

Whiteface Season Unblemished

Herd Swamps Lubbock Westerners, 28-0

By BOB NIGH
MANAGING EDITOR

The Herford Whitefaces completed the first unbeaten, untied regular season in the school's history Friday night, completely dominating an outmanned squad of Lubbock High Westerners by a 28-0 count.

The win gave the Herd a sparkling 10-0 record and sealed up an undisputed District 4-5A championship.

"This feels great, I love it," Herd mentor Don Cumpton said in the dressing room following the game, remnants of an impromptu shower given him by the players dripping from his face.

"These kids have a lot of class, and did what they had to do."

What the 'Faces did was to race to a 21-0 halftime lead over Lubbock, and then sit back and watch subs complete the victor, with an insurance score late in the contest.

"We just tried to go out and win," Cumpton said. "After being emotionally high for three weeks, sometimes you just have to go out and win. Our kids were relaxed."

While the Whitefaces celebrated the win, it came not without cost. Standout split-end Rudy Hernandez saw his high school career ended when he suffered a broken jaw on the final play of the first quarter, a play which saw Hernandez grab a 22-yard pass from quarterback Alan Wartes for the game's first score.

Hernandez was sandwiched between two LHS defenders on the play, and will sit out the rest of the season.

Unemployment Soars to 8 Percent

By MERRILL HARTSON AP
Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The jobless rate soared to 8 percent of the labor force last month, the highest rate in nearly six years, surpassing the recession peak of 1980, the Labor Department said today.

More than 8.5 million Americans were out of work in October, the largest number of people without jobs since 1939. Department analysts noted, however, that the 8.5 million figure must be weighed against a labor force that has expanded sharply in the last four decades.

The Reagan administration, which had predicted unemployment would peak at 8 percent, said after today's report that "the rate could move somewhat higher over the next few months before declining as the economy strengthens in 1982."

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the rate rose half a percentage point, from 7.5 percent to 8 percent, from September to October.

And it said the unemployment rate among blacks reached 16.7 percent, the second consecutive record monthly high.

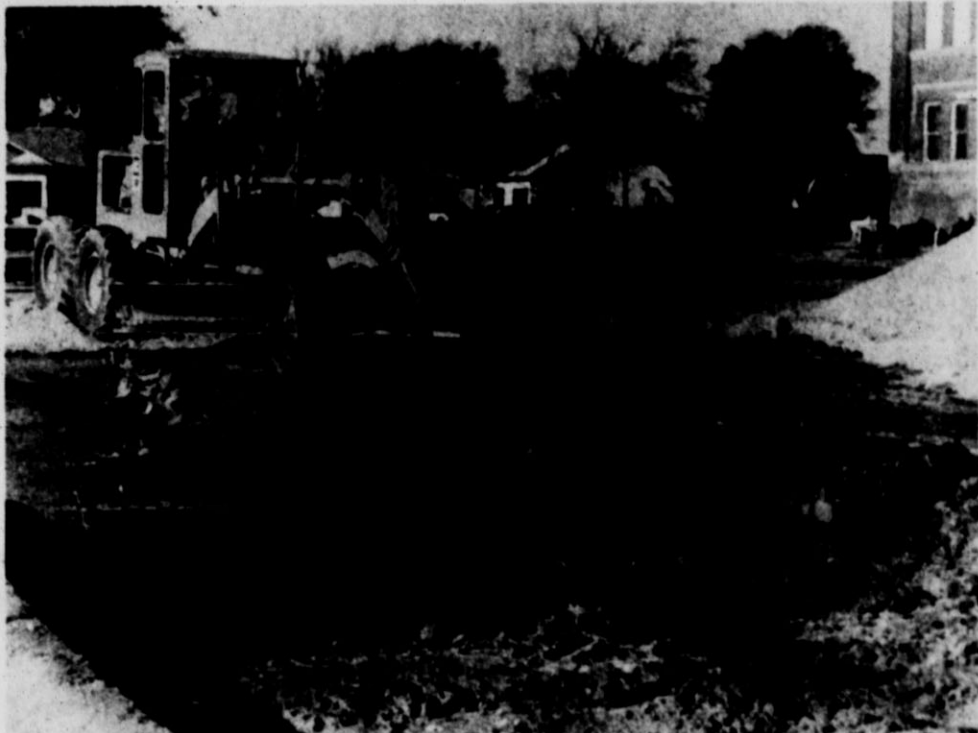

Although the jobless rate reached 8 percent overall, it was still far below the 9 percent high registered in May 1975.

Administration officials and other economists say unemployment will worsen as the economy enters its second recession in as many years.

"The October statistics reflect a substantial deterioration in the labor market," Janet L. Norwood, commissioner of labor statistics, said in testimony prepared for delivery today to the congressional Joint Economic Committee. "The negative signals from so many important indicators provide clear evidence of a

U.S. Forces to Drill In Mideast Countries

By FRED S. HOFFMAN AP
Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon formally announced today that U.S. ground, air and naval forces totaling more than 6,000 men will conduct wide-ranging military exercises for more than a month in Egypt, the Sudan, Oman and Somalia, the biggest such military drills in Middle Eastern countries so far.

The exercises, called Bright Star, come as the United States is attempting to demonstrate to nations in the area and to the Soviet Union that this country intends to protect its friends and its interests in that region.

Many of the details of the impending exercise this month and next have already become known and the Pentagon announcement represented formal confirmation.

Defense officials have said that the exercise, a follow-up to a much smaller maneuver in Egypt a year ago, was in the planning stage before the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat Oct. 6 and that the plans have not been expanded since then.

The exercise will feature, among other things, a non-stop flight by six B-52 bombers from the United States to drop explosives on a weapons range in the Egyptian desert, returning without landing to their home bases at Minot and Grand Forks, N.D.

Also, a Marine landing in Oman, which holds a strategic position near the entrance to the Persian Gulf, will mark a first. However, defense officials said the Omanis have required the United States to scale down the size and scope of that exercise, limiting it to about 1,000 Marines from the Navy amphibious force standing offshore.

The original plan, pushed by American officials, called for an over-the-beach landing by a full Marine unit of about 1,800 men. Apparently, officials said, Oman wants to curb the extent of the U.S. operation to avoid any criticism from other Arab nations regarding it as too closely identified with the United States.

In Egypt, a force of about 4,000 U.S. troops, including two battalions of Army troops from the 24th Mechanized Infantry Division at Fort Stewart, Ga., and the other from the 82nd Airborne Division, will be the main units to take part in joint desert maneuvers with Egyptian troops about 20 miles from the Cairo West airbase.

The most dramatic part of the exercise will be an air drop by a battalion of paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne from Fort Bragg, N.C., on Nov. 14. Desert maneuvers involving the U.S. paratroopers, U.S. mechanized infantry and tanks, and Egyptian forces will be held for three days in the same area.

Troops will be flown from the United States, with the first combat units due to arrive in Egypt next Monday.

Brady to Attend Press Room Fete

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Presidential press secretary James S. Brady will make his first public appearance since he was wounded by gunfire last March when he returns to the White House on Monday to help reopen the refurbished press room.

Except for a few daytime trips home or visits to friends, Brady has remained at George Washington University Hospital since he was critically wounded in the attempted assassination of President Reagan on March 30 outside a Washington Hotel. Brady's family hopes he will be released in time for Thanksgiving.

The press secretary's top deputy, Larry Speakes, told reporters today that Brady will help Reagan cut the ribbon formally opening the new briefing room and working quarters in the White House West Wing.

The press area was closed in August for a $166,000 renovation, including structural reinforcement of the roof which government engineers said was in danger of collapse.

Joe Always Wanted Policeman's Job

BY JERI CURTIS
Staff Writer

Sgt. Joe Brown was one of those kids who, when you asked him what he wanted to be when he grew up, he would answer that he wanted to be a policeman.

He grew up and he became a policeman.

After high school he came to Herford from Poteet, a small town south of San Antonio, to visit his sister.

"I kind of liked the town," he said, "and I got a job at Caviness Packing Company. I worked there for 7½ years."

He moved to Herford on a Friday, met a girl named Annie on Saturday, and married her after the two dated for about a year and a half.

In 1972 the opportunity came for Brown to become a policeman. He was hired by the Herford department and went to school.

"At first the money was real low. It was a $300-a-month drop in salary," Brown recalled. "It was really hard to make ends meet. It was kind of hard for us at the beginning because we had to adjust. But, I always wanted to be a police officer since I was a little boy and the opportunity came up."

After about seven years as a patrolman, Brown had the chance to move into detective work when one of the investigators quit.

"After the years, you start investigation (as a patrolman) and you get interested. You learn more as you go along, you just pick it up," Brown said. "You learn what to look for in a crime scene, how to pick up evidence. You kind of pick up from the detective in front of you."

The big cases—ones with major human injury or monetary loss—take precedence over the small cases.

"When something big comes in, we do work on the major cases," he said. "It may happen again, so you start working on them before someone else gets hurt."

"It's not that I'm saying the little cases like stolen bicycles and batteries aren't important," he explained. "It's just that on the bigger cases you really work."

Satisfaction from cracking a big case comes to Brown because "you feel so good because you've helped someone out."

When a crime needs investigated, detectives are called to the scene immediately, according to Brown. "We're really on call every day."

Since his job frequently calls him away, Brown likes to spend his hours off at home with his Annie and their two children, Joanne, 16, and (See BRANDING, page 2)

Shuttle Columbia Gets Oil Change

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Technicians on round-the-clock shifts changed the dirty oil in Columbia's troubled power units today, hoping this would be enough to put the shuttle back on track for another attempt at launch next week.

If the units, which forced a scrub of the flight Wednesday, are flightworthy, the space shuttle could lift off as early as next Wednesday.

If they have to be replaced, an attempt cannot be made until the following week, said launch director George Page.

NASA spokesman Mark Hess reported that the power unit work, which began Thursday night, was "going very well." But he said no decision on a new launch date was expected before Saturday, when analysis of the three auxiliary power units is to be completed.

Swedes Protest Sub Incident

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Anti-Soviet demonstrators gathered in Stockholm and Copenhagen today, protesting the violation of Swedish waters by a Soviet submarine that carried Uranium-238 and probably was armed with nuclear-tipped torpedos.

The sub was released and turned over to a Soviet flotilla earlier in the day, ending a 10-day stalemate.

About 4,000 people gathered in Stockholm heard Socialist opposition leader Olof Palme declare: "It is inconceivable why Soviet military authorities would jeopardize friendly neighboring relations by an action which was sure to outrage the entire Swedish people."

He said the incident was a "frightening reminder how close we are to the precipice." (See PROTEST, page 2)

Elevator Blast Charges To Be Dropped

HOUSTON (AP) — Charges will be dropped against two men accused of violating federal safety standards which contributed to a 1977 grain elevator explosion in Galveston that killed 18 people and injured 35 others, prosecutors said.

Frank Caulder, a former superintendent at Framers Export Co. elevator, and Robert Jones, former elevator manager, will not be re-tried on 24 misdemeanor criminal charges, said U.S. Attorney Dan Hedges.

Caulder and Jones were tried earlier this year, but the jury could not agree on a verdict.

Justice Department attorneys in Washington and Houston decided Thursday to drop the charges, Hedges said.

"We took our best shot and they jury was split," Hedges said, adding defense attorneys would be better prepared to counter government arguments at a second trial.

In the first trial, both defendants testified measures were taken to correct safety problems at the facility. Design of a more sophisticated system to eliminate explosive grain dust was 60 percent complete at the time of the Dec. 27, 1977, explosion.

Ex Mayor To Run For New District Seat

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Former Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff says he plans to run for Congress in the newly created 26th District.

Vandergriff, 55, served as mayor of Arlington for 26 years. He resigned in 1977, saying he wanted to devote more time to his family and their automobile dealership business.

The 26th District was created in the new congressional redistricting plan. It includes Arlington, part of southwest Fort Worth, Denton County and parts of Collin and Cooke counties.

Vandergriff said Thursday he plans to announce his candidacy soon, but added that he might back out of the race if the 26th District boundaries are substantially changed by a court challenge of the redistricting measure.

The Democrat said he is confident he can win the heavily Republican district, but said he considered switching to the GOP because he is a conservative.

Common Market Criticizes U.S. Suit

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The 10-nation European Common Market today denounced U.S. plans to file anti-dumping suits against European steelmakers.

It also told the Reagan administration to stop blaming Europe for the woes of the American steel industry.

"The European Commission was extremely disappointed to learn of the intention of the U.S. Department of Commerce to take a step that could lead to countervailing duties against steel exports from France and Belgium," said a statement from the commission, the Common Market's executive branch.

Noting that the U.S. decision was made in the midst of diplomatic discussions on the issue, the statement added, "The American authorities preferred to take a dangerous and disputable path."

The Common Market was reacting to an announcement in Washington that anti-dumping cases would be filed against foreign steelmakers. Among them, according to the Commission are, Belgium and France.

Detection Makes Childbirth Easier

CHICAGO (AP) — A new method of detecting genital herpes is making normal childbirth easier for the millions of women who have the disease, which is almost always deadly or disabling if contracted by newborn infants. Genital herpes — a recurrent, untreatable disease that strikes several hundred thousand Americans every year — can be given to newborns as they pass through the birth canal if the mothers are having a herpes outbreak. The virus that causes the disease resides permanently in nerve cells and erupts periodically, creating blisters on the genitals or other areas of the body.

Half of the babies whose mothers have an outbreak will get the disease. Half of the babies who contract it will die. Two-thirds of those who live will have serious brain and nerve damage.

Many doctors advise delivery by Caesarean section whenever there is any question that a mother is having an outbreak. But Dr.

James Harger of the University of Pittsburgh has developed a plan for testing mothers during pregnancy that allows many of them to have normal births.

when he asked for authorization to take the first step toward making the province a sovereign nation. Sixty percent of the voters rejected the proposal, although the vote among the French majority — 5 million of the 6 million people — was split about even.

The PQ easily won reelection in a provincial election in April. At that time, Levesque indicated he might present the separatist option to the voters again in two or three years.

After an emergency caucus of his legislative group late Thursday, Quebec Liberal leader Claude Ryan called the Ottawa agreement a "breakthrough" but refused to endorse it unreservedly.

Whether his party will continue its "common front" with the PQ will probably become apparent after the Quebec legislature convenes Monday.

The Canadian constitution now is the British North America Act of 1867, which federated the colonial provinces. The British Parliament tried to give full self-rule to Canada in 1931, but the Canadians could not agree among themselves on a method of amending the constitution.

The constitution remained in the hands of the British Parliament, which adopted amendments only at the unanimous request of the federal and provincial governments.

how great the risk is for a nuclear war."

Palme demanded the Soviets withdraw all their nuclear-armed ships from the Baltic, or the "Sea of Peace," as the Kremlin calls it. "If the Soviet Union wants to strengthen its credibility there is hardly any other way," he said.

Hundreds of demonstrators milled around outside the Soviet Embassy, both in Stockholm and Copenhagen. Danish Prime Minister Anker Joergensen said in a written statement that if the Soviet sub was cruising the Baltic with nuclear arms "it weakens the Soviet Union's credibility in the European debate on the limiting of nuclear arms."

"It also questions all that (Soviet) talk about the Baltic as the 'Sea of Peace.'"

The transfer of the Soviet sub capped the sharpest post-World War II diplomatic clash between the Soviet Union and its neutral Baltic neighbor.

substantial weakening in the employment situation."

Ms. Norwood said, "The number of persons working parttime because their hours were cut back or because they were unable to obtain fulltime work reached a record 5 million in October."

White House spokesman Larry Speakes said the administration plans to try "quick-fix measures" to bring the rate down but will rely on Reagan's economic plan.

"The rise in unemployment is a natural short-term consequence of unwinding the deeply rooted inflation that is imbedded in the economy," Speakes said.

Later, James Burnham, a spokesman for the president's Council of Economic Advisers, said because of the new figures, the administration raised its jobless estimate for the recession. He said the forecast is for peak joblessness in the "8 percent-plus range."

Administration economists believe the recession will persist into the first half of 1982, but that a strong recovery should be underway by summer. The administration predicts the recession will be short and mild, but recent evidence suggests a longer and deeper one.

The October rate was the highest since the 8.2 percent figure registered toward the end of the 1974-75 recession, in December 1975, which was brought on in large part by the Arab oil embargo.

had spurted from 7.2 to 7.5 percent from August to September this year, and overall black unemployment reached a record 16.3 percent in September.

Department analyst Deborah Klein said that while more Americans were out of work last month than at any other time since 1939, "it is important to remember that millions more people are in the labor force" and looking for work now.

Wesley, 12.

"I don't have hobbies anymore. Once and in a while I like to golf and do a little bowling," Brown said. "Of course I haven't missed a football game, either." (Wesley plays for La Plata.)

Brown is not sure how much his vocation has affected his children's career choices. Joanne has shown interest in becoming a lawyer, but Wesley — "all he talks about is football."

Brown also said his children have not had any harrassment because he is a policeman, nor has he had much flack in that area.

"Most of the problems I've had have been from people from out of town," he said. He said he has not had any problems personally, due to any racial differences. "I've always gotten along with everybody."

Brown knows almost everybody, too, the good and the bad guys. And it helps him on his job.

"You learn more or less who the burglars are, where they live, where they hit. Of course, it's not always going to happen like that.

"This time of year, burglaries are up because of the holidays," Brown continued. "People begin to start shopping and they leave their cars unlocked and they get ripped off."

Brown said the department depends on public help to break cases, because usually someone knows who committed the crime.

"There's maybe a few prints you pick up (at the scene), but where do you go from there? Most of the clues and tips come from citizens. That's where police officers break a lot of cases."

As soon as a case is broken, Brown drops it.

"I learned a long time ago," Brown added. "I work my cases, do my job on them, turn them over to the DA, to leave the things alone. I don't get interested in how many years he (a suspect) got or if he got off. I know I've done my job and I'm satisfied. And that's what makes me feel so good, that I know I've done my part."

Nothing Unusual In Hassle Between Haig; Official

By WALTER R. MEARS AP
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is nothing unusual about the discord between Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig Jr. and the unidentified White House official he accuses of waging "a guerrilla campaign" to undercut his influence.

There was no end of friction before Henry A. Kissinger took the dual role of secretary of state and national security affairs adviser under Richard M. Nixon. And there has been plenty of friction since, no matter the administration or the personalities involved.

It is widely assumed that Haig's hassle is with Richard V. Allen, President Reagan's assistant for national security affairs. That's what they're saying, albeit anonymously, at the State Department. Allen says they are wrong and that Haig knows it. "I know it is not I, and Haig knows it is not I," he said.

Assuming that is so, there would seem to be a problem at the White House, since a bureaucratic guerrilla is saying bad things about the secretary of state and nobody seems to know who it is.

Reagan's spokesmen say the president doesn't know and isn't trying to find out. "He has put the matter to rest," said David Gergen.

It would rest easier if Haig had not sent his spokesman, Dean Fischer, to confirm publicly that he believes somebody in the White House is out to get him. Fischer would not say whom Haig suspects.

Thus Haig validated the reports which Reagan calls unfounded and potentially destructive. It is not the first time Haig has gone public with a complaint about White House matters.

And for all Reagan's expressions of confidence in his secretary of state, he has acted before to cut short power struggles among aides. That's what led him to fire his 1980 campaign manager, John P. Sears.

The latest Haig controversy began with a report by columnist Jack Anderson that Reagan was disappointed in the secretary of state, had lost confidence in him and might replace him by next summer.

White House aides learned of the column before it was due to be published. Haig and Reagan both called Anderson. Reagan said it wasn't so. Haig said the report of presidential displeasure was "the handwork of a top White House aide, who has been running a guerrilla campaign" against him since the earliest days of the administration.

Anderson published those comments and on Tuesday, Fischer publicly confirmed that Haig had made the statements.

Reagan said such reports were damaging U.S. dealings abroad. Haig echoed that in congressional testimony Wednesday.

Harrelson Rights Not Violated

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge says FBI agents did not violate the constitutional rights of Jo Ann Starr Harrelson and he denied motions to reopen a pretrial hearing and to suppress evidence in her weapons violation trial.

The rulings Wednesday by U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders cleared the way for jury selection to begin Monday.

Mrs. Harrelson is the wife of Charles V. Harrelson, a man authorities have identified as the prime target of a massive federal investigation into the assassination of U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr.

She is accused of using a false name to buy a hunting rifle agents said may be linked to the Wood slaying.

Mr. Teague, an Assemblies of God missionary to Ivory Coast, will be guest speaker Sunday Nov. 8 at 6 p.m. at First Assembly of God, 606 E. 15th, the Rev. Steven D. Bookout pastor, has announced.

Mr. Teague and his wife, Jerlene, have worked in Ivory Coast since 1971. They have been involved in evangelistic ministry, establishing new churches, and Bible school work. They also teach at the Ministers Institute in San Pedro, Ivory Coast.

Mr. Teague is chairman of the Association of Theological Education of West and Central Africa and is chairman of the Board of Governors of the Assemblies of God West African Advanced School of Theology in Lome, Togo.

The Teagues also work with the International Correspondence Institute in Ivory Coast, which is a home-study Bible school sponsored by the Assemblies of God Division of Foreign Missions. Started in 1967, ICI now has students in 132 countries of the world. Mr. Teague served as superintendent of the Ivory Coast Assemblies of God from 1976 to 1980.

About their work in Ivory Coast, Mr. Teague says, "The government is very favorable toward the Church, and we find complete freedom to minister. The Church has experienced rapid growth, and there are more than 25,000 members and adherents in the Assemblies of God."

The Teagues went to the Ivory Coast in the pioneer days of the Assemblies of God there and assisted in setting up the organizational structure. They also founded one of the two Bible Colleges for pastoral training.

Prior to missionary appointment, the Teagues pastored in Healdton, Okla., and also traveled in evangelistic ministry in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Mr. Teague holds a B.S. degree from Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie, Tex., and a M.A. degree from the Assemblies of God Graduate School in Springfield, Mo.

He is also a graduate of Leman College, Lausanne, Switzerland in French Studies and has studied at the Brite Divinity School of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, and the Phillips University Graduate School in Enid, Okla.

On returning to the Ivory Coast, the Teagues' primary ministry will be directing the pastoral and Christian education programs for the Ivory Coast Assemblies of God, including mobile teaching assignments to various training centers in major cities. They will also work with ICI and conduct evangelistic meetings.

Pastor Bookout invites the public to attend this special missions service.

tion, which will be held in February.

Other members present were Carlie Burdett, Lynn Carlie, Janette Caviness, Janice Conkwright, Kitty Gault, Glenda Kennan, Barbara Kerr, Selsey Metz, Karen Payne, Naomi Schroeter and Jody Skiles.

Local 4-H'ers Win It Again

By ROBBY VANN
County Extension Agent After Deaf Smith County won Grand and Reserve Grand Champion honors at the Houston Livestock show we thought it would be a long time before it happened again. But low and behold the very next time out it happened again. Yes! Deaf Smith County dominated the steer show at the State Fair in Dallas.

All 4-H'ers attending the Dallas show were pleased with the results. Many of the steers were taken for experience or to make the sale for a premium price. Ricky Vogel and Jeff Shire were really pleased with the results. Ricky's steer, J.R. was chosen Grand Champion and sold for $11,000, while Jeff's steer, Doctor J, was Reserve Grand Champion and sold for $7,000.

Gay Myer's middle weight crossbreed steer also won first in its class. Deaf Smith County 4-H won three first place honors out of six classes in the crossbreed steer division.

A total of ten 4-H'ers exhibited steers at Dallas. Eight of the steers were sold and two were brought home to show later. The steers sold from .71 cents to .91 cents a pound. The other 4-H'ers who attended the Dallas show were Jeremy Myers, Melissa Brumley, Angela Brumley, Chad Stephens, Ricky Yosten and Joni Hicks.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic levels, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Read-a-thon

Shown above are 29 of the 33 students from Northwest Elementary School who are participating in the Multiple Sclerosis Read-a-thon being concluded this month. Each of the

Ann Landers

Admits Bad Advice

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Sometimes I wonder if you are all there. I couldn't believe your answer to "Sis Who Cares," the teenager who wanted to help her 15-year-old brother who had been seduced by an older woman on his paper route.

Here you have an innocent young kid who was sexually abused by a sicko divorced nut who tells him he looks like John Travolta, pays him double and says, "Keep the change." He was so ashamed when he confessed the traumatizing experience to his sister that he broke down and cried.

And YOU tell him to "act like nothing happened" and if she (or any other customer) flirts him in for a glass of milk and a piece of cake, to say, "Sorry, I must refuse your invitation. It isn't businesslike."

If that 15-year-old had been a girl instead of a boy, I'll bet your advice would have been entirely different. Don't you realize that an adult woman who takes indecent liberties with a minor male is just as guilty as a dirty old man who takes advantage of an underage girl? That woman should be reported to the authorities. And the young fellow needs counseling to get over his shame and guilt.

Please review that letter and give some sensible advice that sounds more like the Ann Landers we used to admire and respect. I cannot believe you wrote that dumb answer. What happened? Shocked In Lexington.

DEAR LEX: My phone must have been off the hook. Obviously I was temporarily disconnected. You are right. The advice stank.

You and dozens of others yanked me back to the real world and plugged me in. Thank you. The correct advice is the one you gave. The woman should be reported by the boy's parents, and counseling should be offered to help the youth get over the trauma.

DEAR ANN: Hurray for your answer to "Albuquerque Problem" who refused to let his customers use the employees' bathroom in an emergency.

When I was pregnant with my ten-pound, six-ounce son, I was sick as a dog the whole nine months and worked right up to the day of delivery. In my eighth month I was doing my marketing. I was pushing two carts full of groceries when I felt the familiar waves of nausea coming on. I didn't want to leave my unpaid-for groceries behind and I couldn't have made it home on time, so I told an employee I didn't feel well and asked if I might use the restroom. I was as big as a barn and he knew darned well I was P.G.

His reply was, "Sorry, our facilities are for employees only." So I threw up my spaghetti lunch all over the floor.

The following week, when I asked the same young man if I could use the washroom, he personally escorted me without delay.

Moral of the story: It pays to play your trump when the deck is stacked against you.—One Who Did In Santa Fe

DEAR ONE: All retail stores should have facilities which can be used by customers in case of an emergency—and the employees should be gracious about it. Apparently you are a real whooper. Plastic bags should be part of your standard gear during pregnancy to avoid inconvenience and embarrassment.

Students Involved In Read-a-thon

Thirty-three second and third graders at Northwest Elementary School are participating in a Read-a-thon sponsored by the Panhandle Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society. The students obtained sponsors who agreed to pay a specific amount for each book read. The students are reading books from Oct. 21 to

Nov. 13. From No. 13-20, they will collect the money from their sponsors. Money collected will be sent to the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Based on the number of books read and the amount of money collected, the students can win a key ring, a frisbee, a Read-a-thon t-shirt or a back pack.

Auxiliary Plans For Thanksgiving Dinner

The Executive Board of the American Legion Auxiliary met Tuesday evening in the American Legion Hall. Plans were made for the Thanksgiving dinner to be held on Nov. 17, and the gift show to be in the Veterans Center in Amarillo.

The Plans were presented to the membership which convened later the same evening. Edwina Thomas presided over the business meeting.

The Thanksgiving dinner will be in the American Legion Hall Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. and will be a family affair. The members who attend are to bring a salad, vegetable, or dessert. Meats, drinks, and bread will be furnished by the unit.

The following committees were appointed: Pet Ott and Betty Jo Carlson will bake turkey and dressing; Beverly Roll, Troyce Hanna and Ruth King will set up tables and decorate and Carol Odum is beverage chairman.

Beverly Jesko asked that each member bring or send a gift, money, or stamps for the hospital gift shop. This may be brought to the Thanksgiving dinner.

Membership Chairman Ruth King reported good response to the membership drive. A total of 104 members responded. One hundred eleven were needed to reach the goal. Again the Hereford unit is the largest unit in the District.

A holiday bake sale will be sponsored Dec. 5 in the Sugarland Mall. Members are asked to participate by sending homemade holiday products to be sold.

A Grand Cross breakfast will be served in the Legion Hall Nov. 22 by the members of the Auxiliary. Troyce Hanna will be chairman.

A recreation party will be sponsored in the V.A. Hospital Monday night Nov. 9, with refreshments and prizes being furnished by the unit.

A bingo party will be hosted in Kings Manor Nov. 12.

The American Legion will host a pancake supper Nov. 11 in the Legion Hall. Veterans and family are invited.

Beverly Jesko, past retiring president, was presented a plaque, in appreciation of her service to the unit in the past years. She also wears a past presidents pin.

Carol Lohr, Legislative chairman gave a report on veterans legislation, naming the cuts that affect veterans in the budget cuts. She stated that the loss of the burial allowance will deeply affect many veterans.

After the meeting, Betty Jo Carlson introduced Beverly Harder, Home Economist for Arrowhead Mills, who gave a very interesting program on health foods. She stressed the fact that we consume too much sugar in our diets and said that an effort should be made to control the use of sugar in children's foods and drinks as well as our own.

GOD IS WHEREVER YOU MAY GO

Even though your faith and your Church have their regular place in your daily walk of life, do you remember to include them in your vacation plans? Whatever highway you travel, God is there to provide you and your loved ones with His unfailing guidance and protection, if you will only reach out and avail yourself of it. He is everywhere, in the beauty of all the mountains, lakes and valleys of this world which He created, and so are His Churches. You can easily find them anywhere throughout the land. Remember that God never takes a vacation from you; don't take a vacation from Him!

Go where he will, the wise man is at home,
His hearth the earth, his hall the azure dome.

High Breaks Coveted 1000 Yard Mark

Going For 1000

Fouts Flying High

By Murray Olderman

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) In the case of Dan Fouts, the figures begin to tell the story.

Over the past two seasons with the San Diego Chargers, the tall, limber armed quarterback has passed for an astounding total of 8,797 yards. That is just three yards shy of five air miles! Those gains have also accounted for 54 touchdowns. In the process, he has set (in 1980) National Football League single season records for attempts (589), completions (348) and yards gained (4,715).

Not content with statistics, asserts Fouts (No. and Charles Lindbergh wasn't aware that his Spirit of St. Louis was flying east over the Atlantic Ocean.) But everybody keeps bringing them up," he adds resignedly.

Air Coryell as the passing attack of the Chargers has become known since Don Coryell, the coach with the built in scowl, took over the San Diego team four games into the 1978 season.

"Attitudes," muses Fouts, "have changed as far as the pass is concerned. Guys like Coryell can show you statistics that we average seven yards per attempt, not just completions. You can't show me anybody who can average that on running plays. He can show you 400 yards per game average on total offense. Well, you can't do that running the ball. And we scored over 400 points. It's getting to the point that people realize you can win by throwing the football."

That doesn't portend much for the game's infant try, slogging it out on the ground.

"It's not an easy thing to commit yourself to," continues Fouts in his case for air superiority, "because there's a moment there when the ball is in the air that you don't know what is going to happen. When you hand the ball off, most of the time it's safe."

By living dangerously, the Chargers have managed to finish first in the AFC West the past two seasons, with respective records of 12-4 and 11-5, and to reach the playoffs for the first time since 1965.

"We're not embarrassed about throwing the ball," says Fouts. "This team's very proud of the way we do things. Proud of the fact we win games, number one. Our offensive linemen are very talented. They could be great run blockers, too."

"Rudy was to go into surgery at noon today (Friday)," Cumpton said. "He had the jaw broken pretty badly, and will be out for the year."

According to team dentist Dr. Richard Sheppard, Hernandez suffered a break of the "right angle of the mandible." Dr. Ron Redus was to perform the surgery on the HHS star at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo.

Dr. Sheppard estimated that Hernandez' jaw would be wired together for at least six weeks. With the injury to Hernandez, the Herd has lost two offensive starters in as many weeks.

Center Tim Martin was lost for several weeks when he suffered a broken arm against Coronado a week ago.

"We don't need many more of these injuries," Cumpton said. "We're just thankful that they are injuries that Tim and Rudy can fully recover from. These types of things hurt us, but we're fortunate to have some depth with some kids who can step in and perform well for us in those positions."

After Hernandez' touchdown, and Raymond Martinez' PAT, the Herd salted the game away before intermission with a 5-yard TD run by Alfred Ball and a 37-yard pass-run play which saw tailback Wayne High give the Herd a 21-0 bulge.

Ball's score followed an interception by Hereford linebacker John Phibbs, who picked off a Westerner aerial at the LHS 42 and returned the ball to the 23.

High's touchdown came on a planned play in which Wartes connected with split-end Mike Mason for a 7-yard gain. Mason then pitched the ball back to High coming down the sideline. High then outraced the Lubbock secondary to the endzone.

Martinez added both PATs for the 21-0 Hereford lead.

On the play High eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark in rushing for the year, making him the first Herd runner since former standout, and current West Texas State performer, Paul Bell turned the trick during his junior year at HHS.

High finished with 69 rushing yards on the night Friday, bringing his season total to 1,037. The speedy Herd senior has now gained two yards more than the Whitefaces have allowed 10 opponents on the ground for the year.

Lubbock High finished with 35 yards rushing in the game and only two passing yards for 37 yards total offense. Rudy Reina, the district's third-leading runner, finished with 33 net yards.

Hernandez finished with 22 yards on his touchdown reception, his fifth score of the year. He finished with 335 yards on 15 receptions.

Herd tight end Don DeLozier caught two aerials for 24 yards against the Westerners, giving him 18 receptions on the year, good for 213 yards. Mason had three catches Friday for 27 markers, giving him 12 receptions and 190 yards in 10 games.

With the win the Herd will take a week off to watch the conclusion of the district slate next week and then take a week to prepare for their bi-district opponent.

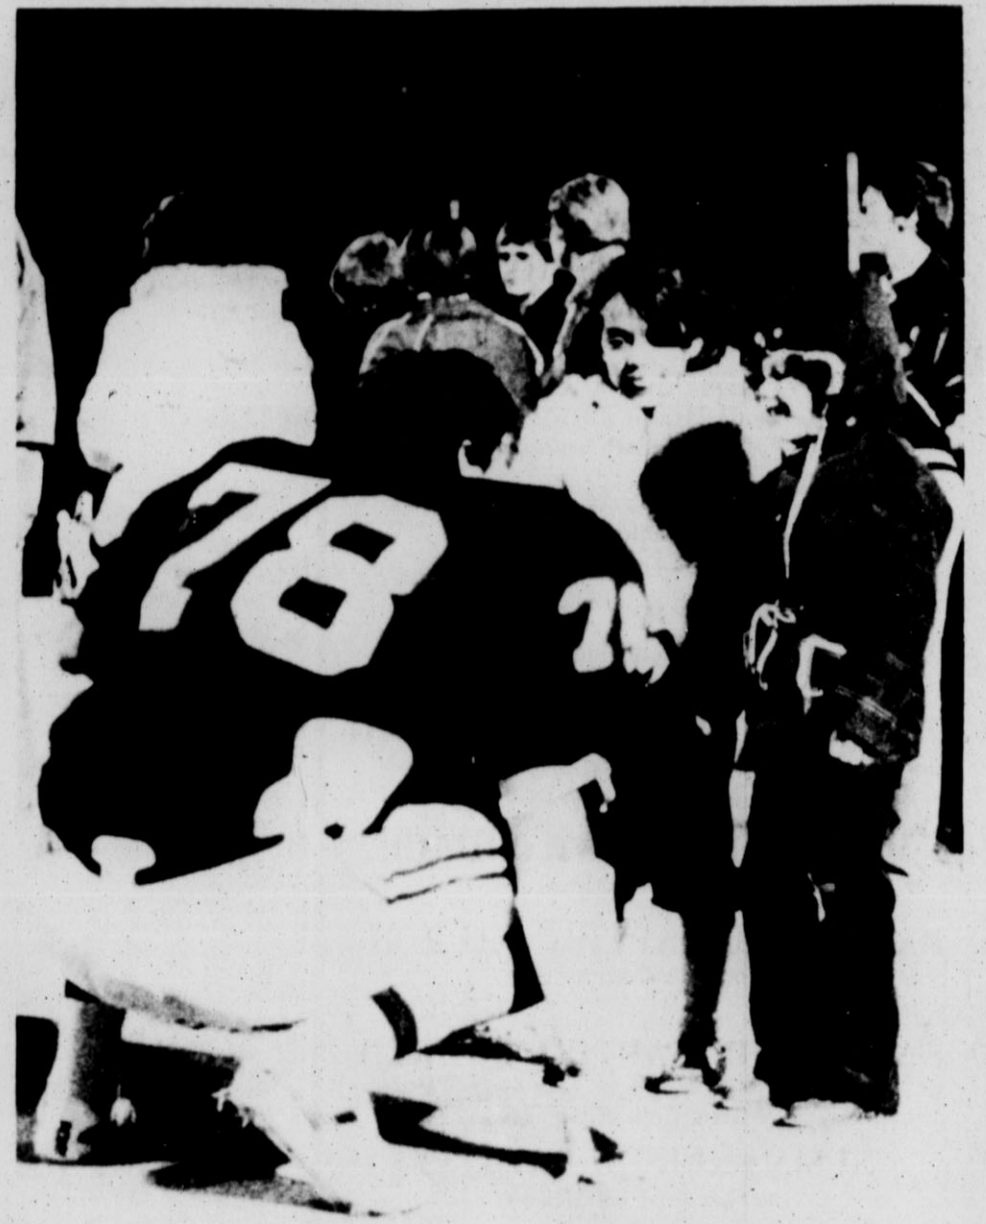

Amarillo Palo Duro can clinch that bi-district berth with a win over Pampa tonight. A Dons win would set up a rematch between Hereford and Palo Duro. The Faces took a 28-9 decision over PD during the second week of this season.

"We'll be ready for whoever wins that district," Cumpton said. "Whoever we play will be tough because everybody who gets into the playoffs is good."

Arnold Villegas scored the Herd's final regular-season touchdown with 2:07 remaining in the game following a 24-yard LHS punt. The Faces took eight plays to gain the TD, with the big play of the drive a 17-yard gain by Glen Phibbs on a wingback counter.

Glen Phibbs then tacked on the final PAT for a 28-0 Herd decision.

Holmes Predicts Kayo

BY ED SCHUYLER JR.

AP Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) —

Larry Holmes had just predicted he would knock out Renaldo Snipes in defense of the World Boxing Council heavyweight championship tonight when a member of Snipes' camp shouted, "Promises, promises."

Holmes turned and faced the heckler, then said, "Don't worry about it, I keep mine."

The champion is such a strong favorite to there is no betting line on the fight.

The 25-year-old Snipes has won all 22 of his pro fights, 11 by knockout, but he was a controversial winner of a split decision after being knocked down twice in his last bout against Gerrie Coetzee Aug. 9. And he is at big disadvantages in both general experience and experience in a big fight to Holmes, who was 32 Tuesday.

During the official weigh-in Thursday — Holmes, 6-foot-3 weighed 213³/₄ and the 6-2 Snipes 215³/₄ — the fighters exchanged jibes, leading one bystander to remark that he hoped the fight had as much action.

Because Holmes, who is getting $1.1 million, could blow a $10 million payday against top-ranked Gerry Cooney in March by falling victim to a major upset, promoter Don King has billed the fight as "Imminent Danger."

That piece of hype also stems from the fact that Jersey Joe Walcott, a 6-1 underdog making his fifth bid for the title, knocked out Ezzard Charles in the seventh round at old Forbes Field here July 18, 1951.

Pittsburgh's first heavyweight championship fight since the Walcott-Charles bout will be held in the 17,000-seat Civic Arena. A spokesman for the Civic Arena Corporation said he hoped for a crowd of at least 12,000. A crowd of 13,000 reportedly was needed for the arena to break even. Tickets were scaled from $200 down to $20.

Holmes' 11th defense of the title he won from Ken Norton on a split decision June 9, 1978, was to be televised live by ABC, as was a 10-round bout featuring Michael "Dynamite" Dokes. The telecast was scheduled for 9 p.m. to 11 p.m., EST.

Shula Going For Win Number 200

For Don Shula, the password is "perspective."

"Right now," he says, "the important thing is us winning our seventh game."

If the Miami Dolphins win it Sunday against the New England Patriots, it'll also be Shula's 200th career victory as a coach in the National Football League. For a profession in which longevity is the exception rather than the rule, it would put Shula in some pretty exceptional company.

Of the dozens and dozens of coaches who have come and gone, only George Halas (founder of the Chicago Bears and a founding father of the league itself), Curley Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers (another founder), and Tom Landry (the only coach the Dallas Cowboys have had since their birth in 1960) have won 200 games.

Sunday's other games are Tampa Bay at Minnesota, Atlanta at San Francisco, New Orleans at Los Angeles, the New York Jets at Baltimore, Cincinnati at San Diego, Oakland at Houston, Detroit at Washington, the New York Giants against Green Bay at Milwaukee, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Chicago at Kansas City, Cleveland at Denver and Pittsburgh at Seattle, Buffalo is at Dallas Monday night.

The Dolphins of 1981, despite being a team in transition, have managed to stay atop the American Conference's East Division since opening day. They won their first four games and tied the fifth en route to a 6-2-1 record which has them one-half game ahead of Buffalo.

One thing Shula'd like to change is the Dolphins' record in Schaefer Stadium, the Patriots' home in Foxboro, Mass. Miami hasn't won there in its last five tries, not since sweeping the two game series 22-14 and 20-7 in 1975. Last year's visit produced a 34-0 blowout by the Pats. But the Dolphins got even later in the season with a 16-13 overtime victory in the Orange Bowl which knocked the Patriots out of the playoffs.

Tampa Bay, which got the jump on the rest of the league this year (they opened their season on a Saturday night at home) by beating Minnesota 21-13, can take command of the National Conference's Central Division with their first season sweep of the Vikings. The teams are tied for first place with 5-4 records, one game ahead of Detroit. In the NFC West, Los Angeles and Atlanta are tied for second place at 3-4. Rams' Coach Ray Malavasi, distressed by quarterback Pat Haden's erratic play and lack of point production and by the loss of Jeff Rutledge with a dislocated right thumb, has turned to Dan Pastorini, the Oakland castoff, as his starter against the Saints.

San Francisco owns the biggest lead in the league, a two-game edge over the Rams and Falcons. The 49ers play Atlanta, which beat them 34-17 in September. The following week San Francisco began what has now stretched to a six-game winning streak, the longest in the club's history.

On a streak in the opposite direction are the Baltimore Colts, the losingest team in the NFL this year at 1-8. The lone victory came against the Patriots on opening day. Like the 49ers, the Colts have never had a streak to match this one.

Boy Hoopsters Ready For Start of New Season

By MARC HERRING
Staff Writer
A change in philosophy, at least for Hereford, is being initiated by Bobby Decker, head coach of the boys basketball team. Basketball it seems, has long been one of the 'other' sports in Hereford, one that is barely capable of functioning on its own and must rely on people from the football team to fill out the roster. No more. "With the attitude that the only way to put a winning team on the court is to work with the players more than two days before the season starts, Coach Decker is going to rely on very few football players to make up this year's edition of the Hereford hoopsters. "We have 16 guys in the gym right now," Coach Decker said. "Our plan is to use seven of those on the varsity with six footballers having a chance to break into the lineup. "Of the ones I've talked to and have given their commitment to play this year, Alan Wartes, Don Delozier, Wayne High, Mike Mason, Charles McDowell and Brian Taylor are the only seasonal players we will carry on the varsity."

All-year players that will carry the brunt of the Whitefaces attack this year are seniors Dwayne McNaney and Kyle Schuder, and juniors Gary Long, John Keating and Steve Welch.

Other players that will be with the varsity are Theron Griggs, Steve Barrett, Scott DeBoer, Shawn Patrick and Gomer Garcia. The last three are sophomores and will be with the varsity until the seasonal players can beat them out of their spots.

With the season opener just a little over a week away, the game plan for the Whitefaces is to run a 1-3-1 defense after pressing most of the time.

Offensively, the Herd will go with a point guard, two wing men and a double post alignment. Because of the perennial lack of height, the tallest player on the varsity will be 6-2, and quickness will be the key point in the Hereford attack.

"Our front three people, Long, Keating and McNaney, have exceptional quickness and that will help in our attack and defensively also,"

Decker said. "Right now, Schuder is our tallest player at 6-2, so we will go with a lot of passing and taking the outside shot."

Coach Decker has some players in the gym that will be the nucleus of the Hereford team, but right now none of the players have any varsity experience.

"It always seems that Hereford is in a rebuilding year," Decker said. "I've been in the Hereford area since 1977 and this is the first year that we have enough quality players in the gym right now to play the level of basketball that we need to be able to play."

As a matter of record, the Hereford basketball team has never been in postseason play the same year that the football team has. The reality behind this statistic is that in the past the basketball team has had to rely on football players to give the team the needed talent to succeed.

This year, Coach Decker hopes that he has started a trend towards having more all-year basketball players.

"We will be inexperienced this year, especially at the first of the season, but I have seven underclassmen in the gym that will be on the varsity, so we will have some good players to look forward to," Coach Decker said.

Saturday the Whitefaces will scrimmage Canyon at the La Plata gym starting at 2 p.m. A second scrimmage was cancelled when it was found that it conflicted with the opening game of the season, Nov. 17.

It Takes More Than One

Ernest Villalobos shows that it takes more than one Plainview defender to bring him down in Thursday afternoon's junior varsity action. Villalobos ran

Cotton Bowl Berth Up For Grabs For Texas

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

The fifth-ranked and preseason favorite Texas Longhorns take their Cotton Bowl hopes to a place Saturday night where many a dream has turned to a nightmare—the Astrodome.

The Longhorns were rated a field goal favorite over the Cougars who are 14-4 against Southwest Conference foes on their home turf.

Houston has never lost to more than one SWC foe in the Astrodome in one season. The Cougars have already been beaten at home by SMU this year.

Texas is 3-1, a half game behind SMU in the SWC race. The Cougars are 3-2 and tied for third place with Arkansas, Texas A&M, and defending SWC champion Baylor.

The 10th ranked Mustangs (4-1) were 24-point favorites over Rice on homecoming in Texas Stadium in a day game.

Baylor was an eight-point underdog to Arkansas in a night game at Little Rock.

In the only other SWC game, Texas Tech, 0-5 and still trying to get Coach Jerry Moore his first SWC win, was a one-point pick over crippled Texas Christian, 1-4, in Lubbock.

Texas has beaten Houston the last two years.

"There's not much you can say about them that hasn't already been said...simply the best group of athletes from one end of the line of scrimmage to the other," said Houston Coach Bill Yeoman.

"I hear the NFL scouts say they could spend a week just looking at the Texas senior group alone."

Yeoman said the Cougars must quit fumbling to have a chance.

"Our kids have to learn that it is a thousand times more dangerous on our side of the 50-yard line," he said. "Last week we gave TCU two scores by fumbling on our end."

Probation-blemished SMU cracked The Associated Press Top Ten again this week and the poll and the SWC is all the Mustangs have to play for.

Honeymoon Good For Another Year

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Normally the honeymoon for an expansion team lasts a year.

Typically, first-time National Basketball Association fans at 1980 Dallas Maverick games were trying to find any excuse to get stirred up. Ten-point losses got standing ovations.

There were few legitimate occasions to get excited except for the opening victory over San Antonio. The year ended with just 15 successes.

The sophomore season for any sports franchise is normally an antsy one for the fans. Morale victories grow hollow. More value for the dollar is expected.

However, the guess here is that the Mavericks will get a second honeymoon.

One reason should be 6-5 forward Mark Aguirre, the million-dollar rookie from DePaul, who already has this town buzzing.

His flying finger-rolls kept 16,000 fans in a tizzy at a recent exhibition game with the Philadelphia 76ers. When he scored 16 points in one quarter — preseason or no — he became an instant honorary Texan.

Aguirre displayed Dr. J. (Julius Erving)-style hangtime on his drives to the bucket. His outside shooting was suspect because he dominated the inside in college. However, Aguirre has pleased Coach Dick Motta with his accuracy from 15 feet and out.

The Mavericks kept five rookies for this season as they build to the future. Besides Aguirre, the Mavs kept free agent Kurt Nimphius, a 6-10 center-forward, 6-5 guard Elston Turner, 6-9 forward

Jay Vincent, and 6-6 swingman Rolando Blackman.

The only remaining original Mavericks now are forwards Jim Spanarkel and Tom LaGarde.

The Mavericks, alas, do not have a dominating center which is a must to survive in the NBA. Scott Lloyd is certainly no Moses Malone.

The Maverick front office and their fans will be watching their No. 1 draft choice closely when the inevitable losing streak develops.

Aguirre, a sometimes moody player, was used to dominating and winning in college. How's he going to handle not being able to do either in the NBA?

"I'm not used to losing and I don't expect to be on a loser here," says Aguirre. "This team is going to be better than everybody thinks."

That's the kind of talk Texans like to hear. Brave. Bold. Blustery.

But iffen you jawbone down heah, podnuh, you've got to back up the palaver.

Aguirre did during the exhibition campaign with an average of 18.3 points per game while playing only 22 minutes per contest. That's why Maverick fans already love him.

Pistons Using Rookies For Best Start In Years

By GARY MYERS
AP Sports Writer

The urge to "Break up the Pistons," is nothing new to pro basketball in Detroit. This year, however, the phrase has taken on completely new — and positive — significance.

The Pistons, giving new meaning to the word hapless over the last two seasons, winning 37 of 164 games, are off to a fast start in the 1981-82 National Basketball Association season.

Detroit is 3-0 and smokin'.

Break up the Pistons.

The Pistons, with renewed spirit thanks to rookies Isiah Thomas and Kelly Tripucka, made it 3-for-3 Thursday night with a 109-103 victory over the winless New Jersey Nets at the Silverdome. And most impressive was the fact that Detroit rebounded from a 14-point second-quarter deficit and had to go the last 1:26 without Thomas, who fouled out.

John Long scored 10 of his game-high 23 points in the fourth quarter and the Pistons held off a late rally by New Jersey, which closed within 105-103 with 18 seconds remaining.

Thomas and Tripucka were responsible for the first two victories, but against New Jersey, reserve Terry Tyler came off the bench to score 15 points with nine rebounds and six blocked shots, including two by Nets rookie Buck Williams.

Nets Coach Larry Brown, who blasted Meadowlands Arena fans for booing his team in a loss to Atlanta Wednesday night, found life on the road just as tough. The Nets are in a streak where they play 10 of 13 on the road.

In other NBA games played Thursday night, the Milwaukee Bucks defeated the Washington Bullets 98-90, the Utah Jazz defeated the Golden State Warriors 110-101 and the Phoenix Suns crushed the Dallas Mavericks 121-93.

Brown, who expects a rough time with his very young New Jersey team, was impressed with the Pistons, whose players, for the most part, are not far removed from the campus.

Bucks 98, Bullets 90

Washington, 0-3, and the Nets are the only winless teams left in the NBA. And Milwaukee's Brian Winters made certain the Bullets stayed that way, scoring 18 of his 25 points in the second half. Winters' layup and three long jumpers helped the Bucks open a 14-point lead in the third quarter and Milwaukee, 2-1, then held off a late Washington rally that saw the lead shrink to five. Winters came to the rescue again with a layup and an assist on a Quinn Buckner layup to ice the game.

Gun Club To Host Shoot

The Hereford Gun Club will hold a fund raising shoot Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Prizes include turkeys, hams and other. All shooter are invited to come out and compete.

NOTICE BY PUBLICATION STATE OF TEXAS
To MARILYN THOMPSON, Respondent
GREETINGS:
YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear and answer before the Honorable 222nd Judicial District Court, Deaf Smith County, Texas, at the courthouse of said county in Hereford, Texas, at or before 10:00 o'clock a.m. of the Monday next after the expiration of 20 days from the date of service of this citation, then and there to answer the petition of the TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES, Petitioner, filed in said Court on the 3rd day of November, 1981, against MARILYN THOMPSON, Respondents, and said suit being numbered DR-81-175-A on the docket of said Court, and entitled "In the Interest of ELVA GAY THOMPSON and RHEA DONNA THOMPSON, Children," the nature of which suit is a request for temporary orders in suit affecting the parent-child relationship. Said children were born the 20th day of November, 1967, in Amarillo, Texas and the 29th day of January, 1964 in Friona, Texas.

The Court has authority in this suit to enter any judgment or decree in the children's interest which will be binding upon you, including but not necessarily limited to, the termination of the parent-child relationship, the determination of paternity, and the appointment of a conservator with authority to consent to the children's adoption.
Issued and given under my hand and seal of said Court at Hereford, Texas, this 5 day of November, 1981.
Lola Vaye Veazey
Clerk of the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas. 90-1c

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have a friend who thinks you can cure everything with vitamin E. She takes it all the time. According to her, if you take vitamin E you will never have to see a doctor. She says it will prevent heart attacks, blood clots, strokes and arthritis. She also says it is the best agent available to prevent aging. She tells me that is why she looks younger than most women her age, but she doesn't look a day younger than I do and I'm a year older than she is. I told her that one day and she got huffy and said just wait 10 years and if I could still see I'd know the difference.

What is the truth, Dr. Lamb? Will vitamin E do all these things for you and, if so, why don't more doctors recommend it? DEAR READER - Usually when an item is claimed to work miracles it is time to watch your wallet. Those kinds of claims are reminiscent of the old-time medicine shows that sold snake oil to the gullible. Vitamin E does have some very useful purposes. It does help control leg cramps in some people - depending upon what causes the leg cramps. It is useless in others with cramps. It does not cure arthritis or prevent it. It does not cure or prevent heart disease. It was once believed to be helpful in preventing blood clotting but it was discovered the agent affecting blood clotting was the substance the vitamin E was packaged in as a medicine, not the vitamin E itself. There are very good medicines available to control blood clotting today and vitamin E has no place in this.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Watch your wallet

Vitamin E is an antioxidant and in laboratory studies may help prevent cellular aging. That is a long way from what it does in humans. And you should get vitamin E from a well-balanced diet. To prevent aging you will do better to follow more practical measures such as staying lean, not smoking, eating a good diet and staying active.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a 65-year-old man with a hoarseness that has not gone away for a month. There is no lump on my vocal cords but the doctor seems concerned. Would you explain why please? He feels a person of my age should stay in the house, rest and not talk. I am getting tired of both the hoarseness and the treatment. I gave up alcohol because that seemed to cause soreness. DEAR READER - Anyone who has unexplained hoarseness for more than two weeks should have an examination. That includes the direct examination of the larynx by looking down into the larynx with a light. Persistent hoarseness can be a sign of throat cancer. That is why your doctor is concerned.

Often throat cancer is not diagnosed in its early stages even after several examinations. For that reason if the condition is not resolved, I think it is best to see a specialist in ear, nose and throat diseases and be sure that whoever examines you looks down your throat into the larynx. Incidentally, men who drink a lot and smoke are the ones at greatest risk of throat cancer. There are a lot of other causes for hoarseness so I am not saying you have cancer, but if you should have any signs of it your doctor wants to diagnose it early.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Homemade scented soap
By Polly Fisher
DEAR POLLY - I recently tried making my own soap using lye, and although it seems to have turned out OK, I'd like to know how to scent it. The directions say not to use any kind of perfume or alcohol-based product with lye, but it doesn't give any suggestions on what you can use to scent the soap. Do you know anything about this? - R.W.S.
DEAR R.W.S. - It is true that you shouldn't use perfume or alcohol to scent lye-based soap. You could use powdered spices to both scent and color the soap - cinnamon, turmeric or cloves. Essential oils, which do not contain alcohol, are available at many drug stores and health food stores, and these can also be used. They include such luxurious fragrances as lavender, rose and gardenia. Homemade soap is a nice gift and soapmaking is an interesting hobby, as long as proper caution is exercised in the handling of lye and lye mixtures. Have fun! - POLLY

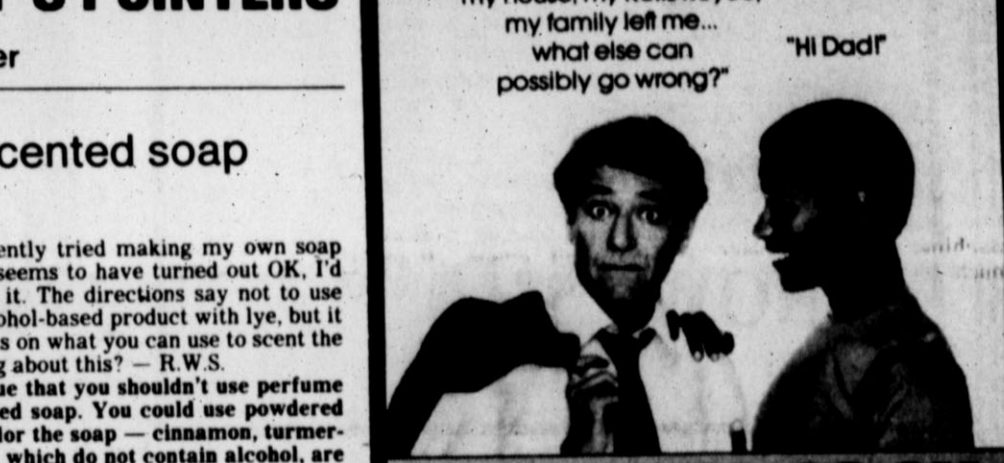

DEAR READERS - We recently had a reader ask about how to get a good head on a glass of beer. Pete Minadeo, who works for a brewing company, passed along some interesting information, which I'd like to share with you. To keep a good head on a glass of beer, the glass must be clean and free of all grease. To test your glasses after rinsing, wet the inside of the glass with clean water. Then sprinkle the entire inside surface with table salt. If the glass is not completely grease-free ("beer-clean"), the salt will not stick to the surface of the glass, leaving bare spots. If the glass is beer-clean, the salt will coat the entire inner surface of the glass. Then just rinse away the salt thoroughly, and pour your beer!

Mr. Minadeo also suggests softening your glass-washing water if your water is hard. Minerals in hard water will leave stains and films on the glass, which can also prevent beer foam from clinging. He also says glasses should be dried, since cotton towels can leave lint and greasy residue on glasses. Bottoms up! - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Whenever I eat out, I always have a large portion of uneaten food to take home. Instead of relying on the restaurant's paper "doggie bags," which sometimes leak and tear, I take along a small plastic freezer container. The waiters are always happy to fill my container and my leftovers arrive home in perfect condition. - MRS. P.
