Inspection By All Pilots of Landing Fields A. A. Order

That all of the forty one pilots in the aviation division of American Airways may be more familiar with the emergency fields established by the department of commerce along the air mail routes than by simply seeing them from the air, orders have been issued for the pilots to inspect the fields by actual landing in them, according to advices received here by Jesse Maxwell, local representative, from C. R. Smith, vice-president of American Airways.

While each of the pilots will make a personal inspection, the visits will not be made on their regular runs but in a two day layoff granted each flyer and in a spare plane. Landings and take-offs will be made in both directions of the established routes. In addition to the government emergency fields, most of which are lighted for night flying, visits also will be made to all fields within fifty miles on each side of the established courses.

The reason assigned for the inspection is that personal experience is desired since in severe weather the pilots may be ordered by radio to land rather than attempting to make the next station, while the inspection over the hundred mile radius is considered valuable to a pilot instructed to fly around local bad weather, at the same time knowing that there is a landing field adjacent.

Following inspection of the emergency fields along the routes, which are approximately every fifty miles with two runways approximately 2,500 feet long, the pilots will make reports to headquarters and American Airways engineers will rectify any unfavorable conditions caused by weather extremes such as floods or sand.

Cannon Probe Is Started By Grand Jurors

Former Senator, New York Financier, Among 21 Witnesses

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—A federal grand jury today began investigating the political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr. Twenty-one witnesses were called, including former senator Joseph F. Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, and E. C. Jameson, New York financier. Both contributed large sums to Cannon's anti-Smith fund in 1925.

The jury will decide whether or not the Bishop can be indicted for violation of the corrupt practices act. Cannon claims that his activities were wholly in Virginia and are not subject to the Federal statute.

GAS THREAT TO SLEEPING CITY

Death by gas poisoning threatened the 70,000 slumbering inhabitants of Molenbeek, Belgium, for three hours recently and only the prompt action of police and firemen averted wholesale asphyxiation. At one o'clock in the morning the city's gas pressure dropped so low that lights in the houses and streets went out. Almost as suddenly it returned, and gas hissed from thousands of utility joints. Every available policeman and fireman was ordered to warn the people and to turn off the street jets. Warning shouts from the streets and pounding of doors to arouse the sleeping citizens caused a spread of terror which subsided as the people realized their danger and turned off the gas. No casualties were reported.

Mrs. Mae Bettle has been ill for the past few days.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy. EAST TEXAS—Partly cloudy tonight and Friday. Cooler tonight in northwest.

Home Town Talk

Two weeks more of waiting for higher crude oil prices in Texas and Oklahoma is about as long as the public is going to stand, or at least the people ought to get something started—in a wise and orderly manner.

Gov. Murray's shutdown in Oklahoma has not produced the $1 per barrel he said he would have to get before he'd allow wells to be opened.

The gasoline market, according to the most reliable sources of information, has become strengthened within the past week. Refineries have joined producers in curtailing output.

Unsteadiness of the gasoline market has been the principal excuse by purchasers for failure to raise crude prices since the flush pools of Texas and Oklahoma were brought under control.

Now that the market is improving that excuse is weakened.

West Texas is going to rise up one of these days and find out why there is such a difference in the prices posted out here and in East Texas.

There are some factors that naturally tend to keep the West Texas price a little lower. But the difference now is unjust and unwarranted.

Give producers out here 50 to 75 cents per barrel instead of 35 cents and they can make some money. They cannot make any under existing conditions.

West Texas has been obedient and sensible on all questions of production control. Operators out here, with the exception of some in Winkler several years ago, have cooperated with all movements to prevent waste, both actual and economic.

Give producers a price on which they can show a profit, making possible larger royalty checks to thousands of citizens and larger payrolls in all fields and you will materially replenish the life blood of business.

Supply of crude in this country is not out of line now. Demand for gasoline is good. The market is steadier. Why the delay?

It begins to look like a lot of independents have been gloriously double-crossed.

Reeves county received one new test and Ward two last week to bring the total of new locations for the year to 135. A Loving test was completed and an old well in Howard county prepared to deepen. An increase to 33,922.50 barrels was registered in new production.

The old well deepening is: HOWARD—American Maracab No. 1-C Settles, 1423 feet from the north line and 2723 feet from the west line of section 6, block 22, township 2 south, T&P Ry. Co. survey.

The completion: LOVING—Eppenauer and others' No. 1 Johnson, 330 feet from the southwest line of section 86, block 1, W&N Ry. Co. survey, It spudded June 24, 1931; topped salt at 890 feet; topped Delaware lime at 4300 feet; topped pay 4203 feet; total depth 4394 feet; plugged back to 4391 and shot with 180 quarts from 4352-91 feet. Initial production was a flow of an average of 97 barrels for the first five days after shot.

State Drilling Law Is Considered Sole Hope of Preventing Special Session and Additional Tax Bills

By RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN, Oct. 8.—One hope remained that the legislature will not be forced back into session in January to pass tax laws.

This was that oil will bring the state enough money to avert the new tax levies at least until the regular session in 1933.

Comments of Gov. Ross Sterling implied this prospect is brigiter, in the promise of the East Texas field to put considerable money into the treasury under the new streamlined law.

Gov. Sterling said it is possible to get half a million dollars before the law becomes operative in January. Tentative efforts of oil companies indicate that state can honor agreements by which it will get $500,000 covering operations between now and Jan. 1. At that rate, the streambeds of East Texas, after the state legally can develop them, promise all the way up to Sen. George C. Puri's sanguine estimate of $10,000,000.

Much of this will be quick revenge. The state, under the new law, has power to accept a flat sum for all its oil under the East Texas river in advance of production. Production could drain the entire strip in a year.

A $10,000,000 income from the riverbeds not only would meet the deficit and repay the loan from the highway fund, but would enable the state next year to cut its rate to the 69-cent limit fixed by a new law and still stay on cash during 1932.

The part going into the school fund would benefit the general revenue just the same, by avoiding the regular demand for a $5,000,000 rural aid appropriation every two years.

There are two sides to the tax question—one of raising new revenue from new sources; the other of cutting down the costs so as to prevent the need for more, or in time to relieve the requirement of some present taxes.

To the "other side" Sen. J. J. Loy of Sherman has given much study. He has voted for the special levies; but he has served notice that in future, the levy of new taxes, to get his vote, must be accompanied by the reduction of costs.

300 CLAIM OLD FORTUNE

Three hundred descendants of Robert Hobbs, an Australian pioneer, are claiming their share of the fortune which he left 101 years ago. The claims were inspired by the finding recently of Hobbs' will in the office of an old firm of attorneys in Sydney, N. S. W.

According to records Hobbs, a member of a wealthy silk weaving family, was sent to Botany Bay for a minor offense about 1790. On gaining his freedom he obtained a grant of 60 acres of land in the Windsor district of New South Wales. He died in 1830 and left the will which has been found.

The principal difficulty in the way of proving it was the fact that it is only signed with a mark. Hobbs' hand being so crippled with rheumatism that he was unable to write his full name. Moreover, the witnesses have since died. The Probate Court has granted an application of the public trustee for letters of administration regarding the will.

What Mitchell County Federation Has Done

A Summary Of Its Achievements as Related By Its President, Mrs. C. P. Gary, Before The City Federation

The state president's slogan is: "A group of organized women in every community who can be depended upon to promote movements looking toward the betterment of life." This can best be accomplished by cooperation—which is the royal road to success in every activity of county, state or nation.

Some may ask, what are the advantages of a county federation? The first thing it does is to bring the urban woman and the rural woman into a closer relationship with each other, which naturally promotes a better understanding and more sympathetic and kindly feelings for each other.

It stretches out the social horizon and broadens the views of the urban woman's life and multiplies her friendships, if she knows a few women in every community in her county. What a power for service, this latest talent would be, if the women of Howard were organized and were working whole-heartedly for the thing Howard county needed most.

A 4-Cornered World
Try to visualize Howard county as just a little four-cornered world, embracing almost every human problem that the big round world presents. Think that its people are those who must solve the problems. Once one gets a true life picture of one's county one will see plenty to do.

That is just what one Colorado woman did, about 9 years ago, while visiting in Cisco. She returned home with this great vision uppermost in her mind. She made other women enthusiastic about it. They saw the great future possibilities that stood out for Mitchell County through cooperative work. As a result the Mitchell County Federation Clubs for Women was organized on July 13, 1922.

The charter membership consisted of 6 clubs from over the county who were entitled to three delegates for each meeting. Each club's dues were $1.50 a year with individual member's dues 50 cents a year. Some of the departments are Civic League; rural clubs; P.T.A.'s; Daughters of the King, etc.

The reports of the rural women were a great inspiration. They were enormous in size, of canned, Mary's corn, tomatoes, beans, chicken, beef etc. Today the pantry shelves of Mitchell county are filled with home canned goods as never before in its history.

Mitchell County Federation has the distinction of being the first to establish a market for home canned products. This was accomplished by creating a market in town for the goods.

Black-eyed Peas In Washington
The Federation was requested by the government at Washington to send sample cans of its famous black-eyed peas for a permanent exhibit there.

The national club president, Mrs. John Sippel ordered a dozen cans to be used in work among the rural women of her home state, Maryland. The Federation was asked also to present this plan of work at the National Convention when it met in San Antonio, a few years ago. Later it was adopted as part of the work of the Extension Department of A. & M. College.

The Federation sponsored the move to place a home demonstration agent in Mitchell county. In the beginning her work among the members was in her council. Today she is so well equipped and thoroughly organized that she has her own council, although the Federation assists her each year by going out into her fields of activities with speakers and bringing speakers to town for both urban and rural women.

Soon after organization, the Federation turned its thoughts to a public library, which is now housed in a room adjoining our federation meeting place in the city hall. They paid the salary of the librarian until 2 years ago when the county commissioners agreed to pay for the two afternoons a week she was there. The library dues are one dollar a year and go back into the buying of new books. They entitle each member of the family to the privileges of the library. School children of the county have a special summer rate.

County Commissioners Donate Site
The Federation owns a valuable location joining the City Hall on the north for its club house. The lot was given to them by the County Commissioners. A building fund is already started. The federation has assisted one rural club in the establishment of a clubhouse, the first in the county.

In the same year the federation obtained its charter and procured a legal adviser, also a men's club, acting as an honorary club.

The Federation sponsors and assists in the programs launched for the county fairs and the Old Settlers Home Coming.

The Federation has charge of the Health Scales for Mitchell County. These scales are put on by the school children, giving them education along this line. In the past year they won twelve or more first-aid kits and one towel cabinet. With a percentage of that fund the Federation sent a girl to Carlbad for 9 months and gave medical attention to several tubercular children.

The Federation has placed the flag in every school in the county has awarded a "peace pin" to a Colorado girl in a peace essay contest; and gave this year a five-dollar gold piece to a rural boy for an essay on law observance.

Adopt Rural Schools
The urban clubs have each adopted one or more rural schools to whom they carry magazines, pictures, books, flowers, victrolas, etc. to make them standard A schools.

The Federation has an art and pottery exhibit, free of charge, the later placed this year in the Home Economics department of the high school.

The programs are sometimes carried to some rural community at their request. This year they were put on by one urban and one rural club. The Federation also sponsors home talent plays from all over the county, a percentage, of which goes to the clubhouse fund.

The Federation has followed the state president's suggestions in grouping special and standing committees; also in a beautification program. This year it sent flowers, shrubs and trees to several rural schools and promoted a president's grove of Chinese elms, which numbers 42 trees, in Ruddick Park. It also planted 4 elms in the park in honor of the 4 sisters who donated the park grounds, with a beautiful dedicatory service.

SAM BY FREEMAN LINCOLN

SYNOPSIS: Constant intensity of work and pleasure is not enough to make Sam Sherrill forget that she loves Freddy Munson, although she has become engaged to Peak Abbott. Her loyalty to her family brought about the engagement. Sam has managed the family affairs since her stepfather, Fourth Alderdale, lost their money. Even her work on the Express, which Abbott owns, doesn't give her financial security. Besides Abbott's wealth, an advantage in the engagement is that its announcement submerged the sensation of Sam's half-brother's marriage to their maid, Nelson, the half-brother, took away with him some household money, and this adds to Fourth's anger at the social disgrace.

CHAPTER 14 FIREWORKS OR LOGIC?

"Well, let's hear the story?" "What story?" "Yours and Sam's. I don't know any of the details, remember, and if you're to get anywhere in this discussion, I'll have to know them." Freddy told the story. He told it briefly but with such simple convincingness that Peak could not help but believe. In the end Freddy shook his head. "And so you see, Abbott, if that confounded step-brother of hers hadn't butted in, she'd be married to me, now, and there wouldn't be any need of all this."

FORSAN GUSHER Drilled By Students Of Forsan School Splendid Progress of Forsan School Is Reviewed By Pupil

When the 1927-28 school term began Forsan did not have a school. However, it did not need one, for there was only one child in the district who was of school age. Then came the oil boom. The news of the oil industry of Forsan spread swiftly through the fields of Texas, and started the rush. Men from all over the state came to the little town to become one of the many tools of the new oil field. Merchants, druggists, hotel keepers and people of other trades turned their eyes and feet toward Forsan as birds turn toward the South when winter is on its way. Some of the men came alone and left their families behind in the place in which they were then living. Some of these men sent for their wives as children in their fall. As the year progressed many of the pupils left for other oil fields, but as many came to take their places. During the first year of the newly established school only eight grades were taught. Though the three class rooms were completely filled with seats and desks, there were so many children in school that they had to be seated two in a seat. The teachers and the school board soon saw the necessity of a larger building, and during the summer of 1927 three rooms were added to the original building and a two-room structure was erected for the benefit of the primary pupils. The 1928-29 school term began with five more teachers and an extra grade. Before the second term had hardly begun the need of another teacher and another class room became apparent. Christmas saw the completion of the new building, the arrival of another teacher, and a first-class laboratory annexed to the high school department.

Nevertheless, Red is the junior boys' "All-American Guard" for the basketball team this year. Daniel Yarbro declares that he will be very happy if one of the teachers catches J. D. Maxine Thompson, Minnie Campbell, and Lucille Wilson have been suffering for the last two weeks from slight injuries received from a collision with or among themselves. Lucille carried an "egg" on her head for a week, Minnie limped around on one leg, and Maxine had the pleasure of a real old-fashioned toothache. Lee White and Telman Shoults visited the high school last Thursday. This year the blue and white of the Forsan Junior girls' basketball team will shine throughout the county. They believe that their new suits will help them to keep their trophy and to hold their record as an undefeated team. Kate Campbell visited several of the students in high school last Monday morning. Louie Madison resigned from his position as sixth grade reporter. Wesley Yarbro was elected to fill his place. There was no honor students in the fifth or sixth grade this month. We are glad that she has decided that after all the school at Forsan is the best place to go. The students of the tenth and eleventh grades are doing well in their daily work, preparing themselves for examinations the last of this week. All the boys have been showing up good in track. They are going to begin basketball practice in a few days. Walter Shoults will help out very much in basketball and other sports events this year. The boys have been playing ball at noon hours and they have shown improvement from the first.

Glory Of Autumn IT IS a little bit odd that spring is generally supposed to be more of a hopeful, restful and unsetting sort of season than autumn. Nobody expects much of fall. It is a collection of melancholy days, it abounds with chilly rains and raw winds, and it has a funeral overtones that sets poets and other sensitive people beating their breasts. Spring, on the other hand—then the young men see visions and the old men dream dreams, and each man wants to leave the place where he is, and go places where he has not been. That, at any rate, is the tradition. But it doesn't jibe with the facts. Autumn has been frightfully maligned. It is time justice was done. In most parts of the country, autumn provides that nice weather of the whole year. Furthermore—since our moods depend so greatly on what the sun and wind and sky do to us—it is a time for visions and dreams, for the birth of new hopes and the revival of old ones; a season, in fact, which does most of the things spring actually does them. To be sure, autumn brings death and decay. But it works with greater artistry than spring, for it cloaks all in the fragrance of the woodland and misty field that is breath-taking; it reconciles us to them, it bemuses us and persuades us—as supremely great artists do—that death and decay are only preliminaries to a rebirth. Its hazy air, too, carries a breath of vagabondage. A morning in which you can make one to trudge; but an October afternoon, when the corn-shocks stand in uneven rows like the tepees of an Indian encampment on a rolling field, is the time when the Red Gods are really astrif. For then one perceives that the road to the end of the earth starts wherever one's feet happen to be, and there is apt to be just enough to a nip in the wind to delude a man into thinking he can walk as far the spirit moves him. And suppose that we are too mundane to be stirred by such fanciful things? Well, in the mere matter of material comfort fall offers more than spring. Spring gets us ready for warm weather, and then sprinkles snow on you. The "spring cold" is proverbial, and the bright days have an icy sting underneath the sunshine. Autumn is more honest. You expect the worst—and, very often, you get the best. The old tradition needs revising. Autumn once you get to understand it, is the best time of all the year.

NO BLACK FOR HIM

Nothing could be further wrong. In fact, Sheppard probably dons black but once a year. That is when he puts on formal morning attire on prohibition's birthday and addresses the senate. He makes such a speech annually. His colleague listen to him and shake his hand afterward even though some of them might not agree with anything he says. Usually he wears a light gray or blue gray suit. He is invariably in a good humor. His eyes twinkle when he talks. He always has time to listen to a good story and delights in telling one himself. He likes to play golf and shoots a very good game. But he doesn't permit that or anything else to interfere with his attendance at sessions of the senate. Being present at quorum calls and voting time in the senate has become a habit with him. Sheppard holds some kind of a record for attendance in congress. It is a common sight to see him "on the run" from the senate office building to the chamber after a bell summons.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Legal Profession In Rus Dr. Alice Hamilton in Harper's Magazine: "I submit that medicine, no matter how imperfect, is a silver pot when compared with the black kettle—law. Moreover, it has the supreme virtue of knowing it is imperfect and of grasping—almost too quickly sometimes—for what is newer and better. Doctors, of course, are very fallible human beings, but if they have any ability at all they do grow in wisdom as the years pass; they discard what they learned as students, and accept what modern research gives them. No doctor could possibly rise high in his profession if he shut his mind to all new ideas. But with the lawyers it is not so. Amazing as it seems, I have been assured by lawyers that it is quite possible for a man to attain to the highest legal position in the land without ever having changed his mental attitude on any important point as he graduated from the law school. And if that is not an indictment of a profession, I should like to know what is."

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH

EYE INJURIES—If few things are as provoking as the presence of a cinder or speck in the eye. If our attempts to rid ourselves of the nuisance are unskilled, we may injure the eye. In removing foreign bodies from the eye, go about it gently, and be sure that your hands and everything else you use are clean. First try to flush the speck out, using boric acid solution (in a pinch you may use water) and a medicine dropper. Have the patient tilt his head back and with the forefinger and thumb take hold of the upper eyelid at the angle where it joins the lower lid on the temple side of the eye. Pull gently upward and outward, drawing both lids away from the eyeball and creating space into which you may drop the solution. Flush the eye several times. If the foreign body is still present, fish for it, as follows: Cover the blunt end of a match stick with cotton. Moisten the cotton with boric acid or clean water. Have the patient look up. Turn out the lower lid by grasping the lashes and drawing gently. Look for the foreign body on the inner side of the lower lid as well as on the eye ball. If present in this space, remove the speck by wiping it gently with cotton-covered end of the match stick. To turn out the upper lid, draw on the lashes and with a small pen or match press on the top of the lid. The patient, of course, looks down. When the speck has been removed the eye may be flushed out again.

BOY HAS GOOD FISH YARN

GOSHEN, Ind. (INS)—Although George Curtiss, of Goshen, is only fifteen years old, he holds the local record for fish stories. He says he was fishing at Wawasee Lake and while washing his hands in the lake, lost a gold signet ring from his finger. He continued fishing and caught a bass weighing four and one-half pounds. When he prepared the fish at home, he found the ring inside the bass.

Tomorrow—Behind the Scenes

"No scene," Peak brushed the suggestion aside impatiently. "You flip a coin to see who gets her?" "It seems to me," said Peak gently, "that we've forgotten one important thing. We've forgotten that you and I really have no voice in the matter. The decision rests entirely with Sam whether she'll have you or me. Unless I'm mistaken, she has already made that decision."

They were silent for a time, looking at each other. Then Peak said:

Many Enjoy P.T.A. Feast

The Forsan P.T.A. sponsored a fried chicken supper Friday night at the school cafeteria. It was estimated 225 people were present. The guests were assembled in the school dining room and since there were so many present it was necessary to use an adjoining class room for serving. After the main dinner course was served, every one retired to the outside and in the moonlight enjoyed an unlimited supply of ice cream cones and joined in friendly conversation and visiting with each other. The children found the "ocean wave" slide and saw-saws a new attraction in the cool, breezy moonlight. There was a total of $45 raised to be used by the P.T.A. The members of this group are awaiting suggestions as to the most beneficial way of using the money. They hope to serve the children of the school to the best advantage.

Telman Shoults, Lee White, Darwin Smith, Dayton White, Dick Madison and "Doc" Whitty.

No. 100,000 Drug Firm Fills That Many in Less Than 12 Years; Soon To Observe Birthday.

Best Condition For Season In Years Shown By 3 Institutions

The 100,000 represents that number of original prescriptions and does not include 'refills,' which averages about one to four original prescriptions. Including 'refills,' C. W. Cunningham and Shine Phillips have filled an average of 20 prescriptions each day since they entered business as partners. Prescription No. 100,000 was prescribed by Dr. G. S. True for Mrs. H. A. Paschal.

Through a period when many drug stores turned largely from prescription business to 'merchandising' the local firm has kept its prescription department the dominant factor. The policy has been based on the belief that reliable prescription service is the real identifying element in any drug store. Mr. Phillips said Tuesday morning many drug men had had all but abandoned prescription prescriptions in preparation for attempts to regain that business.

Cold Figures Reflect Usual Stability Here

Mrs. Allgood's Weekly Letter

Cold figures of the statements of condition of the three Big Spring banks issued Tuesday on call of the comptroller of the currency, as of close of business September 29, showed unmistakably that Big Spring continues to be blest with three of the strongest banks in the southwest—and that business conditions here fundamentally are sound. That conclusion was based entirely upon the statements, without induction by any observers of personal interpretations of those statements.

That the banks in reality are in better condition than they have been at this time of year in some time is shown by the fact that the autumn statements show no local banks has any discounts or any bills payable. This usually has not been the case at this season. Total of deposits at the close of business September 29 was $2,958,830.07. Total of loans was $1,975,104.44. Total resources of the banks was $2,217,501.95.

Mrs. Hilliard, of Hiway, Made $64.65 Profit An Acre On Peas As Against $7 on Cotton

Dear Club Members: Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hilliard of Hiway cleared $111.65 on an acre of peas. Four hundred No. 3 cans and 220 No. 2s were filled for themselves and others. 650 pounds of dried peas have been saved for winter use and for sale. The canned peas have a value of $164 and the dried peas $31.50, making a total of $195.50. The seed cost 75 cents and the cans $23.30, making a total cost of $238.95. This makes a profit of $171.65 besides the one used fresh during the time the neighbors gathered fresh ones from the patch when they wanted them, and enough to can 60 No. 3 cans were gathered by an unknown visitor.

City Schools Discussed At Rotary Meet

Attendance Grows; One Of Three Districts In Area Paying Cash

Facts relative to conditions in the Big Spring school system were outlined to the Rotary Club at its noon meeting today by W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools. The actual attendance, according to Mr. Blankenship, is about as high as it has ever been—few students withdrawing and new ones enrolling each week. He pointed out that Big Spring was one of three districts in the "Oil Belt" which has not had to issue deferred payment certificates to instructors. Mr. Blankenship told of the various economy measures that had been put into effect in order to operate the city's educational system in the most economical manner. The program was in charge of C. W. Cunningham, Guests were C. E. Boydston, Brawley, California, and V. O. Hennen, scoutmaster of the Boy Scout Troop sponsored by the club. Mr. Hennen was introduced by George Wilke as a new member of the club.

Lower Rate Is Proposed For Cotton

Radical Changes Sought; Would Reduce Compress Allowance

Seeking to meet competition of motor trucks in shipping cotton to Texas gulf ports, railroads of the state, including the Texas & Pacific, announced Wednesday afternoon that they would appear before the state railroad commission in Austin Thursday to seek radical reductions both in freight rates from inland points and in allowances for cotton compresses. J. B. Payne, vice president in charge of tariff for the T. & P., informed R. H. Jones, local agent, that proposed reductions from Big Spring and neighboring points not only would materially reduce the rate per bale but also cut the allowance to compresses and make more optional the compressing of cotton to be shipped. The T. & P. would put into effect that rate of $2.25 per bale for flat cotton and $3.85 per bale for compressed cotton from Big Spring to Houston, Galveston and Texas City. Proposed rates from nearby points would be cut in proportion. The Colorado rate would be the same as Big Spring's. Sweetwater's rate would be $2.00 per bale for flat cotton, $3.50 for compressed cotton. Abilene's rate would be the same as that from Sweetwater. Cisco would draw $2.75 and $3.05 per bale. Points west of Big Spring would receive a comparative reduction. Rates from Corpus Christi, being somewhat higher than those at other ports, this application will not affect that port. The application will request that the proposed rates be put into effect immediately. The rate from Big Spring now is 89 cents per hundred pounds or $4.45 per bale of 500 pounds. Compresses now are allowed 18 cents per hundred or 90 cents per bale and the railroads insist that cotton be compressed. The new rate plan would not only have the effect of reducing compress allowance to 60 cents per bale but would make compressing entirely optional.

Reform Or Revolution AF of L Cry

Jobs or Serious Unrest Must Come Soon, Green Declares

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 7 (UP)—The phrase, "Reform—or revolution!" was raised today as the battle cry of 354 American Federation of Labor delegates as they rounded out a platform designed to end the darkest time its membership has known in a decade. In a time when 7,000,000 Americans—more than twice the full strength of unionized labor—are jobless, the Federation will not end its activities with the closing of the convention, leaders said. Jobs or serious unrest must come soon, William Green, the short, plump but dynamic president of the Federation declared. Labor's program of shorter hours to make work for more men must be adopted to prevent a frantic upswing of the capitalist system in an effort to find relief, the veteran Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation for 35 years, declared.

The five day week and sufficient shortening of the eight-hour day to provide employment for every idle man is the foundation of Labor's plan to end a world-wide depression. Assurance of job security is demanded to release into circulation the savings hoarded by men now unemployed but in continual fear of being discharged in wholesale layoffs. An immediate stop to wage-cutting on the grounds it is economic suicide, is held essential. And although Organized Labor calls it strikes "barbarous," it will ask of congress a greater right to use that weapon when it feels it necessary.

Enforcement - Not Repeal

An eminent Boston physician tells this story of Theodore Roosevelt. When he came to ask the doctor's advice about his diet, he said: "If you know that anything is really injurious to my body, do not tell me to moderate in its use; tell me not to touch it."

Enforcement - Not Repeal

In all the provinces of Canada, liquor production is entirely in private hands with private profit. The government commissions purchase from the breweries and distilleries. They do not in any way control liquor until it has been stored in their own establishments, and then only so long as it remains harmless upon the shop shelves. "Control" is a fiction—Ben Spence, of Toronto.

In the world reconstruction of the next decade there will be no place for groggy heads. That nation will lead the vanguard that is most efficient in all ways. Prohibition is morally and eternally right. In the not distant future it will be demonstrated that it is economically imperative.

Recognizing that our cause is and will be combated by mighty, determined and relentless forces we will, trusting in Him who is Prince of Peace, meet argument with argument, misjudgment with patience, demagoguery with kindness, and all our difficulties and dangers with prayer.

Home Demonstration Club Women Put On Splendid Exhibits At County Fair

All Kinds Of Good Things To Eat; Clever Community Displays And Handiwork Featured To Show What Dry West Texas Can Raise

The women of Howard county have stolen the 1931 County Fair this year. The booths displaying the work done by the 4-H clubs make a much bigger showing than the rest of the world. It is a safe bet that the families of the women of Howard county who have worked with the demonstration agent are not going to starve this winter.

Whatever may happen to the rest of the world, it is a safe bet that the families of the women of Howard county who have worked with the demonstration agent are not going to starve this winter.

You never saw so many good things to eat—canned and bottled. There are fifteen varieties of vegetables. What trouble would a woman have with cooking when she could go to her pantry and select from its shelves the following: English peas, butter beans, canned tomatoes, carrots, beets, okra, kraut, greens, squash, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, soup mixtures?

Of course she would begin with the meat. She would have chicken, beef, steak, and pork chops in cans. It would be an education in itself, to most of the Big Spring women, to read the labels on those cans. There are hundreds of town who didn't know such things could be canned outside of factories.

Then there would be preserves, not just plain, ordinary chow-chow and tomato catsup, which constitute the sole repertory of most cooks—but corn relish, pickles of all varieties, pickled onions, etc. The one thing lacking in these exhibits for the table is fruit. Howard county raised little fruit this summer except plums and pears. But the women added to their preserves supply by making them from watermelon rinds and all varieties of tomatoes.

There are also four blocks of homemade American cheese. The arrangement of the individual booths is strikingly clever and represents hours of work by patient fingers. The women of Vealmoor used tweezers to stick the grains of maize onto a board covered with glue. Above the name of the community, which is done with a background of yellow maize and white lettering, there is a maize picture of two chickens, the chickens and the name are bordered with small, even-sized cotton balls.

The letters of Elbow's name were made from popped popcorn, a creamy white on a purple paper background. Fairview's was of red and white maize grains. Luthier's was of small limbs, giving a charming rustic effect. R-Bar used grains of corn.

Big Tomatoes In the Elbow exhibit Mrs. Shaffer displayed tomatoes as big as large apples. In all the booths were shell egg grains. Mrs. L. C. Hambrick had the only individual farm exhibit shown and it was a full exhibit, showing what an energetic woman can accomplish in this dry country. Other displays of home-made products were the beautiful cakes and pies; the 11 braided head rugs; the cunning children's dresses; with handwork and smoking on them; the uniform made by the girls; women's wash dresses and some well designed hooded rugs.

Field Products In addition to these were the field products for which credit does not alone go the way. The amazing variety to what can be accomplished by a wide-awake West Texas farmer. In the exhibits of fresh garden and field products were the following: red and green hot peppers and sweet peppers, red and green pimientos, okra, tomatoes, lettuce, mustard, parsnips, carrots, beets, squash, turnips, pumpkins, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, onions, peas, kidney beans, navy beans, butter and dried beans, corn and okra. In short, there were too many sights to go to one article. People will have to see the 1931 County Fair for themselves to appreciate it.

Mitchell Is Looking Over New Highways

Importance Of Turning Traffic From No. 9 Into Big Spring Seen

COLO-RADO, Oct. 2.—The importance of pushing campaign to obtain north and south highway for Colorado was again reflected when Colo county, in a special election Saturday authorized issuance of $175,000 in bonds to pave Highway No. 30, extending from the Tom Green county line north toward Robert Lee and Bronte.

With the highway financed now as far north as Robert Lee, there remains about seventy-five miles of improved surface to connect with Snyder and Highway No. 9. Such a project has been suggested here on previous occasions but it is apparent that nothing was ever done. At one time San Angelo favored such connection, and the press there urged that San Angelo, Colorado, and Snyder cooperate in move to pave highway connecting those cities. Such a project would have closed gap in one of the most important transportation thoroughfares in the country, giving Colorado another highway that in value would have equaled, at least, the Broadway of America in tourist traffic.

The chamber of commerce a few months ago had this question up for consideration. After considerable discussion, the motion prevailed that a committee be named to confer with San Angelo and Snyder on the proposed highway improvement. No further reports were ever given out for publication.

In the event it is not practical to connect a Robert Lee with improved highway local road enthusiasts have another suggestion to offer. Highway No. 9, passing through Big Spring, Sterling, City and San Angelo, has recently been paved in to Sterling City from the southwest State Highway No. 101, connecting Colorado and Snyder, could be extended to Sterling and improved, giving relief to the demand for a north-south route passing through the immediate part of Texas, or built.

That Tom Green county is moving to close gap between San Angelo and Coke county line is shown in following press dispatch from San Angelo Monday: As the result of voting of $175,000 in road bonds by Road District No. 2 in Coke county, Saturday, the Tom Green county commissioners, Monday, Oct. 2, authorized a bond issue of $300,000 or whatever amount is required, to pave 13 miles of State Highway No. 70 from a point six miles east of San Angelo on State Highway 20, northward to the Tom Green-Coke county line.

Bonds voted Saturday by Road District No. 2 in Coke county by 453 to 172, or 69 more than necessary to carry the majority, will provide for paving State Highway 70 through the county via Elbow and Pennington and seven miles on State Highway 158 from Bronte westward toward Robert Lee, the county seat. The issue will absorb $50,000 in bonds voted last spring by the Pennington precinct south of Bronte. A new bridge will be built over the Colorado river.

Voting on the bonds in Coke county met a condition laid down by the State Highway Department for designating State Highway No. 30, paralleling the Santa Fe Railroad (formerly the Orient) through Bronte and Terryson. Robert Lee sought designation of the route leading south from that town to San Angelo. Voting of bonds by Tom Green county plus the work done in Coke county will provide a hard surfaced road between San Angelo and Sweetwater.

Sanitation Stressed In Exhibit At Fair By Health Departments One of the outstanding exhibits at the County Fair at the Regan building, 4th and Gregg streets, was the outdoor toilet prepared by the state health department and displayed under the supervision of Mr. Gosch of Lamesa, district health sanitation agent. This was intended primarily for farms and localities where no sewerage facilities are available.

Mrs. M. E. Showalter, Howard county has 23 rural and seven city schools. The foundation of health work is centered in these schools. The flags show cooperation and lack of it. Vealmoor, for instance, has almost as many flags as Big Spring. Center Point, a larger community, has among the fewest.

Not many realize that Howard county has 23 rural and seven city schools. The foundation of health work is centered in these schools. The flags show cooperation and lack of it. Vealmoor, for instance, has almost as many flags as Big Spring. Center Point, a larger community, has among the fewest.

The object of the booth, says Mrs. Showalter, is primarily informative and educational. The pamphlets and booklets and other material is to be discreetly distributed to those who actively interested.

It is a splendid opportunity for everyone in Howard county to get acquainted with what is being done and to learn of Mrs. Showalter's intensive tonsil program for this fall.

Miss Helen Swift, of A. & M. College, left today for Dallas to prepare for the county home demonstration clubs' exhibit there.

Cooking School Recipes From Thursday's Lecture

The following recipes were given at the Herald's Cooking School Thursday afternoon by Myra Oliver Dougan:

FORCUPINE MEAT BALLS WITH RICE Mix one pound of ground round steak with one-half cup washed, uncooked rice. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Make into small balls. Put into baking dish with one can of tomato soup. Cover and bake 350 degrees to 475 degrees for 45 minutes, or until rice is fluffy in baking. Serve baked or mashed potatoes with this. A fruit salad will complete the meal.

CORN PUDDING To one medium corn add 1 cup Dairyland milk; two slightly beaten eggs; 1-4 cup tomato catsup; 1 teaspoon sugar; 1-2 teaspoon salt; 1-2 teaspoon prepared mustard; 2 tablespoons flour blended with 2 tablespoons butter. Bake about 1 hour at 350 degrees.

GRAPEFRUIT BASKET SALAD Cut small grapefruit in basket shape. Fill with wedge shaped pieces of grapefruit, pineapple and halved cherries. Other fruits may be added or substituted to suit taste. Serve with Bar-Le-Duc Dressing or Maraschino Fruit Dressing.

BAR-LE-DUC DRESSING: Beat together 6 tablespoons Wesson Oil; two tablespoons lemon juice; 1 teaspoon of salt; 1-4 teaspoon paprika. And into this mix 6 tablespoons red Bar-Le-Duc or currant jelly.

MARASCHINO FRUIT DRESSING: Mix 4 tablespoons Wesson Oil, 2 tablespoons of lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, a tablespoon of orange juice, 3-4 teaspoon sugar and 1-2 teaspoon paprika. Beat until 2 cups canned or cooked pumpkin 2 eggs 1-2 teaspoon ginger 1-2 teaspoon salt 2-3 cup brown sugar 1-4 teaspoon cloves 2 tablespoons white 2 cups Dairyland milk 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg sugar 1 1-4 teaspoons cinnamon

Mix ingredients in the order given. Stir well and strain for any lumps or pumpkin. Pour into pastry lined pie pan. To prevent crust from becoming soggy, brush pastry with egg white and chill before adding milk mixture. Bake in oven, stirring constantly. Add few drops vanilla. Drain pears, pour Custard Sauce over them. Garnish with grated orange rind and water-thin slices of orange. Serve with snowballs.

FOR CHIFFON MERINGUE use—10 marshmallows, quartered, 1 cup Dairyland milk, 2 egg whites, 1-4 cup powdered sugar and 1 cup whipping cream. Let marshmallows stand over night in the cup of milk. Beat egg whites to the first point, then beat in the sugar. Fold in the cream which has been beaten stiff, and the softened marshmallows. Pile lightly on top of pumpkin pie, and serve immediately.

PARISIAN PEARS WITH CUSTARD SAUCE. Cover halves of pears with orange juice and chill thoroughly. Make thin custard sauce by scalding 1 cup Dairyland milk in double boiler. Mix 1 beaten egg with 2 tablespoons sugar and few grains salt. Add slowly to hot milk and cook until mixture is thick, stirring constantly. Add few drops vanilla. Drain pears, pour Custard Sauce over them. Garnish with grated orange rind and water-thin slices of orange. Serve with snowballs.

Miss Helen Swift, district home demonstration agent, expressed herself as well pleased with the exhibits at the Howard county fair being held in the Regan Building on Fourth and Gregg streets. The improvement in the demonstration especially in the women's department show at least an 80 percent increase over the demonstration shown two years ago.

The fact that so many of the women have placed articles in the community booths is a real credit to them. The exhibits to be the best of the fair he has seen in West Texas. The results of Mr. Evans' work in grading the various exhibits in the community booths follow:

Bird's-Eye View Of Ideal Farm

Little Crops Actually Growing On Miniature Farm Show At County Fair How A Diversified Farm Should Be Laid Out

Everybody who has attended the County Fair is saying to everybody else: "Oh, did you see that cute little farm?"

The cute little farm is a miniature farm, 15 by 24 inches, prepared by Mrs. Lawrence Anderson of Luthier in a flat cardboard box, to represent an ideal diversified farm.

Everybody—even city people in Texas—have heard the big cry that "nothing is so diversified as farming. Here is one in a nutshell so to speak, it is a model of one. If you analyze it you see what it contains. It is well-organized, sound-like a piece of big business.

Automobile, Guns, Dresses, Food Stolen

Motor Company, 2 Hardware Stores, Women's Shop Entered

Police were baffled Friday over a series of robberies committed Thursday night in the business district. The marauders entered the Wentz Motor Sales company, Rix Furniture and Hardware company, Big Spring Hardware company, Davenport's Exclusive Shoppe and Home Bakery.

A new Plymouth coach was taken from the Wentz building. It was found near town this morning loaded with a typewriter and adding machine taken from the Rix store. All articles lost from the latter place were recovered with the car.

The Big Spring Hardware company reported a quantity of shells and several guns missing. Exact amount of the loss had not been determined late Friday morning. The building was entered through a skylight.

Davenport's Exclusive Shoppe was entered both Wednesday and Thursday nights. Only a few dresses were taken on the first visit, while ten were reported lost Thursday night. Only the best dresses in the store were stolen. Several pairs of shoes were lost from the Home Bakery.

No definite clue had been obtained by city officers. Many Lovely Cakes Enter Flour Contest

Cakes of all varieties were arriving at the cooking school today at noon on the mezzanine floor of the Settles Hotel to be judged in the Amarrills Cakes and Pie Contest being sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

There were brown and white cakes, angelfood and devilfood, some with garlands of tiny pink roses for trimming, others with big pink roses (testifying to the observant eyes and skillful fingers of Cooking School visitors). The popular angelfood did not reap all the honors. A yellow cake and a chocolate as fine-grained as any white angelfood felt their own way with layers filled with caramel burnt-sugar filling, and all sorts of other good fillings.

The pies were not so numerous as the cakes but they were good enough to cause a fight between the men; and one of them did. The following had entered cakes: W. Clifton, J. C. Lane, Ira H. Rock, hold, B. Gully, R. D. McMillan, J. N. Lane, W. R. Stampff, Frank Sims, Geo. Hall, T. E. Johnson, J. P. Meador, J. L. Stewart, J. C. Miller, A. Little, Fannie Hawkins, Jack Nall, Horace Penn and C. A. Brewer.

The following had entered pies by that hour: W. O. Wasson, John D. Woods, E. W. Burleson, Frank Simms, O. L. Hopper and N. R. Smith. The complete list and the names of the prize-winners will be announced in Sunday's paper.

Herald Closes Most Successful Cooking School Ever Held Here

Junior High P.T.A. Wins Attendance Prize Over South Ward By Margin of Sixteen Votes, Count Shows

The Herald's 1931 Cooking School closed with a bang Friday afternoon on the most successful year of its history; due to the combination of a very popular lecturer, Myra Oliver Dougan, and the high pitch of rivalry between South Ward and Junior High P. T. A.'s.

With the narrow margin of only 16 votes, the Junior High P.T.A. won the attendance prize of ten dollars. This was mainly decided by the first day of the cooking school when Mrs. J. L. Webb's group got such a lead on all other organizations that, try hard as they could (and that was mighty hard) no other could catch up.

The total combination of registrations ran as follows: Junior High P.T.A., 304; South Ward P.T.A., 288; L.A. to R. of R.T., 34; First Baptist W.M.U., 52; East Ward P.T.A., 43; West Ward P.T.A., 34; Miscellaneous, 33; no votes, 48.

Mrs. James Campbell was given a table lamp by the Texas Electric Company at Friday's lecture. The session on Friday afternoon resembled a party more than anything else. On the mezzanine floor, were the beautiful cakes of the L.A. to the R. of R.T., which were shown in themselves; no woman could resist them. Mrs. Webb and her helpers were scattered all over the downstairs lobby catching last minute voters for the Junior High P.T.A. Mrs. Jess Slaughter and her helpers were on the mezzanine floor and dashing in out from cars which they drove all over town to bring women to the school to help South Ward with the prize.

The excitement of the fire at Mrs. L. E. Eddy's home (while she was attending the lecture) added an unexpected thrill. While most of the women were seriously taking notes on the best lecture of the series and learning the points on judging meat which Mrs. Dougan and Henry Olsen of the Handy-Andy showed by actual illustration, many were making an informal reception of it on the mezzanine, visiting with friends.

Up the cakes, talking little pinches of the sample slices and having a good time all around. The mezzanine floor offered abundant opportunity for visiting and it was hard to say who enjoyed themselves the more, the women in the ballroom getting information themselves, or the women visiting each other on the mezzanine.

New Exhibit Of Refrigerators Shown At Fair The first Grade A refrigerators ever to be shown in Big Spring are on display now at the County Fair building at 4th and Gregg streets in the attractive booth arranged by the Southern Ice and Utilities Co.

These Grade A refrigerators meet standards set by the Good Housekeeping Institute, Columbia University, and National Association of Ice Industries and represent a new standard of perfection in their line. They are not common refrigerators. Being all porcelain, meaning inside as well as out and with corkboard insulation, and ice-chamber arranged for the greatest possible circulation of air, these new and shining models have names of their own. The model put out by the McKee Co. is called Ice-Air and that put out by the Bohn Co. is called the Bohn Icyator. The walls of the first are three inches thick and that of the second 2 1-2.

Never before have such gleaming white beauties been displayed in Howard county. When this fair is over they are going to travel along with the humbler, golden-oak refrigerators to the Mitchell County Fair at Colorado. The golden-oak member has a glass back, a small pin wheel on the floor turns constantly showing the circulation of air in a properly designed refrigerator.
