56TH YEAR — NO. 12

FOR A CLEANER CITY—These big steel boxes, part of the city's new trash collection equipment, will be in use throughout the business district by next Friday as a step toward giving better trash pickup service throughout the city. Just one man and truck will be needed to service the business district and other crews and equipment will be used to increase residential trash collection service from a once-a-week to twice weekly schedule. ## Vega Wildcat Spurs Oil Play in Deaf Smith; Buyers Wary Oil play, spurred by rumors, has brought a fresh rush of cash and talk to Deaf Smith County in the past week.

Most of the nation's major oil companies have had brokers in the Hereford area seeking to buy leases or checking the county maps.

Although leasing activity had been going on in the county for several weeks, the buying apparently hit its peak Monday and Tuesday.

The play probably was triggered by the discovery of oil in Oldham County March 29 when Shell Oil Co. brought in a wildcat well 14 miles north of Vega.

BULL BARN USE

Long Term Lease Awarded Lions by County Court

Acting on a lease proposal submitted last month by the Hereford Lions Club, the county commissioners on Monday agreed to give the civic group free access to the new Bull Barn one day each week for the next 15 years.

In the lease agreement, which grew out of the Lions' participation in constructing and equipping the new facility, it was noted that the club has expended about $17,000 on the project for bleachers, lights and other improvements. Title to all such improvements passes to Deaf Smith County under terms of the agreement and any future improvements made by the Lions to the structure are to be made on a "gratis" basis without affecting any extension of the lease agreement.

One clause of the contract calls for recognition by the Lions of the name "Bull Barn" which members of the commissioners court have adopted as the official designation of the structure. In advertising Lions-sponsored wrestling matches in the building, the names coliseum, arena and pavilion have been used in the past.

County Judge Homer Henslee said that the commissioners had been reluctant to grant such a long lease to the civic group, but agreed to do so when several attorneys agreed that such a lease appeared to be the only means of protecting the Lions' investment.

Duro Basin, a geological area which includes Deaf Smith County. Shell has contracts to drill two more wildcat tests on the Alamoza Ranch where the first well was brought in.

Adrian and Vega also have been flooded with lease buyers.

Last oil play in the county was in 1950. All wells drilled then were dry holes.

Exact number of acres leased in the county is not known now and will not be known until all leases are filed at the county courthouse. As yet, none have been filed.

Nor is the amount of cash spent on the leases known. More than $100,000 is expected to change hands within the week, according to estimates.

HOTTEST SPOT in the county has been the portion just south of Adrian. Top prices in that area ranged from three to five dollars per acre bonus plus one dollar a year rental.

Competition for leases in that area has been reported.

Carl and J. V. Perrin, who own land south of Adrian, said they are in the process of leasing some of their holdings to a "big independent oil company."

Amount of acreage and prices were not disclosed.

The Johnson Bros. have leased approximately 8,000 acres on the Pitman Ranch to Superior Oil Co. and about 5,800 acres to the Hill Oil Co. They also leased

3 1/2 sections north of Bootleg Corners to an undisclosed buyer. Prices in these dealings ranged from one to three dollars bonus with one dollar per year rental. In other cases, facts and rumors blended. Most of the talking was being done by everyone except those who knew exactly what was going on and they were silent on details.

Trustees Consider $600,000 School Expansion Proposal

An expansion program with a possible $600,000 price tag was considered Tuesday evening by trustees of the Hereford school district. Action on employment of a new football coach was postponed until next Tuesday afternoon.

Two new members of the seven man board, B. F. Cain and Ralph Hastings joined in the discussion after they were sworn-in for three year terms to replace Robert E. Wagoner, retiring president, and Donald D. Zimmerman, retiring vice president.

The school expansion plans discussion came after routine business matters were settled, and Tom Robinson was named president, Bert Boomer elected vice president, and W. R. (Dub) Hair reelected secretary. Hair was also sworn-in for a three year term on the board, having been the only one of the three members whose terms were expiring who sought reelection in last Saturday's voting.

Owner Fined After Dogs Attack Boy

Don Bridges, 18, a senior at Hereford High School, was attacked and bitten by two Boxer dogs Sunday afternoon at the corner of Pearl and Irving Sts.

Bridges was treated for minor lacerations and released by Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Mrs. Leroy Brown, owner of the two dogs, was charged with violating a city ordinance by letting the animals run loose. She was fined $15 in corporation court Monday.

She also must pay one dollar a day for board of the dogs at the city pound where they are being kept for rabies observation.

Bridges said he beat the big dogs off with his hands and arms. He said he was wearing leather gloves which protected his hands.

He said his sister, Betty Bridges, and sister-in-law, Betty Serratt Bridges, were attacked by the same dogs last summer.

Chief of Police Henry Aycock said his department is becoming more strict on loose pets. He asked that dog owners have their animals tagged and vaccinated and to keep them penned up.

mendations called for building two smaller cafeterias instead of one central cafeteria to serve both the high and junior high school. Members of the committee were listed as Earnest Langley, Mrs. Joe Reinauer, Bill Lenderman, Robert Thompson, Tom Robinson, Bert Boomer, Wylie Quattlebaum, Alex Glass, Mrs. Ray Cowsett, Mrs. Tom Draper, Ted Moore, Sue Springer, Dorothy Williams, Mrs. J. J. Durham, Mrs. Vincent, Mrs. Wiggins and Mrs. Hamby.

The classroom committee recommended that, rather than build the 12 classrooms at the high school as suggested by the first citizens group, the board consider building nine classrooms identical in size and similar in decoration to present classrooms at the high school as an addition to the building, plus a large speech room and a large general science room. Rest rooms, a counselor's room and a men's lounge were also recommended for inclusion in the high school addition.

Roy Cantrell of Pampa, architect, met with the trustees Tuesday and was employed to aid in drawing up preliminary sketches for the proposed classrooms, cafeteria and gymnasium. His firm designed the present high school building.

Cantrell will work with Hereford school administrators and possibly an educational consultant in planning the expansion and possible alternatives to the overall plan.

Fred Baird, school financial secretary, who seldom advances opinions in board meetings, was called on for his thoughts on the financial status of the district in regard to the recommended construction. Baird said that, by adopting Senate Bill 116, the district could manage a $600,000 building program during the next two years without any particular difficulty.

Trustees expressed interest in the services offered by specialists in planning, but took no action on the suggestion.

Robinson, the new board president, asked, "Can an architect work out better plans than can six or seven men sitting around a table?"

No one answered his question. The board agreed that construction of a "quality" gymnasium to meet accreditation standards should be investigated, as well as costs of a "tin barn" type structure.

In OTHER action, the trustees approved extending the school year one day to May 25, a Saturday, in order to make up time lost during the March blizzard. They also approved an expanded curriculum plan proposed by the administrators for the next school year.

A committee report on purchase of a new house for the superintendent of schools — the present one is characterized as inadequate and in need of major repairs — was presented by Dub Hair, and brought the suggestion that the problem be studied further.

The board scheduled a special meeting for the afternoon of Tuesday, April 16, to consider hiring of a new football coach. Cunningham said over 30 applications for the job recently vacated by L. B. Russell, have been received.

Illness Fatal for H. F. Fangman, 77; Services Friday

Last rites for Henry Forest Fangman, 77, a farmer in this county since 1924, will be held at 9:30 a.m. Friday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Mr. Fangman died at 2 a.m. Wednesday in Deaf Smith County Hospital after an illness of two months.

Rosary was said for him Wednesday night and another is scheduled for 8 p.m. today in the Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Fangman was born Aug. 19, 1879 in Des Moines, Iowa. He came to Texas 66 years ago from Iowa and moved to Deaf Smith County in 1924 from Pilot Point.

He was married to Minnie Jensen in 1908 at Pilot Point.

Mr. Fangman was a member of the Catholic Church.

Burial will be in St. Anthony's Cemetery. Gilliland is in charge of arrangements.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Sylvester, James and Eugene, all of Hereford; four daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Beizer, Mrs. Pauline Marnell, Mrs. Dorothy Betzen and Mrs. Patricia Pastold, all of Hereford; three brothers, Frank, Fred and Lawrence, all of Pilot Point; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Scheepner, Mrs. Clara Hill and Mrs. Frances Wilson, all of Pilot Point, and 36 grandchildren.

Around Town

N. R. Miller was reelected to the county school board on Wednesday during Saturday's voting, defeating Alvin Rettmann by a margin of 41 to 21 votes last Saturday. Candidates J. C. Morrison and H. M. Benson were elected to fill positions being vacated by Elmer Corbines and M. W. Blankenship. G. V. Hall was elected without opposition to fill the vacancy of retiring J. V. Perrin on the Walcott common school district board. For the Hereford Rural High School district board, B. F. Cain, with 178 votes, Ralph Hastings with 177 votes, and W. R. Hair with 177 votes were elected while the fourth candidate W. H. Andrews was out of contention with 84 votes.

Unless Postmaster Jim Lipscomb receives word to the contrary, the post office will be closed to the public on Saturday and Sunday. It's part of the economy move dictated by the Postmaster General. Other reductions in service are scheduled to begin Monday, and a more severe slash will come on April 29.

Monday marks two deadlines. Income tax returns must be filed by midnight that date and it is the last day to obtain state safety inspection stickers for automobiles.

The county welfare office directed or presented an $89.13 "charity case" grocery bill for approval by Commissioners Court on Monday. Mrs. Jewell Smith said the bill was the largest she had handled since assuming her duties four years ago. She attributed the increase to requests for aid that have come from families of several colored men now serving jail sentences for bootlegging.

Only a minor increase in the total number of vehicles registered up to April 1, 1957, in comparison to the same date a year earlier is reported by Sank Ramey, tax assessor-collector. The comparative figures, 5,073 vehicles registered last year, to 5,118 this year, shows an increase of just 45, Ramey said.

March Births Set New Record Here

A new record for births in Deaf Smith County Hospital was set last month when 38 babies were born.

The previous record for births in one month was 35 set two years ago.

Chemical 'Cannon' To Be Turned on Menacing Insects

Backing up their expressed aim to prevent an outbreak of mosquito-borne sleeping sickness in Hereford this year, city officials have ordered a new high-velocity chemical spraying machine.

Delivery of a $3,000 "Buffalo" brand turbine-type machine, that will send chemical spray, dust or pellets from one to three blocks is expected within three weeks, according to Dudley Bayne, city manager.

"We will use the portable machine to treat dry lakes, Tierra Blanca Creek and other possible breeding places as soon as it is delivered," said Bayne. He explained that the chemical dust and pellets that the machine distributes can be counted on to have a semi-permanent effect in cutting down the insects.

LATER in the season, the residential areas of Hereford will be treated at regular intervals with chemical dust — benzene hexachloride, commonly known as BHC.

"Use of dust rather than spray will enable us to treat the residential area without damage to residents, clothes, houses, cars, animals or vegetation," said Bayne.

He explained that BHC is harmless to practically everything but insects. It still kills mosquitoes on the wing and also kills their larvae," said Bayne. The new high-velocity dusting machine to be used here during the coming months is similar to types already in use at Plainview and Lubbock.

With no county-wide program to count on for complete control of the mosquito menace, the city officials hope to reach some parts of the rural area with the new program.

Board Wants FB Office Removed

The county Farm Bureau office is to be moved from its present location on county property just north of the courthouse, according to an agreement reached by members of the Commissioners Court in their regular meeting Monday.

Reason cited for the board's decision: The commercial aspect of the organization has taken on through its insurance operations. Time for the move: Unknown.

Stan Sigman, county Farm Bureau representative, said Wednesday morning that the group had not yet been notified of the court action, but that moving should present no great problem. The Farm Bureau pays a monthly rental for use of the property, and is reported to be "paid up several months in advance."

and the creek outside the city limits. Bayne said, "We'll try to fill requests from rural property owners who have a mosquito problem, need the help of the city-owned equipment and will sign the proper release for our operations."

The city manager said he hopes city dwellers will cooperate in the insect control campaign by watching carefully to prevent the development of mosquito breeding places under dense shrubbery and around leaking faucets.

D. C. Martin Is Named Leader of Teachers Group

New officers for the Hereford chapter of the Texas State Teachers Assn., were elected Monday night at the group's annual steak fry held at Shirley School.

D. C. Martin was named president; Don Moore, first vice president; Mrs. Leroy Aven, second vice president; Mrs. Jim Whelan, secretary and Mrs. Jay Fortenberry, treasurer.

About 150 persons attended the steak fry. The Hereford High girls sextette furnished entertainment.

In charge of cooking the steaks were Frank Jones, Bill Stanford, Ed Dwyer, J. C. Reese, Bob Naylor, Bill Phillip and Jess Robinson.

ALL A MISTAKE Wrong Message Started Search in Two States

Garbled communications brought about a frantic two-state search Saturday and Sunday for a Hereford couple thought to have a fatal drug prescription.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newman picked up a prescription in Amarillo Friday night and the druggist later discovered he had given the wrong prescription.

He told relatives of the Newmans here of the error and in the attempt to locate the Newmans, who were on the way to New Orleans, the message became garbled and officers in Midland and Amarillo thought the drug was fatal and passed the message on to Louisiana.

Actually the prescription was harmless cough syrup and Mrs. Newman hadn't even opened the bottle when they were located in New Orleans Sunday.

Piggly Wiggly Is Celebrating 15th Anniversary Here

An array of free prizes, along with three days of special store events, were announced for this weekend at Piggly Wiggly by Gaylord Newell, manager, in celebration of the firm's fifteenth anniversary in Hereford.

The anniversary celebration will open Thursday and continue through Saturday, including 50 baskets of groceries, a bicycle, mixer and other merchandise awards. Newell said, pointing out that registrations are open to all persons who visit the store. He also said that coffee, doughnuts, pancakes, frozen pies, tomato juice and other special demonstrations will be conducted in the store during the three day period.

"It is our way of saying 'Thank You' to our customers and friends," said Newell. "For the past 15 years, it has been our purpose to give this area one of the most modern food markets in the Panhandle, and we appreciate your response over the long period of time."

8 Wetbacks Apprehended

Border Patrol agents picked up eight aliens at the Labor Camp Tuesday afternoon. The aliens reportedly were taken south Wednesday morning for deportation action.

Although the Border Patrol makes frequent visits to Hereford, publicity seldom accompanies their actions.

STUDY TWO PLANS

Jail Architect Selection To Be Pondered by Board

Before going any further in making plans for a new county jail the commissioners court is going to have to decide which of two architects they have been dealing with will get the designs contract.

This problem is expected to be solved today in a special court session.

After talking to representatives of the two groups of architects that have submitted tentative designs for the jail on Monday, the commissioners scheduled a further hearing with William C. Townes & Associates for 11 a.m. today, and plan to talk again with Kerr & Kerr at 1 p.m. Both are Amarillo firms.

Lawrence A. Kerr and his son John, whose work in planning the recently completed Randall County jail attracted the county board's attention, appear to have the inside track in the contest.

TOWNES apparently lost favor with the board when his estimate of costs on the hospital wing now nearing completion here missed contractors' low bid by about 25 per cent. The commissioners discussed this factor at some length on Monday.

And in Monday's meeting Townes estimate of $147,000 as the cost for the jail design he presented to the court many months ago suffered by comparison with the Kerrs' estimate of $158,000 as overall cost for a larger structure they have sketched for consideration by the court.

Members of the county board expressed concern over the basis for the estimates, speculating that the Townes' figure might be affected by a desire to "shoot over" final bids, but noted that Kerrs' recent experience should reflect an awareness of current building costs.

USING TWO architects in the preliminary stages of the project may result in a considerable savings of county funds, according to opinions expressed by members of the county board. They expect to pay for services of the architect whose services are rejected, from more efficient planning.

The plans presented by Kerr & Kerr depicted an 80 by 40 foot, two story building connected to the present courthouse by corridors and located on the east side of the square. (See Sketch, Page 1, Section 3.) The other proposal, originally designed to occupy space north of the square on the site occupied by the present jail, could easily be adapted for construction on the courthouse square, a Townes' spokesman said.

Kerr & Kerr are also working on a design for an elevator to serve courthouse employees and visitors. Lawrence Kerr estimated the elevator would cost $17,000 to $18,000.

Members of the county board have discussed location of the proposed jail at six different locations, on the present jail site or just west of the old jail on the property owned by St. Anthony's Catholic Church, and on each side of the courthouse. But the east side of the courthouse has apparently won approval as the most desirable location.

Kerr said that location of a new wing of modern design at the front or rear of the courthouse would damage its formal, classical appearance, but that location at the side should not detract from the attractiveness of the courthouse and might later "be balanced" by construction of additional office space on the west side of the courthouse "if and when more expansion becomes necessary."

Picture Window Conquered

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

THE PROBLEM of how to curtain a picture window attractively has led designer-stylist Beulah Charlát to a first prize award in the fabric division in the annual competition sponsored by the American Institute of Decorators.

She was puzzled by the picture window, but being a redhead she was determined to see the thing through.

"Sheer curtains are lovely," she reasoned, "but who wants to live in a fish bowl?"

Heavier curtains proved to be unflattering to large windows, and didn't afford the light airy feeling that any large outlook deserved. She yearned to devise a fabric that would be all things to that bugaboo of a window — pretty, sheer, but offering privacy to the tenants with the view.

Then she hit on the idea.

"Lace tablecloths and curtains had been on the decline for a long time," she says, "and my company had on hand large Nottingham looms, many of which now lay idle. Why not start them humming again making curtains in widths heretofore unavailable on the ready-made market?"

That's what she did, evolving the silhouette easement cloth that has won her the prize. It permits a depth of design with a see-through quality necessary to a picture window, lending privacy as well as light, shadows and textural interest. She has three motifs — Scandinavian in ivory white and mocha as well as blue, carnation and aqua, and in this group it was her Copenhagen pattern that topped the prize. An Italian group is in fresh flower shades, and an American group is woven with metallic threads. The curtains are made in widths up to 15 feet with no seams to mar their appearance.

She has been in all phases of the textile business since completing courses at New York University and textile schools. For the last year she has been associated with the Scranton Lace Co.

brokers and the number of companies represented is not available.

Some said about 20 buyers had been in and out of town Monday and Tuesday. Eleven brokers were counted in the coffee shop of the Jim Hill Hotel Tuesday at noon.

However, Dick Ross, manager of the hotel, said only about six scouts were registered at the hotel.

One local realtor said that 30 days ago landowners who would have been happy with a one dollar bonus and one dollar rental are now asking from five to 10 dollars.

The realtor said a driller told him "things are out of hand for the time being" and left to wait until the excitement calms down.

THREE reticent buyers, declining to identify either themselves or their companies, backed the driller up.

"The owners are excited by that story in the Amarillo paper," one of them said, referring to the lead story in Tuesday's Daily News which told of oil play in Oldham, Deaf Smith, Randall and Potter counties.

"Some buyers have pulled out and will be back when it cools off," he added.

"Actually, there's a lot more checking (of maps and titles) going on than buying," another chipped in.

"MOST OF this land is one dollar land," a broker said. This particular buyer said he had been in and out of the county since last fall buying leases.

"Some of this land is going begging for one dollar, much less five," he said. "We've been turning down land at two dollars," he added. The broker was planning to leave Hereford Wednesday.

"There's not a good ownership map of the county and what there is isn't up to date," one of the men complained.

All three brokers were miffed at the Amarillo newspaper story which told of the play in leases in this county and the other three mentioned.

ONE BUYER even went so far as to say he suspected the play had been touched off by an individual or two hoping to cash in on leases they were holding.

Another Hereford realtor said he had had a busy day Tuesday, handling about 10,000 acres in leases.

He opined that "most of the big stuff has already been leased."

One of the anonymous buyers later agreed to that statement. "There's not a great bit of competition except up south of Adrian and most of that's been taken," he said.

He added, though, and the other two agreed, there is interest in other parts of the county, particularly the eastern one-third.

The realtor said he had calls Tuesday from as far away as San Antonio and Albuquerque, indicating the wide interest in the leasing activities.

Still another local realtor, declining to be identified, said the oil scouts started trickling in last week and came in full force Monday.

"THERE'S BEEN no system to some of this leasing. It's as wild as it can be," he said.

"Those high prices in Oldham (some up to $10 per acre) touched it off and got the landowners excited.

"The main interest is north and east of Hereford and everybody in the county seems to be wanting to lease his land.

"All this play may be protective measures on the part of the big companies. It'll be at least four, probably six months before a hole is drilled.

"ONE GOOD well would double the bank deposits here in six months, though. It might bring a boom," he said.

Whether a boom is in sight or not, Hereford is still abuzz with the oil play.

Attorneys were kept busy working on the involved legalities of leases and the warranty deeds were well scanned by the buyers.

Skelly Oil Co. has filed for at least 14 certificates of titles in the past week and many others have not been sent through local abstract firms.

The initial effect of the play cannot be measured in dollars or acreage until the first rush of leases has been filed and the long-range effects may never be exactly measured.

Festive Fare for Easter Brunch

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

AN EASTER SUNDAY Brunch is a wonderful way to say a spring time welcome to friends.

For your centerpiece, you might use golden daffodils and Easter Bunny Eggs.

If ham is not on the menu for a later-in-the-day dinner, you may wish to serve Canadian bacon with a cheese soufflé, Clover Rolls and spicy apple butter. Add a compote of fresh strawberries, orange slices and canned apricots or frozen peaches and you'll have a delectable meal.

Here's how to make eggs into bunnies, a tip on preparing the Canadian bacon and the recipe for the Clover Rolls.

EASTER BUNNY EGGS

First hard-cook eggs and leave white or dye pastel shades with food coloring. Cut long bunny ears out of construction paper and cellophane tape them to the eggs. With crayon, draw eyes. Two or three clean wisps of straw pulled from a whisk broom will make each set of whiskers; attach them to the eggs with small bits of pink candle wax, forming noses. Place finished bunny heads in small sections of two-section egg cups and tie ribbon around edges of cups for neckties.

CANADIAN BACON

The Canadian bacon may be pan-fried in an electric skillet right at the table or it may be pan-fried in a regular skillet in the kitchen and then arranged attractively on a hot platter and garnished with parsley. Whichever type of skillet is used, melt a little butter in it and then add the bacon slices — cut 1/8 to ¼ inch thick — and turn to brown evenly. Serve piping hot.

EASTER CLOVER ROLLS

Ingredients: ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup sugar, 2½ teaspoons salt, 4½ tablespoons shortening, ¾ cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 1½ teaspoons lemon extract, 5½ cups of sifted flour (about), melted butter or margarine.

Method: Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into a large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture and lemon extract. Add half the flour; beat until smooth; stir in additional flour. Turn dough out on lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with melted butter; cover with clean towel.

Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board; divide dough in half. Form each roll into a 9 inch roll; cut each roll into 9 equal pieces; form each piece into 3 small balls. Brush sides with melted butter. Place 3 balls in each section of greased muffin pans (each cup 2½ by 1¼ inches); cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 hour. Brush lightly with melted butter. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 15 minutes. Makes 18 rolls.

Note: The grated rind of a lemon may be substituted for the lemon extract called for in the recipe. If this dough is kneaded well, and the other directions followed carefully, you should have rolls with excellent texture. If made a day or so before, they may be stored in tightly closed plastic bags in the refrigerator, then reheated in a hot oven just before serving.

BUNNY EGGS AND CLOVER ROLLS help to make a joyous Easter brunch.

Stitch Up an Easter Apron

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

EASTER is the signal for spring entertaining, after the Lenten period. It's the time for new hats, and new dresses, gay new finery for all the family. So why not a new Easter apron for Mom? It will help her get into the spirit of the day even while she's cooking Easter dinner or helping dye Easter eggs.

Felt is a good choice for a party apron, since it comes in a tempting range of colors, is easy to sew and practically indestructible. In tune with the season is a white felt apron trimmed with a family of bunnies in shocking pink.

The apron is made from a single piece of felt, cut in an oval shape. Local sewing center experts remind you that felt needs no hemming, so it's a cinch to whip up several of these aprons in an afternoon, for gifts and for yourself.

Use pattern transfers for the rabbit appliques. To applique, remember to leave a full inch around the outline of the rabbits when you cut them out and use the zigzag stitch lever on your automatic sewing machine or the zigzag attachment for your regular machine to stitch around the outlines. Eyes and whiskers may be embroidered by machine, too.

There are other transfer patterns in the one envelope, including four playing cards, a long-stemmed rose and a bird in a cage.

If you like, you can add further festivity with sequins, jumbo rickrack or decorative stitching.

BUNNY APPLIQUES—This white felt party apron is appliqued with shocking pink bunnies and edged with metallic rickrack for a gay Easter. Easy to make at home.

A Scrumptious Easter Dessert

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

EASTER ENTERTAINING deserves this sweet and airy torte. It's a light-as-thistledown meringue filled with an orange custard and a topping of whipped cream.

Easter comes only once a year, so let's forget about weight-watching and eat something scrumptiously rich!

We think hot fragrant cups of tea, scented with lemon, perfect accompaniment to this torte. Try the two together and see if you don't agree. It's a combination we enjoyed way back in our Canadian childhood and we were delighted when we tested this torte recipe to find how delicious it is.

The interesting point about preparing this dessert is that you can whip up the meringue, put it in an oven that has been preheated, turn off the heat and forget the whole thing for the next five hours. Then open the oven door and you'll see the meringue beautifully set with a faint tawny tinge. The four yolks from the whites used in the meringue are put into the orange filling.

PERFECT EASTER DESSERT—Meringue with orange filling.

STOWAWAY TORTE
Ingredients: 4 egg whites, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ¾ cup sugar, Orange Filling, ½ cup heavy cream, confectioners' sugar, vanilla.

Method: Pre-heat oven to very hot (450 degrees). Beat the egg whites, salt and cream of tartar together in a large mixing bowl with rotary beater (hand or electric) until frothy. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating very vigorously by hand or at high speed with electric mixer, until meringue holds very stiff glossy peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Spread bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate generously with butter. Turn meringue into buttered pie plate and spread evenly, but making a slight well in the center. Place in pre-heated oven, then turn off heat at once. Allow to stand in turned-off closed oven, without opening door, for 5 hours. Fill with cool Orange Filling and refrigerate until serving time. (Filling may be "runny" when first added but it will set during refrigeration and cut well.) Top with whipped cream — sweetened with a smidgin of confectioners' sugar and vanilla — and serve.

ORANGE FILLING

Ingredients: 4 egg yolks, ¼ cup sugar, salt, ½ cup strained orange juice, grated rind of 1 orange.

Method: Beat the egg yolks until they are thickened and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in sugar and a dash of salt, then add orange juice and beat enough to combine. Cook in top part of double boiler, over hot (not boiling) water until thickened. Stir in orange rind. Cool and spoon into well in meringue.

Booming Business and Jets Clouding Airport Horizons

By P. D. ELDRED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—What are the nation's major commercial airports, with traffic already cluttering the skies, doing to get ready for the jet age?

By early 1959, the swift jets are expected to be streaking across country at around 600 m.p.h., carrying from 150 to 200 passengers each flight.

To accommodate these noisy, high flying planes, with more than twice the speed and carrying capacity of the propeller-driven transports operating today, the big airports are going all out on costly, tremendously complicated expansion programs. It isn't just a matter of getting set to handle jet aircraft.

It also is spurred by the necessity to keep pace with the phenomenal growth of all air travel.

EFFORTS TO keep abreast of requirements are especially feverish at the huge international terminals — Chicago, New York, Washington, Los Angeles, Miami and Boston — from which the thirty jets will be taking off with full fuel loads.

Some idea of the comparative size of these jet monsters, on which United States air carriers are venturing two billion dollars in a bid for jet age leadership, can be gained by their weight.

It is estimated that the big swept-wing jet transports coming into production will weigh, when fully loaded for overseas flight, around 265,000 pounds — of which 85,000 will be jet fuel.

The largest, four-engine commercial planes carrying passengers on scheduled airlines today weigh around 117,000 pounds. With a full load. Within the limits of what is known about jet operations — and there are several things that will have to be learned by experience — the technical problems gradually are being worked out.

Runways are being lengthened and strengthened, terminal facilities are being enlarged, traffic control systems are being improved and additional aircraft loading positions built.

At San Francisco International Airport, worth 50 million dollars already, an additional 25 millions have been authorized for expansion. Around the country, the expense can be expected to run into millions at every major airport.

WHAT TO DO about jet noise or, as one official put it, "how to get along with the neighbors," is a touchy issue, with no solution in sight.

Edward B. Newill, manager of the Allison Division of General Motors at Indianapolis, which makes many of the jet engines flying today, commented:

"Noise suppression devices currently being developed may cut down jet aircraft noises somewhat, but jet noise is here to stay and we may as well get used to it."

However, there is apparent determination in some cities to require the aircraft industry to do something about it.

NEW YORK'S Port Authority, controlling four airports, has taken the stand that jets cannot come in until the noise level is reduced to "an acceptable point."

Several contraptions are being developed to suppress jet blast. Boeing Aircraft, which holds orders for 134 commercial jet transports, has under development a noise suppressor which it maintains will cut engine noise to acceptable levels.

Realization that "air space" has been shrinking at an alarming rate over all major population centers is causing airport operators to give considerable thought to how jets and prop-driven transports flying at less than half their speed will fit into traffic patterns.

"The jets will have to mix right in with the landing patterns of other commercial aircraft," one informed source declared. "The present trend of things... is to make jets conform to currently existing commercial aircraft procedures. This is merely an effort; whether it can be achieved remains to be seen."

Weed Control Is Subject of Talks Set for Meeting

The 10th annual meeting of the Texas Weed Control Assn., has been scheduled for Thursday, April 25 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station, Bushland, Hindweed and Johnson grass control and organization of weed control districts will be the principal topics discussed.

Results of seven years of bindweed control work in Gray County will be detailed by Ralph R. Thomas, county agent, and Ed Jacobson of Adrian will tell of bindweed control opportunities and obligations under the soil bank program. John Aldridge of Farwell, land owner and farm operator, will talk on control of Johnson grass in an irrigated area.

Organization of a weed control district is to be explained by John Brazzil of Canyon, Randall County agent.

Dr. Allen Wiese, assistant agronomist at the experiment station, will explain calibration of weed control equipment as the final feature of the discussion program. A tour of weed control research plots will conclude the meeting. Lunch

The number of American families who own cameras, is steadily increasing. Three years ago, 33 million families owned cameras. Two years ago, 35 million families were shooting snapshots. And today, there are 36 million families in America with cameras, spending 400 million dollars a year on supplies and equipment.

Less salty than other seas is the Persian Gulf. It is not only fed by fresh water streams from Iraq, but the passageway between it and the Gulf of Oman on the Indian Ocean is so narrow that little salt water can come in from that juncture.

New Hospital Wing Nears Completion

TIGHTENING UP—Lester Powers, carpenter from Amarillo, adjusts a screw on a cabinet in the nurses' station in the new wing at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

MAKING IT FIT—Preparing to pick up a file to get that angle just right is J. A. Griffin, a carpenter from Amarillo.

MAY 1 IS TARGET DATE TO PUT WING INTO USE

The new pediatrics wing of Deaf Smith County Hospital will be completed April 27, according to the contractor, Richard E. Timmons of Amarillo.

T. E. Seigler, manager of the hospital, said the wing should be in use by May 1. The new 13-room wing will add 26 beds to the present 36 bed capacity of the hospital.

Contract for the wing was let Aug. 17, 1956. At that time it was hoped the addition would be ready by April 1 of this year.

Money to finance the $116,006 wing was raised by public donations and a $57,500 donation by the Jim Hill Estate.

Furnishings for the wing were provided by Project Christmas Card when area residents gave money to the hospital instead of sending cards in town during the season.

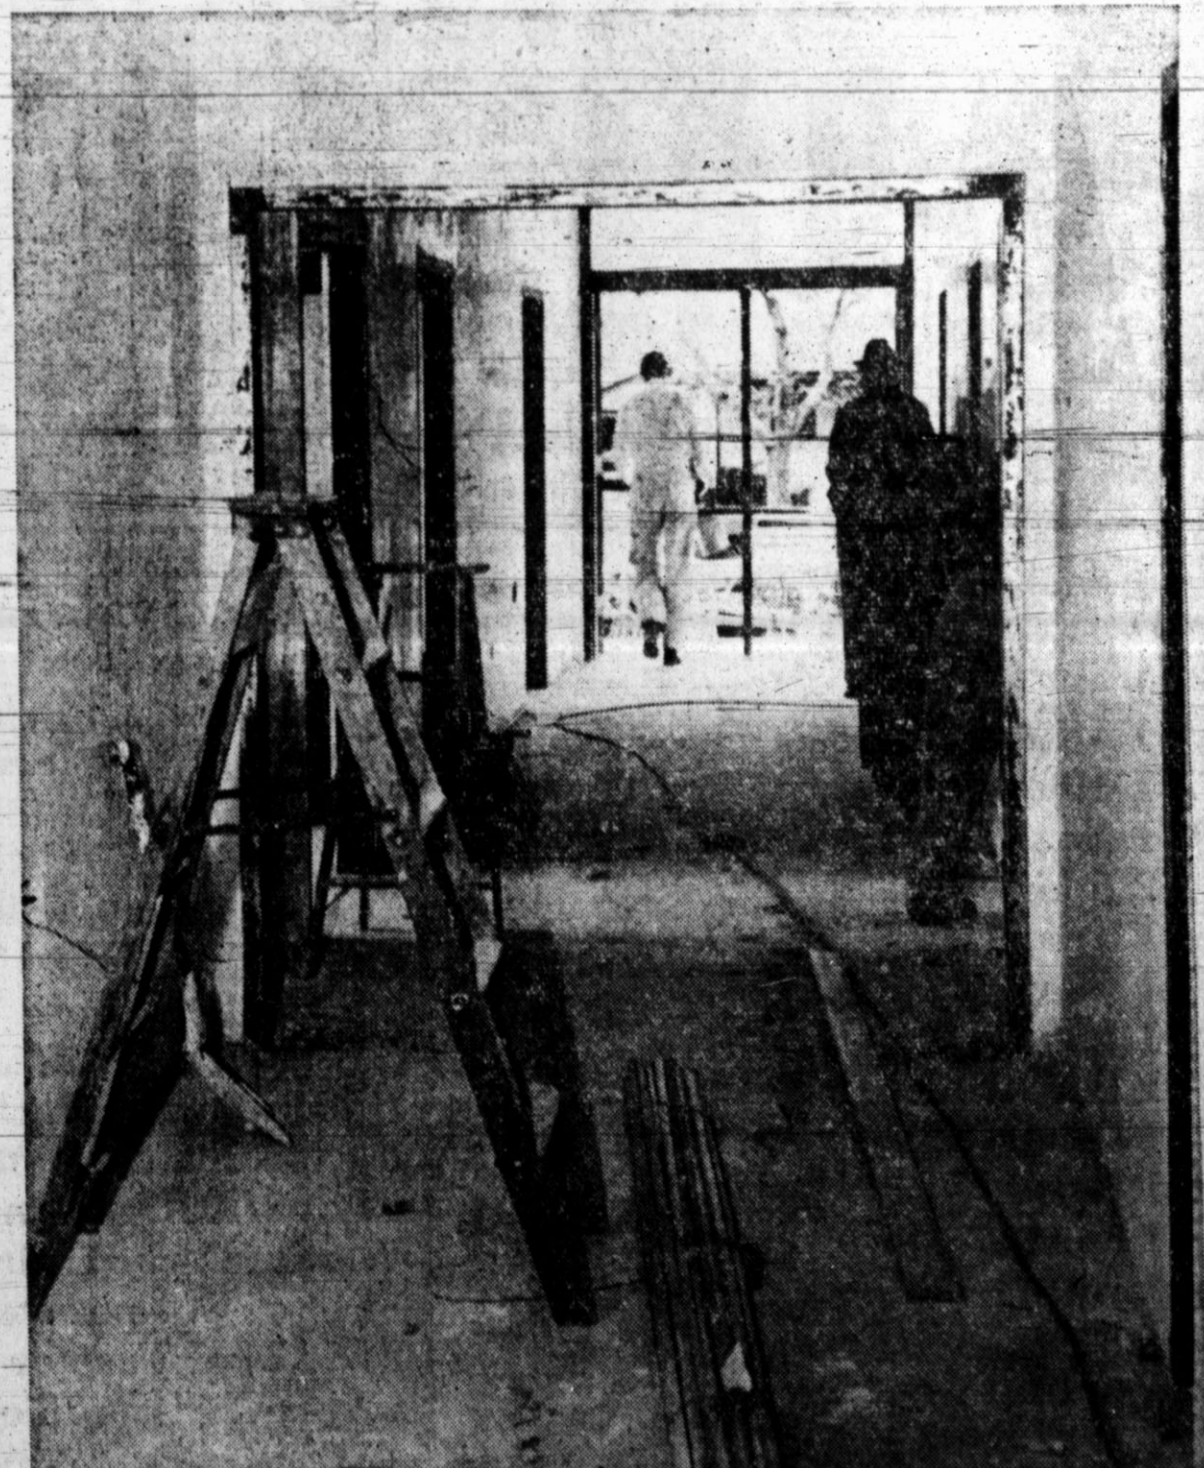

Seigler said the wing will be dedicated and an open house held, but no definite time has been set as yet.

STIRRING SCENE—Charles Noland of Amarillo uses an electric mixer as he prepares paint for the new wing at the county hospital.

COVERING UP—T. E. Seigler, manager of Deaf Smith County Hospital, covers some of the new furniture for the additional wing. The furniture was bought via the Christmas Card drive and other contributions.

A CLOSE WATCH—A foreman (with hat) keeps an eye on the various activities in the hall of the new wing. The contractor says it will be finished April 27. (Staff Photos)

Teacher Shortage Said 'Alarming'

AUSTIN — More than 100,000 Texas school children are in classrooms without a qualified teacher, Dana Williams, Texas State Teachers Assn. president, said today.

Williams pointed out that the Texas Education Agency this school year has issued 3,062 emergency teaching certificates to persons who could not qualify for a regular certificate.

The education agency is now issuing "teaching permits" at the rate of more than 125 each week, Williams said. These are granted to persons who are "the best available," and many have only a high school diploma.

"I THINK the people of Texas ought to have this information," the TSTA leader said, "because it is an alarming situation."

Now pending before the 55th Legislature is an emergency teacher pay raise bill which would help solve the problem by keeping experienced teachers in the classroom and attracting the new, qualified ones, he explained. It would provide $399 increase to $3,204 in the state base minimum, plus $180 in increments.

"It now appears that only $200 per teacher will be available for increased salaries, if all the money remaining after the General Appropriations Bill is used for this purpose. This will not do the job; this will not solve the problem."

"MORE MONEY must be provided by the Legislature if Texas citizens are to keep qualified teachers for Texas boys and girls," Williams declared.

"At least $50 million more is needed, not only for teachers salaries, but for increased state services now pending for solution before the Legislature," the TSTA spokesman maintained.

"This is a problem not for school teachers alone," Williams pointed out. "It is a problem for parents."

"These emergency teachers are attempting to teach 100,000 Texas boys and girls today," he added. "If the legislature does not provide increased teachers' salaries, the situation will become even worse and tens of thousands of additional Texas youth will be directly affected. It is a time for parents to become alarmed."

Refreshments were served to approximately 50 guests from a table laid in lace over pink and centering with pink and white spring blossoms.

The bride is the former Miss Jean McKanna of Amarillo. The couple is now residing in Amarillo where he is employed with the Shamrock Oil Co.

Bing Crosby's real name is Harry, Lillis Crosby. He is also a good song writer. His best known composition: "I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance With You."

Jean Finds Job No Lark

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Want to be an actress? Maybe because you dream of it as a cinch job, one where you can lie in bed all day and dream, sit on a chaise longue, holding a long cigarette holder, stay up nights having your picture snapped at chic night club?

Well, taint that way at all, says lovely 18-year-old Jean Seberg who just has returned to the United States after filming "Saint Joan" abroad.

"Any teen-ager would be surprised at how much work is involved in playing a movie part," she says. "I was. You must give up a great deal, although it is well worth it."

Jean, who at 17 won Otto Preminger's competition for a young unknown actress to play the role of St. Joan, was born at Marshalltown, Iowa, attended college at the State University of Iowa, just six days — just long enough she says, "to go through sorority rushing and learn a lot about girls."

Since then she has been on a merry-go-round, winning the contest, making the picture and making plans to do her second movie, "Bonjour Tristesse," posing for photographs, giving interviews, being fitted for clothes. It's a full working day in anybody's date book, she says.

"My movie break was mostly luck," she says.

Jean went through the usual adolescence — having crushes on movie stars, but she didn't really dream of becoming one herself.

"Oh yes, I used to emote, sing and gesticulate in front of the mirror, and imagine I looked like the biggest movie star of the moment. But I never really thought seriously that it could happen to me."

The tiny Jean's blonde hair has been cut like a boy for her role of St. Joan. It embarrassed her at

Farm-Ranch Club Holds Luncheon

Mrs. J. V. Perrin was hostess for the Farm and Ranch Club luncheon program Thursday with yellow jonquills centering the white linen table cloth to accent the Spring-time theme. Tiny potted plants served as place cards for members.

Mrs. G. S. Solomon was in charge of the program on "Federation" giving reasons for federation and explaining the meaning and purpose of the federation work. She also told of the various activities and projects of the federation.

Mrs. Solomon was also winner of the floating prize.

Members present were Mesdames Richard Boyd, Charley Hoover, Waldron Melton, G. S. Solomon, N. E. Tyler, Morey Bussell and the hostess.

first, she said, and she wore caps and hats to conceal it, but now she has become used to it.

"I met Ingrid Bergman abroad," she says, "and Ingrid commented that Joan's hair gets shorter every year. Nobody knows where it will end."

Jean is proud of her parents for "encouraging her without pushing," the way some parents do. As a matter of fact they are good at prodding too, but just at the right time when a bit of encouragement is needed.

Her grandmother wanted to be a bareback rider in the circus, and when Jean told the story in Paris recently, she was misunderstood by the press. One paper said her grandmother rode a bear in the circus, another reported her grandmother rode bare in the circus. Grandma will just laugh about it, she says.

When Irving Berlin's song, "God Bless America," was published 20 years after he wrote it, he assigned all royalties to the Boy and Girl Scouts of America. Their income from the song has passed the $100 thousand dollar mark.

Don't kid yourself. This oil leasing is the real thing. Things are happening thick and fast. Few of the local leases are being recorded, but some day soon they will hit the clerk's office like a ton of bricks. The idea, of course, is to shape up blocks — and that is just what the lease hounds are doing these days. Whether we get oil or not is still a $64 question — and anybody's guess.

Another thing. This oil play is not a total result of the Oldham County well. Remember last September, when this column said that Deaf Smith County and the Palo Duro basin could expect a big oil play in 1957? This is it! All of the downstate hunters who trekked to South Dakota were talking about it last fall. One or more test wells will be drilled in this county when, and if, the leases are blocked out to suit requirements.

Also, this is a good time for folks to keep their feet on the ground. We might have some oil. We might not. About the only way we can find out is to drill some wells.

Getting down to earth, a lot of people are wondering what will happen to those 3rd St. sidewalk benches when the bank constructs its new building. Will they do away with the benches completely, or will they replace them with upholstered, plush-lined, air conditioned units? Only time will tell. In the meantime, I can't see why

I should worry — especially after those benches all wound up in my front yard one time I came to their defense. However, I feel sure that the bank will at least broach the subject to their architect.

Earnest Langley says he went down to talk about buying a new car the other day, and they not only offered to sell him a car, but would give him a FREE ticket on a grocery store which the dealer is giving away.

People keep talking about the younger generation when, all of the time, they might well spend a few fretful hours over some of the older ones. Hereford now has three men's bridge clubs, according to the grapevine. The latest one was formed this week with two tables. Charter members are John Pool, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Townsend Douglas, R. G. Peeler, Ed Line and Dudley Bayne. It must be these newfangled 30-hour weeks I keep hearing about. I thought golf was bad enough, but these men's bridge clubs take the cake.

W. J. McDonald, State Commissioner for the Blind, visited here this week and says that we have on record 10 blind people in Deaf Smith County. This, according to McDonald, means that there are probably 15 to 20. He wants to send a trained state worker in here twice each month to teach braille, typing, cooking, cane travel, and crafts; also to organize a club in order that the blind people can visit among themselves. It will probably turn out to be a county-state deal, similar to Potter, Lubbock and several other Texas counties — and will require some outside help from organizations. Total local costs, McDonald estimates at something like $300 a year.

Jack Grady was by with clippings about purchase of the Lindsey Ranch near Elbert, Colo., by the G. E. Gollehons, who also operate a ranch in the Black Forest near Colorado Springs. Elmer Gollehon, former Hereford grocery man, will specialize in raising Hereford feeder cattle, according to the clipping. The additional acreage will replace part of his property on highway 85-87, which was sold to the government several months back for location of the U. S. Air Force Academy.

Vern Witherspoon, foremost authority on pioneer happenings, also dropped in and was quite excited about an 1892 official Democratic Ballot, recently unearthed by Mrs. Minnie Walker. The ballot listed Grover Cleveland for president and — much to my surprise — Adlai E. Stevenson for vice president. Was this the father of our recent Demo nominee? Must have been.

Jim Hogg was running for governor of Texas and the local slate read as follows:

County Judge — F. B. Fuller, John E. Ferguson and Andrew J. Lipscomb. Clerk — C. G. Witherspoon and C. C. Tannehill. County Attorney — Jerome B. Jennings. Ike D. White, Warren W. Moore; Assessor — Thomas E. Flickinger, George R. Jowell, A. T. Kendrick; Sheriff and Tax Collector — Nath an Edgin, J. D. Trusty, William N. Barker; Bud Jowell, Lewis R. Brady; Treasurer — W. D. Witherspoon and Henry J. Beard; for County Surveyor — L. S. Hallam and Dave McBride; Commissioner — No. 1 — James A. Blair and Willard Frisbie; Precinct 2, Z.B. Hogan; Precinct 3 — James P. McLaren; Precinct 4 — W. S. Wiggins.

Q. What is a good after-shampoo rinse, especially for blonde hair?

A. One level teaspoonful of borax added to a gallon of water.

Q. How can I help reduce the effect of a chin that juts out?

A. By using a darker shade of foundation on it than on the rest of the face.

Q. What is a good makeup routine for an acne-pitted face?

A. Fill in the pits with a cream base that is lighter than skin-tone. The cream base can be pressed in and set by using a puff lightly dusted with talcum powder. For the makeup, use a liquid foundation cream of a skin-matching tone smoothed on evenly and carefully so as not to disturb the first cream base. Then the rouge and the powder.

Neither Rain, Nor Sleet Nor Dark of Night Stays Criticism of Summerfield

By REP. WALTER ROGERS
WASHINGTON — Many columnists and commentators have been having a Roman holiday with the news that the President's car went 70 miles per hour between Washington and Gettysburg. The news correspondents' car, which usually tries to drive the presidential vehicle in view, was halted by Maryland State Police and told to drive within the speed limit.

THESE instructions brought immediate reaction from several of the correspondents on the theory that the law is the law and the President has no more right to violate it than they do.

The truth is that neither had the right to violate the law. Two wrongs do not make a right. Under the law as written, anyone driving over the legal speed limit has violated the law.

HOWEVER, it would seem from all of the clamor that grew out of the presidential 70 mph that the President was driving the car, and was the only person who had ever driven over 70 mph. It appeared for awhile that this tremendous event of events would sweep everything else off the front pages, including the Middle East crisis and the Texas senatorial election.

It would have been much simpler to issue a traffic ticket to the President for a technical violation and thereby dispose of the entire matter. However, if anyone around Washington who drove a few miles over the speed limit received a ticket, the printing presses would be working 24 hours a day.

I am afraid the President is being needed — a practice I hope will not be continued. The best way for the President to stop it is to take these jibes in good grace and not become nettled by questions about helicopters, speed limits and plans to step aside for the Vice President. This will be difficult, because the office of the President of the United States is probably the toughest job in the world. It should not be made tougher.

HIS HONOR, the Postmaster General of the United States of America, appointed by the President, has served notice on the duly elected members of the Congress of the United States that he has spent all of the money given to him and needs a mere 4 million dollars with which to finish the fiscal year which ends on June 30. He has further indicated that he expects to get it, and that if he doesn't get it, there will be a measurable curtailment of postal activities tomorrow and immediately.

I must confess that this development in the Post Office Department came as quite a surprise to me, because I had understood from the past advertisements of the Post Office Department that Mr. Summerfield had taken over a mismanaged and inefficient operation and had streamlined it into a modern-day system of efficiency and sound business practices; that he had reduced the Post Office deficit by closing a great number of 4th class post offices and denying many of the rural people in this country the postal service to which they are entitled.

The question of whether or not we will get the size cuts we want may depend upon how these supporters line up as to economic aid and military aid.

Some are advocating cuts in economic aid, but no cuts in military aid. Others are advocating sizeable cuts in the military, but not in the economic. If these two groups can get together and reach an agreement in relation to the economic and military features of the bill, we would be able to effect a measurable cut in this program.

It has been my feeling that the American taxpayers are entitled to much better results than we are receiving from the expenditure of these foreign aid funds, and that if some measurable progress cannot be made, the program should be immediately discontinued.

IT MIGHT be pointed out that, although Mr. Summerfield was the guiding genius who cut off the farmers' mail service, put the post office equipment in patriotic colors, decentralized the information center, and made several other changes that now require an additional 47 million dollars to pay for, it is only fair to point out that he did have some help. The Post Office Department, in recent years, has paid some fabulous fees to efficiency expert firms to speed up the streamlining of the Department. In fact, one of these fees alone would have kept several 4th class post offices in my district open for a number of years.

I had always thought that government departments were the leading experts in creating deficits; therefore, you can appreciate my surprise to find that one government department had to hire outside help in order to accomplish this, but, then, we must remember that this bunch not only created the deficit, but were able to curtail the service. In other words, we now get less for more — quite an accomplishment.

The grass roots clamor for sizeable budget cuts may pay off handsomely when the foreign aid appropriation bill comes before the House. Even the most ardent supporters of foreign aid, both economic and military, are admitting openly that this program can stand a sizeable cut.

The question of whether or not we will get the size cuts we want may depend upon how these supporters line up as to economic aid and military aid.

Some are advocating cuts in economic aid, but no cuts in military aid. Others are advocating sizeable cuts in the military, but not in the economic. If these two groups can get together and reach an agreement in relation to the economic and military features of the bill, we would be able to effect a measurable cut in this program.

Your Best Beauty Aid Is Soapsuds

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

SOAP may have great beauty advantages for the skin, although we give it credit merely for removing dirt.

One beauty authority believes it invaluable in keeping the skin in a fatty acid condition. Years ago he advised that he believed the proper way to wash the face is to make a lather between the hands, (no wash cloth) rubbing the suds on the face and over the body if you are in the tub. He believes in rinsing the face with the same water, not clear water, claiming that this method will keep the skin in a fatty acid condition.

Some women claim that soap irritates their skin and this may be true in some instances. It may be drying too, but dry skin types may still use it, providing they rinse it off and apply cream or lotion to the skin afterwards.

One intriguing phrase that appears in many soap ads is "French milled." What does it mean? After many phone calls to cosmeticians it was finally established by a chemist that French milled soap usually is more elegant in appearance and pleasantly scented.

It is made like this: Instead of just taking the soap out of a kettle and stamping a name on it, French milled soap is made into chips, impregnated with color and perfume and then rolled out on rollers (made in America from French patents) and dried to take out excess moisture. It is supposed to have 25 to 33 per cent less moisture content than ordinary soaps, so should last longer.

One new highly touted soap made in the milled manner also contains softening oil, particularly beneficial for dry skins. It contains extra glycerine which offers a protective coat against cold air that causes wrinkles and skin roughness. It is supposed to lend a real satin glow and is available in scents named after all the sleek satin colors — red, black, white, gold.

When you use a good soap in the tub be sure to put it back in the soap container after the bath instead of letting it soften away in the bath drainage.

Art Collection Is Shown by Biddles

GIFTED BIDDLES—Poet Katherine Chapin Garrison and her husband, former U. S. Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle, before portrait of Mrs. Biddle painted by Franklin C. Watkins.

WASHINGTON — Friends and critics studying the portrait of Mrs. Francis Biddle, wife of the former attorney general, were of two opinions. Some liked it. Others didn't.

"They don't think it looks like her at all," observed a neutralist in the group previewing a collection of paintings, prints and sculpture gathered in over 30 years by the Biddles and now on exhibition at the Corcoran Art Gallery here.

Mrs. Biddle, who, as Katharine Garrison Chapin, is widely known for her poetic works, is pleased with the painting by the Philadelphia, Franklin C. Watkins. She has written a poem about it.

"It concerns a mood induced by the painting," Biddle told me.

In the collection is a portrait of Biddle too. It was done by his brother, George, whose murals enhance the Department of Justice building here and public buildings in Mexico City, Rio de Janeiro and elsewhere. The distinguished lawyer and author, the essence of dignity and impeccability, is pictured in a cap, bow tie and rather flashy sports clothes.

Mrs. Biddle has written several books of poetry, numerous critical works, three long dramatic ballads which were set to music and a couple of plays. She is now making some recordings for the Library of Congress where she is a consulting fellow in poetry as well as for foreign broadcasts.

Biddle himself is a writer of note. Currently, he's finishing off his reminiscences.

Research at Tufts Is on Sleepy Side

By JOHN B. KNOX
MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Do you know just when you fell asleep last night? Of course you don't.

Believe it or not — scientists worry about things like that. You and I never know exactly when we doze off. Furthermore, Tufts University psychologists will tell you that the smartest scientist in the world can't tell — even when he's watching you — the precise moment when you cease to be awake.

You might think that solving a problem like that — finding out a way to tell exactly when a person is no longer awake — would not be important to national defense. But it is. The Army's Quartermaster Corps, which conducts research in military equipment, needs to know. Why? To test the efficiency of sleeping bags.

IN THESE DAYS of long-range bombers and nuclear weapons, when the arctic regions are of growing strategic importance, the alertness of one man, or a small group of men, could play a vital role in war. Inefficient sleeping bags may cause men to be sleepy when they should be alert.

Dr. Paul D. Coleman and associates in the Tufts Institute for Applied Experimental Psychology are trying to develop equipment and a technique which the Quartermaster Corps can use to test its sleeping bags. They hope the sleeping-testing gear will detect the moment a subject falls to sleep and also show how well he sleeps during the night.

The project has the imposing name "Electroencephalographic Correlates of Sleep." In simple words, it's a study of the correlation of brain waves and sleep.

All human brains generate tiny electric currents. Dr. Coleman is studying these brain waves for clues to show just when you fall asleep and evidence of how deeply you sleep.

SINCE THIS is a study of sleep itself, the students who volunteer to advance science by sleeping don't sleep in sleeping bags. They relax on a special bed in a room insulated not only against sound, but also against all stray electrical currents. The little room is completely enclosed in an electrically grounded copper mesh — because the brain currents are so tiny any stray electricity from outside could disturb readings.

Research already shows that the little wiggles in the lines traced by the brain wave recording machine become slower as the subject sinks into sleep. It also appears that there are up-and-down stages in sleeping: we seem to sleep in irregular cycles sometimes deeply, then lightly.

In an attempt to find that elusive moment when consciousness ends and sleep begins, the psychologists have set up a loud speaker in the sleeping room. The subject holds a button attached to an elec-

Bible Words for Today

II TIMOTHY 4:7 — "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." (King James Version)

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, at the age of 90, described the event that furnished him with a text for his long and useful career.

As a soldier during the Peninsula Campaign in the Civil War he saw the sloop Cumberland that had been sunk by the Merrimack off Newport News. She had gone down with her flag flying and now only the banner was visible above the water beneath which she lay buried.

Wrote Holmes: "It was a lifelong text for a young man: fight to the end, and go down with your flag at its peak."

Paul's brave words addressed to Timothy echo the same spirit. He had overcome obstacles, he had accomplished his mission, he had remained faithful to his purpose. His life was one of conquest, completion, and fidelity.

Many of us go through life with our flags at half mast. But it need not be so. There are resources in Holy Scripture, prayer, worship, and service that will enable any man "to fight to the end and go down with his flag at its peak."

Paper Towel Mobile Is Fun

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

RAINY DAYS and other times when children are confined to quarters call for some sleight-of-hand on Mom's part. The kind of magic that Mom should encourage is the one where she produces some paraphernalia, and the youngsters get to work developing something that will keep them busy a few hours now and then.

One mobile of jaunty paper birds may be made with paper towels. It's a fun project that may be thoroughly enjoyed by a little fellow of 5 or 6, even if he doesn't know a robin from a blue jay.

The little birds are suspended from narrow wooden rods. (Bamboo strips from a variety store place mat may do.) A simply balanced mobile construction has 3 wooden rods: The bottom rod with a bird hung from each end is suspended at its center from one end of the middle rod. This middle rod, with a bird on the opposite end, is in turn suspended from the top rod. The supporting thread here should run from one end of the top rod to about the quarter-mark on the middle rod, measuring from the thread connecting it with the bottom rod. The top rod may have three hanging birds, hung in quarter distances across its length. The thread holding up the entire mobile should be attached at the top rod's first quarter mark.

After knotting threads on the rods in this manner, it's not difficult to finish balancing the see-sawing rods by moving the thread loops slightly to the left or right as needed.

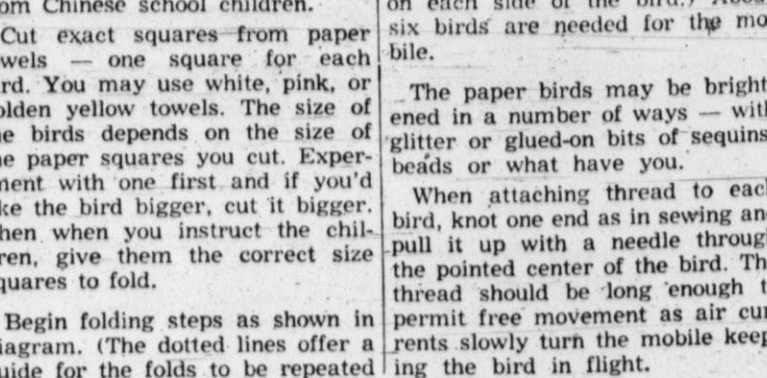

The art of folding plain squares of paper into fanciful birds-in-flight is a handicraft borrowed from Chinese school children.

Cut exact squares from paper towels — one square for each bird. You may use white, pink, or golden yellow towels. The size of the birds depends on the size of the paper squares you cut. Experiment with one first and if you'd like the bird bigger, cut it bigger. Then when you instruct the children, give them the correct size squares to fold.

Begin folding steps as shown in diagram. (The dotted lines offer a guide for the folds to be repeated on each side of the bird.) About six birds are needed for the mobile.

The paper birds may be brightened in a number of ways — with glitter or glued-on bits of sequins, beads or what have you.

When attaching thread to each bird, knot one end as in sewing and pull it up with a needle through the pointed center of the bird. The thread should be long enough to permit free movement as air currents slowly turn the mobile keeping the bird in flight.

BIRD MOBILE—It may be made easily by junior members of the family. Here Curt Cassidy of New York restrains his cat, "Mousetrap," who is intrigued with Curt's birds.

Each time he hears a sound from the speaker, he responds by pressing the button. Gradually, the responses show an increasing lag. When the responses cease entirely, the subject is clearly asleep.

PLASTERED COP
ST. MATTHEWS, Ky. (AP) — Patrolman E. H. Burnett got plastered in the line of duty but he wasn't drinking.

Burnett heard boyish voices inside a church, leaped through a window and landed in a huge box of plaster workmen had mixed for repairs in the building.

The boys escaped while he scraped plaster from his eyes.

Lionel Barrymore, late stage and screen star, was also a talented composer. Among other things, he composed "Farewell Symphony," a one-act opera for four piano pieces.

More Bibles have been sold in Japan since the end of World War II than in the 60 preceding years, says the American Bible Society.

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW
Weatherwise Ones
Prepared for Blow

By BETTY BABIONE

If you plan a trip to Washington D.C. this is certainly the time of the year to go. The cherry blossoms are in bloom and they're a sight to behold! The National Cherry Blossom Festival is being held in Washington this week—it's really a beautiful event with its background of natural color and beauty.

Of course, the cherry trees came originally from Japan. I don't know what season they bloom there, but I've heard that the trees grow all over the country of Japan. So I imagine the country is a mass of blossoms, a gorgeous landscape from one end of the island to the other.

DON'T KNOW what started me to thinking about such things unless it was seeing the cherry trees that are now blooming around our town. Lula and Ray Bosley have a small orchard of them in their back yard. It's worth a special drive by their house on Avenue J to behold the spectacle. The cherry must be a hardy tree to have survived in good enough state to bloom here this year.

Perhaps what got me on the subject was noticing the wistful look in the eyes of Ruth Knox and Irene Cleveland during the past month or two. Both of these young women came from southern states; and whenever we have a Panhandle duster or a prolonged cold spell, I can understand why they think of home—home, in these cases, meaning a profusion of beautiful flowers and green foliage.

It is just as well that Easter comes late this season, since Lady Spring is doing same. My goodness! . . . save for a few jonquills and a tulip or two (and of course the cherry blossoms), the garden clubbers are having to scrounge and scrounge for their exhibits. If you know a garden club member and you have a few noses in your yard do a good turn and let her know about 'em.

I MAY complain about the weather being too cold for spring, but wasn't Monday a beautiful day! If that is the example of severe weather conditions—the weatherman forecast, it was certainly the most pleasant type thus far experienced.

After the weathercast Saturday, lots of people made a special trip to the store to make sure the household larder would n't be caught short as happened to many of us during the late, great storm. My pantry is oversupplied as a consequence. In fact it proved to be a waste, particularly with bread. The family would have eaten it if we had no choice, but three or four-day-old bread does not exactly enhance a meal. I had put several loaves in the refrigerator, but those were not good for much except toast. After a while we all got more than our fill of toast—in fact, I could say that that toast wasn't burned but we were "burned out" on it, that is. And it appears that I've made a feeble attempt at a bun—I mean pun. Oooooo. Better return to the subject of weather.

I'M SURE that Mary and Pick Harman are among the folks who were relieved when the storm didn't materialize last weekend. They had just finished repairing the ceiling of their lovely, new home which received extensive damage in the previous blizzard.

Norma Faye and Alvis Jolly are another couple who are hoping that future moisture won't come in such severe form and fashion. They had to recruit friends to help them ball out the water from the second story of their house.

About the only story I've heard (and like I said, there have been a million) concerning someone who remained completely undaunted in spite of the storm, was the one on Mrs. J. O. Newell. The night the blizzard hit, she had stayed overnight with her daughter and son-in-law, Nadyne and Darrell Blanton. Being an early riser, Mrs. Newell decided not to disturb the rest of the family that Sunday morn and was going out the door before Nadyne rushed in to convince her that the wind and mounting snow would prohibit her from reaching the street, much less her house several blocks away. Mrs. Newell hadn't given the idea much consideration and Nadyne had to do some strong convincing to keep her mama from setting forth.

THE WORST thing that happened storm-wise to the Sid Fullers and the Max Drevlers was the damage to their television antennas. They were afraid they might not get them repaired in time to view the Academy Award presentations, but luck was on their side.

I don't know if their TV antenna had anything to do with it, but the Dick Millers went over to Pat and Bess Webb's to watch the event.

Haven't I pounced upon this subject in an obvious manner?—but I've been trying for two weeks. Most of the comment after the Awards concerned Elizabeth Taylor's dress—the low neckline and the high waistline, but mostly the low neckline. All the clothes were fabulous as were many of the hairdos. . . . Thought Janet Gaynor was lovely (having been presented as the first Academy Award winner for best performance by an actress).

It was disappointing that several recipients were not present in person to receive their awards. . . . Also disappointing that Bing Crosby's part in the show was on film, but 'twas a pleasure to hear his voice sing "True Love" from the movie, "High Society".

INGRID BERGMAN'S conning the best actress trophy is still a controversial matter. . . . Lots of people were rooting for Deborah Kerr for her performance in "The King and I" and Nancy Kelly for her portrayal of the mother in "The Bad Seed". . . . Winner Yul Brynner was definitely the favorite nominee for best actor ("The King and I") with Kirk Douglas ("Last For Life," the biography of Van Gogh) next in popularity. . . .

Anthony Quinn (does anyone know his original nationality?) was a surprise winner for best supporting actor—everyone thought Robert Stack, the alcoholic in "Written on the Wind," would win. . . .

Hope we get to see the "best" movie, "Around the World in 80 Days," sometime in the next 80 years. . . . Anna Magnani, who got the Oscar for best actress last year ("Rose Tattoo"), received the best applause of the evening when she appeared to present Yul Brynner's award to him. . . . an Oscar went to the composers of the song, "Whatever Will Be, Will Be" (sometimes called "Que Sera, Sera"). . . . Jerry Lewis clowning his way through as master of ceremonies, but he had some serious moments when the mistakes in the script complicated procedure. . . .

All this is past history now, but we movie fans still enjoy talking about it.

Say, if anyone is interested in seeing Greta Garbo emote in one of her famous flickers, dial the late movie on channel 10 Friday night.

The Neighbor to Neighbor Campaign for the Cancer Crusade is in full sway this week. When the cancer envelope comes to your house, consider it a good reason to call on that neighbor you haven't had time to visit lately. . . . And I promise I'll be right here for a visit with YOU Sunday!

County Farmers Reap Bonus for Conservation Practices

Deaf Smith County farmers last year received $176,032.61 in government payments for adopting improved farming methods and for treating their land to cut down on wind erosion damage, according to a report released this week by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

Installation of concrete pipe to improve irrigation of 11,597 acres and conserve water on 80 farms took the largest share of the total, $85,839.23. Wind erosion chiseling payments totalling $66,127.47 was the second ranking practice "dollarwise." Payment went to 201 farms for chiseling of a total of 95,582.6 acres.

IRRIGATION improvements made under the Agricultural Conservation Payment program was not confined to installing underground pipe, although that water-saving measure was the most expensive single item on the report. Lining ditches with concrete on eight farms, a total of 16,652 feet of ditch being lined, brought payments of $7,063.37; leveling irrigated land brought $1,098.60 to eight farms where 83.7 acres were leveled.

Improved cropping practices that were adopted on several farms qualified their owners for payments as follows: Rotation cover crop planting brought $1,639.26 on 15 farms where 437.5 acres went into alfalfa; payment of $171.40 was divided among three farms where 116.2 acres of winter cover crop was established; $556.40 was paid to four farms for establishing a summer cover crop—the total acreage covered was 482.3.

Improved handling of rainfall on cropland and of runoff water from neighboring land through construction of waterways and terraces also qualified some farms for payment. Three farm waterways, used to divert water from cultivated land by establishing grassed channels, covering 53.5 acres brought their owners $721.52 upon completion. Two farms installed terraces covering a total of 34,919 linear feet and qualified for payments of $947.15.

EIGHT diversion terraces, used as a means of shunting runoff water from neighboring land into natural water courses or adequate ditches and thereby preventing damage to cultivated land, were built. These earthen dams measured a total of 91,392 feet on the farms where they were constructed and brought payments of $2,392.46.

Chiseling of non-crop pasture land on four farms brought four operators payments of $1 per acre for a total of 405 acres thus treated to prevent wind erosion and increase water-holding capacity of the pastures.

The local lads won the District 1-AAA title Saturday in a meet held at Levelland.

Jeff Minton, Charles Seed, Danny Elliston and Dale Taylor posted a team total of 667 for the district crown.

Levelland was second with 671 and Littlefield came in third with 695.

Seed was low man for Hereford with 159 for the 36 holes. Minton fired 161 while Elliston had 171 and Taylor registered 176.

The tournament was played in high winds and blowing dust.

Jimmy Johnson of Levelland was medalist in the team play with a 155 and Seed ranked second.

The Hereford quartet will play 18 holes at Lubbock Friday and 18 again Saturday.

This will be the fourth consecutive year that the Whiteface golfers have gone to regional. They also won district in 1953.

Two Bouts Slated on Wrestling Card

Two long bouts are on the wrestling card for Saturday at the Bull Barn.

Tip Rogers will meet Professor Roy Shire in the opener. The match is scheduled for two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Tiny Mills, who weighs in at 270 pounds, will clash with Don Curtis in the second and last bout. It also is slated to go two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Both Mills and Curtis are newcomers to the Hereford Ring. Mills has wrestled champion Lou These and held time to a draw.

Shire wrestled in Hereford before but not for about three years. He is reportedly a tough grappler.

In the bouts last Saturday, Dizzy Davis was taken in two straight falls by the Great Bolo. Bolo won the first fall and Davis was disqualified in the second.

Slave Girl Moolah successfully defended her women's world championship by defeating Judy Grable. The champ took the first fall, lost the second and rallied to take the third one.

District Meet Is Inspiring

By ARGEN DRAPER

The District Meeting held in Amarillo on Thursday of last week was very inspirational. The theme was Christian Homes—Hope of the Nation. It was well attended by the club-women from Deaf Smith County. We thought we had more than any county, but the Credentials Committee didn't announce the number of counties. There were 324 women registered.

It had been estimated that 50 women from Deaf Smith would attend. All we could count was 48, but Mrs. T. J. Parsons suggested we count Danny Hall and Kerry Hall who came with their mothers, Mrs. G. V. Hall and Mrs. Elmo Hall. Then Mrs. A. E. Hodges reminded us that the Advisory Committee of the local school that made a tour of cafeterias that day might be counted. Some of the committee I saw in the cafeteria were Mrs. J. J. Durham, Mrs. Lester Wiggins, Mrs. John Hamby and Mrs. Anna Vincent. Too, Fred Cunningham, Bert Boomer and Tom Robinson. The representatives from the student body were Dorothy Williams and Sue Springer.

The address of the morning session was given by Mrs. Florence W. Low, Head of the Home Economics Department, Texas A&M College System. She told us of the research which is planned within the next year. It is information we need in buying furnishings and equipment for our homes. Many of you remember Mrs. Low as she came here in 1936 and taught us Work Simplification. We had our three training meetings at Mrs. Troy Kelly's home in the Ward Community.

Some of the leaders who taught their home clubs rules for Simplifying Your Work and are still working in clubs are Mrs. C. C. Billingslea, Mrs. C. A. Sauley, Mrs. Vern Witherspoon, Mrs. Clarence Hollabaugh, Mrs. L. W. Tooley and Mrs. Fred Saltzman. Some who have moved are Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mrs. George Epting, Mrs. E. W. Womble, Jr., Mrs. Lowery Walker, Mrs. Walter Galley and Mrs. W. H. Clements. Mrs. E. K. Pinnell and Mrs. Bill Brown and Mrs. J. A. Crofford are not working in clubs at present. Until I began checking this I did I realize that almost half of them have moved from the county.

The Work Simplification training was one of the most helpful and most popular programs. Check to see how you rate now. How Do You Work?

Are you a PUTTERER, forever picking up and putting down?—Are you a CAN'T FINDER, always on the hunt?—Are you a NEVER GET THROUGHER?—Do you CARRY THE WEIGHT of a day's, week's or month's work on your shoulders as you do your tasks?—Are you a PUTTER OFFER, and at the last minute do you hurry and rush to get things done?—Are you an OVERDOER one day, and then do you have to take two or three days to get over it?—Are you a NASTY NICE housekeeper who wears out herself and the family on unnecessary work?—Are you a MARTYR to the cause of housekeeping who glories in being worn out?—If you are guilty of any of these habits, you will find it profitable to mend your ways.

Mrs. L. W. Tooley reminds the members of the Argen H. Draper 4-H Club that the club will meet with the Daniel Club to make up the meeting on Refrigerator Rolls. Be sure to attend this meeting as the rolls is one of the baked foods to be entered in the Bake Show which will be held May 31.

To chairmen of the club program committee: The material on detergents will be mailed from the office. The dates for training for the Health program and the Broiling program will be April 29 and 30. The 4-H members will give the program in June. This takes care of the program until clubs recess for the summer.

"HEY YOU" ELKHORN, Wis. (P)— Esther Cramp, 59, won a divorce from her husband, John, 45, when she testified in Walworth County Court that during their entire married life he called "hey you" whenever he wanted to speak to her instead of using one of her three Christian names.

Activities Vary for H. D. Clubs

Activities by county home demonstration clubs have been varied recently.

One club had a program on home improvement. Another studied pressing equipment. One group entertained two other clubs and another club sponsored a supper for the whole community.

Detailed reports of the activities follow:

Wyche Home Improvement was the subject for the Wyche H. D. Club when it met at the home of Mrs. Carrol Newsom April 3.

Argen Draper gave the program, telling the members how to choose pictures to go with rooms in their homes.

Four members of the club attended the FHDA meeting in Amarillo April 4. They were Mrs. Ira Ott, Mrs. Wilburn Axe, Mrs. C. C. Ellis and Mrs. O. B. Sumner.

Members present were Mesdames Wilburn Axe, Marvin Axe, Richard Pickens, Ira Ott, G. W. Newsom, E. D. Hewitt, O. B. Sumner and Carrol Newsom.

Next meeting will be held April 18 at the home of Mrs. G. W. Newsom. The club will entertain the Ford H. D. Club.

West Hereford The West Hereford H. D. Club met April 2 at the home of Mrs. West Bradley. Pressing equipment was the program subject.

Mrs. Mary Denton read a poem about the recipe for happy homes and Mrs. Mabel Vaughn gave some notes for the book, Texas Brags.

The club was host to the Dawn and Bippus H. D. Club Tuesday afternoon in the Friendship of the Hereford State Bank.

Members present were Mesdames Hugh Witherspoon, Ida May

Vaughn, Mary Williams, Mary King, Roy Boyd, Maggie Luck, Carlos Vaughn, Roy Thompson, W. H. Autrey Sr., Mary Waters, Leon Benton and the hostess.

Ford The Ford H. D. Club entertained with a covered dish supper in the newly redecorated Ford Community House March 29.

After the dinner, games of 42, canasta and pinochle were played.

Present for the supper were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barclay and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Jackson and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Pashell, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Williamson and family, Wills Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Strauss, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roerback and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Benson.

2 Hereford Men Complete Basic

FORT CARSON, Colo. — Army Privates Herman P. Hund, 22, and Lawrence V. Watts, 22, of Hereford, recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training with the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo.

Hund, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hund, Route 1, was graduated from Hereford High School in 1953.

Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence V. Watts, 310 Knight, is a former employe at the F.&M. National Bank in Abilene.

LAST LAUGH GREEN BAY, Wis. (P)— The tax collector won and lost when a Green Bay citizen filed his state income tax return.

The return arrived all right with two cents postage due.

It costs about $500 a year to operate a tractor on an American farm today, reports the North Carolina State College School of Agriculture.

Beauty At Home

Q. What exercise will help me to reduce a "bulging tummy"?

A. Lie on back, arms at sides. Without giving yourself any kind of boost with hands or arms, raise head, back and shoulders slowly off floor. Hold them at a 45-degree angle for a few seconds, then very slowly lower them back to the floor. Repeat as often as you can—and regularly every day. This is an excellent conditioner!

Q. Do you recommend oil facials for extra-dry skin?

A. Very good. There are excellent oils for this purpose on the market and they can be warmed and applied to the skin with cotton pads. While the facial is at work, cover the eyes with pads moistened with witch hazel or skin-freshener. Leave pads on for about 10 minutes, remove and apply heavy, oily cream. Finish with skin-freshener.

Q. How can I make up a nose that is entirely too wide?

A. Blend some darker-than-skin-tone foundation along the sides of the nose, and a lighter shade down its center.

Q. How can I cleanse knuckles that have dark lines in them?

A. Use a combination of soap-suds and cornmeal. The gritty kernels will dig in and eradicate the dirt. The starch in the meal also has a way of healing, soothing, and bleaching.

Q. I have a very small face, and my neck appears to be short and thick. What makeup will help to counteract this appearance?

A. You can use a darker foundation makeup cream on your neck than on your face, and this will help reduce the apparent size of your neck.

Q. What is a good treatment for cracked lips?

A. Apply a mixture of one-half ounce each of lanolin and glycerin or honey.

Q. What can I do if the old hem marks show after I have altered the length of a velvet dress?

A. Hold the affected parts over the spout of a steaming teakettle, and at the same time spray some alcohol on the marks with an atomizer. Before the velvet is quite dry, brush it back and forth, with and against the nap, with a soft brush. This routine may need repeating for complete success.

MOMENTOUS SESSION

AUSTIN, Tex. (P)— The Texas House of Representatives held a busy 45-minute session recently. In formally approved resolutions, the House:

1. Wished Rep. Louis Anderson a happy birthday; 2. Congratulated the Baylor University football team on winning the Sugar Bowl game; 3. Wished Miss Wanda Gann of Waco good luck in a TV appearance; 4. Defeated a proposal that 35 cents found under the speaker's desk go to the Appropriations Committee; 5. Gave the 35 cents to Uncle Henry, the House porter; and 6. Adjourned.

SMALL INTERLUDES

PHILADELPHIA (P)— Five years ago optician Robert S. Valent put a sign in the window of his office. It read "Closed for Day — Wife has Twins."

Two years ago another sign appeared — "Closed for Half a Day — Wife has Only One Baby This Time."

The other day the latest message appeared — "Closed for an extra hour at lunch time to see the wife and baby. Can't afford to close for any longer with four children to maintain."

PROPOSAL FOR JAIL—Kerr & Kerr, architects-engineers of Amarillo, presented this conception of a 7,500 square foot two-story jail building for Deaf Smith County to the commissioners court on Monday. Estimated cost of the building with cells to handle 47 prisoners, plus first floor air conditioning and an elevator, is $138,000. As shown here the structure would occupy 80 feet of frontage on Schley St. on the courthouse square and be connected by corridors to both the ground and first floors of the courthouse. Square structure towering above the design is an elevator shaft to serve the courthouse, a second project under consideration by the county board. The commissioners plan a special meeting today to determine whether to accept the building proposals of Kerr & Kerr or those presented a year ago by William C. Tewnes & Associates of Amarillo. # Cashmere Sweaters Do New Tricks

AP Newsfeatures

SWEATER GIRLS should be happy this spring, for sweaters run the full fashion gamut, from morning to night.

There are trim little sweater jackets for morning, dressy-low-necked sweaters for afternoon, festive embroidered sweaters for evening. There are rare cashmeres and thrifty fool-the-eye blends of angora and wool. There are sweaters that double as coats and others that team with floating chiffon skirts of an evening.

No longer is a sweater a classic. There are new necklines, new dressmaker touches, new high-fashion touches that make it possible for a girl to live in sweaters, if she's so inclined.

Particularly new and popular this spring are short jackets of two-ply cashmere, which may double for a suit jacket when teamed with a coordinated skirt. These have the smart bulky look, hug the figure and come in tender pastels as well as black and white.

Ballet Slated at WT Friday Night

CANYON — Ballet will come to West Texas State College campus Friday when the Amarillo Civic Ballet Company appears in the Branding Iron Theatre. The show here will be sponsored by Buffalo Masquers, campus dramatics club.

Directed by Gene Galle and Bill Leighton, ballet master, the company of 25 will present some of the best known numbers staged by world famed companies, including "Les Sylphides," portions of Offenbach's "Gaité Parisienne," and Schumann's "Masques."

The program will open at 8:15 p.m., and admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for high school students and children. Tickets may be obtained at the WT speech department or at the door. The company was organized last September and has made several appearances in the Tri-State area. They were last seen in Clayton, N. M.

Probably one of the best known ballets, "Les Sylphides" features music by Chopin with choreography after the original Fokine. Selections include an overture, nocturne, mazurka, prelude and a waltz.

Other selections to be presented include a waltz from Rogers and Hammerstein's "Carousel," and "Clair de Lune" by Debussy.

Unwilling Army Mule Fades Out

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) —The stubborn old mule finally has bowed out of the Army, but not willingly.

At least one mule fought departure until the bitter end.

The Army recently disposed of its last 136 mules in a sale here. One took the sale as a personal insult. It leaped a four-foot fence at a civilian corral and headed for home — the Ft. Carson corral.

Shortly thereafter, Colorado Springs residents began telephoning police that a mule was on the loose. One woman notified Ft. Carson officials, who turned the matter over to M. Sgt. Albert Rodee, a veteran mule-skinner of 19 years in the Army.

Rodee started a search for the mule, finally found it wandering along the highway. He and a deputy sheriff succeeded in catching up with the animal — but only after the mule had arrived at its old Army corral.

As Rodee studied the mule's serial number, the sergeant became slightly embarrassed. "I suddenly realized that this was one of three mules I'd bought during the big mule sale the previous day," Rodee said. "I'm telling you that mule didn't want to get discharged from this here Army."

The 62-year-old sergeant figured the mule traveled about five miles in its bid to remain in the Army. "That little mule's really got what it takes," Rodee said. "There aren't many mules who could have jumped the fences he jumped and made his way all the way back to the corral."

The mule, incidentally, got one bit of satisfaction out of his escapade. He got to remain one more night in the old Army corral before Rodee took him away once more "for riding on weekends" by the sergeant and his wife.

Like generals, mules never die. They just fade away. Rodee's mule wanted to depart, perhaps, a bit less gracefully.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago In its first meeting on Friday, April 5, 1912, the new city commission — W. M. Knight, mayor, D. F. Ashbrook and C. S. Garrison, commissioners — appointed city officers.

P. W. Price was appointed clerk of the commission at a salary of $75 per month. His duties are to act as city secretary, assess and collect the taxes, keep all books of record, keep all accounts and do all the clerical work, and to act as clerk of the city court.

R. P. Brazil was named city marshal. His duties include the following: To supervise the water and sewer systems, look after the pumping, see that all water and sewer connections are made in a lawful manner, act as the sanitary officer, to see that all users of city water are reported and properly charged, to collect all water rents, and to see that all laws and ordinances of the city are enforced, to supervise all street work, act as "pound" master and to perform such other duties as the commission may direct. His salary was fixed at $60 per month.

No change has as yet been made in the fire department. The expense of this department runs almost $100 per month. This includes wages of the driver, up-keep of the team, rent and incidental expenses.

The seventh big irrigation well was finished this week and tested by the McDonald Co. for E. W. Morgan of the old Ridgeway farm, 8 miles northeast of town. The drillers struck water at 47 feet, but went down to a total depth of 190 feet. An abundance of water was found and the well tested fully up to all expectations. The crew was just two weeks in making this well, including the erection of derrick, drilling, and the installation of the pump.

25 Years Ago E. B. Black was elected mayor in the heaviest poll of votes probably ever witnessed in a city election. He received 210 votes, while his opponents N. M. Bartley and Jno. P. Slaton received 187 and 88 votes, respectively. Commissioners elected were N. E. Gass and J. D. Buchanan.

railroad system hauls the salt back to the mine shaft. The mine, owned by the International Salt Co., produces over a million tons of rock salt a year—more than any other mine in the world. That's enough salt to fill a freight train stretching from New York to Boston. It is used to make chemicals, preserve food and treat hides. In winter many northeastern cities sprinkle it liberally on their streets to melt ice and snow. Several brine wells were drilled in the area, and William Foster Jr., sank the first shaft at Retsof in 1885. International Salt acquired the workings nine years later. Today, the mine covers about four square miles and employs 280 men.

GIANT SALT SHAKER—This huge machine in the International Salt Co.'s mine at Retsof, N. Y., empties cars automatically by tipping them over.

By DICK WHALEN

RETSEF, N. Y. (AP)—The Russians, who usually claim the biggest and best of everything, have never put the largest salt mine on their list, and for two good reasons.

First, they would be happy to have the world forget about the slave labor salt mines of Siberia. And second, the biggest is not in Russia.

The largest producing salt mine in the world is located on the other side of the earth from Siberia and about as far from slave labor camps as you can get.

It's 1,100 feet under the rolling farmland of western New York, and there's not a shovel or a pick ax or a sweaty back in sight. The balmy air, salty as an ocean breeze, never varies from 63 degrees. The miners claim it is equally effective in curing a head cold or a hangover.

Electric machines do all the work, from drilling holes for dynamite to packing the crushed and graded salt in bags. A 25-mile-long

"Yep," said the policeman "I have. They're right there crushed under your right front tire. I was just going to pick them up when you drove up."

Cashmere Swe

AP Newsfeatures
SWEATER GIRLS should be happy this spring, for sweaters run the full fashion gamut, from morning to night.

There are trim little sweater jackets for morning, dressy low-necked sweaters for afternoon, festive embroidered sweaters for evening. There are rare cashmires and thrifty fool-the-eye blends of angora and wool. There are sweaters that double as coats and others that team with floating chiffon skirts of an evening.

No longer is a sweater a classic. There are new necklines, new dressmaker touches, new high-fashion touches that make it possible for a girl to live in sweaters, if she's so inclined.

Particularly new and popular this spring are short jackets of two-ply cashmere, which may double for a suit jacket when teamed with a coordinated skirt. These have the smart bulky look, hug the figure and come in tender pastels as well as black and white.

tain. He's one of two teachers in special courses on the Russian soldier at the Army's Noncom Academy in Munich.

Around 700 noncoms pass through the school every 12 weeks. Each of the men takes the special Russian course.

The classroom bulges with Russian weapons ranging from pistols to antitank guns. In a corner of the room stands a dummy of a Russian soldier, all dressed up for combat.

Blumhardt himself hangs up his U. S. uniform and dons his Soviet garb for each class.

He admitted that the Soviet equipment and uniforms are a bit out of date and that the more modern Russian material may be a bit spiffier.

"But it's not as spanking clean and efficient as ours," he proclaimed.

"There is so much talk about the night of the Russian army," he said, "that it's a good thing to have a soldier take a closer look and let him decide for himself if his opponent is someone to hold in awe."

"A soldier finishes this course pretty well convinced that, man for man, he has what it takes to lick a Russian."

Blumhardt's course attempts to supply the U. S. noncom with basic information on the Russian people, their government, the geography and topography of the country, and the habits of the people.

transforming
POWER

How important is this transformer to the electrician! It contains an induction coil for raising or lowering electric pressure. It does not generate power but is master over the current that passes through it. God is that way too. He is master over all. He holds the key to the door and directs the cloud that brings the rain. His love is revealed in the beauty of the rose and his concern for us shown in saving us from the storm. He is Lord, and God, and Master of all. He has the power to control our lives... our wealth... our health. As the transformer is necessary to the distribution of electricity so is His church necessary to the transforming of lives in the community... in the world.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and a molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday, "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

SPACE MESSENGER—This cylinder of aluminum packed with electronic devices is the "satellite package" the heart of the system to be contained in outer space probing devices of the International Geophysical Year. This cylinder will be fired in a Aerobee-Hi rocket from the Navy tower at White Sands, N. M., April 9th, and others like it will be inside the space satellites which is hoped will girdle the earth at 18,000 miles an hour in "Project Vanguard." The most precious bit of contrivance on earth, this tiny cylinder represents the efforts of thousands of men and the investment of millions of dollars. Military men and scientists believe it may be the most important key in unlocking the secrets of the outer universe, and the greatest forward step ever made in national defense. (AP Wirephoto)

RUSSIANS STUDY SKIES

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has established a new observation center 50 miles from Moscow to work on the program of the international geophysical year.
Here, says an announcement from the USSR Academy of Sciences, special cameras have been constructed and new equipment set up to study the skies and especially the northern lights.

HOME SWEET HOME

DALLAS (AP)—A man wounded in a street brawl was asked for his home address by hospital attendants and police.

"The county jail," he replied, and would say no more.
Police found he was right. He had been released from jail earlier in the day after serving a drunk and disorderly sentence.

HONESTLY CONFUSED

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Ardmore police are sure a motorist got mixed up, but at least he was honestly confused.
They found an overtime parking ticket and payment in the traffic ticket box, but there was one hitch—the ticket was issued by police at Ada—40 miles away. Ardmore police mailed the ticket and money to Ada.

Brahman cattle from the United States are being imported in increasing numbers into Latin American countries to upgrade the local stock.

Fat Egyptian Beauties Now Go on Diets

CAIRO (AP)—Fat women are becoming outmoded in Egypt. Gone are the good old days when they found favor in the eyes of many Egyptians—when the heavyweight female beauty was a familiar sight in Cairo.

Now life is becoming tougher. Foreign movies—especially American—as well as the campaign launched by the weekly "Akhhbar El Yom" against fat women, have upset the concept of the "dream wife" in the imagination of average Egyptians. They have seen Marilyn Monroe and now prefer her type of beauty. The fat woman—once the "Marilyn Monroe" of Egypt (but on a larger scale) is no more in demand. Alty Amin of "Akhhbar El Yom" writes on this subject:

"I began a campaign against fat girls 10 years ago. I agreed with the famous Egyptian caricaturist "Rakha" to invent a caricature that would make fat women unhappy with their corpulence—"rafiaa hanem" (the thin lady), with her strong man "sabaa affandi" (the lion).

WIFE SEEKERS, and even husbands, have been displaying a growing dislike for fat girls and women. You hear husbands complaining of the size of their wives:

"To make her a dress, I have to buy at least twice as much cloth as is needed by an ordinary woman." Or... "every time we go out, I have to take her home in a taxi. Buses are so crowded these days, you know, and I don't see how I can cram her in the bus. She'd occupy the place of three persons." Or... "I wanted to buy a new car, but I had to give up the idea. The money I saved would get me only a small Fiat. But how do you expect my wife to get in?" Bachelors overhear this, and get both seared and wiser.
Egyptian girls and women, realizing this danger introduced into Egypt by American screen actresses, are not remaining idle. All magazines and newspapers receive hundreds of inquiries now to reduce weight.

Slim girls now take good care of their figures. Fat ones have to do it the hard way, but they seem bent on doing it just the same. They follow every advice given to them. They don't eat rich food. They skip rope, and instead of riding, they walk all the time. The result has been astounding. Streets of Cairo are now full of slim and pretty girls, all imitating Marilyn Monroe.

Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Pulitzer Prize winner in American history, was an infantry corporal in the U. S. Army overseas in World War II.
