Collision On Cutoff

No major injuries were discovered from the victims who were in a station wagon which overturned around mid-morning at the Dimmitt Cutoff and Austin Road intersection. Paul Perez, one, and his mother Teresa Perez, of 303 Ninth, were treated at Deaf Smith General Hospital for cuts and bruises. Also in the station wagon was Paul Morales, 12, of 427 N. Miles. From another vehicle involved in the accident were three more persons treated at DSGH - Bertha Sears, of Rt. 3 Hereford; Dannette Wait, and Doris Wait, both of 220 NW 11th in Dimmitt. Investigating officers were unavailable for details.

Budget talks collapse

Last offer rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) - Congress' effort to enact a major deficit-reduction package this year is in shambles after the acrimonious collapse of budget talks between the House and Senate.

"We'll call you back as soon as we have something to talk about," Sen. Pete V. Domenici, R-N.M., chairman of the Senate Budget Committee, told House conferees Wednesday as he adjourned what may have been the year's final bargaining session.

Neither side called an end to the talks, but it was unclear how they could resume. "Do I know a way?" Domenici said. "No, I don't."

Congressional leaders have said that if no budget is passed this year, they will simply abide by the separate budgets each chamber has passed as they enact money bills this year.

The House on Tuesday voted 239-181 to waive congressional rules that prevent consideration of money bills before a budget accepted by both houses is in place.

However, such piecemeal action will do nothing to achieve long-term savings or meet the goal set earlier this year by the administration and congressional leaders to enact a plan that could slash the annual budget deficit to $100 billion by 1988 - about half the current tide of red ink.

Wednesday's testy meeting disintegrated after the senators rejected a bottom-line offer from the Democratic-led House, saying it did not go far enough toward making serious domestic spending cuts and violated an agreement with President Reagan by providing too little for military spending.

The House had offered to make an additional $24 billion in domestic spending cuts as part of a three-year, $272.6 billion deficit-reduction plan. House leaders said they did not have the votes to do more.

However, the package did not meet demands from the Senate and the White House for the elimination of a variety of domestic spending programs.

Senators also said some of the new savings in the House package were not likely to pass Congress, including a new user fee on electric utilities that generate nuclear power, the imposition of grazing fees for federal lands and the termination of a program that shares mineral royalties with states - items that would hurt Western states such as the one Domenici represents.

Domenici and other senators also said the House had not lived up to an agreement with the president on military spending. The House proposal provides $298 billion for military spending authority next year, but Domenici said that was $4.5 billion short of what would be needed to keep pace with inflation, which he said was part of the agreement.

Some House members also said part of the problem was a White House meeting last week during which congressional leaders and the president agreed to a framework that put a Social Security freeze and tax increases out of bounds for a deficit-reduction package.

Republican senators later expressed anger, saying that when the president walked away from the Social Security freeze, GOP senators facing re-election next year were left in a politically vulnerable position.

New FSC director in second career

With the youngest of her seven children in college and a rewarding first career as a registered nurse behind her, Barbara Hartman looks forward to utilizing her second college degree as the new director of the Hereford Family Services Center.

The 49-year-old Umbarger woman accepted the position about a year after completing her master's degree in counseling at West Texas State University, where she also received her nursing degree. Herr masters also includes a drug and alcohol abuse certification.

Hartman replaces Mike Moon, who is still with the FSC but has accepted a new assignment as case manager.

Moon will be working with clients who are working to adjust to society again after spending time in a mental institution.

"When I was in nursing school, I really became interested in psychology," Hartman explained. "I took most of my electives in psychology. When I thought about getting my master's degree, I decided I really wanted a degree in counseling."

Hartman had worked as a school nurse in Canyon the past five years, a job she loved. "I miss the kids, the teachers and the with parents," she

IRP gets landslide in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) - Results from the July 7 elections show the ruling Institutional Revolutionary Party received 11.6 million votes to 2.7 million for the opposition National Action Party.

The ruling party, known as the PRI, won 292 of the 300 seats directly elected to the lower house of Congress. National Action, or PAN, won six and the remaining two went to the tiny Authentic Party of the Mexican Revolution.

The results released by the Federal Electoral Commission show that 17.8 million of the eligible 35.2 million voters cast ballots in the congressional vote.

They show PRI with 65 percent of the total and PAN with 15 percent.

They were trailed by the communist-led coalition Mexican United Socialist Party, 3.2 percent; the conservative Mexican Democratic Party, 2.7 percent; the Socialist Workers Party, 2.4 percent; the Popular Socialist Party, 1.9 percent; the Authentic Party, 1.6 percent; the Mexican Workers Party, 1.5 percent, and the Revolutionary Workers Party, 1.25 percent.

Parties need 1.5 percent of the popular vote to keep their official registry, but the Revolutionary Workers Party still may top that figure once the figures are released for the remaining 100 congressional seats reserved for minority parties in a separate ballot.

Governor allocates job training money

Gov. Mark White has announced the allocation of $103,949,667 for job training programs under the Job Training Partnership Act.

The Texas department of Community Affairs will contract with local job training programs to prepare economically disadvantaged Texans for jobs in the private sector. Of the total amount, $77,178,824 in Title II-A funds will be allocated to provide job training and other services to teenagers and adults.

The remainder, designated Title II-B money, will go specifically for summer youth employment programs.

The Job Training Partnership

Act is a valuable mechanism that brings the public and private sectors together to train Texans for productive employment programs.

The 25 counties in the Panhandle service area will share $1,253,769 in Title II-A funds, and $597,342 in Title II-B money.

Under JTPA, local elected officials work in partnership with private industry councils composed of business and community representatives to design and implement job training programs that are tailored to meet the needs of area residents.

Locally, the program is administered through the Deaf Smith County Community Action Agency. For more information call 364-5631.

Tax pre-hearings continue

Tax appraisal pre-hearings continue today in the County Commission meeting room at Deaf Smith County Courthouse, where dissatisfied taxpayers can discuss their tax revaluations with appraisers.

The pre-hearings, which started with a relatively light turnout Wednesday, are being conducted prior to the Appraisal Board of Review convening to certify the valuations made in the recent reappraisal by the Deaf Smith County Reappraisal District. This board will convene at 10 a.m. July 23 in the courthouse.

Those who wish to protest the values set on their property should sign an application to appear before the Board of Review. The applications can be obtained at the pre-hearings or at the appraisal district office, located in the old Central Elementary School building. Appraisers will assist in filling out the applications if the taxpayer desires.

The pre-hearings will continue today, Friday and Monday. With home owners being imposed with a big burden of the tax load, a large number of these taxpayers are expected at the pre-hearings.

Weather

WEDNESDAY'S HIGH: 95 (normal; 92 record; 105 in 1978)
OVERNIGHT LOW: 65 (normal; 66 record; 56 in 1984)
OUTLOOK: 30 percent chance of evening thundershowers, low in the upper 60s. Cooler Friday, high near 90.

Sarpalius' mobile unit due

Sen. Bill Sarpalius' mobile office will be at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse from 1 until 2 p.m. Friday.

During its monthly area visit, the mobile office will stop from 8 until 9 a.m. Friday at the Adrian Co-op and at the Oldham County Courthouse in Vega from 10 a.m. until 11 a.m. After visiting Hereford, the area swing will conclude in Dimmitt from 3 until 4 p.m. at the Castro County Courthouse.

The mobile office will again service the Hereford area on August 9.

Police make two arrests

Hereford police made two arrests Wednesday, one for public intoxication and another for operating an unregistered vehicle, reckless driving and fleeing from an officer.

Owen Sales and Service, 801 E. Second, reported the theft of 11 batteries valued at $482. John Claypool, 402 Union, told police someone took a spare tire valued at $75 from his residence, and Susan Rodriguez, 303 Bradley, said her residence was burglarized Wednesday. An HBO box and a Mexican coin and bill collection is missing, and police have a suspect.

A complaint of disorderly conduct was expected to be filed today by a woman who said an acquaintance of hers entered the business where she works and began swearing at her.

Hereford Bull

By O.G. NIEMAN

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says you can fool all of the people some of the time, and when you do it usually lasts four years.

To the young man at the perfume counter, the clerk purred: "Now here's one called 'Perhaps'. It's $35 an ounce."

"Thirty-five dollars!" exclaimed the young man. "For $35 I don't want 'Perhaps', I want 'Sure'!"

ooo

A lot of Deaf Smith County taxpayers are in shock and mighty unhappy after seeing their tax reappraisal forms and figuring up tax increases on values that have been doubled. Most of the people who have contacted us are looking at 50 to 90-percent tax hikes. It's difficult to find anyone who reports a tax decrease, although the action is reported to be "a shifting of the tax burden, with some being imposed with higher taxes and some getting relief."

Pre-hearings on the tax reappraisal are being held at the courthouse today, Friday and Monday and many shocked Hereford home owners will be visiting with appraisers.

And many of them, it appears to us, will get no satisfaction and will sign up to protest to the Appraisal Board of Review which convenes next Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the courthouse. If you want to protest, be sure to sign an application to appear before the board. The applications can be obtained at the pre-hearing or at the appraisal district office, and appraisers will be happy to help you fill out the form.

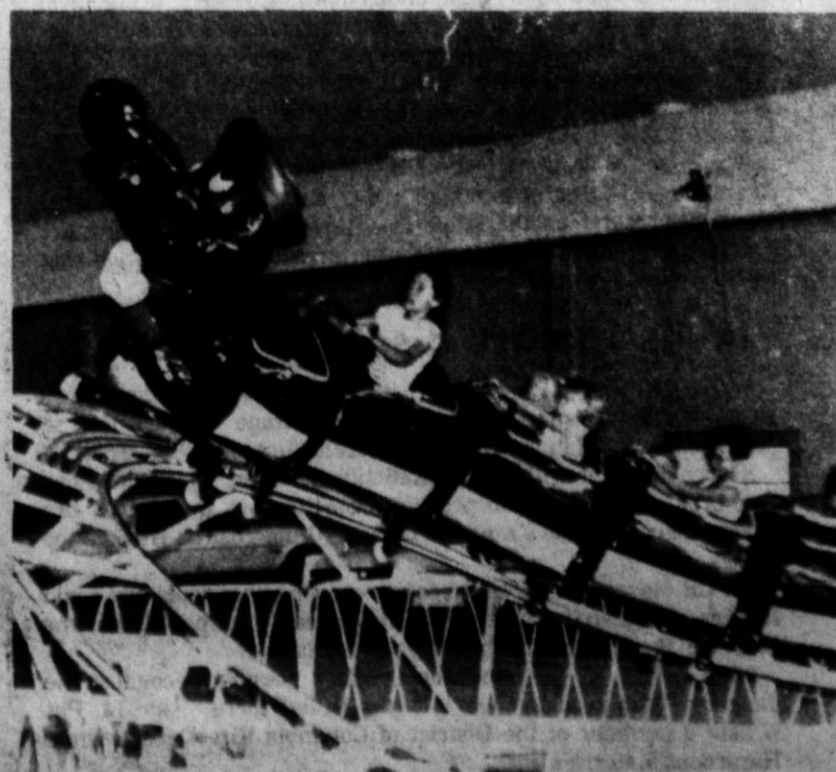

A lot of taxpayers are seeing their property doubled in value and, even with a lower tax rate project, their taxes increased by amounts ranging from 30 to 90 percent. The problem, it appears to us, is not so much with the market value placed on property; it lies in the tax rate now being lowered enough.

Mini-machine saves baby's life

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Air Force physicians saved the life of a lung-injured Killen baby by using a new, miniature children's heart-lung machine developed in San Antonio, officials said.

The device, called an extracorporeal membrane oxygenation unit, is the first one made small enough for treating a baby during emergency air transport, Wilford Hall Air Force Medical Center officials said.

"This baby would not have survived without ECMO," said Col. Robert F. deLemos, head of maternal and child care at the hospital.

Derrick Barlow, 20 days old, became the first child last week to be placed on the device, the San Antonio Light reported. Wilford Hall and the Southwest Foundation for Biomedical Research in San Antonio developed the device.

Derrick suffered chemical pneumonia at birth at Fort Hood on June 29, after swallowing fecal material in the womb, a common birth accident, deLemos said.

He was moved by air ambulance to Wilford Hall on July 4 and connected on July 7 to the machine, which takes blood from the body through major neck blood vessels, infuses it with oxygen and then pumps it back into the body.

DA to review murder case

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Tarrant County District Attorney Tim Curry is expected to review paperwork filed by police seeking to try a teen-ager as an adult in the death of a 4-year-old girl.

Prosecutors said evidence in the case would be reviewed today, and a decision could be made by week's end whether to accept capital murder charges against a 16-year-old neighbor of Melody Ann Flores.

Juvenile court officials on Wednesday released the boy's 12-year-old brother after police questioned him in connection with the girl's asphyxiation death.

Detective Curt Brannan said he spent most of Wednesday questioning the 12-year-old and administering a polygraph examination because "we were anxious to eliminate him from our investigation if he wasn't involved in any way."

The boy was detained with his brother but "further investigation failed to provide any evidence that the 12-year-old was involved in the murder," said Brannan.

The older boy has been ordered held in the county juvenile detention home until juvenile proceedings are complete, authorities said.

Senior staff attorney Steve Chaney said Curry wants to review the case before it is filed.

Police said the girl disappeared Saturday when she went to return a toy to a friend down the street. Her body was found Monday in a plastic bag at an alley behind the neighbor's house.

Amateurs warned about wrestling

BOSTON (AP) — Amateur muscle men should leave body slams and other wrestling throws to the professionals, because these spectacular moves "can have a potentially catastrophic outcome," doctors warn today.

Dr. Peter Wilton and three Veterans Administration colleagues from Minneapolis described a case in which a 58-year-old man underwent emergency surgery for a ruptured gallbladder.

"We learned later that his son had 'body slammed' him into the lawn 'doing some wrestling moves' four days before admission," they wrote in a letter in the New England Journal of Medicine.

They noted that professional wrestlers are in top physical condition, know how to fall without hurting themselves and tangle in a ring that has a springy floor like a trampoline. They calculated that the man they treated slammed into "the unyielding turf" at a velocity of almost 23 miles an hour when thrown by his son.

Ana drifting north now

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Tropical Storm Ana was drifting northward in the Atlantic Ocean today, its winds gusting up to 55 mph but posing no threat to North American land, the National Hurricane Center said.

The first named storm of the 1985 hurricane season, Ana was about 300 miles south of Halifax, Nova Scotia, the hurricane center said in a 6 a.m. EDT advisory.

The storm's center was near latitude 40.3 north and longitude 64.9 west and was traveling north-northeast at 22 mph, the center said.

Little change in motion was expected today, and the colder northern waters will sap her energy, the hurricane center said.

Ana had dumped rains over Bermuda Tuesday night, but as it migrated north the storm left only haze over the island, forecaster Hal Gerrish said.

Reagan seeing more visitors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is seeing more visitors and expanding his workload as doctors report steady progress from cancer surgery, but the White House is clearly irritated about what it regards as ill-founded second-guessing by some experts about his care.

The 74-year-old Reagan was described as being in such high spirits that he joked about reports circulating in financial markets in Singapore and Europe that he had died. "Somebody must be trying to make a buck," the president was quoted as saying Wednesday.

A White House medical bulletin this morning quoted the president as saying, "I'm feeling great." The statement said he remains on his liquid diet and is continuing to recover "extremely well."

National security adviser Robert McFarlane was added to the president's list of visitors today as Reagan regains his strength and is able to spend more time seeing people and discussing events.

White House Chief of Staff Donald Regan, addressing a U.S. Chamber of Commerce breakfast today, said Reagan had a restful night after watching the latest in a series of Humphrey Bogart movies being shown on a Washington area television station this week. Wednesday night's movie was "The Big Sleep."

Investigators discover PCBs

WASHINGTON (AP) — City fire investigators recently discovered PCBs leaking from a number of high-voltage transformers in Smithsonian Institution buildings, according to a published report.

Sources familiar with the institution's electrical system said circuit breakers designed to provide protection are themselves fire hazards, according to a report in today's editions of The Washington Post.

A PCB blaze would produce cancer-causing chemicals and could forever contaminate some of the irreplaceable national heirlooms housed in the Smithsonian buildings, officials said.

"The people at the Smithsonian can't possibly recognize the danger or they wouldn't leave it (the PCBs) there," said Lt. Pat Walsh, a member of the District of Columbia Fire Department's Hazardous Materials Unit.

The danger to firefighters would be so great that they might not go inside to battle an electrical blaze, Walsh said.

"Only for the immediate rescue of people would I send someone in to the smoke," he said.

Dallas City Council members approve noise ordinance

DALLAS (AP) — City Council members have approved a controversial ordinance restricting the use of bullhorns outside abortion clinics, rejecting arguments by right-to-life groups that their right to free speech would be hampered.

Council members voted 8-3 on Wednesday to approve the ordinance, saying it is designed to protect the health of clinic patients, not to restrict protests by abortion opponents.

"This ordinance is in no way intended to limit free speech," Mayor Starke Taylor said amid tightened security that included a police tactical squad standing by in a nearby room. "It's to protect the public health."

The ordinance prohibits abortion opponents from using bullhorns or loudspeakers within 150 feet of an abortion clinic, said officials.

Council member Lori Palmer proposed the ordinance in response to recent complaints from abortion clinic managers that Dallas police have been lax in preventing the harassment of patients at the clinics. Violations of the ordinance can be punishable by fines of up to $200.

Council members John Evans, Jerry Rucker and Jim Richards, who failed in an attempt to table the proposal for further study, voted against it.

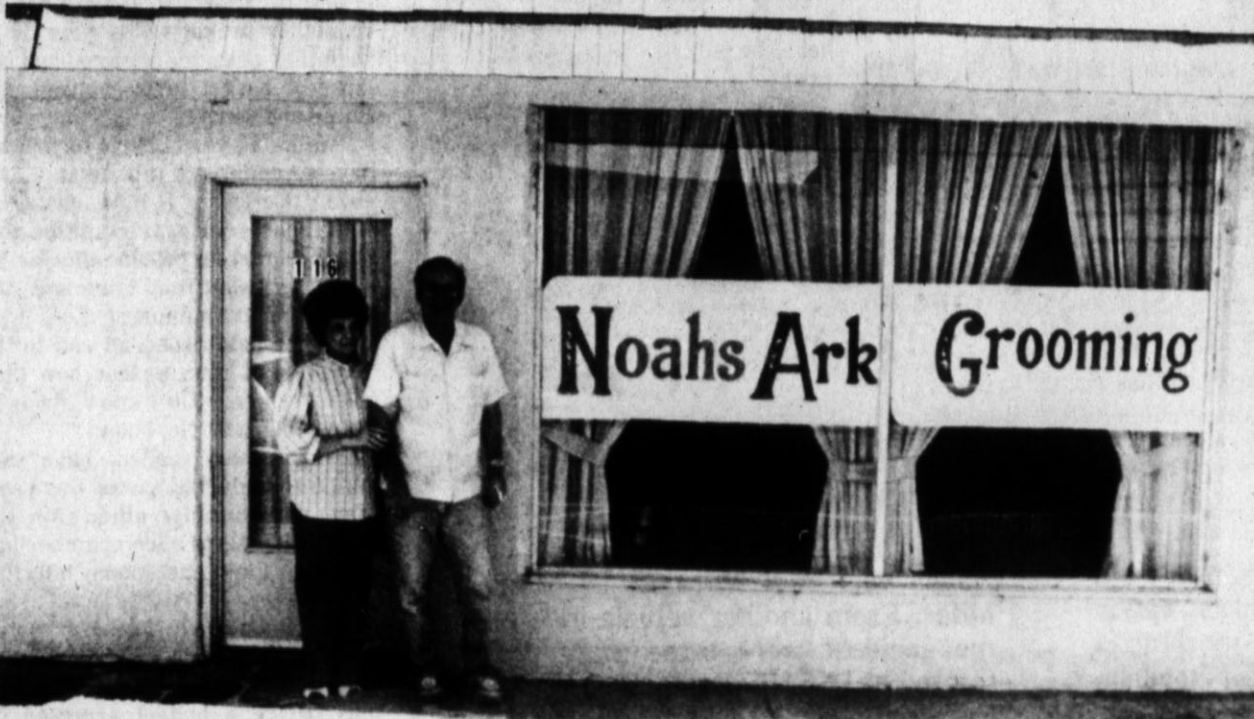

Leaders of groups opposed to abortion, who said the ordinance will restrict their free speech rights, added they probably will file suit against the city.

"This pro-abortion stand taken by the council is an obvious attempt to choke our voice," Winston Wilder, president of the Abortion Abolition Society, said. "What it's going to do is get more people than ever out on the streets and it's going to create more problems for everybody."

He said his group has not decided whether it will obey the new ordinance.

"We're studying the pros and cons of carrying out certain acts of civil disobedience," said Wilder. "If it serves our purpose, we will disobey the law."

Abortion rights advocates praised the council's action.

Country going Republican

Paul Harvey

Walter Reuther was a national political power as head of the Auto Workers Union mostly because he knew how to work both sides of the street.

A dues-paying, doctrinaire Democrat all his life, he was still able to retain influence during Republican administrations because — the day after the election — he was figuratively perched on a corner of the White House desk, asking ingratiatingly, "Mister President, what can I do for you?"

And it worked. He knew how to lose without losing.

Most partisans, after an election defeat, are inclined to pout and retreat; "wait till next time."

But today's Democrats could learn and profit from Mr. Reuther's political ambidextrousness.

No President since FDR has demonstrated the personal charisma of Ronald Reagan. As FDR made Democrats out of Republicans, Reagan is making Republicans out of Democrats; some prominent ones.

Massachusetts' Former Gov. Edward King.

New York state legislator Arnaldo Ferraro.

Even some Deep South Southern Democrats.

Louisiana is two states. North of Alexandria, red clay and Baptists. South of Alex, bayous and Roman Catholic cajuns.

But north and south, Louisianans have been Democrats.

Not anymore.

Ten of that state's Democrat lawmakers have jumped to the GOP — and No. 10 is Jock Scott, a member of the Democratic National Committee.

Louisiana now has two Republicans in Congress.

A New York Times survey indicates that for the first time in half a century "half of all Americans now identify themselves as Republicans."

Traditionally, special interest organizations tend to dictate political policy. Last month (June 26, 1985) for the first time in recollection, a political party leader sought to influence one such organization: the NAACP.

GOP National Committee Chairman Frank Fahrenkopf appeared before the NAACP convention in Dallas to urge black voters to join the GOP.

He said, "Democrats were not just rejected but were repudiated by 16 million voters in 49 states." Yet by only 8 to 11 percent of the black vote. Fahrenkopf said black voters must not now isolate themselves by blindly supporting a party that's out of step, out of tune and out of office.

That last remark, about being "out of office," pragmatic Walter Reuther would understand.

who is one of the best known minority politicians in Mexico. She was the first female presidential candidate in Mexico in the 1982 elections that put President Miguel de la Madrid in office.

Javier Perez Correa, an undersecretary of the Interior Department, told reporters Tuesday night that National Action's share of the vote topped 25 percent in five states, four of them bordering the United States.

They were Northern Baja California, Sonora, Chihuahua and Nuevo Leon on the border as well as Durango in north central Mexico.

PAN also won between 15 and 25 percent of the votes in nine states. In the Federal District here, Mexico's equivalent of the District of Columbia, where minority parties traditionally are strong, the PRI won only 42 percent to 21.8 percent for the PAN.

Perez Correa said the Federal Electoral Commission would announce on Sunday the outcome of the voting for the 100 congressional seats reserved for minority parties.

In the current congress, PAN holds 50 of those seats. It also has one of the 300 directly elected seats, with the other 299 held by the PRI.

Four of the directly elected congressional seats PAN won July 7 were in Chihuahua, another in Durango and the last in the central state of Guanajuato.

Man escapes second time

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — A four-state alert has been posted for a 38-year-old convicted auto thief who eluded prosecutors and bailiffs in an escape from a Dallas courtroom, then jumped from a window in this Panhandle city as police tried to corner him.

Harry Eugene Harrison leaped from a second-story apartment window on Tuesday and ran to another apartment complex where he allegedly stole a car, police said.

"I've had no word that he has been captured," Amarillo police Lt. Kenneth McKnight said late Wednesday. "We have no new information on it at all. I just assume that he left town."

Meanwhile, a Wichita Falls bail bondsman who stands to lose nearly a quarter of a million dollars if Harrison continues to elude capture said he will find the fugitive if police cannot. He said he performed his job earlier by getting Harrison into court.

"But I'll find him. There's no doubt about that," Knowles said.

Harrison, of Wichita Falls, has been sought by authorities since he escaped from the Dallas County Government Center in a bus last week.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

I am writing concerning the recent reappraisal of taxes on property. I feel it is unfair and unjust for these taxes to be raised this much in one year's time. The appraised value of my house will be raised 138.7 percent and my taxes will be raised almost 93 percent. This tax increase should have been done gradually over a period of years and not in one year's time.

It isn't the taxpayers fault that the taxes haven't been taken care of properly, either. I also wonder why the review boards meetings aren't set up at a time when most people are off from work. Most people don't take off from work unless they are sick or have a death in the family. They can't afford to.

I'm not against paying taxes, but I feel this increase could have been taken care of over the last 13 years and not all in one year. If our property tax burdens are decided by our locally elected officials, they why haven't they been taking care of the situation before now? It's certainly no secret that housing costs have been going up steadily for several years now.

Now You're Cookin'

BY CINDY SMITH
Staff Writer

Driving seven miles out on Harrison Highway, hanging a right going one-and-a-quarter more miles, one would think he was heading for the 'boonies'. Instead, up over a hill stands a house surrounded with life in every corner of every field.

Selling fresh country eggs and fresh vegetables when in season, Margaret Betzen can usually be found in the hen house or the garden, gathering eggs or picking 'veggies' for the next day's business.

Betzen is in full control of what goes on around her farm. She had been selling eggs, goats' milk, and freshly picked vegetables only part-time while being employed as a secretary-bookkeeper at Lawrence Ward Trucking.

"I decided I wasn't ever going to get to be president of the corporation," Betzen joked. "So, I decided to go into the egg business fulltime. That decision was made in February when my goats started kidding."

At one time, Betzen had 20 baby goats, which meant feeding 10 at a time on bottles. "By the time I got the first 10 weaned, the other 10 were ready!" she laughed.

Now, Betzen is milking nine goats. "Goats' milk is more easily digested than cow's milk," explained Betzen.

She said that the reason goat's milk is more easily digested is that in goats' milk, the globules are smaller than the globules found in regular cows' milk.

"You can use goats' milk to replace all cows' milk," Betzen explained once again, "and it makes a great gravy because it's so rich."

One can hardly tell her homemade ice cream is made from goats' milk.

Being married to Robert Betzen for 14 years, the couple has 12 children and 20 grandchildren (including a granddaughter that just recently arrived).

Robert is a part-time home-fix-it and repairman. He is also an agent for American General selling life and accident insurance.

The Betzens both enjoy country living as they raise their garden, feed the chickens and milk the goats.

To exemplify their country living, they also use a wood-burning stove to heat the house. "Our highest gas bill last winter was only $40," bragged Betzen with a smile.

The couple also has a windmill that pumps their water. Both the stove and windmill are supplemented with electricity.

Getting back to the basics of living, the Betzens raise nearly all of the food they eat. "The snow peas are harvesting now, the broccoli is almost ready to pick and Robert is going to plant cabbage this weekend," Betzen said proudly, and with good reason.

A vegetarian could have a hey-day in her enormous garden. She has rows of cauliflower, squash, cucumbers, tomatoes, green beans, okra, blackeyed peas, cantaloupe, and watermelon.

The homemaker also has a green thumb when it comes to trees. In her orchard she has apple and apricot trees; "The peaches didn't make it this year," explained Betzen, "they froze."

Cherry trees line the west side of the Betzens' home for a windbreak, with a row of pines for extra protection.

"I'm kinda proud of my pines," Betzen said, "most pines are slow growers but I have Afghanistan pines that I planted in '77. They are eight years old now and some of them are 30 feet tall!"

Along with the orchard and pines, the Betzens have three-and-a-half acres of nothing but pecan trees. "This is their fourth year," said Betzen. "Hopeful this year we'll have some pecans to pick."

The couple has resided on their homestead for 12 years now and seem to have adjusted rather well to country living. "To enjoy country living," Betzen stressed, "doesn't mean you have give up the modern conveniences." This means Betzen has a dishwasher, a microwave and even a microwave in the dairy to heat milk for her baby goats.

Betzen is well-known around town for her country eggs. By the time the sun is up, Betzen is in the chicken house gathering freshly laid eggs for her delivery routes, going to town every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

She has 100 laying hens, 25 pullets (baby hens), and 75 being raised for broilers 'that will eventually end up in the freezer,' and one baby pea fowl.

"When speaking of baby pea fowls, males are referred to as peacocks and females are pea hens," explained Betzen. "The one we have is just a chick, so we won't know (its' gender) until about six months from now."

Betzen has customer that call on her only when they need eggs and some "regulars" that have standing orders for a specified amount.

garden to surround the house.

In the yard, one will be greeted by a couple of "mutts" named Jack and Jill that came from the same litter. Other pets include her cats. "We have six cats that always seem to know when it's milking time," Betzen laughed.

When the Betzens first moved to the country, the cats were dying off and they didn't know why. "I put them on goat's milk," she explained, "and they finally began to show signs of improvement."

The country woman also rents out pasture for horses and calves.

Spare time for Betzen is spent sewing and cooking. Betzen sews all of her granddaughters' Easter dresses every year and makes other garments for her family on special occasions.

Betzen shares some goats' milk recipes that she says "you can't tell the difference!"

FETA CHEESE

Add 2 1/2 Rennet tablets dissolved in 1T lukewarm water- to 1/2 gal. raw milk. Mix and heat together over medium heat about 8 to 10 minutes or until milk coagulates and whey separates, stirring frequently - do NOT boil.

Pour into cheese cloth lined colander. Drain well when just cool enough to handle. Form into 3 or 4 balls, squeezing out as much moisture as you can. Cover and cool. Place in a glass jar. Cover with a brine solution of 1T salt to 2 cups cold water. Refrigerate overnight before serving.

Will keep up to 3 weeks in refrigerator. Change brine solution weekly. Very good served with crackers, crumbled in salads or used in lasagne.

HOME-MADE ICE CREAM

Soften 4 envelopes plain gelatin in 1 qt. milk.

Heat to almost boiling. Add while very hot to 12 eggs beaten with 2 1/2 cups sugar. Add 2 tsp. vanilla and 1 tsp. almond extract. Pour into six quart freezer. Add milk to fill freezer to within 3 inches of top of can. Freeze and enjoy!

Softball all-stars

Girls' teams head to state tourneys

Two Hereford girls' softball all-star teams will compete in the state tournaments in Fort Worth, one of them beginning today.

The all-stars, who played in the Kids Inc. girls' softball leagues, will play in the state Pony League tournament and the state Colt League tournament. Both tournaments will be played at the Blue Raider Athletic Field.

This summer is the first time the Hereford Kids Inc. girls' softball leagues have been sanctioned by the Pony League and Colt League for state tournament competition.

The Hereford 15 and 16-year-old all-star team plays tonight in the Colt League tournament, at 7:10 p.m. against the winner of a contest between the Hurst Stars and Crowley. The winner of the game Hereford opens the tournament in goes on to play at 10:10 a.m. Saturday.

Other first-round games in the Colt League tournament are: MGSA versus Haltom, Keller versus the Hurst Cobras, NEO versus the Hurst Chaparrals, and Forest Hill versus the Hurst Wildcats.

In the Pony League tournament, a team of 11 through 14-year-old girls from Hereford will play at 7:15 p.m. Friday against Lancaster.

The winner of that game advances to play the team that wins in the bracket which has these two first-round games: Bursleson versus the MGSA All-Stars, and NEO vs. EF-WGSA.

The other first-round contests will be Castleberry versus Blue Raider, and MGSA Kwik Styx versus Crowley.

Championship games in both tournaments are scheduled Saturday night.

Survey shows athletes choosing easier courses

WACO, Texas (AP) — Schoolboy football players who will have to punt, pass and kick this fall also face another requirement of making the grade, and are choosing easier courses as a result, according to Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine.

The magazine's preseason poll of 205 players showed 38.4 percent are changing class schedules to avoid more difficult courses, reducing their chances of failure and suspension because of the no-pass, no-play rule.

The magazine, which also interviewed 78 coaches around the state, reported 94.4 percent said some of their players were staying away from hard coursework.

All the coaches surveyed opposed the state's no-play rule, which stems from last year's legislative education reforms and has been upheld by the Texas Supreme Court.

Any student who fails to make passing grades of 70 in every class will be suspended from extracurricular activities for six weeks under the rule.

"Some students say that if you are not passing, you should not be playing," Dave Campbell, magazine editor-in-chief, said Wednesday. "But their coaches are making interesting plans to make sure their students keep playing."

Klein High School coach George Kirk last year began an early-morning study hall for football players making below 72 in any class, Campbell said.

"It's been pretty tough to get those kids up to school at 6:30 a.m. to study, but it's been worth it," Kirk told the magazine in its July issue. "We had problems with parents complaining about having to get their kids up that early, but when they realized we were trying to help them, the opposition stopped."

"Somebody is going to be killed because of that rule," new Highland Park Head Coach Randy Emery told the magazine. "If a kid drops out of school because he can't play football, and he robs a 7-Eleven and shoots somebody, that's a direct result of no-pass, no-play. And don't tell me that isn't going to happen somewhere."

The survey questionnaire was sent in late April and responses were received through May, Campbell said.

"It is such a hot topic," he said.

Jackie Robinson played his first major league baseball game on opening day in 1947, becoming the first black player in modern major league baseball. Frank Robinson became baseball's first black manager on opening day in 1975.

Wednesday golf scramble is won with score of 29

The weekly Wednesday Scramble at Pitman Municipal Golf Course was won with a best-ball total of 28 yesterday. The winning team was composed of John Stagner, Kirk Proctor, Joe Salcido and Dick Gholson. Members of the winning team receive golf merchandiser prizes. The open scramble is held each week with the first 60 persons to register being placed on the teams.

Second place in the scramble Wednesday went to a team composed of Mike Drake, Max Goforth, John Robinson and Revella Skypala. They had a score of 29.

Bob Lemon is the only man who has been the starting pitcher in the opening game of a World Series (for Cleveland in 1954) and later was the manager of a World Series team (New York Yankees in 1978 and 1981).

Check Presented

Bill McDowell, president of the Chemical People, recently presented a $100 check to the Hereford Track Club for the state meet, scheduled Friday and Saturday in Fort Worth. Accepting the contribution on behalf of the track club is Sheila Hamilton.

The first regularly scheduled college basketball doubleheader was played in Madison Square Garden in New York on Dec. 29, 1934, with 16,188 spectators watching. NYU defeated Notre Dame 25-18 and Westminster beat St. John's 37-33 in that doubleheader.

Bowie Kuhn tried out for basketball while in high school and was dropped from the team by the coach, Red Auerbach, who became a legend with the Boston Celtics.

CALIFORNIA CHARDONNAYS
Unlike European wines, California wines are sold under their varietal names. Hence, you know which variety of grape was used to make a particular wine. California Chardonnays make luscious, rich white wines of great power and complexity. Chardonnays are being vinified in more of the French mode. They are lower in alcohol, with less emphasis on oak in the aging process. These elegant wines age gracefully for up to a decade, although they may be drunk at two years of age. Serve Chardonnay with sauced seafood dishes, poultry, cream-based pasta dishes and white-meat game. Check the labels so as to become familiar with the truly premium wine-growing areas.

If you are not fortunate enough to be able to tour California's wine country...the Napa Valley area, the next best thing is to come to THE STORE and try some of the wonderful varieties of wine California produces. We are very proud of our extensive inventory of fine wines...domestic and imported. Stop by 400 N. 25 Mile, 364-7802 and look us over. Open: Mon.-Sat. 10-9, use our drive up door until midnight for beer and wine, on Sun. only beer and wine is available from 12-12. Cabernet Sauvignon is the king of all California wine grapes.

Cowboys sign No. 1 draft choice

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys say they have reached a contract agreement with their No. 1 draft choice, defensive end Kevin Brooks of Michigan, leaving only one unsigned draft pick, Matt Darwin of Texas A&M.

Brooks drove to camp Wednesday night from Los Angeles to sign a contract negotiated by Cowboys personnel director Gil Brandt and agent Mike Trope, a Cowboys spokesman said.

Brooks, 6-foot-7 and 262 pounds, said he would begin practicing today.

He had not reported to the training camp Sunday with other Cowboys rookies and had held out for three days before agreeing to contract terms.

"I feel great," Brooks said. "I'm tired of lifting weights and running around by myself. I'm ready to play football."

The four-year pact includes an option by the Cowboys to renew for one additional year, Trope said. Other terms were not disclosed.

Eamonn Coghlan, 32, of Ireland holds the world indoor mile record of 3:49.78. He set that record at the Vitalis-U.S. Olympic Invitational track meet in 1983. He missed the 1984 season because of injuries.

Huge Tractor Savings with John Deere IRAs (Inventory Reduction Advantages)

Right now you can buy anybody's tractor at a pretty good price. But John Deere offers you something better: John Deere IRAs. Inventory Reduction Advantages like:

- Our 40-85-hp utility tractors, 100-190-hp row-crop tractors and rugged 4WD tractors are value-priced like never before. John Deere factory-backed programs enable us to make very competitive deals, horsepower for horsepower, dollar for dollar.
- John Deere IRAs apply to all new tractors, not discontinued models. We're out to sell the best product we've ever built, at the best possible price.
- A variety of finance options are available* including waiver of interest charges until April 1, 1986. Or you may wish to take a discount worth up to thousands of dollars in lieu of finance waiver. The John Deere finance waiver may actually give you an effective A.P.R. lower than competition's "low-rate" financing. We can give you the details.

- Besides a great product, you'll get great support — the best in the business. Our factory-trained technicians provide prompt, competent service. John Deere's parts back-up is legendary with a communications network that can locate and ship a vital part fast!
- The best IRA of all is John Deere quality. Because our high quality is what will ultimately make the difference between a "cheap" deal and a great deal.

Find out what John Deere's IRAs can do for you today.

Soviets hire firm to distribute press releases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Embassy officials, normally secretive sorts, have paid a New York firm to distribute press releases written like news stories to newspapers and radio stations around the country.

So far this year, North American Precise Syndicate Inc. has shipped out three Soviet government-inspired releases to 3,800 newspapers and 5,000 radio stations.

Justice Department officials said there is nothing illegal about the practice so long as the syndicate files under the Foreign Agents Registration Act, which it has done.

The Soviet stories generally stress the strong bonds between the two countries and the need for more cooperation.

There's a glowing account of a July 1975 U.S.-Soviet space effort, Apollo-Soyuz, in which Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov remembers Americans and Soviet astronauts meeting as friends.

Leonov is quoted as saying he joins others "who stand for international peaceful cooperation in space."

Then there's a story, with picture, about the close bonds and friendships formed by U.S. and Russian soldiers who met on the banks of the Elbe River in Germany in April 1945 at the end of World War II.

Ronald N. Levy, the syndicate's president, said the Soviet news releases, sent out in printable form, are accompanied by a separate piece of paper noting that the syndicate is paid by the embassy.

That procedure is required by the Justice Department, but agency spokesman Robert Sharp said there was no way to ensure adherence to that policy because the department doesn't check the cover letters.

It's unclear how many of the stories have found their way into print, but Soviet Embassy official Yuri Subbotin said he has been pleased with the results.

He said he was unable to provide the names of the papers using the Soviet material. Besides, "the names mean nothing to me... they are not big like the New York Times," he said.

Subbotin said that when North American Precise Syndicate approached him about joining its business, he figured, "Yes, why not?"

Levy said the syndicate sends out regular packages of material to 3,800 newspapers, predominantly weeklies, and 5,000 radio stations.

Media outlets can use the material for free, with Levy promising between 100 and 400 clippings per release and 200 radio placements.

The syndicate's clients, including the Soviet, Canadian and South African embassies and the Caribbean and Romanian tourist organizations, pay between $1,750 and $2,950 for a newspaper release. A radio spot costs $1,450.

The newspaper material, including features such as recipes and travel and home tips, is ready to be inserted into the paper without editing changes. Radio spots are written so they can be read on the air.

"It's a nice package — very slick," said Eddie Dodd, editor of the 2,000-circulation Abbeville Herald in Abbeville, Ala. Nonetheless, Dodd said, "I generally just throw it away."

Dodd said he didn't remember any Soviet material, but he "wouldn't be exactly happy" if the stories were not clearly marked.

Although he is paid for his services, Levy defends his business as in the public's best interest.

"One reason I distribute their information for them — and gladly — is that I think it pays for us to listen to what they have to say and to see them as human beings," he said in a letter to The Associated Press.

"Not listening to them could be like not looking at the bathroom scale or not listening to a doctor who tells you you have high blood pressure," Levy said.

"Sometimes it can be better to look and listen and deal with a situation than ignore it."

USA Teen Scholarship Pageant set

The U.S.A. Teen Miss Scholarship Pageant is scheduled Sept. 8 in the grand ballroom of the Hyatt Hotel in Austin.

Girls in grades seven through 12 who would like to represent their area in the official state finals may receive an application by submitting a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Texas Teen Miss Applications, 24 Delay St. Suite 3, Danbury, Conn., 06810 or by calling the national headquarters at (203) 748-6682.

Each girl accepted as a contestant will receive a tiara and sash and will officially represent the pageant in parades and other local activities during their year reign.

Contestants will compete for the state title and crown in evening gown, interview, and communications competitions. The winner will receive a self-study modeling course and trophies will be awarded to the court of honor plus, numerous recognition awards.

Local chapter represented

Several members of the Hereford TOPS Chapter 576 recently attended the TOPS International Recognition Days in San Antonio.

They included Susana Gonzales, Maria Garcia, Frances Tomez, Alice Holguin and Mary Lou Spinhirne.

Spinhirne was entered in the past and present dress parade and TOPS Alumni Recognition. Acknowledged as TOPS of long standing were four women who had kept their weight off for 25 years.

The newly crowned Texas state winner will go on to compete with 49 other state finalists in the New York city National Finals where she will be competing for $10,000 in awards.

Tomez, Gonzales and Spinhirne gave reports on the I.R.D. Convention during the TOPS meeting held Tuesday.

Mary Ann Warren was best loser for the week with a recorded weight loss of two-and-a-fourth pounds.

Watertown, N.Y., recorded 218 inches of snow during a blizzard in 1977. Two of the city's major industries are manufacturing ski lifts and snow plows.

Ann Landers Facing facts

Dear Ann Landers: I clipped this letter to the editor from the Orlando Sentinel. The message is one that should be read by millions. Will you print it, please? -A PARENT WHO HAS SEEN IT ALL

DEAR PARENT: Thanks for a superb contribution to this space. Here it is:

Much has been made in the news about the shocking increase in the suicide rate among teenagers. But let's face the facts:

If you were reared to believe that certain standards of character, behavior and faith were necessary to become a useful citizen, and then one day you were suddenly aware that your mother, father, or other adults you admired were having illicit love affairs, your friends at school were taking drugs, your sports heroes were arrested for rape, assault and trafficking in narcotics, your father was arrested for drunken driving, your best friend's father was indicted for child molesting, two of your pals were in jail for killing a gas station attendant while committing a robbery, your favorite ballplayer had signed a contract for $4 million for five years and he could barely read or write, that theaters and TV movies show maniacs who attack their victims with chain saws and guns, you too might be confused.

Your teenage sons and daughters are not naive or stupid, they are just more sensitive. -ALBERT A. BERN-TSON, PALATKA, FLA.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell your readers that a non-smoker should never marry a smoker. I thought I could persuade my bride to quit. That was 19 years ago.

Her breath, hair and clothes smell like a dirty ashtray. The house smells like a pool hall. She has burned holes in our clothes, furniture and the car upholstery. No matter where I sit, her smoke is in my face.

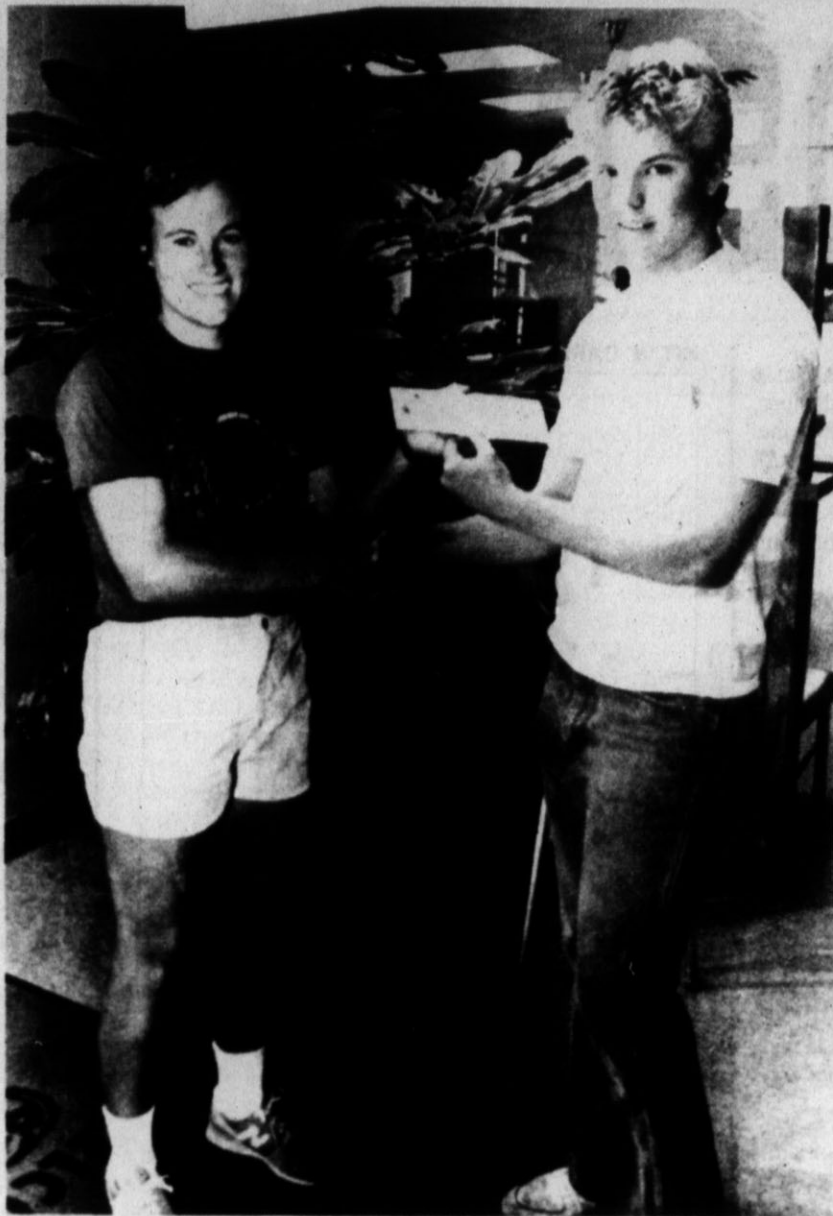

I used to worry that her smoking would cause some terrible illness. Now I wonder why it is taking so long. Sign me-EXHAUSTED AND DISGUSTED IN GLENS FALLS, N.Y.

DEAR TIRED: The lesson to be learned is this: If something bothers you during courtship it will become unbearable after marriage. Thanks for providing more evidence.

Dear Ann Landers: Tonight I am trying to write a thank-you note to a woman who sent me a subscription to a religious magazine that I will never read. In fact, I am offended by it. Where do people come off trying to shove their religious beliefs down other people's throats? I am torn between telling this friend off and being a hypocrite and saying, "Thank you."

Will you please recommend that your readers be a bit more thoughtful when they select gifts? -A NON-RELIGIOUS PERSON WHO LIKES IT THAT WAY

DEAR NON-RELIGIOUS: The gift-giver may have used poor judgment but I'm sure she did not mean to offend you. I suggest you write a gracious note and toss the magazines in the wastebasket.

Donation Presented

Stefan Hacker, president of the Hereford Key Club, is pictured presenting a $100 check to Suzanne Duvall to be used by the Hereford Track Club during the state track meet planned Friday and Saturday in Fort Worth. Duvall is a Hereford track coach and former student.

Pioneering in the '80s: Using the instant stuff when you're out of the grind-em-yourself beans from Colombia.

Rose-colored glasses rather than binoculars are recommended when viewing the object of your affections for possible imperfections.

Curtsinger-Cocanougher families meet for reunion

The Curtsinger-Cocanougher family reunion was recently held here. Thirty-five family members and three guests met for a covered dish luncheon.

Those attending from Hereford included Buddy and Susie Curtsinger, Patti Duncan, June and Charlie Calloway, Marie Cornelius, Joe and Leta Curtsinger, Virginia Curtsinger and Jim, Rayburn and Vetha Strange, Robert Strange, Clarence Strange, and Dub and Wilma Curtsinger.

Out-of-town guests included Sue Kuykendall and Ray Andrews of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Calloway and Julie and Stacey, Arlington; Jean, Tori, Laci and Chad Curtsinger, Lubbock; Inez Gillian, Claudine Luther, Debbie Vineyard and Jason, Clovis, N.M.; Virgil Strange, Denton; Mr. and Mrs. Danny Proctor, Karen, Tammy and Russel Latham, Robert Holquist and Robert Romero, all of Amarillo.

Auxiliary members welcome Mary Homer as new member

Mary Lou Homer was initiated and welcomed as a new member of the Ladies Auxiliary to VFW Post 4818 when the group met Monday evening.

During the business session with Betty Bogs presiding, Frankie Green was presented a 20 year membership pin.

Also, it was decided to have a dart throw booth during the Town 'n' Country Jubilee celebration.

Members were reminded of the District 13 Convention scheduled Aug. 3-4 in Hereford.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held at 7 p.m. Aug. 5.

Members present included Helen

Bishop, Boggs, Rose Goheen, Green, Essie Martin, Erma Murphy, Edith Richardson, Sadie Shaw, Marta Williams, Ruth Williams, Doris Wilson, Mabel Yocum, Homer and Marie Goheen.

Be tolerant! Those who write "at this point in time" just never learned the meaning of "now."

How come a kid can't hear you tell him to turn off the TV, but can hear — and repeat — something you whispered three rooms away.

Public invited to hear guest speaker from Houston

Ralph Littlejohn will be the guest speaker at the Full Business Men's Fellowship meeting beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Caison House restaurant.

The public is invited to attend. The business session is set for 7:45 p.m.

Littlejohn, FGBMF international director, is the outreach coordinator for the Houston regional office. He was raised in the Baptist faith and graduated from Baylor University. He recently retired as a computer applications coordinator for a major oil company in Houston.

The speaker has travelled in Central and South America and the West Indies where he has given his testimony.

He has served as chairman of the Houston FGBMF regional for several years.

The guest speaker for the chapter's Aug. 31 meeting to be held at the Community Center will be Harold Hill, author of Kings Kid Books.

Local chapter officers include Richard Schlabs, president; Robert Huckert, vice-president; Johnny Cloud, vice-president; Ted Coleman, secretary; and Jimmie Allred, treasurer.

PUBLIC NOTICES BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

NEWSPAPER BIBLE

Paul left Athens and went to Corinth. There he became acquainted with a Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, who had recently arrived from Italy with his wife, Priscilla. They had been expelled from Italy as a result of Claudius Caesar's order to deport all Jews from Rome. Paul lived and worked with them, for they were tentmakers just as he was. Each Sabbath found Paul at the synagogue, trying to convince the Jews and Greeks alike. And after the arrival of Silas and Timothy from Macedonia, Paul spent his full time preaching and testifying to the Jews that Jesus is the Messiah. But when the Jews opposed him and blasphemed, hurling abuse at Jesus, Paul shook off the dust from his robe and said, "Your blood be upon your own heads - I am innocent - from now on I will preach to the Gentiles." After that he stayed with Titus Justus, a Gentile who worshiped God and lived next to the synagogue. Crispus, the leader of the synagogue, and all his household believed in the Lord and were baptized - as were many others in Corinth. Acts 18:1-8
