the zone change should be allowed, said Bayne, who expected a ruling might be made by Friday.

According to Bayne, the zoning commission unanimously opted for the change at its Aug. 28 gathering. It was felt, he said, duplexes represented a logical use of the land.

Specifically, the zoning commission recommended the rectangular area - not quite one entire block - be altered from "A-Family Dwelling" to the "B" classification.

A former member of the zoning board, Joe Reinauer was the only city commissioner Monday to vote against an overruling. He was taken off the zoning commission prior to its

Aug. 28 meeting, Bayne said, since he had just joined the city board.

Commissioner Emory Brownlow seemed unconvinced the proposed zoning change could be effected. "I just can't see how it could be rezoned without a motion," he commented.

About 15 people showed up at Monday's meeting in opposition to the zoning change request. Tony Edwards was selected as their impromptu spokesman.

"I think it's the general consensus of everyone on that block," Edwards said, "that the duplex situation just doesn't turn us on."

Housing depreciation is a major concern of those in the affected neighborhood, he explained. "If you've got an $80,000 house now," Edwards said, retaining that value is an understandable goal.

"I think it would kind of hitting us below the belt to put duplexes on Fifteenth Street," Harold Finch said. Though admitting he owns duplexes and "people must have places to live," he said he was "really against" the zoning change proposal.

As the 30-minute discussion neared its end, Edwards made it clear his group thought the city commission was to have the final say in the matter, but it now appeared it was entirely up to Langley.

In other commission business, it was agreed bids are to be let for two health department trucks and 25 trash containers.

Also, an ordinance was passed allowing trains to travel 45 miles per hour through town. That speed limit had been approved on a trial basis in 1975 by the commission, which failed until Monday to follow up on the matter.

"It's not bothering anything," Bayne said about the increased speed limit. "It's worked out."

The next regularly-scheduled meeting of the city governing body is 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 1 in City Hall.

Soviets to release five U.S. sailors

By ALISON SMALE
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — A U.S. Embassy spokesman said today that the Soviet Union soon will release five American sailors who were seized at sea last week and detained in eastern Siberia.

He said an embassy official met Soviet officials and were told "that z e sailors and their ship were going to be released and that the details were being worked out. We were not given a specific time, but we were told that they would be released."

The spokesman, who spoke on condition he not be identified, added, "My understanding was that it would be sooner rather than later."

Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, said in Washington in a telephone interview, "We believe they'll be released within the next 24 hours."

The skipper of the crew said by telephone from Siberia earlier today that their ship had been boarded by armed Soviet soldiers off the coast of Siberia and towed into a Siberian port.

He urged people back home "to continue to pray" for their release.

In another conversation, the skipper said the crewmen had explained

"many, many, many times" that they did not deliberately violate Soviet territory, but Soviet authorities were "not satisfied."

Capt. Tabb Thoms, 45, told The Associated Press in a telephone call placed from Moscow to the crew's place of detention in Urelik that he and four crewmembers detained since Wednesday were well but have been told nothing about when they might get home.

"We were on our way to an island," Thoms said when asked to describe how his vessel, the 120-foot supply ship Frieda K, was seized.

"We neared a gray ship to obtain local knowledge of any danger. We were boarded by many soldiers carrying guns and were later towed by another battleship. Hours later they came and towed us to where we are."

"They say we violated a Soviet boundary," the skipper said. Thoms said Monday when contacted by Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, that the Soviets want the crew to sign papers acknowledging they intentionally ventured into Soviet waters.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow said Monday the five sailors, all from Homer, Alaska, were at a hotel in the town of Urelik on the Bay of Providence, across the Bering Strait from Alaska. But Thoms said today that it appeared to be a "military installation."

The embassy said that it also talked with one of the sailors and was assured that all were "safe and well."

"The embassy is now attempting to secure the release of the five crewmen and their safe passage home," said embassy spokesman Mark Smith.

In the United States, the other four crewmen were identified by the U.S. Coast Guard as Tate Thoms, Mark Halpin, Robert Miller and Charles Burrall.

Thoms told Stevens that they were taken into custody in the narrow strait between the islands of Big Diomedea, a Soviet possession, and Little Diomedea, part of the United States.

"They want us to sign many papers saying that we have intentionally and knowingly violated the Soviet border. This is not true," Thoms said.

"Don't tell them you did something that you know you didn't do. That

Shotgun not found in lake

Authorities have determined that the large-calibre shotgun they believe was used to murder an Olton man was not dropped into a Hereford lake by the man accused in the slaying.

Police scuba divers from Amarillo searched the small lake near Avenue C and 15th Street for most of the weekend after 27-year-old Johnny Ramirez of Hereford told them it could be found there. The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department will now look elsewhere for the gun used to kill Gerardo Jasso Guzman, 40, whose body was found Thursday afternoon in his car parked north of Umbarger.

Ramirez, of 328 Avenue C, was traced to the murder by investigators from Potter and Randall counties. They turned the case over to Deaf Smith County after learning that the murder probably took place at Ramirez' trailer house.

The suspect was arraigned on murder charges Friday before Justice of the Peace O.K. Neal and Ramirez remains in jail on $35,000 bond.

An autopsy report revealed that Guzman, whose body was found in the back seat of his car four miles north of Umbarger on Farm Road 186, was shot several times in the head and upper body.

Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul said the case will be considered when the grand jury meets on Oct. 9.

Aikman open house slated

The Aikman School PTO is planning an open house and program Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

The business meeting will be held first, during which PTO memberships will be stressed and this year's officers introduced. Sign-up for PTO will be held during the open house. Memberships are $1 per couple or 50 cents a person.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Joan Latham, is the musical story of Cinderella. Third grade students will perform.

The PTO will have two additional meetings this year, on Nov. 15 and March 5.

Drive contributions told

The United Way campaign got underway in Deaf Smith County last week with $14,054 in contributions and pledges being recorded, it was announced at the first reporting session Monday.

Wayne Amstutz, executive director, said the general division, headed by Carol Legate and Terri Hutson, had the best start, reaching 38 percent of its goal during the first week.

The agriculture division, led by John Fuston and Harold Easley, brought in 25 percent of its goal in the beginning week. The total UW goal for this year is $128,150.

James Self, president, and E.J. Gilliland, campaign chairman, are optimistic about reaching the goal this year. The drive is scheduled to end Oct. 31.

Inmate tries suicide to avoid prison stay

A Deaf Smith County jail inmate facing a revocation of probation hearing attempted suicide Monday, telling authorities he would rather die than go to the Texas Department of Corrections.

"Little" Joe Enriquez, 21, who used the disposable razor in his hygiene kit to cut his own throat, did not seriously injure himself. Jail Administrator David Castillo said Enriquez told doctors at Deaf Smith General Hospital "he would know where the vein was," next time.

Enriquez had been taken by ambulance to the hospital emergency room at about 1:40 Monday afternoon.

The incident was reported to jailers by another inmate, who used the jail's intercom system. Castillo said Enriquez told him he was going to be sent to TDC for three years and "just couldn't take it anymore."

A spokesman for DSGH said Enriquez suffered "a small laceration to the throat" which required a few stitches. Enriquez was returned to jail and placed in a segregated area.

Enriquez was arrested by Hereford Police Aug. 27 for driving while intoxicated, driving while license suspended, evading arrest and violation of probation. Persons accused of violating the terms of their probation are not eligible for bond.

Deaf Smith County Criminal District Attorney Roland Saul said Enriquez was convicted of criminal mischief in 1980 and given three year's probation. He violated probation in 1983, shortly before his term would have ended, and the probation was extended another three years.

Saul said Enriquez' probation revocation hearing is set for Wednesday in 222nd District Court.

Landlords liable when smoke alarms absent

By KIMBERLEY THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

Hereford Fire Marshal Jay Spain is not allowed by law to check rental units for smoke alarms.

"But," he said, "if there is a fire, and we find there was no smoke alarm, the landlord is liable."

The owner's responsibility results from House Bill 2046, a 1981 state law that gave all rental property owners until Sept. 1 of this year to install smoke alarms in their houses and apartments. All new rental units built since Sept. 1 of 1981 should have been equipped with alarms when they were constructed.

Although it is up to the landlord to install the warning devices and check them between tenants, the tenant has the responsibility for keeping fresh batteries in the smoke alarm. Spain suggested new batteries be put in at least once a year.

An alarm should be located near the bedrooms of a home, and Spain

According to state law

said it is a good idea to put another near the kitchen or utility room. "For most three-bedroom homes, two alarms will be sufficient," he claimed.

Spain said the fire department is available to make home visits, upon request, to suggest the best places to put the alarms or to help with installation.

Violation of the law is a Class B misdemeanor. Property owners who ignore the law could face a fine of up to $1,000 a jail sentence of up to 180 days or both.

Spain guessed about half the rental units in Hereford do not have working smoke alarms. A tenant whose landlord will not provide a smoke detector can complain to the district attorney's office.

This One Works

Because a smoke alarm is only as good as its batteries, the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department suggests periodic efficiency checks. A lighted cigarette will trigger the alarm if it is working properly, as demonstrated by fire department maintenance man Steve Cortez.

Protests bring about civic pride

WILMER, Texas (AP) — Seven protestors who have led a rallying cry against the dumping of lead-contaminated soil are proving to be the spark that is pumping civic pride into this small Dallas suburb. They're an unlikely group, a preacher, a computer technician, three homemakers, a bookkeeper and an insurance clerk. And they have been dubbed the "Wilmer 7."

"There has never been any community spirit in this town until now," said the Rev. Byron Barnes, group leader. "Maybe this is what the community needed to bring it together."

The seven were arrested Sept. 10 after blocking the path into a private landfill when trucks carrying lead-contaminated soil from a Dallas lead smelter tried to enter.

The city of Dallas removed the soil from the smelter and decided to dump it at the Wilmer site, a move the protesters said would contaminate their water, but that Dallas County health officials declared safe.

"I used to think protesters were ridiculous, but now I kind of understand them," said Lou Ann Craft, a 26-year-old insurance clerk and the youngest City Council member this town has ever had.

Professor disputes boundary

AUSTIN (AP) — Galveston homeowner Robert Matcha was expected to testify today in the civil suit the state filed to stop him from rebuilding a West Galveston beach house damaged by Hurricane Alicia.

Matcha, a University of Houston chemistry professor, was one of the last scheduled state witnesses as the trial entered its fifth day. Dr. Robert Morton, associate director of the Bureau of Economic Geology at UT, completed more than two days of testimony Monday as the state's key witness.

Attorney General Jim Mattox claims, as he does in 11 other civil suits, that Hurricane Alicia in September 1983 changed boundaries of the public beach and Matcha's property now is an obstruction on the public beach.

Morton, who admitted on cross examination he has a contract from the attorney general for a survey of coastal damage done by the 1983 storm, said long-term erosion of the Galveston beaches threatens the West Galveston beach. He said the erosion is already prominent near the sea wall on east Galveston where there was once wide beach and now just a narrow strip.

Attorney fights deportation

DALLAS (AP) — The attorney for a kidney patient who has admitted she is an illegal alien says he won't allow his client to be deported to Mexico until he is sure she will be well taken care of.

Fermina Vasquez, a 30-year-old widow who is being treated for a kidney disease, was ordered to leave the country by Sunday after confessing during a May deportation hearing that she is here illegally.

"It's our feeling that she is going to be lost when she gets down there, just one of many," said Harry Joe, the woman's attorney. Joe said the woman probably would not leave by Sunday. He said he would file a motion with the INS district director today for a 30-day stay of deportation to ensure that his client would be cared for in Mexico.

Immigration and Naturalization officials say the woman will be cared for at a Mexico City hospital.

Daycare workers may be ID'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — As Congress considers fingerprinting daycare workers to screen out sex offenders, experts argue that parents, not laws, "are the first line of defense" against child molesters.

"Fingerprinting day-care providers and running criminal checks on prospective employees may catch an incidental individual who should never have been allowed into a child-care program," Bettye M. Caldwell, president of the National Association for the Education of Young Children, told a congressional hearing on Monday.

"To impose new requirements or standards without paying at least as much attention to issues of staff training, salaries, and benefits; staff-child ratio; and mechanisms for parent involvement is like putting Band-Aids on a broken leg," she said.

She urged parents to make a special effort to look for quality day care programs.

"Parents are the first line of defense when it comes to preventing occurrences of abuse and they are the adults to whom children most likely turn when they are troubled," she said.

Transplant patient gives birth

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Her mother was "terrified" and a 23-year-old woman with a transplanted heart was advised to abort her pregnancy, but she persevered and gave birth to a healthy girl, apparently the first child born of a heart recipient.

Doctors said Monday that Betsy Sneith, who four years ago received the heart of a man who died in a traffic accident, had given birth to 7-pound, 1-ounce Sierra Jamieson Sneith after a pregnancy and delivery with "no complications."

"There is no indication in medical literature that this has ever happened before," said Dr. Thomas Key, of the University of California at San Diego Medical Center, where the birth occurred Sunday. "There have been pregnancies, but they have never gone full term, usually because the cardiac patient did not want to."

"This check was done primarily by word of mouth in the medical community," said Key, an assistant professor of reproductive medicine and director of perinatal medicine at UCSD.

Pope continues Canadian visit

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — Pope John Paul II today heads for a visit with Indians in Canada's remote north after issuing an impassioned warning that the gap between rich and poor nations poses a greater threat than the nuclear arms race.

The pontiff's scheduled three-hour visit today at the tiny village of Fort Simpson, Northwest Territories, was designed to demonstrate church concern for the grievances of Indians and Eskimos, who are seeking greater self-determination within Canada.

One Indian spokesman said the Fort Simpson session would be an "eye-opener," giving the outside world a glimpse of the impoverished lives of North American native people.

Economic justice has been a major theme during the pontiff's 12-day Canadian tour. He hit hard on the subject Monday at an open-air Mass for more than 100,000 people in Edmonton, a prosperous city in the midst of Canada's western prairie.

Saying that the South, the developing nations, was becoming "always poorer," and the North, the developed world, "always richer," the pope drew from Christ's words and declared, "This poor South will judge the rich North."

GM lays off 1,000 more workers

By MICHAEL McKESSON
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. laid off 1,000 more workers today because of walkouts at 12 of its most profitable facilities, as the company and the United Auto Workers got ready to try again to smooth out their touchy differences over job security.

Talks between representatives of GM and the UAW on a national contract covering 350,000 workers were to resume today at GM headquarters in Detroit after a one-day breather.

One analyst said the walkout was costing GM $27 million a day, and the UAW said its members were losing nearly $6 million a day in wages.

The union said Monday that "significant differences" separate the two sides, and a source said the UAW's chief demand — for job security guarantees — remained unresolved despite 19 hours of talks that ended early Monday.

More than 62,000 UAW members remained on strike today at 13 GM facilities over local disputes not covered by the national contract, and the walkouts were disrupting operations at the factories that supply the struck plants.

Officials at GM's Chevrolet Pontiac Canada body parts plant in Marion, Ind., said they were furloughing 523 workers effective today. About 200 workers at a Chevrolet Truck and Bus Plant in Indianapolis and more than 300 at GM's Inland Dayton Division in Dayton, Ohio, also were told not to report for work, company officials said.

In addition, 5,000 workers at GM's Fisher Body plant in Flint, Mich.,

were laid off over the weekend.

"I think there are going to be a lot of ripple effects. To prevent parts backup, they'll have to shut down a lot of plants," said David Healy, automotive industry analyst for Drexel Burnham Lambert Inc. in New York.

GM spokesman John Mueller in Detroit said he did not know whether layoffs were forthcoming at any other of the company's 150 U.S. facilities. "You'd have to call every one of them to find out," he said.

The Marion factory makes parts used at seven of the plants with strikes. The Indianapolis facility supplies sheet metal stampings for trucks assembled at struck plants in Pontiac, Mich., and Shreveport, La., said GM spokesman William C. Spidle.

The strikes were affecting plants producing some of GM's fastest-selling cars, such as the factory in Pontiac, Mich., which produces the Fiero sports car, and analysts predicted large losses if the walkouts continue.

Healy said they could cost the automaker up to $27 million a day.

UAW locals with 62,000 members at 12 GM assembly plants and a research center went on strike over the local issues Friday night, when the old contracts expired.

A tentative settlement at the Van Nuys, Calif., plant Sunday night put some of its 4,000 UAW workers back on the job Monday. But efforts to resume production were short-lived. About 85 percent of the 2,100 day-shift workers showed up, but "several hundred" went to lunch and didn't return, said local union president Pete Beltran.

Couple still in jail for refusing testimony

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge for a second time refused to free a couple jailed for refusing to testify against their teen-age son, who is accused of killing a female postal carrier.

U.S. District Judge James DeAnda on Monday upheld a state court's ruling that Bernard the Odette Port must remain jailed on contempt charges for repeatedly refusing to testify before grand jurors investigating the June 7 shooting death of postal worker Debora Sue Schatz. The Ports' 17-year-old son, David, is accused in the slaying and remains free on $20,000 bond.

The attorney for the couple, Randy Schaffer, said he would file an appeal with the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans, probably today, and seek bail for the Ports.

Schaffer said his clients were "understanding and resigned to their fate." But Schaffer said he remained confident the Ports "are not going to sell their principles down the river."

District Attorney John B. Holmes Jr. said of the judge's ruling, "We're always pleased when a magistrate views the law as we view it."

The Ports, who were jailed Wednesday, have argued they should not be forced to testify against their son, citing a parent-child privilege allowed under Jewish rabbinical law.

But DeAnda, who denied bond for the couple last week, ruled the Ports suffered no deprivation of their constitutional rights and said their confinement in the Harris County jail for contempt was proper.

In a 25-page opinion, DeAnda wrote, "We simply cannot discern a constitutional mandate for the parent-child privilege. Traditionally, parents have borne the responsibility for disciplining wayward children in various ways, so that it cannot be reasonably said that parents should be shielded from giving testimony against children who may have committed criminal acts."

If the law were extended beyond the privilege that allows spouses to refuse to testify against one another, DeAnda wrote, "it would be very difficult to stop at the parent-child level."

The family argument "could then be logically extended to brothers, sisters, grandparents, cousins, nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles," DeAnda said, adding other problems could result with stepparents and stepchildren, in-laws and other people related by marriage.

ROUNDUP

Statutory rape allegedly occurred Monday, when a 13-year-old local girl consented to have sexual intercourse with a 17-year-old male from Amarillo, Hereford police reported this morning.

Caydon Brush, chief of police, explained consent is not a factor when the female is under 17 and the male older than 16. Such an incident is referred to as rape.

A medical test confirmed the girl had had sexual relations Monday, according to the police report.

Meanwhile, police investigated the $975 theft of three guns from Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home, 411 E. Sixth St. Victim of the crime, for which there is one suspect, is John Gilliland.

C.N. Cocanougher of 137 Nueces St. reported his 1979 Chevrolet pickup's windshield was cracked sometime Sunday morning. The vandalism was valued at $300.

Hereford Volunteer Firemen responded to an anhydrous ammonia leak early today. A railroad car at Riverside Chemical, E. Highway 60, was emitting the toxic fumes.

Weekend arrests included three for public intoxication and one for driving while license suspended.

At Friday banquet

Holly gives service awards

Glen Hendrickson, shift superintendent, and Dean Allen, sugar end foreman, garnered top service awards at Holly Sugar's Annual Service Award banquet Friday night.

Hendrickson topped all employees with thirty-year's service while Allen was recognized for twenty five year's service.

Recipients of fifteen year awards were David Ankeney, Gene Hester, Cal Jones and Bill Shore.

Harriett Sims received a ten year award.

Attending from Colorado Springs were Lloyd Neville, vice president of operations, Jack Corsberg, vice president and general factory manager, and John Richmond, vice president of technical services.

Retirees present for the banquet were Bert Brown, Earl Clark, Fred Fogg, Grant Hanna, Alan Hoover, George Liekhus, James Mongold, Kenneth Rusher, Clyde Schmer, Fred Stindt and Elizabeth Torres, wife of the late Paul Torres.

Soviet defector shows up in Moscow again

By ROXINNE ERVASTI
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — Oleg Bitov, a Soviet journalist who defected a year ago, reappeared in Moscow today and said he had been captured and drugged by British intelligence services who offered him money to work against the Soviet Union.

Bitov, 52, was the foreign cultural editor of the Soviet writer's union weekly Literaturnaya Gazeta (Literary Gazette). He defected Sept. 9, 1983, in Italy while covering the Venice Film Festival and later went to Britain, where he was granted asylum in January.

Bitov told Western and Soviet reporters that he returned to Moscow from London on his own about three weeks ago. He disappeared in London last month and speculation had been mounting in Britain that he had returned home.

"I was subjected to quite a lot of drugs, psychological treatment, violence and torture," Bitov said.

He said British agents told him there was an "undeclared war" on the Soviet Union and "offered me a well-paying job in the gallery of anti-Soviet slanderers and subversives."

He said statements attributed to him while he was abroad that criticized the Soviet system were concocted.

In London, spokesmen for Britain's Home Office, Foreign Office and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher declined immediate comment. A Home Office spokesman said Bitov had been granted asylum and "he was free to come and go."

When he defected, Bitov left in the Soviet Union his wife Lyudmilla and teen-age daughter Xenia. A British Foreign office spokesman said earlier this week that Bitov was "increasingly distressed about the inability of his family to join him."

British thriller writer Frederick Forsyth said he had lunch with Bitov while he was in London and rejected any suggestion that Bitov had defected under duress.

He was "distracted about leaving his wife and child behind," and "hoped he could do a deal" with the Soviets regarding his family, Forsyth said.

"I'm afraid it'll mean 15 years in a labor camp for him," the author said.

Balloonist first to cross Atlantic ocean

AIX EN PROVENCE, France (AP) — American balloonist Joe W. Kittinger was aloft over Italy this morning, looking for a landing site, after completing the first solo balloon crossing of the Atlantic and setting a distance record for a solo balloon flight.

His 10-story high, helium-filled balloon, the Rosie O'Grady, crossed the French coast 12 miles north of Biarritz at 10:29 p.m. (4:29 p.m. EDT) on Monday night — just over 80 hours after Kittinger lifted off from Caribou, Maine, late Friday.

Six other men have failed in solo crossings, two dying in the attempt.

Officials at the Aix en Provence air traffic control center in southern France said Kittinger crossed the French-Italian border between San Remo and Alassio at 11:30 a.m. (5:30 a.m. EDT) today, traveling at 18-24 mph and was headed northwest at an altitude of 16,400 feet.

The center said Kittinger had given no indication by radio of where or when he intended to land, but a possible destination could be a military airfield in Grosseto in Tuscany.

Jim Serna at the Balloon Control Center in Bedford, Mass., said Kittinger's flight of approximately 3,500 miles set a record for the longest distance solo balloon flight.

Kittinger had spent the night floating across southern France. He told French air controllers in Aix en Provence by radio early this morning that he had decided to try to reach Italy. At about 9:30 a.m. (3:30 EDT) the air controllers had reported his position as six miles off the southern French coast over St. Tropez.

An Associated Press reporter and photographer in a single engine plane circled Kittinger's silver and blue balloon near Cannes several times before he shot further up into the atmosphere.

Heavy clouds at about 6,000 feet sprinkled most of the western Mediterranean near the French coast with occasional rain showers but as Kittinger moved east he found clearing skies and patches of sunshine.

A French reporter who spoke briefly to Kittinger from the Biarritz control tower said the 56-year-old balloonist from Orlando, Fla., described the completion of the crossing as "magnificent, now I just have to land safe and sound."

The American team of Maxie Anderson, Ben Abruzzo and Larry

Newman of New Mexico in the Double Eagle II made the first-ever balloon crossing in 1978. They flew from Presque Isle in Maine and landed in Miserey, France, west of Paris.

Erratic breezes had wafted Kittinger's balloon toward the French wine country during Monday afternoon.

The regional air traffic control center in Bordeaux said Monday evening that an aircraft had reported spotting Kittinger about 55 miles northwest of Biarritz, on the southern French Atlantic coast near the Spanish frontier.

The Bordeaux control had placed the balloon's altitude at between 500-600 feet and its speed at more than 25 mph as it approached the coast.

Radio officers at Ballygirreen, Ireland, said in a report Monday morning that Kittinger told them his position was 180 miles west of Cognac and he was "in very good form."

"He hit wind and was a bit farther south than he thought," they said.

Meet Your Neighbor

By LISA BALL
Staff Writer

Many close-knit families attribute their relationship to their own work and perseverance. But not the Dotsons.

"We're a real close and loving family," Dareathia Dotson said, "and it all comes from our love for the Lord."

Dareathia and her husband, Kevin, and their two children Brenda and Dwayne, moved to Hereford a year ago in May from Clovis, N.M. Both Kevin and Dareathia grew up in Clovis and met when they were in high school.

"Hereford wasn't really any different to us," Dareathia laughed. "My parents had lived here for a little while when I was just a baby and this area is so much like Clovis that it was as if we had never left."

The Dotsons moved to Hereford when Kevin started working at Swift Independent Packing Company. He is currently the supervisor in box storage and inventory.

Kevin is also a licensed preacher, but has not had much time for preaching since moving to Hereford with the long hours he puts in at Swift Independent. While in Clovis, however, he was the youth director at their church.

Dareathia is presently a Tupperware dealer.

"When we first moved here I just hated it," she admitted, "because I just stayed at home and didn't meet anybody. I finally decided to get involved with Tupperware since I had sold it when we lived in Clovis."

"Now I'm really enjoying meeting all the new people. Plus, I go to

DAREATHIA DOTSON
...and her two children, Kevin and Brenda meetings once a week in Amarillo and meet a lot of people there."

Dareathia is also involved with Newcomers Club and is the director of Girls-in-Action at Avenue Baptist Church.

"I just make sure that the Sunday school teachers have all the literature they need for the class and make sure that there are enough teachers."

Kevin and Dareathia are also involved in the Pastor's Class at Avenue Baptist Church.

When not involved with work and church activities, the Dotsons love to go fishing, preferably at Ute Lake.

"Kevin is a big fisherman and the kids love to go and play in the water," Dareathia said.

Brenda, six, is a first grader at Tierra Blanca Elementary and likes to swim and fish.

Dwayne, three, also likes to fish but especially enjoys playing with his cars and with the family's two puppies.

The Dotsons really are a close family and it is easy to see why they are so close.

They truly love the Lord.

Ann Landers

Must meet standards

DEAR READERS: Do you remember the abusive letters I received because I printed a column in support of animal experimentation? I listed many diseases that never would have been conquered had medical researchers been denied the right to use animal models.

I thought you might be interested in the following information:

In 1983, The National Institutes of Health published notices about their plan to conduct site visits to institutions receiving government funding. The purpose was to ensure that the animals used for research were being treated humanely.

Between June and September the following institutions were visited:

Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass.

New York University, New York City.

Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh.

Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach, Fla.

Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

University of Texas-Austin, Austin, Tex.

St. Louis University, St. Louis.

LDS Hospital, Salt Lake City.

Syntex Research Division, Palo Alto, Calif.

University of Washington, Seattle.

The site-visit teams consisted of a veterinarian, a biological scientist currently working with animals and an NIH scientist-administrator. Non-federal consultants were included to guarantee impartiality.

The results were as follows: No incidents of animal abuse were observed. At all institutions, a full- or part-time veterinarian had been appointed. In most cases the appointee had advanced training in laboratory animal medicine.

The areas where most animals were kept met the requirements and care was graded from "adequate to excellent."

It should hearten my readers to know that installations where animal research is being conducted will receive no government funding unless they meet the high standards set by the National Institutes of Health.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My advice to that 28-year-old male in Dubuque is: Grow up. His bed companion didn't sound to me as if she was trying to trick him when she said she was getting off the Pill. His response, "For heaven's sake, use something," suggests he was unwilling to accept any responsibility whatsoever if she became pregnant.

The Pill is not for everybody. Women who have had a history of cancer should never use it. It also can be expensive. I wonder how many men offer to alleviate the burden of that expense?

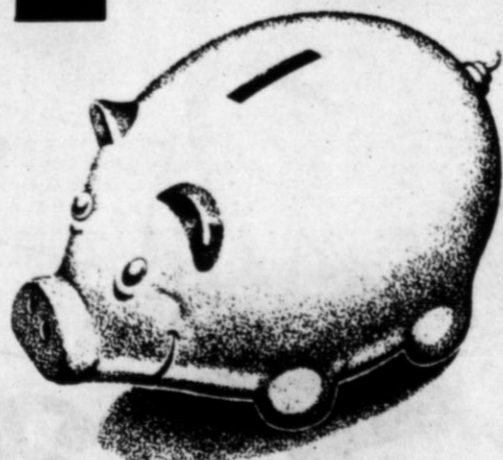

Any man who is halfway decent will discuss with his girlfriend the various methods of birth control and settle on something that is mutually satisfactory. If she cannot be depended on, or doesn't wish to take total responsibility, he should use a condom or stay out of bed.—Responsible In Williamsburg

DEAR R.: Your advice is sound but unrealistic. Telling a man to stay out of bed is like telling a cat to stay away from a bowl of cream. While the condom is not 100 percent fail-safe, it's more effective than the rhythm system and has become more widely used since genital herpes reared its ugly head. Pay attention, out there.

Ann Landers' new booklet, "Sex and the Teenager," explains every aspect of sexual behavior—where to draw the line, how to say no, the various methods of contraception, the dangers of VD, the symptoms and where to get help. For a copy, send $2 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope (37 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HEREFORD

Community Concert Association now accepting new memberships

The Hereford Community Concert Association officially kicked-off its 1984-85 fall membership drive at a dinner held recently featuring guest speaker, George Black of New York, the national CCA president.

New memberships, as well as renewal memberships, will be accepted throughout this week at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office, according to Helen Rose, campaign chairman. The concert office will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. through Friday and from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturday for last minutes acceptance of memberships.

Membership dues include $15 for adults; $7.50 for students through grade 12; and $40 for a family membership. Memberships are available only during the drive campaign and no individual performance tickets will be sold. Attendance at concerts is by membership card only and if a member cannot attend a concert, he may lend his card to another person.

The cards may be used for any of the concert presentations at Plainview, Dimmitt, Borger, Dalhart or in any city of the United States that presents Community Concerts.

Three live concert performances, featuring a wide array of talent, will be held during the CCA season at the Hereford High School auditorium.

Rostal and Schaefer, England's most popular duo-piano team, will perform at 3 p.m. Oct. 28. A command performance for the Royal Family launched their career on four continents and has made Rostal and Schaefer England's most popular piano team. They have starred in their own television show and radio series and are in demand on every major television variety show in England.

Stars of the Lawrence Welk Show will perform at 8 p.m. Feb. 21. They include Bobby Burgess and Elaine Niverson, dancers; Gail, Ron and Michael, vocal trio; Gail Farrell, ragtime piano stylist; Ken Delo, baritone; Henry Cuesta, clarinet virtuoso; and the Welk Orchestra.

Bill Schustick, singer, historian, composer and stellar performer, will entertain at 8 p.m. March 11. He has entertained and educated audiences throughout the United States with his performances of America's most beautiful ballads, sea chanties and folksongs, as well as his rendition of the National Anthem. He has performed at the White House and also starred in the recent Ford's Theatre celebration attended by the President and aired nationwide on NBC.

The purpose of the Hereford Community Concert Association is to present a series of live, professional concerts in Hereford at the lowest possible cost to the membership.

For further information contact Ms. Rose at 364-3333 or 364-1193.

Guest Speaker

George Black, national president of the Community Concert Association from New York, was guest speaker at the Hereford CCA's kick-off dinner held recently. The local association's new membership drive is scheduled this week.

Campaign headquarters, located at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office, 701 N. Main, will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. through Friday and from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturday.

Christmas program begins club's year

The Cultural Extension Homemakers Club gathered in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room Friday to listen to Louise Walker, county extension agent, present a program entitled "Christmas in September."

Bertha Dettmann, president, conducted the first meeting of the fall season and presented the devotional. Fannie Townsend served as hostess.

Twelve members answered roll call with "What I Make for Christmas."

The theme of Walker's program was making Christmas gifts and other items from odds and ends of material, rick rack, bias tape, lace, artificial flowers, card board and other items.

Upcoming events include the Extension Homemakers Luncheon on Oct. 9, the Festive Foods at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Oct. 11, the Health Fair on Oct. 16 and "Yummy Times" presented by Pioneer natural Gas on Nov. 1.

Members present were Townsend, Dettmann, Jewell Rogers, Nell Pope, Verna Parsons, Winnie Wiseman, Tillie Scott, Ruth Gandy, Wilma Goetsche, Virginia Sumner, Jewel Hargrove, Anna Corbett, Edith Hunter, Mary Lou Spinhirne and one guest, Tammy Raemakers of Nazareth.

The next meeting will be Sept. 28.

DENVER (AP) — Infrequent, deep soakings in the morning create a healthy lawn and conserve water, says the American Water Works Association.

It says deep soakings encourage strong root growth. Morning watering prevents the leaf burn of afternoon sun shining on water drops, and the lawn diseases that can develop on a cool, moist lawn watered at night.

Step on the lawn to determine if it needs watering. If the grass blades spring back, no water is necessary. But if the blade tend to stay flat, sprinkle deeply again.

Quality Banking and Lasting Friendship!

On the Ball

By DENNIS BALL
Sports Editor

For Hereford High School football player Stefen Hacker, starting at quarterback last Friday night may not have been the easiest thing the junior has ever done.

The rains began during the first half, making playing conditions somewhat less desirable. But not only was the ball hard to handle and the footing slippery, Hacker was entering his first varsity game at quarterback with very little varsity experience under his belt. He saw only limited action in the Herd's scrimmage against Estacado earlier this year—guiding the second-team offense to Hereford's only score—and rounded out the final 7:16 of the game against San Angelo Central when Mike Scott was injured.

"Stefen has had little, almost zero experience, at varsity quarterback," Herd coach Jerry Taylor said a couple of weeks ago. "But he's our second-team quarterback."

Hacker's 1983 position of quarterback for the Maroon junior varsity probably was the reason for naming him second-string quarterback.

Confidence in a person's own abilities is a factor of vital importance in performing well at any position in football. And when Hacker's first pass last Friday was intercepted on the Hereford 25-yard line, his confidence had to go out the window.

"There is quite a bit of pressure on me," Hacker said Friday before the game. "Everybody has been backing me really well. I'm not being treated like a second-teamer. I'm the quarterback this week."

Palo Duro entered the game as the preseason favorite to win the 3-5A crown. Hacker and his teammates were aware of that, too.

"Might as well add a little more pressure to the game," Hacker said.

Hacker was 0-for-5 with the one interception for the game. But before a person can afford to criticize the performance, he should look at Hacker's counterpart's statistics.

Cal Hero directed the Dons attack and completed only one of four passes. He also had one interception.

Hacker didn't perform that poorly, not as poorly as many people may think. Don't cease backing him this football season, no matter what position he plays.

Henry misses only two to win football contest

Nita Henry, of 628 Ave. J, missed only two games in last week's Brand Grid Contest to capture first place and $25 in Hereford Bucks.

Ansel McDowell, 207 N. Texas, and Oscar Reyna, 202 Bennett, were chosen over nine others who missed three games for second and third place, respectively. Because of an error in last week's contest, the tie-breaker simply was a drawing.

McDowell won $15 in Hereford Bucks and Reyna $10.

The nine others who missed only three were Jane Duggan, 204 Ironwood; Jimmie George, of Dimmitt; Zane Foster, 206 Ave. J; Keith Allen Kalka; Terri Morgan, 138 N. Texas, Joy Stagner, 210 Ave. J; Teresa Baker, 341 Douglas; and Rick Castenada, 905 McKinley.

Contestants missing four games numbered 23. They included: Pam Stevens, Marie Cogdell, Cuby Kit-chens, Jone Kalka, Vicki Paetzold, Chris Hodges, John Stagner and John Dominquez.

Also, Keith Anderson, Joaquin Gamez, David Spain, Lola Smalts, Dee Toler, H.R. Johnson and Jennifer Johnson.

Others missing only four were Marcia Homer, Victor Villegas, Alina Alexander, R.L. Blakely, Debbie Hampton, Wendell Burdine, Doug Janover and S.T. Loerwald.

There were 35 contestants who missed five games. Last week's contest drew 228 contestants.

Brand sports editor Dennis Ball paced the Fearless Forecasters panel last week by going 22-3. Betty Martin, owner of Louise's, was 21-4. Brand editor-publisher O.G. Nieman was 20-5, and Helen Higgins and Butch White were 19-6.

Panel standings now are Ball and Martin, 37-13; Nieman, Higgins and White, 35-15.

The contest featured in today's Brand has 26 games to pick.

Bills lose Monday to Miami

By JOHN F. BONFATTI
AP Sports Writer
ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) — The emotion that was missing in the Buffalo Bills' previous two National Football League games was there, but the result was the same.

"Buffalo was ready to play," said Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula. "They did not resemble the team of the past two weeks."

Except on the scoreboard, where the Bills lost their third straight game Monday night 21-17, to a Miami team that has won their first three games.

As has been the case in all three Buffalo losses this year, the Bills found themselves behind quickly.

Miami quarterback Dan Marino threw his eighth and ninth touchdown passes of the year in the game's first 20 minutes to Mark Duper and Mark Clayton.

The Bills were never in last week's 37-7 loss to St. Louis, but as was the case against New England in the season opener, Buffalo didn't concede the game after the early blitz and the Dolphins ended up on the run.

"We've just been getting off to slow starts," said Bills wide receiver Julius Dawkins, who caught three passes for 51 yards and a touchdown. "If we can just combine our second halves with our first halves, we can turn it around."

Once again, veteran quarterback Joe Ferguson was the prime mover on offense for the Bills.

He led Buffalo on scoring drives of 79 and 80 yards late in the game and had them moving for the winning score in Dolphins territory when wide receiver Byron Franklin fumbled after a catch with just over five minutes left in the game.

"You can't make mistakes to beat the Miami Dolphins," said Bills Coach Kay Stephenson after a game which saw Buffalo penalized nine times for 70 yards. "We've got to get those mistakes corrected. That to me was the big difference in the game."

Still Stephenson at least discovered his team has a pulse, acknowledging his team "played with a lot of heart and intensity."

Marino, whose touchdown passes to Duper, Clayton and Nat Moore accounted for all of Miami's touchdowns, found the inexperienced Bills secondary an all too inviting target. He finished the day with 26 completions in 35 attempts for 296 yards.

It didn't take a genius to figure out what Shula, with a hot Marino and without a top-notch rusher because of fullback Andra Franklin's knee injury, was going to do.

"When you have a guy like Marino and your running game is non-existent, I am not that stubborn that I won't go to the pass," he said.

Johnson leads local riders

Six members of the Hereford Rodeo Club competed in Pampa Saturday at the Pampa High School Rodeo, with Hereford's Jana Johnson finishing first in goat tying and third in barrel racing.

Johnson had a time of 17.317 in the barrels.

Also attending the Pampa rodeo were David Frische, Lane Smith, Kenny Chambers, Lee Vanlandingham and Wesley Budd.

Hereford Rodeo Club members also participated in the Memphis High School Rodeo Sept. 8 and 9.

With win over Caprock

Hereford tennis team evens record

The Hereford High School tennis team upped its district record to 2-2 Monday by winning 17 of 18 individual matches from Caprock at the HHS courts.

Saturday, Hereford went 0-2 at Lubbock in a triangular meet with Coronado and Tascosa.

Monday's play marked the second time Hereford had gone 17-1 in district team play this year. Six of Hereford's victories were won by default, four of the singles matches and two of the doubles.

Hereford's Blair Rogers had an easy time, defeating Rob Brown 6-1, 6-1. Don Flood didn't allow Caprock's Trong Tran to win a single game, winning 6-0, 6-0.

Chuck Garcia, Jerry Brown, Brad Allred and Conrad Rodriguez all won by default, as Caprock entered only two boys players.

In girls play Connie Zinser smashed Stephanie Simmons 6-0, 6-1. Natalie Sims beat Tonya Fiel 7-6, 6-3.

Robin Hopper downed Darla Golightly 6-3, 7-6, and Lana Kosub beat Rita Cuellar 6-0, 6-0. Kristen Cassells defeated Norma Guzman

6-3, 6-1. Caprock's only win came when Kim Walker beat Vicki Veigel 6-1, 6-2.

In boys doubles, Hereford's Rogers and Brown beat Caprock's Brown and Tran 6-1, 6-0. Flood and Garcia won by default as did Allred and Rodriguez.

Zinser and Sims, from Hereford, beat Simmons and Fiel 6-3, 6-3, in girls doubles action. Also, Cassells and Hopper won over Golightly and Cuellar 6-3, 6-4, and Kosub and Veigel beat Hendricks and Walker 6-3, 6-2.

Last weekend, Coronado turned Hereford's fortunes and won 17 of 18 from the locals. Rogers and Brown won in boys doubles 6-2, 1-6, 6-4, over Coronado opponents to keep Hereford from being shut out.

"It was a typical Coronado team that beat us," Hereford coach Ruben Vargas said. "Coronado is always really strong, winning state just last year."

Against Tascosa, Hereford won seven. Hopper won her match in girls singles, as did Kosub and Markay

White. Kosub teamed with White for another victory in doubles.

In boys play, Brown and Nathan Flood won singles matches, while Don Flood and Garcia won a doubles match. Hereford hosts Amarillo and Monterey in another triangular match at 9 a.m. Saturday at the HHS courts.

Hereford runners improve showing

Hereford High School's varsity girls cross country team moved up in the standings Saturday from a week ago in Levelland, taking the second-place team title at Brownfield.

The varsity boys also improved last week's mark by finishing fourth. Selma Moreno and Lina Esqueda came in first and second, respectively, at Brownfield. Moreno had a time of 13:10 to outdistance her teammate by forty-three seconds.

Hereford had 54 points and was beaten by Abernathy, who had 45. Sudan had 73, Slaton 121, Odessa Permian 134, Muleshoe 138, Rails 145 and Abilene Cooper 164.

Other Hereford girls running for the varsity, their order of finish and times were Frances Flores, 23rd, 14:57; Sandra Valdez, 30th, 15:28; Mari Lou Hernandez, 31st, 15:35; and Judy Sanders, 40th, 15:49.

For the varsity boys, Francisco Saucedo placed eighth with a time of 17:55. All team members finished in the top 50. Lupe Rocha was 34th at 18:57, Ceaser Valdez 41st at 19:04, Frankie Valjejo 42nd at 19:09, Bobby Aranda 43rd at 19:10 and Alonzo Martinez 50th at 19:22.

Boys Ranch won the team title with 56 points. Monterey and Muleshoe tied for second with 60 points.

Then came Hereford, followed by Brownfield (132 points) and Big Spring (139 points).

In junior varsity competition, Hereford girls finished fourth behind Monterey, Lubbock and Dawson. Hereford had 93 points and was led by Eva Medrano's 18th-place finish and 16:06.

Nichelle Mason was 20th for Hereford with 16:13 and Jenifer Bankston 21st with 16:14.

The junior varsity boys ran an incomplete team. Craig Waddell came in 28th at 20:06, and Darrell Blevens finished 78th with 22:53.

Team has three-game lead

Through four weeks of play in the Thursday Night Mixed bowling league, Texas Diesel holds a three-game advantage over Hi-Plains Savings and Smurfs.

Texas Diesel is 13-3, while Hi-Plains Savings and Smurfs are 10-6. Marilyn Bell turned in the women's high game last week with a 178. Sheree Rampley had the high series for women with 475.

In men's competitions, Jim Hillwig had both the high game and high series. Hillwig turned in a 205 as a high game and a 550 for a high series.

Other teams and their records are: Team No. 7, 9-7; W.T. Services, 9-7; S & L, 8-8; Mar-Lo Chemical, 8-8; Team No. 8, 7-9; Team No. 3, 7-9; Bowling Bowl, 5-11; Team No. 12, 4-12; and Nuts and Bolts, 3-13.

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

GENERAL ELECTION

NOVEMBER 6, 1984

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 29 proposes a constitutional amendment that provides to state-chartered banks the same rights and privileges that are or may be granted to national banks of the United States domiciled in this state. For example, if national banks become authorized to maintain branch offices, this amendment would extend the same privilege to state banks.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide state banks the same rights and privileges as national banks."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that restructures the Permanent University Fund to provide: (1) for the expansion of the institutions eligible to participate in the bonding capacity of the fund to include the components of The University of Texas and Texas A&M University systems that have been added to those two systems of higher education since the Permanent University Fund was last restructured by constitutional amendment; (2) for the expansion of the purposes for which bond proceeds can be expended from new construction to include major repair and rehabilitation projects and the acquisition of major capital equipment (e.g., computers and laboratory equipment) and library books and materials; (3) for an increase in the bonding capacity from 20% (2/5 for The University of Texas System and 1/3 for the Texas A&M University System) to 30% (30% for The University of Texas System and 10% for Texas A&M University System) of the value of the assets (exclusive of real estate) in the Permanent University Fund in order to provide sufficient bond proceeds to care for the addition of 10 new institutions to those authorized to participate in the Permanent University Fund bonding program and to care for the expanded purposes for which the bond proceeds can be spent; and (4) for the dedication of the dividends, interest, and other income from the Permanent University Fund remaining after payment of principal and interest due on bonds and notes issued, to the provision of support and maintenance (over and above normal legislative appropriations) for Texas A&M University in Brazos County, Prairie View A&M University, and The University of Texas at Austin.

House Joint Resolution 19 also annually appropriates $100 million in each fiscal year, beginning September 1, 1985 (from the first money coming into the state treasury that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution) for the use of those

House Joint Resolution 65 proposes a constitutional amendment which authorizes the legislature to provide for the payment of assistance to the surviving dependent parents, brothers, and sisters of officers, employees and agents of the state or its political subdivisions, including members of organized volunteer fire departments and members of organized police reserve or auxiliary units authorized to make arrests, who die in the course of performing hazardous official duties. Payments to surviving spouses and dependent children of such officers, employees, and agents are already authorized by the Constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for payment of assistance to the surviving dependent parents, brothers, and sisters of certain public servants killed while on duty."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 20 proposes a constitutional amendment which abolishes the office of county treasurer in Bexar and Collin counties if a majority of the voters in each of those counties vote in favor of abolishing the office of county treasurer in a local election to be held on the issue. All the powers, duties, and functions of the office of county treasurer in each of these counties would be transferred to the county clerk.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Bexar and Collin counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment which provides a new method of filling a vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor. The amendment requires the President pro tempore of the Senate to call together the committee of the whole Senate within 30 days after a vacancy occurs in the office of Lieutenant Governor. The committee would be required to elect one of its members to perform the duties of the Lieutenant Governor until the next general election. This individual would continue his duties as Senator at the same time that he performs the Lieutenant Governor's duties. If the Senator who is elected ceases to be a Senator before the next general election, another Senator must be elected according to the above procedure to perform the Lieutenant Governor's duties. The President pro tempore would be required to perform the Lieutenant Governor's duties pending the election of one of its members by the committee of the whole Senate.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the state senate to fill a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that permits the use of public funds and credit for payment of premiums on non-assessable life, health, or accident insurance policies and annuity contracts issued by a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in this state. The constitutional prohibition against a grant of public money to an individual, association, or corporation or against becoming a stockholder in a corporation, association, or company has limited life and health group policies of political subdivisions to non-mutual insurance companies. The amendment would permit mutual insurance companies to bid for those policies.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to permit use of public funds and credit for payment of premiums on certain insurance contracts of mutual insurance companies authorized to do business in Texas."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment to change the membership of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct to include one Judge of a Municipal Court and one Judge of a County Court at Law, who shall be selected at large and appointed by the Supreme Court with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The amendment also provides additional grounds for removal from office of judges or justices of Texas courts, and provides additional disciplinary actions that could be taken in lieu of removal or censure. The amendment would extend the Commission's disciplinary authority to masters, magistrates, and retired or former judges who hear cases by designation. The amendment creates a tribunal to review recommendations of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct for removal or retirement of a judge or justice. The review tribunal would be composed of seven (7) Justices or Judges of the Courts of Appeals selected by lot by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The amendment also provides for appeal of the review tribunal's decision to the Supreme Court of Texas and grants an accused judge the right to discovery of evidence.

The proposition will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment relating to the membership of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct and the authority and procedure to discipline active judges, certain retired and former judges, and certain masters and magistrates of the courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment which increases the per diem of members of the Legislature. The amount of per diem allowed during a calendar year would be equal to the maximum amount set in federal income tax statutes as of January 1 of that same year as a deduction for ordinary and necessary business expenses incurred by a state legislator. Current per diem is $30; the maximum deduction is now $75.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide a per diem for members of the legislature equal to the maximum daily amount allowed by federal law as a deduction for ordinary and necessary business expenses incurred by a state legislator."

Estos son los informes explicatorios sobre las enmiendas propuestas a la constitución que aparecerán en la boleta el día 6 de noviembre de 1984. Si usted no ha recibido una copia de los informes en español, podrá obtener una gratis por llamar al 1/800/252/9602 o por escribir al Secretario de Estado, P.O. Box 12887, Austin, Texas 78711.

A Foul?
Hereford High School tennis player Lana Kosub appears to a foul while serving to her Caprock opponent Monday in district competition at the HHS courts. Kosub won her match against Rita Cuellar 6-0, 6-0, to post one of 17 victories for Hereford over the Amarillo school. As a team, Hereford stands at 2-2 in league competition.

Former Florida adviser says

AD knew of violations

By FRED GOODALL
AP Sports Writer
GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) - A former athletic adviser to the University of Florida's football team says the school's athletic director was aware that NCAA rules were being broken but could not control Coach Charlie Pell.

Mike Brown, who told NCAA investigators that Pell had ordered him to spy on opposing teams, was asked in an interview if Athletic Director Bill Carr did not know what was going on or whether he knew what was happening but could do nothing about it.

"I'd say it was the second thing," said Brown. "I don't think he (Carr) could keep him (Pell) under control."

Brown's interview appeared today in Gator Bait, a weekly publication that covers Florida sports. Carr declined comment on the interview.

Brown's testimony to the NCAA investigators, including a statement that his spy trips were financed by a $4,000 slush fund, figured in the 107 alleged violations listed by the NCAA against Florida, and led to Pell being fired.

Pell said Monday he will honor a commitment to appear before an NCAA panel investigating the Gators' football program, but apparently not as a school employee.

He said that he had declined an offer of administrative leave extended by school President Marshall Criser.

Criser relieved Pell of his duties on Sunday and offensive coordinator Galen Hall, who arrived from Oklahoma this season, was named interim coach.

Pell said he rejected Criser's offer to remain with the university until Dec. 1 because of Carr's treatment of two assistant coaches implicated in some of the alleged infractions uncovered during a 21-month probe.

Dwight Adams, assistant head coach for personnel and administration, and defensive coordinator Joe Kines reportedly were given the option of leaving their jobs immediately or remaining with the team for the rest of the season with no chance of being retained for 1985.

Pell said in a prepared statement he read at a news conference that he was "deeply distressed" at the treatment given Ada that he will ask Criser to review Carr's handling of the situation as well as "honor the commitments made on their behalf and adjust the options given them to conform with the standards of dignity."

Carr, in a one-sentence response to Pell's statement, said: "I have no comment other than to say that if there are problems I'm confident they can be worked out."

Pell said he will travel to Kansas City later this week to appear before the NCAA's Committee on Infractions Friday.

University Vice President Al Alsbrook said the Southeastern Conference school hopes to release its 1,000-page response to the NCAA charges Thursday.

Sugar dough flowers topic of program

Susana Gonzalez presented a program on making sugar dough flowers when members of Sweet 'n' Fancy Decorating Club met Thursday.

During the business meeting, programs for the following year were discussed and it was announced that Martha Lytal and Elida Balderaz will make cakes for King's Manor Retirement home this month.

Also, cake decorating classes to be held in October were planned. Classes will be staged on Monday evenings, Oct. 1, 8, 22 and 29. Anyone interested in attending may contact Marcy McCutcheon at 364-3528 or Beckie Fry at 364-4954.

Welcomed as visitors were Rose Goheen and Brenda Goheen by those present. They included Hope Torres, McCutcheon, Teresa Paetzold, Alice Koenig, Evelyn Crofford, Gonzalez and Margaret Gamez.

Little Mr. and Miss pageant set

A Little Mr. and Mrs. Pageant will take place at the Springlake-Earth auditorium on Oct. 13 at 7 p.m.

The age categories are 3-5, 5-7 and 7-11. A $50 savings bond will be given to the winners in each age group. Modeling includes a party dress and play suit.

The pageant is sponsored by the Young Homemakers of Earth. For entry forms or more information, contact Tammy Simpson at 257-2160 or 257-3705 or Christy Embry at 257-2193.

4 Around the County

With the new 4-H volunteers in Deaf Smith County, 4-H offers unlimited opportunities for volunteers to help young people learn and develop.

4-H is the youth development program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and focuses on the needs, interests and concerns of boys and girls between nine and 19 years of age, says Susan Raney. Its aim is to help young people develop through practical learning experiences such as preparing a nutritious meal, building bookshelves or growing a vegetable garden.

Since young people do not develop their skills and attitudes overnight, they need and seek guidance from the 4-H volunteer who helps them probe the "why" behind the "how to do it," says Raney.

Helping youth develop, however, requires different kinds of leadership. For those who prefer to work primarily with youth, 4-H offers leadership roles related to the organization, project or activity aspects of a 4-H group.

While the organization leader guides the overall operation of a 4-H group, project and activity leaders help boys and girls learn by involving them in a specific project, such as clothing, auto repair or bicycle safety and related activities, such as safety clinics, exhibits and local tours. These leaders may, in turn, be assisted by junior and teen leaders who work closely with an adult or teen advisor.

Volunteers who prefer to work primarily with adults also have a wide range of choices. A 4-H project or activity chairman helps other leaders with a specific project or activity. A 4-H recruiter seeks out youth and adults interested in becoming 4-H members or leaders, then allows the 4-H organizer to help the new group get started. Volunteers are also assisted by the 4-H trainer who helps train other leaders in the area and by the 4-H resource person who secures special materials or people from the community.

community.

Another avenue for adults to participate in, is through the Deaf Smith County 4-H Parent-Leaders Association. "This organization supports and helps coordinate the 4-H activities and events in the county," says Raney, "and without them we cannot possible function as effectively." Their meetings are held four times a year and are open to any 4-H parent or leader. A large fund-raising event is held in January and this provides the funds which 4-H functions on. They support 4-H'ers who travel on to district and state events, they sponsor the annual Achievement Banquet held during National 4-H Week and they are a means of training for leaders.

If you are interested in young people, want to share your talents and hobbies, and enjoy meeting other adults with your same interests, consider being a 4-H volunteer, suggests Raney. Call the County Extension Office for more details.

Pediatric workshop planned

A workshop on pediatric asthma for nurses, respiratory therapists nursing faculty and other health professionals will be held from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. Sept. 25 at West Texas State University school of nursing in Classroom Center, Room 101.

The event is being sponsored by the American Lung Association of Texas in cooperation with WTSU school of nursing.

There is no registration fee and the workshop is provided as a Christmas Seal service.

Upon completion of this workshop, participants should be able to understand the nature of pediatric asthma; understand the role of a pediatric asthma research and treatment center, discuss the anatomy and physiology of the respiratory system; understand how the emotions can influence the course of asthma; and understand the role of the community health nurse in the treatment of asthma.

To view tonight

'Hunter', 'Jessie' violent police shows

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "Hunter" and ABC's "Jessie," both beginning tonight, are violent police shows. But that's where the similarity ends. The mayhem fits in "Hunter;" it doesn't in "Jessie."

"Hunter" stars former football lineman Fred Dryer and Stephanie Kramer as two anti-authoritarian detectives who team up in order to work alone. So they think. Their agreement is to go separate ways on the street, but, of course, they bail each other out of jams.

Rick Hunter and Dee Dee McCall are different personalities and their charade is designed to circumvent a by-the-book captain who tries to keep a tight rein on cops, particularly those using their own rules.

"The streets of our city are not a war zone," Capt. Cain (Michael Cavanaugh) tells Hunter. "We're not trying to tame the uncivilized world."

Some of the violence in "Hunter" may be excessive, but it's not jarring because physical stuff fits this hard, double-barrel series. The Stephen J. Cannell production ("The A-Team," "Hardcastle & McCormick," "The Rockford File") softens the heavy action with clever lines and amusing characters.

Hunter tells one sassy hooker to get lost for her own good, confiding in her as "one public servant to another."

A gun in the show's title logo is a tipoff that "Hunter" won't be one of those nambypamby crime shows that worries too much about perpetrators' rights. "You have the right to remain silent," Hunter says, hovering over the thug he's just slugged into unconsciousness.

And, with a story about a female-killing slasher, you realize Hunter won't be worrying too much about white-collar chicanery in the boardroom. The viciousness and senselessness of the knife wielder makes Hunter's brand of frontier justice more palatable.

Hunter and his gun are often filmed from the ground up, making both of them even huger and more menacing. This also enhances Dryer's physical similarity to Clint Eastwood's Dirty Harry.

You wouldn't want to give Dryer the parts Dustin Hoffman passes up yet, but his smirks, quizzical looks and tough-guy stance are credible here. He also works well with Miss Kramer, who gives the tough, stylish McCall, nicknamed the Brass Cupcake, a forceful personality of her own.

and NBC's follow-up "Miami Vice" will make NBC's old "Friday Night Lights" look tame, but when car chases, shooting and punching are handled creatively and with a sense of humor, they can be entertaining.

The other edge of the knife, so to speak, is "Jessie." It began as an interesting idea about a police psychiatrist in Tucson, played by Lindsay Wagner, who was going to explore the mental side of crime and crime-solving. But it has undergone changes. The changes all stem from network interference. ABC thought the pacing of the original script was too slow and it feared too intelligent a series, so the network ordered at least one action sequence every 15 minutes.

The violence, which doesn't fit tonight's story or the character of the originally intended series, is gratuitous. It's violence for violence's sake.

House has 21 shared surnames, Senate none

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although there are 21 shared surnames in the House of Representatives, the Senate currently has none, a situation that would change if Democrat Elizabeth Mitchell wins her bid to defeat Republican Sen. William S. Cohen of Maine.

Maine's senior senator is George Mitchell, a Democrat.

Elizabeth Mitchell says she is no relation to the incumbent Mitchell, although she noted the shared name has produced some interesting observations on the campaign trail.

"That George Mitchell is doing such a good job, I think I'm going to vote for him again," is one response the candidate said she hears occasionally. Another, she told reporters, is "Senator Mitchell is running his wife."

Not true, she insisted — although she did manage George Mitchell's 1982 reelection campaign.

There are some small advantages to the confusion, she allowed. "We recycled some of George Mitchell's campaign buttons."

Meanwhile, over in the House, Rep. Michael D. Barnes, D-Md., has been dividing his time in stump for the Michael Barnes campaign — between himself and Michael P. Barnes of Indiana.

Barnes of Maryland spent some time earlier this month campaigning for his Indiana namesake.

"There is clearly room in the Congress for another Mike Barnes," Maryland's Barnes said. Indiana's Barnes is seeking to unseat Republican Rep. John Hiler.

Although no members of the House shares both the same first and last names, there are six Smiths, four Halls, three Joneses, three Edwards, three Martins, three Youngs, two Andrews, two Browns, two Burtons, two Colemans, two Cranes, two Evanses, two Fords, two Hansens, two Lehmans, two Lewises, two Longs, two Millers, two Morrisons, two Thomases and two Williamses.

The November elections are still more than a month away and the Senate leadership contest two months off, but Sen. Richard G. Lugar issued a statement the other day announcing he'd already run his race.

It wasn't his effort as chairman of the National Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee to win seats for the GOP or his efforts to become the next Senate GOP leader that Lugar was referring to, but a foot race.

Lugar defeated eight other senators — Dan Quayle of Indiana, Jake Garn of Utah, Slade Gorton of Washington, Rudy Boschwitz of Minnesota, Bob Kasten of Wisconsin, Larry Pressler of South Dakota, Steve Symms of Idaho and Paul Tsongas of Massachusetts — to win a three-mile race called the "Capitol Challenge."

Lugar, 52, who says he runs about 25 miles a week, did the three-mile course along the Potomac River in 20 minutes, 50 seconds. "It's getting more competitive every year," Lugar said.

Economic problems result

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the United States' biggest economic problems result from the charitable desire to do "right," by the wish for perfection, by the notion that nothing is impossible if you try.

But from another perspective, you might say the problems are caused by selfishly wanting the cake while eating it, by spending big while producing small, by taking the benefits but not the obligations.

And, perhaps, by refusing to see the reality; as in health care, of the need for painful compromises and that something less than the best is all that can be afforded, even if patients die.

The decisions, and often the failure to face them, pervade society.

—Everyone is for a higher standard of living, but recent history suggests that not all are willing to work for it. Pay increases, for instance, can only be at the expense of someone else if productivity fails to rise simultaneously.

At the risk of oversimplifying, unless a bigger pie is baked nobody can take a bigger share without cutting into someone else's wedge.

Often thought of as a blue-collar phenomenon, it is hardly so. Witness, for example, the executive bonuses handed out even when the company's fortunes are down.

Fashion show slated for King's Manor

Members of 4-H around the county are hosting a "Fashions on the Go" style show for the residents of Kings Manor Retirement Home Thursday at 7 p.m. in the King's Manor Auditorium.

The show will feature 4-Hers in self-made fashions in a tearoom-style showing. The event is being coordinated by the county extension office and senior 4-Her involved in the 4-H clothing project.

The public is invited to attend the admission-free show and refreshments will be served.

Potluck supper scheduled

All 4-H Parents and Leaders are asked to attend the upcoming meeting of Deaf Smith County's 4-H Parent Leader's Association.

A potluck supper will be held, Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. in the lounge of the Community Center. Harrell Holder, Superintendent of Schools, will speak on the affects of the new curriculum changes on 4-H and a business meeting will follow.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Nazarene Church sponsors party

The Good Guys Youth Ministries of the Nazarene Church is sponsoring a "Dr. Pepper Crash" party Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Nazarene Church gym.

Hamburgers, Dr. Pepper and Coca-Cola will be served free and the band "The Stand" from Amarillo will play. Other activities include comedy skits and games.

The party is open to all junior high and high school students.

BALCONY ENRICHES FACADE

HOUSE DESIGN
by Larry Farnsworth

Here is a plan that offers more drama per square foot than many much larger houses, and oh, how beautifully Model AB 1561 does it.

Its exterior lines are graceful and charming with the well-mannered use of brick veneer for lower story and planters, and the cleverly designed garage which turns its entry side away from the front to blend itself in with the living areas. And it has that charming sundeck up above.

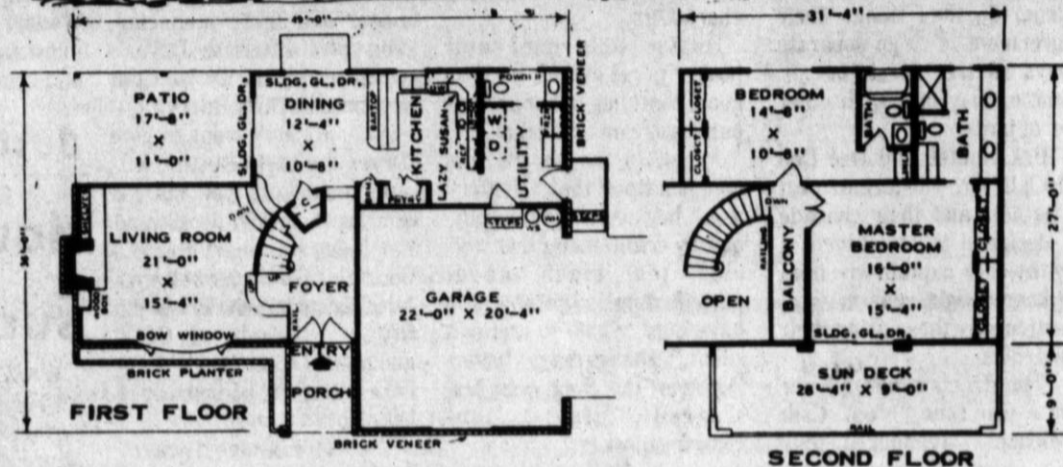

Inside the surprises are even more delightful. That elegant two-storied foyer with its graceful spiral stairway and balcony informs all of your guests, immediately, that this home reflects the charm and good taste of its owners. And think how lovely it will look for the holidays with a 15-foot Christmas tree beside the stairs to greet your festive guests.

The raised living room has a beautiful view through its massive bow window, a welcoming fireplace with raised hearth and built-in wood box and book shelves, and the charm of a vaulted ceiling over all.

Down three shallow steps is the cheery dining room end of the gourmet kitchen and it is bright and sunny indeed with its two walls of glass doors and view of the sheltered corner patio at the left.

The kitchen offers plenty of cupboards and counter space, including a bartop on the dining room side, plus a broom closet and pantry and lazy susan revolving shelves in the corner cupboards. And beyond it is a large utility room with a powder room, outside exits to garage and yard and space for the freezer and more.

Upstairs the big beautiful master bedroom with its own sundeck offers over 15 feet of closets and a lovely private bath, while the rear bedroom too, has a bath of its own.

For gracious, comfortable living, Model AB 1561 is one of the very best. An optional basement is available.
