

Martin Hero Of Cardinals' 5-1 Victory

PRESIDENT HOOVER TOSSES OUT BALL

President Hoover journeyed from Washington to Philadelphia to watch the Cardinals defeat the Athletics in the third game of the world series, 5 to 2. Here the chief executive is shown in an Associated Press telephoto tossing out the ball to start the contest. Mrs. Hoover is at the left.

MARTIN SCORES ANOTHER RUN

Pepper Martin, young center fielder of the St. Louis Cardinals who play has been a sensation of the world series with the Philadelphia Athletics, is shown in this Associated Press telephoto scoring the second run of the third game, played at Philadelphia. After Bottomley walked in the second inning, Martin singled. Wilson's single scored Bottomley and sent Martin to third, whence he tallied on Gelber's fly. The final score of the game was 5 to 2 in favor of the Cards. In Wednesday's game Martin had driven in or scored all of the Cardinals' four runs and had equalled the all-time World Series record with 12 hits in this series.

Hoover Gratified By Approval of Plan To Form $500,000,000 Pool For Handling Frozen Bank Assets

Reform Or Revolution A F of L Cry

Jobs or Serious Unrest Must Come Soon, Green Declares

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 7 (UP)—The phrase, "Reform—or Revolution!" was raised today as the battle cry of 334 American Federation of Labor delegates as they rounded out a platform designed to end the darkest time its membership has known in a decade. In a time when 7,000,000 Americans—more than twice the full strength of unionized labor—are jobless, the Federation will not end its activities with the closing of the convention, leaders said. Jobs or serious unrest must come soon, William Green, the short, plump but dynamic president of the Federation declared. Labor's program of shorter hours to make work for more men must be adopted to prevent a frantic upsetting of the capitalistic system in an effort to find relief, the veteran Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation for 35 years, declared. The five day week and sufficient shortening of the eight-hour day to provide employment for every idle man is the foundation of Labor's plan to end a world-wide depression. Assurance of job security is demanded to release into circulation the savings hoarded by men now employed but in constant fear of being discharged in wholesale layoffs. An immediate step to wage-cutting on the grounds it is economic suicide, is held essential. And although Organized Labor calls strikes "barbarous," it will ask of congress a greater right to use that weapon when it feels it necessary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (UP)—Gratified by congressional leaders' approval of plans to stimulate business by making possible easier credit, President Hoover began today conferring with prominent realtors on projects to finance more home building. Leaders of both parties yesterday endorsed a plan to liberalize government redemptor restrictions and to expand federal land bank operations by creating a $500,000,000 corporation by private bankers to handle frozen assets of insolvent banks. No special session of congress is planned. The president believes the present mortgage system is discouraging home ownership and that better credit facilities will stimulate building and employment. The stock market advanced yesterday and again today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (UP)—Leading bankers here today announced they expected to have a working plan for the proposed $500,000,000 corporation to handle frozen bank assets ready by the end of the week.

ATLANTIC CITY, Oct. 7 (UP)—A resolution approving the plan for a pool to handle frozen bank credits was submitted to the American Bankers Association convention here today. It was expected to pass.

Funeral Held For Morrow

Coolidge and Curtis Head Group of Dignitaries At Rites

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 7 (UP)—Former President Calvin Coolidge and Vice-President Curtis headed a large number of dignitaries at the funeral of Dwight W. Morrow here today. Services were held from the First Presbyterian church at 3 p. m., and were public. Burial was private.

80 Cents Fare On Grid Special To Midland Game

All aboard for Midland! Expected to be met by a very determined team of Midland high school football players, who will feel they are the underdogs, local high school followers have started a drive to send at least 250 fans to the game October 15, a Friday, on a special train. The Texas & Pacific has offered a round trip rate of only 80 cents if as many as 250 tickets can be sold. The train will leave here and Midland whenever high school officials wish. George Gentry, high school principal, will take reservations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (UP)—News travels rapidly in Washington, but not in many days has it moved with the rapidity it did when word came of the death of Senator Dwight W. Morrow. The higher up it went among officials, the slower it moved.

President Hoover was at the baseball game with an official party. The news was withheld from him—the man who perhaps lost the most through Morrow's death—until he returned to his train and started home. He was at the ball park probably knew it before Mr. Hoover did. It was nearing 3 p. m. in Washington when the word came. Secretary of State Stimson, who next to Mr. Hoover had the closest relationship with the little New Jersey senator, was holding his regular weekly conference of assistants. Undersecretary of State William R. Castle came from the conference room and took the message from the United Press. He thought a moment, shook his head, and then turned to the conference room. He sat there through some 20 minutes more of discussion, never mentioning to his chief the fact that the department's closest unofficial advisers had died. But down through the ranks of clerks and sub-clerks—people who did not rate attendance at the department conference—one man or woman was whispering to another. "Did you know Dwight Morrow is dead?" They found it hard to believe that Morrow would pass through the departmental corridors no more. Why, only last week he had spent the day "fixing up" the office of Senator Borah. A dozen newspapermen were meeting with the senator, discussing this and that. Word that Morrow was dead was sent in. The newspaper. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5)

"BIG FELLOW" GETS BRONX CHEER

Young Fielder Equals All-Time Series Batting Record; 12 Safeties

SHIRE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—The St. Louis Cardinals, National league champions, prepared to return to their home park tonight with a one-game advantage over the Philadelphia Athletics, after taking today's game 5 to 2 behind the consistent pitching of Hallahan and the phenomenal batting of Pepper Martin. Martin drove in or scored four of the Cardinals runs. He got two singles and a home run. His long fly brought in a run in the first inning. In the sixth he hit into the upper left field stand for a home run, scoring Frisch. In the eighth Martin scored Watkins with a single. Martin equalled the all-time record with his last hit of the day, his 13th in five World Series games. Hallahan was struck twice by batted balls but stayed in to take his second victory of the series.

VonHindenburg Authorizes Bruening To Form New Non-Partisan Cabinet

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—President Paul von Hindenburg today accepted the resignations of the cabinet headed by Chancellor Heinrich Brüning and authorized him to form another, consolidating the cabinet's position with that of the reichstag's. It would be non-partisan.

A foreign minister Julius Curtius, much criticized when the German-Austrian customs unions were abandoned before French opposition, resigned yesterday. The resigning cabinet handled reparations, the moratorium and a stringent economy program, using various semi-dictatorial methods. It was strongly opposed by Fascists and handicapped by discontent over increasing unemployment.

Lower Rate Is Proposed For Cotton

Seeking to meet competition of motor trucks in shipping cotton to Texas gulf ports, railroads of the state, including the Texas & Pacific, announced Wednesday afternoon that they would appear before the state railroad commission in Austin Thursday to seek radical reductions both in freight rates from inland points and in allowances to cotton compresses.

J. B. Payne, vice president in charge of tariff for the T. & P., informed R. H. Jones, local agent, that proposed reductions from Big Spring and neighboring points not only would materially reduce the rate per bale but also cut the allowance to compresses and make more optional the compressing of cotton to be shipped. The T. & P. would put into effect a flat rate of $3.25 per bale for flat cotton and $3.55 per bale. (CONTINUED ON PAGE 5)

Coyotes Parade!

Pack of Animals Sighted As They Cross Benton Street Viaduct Tuesday Night.

The depression is on among the wild animals of Howard county as they are growing unusually bold according to reports made this morning by county officials. While making his rounds last night Deputy Andrew Merrick saw a strange sight moving across the Benton Street viaduct. The animal thrined down second street toward the court house for a shotgun but could not locate the animals when he got back to second street. The opinion was expressed that the animals came into town in search of food. This is the second time this week coyotes have been reported as seen within the city limits.

W.C.T.U. Will Follow Principles Not Party, Says Mrs. Van Watts

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (UP)—Devotion to principles, not to party, will mark the vote of the W.C.T.U. in the next presidential race, Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, president of the Texas W.C.T.U., declared today in her address to the 50th annual state convention here. "We wish to serve notice to democrats that the majority of women in Texas and the south are members of the democratic party, but that we refuse to be directed, influenced or advised by John J. Rascob, Joust Shouse, with his wet platform; Nellie Ross with her wet talk; and E. W. Davidson of Texas with his Roosevelt clubs," Mrs. Van Watts is declared. "Southern dry democrats are under no delusion as to the fact that Franklin Roosevelt is thoroughly wet." Over 300 W.C.T.U. workers from all parts of Texas today renewed their pledge to "observance and enforcement—not repeal" of prohibition.

Home Town Talk by Betty

It is becoming more and more evident as time for another election year (spite the people) approaches that West Texas must unite behind one strong candidate for governor unless.

Unless Governor Sterling chooses to seek a second term. Even then, there will be a West Texas man in the race. But if the Governor seeks re-election support of any candidates from West Texas will be divided to some extent.

We do not believe in sectionalism in state politics, except when it becomes obvious that one particular section of the state must elect a man from its own region to insure fair treatment.

And, even then, it is next to useless to name a governor for such a purpose if you do not go carefully in naming your legislators. West Texas thus far has gotten a dirty deal on congressional redistricting. There are just two real reasons why redistricting has not been accomplished. One is that some politicians with considerable following would rather run for congressman-at-large than to run from a given district. Maybe they don't live in a section that would be included in a new district.

The other major reason is that there are some pin-headed fellows in the legislature that have the old provincial complex that makes them, despite West Texas. They will tell you they are tired of West Texas eternally yelling about its great resources, filling newspapers in Central and South Texas with Chamber of Commerce propaganda and citing phenomenal growth, coming to every session of the legislature with requests for large appropriations for sundry purposes.

Another factor contributing to the deadlock on redistricting lies in the fact that there are a few fellows out here who have congressional ambitions and have tried to carve out a new district or two that (CONTINUED ON PAGE 6)

Fire Prevent'n Week Program Arranged Here

Clean-Up Week Delayed This Year Until Cotton Is Picked

Fire prevention week and city cleanup week will not be run simultaneously this year according to E. V. Spence, city manager. This week is set aside as fire prevention week. Service clubs, schools and churches are aiding in a campaign to impress upon the citizenship the importance of removing fire hazards. The scarcity of cotton pickers this year has caused city officials to postpone the city cleanup campaign. "There is no need to call for work for the unemployed at this time when there is plenty of work to be done on the farm. Later when there is no work to be done on the farms we will put on the cleanup week in an attempt to beautify the city and aid the unemployed," Mr. Spence said. Thursday at 3:15 p. m. at high school pupils in the public schools will attend special Fire Prevention exercises. One group will be addressed by Clyde E. Thomas, a secretary of Wendell Bedichek. Jess Hofferman, fire marshal, and Harry Lees, fire chief, are cooperating in plans for the programs.

Italy Renews Plea For Less Armaments

Revival of Prosperity Depends On Renewal of Confidence Says Gandhi

ROME, Oct. 7 (UP).—Another strong plea to the world to disarm as a means of solving the economic crisis was issued by Italy today through Dino Grandi, foreign minister.

Grandi, speaking at a luncheon at which Viscount Cecil, one of the world's most prominent peace advocates, was a guest, said a revival of general prosperity can be obtained only by "a revival of confidence by renouncing the threat of armaments."

"In other words," Grandi said, "the problem of the crisis is a financial problem and the financial problem is a problem of pacification—the problem of disarmament. Italy will not refuse to consider any proposal, any method or any system of measurement likely to lead to attainment or at least an appreciable approach to the desired end."

Grandi recalled Italy's willingness to abolish capital ships, then submarines and finally, to disarm to the lowest level of any nation. "The truce which I proposed," Grandi said, referring to his recent suggestion for a year's naval holiday, "must be considered the first step towards solution of the disarmament problem; a first step which, besides its intrinsic importance, would have a more significance which perhaps would be decisive, more especially for a revival of that international confidence without which we never will emerge from the economic crisis. Let us hope that on November 1 we shall register another step towards disarmament and towards a revival of general confidence."

ROASTING PROCESS HAS ACCURACY OF ANCIENT TIMEPIECE

Hour-glass and Hills Bros. Method of Roasting Coffee Operate a Little at a Time

It is fascinating to watch an hour-glass flowing evenly, continuously, a little at a time. But the flavor of coffee that's roasted continuously, a little at a time, is even more fascinating!

Controlled Roasting—Hills Bros. patented process—is the only such roasting method. As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow... a little at a time... so the marvelous flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time.

Remember also that this coffee never varies in flavor. And it is always fresh! Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of Hills Bros. vacuum cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. Order Hills Bros. Coffee today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can. Hills Bros. REG'LAR FELLERS

Four 21-centors offered protests against the resolution before Sen. Cousins started speaking for it; and action upon it was deferred.

when points of order were sustained that the time had arrived to resume the impeachment trial of Dist. Judge J. B. Price.

The press "censorship" feature of the resolution sought to put the snafu on record as "disapproving" such statements made in the public press, and that said statements are contrary to the facts.

Sen. Cousins' resolution quoted Gov. Sterling as saying "It has come to me from various parts of the state that the oil lobby has kept the legislature from passing the riverbed bill. I am not making the accusation, but others are;" and it quoted Sen. Joe Moore that "you ought to have seen the sidelines."

Sen. Moore had not made this statement to Gov. Sterling. Sen. Tom DeBerry made one of substantially that effect; but in senate debate, Moore told his colleagues that he would be responsible for the statement and "blood ready to prove it."

Sen. Moore, Walter F. Woodul, George Purl and T. J. Holbrook attacked the resolution as soon as it had been read. Sen. Purl said "we won't dignify it by sending it to a committee."

"At this time," one of the introductory clauses of the resolution said, "the industry is particularly susceptible to injury by loose statements tending to stir up prejudice against it..."

"Be it resolved, that the senate disapprove such statements made in the public press; and that said statements are contrary to the facts; and that the senate deprecates any and all statements or insinuations that an oil lobby representing the oil interests of Texas has in any way presented or attempted to present the senate of Texas from passing the riverbed bill prior to Sept. 28, on which date the bill was passed; nor did said representatives of the oil companies in any way attempt to influence the senate in any manner."

Two Colorado Visitors Make Splendid Talks On County Federation

City Federation Hears Achievements of Mitchell County Federation; Mrs. Ches Anderson Talks At First Fall Meeting

The City Federation held its first fall meeting at the Clubhouse yesterday afternoon with a good deal of accumulated business to attend to. Mrs. J. B. Young resigned as treasurer and Mrs. C. P. Rogers was elected to fill her place.

The program was devoted to the subject of county federations. Mrs. C. P. Gary and Mrs. J. G. Smith, of Colorado, president and secretary of the Mitchell County Federation, came over at the request of the Federation to tell what Mitchell county had done as a county federation.

Mrs. Gary's talk is summarized elsewhere in this edition.

Mrs. Ches Anderson, of the Elbow community, made a short talk endorsing the ideas presented by Mrs. Gary, and expressing the hope of the county women that a Howard County Federation be formed. A good crowd of club women were present.

What Mitchell County Federation Has Done

A Summary Of Its Achievements as Related By Its President, Mrs. C. P. Gary, Before The City Federation

The state president's slogan is: "Advantages of a county federation. The first thing it does is to bring the urban woman and the rural woman into a closer relationship with each other, which naturally promotes a better understanding and more sympathetic and kindly feelings for each other. It stretches out the social horizon."

Lovely Quilt Show Is Being Held At J & W Fisher's Store

The Quilt Show at J. & W. Fisher's department store had, by noon today, many interesting entries.

The oldest quilt was one made by Mrs. J. M. Morgan's mother, Mrs. Sullivan in 1860; another entered was made by Mrs. Sullivan when she was 75 years old.

Among the quilts is an old-fashioned quilt made by Mrs. William Fisher, for her trousseau, two years before she married. That was 1878.

Mrs. Dora Roberts has entered a tulip design which she made in 1888. It is a marvelous example of dainty, even stitches and to appreciate it fully one must look on the wrong side.

There is a lovely Dutch doll quilt with every bonnet made different from the others.

Several quilts contain more than 5000 different quilt pieces.

The most unusual is the biscuit pattern, a quilt without a foundation, a design without a background; its attractiveness puts it really into the bedspread class.

Among the various designs are the following: double wedding ring, checkerboard, basket, tulip, fan, biscuit, aster, flower garden, pineapple, Dutch doll, silk crazy, nine-patch, little star, eight-pointed star, blas square and Dresden plate. Several of the quilts are for sale. Each visitor to the quilt show, which is held on the balcony above the ready-to-wear department, is asked to register and to vote for the best-looking quilt. The winner of most votes will be exhibited in the show window over the week-end.

South Ward P.T.A. To Meet Tomorrow Afternoon

The South Ward P.T.A. will meet tomorrow at the South Ward school at 3:30 o'clock. The feature of the program will be a talk by Dr. Chas. K. Bivings on "Tuberculosis."

Mrs. Jess Slaughter, president, asks that all members attend, both old, new and prospective, since this is the first active business meeting of the new school year.

Mrs. Robert Michael has as a guest, Mrs. C. L. Michael, of Sweetwater.

Revival Services At First Methodist Church Continue In Fervor

The revival services of the First Methodist Church are continuing to draw splendid crowds and to show a great interest. Thirty people have been received into the church; the pastor expects that number to be doubled before the end of the meeting.

"Joy of Salvation." Friday, "Call of the Other World." Sunday morning, "Opportunity! And Responsibility." Sunday evening, "Fruits of Indecision."

Services are held every morning at 10 o'clock with the Rev. P. H. Gates, of Stanton, in charge of the service; and at 7:54 in the evening with the pastor in the pulpit. The Rev. B. L. Nance is the personal worker for the meeting.

OLD GOLDS

Charming women are first won by OLD GOLDS' appealing taste. But their enthusiasm doubles when they find that OLD GOLDS do not taint the breath or mar the whiteness of pearly teeth.

That's because OLD GOLD is a pure-tobacco cigarette. Made from the finest nature-flavored tobaccos. So good, it needs no added flavoring.

It's "foreign flavoring", not good tobacco, that leaves unwanted after-maths. Play safe. Smoke pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS. They leave nothing behind but pleasant recollections.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By HERBERT PLUMMER
 WASHINGTON—It was like Morris Sheppard of Texas—author of the 18th amendment—to answer the American Legion's demand for a referendum on the liquor question with the statement that he would push only the harder for stricter enforcement.

MORRIS SHEPPARD

There is no need trying to persuade him differently. It has been stated before, but he remains unshaken in his convictions. As far as Sheppard is concerned prohibition is the best of possible things.

People who have never seen the little Texas who helped write prohibition into the Constitution probably picture him as the rational, international and severe type of person who naturally wears black and a stern expression.

NO BLACK FOR HIM
 Nothing could be further wrong.
 In fact, Sheppard probably does black but once a year. That is when he puts on formal morning attire on prohibition's birthday and addresses the senate. He makes such a speech annually.

His colleagues listen to him and shake his hand afterward even though some of them might not agree with anything he says.
 Usually he wears a light gray or blue gray suit. He is invariably in a good humor. His eyes twinkle when he talks. He always has time to listen to a good story and delights in telling one himself.

He likes to play golf and shoots a very good game. But he doesn't permit that or anything else to interfere with his attendance at sessions of the senate. Being present at quorum calls and voting time in the senate has become a habit with him.

Sheppard holds some kind of a record for attendance in congress.
 It is a common sight to see him "on the run" from the senate office building to the chamber after a bell summons.

29 YEARS IN CONGRESS
 Senator Sheppard's record of service in congress is an imposing one. His friends say that one of his ambitions is to shatter all previous records for continuous service.

Now only 55 years old and apparently going strong in Texas politics, he has a good chance. He has his credit 29 years of continuous service in congress. Eleven were spent in the house and the other 18 in the senate.

In December he starts on a new term as senator which runs until March of 1937.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Jago Goldstein, Astoria, Ore.
EYE INJURIES—II
 Few things are as provoking as the presence of a cinder or speck in the eye.
 If you attempt to rid ourselves of the nuisance are unskilled, we may injure the eye.
 In removing foreign bodies from the eye, go about it gently, and be sure that your hands and everything else you use are clean.

First try to flush the speck out using boric acid solution in a pinch cold boiled water will do, and a medicine dropper.
 Have the patient tilt his head back and with the forefinger and thumb take hold of the upper eyelid at the angle where it joins the lower lid on the temple side of the eye.

Pull gently upward and outward, drawing both lids away from the eyeball and creating space into which you may drop the solution.
 Flush the eye several times, if the foreign body is still present, flush it as follows:

Cover the blunt end of a match stick with cotton. Moisten the cotton with boric acid or clean water.
 Have the patient look up. Turn out the lower lid by grasping the lashes and drawing gently. Look for the foreign body on the inner side of the lower lid as well as on the eye ball.

If present in this space, remove the speck by wiping it gently with cotton-covered end of the match stick.

To turn out the upper lid, draw out the lashes with a small pencil or match stick on the top of the lid. The patient, of course, looks down.
 When the speck has been removed the eye may be flushed out again.

Tomorrow—Behind the Scenes

BOY HAS GOOD FISH YARN
 GOSHEN, Ind. (AP)—Although George Currier, of Goshen, is only fifteen years old, he holds the local record for fish stories. He says he was fishing at Wawasee Lake and while washing his hands in the lake, lost a gold signet ring from his finger. He continued fishing and caught a bass weighing four and one-half pounds. When he prepared the fish at home, he found the ring inside the bass.

SAM

BY FREEMAN LINCOLN

SYNOPSIS: Constant intensity of work and pleasure is not enough to make Sam Sherrill forget that she loves Freddy Munson, although she has become engaged to Peak Abbott. Her loyalty to her family brought about the engagement. Sam has managed the family affairs since her stepfather, Fourth Alderfer, lost their money. Even her work on the Express, which Abbott owns, does not give her financial security. Besides Abbott's wealth, an advantage in the engagement is that its announcement submerged the sensation of Sam's half-brother's marriage to their maid Nelson, the half-brother, took away with him some household money, and this adds to Fourth's anger at the social disgrace. Freddy Munson had expected to marry Sam, before Nelson's action. Freddy comes to his stepfather, where he formerly worked, and charges Peak Abbott with committing a crime—"the worst sort of crime."

"Well, he's heard the story?"
 "What story?"
 "Yours and Sam's. I don't know any of the details, remember, and if we're to get anywhere in this discussion, I'd like to know them."
 Freddy told the story. He told it briefly but with such simple convincingness that Peak could not help but believe. In the end Freddy shook his head. "And so you see, Abbott, if that confounded stepbrother of hers hadn't baited in, she'd be married to me, now, and there wouldn't be any need of all this."
 Peak nodded thoughtfully. "But the confounded stepbrother did bait in, Munson."
 Freddy made a gesture of despair. "That's just what I've been trying to tell you!"
 Peak shrugged and was silent for so long that at last Freddy's impatience got the better of him. "Well," he demanded sharply, "what are you going to do?"
 "Do?" Peak looked up inquiringly. "What do you suggest that I do?"
 "Tell Sam that you know all about everything. Give her a chance to get herself out of this mess."

Peak frowned. "You must remember, Munson, that Sam got herself into what you call this mess, entirely of her own free will."
 "Free will!" Freddy repeated. "She was forced into it because she needs money so badly."
 Peak tapped the top of his desk. "Suppose I let her go as you suggest," he said softly. "Would her financial problems be any less serious than they were before?"
 "Perhaps not, but at least she wouldn't be tied to someone she doesn't love."
 Peak glanced at Freddy. "Could you help her financially, Munson?"
 "You know I couldn't," Freddy snorted. "What's the sense to that remark?"
 "I'm just wondering," replied Peak slowly, "what is best for Sam. Would she be happier married to you, and as poor as I get out of her, or would it be better if she had me, whom she might not love but who could give her every material comfort?" He nodded. "I think that there is a problem that requires consideration."
 Freddy choked. "Why you—"
 "No scene, please!" begged Peak earnestly. "I'm talking sense, and if you're wise, you'll listen."
 "All right," Freddy controlled himself with an effort. "I'll listen."
 "Good. Then you can believe it or not, Munson, but the fact remains that I'm thinking only of Sam. To be frank with you, I'm not at all convinced that in the long run she'd be happier with you than with me."
 "All right, then," said Freddy fiercely. "Leave me out of it altogether. I'm willing to get out of here, and never come back. If you, in your turn, are willing to let Sam go."
 "If we both left her, she wouldn't have one thing or the other—comfort or romance."
 "Then what shall we do?" Freddy inquired sarcastically. "Shall we flip a coin to see who gets her?"
 "Peak said," Freddy said gently, "that we've forgotten one important thing. We've forgotten that you and I really have no voice in the matter. The decision rests entirely with Sam whether she'll have you or me. Unless I'm mistaken, she has already made that decision."

Victorious Team Of Sunday School To Be Given Party

The Baptist Intermediate Sunday school class closed its contest last Sunday. Captain Trava Thurman led her forces into victory over Captain R. L. Wilson's group. Captain Wilson has to pay the penalty of defeat and rally his forces and get them organized so as to entertain the victorious Thurman and her forces.
 A lively party will be given Friday night of this week for this energetic group of Sunday School workers.

Many Enjoy P.T.A. Feast

The P.T.A. feast sponsored a fried chicken supper Friday night at the school cafeteria. It was estimated 325 people were present.
 The guests were assembled in the school dining room and since there were so many present it was necessary to use an adjoining classroom for seating.
 After the main dinner course was served, every one retired to the outside and in the moonlight enjoyed an unlimited supply of ice cream cones and joined in friendly conversation and visiting with each other. The children found the "ocean wave" slide and see-saw a new attraction in the cool, breezy moonlight.
 There was a total of $48 raised to be used by the P.T.A. The members of this group are awaiting suggestions as to the most beneficial way of using the money. They hope to serve the children of the school to the best advantage.

FORSAN GUSHER

Drilled By Students Of Forsan School

Splendid Progress of Forsan School Is Reviewed By Pupils

By FLORENCE MILLARD
 When the 1927-28 school term began Forsan did not have a school. However, it did not need one, for there was only one child in the district who was of school age.
 Then came the oil boom. The news of the oil industry of Forsan spread swiftly through the fields of Texas, and started the rush. Men from all over the state came to the little town to become one of the many tools of the new oil field.
 Merchants, druggists, hotel keepers and people of other trades turned their eyes and feet toward Forsan as birds turn toward the South when winter is on its way.
 Some of the men came alone and left their families behind in the place in which they were then living. Some of these men sent for their wives and children as soon as they found a suitable place of residence, but most of them brought their families at first. Thus arose the necessity of a school at Forsan.

Before this successful term had ended the school of Forsan made itself a place among the leading schools of Howard county. By affiliating all of the ten credits for the completion of a cable fence around the campus, the building of a school cafeteria, the buying of suits for the senior girls' and boys' basketball teams, and the first grammar school graduation exercise of the new school are among the many accomplishments of the second year. Perhaps the greatest of the year's accomplishments was the classification of the high school and the recognition which it gained from the state department of education.

The third term also had its results in the history of the Forsan school. It saw the addition of four new high school courses and a study hall. During the term the Forsan P.T.A. found several ways to make money and built a fine $1,000 modern rest room for the school. Improvements were made on the campus grounds, the basketball courts, and the buildings. Electric lights were connected over the basket ball court on the south side of the main school building, so that the games of the students might be held at night.

The 1931-32 school term has just begun. However, each of the students and the teachers have fond hopes and expectations of making it the most successful one of all. They intend to affiliate six new subjects and to do various other things which will improve the school. They are looking forward to the first senior graduation exercise of the school, which will be held in June.

The success of the Forsan school is not due to its location; it is not due to its percentage of attendance; it is not due to any individual scholar of the school. It is due to the untiring efforts of the teachers and the student body.
 Three years ago at the beginning of the 1929-30 term, two teachers arrived in Forsan to fill their positions in the school. They knew no one in the community; they had no reason to care whether a pupil learned or not. They were supposed to teach and that was all.
 These teachers learned to love every pupil, helped him in his hard subjects, gave him a helping hand when he needed it most, and tried to make his school life happy, but at the same time to educate him. They took a personal interest in each of the students and tried to help him in his weak-points. They not only taught him the text books, but they also taught him real sportsmanship and the true value of friendship.

These two people who have been pals, teachers, guardians and playmates to us all and to them we are externally grateful and give the credit for the success of the school—our friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bolin.
 The other teachers have co-operated with Mr. Bolin and have been in every way a help to the progress of the Forsan school.

Walter Shoults will help out very much in basketball and other sports events this year. The boys have been playing ball at noon hours and they have shown improvement from the first.

There are twenty-six pupils in the first grade.
 Dora Jane Thompson has hurt her leg badly.
 Anna Mary Wilmoth's grandmother and two of her aunts from Pennsylvania have been visiting her and her parents.
 Mamie Smith is suffering from an injured leg.
 There are seventeen pupils in the fifth grade. They are as follows: Edna Prescott, Irene Brown, Charles Adams, Elbert Gibson, Junior Gibson, Charles Dempsey, Anna Mary Wilmoth, Talmadge Liles, Dora Jane Thompson, Virgie Moody, Trella Fleetwood, Boyce Hale, Imogene Wilson, Wesley Butler, Mamie Smith, Maxine Thurman, and Jack Fielder.
 Ruth Waldrum, Fred Tatcher, Harvey Parks and Clarence Brown have been out of school for some time picking cotton.
 Thomas Symile was hurt last week while he was playing on the "giant stride".

The ninth grade is doing fairly well in some of their studies but it is getting worse in Spanish and algebra since Thomas Yarbo came back to school. Marshall Scuddy's favorite courses are Spanish and algebra also.
 J. B. Dempsey says that Red would be a good basketball player if he could play. Nevertheless, Red is the junior boys' "All-America Guard" for the basketball team this year.
 Daniel Yarbro declares that he will be very happy if one of the teachers catches J. B. Dempsey shooting paper wads. Daniel said that the paper wads came so fast toward him and that they were so numerous he could not count them.
 Woodrow Scuddy has gone to attend school at Brownfield and to play on the football team there.
 Rayford Liles thinks that when he is as big as Mr. Hatton he will be able to work seventh grade arithmetic, too.
 Walter Shoults started to high school here last Monday.
 Maxine Thompson, Minnie Campbell, and Lucille Wilson have been suffering for the last two weeks from slight injuries received from a collision with or among themselves. Lucille carried an "egg" on her head for a week, Minnie limped around on one leg, and Maxine had the pleasure of a real old-fashioned toothache.
 Lee White and Tolman Shoults visited the high school last Thursday.
 This year the blue and white of the Forsan Junior girls' basketball team will shine throughout the county. They believe that their new suits will help them to keep their trophy and to hold their record as an undefeated team.
 Kate Campbell visited several of the students in high school last Monday morning.
 Louise Madison resigned from his position as sixth grade reporter. Wesley Yarbro was elected to fill his place.
 There was no honor students in the fifth or sixth grade this month.
 Hazel Brown is picking cotton in a field near Big Spring.
 Miss Francis DeH Henderson went to San Angelo Monday with her father.
 Our old pal, Anita Huff, enrolled in the freshman class Monday. We are glad that she has decided that after all the school at Forsan is the best place to go.

The students of the tenth and eleventh grades are doing well in their daily work, preparing themselves for examinations the last of this week.
 All the boys have been showing up good in track. They are going to begin basketball practice in a few days.
 Walter Shoults will help out very much in basketball and other sports events this year. The boys have been playing ball at noon hours and they have shown improvement from the first.

U. evangelist of Greenville, Ga., will be the principal speaker at the three-day convention here.

"We can't drink ourselves rich," was her terse comment on repeal of prohibition for the sake of prosperity.

Convention reports, enrollment of delegates, and a playlet by Sweetwater members were scheduled for this afternoon.

A "heart-dressing" regret was expressed by Mrs. Van Watts at what she called an attempt of "abnormal" mothers to bring back liquor.

Mrs. Watts quoted Mrs. Grace Leggio Houder of Australia: "There is only one group to which they are comparable—the barmalods of Australia."

"Beneficial results of prohibition are seen in the federal children's bureau reports which show a decrease in the number of children passing through juvenile courts. In Boston the number has declined 60 per cent. In New Orleans, 55 per cent; in Chicago, 41 per cent and in New York, 33 per cent."

"The wets tell us that the youth of today is wild and wicked—due to prohibition. The census column on crime shows the number of commitments up to age 20 has declined 40 per cent under prohibition," Mrs. Van Watts said.

The W.C.T.U. leader pointed out "sinister forces at work to repeal or modify and re-establish the liquor traffic."

Among such forces she named John Raabok, chairman of the democratic national committee, who she charged employed Charles Michelson at $25,000 per year to bring about a systematic and malicious misrepresentation of President Hoover.

"Practically every act of the president, big or little, has been challenged, slandered, maligned through the press," she charged.

No use electing a West Texas governor unless you name smart, hard-hitting, legislators.

If Sterling runs again the odds for his re-election will be favorable, regardless of the direction of "political ground winds" today. If he does not run some West Texas man will make a strong race—West Texas gets the RIGHT man in the race.

men all talked at once—but Senator Borah said not a word for fully a minute. Then he took up pen and paper, scribbled off a few sentences and called a stenographer.

"That word you can't read," he told her, "is 'questions.'" In a few minutes she was back with the senator's statement of regret. The conference was over.

Not all of Morrow's friends were taken entirely by surprise. A noted physician who saw him frequently and was his friend committed: "I'm shocked but I'm not surprised. He was driving himself too hard. I could see him do it. He simply couldn't stand the strain. A lot of good men do that."

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7 (UP)—In a torrential rainstorm, Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here today, obviously moved here by the death of Senator Dwight Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's father.

They were taken by a speed boat from the British airplane carrier Hermes, which took them aboard when their plane overturned on the Yangtze last week, to the customs jetty and then went by motor car to the Cathay Hotel. Mrs. Lindbergh showed plainly the severe strain which news of her father's sudden death had brought.

Lindbergh was very grave. "Gentlemen, under the circumstances we are unable to make a decision on our future plans," he told newspapermen.

Witnesses Called For Conspiracy Trials

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 7 (UP)—Thirty witnesses have been summoned for the trial here October 13 of J. Forrest McCutcheon, former assistant United States district attorney, and Dewey I. McManis, former oil promoter, on three conspiracy charges.

They have been indicted on charges of conspiracy to defraud, conspiracy to obstruct justice and conspiracy to extort money.

Federal Judge Jeremiah Netzer, Seattle, Washington, will conduct the trial.

This And That By Mark

Speaking of life's embarrassing moments we hereby nominate Obie Bristow for the winner of all prizes offered for suggesting the most embarrassing situation in which a man has been or ever will be placed.

Obie was playing with a club from Kansas City. The team was playing Chicago at Soldier's Field. The day being cold and rainy the manager had his boys dress at the hotel and drive to stadium, so that after the game they would have a nice warm place in which to dress. Between halves the manager and Bristow had a few words that is Obie got in a couple and the manager put the finishing touches to the debate when he said, "Bristow you're fired. Take off that suit right now and turn it in." It so happens that the stadium was only four miles from the hotel where Obie had donned the playing gear.

Mrs. Bristow interrupted Obie's narrative at this point and we are still wondering just what arrangements, if any, the Steer mentor made to make certain a safe return to the hotel.

W. B. Hardy tells this one of Lynn Bomar, all-American end from Vassar. Bomar was in school when Bomar was stopping end runs and smashing plays for the Commodore eleven. "I never saw him tackle a man in my life," Doc said. "He would brush the interference aside and pull the man with the ball down but he would not leave his feet to tackle."

Incidentally, on the other end of the Commodore line was Heck Wakefield, Bomar's all-American buddy at the wing position, than whom no sweeter tackle ever stepped on the gridiron. Wakefield seemed to forget that there was anything to a man above the knees. He hit them low and hard and they stayed put.

It would be hard to imagine two men more different in every respect, save one—they got the man with the ball, than Bomar and Wakefield, and yet football authorities in 23 saw fit to pick the two wingmen of McGugin as the greatest in the nation.

It becomes necessary to set Mr. Cross right on a few matters in connection with the inelegibility of certain McCamey players. Blonds in his column leaves the impression that the protest was entered by Big Spring. For the benefit of one and all we want it understood that the Steer authorities have not filed a protest on any player in district 4, and so far as we are able to discover have no intention of doing so. The Bovines are able to compete with the strongest teams of the district on the field and have no desire to handicap any club. The handicap placed on the field by Bristow will be just plenty for the Bobcats and all the other teams of the district. Local authorities give every school credit for being as willing to abide by the rules as they are.

It so happens that the mention of four year's participation of Virgil Smith of McCamey was brought up by the Angelo principal. We take it for granted Blonds knew nothing of this when he began casting insinuations.

Our dear friend Hankins has come forth in a letter of warning trying to convince his public that he thinks little if anything of the Steer machine. We have never worried more than a little over the opinions of the Midland scribe on anything, and less than that when he voices an idea (?) concerning sports.

Just in case Hank has doubts concerning the ability of the Bovines and the line plunging power of Big Hebe we ask that he contain himself until Oct. 16, on which date the Steers and their followers will invade the Midland county stronghold and reduce the Bulldog to nothing more ferocious than a long haired lap dog.

If seat sales are any indication the Aggie-Texas clash in Dallas Saturday holds the spotlight for the week-end. This will be the only appearance of the Aggies in Dallas this season, as the Mustangs engage the Bellmen in Aggie land.

M. L. Tinsley reports a successful fishing trip to the Concho. Several "tarpon" were hooked by the gentleman in question, he said, and anyone doubts the veracity of this statement the hotelman will be glad to show any and all doubtful parties the river.

Reduction Of Allowance For East Texas Seen

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (UP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling said he had assurances from members of the Texas railroad commission that the allowance in the East Texas field would be reduced from 125 barrels to 150 barrels per well within the next few days.

Governor Sterling said he understood the new order would be issued soon as all members of the commission were in Austin, probably Friday. Only C. V. Terrell, chairman of the commission was here tonight but he could not be located immediately for a statement. Commissioners Pat M. Neff and Lon A. Smith were out of the city

Oil Output Continues In Down Curve

California and East Texas Pool Cause Reduction of 22,431 Bbls.

TULSA, Oct. 7, (UP)—Sharp drops in California and East Texas crude petroleum production last week resulted in a 22,431 barrel daily average decline to 2,135,492 barrels, the Oil & Gas Journal estimated today.

Upon these estimates depended, in a large part, contemplated revisions in production allowances in the nationwide effort to stabilize the "potentially" overproduced industry. Production figures in Oklahoma, where military controlled flush areas showed production gains, were studied closely by state and military authorities who contemplate an investigation of reported illegal crude runs.

Under influence of a tighter production ban, East Texas fields dropped 15,916 barrels to 881,398 barrels, California, which has instituted a more stringent proration set up, dropped 8,500 barrels to 462,500 barrels, the lowest production for that productive area in many months.

The midcontinent field, despite the Oklahoma increase of 9,300 barrels to 278,135 barrels, declined 10,548 to 1,280,706 barrels.

for compressed cotton from Big Spring to Houston, Galveston and Texas City. Proposed rates from nearby points would be cut in proportion. The Colorado rate would be the same as Big Spring's, Sweetwater's rate would be $3.00 per bale for flat cotton, $3.30 for compressed cotton. Abilene's rate would be the same as that from Sweetwater. Cisco would draw $275.84 per bale. Points west of Big Spring would receive a comparative reduction.

Rates from Corpus Christi, being somewhat higher than those to other ports, this application will not affect that port. The application will request that the proposed rates be put into effect immediately.

The rate from Big Spring now is 89 cents per hundred pounds or $4.45 per bale of 50 pounds. Compresses now are allowed 18 cents per hundred or 90 cents per bale and the railroads insist that cotton be compressed. The new rate plan would not only have the effect of reducing compress allowance to 60 cents per bale but would make compressing entirely optional.

Rum Runner Shot In Battle On Border Near McAllen, Texas

MCALLEN, Texas, Oct. 7 (UP)—A running gun-battle between border custom inspectors and rum runners resulted today in the wounding of one and the capture of another of the alleged runners.

Jacobo Gallegos was wounded seriously while Batolo Becerra was captured by the federal officers. Jack and Jim Cottingham, famous border inspectors, shot Gallegos twice when he opened fire without warning.

Four federal charges have been filed against the men. Two pistols and 80 rounds of ammunition were seized along with a quantity of alcohol and tequila.

Team No. 2 Is Kiwanis Winner

Team No. 2, with a perfect record, has been declared winner of the Kiwanis club attendance contest staged last month. The team was led by John Wotton.

Team No. 1, led by Ben Cole, came through with but one man absent at two of the four meetings during the contest period. The club officials declared the month's record for the entire club was even better than expected, there having been two 100 per cent meetings and two at which but one of more than 55 members missing. He was out of town.

The losing team is scheduled to entertain the winners at some sort of social affair soon.

A joint banquet of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs for the last week of this month, in the Halloween season, is being planned.

Thursday's meeting of the Kiwanis club will be in charge of D. H. Reed.

School Men At Convention

Financial Condition of Local Schools Better Than Average

Supt. W. C. Blankenship and George Gentry, high school principal, of the local schools attended the meeting of the Oil Belt Teachers Association Tuesday in Abilene.

More than 60 school men from 14 counties were present at the meeting called to order in the Abilene high school by President John F. Baily of Breckenridge.

The evening meeting was held at a banquet at the Hilton Hotel. Supt. Hufford spoke on "Profitable Use of the School Assembly." Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Simmons University, had as his subject for the evening "Student Self-Government."

The consensus of opinion of the school officials was that about 60 per cent of the taxes for the year would be collected which would enable the schools to run for a period of six months. Supt. Blankenship said this morning.

Big Spring schools are in much better condition than the majority of schools in West Texas, Mr. Blankenship indicated. "The only schools in this section that have not issued deferred warrants are McCamey, Midland and Big Spring," the local superintendent said.

Vibration From Passing Locomotive Causes Wall To Fall; Man Dies

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 7 (UP)—Vibration from a passing locomotive was blamed today for the death last night of John Malone, 64, beneath a falling wall at the old gas plant here.

Malone was a member of the wrecking crew razing the building. He ran the wrong way when a foreman shouted a warning and was buried beneath an avalanche of brick.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, John H. Jr., Dallas, and Roy J. Fort Worth; and three sisters, Mrs. W. Hastings, Texas City, Mrs. Robt. Stiles, Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. Robt. Flynn, Bradford, Pa.

State Drilling Bill Is Signed

Measure Becomes Effective In January; Sabine Is Object

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (UP)—Governor Sterling today signed and filed with the Secretary of State the bill authorizing the state to drill for oil in the Sabine and other river beds. The bill was passed at the extension of the special session of the legislature when Sterling threatened to call another session unless the bill was passed.

The bill will not become effective until January because it failed to receive the necessary two-thirds majority to become effective at once.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (UP)—Governor Ross Sterling today invited negotiations for the state oil under the Sabine river in the East Texas oil field.

"There is no reason why negotiations should not go forward," said the governor. "Those who wish to make offers for the oil need not wait until the board can formally accept and act upon offers.

"I have been told that a California company is willing to pay $500,000 bonus beside the royalty on the oil. We may get better offers. The royalty may be more than the usual one eighth."

Governor Sterling said he does not contemplate acting under an executive order without waiting for the bill to take effect. "Unless a situation should arise demanding immediate action," he said, "there would be no reason for that." He expressed the belief that there is little danger of much of the state oil being drained out during the 90 days and said he would not feel justified in stopping drilling during that time.

son and broadens the views of the urban woman's life and multiplies her friendships, if she knows a few women in every community in her county. What a power for service, this latest talent would be, if the women of Howard county were organized and were working wholeheartedly for the thing Howard county needed most.

A 4-Cornered World
Try to visualize Howard county as just a little four-cornered world, embracing almost every human problem that the big round world presents. Think that its people are those who must solve the problems. Once one gets a true life picture of one's county one will see plenty to do.

That is just what one Colorado woman did, about 9 years ago, while visiting in Cisco. She returned home with this great vision uppermost in her mind. She made other women enthusiastic about it. They saw the great future possibilities that stood out for Mitchell County through cooperative work. As a result the Mitchell County Federation Clubs for Women was organized on July 13, 1922.

The charter membership consisted of 6 clubs from over the county who were entitled to three delegates for each meeting. Each club's dues were $1.50 a year with individual members dues 50 cents a year. Some of the departments are Civic League; rural clubs; P.T.A.'s; Daughters of the King, etc.

The reports of the rural women were a great inspiration. They were enormous in size, of canned peas, corn, tomatoes, beans, chicken, beef, etc. Today the pantry shelves of Mitchell county are filled with home canned goods as never before in its history.

Mitchell County Federation has the distinction of being the first to establish a market for home canned products. This was accomplished by creating a market in towns for the goods.

Black-eyed Peas in Washington
The Federation was requested by the government at Washington to send sample cans of its famous black-eyed peas for a permanent exhibit there.

The national club president, Mrs. John Sippel ordered a dozen cans to be used in work among the rural women of her home state, Maryland. The Federation was asked also to present this plan of work at the National Convention when it met in San Antonio, a few years ago. Later it was adopted as part of the work of the Extension Department of A.M. College.

The Federation sponsored the move to place a home demonstration agent in Mitchell county. In the beginning of her work the members were in her council. Today she is so well equipped and thoroughly organized that she has her own council, although the Federation assists her each year by going out into her fields of activities with speakers and bringing speakers to town for both urban and rural women.

Soon after organization, the Federation turned its thoughts to a public library, which is now housed in a room adjoining our federation meeting place in the city hall. They paid the salary of the librarian until 2 years ago when the county commissioners agreed to pay for the two afternoons a week she was there. The library dues are one dollar a year and go back into the buying of new books. They entitle each member of the family privileges of the library. School children of the county have a special summer rate.

County Commissioners Donate Site
The Federation owns a valuable location joining the City Hall on the north for its club house. The lot was given to them by the County Commissioners. A building fund is already started. The federation has assisted one rural club in the establishment of a clubhouse, the first in the county.

In the same year the federation obtained its charter and procured a legal adviser, also a men's club, acting as an honorary club.

The Federation sponsors and assists in the programs launched for the county fairs and the Old Settlers Home Coming.

The Federation has charge of the Health Seals for Mitchell County. These seals are put on by the school children, giving them education along this line. In the past year they won twelve or more first-aid kits and one towel cabinet. With a percentage of that fund the Federation sent a girl to Carlsbad for 9 months and gave medical attention to several tubercular children.

The Federation has placed the flag in every school in the county, has awarded a "peace pin" to a Colorado girl in a peace essay contest; and gave this year a five-dollar gold piece to a rural boy for an essay on law observance.

Adopt Rural Schools
The urban clubs have each adopted one or more rural schools to whom they carry magazines, pictures, books, flowers, victrolas, etc., to make them standard A schools. The Federation has an art and pottery exhibit, free of charge, the latter placed this year in the Home Economics department of the high school.

The programs are sometimes carried to some rural community at their request. This year they were put on by one urban and one rural club. The Federation also sponsors home talent plays from all over the county, a percentage of which goes to the clubhouse fund.

The Federation has followed the state president's suggestions in grouping special and standing committees; also in a beautification program. This year it sent flowers, shrubs and trees to several rural schools and promoted a president's grove of Chinese elms, which numbers 42 trees, in Ruddick Park. It also planted 4 elms in the park in honor of the 4 sisters who donated the park grounds, with a beautiful dedicatory service.

Garden Club To Hear Nat Schick Tell of His Garden

The Garden Club will hold its October meeting at the Clubhouse tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, announces Mrs. J. M. Morgan, president.

Nat Schick has consented to tell the members how he made use of West Texas material in his garden-spot of a back yard, and how he designed his fish-pond with an eye to its small inhabitants.

Emms Louise Freeman will give a reading.

Mrs. Morgan extends an invitation to every woman in town interested in flowers to attend, regardless of membership, in the organization.

A highway extending from Canada through West Texas is being promoted to be called the Chisholm Trail Highway to perpetuate the name of the historic trail of early cattle days.
