PRICE FIVE CENTS

Around Town

Talk of "coming" and "going" held the spotlight of conversation around town this week as most people either planned to visit relatives — or to entertain guests here — over the Thanksgiving holiday period.

"Just tell 'em to drive careful—and remember the radar," was the cheerful advice from Sheriff Lowell Sharp.

Double excitement was in store for Earl Phillips and Guy Lawrence as they got things ready for the showing of their 1955 Nash models on Friday, Nov. 26. Several changes, especially on the new Rambler.

The fire Monday morning was of little consequence. It all happened when flames broke out on the kitchen stove at the Henry Muri home, Ave. H at 14th, but the family had the situation under control when the fire trucks arrived.

The question of city regulations governing distribution of "comic books" contributing to delinquency was brought up at a recent City Commission meeting, but the Commission referred the matter to City Attorney Earnest Langley for study as to legality.

Things are shaping up for the big parade and Santa Claus party here Saturday, Dec. 4, when the Christmas season officially opens for the Hereford area. Only one catch. John Alken is still screaming for float entries in the parade. All business firms, civic clubs, and ladies clubs are especially invited to call 267 and enter a float, says John, or just drop in at the Chamber of Commerce office and leave the details.

The Home Demonstration ladies will not handle holiday nuts on a co-op basis, as planned, due to high prices, which caused the committee to drop the project. They also said that the H-D market will not be open Friday, due to the Wednesday opening this week.

Two Boys Injured In Trip To Ball Field

Two boys were injured in an accident Monday on Avenue F, at about 3:30 o'clock, when two cars loaded with boys started from high school to the football field.

Buddy Jowell, one of the injured, was rushed to the hospital for emergency treatment. A chunk of flesh was cut out of his nose on one side, requiring five stitches. He also had a deep cut in his forehead. The other boy injured was Dean Stevens, who is believed to have bones broken in his foot; although nothing is definite, according to Mrs. Stevens. Both boys are badly shaken up and have quite a few bruises.

The accident occurred when a

EVEN THE TURKEYS CAN BE THANKFUL! After all, the first Thanksgiving (December, 1621, in Plymouth Colony) lasted three days -- instead of one. It won't matter much to these prime fellows, though, because they left the J. T. Guinn farm, five miles southwest of Bootleg, last week for the market. They were three of 1,500 birds raised by Mrs. Guinn, who says she is really thankful that they're gone. She is even celebrating the event tomorrow -- "with turkey and all the trimmings." Zone Adjustment Board Holds First Meeting, Face Protest On New Cafe

Hereford's new Board of Adjustment, appointed in connection with the new city zoning laws, held its first meeting here Monday night—and things were far from smooth as a delegation protested the location of a cafe on Avenue E, just back of Thomas Food Store.

of the fact that Thomas Food Store building, located on the corner of Park Avenue and Ave. E, already blocked vision on the corner. They felt that additional frontage back of the building would make no difference in existing conditions.

Zone Adjustment Board Holds First Meeting, Face Protest On New Cafe

The hearing revolved around request from Jas. W. Witherspoon for a special permit to construct a building without a set-back as required by the zone regulation. The board granted the request in view

Chief substance of the request was to waive the restriction citing a 20-foot set-back from the property line and a five-foot recess on the side line.

1953 Chevrolet, driven by Joe Cecil Easley of 711 Miles Street, and a 1948 Studebaker, driven by Melvin Eugene Fowler, collided. Buddy Jowell was riding inside of the car with Fowler. Stevens and another boy were riding on the front fenders of Fowler's car. Easley was going North on Avenue F and had stopped to let some boys out of his car, when Fowler plowed into the back end of the Easley car. Fowler was going approximately 20 miles per hour. The accident caused $300 damage to the Chevrolet and approximately $200 damage to the Studebaker.

Melvin Eugene Fowler was given a ticket for following too close and exceeding a safe speed.

DEADLINE IS DEC. 4

VFW Boys Can Handle Few More Toy Repairs

"We have a lot of toys, but we can still use a lot more," Wayne Lawrence, VFW commander said Tuesday in connection with the repair program sponsored by the organization. He also said that Saturday, Dec. 4, has been set as deadline on turning in old toys for this year.

"We have the walls of the hut lined," he said, "but we are turning them out pretty fast and can use quite a few more." Wheel toys, wind-ups, games, books, dolls and scores of other types of toys are included in the collection, which the VFW boys spend nights repairing, mending up and making ready for distribution. Dec. 4 was set as final date on toys, since repair work requires considerable time. Persons wishing to donate old toys in the drive may leave them at Rutherford's, Acme Cleaners, Jones Service, Packard Mill, Hereford Furniture, Lawrence Cleaners, or at The Brand office. A display of completed toys has also been placed in the Brand Office window to give donors an idea of how they look after the VFW gets through with them.

All renovated toys will be distributed at Christmas time to needy families over the area.

Zone Adjustment Board Holds First Meeting, Face Protest On New Cafe

Among citizens livine in the area near the site in question who appeared in protest at the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fotheringham, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. McRight, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Mercer, Mr. Milton Vaught, and Clarence Stephens. In the course of the meeting these offering protest felt that the cafe should not be allowed to be constructed.

Central School, with slightly under 400 students, served 220 extra half-pint bottles, while Shirley, with 438 students, served 250 extra bottles on the opening day of the program.

In order to cooperate with the program, open to students in the first four grades of all Texas schools, Central and Shirley have both inaugurated "milk breaks" for the various classes. The breaks occur in the morning for older students, and in the afternoon for the First and Second Graders, depending upon the school in question.

After discussion and consideration, the Board of Adjustment approved the request presented at this meeting due to the fact that the Park Avenue building already constructed would hide the new building and since no future building may be built without a complete change in the ordinance they, therefore, felt it would be an injustice to the present owner of the lot in question to cause him to set back, whereby his place of business could not be seen from either approach.

These appearing at the hearing other than the protest group listed above, were: Francis Harwick, chairman; Cleo Meharg, secretary; Don Zimmerman, W. J. Reeves, Paul Harvey, Cecil Massey, Earnest Langley, James, Wayne Thomas, and John Alken.

One-Cent Milk Goes Over Big With Small-Fry Opening Day

Kids like milk—especially at one cent a bottle.

Such was the opinion of cafeteria workers at Shirley and Central schools this week as the new "milk program" went into effect here Monday.

Is Proving Popular

"The program is sure going to prove popular," said O. D. Lowry, Shirley principal. "To our surprise, the older students seem to be taking a larger percentage of milk. However, it is popular in all ages."

Mr. Lowry estimated that most of the milk was going out at the "milk break" periods, but said that quite a few students were taking an extra bottle at lunch.

The program is conducted in connection with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and is scheduled to run for a two-year period. The Texas education agency is sponsoring the program in this state.

A notice issued by Supt. Geo. L. Graham concerning the program reads:

'Leadership, Public Relations' Are Stressed At State P-TA Convention

Mrs. H. E. Wester gave a report at the P-TA Meeting Monday night on her recent trip as a delegate to the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers Convention which was held in Corpus Christi.

The Theme for the current program emphasizes possible action areas for the local Parent-Teacher associations, Mrs. Wester said.

"To me the highlight of the State Meeting was the workshop in which the material was given by tape recording and those attending were allowed to discuss the subject matter," she continued.

Mrs. Wester felt this method of presentation was more satisfactory than having people give it directly, as the delegates did not hesitate to comment on the ideas advanced in the recording, like they would on those presented by an individual.

The objectives of the workshop, according to Mrs. Wester, were to promote leadership in the local unit in legislation, mental health, international relations and relations between school and community.

Other features on the program Monday night were several numbers by the High School Chorus under the direction of Don Moore, group singing led by Bob Lawrence and a short talk by Rev. Bob Harris on the theme of the evening which was "Insure Domestic Tranquility — Peace On Earth."

Mrs. Homer Brumley president, presided at the business meeting.

NEAR MILLION DOLLAR VALUE

ASC Reports Show 46 Million Pounds Of Milo 'On-the-Ground'

Now it's official. Hereford elevators had 46 million pounds of milo on the ground Nov. 12, which was drawing well toward the close of the area's 1954 bumper grain sorghum harvest.

The report was released through ASC offices, which calculated the various piles at a combined 821,428 bushels. In addition to these piles were others at Dawn, Black and similar points.

Figuring the "grounded" grain at the regular $2.05 storage level to farmers, the value of the piles would be $936,000 — or just a shade under $1 million.

All five elevators in Hereford were forced to dump grain sorghums on the ground as trucks stacked up along the highway during the harvest peak, and all still have most of the grain. It is beginning to move out, however, as cars become more numerous and additional space in terminal elevators becomes available.

Most grain dealers still estimate the 1954 milo crop at between 7 million and 8 million bushels, although no exact figure is available. Everyone agrees that the crop is better than last year's, but "I don't know exactly — but it was a heck of a lot of milo."

James Durham To Compete Nov. 30 At International

James Durham of Hereford will be a member of the Texas A. and M. Senior Meats judging team which will compete in the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago on Nov. 30, according to announcements this week from College Station.

Durham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Durham, 706 E. Fifth Street, has established an outstanding record in the judging field, having previously competed in state and regional contests. The other four members of the A. and M. team are Lloyd Jovee of Jago, Charlie Davis of Dallas, Bill Singer of Corpus Christi and J. A. Loftis of Waxahatchie.

The group will leave College Station in time to work out in Ft. Worth, Kansas City, Waterloo, Ia., and in Chicago prior to the competition.

Also attending the Exposition from Hereford will be Homer Brumley, who will be honored as a member of the winning team from Texas Tech 20 years ago.

Court Votes To Open Three New Roads In County

The opening of three new roads, all short, and purchase of a new car for the sheriff's department comprised chief accomplishments of the Commissioners' Court meeting here Monday.

In opening the roads, the county "accepted the right-of-way" and agreed to maintain a road, 60 feet wide, beginning at the southeast corner of Section 1, Block 8, and the northwest corner of Section 46, Block 7, running one mile west. This location is approximately 11 miles north and three west of Dawn.

The other two road strips are located two miles west and two miles north of Hereford, and together run two miles west. This road is also 60 feet in width and is to be taken over by the county for maintenance. Description says it starts at the southwest corner of Section 84, Block K-3, running one mile east to Section 77, while the other mile begins at the northeast corner of Section 97 and runs one mile west to the northwest corner of Section 97.

Bill Decker To Head Red Cross Drive In 1955

This week A. J. Schroeter, Deaf Smith County Chapter chairman announced a number of chapter Red Cross appointments. The 1955 Campaign for membership and funds will be headed by William M. Decker, as chairman.

"Mr. Decker was on the board of directors at Lovington, N. M., before coming to Hereford, so is familiar with Red Cross aims and work. In last year's drive he was captain for two business blocks to do an outstanding job," Mr. Schroeter said.

Other appointments for places in chapter set up include: Kenneth A. Coker, as Public Information chairman; Charles Skelton will replace R. G. Lewis for Water Safety; George R. Jowell will replace Mrs. Steve Clements; Mrs. F. L. Wilhelm became Home Nursing Chairman at the annual meeting and O. Z. Golden is now chairman of Records for "Walking Blood Bank" at the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Curtsinger Wins Weekly Contest

Virginia Curtsinger won the weekly football contest with 23 correct predictions this week; Jack Clark was second and E. H. Loerwald took third place, each with 22 correct forecasts. Ruth Loerwald also came in with 22 correct, but lost to the two men on tie-breakers.

Most generally missed in the contest this week was the upset Louisiana victory over Arkansas and the Harvard win over Yale. William and Mary over Wake Forest also proved quite a stumper to many of the pickers.

YUM! YUM! IT'S SWELLI! That's what these First and Second graders at Central School have to say about the new "milk break" around 2 o'clock each afternoon, which is just about the time their dad usually takes his "coffee break" down town. There's a difference, though, the boys and girls get all the milk they want at the cut-rate price of 1c-per-bottle as part of the USDA Milk Surplus plan which became effective here Monday. The procedure has been set up by the government to cover a two-year period. (Staff Photo)

 Members of the Ford and Bippus Home Demonstration Clubs also presented their program and reports before the court. Mrs. Jack Fortenberry was chairman of the program committee.

 T. E. Seigler, hospital manager, filed the hospital balance sheet with the court, ending Oct. 31.
 The court also reviewed a letter from the Dallam County judge and court concerning a resolution to place allotments on county roads from the highway department in a manner that Dallam figured more practical for the area. No action was taken on the resolution, however, by the Deaf Smith court.

Most Firms Will Close Thursday

The cafes and service stations will pretty much have the town to themselves Thanksgiving Day, according to an unofficial survey Wednesday morning — and even some firms in the two classifications indicated that they would be closed for the annual holiday.
 Listed on the merchant calendar as an official holiday, Thanksgiving will be universally observed by most firms, including drug stores, which will open on "emergency basis" during the day.
 The survey also turned up around "fifty-fifty" on Hereford's population for the day with about half of the people going out of town for the holiday—and the other half entertaining company on the occasion. Most of the travel, however, appeared to be within the Panhandle on a 150-mile radius.
 Schools, as previously announced, will dismiss at 2:30 this afternoon, and will assemble again on regular schedules Monday morning, Nov. 29.

Around.....

 ficient time remains to complete a sizeable program before Jan. 1, 1955, when the new program year begins.
 There will be a KFC dance Friday night at 8:30 in the Jim Hill Hotel; Everyone is invited, says the announcement.

For a long time, now, I have been trying to eke out some spare time to write this Bull Column again—just to say, "I told you so!"

About this time last year everyone was pretty blue, but I had a strong hunch about "More in '54." Remember? I predicted we would beat Phillips and win the championship and, sure enough, our basketball team did just that. However, I was really going to town all year about the big grain sorghum crop we were going to have this year. I advised everyone to plant more and more milo. I don't know if they were following my advice or not, but the grain sorghums really were all right. I just leave it up to anybody. Even Old Pit says he never saw anything like it before.

My wife contends it is most unbecoming for anyone to brag and "rub it in" when they are lucky in making predictions. She says I should just sit tight and let nature take its course. I guess I am just a roughneck, in the first place, but I don't see it that way. I still remember how Jay Boston and Leo Forrest and Tom Robinson and a bunch of other guys were riding me back in February and March when the dust was blowing. They had a lot of help, too. Even Hub Homer, Pick Harman and Gaylord Newell got to telling people that I was plain nuts. Besides that, they pretty well had me convinced. However, I stood by my guns—and I figure I am entitled to do a little bragging now. I sure do.

When a guy predicts anything out in this country he is sure sticking out his neck—and you have to be nuts to predict, above all things, the weather and Hereford's first championship basketball team in 25 years.

However, I will admit that when I predicted "More in '54," I didn't exactly have telephone rates and gas bills in mind. Stoney Wall and A. O. Thomas dreamed these up by themselves—and threw them in for good measure.

I heard a good one on Harold Close, the other day. He was watching an acrobat perform on the Ed Sullivan show on T-V, and the guy got to jumping up and down on some chairs. Harold decided to try it—and almost broke his neck. Charlotte says the fact that the performer had practically no hair left was apparently not one of the requirements to accomplish his feats.

Sometimes, you get caught between the devil and the deep-blue sea. As an editor, I am bound to uphold and endorse this radar enforcement of our speed laws. As an individual, it's dog-gone inconsistent when you mortgage the house to buy a car with horsepower enough to go faster. I guess they had to do something, though, with all of these wrecks popping up. I will say that it is the best speed control system I have yet seen—except my wife, of course.

Here's a joke that's been making the rounds lately:

It was the first day of school and the teacher asked all of the children to stand up and give their full names. Everything went along fine, until one little boy got up and said, "My name is 'Dirty Face' Smith."

"I mean your real name. Not your nickname," said the teacher. The lad persisted that his real name was "Dirty Face Smith" and the teacher, determined to have no insolence in her class, finally laid down the law.

"If you can't give your real name, just get your lunch box and your hat, and go home," she commanded. Again, the little boy announced himself as being "Dirty Face Smith," whereupon, he followed orders, gathered up his belongings and started home. He got outside the front door, however, turned, came back inside and called out to his little brother:

"Come on, 'Snotty Nose,' she ain't gonna believe you, neither."

I can't imagine anything worse than a West Texan in Washington these days, especially if he likes chili. Walter Rogers says that chili is selling there for 70 cents a bowl—and complains because even that is three-fourths beans. He says you don't get very many crackers—and they never let you get near the catsup bottle.

This looks mighty bad for the U. S. of A. We have all of these gregated there in Washington—and they let things get into a shape like this. How can we expect them to keep the ship of state on an even keel, when they can't even control the chili situation in Washington? Besides, Walter turned the tables. It is customary for the constituents to write their congressman about problems at home, but his is one of the few cases I ever heard of where the Congressman writes back home for help and advice.

He has come to the right place, though. The thing for Walter to do is come down here and buy some of this beef on the hoof, which is a long way from being too high, then get himself a few bags of beans—and go into the chili selling business. At 70 cents a bowl, it's a lot better deal than being Congressman—even if you give plenty of crackers and catsup. A few little confidential talks with Emmett and Del Sherman, and he could really clean up. Besides, think of the prestige. He'd probably be the first fellow who ever put himself through congress selling 70-cent chili.

I notice where this Tulia editor, H. M. Baggary is recently back from a trip around the world. He won a contest of some sort or other—and could take anyone with him he chose. Baggary took a preacher. A lot of folks figured Baggary had missed the boat. They said they never would have selected a preacher. However, it turned out that the Tulia boy was pretty smart, after all.

Baggarly became ill in India, underwent a kidney stone operation when he got back to Amarillo—and Rev. John Westhof, a Presbyterian minister, wound up writing the columns and doing all of the work while Baggary was surrounded with pretty nurses and flowers. Off hand, I'd say the old boy really used his head.

SHE HATES TO DRESS 'EM! Mrs. J. T. Guinn, champion turkey raiser in this area, says it's no fun raising turkeys -- but that's a picnic compared to dressing them. The Guinns will have turkey on Thanksgiving, but after dressing out the family bird, she said: "I hope I never get that hungry for turkey again." (Staff Photo)

MRS. J. T. GUINN SAYS

You Have To Brave High Water, Face Rattlesnakes In The Turkey Business

With 500 turkey toms gobbling at the same time, it would be hard for Mrs. J. T. Guinn, who lives five miles southwest of Bootleg corner, to talk turkey with anybody. After 10 years of experience in raising them, however, she should have plenty of information on the subject.

The 600 turkey hens which recently went to market were not able to stir up such a fuss.

Mrs. Guinn who started out in April with over 1500 Munson Mistletoe poult from Alva, Okla., suffered little loss, and has been marketing them locally and to poultry dealers in other towns for the Thanksgiving demand.

Last week 600 hens went to one buyer and averaged the heaviest of any young hens she has ever marketed in her 10 years of turkey raising. They weighed out 18 pounds per-bird. Mrs. Guinn estimates the weight of the seven-month-old gobblers, which will be sold this week at from 30 to 38 pounds. She has found that if you have a quality product to offer you will not have any trouble finding a market.

The poult were formerly started in overhead brooders, heated by butane, but this year, Mrs. Guinn started the young turkeys in batteries, then transferred them to houses, and later to range shelters, where they stay until they go to market.

Incidentally, Mrs. Guinn has also used the brooders for starting pigs but apparently hasn't yet tried the batteries on the little porkers.

Getting back to the turkeys, they have been grown on mash, grain and alfalfa hay but Mrs. Guinn agrees with poultry experts, who say if one has plenty of green pasture for the birds, the feed bill can be cut by 20 percent. She should have evidence to back up her belief as she takes the flock out to graze each morning but does not have sufficient grazing range to provide the lush pasture they need.

From the marketing angle one of the most interesting sales she has made was over 300 dollars worth to one man who had them dressed, gift wrapped and shipped to Arizona as Christmas presents.

Mrs. Guinn says she has braved high water and rattle snakes to save the turkeys, but she isn't particularly fond of the job of dressing one even for her own table.

Last week she struggled with one of the big problems in the double sink in her modern kitchen trying to scald him and when he was finally ready for the oven Mrs. Guinn remarked to her husband, who had helped with the operation, "I hope I never get that hungry for turkey again. Not even at Thanksgiving."

Bluebirds Name New Leaders At Recent Meeting

The Bluebirds elected new officers at their last meeting. They also fixed a basket for a needy family. The Thanksgiving program was given by the girls. Connie Kent gave a reading on "Thanksgiving," Sandra Hooper also gave a reading on "The Thanksgiving, by The Briggles."

The new officers which were elected were: president, Ann Gentry; vice president, Ann Thomas; secretary, Sherry Damon; treasurer, Connie Kent; and reporter, Sandra Hooper. Their sponsor is Mrs. Clinton Jackson.

Local Delegation Will Attend Farm Bureau Convention In New York City

A delegation of seven people, possibly more, will represent Deaf Smith County at the National Farm Bureau Convention in New York City, Nov. 12-16, according to announcements this week by Maurice Howell, secretary-manager.

In addition to himself, Mr. Howell said reservations have also been made by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dorson.

The group will depart from Dallas on Dec. 7, arriving in Cincinnati Dec. 8, and at Williamsburg, Va., Dec. 9, where a special tour is planned for the group; Dec. 10 will be spent in a Chesapeake Bay cruise and a sightseeing tour of the nation's capital, including the White House. The group arrives in New York for a day prior to opening of the convention Sunday, Dec. 12.

In addition to business resolutions and other convention activities, the group will also hear such speakers as Sec. Ezra T. Benson, British Ambassador Sir Eonor Mazine, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State; Clarence Randall, chairman of Inland Steel; Senator S. L. Holland of Florida, and Dr. Nicholas Nyardi, chairman of the department of economics, Bradley University and former Minister of Finance of Hungary. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale will also speak before the group at Vesper services Dec. 12.

Dory Funk Will Meet Pederson Here Saturday

former champion, against George Overhuls in the first part of the twin feature.

Each match runs the regulation main event distance of two best falls of three or one hour.

Pederson, a man with a muscular build developed from weightlifting exercises and demonstrations, is a hard man to do business with in the ring, and Mr Funk, who hails from Umbarger, Tex., possibly will be nonplussed on several occasions. Funk himself is exceptionally strong for his weight, but does not claim to be the superman stylist usually symbollic with Pederson's publicity.

Funk, who has held the Southwest States junior heavyweight title more times and over a longer period of time than any other wrestler, has been on tour for the past half year or more, wrestling heavyweights mostly in many states and in Canada. His pet hold remains the spinning toe-hold, in which an opponent's knee suffers the most pain and injury. He has been censured for applying the hold with too much enthusiasm, especially after the downed opponent hollers "uncle!"

Jesse James is one of the more pleasing wrestlers to work in this section. He, too, has held the title, and currently shares the tag team championship with his brother, Johnny.

George Overhuls, former Amarillo football player who still claims Amarillo as his home, has turned out to be a devastating demon with no mercy. He will give James a rough run for the money in the first main event.

dropped during the Revolutionary War" Miss Raeburn said.

It was not until 1827 that a movement was started to have one particular day each year proclaimed "Thanksgiving Day." Miss Sara Jane Hale, publisher of a periodical, wrote editorials and sent letters to all the state Governors urging them to observe the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day, but accomplished very little at the time.

"President Lincoln, however, issued a proclamation in 1863 that one day in August would be set aside as Thanksgiving Day. This was later changed to the last Thursday in November," said Miss Raeburn.

"Early Thanksgiving celebrations usually started with a sporting event such as Turkey Raffles, and shooting matches, followed by Religious Services and then the big

Thanksgiving Is Theme Of Rotary Program Monday

"The Heritage of Thanksgiving," its beginning and its history, was the subject of a speech delivered by Miss Jerry Raeburn, to Rotarians and their guests Monday, November 22, at the Rotary luncheon meeting.

"Thanksgiving started in 1607" said Miss Raeburn, "when a group of Pilgrims gathered to give thanks to God for their many blessings."

"It was not until 1621 however, that the turkey first made his appearance. At this time local townsmen were sent to the woods to bring back game for the celebration, and wild turkey happened to be plentiful. Cannons were fired and the people gathered for Thanksgiving services and feast. "As they gathered," said Miss Raeburn, "loud shouts were heard from the surrounding woods and a group of Indians appeared with deer and other wild game." They had heard of the celebration and came to join the feast. The day long affair lengthened to 3 days.

"But at this time," Miss Raeburn stated, "no particular day had been set aside for Thanksgiving—the people gathered and celebrated any time they had good reason, sometimes when ships arrived with needed supplies, or when they were blessed with bountiful harvests. In those days, Thanks giving might even be observed two or three times a year, and in 1684 it became a formal affair but was

MRS. A. J. ASHBURN displays a group of Craft Club work this year. Oil paintings done by her in the Simms Study companies are gypping servicemen have been denied sharply by Garland A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Insurance Commission. Smith referred to statements by Mike Stern, writer, made before a congressional committee in Washington. "Texas sells 90 percent of the policies sold to GI's overseas and has the worst insurance laws in the nation," Stern said. Smith replied that Stern had "got way out on a limb . . . that as far as he knew, all companies doing business with servicemen were good ones." Desegregation Procedure Desegregation in Texas' public schools must be a gradual undertaking, the U. S. Supreme Court has been told.

A written brief, handed the court by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, warned that violence would be the price of rapid transition. Shepperd also asked that programs for carrying out the desegregation order be left to local school districts. Oil Increase A 64.374-barrel daily increase in Texas oil production for December has been authorized by the Texas Railroad Commission. About 35,000 Geiger counters have been sold to individuals or as private companies in the last four years. Scorpions are among the most ancient and primitive land animals.

Half of all employed males in the United States are at least 40 years of age. Studies show that women enter and leave the American labor force at an earlier age than men. Agricultural fairs attract six times the annual gate of major league baseball.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM the State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, TEX. — Attorney General John Ben Shepperd's office is engaged in another investigation. This time it's a multi-pronged one in which the state auditor, the department of public safety and DeWitt County Attorney Wiley Cheatham are also interested. It has to do with the one hundred million dollar veteran's land program. Managing Editor R. K. Towery of the Cuero Record unearthed the story. He discovered that some Texas veterans in and around Cuero had signed up for what they thought was a free bonus of land, only to learn that they had purchased land with down payments they had never made. Towery said promoters sold large tracts of land to groups of veterans that the veterans had never seen the land, had never made a payment on it, and had no means of paying for it. They are also checking appraisal State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, whose office administers the program, said that he would "stand behind the appraisals in their entirety." According to Cheatham, the county attorney's investigation revealed "a rotten, stinking mess that ought to be aired out before the people." Identical Bids Another investigation being undertaken by the Attorney General has to do with identical bids for electrical supplies for the capitol city. Under scrutiny are identical bids for $32,122.80 which four firms gave the Austin City Council on underground cable. Dope Traffic Eyed Texas' new law providing imprisonment or hospitalization for dope addicts will get its test in Austin soon. Charges were filed here against six men and women, following 17 arrests by city and county officers and Texas Rangers last week, in a raid on a small Congress avenue hotel. Narcotic agents said recently that Austin is rapidly being drawn in "an alarming and expanding black market drugs problem." Radar Roundup Highway patrolmen, armed with radar, have already nabbed 11 central Texas speeders. Warned were 63 others. These automatic eyes are being placed on principal highways throughout the state.

Financing Freeways Bond financing to provide needed state highway construction has been advocated. Executive Director James E. Taylor of the Texas Motor Transportation Association asked for dedication of one percent of the present four-cent gas tax for highways. He says the plan would provide immediate construction of 1,000 miles of four-lane freeways. Amendments Effective Now Proclamations declaring the recently voted amendments part of the constitution have been issued by Governor Allan Shivers and Secretary of State C. E. Fulgham. Amendments provide for women jurors, higher pay for members of the Legislature, longer terms for some public officials, and increased pensions for the aged. There is talk here of a suit by some members of the Legislature to test the attorney general's ruling made prior to the election, that the public officials amendment did not extend Legislature's terms to four years. DWI Penalties Three days in jail is the minimum penalty for drunk driving and the judge may not reduce the sentence. That was the decision of the court of Criminal Appeals in the case of an El Paso man. Held unconstitutional by the decision was that part of the Texas law which authorized the judge to commute the jail sentence in drunk driving cases. Charges that Texas insurance

Garden Beautiful Club Meets In Hennen Home

The Garden Beautiful Club held a meeting Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. V. O. Hennen with Mrs. Tom Carter serving as co-hostess.

Final plans were made for the Christmas Tea which is being arranged by the social committee of the club including Mesdames D. C. Kinsey, J. B. Harlin and T. E. Seigler, for Dec. 3.

The program was presented by Mrs. Frances Houston who showed slides and gave descriptions of scenic spots she visited on a tour of Europe last summer.

Mrs. Gerald Wilson announced that orders for Miss King's Pecan Cakes which the club is selling, are now being taken and requested that orders be turned in to her.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames Howard Armstrong, Tom Carter, George Graham, J. B. Harlin, E. W. Harrison, E. W. Hobson, Chas. Hood, Frances Houston, D. C. Kinsey, F. P. Lyons, Dick Miller, G. P. Owen, Helen Pipkin, Edward Robinson, Mary Seigler, W. J. Stanford, Gerald Wilson, Robert Veigel, J. L. Woodford, Townsend Douglas, J. R. Overstreet, Miss Frances Turrentine, and the hostess, Mrs. Tom Wilson of Eastland was a special guest.

LANDMARK FADES AWAY
TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. — The steady tramp of tourists' feet and the constant winds from Lake Michigan are erasing Sleeping Bear Sand Dune, a well-known Michigan landmark.

Prof. Frank C. Gates of Kansas State College, who has been studying the dune since 1928, says the formation might be level in 20 or 30 years. Once 150 feet high, the dune is now only about 86 feet, Prof. Gates says.

The government of Chile has arranged for feeding school children with bread which is 10 per cent odorless fish flour.

Time For Holiday Cake Rehearsals

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor CHRISTMAS REHEARSAL in the kitchen! Make up this fruit-and nut cake ring now and let the family enjoy a dessert splurge. Then you'll be well acquainted with the recipe when you want to use it for holiday company.

Our family enjoyed this cake without any topping. But for guests it may be served with sweetened whipped cream to which a little sherry flavor is added. If you do use the cream topping for a holiday party, garnish the top of the cream with maraschino cherries arranged in poinsettia shapes. Cut the cake in good-sized pieces when you serve it, because it has a fluffy texture that is not made for thin slicing.

HOLIDAY CAKE RING

Ingredients: ¼ cup finely cut candied cherries, ¼ cup finely cut citron, ¼ cup finely sliced walnuts, ¼ cup cooking sherry, 1½ cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup sugar, 3 egg whites, ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup butter or margarine (allow to stand at room temperature to soften), ½ cup milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method: Soak cherries, citron and walnuts in sherry overnight. At baking time, grease and lightly flour a 9-inch ring mold that is 2 inches deep and has a 3-inch center opening. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and 2-3 cup sugar into large mixing bowl. Beat egg whites until foamy; add ¼ cup sugar gradually, beating only until meringue will stand up in soft peaks. Add butter, milk and vanilla to dry ingredients; stir with spoon until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Add meringue mixture and beat one minute longer in mixer, or 150 strokes by hand. Fold in fruits and walnuts. Turn into prepared ring mold. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Turn out on rack to cool. Serve with whipped cream if desired.

Snake Upsets Trip

CLIFTON FORGE, Va. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Dotson were en route by auto to some grocery shopping when Mrs. Dotson noted a four-foot snake under her feet. While Dotson tried to swing off the highway to park Mrs. Dotson hurriedly transferred to the rear seat only to find the snake had beat a retreat underneath the front seat while she went over it.

Dotson cut his hand trying to kill the snake, which finally took refuge under the back seat. A reluctant Mrs. Dotson entered the front seat and kept a keen eye on the back while Dotson drove into town. He got medical treatment for the cut hand and help in dislodging the reptile.

It was identified as a harmless variety.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. — Two police stations are on the auction block. City fathers decided to sell them when two-way radio and patrol cars made them useless.

WOOL RAISING TEST

CLEMSON, S. C. — One factor in the shift of the cotton textile industry from New England to the South has been the lower cost of getting the raw product to the mills. An experiment here may have a similar effect on wool processing.

A shipment of 105 Australian Polwarth sheep has been imported for Clemson (S. C.) College. Their new home is near a new wool processing plant at Johnsonville.

Animal husbandry experts from Clemson will set up facilities for the test flock. There are thousands of acres of similar land in the state that could be devoted to sheep raising. Clemson professors report there are fewer than 150 farms in the state with any sheep.

FRANKLIN NAME REJECTED

PHILADELPHIA — Benjamin Franklin may have been its founder, but the University of Pennsylvania is still the University of Pennsylvania. That's what the alumni decided in a poll, 1,101 to 234.

Changing the school's name was the idea of Alexander D. Chiquoine Jr., of Scarsdale, N. Y., a member of the class of 1934. He suggested the institution's name be changed to honor its founder, Benjamin Franklin.

SKEWERED BEEF

Ingredients: 1½ pounds sirloin tip beef (about 1 inch thick), ¼ cup salad oil, ¼ cup lemon juice, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon oregano, 1 small clove garlic, (crushed), 1 large green pepper.

Method: Cut beef into 1 to 1½ inch chunks; remove any outside fat or sinews. Mix lemon juice, oil, salt, pepper to taste, sugar, oregano and garlic. Put beef cubes in flat container; pour mixture over them, cover tightly and refrigerate for 1 or 2 days before using. Turn cubes over in marinade several times. To use, remove seeds and membranes from green pepper and cut in 16 pieces; string beef and green pepper alternately and loosely on skewers. Broil close to high heat to desired doneness, make a small slit in a cube of the beef to test. Makes 4 servings.

PUMPKIN CREAM MOLD

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin, 1 cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, ½ teaspoon ginger, ¾ cup light cream, 3 egg yolks, 1½ cups canned pumpkin, 1 cup heavy cream.

Method: Mix gelatin, sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and ginger together thoroughly in the top of a double boiler. Stir in light cream. Beat in egg yolks with a fork or a whisk, then the pumpkin. Cool and stir constantly over boiling water for 10 minutes. Gelatin and sugar will be dissolved and mixture hot. Remove from heat; chill until mixture begins to set — a spoonful of it dropped back will hold its shape well in a mound. Beat heavy cream until thick (but not stiff) and fold into pumpkin mixture. Turn into mold—one that holds about 5 cups — and chill until set. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

LIMA TOMATO RABBIT

Ingredients: 2 cups grated cheddar cheese, 1 can condensed tomato soup, 3 tablespoons water, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon dry mustard, 2 cups cooked large dry lima beans, 2½ tablespoons chopped dill pickle.

Method: Place cheese in top of Heat lima beans and drain; divide double boiler. Cook and stir over simmering water until melted. Stir in tomato soup, water, salt and dry mustard. Cook and stir constantly until smooth and very hot, among 4 shallow individual baking dishes. Sprinkle each with a pickle; cover with tomato-cheese rabbit. Sprinkle with remaining onion and pickle. Makes 4 servings.

APRICOT CREAM CAKE

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted cake flour, ¾ teaspoon double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 eggs (separated), ½ cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, one 14-ounce jar (about 1 cup) apricot preserves, brandy flavoring, 1 cup heavy cream, ¼ cup diced toasted almonds.

Method: Line 2 layer cake pans (8 by 1½ inches deep) with waxed paper; grease paper. Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg yolks and water together in large bowl until three times the original volume—this takes considerable beating. Beat in sugar thoroughly, a tablespoon at a time, if necessary, continue beating until thick and ivory-colored. Beat in vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients all at one time; fold in until blended. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold into batter until blended. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Invert pans on cake racks until cold; remove cake and peel off paper. Split each layer in half horizontally with serrated bread knife to form 4 layers. Place 1 layer on cake plate; spread ¼ cup apricot preserves mixed with brandy flavoring to taste over it. Repeat with next 2 layers. Top with last layer and spread with apricot preserves in the same way. Frost jam-spread top and the sides of cake with whipped sweetened cream; sprinkle top with almonds. Makes 8 servings.

Old-Smoke-Eater

DOER, N.H. (AP) — This city of 15,800 thinks it has the oldest active firefighter in the nation.

And in his 59 years on the department, 81-year-old Joseph Heene recalls he missed only one bell alarm of the some 2,000 sounded during those years. A case of pneumonia a few years back caused him to break his record.

Recalling his narrowest brush with death, Heene said he and three other firefighters entered a basement during a 1933 fire. Without warning an upper floor collapsed, blocking their exit.

Just as the quartet was about to give up hope of escape, a gas explosion blew them off their feet. When they regained consciousness, all four were sprawled in the street outside, injured, but not seriously, by the blast.

Make-Ahead Treats For Christmas

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
EARLY-BIRD COOKS who want to get some of their Christmas baking done ahead of time will be interested in these recipes for a short-bread-type cookie and fruit cake bonbons. Store the cookies and bonbons, after baking, in tightly covered containers and they will keep well. The bonbons can be frosted just before you want to use them. Both the cookies and the fruitcake, packed in attractive boxes, will make fine gifts.

We are partial to this cookie recipe because we think we had a good idea when we added coconut to a shortbread-type dough. Anyone who favors cookies that are not on the sweet side should enjoy these.

The cookies look most attractive cut into Christmas-tree shapes, but of course you may use any shape of cookie cutter you wish. Just watch the baking time, if you use a cutter that is smaller than the Christmas tree shape we have specified. The old-fashioned shortbread my mother used to bake when I was a little girl in Canada, had nary a touch of brown; but this version of shortbread tastes best when it is lightly browned edges.

COCONUT SHORTBREAD

Ingredients: 1 cup butter or margarine, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 egg, 3 cups sifted flour, dash of salt, one 4-ounce can (1 1/2 cups) moist shredded coconut (ground through fine blade of food chopper).

Method: Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg with spoon. Add flour, salt and coconut; mix well with spoon; mixture will be stiff. Roll 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth. Cut into desired shapes; prick design over tops with fork. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet, about 1/2 inch apart, in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. If Christmas-tree cookie cutter about 3 inches long and 2 inches wide at bottom is used, there will be about 4 dozen cookies.

Use a fruitcake mix for bonbons. We have used this mix ever since it appeared on the market two or three years ago, and have always found it excellent. It includes a small vacuum-packed can of diced fruits and peel — pineapple dates, cherries, citron, orange and lemon peel, raisins and currants — and a bag of dry mix. To make the bonbons, you add egg and water to the mix, as specified in the package directions, and fill tiny foil or paper cups a generous two thirds full. Bake the bonbons in a slow (300 degrees) oven 20 minutes. These directions will give you

125 to 150 tiny fruit cakes. Cover the top of the bonbons with butter frosting just before you serve them or use them for gifts. A friend of ours tells us that one kind cook baked 800 of the bonbons and brought them to a hospital where she does volunteer work. The patients were enthusiastic about both the bonbons and the

BONBON BUTTER FROSTING

Ingredients: 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 pound confectioner's sugar, dash of salt, 4 to 5 tablespoons milk or water, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla.

Method: Cream butter, stir until blended. Stir in milk a little at a time, adding just enough to give good consistency for use in cake decorator. Add vanilla. Put frosting on fruitcake bonbons with rosette or rosebud tip of decorator.

J.D. Owens, 23, of Wichita, Kan., who owned an ice company at Wichita, took a cue from declining ice sales in his rural deliveries. A check showed his customers were buying refrigerators.

As a result, Owens enrolled in a refrigeration and air conditioning course at Oklahoma A&M Tech here. When he completes the course, Owens plans to return to Wichita and open a new business for himself.

The H Bomb Is Discussed At Summerfield Club Meet

"The H Bomb Age is Upon Us" was the subject of the program for the Summerfield Study Club Thursday afternoon when a meeting was held in the home of Mrs. J. R. Euler. Mrs. Guy Walsler was co-hostess.

Mrs. L. J. Counselman gave the first part of the program stating "The H Bomb Age is Upon Us" and the H Bomb is capable of destroying great cities and millions of people. In November 1952 the United States set off an H Bomb in the Pacific that destroyed an island one mile wide and three miles long. The problem for every American is based on the quotation, "Peace is not the absence of conflict but the ability to cope with it" and if all scientists in the world would get together and work for the good the H Bomb could do—the problem would be much easier to handle.

Mrs. K. W. Neill reviewed the book "Tomorrow" by Philip Wylie. "Tomorrow" is Philip Wylie's white-hot evocation of what could happen in the event of an air attack on the United States. The book brings to the reader a shocking realization that this could happen here, but Philip Wylie is not prophesying doom—he is pleading for preparedness. Quoting from critics of the book she concluded "Wylie has combined high drama with a notable service to the public in his 'Tomorrow.'"

A short business session was held with Mrs. K. W. Neill, president, presiding. Plans were made for a Christmas preview at the next meeting when members will display handmade gifts and decorations.

Those present for the meeting were Mesdames A. F. Blakemore, Lee Curry, L. J. Counselman, Earl Lance, L. H. Lookingbill, K. W. Neill, Mack Noland, Guy Walsler and the hostess.

Bill's father, Lt. Fayden D. Watson was a B-26 Bomber Pilot in World War 2 and assigned to the 6th Air Force in England where he flew his missions over France and Germany. Being a reserve Air Force pilot he was recalled at the start of the Korean war and in August of 1952, while on a practice mission at Langley Field, a., there was a mid-air explosion in the plane he was flying which resulted in the death of all four members of the bomber crew.

Bill is now in his first year of school and attends Central Elementary at Denison.

Furlong, executive secretary of the State Tourist Council, said the operators may be feeling the competition of new resorts. He said tourists are doing more shopping around these days than they ever did before.

BOTH BEEHAVE
HAMPTON, Va. — Judge Macy M. Carmel surveyed the evidence and said Charles Woodward had not proven damages to his bees or shrubbery. He dismissed the case with these warnings: To Woodward that he take care of his bees and see that no children are stung. To Lt. Col. Harry E. Mercer to quit putting foreign substances in his carburetor to permeate the air with smoke.

LONG BUSY SEASON
OMAHA — Mrs. Dora W. Sass took a temporary job in a department store here in 1910 to help her husband "for a short while" during the busy season. Now 84 Mrs. Sass has retired from her temporary job which stretched into 44 years of service. Her husband, who was a linen buyer for the store, died 14 years ago.

American Motors' new 1955 Rambler Country Club, on a 100-inch wheelbase, features modern styling refinements and outstanding maneuverability. According to George Romney, president, the Rambler will become the first "basic volume car" sold and serviced by both Nash and Hudson dealers. The Country Club and all Rambler models feature a newly styled grille, and improved front and rear suspensions. The new hardtop model offers open air advantages convertibles but with the safety of sedan models. Other Ram models include the two-door "Suburban" station wagon and 4-door Sedan in the 100-inch wheelbase series, and the four-door Cross Country station wagon and Sedan model in the 108-inch wheelbase series.

House Troubles
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — So you think you have troubles? Asking for a tax reduction on her house, a young woman who described herself as a family breadwinner gave the tax equalization board these reasons:
The house is falling down.
The furniture is coming apart.
Noisy trucks drive past at all hours.
Noisy airplanes fly over the house.
Nobody will buy the house under any conditions.

THANKSGIVING

Holds Tremendous Significance For Most Americans,
What Does It Mean To You?

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson—"It's the Christian Way of Life"

To Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Wilson Thanksgiving means the Christian way of life. They believe that the story of the first observance came through gateways that still are our gateways. The pilgrims of that far-off day bent over their fields to glean their harvests and were awed and grateful for their plenty, their freedom of worship and their right to assemble together for a single purpose. Today America gets her promptings to give thanks through the fertile soil, through services rendered by church services, through faith in the rightness of things to come, through closely knit families and through God's inscrutable design for man's brotherhood to man.

The word, "Brotherhood," plays an important part in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and aside from the general meaning of the word, Thanksgiving Day has come to mean understanding for they have that certainty that in His own way, at His own time, God's will will be done. Thanksgiving Day in Hereford is very real to them. He is grateful for the type of men that make up Hereford's city and county officials, service clubs and the veterans organizations for the resources of the land, and he believes that Hereford has accepted the responsibilities that great blessings bring. Both are grateful for the homelife people can enjoy in Hereford. Mrs. Wilson likes to think of Thanksgiving Day as a time when men and women everywhere seek to put the commandment to love one another into practice, even as of old, and she believes observance of the day brings about a deep concern for others as well as enrichment in the life of the individual. In the important but little world that is Hereford where hundreds of homes reflect the traditional observance, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson join the many who spell out the meaning of Thanksgiving in terms of faith, hope and trust—and brotherly love.

Today -- 333 Years after the Pilgrims celebrated America's first Thanksgiving Day at Plymouth (1621) -- many changes have been wrought. The Brand wondered if the original "Spirit of Thanksgiving", too, might have been altered down through the years. Mrs. John McLean, Woman's Editor, volunteered to do a series of sketches on the subject -- and the results appear on this page. After reading them, we feel that you will agree when we say that Thanksgiving, 1954, is observed with all of the Sincerity, Goodwill and Christian Spirit which prompted the early Colonists to Give Thanks for the Blessings of God and the Opportunity of Freedom which America Offered then . . . and Now!

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Kester -- "Count Their Blessings"

Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Kester believe in the practiced friendly loyalty to men and God, and Thanksgiving Day comes each year as a refresher period when blessings may be counted and all the good things of life may be enumerated in thought and prayer. To them it means another opportunity for devoted Americans to find their way into churches and sanctuaries to worship according to their own convictions. It is a time to gain spiritual up-lift from the act of worship, from their children or friends gathered with them to observe the day, a time to be grateful for Peace—and to renew individual efforts to help make this a free land. Never before perhaps as on this Thanksgiving Day has the nation been so divided, yet so close and united in the hearts of true Americans that Thanksgiving Day means hope again—hope for better relations with ourselves and neighbors and with our Maker. To them the day marks the beginning of the Christmas season and the world-wide worship of Him who came to save mankind. They believe that the greatest joy at Thanksgiving comes from participating in the act of giving thanks, just as the real joy of Christmas lies in doing for others and sharing the spirit of Peace On Earth—Good Will To Men.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexander -- "It's America's Day"

D. H. and Mrs. Alexander like to claim Thanksgiving Day as a national privilege to take stock of the blessings of the past year and all the years gone before, because Thanksgiving Day is America Day and to them it means "We are Americans." The first Thanksgiving Day found the world confused and distraught, and the future of the world unknown to men, but those people were permitted to be a part of God's grand design for their generation, and after all these years we have the same opportunity to be a part of God's plan in the observance of Thanksgiving in our hearts. The story of that first Thanksgiving is a simple one but it has gripped the hearts of the country, and to the Alexanders it is a wonderful privilege to be able to join the millions who lift their hearts in gratitude and praise to the creator of this—our land. They believe in being a friend to man—so much so that their philosophy of life has centered around that belief. To them Thanksgiving Day means a new day—a new day to discount the yesterdays with their failures and disappointments—even their successes and joys for they are in the past—A new chance to live and work with and for their fellowmen. Thanksgiving means "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow"—for home, children, friends—both young and old—religious freedom, faith and hope, and another chance to contribute a little to the American way of life.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Thompson -- "Observe Wedding Anniversary, Too"

The fact that Thanksgiving Day is also Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Thompson's wedding anniversary has cast a halo around the day for them and everything else seems to take on a rosy glow in grateful appreciation of the significance of the day.

Sharing everything that they are and have with others has been their creed through the years, especially with young people. They express their thanks for devout parents who taught them the deeper meaning of a special day for Thanksgiving, by their willingness to go the extra mile to help the youth of the community. Thanksgiving to the Thompsons means a return to the deep and calm consideration of the reason of things, a challenge to return to natural and Christian principles on which is based the freedom of all people. It is the many blessings and all of God's benefits of the past, brought into focus by family gatherings, and the hope of further usefulness wherever they chance to be that makes the joy of Thanksgiving real and vital.

To them the value of the Thanksgiving Day observance is enhanced when it is regarded as a Holy Day and offered in union with members of the family or friends, when it is marked by a re-echo of the sentiments and hopes, deeply affected by the dignity of traditions which go back to the time of our forefathers. The real meaning of the day to them signifies a halt in the course of days for the acknowledgment of all the good things of life and the manifestation of sincere good will to their fellowmen.

Rice's Final Story Covers 50 Years Of Sport Thrills

By FRANK ECK
AP Newfeatures Sports Editor
Grantland Rice's "The Tumult and the Shouting" is the most complete autobiography anyone would ever care to read. It covers more than 50 years of all the exciting events and personalities Granny knew as dean of the sports writing profession.

This remarkable book just published by A. S. Barnes & Co., is so fast moving as was Ty Cobb on the bases. And it's only natural that Granny puts Cobb near the front of his 368-page tome for it was Cobb who insisted he be discovered back in 1904.

Granny numerous times, each postulating a 90-year-old phenom. Cobb was the phenom.

"His legs must have been the most remarkable known to man— even Paavo Nurmi," writes Granny who had seen Ty play 24 seasons in the majors.

He quotes Cobb as saying "I recall intentionally spiking one (Home Run) Baker who was squarely in his base running path one day in Philadelphia. He tells how Cobb brought the slide and toe tag into baseball. And he tells how Cobb was the first to recognize that Babe Ruth in 1924 had changed the game with his home runs. "Power has replaced speed and skill," Cobb said.

Granny rates Joe DiMaggio "near the top," and says a Cobb-speaker-Ruth outfield, even with Ruth's power, could not match an outfield of Musial-DiMaggio-Williams.

He names Jim Thorpe, Red Grange and Bronko Nagurski as the three top football players and goes even further by saying 11 Granges could beat 11 Thorpes. And he names Sammy Baugh as the passer for this backfield.

Granny writes that Bill Tilden "depended more on body action for his power than perhaps any other athlete."

He calls Jack Dempsey a tiger in the ring and recalls how the Dempsey-Firpo fight was "four minutes of the most sensational fighting ever seen in any ring."

He describes the Tunney-Greb fight of 1922 as the bloodiest he ever covered and how Tunney, when he was thinking of Dempsey, threw punches at an imaginary Dempsey between shots of a Florida golf match.

GENE SARAZEN

GROVER C. ALEXANDER

"HE WASTED no time staring at the batter or rubbing the ball with his hands," is how Grantland Rice describes the 90-minute games Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched. And of golfer Gene Sarazen, author Rice in his book, "The Tumult and the Shouting," says "He plays golf with no fuss and no feathers."

Granny writes of Tommy Hitchcock and Devereux Milburn as the "fore-runners of modern polo," how Knute Rockne put Notre Dame into headlines and that the Four Horsemen (Harry Stuhldreher, Don Miller, Jim Crowley and Elmer Layden) were his greatest stars; that Pop Warner was football's greatest inventor, and that Babe Didrickson and Thorpe were the "two greatest all around athletes we've ever known."

Granny also writes that Jesse Owens' running style was flawless and that Walter Hagen did for golf what Ruth did for baseball.

The champions Rice writes about are chronicled as intimate friends rather than as impersonal news copy.

The other side of that personal relationship was summarized by John Kieran who, Granny said, turned from a walking encyclopedia in sports to a lover of birds.

At a black tie testimonial before some 250 champions and writers Kieran said:

"When Granny Rice died a big

George L. Graham was speaker for the faculty meeting Monday night at the high school auditorium. His subject was "The Ideal Teacher."

He listed as qualities of an ideal teacher: sincerity, interest in children and in people, intelligence, honesty, a commanding personality, a pleasant countenance, neatness, loyalty to himself and to the school.

"Of course an ideal is supposed to be above the attainment of any one of us, but I am happy to say that in looking over the Hereford School faculty, I see every one of these characteristics in many of our teachers. I would like to say that your administration is proud of the local school faculty," Mr. Graham stated.

FHA Initiates 87 New Members

Thursday the FHA girls held their formal initiation. It was a candle-light ceremony and the high light of the year for the club.

There were 87 new members who were initiated and received membership cards. The ceremony was held in the high school auditorium at 7 o'clock.

The parents were invited to the initiation. The third year foods class was hostess. Refreshments were served after the initiation.

The officers on the program were: Sylvia McCracken, Mozelle Telchik, Sue Suggs, Gay Malone, Dolores Loerwald, Betty Euse, Kay Barnard, Karen McGee, Katherine McDonald and Ann Dyer. Other members on the program were: Jean Glass, Nancy Story, Veradelle Andrews, Barbara Hall, Marlene Legg, Gay Morton, Joy Morton, Donna Buttrill, Janie Lamm, Elaine Wagoner and Marlene Allred.

these four phases were Wylajeau Quattlebaum, Sylvia McCracken, Bonnie Lewis and Kay Barnard. Barbara Sue Rogers, vice president, gave the purpose. Nancy Story played the piano while Barbara Winget gave a musical reading. Linda Reese explained the Tri-Hi-Y pin and Verita Sanders gave the poem, "If For Girls." Several mothers attended and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The fathom, six feet, represents the reach of a man with outstretched arms and, devided, it is two yards.

Hi Folks!
Just A Word of Sincere
"THANKS"
from your Friends at Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co.

We're newcomers in the Hereford Area, but of course, old timers in the Panhandle . . . so it was no surprise to us to find such a fine and considerate group of people around these parts.

We have thoroughly enjoyed doing business with you, and take this means of expressing our sincere "Thanks." We're looking forward to seeing you more in the future.

the portion of said addition sought to be cancelled, is as follows: Oak and Hickory Streets between Campbell and Washington Avenues; Lake, Bailey, Franklin, Monroe and Jefferson Streets between Grove Street (now FM No. 1068 Highway, commonly called Harrison Highway) and Bradley Street; and Blocks Nos. One (1) through Eighteen (18), inclusive, of said Ross Addition and all the lots therein.

III. That the portion of said Addition which is not desired to be cancelled, is as follows: Campbell and Washington Avenues from said Bradley to Grove Streets; and Bradley and Grove Streets from Campbell to Washington Avenues.

IV. That the portion of said Addition, sought to be cancelled, is located outside the limits of any incorporated city; and that such action will not interfere with the established rights of any person or legal entity.

V. That the said streets sought to be discontinued have never been opened, nor have they been used as a public thoroughfare; and that the said remaining streets not desired to be cancelled will adequately serve said Addition.

VI. That all the undersigned Applicants are freeholders, and acquainted with the property above described.

VII. That this application is made pursuant to Articles 6705 and 7227, Vernon's Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

WHEREFORE, Applicants pray the Court:

- (a) To Issue Notice of this Application as provided in said Article 7227; and
- (b) After notice and upon hearing, to enter an Order cancelling that portion of Ross Addition described in numbered paragraph II above and discontinuing the streets and avenues set forth in said paragraph.

AN UPSIDE DOWN roof is a feature of this distinctive plan. It raises the roof toward the garden to permit high walls of glass for extra light and view. A two-way fireplace is the only separation between dining and living rooms. A two-car garage, shown here in the front yard to keep the driveway short, creates a play yard in front of the kitchen. But the garage could be placed in the rear or attached to one side of the house without altering the balance of the street facade. The house, without garage, covers 1,744 square feet. Without the family room in the rear, which could be omitted, the area would be 1,536 square feet. This design by Howard H. ### Bible Words for Today

PSALMS 34:6—"This poor man cried and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles." (RSV)

Prayer is the most universal religious custom, whether a man is a Jew, Christian, Mohammedan, Buddhist or pagan. At times all men pray. Prayer is the fundamental I-thou relation. Now men do not continue to do something that they have found ineffective. Unless prayer changed things men would long since have ceased to pray. Prayer gives spiritual power—and spiritual power is the most potent force in heaven or earth.

The greatest Man of prayer who ever lived was Jesus of Nazareth. By all odds He has had the greatest influence of any man who ever lived. Prayer is the affirmation in the reality of God. It is an affirmative affirmation in the personal nature of the universe. You do not pray unless you believe there is a God and that God is ready and willing to aid you. Prayer can never be measured by earthly standards, but it does put the resources of heaven back of the man who prays. The writer of the marvelous 34th Psalm begins his prayer with adoration, and then goes on to searching of heart; not until then does he petition God for his needs.

NEW PLASTIC fabric is self-adhesive, easy to apply.

New Plastic Fabric Short Cut To Glamor

By Vivian Brown

AP Newsfeatures Writer
NOW-YOU-SEE-IT, now - you don't is becoming more and more a theme of American living. A man is likely to fall asleep in his easy chair and wake up to a strange new setting. Mom is on the how-to-do-it beam and home is the outlet for her imagination and energy. Paint rollers bring color to the wall so quickly that a cool room can become a warm room while a canvas is taking place. A table is likely to be antiqued and a fireplace front tiled while Dad takes a shower. Life becomes even more simple for the do-it-yourself worker. A new self-adhesive plastic fabric may quickly cover any dry, flat surface. It is adhesive-backed and may be cleaned with soap and water. It requires no water, paste or tools to apply. The plastic may be cut to required size, then peeled off its protective paper backing. The paper backing consists of squares to aid in cutting the fabric.

This new plastic fabric comes in solid colors, wood grain and marble effects as well as kitchen and nursery prints and peppermint stripes. The beauty of it is that it can be lifted from one place to another, an advantage in case it should wrinkle or "bubble." It may be applied by amateurs to cabinets, walls, work areas, closets, shelves and furniture. Warped wooden tops of coffee and end tables may be made attractive again with this plastic fabric in a wood grain design. The material, available in 18-inch widths, is water-proof.

Tops on the list for Christmas giving are smartly styled new inexpensive furs in light-toned blonde shades, supple, lightweight and endlessly useful. Old favorites get new treatments this season. Raccoon, the college favorite of the 1920's, acquires a new personality in 1954 in sheared, bleached beige tones, used in jackets, short toppers and full length coats that are equally at home in town or country. Other furs are emerging in new glamor versions, says J. George Greenberg, executive manager of the Associated Fur Manufacturers. These are mouton lamb and rabbit, priced to the limited budget and available in dozens of new lightweight styles and colors. ### Goal Set For Greatest Year

AP Newsfeatures

PHILADELPHIA — Anyone tackling the job of writing something newsy about Tom Gola is likely to wind up with a good case of frustration. It seems everything already has been said about the twice All-America from LaSalle.

And Tom's collegiate career with the NCAA champion Explorers still has a season to run. So the sports-writers will be put to the test of inventing new cliches to describe the 21-year-old 6 foot 7 son of a Philadelphia patrolman.

Barring serious injury, Gola figures to lead the race for All-American honors again this year. His performance, plus that of a team which went all the way last season with a crew predominated by sophomores, certainly puts the Explorers in the position of favorites to at least make a serious bid for repeat honors in the NCAA.

Even as a high school star, Gola was touted as a potential college basketball great. He's an all-around player who combines a scoring penchant (23 points per game average last season) with a fine rebounding skill and potent defensive abilities.

As a freshman, Gola figured in the Explorer team effort which brought the National Invitation Tournament title to Philadelphia for the first time in 14 years.

As a sophomore and again as a junior he was picked for All-America. Last year the Explorers were figured as a one-man crew and they were until the Christmas holidays, with Gola carrying the team on his sloping shoulders. But they picked up experience in winning seven and losing three and went on to the title.

Gola is primarily a hook shot artist, but he has the speed of a sprinter (he has fared rather well running the quarter mile for LaSalle's track squad) and his driving layups cause opposition defense to stay fluid, allowing his teammates to show their scoring ability. That's what coach Ken Loeffler likes about Gola.

"He's an all-around ballplayer without a real serious weakness. That's the secret of his greatness. The other team must concentrate two men on him constantly so he won't beat them single-handed and that opens the way for the others to score."

"And best of all, Tom's a team player. He's easy to coach and he's not shy about criticizing himself when he makes a mistake. He's the greatest player I've ever coached."

Gola has been named most val-

TOM GOLA
uable player in the NIT, NCAA and Kentucky invitational tournaments. He holds the La Salle college scoring record and the school record for assists.

What happens when Gola graduates from LaSalle?
"Don't even mention it," Loeffler says. "Let's just play this season and see what happens."

Beauty At Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. How do you recommend removing the hair or fuzz from my upper lip?

A. Cosmetic wax does an effective (although temporary) job. For a permanent job of removal, electrolysis is your answer—performed by an expert, of course.

Q. What is a good exercise for slimming the calves of the legs?

A. Lie on back. Lift left leg upward as far as comfortable and pull your toes back toward your head. Relax toes and return leg to floor. Do the same with the right leg, keeping knees stiff throughout.

Q. What is the best way to apply mascara?

A. First, comb the eyebrows straight up with a fine comb, moisten the mascara brush and darken the brows while they are still straight up. Then comb the hairs gently back into a graceful arch.

Q. What is a good makeup procedure for the girl with a long face?

A. She should apply darker foundation along her jawline to minimize her facial length. Broad-on the face by applying rouge high along the cheekbones, to cut the face length. She can break the face length still more by widening her eyebrows in a wide line, instead of a high arch. Her lipstick should be in a full wide line, instead of a thin, narrow one.

Q. How should I measure my bust—at what place?

A. Measure without a brassiere around the largest part of the bust, and be certain that the tape measure passes straight around your chest.

Q. What can I do about persistent body odor?

A. Often helpful is the addition of some toilet vinegar to the bath water. Probably the best solution, however, is to consult a doctor and have him recommend some dietary changes and maybe a corrective.

Q. My hair seems dull-looking. How can I add more gloss to it?

A. A brisk towel-rubbing after the shampoo, followed by 10 minutes of good, vigorous brushing, will work wonders.

Q. What is the best way to apply face cream?

A. Spank it on, starting at the chin, patting upward along the jaw line. Then pat across the corners of the mouth and over the cheeks. The next patting line is from the center of the upper lip past the corners of the eyes. For the forehead, start at the bridge of nose and work outward in both directions. Then pat gently around the eyes.

Q. How can I prevent my blonde hair from showing drab brown streaks?

A. Before your shampoo, beat two egg whites with two tablespoons of rose water, and massage this well into the hair and scalp. Then follow with your regular shampoo.

NEGLECTED SYMETRY

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Those statesmen planning to admit West Germany as the 15th member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization overlooked one problem.

At NATO headquarters here the flags of the 14 nations fly from 14 poles, imbedded in concrete and arranged seven on each side of the headquarters.

"How will we add the West German flag and keep things symmetrical?" mused a public information officer.

Adm. Jerauld Wright didn't bother with details: "As soon as West Germany becomes a member of NATO we will fly the German flag outside our headquarters," he said.

"HAPPIEST DAY" -- Some time ago Mrs. M. J. Whaley, 94, Kasse, Tex. wrote President W. R. White of Baylor University at Waco that she wanted to see Billy Graham before she died. "It will be the happiest day of my life," she wrote. Her happiest day came when the evangelist arrived at Waco to be given an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree. There was a place on the platform for Mrs. Whaley. Above she is shown shaking hands with Graham. (AP Photo)

Thanksgiving Day

And Thanksgiving Still Means

THANKS

OUR PILGRIM FOREFATHERS conceived Thanksgiving as a day to stop and take stock of all the good things in life. They had, as we do today, a constant threat of enemy danger. They were beset by problems -- economic, political, big and small -- but they found time, once each year, to thank God and thank each other for all the good things they enjoyed.

We at the Hereford State Bank, are thankful for the great state and Nation in which we are privileged to live.

We are thankful, too, for the opportunity of serving our friends and customers, and to bring you, dependable banking service. It is our sincere hope that the Hereford State Bank has contributed much to your pleasure and comfort on Thanksgiving Day and throughout the year.

A Very Joyful Thanksgiving Day For Each And All Of You

"WHEN I GET HOME . . . what will I be doing and eating," are recalled by George T. Jones as his principal thoughts on Thanksgiving Day, 1944, in Stalag 1, a German POW Camp. The food was no different from any other day, he says; "German black bread, rutabagas, (overgrown turnips), cabbage soup and horse meat, which we got once each week." He doesn't remember if they had the horse meat this particular Thanksgiving or not. George definitely believes the army should make every effort to serve "turkey and all the trimmings" to our fighting men whenever possible, because -- as he puts it -- "it is a reminder that the people haven't forgotten them." The Jones family is looking forward to just that fare in 1954 as they sit grouped above: Penny, left, George, Dean and Mrs. Jones. (Staff Photo)

"A ONE OUNCE CAN OF MEAT AND BEANS" was the fare of Cecil Parker on Thanksgiving, 1944. His unit was in combat on Pelelu Islands and he says they got so hungry that they often crawled across coral rock on their stomachs to steal food. Parker, a battalion motor sergeant, was taking care of 27 tanks in his spare time. It is a Thanksgiving day he will never forget -- and its memory deepens his appreciation of the American tradition. Cecil and Mrs. Parker plan to enjoy Thanksgiving, 1954 . . . as a gala occasion. (Staff Photo)

Thanksgiving Day 10 Years Ago---and now...

"Just Being at Home . . . with loved ones and friends."

That is the big thing about Thanksgiving! Time after time, the same answer comes . . . from one veteran after another . . . and more especially from those boys who faced Death, Hardship and Starvation during the hectic days of World War II. Some were in the front lines! Some were in prison camps! Some were on the high seas! Still others were serving stateside! But to a man, they missed their families . . . parents, wives, children and friends . . . most of all on Thanksgiving Day -- 10 years ago.

The group of veterans appearing in this issue were selected at random by the Brand. Most of them we found reluctant to talk about Thanksgiving 1944 . . . as most veterans usually are. Needless to say, however, they were joyous to be back home this year . . . and each of them was looking forward to the occasion of Thanksgiving, 1954.

This page is dedicated to these boys . . . and to the hundreds of other veterans in the Hereford area, along with thousands scattered over our great nation . . . in memory of their sacrifice when the security and welfare of this nation was threatened. Thanksgiving is symbolic of the American Way of Life and, 10 years later, its humble observance continues to fulfill a dream which came to many of them as they huddled in desolate foxholes on foreign soil.

Too, all of us know that a Happy Thanksgiving Day for all Americans in 1954 . . . would be the sincere wish of those who made the supreme sacrifice 10 years ago.

(See Other Pictures on Pages 5 and 8)

A KOREAN WAR VET, Larry Summers, did have turkey and all the trimmings on Thanksgiving day -- and he loved it every bit. Larry was aboard the U.S.S. Hoggatt Bay, transporting troops back from Japan and Okinawa on Thanksgiving Day, 1945. Larry, who spent his first service Thanksgiving in the middle of the ocean aboard ship feels that every effort should be made to provide our fighting men with a big Thanksgiving Day dinner -- "because such a treat seldom comes to the fox holes and trenches." The Summers family is planning a big Thanksgiving Day this year. They are, Peggy, Larry, little Judy and Mrs. Summers. (Staff Photo)

"RICE AND THIN SOUP" were the only items on the menu for F. H. King for three consecutive Thanksgiving days -- 1942 -- 1943 -- 1944 . . . as he spent them in a Prisoner of War Camp in Burma. "I certainly don't recall those times on Thanksgiving Day," says King. "It's wonderful to be with the folks on Thanksgiving, though," -- and just to prove the luxury of it all, he crossed his legs and leaned back in this big lounge chair, surrounded by his family; Denise, left, Mrs. King and Jackie. (Staff Photo)

OUTDOORS CAN BE FUN

Hunters Must Know Ducks

By DION HENDERSON

Waterfowl hunting is fun, but not if you bring home a grebe under the impression it's a teal and have to live in the garage for a week while the house airs out.

This fall, when the taking of wood ducks was forbidden in the Mississippi flyway, a great many hunters discovered their duck identification system was a little faulty. Some learned by themselves, some were informed by the warden swooping over the edge of their blind.

One hunter even got his picture into the newspapers, proudly holding four swans. Biggest snow geese he ever saw, the caption said. The most expensive, too. He couldn't tell a swan from a snow goose.

Anyway, the casual duck hunter can help himself and improve his fodder—by knowing the difference between birds in flight. You'll still make mistakes, but here's a handy guide:

Among the puddle ducks—wood ducks fly swift and straight, but their heads are humped up and they seem to be looking around at points of interest. Lots of white underneath. You can't see the splendid colors and crest of the drake unless he's close.

MALLARDS—Big ducks, underwings flashing white, head and neck carried slightly upward. They seem to fly a little slower because of their size.

PINTAILS—fast and graceful, with long necks; drakes' white. Can't miss the long tail either on the gents.

TEAL—The little guy with all the maneuverability. They can do acrobatics like doves, and there's an audible whistle to their wings.

DIVING DUCKS—They all appear to have a faster wingbeat in the air, and get up off the water like taxiing aircraft, instead of jumping aloft like mallards. Canvasbacks are big, flight is laboring but fast and powerful like geese. Drake has a long sloping profile, white body. In migrating flight, your neighbor may call them geese, but feeding they flap around irregularly. Redheads are shorter and darker on the wing, and less tasty in the pot than cans.

Their flight appears hurried and wingbeat is faster. Bluebills (the scaup) are fast and erratic, fly bunched in large flocks. Frequently they'll land wide and swim in to you're decoys.

Those are rules of thumb that

SHADOWS IN THE MARSH -- Hunter at right trains his shotgun on a mallard drake at the opening of duck hunting season on Sullivan Lake, Ill.

can help you if you're going to shoot. If the birds you see are safely out of range and you can't see anything familiar, do as duck hunters have done since the sport was young. Announce confidently: "Look at those blue-bills go." Your partner won't contradict you. It's likely he doesn't know what they are anyway.

PROTECTED -- This little Yugoslavian boy likes his pet blavors. The fat, friendly snakes keep the poisonous kind away from his home.

Snakes Made Pets To Outwit Others

AP Newsfeatures

BELGRADE—There are lots of poisonous snakes in the mountains of Yugoslavia—rattlesnakes and other kinds of vipers. In many sections of the country, the people keep blavors (a kind of harmless snake) as pets to control the poisonous varieties.

The fat, friendly blavors will make a meal off a big rattler if given the chance, but will drink out of the milk jug when natural food is not available.

The Yugoslavians also use their poisonous snakes as an export item. A factory in Croatia processes venom for use as a snake bite antidote. Hundreds of vials are sold to France and Germany. Many of the live snakes also are exported, often to zoos and laboratories.

Hunting the deadly snakes is a sport for many Yugoslavians, but it also is a business. Secrets of choice locations for finding snakes are handed down from father to son. And local snakebite remedies are guarded as trade secrets.

The hunters get about 85 cents for each poisonous snake they can

Growing Pains

By Albert S. Felling

AP Newsfeatures

Mother Nature, like all good mothers, is generous, fondly protective and tolerant of small sins. But also, like all good mothers, she'll discipline major heedlessness and neglect.

To fair weather gardeners, who walk off when the gay summer party is over without tidying up and making plants snug and secure for the winter, she can dole out painful and expensive lessons.

You've been warned and cautioned about garden cleanup chores—but too much stress cannot be placed on the importance of meeting winter with the lawn mowed and free of leaves.

This was emphasized the other day on a visit to a landscape contractor who was at work on an expensive job of rehabilitating lawns and plantings of a large estate.

"It's strange," I remarked glancing about, "how the grass managed to survive in fair shape, even under shade trees in some sections, yet vanished completely from other areas where growing conditions are much better."

He shrugged, "The bare spots follow the pattern where fallen leaves were allowed to accumulate and stay. Had the leaves merely been raked up and removed, despite the lack of proper liming and fertilizing, this turf would only have needed minor refurbishing instead of a major wholesale reseeding and repair."

Among the fall gardening chores are generous watering of young and recently planted trees and shrubs. A copious watering of all evergreens is a five-star must.

Then mound up soil to a depth of about eight inches around your rose bushes. Don't scrape the soil for mounding from around the rose bush or the rose bed area—this will protect the bush but skimp the cover over the roots.

This is a sort of robbing Peter to pay Paul deal. The mounded soil is all you need around the bushes. A mulch atop this invites mice and rabbits to nest and nibble.

On the rose subject, wait until spring to prune your roses, except for unusually long canes which might whip in the wind. Long canes of climbers can be tied securely to a trellis. Nature has done her part to condition and prepare the roses for winter and pruning may disturb the delicate balance.

Last Fall, a neighbor asked me to prune her roses. I assured her there only were a few canes that needed cutting, and said the next time I was garden-working, I'd take care of the situation.

Came the next weekend, I went over and found the roses pruned severely. Her handyman had obliterated her more than I did.

Spring came, but her cherished bushes did not. The handyman also came again, and was even handier with his pruning shears. This catch. Both boys and girls train as hunters under close supervision of their parents.

Christmas Help

Giant Cards To Fight Epilepsy

AP Newsfeatures

CHICAGO—The National Epilepsy League seeks to aid the 1 1/2 million epileptics in the United States, with a German-made Christmas card to raise funds.

It expects to sell some 250,000. The "Little Christmas Town" folding card, 27 inches long and 8 1/2 inches deep, has 24 windows to be opened beginning Dec. 1. Soft colors, tinsel and snow provide an old world charm.

It will be sold in much the same way Christmas sales are distributed to help the fight against tuberculosis.

The league says that many advances in the successful treatment of epilepsy have been achieved in the last decade and the dread with which epilepsy is shrouded needs dispelling. It is possible for at least 80 percent of those afflicted to live normal lives.

So far, most of the financial support for projects sponsored by the National Epilepsy League has come from people with special interest because they or their families are affected by the disorder.

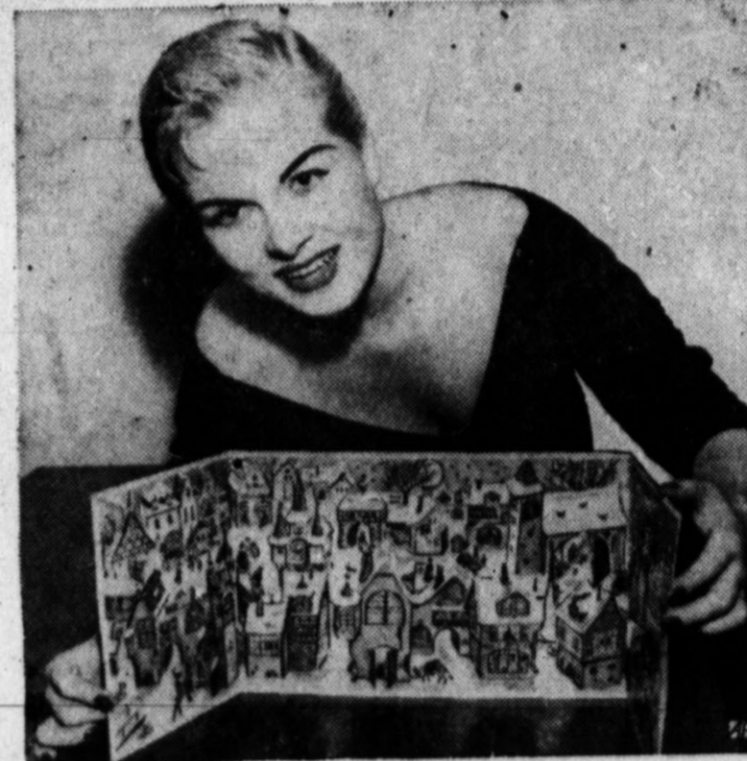

The league plans to stimulate and encourage further research, provide guidance to health, welfare, educational and vocational agencies relative to epilepsy, as well as work with employers to provide added employment opportunities for adults with epilepsy.

Isle Royale, the largest island in Lake Superior has an area of 210 square miles.

time the roses were cut back to within an inch of their lives.

Nature was tolerant, the roses bloomed in spite of everything. But the tea roses were short stemmed, growing in clusters, instead of singly on long stems.

Sometimes experience and Mother Nature are better teachers than garden writers.

A BIG CHRISTMAS is promised by the giant cards being used by the Epilepsy league to raise funds to control the disease. They are made in Germany.

DOGS FOR COLLEGE

CALDWELL, N. J.—Working your way through college by raising thoroughbred collies and rare Norwegian Elk hounds isn't easy. Especially when your neighbors don't like dogs. But Edith Smith, 18-year-old Montclair Teachers College student is making a go of her $3,000 kennel. And so far she's been upheld by local authorities.

The blonde student, who's been raising dogs since she was 11 and lived on a farm, says "there were complaints that our kennel was dirty, complaints that we were starving our dogs, complaints that the dogs kept the neighborhood awake. Every time we disproved one complaint there would be another."

MANGANESE PROCESS

PATERSON, N.J.—A refugee scientist, Dr. Ernest S. Nossen, has perfected a new process for extracting high grade manganese from low grade ore. Manganese here is used in making steel. In the Nossen process, manganese is dissolved out of ore with the use of nitric acid. The acid can be removed and used again.

TRIPLER CALVES

WVCI, Okla.—Cliff Kahoe's Jersey cow has Whiteface triplets. Kahle says the calves, whose father was a Hereford, are becoming family pets. There is a traffic jam at meal time. All three insist on nursing from the same side.

DOUBLE TROUBLE
HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Rodney Ross Houston, en route to Fort Campbell, had an accident at a detour on U. S. 41. A wrecker retrieved his slightly damaged car and Houston made it to Fort Campbell.

On the return trip Houston again wrecked his car on the detour. He escaped with minor bruises but the car was seriously damaged.

KEY PROBLEM
PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—After St. Clair County built a new escape-proof jail, Sheriff Ferris E. Lucas refused to accept the keys. Lucas is insisting new locks must be installed. He says master keys to the building were distributed too freely to custodians, workmen and others who helped build the new jail.

Is More Than An Autumn Holiday

It's more than turkey and sage and pumpkin pie... more than a brisk walk, or a week at grandmothers.

Thanksgiving is the day for all of us to stop and think... seriously and hard... about the things we take for granted every day. It's a day to take stock of our advantages, our assets... and to be thankful that they are so many and so great. MAY YOU HAVE A BOUNTIFUL THANKSGIVING!

Bathing Suit Preview

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor Having gone as far as the law allows toward bare minimums, bathing suits and beach wear for the resort season of 1954-55 and for next summer will be modestly unrevealing.

Bathing suits with camisole tops, straps and even high necks are featured in the current resort previews by Carolyn Schnurer, a designer who usually sets trends.

The star of her collection is the "straphanger" swim suit, a striped knit maillot with halter top, the neckline surprisingly high. She shows black satin suits with suspender straps, just like Pop's galuses, and teams them with tailored sheer black organdie shirts, for a touch of glamour.

A black velvet suit comes to the collarbone in front, has straps in back to keep the situation under control.

A few strapless suits are included in the group, but the emphasis is on the covered-up look. Probably the most startling swim suit in the showing is one of black pique with a high neck and white pique dickey—prim as a starched shirt front.

In her collection of dresses for resort wear, Miss Schnurer shows the "sheath plus"—linen sheaths with removable pleated tunics which may be worn either apron style or as a cape. A white lined sheath embroidered in green shamrocks is teamed with a simple white linen coat, with dramatic effect.

This designer interprets the new silhouette in a series of closely fitted long-torso cottons, hugging the figure to the neckline with pleats below.

She also shows a group of effective embroidered linen sheaths cut on Chinese mandarin lines, which lend themselves well to the current silhouette.

Cooking Your Own Goose

By SANKY TRIMBLE

LAS CRUCES, N. M. — The goose will hang high this holiday season, if a New Mexico farmer can convince American housewives.

Dean Stahmann, who raises everything for a dinner from canapes to guts, is trying to stage a comeback for the one-time favorite table treat—the goose.

Not the overfat bird of yesteryear, through. The lean, young gosling is Stahmann's pet project. Originally he used geese to keep the cotton rows—sown between the pecan trees—weed-free. The geese pull up everything but the cotton.

Now it is different. The goose is king and Stahmann himself has become a kitchen expert on how to cook and eat a goose.

In Stahmann's operation, the goslings go into what amounts to an air-conditioned hotel and gorge on vitamins. They get barley with rice polishings and rice bran, alfalfa meal, dried milk and a custom-mixed vitamin. At 13 weeks—when most of them weigh about six pounds—out they go into a specially-designed processing plant to be readied for the market. Stahmann doesn't go along with

Harper Became 'Bama Star Due To Fractured Wrist In High School

By JACK STILLMAN

TUSCALOOSA, Ala.—Hottest thing on the University of Alabama basketball court since the fabulous Lindy Hood is a "Kentucky thoroughbred" named Jerry Harper. The six-foot-eight eagle star from Louisville may become Alabama's greatest player. Back in 1930, fans here thought Hood was the best in the land.

Harper already holds every individual scoring record at Alabama. He needs but 20 points to break the all-time scoring mark of 819 points, and the tall boy from Kentucky is only a junior.

The big Louisville center is a primary reason for Alabama's hopes for its first Southeast Conference basketball title since 1934.

Harper came to Alabama a virtual unknown. Because of a fractured wrist early in his last high school year, he played in but nine games. Ironically, the fractured wrist is probably the reason he's at Alabama.

Louisville is a place where good high school basketball players are well looked over. Seldom, if ever, does a top prospect get out of the city limits, for the University of Louisville generally gets first choice. Then, there is Bowling Green and the University of Kentucky at Lexington. They all passed up Harper.

As a freshman at Alabama, Harper racked up 273 points, and added 427 last year.

During the past season, Harper had his best nights against Alabama's three toughest opponents. In upsetting Bradley, which later went to the finals in the NCAA tourney, he scored 20 points and dominated both boards, grabbing 24 rebounds.

In Alabama's two-point loss to NIT champion Holy Cross, Harper scored 20 points in the first half.

The old theory you should cook a goose without dressing. He prefers the old-fashion bread stuffing with a good touch of cornbread.

Cooking the Goose

The bird should be cooked at about 325 degrees, with a clove of garlic under each wing if you like just a tang, until the skin is mahogany brown and the skin crackles. When it comes out of the oven, the bird is lean, beautiful and the meat splits off the breast bone at the touch of a fork. The time is about four hours in the oven for the normal size junior goose.

What about the leftovers? Stahmann has no doubts about the culinary imagination of the American housewife. But just as some suggestions, how about fricassee of goose, goose broth, scalloped goose, baked goose with noodles?

JERRY HARPER

He scored 17 points against the nation's No. 1 team—Kentucky, good enough to get him on Kentucky's All-Opponent team.

Harper's feats are a credit to his coach, Johnny Dee, who will be starting his third year at Alabama. About his big center, Dee says:

"He is a big, likable kid who will work his head off for you. Show him what to do and he will spend hours perfecting it. He has tremendous agility for a big man. His true value to us is not found in the scoring column, but in his ability to rebound and be a team man."

BACKYARD SWIMMING

New backyard swimming pools big enough for the entire family may be assembled in a few minutes. The pool is made of plastic, overlapped and fastened together with bolts and wing nuts, lined with vinyl. It is decorated to simulate an ivy covered brick wall. Sizes range from 5 to 10 feet in diameter.

WHISTLES WHILE SHE WORKS

UTICA, N.Y. — Whistling is work for Mrs. Mary Lee.

You might call her a whistler. A great part of her job is blowing whistles, indirectly for the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Lee works for a company which has made about 75,000 boat-swin's whistles for the Navy. Her job: test 'em.

She figures that she's tested more than 70,000, giving each a two-second blast. If the blasts were laid end to end, she says, they would reach for about 39 hours of whistling. She also inserts the little silver rings in the whistles if they whistle up to specifications.

"It's a bit monotonous at times," she says, "but a job's a job."

Spilt Milk Without Tears

Where there are babies you are sure to find spilt milk. These days you don't have to cry about it. New materials and methods may cut down the number of these incidents and Mom would be wise to investigate the possibilities. Tidy on quick removal of milk stains also help ease the problem.

There are unbreakable plastic bottles which will not shatter and splash when they slip out of unsure little hands. For bigger imbibers, starting with a quarter cup of milk and adding more as the contents go down, will help avoid milk splattering from overly full cups.

Farfaling milk droplets that settle on chair legs and wall moldings leave a stubborn stain of fat and protein if allowed to dry on. Soak up milk immediately with a damp cloth and wash over the surface with soap and water to save later scourgings.

Bibs, shirts and dresses that have been dribbled with milk should be soaked in cold water to remove the protein content, then washed in hot soapy water.

Plastic high chair covers and bibs are good laundry savers, although these things need occasional scrubbing to avoid unpleasant odor. Use a brush and soapy lather to get into seams and ruffles.

rinse well and hang outdoors to dry. Plastic table mats with textured surfaces need the same treatment to keep them fresh.

Testing the bottle's temperature with a splash on the wrist can result in a large splattering of formula around the nursing area. Clean up rug stains while still fresh, sponging with cold water and washing in warm soapsuds.

If they have become set, dampen the spots with lukewarm water and sprinkle with pepsin powder, available in drugstores. Let the powder remain on about an hour, keeping it dampened, then sponge it off with clear water.

Orange juice and chocolate are two other things that children seem to become speckled with from time to time. These stains should be soaked in lukewarm water first, then washed out with soapy water before putting into the regular laundry.

Boys Like Dolls -- Too

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newsfeatures
 Almost every little girl likes a doll or two. Lots of little boys like them, too.

Don't discourage your little boy if he wants to play with dolls. It doesn't mean he's a sissy, any more than that the girl who likes trucks is headed toward being a tomboy.

But neither girls or boys want dolls to look at. They want to play with them. A doll is to dress and undress, to put to bed, to feed, to punish if she's naughty—to live the life of its owner. It's going to be a rough life. The doll had better be sturdy. It's much more important that she be rugged than that she be beautiful.

Breakable dolls, dolls with "don't-handle-me" clothes, are not playthings for children.

A good old fashioned tight stuffed rag doll is worth much more than a fancy high priced beauty that says "Mama". Some of the new plastic dolls are soft to the touch. Their arms and legs can be easily moved about and they take a good deal of abuse.

The child will want to dress her doll and it certainly needs a wardrobe. No sewed-on clothing, please! The doll clothes need all the self help features you've been trying to find for the young ladies' own clothes.

See that the doll's dresses have loose-fitting sleeves that the doll's arms slip into easily. Put great big buttons on, never mind if they look slightly out of place. Clumsy little 4-year-old fingers can button them, and that's what's important. Put elastic on pants.

Have a good-sized wardrobe—the child's great pleasure is changing the doll's clothes. Let her alone to put the nightgown over the winter jacket if she wants it that way. It's her doll.

A small bed is an excellent addition to doll play. Again it should have bed clothes, a blanket or two, maybe a pillow and a mattress that can be removed and rearranged.

Probably the child will want to wash her doll's clothes. A little clothesline and clothespins to hang them up will be enjoyed.

Listen to your child when she is busy with her dolls. A youngster plays out her own life—she's the mother and the doll is herself. "Now, Martha," threatened 5-year-old Sue, "You're a bad, bad girl for spilling that milk. I can't love girls that spill."

Did you say that? Maybe you didn't, but that's what Sue felt you meant. Better watch your step. You certainly don't want Sue to feel you don't love her because she spilled milk. Sue needs to be loved whether she spills or not, and needs to know she's loved.

LEARNS TO FLY AT 71

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — At 71, Mrs. Ida May Relf, a professional photographer of Ponca City, Okla., is learning to fly. Fay Linehan, civil aeronautics safety agent says he thinks she is the oldest woman ever to receive permission to take flying lessons, although there have been many women who have continued to fly past that age.

"I plan to fly for pleasure but it will also be of great help to me if I can fly to Oklahoma City to buy supplies for my studio," she said.

There's nothing like a good black date dress to see a girl smartly through the holiday party season.

Though the straight silhouette is the thing for suits and workaday clothes this season, the younger set still likes full skirts and crinolines for dress-up wear. You'll find lots of full-skirted junior styles in black faille, velvet or crepe in the shops for holiday buying, usually budget priced and often trimmed with a bit of glitter, for gaiety.

The princess style, with fitted midriff and widely flared skirt is still a favorite, because of its flattery for the slim-waisted junior figure. For less than $25 a girl can buy

WINDMILL HILL, ENGLAND, near Tidwell, was the station of Marvin Kerns on Thanksgiving, 1944. Marvin says he had a real feed: turkey, cranberry sauce, dressing, coffee and pumpkin pie -- but adds, "I was still thinking of home". Like most veterans, Marvin is all for giving the boys the best Thanksgiving dinner possible. "Anyway, it sure helped my morale," he says. Marvin served 20 months overseas. Mr. and Mrs. Kerns and their daughter, Linda, are planning a big Thanksgiving this year.

At The Movies

"The Command"

An American frontier drama, "The Command," opens this week on Saturday at the Star Theatre. Guy Madison, Joan Weldon, and James Whitmore portray the leading roles in the Warner Bros. epic which marks the studio's entry into the new dimension family.

"The Command," in color by Warner Color, features a story based on a fictional work of James Warner Bellah which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post under the title of "The White Invader." Set in 1878 on the battleground of the Western Plains, "The Command" is said to depict the war which for all time resolved the possession of the territory known today as Wyoming. The story centers about the activities of a cavalry command led by a young medical officer, played by Guy Madison.

"Sabrina"

The most sparkling entertainment event of the current motion picture season will happily descend upon us when Paramount's brand new romantic comedy delight, "Sabrina," makes its local bow Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre. "Sabrina" contains an Oscar-studded cast headed by Humphrey Bogart, Audrey Hepburn and William Holden. Based on the smashed Broadway play, "Sabrina Fair," the film is a splendid blending of all things good. Light, frothy and exciting it is a modern-day Cinderella story of a chauffeur's daughter who is transformed from a love-sick, gangly-legged, adolescent into a young lady of incredible charm. The girl in question is Audrey Hepburn, the screen's most exciting new personality, and the men in her life are Humphrey Bogart and William Holden as the two wealthiest brothers in America.

Thanksgiving Day

Today don't seem to be a day
For talk of cars and gas.
So far as things like that are concerned,
Just for today, let's let 'em pass.

Let's talk instead about today
And what it means to us.
No, not just things like turkey
And the usual rush and fuss.

Though they're important to Thanksgiving too,
Because they show at least a part
Of the things that folks like us,
Folks like you and me and Bill and Art,

Has got to be thankful for;
But too, things like just bein' free
And alive too, by the way
Are blessings easy enough to see.

Why, even when things go wrong
They could always be lots worse,
An' many a thing's a blessin' that
We thought to be a curse.

After all, our fathers weren't on top of the world
When they first gave thanks for what they had
So let's follow in their footsteps and
Be thankful and be glad.

Wheat fields are looking fine after the snows of the past several weeks.

QUALITY YOU CAN MEASURE By Your Car's Performance

Quality that skilled scientists measure and control daily in the laboratory at the Shamrock McKee Refinery.

Typical of this quality, Shamrock's new 5W-20 and 10W-30 motor oils are among the most important petroleum improvements of this century.

To get proper engine protection from regular motor oil, you would have to use a light weight oil for starting and warm-up, then switch to a heavier weight motor oil after the engine has reached operating temperature. Shamrock 5W-20 and 10W-30 give this protection in one motor oil. They flow freely in a cold engine, allowing quick starts and giving instant protection... yet do not lose their protective qualities at highest operating temperature.

If you want easier starting, less wear, longer battery life and greater fuel economy use Shamrock 5W-20 or 10W-30 in your car summer and winter. And remember, you can depend on the quality of all petroleum products sold under the big, green and white Shamrock.

Grace Kelly -- Quiet Lady From Hollywood

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Miss Grace Kelly of the motion pictures is spending a two-month holiday in New York City, and to date some 30 taxi drivers have merrily informed her that she looks like Grace Kelly.

One, however, took a second look and amended his comment: "No, I see now you're prettier than Grace Kelly."

She has found, however, that New Yorkers generally are fairly polite.

"They don't come up and ask for your autograph," she remarked, "they just wonder out loud if you are Grace Kelly, and look you over rather closely."

Miss Kelly, who will be 26 next month and has become a popular star on the strength of a few movies, a tidal wave of publicity and ecstatic comments by such colleagues as Clark Gable, James Stewart and Bing Crosby, is a member of the new school of movie stars, which includes Audrey Hepburn. Miss Kelly, for instance, won't allow publicity pictures to be taken in her small Manhattan apartment. While she doesn't duck interviews, she approaches them with considerable reserve and caution and she doesn't talk much about herself.

During this vacation, Miss Kelly allowed, she is doing a lot of little things she had to put off when she was working from dawn to dusk.

"Like shopping, seeing my family and friends and some shows," she said.

Has she found people have changed since she turned into a big-time movie star?

"Oh, yes," she said. "I meet people here that I met before two or three years ago. And when we're introduced, I try to say, 'Oh, yes, we've met before,' but they always say no, they've never met me."

Another thing which is perplexing to Miss Kelly (even the press agents for her motion picture bosses call her Miss Kelly) is all the talk about her being so ladylike.

"I don't think I'm THAT different," she said. "I sometimes think they talk about that because there is not very much that has happened to me."

The star-making processes are strange. When her studio was getting together a biography, she was asked her hobby.

"I don't think I have one," she said after a little thought.

"But you've got to have a hobby," she was told, and after that she said, well, once she did like to do some sketching but hadn't for a couple of years. "Sketching in pastels," the biography says, is her hobby.

"But now I've really got one," she said. "Photography. The other night I had a bunch of friends in and showed them all the pictures I took in Africa."

"Can you go to that Harrisburg benefit next week?" interrupted the press agent.

"No," she said firmly. "I will be with my family."

Murmuring politely, Miss Kelly excused herself from the group and went on her vacationing way—a perfect lady and one who really doesn't talk much.

Teen Talk

BY VIVIAN BROWN

Who says beauty and brains don't go together?

It's a theory that can easily be disproved by lovely blue-eyed blonde Janet Hammer, 16, of Scales Mound, Ill.

Janet is one of those girls who fits the title "Angel Face" to a "T." A high school junior and 4-H girl she could easily win a beauty contest. But what happens? She wins a sewing contest. A national winner in the Singer Dressmaking Contest, Janet won $500, and a trip to New York.

And if you suspect she is thinking of all sorts of glamorous things to do with the money, you're wrong. It goes right in to the bank for her college education. Says Janet:

"I've been going steady for two years. Marriage is going to be my career, but somehow I don't feel old enough to get married so I plan to go to college in the meantime. Although Janet thinks she won't be ready for marriage until she is at least 20, she's in love with the blue-eyed blonde senior adonis who is pitcher on the baseball team at Scales Mound H. S. Janet wants to be sure he goes to college, too—that is after his Army stint next year. Says she:

"Maybe college isn't necessary for some kids. My best girl friend doesn't want to go to college and her beau isn't going. And they'll probably be just as happy as we will be when they marry."

Janet bought her hope chest two years ago with money she made raising cattle and sheep on the family's 800 acre farm. The chest is filled with dish towels, dresser scarves, blankets, sheets, cutlery and china.

She thinks all teen-agers should have hope chests to keep them in the marriage mood, and study homemaking in school to prepare them for it.

At home Janet is a model daughter, helping her mother with anything from gardening to dusting. She loves to sew and her prize-winning party dress is of rose tissue chambray. She made it after 8 lessons at her local sewing center.

In this day of parents being unhappy about their offspring it was refreshing to hear that one is appreciated when Janet's mother paid her this compliment:

"I just hope some day Janet has a daughter who can give her as much happiness and assistance as she's given me."

Kids the world over cherish a stuffed animal, especially when it has a personality of its own. One of the most personable of the stuffed animal kingdom is an inquisitive dachshund, appropriately called "Nosy" and irresistible when made in brown velveteen.

A standard pattern has easy-to-follow directions, and local sewing center experts who have tried it say even if you've never made a stuffed animal before, this one is sure to be a success.

Only 3/4 yard of brown velvet is required for Nosy, and little Susie would love to have him matching a little brown velvet party skirt. Nosy is stuffed with cotton batting, and the eraser end of a pencil is used to fill such hard-to-get-at places as the legs and tail. The eye is a beady jet button over a circle of felt, a floppy green satin bow adds a holiday touch.

The pattern also includes directions for a cuddly stuffed cat, made from terry cloth and stuffed with shredded foam rubber for washability. Faces on both animals may be embroidered on your sewing machine, with the help of transfers included with the pattern envelope.

Stuffed animals are good budget stretchers, too, since they may be made from ragbag scraps.

TOYLAND CHARMER -- Nosy, the dachshund, is easy to make with standard pattern and brown velveteen.

Q. How can I make the canary take a bath?

A. If the bird refuses to use his bath, try sprinkling a little sand in the bottom of the bath before filling with water. The bird's refusal is often due to a slippery bottom.

Q. How can I measure molasses accurately?

A. This can be done if the cup or spoon is dipped into scalding water before measuring. The syrup will not stick to the sides.

Q. How can I prevent the steaming of windows?

A. If the windows steam excessively, it is an indication that there is not the proper amount of circulation of air in the room.

Q. How can I prevent ash-trays, book-ends, and similar articles from scratching the furniture on which they are placed?

A. This will not happen if blotting paper or pieces of felt are pasted on the undersides of these articles.

Q. How can I retain the luster of linoleum?

A. Don't use a stiff brush when washing the linoleum, as this tends to destroy the luster. Wash lightly with soap and water.

Q. How can I save sugar when stewing fruit?

A. Less sugar will be required if one teaspoonful of lemon is added to every pound of fruit when stewing.

Q. How can I prevent discolorations of bruises?

A. By moistening some dry starch with cold water and covering the bruised part with it.

Q. How can I mend granite utensils?

A. Press some putty into the holes in granite utensils and bake until brown in a hot oven. This is an effective method.

A HOSPITAL DINNER on Thanksgiving Day, 1944, is one which Wayne Lawrence will never forget. "We had everything," says Wayne, "turkey and all the trimmings." Wayne had just been sent back from the front lines after being wounded in battle. He says the turkey was "canned and boneless" - and it was swell. SCANDINAVIAN FURNITURE
Canadian housewives are attracted by the beauty and fineness of Scandinavian design both in furniture and household articles.

Stores are showing Nordic craft work and textiles, and the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto is host for a month to a special travelling show called "Design in Scandinavia."

Danish craftsmen demonstrate an affection for material and much of the furniture in the museum exhibit blends elegance and utility.

In a flight of fancy one designer produced the "jacket rest," a chair meant for hanging a coat on. The chair also had a turned-up seat—just the thing for draping a pair of trousers.

The Swedes, too, are daring and advanced furniture craftsmen. One chair is made of laminated plywood and features rich backing and seating of interwoven leather.

Simms Study Craft Members Achieve Outstanding Results

Members of the Simms Study Craft Club have been busy this year with a variety of individual projects in various kinds of crafts which include copper, needle point, knitting, and beading. The club, which was organized two years ago, meets twice a month and rotates among the members in the community. Earlier this year the women had a special demonstration on copper craft and most of the members are working on copper pictures for their homes or for gifts. Some have made bookends and planters.

The women are framing their pictures and a demonstration on making the frames was given at their last meeting by Mrs. Jim Stocks. Mrs. R. L. Pinnell also gave the group some pointers on needle craft and Mrs. C. A. Perrin will direct the demonstration on beading and knitting for those interested in these particular crafts. Typical of their work was the luncheon meeting held last Thursday with Mrs. Glen Hetzler club president. Mrs. C. W. Edwards was co-hostess. A nice luncheon was enjoyed by which plans were made for a Christmas party Mrs. J. S. Stocks showed the group how to use a miter box to cut molding for picture frames. The next regular meeting will be with Mrs. D. F. Riddle on Dec. 2, for the demonstration in beading of dresses.

Mrs. C. L. Bogle, Mrs. C. W. Edwards, Mrs. J. A. Crofford, Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh, Mrs. Hammock, Mrs. A. J. Ashburn, Mrs. M. W. Blankenship, Mrs. R. L. Pinnell, Mrs. Jim Cavin, Mrs. J. S. Stocks, Mrs. R. P. Miles, Mrs. Ruth Perrin and the hostess. After the business meeting at

Foods Program Headlines H-D Club Work For Month

Demonstrations on Banana Bread and Candy Making have been reported by the Home Demonstration Clubs who have completed their foods program for November. Clubs reporting are:

Ford
Mrs. Argen Draper CHDA gave a demonstration on Banana-Nut Bread to members of the Ford H. D. Club when they met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Fite on Nov. 17. Several kinds of bread, muffins and biscuit were scored by the women.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Elmer Ayres who conducted the recreation for the group. During the business session a candy making demonstration was planned for the next meeting which will be held in the home of Mrs. L. J. Straffus. A committee was also appointed to make plans for a Christmas party on Dec. 11.

Refreshments were served to: Mesdames Dwayne Walker, L. J. Straffus, Carl Straffus, Leroy Williamson, Willa Williamson, Hardy Eenson, Elmer Ayres, Mrs. Draper and the hostess.

South Hereford
Mrs. Roy Manning was hostess to members of the South Hereford H. D. Club on Nov. 16 with 11 members present.

Roll call was answered with something remembered about an earlier Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Argen Draper gave the demonstration on Quick Breads.

Bread, Banana-Nut Bread and Apple Sauce cake were scored by the women.

Those present were Mrs. Lora Long, a visitor, and Mesdames Ada Hollabaugh, Clyde Coanougher, Viola Woodson, S. S. Williams, John Draper, Edon Craig, John Hacker, A. C. Flowers, Miss Evelyn Bell and the hostess.

West Hereford
The West Hereford H. D. Club met on Nov. 9 in the home of Mrs. N. B. Hood.

Evelyn Bell gave a demonstration on Chocolate Fudge and Divinity Candy. She also talked on packaging and wrapping gifts.

Those present were: Mesdames Carlos Vaughn, Ida Mae Vaughn, Vern Witherspoon, Edna Bowe, P. H. Luck, N. W. Livesay, W. A. Walters, H. D. Tarlton, Roy Boyd, Miss Evelyn Bell and the hostess.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 23 at the home of Mrs. Livesay, 213 Lake Street.

Cultural
The Cultural H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. R. C. Childers this month with Mrs. Paul Corbett as co-hostess. Mrs. Corbett, vice president, conducted the meeting.

An interesting demonstration on candy making was given by Mrs. Art Lewis, and Mrs. Corbett. Mrs. Earl DeHart and Mrs. Nedra Robinson gave a demonstration on gift wrapping.

Members present were: Mes-

HD Chatter

The Awards program for the 4-Hers which was held at Shirley School Auditorium on Nov. 18, was well attended and enjoyed by all those who were there and who appreciate the effort that youth puts out to do some worthwhile things. Thirty-eight boys and girls were given recognition for outstanding work in carrying on a demonstration.

Some of the leading companies in the United States give award pins for worthy completion of demonstrations in both boys and girls work. This amounts to many pins and medals over the whole country. The contests may leave a lot to be desired but this does give friends and supporters of the 4-H program an opportunity to express their appreciation.

For men like Raylan Evans, Russell McGee, Sam McLallen, Paul Harvey, D. C. Kinsey, Roy Oswald, Dale Martin, Clee Meharg and Leo Forrest to take time off from an already too full schedule to spend an evening with the 4-H Clubs you know the program is good. Sam McLallen commented that he had known the girls and their parents for 11 years. Mac presented the Clothing Awards medals from Coats and Clark to Donna Guseman, Merry Kay Fruit, and Pat Dawson. He is one of the merchants that has been to all the awards programs that have been in this County.

Raylan Evans made an excellent talk on Salute to Leaders. He expressed the thoughts that the Agents and many of the parents have for adult leaders who help so much with the club work. Thanks to Raylan for a very worthwhile and inspiring talk.

Raylan also presented the awards that the International Harvester Company gives. The Frozen Foods awards were given to Maxie Wiseman of the County Wide 4-H Club and to Royce Lee Fruit of the Walcott 4-H Club. The Field Crops awards were presented to Larry Kaul and Woodrow Northcutt. Both these boys are members of the Westway 4-H Club.

Jimmy Northcutt is attending Texas Tech so Woodrow accepted the Achievement Award for him. Jimmy has always been an outstanding 4-H member; he is one of those people who can always be depended on to do his part and more in a group. We have always appreciated his enthusiasm and ability. Russell McGee representing the Ford Motor Company presented the Achievement awards.

Roy Dye came from Amarillo to present the Soars Roebuck and the Foley Manufacturing Company awards.

Deaf Smith County is the only one as far as we know that presents to 4-H girls the Reading Certificates. The idea was copied from the Texas Home Demonstration Association reading program. With the help of Mrs. Jake Boydston and Mrs. Dalton Criswell, the 4-H lead-

Easter Club Has Called Meeting

The Easter Club met at a called meeting on Nov. 16 to plan for a business men's supper to be held at the Easter Club. Mr. Glenn Youst gave a talk. The supper will be on Dec. 7 at 8 o'clock.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames Jerry LaPlant, Nettie LaPlant, Rosalie Markley, Emerald Epperson, Anna Margaret Moss, Myrtle LaPlant, Skeet Brooks, S. T. Walton, Pat Edwards, Nina Markley, Louise Stone Dorothy Wortham and Nadine Hall.

HD Choral Club Business Meet

The H. D. Choral Club met with Mrs. C. H. Parker for their regular meeting on Nov. 15.

Mrs. T. J. Parsons president, conducted the short business session. The club decided to practice Christmas music.

Those present were: Mesdames E. M. Cox, Taft McGee, John Draper, R. C. Childers, Cecil Boyer, S. S. Williams, T. J. Parsons, Miss Augustine Gregory and the hostess.

CHEWING MATCH

WILLIAMSTON, S. C. (AP) — J. Hugh Patterson planked down $120 for a set of false teeth. Mrs. Patterson had been after him to do it for 20 years. The teeth worked fine for a few days, but Patterson soon decided they didn't feel right. So he wrapped them in tinfoil and laid them up.

Mrs. Patterson fumed. It was her idea to run a classified ad offering to sell or rent the teeth. The first day the ad ran the Pattersons counted more than 100 telephone calls before they went to work at a textile mill at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Patterson said one woman offered to swap a bedroom suite for the choppers. Another had a billygoat to trade.

With no deal closed so far, the Pattersons may hang on to the teeth and offer them again when things get dull.

NEIGHBORHOOD PET

GRASS VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — This pony was so gentle that no one minded if he nibbled flower and vegetable gardens. When the Shetland pony died he was 34 years old.

Candy Making Is 4-H Club Feature

The Sadie Lee Oliver 4-H Club met with Nancy Green on November 17.

Mrs. Loyce Sullivan gave a demonstration on making Christmas candies. Sandra Townsend foods demonstrator, showed the girls how to pack and wrap Christmas candies with a festive look.

Plans were made for the Christmas party which will be Dec. 17. Mrs. Elvin Wilson, leader, will be the hostess for the party.

Those present were: Mary Lynn Morrison, Sandra Townsend, Freda Inman, Ann and Gayle Wagoner, Florene McIntosh, and a visitor Elaine Wagoner, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Sullivan.

FROZEN ASSETS

HAMMONTON, N. J. (AP) — A burglar, in the farm home of Miss Emma Mae Severs, 48, struck it rich in the deep freeze. In the crisper tray wrapped in aluminum foil was $4,300 in green stuff—cash Miss Severs planned to take to the bank the next day.

WALTER ROGERS SAYS:

Russia Is Playing 'Shell Game' As Rest of World Waits To See

"POWER AND POLICY"
I have just received a copy of the book written by Thomas K. Finletter, who formerly served as Secretary of The Air Force. This book has to do with U. S. foreign policy and military power in the hydrogen age. Few people are as well qualified to speak or write on this subject as is Mr. Finletter. His background, his brilliance of mind, and his expressive ability have created a very tasty bit of literature for those who have great interest in what can or may happen. It points up with crystal clearness matters that need effective attention immediately. Whether one agrees with him or not, the gravity of the problem and the urgent need for an early solution could not have been brought to a better focus than by this book. Mr. Finletter has been favorably mentioned on numerous occasions as a possible choice for National Democratic Chairman. I can think of none who would be better qualified nor more able to render this country the great service that can find its source in this office. My conclusions in this respect are based upon my experiences in working with Mr. Finletter during his service as Secretary of The Air Force and in observing his manner and his accomplishments.

RUSSIAN SHELL GAME
The Reds are now playing the old well known shell game in their international relations. Their game is to keep the rest of the world guessing on where the next crisis will occur. In playing this game, they keep a continual pressure at all times on all fronts without relaxation. The crisis in Korea quickly shifted to Indo-China, with small crises cropping up in Berlin, Guatemala, Egypt, The Near East, Algeria, Formosa, Quemoy, and the plane incidents which seem to have been strategically timed and placed by the Reds. Many of the writers and commentators at the present time are guessing that the real hidden crisis lies in Quemoy, an island which lies just off the Red China coast. You will recall the pressure that has been exerted in this particular area by the Reds. This has been considered by many as the forerunner of the anticipated invasion of Formosa. This situation is receiving much consideration at the present time by the State Department here and the governments of our allies. The questions concerning Formosa and the surrounding islands are very explosive, both from a domestic standpoint and an international standpoint. There is a distinct division in the Senate thinking as to what part Formosa should play if a third world war is to be avoided. Watch for much news on this subject and this area in the near future.

FAIR TRIAL
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A Superior Court juror collapsed during the trial of a $150,000 damage suit. Judge James C. Shannon ordered a mistrial because Dr. Carl V. Pantaleo, who revived the juror, not only was the sole physician in the courtroom but the defendant as well. The court observed that in treating the juror, Dr. Pantaleo had done what any physician would be expected to do, but there was a chance that the jury might be influenced by his action.

DRIVER EXONERATED
DANVILLE, Va. (AP)—No charges were placed against Jerome White after the automobile he was driving sped down a steep hill, leaped the curb, crossed three lawns and did $800 damage to Sam Donahue's store.

Jerome, 3, had only a few superficial scratches but there was $400 damage to his father's car. Jerome started playing with the gearshift when his father left the car parked while he delivered a paper.

PROBLEMS IN THE U. S.
Many people think that if a law is not passed by the Congress, it is not a law and cannot be enforced. This conclusion is basically sound and, according to the Constitution, is exactly correct. However, much as I regret it, that theory seems to have become outmoded. It has apparently been supplanted by what is known as a "Presidential Directive." For example, the Congress has never passed a law dictating to a man who he can or cannot hire in his business. However, under a Presidential directive, a business man cannot get a contract with the Government unless he is willing to comply with certain Fair Employment Practice requirements that do not leave him free to act independently. Several other directives of the same nature concerning other segments of the economy are now in the making. It will be nothing less than the use of economic pressure to force compliance with rules and regulations that have not been enacted into law in conformity with the procedure outlined in the Constitution. This is dangerous business.

ON THE LIGHT SIDE
Foot longer automobiles are being advertised by the manufacturers. One mathematician figured out that if 50 million of these are produced, it will require 10,000 miles of additional parking space. That is six times the distance from the Panhandle to the Nation's Capital. One engineer has suggested that the wheel base be cut in half and the cars made double-deck. He says that would help solve the parking problem although it might require the rebuilding of some under-passes and bridges. His status as an engineer is being questioned.

VISITORS
We had a visit this week from a former Pampan who now resides in Oklahoma City. She is Mrs. Opal J. Green, who was formerly employed at the Post Office at Pampana. We also had a nice visit with Mrs. Paul C. Christian, of Pampana.

Sweet Port RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — This city is classed by the U.S. Custom office as a "sweet port." Sugar, which is widely used by the big tobacco industry here, was imported to the tune of 94,224,693 pounds in the past six months. What makes it sweet is the duty of close to a million dollars.

Jumbo Thanksgiving Supper Attracts Large Attendance

The Women who prepared and served the Thanksgiving Supper at the Jumbo Community House last Friday night would like to make an apology to anyone who may have had to eat sliced bread if they were expecting hot rolls with their meal.

It was another instance of the "early bird" getting the choice morsel and the late comers were left out as far as hot bread was concerned. The women estimated their food supply on the basis of the two previous years and took into consideration the football games in both Dimmitt and Hereford that evening, but those who wished to see the games simply came out early so that the serving which was scheduled for 6 o'clock actually started at 5:30.

Probably the only ones who were really concerned were the women because the generous plates of turkey and everything they heaped up along with it were more than some of the guests could eat. About a hundred pounds of turkey was cooked for the supper. Funds raised by the project are used to improve the Community Center as a part of their program on Neighborhood improvement. The Progress Club is entered again in the Contest sponsored by the Farmer-Stockman. Community improvement they made in competition last year (Continued on Page 5)

THANKSGIVING DAY

Today we commemorate that time-honored tradition, but our Lot is quite different. What were considered essentials then are taken "for granted" now. Ours is a generation of ease and luxury compared to those Hardy Pilgrims who founded this day in Gratitude to their God and the Bounty of this Land.

Ours is a service that has contributed to the ease of Life as it is lived today and we are happy to be of service to you.

THANKSGIVING DAY 1954

We, as Americans, have so many reasons to give Thanks on this holiday that belongs truly to us! On this Thanksgiving Day, join with your family and friends to give thanks reverently for all the blessings we enjoy!

In the quiet peace of your home, pause and contemplate our greatest blessing -- Freedom -- and give Thanks that you live in America, the land of Freedom.

And think too, what this freedom means to you as an individual . . . The opportunity to farm your lands as you see fit . . . the opportunity to worship in the church of your choice . . . ! These are only a few of the advantages of living in a land such as ours. We are truly fortunate in being Americans!

There's something wonderful when you sit down to meditate over your many blessings, that when you commemorate THANKSGIVING DAY you are taking part in one of the oldest truly American acts of faith -- the humble offering of thanks to God for His Blessings on us all. And it's good to realize that today, so many years after the first Thanksgiving, we Americans can still give Thanks in a Land where our Faiths and Our Freedoms stand firm as the Plymouth Rock.

Tart Salad Recipe For Thanksgiving

Proof that recipes do not always have to be elaborate to be popular is the apple dish which Mrs. W. A. Dobbins makes that is so well liked that the recipe is being printed by special request.

The recipe is one Mrs. Dobbins' mother, Mrs. T. C. Williams used during her lifetime and it may be served as a salad or as a dessert. Prepare a dressing of the following:

- 1 cup sugar
  - 1 egg well beaten
  - 1 tablespoon flour
  - 1 cup cold water
- Boil together until thick and add 1 teaspoon butter. Cool and add the juice of one lemon.

Peel and chop apples coarsely and pour the cool sauce over them, mix and serve.

The tea table was laid with a cut-work linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of Fuchsia and pink carnations, flanked by cream colored tapers in silver holders. Miss Vera Crawford of Canyon, aunt of Carol Miller's, presided at the silver tea service.

Mrs. Bill Carthel and Mrs. Reece Stewart furnished the music and Mrs. Ray T. Stewart rendered several vocal numbers during the calling hours. Approximately 50 guests called during the afternoon.

NFLA Selects Officers, Hears Annual Report

The Hereford National Farm Loan Association re-elected J. M. White as director for a three-year term, then re-elected all officers serving the association last year, according to T. H. Stringer, secretary - treasurer, this week.

The election was held in connection with a barbecue served at Hotel Jim Hill and attended by 58 members. This situation actually resulted in continuation of old officers and directors as follows: G. W. Brumley, president; Ira Scott, vice president; Frank Bezner, N. F. Gass and J. M. White directors. White was the only director whose term expired, all other officers and directors being carry-overs.

Hereford NFLA members also reviewed a statement of financial condition at the meeting, showing $191,647.31 in assets and $43 in liabilities; net worth $191,604.31.

Total income for the year was listed at $24,200.14, against which was drawn $9,490.42 in expenses. They also showed 185 land bank loans amounting to $1,129,472.10, and nine commissioner loans at $5,692.23.

The United States has 17 beet sugar factories in 16 states which produce 1,800,000 tons of sugar a year.

During the serving hours a nursery was maintained for the children by Mrs. W. H. Sanders, Mrs. U. L. Lesly and Mrs. H. E. Clowdas.

Following the supper the auditorium was filled with people who stayed to hear the Stamps Ozark Quartet which was sponsored by the Progress Club.

More than a trillion kilowatt-hours of electric power will be produced annually in the United States by 1964, experts predict. That's more than double estimated production for this year.

Thanksgiving Day

A Tribute to our heroic forefathers who suffered unequal hardships for the freedom which they loved so well . . . and a day set aside each year so that we may say "Thanks Friends" to those whose generous patronage has been ours.

We're happy to be a part of this great country and community!

A PRECIOUS HERITAGE THANKSGIVING DAY

WHO ELSE Has So Much for Which to be THANKFUL ?

We, as Americans have the great blessing of abundance . . . in a great clean land, so rich, so lavishly endowed, abundance is all around us . . . in good brown earth and golden harvests . . . in busy, hard-working cities . . . in the faces of a free and happy people.

WE HAVE THESE BLESSINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR

They are a part of a hard-won heritage . . . and they are ours as long as we are worthy and prepared to work for them and fight for them.

To give thanks for what we have . . . to re-affirm our faith in freedom and our determination to preserve and cherish it . . . that is the true meaning of THANKSGIVING!

Setting for one

Season of Thanksgiving, and how thankful are we? For the harvest from the fields and for the cattle on the hills, yea, Lord, may we give Thanks. On this Thanksgiving Day, may we set a place for God at our house. We owe it all to Him. Surely gratitude to the Master should find expression in Thanksgiving and Thanks-living. May we open our hearts wider and lift our voices higher, as we sing with more meaning—
"Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow." The Pilgrims sought Freedom of Worship for us, and may we pause to thank God for them and for the benefits we enjoy.... Amen.

Bud To Blossom Club Makes Plans For Xmas Party

Plans for an annual Christmas party were made at the Bud Blossom Club meeting of Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Leo Miller. The party will be held in the home of Mrs. J. M. Wood on Dec. 17, with Mrs. A. L. Marnett district governor, presenting the "Merry Christmas" program. Mrs. Ray Godwin was elected to membership in the club during the business session.

The program for the day was on "Trees for fruit, nuts and shade." Mrs. W. Glenn Williams read of the desirability for shade of certain fruit trees, at this time mentioning peach, cherry, mulberry and apple tree.

Discussing trees for nuts and shade, Mrs. Delmo Williams mentioned varieties of pecans and walnuts, both suitable for trees.

Mrs. Herbert Haselett provided the arrangement for the day using dark red chrysanthemums in a horn of plenty as a center piece on the dining table.

Members present were: Mrs. James Irving, Alexander, R. A. Daniel, Preston Harris, Herbert Lassoff, Ray Howell, Jack Johnson, Sam Lane, W. H. Patton

THIS CHANGING AMERICA might be the title of these two pictures, according to Roberta Campbell, Brand farm-feature writer, who says the golden shocks of corn, long symbolic of Thanksgiving, are becoming hard to find, since most of the corn goes into ensilage earlier in the fall. She did locate the above shock, however, on the Ross Lemnick place, about one mile southeast of town. There are quite a few shocks of Atlas Sargo, similar to the one at the left, snapped on the Ed Dziuk place, also south of town. The change in farming procedure, Miss Campbell thinks, may also result in a change in America's annual Thanksgiving motif.
