Around Town

This being Thanksgiving week, turkey has seemed to dominate talk Around Town.

Virgil Cocanougher has resigned as Chamber of Commerce office secretary. Cocanougher will move to Tyler where he will be assistant manager of Perry Bros., there. Bill Lenderman, manager, said that Miss Mary Boren would replace Cocanougher.

Justice of the Peace S. O. Wilson said that he had one of his busiest Mondays since he has been in office this week. Seems that traffic violations were running at a high peak.

Friday is Ladies Night at the Kiwanis Club. Marshall Formby will be guest speaker for the occasion and will discuss his observations behind the Iron Curtain.

Tickets for the St. Anthony's Thanksgiving dinner to be held Thursday, will be available at the

The Chamber of Commerce ballot went out this week. Four directors will be chosen from the membership. Names on the ballot include Frank Bezner, B. F. Cain, Bill Damron, L. H. Woodford, Dr. A. T. Mims, John Simms, Ed Sky-pala and Clyde Truly.

The Brand may have missed some late breaking news stories today because of going to press a day early. We will catch up in (Continued on Page 2)

Safety Council Board Is Named

Eight men were named on the City Safety Council Board of Directors Monday night by City Commissioners.

Boys Escape As Train Hits Auto

Two Hereford teenage boys gave up their efforts to push a stalled automobile off the Santa Fe railroad tracks here early Sunday morning minutes before a 165 car freight train smashed into the car, totally destroying it.

David Larson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Larson, was driver of the car. His companion was Jan Wallace, 14.

Larson said he had just made a right turn off Highway 60 and was starting across the Benefield railroad crossing when the 1955 Dodge slipped off the crossing and lodged between the tracks. Efforts to free the car by the two youths were in vain.

David said, "We thought we heard a train coming, and then when I saw the signal light turn from green to red, I knew one was."

He said they tried again to get the car off the track, but couldn't. Then another car drove up, the youth explained, and some men told us we had better get away from the car.

He told how the men turned their car toward the oncoming freight and blinked their headlights at the train.

"I waved my coat at them," Larson said, "but they didn't stop."

Engineer on the train, eastbound No. 247, was C. A. Rhode. Rhode was also engineer of the train that was involved in a collision with a car driven by Gordon B. Miller, Nov. 12. Mr. Miller was killed in the crash. Conductor was W. G. Corethers. He was also a member of the train crew Nov. 12.

Rhode said the emergency brakes on the train were applied when the car was sighted on the tracks, but the train could not be stopped in time to avoid a collision. He estimated that the four-unit diesel was traveling 25 miles an hour. The train pushed the car across the crossing and then stopped.

The train was delayed until 12:50 but traffic at the intersection was held up only a few minutes.

Highway Patrolman D. W. Howard, Sheriff Lowell Sharp and Deputy Sheriff Charles Skelton investigated the accident.

City Sets 'Easy Payment Plan'

The City of Hereford will soon initiate their version of an "easy payment plan."

A special curb-payment box has been ordered by the City to place in front of city hall. The box will open on two sides, facilitating use by both motorists (Continued on Page 2)

City Hires Engineer To Do Preliminary Water Survey

City Commissioners Monday night signed a contract with M.R. Smith, consulting engineer, to make a preliminary water report and report back to the Commission in a week or 10 days.

Smith was asked to recommend what steps should be taken to assure the city of enough water supply and storage for next summer's peak use months.

The Lubbock engineer, who has in the past done other work for the city, including the engineering work on the sewage disposal system, was also asked to make a study to decide what new additions will be needed to the City's water system to meet the needs

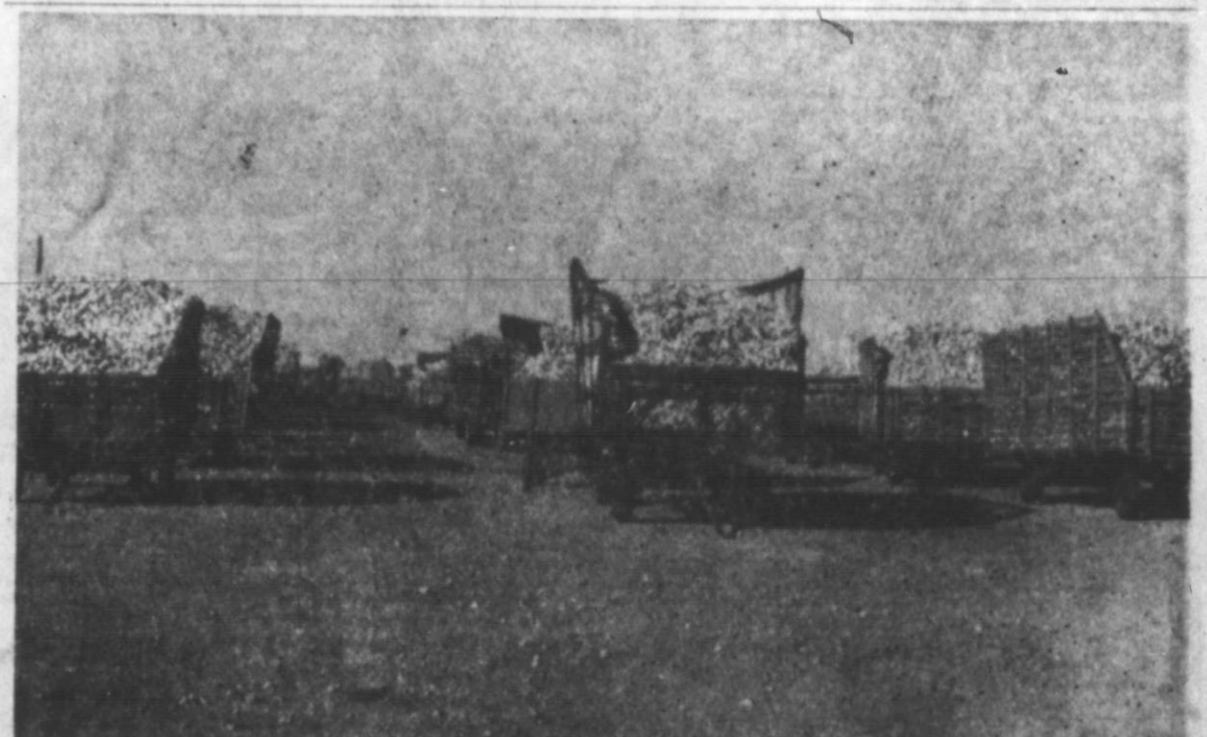

Thanksgiving Service To Be Wednesday Night

Ministers Group Is Sponsor

The first annual Community Thanksgiving service will be held Wednesday night (Nov. 23) in the High School auditorium with Rev. Lester L. Jones of the Episcopal Church, as special speaker.

The service is sponsored by the Ministerial Association and will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Music will be under the direction of Don Moore. Bob Lawrence will lead singing, Mrs. Howard Scott will be pianist and Mrs. G. N. Allison, soloist. In addition, a high school group will also be on the program.

Women's Clubs Ask For Barriers At Crossings

A delegation of Deaf Smith County club women Monday night filed a written petition with the City Commission "to require the Santa Fe Railroad Co. to do something about protecting life and property."

The committee, composed of Mrs. Leo Forrest, Mrs. Art Manjeet and Miss Roberta Campbell, said they represented 24 county clubs as representatives of the County Federation of Women's Clubs.

On hand for the meeting was E. D. Jones, Santa Fe trainmaster at Amarillo who discussed the advantages and disadvantages of placing drop-gates at the crossings here.

The resolution submitted by the group, which represents about 500 club women, said they "... go on record as unanimously urging the mayor and the city commissioners ... to require by order that the Santa Fe Railroad Co. erect barriers at all main crossings within the city limits."

Jones pointed out that the main objection to the drop gates was the fact that they slowed up traffic. Mayor Henry Sears also pointed out that if Santa Fe puts in gates they want to up their speed

C-C Breakfast Series To Halt During Winter

The Chamber of Commerce Community Breakfast series will be discontinued during the winter months, Ralph Hastings, president announced this week.

Hastings said that if any important issue comes up during the period, a special breakfast will be held. "We feel that with the holiday season coming up, it would be better not to hold regular meetings during the winter months," Hastings said.

limit from 30 to 50 miles per hour, and commented that he wondered if that would be better or worse. Jones said that the Santa Fe was willing to work with the City in anyway possible, and told the group that a representative would be glad to meet with them at any time they desire.

THANKS

Do you remember reading about the first Thanksgiving, and the struggles that came before it? Many of those brave people died before they ever got to Plymouth Rock. Then they arrived only to find it was the most difficult time of the year to survive. It seemed about the only thing to look forward to was starvation, or being killed by the Indians. Only half of them made it through that first winter.

The harvest next summer was successful, and they had managed to make friends with some of the Indians. So, with enough food for the winter, and some measure of safety assured, it called for a celebration. Can you imagine a celebration in your community if half of the people had not lived through the last winter? Well, that is the kind of people our forefathers were. That is the kind of people the pioneers were. It is the same stock that master our farms today, and man the machine guns when called upon. Yet existence on a modern farm, without electricity, is so nearly like the early pioneer's. How barren the household! It is the wives and children who suffer.

These people did not ask for a grant, or that anything be given them. However, they are mighty thankful for the loans through the R. E. A., which brought electricity even to the remote locations. The character of these people is exemplified in the fact that both the money, and the interest is being paid back well ahead of schedule.

Damage Is Light In Auto Crash

Minor damage resulted from a truck-car collision Monday around 3:10 p.m. at Jackson Street and 100 feet south of West Third.

A 1937 Pontiac, driven by Mrs. Vern Witherspoon and a 1954 GMC Truck, driven by Archie Holman, collided, police said.

Holman was stopped on the east side of Jackson headed south and Witherspoon was going south on Jackson. Holman's truck was loaded and he couldn't see, so when he pulled out from his parking place he hit Witherspoon's car in the left rear fender.

Approximately $50 damage was done to Witherspoon's car and no damage to the truck. Holman was charged with failure to grant the right-of-way.

Shadow Players' Thanksgiving Dinner Is Held

Shadow Players held their regular monthly meeting Monday in the form of a Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jowell.

The fall color theme was carried out with a centerpiece of fall arrangements.

Members present were Douglas Womble, Carol Willoughby, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Loerswald, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Winget, Mrs. Harry Cayler, Virgil Cocanougher and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jowell. Those attending from Summerfield were Will Harris, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Ray Bosley and Mrs. Harry Cannon and daughter, Jeanie.

Mrs. Duncan Moore of San Dimas, Calif., has been visiting for the past week in her friend's home, Mrs. E. C. Eubanks. Mrs. Eubanks met Mrs. Moore last year in Florence, Italy. Mrs. Moore has been in New York visiting relatives and stopped by on her way home.

Friends & Customers

AND TO WISH EACH OF YOU

A Joyous Thanksgiving Day

It's time, again, to say... 'THANK YOU'

— and never was the phrase more sincere... for it has been a real pleasure to live with you, work with you — and to serve each of you during the past 12 months.

In return, we wish for you THE BEST THANKSGIVING... EVER!

In Appreciation...

Of the opportunity of serving our customers in this great freedom-loving country... and of the many blessings that are ours throughout the year.

We are thankful for many things in 1955, but most of all, for our friends and customers to whom we owe our success in Hereford.

We hope that you'll be able to meet with your friends and families today and to enjoy the biggest and best Thanksgiving Day... EVER!

Your friends at...

We're a bunch of fellows down here on West Hiway 60... and we are chiefly interested in Chrysler Cars, Plymouth Cars, Chrysler Industrial Engines—and in making any thing run and run right! That's our business, and we don't know a lot about public relations... except treating our customers like we would want them to treat us... But our folks always told us when someone did something real nice for us that we should say

'THANK YOU'

—and that's what we are doing in the most sincere way we know... as we wish you a Happy Thanksgiving Day and a Bounteous year to follow.

School Colors Can Be Pert For Your Pens

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
It seems young moderns have become individuals again. At Los Angeles chic students wear Italian gauchito shirts and bunny shoes. At Westport, Conn., they're wearing real Scottish kilts, Bermuda shorts and sturdy polished flats.

A fad now raging in the East is the wearing of a two-tone ball point pen in school colors clipped to the sweater. You can find Yale, Notre-Dame or Stanford among the 247 different color combinations originally planned to match ear interiors. But students had other ideas.

Parents are getting smarter all the time. Here's an example: Why complain about the kids using the phone when for a price of a long distance call, one might have a phone installed for the very own use of a young fry?
It's an idea that seems to be spreading judging by recent reports. At Lubbock, Tex., a good indication of respect for young people's rights (ahem) is illustrated in the telephone directory under the listing for Dr. R. K. O'Loughlin. It says "children's number." It's for Sharon 15, Jeanie 13, Kathy 10, Ricky 5, Robbie 4 and Pat 2.

At Hartford a dentist lists his business and residential number and under it: The Courthouses' Children (there are eight) (with their own number.)

Donald H. Ogilvy of Scarsdale, N. Y., lists it this way: Children's Telephone.
In New Jersey the Public Service Commission has authorized the telephone company to make a special rate on the second residential phone, discounting it 50 cents to $1.25, depending on the zone.
Maybe other states will petition for reductions too, making it easier to persuade Mom and Dad to go for the idea. If not, how about using baby sitting money for the project?

Here's a conversation overheard in Richmond, Va. . . .
"Dig that real gone boy over there! Man, he's a real cool cat."
"Bet he's no mouse either."
"Yep. I met him at the hangout Monday and last night he came to a blast at my house. He dragged some drip. I don't know who she was, but she was a real square. He said he couldn't get another drag though.

"Ha! That's rich. I don't know who he's trying to snob but I bet he could have dragged any doll in the pen."
Interpretation? Dig-see; real gone-nice looking; cool cat-owns a new car; hangout-drug store; blast - party; drag-have a date; drip-girl, not too attractive; snow-

There are a lot of things I like about Thanksgiving. One of them is the fact that it is a truly American institution, based upon giving thanks for our blessings — and we do have a lot of them. Another thing is all of the food. This, too, is American — and our country stands alone in being able to offer such a bounteous supply of foods to the average family.

However, I don't exactly go for this new-fangled idea of substituting baked goose for Turkey. Some folks say it isn't new, but it is to me. Besides, I don't particularly care for goose, and I do like turkey. I'll still take turkey every time. Does anyone honestly like goose best, or do they just say they do because it is fashionable?

I was down at Texas Tech last weekend to attend a meeting of the Panhandle High School Journalism students. There was quite a crowd and some of the speakers were pretty sharp. After a rather glowing introduction, Rex Webster, advertising agency executive, said:

"That introduction leaves me with mixed emotions. I feel rather like the fellow who watches HIS mother-in-law drive HIS Cadillac off a tall bluff."

Mrs. Sam Williams of Littlefield was another speaker with a funny story. She told of a tractor salesman who, going down the road, saw a farmer plowing with one of his prize bulls hitched to the plow. This, of course, immediately declared open season on the farmer as the tractor salesman started telling of the advantages of his particular machine. He concluded his sales pitch by pointing out the farmer just couldn't find it profitable to use a $12,000 purebred bull as a means of power.

"Come with me," said the farmer, and he took the salesman to his barn and pointed to three practically new tractors.

"Then," asked the salesman, "why are you plowing with the bull?"

"Well, son," replied the farmer, "I am just trying to teach the critter that everything in life ain't

DUCK ON THE WELL
HOMINY, Okla. — Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Turner have had their first wild duck dinner of the season without having to lift a gun or go hunting. While Mrs. Turner was drawing a bucket of water from the family's farm well, a large mallard crashed through the branches of a maple tree and dropped at her feet. It had been wounded by four shotgun pellets but held out until it got over the Turner farm.

Another accident on the Santa Fe crossing this past week again emphasized the need for some additional safety measures. This situation seriously merits some consideration — and some action.

Hereford is also facing an urgent need for systematic building codes, according to all reports. Any step along this line will be expensive but, as the town grows, the need becomes more and more acute. Anyway, you hear the possibility discussed more and more.

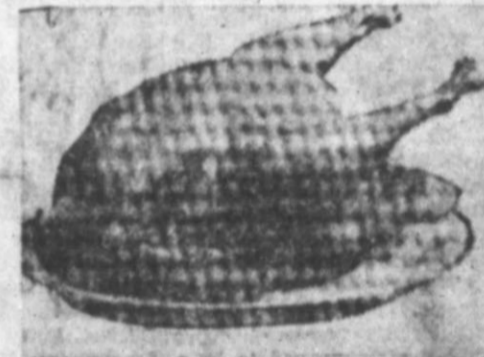

Meanwhile, I am having a lot of personal trouble as regards Santa Claus letters. Our nine-year-old, after a three-year lapse on letters to Santa, tells me that he is going to write Santa for a deodorized Skunk. I told him he is too old for Santa Claus letters, but he says I carried him a little fast for several years, and now it's his turn. He also offered to settle for raccoon, and not even write the letter. Things are still at a stalemate.

Pets and kids are all right, I guess, but it was like I recently read somewhere: "It's nice for the children to have pets—until the pets start having children."

Walcott News

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wickward and family visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Hall Sunday.

Farm and Ranch Club met on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Roy Pruitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall and Kerry spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler.

Mrs. Bertram Jack entertained with a Tupper party in her home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean McCallum and children of Bovina, visited the Elmo Hall in the N. E. Tyler home Sunday.

Mrs. Bill Steward came Friday morning with her children, Willie, George and Edna, to withdraw from Walcott School. They have moved and are no longer in our district. These children will be missed in our classrooms.

Mrs. A. J. Ashburn's sister, Mrs. Bill Maddox and son Young Bill, from Hamlin came Friday. Young Bill visited with Jackson Ashburn in school here, part of the day. These two sisters and families will visit with their mothers, Mrs. E. E. Meads in Muleshoe this week-end.

Mrs. Charley Hoover was taken to a hospital in Amarillo Monday. She was put under oxygen and given glucose at first. At this writing she is not taking oxygen and is improving.

Wednesday morning Chapel program was given by Mrs. A. L. Shelton's first and second grade children. Three songs were sung by the group: "Shortening Bread," "Lollipop Tree," and "Little Joe Worm."

Two stories were acted: "Chicken Little," was given first with these characters: Chicken Little, Linda Gay Lumpkins; Henny Penny, Adair Melton; Ducky Lucky, Robbie Rudd; Goosey Poosey, Norma Roberson; Piggy Wiggly, Gayle Minyen; Turkey Lurky, Kay Minyen; and Foxy Locksy, John Perrin.

Next, "The Three Pigs" was acted by these children: Mother Pig, Gay Wylie; Three Little Pigs, Robbie Rudd, Willie Bob Steward, and Linda Gay Lumpkins. The people with straw, wood and bricks were Sue Northcutt, Adair Melton and John Perrin. The Big Bad Wolf was Keith Henderson.

Program was concluded with their Rhythm Band playing "Black Hawk Waltz."

Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Walcott Melton and Denise, Mrs. Wallace Lumpkins and Mrs. Melvin Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Alston of Westway were visitors in the T. L. Collins home Sunday afternoon.

Walcott P-TA's "covered dish" meal Friday night proved to be a big success. Hereford Hardware furnished paper table cloths for our tables. We wish to express our "thanks." Tables were decorated with fall leaves of various colors, potato-turkeys with corn for feed. At the head table a carrot-man in a squash-coach, driving a carrot horse was the center piece. Food was placed in the kitchen where plates were filled. Then such visiting and eating as was done, in the auditorium sitting around the tables.

Next a business session was directed by our president, Mrs. J. V. Perrin. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Roy Pruitt.

These were approved. In the absence of our treasurer, Mrs. Don Guseman, that report was given by Mrs. Perrin. Total proceeds of the Halloween Carnival were $367.87. A Christmas committee was appointed.

Mrs. Melvin Henderson and A. L. Shelton. Motions were approved to allow $200 for the purpose of buying "tumbling mats," coat and hat racks for the school and turkeys to be used in the cafeteria at Thanksgiving and Christmas time.

Program chairman, Mrs. Wallace Lumpkins introduced A. L. Shelton, whose fifth and sixth grades presented a one-act play: "Ungrateful Louise," the time, Thanksgiving. Johnnie Campbell did an excellent job announcing the characters who were: Beulah, Connie Roberson; Louise, Betty Lockhart; Carol, Kathryn Burrus; Herbert, Hazel Lewis; Larry, James Burrus; Jackie, Jackson Ashburn; Mrs. Warner, Marilyn Lumpkin and Mrs. Lyman, Pauline Cole.

Next Mickey Rudd sang the song, "Yellow Rose of Texas," dressed as a cowboy and riding a saddle. This number received very much applause.

Music was furnished by four men: Ernest Brown playing the Banjo; Fred Chandler, the fiddle; Floyd and Eldred Brown, each the guitars. This group played several numbers. Among them, "Down Yonder," "Texas Waltz," "You Are My Sunshine" and the entire group sang as they played.

Mickey Rudd was requested and did sing again, "Yellow Rose of Texas" with them playing. Others sang in groups which included Hazel Lewis, Pauline Cole, James Burrus, Betty Lockhart, Mary Dufur, Merry Kay and Royce Lee Pruitt, Cecelia Burrus and Carolyn McClure. Concluding the entire program the audience appreciated the hymn, "I Walk Alone," sung by Fred Chandler, while playing his fiddle.

Raymond L. Collins went to El Paso this weekend to see the West Texas Western concluding football game. He kept statistics of the plays for the Prairie, West Texas Newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Chandler, Debbie and Randy of the Rhea community were guests here for P-TA Friday night.

Girlstown Draws Support From Culb Women In County

By ROBERTA CAMPBELL

Father we thank Thee for people like Miss Amelia Anthony who believe it is better to build a strong fence around the cliff than to pick up the wreck at the bottom.

It was this belief that prompted Miss Anthony to take her savings as a social worker and establish Girlstown near Buffalo Gap nine years ago. Her first resident was a three-month-old girl.

Seven years ago Miss Anthony moved her little brood of nine girls up to Whiteface on land that now belongs to Girlstown and in this prairie setting housed in a rambling ranch style house, 67 girls are now at home.

The purpose of Girlstown is to teach the girls who live there to become good wives, mothers and valuable citizens. With their hands, their hearts and their minds, the girls learn to be self-sustaining.

Miss Anthony selects her girls on the basis of need with the inherent rights of children always in mind. First with her is love and understanding and home and security. She also wants each girl to have equal opportunity for education and stresses the principle on which our American way of life came to be being—Religious Freedom.

Home life at Girlstown is Old-Fashioned based first of all on Love. Outdoors as well as indoors the girls learn by practical application to become assets to God and man.

To get a picture of the residence at Girlstown one might use her own home and apply a multiple of 10 to establish in her mind the size of the beautiful building the girls call home.

The outside length of the ranch house is about 300 feet and in the center is the large living room very much like one in any home except there is enough room to accommodate the large "family."

There are the usual shelves of books, and periodicals for the youngsters. A piano and an organ are on opposite sides of the huge room, which is centered with a fire place which allows a view all around the area.

Bride dolls have been used for two attractive lamps. The white satin hoop skirts fashion the lamp shades.

The family gathers here in the evenings to relax with the instruments named or TV, radio or to use the record player. If the girl prefers to read there is a corner where she may find it more quiet.

Instead of the two or three bedrooms down the hall from the family living room in the average home, Girlstown doors open into more than 10 times that many rooms that look as homey as if any girl had just left it for a day at school.

Furnishings are the same but individuality stands out in every one of the units which supply single beds for the two girls who share it along with an individual dressing table and a chest of drawers.

Dolls, pictures, potted plants and other items add a personal touch to the rooms. Outstanding is the number of plants because all of the girls are interested in growing things it seems.

Only in the closets of each girl over 12 do the rooms differ from that of any other girl. The clothes on the racks have been made by the girls themselves as a part of their training for their future as a homemaker.

Several clubs from this county have been to Girlstown to visit and one of the most comprehensive reports to be brought back by a club member was one which follows in part as prepared for members of her club by Mrs. Earl DeHart, reporter for the Cultural Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. DeHart told the women, "Eleven adult women are now working with the girls. All live there except the office help. Two men are employed, but they drive out each day to work. One is in charge of the construction work. When building funds have vanished, and construction work ceases, he works at maintenance. The colored man is handy man around the place. We learned that they do not go in debt for any of their building construction. When building funds come in, they buy materials needed with it, if no funds are available when that material is used, construction work ceases. That is why visitors find only a start on a new cottage.

"All future cottages are planned on the same design as the one now in use. Each unit to be the home of approximately 70 girls. Their goal is to care for 500 girls by the end of 1959. There were 61 girls there when we visited. Six from there graduated from Whiteface High School last spring and are now in college. Four of these girls are studying in California, and two in Minnesota. Two are studying in the field of medicine, two as teachers, one in business administration and one for social work. The girls choose their own college and course of study. Girlstown sends them an allowance or a portion of their expenses each month, but each girl must work and help pay her way through college.

"One of their girls at college, is an elevator operator in a well known building in the city in which she lives. Another is employed in a small greeting card factory where she folds the envelopes and printed cards. One plans to enter nurses training as soon as she completes needed courses in sciences. These were not available at the local high school, so she must take these first. She is employed in the diet kitchen of the hospital where she will enroll later on.

"Their oldest girl is 21 now and one of the college students, their youngest, are two three-year-old girls. The girls are self-sufficient in many ways. They have a dairy herd of 21 cows, to provide milk, cream and 'cow butter.' One of the little girls was overheard telling a newcomer about the life there and remarked, 'We have real cow butter to eat here.' They have poultry too. They raise their fryers, 300 at a time, and have already raised 2400 this year. They plant and tend a five acre garden each year. The handy man prepares the ground for planting, and the girls do the rest.

(Editor's Note: Miss Anthony reports in a personal interview that the gardening project has been the most discouraging of all their program because in spite of the rabbit resistant wire that encloses the garden the little carrot eaters manage to outsmart them. Wind is another adverse factor for the young gardeners.

"Vegetables not used fresh on their table are either frozen or canned. Other donations in the form of both Angus and Hereford herds of beef cattle have been started. These in time will not only provide meat for their table, but could become a source of revenue for the organization. At the age of 12, each girl's name is added to the work schedule. This schedule is made for each week. The girls work at a different job each week. The schedule when we were there listed the work in the following categories: cooking, dish washing, dining hall-maintenance, laundry, sewing, living room-maintenance, dairy, chickens, and on down the line. Their schedule during the school year is something like this, as the time for such activities after school is short. The cooks must get busy with the evening meal, the tables must be set, the laundering done, others must take an hour's sewing lesson or work, living room and hall must be straightened and dusted, the dairy work must be done and the chickens tended. All this work must be done by 5:30 so that every one can be in the dining hall, ready to eat by 6 p.m. After the evening meal the little ones play while the older ones finish the evening chores.

"At 7 o'clock, all under 12 are gathered in the living room for Bible study. The point of Bible study and not Bible teaching was stressed. In this group Bible verses are read and the youngsters are asked to tell what the verse tells them. This 30 minute period is followed by bedtime preparation, and this group is in bed by 8 p.m.

"At 8, the rest of the girls are all called into the living room for a 30 minute period of Bible study. They read and discuss, each expressing her own opinion. If they have questions about the Scriptures they are encouraged to write these down and consult their pastor, and then discuss some of the problems again. Study and reading occupy the group for most of the next hour, and 'all lights out' is at 9:30. This would seem an untimely hour to most of our children, but there is much work to be done before the school bus rolls up the next morning. They must get their 9 hours of rest in order to do their 'home' and school work.

"The girls all attend public schools in Whiteface, eight miles north of Girlstown, and take part in school activities. Each girl attends the church of her choice in Whiteface, and all faiths are represented. The small children are enrolled in one church group for a period of time, then in another, in order to permit freedom of worship. When she has reached the point where she has fully decided on the church of her choice, she attends that one regularly. They take active parts in their church too.

"Another interesting point is that all dates are chaperoned until the girl is a senior in high school. This does not seem to affect the number of dates, though. During the approximate nine years of existence, only one serious illness, the polio victim, has been had. Of course several emergency appendectomies have come up, but that is about the extent of illnesses. The registered nurse in charge keeps her 'girls' healthy by planning proper diets and close observation of 'first symptoms.' There is a 'diet' table in the dining hall. This is the table on which no bread is placed; no high calorie foods, such as whipped cream are served, and small servings of most foods go. This eliminates the problem of 'calorie counting' for these girls that 'must.'

"In the laundry building we found modern equipment, although inadequate for their needs. The girls above 12 have a regular schedule at this work. There is lots of washing to do for a 'family' of that size. Each girl is responsible for her own clothes, bed and bath linens. They have a laundry schedule, part of the girls washing one afternoon and ironing their things the next, while some one else is washing.

"Each week, two girls work in the laundry every afternoon doing the cup towels and table cloths. A colored girl was ironing the little folks' clothes when we were there. They have both ironers and hand irons. We were told that most of the ironing was done by hand as not many of the girls had learned to handle the mangle type commercial sized ironers.

"A dryer is needed very badly, and is almost a necessity. During the school term all the older girls laundry has to be done late in the afternoons, and must be dried indoors. It is almost impossible to dry the large pieces before another batch is ready for the lines. Since the girls are not there during the day it is impossible to hang them outside to dry. They have faith that some day someone will enable them to get this one piece of equipment for their laundry room.

"The tour through the newest building, the dining hall, was very interesting too. We entered by the kitchen door to find a spotless modern room. The beautiful dishes, given to them by organizations from Perryton, on the opening dedication of the building, were truly beautiful. They not only gave them service for 100, (place settings), but have continued to add to the set.

"A trash burner was another item with an interesting background. It was sent to them by Welcome Travelers, a radio and TV program. A lady from Texas was on the program, and told she wanted all the prizes, due her as a participant, to go to Girlstown. This was the 'big' item, but many other smaller things, like cases of various canned foods, were received.

"Our path next led past the refrigerator and freezer, both walk-ins. We were allowed a peak into both. The refrigerator looked just about like ours at home would so far as the kinds of food were concerned—the freezer too—instead of pint sized plastic bag for peas, it looked like turkey bags.

In the dining hall, tables for eight were all covered with white table cloths. On many were place mats. We were told that the place mats were all made by the girls eating at that particular place. These were products of the first sewing lessons, and served a dual purpose for the younger girls. The tables were very sturdy, attractive ones, finished in natural wood finish. The chairs were different, interesting and comfortable. They were made and donated by a small woodworking shop at Ruidosa, N. M. This huge room was divided by a fireplace into two parts. On the dining side was the open hearth, while on the other side a small stage where programs and plays are presented. This too was furnished with chairs and tables like the dining area. Some of the contributing organizations in that area hold meetings there occasionally, too. It is the recreation room for the girls.

We did not visit the other buildings, due to the distance to walk. We did learn however, that in addition to living quarters for one of the workers, the original house, housed the sewing rooms. Other small buildings had been converted into living quarters for other supervisory personnel.

As to operation costs per month, we learned that it takes $3000 each month to pay the bills. Where does this come from? From everywhere: church groups, sororities, clubs, service clubs and individuals.

"And now as to what we, you

NEW DINNER BELL — One of the things the girls at Girlstown, U.S.A. are proudest of this Thanksgiving is the new dinner bell given them by Life Magazine photographers. The bell will ring out at the new dining hall Thanksgiving Day to call Miss Amelia Anthony's 67 girl family together for their Thanksgiving dinner. Miss Anthony says she is thankful to be able to care for the 67 girls, but has hopes for upping the number to 500 in the near future. (Photo by A. Y. Owen)

In the picture at right, several of the girls say their goodnight prayer. The girls are taught "to be Christians" instead of church members. They study the Bible each day.

THE RANCH HOME — This is home for the 67 girls at Girlstown, U.S.A. The building is built like an oversized house. It is 300 feet long and features a large living room in the center. Every two girls have a room of their own. Another building is now under construction, and hopes are to eventually build a lot more. Local Home Demonstration club women are helping to make this a better home. (Staff Photo)

Hattier Hats For Hoildays

AP Newsfeatures
 Holiday hats will be as gay as the ornaments on the Christmas tree this year—and just as important in the festive scene.
 The new slim silhouettes give added emphasis to hats in the current fashion picture—and the bare-headed girl will look strictly out-of-date in the holiday lineup.
 Milliners of both New York and Paris interpret the bulkier silhouette in various ways, as demonstrated at a recent showing of holiday hats by the millinery industry. The peach basket shape is interpreted by Claude St. Cyr, of Paris, in a dramatic hat with black transparent petals forming the crown, and a tiny blue satin crown. The same milliner shows a striking deep cloche of stitched yellow satin banded with brown velvet, worn pulled down on the head and almost covering all the hair.
 In the spirit of holiday gaiety is John Frederics' small white satin pillbox in Empress Eugenie style with a point on the forehead, and a large jeweled ornament front and center.
 Also prominent among the current headlines are many versions of the oriental turban, many little pastel satin saliors, modern adaptations of the Turkish fez and white hats.

HEADLIGHT — John Frederics of New York shows this white satin pillbox with bold jewel ornament.

AIR OF MYSTERY — Black transparent petals from crown of this peach-basket hat by Claude St. Cyr.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED
 CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — The University of North Carolina grid-ders last year gained 116 yards via forward passes in beating North Carolina State 20-6. This season the Tarheels did not gain a single yard through the air against the Wolfpack but still managed to win 25-18.

WRITER BREAKS PAR
 HUNTINGTON, W. Va. — Leonard Crawley, sports writer from England, toured the Guyan Country Club golf course with his friend, Walker Cup Captain Bill Campbell of Huntington. Crawley played 36 holes on the unfamiliar course and turned in a 143—one under par.

Housecleaning Was Tough In Grandma's Day

AP Newsfeatures
 Housewives never had it so good. If you are skeptical, consider the instruments of torture with which Mom and Granny were expected to keep the house clean. Some 200 vintage cleaning instruments dating back to 1735 make up a display at the Museum of Household Implements, recently opened in Brooklyn by Alex Lewyt, who gathered his collection by offering a new vacuum cleaner in exchange for antique cleaning gadgets.

The pre-Revolutionary housewife used a broom made by tying a bundle of corn shucks to the limb of an ash tree. The first carpet sweeper to turn up at the museum dates back to 1864 and works by a pulley.

Vacuum cleaners first appeared around the turn of the century—but the earliest models were about as handy as a locomotive. It took two to work a 1907 model: grandpa stood on a wood platform and pumped a heavy iron handle while grandma went over the carpet with a nozzle.

A 1903 vacuum cleaner caused a lot of excitement and also developed muscles. Two handles were pumped scissors fashion to create the suction. Another of slightly later vintage looked something like an accordion—the weary housewife clutched the heavy iron handle with one hand to move the cleaner over the floor, and with the other pumped the bellows.

THEN AND NOW — It's a far cry from the 1905 two-man vacuum cleaner at left to the latest model at right, which makes modern housewife's job a breeze.

LAST WORD IN 1903 — This early vacuum cleaner worked with scissor action.

MUSCLE BUILDER—This 1911 model took two hands—one to push, one to pump.

German Woman Likes American Women's Slogan

By JANE EADS
 WASHINGTON — Mrs. Hanna Kiep, women's affairs secretary of the German diplomatic mission here, is trying to encourage her countrywomen to take the American slogan "never underestimate the power of a woman," come into wider use in her homeland.

Mrs. Kiep, a handsome, clear-eyed Wagnerian type, maintains close contact with American women in public life and in women's organizations, trying to "build better understanding and to interpret the hopes and struggles of women in post-war Germany."
 "I believe," she told me, "that most American women look upon my mission here as a compliment to themselves and to work they have done, as well as an expression of my country's earnest desire to pave the way for the greater participation of German women in all walks of life."

Her husband, the late Dr. Otto C. Kiep, served in the United States from 1926 to '33, first as counsellor to the German Embassy in Washington, and later as consul general in New York. In 1933 when he resigned from the foreign service in protest against the National Socialist government, they returned to Germany where subsequently he lost his life in the Nazi purge. Mrs. Kiep, who had also been arrested, was released after some months' imprisonment.

Emphasizing that the "12 years of Hitler tyranny" had produced a severe setback in the development of the German woman as a citizen, she added that nevertheless, the voting record of women in the postwar elections had played a significant role in the readmission of Germany to the family of nations.

Mrs. Kiep, who recently returned from several months' leave in Germany, says the big task confronting German women in the years ahead is helping in the adjustment of the thousands of German men held prisoners of war by Russia for more than a decade who are being returned "thanks to what Chancellor Adenauer has done... we had to pay a high price for it—diplomatic relations—but the price was necessary because the happiness of more than 100,000 families is at stake."

A law student who attended the Universities of Berlin, Oxford and Geneva, Mrs. Kiep has been in Washington since 1951.

MONKEY BUSINESS

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Lester Fisher of Ann Arbor fired at what he took to be a squirrel swinging through the trees. He brought down a rhesus monkey. The little animal was believed to be an escaped pet or a stray from a laboratory.

DOG BITES REFEREE

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Blackie is one of those dogs who can't resist a football field during the heat of battle.

Ralph Paul, one of the officials at a Marquette-West Junior High football game at Public School Stadium, was bitten by the small dog while bending over a large heap of young Americans to determine the location of the ball.

While spectators wondered if the official weighed the feasibility of a five-yard penalty, he contended himself with occasionally rubbing the offended leg and eyeing the sidelines apprehensively between plays.

CATCHES MARLIN TOO SOON

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Happy Felton of New York City, Brooklyn Dodger post-game television announcer, entered the second International Game Fish Tournament of Puerto Rico but didn't get a strike in four days of angling. But two days before the tournament he and Reggie Foster of Chevy Chase, Md., both met with success. Felton landed a blue marlin and Foster boated a sail fish.

REDS CAPTURED

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist guerrillas operating off Fukien province along the coast opposite Formosa have captured 1331 Communists in four years, the Defense Ministry claims. The bag includes 2 small steamships, 6 motorized junks and 23 smaller craft.

Texas has 15,524 miles of railroad.

Here's How You Can Mix Your Own Complexion

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

"The smart woman makes the most of artifice," says Lilly Dache famous for her chic hats, perfumes and cosmetics. She explains:

"If a woman wishes to be unforgettable, a pretty dress and hat are not enough. She must appeal to all the senses with a good perfume, and a complexion that complements her fashion scheme."

She suggests that any woman can wear any color she likes, providing she remembers to redo her complexion to harmonize with her costume colors.

That even goes for brown, she says, and even gray haired women can wear it, providing they brighten their complexion color with properly blended powder.

Miss Dache touts the powder wardrobe making the complexion an accessory to fashion. It works this way: Eight tints of powder and four powder toners are packaged together so that with a miniature powder mixture serving as a wand, you can whip up your own powder to flatter your complexion in from 30 to 60 seconds.

Four powder wardrobes for eight types labeled under hair colors from blonde to dark brown, gray and white are available. The proper lipstick rouge, mascara, eyebrow pencil, eye liner and eye shadow are listed for each type too. You look up in your instruction book under yellow, for instance, then mix according to directions and put the blended powder in a storage box and label it "daytime yellow costume."

Fashion fabric color swatches are in the instruction booklets too so that an accurate color description might be noted. New instruction guide books with spring and fall colors will be made available to powder wardrobe users every year.

Fur

When fitting pieces of fur, be sure that it all runs in the same direction. See in which direction the hairs lie by brushing it or rubbing. Fur should be cut on the skin side with a knife or razor blade, never with a scissors.

Gentry Dugat Seeks Reunion Of Terribly Beaten Cumberland Team

GENTRY DUGAT 1916

GENTRY DUGAT 1955

REUNION BUT NO REVIVAL — Gentry Dugat of Pettus, Tex., played a football game 39 years ago for Cumberland U. His team lost 222-0 to Georgia Tech. He hopes to get the players together for a 1956 reunion—to find out exactly what went wrong.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—That game played at Atlanta 39 years ago when Georgia Tech walloped Cumberland University of Lebanon, Tenn., 222-0, calls for a celebration, thinks Gentry Dugat. He tried to stop the Yellow Jacket wave on that cheerless day in 1916.

That Georgia Tech made almost five points a minute is football history. It was cut short to halt the slaughter. Records show it was a 45-minute game.

Now comes a reunion proposal by Dugat, oil editor, feature writer and farm editor of the Beeville, Tex., Bee-Picayune, who was one of six men who played all the way for dear old Cumberland that day. He would bring together all the surviving players of both teams at Atlanta near Oct. 7, 1956 when Georgia Tech has a home football game. It would mark the game's 40th anniversary.

Dugat is one Texan who played for Cumberland. Another is Dean Gauldin, a Dallas lawyer, who was the 140-pound quarterback. Dugat played left guard. Neither remembers the other as having been on the team but, as Gauldin says, 39 years can do a lot with a man's memory. But, with much positive news, Gauldin says it was a fraternity team that played for Cumberland and it got into the game because a messenger boy delivered a telegram to the frat house instead of to the athletic director (non-existent) of Cumberland University. George Allen, who later became a big man in Washington politics, accepted the telegram and got up a football team, Gauldin says. Georgia Tech didn't know about the deception until the squad, made up of 14 players and a self-appointed coach, one Butch McQueen, arrived in Atlanta.

Dugat doesn't remember that it was a fraternity team but he recalls that few of those who played knew much about football. "I didn't know what a down was until 25 years later," Dugat confesses.

Gauldin read a story about the game in a national magazine. He says he recognized only two names as Cumberland players. One was Pete Gray and the other was E.L. McDonald, from Bay City, Tex.

Dugat wants all members of the Georgia Tech and Cumberland teams of 1916 to communicate with him at Pettus, Tex. He would like to meet the fellows once more.

Foundations Get Arctic Deep Freeze

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, (AP)—Refrigeration is being used to assure firm footing for military buildings in the Arctic.

It is like an engineering version of the old saw about selling refrigerators to Eskimos.

"Keep the permafrost frozen solid and foundations will stay solid," says Dr. Arthur Casagrande, consultant to the chief of U. S.

Army Engineers. He is one of three specialists who came here to test methods of the Alaska District engineers.

Permafrost is the perpetually frozen earth that lies from one foot to hundreds of feet deep under the arctic tundra. In early arctic work heat entered the ground after the tundra was broken, the permafrost melted and foundations slumped.

Now, 30-foot pilings are set in holes. Cooling coils are placed around each piling. They freeze the piling back into the surrounding permafrost in a few days. With the foundations in as solid as ice, construction can proceed. The first floor is raised about four feet above the tundra to allow free movement of winter cold over the ground and avoid thawing by heat from the buildings.

In Hungary and the Netherlands corn is called "Turkish wheat."

Baseball Costs Puerto Ricans Money But They Say 'So What'

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—In this commonwealth where many business firms are tax exempt, baseball is a losing proposition. Yet nobody howls about it in the five-team Puerto Rican League, and there's no talk about shifting a franchise.

At best it is AAA ball as played in the International League and American Assn. A crowd of 10,000 is considered big although Escobar Stadium has held as many as 17,000.

The league may lose $100,000 for the second straight year but it is learning to economize. For one player gets more than $1000 a month. It cost $27,000 for umpires last winter and this figure, too, has been cut.

World Series players like Ed Roebuck and Don Zimmer of the champion Dodgers love the setup. They play only four games a week and besides the grand a month get $350 for expenses if married and $250 a month if single.

Zimmer suffered a linear fracture of the right arm when hit by a pitched ball on Oct. 24 but he expects to play second base the last half for Santurce.

Vic Power of Kansas City, Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh and Reuben Gomez of the New York Giants are the only natives in the league. A total of 23 players now on major league rosters are in the circuit.

Roebuck was a cause celebre for the first two weeks because he was playing with Mayaguez when actually he belonged on the Havana Reds reserve list. The day his case was straightened out by league president Sen. Ernesto Fonfrias, Roebuck pitched a four-hit shutout for his first complete game in more than a year.

Team managers are Dixie Howell, Mickey Owen, Herman Franks, Ben Geraghty and George Genovese. All but Genovese played in the majors.

Under the Caribbean Confederation rules (Puerto Rico, Cuba, Venezuela and Panama leagues) signed with the majors last August each team is limited to four major leaguers and two players with less than 45 playing days in the majors. No player in the majors two years can play winter ball. That rule and the salary limit excludes Willie Mays who played here last winter.

cent visit to Cuba. "In business you don't hear of one company loaning its top men to another firm. And I don't see how Latin baseball loses money. After all, there are no admission, federal, state or corporation taxes like we have."

"All teams lost money last season," says league secretary Heirberto Marin. "The owners don't care much. They just want baseball. San Juan lost $28,000. Jose Rivera, San Juan president, says: "So what! I see ball games."

"Pete Zorilla, Santurce owner who has a sugar plantation, is the same type. 'So what,' he says. 'We have a lot of fun.' That's his answer to trying to make money out of baseball."

"Alfonso Valdes, a brewer who owns Mayaguez, is just as rich as any baseball owner in the states. Caguas is run by a group of businessmen headed by Manuel Del Valle, a bank president and sugar plantation owner.

"Ponce is run by a poor man, Monmartino Garcia, but you try to get him out of there."

League teams are playing 72 games each to eliminate two teams—in late January the second and third place teams play a five-game series and the winner meets the first place team in a seven-game series for the right to play in the Caribbean World Series in Panama. There will be two games a night in Panama and the entire round robin must be over by Feb. 15 to permit big leaguers to report to their big league training camps.

Household Tips

Fun for young folks: Place some frankfurters in a folding wire broiler and toast over an open fire. Split frankfurter rolls and spread with soft yellow cheese; serve with the frankfurters and lots of pickles or pickle relish.

Want to know how to make garlic bread? Cut a clove of garlic into quarters; stir into half a cup of soft butter. Allow to stand until the butter takes up the garlic flavor. Cut a long loaf of French bread diagonally into thick slices; do not cut through the bottom of the loaf. Spread the garlic butter generously between the slices and over the top of the bread. Heat in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until hot—about 15 minutes.

Theres one thing even more important than a immaculate spotless cleanshirt

Peacock Look Is Forecast For Nation's Males

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Those once conservative American males will be strutting like peacocks around the country's gilded resorts this winter, attired in all the peacock's glowing colors.

After 6 wear for the current resort season gives men a chance to regain the splendor of color and fabric that once glorified the gentlemen of long ago. They are not yet converted to satin knee breeches and lace jabots, but they will be seen in silk shantung dinner clothes that rival the glory of the rainbow.

Silk dinner jackets in peacock red, blue, brown or gold will be worn with black silk shantung trousers with a matching stripe down each side. Cummerbund or cummerbund, tie, hatband and even shoes come in matching peacock colors. The shoes are black patent pumps with colored silk elastic inserts in the vamp. And the colors in the lustrous silk shantung have an almost metallic sheen, like the shimmer of the peacock's feathers.

Also popular for resort wear are dinner jackets of an orlon-dacron blend in ice cream colors: strawberry, blueberry, grape, pistachio, banana, vanilla and black walnut (a gray and black mixture).

These are worn with rayon tropical worsted trousers in midnight blue. Cummerbunds and ties are of black silk striped to match the pastel color of the jacket.

We are told that even the toughest hi-men are going for these new colorful formal clothes with loud expressions of satisfaction. All they need, it seems, is for some bold soul to take the lead, and even the most conservative are eager to follow.

Add cooked quartered scallops and canned drained sliced mushrooms to a cream sauce; heat but do not boil. Serve over very crisp buttered toast and top with crisply-cooked bacon. Add a green vegetable or a salad and you have a fine main course for a company lunch.

SPLendor AFTER 6 — This happy male rivals the peacock in his silk shantung dinner jacket of peacock gold with trousers striped to match. Cummerbunds, ties, hatbands and shoes in matching colors also are available for the gay winter vacationer.

A queen among station wagons. Mahogany-finished steel panels give woodlike beauty to this luxurious, 8-passenger dreamboat.

There's more than meets the eye as to why Ford Station Wagons sell more than the two runners-up combined! Their Thunderbird beauty is apparent in all six models. But underneath that beauty there's a heart of "GO"—for the Thunderbird Y-8 engine is the standard eight in all Ford Station Wagons, at no extra cost. If you need any more reasons why Ford is your soundest station wagon buy—look into new Lifeguard Design which was designed for your protection . . . is found only in the '56 Ford.

THREE WITH 2 DOORS

Parklane
Brand-new and carpeted throughout, this 2-door, 6-passenger dandy has limousine comfort and doesn't mind rolling up its sleeves.

Ranch Wagon
This favorite has two wide doors, easily seats 6 people. As in other models, lift gate and tail gate can be operated easily with one hand.

four girls share a bath and the large size is a better buy as it would be in a family.

"Mrs. Maude Herman, RN, was our official hostess, as Miss Anthony was away on official business. She said, 'We are trying to make homemakers, not professional women out of our girls. Therefore, our aim and desire is to teach them the same things that a good mother would teach her daughter; how to do all the things around the home.'

"Continuing, she said, 'We want them to know how to do their jobs well, learn gracious living, and be prepared to be a good wife and mother when the time comes.' Concerning their religious activities, she stated, 'We aren't concerned with making church members of our girls, only Christians.'

"Miss Anthony employs only mothers as workers here as she feels we have a better understanding of children. She says that 'one old maid in a household is enough.'

"Another thing, we learned was that each girl has a week's vacation each summer. One of the adult workers and 14 girls go at a time, to a cabin at Ruidoso,

N. M. The week is spent doing what the group decides to do. This enables the girls to talk to their school mates and church friends about their 'vacation.' An insignificant thing, some might say. But I remember hearing this among my own friends when I was small.

The teacher asked us to write a theme about our vacation this summer, and I was the only one in the class that had not had a vacation. So, I think this only helps to make them better citizens.

The girls are given an allowance of $1 per week. Each girl takes, first, then uses her money to buy personal items, postage stamps, school needs, swimming, movie admissions and even music lessons. This year they do not as yet have a music teacher. For the past several years teachers have come there and taught. These lessons were 35 cents a lesson, since quite a group studied. The senior girls of last year bought their senior rings, and other expenses out of their allowance. Quite a challenge for these youngsters of ours who expect $5 to be doled out whenever they ask for it."

Now, faith is the substance of things hoped for. And Amelia Anthony has as her highest hope for the immediate future the possibility of dedicating the unit now under construction that will house 61 more girls of the 500 which is her long range goal for Girlstown on March 13 which will be their anniversary.

Once the building is completed on the outside there is still the need for funds to finish the interior of the walls and furnish the rooms for each girl who is to live there.

Other than money for completion of the living quarters, there are also other existing needs such as whole bolts of white curtain material from which the girls will make their own curtains for the new rooms.

All bedsprads are matched pairs for the rooms and 32 pastel shades have been used in the coverings for the beds so each room is different. The same plan will be followed in this unit.

Several clubs from Deaf Smith County have recently become interested in the support of Girlstown and if the suggestion brought home by the visitors from Cultural visitors at Girlstown by appointment and requests that clubs wishing to visit include two dates when asking for reservations so she will not have too many women scheduled at one time.

She prefers that visitors come in the morning as the afternoons are full for her big family. When the school bus comes she goes immediately to the pasture with some of the girls to look after livestock and then to help with the milking.

Family life at Girlstown is a busy life and any investment made cannot be measured in dollars and cents. Support because of faith in the girls will give the girls faith in society at Girlstown, U. S. A.

Miss Anthony is happy to have and I, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, can do for this group that is taking out problem girls and making worthwhile citizens of them. These are not delinquent girls. These are problem girls who, if they were not given a guiding hand and the opportunity to grow up in more suitable surroundings, could become delinquent girls. This is the opportunity to put your pennies and dollars into the fight against juvenile delinquency.

"Of course the big need is for building funds to complete the structure that is underway now, yet work on it is at a standstill for lack of funds. Then when that building is completed, continue the building fund to add other buildings. Added laundry equipment, especially a commercial size clothes dryer. The meals are served family-style and serving carts are needed. They have only two at this time, but with 10 tables to serve, these two are very inadequate for the purpose. Then the tablecloth problem is becoming a worry. They could use a few bolts of 72 inch white cotton damask. They would rather get it this way and let the girls make them. They use the white cloths altogether. So be sure it is white. Full bolts of white curtain material can be used also. We learned that at this time they had sufficient bed linens, etc., but did observe that they could use some new twin-size bedsprads before long.

Hints Of Caring For New-Finish Cottons Are Given By Dot Roe

By DOROTHY ROE, Associated Press Women's Editor

Life is getting easier all the time.

Newest labor-saver on the home-sewing and laundering front is a smooth-finish cotton that doesn't need ironing. This will be good news for the nation's army of home seamstresses, who love to sew on cotton, but hate the job of ironing all those pretty cotton dresses.

Here are some tips from experts at your local sewing center, telling you how to sew and care for the new dry-smooth cottons.

Because of their crisp, dry finish, no-iron cottons are unusually easy to stitch. If you are making a garment, first pull a thread to find the grain of the fabric. After the special resin finish is applied to the fabric, it is then rolled onto bolts while it is still wet. This may result in the fabric being stretched a bit. If this has happened, wash the fabric and stretch it out flat to dry. The finish will make the fabric spring back into shape.

Remove selvages before cutting. In dry-smooth cottons just as in ordinary cottons, the selvages dry more slowly than the rest of the fabric, and could result in puckering.

Make adjustments on the pattern piece before cutting. When you select trimmings, be sure that buttons, hems and eyes, thread and bindings are as washable as your fabric. Watch out for plastic buttons, which may be damaged by excessive heat.

When sewing use mercerized thread and set your machine tension slightly looser than usual. A too-tight stitch will cause puckering.

Even with no-iron cottons, it is essential to press seams as you stitch. Use a steam iron. You will find that pressing as you sew, along seams and facings, will mold the garment to shape so you will not have to worry about ironing it again.

Here are suggestions on washing and drying the garment. Wash by machine or by hand, but never wring the garment. Use any soap or detergent, but avoid chlorine bleaches. When drying, hang the garment on a hanger, dripping wet and smooth collars and cuffs with your fingers.

The finish on a no-iron cotton makes it absorb less water than an ordinary cotton. Therefore, it will wrinkle less on a humid day and will stay clean longer.

Want To Be Unpopular? Just Follow These Rules

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures

What's your popularity rating for school semester '55? It's something to think about. Last year I was unpopular because girls seemed to dislike me and boys never asked me for dates. On one occasion a blind date found an excuse to leave right after he was introduced to me. What do I do that frightens people away?

That's a difficult question to answer, not knowing the girl. The opinions of some discerning young men were sought in trying to determine some answers for this sad lass. More than 10 boys were questioned in a "What's the matter with Maggie?" poll. Here are some of the answers, worth thinking about before you settle down to serious school work. The boys say that Maggie's trouble could have been:

Too much makeup—all boys will agree it's embarrassing to date a girl who drools her makeup—lipstick, mascara, rouge or whatever. Too plump for slacks—one pet peeve is girls in slacks, but particularly odd shaped girls such as lanky or short and dumpy types. The boys seem to have no objection to blue jeans worn for serious play.

Loud Talker — Irritates them to end, particularly if the girl has a husky voice.

Off-Color Jokes — Do not like to hear them from girls, and in particular do not like their date to tell one in a large group.

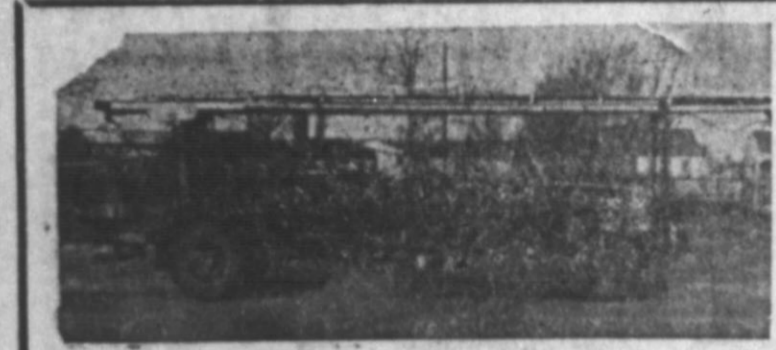

Table Hopping — One way to give a man an inferiority complex or make him fighting mad.

Gossip — Especially about popular girls. These girls are put in the jealous category by the boys on the theory that "they have no other way to fight the popular girl."

Cigarette Smoking — It isn't that the boys object to the smoking, it's the way it is done apparently. One lad says it nauseates him to see a girl with a cigarette dangling out of her mouth while she talks, another objects to a girl carrying a cigarette outdoors whether to get in a car or stroll down the street. Tapping a cigarette nervously on an ashtray is another way to get on a man's nerves apparently.

Bossiness — The girl who always wants the crowd to give in to her whims doesn't stand a chance with the boys. Men are fearful of bossy women.

Sloppiness... Dirty shoes, or crooked stocking seams, slip showing, shoulder straps hanging down under sleeve are all male annoyances. Long stringy hair makes them hopping mad apparently. Ditto frizzy hairdoes.

Clinging Vines—Acts as if she has got him in a net. The lads definitely do not like a girl who spends the entire time at a party leaning on them, refusing other dances and expecting her date to dance every one with her.

Nervousness — Fidgety types are definitely taboo. One boy says he "can't bear the sight of a girl biting her finger-nails," another deplores hair twisting, still another is repulsed by girls who squirm about in their chairs.

Masculine Traits — The girl who walks with big strides, talks like a man and even dresses like one is not popular with boys who seek femininity in women. Sometimes gets the laughs when in a crowd, but is seldom sought as a dance partner to hear the boys tell it.

Indifference — The girl who takes as a matter of course a big evening-out is very likely not to be invited again. Young men are determined to be appreciated when they spend a week's allowance on a date, and who can blame them? How to show appreciation? "Just act like you are enjoying yourself," says one young man.

For Personalized Christmas Cards All You Need Is A Good Negative

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

HERE IT IS, not even Thanksgiving and I'm going to talk about Christmas. But that's the way it is with camera fans. . . Christmas comes weeks earlier if they intend to send a personalized, hobby-eye-view of the holiday greetings.

Right now is none too soon to start concentrating on a picture idea; after that comes the problem of presentation.

One of the best things about personal cards is that making them can be geared to the skill and experience of the fan. They can range from simple contact prints to tricky creations involving multiple exposures or darkroom sleight-of-hand.

In fact, a darkroom at home isn't essential either. Camera stores can take the whole job off your hand and offer a new selection of greeting messages and styles this year. You do have to supply the picture, though. In black-and-white the original negative is necessary for best results. If you don't save and file your negatives, a copy will have to be made at extra cost and with some loss in quality that your original print had.

Special folders for color prints are becoming more popular but working with color is still fairly expensive. You can figure that the cards with color prints will cost from three to four times what the black-and-white will cost and will take at least a week longer to process.

But whether in black-and-white or in color, a simple contact or by a tricky printing process, an effective card must have a good photo of general interest. Family pictures should have animation, in expression if it doesn't show action. A current pictorial shot or this year's favorite vacation memento might also be used if you don't want to depend on the outcome of a fresh topical idea.

UNDOUBTEDLY, a good many camera fans will make an attempt at a special holiday card and are frantically searching for a brand new idea. The fact remains that if they adapt the reliable, time-tested situations of the past to their own family and do a good job of lighting and posing they will have a new, fresh picture. For holiday appeal you can't beat the perennial symbolism of the fireplace and children in pajamas, carol singing, Yuletide decorations and activities or the dignity of religious, feeling in a photo.

A simple photo set-up is one that corations and activities or the dig-part of the picture. The classic examples are children writing on a blackboard, at an artist's easel, on a typewriter or an oversize package label or arranging the last few letters of a greeting spelled out by alphabet blocks. Done before? Sure, but the classics will always be with us and it can be done better than before.

Situations involving the television screen have also been a favorite these past few years but this year you might play with wide, wide photos to be different, especially if your specialty is home movies.

THERE HAVE BEEN several variations of neighborly greetings using the front door as the main theme. One is a combination paste-up of two separate photos. The overall shot shows a straight-on view of the outside door with holiday wreath and welcome mat prominently displayed. The door is cut on three edges and actually swings open on the hinge side. As it opens, it reveals a separate photo of the family. This is pasted on the rear of the large photo so it is framed in the open doorway.

Another use of the theme involves printing two separate views—the front of the card shows a couple or a family about to enter a house through the half open door. All you can see of them is a side rear view. When the greeting card is opened up, using the French-fold method, the other side reveals the couple or the family head on. This second view is taken from inside the house. The message would illustrate, "Just dropped in to say Merry Christmas" in visual form.

A great many ingenious pictures are made by using cut-out photos of members of the family in combination with holiday objects. For instance a youngster could be sitting on a single tree ornament or the family, in miniature, could be busy with the various gadgets of a monster camera or working on huge Christmas packages. It would be done by photographing the subjects in appropriate action separately. Mount the prints on cardboard and cut them out with a razor. Set the little figures on the real objects and photograph the combination.

BLANKET BINDING TRIM — New use for a familiar trim. The jersey blouse is easy to make and fun to wear.

Home Sewing Fans Use Original Trims

AP Newsfeatures

The woman with the most original clothes is often the woman who sews her own.

Even the amateur home seamstress may draw inspiration from surprising sources. For example, a length of acetate satin blanket binding has been used by one bright home sewing fan to find neckline and cuffs of a simple jersey blouse, with distinguished effect.

Local sewing center experts suggest that you make a blouse from any simple pattern. Then instead of using facings or narrow binding select blanket binding in a matching color. Don't try a contrasting color because there is sufficient contrast in the textures of the two fabrics.

The blanket binding, which is resistant to fading, comes already folded and ready to stitch. Pin it in place, being careful to miter the corners neatly. If you plan to apply it with straight stitching, put the pins in crosswise; the hinged presser foot of your sewing machine will skip right over the pins, eliminating the necessity for basting.

It is suggested, however, that an edging of decorative stitching can be very effective. If you'd like to add a decorative touch, set your machine for a long basting stitch, just to hold the binding in place. Then select a pretty stitch such as

WOOD BLEACHING

DO . . . for best results, use a commercial wood bleach even if you have heard that somebody did a satisfactory job with a homemade bleach. DO . . . carefully follow the directions which come with the type bleach you purchase. Because different types are applied in different ways. DO . . . consider a trick sometimes used by professionals—bleaching the wood even lighter than necessary and then using just a touch of a non-grain-raising stain to give the wood exactly the right tint. DO . . . cover such a stain with a coat of white shellac, diluted half and half with denatured alcohol, followed by varnish, lacquer or whatever finish you desire. DO . . . be certain to remove all hardware from the piece of furniture being bleached so that the metal will not be marred.

is the name given to the lightening of wood by the use of chemicals; it should not be confused with the lightening of wood by the application of a pigmented undercoat.

DON'T . . . attempt to bleach over an old finish, which must first be thoroughly removed.

DON'T . . . neglect a thorough washing of the wood after the bleaching is completed; the directions will tell you what to use for the washing.

DON'T . . . fail to wear rubber gloves during the entire bleaching process.

DON'T . . . try to bleach wood with the hydrogen peroxide ordinarily used as an antiseptic; it simply isn't strong enough.

Please Pass The Griddle Cakes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

EAT AND ENJOY puffy baked griddle cakes with Cranberry Maple Sauce.

SPRINKLE fresh cranberries over pancake batter.

Hot off the griddle! Puffy pancakes dotted with fresh cranberries are a delight because the little garnet fruit adds texture, color and flavor to the bland batter. Served with a delectable Maple Cranberry Sauce, the hot cakes make wonderful eating for breakfast, lunch, or supper.

This sauce combination is so good because the fruit's refreshing tartness offsets the maple syrup's sweetness. Although butter is called for in the sauce recipe, it may be omitted and instead spread between and on top of the hot cakes in the usual way.

Here's a mixing trick. Prepare the pancake batter the night before, omitting the baking powder called for in the recipe, and store the batter in the refrigerator. In the morning, sprinkle the baking powder over the batter and quickly beat it in.

And another tip. Do your mixing in a 1½ or 2-qt. pitcher-type measure. (If you are storing the batter cover the measure with aluminum foil.) When you are ready to bake the pancakes, pour the batter right onto the griddle.

Fresh cranberries are available in the fall, of course. But nowadays, what with modern home freezers, the berries can be frozen so as to last throughout the year. No fuss or bother to freeze! Simply place the unopened package of cranberries, when you bring it home from the food market, into your freezer. No need to thaw the frozen berries; use them as you would fresh berries. Frozen cranberries do not stick together; they are easier to cut, chop and grind than the fresh berries.

Ingredients: 2 cups maple syrup, 2 cups (½ lb.) fresh cranberries, 1-4 cup butter or margarine.

Method: Put syrup and cranberries into a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Continue boiling until berries pop open—about 5 minutes. Stir in butter and serve over Cranberry griddle cakes. Makes 2 cups sauce.

Make Thanksgiving Dinner Easy

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

How easy can the cook make kitchen life this Thanksgiving holiday? One answer: it depends on how she takes advantage of market shortcuts in preparing that big dinner.

Turkey first! If you engage one of the plump Beltsville - type birds you won't have to do any trussing. That's because these turkeys are prepared for the roasting pan with a low-cut band that holds the legs in shape. Thaw the bird, allowing a couple of days in your refrigerator; then remove the legs from the band and stuff the body and neck cavities. After stuffing, slip the legs back into the band. A single skewer will fold the neck skin back and keep in the dressing there. The bird is ready for the oven!

CHESTNUT STUFFING goes into Thanksgiving Turkey.

As to the stuffing itself. We find the 8-ounce packages of prepared herb-seasoned bread stuffing excellent. For a quick and delicious dressing, melt half a cup of butter or margarine in a cup of hot stock; stir in the stuffing and a cup of chopped cooked chestnuts. (The chestnuts, ready - prepared in jars, are available in some markets.) Of course if you do want to start from scratch, you can use the following recipe for Chestnut Dressing.

We usually bake some white potatoes in their skins along with the turkey. Then we use canned sweet potatoes for those eaters who must have this variety of spuds at holiday time.

And other vegetables? Canned cooked small white onions are a great boon. We serve them in a well-seasoned white sauce with green peas or snap beans (canned or frozen) and some strips of canned drained pimiento. Or we offer a vegetable medley — onions, sauce, the peas or snap beans (or both) and also canned drained whole-kernel corn. (We utilize the liquid from the peas, snap beans and corn in the white sauce.) If you do not use the gay strips of pimiento, sprinkle a little paprika over the vegetable pot-pourri before serving.

We are likely to omit a salad after a big holiday main course of turkey and fixings and instead serve a relish tray. Celery, carrot strips, radishes, olives and gherkins often go on this; also fennel (finocchio) if it is available. A bowl of whole cranberry sauce and a plate of sliced jellied cranberry sauce are on the tray, too. (The cranberry sauce is either canned or homemade.)

For dessert, you will probably want to buy or bake your own pumpkin pie. At recent Thanksgiving dinners, we have prepared a pumpkin chiffon pie filling according to a rule of our First Lady, Mamie Eisenhower. But we add our own touch by putting the filling in a Brazil nut pie shell. If you like to splurge with a second dessert at Thanksgiving, you might add vanilla ice cream with ready-prepared Nesselrode Sauce to the menu.

CHESTNUT DRESSING

Ingredients: 1-3 cup butter or margarine, 1½ cups finely chopped onion, 1½ cups finely chopped celery, 8 cups dry bread cubes (½ inch), 1 cup chopped cooked chestnuts, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning, ½ teaspoon sage (if desired), 1 egg, 1-4 cup water.

Method: Melt butter in a 10-inch skillet over low heat; cook onion and celery in butter, stirring often, until wilted and partly tender. Put bread cubes into a large pan; spoon butter mixture over the bread. Add chestnuts and mix well.

Stir salt, pepper, poultry seasoning and sage (if used) together; sprinkle over bread. Beat egg thoroughly; beat in water. Add egg mixture to bread and toss all together with two forks. Stuff turkey with dressing at once and roast. Makes 9 cups dressing, enough to stuff a 12-pound bird.

Thanksgiving Table Tricks Make Feast Taste Better

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

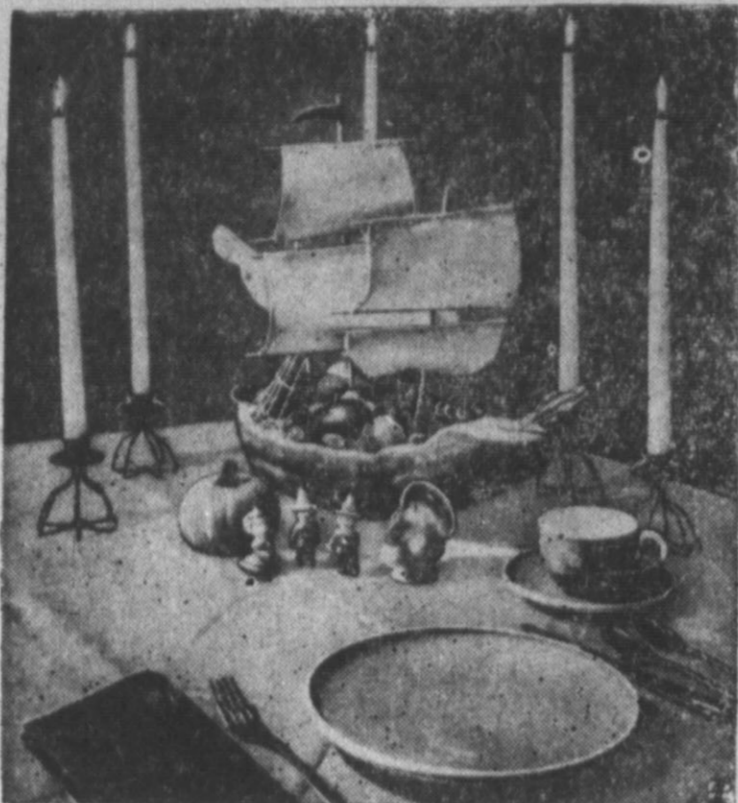

Thanksgiving dinner spells feast. It's a meal that makes gourmets and gourmands indistinguishable. Mom goes all out planning the table for this big meal of the year. The best linen, silver and china are used. Candles are burned. The centerpiece is a work of art. The food has been prepared with loving hands. It is traditionally a family dinner when lots are drawn for drumsticks, and first-come, first-served is the order of the day for white meat.

It's the girls usually — daughters, cousins, sisters, aunts—who help prepare the table. The cornucopia, a traditional harvest symbol is a popular centerpiece for the occasion with apples, cherries, grapes, acorn squash, and plums spilling out their plenty. Wicker horns may be used, left natural, or painted to harmonize with linen and dinner ware.

Another delightful centerpiece, new and different, is the Mayflower made this way:

Use a Hubbard squash 18 or 20 inches long, cut in half and carved out for the ship. Put three 18-inch taper light candles in the middle for masts and two 15-inch candles on each end. Use lightly starched oxford cloth to make little sails, hemming them so that wooden dowels may be inserted for the rigging. Attach to candle "masts." Fill the ship with the bounty of fruits and nuts and surround it with little Puritan boy and girl candles dressed in their best Thanksgiving attire. Miniature replicas of plump white turkeys and fat pumpkins are delightful candle decorations around the centerpiece. You will find enchanting ideas for individual place settings, no doubt. A trail of Autumn leaves around the table is pretty. Or Autumn leaves placed from each setting to the centerpiece is a good idea. Colorful corn may be used. Ditto gourds. Perhaps you'd like to use a Puritan candle at each place. Or perhaps you'll scoop out an apple, place a candle in it and surround the apple with cranberries for each setting.

Lots of interesting ideas may be scooped up to keep the table light burning bright on Thanksgiving day, but be sure you plan it all in advance. It is so much fun for the family to sit down to the big feast of the year at a pretty table.

This Year Has Been Good to Us. Our Country Is At Peace. Our harvests have been bountiful!

Some of us may have wished for more. But in no other country in the world have a people enjoyed the abundance that we, in America, take for granted. From the dawn of recorded history mankind has turned to God to give thanks for His bounty at the close of the harvest season.

Let us not forget His goodness. Let us be Thankful for our many blessings!

Here's Reason For Bear's Stare: They Hunt For Big Game Like You

There's a good reason why a man and a grizzly bear may exchange thoughtful and similar stares, even when they meet in a zoo. They're both big game hunters.

And that is an activity in which, historically, the question of which was the hunter and which the hunted might differ in the opinions of the respective participants. Whoever put on the napkin, come dinner time, was right.

The big game hunter of today needs to be nearly as much of a woodsman as his grandfather and much more so than the bird shooter. With retreating frontiers, much of the big game population is found in areas where a trip by foot, boat or horse is in order.

This is the case with bighorn sheep, with mountain goats, with elk and bear and with those fortunate enough to pick up the comparatively few permits that still give a hunter a chance at moose and buffalo.

However, it's not the case with deer—unless you want it to be. Many hunters do, as they plan their deer trips as extensively as others plan for caribou. With deer, both the eastern white tail and the western mule deer, so widely distributed that about half the states provide deer hunting for a resident hunter within a day's reach of his front door, the hurry-up hunt of a day or a weekend has become the rule rather than the exception.

And that, perhaps, is why there is more room for improvement in

Duckling Makes Elegant Holiday Meal

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
If roast duck is your choice for Thanksgiving dinner, you can give it festive accompaniments. Wild rice and frozen green asparagus tips, for instance, will help make an elegant menu. So will candied whole cranberries arranged in scalloped orange shells. To ladle over the fine rich duck meat, serve an orange-flavored brown sauce. The members of our own family like this sauce because they are gravy addicts—and the sauce's consistency, color and flavor are akin to good gravy.
For your salad, we suggest a simple one of crisp greens. Garnish the salad, if you like, with half moon slices of avocado. Over the greens pour a good dressing—three parts olive oil, one part of white or red wine vinegar, salt, cracked pepper and prepared Bahama-type mustard. The cracked pepper is put up by a West-coast spice firm and comes in small glass bottles; it's an addition to any green salad.

SMOOTH BROWN SAUCE, holding strips of orange peel and segments of the fresh fruit, conveys with duckling to make dinner sumptuous.

Along with traditional pumpkin pie, serve a bowl of apples, bananas and grapes plus whole walnuts to be cracked at everyone's leisure. No oranges in the bowl, please, because of the orange-flavored sauce served with the duck. The fruit and nut arrangement will this sport than in most other kinds of hunting. You do not become a skilled woodsman in a weekend. All big game animals are skilled in woods craft, as you will find out soon enough.

Your greatest advantage — and your responsibility — is the weapon you use. The big game rifle is no shotgun. It will kill at a yard and kill at a mile so if you don't know exactly what you're shooting at you'd best not shoot.

In general, most states will thank you to hunt big game with rifles of .25 caliber or above, to reduce useless crippling of animals left to die. For deer hunting a short barreled, fast handling rifle that can be put quickly on a moving target is in order. A wide aperture hunting peep is the popular sight.

For great distances and shooting on the plains, the bolt action rifle and the scope sights are best. This kind of shooting also calls for the flat trajectory, high velocity calibres like the old stand-by .30-06, the similar NATO .308 and the .270.

Now you have the formula: A little time, a little learning, a little practice and a little opportunity, and you are on your way to better hunting.

do double duty as a table centerpiece.

Some cooks like a low temperature of 325 degrees for roasting the duck; others like at least 350 degrees. If you use the low temperature, you may wish to brush the duckling with a mixture of honey and vegetable bouquet sauce a half hour or so before the bird is tender. Or you may want to omit the brushing, and raise the temperature during the last half hour of roasting in order to brown and crisp the skin.

ORANGE BROWN SAUCE FOR ROAST DUCKLING

Ingredients: 1 orange, 1 lemon, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1 can (6 ounces) concentrated quick-frozen orange juice, 1 1/2 cups water, 1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 3 tablespoons cold water or cooking sherry, 2 tablespoons cornstarch.

1/2 teaspoon salt.

Method: With sharp knife peel rind (without white membrane) from orange and lemon. Cut rind into thin julienne strips about the size of toothpicks. (Cut orange into membrane-free sections and reserve; squeeze enough juice from lemon to make 1 tablespoon and reserve.) Cover strips of rind with boiling water and let stand for 5 minutes and then drain. Meanwhile melt butter in saucepan. Add onion and cook 2 minutes, stirring often. Add undiluted concentrated orange juice, lemon juice, 1 1/2 cups water and kitchen bouquet. Bring to boil over moderate heat. Combine and add cold water, cornstarch and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and boils. Stir in orange sections and drained strips of peel. Serve with two roasted Long Island duckling. Makes about 2 1/2 cups.

start in decorating my new home. Do I pick out paint colors first? Or would it be best to start with fabrics, furniture, rugs? My family passed along a mahogany knee-hole desk, a bleached mahogany coffee table and a maple commode as well as a dark gray living room rug which will just fit the new room. But I don't know how to begin planning out the house."

This lady is in a normal dilemma. If she tries to use the varied woods she has been gifted with, her living room certainly will look like a hodge-podge. On the other hand, the dark gray rug will go with many colors.

She'll have to make this decision before she goes any further: Does she enjoy light or dark woods? She will then need to build around her selection, discarding or painting the other items of furniture.

Fruitwood, walnut, beechwood, pine and even maple may be frequently used together. Ditto pickled, bleached woods. Dark mahog- anies and perhaps rosewood are compatible. Mom's castoff furniture then may be painted and used as an accent in the room after colors are chosen.

THE NEXT STEP is to choose a color scheme. Try to stick to three colors and tones if you must add to them, keeping in mind that large doses of warm shades are ideal on the north side of the house while small doses of cool shades are ideal on the south side.

After the preliminary color selection (it is best not to decide definitely until you figure out the entire scheme with swatches of drapery and upholstery materials; choose the rug. If the castoff rug doesn't go with the colors you like you'll be happier without the rug, unless you find another set of colors you'd enjoy just as much that will blend in with the rug color scheme. If you can afford it, discard things you don't like, and don't use them even temporarily. What's the point of a dreary outlook?

are dark. Strong colors are best limited to small chairs or settees. Large sofas should be in neutral tones. A light gray sofa would harmonize fine with a dark gray rug, and gray goes with many colors. If you are choosing an old piece of furniture to paint, a desk, commode or sofa table is your best bet, although if very high fashion colors are used in the room even coffee tables and end tables may be painted in a high style color. Cheerful colors include yellow, turquoise, camelia. White is popular again as a wall color—particularly chic in a small room.

Phillips-Olton Battle Set Friday At Plainview

The Phillips Blackhawks and the Olton Mustangs will meet Friday at Plainview in an all important bi-district clash. Representatives of the two schools met in Amarillo Saturday and worked out data for the clash which will see the Blackhawks given only a small edge.

Coach Joe Turner of Olton won all four flips, while Phillips' Chestnut had to accustom himself to losing. Walker's Hawks have not lost a game since being downed by Ballinger in the 1953 quarterfinals. Phillips ended the year with a 9-0-1 record, the slate being marred only by a tie with Dumas. They rolled over five other conference opponents and four non-conference foes. The Olton Mustangs started out somewhat slowly against some rugged competition, then opened up when district play came around.

They won five in a row, the latest being a 13-6 victory over Dimmit. The district clincher was a 13-0 victory over the Littlefield Wildcats.

Phillips rolled up an average of 49 points per game, while allowing opponents only an average of 6.6. The Mustangs allowed only 12 points in conference play.

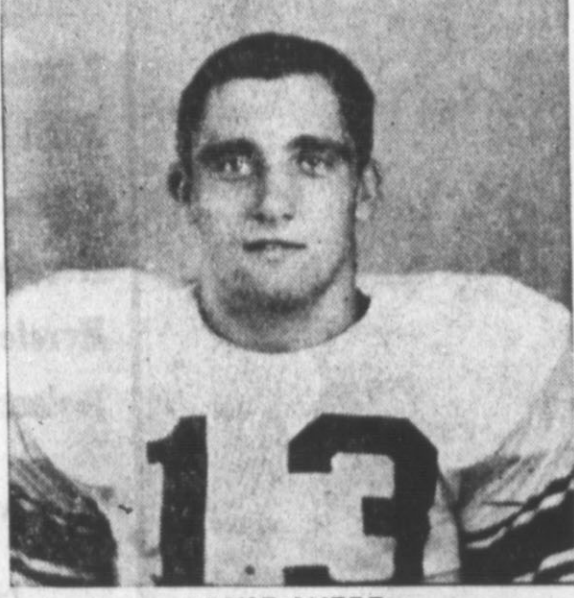

The game will start at 2 p.m. Tickets will sell for $1.50 and 50 cents, and all seats will be reserved.

Turner, with his lucky coin, won four flips. He won the playoff while Phillips breaks tradition, and will wear white jerseys. Selection of officials has not been made yet.

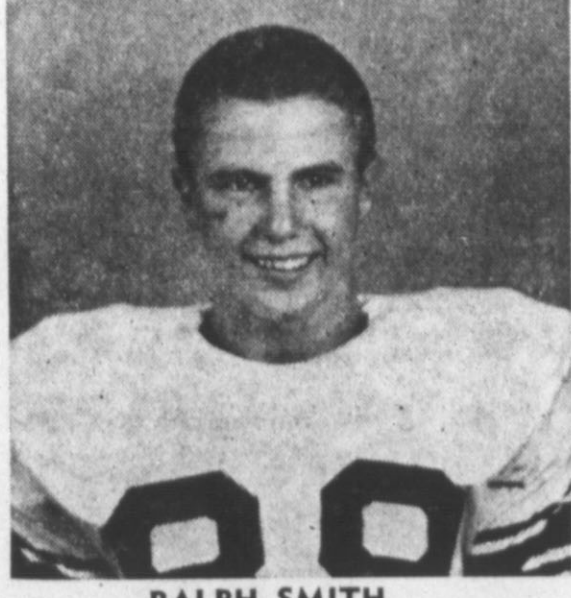

Present at the meeting were: Carl Macon and Lee Johnson, superintendents of the two schools; J.L. Kimmins, Phillips principal; Chesty Walker and Joe Turner, head coaches of Olton and Phillips.

EIGHT WINS, TWO LOSSES

Herd Completes Successful Year

The football season just completed by the Hereford Whitefaces was one of the more successful in recent years. Hereford won eight while losing two.

The only two losses were to Phillips and Perryton. The Hawks trampled Hereford, 73-27, and Perryton upset the Whitefaces 19-7.

The Herd wound up in a tie for second with the Dumas Demons in the final district standings.

The Herd possessed a very fine average of 32.5 points per game and allowed their opponents an average of 17.1. Hereford's defense blanked only one opponent, the Tulla Hornets, all year. Hereford never was held scoreless.

The Whitefaces scored more points on the Phillips Blackhawks than any other team in the district. Hereford scored 27 points on the Hawks. Dumas scored 20 on the Hawks and Canyon tallied 19.

Muleshoe was the first opponent in the pathway of the Whitefaces. That obstacle was brushed away by the tune of 47-7 in a very impressive opening game for Hereford. It was the first of four straight victories for Hereford.

The next victory was over the tough Littlefield Wildcats by the close score of 14-13. Littlefield last year trampled the Herd, 40-13, and the battle was somewhat of a grudge battle for the Whitefaces. It was one of the toughest games of the year.

After that the next two games saw the Whitefaces win comparatively easy. The weak Tulla Hornets were no match; they fell by 46-0. The Hornets were the only team all year not to score on the Whitefaces.

The Portales team presented no major obstacle, either, as they fell 52-19. The Rams went on to win district in New Mexico before being defeated in their bi-district clash.

Next came the all-important Phillips clash. After building up the impressive string of victories, the Whitefaces were given a fairly good chance against the Hawks. But Phillips had other ideas and whipped the Herd to the tune of 73-27.

Apparently Perryton had ideas like Phillips because their 19-7 victory was the second straight loss for the Whitefaces. Hereford was favored before game time. The two teams fought to a 20-20 tie the year before. The Hereford slate after that, Dumas was spotted very handily by the Whitefaces, 33-13 in what was termed as an upset.

Shamrock was battered by 53-7 and the Canyon Eagles were also upset, 20-14 in a game which saw Hereford completely outplay the Eagles even more so than the score indicated.

After resting a week, the Whitefaces subdued the surprising Daltart Wolves, 26-6, to end the season. Ten seniors played their last game, a contest which saw Hereford come from behind to win.

Breckenridge Bucks Picked As Winners

In a recent poll conducted by the sports department of The Brand, the Breckenridge Buckaroos were favored by a large majority to take the AA state championship.

The Bucks were favored over three other teams, Killeen, Phillips, and Stamford. They more than doubled their nearest competitor, the Killeen Bearcats. Phillips and Stamford were next in that order.

Fifty-four percent of the people asked favored Breckenridge; 20 percent leaned toward Killeen; 18 percent picked the Phillips Blackhawks; and Stamford was favored by only eight percent of those asked.

Phillips was the No. 1 team in the state for six straight weeks

The Killeen Bearcats are now lodged in the top spot. Phillips last year defeated the Bearcats, 21-14, in the state finals. Nine starters from that team are returning, and experts are now giving them the nod.

Stamford is rated as a possible darkhorse. They have marched to nine straight triumphs, several of the victories being over respected AAA delegations. They will probably meet the Phillips Blackhawks in the regional clash. The winner of that game will probably play Breckenridge.

KNOY'S KNOTTINGS

By BILL KNOX

Hawk Edge Isn't Too Big

The Phillips-Olton game may be somewhat closer than a lot of people think it will be.

The general point of view has been that Phillips football has been declining somewhat lately. Everybody scratched their heads when Perryton held them to a 14-0 score. Then the supreme upset took place when the rejuvenated Dumas Demons tied the Hawks, 20-20. They returned to normal by stomping Shamrock. Then they were played a very much closer game than expected by the Canyon Eagles while winning, 34-19.

But it's rugged to beat Phillips no matter how good a team the Hawks have. They are so used to winning that they don't know what it is to lose a game. They have a tradition to uphold, and they usually carry out the assignment successfully.

Olton may have the team to give the Blackhawks a tussle. However, the Mustangs are young and lack experience. They'll have another potent delegation next year and will probably win their district again. But they won't get to play Phillips because the Hawks were promoted to AAA for next year.

So we're going to be among the majority; we'll pick Phillips by four touchdowns.

Stamford Favored Heavily

Burkburnett was unlucky enough to win the district three championship and gain the right to meet the Stamford Bulldogs. They're lucky in the fact that they did win the district crown but

Blackhawks, Whitefaces Dominate All-District

The Phillips Blackhawks and Hereford Whitefaces completely dominated the first Hereford Brand All-District team.

Phillips had five, Hereford three, Perryton two, and Canyon one, on the team announced today. Daltart, Shamrock, and Dumas were the only teams not to land a spot on the team.

The championship Hawks landed three spots in the line and two in the backfield. Hereford placed two men in the line and one in the backfield, while Perryton had one in the line and one back. Canyon's Jack Pruett, the team's only representative, is a center.

At ends, Phillips' Ralph Smith and Danny Elliston were named. Smith and Elliston both pace the district in touchdown passes caught Elliston boasting six.

The tackle spots are bolstered by 212-pound Norman Kendrick of Phillips and Martin Reid Moore of the Hereford Whitefaces. Kendrick and Moore are both seniors. Kendrick was an all-district selection last year.

Brilliant defensive star Bill Jines of Perryton and Gene Packebush of Phillips staff the guard posts. Jines has been one of the more effective defensive men in the district, while Packebush has turned in fine performances.

Canyon's Jack Pruett was named as center. The big 220-pound Pruett was the big plug in the Canyon Eagle line. He missed the final two games with a head injury received in the Hereford-Canyon game.

The backfield features speed, power, and deception. Heading the backfield list are two Phillips standouts, Jackie Webb and Stanley Wilder. Webb led AA scoring in the state of Texas while pacing the Hawks to a district title. Wilder was named on the all-district team last year.

Phillips' Wayne Smith, Smith steps the guard post. The other member of the backfield is powerful Jimmy Todd of the Perryton Rangers. Todd scored over 80 points while leading the Perryton attack.

Cage Workouts Get Underway

Basketball workouts got well underway Monday with Coach Cubby Kitchens not being too optimistic about Hereford prospects.

Kitchens will have only one returning starter, Danny Elliston, staffing his squad. He reports that a lot of his best material must go to the "B" team because of Interscholastic League rules.

At any rate, Kitchens' team may be big. Elliston and Callaway are both 6'2", and Jim Cursinger, a sophomore, is about 6'3". Terry Higgins also may make the grade along with Bill Dufur, Glenn Muttter, Leroy Morrison and Don Weeks.

A complete schedule has not been released as of yet, but, however, Kitchens reports that this year's schedule may be somewhat shorter than last years. Kitchens also reports that there will be no Hereford Invitational Tourney this year. Plans are now being completed for the district tourney to be held here.

Sunday dinner guests of the McClures were their daughters and families. Mrs. Jettie Mills and Sharon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Deavenport and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilly Gene Cotton and Gary visited Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bob Nelson at Bovina.

Thanksgiving Day . . .

Regardless of how you celebrate it, means much to America!

The custom started 334 years ago -- and has continued to grow down through the years because it was a tradition worthy of our country -- and our people.

IT IS WITH THESE THINGS IN MIND THAT WE PAUSE TO SAY . . .

"THANK YOU, FRIENDS,
May Your Day be a Joyous One"

Flake canned kippers after removing the skins. Add the flaked kippers to an egg filling for a good and different sandwich.

Thaw frozen scallops, drain and bread. Fry in shallow hot fat and serve with crisply - cooked bacon and cole slaw for lunch.

Pork loin roast needs a moderate (350 degrees) oven and 30 minutes per pound. Always make sure pork is cooked through.

A white-ribbed cotton stocking, child-size, makes a good cover for a rolling pin. Just cut the stocking feet off.

Get every bit of batter out of that mixing bowl! You can if you use a rubber spatula. These spatulas come in two sizes—narrow and wide.

It's a good idea to use a rack when you are preparing a pot roast; this way the meat won't stick to the bottom of the pot.

Stir a little butter and curry powder into hot cooked rice; add toasted chopped almonds and currants. Serve with curried lamb or chicken.

Always preheat a drip coffee pot before brewing coffee in it.

Ground lamb may be seasoned and broiled. Brush the lamb patties with melted butter, then place them so they are about three inches from the source of the heat. Broil until top side is well browned—about 5 minutes; turn and broil other side. Good with green peas and broiled canned pear halves filled with mint jelly.

Kitchen aid: baking soda is an excellent fire extinguisher.

WANDA GALE HOLT . . . she's still thankful

Wanda Holt Will Spend Thanksgiving At Warm Springs

Wanda Gale Holt, one of Deaf Smith County's young citizens and daughter of D. R. Holt of Hereford, will spend Thanksgiving at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, where she is undergoing treatment in an effort to overcome the effects of polio suffered Aug. 1, 1955. Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation, built and sustained by the citizens of Texas, is a hospital of physical medicine and rehabilitation. It was designed to benefit physically handicapped Texans, regardless of race, color or financial condition, and now has facilities to accommodate from 140 to 150 patients; thus extending its treatment services to many more crippled people of our state.

pork shoulder butt is a good choice for a small family. Cover the butt with water and simmer a couple of hours. Drain and stick with whole cloves; pat brown sugar over top and sides. Place in a hot oven to glaze.

Chiffonade dressing is delicious over hearts of lettuce. To prepare it, just add chopped hard-cooked egg, chopped cooked or canned beets, minced onion and parsley to French dressing.

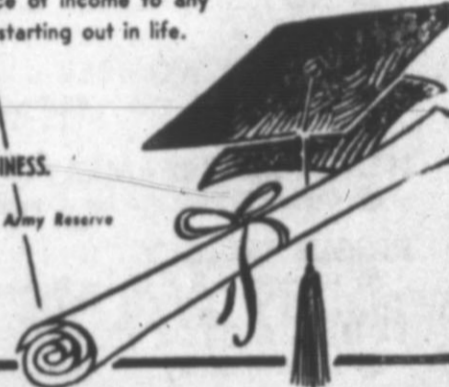

THIS year, for the first time, you, as a high school student, can start the new semester with complete peace of mind as to your future military service obligation. Your inevitable service requirement can be discharged, in many instances, in your own home town — while you continue your civilian education right at home.

High School students between the ages of 17 and 18 1/2 are directly concerned with the Reserve Forces Act of 1955. You may become draft deferred by enlisting in the Army Reserve for eight years. Only six months of that enlistment must be served in active duty training. This you may do when you complete high school, or in any event, upon reaching 20 years of age.

While serving in any Army Reserve unit, you will receive a full day's pay in the grade you attain, for each two-hour drill period you attend. With promotions and periodic increases in pay, this can become a valuable source of income to any young man starting out in life.

AND SERVICE WITH THE ARMY RESERVE IS GOOD BUSINESS.

In every land and with every religion there is the giving of thanks to the Divine Giver. Here we see a man offering thanks to his God, with wife and children joining in the simple grace at meat. Better than public and community services is this genuine family Thanksgiving. For here is where children learn to relate the gifts of the every day to the Divine Love and Goodness which carries them through the days and the nights of the year. Let's join with the church folk in praise to God; let's join with the community in some form of Thanksgiving Festival; but let's not forget to do this genuine and proper act of praise in the home circle. Give thanks!

Children are awed by the great Festival. They are impressed with the public service of praise, as a pageant of worship and of dependence. But here at the home table they will learn to speak praise in their own language. Here they will form the habit of saying "Thanks" for the simple and everyday good things. Here is born that sense of reverence and of awe which is the very core of religion. Girls and boys who look thus to God daily and are glad for His goodness will not run the risk of being afraid of the Loving Kindness that blesses through the years. "O, come let us give thanks unto the Lord; for He is Good, and His mercy endureth forever." A-men.

This Bride Outranks Groom

CORONA, Calif. (AP) — When a pretty lieutenant marries a handsome ensign, does the groom salute the bride?

This was the question asked by guests at the recent wedding of Lt. (jg) Fayrene Dietert and Ensign Jay Clifford Smout, at the U. S. Naval Hospital. The problem had not arisen here before. This was the first marriage between two officers of the Navy's Medical Service Corps since its establishment in 1947.

When asked what effect the differences in their ranks might have in their home life, the bride said there would be no difference, as women automatically outrank everybody else within their own homes.

Ensign Smout got off to a good start by remaining silent.

The Breckenridge Buckaroos, winner of the AAA state championship for three straight years before being demoted back into AA because of lack of enrollment, have lost two games this year. However, both of these losses were to AAAA schools. One was to Abilene by 13-0 and the other to Wichita Falls, 20-6. Abilene is the No. 1 AAAA team in the state and Wichita Falls is No. 5. The Bucs are presently riding in the No. 2 spot in AA behind Killgen.

All of these teams, Breckenridge Phillips, Killgen and Stamford, are expected to have an easy time in the playoffs before meeting each other. Killgen, however, is the only one of the four schools in the lower bracket, and probably won't encounter much competition before reaching the state finals. Phillips, Breckenridge, and Stamford are all in the upper bracket.

RAID VICTIMS

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The air raid sirens howled and Richmonders generally took cover in the face of a mock bombing as three B-26 planes dived over the city. All but employees of the big Federal building on Lombardy Street. A watchman reached for the alarm to send workers to the basement shelter and sounded the fire alarm in ad.

All of the people in the building rushed out into the street.

FEMALE OF THE SPECIES
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A 58-year old Oklahoma City man may find it hard to face his friends after pleading guilty to a charge of being drunk.

His embarrassment came when he lost a four-block chase to one of the city's newest police officers, one of six women hired primarily for issuing parking tickets in the downtown business district. First the woman officer, Mildred Jones, pushed him down and after he got up, chased him four blocks until a scout car with two policemen caught them and made the arrest. "I was just making sure he didn't get away," she said.

He was given a $12 fine by Police Judge Mike Foster.

We're THANKFUL...

for our fertile Soil, which has made our Area Prosperous throughout the years.....

We're THANKFUL...

for our abundant supply of water, without which we could never have hoped for the rapid growth that our community has enjoyed....

We're THANKFUL...

for the wonderful people of this area who are responsible for the success of this business...

For These Blessings, and Many More, we give Thanks on this Thanksgiving Day!

Thanksgiving Day

but, Thanksgiving Day means more than the turkey and trimmin's... it means that we have set a day aside when we can pause and reflect, give thanks for the many good things in life that are ours here in Hereford.

An American community that is capable of expressing democracy in its truest form, the really good, the really important things are in Hereford in abundance for us. Yes, one of the first things for which we'll give thanks is our fine little city and the people that give it life.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
The Hereford Collegians journeyed to Canyon City for their game Thanksgiving and there defeated the Normal College by the score of 10-6. The weather was really too warm for good football and the quarters were reduced to 10 minutes each accordingly.

Sixteen state sanatoria, twenty-eight county hospitals and 21 municipal hospitals for tuberculosis have been erected and provided for since Jan. 1, 1909, says a bulletin of the National Association for the study and prevention of Tuberculosis, issued today.

25 Years Ago
The Panhandle will hold its first fat stock show in Amarillo March 2-5, 1931. It was decided in a meeting there Friday of representatives from a wide section. Official name of the exposition will be Amarillo Fat Stock Show and it will be conducted under auspices of five livestock associations and the Tri-State Fair. The organizations are Panhandle Livestock Producers, Panhandle Hereford Breeders, the Panhandle Swine Breeders and Panhandle Boys' and Girls' Pig clubs.

Six blocks of residence section in West Hereford are being served with a six-inch water main by the municipal water system, reaching many new homes in a district that is building up rapidly. The water extension in form of a loop, extending from the present line on 25 Mile Avenue at its junction with Kibbe Street, one block west, four blocks north on Knight Street and one block east on Brady to 25 Mile Avenue where it is joined to the main system. Nor only is ample city water being provided for the district for domestic use, but fire plugs will be set and fire protection furnished.

At The Movies

"The Kentuckian," filmed in CinemaScope and printed in Technicolor, will show Thursday and Friday at the Star.

It is a spectacular frontier adventure story, set in the rugged Kentucky wilderness of the 1820's, which stars Burt Lancaster as a man of strength who loves as hard as he fights. Other stars are Diana Lynn and Dianne Foster.

Columbia Pictures' "Cell 2455, Death Row," which dramatically tells the story of a man awaiting his own execution, will show Sunday at the Texas.

Based on the sensational best-seller actually written in Cell 2455, Death Row at San Quentin, by Caryl Chessman, the man condemned to die as the Lovers' Lane Bandit, the new screen shocker stars William Campbell and Robert Campbell and features Marian Carr and Kathryn Grant. Chessman's story is especially remarkable in that he spent more than six years in his Death Row cell, Suddenly you know how a jet pilot feels!

It happens like that when you drive this fabulous '56 Pontiac. You know you're in for a thrill the moment you hear the muted purr of the exhaust as the all-new Strato-Streak V-8 comes to life. At first you'll just want to sail along, smooth and easy, drinking in the new sensations. This long and lovely creation stops, starts, turns, moves and goes with swift and sure precision—as though in response to your wishes themselves. You lean back luxuriously, listening to the miles whisper past. Then, ahead, you see the opportunity you've been looking for . . . the highway up front arching high over a hill. You touch the accelerator lightly—and only for a moment. Instantly, that great Strato-Streak V-8 takes over. Smooth as soaring, the rush of power catapults you up and over . . . your solo flight! This is how it feels . . . seemingly limitless power at your command—smooth, effortless power for the slower pace of city driving, jet-fast in an emergency to flick you safely past loiterers on the highway. By this time you're certain—Pontiac has everything—size, beauty, roadability and with it the greatest "go" and safety ever built into a car. Drive this fabulous '56 Pontiac and find out how it feels to fly. This car will show you—fast!

Greatest "Go" On Wheels
No other car performs like a Pontiac because Pontiac alone has the Strato-Streak V-8—most modern and efficient power plant in the industry. For 1956 this great engine delivers 227 blazing horsepower! For the "go" of the year, go Pontiac!

Cruel Taunts Can Be Helpful To Girl In Longrun

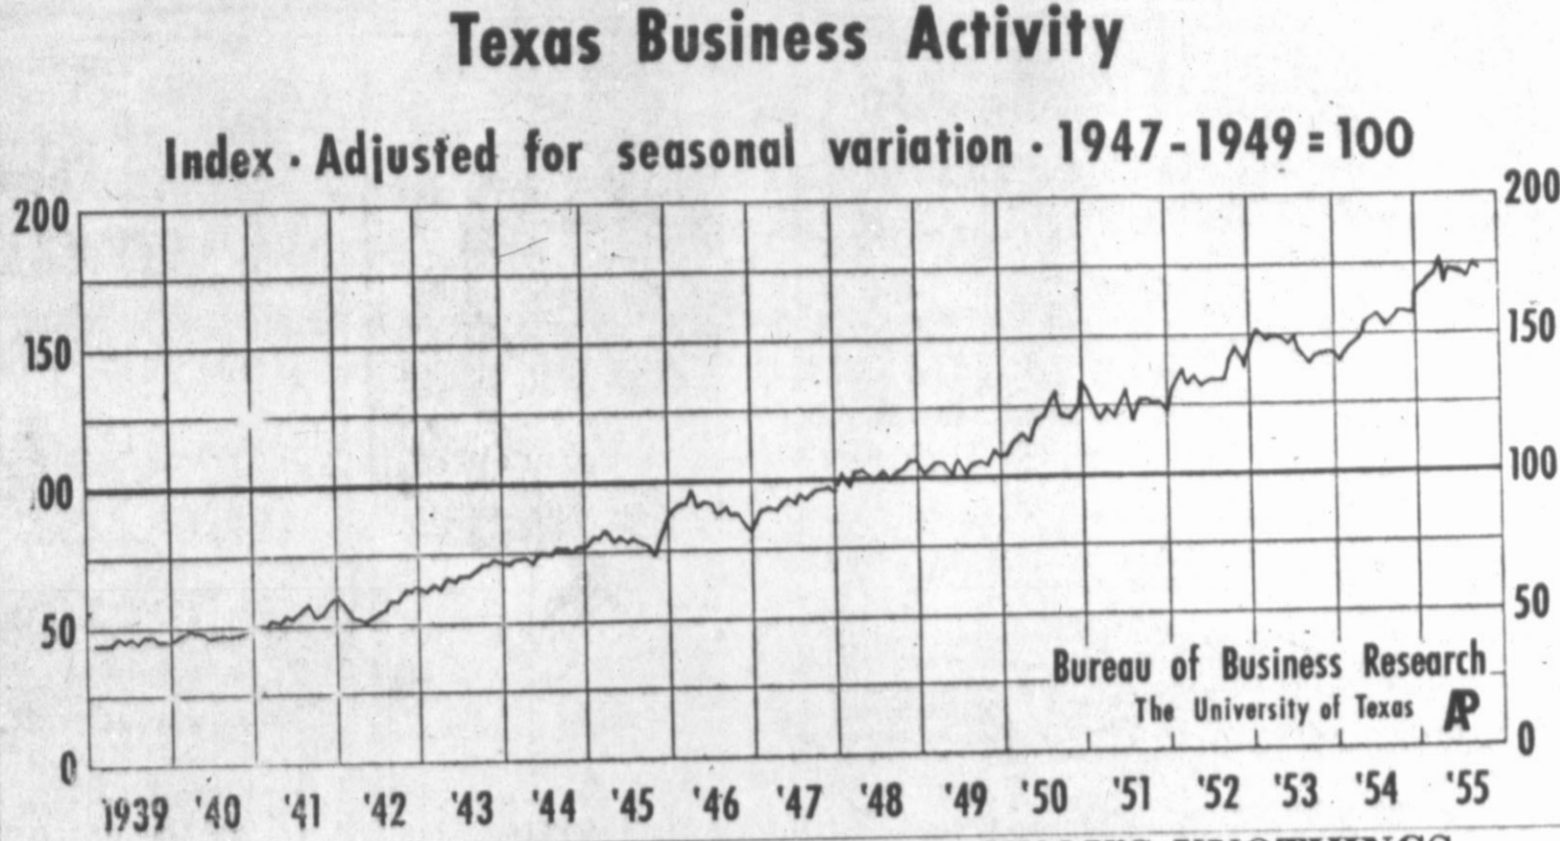

AP Newsfeatures
 "How cruel young mortals be," exclaims an awakened father, describing the anguish of his daughter subjected to cruel jibes by her classmates.
 And how right he is. It seems his 14-year-old subdeb went to gym class wearing regulation clothes which are pretty revealing. What happens? Poor girl has a spat with her best friend a few days later and is started by a retaliation of "flat-chested." Ever since, she has been moody and depressed and the entire family are worrying for fear she will develop a complex.
 Could be, but how do you cope with the situation inquires the father?

...calling is not a new idea as any Bible reader knows.
 Girls who've had the experience of being on the Catherine wheel or thrown to the lions den in their imaginations know it can be a horrible experience — at the time. But now older and wiser they say "If only we'd laughed at the entire thing—who cares? What difference does it make if the tongue lashers call you chubby?"

One girl tabbed "skinny" says "I thought I'd die at first and did everything to gain weight, and then one day a friend of my mother's said 'I wish I had your figure' and after that I sized the whole thing up—it was only the plump girls who were jealous."
 A silver lining is almost always present when you are a target for a surly remark.

Take the girl who was labeled "buck teeth" by her friends. She did something about it. A few visits to an orthodontist, braces and in later years she turned out to be a toothpaste ad.

Or take another girl who was called "bowlegs" by rude students—she won a beauty contest in later years, because she spent so much time massaging and primping her legs that...

Other girls recite their high school and college-day tremors when such remarks as "pigeon toes," "knock-knees" sent shivers down their spines. But all of them profited by the experience, they say. After all, if it hadn't been for the name calling they might have been spared the knowledge that they were on the verge of a small defect. But being able to concentrate on it, they managed to improve it above the norm.

If a small-bosomed girl feels embarrassed about it, she can exercise to help matters along, and being conscious of it, can find built-up bras to round out her gym suit or evening dress.

MOOSE ARE RINGERS

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—The city's public museum, which exhibits just about every mammal in Michigan, has been caught with three imposters—a moose bull, a cow and a calf.

The three came from Wyoming because, say museum officials, it is easier to bag the animals on a Wyoming hunting trip than to unsmear the red tape surrounding Michigan's protected herd on Isle Royale.

PERFORATED PARAKEET

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Prissy, pet parakeet of Dr. and Mrs. Orin McMillan, pecked too hard at its breast feathers and perforated its craw.

A doctor sewed it up several times but Prissy reopened it every time. So Mrs. McMillan sewed Prissy a vest out of a nylon scrap, fitted that's as far as it goes.

 We're also going to give the Bulldogs a potent edge over Curkburnett—about the same as the one we gave the Phillips Blackhawks. It's not the usual practice for a team to be more than a one touchdown favorite in any playoff game, but we think the Bulldogs have too much for any AA team in the state.
 That's saying quite a bit when one thinks of Breckenridge, Killeen, and Phillips. To say the truth, Stamford is rated lowest of the four teams mentioned. But plenty of times you'll see a dark horse, such as Stamford certainly is, come up and win the state championship.
 We've talked plenty about Breckenridge, Killeen, Phillips, and Stamford. Now watch "Podunk" run over all of them.

Thanksgiving Day, 1955

MAY THE SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING PREVAIL IN YOUR HEART

There's something wonderful when you sit down to meditate over you many blessings, that when you commemorate THANKSGIVING DAY you are taking part in one of the oldest truly American acts of faith—the humble offering of thanks to God for His Blessings on us—all. And it's good to realize that today, so many years after the first Thanksgiving, we Americans can still give Thanks in a land where our Faiths and our Freedoms stands as firm as the Plymouth Rock.

Let's make it our job to preserve the good life for our Children's Children, just as our Fathers kept it for us.

Use Of Practice Doll Can Help Your Picture Taking

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

A leading specialist in the field of child photography, Josef Schneider urges use of a practice doll, about the size of a small child to help gain proficiency in the work. After preliminary training in handling and photographing a doll, the student will be better prepared to cope with a live, wriggling child, he says.

"Unlike fashion, sports, news or other specialized fields of photography," he told me, "child photography is a field in which subjects are available everywhere at all times. They're no further than your own house, or your neighbor's. It is a field of perpetual demand because parents, publications and advertisers all want good photos of youngsters — not once, but again and again as they grow, change and do things.

"Successful child portraiture is possible," Schneider emphasized, "if two things are learned. First, good lighting. Secondly, effective methods for managing the child." He hastens to add that this is extreme simplification of the problem. He suggests beginners start with only one light.

With the model on a low platform, sitting three feet from the wall, the one light is placed four feet from the child, 15 inches to the right of the camera and 20 inches above the eye level of the child. The light is angled downward at the child's chest, not at the face, to prevent direct glare in the eyes. The camera, on a tripod, is 12 inches above the child's eye level.

This front light set-up will give well modeled features. It can also be used as the main light in conjunction with one or two black lights.

"Basic lighting set-ups for one, two or three photofloods are effective no matter which way a child turns as long as the youngster is maneuvered into a certain area," Schneider says. "The latter is done by a whole repertoire

TAKING CHILDREN'S PORTRAITS is a game with Josef Schneider that has led to success in that field. Here, in his right hand, he holds a rubber bulb on a 12-foot extension which permits him to play with the youngster, yet shoot at will, though away from the camera.

AUSTIN — After three excited years, Texas again has an official, accredited Democratic national committeeman.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's acceptance by the national committee gave Texas full representation for the first time since September, 1952. Wright Morrow was refused recognition because he supported Republican Dwight Eisenhower.

Official groups of both conservative and liberal Texas Democrats supported Ramsey. Only scattered protests were heard, one by the president of the liberal faction of the Texas Young Democratic Club.

Shivers Okays Demo Rules
Gov. Allan Shivers says he is willing to play by the rules adopted for the 1956 Democratic national convention.

He said at a news conference that he expects to be challenged, nevertheless, by a "bunch of wild-eyed pinks."

Rules set for 1956 were viewed by Shivers as being the same as in 1952. Then they required heads of delegations to work for placing the party nominees' names on the state ballot under the proper column.

Shivers said he is not surprised to hear that some old political enemies, like Stephen Mitchell, Adlai Stevenson's aide, think he should not be allowed a 1956 seat.

He held firm that he would not take any pledge to support the party nominee. "I will give no pledge to support a nominee until I know who he is," Shivers said.

He said he considers himself a "bona fide democrat" and feels it is no crime for a Democrat to vote for a Republican friend. "I consider President Eisenhower a friend of mine," the governor said. His statement was widely interpreted as indicating he might support Eisenhower again if he is a candidate.

of games, stunts, noises and toys. Different age levels of children require different combinations of tricks and gimmicks but they rivet the child's attention. Keep him in position and provoke a series of expressions which can be captured on film.

Here are some of the stunts he suggests:

A baby about a year old often thinks it hilarious if a pile of small cardboard boxes on the photographer's head topple over. Then the boxes pour him and let him push them over.

When he tires of that game, give him an old magazine and tear out one page. The idea will sink in quickly and will keep him busy tearing out more pages.

He also likes noises, especially if he makes the noise himself. So give him a saucepan or kettle and tablespoon and watch him beat the band. To stop the movement of the arm when you want to shoot, suddenly attract the child's attention — and he prepared to push the button instantly.

A two-year-old will respond to a dice-and-table-top game with a toy ball or a doll. He likes to blow out lighted matches or candles. If he keeps a candle in his mouth or sucks his thumb give him a cracker or piece of bread.

Toy telephones are great fun for most 3-year-olds and blowing soap bubbles fascinates them. You can also keep a stock of pennies about for an inter-leave game. Put a penny in a film box or little purse and hand it to the child. Watch his brilliant expression as he retrieves the penny. Take the coin back and put another penny in. That's when to shoot.

"The whole emphasis is on getting the attention right to start with," Schneider pointed out. "not a darkroom manipulation in proceeding afterward. It's as easy to take it right as wrong then the darkroom end of it which follows becomes strictly mechanical. At home, processing is a matter of time and temperature. Or the films can be turned over to a drug store and it'll still come out very good."

UT Tests Stated
High School seniors with a University of Texas career in mind will find a good vocabulary, logical mind and number sense helpful in taking the scheduled aptitude tests.

Tests may be taken in 42 Texas cities on three dates: Feb. 4, May 12 and Aug. 10.

Dr. H. T. Manuel, director of the University Testing and Guidance Bureau, said that, as a general rule, a student can be confident of his ability to succeed with university work if he is in the upper three-fifths of his high school class and makes a score of 75 or more on the aptitude test. Most of those applying for entrance would be admitted, he said.

The tests are designed to measure two very general abilities in academic work. First is the ability to work with words and to understand their meanings. Second is the ability to work with numbers and to solve problems. Scores on the required tests will not be the only basis for admission, Dr. Manuel added. All test scores will be kept confidential.

Giles Appeals Pending
Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles can count on at least 2 1/2 months more of freedom.

Both Giles' convictions in land scandal trials have been appealed to the Court of Criminal Appeals. Formal submission of the Austin conviction and three-year prison sentence is set for Jan. 18.

A six-year sentence imposed in San Antonio was appealed and is expected to come before the court about Jan. 25 or Feb. 1.

Legislative Council Posts Filled
Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey announced committee assignments at the first meeting of the new Legislative Council.

Serving on the executive committee with Ramsey and House Speaker Jim Lindsey will be Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo and Reps. Obie Bristow of Big Spring and W. G. Kirklin of Odessa.

Studying finances will be Sens. Nevelle Colson of Navasota and Gus Strauss of Hallettsville, Reps. E. F. Crim of Henderson, W. S. Healy Jr. of Paducah and Pearce Johnson of Austin.

On the subject matter committee are Sens. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, George Moffett of Chillicothe, Reps. Tom King of Dallas, Gus Garrett of Raymondville, Jas. W. Yancy Jr. of Houston, Ben A. Glusing of Kingsville and Joe Burkett of Kerrville.

As to subject matter to be studied before the next regular session, committee members say the council already is "loaded."

Historical Committees Organized
Every county in Texas is being asked by the State Historical Survey Committee, to set up a County Committee, announced HSC director George W. Hill of Austin.

The state committee was authorized by the 1953 Legislature to "study the subject of preservation and dissemination of the records of Texas and Texans."

County Judges, with other officials, have been asked to appoint committees for their counties.

Should Be Simple—But
Sept. 6 the fee for driver's license renewal was increased to $2.

All summer, however, Texans kept jumping the gun and sending in the larger fee. Patiently, the Department of Public Safety sent back the over-payments.

Now, however, the new law is in force—and guess what. The DPS is busy writing Texas drivers—asking for more money. Many of them are sending in the old $1 fee.

SHORT SNORTS: Heart disease is Texas' No. One killer, accounting for 20,191 deaths last year, said Commr. of Health Henry A. Holle. An early winner in the first week of deer hunting season was Rep. Charles L. Sandahl Jr., of Austin who shot an eight-point buck from the wheelchair to which polio has confined him. W. Newton Barnes Terrell City Attorney has been named assistant secretary of state, replacing Miss Marie McCutchen of Dallas who did not accept the office offered her two weeks ago.

HACKSAW RESCUE
EAGAR, AVE. — For reasons best known to himself, 3-year-old Mulford Bigelow Jr., climbed into a milk can. He got stuck. Frantic efforts of his parents and friends failed to unstick him.

His father finally picked up the can—Mulford and all—and took it to a garage. A mechanic cut off the top with a hacksaw and pulled Mulford out.
