Soviet Involvement Evident

Photos Indicate Nicaraguan Military Buildup

By R. GREGORY NOKES Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Intelligence experts working to build public support for U.S. policy in Central America are showing off aerial photographs they say document a massive Sovietsupplied military buildup in Nicaragua.

Adm. Bobby Inman, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, told reporters Tuesday that the buildup endangers all of Central America and far exceeds what Nicaragua would need for its own defense.

He said Cuba, which the

Jupiter Effect No More Dangerous Than Friday 13

LOS ANGELES (AP) - If you're reading this, the world probably didn't come to an end today.

Some people thought it might - or at least that Los Angeles would be destroyed by an earthquake, or islands would be drowned in tidal waves or some other natural catastrophe would shake the planet.

Their fears are based on media reports that all nine planets will be on one side of the sun today as part of normal orbital patterns.

Strake Calls For Tougher DWI Laws

Saying it is time to get drunken drivers off our streets and highways, Lieutenant Governor candidate George Strake has come out for toughening up Texas' driving while intoxicated (DWI) laws.

"We must do something about the tragic, senseless killing and maiming that drunk drivers inflict every day," said Strake. "It is obvious to me and many others that the present DWI laws are not doing the job. It is time to get drunk drivers off Texas' highways and streets. The laws must be beefed up. We must start putting people in

The 46-year-old Strake added, "There is hardly a single Texan whose life has not, in some way, been touched by a drunk driver, injuring, crippling or snuffing out the life of a family member, friend or acquaintance."

Last year, more than 2,300 people died in alcohol-related traffic accidents in this state. The year before, 1980, the Texas Department of Public Safety reported more than 40,000 people were arrested for DWI. In that same year, almost one-third of those arrested - more than 12,000 people - received only probated sentences.

"It is obvious," said Strake, "that many offenders are going virtually unpunish-

"I will also support the Mothers Against Drunk Drivers campaign (MADD) in their efforts to put persons convicted of DWI the first time in jail. In short, I will throw the considerable influence of the Lieutenant Governor's office behind the idea that if you are arrested for driving while intoxicated, you will be certain to spend at least some time in jail thinking about it."

away," said U.S. Customs inspector Al Tagliaferro. No one was arrested. The more than 3,700 pounds of Colombian cocaine, which Tagliaferro said was of "very high quality," was found Tuesday afternoon in a routine search of a cargo plane belonging to a "high-risk" foreign airline suspected of frequently being used by smugglers, officials said. The Drug Enforcement Agency, which did not take part in the seizure, later estimated the street value of the cocaine at about $950 million. The DEA called it the largest cocaine seizure in U.S. history. The Tampa International Airways Boeing 707 from Medellin, Colombia, was met at Miami International airport by customs inspectors, said Robert Battard, regional customs commissioner in Miami.

The illegal cargo, in 22 cardboard boxes, was seized on a loading platform in a warehouse used by the Colombian cargo line, he said. Tagliaferro said he pushed the blade of a short screwdriver into a carton stacked on a wooden pallet and when he pulled it out, it was encrusted with white powder. "We field-tested it and saw it was cocaine - a very high quality," Tagliaferro said. The boxes containing the cocaine were about 18 inches tall, 48 inches long and 24 inches wide. Tagliaferro said five were solidly packed with cocaine - about 195 pounds each. Others were filled with kilogram bags wrapped in yellow plastic, Tagliaferro said. "There was nothing special about this flight. We weren't tipped off," Battard said. "They (the inspectors) gave this particular flight attention because they busted three people last year with 800 pounds of cocaine. That's their job, to check incoming aircraft." In February 1981, federal agents in Miami confiscated 826 pounds of cocaine, considered then to be the largest

The seizure was announced Tuesday evening by Vice President George Bush's office in Washington. Bush was appointed earlier this year by President Reagan to lead an inter-agency task force on crime in south Florida.

DEA officials interviewed the crew of the plane and many of the airline's employees, but no arrests had been made as of late Tuesday night, Battard said.

The boxes containing the cocaine were part of a shipment of clothing from Medellin bound for Miami, Battard said. Twenty-two cardboard boxes containing assorted suits and dresses from Medellin were also found on the

Law Would Give Credit Card Holders Break

WASHINGTON (AP) - A House committee approved on Tuesday a bill that would prohibit oil companies from imposing direct surcharges on service station operators honoring their credit cards.

Police Pose As Students

Drug Investigation

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) Police were still looking for 16 people today - including five students - as They wrapped up a seven-month in-Vestigation of drug sales at area high schools.

The investigation by officers posing as students found 11 high school students were selling drugs on campus, police said Tuesday. They and 17 other people, including former students, were named in sealed indictments and arrest warrants.

But school officials said at a news conference that most sales involved only small amounts of marijuana and that the investigation did not reveal heavy drug use at Southwest, Eastern Hills and Paschal high schools.

"There is considerably less drug use in the schools than the district had anticipated," said Tommy Taylor, the school district's associate superintendent.

Four of the suspects are accused of selling LSD, police said.

Police Capt. Charles Hogue said most of the drugs were purchased by his officers away from the campuses. "We're not saying that people who go to school don't go somewhere else and

"do dope," said Hogue. The students - five at Eastern Hills, four at Southwest and two at Paschal - included three minors for whom warrants were issued by the Juvenile court, said District Attorney

Fire Damages Handbag Factory

FERRIS, Texas (AP) - Workers were to begin sifting through debris at handbag factory today, where flames swept through a warehouse and caused more than $1.5 million in damage, officials said.

Three firemen were hospitalized for smoke inhalation. Four families were evacuated from the downtown area as gusty winds threatened to spread the flames to other businesses from Marilyn Belts & Bags Inc.

Firemen evacuated about 250 workers from the building after the blaze began shortly after 10 a.m. Tuesday. An estimated 90 firefighters from 15 communities battled the fire until it was brought under control at 2:30 p.m., said Fire Department spokesman James Eads.

But a storage area containing vinyl and glue for handbag manufacture continued to smoulder late Tuesday. Fire officials said it was destroyed, along with part of the factory in the 30,000-square foot facility.

'We were planning to stay up with it all night," said Eads. "It is a smoking, smouldering mess and the smoke is still bad. It was a very hot, very intense fire "

Eads said the blaze was probably accidental, but state fire inspectors were still investigating its cause.

Watt told the commission last month he wanted assurances that the statue and flagpole would be acceptable before he permitted excavation work to begin. The approval of both the commission and of the Interior Department is needed for the monument to be built.

The original design called for two long walls of polished black granite, bearing the names of Americans killed and missing in Vietnam, coming together in the shape of a V.

The monument is to be built in a park near the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument.

After some veterans and some congressmen attacked the design as a political statement of shame and dishonor, the addition of the two patriotic elements was proposed as a compromise.

The Fine Arts Commission accepted the concept of adding a flag and statue, but said they could be placed off to the side, near a directory that is to be built to help visitors locate specific names in the engraved

The commission told Watt it wanted the new elements "positioned so as not to abrogate the integrity and magnificence of the existing design concept."

The dispute postponed a groundbreaking ceremony that was to have taken place on March 1.

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund, which is collecting the required $7 million through contributions from the public, had planned to dedicate the completed project on Nov. 11, Veterans Day.

Houston Polite Officers Angry Over Brown's Appointment

HOUSTON (AP) - Police officers are questioning why Lee Brown, the Atlanta public safety commissioner who headed the inquiry that led to Wayne Williams' murder conviction, was nominated as Houston's first black police chief.

The 44-year-old Brown was tapped Tuesday by Mayor Kathy Whitmire as her "No. 1 choice" to take command of the 3,000-member force in the nation's fifth-largest city. However, many officers reacted angrily to the news that this city's first woman mayor had chosen an outsider to the $75,000-a-year post.

"If she can't find one qualified man in a force of 3,000, then she might as well fire all of us," said one patrolman who did not want to be identified.

Three of the department's four police unions - the Houston Police Patrolmen's Union, the Afro-American Officers Association and the Organization of Spanish Speaking Officers - endorsed Brown's nomination.

But Bill Elkin, president of the Houston Police Officers Asociation, said he was "shocked and surprised" by the mayor's choice, He said he was afraid Mrs. Whitmire appointed Brown because of his race and not his qualifica-

Tuesday in arguing that Williams should be censured rather than expelled.

The Senate Ethics Committee has unanimously recommended explusion.

Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker of Tennessee said a vote on the censure resolution would come sometime today but that there was almost no support among the 53 Senate Republicans for the lesser penalty.

Similarly, Sen. Howell Heflin of Alabama, senior Democrat on the Senate Ethics Committee, said, "I think it will be an expulsion vote."

There was even pessimism from Sen. Daniel Inouve. D-Hawaii, Williams' chief defender. "The odds don't look good," he said.

Williams himself seemed to acknowlege as much.

"There can be a turnaround," he insisted at a brief news conference after Tuesday's Senate session. "The debate is not over. There are many matters yet to be presented."

Expulsion requires a twothirds vote of those present; censure requires a simple majority.

With all signs pointing to expulsion, some senators were calling on Williams to resign and spare himself and the Senate the pain of forcing the matter to a showdown.

Sen. Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo., chairman of the Ethics Committee, and Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., both suggested Tuesday that Williams' resignation would be the best solution.

It seems some folks are concerned that their guns might get up and shoot them or someone else. I know a fellow who might help them with their phobia. Their guns could learn from his gun.

His gun isn't perfect but it has been to obedience school. It has learned about safety, discipline, responsibility, courtesy, and common sense. For over 30 years his gun and its friends haven't shot at anyone but have had a lot of fun trying to outdo each other with targets and tin cans and a few hole-digging, fleabearing rodents.

His gun probably would protect him if it had to, but spend more time and energy thinking and talking about the right uses of things instead of trying to spank the whole school for the misdeeds of a few. Yours truly,

Dear Editor:

There is an extraordinary charity called BORDER MIS-SIONS located just south of McAllen at Hidalogo, Texas. It was established 25 years ago by Sister Morgan who has

She set two rules for the operation of the mission from the very beginning. First: Never Solicit Money!! Although many people sup-port her work with cash conibutions, she never actively licits funds. Second: She has vowed to remain at Hidalogo and operate that mission for the rest of her life. She has kept that promise for more than 25 years.

The mission has distributed hundreds of tons of food and clothes over the years to the poor and starving people of both north Mexico and the valley area of Texas. Located just north of the Mexican border on the United States side, BORDER MISSIONS has a good location to serve poor English and Spanish speaking people from both sides of the border under current customers rules.

tle fanfare as it performs a tremendous logistical service to the needy of the lower Rio Grande Valley. Anyone visiting Brownsville or McAllen should plan to stop at Hidalogo and visit with Sister Morgan.

Olsons Celebrate 35th Anniversary

Relatives of George and Betty Olson met Sunday in the home of the Olson's daughter and her husband, Donna and David Ruland, to help celebrate the couple's 35 wedding anniversary. Cohosting were the Olson's son and his wife, Steven and Ginger Olson, their children, Moriah and Sy, and the Ruland's children, Jill, Heidi, and Amy.

Also attending from Hereford were Mr. Olson's father, Louie Olson, his sister and her husband, Nancy and G.W. Duncan; Mrs. Olson's mother, Carrie Mae Doak: Kathy and Crystal Boyd; Jewel Miller; and Henry Wedel.

Out-of-town guests included Ethel Williams of Amarillo: and Joe and Jess Dodson, Jim Lindsey, and Lois and Clifford Stewart, all of Canyon; and Bernice and Henry Hamblin of Wayside, Texas.

The Olsons were married at the First United Methodist Church of Hereford in 1947. The anniversary cake was decorated with the miniature bride and groom that were used on their wedding cake. The cake and serving table were decorated in yellow and blue, the color scheme used in their wedding.

Spring Musicale Presented

A spring musicale was presented by the youth and adults of the Dawn Community Sunday afternoon at Dawn Baptist Church.

Dr. Jim Hickman gave the invocation and reading was presented by Mrs. Jim. Hickman.

Featured singers included Jeri Ann Parker and Mrs. R.T. Stewart. Playing the piano were Jeri Ann Parker, Jimmie Cook, Heather Kleuskens, Kari Smith, Mrs. Gerald Parker, Chawn Cook, Mrs. Carl Wimberley, Mrs. Jim Bob Parker, Mrs. Herry Johnson and Mrs. Stewart.

Jim Bob Parker played the violin and organ music was presented by Mrs. Wimberley.

Veleda Study Club Meets For Southern-Style Dinner, Games

Veleda Study Club members entertained their husbands Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Ritter. Guests were welcomed by the hostesses Darlene Fields, Betty Olson and Ms. Ritter.

Those attending enjoyed a southern style dinner served at individual tables decorated in a St. Patrick's Day motif. Games of Uno were played after dinner.

Attending were John and Teddie Poindexter, Joe and Donna Lindeman, Lawrence and Jean Ruther, Bob and Marjorie Lassiter, Ken and Marcella McLain, Frank and Margaret Zinser, Chet, and Darlene Fields, Johnny and Janice Brownlow, Gid Brownd, George and Betty Olson; and a special guest, Rhonda Andrews, Mrs. Fields' sister.

'Hobby' Creates A Scene

while back you printed letters from amateur photographers who took pictures of their wives and girlfriends in the nude. Some women said they saw nothing wrong with it. Many men thought it was a terrific hobby.

My husband Freddy asked me how I felt about posing for him. I wasn't sure. He sold me on it by telling me what a great body I had, said he would develop the pictures himself and keep them for our own private viewing.

Three weeks later two friends told me their husbands had seen the nude pictures. They were shocked and I was burned up. That night at dinner I tore into Freddy but good. He said he showed the pictures to the guys because he was proud of the way I looked - like an oil painting, beautiful art - no way could it be considered obscene. We argued for an

'60 Minutes' Top-Rated Show

NEW YORK (AP) - CBS' "60 Minutes" was the highest-rated program for the sixth time in the TV season that began Oct. 5, but ABC - with only three shows in the Top 10 - won the networks' ratings race, figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co. showed.

It was the first time in the 14 weeks since Nov. 23 that a network other than CBS was the uncontested winner in the three-way competition. ABC and CBS tied for first for the week ending Feb. 14.

Though ABC had only one show from a continuing series among the 10 highest-rated programs for the week ending March 7, the network listed only three among the 13 lowest-rated.

ABC's rating for the period was 18.4 to 18 for CBS and 15.2 for NBC. The networks say that means in an average minute of prime time during the week, 18.4 percent of the nation's TV-equipped homes were watching ABC.

CBS has been first in the ratings 16 times this season, and ABC five. NBC has finished last in the weekly competition nine straight weeks.

The rating for "60 Minutes" was 29.6. Nielsen says that means in an average minute during the broadcast, 29.6 percent of the nation's homes with television were tuned to the CBS newsmagazine. "Dallas" has been first nine times in the current TV year.

ABC's top-rated program, "Three's Company," was fourth in the ratings. The two other ABC shows in the Top 10 were movies, "Alligator" in a tie for fifth place, and "Divorce Wars: A Love Story," in seventh.

CBS had seven programs in the week's Top 10, and all were from continuing series.

"Fall Guy" on ABC was the highest-rated of the season's new shows, in 18th place, with "Father Murphy" on NBC 23rd, and the premiere program in an ABC tryout series, "Police Squad," 26th.

Three of the week's lowestrated shows were on NBC -No. 66 "NBC Magazine," No. 68 "Here's Boomer," and No. 69 "The Flintstones." ABC's "Open All Night" was 65th, and a special from the same network, "Success: It Can Be Yours," was 67th.

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated programs: "60 Minutes," with a rating of 29.6 representing 24.2 million homes, "Dallas," 28.4 or 23.3 million, and "The Jeffersons," 24 or 19.7 million, all CBS; "Three's Company," 23.9 or 19.6 million, ABC; Movie-"Alligator," ABC, and "Alice," CBS, both 23 or 18.8 million; Movie-"Divorce Wars," 22.8 or 18.7 million, ABC, and "Archie Bunker's Place," 22.4 or 18.3 million, "Magnum, P.I.," 22.3 or 18.2 million, and "One Day at a Time," 22 or 18 million, all CBS.

The next 11 shows:

"Love Boat" and "Too" Close for Comfort," both ABC, tie; "Dukes of Hazzard," CBS, and "Dynasty," ABC, tie; "Happy Days" and "Hart to Hart," both ABC; "Little House on the Prairie," NBC; "Fall Guy," ABC; "Real People," NBC, and "Trapper John, M.D.," "M-A-S-H," both CBS,

Minister Spreads The Gospel By Air

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) - Some preachers use television to spread their message. Some use radio.

Dr. Ken McKinley has found a new way - his airplane.

McKinley, a professor in the Bible and Missions Department at LeTourneau College here, has a 1946 twoseat airplane - an Ercare that he flies to speaking engagements around the state and country.

As well as providing fast transportation, the plane has helped his ministry, he said.

"You don't know how many people I have had the opportunity to witness to after I got them up in the plane," McKinley said. "Before, I couldn't get to first base with some of them. The little plane has paid for itself in a hundred ways."

McKinley, 63, bought the plane in 1974 for $2,500. Since then, he has invested $10,000 in it, rebuilding the engine, modernizing the instrument panel and adding wheel covers.

"It's the safest and sweetest-flying airplane you've ever seen," he said. "It'll go 110 mph and use only six gallons of fuel an hour."

McKinley said he's always been interested in airplanes. As a kid, he used to build model airplanes. When he got to high school he would hang out at a nearby airport.

"I was an airport rat," he said. "I'd sweep out the hangars and wash the airplanes - anything to get a ride."

He said he wanted to take flying lessons, but just didn't have the opportunity. That changed when he joined LeTourneau College in 1959. Two years later, he enrolled in flying lessons offered by the school, and in about four months had earned his private license.

The lessons have come in handy.

Every week for the past five years, he's taught a Bible class in Dallas and the flying certainly has cut down his travel time. He said he can leave Gregg County Aiport where he keeps his plane - at 4:30 p.m. and be in Dallas by 5:45 p.m.

The plane has helped even more on longer trips.

"My wife and I go practically anywhere," he said. "We've been to the East Coast, Canada, Colorado and Kansas. I haven't been to the West Coast vet, but we're starting a ministry there and we'll probably get out there some day."

McKinley also teaches weekly Bible studies in Tyler and Longview, has a Sunday morning radio show and is working on his second book. McKinley said he has had only one close call in his 614 plane, which happened a few years ago when he was on his way to Alabama. He said he was only 10 miles away from the airport and had already notified the tower that he was coming in when he began having trouble.

"The engine just ceased and the plane started trembling all over," McKinley said. "Trees were underneath me SA. and there was no place to and land. I saw a little field up as ahead, but I didn't think I could reach it.

"I did what was natural. I said, 'Lord if you want me to preach this weekend, you're going to have to get me down."

He was able to start the the damaged engine and get just toll enough power to land on the field. Later, he found out that the crankshaft had broken.

"When they looked at the fail plane in the lab, they said no there was no way it should tis run," he said. "I told them, 'Well, it did." It still does.

manufactured DDT, lindane, chlordane and other toxic pesticides at the plant between 1950 and 1972.

The Environmental Protection Agency sued the companies and the land's present owner, Franklin Dusek, in May 1980 to clean up the 6.4 acres. EPA called it one of the most dangerous abandoned chemical site in the state.

The companies and the Justice Department signed an out-of-court settlement that was filed in U.S Distrct Court in Brownsville March 1. Under the agreement, the companies will pay the unspecified cost of excavation, blacktopping and other treatments.

Dusek did not sign the settlement and had no comment Tuesday on the latest development. He has asked a federal judge for permission to sue the chemical companies. He claims the settlement would unduly burden him with permanent upkeep in a situation he did not create.

Tex-Ag President Andy Hill said Tuesday the clean-up will run into the "tens of thousands" of dollars.

Hill said he was glad the settlement ended his company's involvement in the controvery. He said he thought the news media had unfairly sensationalized the situation.

"The thing that concerned me about it, was that they would never put on the front page that the Texas Department of Health declared there was no health hazard at the site," he said.

Under the agreement, the companies will excavate the property and asphalt it.

Yards of several surrounding homes also will be dug up, replaced with new soil and

Poultry Competition Intense

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new look at U.S. poultry exports shows that "the feathers are flying in intense competition" for lucrative markets in the Middle East, says the Agriculture Department. The United States is the world's leading poultry exporter, with sales in 1980-81 including 340,306 metric tons of chicken meat worth $407 million and about 30,000 tons of turkey meat valued at almost $46 million.

But in the Middle East, a $1 billion poultry market last year, the United States provided less than $200 million worth of poultry. European suppliers were the leaders, with $330 million in poultry exports. Brazil, a fast-rising competitor, sold $200 million worth.

The report, published Monday by the department's Economic Research Service, said the Middle East poultry market may rise to $1.4 billion to $1.5 billion this year.

"There's still tremendous growth to come," said John Parker, an agency expert on the region's agriculture and trade. "It should continue for about a decade before their domestic output begins to slow imports.'

Japan is the top foreign market for U.S. agricultural products and that includes poultry. Sales totaled 70,000 metric tons last year, a value of $85 million. China and Thailand were the other major suppliers.

Another economist, Allen Baker, said many American producers are wary of the expensive investments to gear up for foreign sales because of the intense competition abroad.

"Without some long-term relief from the export subsidies of other countries, producers are unlikely to build specialized export plants such as those in France," Baker said, "But producers can and do use their current plants to service export accounts that want special packaging and slaughter." Baker said that despite the export boom — a welcome bright spot for the financially depressed poultry industry -U.S. producers may not be convinced it will last. Parker, his colleague, said the aggressiveness shown by foreign competitors may explain the relatively weak U.S.

tion and soil types, moisture deficits may be different due to individual farm management practices, the type of crops grown in an area, and the amount of water a particular farmer applied late last growing season.

The soil moisture deficit was determined at 135 observation points, including over 50 new sites installed last fall, with the cooperation of the local landowners. Site selection was based on soil type and variation in the saturated thickness of the Ogallala aquifer.

sites and tested at the soil physics laboratory at Texas Tech University, to determine their soil moisture content and bulk density. This information was correlated with data from the neutron probe readings at each site. The survey is a cooperative Cotton Farmers To effort by the Soil Conservation Service and the High

Department of Water Resources. The SCS and Water District assumed responsibility for the program last year and developed a cooperative agreement to expand its data base. Oliver Newton, an agricultural metoerologist with the National Weather Service at Lubbock, developed the original survey and maintained it for 15 years with technical assistance from the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, until Oliver recently retired.

The survey is an important tool for giving us a better picture of our soil moisture reserves over the entire area. It can help the farmer make more informed pre-plant irrigation decisions and help him avoid both over and under irrigating in the spring.

Cigarette Smoking On The Decline

Versatile sorghum hybrid tops independent yield trials.

During the past three years, SeedTec D701G has become one of the topyielding hybrids in independent performance trials throughout the Sorghum Belt. In the Texas A&M Coastal Bend Extension District 14 grain sorghum trials, D701G produced the highest average yield over the past three years combined. The same holds true for extension service trials in Calhoun and Victoria counties. In fact, this medium-late sorghum finished among the top five hybrids in 41% of the yield trials in which it was entered.

Results from yield trials in Kansas and Nebraska prove that SeedTec D701G adapts to a wide variety of growing conditions. In the 1981 Kansas grain sorghum tests, D701G tied for first in the Thomas County (fallow) trial and ranked among the top five hybrids in Brown, Ellis, Ford, Reno, Republic and Stafford counties. Even as far north as Auburn, Nebraska, SeedTec D701G placed second in the extension yield trial while recording the lowest moisture content of all hybrids entered.

Consistent performance like this is no accident. It reflects the fact that D701G is adapted to both dryland and irrigated conditions. Resistance to downy mildew and Biotype C greenbugs, plus tolerance to smut and MDMV, also enable SeedTec D701G to produce heavy yields of high test-weight grain.

SeedTec 652G ranks high in state performance test.

Over the past four years, SeedTec 652G has compiled an impressive record in the Kansas grain sorghum trials. In Greely and Thomas counties, 652G produced the highest average yields during the past four years combined. Four-year yield averages also show that this mediumearly sorghum finished among the top four hybrids in Ford, Finney and Republic counties.

Year in and year out, SeedTec 652G has what it takes to make the most of a little water. Even in hot, dry weather, 652G comes through with big yields of bright red grain. Its other strong points include excellent seedling vigor, fast-drydown, and tolerance to smut, MDMV and Biotype C greenbugs.

Disease-resistant SeedTec 710DR produces healthy sorghum yields.

SeedTec 710DR offers the kind of disease resistance a sorghum hybrid needs to produce consistently high yields. With resistance to downy mildew and head smut, as well as tolerance to MDMV, this medium maturity hybrid performs well under most growing conditions. These features, plus strong emergence and excellent standability, make 710DR a wise choice for growers who want truckloads of attractive, bronzecolored grain.

So call your SeedTec dealer today and ask him about the complete line of SeedTec sorghum hybrids.

Sampson, Magee AP All-America Repeaters

By JOHN NELSON AP ports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Ralph Sampson of Virginia and Kevin Magee of California-Irvine today were named for the second straight year to The Associated Press firstteam All-America squad.

Sampson, college basketball's Player of the Year last season, led the Cavaliers to a 29-3 season and the No. 3 ranking in the final AP poll of the season.

In his three seasons at Virginia, the 7-foot-4 junior has led Virginia to 82 victories, the most in history by an Atlantic Coast Conference team over a three-year period.

Last season, Magee, a 6-8 senior, became the first player to finish in the top four in scoring, rebounding and field-goal percentage. This year, his statistics are equally impressive. He's scoring 26.3 points per game on a shooting percentage of 64.1 percent, and his rebounding average is 12.5 per game.

The rest of the first team includes Terry Cummings of DePaul, 6-9 junior forward; Eric "Sleepy" Floyd of Georgetown, 6-3 senior guard, and Quintin Dailey of San Francisco, 6-3 junior

The second team is comprised of 6-10 forward Keith Lee of Memphis State, the only freshman on the first three teams; Dale Ellis of Tennessee, 6-7 junior forward; James Worthy of North Carolina, 6-9 junior forward; Lester Conner of Oregon

Errors Doom 'Faces, 7-6

The Hereford Whitefaces come in. were visited by the gremlins Tuesday as the Herd committed three crucial errors to give up six unearned runs, and the Dumas Demons took a 7-6 win over the visiting Whitefaces.

The loss was the first of the year for the Herd, which now owns a 3-1 record.

HHS coach David Ashby started sophomore Mickey Stengal on the mound, and Stengal cruised through the first three innings giving up only two hits as the Demons took a 1-0 margin.

In the fourth the Demons got the bags loaded with two outs before miscue-itis hit the Whitefaces. Shortstop Ken Cosper misplayed a grounder, allowing two runs to score, and Stengal, who had been moved to left field as Mike Mason took over midway through the frame, committed another error to allow two more Dumas runs to Dumas and Palo Duro.

Hereford staged a rally in the bottom of the sixth with a four-run outburst to tie the game at 5-5, but Dumas got two more unearned runs in the bottom of the inning to move ahead 7-5.

With two out and men on second and third, Herd first baseman Brian Taylor mishandled a throw, allowing both runners to score.

The Whitefaces came back to score a solo run in the top of the seventh, but it wasn't enough to save the contest.

Little, Sooners Defeat ORU

By GIL BROYLES Associated Press Writer

TULSA, Okla. (AP) -Sometimes, Oral Roberts University basketball coach Ken Hayes has discovered, a Little is enough - especially if it's the Oklahoma Sooners' scoring machine David Lit-

The lanky, 6-foot-7 junior forward bombed ORU with 33 points to lead Oklahoma to a stirring, 81-73 comeback victory over the Titans in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament Tuesday night.

After Little scored 13 points in the Titan-controlled first half. Haves asked his team to apply more pressure to Little in the second.

"He just backed up a little farther," Haves said. "The guy shoots a set shot from out of range and it goes in."

Hayes said the Titans, who scored the first 11 points of the contest and led 17-3 after eight minutes, may have been "too high" for the game.

Meanwhile, Sooner Coach Billy Tubbs said he "was afraid we weren't ready for the game and that was sure evident in the early going."

Oklahoma, now 20-10, lost to Missouri in the finals of the Big Eight tournament Saturday night.

The Sooners learned of the NIT bid Sunday night and had to get ready in a hurry to meet Oral Roberts in the inaugural game of the 1982 NIT. The two schools had not met since 1977.

'It's a great tribute to our

Sampson is considered by all but a few to be potentially the most dominating player in the game - certainly at a college level, at least. He led Virginia to the No. 3 seeding in this year's NCAA tournament despite the loss of three key Cavalier players - Jeff Lamp, Lee Raker and Terry Gates, all of whom graduated.

With his 172 career dunks and 354 blocked shots, Sampson can be awesome and entertaining. On other occasions, he can go practically unnoticed on the court.

"This year, we not only needed his offense and defense, but his leadership," says Virginia Coach Terry Holland. "Like Bill Russell did for the Celtics, Ralph has made everybody around him better."

Magee, likewise, is a dominating player, not just a gunner. His field-goal percentage attests to that. He also has been an ironman for Cal-Irvine, which earned a National Invitation Tournament berth with its 22-6 record. He played 1,025 minutes this season for an average of 361/2

DePaul's Cummings, an ordained minister, was needed to replace Mark Aguirre this season. He has surpassed all expectations. Aguirre, a firstteam All-American last year,

Things Brightening For Larry Hisle

By The Associated Press

Things are looking up for Larry Hisle.

Everything right now is on schedule," says the Milwaukee outfielder. "I'm excited, but I know I have a long way to go."

The reason for Hisle's happiness was a home run in exhibition play that helped the Brewers beat the Seattle Mariners 5-2 Tuesday.

Long ball hitting is something Hisle hasn't done much of lately. In 1977 he led the American League in RBI with 119 and also hit 28 home runs that year. In 1978, he hit 34 homers and knocked in 115 runs. But he has missed most of the last three seasons with a shoulder injury and has collected just 13 home runs in that period.

Hisle hit a 400-foot shot to center field off Mariners starter Floyd Bannister for the Brewers' first run. The Brewers broke a 1-1 tie with two fifth-inning runs against losing pitcher Ken Clay. Don Money singled home one run and Charlie Moore got the eventual game-winner in for Milwaukee with a sacrifice

Meanwhile, the Atlanta Braves continued to show some of the strongest pitching in spring training en route to a 1-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Three Atlanta pitchers - Phil Niekro, Larry McWilliams and Rick Matula - extended the Braves' string of scoreless pitching to 34 innings. The Braves' pitching staff, incidentally, has not given up an earned run in 36

Niekro, McWilliams and Matula combined on a ninehitter as the Braves edged Baltimore on an unearned run in the ninth inning. The Braves scored after center fielder John Selby dropped Larry Whisenton's routine fly ball. Whisenton reached third on Dale Murphy's single and, one out later, scored on Brook Jacoby's sacrifice fly off Paul Moskau. Scott McGregor and Allan Ramirez each pitched three shutout innings for the Orioles. Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Kansas City Royals used 49 players and struggled into the 15th inning before Trench Davis' single gave the Pirates a 5-4 victory in the exhibition opener for each team. Len Barker pitched three perfect innings and combined with three other pitchers for a one-hitter as Cleveland beat San Francisco

Garry Shortstop Templeton, in his debut with San Diego, had two hits, one a run-scoring single, and the Padres edged California 2-1. Mike Richardt's seventhinning, two-out, grand-slam homer powered Texas to a 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees. Montreal's Chris Speier and Brad Mills hit RBI singles in a three-run fourth as the Expos beat Los Angeles 4-2.

Carney Lansford's two-run single and Glenn Hoffman's homer keyed a six-run fourth inning as the Boston Red Sox peat Detroit 9-1. Myron White's RBI single with two outs in the ninth gave Oakland a 5-4 victory over Chicago in the managerial debut of the Cubs' Lee Elia. Jay Loviglio had two singles and a pair of runs batted as the Chicago White Sox beat Toronto 4-2.

Clippers Slug Spurs,

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD to summer camp together AP Sports Writer

Don't tell the San Antonio Spurs that the San Diego Clippers have the worst team in the National Basketball Association.

San Diego, 16-46, trails the first-place Los Angeles Lakers by 26 games in the Pacific Division, and the Clippers have won only two of their last 17 contests. But both of those victories have come against the Midwest Division-leading Spurs, including a 138-127 decision Tuesday night.

"Thank God we only have one more game left with the Clippers," said San Antonio Coach Stan Albeck. "They should have sent limos to the airport for us. There are no surprises in the NBA. You have to play each game hard and if you don't, you can expect problems."

Tom Chambers had 34 points and 12 rebounds to lead the Clippers, while Michael Brooks added 33 points for San Diego and George Gervin had 40 for San Antonio.

In other NBA games, Atlanta shelled Denver 120-106, Golden State tripped Indiana 92-85, New York bombed Utah 126-112, Phoenix defeated Washington 103-95. Chicago tripped Seattle 109-104, Houston stopped Milwaukee 103-91 and Los Angeles beat Kansas City 105-99.

While Albeck believes the Spurs suffered a letdown against San Diego, Chambers said his team "could have beaten anybody" in the two victories over San Antonio.

"We just played good, aggressive basketball and good defense," said the rookie forward. "We didn't play Gervin very well the first half, but we did much better in the second half. We've had some close games and we've been playing well recently. We just haven't won any."

"We played well together tonight, especially down the stretch," said Brooks, referring to the 46 points the Clippers scored in the fourth quarter. "We're starting to play well together. Next year, we'll be better when we all go and play a full season."

The Spurs, who have lost two in a row since beating Milwaukee 171-166 in triple overtime last Saturday, got a season-high 28 points from backup guard Mike Bratz, while Mike Mitchell added 20

Charlie Criss and Michael Wiley supported Chambers and Brooks with 23 and 20 points, respectively, for San

Gervin had 26 points in the first half as the Spurs went ahead 67-64. The Clippers took a 92-88 lead into the final period and outscored San Antonio 46-39 in the fourth quarter. Lakers 105, Kings 99

Earvin "Magic" Johnson scored 27 points as Los Angeles snapped a threegame losing streak by beating Kansas City, despite the absence of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar for the final 14

Abdul-Jabbar was ejected from the game after drawing two quick technical fouls, the second one with 1:56 to go in the third period.

But the Kings never got closer than six points after the Lakers broke a 57-57 tie with 13 straight points midway through the third period. Rockets 103, Bucks 91

Moses Malone scored 28 points and Houston outscored Milwaukee 11-2 in the final three minutes to break open a close game.

Allen Leavell scored 25 points and passed for eight assists for the Rockets, who cut San Antonio's Midwest lead to 31/2 games. Elvin Hayes added 15 points and 16 rebounds and Robert Reid 19 points and 11 rebounds, eight in the fourth quarter, for Milwaukee, runaway leader in the Central Division, has lost three in a row, including the triple overtime defeat to San Antonio.

Bulls 109, Sonics 104 Dwight Jones scored 10 of his 16 points in the fourth quarter and Ronnie Lester added eight of his 10 in the same span as Chicago rallied from 15 points behind to beat

The Sonics grabbed an 80-65 lead with 2:08 remaining in the third quarter, but the Bulls responded with a 10-0 spurt as Artis Gilmore contributed six of his team-high 22 points. Chicago then got its first lead since the opening seconds, 85-84, on a basket by Lester. Gus Williams, who had 25 points for Seattle, later tied the score 87-87, but Chicago made the next eight points lead again.

Warriors 92, Pacers 85 Bernard King scored 28, points and World Free added 20, while Larry Smith grabbed 20 rebounds for Golden State against Indiana.

Johnny Davis, the Pacers leading scorer with a 16.8 average, was held to seven points, the first time in 4 games he was held to fewer

Prisoner Lives in Past

Death Row: Plenty of Solitude

By KRISTIN GAZLAY Associated Press Writer

GATESVILLE, Texas (AP) - Linda May Burnett has plenty of solitude now to recollect what she used to be. It's a bittersweet bonus, says the former housewife, that comes with being on death

"Now I live in the past," said Mrs. Burnett, who spends about 23 hours a day alone in her yellow-walled cell at the women's prison here. "The last six months I have really come to grips with myself as a person - as Linda. It's nice to think these past three years could count for something."

The memories she likes to share are sketched in vivid detail - peaceful days when she was free, tending to kids in the neighborhood and attending PTA meetings. A life she says revolved around her family, her husband, Leo, and three daughters.

But she offers only sketchy remembrances of the chain of events that led to her death sentence - the revengeful boyfriend, Ovide, she committed adultery with, the accusations that she merrily led five people to their pre-dug common grave, and her conviction for the murder of a 2-year-old boy.

She refuses, she says firmly, to dwell on past hate and unhappiness.

Mrs. Burnett is one of only two women under sentence of death in Texas. She was accused of murder in the execution-style slayings of the 2-year-old, his parents and grandparents, who were abducted and forced to march to a grave near Winnie, Texas. Each victim was killed with a single shot to the that he was confident the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals would rule on her case soon. That was September. Week after week passes without a word.

"No one had explained the appeals process to me," the 34-year-old Mrs. Burnett said in a recent interview, across a table in a prison conference room. "I thought they kept you for a month and then killed you. One night, they took me up upstairs for blood tests and I turned to the woman and said, 'Is this it?"

Three years of her life have been spent in prison, and she has yet to hear the decision on her first appeal.

"You just don't have an end to it," she said. "You wait and wait and wait and wait. There's no end in sight."

The Mountain View unit in Gatesville, part of the Texas Department of Corrections, is nestled in rural Central Texas, 40 miles from Waco, framed by sprawling fields and towns that are just a blink on an endless highway.

Mrs. Burnett has made friends here, but she never forgets where she is - or

"You know I'm here for killing a kid," she whispered. "I can't stand that. Especially since I didn't do it."

Although prosecutors at her trial played tape recordings in which she was hypnotized and confessed involvement in the slavings, she claims the tapes were a

Now Mrs. Burnett's days melt into weeks, months, eventually years. She says she survives on her fierce faith in God, by living in the past, virtually memorizing the photographs of her family, writing letters to the male inmates on Death Row in Huntsville, reading and watching television.

She loves soap operas and looks forward to prime-time serials such as "Dallas," and "Knots Landing."

Since coming to death row - at present, she's the only woman here under death sentence - she has finished her fragmented education by passing a high school equivalency test. She now takes Bible classes.

Every month, her husband drives 250 miles from their southeast Texas home in Nederland for a four-hour visit. They cannot touch prison rules. She says she struggles against tears during those visits so her family will not fret about her.

While incarcerated at the Goree Unit in Huntsville, formerly the women's prison, Mrs. Burnett tried to commit suicide by downing a handful of pills. She said she sometimes regrets not killing herself before the state of Texas could take her life.

"Finally, I just wanted to die because I didn't think I could ever clear myself," she said. "I am not a strong person. I couldn't cope. But I wasn't putting my faith in Jesus and I wasn't being fair to my family."

Only eight women have ever been sentenced to death in Texas. Only one was actually put to death, subjected to swift frontier justice. Chipita Rodriguez, accused of robbery, was hanged from a mesquite tree in 1863. According to legend, her ghost walks the Nueces River bank in San Patricio every time a woman is sentenced to death in Texas.

Pamela Lynn Perillo, 26, of Lynwood, Calif., is the only other woman in Texas now under death sentence. She was convicted in August 1980 for strangling a Louisiana man with a rope in what prosecutors said was a thrill killing. She has been in the Harris County Jail for the past several months.

"I would love to go home, but they won't let me," she said, eves filling with tears. "I had a lot of bad things happen to me. Someone burned a cross in my front yard. The supermarket where I had shopped for years asked me to not to shop there anymore. Someone threw eggs at me. I was kicked out of the PTA. This was all before the trial.

"Leo refuses to have our phone number changed. He refuses to buckle to people's cruelty. It's been a nightmare for me. I had never been arrested. I thought the courts didn't make mistakes. I thought that if you were arrested you were guilty."

Mrs. Burnett was arrested at her home July 10, 1978, shortly after the partly decomposed bodies of the five victims were discovered in a shallow grave.

In preparing their case, defense attorneys hired a hypnotist to interview Mrs. Burnett about the slayings, but to the dismay of her lawyers, prosecutors successfully subpoenaed the tapes and used them against

The recordings detailed the slavings of 2-year-old Jason Phillips, his parents, Elmer and Martha Phillips, and grandparents, Bishop and Ester Phillips. The little boy and his parents, from Woodward, Okla., were visiting Elmer's parents in Winnie during the Fourth of July holiday.

On the tapes, a woman's voice says Dugas shot the young boy, despite her tearful pleas that the child be spared.

Police said it was a grudge killing the Oklahoma family members were swept up in simply because they were Even if Mrs. Burnett's con- . visiting. secutors said it was Mrs. Burnett's - recounted the thrill she got directing the victims to the grave, saying, "I talked to them constantly, telling them just to play along with him (Dugas), that I would kill him."

When asked if the victims resisted their executions, she said, "No. The damn fools just got into the grave. I talked them into the grave."

Mrs. Burnett said the voice on the damaging tape recording is not hers. She said the transcript of the tapes was peppered with words she cannot even pronounce, much less define.

She blamed Dugas, the "handsome" childhood friend she became reacquainted with a month before the killings, for robbing her of her home, her family and her freedom. She said she spurns his infrequent letters from the men's death row at the Ellis Unit without reading them.

She now claims she was not even present when the victims were shot and that the only reason she knew about the murders was because Dugas bragged about them to her. She contends Dugas framed her because she refused to have sex with him. However, after being sentenced to death she said, "My only crime was poor judgment in choosing Joe Dugas as a friend. My only sin against God is adultery." Stark prison life now protects Mrs. Burnett from the pointing fingers and cusatory stares of small-town

"You become a child here," she added, gesturing to the dormitories that makeup the maximum-security Mountain View unit. "Here, you're served your meats through the door, you're told when to take a shower, you're handed your clothes."

She rarely grants interviews because "a bad story. comes just that much closer. to sticking that needle in my arm."

And she tries not to think about what life holds in store for her.

"I just know I will be cleared," she said. "But if I were to get a life sentence, it. would send me off the deep. end. I'm so tired."
