Reagan Wins in Startling Landslide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald Reagan won the White House from President Carter Tuesday night in a startling landslide that changed the face of American government. Carter promised Reagan his "fullest support and cooperation" in the transition to Republican rule.

"I am not frightened by what lies ahead," said the president-elect, "and I don't believe the American people are frightened by what lies ahead."

RONALD REAGAN

"Together, we're going to do what has to be done," Reagan told a victory rally in Los Angeles. "We're going to put America back to work again."

The polls were still open in the West when Carter acknowledged that his presidency was finished — an hour after telephoning Reagan in Los Angeles to congratulate him on victory.

"He graciously offered his cooperation on the transition and I accepted it," said president-elect Reagan, the conservative Republican who went from Hollywood to two terms as governor of California, and had sought the presidency twice before.

Four Democratic senators fell with Carter as Republicans mounted an unexpectedly strong push to take control of the Senate.

"If the trend continues, we may very well control one house of the Congress for the first time in a quarter of a century," Reagan told his cheering supporters at the Century Plaza Hotel.

Democrats limped toward renewed control of the House, but Republicans stood to gain more than 20 seats there.

As his electoral vote total soared, Reagan said he certainly hadn't looked for such a landslide. "Listen, I was happy to get 270," he said. That's what it took to win.

Then, in the hotel ballroom, before his partisans and the television cameras, Reagan said:

"There has never been a more humbling moment in my life ... Even if it had been the cliffhanger we were all expecting, it would have been the same. I consider the trust you have placed in me sacred, and I will do my utmost to justify your faith."

A cliffhanger it was not. Reagan's margin rivaled history's great landslides, those of Richard M. Nixon in 1972, Lyndon B. Johnson in 1964 and Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936.

So ended the longest campaign, in an electoral vote runaway that belied the forecasts of the president and the pollsters that it would be close. It never was, from the moment the first polls closed.

In Senate competition, too, GOP challengers ousted Democratic Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota, the party's 1972 nominee; Birch Bayh of Indiana; Warren G. Magnuson of Washington, the senior member of the Senate; and John Culver of Iowa.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, was far behind in his re-election bid.

With 63 percent of the nation's precincts counted, Reagan was gaining 50 percent of the vote, Carter 43 percent, independent John B. Anderson 6 percent.

In electoral votes, the competition that counted, it was a Reagan runaway. He had won or led for 458 electoral votes, a comfortable cushion past the majority he needed. Carter had won or led for 73.

Reagan had 27.4 million votes, Carter 23.1 million, Anderson 3.3 million.

"It is now apparent that the American people have chosen you as the next president," Carter wired Reagan. "I congratulate you and pledge to you our fullest support and cooperation in bringing about an orderly transition of government in the weeks ahead."

On Jan. 20, Reagan will be inaugurated the 40th president of the United States. At 69, nearing 70, the former California governor also will be the oldest man to take the office.

Flanked by his wife and the high command of his vanquished administration, Carter told downcast but applauding supporters at a Washington hotel:

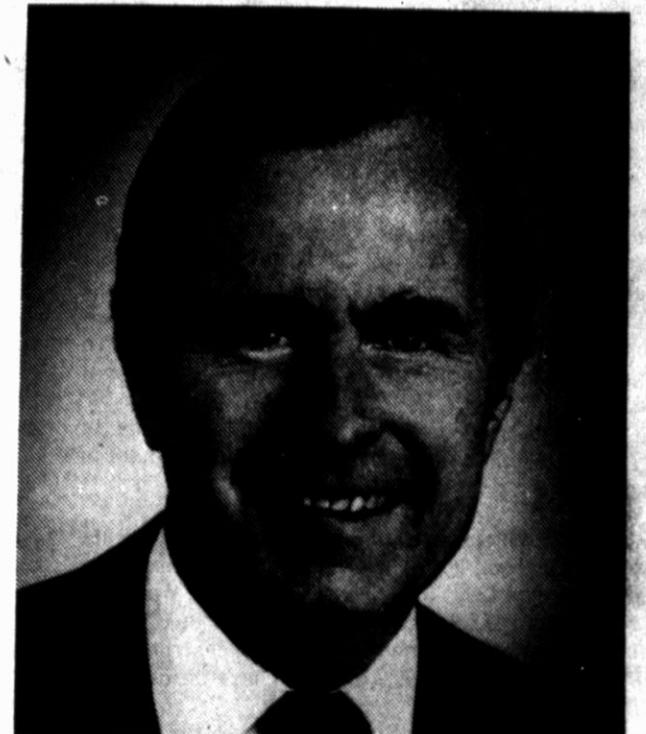

"I promised you four years ago that I would never lie to you, so I can't stand here tonight and say it doesn't hurt. The people of the United States have made their choice and of course I accept that decision, although not with the same enthusiasm I accepted it four years ago."

Carter had conceded the outcome and was offstage by 10 p.m. EST.

The president-elect was at a private dinner with friends when Carter delivered his concession statement at what

D.S. County Voters Go with Reagan, Sarpalius

By JIM STEIERT
Managing Editor

Deaf Smith County residents joined their fellow voters from across the nation in impressive numbers Tuesday as they gave Republican presidential candidate Ronald Reagan a virtual landslide victory over Jimmy Carter in boosting the Republican's bid for the oval office.

General disenchantment with Carter administration policies, particularly in the area of agriculture, foreign relations and the economy had to be a factor in a big win for Reagan here.

While county residents gave the nod to a Republican in the top race of campaign '80, they also gave impressive support to home town 31st Senatorial District candidate Bill Sarpalius, helping him to defeat incumbent Republican Bob Price for that state seat.

A total 5,947 county residents, 65.9 percent of the 9,022 registered voters here, went to the polls in perfect weather that matched that across much of the country on election day.

Although pollsters had predicted a light voter turnout, American voters were evidently sufficiently fed-up with the status quo to deliver an ultimatum at the polls Tuesday—an ultimatum indicating they want more conservative policies.

County residents joined in that trend in one of the largest voter turnouts here in many years, and waiting lines at several local polling points were common Tuesday.

In the presidential race, county voters cast a whopping 4,073 ballots for Ronald Reagan and vice presidential running mate George Bush, while President Carter and Vice President Walter Mondale managed only 1,666.

The Carter-Mondale ticket failed to carry a single voting box in the county, lending emphasis to the general mood of disenchantment with the Carter administration's policies among local voters.

Also in the presidential race, county voters cast 47 ballots for Libertarian party candidates Ed Clark and David Koch and independent candidates John B. Anderson and Milton S. Eisenhower pulled 77 county votes.

One ballot was cast for write-in candidates Barry Commoner and LaDonna Harris.

Kent Hance of Lubbock, a local native seeking his second term as U.S. representative for the 19th Congressional District, garnered 95 percent of the vote across the area as he easily defeated Libertarian party challenger J.D. Webster for another term.

Hance also won in a runaway in Deaf Smith County as local voters gave him 3,854 votes, compared to 145 for Webster.

Hereford native Bill Sarpalius defeated incumbent state Senator Bob Price of Pampa by about a two-to-one margin across the 26 counties composing the 31st District and home town voters gave Sarpalius a boost in his first bid for office.

Sarpalius garnered a total of 4,275 votes in Deaf Smith County compared to 1,507 for Price.

A check with the Sarpalius family this morning revealed that overall vote figures from the 26-county area of the 31st

Defense, Inflation Key Issues

NEW YORK (AP) - Texas voters were worried about national defense and inflation when they handed the state's 26 electoral votes to Ronald Reagan, preliminary results of an Associated Press-NBC News poll of voters said Tuesday.

Texas voters who voted for President Carter said the most important issue prompting their decision was insuring peace.

Fifty-six percent of Texans said they thought the president could have a hand in controlling inflation, and a near 3-1 majority of those voters chose Reagan.

And the 76 percent of the state's voters who said defense spending should be increased next year voted for Reagan by more than 2-1.

Forty-eight percent of Reagan's voters listed defense among their top two issues and 46 percent cited inflation.

Thirty-one percent of Carter's voters said peace was their chief concern, the highest percentage for any issue among his supporters.

The hotly contested Hispanic vote apparently stayed squarely in the Democratic camp, but there was a possibility for some slippage from Carter's 1976 showing.

The poll showed 77 percent of Hispanics voting for Carter, versus 83 percent four years ago. The poll's margin of error, however, means there might have been no real change from 1976.

Carter made a stronger 97 percent showing among Texas blacks.

Overall, the poll indicated that Carter kept fewer of his 1976 supporters than Reagan kept those who voted for former President Gerald R. Ford four years ago.

Reagan did well among independents, taking 73 percent of their votes.

The former California governor also did slightly better among conservatives than Carter did among liberals, crucial in an election where 43 percent of the voters described themselves as conservatives.

Carter and Reagan split almost evenly the 31 percent of the Texas voters who said they were moderates.

The vaunted Republican phone banks that helped Texas Gov. Bill Clements win in 1978 appeared to play a role in Reagan's victory this year.

Fifty-two percent of Reagan voters said they had been contacted in some way by his campaign, compared to 28 percent of Carter supporters.

The figures were even more striking among Reagan's most enthusiastic supporters. Eighty percent of his voters who said they were strong supporters and 67 percent of those with reservations had been contacted.

Sixty-four percent who said they were strong Carter supporters had been contacted by his campaign. There was a dropoff to 51 percent among his voters who said they had some reservations about him.

Carter carried some blame for the nation's economic performance despite the booming Texas economy. A strong majority - almost 4-1 - of the state's voters who said they or someone they knew were hurt financially by the national economic situation favored Reagan.

Federal regulation of the energy industry also appeared to be a boost to Reagan, despite Carter's close-to-the-election endorsement of an exemption from the windfall profits tax for small oil royalty owners.

More than half of Texas voters said less regulation of the energy industry would help solve the nation's energy problems, and 72 percent of that group voted for Reagan.

As with every sample survey, the results of the AP-NBC News poll of Texas voters can vary from the opinions of all Texas voters because of chance variations in the sample.

For a poll based on more than 2,000 interviews, the results are subject to an error margin of 3 percentage points either way. That is, if one could have talked to all voters in Texas on Tuesday, there is only one chance in 20 that the results of this survey by more than 3 percentage points.

Clayton Announces Speaker Candidacy

Bill Clayton, 74th District state representative announced Tuesday as election results poured in that he has no doubt of winning an unprecedented fourth term as Texas House Speaker.

Clayton, who had remained coy about his candidacy since his acquittal Oct. 22 of political corruption charges arising from the FBI Bribe investigation, dispelled all doubt about his designs on the Speaker post Tuesday night.

"We've got all the votes we need," Clayton declared, explaining that he has verified more than 90 representatives and House candidates remain firm in pledges to vote for him.

Clayton reported that a news conference will be held Thursday at which time he will make his formal announcement and disclose the names of representatives-elect who are pledged to his candidacy.

Reagan Victory Was Clinched While Texans Were Still Voting

Republican Ronald Reagan, showing surprising strength in all areas of the Texas, won election as the next U.S. president while some Texans waited in line to vote.

President Jimmy Carter conceded to Reagan with only about a third of the votes from Texas' 5,800 precincts counted. Reagan had about 53 percent of the Texas vote, President Jimmy Carter 44, and John P. Anderson 2.

The NBC and CBS TV networks projected Reagan a winner in Texas shortly after the 7 p.m. poll closing time. Long lines of voters, still waited in many suburban areas.

Former Gov. John B. Connally, who teamed with Texas Gov. Bill Clements, in leading well-financed and aggressive Reagan campaign in Texas said the size of the "victory" did not surprise him. "I've been saying he would win by 220,000 votes," he said.

Preliminary results of an Associated Press-NBC poll taken in selected Texas precincts showed voters were impressed mostly by Reagan's stands on national defense and inflation.

Forty-eight percent of Reagan's voters said defense spending should be increased and 46 percent said they believed a president could control inflation.

Thirty-one percent of Carter's voters said peace was their chief concern.

The poll showed Carter's support from Hispanics dropped to about 77 percent, compared to 83 percent in 1976. Texas blacks voted for Carter by 97 percent, according to the poll.

Last minute campaigns by both Carter and Reagan were credited for stirring up voter interest, along with extensive voter contact by telephone and door-to-door campaigning.

Fifty-two percent of Reagan voters in the poll said they had been contacted in some way by his supporters, compared with only 28 percent of Carter's voters.

Reagan's campaigners claimed they made 1.5 million telephone calls in recent weeks from 50 telephone banks manned by more than 30,000 volunteers in 35 Texas cities.

The Carter-Mondale campaign relied largely on a series of caravans, many of them manned by Carter's relatives, cabinet members or state officials that visited 144 Texas counties.

Carter's campaign experts claimed before the election that a large turnout would favor them and hurt the Republicans.

Republicans Gain Seats in Texas Legislature

By LEE JONES
 Associated Press Writer

Republicans defeated two "Killer Bee" liberal-to-moderate state senators in Tuesday's election and had a high probability of picking off a third when the ballot counting is complete.

The GOP's net gain was expected to be one or two senators. Republicans now hold four of the 31 Senate seats.

"We always wanted a two-party state. Well, we've got one," asserted Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, as he analyzed unofficial totals that indicated he probably had lost by about 600 votes.

Schwartz, a senator for almost 20 years and leader of legislative liberals, said he wanted to see official returns before deciding whether to concede to Republican lawyer James E. "Buster" Brown of Lake Jackson.

Also up in the air early this morning was the Dallas Senate race between Ron Kessler, a former county Democratic chairman, and John Leedom, ex-chairman of Dallas County Republicans.

Kessler and Leedom were ran for the seat held by Sen. Bill Braecklein, R-Dallas, who did not seek re-election.

Computer foul-ups and the sheer effort of counting record numbers of votes also left several House races undecided until today.

It was clear, however, that Republicans had added to the 26 seats they hold in the 150-member House.

Unofficial returns indicated Republicans had defeated Democratic Reps. Jimmy Mankins of Kilgore, a three-term conservative; Ed Watson of Deer Park, an oil worker and union member; Bill Harrison of Corpus Christi, a conservative first-term legislator; and Bill Caraway of Houston, a three-term moderate.

Mankins lost to Michael Martin of Longview; Watson to Charles Eastburn of Mont Belvieu; Harrison to Ken Riley of Corpus Christi; and Caraway to Randy Pennington, president of a Houston distributing company.

Mike Richards, a Houston financial consultant, banker was supposed to have been a victory rally. An aide said Carter had telephoned him earlier, "conceded the election, wished him well, and offered his assistance during the transition."

Anderson had also phoned Reagan his congratulations.

Carter had known even as he cast his own ballot that his White House days probably were numbered.

Pollster Patrick Caddell was said to have informed Carter early on Election Day that the tide was with Reagan and that he trailed by 7 to 10 points in his own final soundings.

But however extraordinary was the magnitude of Reagan's victory, it was matched by sweeping changes in the Senate.

All told, Republicans won or led for eight Senate seats held by Democrats, six of them incumbents. Only one Republican incumbent, Sen. Barry Goldwater, was in a close race, trading leads with Democrat Bill Schulz.

A nine-seat gain would mean Republican control, since Vice President-elect George Bush would have the decisive vote in a 50-50 Senate.

Republicans also were piling up gains in the House, although not enough to reverse the current 59-seat Democratic margin of control. Rep. John Brademas of Indiana, No. 3 man in the Democratic leadership, lost his District still are not final, and that Sarpalis was checking county-by-county for final vote tallies. That total was not expected to be available until late this afternoon.

Sarpalis' wife, Donna, reported that the Hereford candidate was holding a 66 percent margin in the voting compared to 34 percent for Price, and surprisingly, Sarpalis had even carried Price's home town of Pampa by a margin of 5,509 to 4,494.

Sarpalis credited an aggressive campaign and hard work as big reasons for his win.

Numerous county voters went the split-ticket route to give Ronald Reagan a win in the Republican column and Sarpalis a win as a Democrat.

A total of 3,903 votes were cast in the county for Bill Clayton, who was unopposed in his bid for re-election as representative for the state's 74th district.

County voters varied from a state trend as they favored Railroad Commission candidate Henry C. Grover over Buddy Temple by a narrow 2,601 to 2,567 margin.

In the race for an unexpired term on the Railroad Commission county balloters cast 2,865 votes for Jim Nugent, while H.J. Blanchard polled 2,211 in the county.

David Hutzelman garnered 71 county votes in the race.

County voters favored Jim Wallace over Jim Brady, 2,769 to 2,402 in the race for place 1 associate justice on the Supreme Court.

Sears McGee received 3,554 votes in the county in an unopposed bid for place 2 associate justice on the Supreme Court, and unopposed place 3 justice candidate Robert Campbell received 3,533 votes.

County voters favored Will Garwood in a bid for an unexpired term as associate justice, place 4, on the Supreme Court, giving Garwood 2,635 votes compared to 2,496 for C.L. Ray.

Three unopposed candidates for places 1, 2 and 3 judges on the court of criminal appeals also received a large number of votes here.

Marvin O. Teague received 3,555 votes for Place 1, Mike McCormick received 3,551 votes for Place 2 and Tom Davis received 3,512 votes for Place 3.

James H. Whiteside received 3,723 county votes in an unopposed bid for membership on the state board of education, 19th district.

seat to Republican John P. Hiler.

It was the Reagan ticket that led the Republican way.

Reagan carried California, New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, Indiana, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Kansas, Virginia, Nebraska, Florida, Connecticut, New Jersey, South Carolina, Michigan, Delaware, New Mexico, New Hampshire, Idaho, Utah, Ohio, South Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona, Oregon, Washington, Iowa, Louisiana, North Dakota, Vermont and Montana, Nevada and Missouri.

He led in Mississippi, Alabama, Illinois, North Carolina, and Wisconsin.

Carter captured Georgia, West Virginia, Rhode Island, Minnesota, Maryland and the District of Columbia. He was leading in Massachusetts, Maine, Arkansas and Tennessee.

An Associated Press-NBC News survey of voters outside their polling places indicated that the Iranian hostage issue was costing Carter votes. A majority of the voters said they disapproved of the way he had handled the year-long crisis — despite indications in the last two days of the campaign that the Americans might soon be freed.

Carter's campaign manager, Robert Strauss, said the same thing "The events of the last four days, the Iranian hostages, they came down on us," he said. "It brought back all the frustrations of the last year."

In 13 gubernatorial elections, Democrats were re-ected in West Virginia, North Carolina, Utah, New Hampshire and Rhode Island.

While Carter's own pollster had braced him for defeat before dawn Tuesday, the president never let on, saying it would be close and claiming confidence.

Beneath a black umbrella on the rainy lawn of the White House on Tuesday afternoon, Carter told his staff "I feel confident about the outcome." He said he was surprised to see them out in the rain. But then, their jobs were at stake, too.

And like Carter, they will be out on Jan. 20.

DALLAS (AP) — As television thrillers go, it had all the drama and suspense of a Spontatorium wrestling match. Charlie's Angels with bras.

But Texas Republicans liked the ending: Ronald Reagan and George Bush by a near landslide.

The former California governor and his Houston running mate torpedoed President Carter's bid for reelection and captured Texas' 26 electoral votes in the process.

In sports parlance, it was a laugher.

Worse still, the end came with some Texans standing in line to vote and with hardly a handful of ballots computed.

NBC projected Reagan the presidential sweepstakes winner shortly after nightfall Tuesday and awarded him Texas as something of an afterthought.

Early today, the Reagan-Bush ticket commanded 55 percent of the vote, roughly a dozen percentage points ahead of Carter—Mondale.

For a state described variously as a tossup, as pivotal, as critical, the swift verdict was a bummer.

But not for the Republicans.

Said Gov. Bill Clements: "Nationally, all across this nation, Texas has become a model for how a campaign should be structured, how a campaign should be run."

The fact that the fiery Clements helped structure and run that Texas campaign could hardly be overlooked.

But former Gov. John Connally was no less ebullient. Said he: "We are clearly moving toward a moderate—conservative philosophy in American politics... In the decade of the 1980s, Texas will be one of the strongest Republican states in the nation."

For Bush, an adopted Texan, it was a night of rejoicing, though tempered somewhat by reflective rhetoric.

"This is a night of celebration for some of us, disappointment for others," he told a cheering crowd of supporters at a Houston hotel.

"But tomorrow, in the great American tradition, those of us who celebrate tonight and those who have suffered disappointment will come together as one people to meet the larger challenge."

All but overlooked amid the presidential fanfare were several important Texas races and issues, ranging from congressional contests to constitutional changes.

From a national viewpoint, the most important involved House Majority Leader Jim Wright, who survived a well-financed challenge to win a 14th term in congress.

Wright won a surprisingly lopsided victory over millionaire Fort Worth businessman Jim Bradshaw,

Republicans Like Ending Despite Lack of Suspense

a popular, conservative Republican.

Three other house races involving incumbent congressmen were too close to call. They included Democrats Jim Mattox of Dallas and Republican Ron Paul of Lake Jackson.

Democrats Jim Nugent, an incumbent, and Buddy Temple won election to the powerful Texas Railroad Commission, neither with undue difficulty.

In one of two contested Texas Supreme Court races, Democrat C.L. Ray of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals ousted Republican Will Garwood, a Clements appointee to the high court last year.

Democrat Jim Wallace, a judge on the Houston Court of Civil Appeals, defeated Austin attorney Jim Brady for seat of retiring Justice Zollie Steakley.

Texans voted a resounding yes — 72 percent — to an amendment allowing banks to use automated teller machines away from the bank premises, the closest thing to branch banking ever allowed in the state.

Also elected to the Senate were Democrats Kent Caperton of Bryan, John Wilson of LaGrange and Bob Glasgow of Stephenville.

Caperton defeated Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, dean of the Senate and chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, in a Democratic primary upset.

Wilson, a state representative credited with creation of the Texas Public Utility Commission, was diagnosed as having lung cancer shortly after winning his primary in May. He says, however, that chemotherapy has arrested the disease.

Glasgow is a former district attorney who was on the staff of former Gov. Preston Smith.

House members surviving tough re-election races included Rep. Bob Davis, R-Irving, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. He defeated Carroll Brown, a real estate agent and former social worker.

Rep. John Bryant, D-Dallas, the only House member to oppose Bill Clayton's bid for an unprecedented fourth term as speaker, won re-election by defeating William Burch.

Clayton told reporters he would call a news conference Thursday to announce names of enough supporters in the House to guarantee his re-election as speaker.

"We've got all (the votes) we need," he said as election returns began trickling in.

Gov. Bill Clements, who must have strong legislative allies if he is to pass his program in the 1981 lawmaking session, paid a surprise visit to Clayton's office and spent 30 minutes with the speaker.

Clayton said it was just a social call — that Clements sent him flowers when he won acquittal of Bribrab corruption charges Oct. 22 but the two had not had time to chat.

House members gaining re-election in contested races included Reps. Hamp Atkinson, D-Texarkana, Education Committee chairman; Smith Gilley, D-Greenville; Jerry Benedict, D-Angleton; Tom DeLay, R-Wallis; W. Tip Hall Jr., D-Denton; Bill Keese, D-Somerville; Tom Uher, D-Bay City, chairman of the State Affairs Committee; Lanny Hall, D-Fort Worth; Bob Ware, R-Fort Worth; Anita Hill, R-Dallas; Bob Maloney, R-Dallas; Chris Semos, D-Dallas; Ray Keller, D-Duncanville; Ted Lyon, D-Mesquite; Carlyle Smith, D-Grand Prairie; Frank Gaston, R-Dallas; Lanell Cofer, D-Dallas; Bill Ceverha, R-Dallas; Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale; Gonzalo Barrientos, D-Austin; Leroy Wieting, D-Portland; Don Rains, D-San Marcos; Arnold Gonzales, D-Corpus Christi; Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi; Hector Ubeda, D-Brownville; Frank Trيجا, D-San Antonio; Lou Nelle Sutton, D-San Antonio; George Pierce, D-San Antonio; Paul Elizondo, D-San Antonio; Bob Simpson, D-Amarillo; Mary Pok, D-El Paso; Nolan Robnett, R-Lubbock; Fron Salinas, D-Lubbock; Pete Laney, D-Hale Center; Jim Rudd, D-Brownfield; Ed Emmett, R-Kingwood; Frank Hartung, R-Houston; Gene Green, D-Houston; and Ralph Wallace, D-Houston.

Wright Survives Stiff Challenge

By TERRY LEONARD
 Associated Press Writer

House Majority Leader Jim Wright won re-election Tuesday night in his toughest election challenge in 26 years, but three other incumbents continued to run neck-and-neck with their opponents in hotly contested races.

Wright, who needed a solid win to strengthen his leadership position in the House, collected more than 60 percent of the vote in defeating Republican challenger Jim Bradshaw.

With more than half the votes counted, Wright led Bradshaw 62 percent to 38 percent.

Democrat incumbent Bob Eckhardt led by a slight margin in the historically Democratic 8th District Tuesday night in his bid to fight off a determined challenge by Republican Jack Fields.

Republican incumbent Ron Fields clung to a narrow 2 percent edge over Democrat and political newcomer Mike Andrews.

With half the vote counted, Jim Mattox trailed by a narrow 2 percent margin in his bitter re-election battle with Republican Tom Pauken.

Former State Sen. Ralph Hall, a Democrat from Rockwall, held a slight edge over Republican John Wright of Tyler in the campaign to take the 4th District seat of retiring U.S. Rep. Ray Roberts.

Four unopposed Democratic incumbents won easy re-election including U.S. Reps. Sam Hall of Marshall, Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Marvin Leath of Marlin and Charles Stenholm of Stamford.

Democratic incumbents Charles White of El Paso and Kent Hance of Lubbock earned lopsided wins over Libertarian candidates.

E. "Kika" de la Garza, a Democrat from Mission, won a ninth term and Democrat Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio rolled to a victory to earn a full 20 years in the House.

Other Democratic incumbents winning handily Tuesday night included Charles Wilson of Lufkin, Phil Gramm in the 6th District, Jack Hightower of Vernon, Mickey Leland of Houston and Abraham "Chick" Kazen in the 23rd District.

Republican incumbents posting easy wins Tuesday included Jim Collins of Dallas, Bill Archer in the 7th District and Tom Loeffler in the 21st District.

State Sen. William Patman, a Democrat, defeated Republican C.L. Conkline in the race for the 14th District seat vacated by U.S. Rep. Joe Wyatt, who retired citing personal reasons.

Clements to Push Connally Now

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says nothing in the world could get him to accept a presidential appointment from Ronald Reagan, but he is going to work on getting John Connally back to Washington.

Connally, who challenged Reagan for the GOP presidential nomination but dropped out after the South Carolina primary, served as secretary of the navy in the Kennedy administration and as secretary of the treasury in the Nixon administration.

He was Democratic governor of Texas in 1963-69 but later switched to the Republican Party.

Clements heaped praise on Connally before cheering, balloon-popping Texas Republicans Tuesday night and insisted on waiting for Connally to start a news conference. Clements, deputy secretary of defense under Nixon, said he would defer to Connally on questions about national defense because Connally knew so much more.

Returning the accolades, Connally said Clements was the deciding factor in Reagan's victory in Texas.

"I daresay there was not an elected official in the United States that even came close to giving himself up (for a Reagan victory) as Bill Clements."

Clements, Connally and their wives — Rita and Nellie — campaigned for Reagan throughout Texas, and the delivery of the state's 26 electoral votes started immediate speculation about possible national roles for Clements or Connally or both.

"I will not under any circumstances take any job in Washington, D.C.," Clements proclaimed. "What else can I say?"

Asked if he felt as strongly as Clements about rejecting a position in the Reagan administration, Connally said, "Not quite as strong. I thought his statement was very strong."

Connally said, however, "I have no idea I will be offered a job. I don't anticipate a job. I'm not going to ask for a job. I don't want a job, and I'm not sure any of them have persuasive powers enough to get me to accept one."

"I'll tell you one person who might be persuading him — that's me," responded Clements, and Connally, stepping back, laughed heartily.

"He might not be able to fend me off, so to speak," said Clements. "I'll be a person who is recruiting John Connally to take a position in Washington. I think he has something to offer to this country."

"With these talents and this kind of experience, this kind of an individual of high quality and total integrity, I think that he should be used in an administration in Washington," Clements added.

Asked what Connally might do in the Reagan administration, Clements replied, "He could fill any one of 10 positions."

Theft of $225 Reported by Firm

Yet another theft at a Hereford business was reported to police officers yesterday from Tice Grocery, 610 S. 25 Mile Ave.

According to city police someone entered the back of office and took $225 in checks and cash. The owners were unable to give officers any information about the person.

Karen McPherson, 215 Fir, reported someone took a 34-inch Huffy bicycle from her home. The bike is valued at $80.

Alma Soliz, 339 Adelito Calle, told officers yesterday that someone had broken into her home between 3-6 p.m. and broke all the furniture in the home. No estimate of damage was available.

Officers filed 12 traffic citations and answered five non-offense reports.

Two arrests were made including soliciting without a permit and one for an assault which happened Sunday.

Asia, with an area of 16,988,000 square miles, accounts for 29.5 percent of the earth's land area.

Vehicle Tax Income For State Declines

AUSTIN — State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday reports the automobile industry's woes brought about by sagging sales in the past year are reflected in the state's income from the motor vehicle sales tax.

Bullock said for the 12-month period that ended September 1, 1980, the four percent motor vehicle tax levied on the sales of cars, trucks, motorcycles and mobile homes amounted to $439.4 million.

He said this was $3.7 million less than was collected in the previous one-year period.

A total of $463,280.20 was collected in Deaf Smith County.

Harris County was the number one contributor of motor vehicle sales tax during fiscal year 1980, collecting more than $93.6 million, a slight increase from the $93.1 million collected in fiscal 1979.

Dallas County collected $59.3 million in 1980, down from $61.5 million in 1979.

Tarrant County's collections in 1980 were $30.5 million, compared to $31.9 million in 1979.

Bexar County reported $25.5 million for 1980, down from $25.8 million collected in 1979.

Collection for 1980 in Travis County amounted to $12.1 million, compared to $12.3 million in 1979.

Motor vehicle sales taxes are collected by county tax assessor-collectors and the counties retain five percent of the amount and send the rest to the state.

New Fine Arts Association To Organize Thursday

A new organization to Hereford, The Hereford Fine Arts Association, will conduct their first meeting tomorrow at 6:15 p.m. at the Texas Gallery & Frame Shop, located on highway 60 west, announced Jean Lyles.

Goals for the association include: to encourage artists of the area in creative endeavors, to provide educational opportunities for artists and members, to provide opportunities for the community to view works of local and regional artists, and to present programs in interest of the Texas Fine Arts Association to the community for their participation.

The meeting will involve organizing and electing officers and scheduling of their next meeting to be held sometime in January. All people who join the association between now and January will be considered charter members.

For further information one can contact Jean Lyles at 364-5571, or Evelyn Lyles, 364-8245.

Ann Landers Supporting NRA

DEAR ANN: I've read your column about the National Rifle Assn. and guns which we published recently. I'm sure you are right. You will get a lot of angry mail.

May I give you some thoughts from the other side? I, too, am a NRA member—a life member at that, for 30 years. So I know a little bit about the NRA and firearms. Let me give you three important points:

1. Just because you subscribe to a publication doesn't mean that you agree with its editorial policy. As a newspaper publisher I certainly know that! So the concept that every NRA member supports the organization's policy on firearms control is just loony.

2. I, personally, know many sportsmen who wouldn't own a "Saturday Night Special" and would unquestionably support legislation to outlaw their import, manufacture or transfer. Some of these people, like me, are also NRA members.

3. The irony is that the NRA is, itself, inconsistent. In the 1930s the NRA supported legislation to outlaw the possession of sawed-off shotguns and machine-guns. Why? Because they had no conceivable sporting purpose. Their only use was to kill people. The same theory certainly applies to the "Saturday Night Special," which also has no conceivable sporting purpose. But I guess the NRA would oppose a law preventing the ownership of hydrogen bombs under the theory that next they'd come after granddaddy's shotgun! Their policy just doesn't make sense, but yours does—and I thank you for speaking out. A lot of sensible gun owners are on your side. Yours sincerely—Barry Bingham Jr., Editor and Publisher, The Louisville Courier-Journal and Times.

DEAR BOSS: Thank you for a fine letter. And now I wish the National Rifle Assn. would go back and use some of the good sense it demonstrated in the 1930s.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My favorite brother married for the second time last June. The woman (a widow) is very sweet and she is devoted to Ralph, but the poor thing doesn't know anything about housekeeping. I guess you'd call her a slob. They live 200 miles from here, which is a blessing. If I had to see what goes on in that house on a day-to-day basis it would probably ruin our friendship. I'm writing to ask you to settle a controversy. Last week I spent a few days with Ralph and Marie. Everything went fairly well until I saw her give the dog leftover stew in the same bowl she served it in. After the dog licked the bowl clean, Marie put it in the dishwasher with the supper dishes.

When my attack of nausea passed over, I told Marie it was a very unsanitary thing to do since dogs run loose, get into garbage cans, run with other dogs and so on. She said I was "foolish" to be concerned since scalding water and soap will kill almost any germ. Please, Ann, set her straight in the column. She reads you every day.—Woopsing in Wilmington

DEAR WOOPS: I am no authority on dogs or germs, so I checked with a top veterinarian in Chicago. This is what she said: "No harm will come to the family if the dog licks the bowl and it is put in the dishwasher with the rest of the dishes. Scalding water and soap will indeed kill almost any germ." So, there's your answer—straight from the vet's mouth. I confess I still wouldn't do it in spite of the vet's approval. So I guess I'm "foolish" too.

Bible Reading Marathon Slated

Hundreds of Amarillo area people from all faiths will join in a televised Bible-reading marathon this month to observe National Bible Week.

During the marathon, the entire Bible will be read aloud, in a continuous session expected to span about 90 hours.

The South Amarillo Kiwanis Club, which is sponsoring the marathon, is now signing up volunteer readers from throughout the community. Persons interested may contact Scott C. Smith, 3502 Hawthorne, 352-5887.

Bob Watson, general chairman of the Amarillo marathon, said that men and women of all faiths, both laymen and clergy, are being sought as readers.

Volunteer readers may express a preference for a particular section of the Bible or a particular time to read, Watson said.

The reading will be conducted in the studio of Total Television of Amarillo and will be televised on cable channel 6. The marathon will begin at 10 a.m. Nov. 21.

"We expect the complete reading of the Bible to take about 90 hours," Watson said, "which means that we will cover portions of four days and will conclude on the morning of Nov. 25."

Smith said that Amarillo members of Gideons International have offered to conduct the reading during the hours from midnight until 8 a.m. each day. The sponsors hope to have a number of Amarillo celebrities as readers each evening, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Watson said that a selection of Bibles will be available to readers at the television studio or volunteers may use their own Bibles, if they prefer.

The marathon in Amarillo is one of two such readings being conducted in the United States this year to mark National Bible Week. The other reading is planned in Boston. In recent years, the Laymen's National Bible Committee has organized similar events in a number of American cities.

Watson said the marathon is intended to draw attention to the variety of people who value the teachings of the Bible, to encourage oral Bible reading, and to provide an opportunity for Amarillo area people to hear the Bible read aloud.

The Marathon will also serve as a fitting introduction to the Thanksgiving holiday, Watson said.

National Bible Week will observe its 40th interfaith anniversary Nov. 23-30.

The Laymen's National Bible Committee has sponsored the interfaith observance each year since 1941, when its inaugural broadcast was interrupted by the report of the bombing of Pearl Harbor. It is largely a mass media effort to raise public awareness of the importance of the Bible.

The committee cooperates with religious organizations and members of the U.S. Catholic Conference, Greek Orthodox, Archdiocese, Jewish Committee for National Bible Week, National Council of Churches, the Christian Scientists, Mormons and the American Bible Society.

Roy Britain, an Amarillo realtor, is an associate chairman.

HOW TO LIVE HAPPILY EVER AFTER

May God who gives patience, steadiness, and encouragement help you to live in complete harmony with each other - each with the attitude of Christ toward the other.

And then all of us can praise the Lord together with one voice, giving glory to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

So, warmly welcome each other into the church, just as Christ has warmly welcomed you; then God will be glorified.

Remember that Jesus Christ came to show that God is true to His promises and to help the Jews.

And remember that He came also that the Gentiles might be saved and give glory to God for His mercies to them. That is what the Psalmist meant when he wrote: "I will praise You among the Gentiles, and sing to Your name."

And in another place, "Be glad, O you Gentiles, along with His people the Jews."

And yet again, "Praise the Lord, O you Gentiles, let everyone praise Him."

And the prophet Isaiah said, "There shall be an Heir in the house of Jesse, and He will be King over the Gentiles; they will pin their hopes on Him alone."

So I pray for you Gentiles that God who gives you hope will keep you happy and full of peace as you believe in Him. I pray that God will help you overflow with hope in Him through the Holy Spirit's power within you. Romans 15:5-13

Small Businesses Attain Law

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Small-business groups are ecstatic over a new law allowing businesses and others to recover expenses if they prevail in court actions involving the federal government.

Their joy comes not only because of the contents of the law, but from their accomplishment. Hundreds of groups cooperated in the effort, and feel that more victories on other issues are upcoming.

They see their accomplishment, the Equal Access to Justice Law, as correcting an imbalance of power. In the past, they say, small businesses couldn't afford to fight for rights, and so it lost them.

But now, under a law signed last week, a small business might be reimbursed for attorney fees and court costs if: It is the prevailing party, and the government is unable to prove to the satisfaction of the court that it was "substantially" justified in its actions.

The new law is seen by the Chamber of Commerce Small Business Center as proof that "unified action can succeed even in the face of resistance from the leadership of Congress and the administration."

At the National Federation of Independent Business, which made passage one of its top goals, an official commented that a fileful of horror stories — setbacks for small business — preceded enactment.

Prominent among those files is the saga of Ferrol "Bill" Barlow, a small electrical and plumbing subcontractor in Pocatello, Idaho, who challenged OSHA officials all the way to the Supreme Court, and won.

Barlow's fight began when he declined to allow his property to be inspected by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, claiming a warrantless visit violated his right against unreasonable search. He knew his ground; he was familiar with the Bill of Rights.

He even ignored a judge's order to allow access to the OSHA visitor. In all, he didn't do well in the lower courts but he persisted. Finally he won a decision from the U.S. Supreme Court.

In reaching the decision, however, the court was careful not to strip OSHA of its power to make surprise inspections. Should an employer object, it indicated, OSHA could obtain a court warrant.

Barlow, a busy man with limited funds, might not have been able to carry his protest as far as the Supreme Court without legal and financial contributions. Not if he were to remain in business.

Other small-business people attracted less attention and had to swallow their pride, determination and constitutional rights. Some fought alleged regulatory abuses until rising expenses and time away from their businesses forced them to forgo idealism for reality.

OSHA, meanwhile, hasn't given up efforts to aggressively pursue its inspections. It concedes it needs to show a search warrant if an employer demands one, but almost always it can quickly produce one.

It does so through the use of X-party warrants. Normally the party on whom a warrant is to be used has a chance to answer. An X-party warrant may require no notification.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN

By SUE COLEMAN

Compulsions, I think the psychologists call them—those impulses that you can't seem to resist, like straightening a picture that hangs crooked on just any wall, or buying an unusual clock when you see one, even though your collection is overcrowding its quarters.

My compulsion is scuffing through fallen leaves when they are drifted up in my pathway.

It gets my shoes dusty and certainly looks undignified, even childish, but those piles of dry leaves crackle enticingly and look so carefree when the wind catches them and whirle them away that I plow right through.

Of course it's only a once-a-year pastime. I excuse myself.

More recipes and still more recipes, Allison and Denise just aren't satisfied unless the recipes are rolling in for their cookery tabloid which will be a part of your Brand later this month.

Some people, I've found in asking for recipes to appear in the paper, think you want only original recipes, and say "This isn't really my recipe; I cut it out of a magazine," or got it from a sister-in-law, or found it on the margarine box.

Well, that's o.k. because there really isn't any such thing as an original recipe, except for some trick of flavoring or combining ingredients and if it makes your conscience feel better, you might substitute lemon extract for vanilla in that good pound cake recipe you got from another newspaper, and call it original.

You have until next Wednesday to submit your recipe and it will improve the tabloid.

Our weather lately, almost summertime in the afternoons but nippy in the mornings, brings out quite a variety in clothes. I noticed in an hour of shopping Monday...People were wearing everything from heavy storm coats to sundresses for the women and sport shirts for the men.

The brown sweater outfit Selsey Metz wore on an errand in the bank made a nice autumnal combination with her russet hair...Bonna Duke took my check in the water department office, wearing a lavender-pink blouse as she stood beside a bouquet of rose-lavender mums. She said they were from the Dudley Baynes' yard.

Grocery shopping, Sandra Martin looked comfortable in a beige sweater, jeans and sandals...Fran Ambold's dress was dark red velvet and she said she was looking forward to a Caribbean cruise in February, looking back with pleasure to a trip to Europe last spring, and in fact thought it would be great if she could spend all her time traveling.

Founders Day Banquet Scheduled

The annual King's Manor Founders Day Banquet has been scheduled for this Thursday, Nov. 6, in the Lamar Memorial Garden Room of the Manor, announced Rev. Wallace Kirby, Manor chaplain.

The Founders Association is a supportive group of private individuals who act as friends of the Manor. The association holds to fund-raising events each year, one being a barbecue in July and the other, an "annual Founders Dinner."

Last year the association was successful in raising $38,000, which was used by the home to help residents who could not afford to pay for their full care while at the Manor.

The dinner, which begins at 7 p.m. in the Garden Room, is being catered by K-Bob's Steak House. Dinner reservations can be made in advance by contacting the administrative office at Westgate.

Membership fee for the informal event is $25 per person which entitles a person to one dinner ticket.

Guest speaker for the event will be Dr. Louis W. Schowengerdt. Born in the Methodist parsonage at Warrensburg, Mo., April 7, 1926, his father was a member of the former Southwest Missouri Conference.

Schowengerdt is married to the former Ina E. Edmondson. They have two sons, Allan Louis, an Air National Guard technician in St. Louis and Glenn Lee, working on a master's degree in clinical psychology at Central Missouri State University, Warrensburg.

Schowengerdt was unanimously nominated for the Episcopacy by the Missouri West Annual Conference and endorsed by the Missouri East and West delegations.

He has held a position on the Mt. Sequoyah Board of Trustees, and in 1979 on the Jurisdictional Council on Ministries.

Also in 1979, he was appointed as Council Director of Missouri West Conference. Schowengerdt will be interrupted by Dr. Walter Browers, District Superintendent of the Amarillo District of United Methodist churches.

Master of ceremonies for this year's event will be the Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of First Baptist Church here.

The invocation will be given by Dr. Leo Gee with St. Paul United Methodist Church in Amarillo, while Dr. Clifford Trotter with Polk Street United Methodist Church in Amarillo giving the benediction.

Awards and founder's certificates will be presented by Mrs. Joyce Lyons. President of this year's Founder's Association is Bill Walden.

The Manor Auxiliary recently raised enough money to provide King's Manor with new carpet which has already been laid. Other general maintenance work has been taken care of through this money. President of the Manor Auxiliary is Mrs. George Olson.

Special recognition is given to the local key Club, which has helped clean up the grounds around the Manor, and have volunteered their time to serve and clean up afterwards Thursday evening.

The public is encouraged to attend the dinner this Thursday.

Against League Underdog Lubbock High

Whitefaces Eye Last District Conflict

FOR ALL THE MIRACLES THEY HAD WORKED - all the obstacles and pitfalls they had overcome despite the unknowing and unthinking pronosticators' theories to the contrary, the Hereford Whitefaces were still as far from house cleaning their way to the league's crown as they were two short weeks ago.

Mauri Montgomery

After the squad met a treacherous downfall to Plainview in the district opener, Hereford faced the seemingly insurmountable odds of having to take back-to-back wins over district bullies Lubbock Monterey and Coronado in order to put its "Humpty-Dumpty Had A Great Fall" conference ledger back together again. Anything less than two straight wins meant a welfare ticket to the district's door-mat.

AND EVEN THOUGH IT'S ALL HISTORY now, the grid crew reeled off miracle upon miracle and accomplished the unthinkable.

The first of those barriers was mastered with a slick last minute 15-14 decision over the Monterey Plainsmen, while the second conquest arrived most recently on a 24-11 win over the previously 7th ranked CHS Mustangs, (a squad which in all its sullen splendor, had elbowed its way into the unbeaten ranks beforehand).

YET, EVEN WITH ALL THAT GROUND GAINED, the Cinderella squad was still two games shy of being considered for state notoriety. And the grid crew didn't even have control over one of those battles (the slugfest between Plainview vs. Coronado Friday night).

Hereford was depending on Coronado's (now

1-1 in the district race) ability to knock off the district's unscathed Bulldogs (2-0) for a three-way tie.

SUCH WAS THE SETTING OF THE LEAGUE'S melodrama, as the Whitefaces made final preparations for its last regularly scheduled clash of the year against the winless Lubbock High Westerners (a team the Herd had trouble with last year after Lubbock overrode HHS 7-6) Thursday at 7:30 in Lubbock's Lowrey Field.

And according to head mentor Don Cumpton, the Herd's contest with the conference's downtrodden Westerners wasn't going to be any different than either of the last two conflicts faced by the crew.

"WE HAVE TO PERFORM AGAINST THE Westerners just as we have in our last two games - there's no room for a let down at this point," said Cumpton. "Two weeks ago we had our backs pressed firmly to the wall, and we overcame two tough teams. But we're still up against that wall in that we can't lose this last game and remain in the race. We have to win and hope that Coronado will upset Plainview to stay alive in the district."

given up an uncontrolled tally of 150 to opponents over the course of the year.

Out of those 39 points reeled off by the Lubbock team, a total of 21 came in the length of one game as the crew knocked off Lubbock Dunbar 21-0.

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING, (AN OFTEN DECEIVING PICTURE) THE WESTERNERS rank dead last in the league on both the total offensive and defensive fronts. The squad has ebb-ed its way to 931 rushing and has gained 435 in the air for a 1,366 total and a 170.7 average per outing. Defensively, the team is much closer to the rest of the 4-5A pack after allowing 1,384 on the rush and 534 on the pass for a tally of 1,918 and a 239.7 average (30 yards off fourth place Plainview).

THE HERD, ON THE OTHER HAND, holds a third place berth in offense with 1,663 on the ground-706 off the pass-for a total of 2,369 which averages out to just over 263 yards a game.

Defensively, the Whitefaces maintain a second place spot in the conference behind Coronado with a 1,179 sum on the rush and 598 in the air for a total of 1,798.

In individual statistics, fullback Thomas Romero and halfback Tino Chapa have split duties as the Westerners' leading ground gainers after chalking up 380 and 390 yards respectively on the season. Signal-caller Barry Balch ranks 6th in passing with 19-51 completions for 302 yards behind HHS quarterback Alan Wartes' top berth at 45-108 and 661 total yards.

Hereford's Harold Terry rest third in the league's rushing slot after carrying the pigskin 128 times for 627 yards.

"LUBBOCK HASN'T REALLY BEEN that impressive offensively, but they have a way of making plays on you when you're not watching out," Cumpton added. "We've had a good year and we need to wind it up Thursday with a win over Lubbock High. A victory would put us at 8-2 on the year and that's not bad considering we were picked to finish either from second all the way down to fourth in the district."

"We're proud of the way our kids have responded to the pressures they've had to face and we need one more before its over - and we're betting it won't be over for us after Coronado and Plainview play."

The Whitefaces are scheduled to pair off against the Westerners in their last regularly scheduled game of the year in Lubbock's Lowrey Field at 7:30 p.m.

SPORTS

Wednesday, November 5, 1980

"And I think we've got our work cut out for us because Lubbock High isn't as bad as they would appear to be at first glance," he said Tuesday. "Defensively, they are aggressive and scrappy - they've got an excellent defensive unit, and on offense they've got some people who can hurt you. The two running backs they have, Tino Chapa and Thomas Romero are very good straight ahead runners who can break a big one open. And quarterback Barry Balch can throw if he gets the time he needs."

BUT EVEN WITH CUMPTON'S WARMING pregame appraisal of the Westerners, the squad doesn't exactly shape up as a threat in any man's army. Army's Army (as the squad is nicknamed - taking its billing from head coach Army Salinas) has netted only 39 points offensively over an eight game span, while the squad has

Both HHS Cross-Country Teams Finish Third in District Meet

Arroyos, Carrasco Cap Regional Qualifier Berths

Rolfo Carrasco and George Arroyos were nothing short of lifesavers for the HHS cross-country team this past weekend as the squad competed in Lubbock's district 45A Cross-Country Meet. No, they weren't the lifesavers of ordinary variety—the one's you always gave your aging dad on television, but the one's that put renewed breath into your squad's bid for post season success.

Arroyos and Carrasco paced their way to regional qualification Saturday after leading the long-distance field from the No.1 and No.2 ranks up until the ½ mile mark, before eventually capping respective fourth and fifth place finishes in the meet with times of 16:25 and 16:26.

The feat pulled off by the two harriers not only advances them to the Region I Qualifiers Meet in Lubbock Saturday, but also marks the first post season qualification to be captured by any boys' team member over the past four years.

Coronado's Kenny Halpain spurred the Mustangs into the winner's bracket of the affair after clocking a time of 16:20. Lubbock Monterey claimed second place in the boys' division behind CHS' tally of 26 after jolting down a total of 54. Hereford netted third with 70, Plainview took fourth with 100 points and Lubbock High finished out the field with 128 on the day.

And even though Carrasco and Arroyos highlighted the HHS team's performance, there were other individuals who contributed to the HHS squad's respectably high outcome.

Fernando Carrasco cinched 18th after racing off a 17:30, Edward Flores capped a finish of 19th with his clocking of 17:49, Chris Carter placed 24th with a 18:37, team captain Eric Alexander finished 26th after pacing an 18:55 and Doug Shroeter completed the Whiteface long-distance field with a clocking of 18:59 for 27th.

In junior varsity competition, Kevin Kelley outran other competitors for a 19th place finish at 19:59.

The girls' cross-country also netted an overall third place finish (adding up 70 points over the contest) in their segment of the meet, but unlike the boys, failed to qualify any members for regional competition.

Kellie Howell, Hereford's top female runner, managed to place only 7th in the large field even though she recorded her best effort of the season with a time of 13:36.

The last time Hereford qualified a member of the girls' team for regional competition was in 1979 as Velma Arroyos (now running for Angelo State University) became the only female runner to net a top-ten berth in the district meet. She placed second two years in a row.

Veronica Cavazos of Lubbock Coronado pushed the Mustangs into a first place finish with 30 points after she took a first place clocking of 12:08. Monterey followed as the second place team with a tally of 31 points while Plainview and Lubbock High fought each other for the fourth and fifth spots with tallies of 122 and 128.

Olga Alaniz won a district medal in the affair for her personal best of 13:54 for 10th as another leader in the HHS squad's bid for qualification. Linda Sermino capped 15th with a clocking of 14:21. Kathy Morrison took 18th after pacing out a time of 14:41. Patricia Salazar ran a 14:55 race for 21st, Allyson Thomas managed 23rd with her time of 15:13 and Michelle Osborn completed the girls' varsity field with a 28th place 16:13 in the meet.

Holly McNeese and Jana Morgan made a good showing in junior varsity running as they paced their way to respective times of 16:05 and 16:26 for 5th and 7th finishes.

Notre Dame, Bulldogs Take Top Ranks in College Race

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

Alabama and UCLA got caught looking the other way, so Notre Dame and Georgia became the new 1-2 mule team carrying the heaviest load in the college football rankings.

The pressure becomes immense. The throat tightens. Anticipatory sweat oozes from every pore. As the newest national title contenders, the unbeaten Fighting Irish and talented Bulldogs move to the spot marked "X." They have to work harder, be more alert and worry about every pebble in the path ahead lest they fail to see the boulder.

For the Fighting Irish, this week it's 1-6 Georgia Tech, a 17½-point underdog, with Alabama looming ahead next week and Southern Cal afterward. For tough, flashy Georgia, it's formidable Florida.

The warning signals resound. Beware of complacency. Remember what happened last week to Alabama, UCLA, Texas and Baylor.

Last week's score: 44-10. 815. Season: 327-111, 746.

This week (favorite's point spread in parentheses): Notre Dame (17½) 22, Georgia Tech 15: The wreckers of Tech give the Irish a scare but look for another good day from Jim Stone.

Florida 19, Georgia (8½) 14: The fired-up Gators manage to hold phenomenal Herschel Walker to respectable yardage.

Southern California (7½) 26, Stanford 13: The Trojans, with Marcus Allen and Gordon Adams shining, stretch their unbeaten streak to 28.

Alabama (18½) 24, Louisiana St. 14: If this game were at Baton Rouge, LSU would be a terrific bet.

Pittsburgh 35, Louisville 7: Pitt Coach Jackie Sherrill is plugging defensive end Hugh Green for the Heisman Trophy.

Penn St. (17½) 32, North Carolina St. 10: The Lions' kids, Todd Blackledge and Kurt Warner, offer a knockout 1-2 punch.

Oklahoma (14) 36, Kansas 7: What can you do with a team that runs up 405 yards on a power such as North Carolina?

UCLA (15½) 30, Oregon 17: The Bruins get a blackboard lesson from Coach Terry Donahue on last week's plethora of errors.

Nebraska (29) 45, Kansas St. 12: While society goes white wine, the red-suited Huskers stick to Redwine, vintage Jarvis.

Baylor (3½) 17, Arkansas 10: Two teams trying to bounce back, a home atmosphere favors the Baptists.

Texas (4½) 21, Houston 18: If A.J. Jones and Les Koenning are healthy, the Horns should pull it out.

Ohio St. (25) 38, Illinois 7: The Buckeyes should beat the point spread in their bid to regain national attention.

Army (3) 25, Air Force 14: Here's a chance for the revived Black Knights to get a leg up on the three-tiered service crown.

Syracuse 22, Navy 10 (pick 'em): The Orangemen took a bad beating from Pitt, but Joe Morris can still navigate.

North Carolina (5½) 28, Clemson 25: The Tar Heels should have enough depth left to fill in for last week's wounded.

The others:

Lauderback Defensive POW

Donny Lauderback, a former offensive lineman and defensive unit player for the 1979 Hereford Whiteface football team, was named as the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association's defensive player of the week following his efforts during the Lubbock Christian College vs. McMurray College clash this past weekend in Abilene.

Even though the LCC Chaparrals were defeated very handily by a margin of 59-0, Lauderback managed to nerve McMurray rushers for 10 solo tackles, 6 assisted tackles and a fumble recovery from his defensive end post. He also caused another McMurray fumble and claimed two quarterback sacks.

The POW distinction marked the first time the TIAA Conference has selected a defensive player from the LCC squad in its second year of football competition.

Lauderback's latest performance over McMurray only added to his already existing 22 solo tackles, 18 assisted stops, and one previous QB sack.

UCLA (15½) 30, Oregon 17: The Bruins get a blackboard lesson from Coach Terry Donahue on last week's plethora of errors.

Nebraska (29) 45, Kansas St. 12: While society goes white wine, the red-suited Huskers stick to Redwine, vintage Jarvis.

Baylor (3½) 17, Arkansas 10: Two teams trying to bounce back, a home atmosphere favors the Baptists.

Texas (4½) 21, Houston 18: If A.J. Jones and Les Koenning are healthy, the Horns should pull it out.

Ohio St. (25) 38, Illinois 7: The Buckeyes should beat the point spread in their bid to regain national attention.

Army (3) 25, Air Force 14: Here's a chance for the revived Black Knights to get a leg up on the three-tiered service crown.

Syracuse 22, Navy 10 (pick 'em): The Orangemen took a bad beating from Pitt, but Joe Morris can still navigate.

North Carolina (5½) 28, Clemson 25: The Tar Heels should have enough depth left to fill in for last week's wounded.

The others:

Lauderback

Staubach Says Political Statement Humorous

DALLAS (AP) — Roger Staubach, the retired quarterback of the Dallas Cowboys, said he meant his comments about his daughter, Amy, to be humorous and not as a political statement.

But some supporters of President Carter — who also has a daughter by that name, of course — felt otherwise and put enough heat on CBS-TV that network officials told Staubach to avoid such references in the future.

Staubach was working the Dallas-St. Louis game as an analyst Sunday, and when play-by-play announcer Frank Glibber asked him what Dallas had to do to stop the Cardinals, replied: "I checked with my daughter, Amy, before the game and she said they had to stop the bomb to Mel Gray."

The remark was a take-off on a reference President Carter made during his televised debate with Ronald Reagan. Carter said he asked his daughter, Amy, to name the most important issue in the presidential campaign and she told him it was nuclear proliferation.

PERHAPS THE MOST controversial figure of the 1980 political season is not even a candidate for public office. He is the Rev. I am a noisy Baptist!" shouts Falwell to crowds at "I Love America" crusades like this one in St. Paul, Minn.

'Pot Bellies' Toys Recalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 5 million "Pot Belly" stuffed animals are being recalled because many contain small wires that could injure young children, the Consumer Product Safety Commission said.

Five types of the Pot Belly animals are sold through more than 2,800 toy stores, department stores and other retailers by the Daekor division of Hudson Brands Trading Co. of New York City, the safety agency said.

The toys, which are made in Korea, have retailed for from $8 to $30, depending on their size. The recalled toy animals include stuffed hippopotamuses and pigs and three types of stuffed bears.

"CPSC has received a number of consumer complaints of small wires protruding from the toy animals. However, there have been no reports of serious injuries to date," the commission said.

THOUGHTS

Jesus did not choose his favorite companions, Peter, James and John, for their perfect characters. Jesus knew, however, their deep love for him and their great zeal in serving him, and probably saw many other good qualities. He took the three with him when he raised Jairus' daughter from the dead, they were with him at the Transfiguration, he took them with him when He went to pray in the garden of Gethsemane.

"Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee..." — Matt. 26:36-37

The fall of Jericho's walls caused by the sound of the trumpets and the shouting of the people is all the more remarkable when it is known that the walls were so thick houses were built on them as was that of Rahab who hid Joshua's two spies.

The sycamore was a fig tree valued for its timber. It was often planted on waysides because its wide spreading branches gave good shade. The fruit grew directly from the trunk and the larger branches in clusters like grapes. The prophet Amos was originally a gatherer of the sycamore fruit.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.C.

'Fever' may be normal

DEAR DR. LAMB — In the evening my 8-year-old son has a temperature of 99.2 or 99.4 F. I noticed this when he had a cold. He is over the cold now but the evening fever persists. He doesn't seem to act sick and he doesn't complain about anything. What causes this?

The best guide for a mother is how the child acts. If the temperature is below 100 F in the evening and around 98.6 F in the morning or lower, and the child appears healthy in all other respects, it is probably his own variation.

Factors that affect the temperature readings are discussed in detail in The Health Letter number 7-6, Body Temperature and Fever, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly Cramer

Tar mars rug

DEAR POLLY — Help! How can I get tar out of a beige rug? It was tracked in and someone told me to try using waxed paper and a hot iron and I tried that and still have the tar as well as waxed paper imprinted on the rug. Any suggestions? — E.B.

DEAR POLLY — I read in the column about the lady whose husband had gotten tar on his new Air Force uniform and I want to suggest that she tries a remover that is made for removing tar from cars. I have used it on many things that I thought were ruined by asphalt oil. Pour it on the spots and then wash by rubbing between the hands and using plenty of soap. Rinse well. Caution should be used as these products are flammable. (Polly's Note — Do not forget to first test for effect on your particular fabric.) — SANDRA.

DEAR POLLY — You make a great container that has many uses. Use the scissors to remove the top part of an empty plastic bleach bottle or gallon milk jug. Leave the handle on. This is good for holding a toilet bowl brush or cleaning brushes kept under the sink, to hold furniture polish and dust clothes. Your husband will also appreciate having them for storage of small items in his workshop, or the garage and the children will find them useful for storing small toys and crayons. Try just one and find out how handy they can be. — MARYL.

DEAR POLLY — When I have dried milk stains on chairs that were used by toddlers I spray on a commercial glass or window cleaner and then wipe. To clean stains from my flower vases I let dishwasher detergent and water stand in them for about one-half hour and then rinse.

DEAR POLLY — Now that my little son drinks out of a cup I no longer need the bottle brush but did not throw it away. Even though it is a bit worn I have found it makes a great food scraper when I am rinsing dirty dishes or such brushes can be cleaned and used for scrubbing hard-to-reach corners. — MRS.B.

DEAR POLLY — If you ever run out of one those coatings sold for chicken put a couple of cups of corn flakes between two pieces of waxed paper, crush them with the rolling pin and after the chicken pieces are salted and peppered roll them in the flakes and then brown in oil on top of the stove and finish baking in the oven. This is really good and tasty. — MELISSA.

DEAR POLLY — I also roll chicken in cornflakes or shredded wheat biscuit crumbs but make a few additions. Perhaps you might like to try them. For about six pieces of chicken combine one-half cup sour cream, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon onion salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one teaspoon instant minced onion, one-fourth to one-half teaspoon ground rosemary and two tablespoons lemon juice. Coat pieces all over with this and put in baking pan that is put in the refrigerator, covered, for several hours. Roll in crumbs when ready to bake, spoon melted margarine or butter over the chicken and bake in a moderate oven until tender — about 45 to 50 minutes. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pointer is most helpful during hot weather. After using the oven I fill a large metal container (such as a roasting pan) with cold water, and place it inside the oven. This absorbs the heat, cooling the oven and kitchen, and also gives me hot water to do the dishes. — MARY H.

Being physically fit helps. But I have known people who are in very good shape who still feel cold because of diminished blood flow through the skin when they are not exercising. (Avoiding cigarettes is important to some. Others have to live with it or exercise frequently, staying active all day to feel warm. I'm also sending you The Health Letter on Body Temperature which explains control of temperature and the sensation of being cold to you in more detail.

Deaf Smith County First in Crops, Livestock

AUSTIN—Deaf Smith County ranked first in Texas livestock and livestock products cash receipts for 1979 with $198 million, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

Deaf Smith was also first within the state with its total crops and livestock receipts of $256 million and among the top 10 counties with government payments of $5 million. Crops, livestock and government payments increased the total receipts to $261.8 million.

Brown said, "It's counties like Deaf Smith that made it possible for Texas to become number two in the nation in agriculture."

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service has recently published detailed information on cash receipts of all counties. The booklet, 1979 Texas Agricultural Cash Receipts Statistics, is available from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Nearby counties were also ranked among the top 10 counties.

Parmer County was third in the state with $212.7 million total crops and livestock receipts. Parmer also ranked third with $96 million crop receipts; fourth with $116.5 million in livestock and livestock products; and among the top ten counties with $4 million receipts in government payments. Crops, livestock and government payments increase its total receipts to $217 million.

Castro County was third with $121 million receipts for livestock and livestock products; fourth with its $205 million receipts for total crops and livestock; fifth with $83.7 million crop receipts; and among the top ten counties with $3.7 million in government payments. Crops, livestock and government payments increased Castro's total receipts to $208.8 million.

Swisher County ranked fifth for livestock and livestock product receipts with $112 million and also in crops and livestock with receipts of $170.8 million. Total crops, livestock and government payments increased its receipts to $174 million.

Among the top ten Texas counties in livestock and livestock products receipts were: Hartley with $88.6 million; Hansford with $82 million; Randall with $75 million; and Moore with $73 million.

Hansford County was also among the top 10 counties in total crops and livestock receipts with $120 million.

Crops, livestock and government payments increased Hansford's total to $122.7 million.

SBA Amends

Disaster

Declaration

LUBBOCK -- The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has amended Disaster Declaration No. 1900 for the State of Texas to include "extreme hot weather" as being cause for disaster loan eligibility.

The SBA makes available disaster recovery loans to farmers, ranchers and agriculture-related businesses who suffered hardship due to adverse weather in counties declared a disaster area, as well as in all bordering counties within the state. The loans are low-interest and terms of the loans are based on the borrower's repayment ability. Texas producers who lost crops because of the drought or extreme hot weather may receive program and eligibility information by calling (806) 762 7481.

Physical disaster loan applications filed under declaration No. 1900 must be received by February 12, 1981. The deadline for economic injury disaster loan applications is May 12, 1981.

Soybean Leaders See Potential Chinese Market

EDITOR'S NOTE: Volunteer leaders of the American Soybean Association (ASA) recently returned from the People's Republic of China where they spent two weeks in an effort to develop closer trade and technical ties with China's leaders. The official mission was funded by the PRC, USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service and the Elanco Products Company.

ST. LOUIS -- The People's Republic of China, already a growing market for U.S. soybeans could become an even larger purchaser of the nation's No. 1 cash crop in the next few years, according to soybean grower leaders who recently returned from a trade mission to the People's Republic of China.

"Based on our meetings during this trade mission, I believe China will be one of the largest U.S. markets within the next 10 years," says ASA President Frank Ray, a soybean producer from Baker, Florida. "Their leaders told us they want to modernize their livestock, poultry and swine industries.

That means they'll need soybeans and soybean meal to increase the protein content of their livestock feeds. If they are able to generate sufficient foreign exchange to make overseas purchases, I believe they will be importing as much as 150-350 million bushels of soybeans by 1990."

Ray explains that the Chinese have already stepped up purchases of U.S. soybeans during the current marketing year to one million metric tons. That's up from 850,000 tons in 1979 which was a ten-fold jump from 85,000 tons in 1978.

There are several reasons for the big increase in U.S. soybean imports. The most important, of course, is China's huge population of nearly one billion people. That's one quarter of the world population. Equally important is the Chinese government's decision to give their people a better diet.

Annual red meat consumption in China presently totals 22 pounds per person. Of that total, pork consumption accounts for 90 percent, mutton and beef another 7 to 8 percent. Poultry consumption totals less than 50 grams per capita-less than two pounds.

Chinese meat production goals will require huge amounts of feed grains and high protein supplements.

Although facts and figures are difficult to obtain, it is estimated that China has over 300 million hogs. Some of those hogs get high protein feed but more often--because two-thirds of China's hogs are privately raised--they eat table scraps and forage in fields and roadsides.

"The state runs some commercial-type hog and poultry operations," says Ray. "But China's agricultural leaders told us they plan to emphasize better feeding methods using grains and protein supplements at the household level. That has to mean more grain and soybeans."

Beef production is another challenge since most of China's cattle are now used as work animals. But dairy cattle may provide China with a way to increase beef production. For example, in the Shanghai area alone, some 10,000 bull calves are slaughtered at birth each year to conserve milk which is too precious to waste on non-productive male calves.

An experiment suggested by ASA leaders during the trade mission could lead to increase use of soybeans and at the same time save the bull calves for meat production.

"We're planning to conduct feeding trials at the Number Two Dairy Farm at Shanghai to demonstrate how U.S. calf milk replacer containing soy protein can more cheaply get those calves going," says Dennis Blankenship, ASA director of Market Development. "The project will also show the Chinese a new way to use soybean meal," he notes.

What about human consumption? Soybeans which have been grown in China for hundreds of years, are a mainstay in the Chinese diet.

Wheat in Farmer Owned Reserves 1,3 Released

WASHINGTON -- Wheat may be redeemed by producers from farmer-owned grain reserves I and III without penalty, a U.S. Department of Agriculture official announced today. The national average market price for wheat is $4.21 per bushel, one cent above the release level for wheat in these reserves.

John Goodwin, acting executive vice president of USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation, said farmers may sell their wheat stored in the two reserves after repaying their CCC price support loans. Release of the reserves does not require farmers to redeem or sell their grain at this time, Goodwin said.

Farmers with farm-stored reserve grain must request a release from the county office of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service before removing the grain for sale.

The release level is 140 percent of the $3.00-per-bushel national loan rate for wheat.

About 80 million bushels of wheat are in reserves I and III.

Data used by CCC in determining the release level include five-day average prices as reported by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service which show prices bid by buyers at selected markets.

The daily markets reviewed by CCC for wheat are Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Portland. The five-day average of these market prices, adjusted to reflect prices received by farmers, was the basis for today's action, Goodwin said.

Grain Reserve Call Determination Changed

WASHINGTON -- The method for determining when the call level is reached for commodities in farmer-owned grain reserve I is being revised, effective today, to make the call procedures identical for grain reserves I, II and III.

All commodities in grain reserve programs will be called when the five-day moving average price is at or above the commodity's call level for five consecutive market days, according to Weldon Denny, acting administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Denny said reserve I contains grain entered into the program before Jan. 7, 1980.

When a commodity is called from the reserve, farmers have 90 days to settle the account, Denny said. Farmers may do this, he said, either by repaying their government price support loan or by turning the commodity over to USDA.

The revision is necessary, Denny said, to be certain that market conditions reflect a stable or rising price trend and to provide conformity between the reserve programs.
