N.M., and the Nevada Test

Most of the questins concerned the possible damages to the area's water supply, the Ogallala Aquifer, and the economic impacts that the location of a nuclear waste repository here would have.

The Permian Basin, of which Deaf Smith County is a part, is one of three salt-laden areas in the nation that are currently being studied by DOE as possible recipients of a nuclear waste repository. The others are the Paradox Basin in Utah, and the Gulf Interior Salt Doines in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Other areas being studied include crystalline rock in the Southern Appalachian Mountains, Michigan and Minnesota, and the Northeastern tip of the nation, basalt in Washington State and Oregon, and Tuff in Nevada. Much of the information presented at the meeting had already been presented at the last public hearing the DOE held on the nuclear waste project here last February.

DOE officials tried to assure questioners that the location of a waste repository here would not adversely affect the aquifer, or interfere with agricultural production for which the area is well

Battelle Spokesman Bill Madia reiterated that some 1,700 jobs would be created for a peak construction period of seven years, with 870 workers needed for the 30-40 year operations phase.

Madia said that the repository "should be full" by that time, and it would then be closed with equipment and instruments left in place to monitor the waste in the future. All shafts and holes would be back-filled with salt and earth.

Asked whether or not the repository would house defense department wastes as well as some of the current, 8,000 tons of commercial waste being stored in the nation, Madia said that the final decision on that would rest with the president.

He added that any defense wastes stored here would not come from the Pantex Plant near Amarillo, but from either Georgia or the Hanford Reservation in Washington.

Linda McClain, Permian Basin Project Manager for DOE, reported that progress is being made on the installation of an information center here or in Tulia in the near future. Ms. McClain said that two favorable locations have been found in both Hereford and Tulia, and that work in approval of the offices will continue.

Privately, administration officials concede the midyear report, an annual requirement of Congress, is more of a political exercise than an economic one.

They say their aim is to produce a report that parallels as much as possible the economic and deficit projections Congress approved in June even though the budget picture seems to have grown bleaker since then.

A revised report showing even larger deficits and weaker economic growth might prove too discouraging to Congress at a time when it is struggling with politically painful choices for cutting spending and raising taxes,

For fiscal 1982, which ends Sept. 30, the report shows the deficit exceeding $100 billion for the first time. In the following year, the red-ink will grow to $115 billion and then taper off to $95 billion in 1984 and $74 billion in 985. White House Chief of Staff James A. Baker III said Thursday in an interview on CBS-TV.

In its June budget resolution, Congress projected a 1983 deficit of $104 billion, but the non-partisan Congressional Budget Office this week estimated that the likely red ink will be $141 billion to $151 billion in 1983, and up to $160 billion a year in both 1984 and 1985.

recession will give way to a second-half recovery that has the economy growing at a 4.5 percent annual rate.

That is a slower growth rate, on average, than has occurred at the start of previous recoveries, but it is a faster rate than most independent economists expect for 1982 because interest rates are still so high. The Congressional Budget

Office predicts the economy will grow at a 3.3 percent annual rate for the last six months of 1982. Some private economists say even that figure may be too high.

The administration also expects unemployment to average over 9 percent this year. The current rate is 9.5 percent, the highest since World War II.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige, in an interview with The Associated Press earlier this week, said the economic upturn the administration is predicting appears too robust, and he warned that the recovery could "fizzle out" if interest rates start rising again.

Baldrige said it will be hard to achieve the administration's economic growth (See UPTURN, Page 2)

Reagan Okays Talks On Grain Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) -President Reagan said today. the United States will discuss with the Soviet Union a possible one-year extension and expansion of the two nations' grain sales agreement. But he did not flatly approve a continuation of the pact and ruled out, at least for now, any new, long-term deal.

The president, in a written statement, said:

"After discussion in the Cabinet, I have authorized U.S. officials to explore the possibility with the Soviet Union of a one-year extension of the existing grain agreement. I have further authorized them to explore in the consultations with the Soviets, normally conducted under the agreement, the possibility of additional grain sales to the Soviet Union.'

Last December, Reagan, in response to the Soviet role in the military crackdown in Poland, postponed planned negotiations for a long-range agreement under which American farmers' grain would be sold to the Soviets. In today's statement, the president reaffirmed that position, saying the Soviets "should not be afforded the additional security of a new long-term grain agreement as long as repression continues in Poland.

"I have ruled out any negotiation of a new longterm agreement at this time," he said, pointing out that his Dec. 29 decision postponed such talks until the Soviet Union showed a willingness to allow a relaxation of martial law in Poland.

The present agreement, which has governed grain States and the Soviet Union since 1976, expires Sept. 30. The current pact calls for the Soviets to buy a minimum of 6 million metric tons of U.S. wheat and corn annually and allows them to buy up to 8 trade between the United million tons. More can be bought if the United States agrees. This year, the Soviets have bought 13.9 million metric tons out of an allowable 23 millions tons.

The Agriculture Department has predicted that the Soviet Union will need to import 46 million tons in the coming year because of continuing, dismal harvests.

Reagan's decision is likely to raise objections in Western Europe. The president, as part of his opposition to the military rule in Poland, has sought to block European aid using U.S. technology for a natural gas pipeline from

Economic Indicators Held Steady In June

WASHINGTON (AP) - Giving mixed signals about whether the economy is recovering from recession, the government reported today that its Index of Leading Economic Indicators held steady in June after rising the previous two months.

Gains in three of the index's 10 indicators balanced declines in six others, with the 10th unchanged, the Commerce Department said.

The index, the government's broadest gauge of future economic activity, had climbed 1.4 percent in April and 0.9 percent in May, according to the new report, which revised those figures from lower, earlier estimates.

However, the department also said the index dipped 0.1 percent in March, the 11th decline in a row, rather than rising 0.2 percent as reported last month.

The index, a compilation of 10 separate economic categories, is intended to forecast future trends in the U.S. economy.

The government reported last week that the overall economy - as measured by inflation-adjusted gross national product - rose at an annual rate of 1.7 percent in the second quarter of the year after rapid eclines in the previous two quarters, from October through March. Nonetheless, most analysts were cautious in making predictions of a

No Rain Fell On 'Rain Day'

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) - Sunny skies dampened "Rain Day" festivities in this southwest Pennsylvania town, where the lack of a single drop of rain snapped a six-year wet streak.

It has has rained here every July 29 for the last six years, and 93 times in the last 107 years. But no rain fell Thursday.

John Daily, who carried a red and white umbrella in hopes of a drizzle, lost a golf hat in a wager that the tradition would hold. But he took the dry weather in stride.

"You have to miss sometimes. It's my first miss since '75," said the retired attorney, who has been betting on rain for the last 45 years. He's lost only six times, earning him the nickname the "Rain Day prophet."

The tradition of rain has turned July 29 into this town's largest summer holiday, dubbed "Rain Day." But as residents hoped in vain for a lastminute cloudburst, many admitted a

Microplex P. O. Box 45436 Lear Forms Group To Fight 'New Right' And Censorship

AUSTIN Texas AP - A national group formed by television producer Norman Lear and others to combat the "New Right" has opened a Texas office so it can join the fight over adoption of textbooks in the state.

Michael Hudson, Texas coordinator for People for the American Way told a Capitol news conference Thursday the group sees Texas as the main battleground in the war against textbook censorship.

Hudson, a Houston attorney who formerly served on Houston Congressman Mickey Leland's staff, said he has asked to testify at textbook selection hearings which begin Aug. 9.

"Texas is the second largest market for textbook sales, accounting for about eight percent of the nation's textbook purchases" Hudson said. "Education experts and publishers agree that a textbook that is rejected by Texas is almost guaranteed to be an economic failure nationally and results in either pre - cencorship or removal of the book entirely.'

ings, Hudson complained. Education Commissioner Raymon Bynum had not yet responded to his request to testify, Hudson said.

"Important as the textbook selection process is the public now has only one formal way to influence which books are adopted - by filing protests" Hudson told reporters. "Texas citizens who want to defend a book or who disagree with protests against certain books have no forum in which to be heard."

Texas was chosen by the group which has 2,500 members in the state, but is based in Washington, Hudson said, because of the state's economic impact on publishers and because of the presence of Mel and Norman Gabler of Longview.

The Gablers are nationally active and are the most vocal conservative protests against textbooks that come before the state textbook selection committee each

Hudson said of 900 pages of protests filed during the 1981 Texas hearings, the Gablers were responsible for 600 lengthy selection process. "The Gablers are part of a national network of censors, which also includes Jerry Falwell's Moral Majority and Phyllis Schlafly's Eagle Forum' Hudson said. "Members of this network are working to purge schools of all material that encourages thinking and discussion or is inconsistent with their narrow religious and political orthodoxy.' He said he had no figures on the success of more liberal groups such as the National Organization for Women in protesting books from a different standpoint.

Hudson distributed a list of sample protests filed by the Gablers this year.

A homemaking text suggests "Find out how school rules are made in your school" the list said. "Find out how they can be changed. Describe the procedure to your classmates."

This list also included examples of Gabler protests against passages that "attack traditional family roles" or seem to dispute Biblical accounts of creation. Hudson said he is not yet organized enough to conduct its own reveiw of the hundreds of books considered by the textbook selection committee.

Textbooks are chosen by a 15-member committee appointed by the State Board of Education. The committee recommendations to the board which makes the final list from which local school districts may purchase texts.

People for the American Way wants "a school system that teaches children how to think not what to think" Hudson said.

Church Vows To Appeal Ruling

SALT LAKE CITY AP - A church that says it follows ancient Egyptian traditions has vowed to appeal a federal judge's ruling that the "nectar of the gods" it makes must be regulated just as wine is because it contains alcohol.

"We're going to go to the Supreme Court, however long it takes to get there" said Claude Mowell, president of Summum, a Salt Lake City based church that produces the drink in an asphalt-tiled wooden pyramid where ascetics do meditative exercises 24 hours a day for the 77 days it ferments.

The church's 5,000 members, most of them in the West, believe the process and the special powers of the pyramid imbue the drink with religious knowledge.

Entry Forms Available For 'Make It With Wool' Contest

LUBBOCK - The district "Make It With Wool," a sewing, knitting and crocheting competition, is scheduled Nov. 20 in the Texas Tech University Home Economics

The annual "Make It With Wool" contest is sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association and the American Wool Council to recognize the beauty and versatility of wool and to encourage its use.

All entries must be made from loomed, knitted or felted fabric or yarn of 100 percent wool or of a minimum of 60 percent wool and no more than 40 percent synthetic fiber. The garment judging is based on coordination design, appearance and workmanship.

Contest categories are preteen, 10-13, junior, 14-16; senior, 17-24; and adult, over 24. Competition is open to all American citizens male and female.

or yarn. Entry forms can be obtained from Lillian Kountz, Department of Clothing and Textiles, College of Home Economics, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas, 79409. Forms should be completed and returned by Nov.

If direct pressure does not work, apply it an inch or so away from the wound - between the wound and the heart. This can control the vessel bringing blood from the heart into the wound area.

When the bleeding stops, tie the pad or dressing in place as securely as possible but not so tight that all circulation is cut off.

Here are other things to remember during treatment: -If the bleeding person is not breathing, restore it first with cardiopulmonary resuscitation. (CPR).

-While the person is lying down, elevate the bleeding area above heart level, if possible.

-Keep the victim as warm and calm as possible.

-Do not use a tourniquet except as a last resort. A tourniquet can block all blood to be a part and cause permanent damage. If you must use one, loosen it for a few seconds every 15 minutes.

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) - Houston Oiler Coach Ed Biles didn't wait long to establish the tone he wants carried through the current training camp.

Biles sent Oiler veterans and rookies through their first combined workout Thursday with a series of live hitting drills, a departure from previous Oiler opening workouts.

'We were trying to set the tone for what we want the rest of the camp to be like," Biles said. "We want to be more aggressive than we were last year." "I think the players know hat they have to do."

Biles, starting his second year as head coach, has preached aggression since the rookies reported here a week ago and he didn' temper his sermon for veterans.

The Oilers sank to a 7-9 record last year after three consecutive playoff appearances.

Biles called the initial drill routine and singled out only one player, No. 1 draft choice Mike Munchak, an offensive guard from Penn State.

"In a one-on-one drill with a running back behind him, he put a linebacker flat on his back," Biles said. "He has much better techniques than the average rookie.

White, Pokes Hungry For Super Bowl Year

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Danny White hopes training camp can help erase the sting of last year's 'disaster.'

Although White quarterbacked the Dallas Cowboys to a 12-4 regular season record, the Eastern Division title, and an appearance in the National Conference title game, it was deemed a down season in some quarters. "If we had had that kind of season in Detroit or Green Bay then the people would have been ecstatic," White said. "In Dallas, they say 'don't worry about it ... you'll do BETTER next year.'

"Some people are starting to say again we can't win the big one, but we aren't concerned ... we'll get there," said White.

Chiles: I Looked Foolish

By CHARLES RICHARDS Associated Press Writer

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - The majority owner of the Texas Rangers lashed out at the press for asking too many questions about his baseball team and then later said his team looked "foolish" during the three-day fiasco that became the firing of manager Don Zimmer.

Rangers Owner Eddie Chiles fired Zimmer Monday but did not announce the move until Wednesday night. Zimmer was replaced by coach Darrell Johnson, who becomes the 11th manager for the American League franchise since it was moved from Washington in 1972.

At home, Hereford rolled past El Paso as Tim Long hurled a one-hitter. Long notched nine strikeouts in the game while issuing eight bases on balls, and he helped his own case with a homerun and a single at the plate.

Joe Cera lashed three doubles, while Michael Phibbs had a double and a pair of singles and Macus Brown also had three hits to lead the Hereford attack.

foolish," said Chiles, 71. "I think we came across looking inept and not knowing where we were going. Based on what happened, I would have done everything differently."

"The man says, 'You're fired, but you're going to manage Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday," Zimmer said. "People in the baseball world are laughing about it right now."

Chiles lashed out at the news media for spreading the news of Zimmer's firing before the club was ready to publicly announce it. Texas, whose record is 38-58, is 17 games out of the lead in the American League West.

At a heated press conference here after Wednesday's game, Chiles said it's nobody's business why he fired manager Don Zimmer.

"It's a private problem. You are not entitled to know everything we do. This is not a publicly owned company. This is not the United States government," Chiles said.

Thursday night, Chiles told reporters before a Republican Party rally in Lubbock that "the record is the reason he was fired."

Chiles said he refused to give reasons for the firing to reporters Wednesday night because he "chose not to downgrade Zimmer."

Chiles' action drew criticism from fans on local sports talk shows, coaches and some players. "The way they treated Zimmer, I'm relieved he doesn't have to put up with this anymore," said Texas third baseman Buddy Bell. "It's almost like we're an expansion team. If you're going to build, you're going to have to keep people here who do the job," Bell said. "Why get rid of people who are committed? I can't wait until my six years are up (until free agency).

"I don't like the way the (firing) was handled, but I can't say anything," said pitching coach Jackie Brown. "But when I get fired at the end of the season, I'll say At the stadium press conference Wednesday, Chiles blamed a "Watergate syndrome" in the news media for breaking the news of Zimmer's firing before the club was ready to announce it. That caused a circus-like atmosphere that was uncalled for, Chiles said.

Chiles refused on Tuesday to confirm or deny the story. By gametime Wednesday, the managerial change still hadn't been officially announced, but fans gave Zimmer a standing ovation when he took the starting lineup to the plate umpire before Wednesday's game with Milwaukee.

Zimmer was hired by Chiles to succeed Pat Corrales, who was fired after the 1980 season, and had a 2-year record of 95-105, bringing his career managerial record to 621-603. He came to Texas after being fired at Boston.

Chiles gave Zimmer the ax Monday morning, but asked him to manage until the end of the team's 3-game series with the Brewers.

"You don't fire a man and then tell him to go to work. That's a very strange thing in baseball," Zimmer said.

Chiles had given Zimmer public votes of confidence more than once this season. The latest was Sunday, although Chiles admitted after the news conference Wednesday night that the decision to fire Zimmer was made last week. "We had everything worked out on a systematic basis which would have brought us where we are tonight without a lot of trouble orr effort to anybody concerned," Chiles added. "Unfortunately, the press got involved in it, and I think the press probably overreacted. I think the press and the media still have some of the old Watergate syndrome, where they dig in and make something negative always. they find something bad or wrong that's been done or at least state that it is," Chiles said.

Zimmer didn't disclose his future plans. He will be paid through 1983 under his Rangers contract.

"I could have a job in baseball Monday if I wanted it, but I'm in no hurry. I have no plans to do anything. ... All this crap I've heard for the last eight days, I'm tired of

NL East Crowded; Braves Coasting in West

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

While Philadelphia and St. Louis play hot potato with the National League East lead. the Atlanta Braves are cooling off the rest of the West.

But the Braves, completing a four-game sweep of San Diego with a 6-2 triumph, widened their margin in the West to a fat nine games over the second-place Padres.

In Thursday night's other NL games it was Montreal 4, St. Louis 3 in 10 innings, Pittsburgh 4, New York 1, and Houston 4, Cincinnati 3.

Braves Manager Joe Torre sounds as though he's sitting in the hot seat instead of the catbird seat, the way he sidesteps references to Atlanta's runaway.

"It's a lot healthier for us than it is for them," he said of the Padres, "but there's a lot of time left. Two months. A lot can happen in baseball in two months."

At least he's relishing his position as a first-place manager after being fired by the New York Mets after last season, right? Wrong.

"If, at the end of the year, we stay where we are, I'll relish it," he said. "But this game is very humbling. Anything can happen. One game at a time may be boring

Torre clearly has his players programmed to his wavelength. "We're glad to be there," Jerry Royster said of the Braves' first-place position, "but guys aren't turning flips ... It's too early to worry about a magic number."

By the way, it's 55. Any number of Atlanta victories and San Diego losses adding up to 55 will give the Braves the flag.

Dick Williams, the manager of the Padres, said there was only one bright spot in the four-game series against the Braves: "We're leaving Atlanta."

Dale Murphy hit his 27th and 28th home runs, tops in the major leagues, and Jerry Royster added a two-run triple in the Braves' attack. Gene Richards and Sixto Lezcano homered for the Padres. Phillies 3, Cubs 2 winner of the year.

Expos 4, Cardinals 3 "Each game is so important to us right now. We've got three teams to catch, and you have to try for that little extra." said Montreal's Andre Dawson, who doubled to open the 10th inning, continued to third on center fielder Willie McGee's error and scored the Expos' ganewinning run on Tim Wallach's sacrifice fly. The Cardinals built a 3-0 lead through 71/2 innings, then Montreal tied it with three runs in the bottom of the eighth, one scoring when St. Louis relief ace Bruce Sutter issued a bases-loaded walk to Gary Carter. Pirates 4. Mets 1

Don Robinson's sevenhitter and Dick Davis' tworun homer helped the Pirates hand New York its fourth consecutive loss. It was the 11th victory and fourth complete game of the season for Robinson, 0-3 last year.

And it was Davis' fourth homer of the season and second as a starter in place of injured outfielder Dave Parker.

Astros 4, Reds 3 Phil Garner broke an eighth-inning tie with his ninth homer of the season as Houston beat the Reds. The one-out, 2-2 pitch from Greg Harris barely cleared the home-run stripe on the left field wall in the Astrodome. Randy Moffitt picked up his first victory as a member of the Astros by pitching twothirds of an inning in relief. Alan Knicely had three hits and drove in two runs, one of them with hit his first homer.

Thornton Slams Milwaukee

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Dilone sacrificed Perconte to AP Sports Writer

Andre Thornton got the ball up in the air like he was trying to. In fact, he got it up, up and away.

Cleveland's designated hitter stepped to the plate with the bases loaded and one out in the top of the 12th inning Thursday night and the Indians locked in a 1-1 struggle with Milwaukee. Two pitches later. Thornton had his fourth career grand slam and the Indians had a 5-1 victory that knocked the Brewers out of first place in the seesaw American League East.

Elsewhere, the Boston Red Sox beat the Chicago White Sox 7-3, the California Angels downed the Seattle Mariners 3-1, the Kansas City Royals trimmed the Baltimore Orioles 7-2 and the Oakland A's blanked the Minnesota Twins 5-0. Detroit, New York, Texas and Toronto were not scheduled.

Jim Slaton relieved Milwaukee starter Pete Vuckovich to start the 12th and gave up a leadoff single to Jack Perconte. Miguel before Rice singled to snap a second and he took third on a wild pitch. Walks to Toby Harrah and Mike Hargrove loaded the bases and Thornton, who also drove in Cleveland's first run with a fourth-inning single, hit an 0-1 pitch into the left field seats for his 23rd homer. The victory went to Dan Spillner, the third Cleveland pitcher, who relieved with two out and the bases loaded in the bottom of the 11th and retired Paul Molitor on a fly

The Brewers, who have been trading first place with Boston in recent weeks, slipped one-half game behind the Red Sox.

Red Sox 7, White Sox 3 Jim Rice's tie-breaking two-run single in the fifth inning and Carl Yastrzemski's 439th career homer in the ninth helped Boston send Chicago to its fourth straight defeat. The Red Sox loaded the bases in the fifth on walks to Rick Miller and Dwight Evans around Jerry Remy's second double of the game 1-1 tie. Carl Yastrzemski's sacrifice fly made it 4-1 and Yastrzemski homered in the ninth following a sacrifice fly by Rice.

The defeat gave the White Sox a 4-12 record since the All-Star break and Manager Tony LaRussa may be on the hot seat.

Angels 3, Mariners 1

Doug DeCinces drilled a three-run homer in the third inning and Steve Renko earned his ninth victory. Mike Moore walked Tim Foli to start the third and, after Foli was sacrificed to second, Brian Downing singled and DeCinces followed with his 13th homer of the season.

After fighting the flu for a couple of days, DeCinces felt almost too weak to walk out onto the diamond. The victory was the Angels' third in a row and kept them two games ahead of the second-place Royals in the

as Kansas City snapped the Orioles' longest winning streak of the season at seven games. Rookie Derek Botelho allowed five hits and one run over five innings and Mike Armstrong pitched three innings before Dan Quisenberry worked the ninth.

The Royals scored four times off loser Dennis Martinez in the second inning, including Aikens' two-run homer. McRae drove in his two runs with a double in the seventh.

A's 5, Twins 0

Rick Langford pitched a four-hitter, Rickey Henderson stole his 96th base of the season and Jeff Burroughs homered for the A's. Langford allowed only four baserunners in his second shutout of the year and struck out five.

Gymnastics Champ Thanks Kurt Thomas

By LARRY SIDDONS AP Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) -Mitch Gaylord said "thank you" to a coach and former champion after winning the all-around gold medal in men's gymnastics at the National Sports Festival.

"Kurt Thomas came along at the right time for me,' Gaylord said Thursday night. "He helped me out tremendously. He helped with my preparations, how to turn on a crowd. But I feel I have a long way to go before I reach my potential."

Thomas, a one-time Festival and national champ, now coaches and works as an analyst on gymnastics telecasts for ABC-TV.

Gaylord, 21, of Tempe, Ariz., a member of the U.S. National team for the past three years, had his highest mark in the floor exercise -9.8 of a possible 10. He called the performance "my best ever."

His other scores also were high: 9.75s in both the still rings and horizontal bar; 9.65 in pommel horse; 9.6 in vaulting, and 9.3 on the parallel bars.

Scott Johnson, 20, of Colorado Springs, Colo., last year's NCAA team champion, won the silver and Mario McCutcheon, 22, of New York, took the bronze. While Gaylord was basking

WHO AM I?

David Boone was in the spotlight on one of the worst days of his life.

"I'm in a state of shock," Boone, a 6-foot-6 guard for the West men's basketball team, said after learning that the University of San Francisco was dropping the sport because of a string of recruiting violations. Boone was to have started classes on a basketball scholarship at San Francisco this fall.

Boone scored four points as the East beat his winless West team 86-83 to gain a berth in Saturday's championship game against the South. Michael Brown, a sophomore forward at George Washington University, had 25 points and Festivalrecord 18 rebounds for the

The South moved on despite a 112-99 loss to the North Thursday night. The East, North and South all finished the round-robin portion of the tournament with 2-1 records, but the East and South advanced on the basis of best field-goal differential.

The women's championship game at Market Square Arena Saturday night will have the defending champion South against the West.

Shelia Collins, a hotshooting guard from Colbert, Ga., and the University of Tennessee, scored 18 as the South beat the North 101-81 Thursday night. Kendra Grant, a 6-3 center from Peoria, Ill., had 16 points for the North, which plays the East for the bronze medal Saturday afternoon.

The West women advanced with an 86-83 double-overtime victory over the East. Donya Monroe, a Nevada-Las Vegas freshman, scored six of her 10 points in the second overtime for the West, led by UCLA's Charlotte Jones with 15 points. Rebecca Hagerdon of of Cal-Long Beach led all scorers with 26 points for the in the glow of a great day, Thursday afternoon.

Scott Carlston of Minnesota-Duluth and Steve Murphy of Michigan Tech scored 1:09 apart midway through the final period to bring the North back from a 4-2 deficit. Bryan Erickson of Minnesota scored twice for the South.

In speed skating, Lydia Stephans and Steve Merrifield each won their fourth gold medals of the Festival on the same team, in the same race.

Stephans, 21, from Northwood, Ill., was pressed into service with the West men's 5,000-meter relay when Tom Carter, an alternate, was hurt. The men had no one else so they called on Stephans.

She helped Andy Gabel of Northbrook, Paul Grannes of Minneapolis and Merrifield of Canoga Park, Calif., to the winning time of 8 minutes, 23.42 seconds.

That gave Stephans four golds and one silver, and Merrifield four golds. Stephans earlier Thursday took the women's 1,000-meter individual, in 1:52.59, and Merrifield won the same event for the men in 1:40.35. Each had won two golds in Wednesday's opening day of speed skating, with Stephans adding a silver Thursday in the women's 3,000-meter Valerie Zimring, 17, of Los Angeles broke two Festival records in women's rhythmic gymnastics in capturing the gold. Her total of 37 points and her 9.4 points in rope competition were the new standards.

In weightlifting, Brian Miyamoto of Los Angeles erased his own Festival record with a hoist of 270 pounds in the clean and jerk. His total of 4681/4 pounds gave him the 123-pound crown for the second straight year.

No Cure For Saturday Night Fever Cramer, executive producer

NEW YORK (AP) - If you have a case of Saturday Night Fever, is television a home remedy? Do the networks offer any companionship?

That, of course, depends on your age, and your susceptibility to the kind of entertainment that demands you close your eyes and dream you were somebody else or somewhere else.

ABC's "Love Boat" and "Fantasy Island." which have been top-rated Saturday programming for several years, prove there's a market for wishful thinking. Last season, "Love Boat" ranked 15th. "Fantasy Island" was 31st.

"A lot of people at home are unmarried. We also have an enormous teen-age audience," says Douglas of "Love Boat." "Our appeal is pure escapism. Our trips are romantic, glamorous and adventurous. They're everybody's dreams.

"These fantasies are about people who find happiness in glamorous surroundings. Viewers fantasize that that's them. It's a way of not being depressed. We have three stories, and if you don't like one, hold on. There are two

But what if you don't like any of them? What if mindless TV is not your favorite weekend activity? What if you're looking for some intellectual stimulation, sophisticated comedy or realistic drama?

Then this Saturday's network lineup isn't for you. At 8 p.m. EDT, CBS' "Walt Disney" offers "Pluto and His Friends," NBC has "Here's Boomer," and ABC has "Today's FBI."

Other "highlights" include a CBS cartoon called "Faeries," NBC's "Harper Valley" and "Nashville Palace," starring Joe Namath. Then, of course, there's "Love Boat" and "Fantasy Island."

A.C. Nielsen figures for the 1981-82 season reveal that 5 million fewer households were watching TV on Saturday nights than Sunday nights.

Further proof that the networks don't regard highly Saturday nights is that two CBS News specials were slotted for the past two daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landers, she is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High and received a scholarship from Centre College of Kentucky at Danville, where she earned her B.S. in biology.

Mrs. Whartenby received the Amanda Rodes Award for Woman of the Year at Centre College in 1972, the same year that she married Clyde Edward Whartenby.

Other awards included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers, oldest man and woman; Lizzie Wilson, the ninth honorary mayor and teachers present, Gladys Bryant Carter of Plainview, Vesta Mae Nunley, Marcia Robbins Little of Texline, Doris Bryant, and Leta Kaul

Mrs. Kaul, historian for 23 years, keeps the community scrapbook and gives the annual report. She reported 25 deaths, 16 babies, 14 graduates, nine weddings, and wedding anniversaries of Mayor (Hartman) and Buddy Witherspoon of Albuquerque, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. C.T. Douglas of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Berend, all 50 years; Nelda Guy (Lawrence) and Forrest Ricketts, 30 years; and Raymond and Kathleen Pierce of Anderson Calif., 40 years.

Graduates included Glena West, Sammie Don Combs, Kelly Cassels, Andrew

Stengel, Tammy Northcutt, Mark Wade Berryman, Kelly McNeese, Robbie Brown of Clovis, Tania Stevens of Miami, Annette Diller, Melissa Cooper of Odessa, and James Bryon Heddins of

Stratford. Nathan Wilson received an M.S. degree in science from Sam Houston State University, and Mrs. Patsy Vick earned her B.S. degree in nursing. Feature stories from the Hereford Brand were mentioned about Joyce Ritter. Shirley Wilson, Glena West, Janie Hill, Bobby Owen, Cody and Brady Wilson, Bess Werner room dedication at the museum, Kee Ruland, Terri Johnson, Art Reinauer, Raymond Morrison, Bill Johnson, and Marguerite (Weaver) Knoll, well-known artist at Boerne.

"Family of the Year" entries were the G.C. Merritt, the Jack Ward, and the Officers elected for the 1983 reunion include Homer Rudd, president; E.H. Little of Texline, vice-president, and June Westway Riding Club. The meeting was closed with Weldon Stephan leading in the song, "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

SOVIET-AMERICAN TRADE

Mostly Agricultural and Mostly One Way

The United States sells much more to the Soviets than it buys from them, and food products constitute the bulk of the exports. During much of the last decade, U.S. wheat represented about half of Soviet imports. In recent years, the U.S. share has dropped to about a third. The Soviets are also volume buyers of U.S. corn and

Not wise to mix sedatives

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have Meniere's disease and take one tablet of Benadryl (50 mg) each night, which seems to keep the symptoms under control. I have never been a pill taker and rarely even resort to aspirin. I dislike having to take this medicine on a continuous basis and worry about its side effects. I voiced such a concern to my doctor, but his response seemed so casual

Can you help me a bit with this? Does the Benadryl just keep the symptoms under control, or does it have any sort of "healing" effect on the disease? Also, although I don't drink on a regular basis, sometimes on weekends I'll drink two or three beers or a mixed drink. Then I am afraid to take the Benadryl. Please tell me what the effect of mixing these is. DEAR READER -Antihistamines such as Benadryl are sometimes prescribed to help control motion sickness. And Meniere's disease, causing dizziness, ear noises and loss of hearing, is sometimes associated with swelling of the balance canals of your ears. If there is an allergic component then the antihistamines may help.

In any case, it is important to recognize that antihistamines are sedatives. Benadryl is an effecpeople. Some people notice more drowsiness than others from antihistamines. Alcohol is also a sedative or depressant to the brain. It' follows that neither you or anyone else should use alcohol at the same time they use antihistamines. Since we are approaching the ragweed and hay fever season that is important for antihistamine users to know

DEAR DR. LAMB - I would like your opinion concerning bottled water compared to tap water. Also, what about the use of a tablespoon of apple cider vinegar in a glass of water. I read in a folk medicine book that the vinegar is supposed to help balance the pH of the body. DEAR READER - I hesitate to say that all tap water is perfectly safe any more because of some alarming reports about substances in some city water supplies and the effects of outdated water treatment methods. But on the whole most people enjoy good water. If there is a problem I usually recommend drinking and using distilled water, as is done in many parts of the world. Other bottled water may contain minerals that may not always be helpful either, such as too much sodium. Vinegar will have no effect on your pH, the acid-alkaline balance of your body. That is regulated in such a way that you can eat or drink many acid or alkaline substances and your body eliminates excess acid or alkaline chemicals to maintain a very exact balance. Your kidneys and lungs both work to maintain this balance. The claim about cider is utter nonsence. Anyone who proposed such an idea is not well informed on body chemistry and physiology.

it has helped me but the other day I had some baked beans for dinner and that bothered me too. Can you please tell me what could be causing this and what I can do for it?

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am a 69-year-old woman and in good health. Every so often I am awakened in the middle of the night with pain in my groin area. After taking several aspirin the pain goes away and I fall asleep. I stopped eating any vegetables that I thought would form gas, such as cabbage, broccoli and others. I think

DEAR READER - Pain often just directs the physician's attention to many different disorders that may be causing it. You may have a colon spasm during the night. You could have gas as you have suggested. It might be something entirely differ-ent, including referred pain from the spine associated with your sleeping position. That is why an examination is almost always necessary to find out what a problem ne so-called "new morality" we hear so much about these days is neither new nor moral, because its activities have been practiced and condemned since the dawn of history; and yet it appears to be gaining an increasing acceptance among the very people who would have been outraged at the idea only a few years ago. Nevertheless, under the guise of personal liberty these destructive habits bind us instead with the chains of a self-imposed slavery and demonstrate a total lack of respect for our minds and bodies by subjecting them to proven health hazards. It is not too late to learn that those rules of conduct set forth in the Bible were pretty good ones after all, and that those who follow them and go to Church regularly are always ahead in the long run.

"And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them." -Ephesians 5:11

Vice is a monster of so frightful mien As to be hated needs but to be seen; Yet seen to oft, familiar with her face, We first endure, then pity, then embrace. -Alexander Pope
