Lawmaker wants seat belt repeal

ODESSA (AP) — Not more than a month after a mandatory seat belt law went into effect, a West Texas lawmaker announced a drive to have the legislation repealed because he says the measure restricts personal freedoms.

Rep. Kelly Godwin, R-Odessa, said Thursday that the Sept. 1. law requiring motorists and front-seat passengers to buckle up is ineffective and unconstitutional.

The Odessa lawmaker said he is beginning a petition drive to repeal the law adding that its "true test" is public acceptance. He admitted seat belts can save lives.

"But that's not the issue here. The issue is personal freedom and infringement on personal rights," the lawmaker said.

The law fails to meet federal Department of Transportation standards for similar laws, and to protect Texas from accident liability suits, he said.

Although Texas' new seat belt law took effect Sept. 1, $25 to $50 fines for non-compliance will not be imposed until December.

Delta crash takes 137th victim

DALLAS (AP) — A man who broke his neck and suffered burns over more than 80 percent of his body in the Aug. 2 crash of Delta Flight 191 died at a Dallas hospital, making him the 137th victim of the disaster.

Mark Vicich, 29, died at 1:11 p.m. Thursday, said Parkland Memorial Hospital spokeswoman Catherine Ellis. His family was with him, she said.

Delta Flight 191 crashed in a thunderstorm while attempting to land at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

A motorist was killed when the jetliner clipped his car on a highway near the airport and 132 others aboard the plane died. Three others died later from their injuries.

Vicich, a sales representative for a clothing manufacturer, is survived by his parents, his wife Charlene and a brother and sister. The couple had no children.

Governor schedules Japan trip

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White plans to leave Saturday on a special five-day trip to Japan to try to convince the makers of Toyota automobiles to locate an assembly plant in Texas.

The plant would produce 200,000 new cars and create 2,000 new jobs by 1988.

The sites under consideration in the state, White said, are El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio and Marshall-Longview.

"Texas offers the most attractive site for Toyota's first major production facility in the United States," White told a news conference Thursday.

Twenty other states are competing with Texas for the Toyota site.

New York couple to adopt Texas baby

DALLAS (AP) — A Long Island, N.Y., couple who waited six years to adopt a baby that has become the center of an alleged baby-selling scheme may have custody by Christmas of the child they have grown to love.

In a court hearing Thursday, it was revealed that the child's natural mother, Tammy Hagee, of Grand Prairie, had made an about-face and decided not to fight the couple's efforts to adopt her daughter, 10-month-old Rachel Marie — even though she never intended the baby to wind up in the hands of strangers.

State District Judge Craig Penfold granted temporary custody of the baby to Neil and Virginia Dauler-Phinney, a 53-year-old university professor and his 30-year-old wife, who teaches special education.

The judge said the baby cannot be legally adopted until she has been with the couple six months, a period ending Dec. 23. Penfold said he would like to find a way to resolve the matter by then.

Scientists theorize fires killed dinosaurs

CHICAGO (AP) — Massive fires raged across entire continents, devouring everything in their path and leaving a charred, dark and silent planet in their wake, with half the existing species — including the dinosaurs — destroyed.

Such a holocaust sweeping the globe 65 million years ago could have been touched off by a giant mushroom cloud sparked by a meteor that smashed into the Earth, three University of Chicago chemists say in an article published today in the journal Science.

Though Nobel Prize-winning physicist Luis Alvarez several years ago blamed the extinction of the dinosaurs on a meteor striking the Earth, the theory of global holocaust by Dr. Edward Anders, Wendy S. Wolbach and Roy S. Lewis is a new one.

It is similar to the "nuclear winter" that many believe could follow a nuclear war, Anders said in a telephone interview Thursday.

He said he and his associates pieced together their theory after discovering unusually high levels of soot and charcoal in clay samples from the time.

Loeffler calls for military aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States should give direct military aid to the Afghan resistance against the Soviet Union, says Republican Rep. Tom Loeffler of Hunt.

Loeffler, who has announced he is running for governor, presented an award from the U.S. Council for World Freedom to Pir Syed Gailani, founder of the National Islamic Front of Afghanistan, for resistance commander Wali Kahn, named by the group as "Freedom Fighter of the Year."

"I accept the award on behalf of the freedom fighters who have fallen in defense of our country," said a written statement from Kahn. "I cannot be with you, for we have been engaged in fighting with the Soviet invader constantly since July 26."

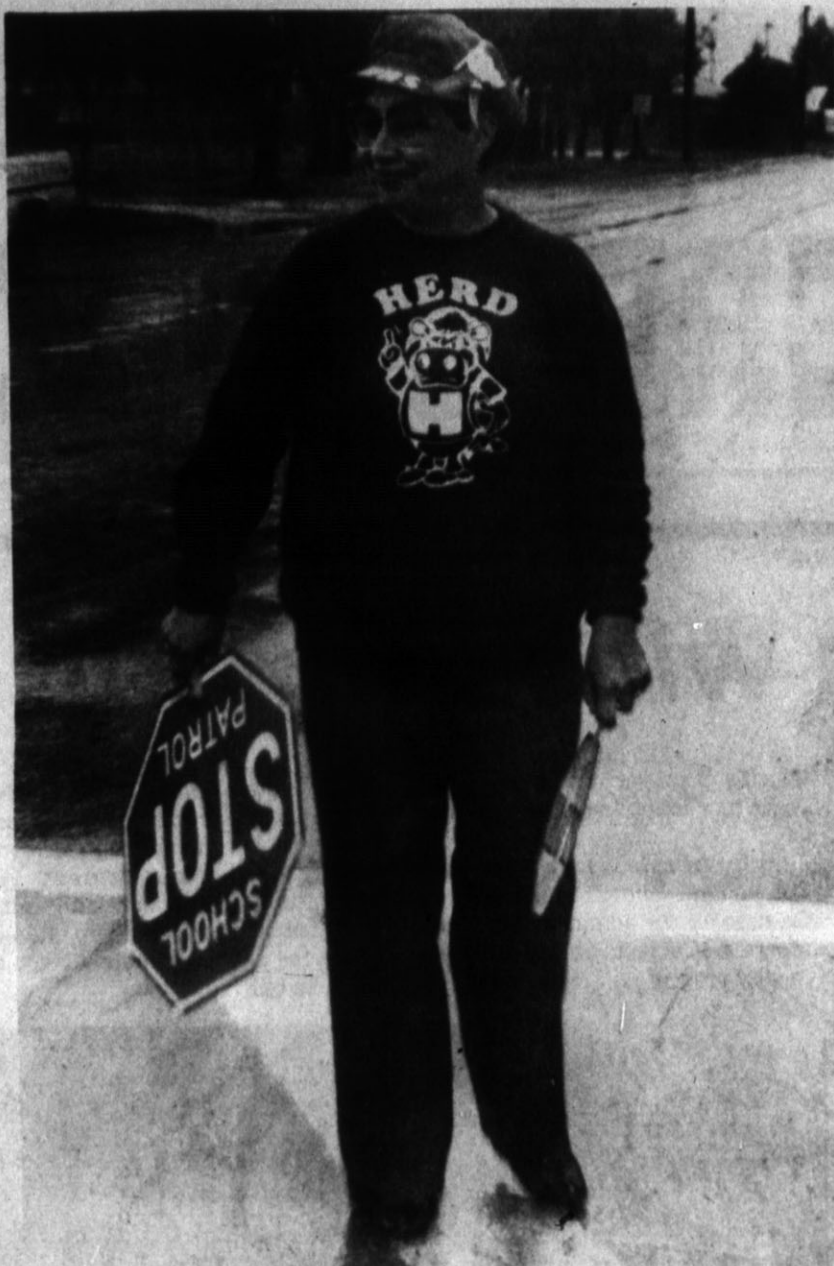

"I pledge to the Mujahideen who have fallen that we will fight to the last man, and if our country is still occupied, our sons will pick up arms against the Soviets, and so it will be until the last generation is born or until Afghanistan is free."

Loeffler and other Republican congressmen then heard Gen. Abdul Wardak tell how the resistance had accomplished a "stalemate" with the Soviet Union during the past five years despite using World War I-era weapons against the superpower.

"In my judgment," said Loeffler, "Congress ought to step forward with military aid in an overt way rather than the effort that has been ongoing in a covert situation."

Loeffler said there was "no difference" between the situation of the freedom fighters in Afghanistan and freedom fighters in Nicaragua.

Reps. Eldon Rudd and John McCain of Arizona called on the Soviets to abide by international agreements protecting journalists.

St. Anthony's 4th graders tell what preamble means

What does the preamble to the U.S. Constitution mean to you?

That question was asked of fourth graders at St. Anthony's School recently, during the observance of Constitution Week. Here are some samples of the answers:

"The preamble is the introduction to the Constitution. It tells why some men met to make the important document called the Constitution. The reasons were these: To make the Union of the states more perfect, to make fairness the rule, to be sure that there will be peace within our country, to set up the means of protection for everyone, to contribute to the good of everyone, to insure that the good effects of freedom will last for this and future generations."—Jill Reinauer

"The preamble is the most important part of the Constitution because it tells the purpose of the Constitution. When they talked about a perfect Union, they meant that all the states would join together and be one. That's the only way they could be strong. To establish justice means that all states would have an equal say about what was fair to all. If everyone had a fair say, there would be no reason to fight. By standing together, they would be strong against outside enemies. By general welfare, they meant that they would always decide what was best for the majority. They felt that these rules, if followed, would keep the country strong for all generations."—Lexi Sciumbato

"To me the preamble means to form a better place to live. A place where every person, no matter what color or what religion they are, can live in peace without being afraid. This helps other people to respect our country and our way of living. We don't have to obey a king or a government like other countries do. We can say what we want without being put in jail. We are free."—Stacy S.

"The preamble is the beginning of the Constitution. It means we want to make a better Union. We want to make things just. We want to make our Nation calm and peaceful. We want to be able to help fight for our country. We want everyone to be the best they can possibly be. We make sure everyone has freedom for ever and ever. We make this Constitution for the people of the United States of America."—Shannon

'Greater Tuna' playing its last weekend

By CINDY SMITH
Staff Writer

"It's really weird to be dressed as a woman and put your hands in your own pocket and feel lacy underwear," said Steve Abolt, actor in Country Squire's 'Greater Tuna'. "No, we didn't have to shave our legs," commented Rodney Rincon, also an actor in 'Greater Tuna', "but we did have to shave our moustaches," he laughed.

Abolt and Rincon are two of five stars that are featured in the play 'Greater Tuna'.

The play takes place in the third smallest town in Texas, called Tuna. Classic country music is presented throughout the entire show.

The play 'Greater Tuna' features 20 different small town characters which are played by five actors alone.

"Originally the play had only two actors," said Rincon, "but because of stage changes, it now has five actors."

"The authors of 'Greater Tuna' also acted in the play they had written," said Abolt. "The original author, by the way, is a local from Amarillo named Jaston Williams."

Both of Rincon and Abolt play five different roles a piece. Of these characters, they also play women's roles.

"I play Bertha," said Rincon.

Obituaries

VIRGINIA L. FREOUF

Vincent L. Freouf, age 92, a resident of Torrington, died at Scottsbluff Villa Nursing home on Wednesday, Sept. 25, 1985.

Services were conducted at the United Methodist Church in Torrington on Sept. 30, at 11 a.m. with Rev. Robert Sewell officiating. Interment was held in Valleyview Cemetery with military rites by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2918 and the Wyoming National Guard. Memorials were requested by the family to be directed to VFW Post 2918 of Torrington.

Freouf was born Jan. 22, 1893 in Atkinson, Neb. the son of Joseph and Francis Ziska Freouf. He was educated there and was a World War I veteran serving in the 48th Engineers, United States Army.

Freouf was a farmer by trade and homesteaded North of Glendo in 1914. He later farmed at Minitare, Neb. as well as North of Mitchell, Neb. and in the Sheep Creek area until retirement in 1961 when he moved to Torrington.

He was married to Mary A. Lawyer on Sept. 7, 1926 in Torrington, she preceded him in death in June, 1968. Freouf later married Pearl Thomas on Sept. 14, 1969 and she also preceded him in death in June 1982.

He was a member of the United Methodist Church, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2918, W.W. I Oregon Trail Barracks 3535 of which he was the Commander, and I.O.O.F. Lodge No. 48.

Survivors are four sons, Clifford W. Freouf of Lingle; Leo J. Freouf of Walla Walla, Wash.; Henry Freouf of Cheyenne Wells, Colo.; and James Freouf of Milton Freewater, Ore.; two daughters, Virginia Anstey of Hereford, and Louise Watson of Denver, Colo.; one sister, Blanch Engler of Atkinson, Neb.; 25 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

"She's a hard-working mother who has problems with her kids, a delinquent son and an unfaithful husband," laughed Rincon.

Rincon's unfaithful husband is played by his co-star, Abolt. "I also play his charming little old grandmother who poisons dogs," warned Abolt jokingly.

Both actors have very experienced in the theatre world. Abolt is making his second appearance at the Squire as he was a favorite as 'Rooster' in the production of 'Annie' which played last month. He played 'Cliff', a fast talking, beer drinking truck driver in a highly acclaimed production of 'The Woodgatherer'.

Abolt has performed throughout the United States and Canada in such shows as 'A Christmas Carol' and 'The Student Prince'. He toured with Helen Cornelius and Dave Rowland in 'Annie Get Your Gun' in 1984 and has written and starred as Edgar Allan Poe in his one-man production of the 'Den of Poe'.

Rincon has performed in over 100 stage roles, a dozen films and numerous TV commercials in his native Texas as well as in New York. He has starred as 'Matt' in 'Talley's Folley', 'Greenwald' in 'The Caine Mutiny Court Martial' and 'Villa' in 'Pancho Villa's Wedding Day'. On the screen, Rincon has performed in 'The Legend of Billie Jean' and can be seen in the forthcoming 'Pray for Death' and 'Witchfire' starring Shelley Winters.

"Not every actor can play every role," agreed both of the actors. "Not everyone is the same size, color, shape, etc."

"When you're on the road, you make a lot of money. Your responsibilities are taken care of (place to stay, transportation, etc.), and it's easy to spend and go in the hole," commented Abolt on being on the road.

"It's difficult leaving your wife," said Rincon of his being on the road, "you get a lot of phone bills and try to meet people to fill up your time."

Both the actors spend their free time while traveling as "trivial pursuit killers." Abolt spends his time fishing, cooking, re-decorating, and is an avid confederate civil war enthusiast.

Rincon uses his time catching up on movies and writing scripts for television.

Both actors agree "If you don't experience life, you can't imitate it as an actor."

Performances of 'Greater Tuna' this week, the last showing, end Saturday at the Country Squire Dinner Theatre with speculation to be held over.

Dinner will be served 6:15 p.m. with the show to begin at 8 p.m. The Otwell Twins will perform after each show and the public is invited to attend.

Man goes to jail for foot stomping

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A 35-year-old man arrested more than 40 times in the past 17 years for stomping on people's feet has been sentenced to jail for two more incidents, including one while he was free on bond.

George Mitchell pleaded guilty Thursday to treading on a woman's feet outside a Nashville restaurant April 22 and on another's in a store checkout lane Aug. 29. Criminal Court Judge Sterling Gray sentenced him to the maximum 11 months and 29 days on each of the misdemeanor counts and said Mitchell must serve three-fourths of each sentence before being eligible for parole.

Andrei Lee-Sadler, Mitchell's lawyer, said she has found a psychologist willing to counsel him free of charge.

"This time, if the Lord is willing, we're going to have some help," she said. "I have a psychologist who's going to talk with him and hopefully work with him at the workhouse."

Ann Landers

Readers should follow through

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For many years you have urged people to get therapy at their local mental health centers where there are sliding-scale fees. As someone who has chosen public mental health as a career, I couldn't agree with you more.

Unfortunately, in our community, and I don't know how many more communities around the country, the public mental health clinic is now seen as a revenue-raiser for the local government. Consequently, the fees have gone up.

For example, a single mother of one child making $11,000 a year would pay $10 for a visit. If we want to see her and her child separately once a week, it would cost her at least $80 per month. As a result, many families cannot afford our services and don't come back after the first visit.

As an employee, I would catch hell for going to the press with this, but as a citizen I can ask you to urge people to overcome their feeling of shame when they need psychotherapy and cannot afford it. Please tell them to contact an elected or appointed official in their town or county who has a say about whether the health center should be a source of revenue for the government. They should insist that it provide affordable therapy for citizens who need it. If enough people complained, the policy would change and the clinics would once again be accessible to everyone. Do you agree with me, Ann?—A THERAPIST IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEAR D.C.: You bet I do. Thanks for the inside tip. I urge my readers to follow through.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is not big deal unless a person has a newspaper route that involves coin-operated dispensers. The problem is theft, and you would not believe how much of it there is around. I am talking about people who put money in the rack for one paper and take two, three or four.

I'll bet people think they are ripping off the rich newspaper publisher. They're wrong. We have to pay for all the papers we don't return. Some days I lose as many as 100. This can really hurt a little guy who is trying to make a living.

If you print this letter maybe some of those folks who pull this cheap stunt will have a better understanding of the situation and cut it out.—TICKED OFF IN CINCINNATI.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Everyone who reads your column sees himself sooner or later. It happened to me a few days ago. I am talking about the father who tickled his daughter until he made her cry. The bully pretended it was all in fun but you pointed out that excessive tickling can mask some deep hostility.

My dad picked on me a lot. When he became angry he would start to tickle me. He would keep it up until I wet my pants. Then he'd make fun of me and call me a baby. I always ended up crying.

Whenever I think of my childhood, that memory is the first one that comes to mind. Please print this letter for other parents who consider tickling a harmless act.—CHARLIE IN PA.

DEAR CHARLIE: Thanks for your testimonial on a problem that is no laughing matter.

Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Lander's guide to "Necking and Petting—What Are the Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Illinois 60611, enclosing 50 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WTSU opens MVC play against Indiana State

Missouri Valley Conference play opens Saturday for the West Texas State University Buffaloes when they host Indiana State at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium at 1:30 p.m.

Indiana State won its conference opener last week when it outscored Drake 17-10 in a home game.

WTSU, which defeated Texas A&I 37-17 last Saturday, leads the all-time series with Indiana State 4-2. Indiana State won the last meeting between the two schools, 31-20 in 1983.

The Buffaloes won the first three games of the series before losing to the Sycamores in 1980. WTSU has a 3-1 advantage in games played at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium.

West Texas State totaled 544 yards offense against Texas A&I—365 yards passing and 179 yards rushing. It was the first time since a 54-21 win over New Mexico State in 1979 that WTSU has had more than 500 yards total offense in one game.

Quarterback Tod Mayfield broke the school record for pass completions in one game for the third straight game. He completed 31 of 48 passes for 365 yards and two touchdowns. Mayfield broke a school record with 28 pass completions against Angelo State three games back, and then completed 29 passes against Louisiana Tech two games back.

For the season, Mayfield has completed 112 of 189 passes for 1,203 yards. The single-season WTSU record for completions is 230 by Victor McGee.

James Morton had 103 yards rushing for WTSU.

Indiana State is averaging 314 yards total offense per game while allowing 363 yards by its opponents. Quarterback Jeff Miller of the Sycamores, the 1984 offensive player of the year in the Missouri Valley Conference, has completed 55 of 113 passes this season for 637 yards and three touchdowns.

Indiana State Coach Dennis Raetz said, "This was as important a game as we've had in a long, long time. It would have been very tough for us to go to West Texas State at 1-3. Anything can happen down there."

"I think we deserved to win. We controlled the game for the most part. We struggled offensively most of the day, but we were able to control the clock."

"It was very important for us to pull together and play well after the last two weeks (Indiana State lost to Eastern Illinois 39-7 and to Kansas 37-10). It was time for us to win."

Texas Tech, Texas A&M clash Saturday in Lubbock

Texas Tech will try to defeat Texas A&M for the fourth straight time when the Red Raiders host the Aggies in a 7 p.m. game Saturday at Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

Tech Coach Jerry Moore also is looking to become the first coach to defeat Jackie Sherrill of A&M four times in his career. Moore, Bobby Collins of SMU, and Joe Paterno of Penn State have each coached their teams to three wins over teams coached by Sherrill.

The Red Raiders have played a tough defense against Texas A&M in winning the last three games between the two schools. The Aggies were held to a field goal in a 24-3 loss to Texas Tech in 1981, and lost to Texas Tech 3-0 in 1983.

Last year, the Red Raiders scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter enroute to a 30-12 victory over the Aggies at College Station.

Texas A&M is coming off the second-best offensive output in the 71-year history of the Southwest Conference, while Texas Tech is coming off its worst defeat ever to Baylor.

The Aggies piled up 702 yards total offense in a 45-10 win over Tulsa. Quarterback Kevin Murray had 309 yards passing and four touchdowns, Roger Vick rushed for 134 yards and three touchdowns, and Jeff Nelson had 130 yards receiving.

Texas A&M also has the third best offensive game in conference history, 687 yards against Texas Christian in 1977. The SWC record is 859 yards by Arkansas in 1936 against Pittsburg-Kansas State (now Pittsburg State).

The Texas Tech offense was held to 211 yards by Baylor in the 31-0 loss to the Bears. Baylor had 458 yards total offense.

"We certainly didn't play the way we would have liked but Baylor had a lot to do with that," said Tech Coach Moore.

"I was disappointed with our execution. We didn't play well on either side of the ball. We need to analyze the reasons why we didn't execute and get them corrected."

"We don't want to punch the panic button. We just need to get our mistakes corrected and go on. We shouldn't lose sight of the fact that we are 3-1 with three straight home games coming up," Moore adds.

Sherrill's Aggies had a balanced offensive attack against Tulsa, with 346 yards rushing and 356 yards passing. Nine ball carriers and seven pass receivers were credited with yardage in that game.

Texas A&M is ranked fourth in the nation in total offense with an average of 513 yards per game. SMU is the national leader with 579 yards per game.

The Red Raider defense, which led the nation in pass defense last season, will be faced with the chore of stopping Murray, who is ranked third in the nation in passing.

Bobby Medina scores three touchdowns

Maroon JV defeats Caprock, 26-14

Bobby Medina scored three touchdowns to help lead the Hereford High School Maroon junior varsity to a 26-14 victory over Caprock Thursday at Whiteface Stadium in Hereford.

The win evened the Maroon junior varsity's season record at 2-2.

The HHS White junior varsity suffered a 14-6 defeat at the hands of the Friona junior varsity Thursday, also at Whiteface Stadium, and is 0-4 for the season.

Next week, both Hereford junior varsity teams will play road games. Hereford Maroon will play Amarillo High School at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, and Hereford White will play at Lubbock Coronado at 10 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 12.

Hereford Maroon gained a 12-0 lead in the first quarter on touchdown runs by Bobby Medina and Raymond Romo. Medina's run was for two yards, and Romo ran six yards for his touchdown.

Hereford Maroon led at halftime, 12-6, and held an 18-14 lead after three quarters of play.

The third quarter touchdown was scored with a four-yard run by Medina.

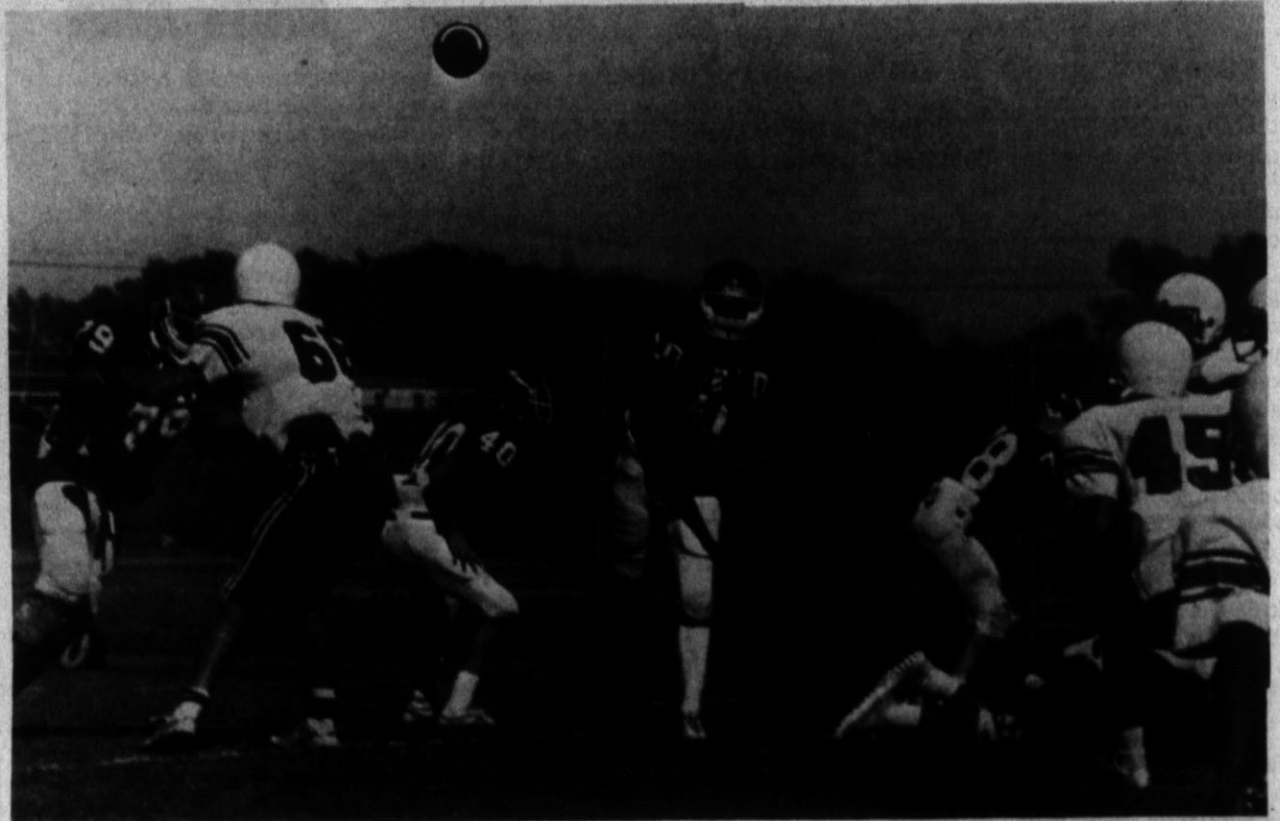

Medina scored his third touchdown of the game in the fourth quarter, this time with an eighth-yard run. Romo passed to Jason Culpepper for the two-point conversion and a 26-14 lead.

Walter Brockman of Hereford Maroon intercepted a Caprock pass.

The Hereford White junior varsity fell behind 14-0 in the first half in the 14-6 loss to Friona.

John Washington rushed one yard for the Hereford White touchdown in the third quarter.

Abebe Bikela of Ethiopia won the Olympic Marathon in 1960 and 1964, becoming the first two-time winner of that event.

Stanton 9th grade wins 21-14 over Plainview Blue

A 21-14 victory over Plainview Blue Thursday in Hereford upped the Stanton Junior High School ninth grade football team's season record to 3-1.

The Stanton eighth grade team lost to Plainview Blue 6-0, with the Plainview touchdown coming in the fourth quarter. The Stanton eighth grade has an 0-3 season record.

Next Thursday the Stanton eighth and ninth grade teams play at Yucca. Game times are 4 p.m. for the ninth grade and 5:30 p.m. for the eighth grade.

Plainview Blue gained a 6-0 lead over Stanton in the ninth grade game with a 45-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter.

Stanton tied up the game at 6-6 when Pat Rhodes caught a pass from Pat Mercer for a nine-yard scoring play in the second quarter. The extra points attempt was not good.

Early in the fourth quarter, a Stanton drive was kept alive in Plainview Blue territory when Plainview was called for a facemask penalty on a tackle of Stanton ball carrier Kelvin Brown.

Stanton then moved in for a touchdown, with Keith Brown rushing four yards for the score with 6:54 left in the game.

Plainview Blue scored with a 38-yard touchdown run with 3:52 left, and added a two-point conversion to tie the game at 14-14.

Stanton drove for a game-winning touchdown, which was scored with 55 seconds left in the contest. John Wilson caught an eight-yard touchdown pass from Pat Mercer.

Jimmy Linen kicked the extra point to give Stanton its final margin of 21-14.

"Our offense played well. We did a good job of keeping our poise on the winning touchdown drive," said Stanton ninth grade Coach James Salinas.

"Our offensive line—Billy Burnam, Vincent Garcia, Jimmy Linen, Ricky Rieves, Marcus Marquez and Pat Rhodes—did a super job. We were very fortunate to win. Plainview got after us," Salinas adds.

The Stanton ninth grade defense intercepted two passes. Anthony Gonzales intercepted a Plainview pass with about three minutes left in the first half, and Gilbert Juarez intercepted a pass early in the fourth quarter.

La Plata ninth grade football team beats Marshall 12-6

La Plata Junior High School's ninth grade football team scored its first win of the 1985 season by defeating Marshall Junior High School 12-6 Thursday in Clovis, N.M.

The La Plata eighth grade team suffered a 20-8 loss to Marshall in a game also played in Clovis Thursday.

Next Thursday, both the La Plata eighth and ninth grade teams play at home against Plainview Red. The ninth grade game is set for 4:30 p.m., and the eighth grade game is scheduled for 6 p.m.

The ninth grade team has a 1-2-1 season record, and the eighth grade is 1-3.

La Plata and Marshall battled to a scoreless tie in the first half of Thursday's ninth grade football contest. Marshall gained a 6-0 lead with a third quarter touchdown.

La Plata tied up the game at 6-6 with five minutes left in the game when Kyle Andrews rushed five yards for a touchdown.

The La Plata defense stopped Marshall in the next series, and the La Plata offense had the ball in their hands with two and one half minutes left in the game.

La Plata drove for a touchdown, with Andrews carrying the ball the final two yards into the end zone with 57 seconds left.

"Our whole defensive team played well," said Coach Ed Copen.

Turnovers in the first half hurt the La Plata eighth grade team as Marshall capitalized on mistakes for two touchdowns. Marshall recovered one fumble and drove 30 yards for a first quarter score, and recovered the other fumble in the end zone for a touchdown in the second quarter. Marshall led at halftime, 14-0.

Another La Plata fumble within its own 20-yard line was recovered by Marshall in the third quarter and Marshall went on to score a touchdown for a 20-8 lead.

COUNTRY ROAD CHURCH OF GOD

Roy Poole, a former show business and night club entertainer, will be featured in a gospel music concert at 6 p.m. Sunday at the church, 401 Country Club Drive.

The public is invited to hear Poole's gospel music ministry.

Poole was once a singer for rock and roll shows on the east coast and has sung backup and shared stages with Chubby Checker, Jerry Lee Lewis and Johnny Steele.

For the past 10 years, he has traveled hundreds of thousands of miles spreading the gospel through word and song.

Poole has recorded six gospel albums and he writes much of his own music. Over the years, he has ministered in church's of all denominations, youth crusades, conventions and gospel events throughout the U.S.

He has shared stages with the Blackwood Brothers Quartet, The Florida Boys, Cathedrals Quartet and the Gold City Quartet.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

An all church luncheon will be held Sunday in the church fellowship hall immediately following morning worship services.

The purpose of the event will be to welcome the Archie Coplen family. Coplen is the new music minister.

The church will provide meat and bread. Each family is asked to bring their choice of salads, vegetables and or desserts.

All youth and adult Sunday School workers are encouraged to attend the Sunday School Leadership Training at 7:15 p.m. Sunday in the fellowship hall. It will be led by Shelby Baucom.

The church will soon begin a new ministry to visit all newcomers to Hereford and vicinity under the direction of Bob Owen. If you know of a new resident or one who is about to move here, please contact Owen or the church office.

The fifth and sixth grade Sunday School department invite former students, former co-workers and friends to a reception at 9:15 a.m. Sunday in the parlor. The event will honor Jewel Smith and Lois Ethridge for their many years of service to the church.

The Fall Festival of Marriage is planned Oct. 18-20 in Glorieta. The music leader will be Jeryl Hoover and Ruthann Hoover will supervise the worship.

The church will pay one-half of the registration fee. The cost of this workshop will be $35 per couple. The total cost will be approximately $75.

Sandi Patti will be presented in concert at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 18 in the Civic Center Auditorium in Amarillo. Advance tickets are priced at $8.50 and $9.50. If tickets are bought at the door, they will be $1 higher.

Deadline for ordering tickets is Oct. 9.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Rev. Bruce Kochsmeier's sermon for the regular 10:30 a.m. Sunday worship service is entitled "Changed by the Potter's hand." The scripture lesson is Jeremiah 18:1-12.

The junior high fellowship will meet from 5:30-7 p.m. Sunday. The senior high fellowship will meet from 7:30-9 p.m. Both groups are to meet at 138 Liveoak.

Prayer group will meet at the church at 6 p.m. Monday.

The Deacons are hosting the Hal Easley Memorial Dinner for the congregation on Wednesday at 6 p.m. There will be lots of food, good fellowship and singing. Church members are asked to bring a dessert, otherwise, the meal will be provided.

Remember the tape ministry. Take a tape of the Sunday worship service to a shut-in.

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

Next summer the youth group will sponsor one more trip to the Haiti Missions Project. It's not for everyone but if you are considering it, attend the meeting Sunday evening at the Sanders house. You are not required to be a member of the church to be eligible but you must be spiritually mature to be prepared for such a trip.

Everyone is invited to attend the Homecoming Special at the Merrick's house following the game. There is no cost. The only requirement is that you make reservations in advance.

Jeff and Kathy Love will provide entertainment. Also, there will be food and valet parking.

THE CHURCH OF ST. THOMAS THE APOSTLE

The Rev. Charles R. Threewit, rector of St. Thomas, announces the first meeting of the Fall Enquirer's Class at 7 p.m. Monday in the parish hall. The meeting will last approximately two hours.

Although the classes will prepare those who so desire for Confirmation in the Episcopal Church, the only obligation is to attend all the classes (projected for six).

Now that school has started and new and old acquaintances have been made, one of the activities requested by the junior high students of the church and youth of the community are the well-chaperoned dances held at First United Methodist Church.

These dances will be held for 7th-9th grade students ONLY. No exceptions. The dances are chaperoned by U.M.Y.F. sponsors and parents.

The dances are held from 10:30 p.m. until 12:30 a.m. during football season in the church fellowship hall. The fall dance schedule is tonight, Nov. 8, Dec. 6, Jan. 10, Jan. 24 and Feb. 14.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Youth of First United Methodist Church will hear a guest speaker, Greg Moreland of Lubbock, Sunday evening when adults will begin a fall study series on Methodist growth. Meetings of both groups will be at 6 p.m.

A snack supper will precede the Youth Fellowship program, starting at 5:30 p.m. in the church fellowship hall. Moreland is well known in Northwest Texas as a speaker to youth groups, also a counselor and leader in summer camps at Ceta Canyon.

He is a teacher and coach in a Lubbock Junior high school, and has been youth director at Oakwood United Methodist Church for two years. He is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. All teenagers are invited to hear him.

Dr. Weldon Butler, First UMC pastor, will teach the six-week study for adults. It will close with a Family Night covered dish dinner Nov. 17.

Planned in response to requests for a study on United Methodist history and beliefs, the series will inform members of the values of Methodism and facets of church history which are not familiar to many. Anyone interested in church beliefs and history will find it informative.

Children below junior high age will have their own program Sunday evening, and the nursery will be open for small children. The public is invited to share these fall meetings, for all age sectors.

TCU geologist saw Titanic propeller three years ago

Geologists at Texas Christian University identified remains of the Titanic three years before French researchers claimed discovery of the ill-fated ocean liner.

In 1981 Abilene oilman Jack Grimm funded a search effort for the Titanic. The search team returned with videotapes of what they believed to be parts of the ship. In the summer of 1983 they took the tapes to TCU's Center for Remote Sensing and Energy Research.

According to director Dr. Ken Morgan, the videotape needed some special enhancement which the center was equipped to do.

"We went frame-by-frame through the miles of tape that were recorded, and we enhanced it with our computer system," he said.

"We found the propeller blade which matched up to the sister ship that was built at the same time. That is the kind of evidence that made Grimm's search team think this propeller belonged to the Titanic," Morgan explained.

"What this really shows is the capability of remote sensing technology where we can use it not only in space but also below our oceans," pointed out the geologist.

People have been looking for the Titanic since it sank in 1912. The important thing now is the technology which helped bring the evidence that proved the vessel was there. A lot of people thought they found it before, but they could never be sure until now, Morgan noted.

Remote sensing, a technology which has developed most significantly over the past decade, employs images created from messages received by NASA space satellites. Geologists use that information to pinpoint oil, gas, water, minerals and other natural resources for management and exploration purposes.

COFFEE, CHOCOLATE AND CAFFEINE

NEW YORK (AP) — Some people drink coffee or chocolate when they feel the need for quick energy, believing both contain equal amounts of caffeine, according to Chocolatier magazine.

However, the magazine says, a 1.5 ounce cup of chocolate contains 9 mg of caffeine, compared to 150 mg for a cup of coffee.

Man's boyhood dream fulfilled

ABOARD THE USS IOWA (AP) — Many a boy has dreamed of sailing the seas in a mighty battleship, but serving aboard the USS Iowa is especially sweet for those born and bred in the Hawkeye state.

"I started dreaming about the Iowa when I was 6 or 7 years old," said Jeff Hilton, 30, a photographer's mate first class from Ames, Iowa, who has been in the Navy 12 years.

When Hilton started dreaming, the Iowa already had been mothballed for the second time, first in 1949 after service in World War II and again in 1958 after the Korean War.

When the Iowa was selected to be refurbished, along with the battleships New Jersey and Missouri, Hilton applied immediately. Now he's the ship's photographer and has been a member of the crew since the ship became operational in early 1984.

"Every time my father writes, he asks me to send more Iowa baseball caps because people always ask for them," Hilton said.

The 58,000-ton Iowa is now making the first appearance in European waters in more than 20 years by a battleship. It helped shepherd a merchant convoy across the Atlantic in a simulation of a mission to resupply Europe in time of war, and the sleek vessel is to steam into the Baltic Sea in October to show U.S. naval muscle in waters that lap on Soviet shores.

The Iowa has immense firepower, with the biggest guns afloat in its nine 16-inchers, Tomahawk cruise missiles which can be nuclear-armed and Harpoon anti-ship missiles.

But it is also a thing of beauty to naval men who think nothing surpasses a truly big ship, and the happiest men among the crew of 1,400 may be the 30 natives of Iowa who grew up 1,000 miles from salt water.

Senior Dispensing Clerk ("I pay the crew") Jerry Youngs, 38, a 20-year Navy veteran from Cedar Rapids, said he was asked to extend his service to join the Iowa.

"I jumped on it," he said. The Iowa's modernization brought the crew's quarters and other facilities up to 1980s standards. Computers were installed to handle records and word-processing.

"I don't know how I'm going to be able to go to another ship," Youngs said. "The Iowa is up to date, modern. And I don't see going to a (new) Spruance class destroyer or a carrier and getting any better than this."

The skipper of the Iowa, Capt. Jerry Gneckow, from Boise, Idaho, invited a few American and British reporters aboard while the ship was maneuvering in the English Channel with a flotilla of 11 destroyers and smaller vessels from NATO navies.

The Iowa crossed the Atlantic vying with NATO ships, planes and submarines playing "hostile" forces, but kept radio and radar silence and never was detected, Gneckow said.

Cmdr. Joe Lee Frank, a native of the Iowa's home port, Norfolk, Va., said service on a battleship is a career bonus for senior officers, and being skipper of one of them is considered a firm signal of a coming promotion to admiral.

Frank said the state of Iowa maintained a sentimental link to its namesake battleship, and Iowans had donated money that was used to buy computers for crew training, as well as Iowa travel posters displayed on bulkheads throughout the ship.

$10,000 will set pet up

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — A non-profit corporation is being established to provide care for pets long after the owners are gone.

For $10,000, Pet Care Inc. will guarantee that a pet receives all the loving care it needs to the end of its days, according to Dr. Ned Ellett, a professor of veterinary medicine at Texas A&M University.

The program will offer complete care for almost any kind of pet. Ellett said he draws the line at venomous snakes and large exotic animals such as lions and bears.

Elderly pet owners often worry what would happen if they entered a nursing home or if their pet outlived them, Ellett said.

"All too many of them have an animal put to sleep ahead of time, or they don't get an animal to replace the one they've lost," he said.

The corporation plans to construct a 40-acre complex that will include barns, exercise yards and a roomy, air-conditioned facility to house up to 500 small animals, Ellett said. Land also will be reserved for a pet cemetery, he said.

Judge bars district from withholding pay

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — A state district judge said he would decide next week whether Beaumont Independent School District may withhold a teacher's wages to recover more than $7,000 she was overpaid.

School officials contend that because of a computer error, they inadvertently overpaid kindergarten instructor Teresa Hanks $7,141.53 during the 1984-85 school year.

The district this summer began deducting portions of the overpayment from Ms. Hanks' paychecks, but State District Judge Gary Sanderson on Wednesday temporarily barred the salary deductions.

Sanderson issued his order after Ms. Hanks, who teaches at Lincoln-Martin Elementary School, filed a motion stating the garnishment of her wages would cause her financial hardship and could result in creditors filing suit against her.

The judge also set an Oct. 10 hearing to decide whether to issue a permanent order against the district.

The district wrote Ms. Hanks a letter after learning of the error and offered her the choice of having $510.11 deducted from each of her next 14 paychecks or having her entire wages withheld until the district recovers the overpayment.

Once-banned singer returns to UT

AUSTIN (AP) — It is "an enormous joy" to return to the University of Texas 28 years after being forced to withdraw from a school opera production because she is black, Barbara Conrad says.

"It's like coming full circle. Texas is my home, and this is like finding that you have a place in the world. It makes me want to say, 'Yippee!'" Conrad, one of six recipients of a distinguished alumnus award for 1985, told the Austin American-Statesman.

Conrad, a native of Pittsburg in East Texas and a mezzo-soprano who has sung with the Metropolitan Opera in New York since 1982, will be visiting UT for the second time tonight since she received a bachelor's degree in music in 1959.

After graduation from UT, Conrad won acclaim for her role as Carmen with the Houston Opera and the New York City Opera.
