Space Shuttle Ends Historic Flight

RANGE, N.M. (AP) - The space shuttle Columbia returned home to a calm harbor today, diving through Earth atmosphere to a pinpoint landing on the sparkling desert sands of Northrup

With Lousma in command and C. Gordon Fullerton beside him, the winged shuttle slapped wheels to sand at 9:05 a.m., mountain time. Monday, Columbia was blocked from landing here by a fierce sandstorm.

Today, the air was clear, winds calm, spirits high. Approach was accompanied by a pair of dull sonic booms.

For Lousma and Fullerton it was a perfect ending for Columbia's next-to-last test flight. For eight days they had put the craft to its most rigorous tests and, except for nagging technical problems, it responded beautifully.

The spaceship settled onto runway 17, a seven-mile strip laid out in a barren-butbeautiful desert setting. The astronauts had no trouble spotting their target from the air - 100 square miles of white gypsum surrounding the landing zone. The spaceship swung right over a nearby mountain range and settled with a gentle thump.

Mission Control said. Welcome home. That was a beautiful job," and the Houston descent team erupted in applause.

Because of the possibility of continuing high winds, Mission Control had maintained an option to order another "wave off" and direct the ship to an alternate landing on a concrete runway at the Kennedy Space Center in Cape Canaveral, Fla.

"A little bumpy at Mach 2," said Lousma as the ship was traveling twice the speed of sound in the sky above Truth or Consequences, N.M.

At decision time, NASA officials determined that New Mexico landing conditions were very acceptable and Lousma and Fullerton were given the green light to land.

STATE OF COMMENCES AND ASSESSED ASSESSED.

"A nice solid burn," commander Jack Lousma said after firing the shuttle engines. , "Columbia now committed to deorbit," confirmed Mission Control. "Have a good one," said capsule communicator Steve Nagel.

Columbia had been in space for 130 orbits - 8 days - its longest mission by far.

A second-day crowd of less than 10,000 people, closely watched by Army troops, gathered in the desert to watch the ship come in.

A desert sandstorm blocked Monday's scheduled landing. Gusty winds still buffeted the air above the site today, but conditions were considered safe and NASA rejected its own suggestion that Columbia might be sent to a back-up site, the concrete runway at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida.

The firing of twin maneuvering engines took place at 8:13 a.m. MST and forced Columbia from its orbit. The ship then began its hour-long descent from 140 miles high.

The burn came as the shuttle sailed high above the west coast of Australia and began the world's only reflyable spaceship third return from orbit in less than a year.

Lousma and Fullerton were flying backwards, in position for the rockets in the spacecraft tail to brake their 17,495-mph speed by 184 mph.

"The decision by the Dallas three-judge panel is a slap in the face to the Justice Department and the Voting Rights Act, as well as the Constitution, said Norman Newton, the ART's executive director. "They ordered unconstitutional plans," said Ms. Hill. "Not only were the plans not pre-cleared (by the Justice Department), they were rejected. What it means is that redistricting will be back in the legislature in January."

The Justice Department, which has jurisdiction since Texas falls under the Voting Rights Act, had ruled the LRB plan improperly diluted minority voting strength.

Earlier this month, the Dallas court refused to delay the May 1 primaries, and also turned down a request to put its plan on hold.

Financial Crunch Hits Homeowners

By The Associated Press

The financial pinch that has bruised many home builders and real estate brokers is taking an increasing toll on homeowners, a trade group reports.

The proportion of home mortgages on which payments were late last month rose to the highest level in 17 years, the U.S. League of Savings Associations said Monday. The delinquency rate was 1.21 percent compared wth 1.17 percent in January, the Chicago-based trade group said.

Policeman Dies In Truck Explosion At Accident Scene

HOUSTON (AP). - A 30-second delay allowed motorists along a congested freeway to get out of the way before a gasoline tanker sideswiped by a gravel truck exploded, authorities say.

Police Officer Winston J. Rawlins, who was issuing a traffic ticket along the side of the freeway Monday, was struck by the gravel truck and died under the fiery wreckage, authorities

"I don't know how nobody else was hurt or killed. By the grace of God, I guess," said Police Investigator T.D. Owens. "It's a miracle. That's all I'd call it."

Officer N.P. Blesener said the tanker truck driver, Williard C. Gray, had stopped behind a line of cars which had been slowed by an accident farther up the freeway.

He said the gravel truck, which was unable to stop in time, "tried to go to the left but didn't have anywhere to go there," Blesener said.

"He veered to the right but saw the officer and the other guy stopped in the emergency lane and veered back into the rear of the tanker," he said.

The gravel truck, driven by Kennethy Wayne Moorow, scrapped the side of the tanker, ran over the officer and slammed into the station wagon the officer had stopped.

"It sounded like somebody dropped an atomic bomb," said Ray Aronhalt, a truck driver who witnessed the accident. "All you heard was some skids, then the next thing was a crash and explosion."

Police said fuel leaking from the ruptured tanker did not explode until about 30 seconds after the rush-hour collision.

The blaze, which lasted for several hours, burned 8,600 gallons of gasoline, melted the support beams on a freeway overpass, the Gulf Oil Co. tanker and parts of the gravel truck and another truck, said police spokesman Mel Gideon.

He said the third truck avoided the collision but caught fire from the intense heat of the burning gasoline.

Thuan Luu, driver of the station wagon, was pinned in his car briefly before escaping out the right door, police said.

"Recent gains in controlling inflation...will continue to push (rates) downward, but the only hope for long-term improvement in interest rates is for the Congress to join me in a bipartisan effort to cut spending," Reagan said.

The outlook for lower interest rates is not bright, many economists believe.

Rates in the nation's money markets rose considerably on Monday. And in the government's latest auction of Treasury bills, the yield on six-month bills rose to 13.243 week earlier.

As a result of the auction results, savers starting today can earn up to 13.493 percent interest on six-month savings certificates sold in minimum denominations of $10,000 at commercial banks and savings institutions. That is up from the previous rate of 12.923 percent.

John Young, commander of olumbia's first flight, took a ASA jet above the runways just after dawn and said, "There is an area of moderate turbulence and wind shear ... and I bet the orbiter won't even notice."

It was Young whose "let's knock this off," sealed Columbia's scrub on Monday when a desert sandstorm made conditions toodangerous.

"Just like yesterday, we're racing a weather front," said forecaster David Novlan. "But this one's weaker and hopefully we'll have more of a chance to win."

Fears of continued high winds prompted NASA to suggest the shuttle might be directed to Cape Canaveral, but officials preferred to aim for one of two wide-open runways on the gypsum floor of New Mexico's Tularosa Basin.

Because this is a test flight of a very complicated machine, NASA prefers a landing on the wide-open, hard sand of Northrup Strip rather than attempting a pinpoint approach to the 15,000-foot concrete runway at Cape Canaveral.

"We're confident, based on our experience with two flights, that it is safe to land at KSC," said Eugene Kranz, director of flight operations. "But it's nice to have that little extra margin in a test program."

Castro Launches Air War

Cuba's Castro threatens an "air war," threatens with Big Bertha transmitters to outshout American radio sta-

While his present quest, obviously, is for political leverage -- the potential nonetheless exists for that bush-league dictator to sure enough foul up stateside communication. Including our emergency frequencies.

A bit of background: with the proliferation of radio broadcasting in our hemisphere, a North American Regional Broadcast Agreement was signed whereby each nation respected the rights of the

But Castro announced last year that he was going to build some superpower radio stations - obviously infinitely larger than necessary to blanket his tiny island.

Logically, he intends to use such Big Berthas to propagandize Latin America and to muzzle some United States stations broadcasting on those frequencies.

We sent FCC and State Department officials to Cuba last year to discuss the interference; they thought they had an agreement. A Cuban delegation then visited Washington to confirm the agreement.

But when Western Hemisphere nations conferred in Rio last November preparing to update selfimposed regulations - and we blocked 40 changes which Cuba had proposed in frequency allocations - Cuba denounced the United States and stormed out of the meeting.

And since then, Castro's unofficial "air war" has 'iammed" 16 Florida stations and has interfered with others as far away as Salt Lake City.

The Florida Association of Broadcasters is urging our. country to "fight fire with fire", to amplify our transmissions on Cuban frequencies, to drown them out.

But FCC Commissioner Anne Jones is disinclined, says them jamming us and us jamming then is not constructive.

So a delegation of Florida broadcasters was heard this month by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. At least, the broadcasters want representation on any future negotiation delegation.

They want a real live broadcaster included among the bureaucrats in any future Cuban-American meetings.

Legislation is presently pending in Congress to create Radio Marti, a station specifically intended to broadcast from the United States into Cuba.

Holmes Presents Book Review

Calliopian Club met Thursday in the home of Claudia McBrayer with Marjorie Mims serving as co-hostess. Mary Sue Hull, in the absence of the president, conducted the business meeting.

Virginia Holmes presented the program and reviewed the book "Maria Calles" by Arianna Stassinopaulos. Maria Calles was known as "The Golden Voice of the Century." She was of Greek parentage but was born in New York City. Her voice training was all in Europe where she began singing professionally at the age of seventeen. Well known for her hard work and dedication, she had performed over 561 appearances in opera by the time she was 31 years old.

When 33, she married a wealthy industrialist from Verona, Italy who was 30 years her senior. His name was Meneghini and she took the professional name of Maria Meneghini Calles. He was a great stabilizing effect on Maria's career and loyal to her to her death.

When 38 years old she met Aristotle Onnasis and fell deeply in love with him. Her career took second place although she had soared to the greatest public acclaim ever given an opera star before or since. When Onassis married Jackie Kennedy she went into a decline and became a recluse, singing only occasionally.

She mourned Onassis' death spending hours praying by his tomb on the Isle of Skarpias. At the age of 53, Maria had a heart attack and died leaving a fortune of 12 million dollars. Her ashes were scattered over the Agean Sea by the Greek government.

Members present were Lee Cave, Irene Coneway, Zella Mae Crump, Audine Dettman, Ms. Mims, Jane Gulley, Ms. Hull, Sue James.

Also, Ms. McBrayer, Elizabeth McDowell, Kay McWhorter, Marye Fraser, Wilma Nobles, Kathlee Palmer, Kathryn Ruga, Vera Threewit, Meredith Wilcox, Lyndia Muse, and Sharie

Jury Selection Under Way

DALLAS (AP) - A judge has dismissed a panel of prospective jurors in the trial of three law officers charged in the deaths of three black youths who drowned during a Juneteenth celebration.

The panel of 48 was dismissed Monday after a motion by defense attorney James Stafford of Houston, who complained that Criminal District Court Judge Tom Price failed to instruct panel members not to discuss the case during a lunch break.

Lawyers planned to bring in a fresh panel today and continue attempting to pick six jurors. Forty-one potential jurors had been dismissed after saying they had read about the case.

The three youths had been arrested for suspected drug violations and were being transported by the lawmen across Lake Mexia in a fishing boat when the vessel capsized. All six people were dumped into the water, but the officers managed to swim to shore.

The 14-foot aluminum boat had a maximum capacity of 600 pounds.

The trial has been moved three times since the drownings at the June 19 picnic, celebrating the day Texas slaves learned of the Emancipation Proclamation.

Several bystanders inititally had contended they saw the officers removing handcuffs from the bodies as the youths were pulled from the lake, but autopsies showed no signs that three had been handcuffed when they drowned.

Defense lawyers tried to get the trial moved from Dallas - only 50 miles north of Mexia - because of extensive media coverage. But Price rejected the fourth effort to move the trial.

Price said Monday that he will ask each prospective jurors questions when that phase of jury selection starts. The process may take a week or longer.

The case was moved from Limestone County to neighboring Falls County and then to San Marcos in Hays County. Price agreed to hear the case in January.

WASHINGTON (AP) -Tough mandatory penalties for drunken driving are being proposed by the Senate Commerce Committee, which has approved a bill that would financially reward states if they adopt a set of stringent

All first-time offenders who fail a chemical sobriety test automatically would lose their driver licenses for 90 days. If convicted of drunken driving twice within five years a driver would get a mandatory jail term of at least 48 hours.

"Our legislation will establish a strong national deterrent to reduce the senseless and tragic loss of life caused by drunk drivers," Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., said Monday after the panel voted for the bill unanimously. The measure, by Pell and Sen. Jack Danforth, R-Mo., now goes to the full Senate.

States heeding the minimum standards or enacting tougher drunken driving laws would be rewarded by getting twice the federal highway safety money they now are eligible for under the

IT'S NOT WHAT YOU KNOW!

For salvation that comes from trusting Christ--which is what we preach--is already within easy reach of each of us; in fact, it is as near as our own hearts and mouths. For if you tell others with your own mouth that Jesus Christ is your Lord, and believe in your own heart that God has raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is by believing in his heart that a man becomes right with God; and with his mouth he tells others of his faith, confirming his salvation. For the Scriptures tell us that no one who believes in Christ will ever be disappointed. Jew and Gentile are the same in this respect: they all have the same Lord who generously gives his riches to all those who ask him for them. Anyone who calls upon the name of the Lord will be saved. (Romans 10:8-13)

(Jesus said) "If anyone publicly acknowledges me as his friend, I will openly acknowledge him as my friend before my Father in heaven. But if anyone publicly denies me, I will openly deny him before my Father in heaven." (Matt. 10:12-13) And who is the greatest liar? The one who says that Jesus is not Christ. Such a person is antichrist, for he does not believe in God the Father and in his Son. For a person who doesn't believe in Christ, God's Son, can't have God the Father either. But he who has Christ, God' Son, has God the Father also. (I John 2:22bill. The legislation provides $25 million for such grants in fiscal 1983, and double that amount the next year.

The proposed minimum standards also include an automatic minimum oneyear license suspension for a second conviction and impoundment of the vehicle if the driver is operating it with a suspended license.

Congressional officials, meanwhile, said the Reagan administration is showing new interest in increasing gasoline taxes and a willingness to discuss a cutback in the size of the president's proposed Pentagon buildup as ways to reduce the massive projected federal deficit.

The officials, who asked not to be identified, said, however, that White House Chief of Staff James Baker remains unwilling to discuss changing the three-year personal income tax cuts Congress approved last year.

Baker has been holding private talks with senior House Democrats about the administration's proposed budget for fiscal 1983, which projects a record deficit of $96.4 billion.

In other matters in Congress Monday:

-Sen. John Melcher, D-Mont., introduced a bill to increase federal commodity price support loans and provide emergency farm credit. The action comes as farm state congressmen are in dicating growing concern that the administration is indifferent to the economic problems of the nation's grade title while Canyon nipped Pampa by one point for 8th grade honors, and Borger edged out La Plata for the 7th grade title at the Hereford Junior High Girls' Track Meet last Saturday.

The Dogies picked up six gold medals in the freshman division to run away from the rest of the field with 164 points. La Plata was second with 134 points, while Clovis Yucca was a distant third with 68 points.

Stanton won both the 400 and 800 meter relay events, and got first places from Staci Sanders in the 200, Lisa Redmon in the 100, Irene Serna in the 1600, and Linda Gonzales in the discus to cop the frosh title. Runner-up La Plata got gold-medal efforts from the 1600 meter relay team and from Sandra Valdez in the 400, Troyce Schuder in the triple jump, and Diana Devers in the shot put. In 8th grade action Canyon captured three firsts and used good depth to edge out Pampa 101-100 to take the team title. La Plata was third with 71 points, while Stanton was eighth with 23.

The Mays had three individual champs in Adelia. Rodriguez (triple jump), Stephanie Thomas (discus), and Selma Moreno (1600), while Donan Cummings placed first in the 100 Hurdles for Stanton.

Howell, White Break Records, Carreon's Toss Boosts Herd

Kellie Howell and Angela White broke school records and Maria Carreon captured the gold medal in the discus to lead the Hereford girls to the team title at the Lubbock Invitational Track Meet last Saturday. The Herd finished with 100 points to runner-up Tascosa's 90, while Estacado was a distant third with 75

Rounding out the field were Big Spring, 70; Dunbar, 54; Palo Duro, 47; Coronado, 28; Hobbs, 23; Monterey, 22; Plainview, 20; Lubbock, 19; and Snyder, 10.

Howell blazed to a 12:56.9 in the metric 2-mile equivalent event to claim second place for HHS. The time broke the old school mark of 13:13 in the event which was set by Howell last year.

White leaped 16-61/4 to eclipse the old school mark in the long jump as she also finished second for the Herd. The old record was 16-16 set by Tawana Moton in 1976.

Carreon heaved the disc 109-11/4, giving the Whitefaces a first place in that event, and solid depth in the 200, 800,

Lobos Rally Past Herd, 11-10

The Levelland Lobos rallied for three runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to nip the Hereford Whitefaces 11-10 in nondistrict baseball action Saturday. Mike Mason took the loss for Hereford in the heartbreaker, falling to 3-2 on the season.

The Herd went ahead 2-0 in the first inning, and increased the gap to 4-1 after three frames. The Lobos exploded for seven runs in the fifth, however, to go ahead 8-4. Mason relieved starter Robert Martinez midway through the frame.

Hereford rallied to take a six-run outburst. Singles by points in the meet.

Loss Mark

Utah, winless since beating Washington Feb. 23, dropped its 18th straight Monday night. The 113-102 loss to the Phoenix Suns was the only NBA game of the night. Rich Kelley scored 23 points, hauled down 11 rebounds and blocked two shots to lead the Suns, who shot 55 percent from the floor.

Utah Coach Frank Layden, who has watched the Jazz make March an all-losing month, had praise for the Suns. "They played good," he said. "They are well coached and we wish them luck."

Phoenix's victory gave the Suns a tie for third with Golden State in the Pacific Division. Suns Coach John MacLeod said it also acted as a tuneup for what could be a shootout for an NBA playoff

"We played more aggressively in the first half than we have been lately. We ran the ball well, we passed the ball we and defensed well. We did all the things you want to do well," he said.

"This is the fun time of the season. We are in a dogfight with Golden State and Houston for the sixth playoff spot and we're ready,' MacLeod added.

What didn't help the Jazz, along with the Suns hot shooting, were 22 turnovers and a less-than-stellar performance by Adrian Dantley, the NBA's third-leading scorer. Dantley could hit only five of 16 shots and finished with 15 points. Phoenix also outrebounded Utah 53-49.

Fingers Returns, Helps Brewers to 9-8 Win

By The Associated Press

Milwaukee Brewers Manager Buck Rodgers can let out a sigh of relief that he Fingers, the 1981 Cy Young award winner in the American League, dislocated his left, non-pitching shoulder March 13 while engaging in horseplay with teammates. He made his first appearance since the injury Monday, working one hitless inning during Milwaukee's 9-8 exhibition victory over San Francisco.

Rodgers said the inning, during which Fingers struck out one batter and walked one, was enough evidence for him that nothing is amiss with his star relief pitcher.

Fingers has thrown hard on him into play.

"I think we were wise doing it this way. He wanted to get in there earlier," said Rodgers. Shortstops Ron Koenigsfeld and Robin Yount hit homers and Mark Brouhard drove in three runs to lead Milwaukee's 16-hit attack against the Giants. In other games, Bobby

Ojeda pitched a four-hit shutout for seven innings, Jim Rice had three hits to raise his average to .462 and Glenn Hoffman homered to

New Grid League Being Formed

At least 13 maverick millionaires representing 13 cities have banded together to form the United States Football League, a new pro loop that hopes to lure seemingly insatiable gridiron fans, with its springsummer schedule starting next year.

In order to insure the league's survival, the initial 13 franchise holders (Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Tampa, Washington, D.C., Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Houston, Denver, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego) were asked to ante up a total of more than $100 million.

According to one prospective owner who requested anonymity, the franchise holders have the resources to attract bluechip athletes from the collegiate and pro ranks.

'We expect to be competitive in every aspect with the National Football League, including the signing of top athletes, not just lower- or- middle round college players, as has been erroneously reported," says the would-be owner.

"We hope to attract these players with the opportunity to play close to their homes. We will have a territorial rights draft, as opposed to an NFL-type draft. This makes it more lucrative when it comes to getting a network TV contract and attracting fans."

The same person also says that the league is pledged to signing name coaches only, in order to gain credibility.

According to one report, three ex-pro coaches have been approached: Chuck Fairbanks (Patriots), Hank Stram (Chiefs, Saints) and Red Miller (Broncos)

Steve Stroughter hit a tworun homer and Todd Cruz drove in two runs with a double to lead Seattle to a 7-4 victory over San Diego.

Wallace Johnson collected three singles and three RBI as Montreal defeated Toronto 10-2. Expos pitcher Steve Rogers allowed only one hit in five innings.

Clint Hurdle and Dave Concepcion both drove in a run and Frank Pastore, Tom Hume and Jim Kern scattered six hits as Cincinnati blanked Houston 2-0.

Mike Scioscia knocked in two runs with a triple and Steve Garvey slugged his first spring homer as Los Angeles defeated Minnesota 7-2 to snap a five-game losing streak.

Tom Paciorek's basesloaded single in the 11th inning gave the Chicago White Sox a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia. Ivan DeJesus homered for the Phillies.

Chris Bando and Jack Perconte both had three hits and two RBI and Lary Sorensen blanked California on four hits for eight innings to lead Cleveland to an 8-3 triumph.

Who was Mata Hari?

Q. Was Mata Hari a real

A. Yes, but her real name was Gertrud Maragaretha Zelle. Born in 1876 in the Netherlands, she was a great beauty who was brief-ly married to a Dutch colonial officer.

She started to perform erotic dances for private gatherings in 1900 and became popular throughout Europe as a bogus Javanese temple dancer.

In 1907 she became a spy for Germany and was able to obtain important infor-mation through her liaisons with high-ranking Allied officers. She was executed

A. Not entirely. SMERSH is actually an acronym formed from the Russian phrase "Smert' Shpionam, meaning "death to the spies." It was the name of the Soviet internal-security organization formed in 1942 under Josef Stalin.

SMERSH was charged with eliminating internal opposition to Stalin's regime, and it did so ruthlessly.

Q. When was the CIA established? What was its original purpose?

A. The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency was formed in 1947 to unify all government intelligence operations abroad. The official announcement of its founding cited the importance of preventing Pearl Harbor-

Repairing veneer

DEAR POLLY — The top layer of wood is loose from my veneer coffee table. I can actually pry it up slightly. Is there any way I can repair this myself, or do I have to take it to a professional? — MRS. R.O.

professional? — MRS. R.O.

DEAR MRS. R.O. — This is a fairly simple repair to make, since I presume from your letter that the veneer is only loose, not cracked or chipped. You can make this repair with ordinary white all-purpose glue. If the veneer has been loose for some time, wax and furniture polish may have worked their way under the veneer, so it would be a good idea to clean the area before re-gluing. To do that, moisten a cotton-tipped swab with paint remover and gently swab under the loose veneer. Don't overdo it, however. You won't want to dissolve any existing glue, just clean out wax and dirt.

Then apply the glue under the veneer, spreading it with a flat stick, if possible, or with a thin piece of cardboard or plastic strip. Then apply pressure to the top of the table to firmly seat the veneer into the glue, allowing excess glue to ooze out the crack. Wipe away any excess glue immediately. Put a few heavy books or other weight on top of the repair until the glue has dried thoroughly, or clamp it, protecting the wood finish with cardboard and wood blocks. Easier than it sounds. Good luck. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Bottled baby juice is expensive, so make DEAR POLLY — Bottled baby juice is expensive, so make your own! The least expensive way is to use frozen concentrate and sterile water. To sterilize water, boil it for 25 minutes, then cool. This can be made in large amounts and kept in a sealed sterilized jar. Use the sterilized water to prepare juice as directed, pour into small bottles, then refrigerate. Strain the juice before bottling if it has any pulp in it. For variety, make several kinds at once. You can also freeze pre-measured amounts in freezer bags. The cost is only 8 to 10 cents a bottle! — GAY

DEAR GAY — And that represents quite a savings when you feed juice regularly as most mothers do. Your thrifty Pointer earns you the Pointer of the Week Award, an autographed copy of Polly's Pointers: 1081 Helpful Household Hints for Making Everything Last Longer. Many thanks! — POLLY as in females. But probably fewer than one in five have severe asthmatic symptoms later in life. A common cause for childhood asthma attacks is an underlying respiratory an underlying respiratory virus, just as you describe. This is not the allergic type asthma you often see in adults or older children. Adults sometimes have narrowed airways after a cold, apparently because of some degree of spasm. Antihistamines in the form of aerosols often provide relief in such cases.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I heard that the reason middle-aged women who become pregnant run a higher risk of having a baby with a birth defect could be caused by weak sperm from an older middle-aged partner. Is this true? I am middle-aged and not yet married. I plan to marry a younger woman and have a younger woman and have a family. What should I eat, or what vitamins should be taken to keep my sperm healthy and strong? Also could you send me a diet for a middleaged (30-years-old) slender male?

DEAR READER - There is some truth in the story.

About one in four babies born with Down syndrome are caused by abnormal chromosomes from the father's sperm. And regarding age, in recent years 90 percent of Down syndrome babies are born to mothers under 35.

Either male or female can have abnormal chromosomes in the ovum or sperm at any age. But I do not consider age 30 as middle-aged. I'm sure a lot of my readers don't either. Just eat a wellbalanced diet. If you have bad eating habits you might supplement your diet with a single, all-purpose daily vitamin tablet that contains all the RDA for vitamins. Habits are important, too, particularly smoking and alcohol.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - A national champion at last, North Carolina basketball Coach Dean Smith can finally say what he thinks about his critics.

"A great writer in Charlotte once said that it was our system that kept us from winning the national championship," Smith says. "It's the most ridiculous comment ever made and I always wanted to say that. We don't have a 'system.' We try to use. our talent."

help the Tar Heels beat Georgetown 63-62 in the NCAA finals Monday night, the closest championship game in 23 years.

acknowledgment by peers of his basketball greatness.

Smith had brought North Carolina teams to six previous Final Fours only to end up a loser.

Disappointed in the past, Smith said he would have been doubly disappointed if the Tar Heels hadn't won Monday night.

"We had the best basketball team (in the tournament), I thought," he said.

"This was the only year it would have bothered me."

Smith didn't necesarily think he had the best team Monday night, however. "I think we were the lucky team," he said.

The Tar Heels thus certified their No.1 ranking going into the tournament, the first time that has happened since Kentucky in 1978.

"We were ranked No.1 in the country in the pre-season and post-season," Smith said. "Everybody shot at us. We took peoples' best shots and found a way to win."

North Carolina proved its worth as No.1 by winning 13 games at the start of the season, including triumphs over five teams eventually selected for the NCAA playoffs. Both Kentucky and Virginia were undefeated and ranked No. 2 when the Tar Heels knocked them off.

The Tar Heels dropped from the top spot after a loss to Wake Forest with center Sam Perkins out sick. Their only other loss this season was to Virginia, but they finished with 16 straight victories and a 32-2 record. Monday night's victory was one of the toughest of all.

Ewing was responsible for that. The 7-foot Georgetown freshman scored 23 points, grabbed a game-high 11 rebounds and blocked two shots. He also was called for goal-tending five times, three on Worthy shots early in the

"I was amazed at Pat Ewing," said Smith. "He has not shot that well in tapes that I watched."

Lucky for North Carolina, the Tar Heels had a pretty good freshman of their own in Jordan, who collected a team-high nine rebounds in addition to the 18-foot jump shot from the corner with 15 seconds left that gave Smith the championship.

There was still time, about 10 seconds, for Georgetown to come downcourt and pull it

Some felt it was also the moment for Georgetown to call a time out. Coach John Thompson explained why he didn't: "When Carolina called a time out (with 32 seconds to go) I told my players not to call one if they (North Carolina) so Dean wouldn't have a chance to set up a defense against a last shot." As it turned out, Worthy proved better than any defense that could have been arranged. He caught a pass thrown by apparently confused Georgetown guard. Fred Brown, a pass that should have gone to All-American guard Eric "Sleepy" Floyd, who scored 18 points for the Hoyas.

"I saw him pick up the ball at the top of the key," said Worthy. "He was going to throw it to someone on the wings. I thought he'd try to lob it over me or throw it away from me. I was surprised that it was right in my chest."

Worthy took off downcourt as time ran out for Georgetown.

Worthy was eventually

He missed them, but it was already too late for the sixthranked Hoyas, who ended their season 30-7.

"It was a great game," Worthy said. "Nobody got more than a four or five-point lead. It was what you want in a national championship." With Ewing and Floyd each scoring 10 points, Georgetown held a tenuous 32-31 lead at the half. There was no breathing room in the second half, when Georgetown briefly held the game's biggest lead - four points - and North Carolina resorted to its four-corner delay game up by just one.

It was the second NCAA title for North Carolina. The last time was in 1957, a 54-53 triple-overtime victory over Kansas in what is considered the most exciting championship game ever.

This one wasn't far behind. There were 13 lead changes, nine in the second half, and the one-point margin was the first in the NCAA finals since 1959, when California edged West Virginia 71-70.

"We have nothing to be ashamed of," said Thompson. "I am a little depressed. North Carolina is a very outstanding team. Our kids played hard - and that's all I could ask of them."

NEW ORLEANS (AP) -Big, bearded James Worthy wore the white strands of the basketball net over his shoulders like a necklace of diamonds.

Among the 61,000 fans jamming the cavernous Superdome, his mother from Gastonia, N.C., wiped tears from her eyes and two brothers leaped from sheer

"My mom was a basketball player herself," said the 6-foot-9, 219-pound North Carolina forward who was the dominant force in the Tar Heels' 63-62 victory over Georgetown Monday night for the NCAA basketball championship.

"She knows what it means means to lose. I was happy that I played maybe the most complete game of my career at the right time.

"I was happy for my family and happy for my coach. Now you guys..." he raised his arm to indicate the newsmen pressed against his locker, 'now you guys won't be able to write any more that Coach Smith can't win the big ones."

The sweet victory, earned in the hardest way against 7-foot freshman Pat Ewing and his fiercely swarming Hoya teammates, brought the first national basketball crown to North Carolina's veteran Dean Smith after six previous fruitless trips to the Final Four.

"We all wanted to win for Coach Smith," Worthy add-

Worthy was a popular choice for the Most Outstanding Player after he had scored a career high 28 points and caught an errant Georgetown pass with about ten seconds to play when the outcome of the game hung by a slender thread.

Michael Jordan had just hit a jumper from 18 feet out to shove the Tar Heels into a one-point lead and Georgetown quickly set in motion the maneuver intended to steal away the game at the last gasp of the buzzer.

The ball went to 6-foot-5 New Yorker Fred Brown as the Hoyas' brilliant point guard Eric (Sleepy) Floyd cut toward the basket. Brown whirled and the ball went to Worthy, to be clutched like some precious prize to his chest. "I saw him cut, and I covered the lane," Worthy said of Brown. "Then I saw him look back. I cut back and before I knew it the ball hit me right in the chest. "I was surprised. I thought to win. She also knows what it he was going to throw it over To tell you the truth, the feel of that leather ball at that moment meant more to me than all the points I had scored. "I was immediately fouled.

Two seconds were on the clock. I felt a great relief because I knew we had won the game. "I didn't relax on those two free throws I missed. Two seconds were left. I really wanted to make them, but the rims seemed very hard to Worthy, a talented junior, scored 13 of 17 goals from the field, three of them awarded early in the game after Ewing was charged with goaltending.

"To tell the truth, I didn't see it go in," Jordan said. "I didn't want to look."

The winning basket came after North Carolina called a timeout to discuss strategy. with 32 seconds left, trailing

"The play was designed for Mike to shoot a jumper. They were in a 1-3-1 zone, and he should have had about a 15-foot shot after we passed it a couple of times," said senior playmaker Jimmy Black. He had seven assists in the game, including the pass to Jordan.

"I knew I was within my range, and I was open, so I took it," Jordan said.

He said junior forward James Worthy, who got a career-high 28 points for North Carolina, would have saved the game anyway, had the shot gone awry.

"James said after the game that if I didn't get my "I knew it was in," Doherty shot down, he was in good said position to get a tipin," Jor-the game. "I was thinking the game might come down to a lastsecond shot. I saw myself taking it and hitting it," he said.

And the dream-come-true saved sophomore forward Matt Doherty from a nightmare.

Doherty missed the front end of a 1-and-1 with 1:19 left, opening the door for Georgetown to take the 62-61 lead and set the stage for Jordan's heroics. He felt at the time that he had failed his team in the clutch, Doherty

But it still remained for Worthy to make a big defensive play to go with his gamehigh 28 points. With five seconds left, he stepped in front of a Georgetown pass, came away with the ball and dribbled down court.

He missed two free throws after a deliberate foul with two seconds left, but Georgetown had time only for a midcourt heave that fell way short. North Carolina Coach Dean

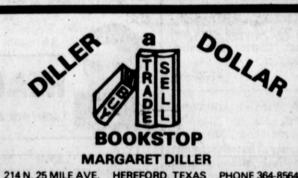

Smith had been accused of being unable to win the big ones. It was his seventh trip to the Final Four, but his first national championship. Smith praised Georgetown, its coach, John Thompson, and Georgetown players Pat Ewing and Eric "Sleepy" Floyd. "I'm not sure we were the
