First Day Attendance Hits New High In School System

There were 61 more students at desks in Hereford Public Schools Tuesday than on the opening day of school a year ago.

The total enrollment, which was only 2,075 students Friday evening, climbed sharply to 2,450 Tuesday afternoon, compared to an opening day enrollment of 2,389 in 1957.

Superintendent of schools Fred Cunningham said that the enrollment figure would increase more by the end of the week. Enrollment at the end of the first week last year was 2,506 students.

Cunningham said the increase in enrollment has climbed as expected. He added that the enrollment usually hits its peak during a period from the end of September to the middle of October.

School officials earlier estimated that the total enrollment this year would reach 2,600 to 2,650.

The highest enrollment recorded in past years was in 1957, when 2,500 students were registered in public schools.

The St. Anthony's parochial school enrollment was reported complete last week, when about 230 pupils registered. St. Anthony's also started its classes Tuesday.

Shirley recorded the highest first-day enrollment of the elementary schools, with 483 students, compared to 433 in 1957. The enrollment at Central totaled 472, compared to 511 last year, and Aikman had enrolled 435 Tuesday, compared to 376 last year.

Dawn had enrolled 48, an increase over last year's opening day enrollment of 39. Parkview enrolled only 16 Tuesday, compared to 43 last year.

Aikman was at the top of the ladder in elementary school enrollment Friday, with 408 students enrolling in grades one through six, as compared to 398. (Continued On Page 2)

His modified 1954 Chrysler Roadster was reported to have gone into a 273-foot skid before it hit a dirt bank and flew 280 feet through the air. The car then skidded 100 feet, rolled 38 feet and skidded 40 feet more.

Wilkins' car previously had been declared the safest car on the drag strip.

Wilkins is survived by his parents and a brother, Jim, 25.

Former Resident Killed In Racer

A drag strip accident at Great Bend, Kan., Sunday was fatal to Lannie G. Wilkins, former Hereford resident and a 1954 graduate of Hereford high school.

Wilkins, 22, was killed as he was finishing an American Hot Rod Association - Sponsored race, during which he was clocked at 140 miles an hour when he lost control of his car.

The case was scheduled to be put before the Grand Jury Wednesday.

Palmares was reported to have left Hereford on the morning of Aug. 17, the same morning a complaint was filed against him by the girl's married sister.

Representative Rogers Releases Summary On The 1959 Farm Bill

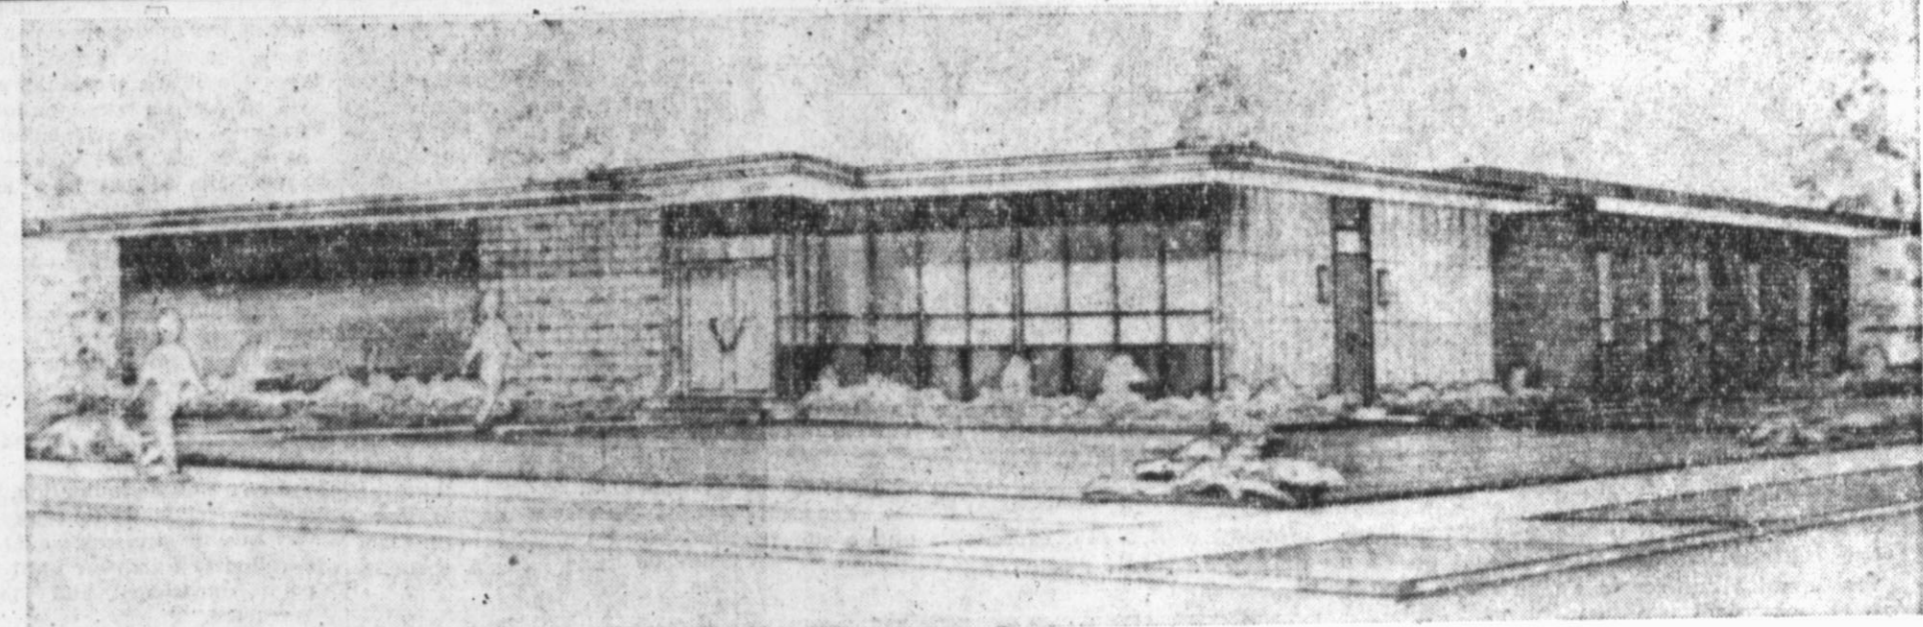

Following a request from the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, U. S. Rep. Walter Rogers has released a summary of the recently-passed Agricultural Act of 1958, more commonly called the "Farm Bill".

Major provisions of the act, as they apply to the Deaf Smith County area, are quoted from a summary prepared by the legal counsel of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

COTTON For 1959 and 1960, each individual farmer will have a choice between (A) his regular acreage allotment and price support as determined under section 101 of the Agricultural Act of 1949 (except that for the 1959 crop the level of support shall be not less than 80 per cent of parity) or (B) an increase of not to exceed 40 per cent (the precise percentage to be determined by the Secretary) in his regular farm allotment with price support at 15 per cent of parity lower than the level determined for farmers who elect choice "A".

Price support to farmers who elect choice "A" will be made available through a purchase program. Commodities Credit Corporation is directed to offer cotton for sale for unrestricted use at not less than 10 per cent above the lower price support level made available.

Close Dump To Vegetables

An explosive meeting of the City Commission resulted in the passing of a motion to close the Hereford dump grounds to wholesale and commercial dumping of vegetables Tuesday evening. Commissioners voted unanimously in favor of the motion after a heated discussion with one shed operator and two interested citizens.

During the meeting, O. G. Hill Sr. called by telephone and said he would dispose of culls direct from the potato sheds, and that he would use them for feeding cattle.

The closing of the dump grounds to commercial and wholesale dumping of vegetables becomes effective 10 days after the ordinance is passed.

Only one shed operator, George Paetzold, and John Paetzold and Pete Korstjens attended the meeting.

During a called meeting of the City Commission Tuesday evening to discuss the closing of the city dumping grounds to commercial and wholesale vegetable dumping, O. G. Hill Sr. placed a telephone call to City Manager Dudley Bayne and offered to dispose of potato culls directly from potato sheds.

Hill said he would use the culls to feed cattle. He told Bayne if shed operators would notify him, he would pick up any unwanted potatoes at the sheds.

Commissioners agreed that it would help relieve the problem at the city dump grounds.

Paetzold said he objected to the picking up and the sale of vegetables by a man who has been hired at $12 a month to salvage scrap iron from the dump grounds.

was to see what might be done to keep potatoes dumped at the grounds from reaching food channels.

He said potato producers were getting a "black eye" because of bad potatoes reaching food channels after being picked up at the dump grounds and sold in area cities. He further stated that he thought it was the city's job to keep potatoes from reaching food channels after being dumped at the city dump grounds.

A commissioner said that he felt that closing the dump grounds to vegetable handlers would solve the city's problem as well as putting a stop to the re-sale of potatoes picked up at the dump grounds.

City Manager Dudley Bayne pointed out that the handling of dumped vegetables was costing the city as high as $160 a day for labor and operation of equipment.

"There are not enough bulldozers and men to bury potatoes as fast as they are brought in by vegetable handlers," he said.

Hill Estate Offers $60,000 Toward A Youth Center Here

At a called meeting of the City Commission Tuesday evening, it was announced that the Jim Hill Estate would commit as much as $60,000 toward the building of the proposed Youth and Civic Center. The Commission unanimously accepted the offer.

The Jim Hill Estate made the offer, with the specifications that the city supervise construction, locate it near the central part of town, and issue no bonds or warrants toward its cost.

The estate also stated that if the cost of the building should exceed $60,000, the money must be raised by individuals, groups or out-of-city funds.

Estimated cost of the building is $85,000, and the city will control its operation after construction.

The proposed site for the building is a 300 by 500 foot lot at Park Ave. and Ave. C, which is owned by the city.

School Protest Continues

Enrollment at Parkview Negro Elementary School showed an enormous decline this week, as parents continued to hold their children out while protesting some conditions at the school.

Just 12 students were in class during the first day of school Tuesday. On Wednesday, there were 16 students on the rolls.

According to previous school enrollment figures, Parkview last year there were 43 students enrolled.

Meeting at a called session Monday night, parents of the children voted to draft a second petition to the Hereford school board, stating they would not send their children to the school until the foads were paved and other conditions were met. This action backed up an earlier petition which had been sent to the school board stating that children would not be enrolled until several conditions had been changed.

There were 11 votes in favor of the petition Monday night, with two negative votes cast. Result of the vote was announced by Jim Scott, president of the Parkview Parent - Teachers Association. Scott emphasized that the two teachers at Parkview were not involved in the dispute in any way and that they had neither voted nor signed either of the two petitions.

Several interested persons who do not have children in the school also signed the petition. Scott said: There were 34 signatures.

Dollar Day, which was held Tuesday because of Labor Day, was a booming success if numbers are any indication. The streets and sidewalks were crowded all day Tuesday. Shoppers seemed to be catching up on back-to-school and fall items. Merchants along the Main Stem were beaming all over themselves.

Lions Club members were entertained Wednesday by Brenda and Patty Amos, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Amos of Sunray, Tex., in a series of pantomime numbers. Brenda, who appeared on the Lions District Convention program in Dalhart this spring, appeared in several numbers, and her sister, Patty, appeared in one number. The young ladies were accompanied by their mother and grandmother.

"It's a good idea to lock your car when you park, even downtown," according to Mrs. S. L. Easley and Mrs. A. C. Pierce. A loss of $50 was estimated when thieves took a suit belonging to Mrs. Pierce from the Easley car Tuesday afternoon. The two women picked the suit up at the cleaners, and parked on Miles Avenue, near Fourth, to visit with friends across the street. When they returned the suit was gone, along with a pick-up, which they said had been parked in the vicinity.

natures on the first petition, but the exact number who signed the second is not known.

The lack of an all-weather road is the main point of contention, according to Scott, although there are other minor grievances. Some conditions which led to the first petition have been corrected. Restroom facilities are being added to a barracks building, which is one of two buildings around the school also have been cut.

Scott said his group wanted an all-weather road, preferably paved or black-topped, a drinking fountain in the barracks building, a janitor and better landscaping. He said the group appreciated the restrooms which were being installed, but the other items still needed to be corrected.

There was no indication, according to Scott, that any of the missing students would be enrolled in Parkview until the points mentioned had been corrected.

"Conditions at Parkview school met with accreditation standards of Texas Educational Agency last year," stated Fred superintendent, "and they absolutely will meet the requirements again this year." Cunningham made the statement after receiving the first petition. To date the school board has not considered the problem at a regular meeting and no official action has been taken, although some work has been done on the Parkview grounds and buildings.

Scott told The Brand that the parents had no interest in moving the elementary students into other schools. "We like our school and want to keep it, but we feel we are entitled to these things," he said.

The integration program in Hereford began during the 1956-57 terms, when, after meeting with a delegation of Negro parents, the Hereford school board followed the delegation's suggestion by enrolling Negro students in the white schools at the junior and senior high levels. The delegation, at that time, told the board they preferred to keep the elementary school operating, because they felt the smaller children would do better in a segregated school. They also expressed an interest in creating as many jobs as possible for Negro able to farmers who elect choice "B".

After 1960, farmers will receive only their regular acreage allotment, and price support will be at such level as the Secretary determines within the following limits: For 1961, the level will be not less than 70 per cent and not more than 90 per cent of parity; after 1961, the level will be not less than 65 per cent and not more than 90 per cent of parity. The escalator clause under which the minimum support level is determined on the basis of the supply percentage is repealed effective with the 1961 crop. Price support for cotton will be based on the average quality of the crop, beginning in 1961.

Beginning with the 1959 crop, the Act provides for a minimum national acreage allotment for cotton of 16 million acres.

This legislation provides for permanent minimum farm cotton allotments of ten acres or the 1958 acreage allotment established for the farm, which ever is smaller. Some 310,000 acres over and above the national acreage allotment are provided for apportionment to the states on the basis of the states' needs for additional acreage for establishing such minimum allotments, and such further acreage as may be necessary is authorized to be apportioned to the farm to increase each farm acreage allotment to the prescribed minimum.

The Act authorizes the Secretary to use the previous year's allotment, instead of tillable acreage or history, as a basis in making allotments if he determines that such action will facilitate effective administration. Provisions also include that any cotton acreage which is surrendered shall be retained in the county and not surrendered to the state committee so long as any farmer in the county desires cotton acreage.

CORN, FEED GRAINS

The Act provides for a referendum to be held among corn producers in the commercial corn-producing area to determine which of two programs shall be in effect. dump grounds. A commissioner said that the man was hired only to salvage scrap iron and was not hired to sell vegetables from the dump grounds.

Paetzold was asked if it would work any hardship on producers to dispose of their own culls. Paetzold replied that it would work no hardships on his shed, but that he was not sure that closing the dump grounds would solve the problem of resale of inferior potatoes to the market.

Paetzold said he could take care of his own culls, but that he could not speak on behalf of other vegetable producers.

The current protest is the first recorded since the integration plant was adopted by the school board.

A special week for the Hereford congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been announced, as P. L. Mickey of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting this week with the local congregation to offer aid and instruction in ministerial work. Mickey is accompanied by his wife. Both are graduates of the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead. They have been active ministers for 21 years, working with congregations in several states. Mickey will speak at the Kingdom Hall Saturday at 8 p.m. on "Cherishing Right Desires for Life." At 3 p.m. Sunday, Mickey is scheduled to give a talk on "Is Love Practical Among the Nations in Our Time?" The public is invited to attend these meetings, according to Lloyd Reddock. VISIT SON Mr. and Mrs. Mopt Baker spent the Labor Day weekend in Amarillo with their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Baker and daughters.

25 Years Ago

Arrangements to reduce the gas bills of the county, schools and city were made this week when a special ordinance was passed allowing the gas company to charge as if gas were all going through one meter. The amendment to the company's franchise was adopted at Tuesday night's meeting of the city commission. The court house, hospital and other county buildings are all on separate meters and are charged separately. The school buildings are under the same arrangement. Under the new plan material reductions will be made to the county and schools. The city hall, only municipal user, will not be affected.

Mrs. Pinnell Honored Friday

Mrs. Edward Lee Pinnell was honored Friday afternoon with a post-nuptial shower in the home of Mrs. Leonard Burns.

The living room was dominated by a large bride doll, in full wedding attire, standing on a tall pedestal. On an opposite table was a dainty bride figurine, with triple candleabra towering over her holding tall white tapers. Large pictures of the bride and groom flanked the centerpiece. After the gifts were presented to the bride, the mothers of both the bride and groom assisted in unwrapping the large array of gifts.

Immediate members of both families attending were Mrs. H. D. Tomlinson, the bride's mother, Mrs. R. L. Pinnell, the groom's mother, Miss Linda Pinnell and Mrs. R. C. Chism, sisters of the groom, Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson of Canyon, Mrs. V. C. Lassiter of Cisco and Mrs. C. D. Munn of Adrian, all aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Ken Williams, cousin of Mrs. Pinnell. Mrs. E. K. Pinnell, aunt

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago With an enormous increase in the acreage devoted to peanut growing there is a serious shortage in the supply and increase in price. Moreover, advises from Spain report a shortage in that country, heretofore the source of supply, when the American crop was short. Spanish peanuts are selling at 10 1/2 cents a pound in some parts of the country, an increase of 4 cents per pound. Virginia peanuts are 1 1/2 cents higher in New York than a year ago. Local wholesalers report no great change in selling prices here, but do confirm the reports of shortage. Possibility of an over supply is said to be exceedingly remote. Therefore, plant peanuts, for not only will you have a profitable and readily marketable crop, but the peanut hay has fine feed value and the plant is additionally of great value in restoring fertility to wornout soils. All of the sandy lands of Tarrant county are well adapted to the profitable growth of this nut, but the production has been limited.

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel are the parents of a Saturday, Aug. 30, at and weighing six pounds seven ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Matel are the parents of a Monday, Sept. 1, at and weighing seven pounds 13 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie are the parents of a Tuesday, Sept. 2, at and weighing five pounds 11 1/2 ounces.

JIMMIE GILLENLINE ed on the two levels already in operation.

The majority, however, seems fairly well satisfied with the operation in the past two years, where the board followed the plan offered by the Negro delegation and maintained Parkview School for the elementary grades. Total integration at the present time would leave the school board with two colored teachers on their hands, and I doubt very much if the community is ready for teacher integration — although it is bound to come up, and will probably be the next problem to be faced around the country.

Right now, the most surprising thing about the whole situation is the apparent lack of interest. One mis-step, though, and it will become quite a topic.

Good news for a bunch of us fellows who are getting a "bit thin" on top is the return of popularity in wigs. Wig makers all over the country are snowed under with orders. Mostly, they are vari-colored to match cocktail dresses, varying from red and white candy stripes to some really wild colors including "shocking pink", bright green and lavender. Wigs were once a mark of the elite in Colonial America and Europe. If women can buy 'em just for fun, what's wrong with a fellow who honestly needs one having it? Nylon has helped the wig situation, too. The going price is from $35, up.

Coy Phillips says the reason things were so quiet around town last week-end is due to the fact that Baker Womble was attending the family reunion in Colorado. This may not be exactly gospel, but they apparently did have quite a gathering at the E. W. Womble Ranch near Gunnison, Colo. Fact is, I know several old boys in the crowd who could have used one of those wigs — right then.

Perry Lunsford recently edited another one of those famous Jack Frost "Bullmanacs". It gives the Eskimo Ranch at Hereford a lot of publicity, along with Anxiety Esquire 12th. The new edition abounds in unusual phrases, some of which contain considerable logic, such as:

"If Patrick Henry thought taxation without representation was bad, he ought to see what we get with representation.

"It's not what my girl knows that worries me — it's how she found out.

"He who indulges — Bulges.

"All the trouble you get into comes through your mouth — you either say it, eat it or drink it.

"A girdle is a polite name for an old fashioned pot holder.

"Bad officials are elected by good citizens who don't vote.

"The best kind of employment insurance is an interest in your work."

All in all, the "Bullmanac" is probably the best edited, most novel presentation of its type, I ever saw. It is a real credit to Hereford (including a special map) and deserves a place in our county library. Thank you, Mr. Frost and Editor Lunsford, for a job well done.

Meanwhile, a lot of people are beginning to ask about the weather. Everyone wants some rain. The pressures are right, the atmosphere is getting better — but I still can't see much of anything for another few days. Jack Streun has an irrigation well, but says he would rather save the water. Jack says he don't mind watering stuff after it gets up, but he hates to pre-water plain ground.

Which reminds me, R. L. Ethridge is still in the ham radio business, and is sending regular weather reports to the bureau in Amarillo via of other radio hams. He was surprised, however, to learn that Dan Trew is an independent weathercaster in his own right. If you will notice, Dan usually says, "The channel forecast" or "educated guess. . ." When they run official U. S. Department forecasts, they usually give full credit, and often do "on the spot" reports by the government employees.

Mrs. C. E. Whitehead, bless her heart, was nice enough to notice that the Bull Column was back in the paper after some little absence. All of us have enough "ham" in our constitutions to appreciate nice words — and they are doubly welcome when they come from nice folks like Mrs. Whitehead.

ATTENDS MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkright and Jim were in Amarillo visiting Sunday. She attended a committee meeting at Park St. Methodist Church in the afternoon.

Hula hoops are all the rage these days. They started out with the small fry, but have spread into the teenage field — and on up to the 50 and 60-year-old age groups. They look silly — and probably are — but they have considerable fascination and could help wiggle off quite a few pounds, where people need it most. Certainly, these hoops are no worse than the Yo-Yo fad and, who knows, they might be just what this country needs. If you don't know what I'm talking about, don't worry — it won't be long before you do.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lawrence solved the Labor Day traffic problem by hunting out some country roads — and report that the scenery was all the more wonderful. They bypassed U. S. Highway 66 and travelled north from Conchas Dam into the Las Vegas, N. M., county, always seeking out the by-paths instead of the main arteries. Wayne alleges that it was the most gratifying touring he ever did; the main object was "looking and seeing", rather than "getting there ahead of someone else".

Jackie Allmon is the new Mechanical Superintendent at The Brand office. He replaces Jim O'Hair, who left Saturday. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Allmon, a graduate of Hereford High. We are quite proud of him. In addition to being a top-notch mechanical man, he started out on the paper as a "printer's devil" and is the first 100 per cent "home grown" superintendent we ever had. Jack is a mighty fine young man and we figure that he is going to do an outstanding job.

A COUPLE OF JOKES
Drugstore Clerk: "Did you kill your moths with those moth balls I sold you yesterday?"
Customer: "No, I tried for over an hour, but I never could hit a single one."

When you see 12 big trucks parked beside a highway cafe, the food may be poor and the coffee terrible — but you can count on a pretty waitress.

Students Take 'Last Fling' Before School Begins

School classes began Tuesday, but that day was by no means the beginning of preparation for the next nine months for many children and their parents.

School supplies, new clothes, etc., had to be acquired before Johnnie and Suzie met for their first class. Suzie's eyes sparkled so much as she looked at that new dress in the window that mother just couldn't resist buying it. And that pair of scuff-resistant shoes was made to order for Johnnie.

A "last fling," for many, meant catching up on some sleep or getting in more play. For others, it meant getting summer activities out of their systems and anxiously (?) preparing for that first day of school.

Swimming Is Great Sport For Elderly

ELMIRA, N. Y. — When the gray hair and wrinkles begin to show, "get in the swim," advises a great grandmother. Swimming keeps her young, says Mrs. Archie W. Lamb. Admitting 60-odd years, Mrs. Lamb swims and dives three nights a week at the YWCA pool. Until three years ago, Mrs. Lamb couldn't swim and was afraid to go over her depth in the water. It took a lot of courage to join the swimming class, she relates, but she told herself: "I'm not getting any younger so I may as well do it now."

Mrs. Lamb recommends swimming for elderly folks. "As you know," she says, "when you get older, your circulation slows down and this swimming is excellent for stimulation. You can't beat swimming for relaxation and recreation."

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thurs., Sept. 11. At times, she says, she practically dragged herself to the pool, but "swimming washed all my tiredness away. In fact, since I have been swimming, I've never slept so well."

Mrs. Lamb's favorite stroke is the back crawl. But she has mastered many strokes.

Beauty At Home

Q. What is the most graceful way for a girl to cross her legs while seated?

A. Cross the legs well above the knees, which allows the top leg to drop easily down in the general direction of the supporting one. It keeps your under knee from pushing your calf forward and doubling the width of your leg. Always keep the toe of the dangling foot pointed down instead of turned up. Turned up, it makes an ugly line and bulges the ankle.

Q. What is a good waist-slimming exercise?

A. Stand tall, stretching hands high overhead, fingers touching. Keep your feet fairly far apart so you'll have a firm foothold. With the hands lifted, pivot at the waistline, turning the body from side to side, stretching the arms as high as you can. It's the wonderful pulling effect of this exercise which does the trick for your waistline.

Q. What powdering technique does a girl with a round, or "moon" face use?

A. She can add an extra application of darker powder to the outside of each cheek to tone down and make the fullness of the face less obvious.

Q. How can I choose the correct kind of rouge for myself?

A. Try pinching your cheek in order to discover your color tone, then choose your rouge accordingly. There are three types of reds: natural, blue-red, and yellow-red. Experts all agree that the cream rouge blended into your powder base gives a more lasting and realistic effect than powdered rouge applied on top.

Q. How can I remove stubborn stains from my hands after a day of housecleaning?

A. Rub the stained areas with a little cuticle remover, leave on for a moment, and if necessary, rub with a pumice stone or with a smooth side of an emery board. Finish with a thorough oiling or creaming of the hands which counteracts the after-effects of honest toil and scrubbing.

Q. What cosmetic care should the oily-skinned woman take?

A. She must refrain from piling on an already oil-laden skin creams and skin foods whose only purpose is to supply lubrication. No cream should be left on an oily skin at night. This skin should be cleaned thoroughly and often to prevent powder, dust, grime, or any foreign material from combining with excess oil to set up trouble. The oily-skinned girl must be particular about clean powder puffs, too.

Q. What is a good "weight-gainer" drink I can mix myself?

A. Several times a day (between meals), mix one fresh egg yolk with a glass of orange juice, add a tablespoon of liquid honey, and beat until foamy. It's effective, and it's tasty!

Q. What after-shampoo rinse will help to keep my light-colored hair light?

A. The juice of one lemon to a pint of water is very good for this purpose.

Q. Please suggest something that will help to bleach facial freckles.

A. Try massaging the skin with the cut side of a ripe tomato, using a circular movement, at the same time carefully squeezing the tomato to start the juice flowing. After the freckles are well coated with the juice, let it dry on the face for a few minutes. Then wash off with cold water, the colder the better. Pat dry with a soft cloth. Continue this treatment twice daily, and don't use cream on the face for at least an hour afterward.

OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK

BALTIMORE (AP) — As the wedding caravan careened noisily around the corner you could read the big sign on the back of the leading sedan: "Just Married — Watch Baltimore Grow!"

TRAVELING ZOO

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Joe Fain and Mrs. Jean Wilkey called police to report three bears chained to a tree. Police found the three bears, alright, plus a baboon. They said they could do nothing unless the animals escaped or made a fuss.

The animals belonged to a family living in a nearby trailer house.

House Adjourns In A Dignified Manner

To the people of the 18th District: Although the word "adjournment" has been mentioned in no less than 10 newsletters, it was always used in the future tense. The word is being used in this newsletter in the past tense because the House of Representatives finally adjourned at 2 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 24, and the Senate followed suit at 4:11 a.m. the same morning. Adjournment is a funny thing. The Congress begins to prepare for it in the spring but never seems quite ready. This probably explains why it is necessary to stay up all night in order to finally close down the session. As usual, the House of Representatives finished its work ahead of the Senate. There was very little to do in the House from mid-afternoon Saturday, Aug. 23, except to wait for the spasmodic actions of the Senate on measures that had already been acted upon by the House. We did recess from time to time waiting for one of these measures to be returned for final House action. This waiting period usually creates a tension among the House Members. This tension creates a desire to let off steam, and some of the Members like to employ these waiting hours by singing or citing poetry or other such activities on the floor of the House. In some past sessions of Congress, singing has been permitted as well as the playing of musical instruments by some of the Members. However, this year these waiting hours were devoted primarily to the discussion of legislative matters as between the members. Efforts to engage in song and musical activities, or other non-legislative activities, were stopped. Personally, I feel that the Speaker did a great service in not permitting a departure from action in complete keeping with the jurisdiction and rules of the House of Representatives. It is my feeling that there is a traditional dignity about the House of Representatives and the Senate that should be observed at all times. I feel that this traditional dignity should not be challenged by activities that may appear unbecoming in the least. It is my hope that in the future the adjournment of Congress will, like the convening thereof, be conducted in a decorum befitting a body charged with such serious responsibilities. I feel sure that if the wishes and desires of Speaker Sam Rayburn are adhered to, the House Chamber will never become a forum of frivolity for even a fleeting moment. The second session of the 85th Congress was continuous from Jan. 7 through Aug. 24, 1958. The House was in session for 562 hours and 12 minutes and met on 135 days. The Senate met on 138 days and was in session for a total of 1,014 hours and 45 minutes. Proceedings of the House required 6,721 pages in the Congressional Record. The Senate consumed 11,389 pages. A total of approximately 444 public bills became law. Three hundred and four of these were House bills and 140 were Senate bills. Two hundred eighty-four private bills became law; 179 were Senate and 105 were House. The House passed a total of 1,348 measures, including Senate bills, House bills, Senate joint resolutions, House joint resolutions, Senate concurrent resolutions, House concurrent resolutions and simple resolutions. The Senate passed 1,370 of the same. A total of 4,944 measures were introduced in the House, while 1,647 were introduced in the Senate, making a grand total of 6,591 measures introduced during the second session of the 85th Congress. It is well to note that at the time these figures were compiled on Aug. 27, 1958, only 444 of the public bills had become law. This will afford some idea of the exhausting screening process through which all measures introduced in the Congress must pass before becoming law. In the House of Representatives there were 102 quorum calls and 93 yeas and nay votes, making a total of 197 record votes and quorum calls. The Senate had 114 quorum calls and 202 yeas and nay votes. All bills are not passed by a record vote. A yeas and nay vote may be on a motion to strike the enacting clause, on a motion to recount or on passage of a bill. This explains why there were more bills passed than there were yeas and nay votes. The President vetoed 10 Senate bills and eight House bills or a total of 14. Only one veto was overridden. He presently has several bills on his desk which may be vetoed before you receive this letter. My Washington office is open 12 months during the year. Should any of you need any assistance or information on any subject or matter in which I can be of help, you may obtain immediate information from the Washington office. You can get in touch with me by simply calling for Congressman Walter Rogers in Washington, D. C. I expect to be traveling around the District and visiting with the people, but if you will call the Washington office, your needs will be taken care of without delay. # Legislature Already Casts A Shadow Over Activities

BY VERN SANFORD
The Texas 56th Legislature though not yet sworn in, casts a long shadow over household activities. Membership was settled virtually settled — with counting of the Democratic primary votes. A will have Republican prospects in November. More interest now is how will lean on key issues. Proposals already are being read and profit likely to be more than its predecessor. But dominantly liberal. A flux of newly-elected liberal Houston is expected to offset by Dallas conservatives others from small the usual by-works. A group of conservatives are working on ways to bounce the quibbling liberal Mrs. Frankie Randolph from her post as national committeewoman. Having the chairman of the Democrats of Texas and leader of the opposition to state party leadership in the prestige-laden national committee post is hard to take. But removing a national committee member creates difficulties, too. A state convention merely nominates the national committee members; actual election is by the national convention. Whether a state convention could undo the action of a national convention is not definitely known. Another possible source of friction is the selection of the State Executive Committee Chairman, the post now held by Jim Lindsey of Texarkana. Abilene Oilman Ed Connally has been mentioned as a prospect. Liberal delegates and supporters of Sen. Ralph Yarborough are expected to fight a bitter and tongs against a Connally drive. Connally was a strong supporter of William Blakely in his Senate race against Yarborough and headed Roy Price Daniel's precinct convention fight against the DOT. Alumni of East Texas State College are asking help in untangling conflicts over a new program at the Commerce school. At issue is the value of a "general studies" program instituted by ETSC President Dr. James Gee. Revised curriculum substitutes a course in "communications" for freshman English, "heritage" for American history, and so on. A professor who had taught some of the "general" courses called them a "hodgepodge," comparable to grade school work. Dissatisfied exes meeting in Austin asked Sen. Charles Herring, Senate investigating committee chairman, to look into the situation. Herring said he would bring it up at the committee's next meeting, but urged the exes to talk first with the college's Board of Regents. ## Tokyo Joe Beats Ricky

Tokyo Joe defeated Ricky Romero in the first match Saturday night at the Bull Barn. Tokyo took the first fall with judo chops and a body press and Ricky took the second fall with a body press. Tokyo won the third and deciding fall. In the second event, Dory Funk took the first fall with a spinning toe hold, with Art Nelson bleeding freely through the mouth. Nelson won the second fall with a body press, and Funk won the third fall when Nelson was disqualified for choking. A double main event is scheduled this Saturday. The first event will be a return match with Tokyo Joe against Ricky Romero. The second match will be Dory Funk against Tito Carreon in a two out of three falls or one hour match. Miss Jeanette Faulkenberry began her duties as Assistant Home Demonstration Agent Sept. 2. We are so glad to have Miss Faulkenberry and feel that her services to Deaf Smith County, 4-H Clubs, and 4-H Club Leaders will be invaluable. The 4-H Leaders Council will meet Sept. 8 in the office at 2 p.m. This is the regular meeting, and regular business will be attended to as well as plans made for the 4-H Year Book. Leaders and 4-H members are requested to either send in or bring program suggestions. The Year Book will be ready by Oct. 1. Miss Faulkenberry visited the Progressive Home Demonstration Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Fred Saltzman. This was her introduction to club work in Deaf Smith County. Her first official meeting was with the Wyche Home Demonstration Club, Sept. 4. She met the Wyche Club, as I had been asked to judge 4-H records in district competition Thursday. The Home Demonstration Club will study "Consumer Buying" this month. They are studying the things to look for, the planning to be done, and the most satisfactory way to shop when buying clothing. There are three excellent bulletins in the office on "Clothing Buying." It is worth your time to come by and get these. They are: "Buying a School Dress," "Buying a Sport Shirt," and "Buying a Street Dress." A wedding invitation to the marriage of Patricia Ann Baskett to George Jury. The wedding is to be in the Bethany Baptist Church in Columbia, Mo., Sept. 6. Mrs. Wilbur Smith of Lynn County, who is the president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association, was one of the officials who was on the T. V. show Saturday. Mrs. Smith said there are 1,800 clubs in Texas with a membership of 32,000. Here are the figures that settled the argument on altitude between Gooose Ramey and Mike Baird: Hereford, 3822,830; Dimmitt, 3876,577 and Amarillo, 3663,684. For women only: A friend called and said that she was coming to the office to return some books, and she asked if I would meet her at the car. She said that she would be here in a minute. Later in the conversation, I told her I would be at the south door of the courthouse in three minutes. She answered, "Oh, I can't get there that soon, but I will be there in a minute." Several women from the Cultural Home Demonstration Club are seriously considering attending the national meeting Oct. 12-15. The meeting will be in Wichita, Kan., with headquarters at the Broadway Hotel. There is no information other than this, so if you are interested, write to the headquarters hotel for reservations, and if reservations are not available they will refer you to a hotel or motel.

Paul Waner Still Haunting Pitchers

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The old guy picked up a bat, glued his eyes on an imaginary pitcher and took a vicious cut at an imaginary baseball.

Then Paul (Big Poison) Waner, once the hitting scourge of the National League as a star with the Pittsburgh Pirates, spun around and said:

"I'm always in control, never reaching awkwardly or swinging with half strength."

Thus Waner, now 58, was demonstrating his so-called "belt buckle" theory.

Waner, now a trouble-shooting batting coach for the St. Louis Cardinals, said there are three major leaguers in action today he considers near perfect in their swing.

They are Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Ted Williams and Jackie Jensen of the Boston Red Sox.

Waner's "belt buckle" theory is that a batter hold his bat high, put both shoulders behind a rhythmic, twisting pivot of the hips and wind up with a coordinated follow through that brings him squared about,

PAUL WANER

Waner figures baseball right now is a highly-improved version over his playing days that ended in 1945.

"Thanks to better fielding equipment," Waner explained, "today's defensive play is of much better quality, and with lighter, better bats, hits are going a lot longer."

"But some of our boys have got too much friction and not enough belly button in their swing. I go around and try to oil the moving parts."

Waner beams over his accomplishments as a major league star. During his 20-year career, he strode up to the plate 9,459 times and came away with 3,152 hits for a lifetime batting average of .333. Opposing pitchers found he seldom struck out. During his career, Waner fanned only 376 times, an average of only 18 a season.

Waner led the National League in hitting in 1927, 1934 and 1936. He paced the loop in runs scored in 1928, and 1934.

History is replete with deeds of daring, valor, intrigue, and in nearly all these, somewhere or other, the money of those periods entered into each picture to play its vital and important part. With a little imagination, the display at this Bank might well be titled: "The Romance of Money."

Bible Words for Today

REVELATION 19:6 — "Alleluia; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth." (King James)

What is the biggest fact in your life to you at a moment? Is it home? Is it work? Is it health and happiness? To Christ it was the fact that the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. Is that your answer? It is your answer three cardinal convictions will flow. First, it means the liberation of life. It means a sense of absolute release. Release from what? Release from petty worries. Release from the fears of life. Release from self-contempt. Second, it means the doom of sin. It means the overcoming of sin in every form. Third, it means the comfort of sorrow. To the question asked on board the frail ship tossed on the sea of Galilee, Master, carest thou not that we perish?, he started, "Peace, be still." And it was so. "Alleluia, for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

The Basic Side

IT'S that time again... the time that challenges anew an army of vigorous American youth to the task of preparation in basic education that will equip them with know-how for their tomorrows. Here young minds fresh from their bowl of wheaties, assemble for classroom and playground training. Dear Teacher, responsibility lies heavy on your shoulders. Don't forget that along with reading and writing and arithmetic—lessons in how to live God's way are needed. Teachers and students alike have God to honor and your country to save right there in your classrooms. Always remember, "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."
 Proverbs 25:11. Blending of the academic with the spiritual lessons of Jesus, the greatest teacher, offers a moral and spiritual constitution possessing all the qualities basic in life.

Kitchen Keeps Hubby Home

ECILY BROWNSTONE listened to this voice from the past, speaking to young women of almost a century ago: "Your husband will feel it his duty to provide you with all he can of his industry, to make your life comfortable. In return, you must feel your duty is to provide him with a agreeable companion, your faithful care of his household, and constant attention to his comfort, try to make his home so pleasant that he will not care to go elsewhere."

what New England's Putnam had to say, in "New Beginnings in the Kitchen" in her "A Practical Book." "They've interested themselves in taking such an active part in the household that there is now a chance of the young man having time to go elsewhere longer a matter of just knocking herself out. Putnam says, "to make your life comfortable" and "agreeable companion." The man at her side is also in with a little domesticity while he spigblinds party, with a midnight supper, for more than a dozen friends. The afternoon of the party, the bride glazed and decorated the fully-cooked ham the groom had bought. (He chose a boneless variety because he's still learning to carve.) Then she prepared, covered and refrigerated salad ingredients while he made a special dressing to be added later. She crushed a healthy-sized garlic clove into a quarter pound of butter and he sliced a loaf of French bread (but not all the way through) so she could slather the cuts. The bread was then covered with foil, ready to be heated, and relishes were refrigerated in their serving dishes. I had contributed the dessert. This was an orange-custard flavored angelfood cake — made from a mix. I confess — covered

CARPET COPPED
TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The red carpet was out for three youths — and they took it. They rolled up a red carpet in front of a carpet store, tied it to the top of their car and drove off. The rug was valued at $300.

PINUPS TO PINTOS
WEST ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — As a painter, Allen F. Brewer Jr. has gone from pinups to pintos.

He is now one of the country's leading painters of horses. But two decades ago Brewer worked his way through Yale painting pinup girls with innocent pastoral scenes on the other side that could be switched when parents came to visit. He has since moved from here to Kentucky but on a recent visit he says he still does pinups — on the backs of playing cards.

MECHANICAL LAYER
HICKORY, N. C. (AP) — Now you can even get a dozen eggs from a vending machine.

Heath B. Marsh, who operates a chicken farm near here, sells his eggs from a machine that looks like a soft drink dispenser, complete with refrigerated unit.

The machine — holds 100 dozen eggs in two sizes. It's in his front yard in a building which also houses his grazing room, and storage room for egg cartons and other equipment. Marsh figures he made an extra $2,000 the first year he sold his eggs by machine, for his silent salesman operates 24 hours a day. And it takes much less of his time than his former egg route.

WINS DEGREE
COVINGTON, Va. (AP) — Just about the proudest of 1958 college graduates is the Rev. Richard Guy Sheltman, 58. He got his A. B. degree from Randolph Macon College 36 years after beginning his work at the college in 1922.

Financial difficulties forced him to drop out of school. Came the depression of the 1930's and it took him 13 years to repay money he had borrowed to go to school. In 1945 he decided to get that degree. He used extension courses and went to night school while serving as pastor of Mt. Carmel Methodist Church and working week days as supervisor in the finishing and dyeing room of a rayon plant. He passed his final examinations with flying colors.

TV's Star Dave Garroway Leads Busy Father's Life

By VIVIAN BROWN
Would your husband enjoy having you watch him at his work?

Chances are no, men being suspicious of women's motives about such things. But one man, who can't avoid it, finds it's not bad at all.

"My wife watches me at work every morning," declares TV broadcaster Dave Garroway, "and as a matter of fact she's my best critic. She comments on everything - from my cooked necktie to the day's guest, and offers me very helpful advice."

Dave attributes many of his constructive program suggestions to Pamela, his wife.

"After all," he says, "50 per cent of my viewers are supposed to be housewives, so we try to pace the program with that in mind. I try to ask questions of guests that appeal to the average listener. Missiles and mental health are just as interesting topics for women viewers as family topics, it would seem."

Dave was amazed not long ago when he offered the Rockefeller report, an involved treatise on the military aspects of international security, to his listeners. There were 211,000 orders from women.

"Most women want to know more about things that jeopardize their welfare, security and happiness, homes, children and husbands. My wife is a new mother and she has become more interested recently in world problems because she is concerned for our child's future."

Dave, who is 44, says one is never too old to begin a family, even if he'll be old enough to collect Social Security when the child is entering college. "So what if you are 65 when your child is 20? Don't let that stand in the way of having a family. I expect to have a few more children, at least two within the next 10 years, God willing."

Dave has one child by a previous marriage. He was in the military service when the first child was born, and for several years after, so he feels he is "experiencing fatherhood for the first time."

Pamela was a ballet dancer and radio producer before she married Dave, and some time may even want to go back and try her hand at working again. Dave will not object.

"Pamela's only complaint is that she doesn't see enough of me. I get one day off every two weeks. She complains about that and so do I," laughs Dave.

Although he rises at 4 a.m. to get to the broadcasting studio by 5, somehow the time has never coincided with the feeding time of the baby, David Cunningham Garroway.

"But Pamela appreciated

A Penny Saved Can Be Dollars Earned

By LONNIE HUDKINS
A penny saved can be up to $200 earned, to use a take-off on an old saying.

Not long ago, a widow in Dallas was looking through the effects of her late husband. She discovered he had put back coins each year they were minted. The widow took one of the coins, a 1914 Lincoln cent minted in Denver, to a coin dealer who gave her $200 for it. The dealer, in turn, sold the coin for a $50 profit.

Why would a 1914-D Lincoln cent bring such a premium?

Mainly because only 1,193,000 were minted and there are more than 3,000,000 Americans collecting Lincoln cents, according to conservative estimates.

Besides the factors of supply and demand at work, the widow's coin was unrecirculated. Even 1914-D cents in just good condition bring $17.50, and those in fine condition command $40.

At those prices, it's cheaper to collect ancient Roman coins and foreign pieces. But the advent of folders in which to save U. S. coins of all denominations has started a coin-collecting craze that is sweeping the nation. The same mania has smitten Canadians too, and some of their penny pieces are also at premium prices.

Actually it's wrong to call a U. S. or Canadian cent a "penny." Neither nation's mint makes a penny. They mint cents. England makes the penny, a much larger coin than either the Canadian or U. S. cent.

But the growth of coin collecting in the Northern Hemisphere has resulted in some resentment among veteran numismatists, or coin collectors.

They point out that many of the newcomers to coin collecting are not true collectors, but are "investors" and "accumulators." The investors are collectors for profit. They buy rolls of coins, hold them back from circulation for several years and then try to sell them at a profit, the veteran collectors complain.

On the other hand, the "accumulators" just throw back "old coins" and "pretty ones" without any apparent objective of becoming true collectors.

But to whatever category the reader belongs, the increasing sale of coin collecting folders and the increase in the number of coin clubs give good indication there's a real growth in the number of neophyte but true collectors.

FIRST THINGS FIRST

DELPHI, Ind. (AP) — Fire Chief Fred Swinford had just finished explaining to a group of school children all about the department's shiny trucks and complicated equipment. He asked if there were any questions. "Yes," said one little girl and pointed to the firehouse Dalmatian mascot. "What's the dog's name?"

ARLENE FRANCIS—New York's official summer hostess tries on an ostrich hat in Emme's millinery salon. Her only worry—"Does it look as if I'd just washed my hair?"

Hats Make The Better Hostess

By DOROTHY ROE
What does it take to be New York's first hostess?

"Well," says Arlene Francis, blonde star of television and official hostess for New York's Summer Festival, "for one thing, it takes a lot of hats. You can't, for instance, wear the same hat for opening the Prometheus fountains at Rockefeller Center and then to preside at the Summer Festival stake race at Belmont.

"It just doubles the problems of television, where you don't dare appear in the same dress twice on the same program. However, I never heard of a woman who got upset at having too many clothes—or too many hats—did you?"

Fortunately Arlene is mad about hats—gets them from Emme, the millinery designer who has been turning out her headgear for years, along with suitable chapeaux for such other glamor girls as Rosalind Russell and Lauren Bacall.

Between TV shows and official appearances in behalf of New York's summer tourist season, Miss Francis leads a hectic life. But she thrives on it. Says as long as she has too much to do, she's happy. Boredom is the only thing she fears—and so far she's never had time to be bored.

"Arlene can wear any style of hat," says the beaming Em-me, hauling out hats by the dozen for the inspection of her favorite customer. "What she really looks best in, however, is a feminine hat that shows her hair."

"Now Rosalind Russell likes something exotic, like a flower wig that covers her hair. And Lauren Bacall is the casual type—you know, the brimmed hat or the simple beret—nothing fussy."

"How about a headache band for opening the fountains?" inquires Arlene. "A gold-color one to go with my dress."

"Perfect, my dear!" says Emme. "In this you'll look the part of the hostess with the mostest."

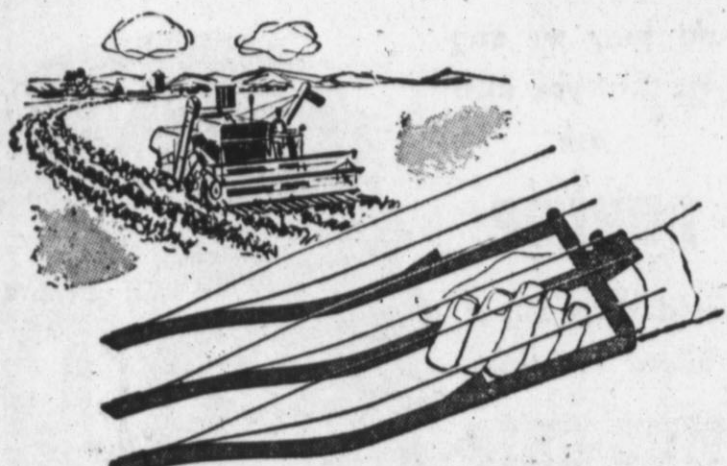

"I know, dear, but aren't you glad the car was insured by
