Moongazers, Scientists Delighted

Lengthy Lunar Eclipse Brightens Holiday

BY BRAND STAFF AND AP
The largest total lunar eclipse of the century provided a celestial finale to the Independence Day weekend early today, but mer-ymakers may have opted for sleep. The moon was eclipsed for an hour and a half, the longest total lunar eclipse since 1859. It was a delight for moongazers, sightseers and scientists.

The eclipse was captured for The Brand by photographer John Gilmore of Hereford. Gilmore shot a series of photos beginning at 11:30 p.m. and continuing until 1:40 a.m. this morning.

The Earth's penumbra, or lighter area of shadow, began to cover the moon at 11:22 but it was about 12:33 before the eye could detect a difference. The times of the four photos above are noted to show the change in about one hour's time period. Scientists recorded the totality of the eclipse at 1:38 CDT. Hundreds of witnesses gathered at the Adler Planetarium on the Chicago lakefront. The red color predicted by many astronomers in the upper atmosphere failed to materialize in the Chicago area, although witnesses in

New York reported an orange color. The moon was totally eclipsed until 3:24 a.m. As totality ended, the moon's eastern edge brightened first.

By 4:29 a.m., the moon appeared normal, but the end of the eclipse was not until 5:40 a.m., when the moon moved out of the penumbra. (See MOON, Page 2)

Hance Says Shultz 'Good'

BY BOB NIGH
MANAGING EDITOR
Beginning a week long slate of 17 "Town Hall" meetings U.S. Rep. Kent Hance told some 50 persons at the Hereford Community Center Monday evening that new U.S. Secretary of State

George Shultz will be "good for this district." Shultz, who replaced former secretary Alexander Haig recently after the latter resigned, "advocates a Free Trade Policy," Hance said, and "that will be good for our district."

Hance said that Haig's departure should have come sooner, however. "I felt that Haig had outlived his usefulness early on," Hance said. "His leaving will be an asset to the country."

In addition to the prospect of free trade, which would result in more grain exports, Hance said that he and some others are working hard to keep the recently-defeated Farm Crisis Act alive. The measure was stopped in committee after a 21-21 vote recently. A tie is the same thing as a defeat in committee votes.

"I wish I could stand here and tell you that prices are going to change overnight," Hance told the audience. "But, I can't. In fact, we may not have bottomed out."

In the wake of governmental surveys of the damage to area crops in the wake of severe weather, Texas Farm Workers' Union spokesman Jesus Moya asked Hance what is being done to help the migrant farm workers who have moved into the area and are finding work scarce due to low harvests. Moya said that the unemployment rate among the farm workers is around 40 percent.

Hance said that the damage's impact on related

American Troops May Be Shipped to Beirut

By The Associated Press
Several hundred American troops may be sent into west Beirut as part of a plan to evacuate guerrillas from the besieged PLO enclave, U.S. officials said today. Israel radio said President Reagan agreed to send 1,600 Marines. U.S. officials traveling with Reagan in California said the troops — whose service branches were still under consideration — might escort the guerrillas from west Beirut then take up positions abandoned by the PLO fighters.

"somewhat less than 1,600, considerably less. Maybe not more than half that number." The officials, who declined to be identified, said any U.S. involvement in the Lebanese situation would be limited and temporary but acknowledged it was possible a U.S. presence would "become part of a final agreement."

There was no immediate comment from Israeli or PLO officials. West Beirut is surrounded by Israeli forces who have besieged the estimated 8,000 PLO guerrillas in the war-shattered Lebanese capital. Israel radio said U.S. Marines would take over positions abandoned by the guerrillas, presumably to ward off possibly reprisal attacks on the Moslem population by Lebanese Christian militiamen. Israel radio said France agreed to contribute troops. It said the U.S. 6th Fleet would supervise the evacuation from Beirut, and Washington would pay for the ships needed to take them out.

The radio said the guerrillas would go to several countries, including Algeria, Iraq, Egypt and Syria. It said the guerrillas had refused to go to Libya, despite that country's fervent verbal support for the Palestinian cause.

The radio said the details had been worked out over the past three days by U.S. and Israeli officials. The problems of where the guerrillas would go and how they would get there were the main obstacles in three-week-old talks involving U.S. presidential envoy Philip C. Habib and Lebanese negotiators at the presidential palace outside Beirut. The talks are aimed at ending the conflict and arranging removal of PLO forces.

Palestine Liberation Organization chief Yasser Arafat had offered to withdraw most of his forces from Lebanon if Israel would allow the PLO to leave a token military presence — believed to be about 500 men — with the Lebanese army and a diplomatic mission in Beirut.

But the Israeli Cabinet refused the offer, saying all elements of the PLO must leave Lebanon and vowing that until then, the Israeli army would not ease the grip on Beirut. Israel invaded Lebanon June 6 to crush the guerrillas and has surrounded Arafat's west Beirut enclave with

Reagan Offers New Federalism Plan

By MAUREEN SANTINI
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — After months of public silence on "new federalism," President Reagan is pledging support for a new, slimmer version of his plan to turn federal programs over to the states. The president was meeting today with 125 legislators and local officials from 13 Western states to reiterate his desire to give responsibility for some social programs to the individual states while the federal government assumes others.

Under the revised plan, negotiated over the last five months between the White House and state officials, about $39 billion in federal programs would be transferred to the states while the federal government assumed most of the expensive Medicaid program that is costing states $18.3 billion this year. Also, the federal government will keep the $11 billion food stamp program which state and local officials fought taking over as originally proposed. Aid to Families with Dependent Children, the basic welfare program now shared 50-50, would be assumed entirely by states. Reagan, accompanied by his wife, Nancy, arrived here by helicopter Monday from his Santa Barbara, Calif., ranch, where he has been vacationing since July 1. They spent the night at the Century Plaza Hotel, where their daughter, Patti Davis, joined them for dinner.

Before leaving his ranch, Reagan received a detailed written report on the Lebanese crisis from William Clark, his national security adviser. Then the president sent new instructions to his Mideast negotiator, Philip Habib, "responding in detail to points raised by Habib as he continues his peace mission in Beirut," deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes told reporters.

Hereford Man Killed In Shotgun Mishap

A 19-year-old Hereford man was killed Sunday night when a shotgun discharged as a friend who was handing him the gun to check it for faulty firing lost his balance. Harvey Tarango was found face up in a pool of blood in his bedroom at 203 Higgins when Hereford police arrived at the scene. He was breathing rapidly and bleeding profusely from a head wound when an ambulance crew began emergency care. He was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital and died shortly later. Justice of the Peace O.K. Neill ruled the death accidental. Tarango and two friends had just returned from hunting about 7 p.m. Sunday when the accident occurred. Robert Cabezuela told police he wanted to show Tarango a gun that had been malfunctioning, in hopes that Tarango could repair it. He said he put one foot on the bed, and grabbed the gun from the slide action and when he held it with both hands lost his balance. Cabezuela said he saw fire coming out of the barrel and then saw Tarango falling. Family members ran next door to call police. Services for Tarango were set for 2 p.m. today in First Mission Spanish Baptist Church in Morton. Burial will be in Morton Memorial Park (See MISHAP, Page 2)

Farmer's Plow Turned Up Ship?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A farmer clearing his field with a bulldozer turned up a piece of metal that researchers say may belong to a steamer that sank in the Mississippi River in 1865, killing up to 1,500 people in one of history's worst ship disasters. Officials of the National Underwater and Marine Agency, a private, Washington-based firm, have not decided whether to try recovering the sunken Civil War steamer Sultana and the $18,000 in gold believed aboard, one of the researchers, Janita Potter of Memphis, said Monday. She said researchers are still digging in the area for more evidence that the steamer is buried there.

Clements Threatens Audit Of Unemployment Figures

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — With the Texas Employment Commission projecting a rise of up to 2,000 percent in employer taxes just before the November election, Gov. Bill Clements says he may have the unemployment figures audited. Clements told reporters he finds the TEC's figures "suspect" and doesn't think the projected rise in employer taxes jibes with what he called a not "all that significant" increase in unemployment in the state.

TEC announced last week that unemployment in the state hit 7.2 percent in June, the state's highest rate since 1970. But TEC Chairman Nolan Ward said the projected increases in employers' contributions to unemployment insurance are based on "simple arithmetic" and are due to an increasing percentage of layoffs, not the unemployment rate as a whole. Last month, the commission said that if trends continue, employers who now pay $6 per employee for unemployment insurance — the lowest rate in the nation — could face an increase up to $114 per employee after Oct. 1 when the new rate goes into effect. "They are suspect," Clements said of the figures.

Jetliner Crashes, 90 Feared Dead

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet Aeroflot jet carrying passengers to western Africa crashed early today near Moscow's Sheremetyevo Airport, the government news agency Tass reported. Tass said there were victims in the crash, but Soviet officials refused to give details about the number of victims or their nationalities. A Western airline source said the plane was believed to have carried about 90 passengers, and there were no survivors. The airliner, Flight 411, was en route from Moscow to Dakar, Senegal, and Freetown, Sierra Leone, an airport spokeswoman said. She said it crashed during takeoff, scheduled for 12:10 a.m. local time, or 4:10 p.m. EDT Monday. The Ministry of Civil Aviation said a special commission is investigating the cause of the crash. "The Ministry of Civil Aviation expresses deep condolences to the relatives of the victims of the crash," the Tass report said. Aeroflot's official schedule lists the aircraft for the flight as an Ilyushin-62, but it was not known whether it was the 186-passenger version or the 168-passenger version. The airport spokeswoman refused to give further details, saying only that more information may be released Wednesday.

Fireworks, Shingles Blamed In Blaze

HOUSTON (AP) — An arson official blames fireworks and wooden shingles for a blaze that spread to five houses in southwest Houston.

"These wood shingle roofs will just go in a minute," investigator D.R. Whiteley said of the Monday afternoon fire that burned two houses to the ground and badly damaged three others in a two-block area.

No one was hurt, although Whiteley said several firefighters were treated for smoke inhalation.

"The one house was started by fireworks, little bottle rockets," Whiteley said. "We got some spent bottle rockets as evidence. We found one on the roof of the house next door."

The house where the fire started and another about a block and a half away burned to the ground, Whiteley said. He said roofs of three other houses — two next door to the original fire — were destroyed.

Whiteley said a strong breeze blew sparks to the other houses, all of which had wooden shingles.

Transplant Patient

Stable After Use of New Drug

HOUSTON (AP) — The first patient was in stable, good condition today following what was expected to be the first in a series of 35 heart transplants in which a newly developed anti-rejection drug will be used.

A team of surgeons, headed by Dr. Denton Cooley, performed the surgery Monday at Texas Heart Institute on a patient identified only as a 43-year-old man.

Cindy Katz said late Monday the man was in stable, good condition after the surgery involving Cyclosporin A, an immunosuppressant, a drug used to prevent rejection of the transplanted heart.

Ms. Katz said the drug has prevented rejection of a donor heart in 24 of 27 transplants at Stanford University. Dr. Barry Kaham, who worked with Cooley in Monday's surgery, has used Cyclosporin A in more than 80 patients undergoing kidney transplants, she said.

The hospital spokesman said the kidneys were "functioning after a year in more than 80 percent of patients." Kaham is director of the division of organ transplants at the University of Texas Medical School in Houston.

Cabbie Arrested

After Seven-hour

Hostage Incident

HOUSTON (AP) — A man arrested after a seven-hour hostage incident at a south Houston apartment complex said that three people commandeered his cab a week earlier, forced him to drive to the same complex, then robbed and shot him, his brother says.

But Michael Linscomb apparently shot himself in the arm and made up the story that ended near his girlfriend's apartment, his half-brother Craig Thomas said after talking with police Monday.

Michael Linscomb, a 29-year-old cab driver, was charged late Monday with a three-paragraph count accusing him of burglary with intent to commit rape; aggravated sexual assault; and aggravated kidnapping, said Assistant District Attorney Charles Rosenthal. He was held in lieu of $50,000 bond.

The count was filed in an incident in which he allegedly held Cheryl Pearson, 24, and her 6-year-old daughter Chanelle at gunpoint from about 5:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m.

Sgt. Ellis Johnson, who declined to say how police negotiators persuaded Linscomb to give up, said Linscomb tossed several pistols out the front door of his girlfriend's apartment, then walked out, followed by the woman and her daughter.

Thomas said his half-brother had been institutionalized twice, once at Risk State Hospital.

Deputy Chief Dennis Storemski of the special weapons and tactics team at the scene said Ms. Pearson called police about 5:30 a.m. and told officials she had just spoken to Linscomb on the telephone.

She said he was coming to her apartment and that she expected trouble, Storemski said. But by the time officers reached the apartment, Linscomb was already inside, Storemski said.

Four Children Hurt In Texas Church Bus Accident In Colorado

WALSENBURG, Colo. (AP) — Four children were hurt when a church bus from Texas carrying 44 passengers — most of them youngsters — overturned on a highway near here and burst into flames.

The Colorado State Patrol said the bus was transporting youngsters from a Baptist Church in Fort Worth, Texas, to a summer camp near Castle Rock, Colo. when the accident occurred Monday morning about 13 miles north of this southern Colorado city on Interstate 25.

The four victims were hospitalized in Huerfano Memorial Hospital for treatment of minor injuries. Authorities would not release their identities.

It is believed the driver hit a soft shoulder causing the bus to flip over onto its right side. The engine burst into flames — eventually consuming the entire bus — but all occupants managed to evacuate the bus through emergency doors at the back.

Safe Drivers

Harold Finch, Dan Higgins, Tommie Weemes, Jim Holmes, Jerry Deckard, Mike Veazey, Paula Welty, and Steve Louder.

REC Safe Drivers Honored

The cooperative breakfast honoring employees on safe driving records was held recently representing 139 years in driving Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative vehicles without an accident. Seventeen employees were honored at the Thompson House Restaurant in Hereford.

Calvin Stevens of Lubbock, USF&G Insurance Company representative, and Bill Johnson of Plains Insurance, Hereford, presented commemorative pins and sponsored the breakfast for the drivers.

Total miles the cooperatives vehicles were driven from April 1, 1981 to March 31, 1982 were 549,217 miles. Dick Montgomery, Assistant Manager of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, stated that safety is the number one concern of the Cooperative.

"Whenever employees are exposed to accident-causing situations each day, it is important that safety practices be applied to transportation as well. The record of these drivers indicates such safety," Montgomery said. Boyd Collins, Line Superintendent, was cited for 21 years of safe driving and Tommie Weemes, Staking Engineer, had 20 years without an accident.

Astronauts Beginning Report, Engineers Study Performance

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Astronauts Thomas K. Mattingly II and Henry Hartfield Jr. start answering questions today about their week in space while engineers study an apparently poor performance by two solid rocket boosters that put space shuttle Columbia into orbit lower and slower than planned.

Mattingly and Hartfield returned to Earth and a July 4 celebration on Sunday from a seven-day voyage that completed Columbia's flight tests.

The astronauts relaxed on Monday, their first day off in months, but go back to work today. They will spend hours over the next several weeks answering questions from experts and writing a lengthy pilot's report.

Among the debriefers will be Air Force experts, because the fourth flight of Columbia included operation of a secret military payload.

Officials said the spaceship performed very well and has been cleared to start routine operations in the fall.

Experts examining Columbia at Edwards Air Force Base, where it landed Sunday, said it was in "really, really good shape."

"The vehicle overall is in far better shape than it was on the three previous missions," said Jim Harrington, ground operations manager for Columbia.

But there was concern about the solid rocket boosters that on June 27 drilled the winged spacecraft into orbit.

According to Aviation Week and Space Technology, a respected trade publication, the solid rocket boosters provided less thrust than planned.

The magazine emphasized that the less-than-planned performance did not endanger the spacecraft or the crew, but is of concern to engineers because Columbia and other space shuttles using the solid rockets will carry heavier payloads in the future.

Police Answer Routine Calls

Hereford police answered routine vandalism and theft calls during the holiday weekend and arrested a 65-year-old woman who turned herself in at the station for public intoxication.

Boots West on U.S. 60 East reported a broken window Sunday night and $6 in damages to a bike at 819 South 25-Mile Avenue.

Burglary and theft reports were received from:

—401 South 25-Mile Avenue

where a $150 lawn mower was removed.

—215 Knight where an AM-FM cassette player was stolen, then returned.

—607 Ireland which was burglarized and a $400 stereo system was taken.

—417 Avenue J where a $188 bike is missing.

Officers assisted in an ambulance call where a woman had fallen and bruised herself in the alley behind 914 South Schley.

Police checked one minor accident and issued 38 citations during the weekend.

Hereford firemen doused a small grass fire in Veterans' Park at 4:52 p.m. Saturday.

industries, including farm workers, is being assessed. He added that the maximum number of weeks a worker is eligible for unemployment assistance is also being considered raised.

Texas Rural Legal Aid attorney Bill Beardall told the Congressman that many of the farm workers are not covered by unemployment since the harvests don't last long enough for them to qualify for the program. Hance said that a panel met concerning that problem last Wednesday, and that he would check on the results and have the information available soon.

Referring to the nation's depressed economy, Hance said, "I'm convinced that until interest rates come down the economy isn't going to turn around."

He added that cuts in the federal budget were "aimed primarily at areas where the population doesn't vote," and he felt that Cost of Living Adjustments in Social Security and Military and Civil Service pensions should be "slowed down" to help balance the budget.

Hance said that Congress' decision to send $50 million for aid to Lebanon was a good decision, and one that he voted for despite some criticism received in the wake of economic troubles at home.

"If you look at saving Lebanon, then it's a small investment," he said. "If Lebanon becomes pro-United States with the PLO ousted, then it (the aid) will be worth it."

The Congressman said that the best result of the Israeli invasion of Lebanon would be "for the PLO to get out, for Israel to withdraw, and for Syria to get out, letting Lebanon become a country again."

In regard to taxes, Hance said that support for a Flat Rate system is growing, but that intense lobbying, primarily by large corporations, is aimed at the idea. If implemented, he said the system would result in a flat tax rate of from eight to 14 percent for all taxpayers.

Hance followed his meeting here with a 7:30 p.m. session in Friona Monday, and had Town Hall meetings scheduled in Dimmitt, Earth, Muleshoe, and Littlefield today. The Congressman will also conduct meetings in Slaton, Morton, Levelland, Lubbock, Lamesa, Seminole, Plains, and Brownfield this week.

tanks and troops and cut off vital supplies in an attempt to force them out, rather than storm the stronghold and risk bloody street warfare.

Informed Lebanese sources estimate there 8,000 guerrillas and 500,000 civilians trapped in predominantly Moslem west Beirut, and Lebanese and Palestinian leaders have accused Israel of trying to starve out the remnants of the PLO. Israel denied the accusations.

Habib put together another Israeli-Palestinian cease-fire at sundown Monday to halt day-long exchanges of artillery, rocket and mortar fire that marked the heaviest fighting around Beirut since Habib's previous cease-fire was announced June 25.

The shadowed moon hung in the southern sky like the ghost of a moldy apricot, in Chicago barely visible through the haze and urban glare.

Earlier, Larry Ciupik, associate astronomer at the Adler Planetarium, said the moon "could appear copper-colored, or orange, or even brick-red." He and other scientists had predicted a more vivid than usual color for this eclipse because of the large amounts of volcanic dust spewed into the upper atmosphere recently by volcanoes such as Mexico's El Chichonal.

The mood of many along the Chicago waterfront appeared to be one of resigned anticlimax — the show wasn't as spectacular as the weekend fireworks, but it was free, the night was warm and the beer was cold.

It was also an active night for scientists. Several amateur astronomers gathered at Jones Beach in New York.

The president of the Amateur Astronomers Association, John Marshall, held an eclipse party at the Bear Mountain Summit in Harriman, N.Y.

Several hundred visitors had a chance for close views of the moon through 12½-inch reflecting telescopes set up near the Adler Planetarium dome by the Chicago Astronomical Society.

One reason for the long eclipse, scientists said, was that the moon was near the most distant point it ever reaches in its orbit around the Earth. The farther the moon is from the Earth, the longer it takes to pass through the Earth's shadow.

The length of the eclipse also was caused by the moon's passing through the center of the Earth's shadow. Usually, it passes through a smaller area of shadow above or below the center.

For a total eclipse to occur, the Earth must be between the moon and the sun, with all three bodies in a straight line. A lunar eclipse can occur only when the moon is full because that is the only time the moon is in a position opposite the sun.

The Hospital Giveaway

If your luncheon club charges everybody the same, few will eat salads; most will eat steak.

There is a disinclination to eat less. If you go to the hospital and the bill is going to be paid by an insurance company or by a government agency, it is understandable if outpatients become in-patients, if you demand more and stay longer — often more and longer than necessary.

Yet at the end of the year when all the bills are in and added up and divided by numbers of patients, the numbers indicate the cost of hospitalization is soaring.

Another analogy that will help us understand something we need to understand:

In the representative state, Tennessee, there are 160 hospitals. This year they will provide $2.2 billion worth of health services.

But for almost a fourth of that they will not get paid!

For 23 percent of that $2.2 billion the hospitals will be uncompensated because of underpayment of Medicare, Medicaid, bad debts and patients who are not eligible for "government money" and have no money of their own, but must be treated anyway. It is not unusual for government to pay 63 percent of a charge, the patient to pay 7 percent — and nobody to pay 30 percent.

That adds to the costs that paying patients must pay; that adds to the much-mentioned escalating cost of hospitalization.

In the case of Tennessee hospitals, the care which hospitals will provide this year for which they will receive no payment amounts to $500 million, or 23 percent of that state's total hospital bill.

That is equivalent to an automobile dealer being required to give away every fourth car!

He's got to charge more for the other three!

Tennessee hospitals also economize in every way they know how — group purchasing, careful energy management and use, industrial engineering, delegation of non-medical services.

Memphis has become a medical mecca with 18 hospitals, five of them big ones. Memphis Baptist Hospital with its more than 2,000 beds is the largest in the world — and still growing.

Methodist Hospital, Memphis, is among our nation's big-three non-tax-supported hospitals.

There may be no place in America where medical care is more efficient and more available.

Yet, despite all the factors tending to increase costs — expensive equipment, third-party payment, deadbeats and gratuitous services — health-care costs in Tennessee are 30 percent less than the national average.

So everything I've said is likely worse wherever else you are.

How To Deal With 'Bums'

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm an 18-year-old high school student who lives in Denver and reads your column avidly. Please help me figure something out.

On a recent trip to Los Angeles a vagrant approached me and asked me for money. He said, "I've had the flu. I'm hungry and haven't had a drink in two days." I politely refused, thinking I should not contribute to his alcoholism.

When I was in the middle of the next block a toothless hobo asked if I could spare "a little something for a meal." He looked so pathetic I wanted to give him the ice cream cone I had just bought at the Santa Monica pier. I lied and said I had no money.

Soon I felt so guilty I wanted to rush back, find the two bums and slip them each a couple of bucks.

What is the correct way to deal with these people? Tell them to go to work? Give them money? Suggest Alcoholics Anonymous? I would appreciate a response to this question, and I'll bet others would, too. There seem to be more panhandlers on the street now than ever before. — Confused In Colorado

DEAR CONFUSED: This is how my father dealt with the problem, and I learned from him. When a down-and-out (drunk or sober) asked Abe Friedman for a handout, he was told, "I won't give you money, but let's go into this restaurant up the street. You can order a good meal and I'll pay for it." My father was then certain that he never turned down a hungry man, nor did he contribute to anyone's booze problem. I'm sure this is the way you want to live your life, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for those who are complaining about a penny shortage. A simple solution would be to require merchants to round off their prices of trying to make things look cheaper to the already bamboozled consumer by pricing items at 99 cents, $4.99 and so on.

What really burns me up is $2.99, or two for $5.98. The people who set these prices must think the customers are morons. Jusy Sign Me — Buyer Beware

DEAR BUYER: Even if the merchants rounded off the price, most states have a sales tax that means you're stuck with the pennies again. There is no escape from the tyranny of copper. Resign yourself.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a suggestion that may be a great help to people who frequently get colds and headaches and blame their sinuses on the neighbors' kids, open windows or overheated buildings.

For years I worked in an office and couldn't figure out why I always had a cold. One day I remembered how upset I was when a colleague who had a runny nose and hacking cough stopped at my desk to borrow my phone. That very day I went out and bought a bottle of liquid cleanser and wiped the mouthpiece. I have kept a bottle of cleanser in my desk drawer ever since and have used it daily.

I also got into the habit of wiping off the mouthpieces of the phones at home. It has been 15 years since I have had a cold. Maybe it's psychological, but it works for me. Spread the word, Toots. — Feeling Fine, Thank You, In Va.

DEAR FEELING FINE: Splendid idea. It costs very little and makes sense. Thanks for sharing.

4-H'ers Attend Camp

BY ROBBY VANN
County Extension Agent

Eleven local 4-H'ers and one agent attended the Electric Camp June 21-25 at Camp Scott Able near Cloud Croft, N.M.

The group rode on chartered buses to the site and arrived at the camp by 5 p.m. Monday. After arranging their sleeping quarters and eating supper, things were rolling.

There were organized games and folk dancing each night, followed by a regular dance.

Tuesday morning the 4-H'ers were divided into teams for tournament activities which continued all week. The tournaments consisted of volley ball (my favorite), ping pong, horse shoes, washers, and shuffle board, of which my team won none (rats!!!)

Oh! I nearly forgot the hike up the mountain (big mountain), of which I went about 100 yards before giving out.

The group also attended 3½ hour workshops on electricity. They included home wiring, the heat pump (where they also assembled a 4-way plug) and one on microwave cooking (the samples were delicious).

The group, exhausted after a week of non-stop fun and learning, loaded on the buses Friday after breakfast for the journey home, sitting of course, by their favorite boyfriend or girlfriend of the week.

Those attending the camp from Deaf Smith County were Melissa Brumley, Crystal Finley, Polly West, Kathy Middleton, Stacie Kemp, Phillip Webster, Brad Walser, Doug Evans, Chad Stephens, Scott Robbins, Mike McCrummen and myself.

Thompsons Lead Tour To World's Fair

Robert and Alice Thompson, escorts for Trailways Tours of Amarillo, have returned from an 11-day tour which included a day at the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tenn. Forty-four people participated in the tour.

Stops were made at Texarkana, Hot Springs, Ark., Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. A city tour of Memphis included a visit to Graceland, the mansion and estate of the late Elvis Presley.

A stop at Chattanooga, Tenn., included a tour of Lookout Mountain and dinner at the Chattanooga Choo Choo.

The group then traveled through the Great Smokey Mountains to Asheville, N.C., where they visited Biltmore Mansion and gardens, and the Cherokee Indian Reservation.

After stops at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and Pigeon Forge, the group spent a day at the World's Fair, followed by two days at Nashville. There the group was given a city tour, and enjoyed a night at the Grand Ole Opry and an all-day visit to Opryland, U.S.A.

After the scenic drive across Tennessee and Arkansas, the group stopped overnight at Russellville, Ark., where they had a farewell banquet. The tour ended in Amarillo the following day.

4-H Fashion Revue Scheduled Friday

The Deaf Smith County 4-H will hold its County Fashion Revue Friday at the Library in the Heritage Room. Those participating will be judged beginning at 10 a.m. There are 15 girls entered in this year's fashion revue.

The Style Show and awards will be held at Sugarland Mall beginning at 2 p.m. that afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend. The winners will be announced at that time and will represent Deaf Smith County on July 29 at the District Fashion Revue in Amarillo.

Those people in charge of the Style Show this year are Naomi Stokesberry, Janice Konkright, Kelly Stokesberry, Heather Gee, and Sandra Straffuss.

At Wits End

BY ERMA BOMBECK

My husband came into the kitchen the other night, dipped his spoon into a bowl and said, "Ummm. Tastes terrific! What is it?"

I said, "Chicken, bacon bits, onions and kidneys."

"What do you call it?"

"The dog's dinner. We're having beans and franks. Go wash up."

"Do I want to know what's in this bottle filled with brown fluid?"

"It's a new beverage for dogs who are sick of drinking just water. It's flavored with beef."

"That's quite a jump for someone who drinks from a toilet," he said. "Besides, how do you know our dog is sick of drinking just water? Does he say, 'Yuuuck,' and spit it out?"

My husband had a point. We've never had a dog who sang, talked, wrote notes or communicated with us in any way.

"We just have to trust someone," I said.

And trust we have. During the last five or ten years, I've seen the selection of dog food grow from a couple bags of nuggets by the grass seed near the door to an entire aisle of options. On blind faith, I've lugged in cheese and beef pellets, dry food that turns sensuous in its own gravy, jerky snacks, liver-flavored cookies, bones that whiten their teeth and cans of gourmet dog food to combat boredom.

"Let me ask you a question," said my husband. "Has this dog ever gotten excited about any dog products touted on television?"

"You know the only time he reacts to anything on TV is when he goes to bed during PBS pledge week."

"He doesn't care," said my husband. "For all we know, he's probably a vegetarian and doesn't know how to tell us. We could throw him a raw potato every day and he'd be happy as a clam." He tilted the bottle of beef-flavored drink, took a sip and winced.

"What did you expect?" I sighed. "Gusto?"

"Whattya wanta bet? The only way he'll drink it is out of the toilet."

Shuttle Opening To New Astronauts

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The jack-of-all-trades era of the astronaut ended when Columbia flew home from its fourth orbital mission. The age of the new breed, "astronaut specialist," begins with flight number five.

Crews for each of the next four shuttle flights include two pilot-astronauts and two mission specialists, or non-pilot astronauts.

The ninth flight, set for September 1983, will include six men: Two pilots, two mission specialists and two payload specialists, including one astronaut from either the Netherlands, West Germany or Switzerland.

This represents a fundamental change in space travel for the United States.

From the beginning of America's space program, astronauts were trained for every job in space that might be needed. And each astronaut was trained for a specific mission.

Every man aboard each of the Apollo flights could do the job of every other crewman. Each astronaut, even those who started out as scientists, was a highly trained pilot. And the pilot-astronauts became highly trained science technicians.

Test-pilot astronauts who landed on the moon spent months before their missions training as geologists. One expert who reviewed their work said the men of Apollo were all "competent field geologists."

Scientist-astronauts selected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration spent their first year learning to fly high-performance jets. They were all able to take the controls of the spacecraft.

On Skylab, which involved missions lasting for weeks, the pilot-astronauts became experts on instruments studying the Earth and the sun. They also were trained for medical emergencies and each could perform minor procedures, such as pulling teeth, stitching wounds, giving shots and drawing blood.

The space shuttle is changing the need for such extensive cross-training.

"With the shuttle," Johnson Space Center Director Christopher Kraft said once, "anybody can fly into space."

Astronauts are split into distinct groups based on the jobs they will have in space.

Pilot-astronauts will fly the craft. Unlike Ken Mattingly and Henry Hartsfield on Columbia's fourth flight, the pilot-astronauts will not perform experiments or operate instruments in the payload.

Their job, said Charles Lewis, a flight director, will be "flying the vehicle to satisfy the payload users."

Mission specialists will be responsible for the basic goal of the mission, and for the general operation of the experiments or the payloads. They will operate the robot arm that maneuvers cargo packages.

Payload specialists will concentrate on the specific cargo. They will be the in-space agents of customers paying to fly the payload. Some payload specialist in the future may not even be employed by NASA, but, rather, by the customer. A manufacturer, for instance, could fly a company engineer whose only job would be to concentrate on his firm's payload.

The changes will ripple throughout the manned spaceflight system, dramatically reshaping the operation of Mission Control, that earthbound big brother that has guided all operations on earlier spaceflights.

In the fourth shuttle flight, the first separate control center was put into operation. Mattingly and Hartsfield, operating a secret military experiment package, communicated directly with an Air Force controller in Sunnyvale, Calif., who was known only as "paycom." He directed operation of the secret experiment. It was the first time a flying astronaut talked directly with a paying customer instead of NASA controllers.

In the future, there will be several separate control centers. They are already being developed at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in California and at the Goddard Spaceflight Center in Maryland. Eventually, even private companies or universities could have control centers for operation of specific payloads.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

Notice to El Paso Area Customers

Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell adopted the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to merge the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting new rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en la cual Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.

Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso

Con vigencia a partir del 1o de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas de Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone unir las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se aplican al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que resulta de ésta unión se ha archivado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission), al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y está disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para larga distancia, cualquier cambio en las mismas también afectaría a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

Man Charged in Killer Blaze That Kills 6, Leaves 12 or More Missing

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP) — A man who police say set fire to a sofa at his niece's apartment during a fit of rage was charged with igniting a killer blaze an hour later that left six people dead and another 12 to 20 missing.

"You did it. Why did you do it?" the niece was screaming at the suspect when police arrived, officials said.

More than 120 people were homeless today after the fire swept through two downtown apartment buildings Monday. Police said some of the missing may have been at holiday gatherings away from home.

"Flames were crashing all around," tenant Richard Chute said, describing his family's escape.

As fire and thick, black smoke shot above the twin, five-story brick buildings, several tenants clung to ledges until firefighters could raise ladders and rescue them.

Police said the death toll would have been much higher except that two officers on patrol smelled smoke and went to investigate.

"If we hadn't happened to be there, probably another 60 people would have died," said patrolman Michael Dimaria.

Firefighters still were soaking the smoldering rubble early today as rescue workers searched for possible victims.

"The bodies are badly burned. They're taking out parts of bodies. It's going to take quite some time," said Ken Borowski of the Waterbury Red Cross, which set up shelters for the homeless.

The Waterbury Police Department reported at least six deaths.

Police said they did not know how many of those still unaccounted for actually were in the buildings when the fire broke out.

"The building superintendent says some people were away for the holiday," said Janet O'Donnell of the Red Cross.

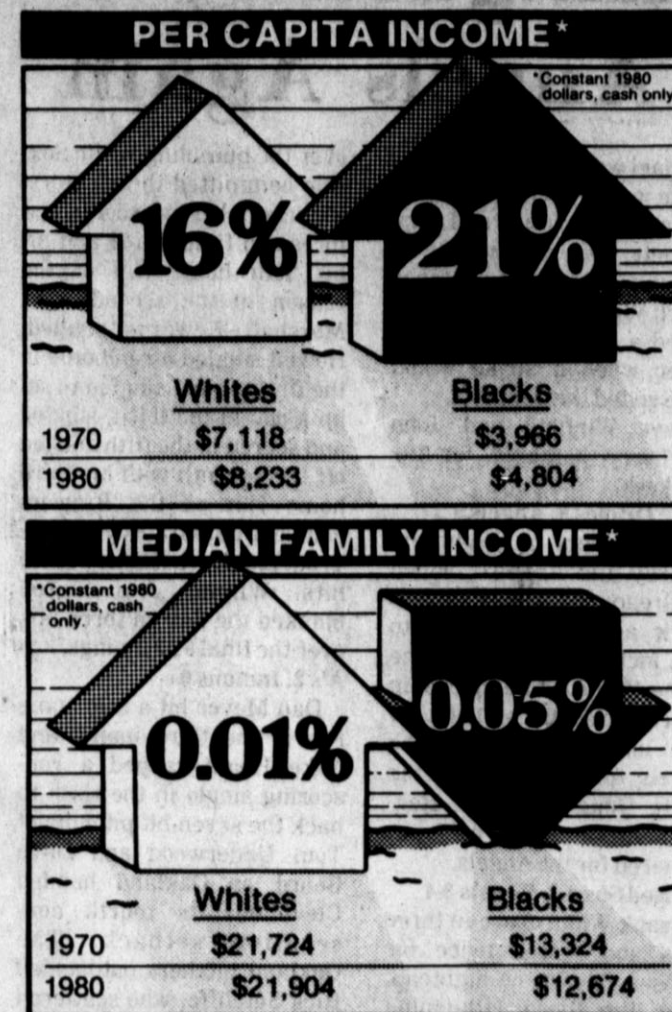

As many as 165 people may have lived in the buildings, according to the Red Cross.

Borowski said it was difficult to obtain exact numbers because the buildings, which housed mainly low-income people, frequently had transients staying in them.

Waterbury Mayor Edward D. Bergin said, "This is the worst fire, to my knowledge, in the city's history."

Patrolman Dimaria said that when he arrived, one apartment was on fire. "Within a few minutes, the whole building was engulfed in flames — it all went up," he said.

CLOSING THE GAP? Two Views of Black-White Incomes

SOURCE: Census Bureau NEA/Mark Gabrenya

Depending on which set of figures analyzed, the income of American blacks either gained or lost ground in comparison to whites. On the basis of per capita income data from the 1980 Census, it gained. Black income still trailed the white figure by a wide margin but showed a 21 percent gain compared to 16 percent over 1970. Median family income, the traditional measure of relative incomes, showed a different picture. Blacks not only trailed whites but lost ground in the decade. Census authorities say the difference is a consequence of a decrease in family size for both blacks and whites. But the black decline was greater, resulting in a greater decline in family income even though individual blacks, as measured by per capita income, were significantly better off.

Paul Harvey News Time to Redefine Insanity Plea?

The judge said that the prosecution had to prove beyond a doubt that Hinckley was sane.

How in the world is anybody going to prove anybody "sane"?

This morose, lovesick loner purposefully purchased devastator bullets, deliberately contemplated his crime, then carried it out

But it can be and was argued that anybody who would do something like that is "innocent by reason of insanity."

Unless all the steam blows off in the whistle, this judicial travesty may be the shock treatment our society needs.

Flip Wilson's comedy justified any misconduct with the plea: "The devil made me do it."

It is not funny if that plea can set an assassin free.

The accelerated escalation of violent crime since the early 1960s may be traced in part to drug misuse, lurid literature, lax school standards, parental neglect, many factors.

But nothing has encouraged it more than the fact the CRIMINALS ALMOST INVARIABLY GET AWAY WITH IT!

Individual states, responding to public pressure, have sought longer confinement, tougher parole, mandatory sentencing —

But through the exhausting appeals process criminals continued to get away with it. A confessed rapist in Seattle freed a woman judge because he was "afraid of prison."

A convicted murderer in Montana freed because the judge had neglected to tell the jurors what "deliberate homicide" means.

Our justice system in such an instance becomes a mockery.

Maybe it took the Hinckley verdict to trigger a necessary regurgitation after a generation of judicial jibberish.

South Dakota's Sen. Larry Pressler says "our system has gone too far in protecting the criminal"; he has started through the legislative mill an effort to abolish the insanity defense.

Attorney General William French Smith says it is time to redefine the insanity plea.

California voters have voted curtailment of the insanity defense.

Alaska likewise. Piling laws on laws does not always accomplish their purpose.

Public opinion polls reflect an overwhelming majority of Americans favor capital punishment.

Thirty-seven states now provide for capital punishment. A thousand prisoners are in death row right now awaiting capital punishment.

Yet, only four have been executed in 10 years.

The rest are still spared by a drawn-out appeals process or by timidity of state officials.

Maybe our nation had to see on TV a President of the United States felled by a fusillade of bullets.

Maybe we had to see the blood-stained pavement where his aides fell.

Maybe we had to see his former Press Secretary in a wheelchair forever, his faculties limited forever.

And then maybe we had to see the gunman escape prison on an insanity plea before we would come to grips with the masochism which says we, altogether as much as he; we are sick.

Jobless Northerners Find Tarnished 'Gold Coast' in Oil-Rich Louisiana

By KEVIN NOBLET Associated Press Writer

HOUMA, La. (AP) — The jobless still flock to south Louisiana with visions of ready jobs for high pay, apparently unaware of the tarnish a shrinking job market has put on the oil-rich "Gold Coast."

Many have wound up in welfare lines and charity centers like the ones they vowed to leave behind when they fled the hard-hit factory towns of the North, officials say.

"It's been unreal — the number of people from Michigan alone," said Celeste Gaudet, manager of the state welfare office here, about 60 miles southwest of New Orleans.

One out of every 10 people who enter her office seeking food stamps or shelter has recently arrived from out of state — lured by the hope of work in the lucrative drilling industry, she said.

"They think this will be their dream, that they'll walk the streets of gold," she said. "When they get here, they're flabbergasted."

The recession has made a rude sweep along Louisiana's Gulf coast, producing cutbacks and layoffs in a region that had reveled in an oil and gas boom for many years.

But word of the slump hasn't reached the migrants — whose notions of south Louisiana wages and living costs often weren't realistic to begin with.

"Many of them are coming from factories where they made $10 or $12 an hour," said Linda Carroll, a placement official for the state Department of Labor in Lafayette.

"They're expecting more than a company here will offer them — $4 or $5 an hour for unskilled labor."

The only available figures on the state's jobless migrants come from the Louisiana Department of Labor. In the past two years, there's been a doubling of the number of people who at any given time are collecting unemployment benefits transferred from other states — from about 3,350 to 6,700.

Ten years ago, the figure was 1,200. That does not include the many more whose unemployment benefits have run out, or who weren't collecting any to begin with.

The number of Louisiana residents collecting unemployment has risen to 68,000, an increase of 25,000 over two years. During that time, state unemployment has risen from about 6 percent to nearly 10 percent.

Victor Bussie, president of the state AFL-CIO, predicted the figure would reach 12 percent by the end of the year.

A spokesman for the labor department said the state has no program to discourage migrants from coming to Louisiana — despite the tightening situation.

Meanwhile, housing and other living costs continue to reflect the steep increases that occurred when oilfield workers flooded this bayou region, transforming sleepy fishing villages into boom towns.

Ms. Gaudet said the average monthly rent for a two-bedroom apartment is about $350. With a security deposit, it means an initial investment of at least $700.

Most of the migrants don't have that kind of stake, she said.

"Sometimes they will have four or five little ones packed in the car with everything they own," Ms. Gaudet said. "They've used all their money to get here, and they have nothing to feed their families with."

"A lot of them just live in their cars."

Many eventually pack up their frustrations and move on, disappearing as quietly and as quickly as they arrived, on foot or crammed in battered automobiles.

Some are resolved to put down roots here anyway, saying the situation in south Louisiana is still better than their former homes in the industrial North.

"You can't believe the lines up there — for welfare, for jobs. It's just crazy," said Earl Waggoner of Blissville, Mich.

Waggoner, 33, wound up in the Grand Bois campground in Montegut, a hamlet south of Houma, when his hopes for a $12-an-hour offshore job didn't pan out.

He took up residence in a broken-down, converted schoolbus after he arrived in April. Its owner rents him a bunk for $25 a week.

Waggoner lives on odd jobs but still plans to move his wife and two young sons down as soon as he gets steady work. He lost his foreman's job in a Michigan lumberyard and said he would have planned differently if he'd known how tough it was going to be.

"Somebody ought to tell those people up north," he said. "Because there's going to be a lot more people than me coming down."

Many Elevators in Texas Not Government Inspected

DALLAS (AP) — A state housing official says a "calamity potential" exists for the thousands of people who ride elevators in Texas skyscrapers because most of the state's elevators are not subject to government inspection.

"Imagine your risk in a major building in Dallas," said Roy Fewell, code and standards specialist for the Texas Community Affairs Housing Division.

"You could have an elevator collapse that was filled with people. You could have a lot of people killed or injured," he said.

Texas, one of the few states that does not require elevator inspections, has left it to cities to set up their own standards and inspection programs.

But few have, according to Walter G. Martin, state director of occupational safety.

Houston is the only major Texas city with an elevator inspection program, Martin said.

"Anybody can put up anything they want to in the state of Texas as far as an elevator is concerned," Martin said. "We have elevators in the state that have probably been in operation for 50 years that have probably never had a safety inspection."

An average of 15 people die each year and 400 others are injured in elevator accidents in the United States and Canada, according to officials of the Otis Elevator Co.

Officials say accidents involving Dallas' 2,500 elevators are rare. In 1976, a Dallas man fell to his death when he stepped out of an elevator that had stopped between floors.

Neither the city nor the state keeps records of elevator accidents.

Meanwhile, the state relies mostly on the industry to police itself — a situation that some industry experts believe dangerous.

"It's not the kind of thing that's going to kill a lot of people right now, said Robert Lauer, engineering vice president of Schindler Haughton Elevator Corp of Toledo, Ohio. "But it'll make its mark in time."

The state made one attempt to regulate elevator safety, but abandoned the program under the mistaken belief the federal government supervised such programs, officials said.

In 1967, the Texas Legislature created the Texas Occupational Safety Board to draft rules to prevent elevator hazards. The board proposed regulations in 1973 that would have required building owners to have their elevators inspected annually by qualified mechanics.

The Legislature cut off funding for the program in 1974, believing that responsibility for such programs rested with the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

But the federal government relies on state and local governments to make sure elevators are safe, said Gil Sautler, regional OSHA administrator in Dallas.

OSHA only has the authority to check temporary elevators at construction sites, Sautler said.

"We have no responsibility for any of the permanent elevator installations," Sautler said. "That is either a state or local jurisdiction responsibility."

Yankees Dislike Kingdome; McGregor Stifles Angels Again

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Seattle may be a nice place to live, but the New York Yankees certainly don't like to visit there.

On the other hand, anywhere Baltimore's Scott McGregor happens to run in to the California Angels is paradise.

The Yankees, who have struggled most of the season, had won four in a row when they hit Seattle Monday night. Seattle hit right back. The surprising Mariners rallied for two runs in the seventh inning to knock off the Yankees 5-4 and move into third place in the American League West.

"I hate this ballpark," New York's Lou Piniella said of the Seattle Kingdome, where the Yankees have dropped 20 of 31 games.

Meanwhile, two-run homers by Rick Dempsey, Eddie Murray and Floyd Rayford powered the Baltimore Orioles to an 8-5 victory over California as McGregor recorded his 12th consecutive victory over the Angels.

Elsewhere in the AL, the division leaders, Boston and Kansas City, split a doubleheader, the Red Sox taking the opener 4-3 in 11 innings and the Royals winning the nightcap 4-3; the Milwaukee Brewers crushed the Chicago White Sox 10-4, the Oakland A's blanked the Cleveland Indians 2-0, the Minnesota Twins downed the Detroit Tigers 5-3 and the Texas Rangers nipped the Toronto Blue Jays 3-2.

Julio Cruz singled home the tying run for Seattle with two out in the seventh inning, then stole second and third and scored the winner on Dave Edler's single. Cruz and Edler also singled in the first inning before Bruce Bochte's RBI double. And in the third, following a leadoff walk, Cruz laced an RBI double and scored on a single by Edler.

New York Manager Gene

Michael was thrown out of the game in the seventh inning by home plate umpire Larry Barnett for continuing an argument started by catcher Butch Wynegar after Barnett called a close pitch a ball to Edler when a strike would have ended the inning.

Dave Winfield and John Mayberry homered for the Yankees.

Orioles 8, Angels 5

The homers by Dempsey, Murray and Rayford helped McGregor boost his career mark against California to 12-2, including the final game of the 1979 AL Championship Series. He scattered 10 hits in 81-3 innings but held the Angels to one run until the ninth. Doug DeCinces, Reggie Jackson and Fred Lynn homered for the Angels.

Red Sox 4-3, Royals 3-4

Frank White drove in three runs and scored twice for Kansas City in the nightcap, after Jim Rice's 11th-inning sacrifice fly gave Boston a 4-3 triumph in the opener in a battle between the AL division leaders. The split enabled the Royals to take a one-game lead over California in the AL West, while Boston's lead over Milwaukee in the AL East was sliced to one-half game.

White hit a two-run homer in the first inning of the second game. With the score tied 2-2 - Carl Yastrzemski homered for one of Boston's runs - Willie Wilson led off the Kansas City fifth with a single, the sixth consecutive game in which he has at least two hits.

Brewers 10, White Sox 4

Robin Yount belted a two-run homer and Roy Howell hit a solo shot and three singles to lead Milwaukee over the bumbling White Sox, who committed three errors. Yount singled and scored in a three-run first inning and hit his 13th home run of the season in the second after Marshall Edwards singled. Howell singled a run home in the first inning, singled to set up a run in the third, singled and scored in the fifth and led off the seventh with his third home run as the Brewers pounded Lamarr Hoyt, Steve Trout and Kevin Hickey for 15 hits. Winner Jim Slaton blanked the Sox on three hits over the final 61-3 innings.

A's 2, Indians 0

Dan Meyer hit a solo home run in the third inning and Mike Heath rapped a run-scoring single in the sixth to back the seven-hit pitching of Tom Underwood and Dave Beard as Oakland handed Cleveland its fourth consecutive setback. The Oakland pitchers outdudded Rick Sutcliffe, who scattered seven hits in a route-going performance.

Rangers 3, Blue Jays 2

Billy Sample extended his hitting streak to 17 games with a third-inning single which drove in the first run in a three-run burst. Texas' Jon Matlack and Danny Darwin outdudded Toronto's Luis Leal, who yielded only six hits. In the Texas third inning, Larry Parrish was hit by a pitch and forced by Don Werner, who went to third on a single by Mark Wagner and scored on Sample's single. Wagner scored on a single by Doug Flynn and Sample scored as Buddy Bell grounded into a force play.

No True Champ Present

Who's No. One Netter?

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP
Special Correspondent

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - Jimmy Connors is the new Wimbledon tennis champion, but who's No.1?

Is it John McEnroe, the beaten finalist, who was so rated on the 1981 ATP computer and into half of 1982 before losing to Connors in the Wimbledon final?

Is it Bjorn Borg, the five-time Wimbledon and six-time French titleholder who, for reasons of pride, decided to sit this one out?

How about Ivan Lendl, the sensational young Czech who won nine straight tournaments before being so unceremoniously halted by Sweden's "Whiz Kid," Mats Wilander, in the French championships?

Or Guillermo Vilas, Argentina's comeback topspin clay court specialist who won 45 consecutive matches before also losing to Wilander at Paris?

Or maybe Connors, who now has beaten McEnroe twice in three weeks, the last time at the Queen's Club?

This is the mess that bigtime men's tennis finds itself today - a lot of guys all dressed up with no place to go.

There's no true champion, no No.1.

This is one of tennis' tragedies, emphasized over the weekend here by Fred Perry, the great British champion who dominated the game in the early 1930s.

"A true champion," Perry said, "can't be a part player. He must be an all-around champion, capable of winning on any surface. We don't have that now nor the prospect of one any time soon."

"Today's players pick the tournaments on the surface they like. They dodge the surfaces they don't like. Furthermore, they have no feeling for tradition. They skip tournaments such as the French, Wimbledon and Australian without a second thought to play an exhibition somewhere."

"Only in the major events can a true champion emerge."

The last ATP (Association of Tennis Professionals) had McEnroe No.1 and Connors No.2, with Lendl and Vilas following. But a new computer ranking introduced by World Championship Tennis, covering all tournaments in the world with a $25,000 or over prize list, had Lendl No.1, Connors No.2, followed by Vilas and McEnroe.

Until the computer craze, tennis players were judged on their ability in the Grand Slam events - the Australian, Wimbledon, French and U.S., the first two on grass, the French on clay and the American successively on grass, clay and cement in order.

Only two men ever won the four events in a single year. America's Don Budge did it in 1938 and Australia's Rod Laver in 1962 as an amateur and 1969 as a pro.

The tennis establishment should eliminate the Australian as a Grand Slam event because of the distance of the bottom-of-the-world continent which no longer attracts representative fields.

The wise thing to do would be to add the Grand Prix Masters, played indoor on canvas, as the fourth leg behind the French, Wimbledon and the U.S., providing four major tests on four different surfaces (carpet, clay, grass and concrete).

"Then let the guys go for the Big Four. Does anybody dare?"

Donald French, Line Supervisor, Lubbock.

Investor-owned utilities, like Southwestern Public Service Company, provide about 77% of our nation's electricity. The cost of producing this power has increased each year due to inflation, the high cost of fuel, and many other factors. Keep this in mind when you receive your next electric bill, then take a look around your home. Chances are that your air conditioner, range, and television all use electricity. Remember, our country's standard of living depends on the availability of electric power—let's not take that power for granted.

John Merchant, Electrical Engineer, Carlsbad.

SPS' bond rating is AA. This rating allows investors to judge our company's financial condition and its ability to repay borrowed money. Bond-rating firms consider the financial health of the company, the stability of our fuel supply, management goals, construction, and many other factors. Companies with the highest bond ratings pay the lowest interest rates when borrowing money. SPS' solid rating allows it to raise capital for construction at lower interest rates, which saves our customers money.

World Cup Soccer Semifinals Slated

MADRID, Spain (AP) — In a tournament which has had no shortage of upsets, Italy turned in the biggest of them all when it blew favorite Brazil out of the World Cup soccer championships.

Paulo Rossi, who resumed playing only two months ago after a two-year suspension for his involvement in a bribery scandal, scored all three goals for Italy in Monday's 3-2 shocker that put the Italians into the semifinals.

Both coaches agreed after the spine-tingling thriller that Brazil's hunger for its fifth straight victory had been its undoing. Playing desperately for a victory when a tie would have been enough, the South Americans spent too much time surrounding the Italian goal and let the slippery Rossi roam free.

Spain, meanwhile, made peace with its fans by battling England to a scoreless tie — a result which meant nothing for Spain in the standings, but which sent England home and gave West Germany a place among the Final Four.

Poland on Sunday fought the Soviet Union to a 0-0 tie to nail down a semifinal berth, while a surprisingly powerful French team swamped Northern Ireland 4-1 to advance.

That set up the first all-European semifinals since 1966, and gave the Europeans bragging rights in the eternal debate over the merits of European and South American soccer.

The semifinals on Thursday will match Poland and Italy in Barcelona — a rematch of their 0-0 first-round meeting — and France vs. West Germany in Seville. The losers play for third place Saturday in Alicante then the winners go at it for the Cup Sunday in Madrid.

None of those matches figures to top the drama or the shock of the Italian victory in Barcelona.

Italy began with three ties, then beat defending champion Argentina 2-1. Brazil had four straight victories in this tournament, had not lost a World Cup match since 1974 and had not missed the Cup semifinals since 1966. It was generally conceded before start of the tournament that Brazil's talent and innovation put it above the other 23 teams in the tournament.

Rossi scored in the fifth, 25th and 75th minutes. Brazil's Socrates matched the first goal in the 12th minute, Roberto Falcao tied the score again in the 67th minute, but a furious Brazilian assault on the goal was unable to equal Rossi's third goal.

Brazil, which won the Cup in 1958, 1962 and 1970, was a runaway favorite to become the first team to win four. Now, West Germany, winners in 1954 and 1974, and Italy, champions of 1934 and 1938, have a chance to match Brazil's record of three.

England also played desperately for a victory, which it needed advance, but was frustrated by a determined Spanish defense egged on by flag-waving countrymen who nearly filled the 90,000-seat Santiago Bernabeu Stadium.

The Spanish, who had lost twice and whose one win and one tie were tainted by controversial officiating, treated the 0-0 tie with England as a victory.

Rodeo Winners

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Dixon of New Zealand broke away from the pack at the four-mile mark and won the Pepsi Challenge 10,000-meter national championship in 28 minutes, 12.3 seconds.

The reason there are very few dodgem rides in amusement parks any more is that you're tired of the game by the time you get to the park.

Haynie Resting Following Victory in Jackson Classic

TORONTO (AP) — Even a trip to dreamland can be a little tiring. So a little rest is on the agenda for Sandra Haynie this week following her victory in the $200,000 Peter Jackson Classic.

"I'm on a roll, I know it, but I'll die if I keep going," Haynie said. "This is the sixth straight week for me."

"I need a rest, so I'll be passing up Wheeling (W. Va.) next week."

Haynie sank a 10-foot putt for a par on the final hole Sunday to defeat Beth Daniel by one stroke. The victory enabled the 39-year-old Haynie to become the first player in the history of the Ladies Professional Golf Association to win the three designated major tournaments — the Peter Jackson Classic, LPGA and U.S. Women's Open.

"I didn't realize that," said Haynie, who shot a final-round 68 for a 280, eight-under-par total. "I'll have to remember for my scrap book."

The past few weeks have been quite a whirl for Haynie, who captured the Rochester International in Pittsford, N.Y., June 27. The LPGA Hall of Famer is in the second year of a comeback after four relatively inactive seasons.

"This is a fantasy, dreamland, Disneyland," Haynie said. "I'd have never dreamed I could come back the way I have. My first year on tour I played for less money than I earned this week."

Haynie won 39 tournaments from 1962 through 1975. Then she decided to take a break. "I had played competitive golf since I was 12 years old," said Haynie. "I was just burned out."

Now Haynie's back, and very happy about it. "It's nice to get back and reflect on it and enjoy it (winning) more the second time around," said Haynie. "I feel fortunate to be in a sport where you can take four years off and have the opportunity to do this. When I came back last year, I felt like a rookie again, but I was spotting other players — younger players — four more years."

Haynie collected a first prize of $30,000 to bring her season's total to $174,161.

Daniel finished with a 69 for a 281 total on the par-72, 6,071-yard St. George's Golf and Country Club.

Finishing three shots behind the winner were two-time champion JoAnne Carner, who shot a closing 69, and Donna Caponi, who finished with a 71.

Daniel, who was trailing by three after the 13th, moved back into contention with birdies on the 15th and 16th. But that was as close as she would get.

Finishing at one-under par 287 were Sally Little of South Africa, who shot a closing 70, and Beverly Klass, who shot a 73.

The best round of the final day was a 65, turned in by veteran Sandra Palmer, pulling her into a ninth-place tie with Nancy Lopez at two-over 290.

Lopez carded a hole-in-one Sunday on the 177-yard par-three eighth.

ATLANTA (AP) — John Sinclair, of Fort Collins, Colo., won the 13th annual Peachtree Road Race, running the 6.2-mile course through downtown Atlanta in a time of just over 28 minutes. Ann Audain, of Englewood, Colo., won the women's competition in 32½ minutes.

Hubbard's 'Bad' Night Lifts Braves Over Cubs

By DENNIS D'AGOSTINO
Associated Press Writer

Glenn Hubbard had a bad night. The Atlanta Braves only wish that all his nights can be so bad.

"A home run is a bad swing for me," said the Braves' 5-foot-8 second baseman, whose two-run homer in the seventh inning lifted Atlanta to its sixth straight victory, a 7-5 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

In other National League games Monday, St. Louis got by Cincinnati 6-5 in 10 innings, San Francisco beat Philadelphia 3-1, San Diego rallied to defeat Montreal 8-6, Los Angeles topped New York 4-1 and Houston beat Pittsburgh 6-4.

"Seriously, a home run is an upset and that's bad for me," Hubbard said. "I'm no home-run hitter and every time I hit one my shoulder starts flying up. I'll have to come up tomorrow and get extra batting practice to try and get to hitting line drives again."

"I'll take one-a-day anytime though," Hubbard said with a grin.

Hubbard's homer, a blast off Cub starter Lee Smith, 1-5, made a winner of reliever Al Hrabosky, 2-0.

Bob Horner belted his 17th homer of the year — and his sixth in five games — for the Braves, who maintained a 4½-game lead over second-place San Diego in the National League West.

Cardinals 6, Reds 5
St. Louis shortstop Ozzie Smith, whose ninth-inning error forced the game into extra innings, singled home the winning run in the 10th as the Cards sent the Reds to their eighth straight defeat.

The Cardinals moved to within .001 of first-place Philadelphia in the NL East.

The Cardinals grabbed a 5-3 lead in the seventh, let the Reds tie it with error-aided runs in the eighth and ninth, then relied on Smith's single off reliever Tom Hume, 1-4, to win it.

Jim Kaat, 3-1, pitched the ninth inning to post the victory. Doug Bair notched his third save.

Giants 3, Phillies 1
San Francisco's Bill Laskey, 7-5, silenced the biggest regular-season crowd in Veterans Stadium history by limiting the Phillies to one run on eight hits.

Chili Davis' leadoff triple triggered a two-run, sixth-inning rally that carried the Giants over loser Dick Ruthven, 6-7.

The holiday crowd of 63,501 — drawn in part by a post-game fireworks show — broke the stadium regular-season mark of 63,346, set Aug. 10, 1979 against Pittsburgh.

Padres 8, Expos 6
The second-place Padres kept pace with the Braves in the NL West as they erupted for six runs in the seventh inning to key their victory over slumping Montreal.

"We didn't get to sleep until six this morning after our flight was delayed coming here," said Padres Manager Dick Williams. "We finally found our legs in the seventh inning."

The defeat was the 11th in 14 games for the Expos, who fell three games behind pace-setting Philadelphia and St. Louis in the National League East.

Reliever Floyd Chiffer, 3-1, got the victory. Gary Lucas, the fifth Padre pitcher, picked up his 12th save. Montreal's Gary Carter slammed a two-run homer, his 18th.

Dodgers 4, Mets 1
Home runs by Ron Cey and Mike Marshall helped Bob

Welch to the victory and, according to Dodger manager Tom Lasorda, sounded a pair of warning shots for the rest of the NL West.

The defending world champions, who have been struggling for most of the year, moved four games over .500 and remained eight games behind first-place Atlanta.

Welch, 9-5, struck out eight and walked two in a route-going performance. Pete Falcone, 4-6, took the loss.

Astros 6, Pirates 4
When Omar Moreno and Johnny Ray led off the Pirates' first inning with consecutive home runs, Houston pitcher Joe Niekro had doubts that the situation would get better.

Joe Niekro and the Astros went on to defeat the Pirates 6-4 with the aid of a two-run homer by Jose Cruz and a three-run shot by Phil Garner.

Niekro, 7-6, settled down to turn in a complete-game victory, scattering nine hits and striking out six.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Led by hammer throwers Yuriy Syedikh and Sergey Litvinov, the Soviet Union men's track and field team handed the United States squad its first defeat on American soil Saturday in the dual meet competition between the powerful nations.

The Russian men finished the two-day meet at Indiana University's new $6 million track and field stadium with 118 points to 100 for the United States. The American men had beaten the Russians in all eight previous meets in the United States.

Part of every dollar you spend locally benefits our town in the form of business improvements and expansions. Before you decide to take an out-of-town shopping trip, stop and think about whether you might be able to buy the same goods and services at home. Often you can buy it here and you'll save time, personal energy, money and gasoline. When you support local business, you support your own town, not someone else's.

No need to roam...the best shopping's here at home!

'Marketing Mistakes' Book On Failure A Big Success

NEW YORK (AP) — It was even worse than the Edsel, says Robert Hartley, who writes on the great marketing mistakes of American businesses. He was speaking about the blunders that brought down W.T. Grant Co. Grant, a retail store chain founded near the turn of the century, had flourished right beside F.W. Woolworth on the Main streets of America, even in the Great Depression. For seven decades it did so. By the early 1970s it had grown to 1,200 outlets and $2 billion in sales, but a "policy of wild and really reckless expansion in the early 1970s drove it into bankruptcy." It was all over by 1975. The Edsel, a highly promoted passenger car brought out by Ford Motor in the 1950s, became one of the most dismal and laughable failures in American marketing history. While it cost hundreds of millions of dollars, Hartley observes, the Ford company survived. Grant didn't. Hartley, a professor at Cleveland State University, has found that people like to read about great failures. Or, more accurately perhaps, that business professors like to assign their students to read about failures. Hartley's book on failures is a big success. "Marketing Mistakes," the plain but direct title identifying his tome, is a best seller of sorts, having made the supplemental reading lists of tiny community colleges and important graduate schools. The first edition sold about 30,000 copies in paperback, and Grid Publishing, based in Columbus, Ohio, has now brought out a second edition that Hartley expects will have a sale of about 60,000 copies. There are reasons, of course, for wanting to know all about failures, because they are occurring now at a rate unparalleled since the 1930s. Still, Hartley isn't confident the lesson is conveyed. He feels "A.C. Gilbert Co. is one of the saddest cases. Here you had a company 50 or 60 years old, with a great image. Millions of children played with Gilbert Erector or chemistry sets. It all went under in just a few years, and their stockholders lost everything." Worried about market share, Hartley explains, management rushed various new toy products into production in the early 1960s without paying proper attention to quality, on which its reputation rested. There are also instances of damage by conservatism. Robert Hall, the clothing company, ignored the post-World War Two demand for credit, the emphasis on fashion, and the tendency for retailers to group together in shopping centers. Sales suffered. Hall then sought to upgrade its image but, says Hartley, that's one of the toughest jobs in retailing. Hall was bankrupt by 1977. The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. ran deeper into the red with its WEO — Where Economy Originates — program of slashing prices. Hartley is working on a book on successes and hopes it will be at least as memorable as those derived from his book on mistakes. But, he concedes, it is easier to write about failures.

415 Americans Die On Holiday Highways

By JUDY GIBBS Associated Press Writer

Americans gathered on beaches, in parks and at fairs, dodging stray bullets, wayward skyrockets and errant sharks as a three-day Fourth of July weekend marred by fires and injuries came to an end.

At least 415 people were killed on the nation's highways, according to a tally by the Associated Press.

A fire set by bottle rockets burned two city blocks in Houston on Monday, leveling two homes and damaging three others, while a sightseeing boat in New York City crashed into a pier, injuring about 25 of the holiday passengers.

"We got some spent bottle rockets as evidence," said arson investigator D.R. Whiteley of Houston. He said the rockets landed on the roof of one house and sparks blown by a strong breeze quickly ignited the wood shingle roofs of neighboring homes.

The skipper of the Circle Line sightseeing boat apparently lost control of the vessel Monday as it maneuvered toward its Hudson River pier after the around-Manhattan voyage.

None of those injured was reported hospitalized. Fireworks backfired in several cities where crowds had gathered to watch the traditional displays.

In Shreveport, La., spectators cheered when a skyrocket exploded on the launch pad, detonating dozens of other fireworks and setting a spectacular fire, mistaken by the crowd for part of the display.

"They must have thought it was the grand finale," said fire Chief J.A. Starks of nearby Bossier City. "What they didn't know was that we were running for our lives."

A 12-year-old girl suffered third-degree burns when a cannister from a spent rocket fell on her as she watched a fireworks display in Longview, Wash. The girl, Katy Hudson of Tumwater, will need plastic surgery to repair the burn damage, said her father.

Another fireworks-watcher, 2-year-old Eric Hutchins of Downers Grove, Ill., was in serious condition after a bullet, apparently shot into the air by a holiday celebrant, hit him in the head.

At least six people were burned when a cannister from a fireworks display fell smoking into a crowd of spectators in Austintown, Ohio, officials said. One woman was taken by ambulance to a local hospital, but her injuries did not appear to be serious, said Joe Korleski, a medic.

A despondent New York City man put an M-80 firecracker in his mouth, lit it and blew off the top of his head in front of his ex-girlfriends' home, police said. An M-80 has the power of one-third of a stick of dynamite.

At Least 46 Killed On Texas Roads

By The Associated Press

At least 46 people died in traffic accidents in the state during the Fourth of July holiday weekend and Texas Department of Public Safety officials said they had little hope the death toll would stay under their prediction of 47.

The counting period lasted from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday.

Fifty-four people were killed in traffic accidents during the holiday weekend last year, and the total rose to 63 with the addition of people who died later from injuries suffered in accidents during that weekend.

Among the deaths reported by the DPS were those of:

—Issac Davis, 16, of Bartlett, who died at 3:55 a.m. Monday after being hit by a car in Bartlett in Williamson County at 10:05 p.m. Sunday.

—Nelia B. Cantrell, 35, who died at 1 a.m. Monday when hit by a vehicle as she tried to cross West 7th Avenue in Corsicana at 10:46 p.m. Sunday.

—David J. Grootenhaar, 29, of Little Rock, Ark., who was killed when the motorcycle he was riding left the road at 11:23 p.m. Sunday.
