Early cold snap, in addition to giving lettuce, cotton and melo growers an uncomfortable few hours Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night, also brought a lot of winter coats out of storage...

Banking second in importance in weather was the opening of the World Series Wednesday. Lions Club, which annually sponsors the opening game for the program, cancelled one program, then discovered that the cast would start at 12:45 and hurriedly scrambled to fill in the 15-minute interval with announcements.

North Part Of County To Get 5 Miles Paving

The Highway department this week published notice for bids on construction of FM Road 2351, a distance of 5.033 miles grading and drainage. The construction work will begin at a point 12 miles north of Hereford, running east 5.033 miles.

Overall plans call for eventual connection of the road with FM 809, Dawn to Wildorado, and with U. S. 60, where it will eventually join at the big curve outside of Canyon.

Two Guilty Of Theft Charges

Two Latin-American men pleaded guilty to charge of petty theft under $5, in Corporation Court Tuesday morning. Both were fined $25 and costs.

Police said the two men were charged for shoplifting tools from Perry Brothers Five-Ten and Twenty-five Cent Store and Hereford Hardware.

Alex Schroeter Ousts Brother In Grid Contest

Alex Schroeter took first place in the second week of The Brand's football contest, selecting 17 winners in the 24 games appearing on the list. Cliff Arnold was second and Oliver Streu, third. All three men picked 17 winners, but Schroeter nosed out first place in the tiebreaker column, predicting Plainview 21, Hereford 6.

Schroeter gets a $5 certificate for his first place win, and, at the same time, dethrones his brother, Paul Schroeter, who won first place in the contest last week.

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys Home of Family

A fire of unknown origin destroyed a family home at 224 Ave. O Tuesday afternoon. Fire Marshal Clay Angelo estimated the loss at about $6,000.

Angelo said that he was unable to locate the family who lived in the house after the fire was extinguished, but neighbors of the family said the family's name was Podilla.

Angelo said that the entire house and all its contents were destroyed. The house contained four rooms and a bath.

One Man Hospitalized When Boiler Explosion Shatters REA Building

REA EXPLOSION—A 14-foot gash, at top, was punched in the east side of the Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op building Tuesday afternoon, when an explosion caused an estimated $50,000 in damages to the building and its furnishings. A car, owned by Howard Walker, REA employee, received considerable damage from the blast. The car was parked about 35 feet from the building, almost in direct line with the explosion. (Staff Photo)

A Deaf Smith County Electric Co-op employee—Sam Morgan—escaped almost certain death by a few seconds Tuesday afternoon, when an explosion of unknown origin occurred in the boiler room of the building. An estimate of $50,000 was placed on damages to the building and its furnishings.

Morgan, power use supervisor for the co-op, was reported Wednesday to be in "excellent condition" at Deaf Smith County Hospital by his physician. He suffered first and second degree burns on his left arm, first degree burns on his face and neck, and a fractured rib.

According to Leo Forrest, REA manager, Morgan had just walked past the hallway entrance to the boiler room when the boiler exploded. Morgan was thrown to the floor from the force of the blast and was immediately taken to the hospital by Joe Kerr, bookkeeper at REA.

Impact of the blast tore a large hole in the east side of the building and scattered debris 150 feet in the parking lot outside the building.

Force of the blast blew out the wall between Morgan's office and the boiler room. His office is located south of the boiler room.

Fifteen other employees were inside the building at the time of the explosion, but none were injured. Five men, Forrest, W. D. Gibson, Emerson Roland and two consumers from Farmer County, were in Gibson's office at the time of the explosion.

Gibson's office is located about 30 feet northwest of the boiler room and was protected by double fire doors. The duct of a heated air vent was blown from the wall in Gibson's office.

Gibson and Forrest were talking just outside the boiler room five minutes before the blast, and had gone to Gibson's office to talk to the two consumers.

T. A. Paul, two-way communications operator, escaped injury when parts of boiler fittings were thrown through his office, which is just across the hall from the boiler room.

Forrest said that Morgan had just left Paul's office when the explosion occurred.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene shortly after the explosion, but there was no fire. Cause of the explosion had not been determined.

The blast occurred about 4:30 p.m. The REA building is located on Highway 60, east of Hereford.

Forrest said damages could run up to $50,000, though the figure was only a "rough estimate."

The interiors and contents of at least three rooms were heavily damaged. The explosion blew out the wall between the boiler room and the hall and punched a 14-foot gash in the east outside wall of the brick building.

Four plate glass windows in the front lobby of the building were ripped outward from their casements and there is some damage to the roof. All boiler room equipment, including both heating and cooling machinery, was destroyed in the blast.

Eight employees were in offices in the southeast portion of the building. The blast threw debris through windows of the lobby at the front of the building, but nobody was in the lobby at the time of the explosion.

Forrest's secretary, Ann Quikel, was in her office, located east of the hall at the front of the building, but was not injured. George Stambaugh, telephone coordinator, was in his office across the hall from Miss

Public Opinion To Be Sought On Center Facilities

Hereford residents will be asked to fill out questionnaires stating what facilities and services they would like to see installed in the proposed community center, it was decided at a meeting of the planning committee in the City Manager's office Tuesday evening.

The committee asked that Earnest Langley, chairman, prepare a draft of the questionnaire and present it to committee members for approval. The questionnaire will be printed in The Brand after approval.

Langley said that the public would be asked to clip the questionnaire from The Brand, check what facilities or services they would like to see installed in the building, and send the questionnaires to the City Hall.

Also, the committee voted to send letters to various Hereford organizations and clubs, asking whether or not individual clubs would be interested in sending representatives to a future meeting to express their club's viewpoints on what facilities should be installed in the center.

Herd Points To Olton For First Victory Friday Night

Heartened by an improved offense and a stronger defense, the Hereford Whitefaces will attempt to break their losing streak at Olton Friday night. Their work should be cut out for them, since the Mustangs have won two of their four starts this year.

Two things point to a rough game for Hereford: first, it will be homecoming for Olton High exes which usually puts the home team in top spirits; second, Olton has won both of its games at home this year, losing only on the road.

Although the Herd got a good look at powerhouse single wing football from Plainview last week, they should get another lesson in the multiple offense tomorrow night. The Mustangs employ a varied attack, including the T and Split T, single wing and spread.

Coach Joe L. Turner is getting his squad ready for District 2-AA competition. The Mustangs have taken wins on their first and fourth outings, with losses on the road. They racked up 14 points in the first quarter of their opener against Petersburg, then coasted home for a 14-6 victory. Vis-ing the next two weeks, they were whipped 26-6 by Floydada and trounced 42-6 by Littlefield. They came back strong last week to pluck the Hale Center Owls 34-8.

Budget Meeting For UF Friday

Budget committee of the Deaf Smith County United Fund will meet at 3 p.m. Friday, according to chairman Townsend Douglas. Meeting is scheduled for the Hospitality Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Primary purpose of the meeting is to accept requests from various service agencies and to correlate these requests into the final goal for the annual drive. Bill Decker will be general chairman of the drive, which is tentatively slated for November.

Olton has a veteran ball club, comprised mainly of seniors. Their attack this year has been built around quarterback Arno Hall and halfback Royce Bodkin. The line is anchored by tackle Robert Diaz, a 215-pound junior. One of Hall's favorite targets is end L. H. McAdams, a 145-pound senior.

Hereford coach Bobby Williams was encouraged last week by the performance of his team. A particular bright spot was the

LETTUCE, MILO OR COTTON

Nothing Wrong With Harvest That A Little Sunshine Wouldn't Cure

Farmers in this area breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday morning, when a possible early freeze failed to materialize Tuesday night and thermometers recorded a low of 43 degrees in Hereford.

None of the three major crops—grain sorghum, lettuce and cotton—were believed to have suffered anything more serious than a set-back in the process of harvesting.

Lettuce growers were still on needles and pins as they awaited fair weather which will start the crop to rolling. Four sheds—Trautmann Bros., Associated, Chalmers and Griffin and Brand—had marketed some early lettuce, reporting "fair" yields and quality. The going price was around $2, which might show some small profit in cases of good yields.

Vahlsing had not shipped any lettuce Wednesday and, like the other packers, were anxiously waiting for "decent weather."

Grain men had about the same story, except some thought that the delay and recent weather, would get the harvest on a mark to really go once the clouds disappear. Few of them saw fit to change their "harvest peak" estimate from around Oct. 15-20, and all of the Hereford dealers said that moisture content, so far, has been generally low.

The county's 11,000 acres of cotton also needs more time and more sunshine to mature. Little action was predicted along this line until the weather improves.

Wheat growers, meanwhile, were happy about the moisture, and the same was true of pasture owners in the territory.

Meanwhile, the worst thing that can happen in the area would be continued high humidity, cloudy weather and, worst of all, a serious freeze.

Services Held For Infant Boy

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. for Silvestre Alejandro, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin Alejandro of the Hereford Labor Camp.

The infant was born Aug. 26, 1958, in Hereford and died yesterday at 1:15 a.m.

Besides the parents, he is survived by four brothers and three sisters.

Services were held in the San Jon Mission with Father Raymond Gillis officiating. Burial was in the St. Anthony's cemetery.

And the jail inmates were not the only ones in Hereford with housing troubles. Scores of people had apparently filled every nook and cranny "for rent" in the area, according to reports from the Chamber of Commerce office. Some of the condition was attributed to an influx of workers in the lettuce harvest, but all reports indicated an acute shortage of houses, as well as furnished and unfurnished apartments.

Bill Youngblood was named Wednesday as chairman of the Lions Club wrestling committee. He succeeds H. E. Wester, who recently resigned the post after three years service.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Snare were in Kansas this week to attend funeral service for Mrs. Snare's brother.

Seventh Grade Team Downs Tulia; Eighth Grade Loses

By RICHARD LEGGITT
In two action packed games Tuesday night, the Stanton Jr. High football teams won one and lost one. The Seventh graders powerhoused their Tulia opponents 22-8, while the Eighth grade team came out on the short end of a 6-0 tilt with the Tulia boys.

TAKE EARLY LEAD
Hereford's Seventh grade team took an early lead in the first quarter when Quarterback Eugene Green intercepted a Tulia pass and ran it up the sideline 35 yards for the first tally. The try for extra point failed. The game seesawed back and forth during the remainder of the half, which caught Tulia with the ball on Hereford's 20-yard mark.

Going into the third quarter with a 6-0 lead, the Hereford boys again turned on the power and sent Fullback Jimmy Haney on a 75-yard gallup for their second touchdown. Eugene Green added the points with a quarterback sneak. Early in the fourth period, Tulia took the ball on the Hereford 20 and moved it to the 1-yard line in four plays. Tailback Pat Sharp smashed over for the score, then repeated to add the extra points, leaving the score at 14-8.

In final minutes of the game, Haney again broke loose for a 70-yard sprint and another Hereford counter; Jim Higgins added the extra points. The game ended 22-8.

EIGHTH GRADE GAME
Both teams showed strong offensive power in the Eighth grade tangle, chalking up six first downs each. The lone tally was scored by Tulia in the second quarter when Troy Brasher took the ball on a beautiful double reverse. Try for extra point failed.

Hereford threatened in the fourth quarter, taking the ball on their own 20 and moving it to the Tulia 35 before a pass interception gave the ball to Tulia until the clock ran out.

This game ended 6-0 in favor of the Tulia team.

Millions Gambled To Save Salmon

BROWNLEE, Idaho (AP)—Here gateway to Hells Canyon builders are gambling on a huge fish net they will save hordes of tiny Snake River salmon certain death.

says the scheme is based on two theories:

The downstream facilities are only half of the fish story at completed Brownlee and partially constructed Oxbow dams. More orthodox facilities have been provided for getting big fish up over the dams. But even they involve use of tank trucks for part of the distance.

Household Scrapbook

Spots
Spots and stains can be removed from silk without harming the color by taking five parts of water and six parts of alum, well pounded. Boil a short time, and then pour into a vessel to cool. Previous to using, the mixture must be made warm. Then wash the stained parts and allow to dry.

Perspiration
For excessive perspiration under the arms, dissolve a one-half teaspoonful of ordinary baking soda in a cupful of water and apply. This is a very cooling solution.

Lime Water
To make lime water at home dissolve a fresh piece of lime in two quarts of water. Allow this to stand for two or three hours, shaking occasionally and removing any substance that may rise to the top.

Bath Towels
The bath towels can be kept separate, where there are several members in the family, by attaching each towel to a spring clothespin. Make the pins attractive by enameling each one a different color or placing the initials of each person on them.

Fruit
All fruit should be wiped with a damp cloth when it comes from the market. This will not only clean it from dust, but will also check any rot from infected fruit with which it may have come in contact.

Acid Soil
Although lime is not a plant food it has its value in correcting sour or acid soil conditions, and in making clay soils looser and more pliable.

Rugs
When replacing the rug after cleaning, turn it around in order to distribute the wear. Place a safety pin in a certain corner, that you may know this corner of the rug should go to the opposite corner of the room.

Tuna Fish
Improve the flavor of tuna and salmon by adding finely chopped sweet pickles, hard-boiled eggs, diced celery, or cucumbers. Mix with salad dressing or mayonnaise.

an intelligent, warm-hearted and brave enough to look inside herself. She was so anxious that Johnny love her best that she gave in to him in every tiny detail. But the truth was Johnny didn't like it. He felt uneasy and a bit frightened to be responsible for his parent's behavior. He felt safer with Tish, who exercised a little bit of firm but gentle discipline.

Working Mother Tends To Spoil Her Children

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

MRS. CHAPEL was a school teacher. When Johnny was born she took off the barest minimum of time and then went back to her teaching. She had competent help at home to care for her little boy. But like almost every mother who has to leave her child, she felt guilty because she wasn't with him all day. Johnny was healthy and strong and happy—he was obviously a well-cared-for little fellow. The woman who took care of him loved him and he loved her.

Mrs. Chapel arrived home about 4 o'clock every afternoon and was always at home over the weekends. She tried to give Johnny in the hours she was with him all the mothering and love she would have given him if she'd been home all day. She spent just about every minute with him, bathed him, fed him his supper. She hovered over him. She denied him nothing.

Over-Indulgence

As Johnny grew a little older he knew he could get away with anything with mother. Supper was often a problem. Johnny would take a bite, then jump down and run around the room. Mother followed him about with the dish and spoon and tried to poke a spoonful in while the child wasn't looking. Every night it was the same story. Johnny practically hung from the chandelier while he was getting his supper. His mother was the very soul of patience.

Over the weekends it was the same story. Johnny almost never played by himself. One or the other of his parents danced attendance on him all day long. If either one attempted the least bit of discipline Johnny threw a tantrum and got his way.

After one particularly stormy weekend Monday morning rolled around and Tish, Johnny's day-time caretaker, arrived on schedule. Johnny jumped down from the breakfast table where he had deigned to sit for a few minutes and rushed into the arms of Tish, his little baby face covered with joy (as well as oatmeal).

Poor Mom

This was too much for Mary Chapel. She burst into tears. Here she had broken her neck to make life good for Johnny but he so obviously preferred Tish. And Tish had always reported she never had any trouble with the youngster. He ate his meals without fuss or bother, he played around happily while Tish did the housework. He almost never had tantrums. Mary Chapel was jealous of Tish. This Monday morning she knew it and faced it. She was at the Shrine dance Saturday night.

Meanwhile, Bill stoutly contends, "32 landlords can't be wrong."

Bill Hardwick frankly says he wishes I would learn to keep my big mouth shut. Seems that he was rocking along pretty well with his Brigitte Bardot film until I mentioned the Lubbock incident and, right off, he got a delegation and several protests.

I admit it may be rough on Bill, but it made me feel good to know that someone does read this column — after all. That's what I wouldn't like about the radio business. All the time I was talking, I would be wondering if the doggone mike was hooked up — and, if so, how many people were frantically hunting another station. It is a "one shot" deal. You either get them right then or not at all; whereas, in this business, you never can tell. Sometimes folks wrap fish in the paper, then it gets blown away and turns up in amazing places. Take the Bootleg Philosopher, for instance. That character gets a new edition every time the wind changes. I see where he is looking for some "comps" to the Hereford-Olton football game.

Which reminds me, David Larsen, drum major for Hereford's Big Domino Marching Band, is quite an entertainer. He gave his interpretation of "Little Bo Peep" before the visiting Plainview band members last Friday night and made a real hit.

"Now, if Little Bo Peep has lost her sheep, isn't it logical," asked Mr. Larsen, "that she doesn't know where to find them?" And when he arrived at that part where the sheep are "wagging their tails behind them," he frankly and sensibly wanted to know, "where else would they wag their tails?" I agree, it follows. It sure does.

I asked some of the band boys how they ever talked David into doing the skit, and they figured, "Aw, Mr. Bell just told him he had to!" Anyway, the band kids really ate it up, including our own group.

Jim Minor, the guy who supervises newspaper deliveries, says he wants to challenge Clay Ridgeway about this early rising business. Jim figures he gets up "30 minutes ahead" of anybody else in town, including Brother Ridgeway. Personally this is one they will have to settle among themselves. The only way to decide would be to get up early enough to find out — and I flat don't care that much about it. When they start talking about getting up at 3:30 and 4 a.m., that's strictly for the birds. I can't see where it represents such a high degree of intelligence — in the second place. I figure the good Lord made the night for people to sleep, and I want to cooperate the very best I know how. And everyone in the family says I do know how.

t people do not like to about growing old but, it happens, a few of them to have much more fun others. Sunday we got a one call from Pampa, in- us to come to Amarillo sit for an hour or so with life's grandmother, which changes as Grandma Bobo has seen. After the Civil War, she migrated to Texas with her folks in a covered Wagon and settled in the Rhome Community long before there was any Ft. Worth. The jump from 4-miles-per-hour to 400-miles per hour is a pretty fair hurdle.

grandmother, Mrs. Z. E. of Rhome, Tex., is 93 of age — and decided that ould fly up to spend the nd with her daughter. As she was enjoying every e of the trip.

Bruce Miller was one of the few men who turned up for the PTA meeting the other day — and he lived to regret it. The ladies were discussing some way to raise money, when one of them came up with the idea of getting some clothes 20 or 25 years old and putting on a style show, whereupon Bruce made his mistake:

asked that girl (meaning stess) if she was a Christ- related Mrs. Bobo, "then her go ask the pilot if he Christian, too." Getting firmative reply on both s, Grandma said she told

"So what?" he asked. "Won't they look just like the dresses and hats the women are wearing right now?"

That's a good thing, what flying around up-here all the time."

Bill Messick, who claims to have more landlords than anybody, entertained four of them in Hereford the past weekend. Bill farms a tract of land, including 32 small tracts which are owned by 32 GI landlords out of Dallas. He says the bus company is still talking about the time the 32 veterans got together, chartered a bus, and brought their wives out to inspect "the farm". However, the bus got stuck in the mud while at the farm and, since that time, the boys have been turning up in smaller groups.

er this, despite the rough er, Grandma felt a lot about the whole thing. ct, being somewhat of a rsationalist, she became friendly with "that girl", asked her if she had very passengers who were 93 old. The hostess said, whereupon Grandma be- ondering why not.

Four of the owners landed at Hereford airport Saturday morning in a chartered plane. They were Bobby McCall, Johnny Mack Slay, Miles Taylor, Arthur White and the pilot, Elmer Weiss.

way, we thought she was y brave to make the trip. I wouldn't be surprised if doesn't do a lot more plane in the future. Even while was getting ready to board plane for the return trip, was pointing out that she now ahead of two of her daughters, who had never

In addition to inspecting the farm, they visited vegetable farms, packing and processing plants. Bill also arranged a luncheon at the hotel Saturday for the Dallas boys, who visited with J. M. Thompson of Denver and formerly of Hereford, V. O. Hennen, Townsend Douglas, Jim Witherspoon, Wayne Thomas, and Earnest Langley. They were also Messick's guests

New Building Is Sign of Progress

One of the most reliable keys to the growth of an area is the amount of new building. Hereford is one of the progressive cities in the Panhandle, as evidenced by the continued expansion and spiraling population. A brief look around reveals the belief of residents in the future. There are new homes, new schools, new churches, new business buildings. And each of these means more prosperity. There are jobs for carpenters, masons, cement finishers, plumbers, electricians, who, in turn, will demand more goods and more services. New homes and businesses create markets for many other items: furniture, appliances, carpet, heating, air conditioning, tools and seeds, all of the things that mean an improved standard of living. An area either progresses or it dies; it can never stand still. There is ample evidence that this area is moving forward with a confident faith in the future.

STILL GOING STRONG

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va (AP) — At a time when most people are looking for a rocking chair, John F. Wise is wheeling boxes, barrels and crates into and out of his truck. Wise, now 80, began delivering freight for the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad in 1913. The only difference then and now is that a truck has replaced his horse and wagon.

Home Agent Gives Talk

The Westway Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Howard Walker, with Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, presenting the program on "Buying Clothes."

Mrs. Draper said that 82 percent of the club women of Texas buy at least one good street dress a year. She also gave several helpful suggestions of what one needs to do before shopping.

"Plan what you need, study what you have and see what you need," she said. "Also study your accessories. Be realistic about what you have and what you need. Study the labels carefully regarding the care of the material of the dress. Save your labels so there will be no mistake about the care the dress needs," Mrs. Draper told the group.

Mrs. C. A. Saulcy was elected to the office of Federated Council delegate to fill a vacancy.

Among the members attending were Mesdames George Turrentine, Ernest Rudd, Harold Rudd, Kenneth Rudd, Paul Rudd, J. C. Morrison, J. B. Odum, R. L. Wilson, Bess Werner, Argen Draper, Harold Fulkner and A. C. Stengel and the hostess, Mrs. Walker.

Convicts Show Interest Texas Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE — Convicts who will share the limelight with television star Richard Boone of "Have Gun — Will Travel" at the opening performance of the 27th Annual Texas Prison Rodeo Sunday, Oct. 5, held their first tryout to come up "with the best crop of riders in a long time," said Albert Moore, prison rodeo director. Nearly 100 contestants reported for first tryout.

Director Moore pointed out such former champion riders as Cruz Davilla, O'Neal

Browning, and Vernon Abbott, "look better than ever."

Another favorite, Lala Markovich, who stayed out on parole to miss the 1957 show, got himself in trouble again at Lufkin and returned to prison Aug. 27 — in time to be put on the rodeo contestants list. Markovich, who is serving 99 years for murder from Harris County, was received at the prison Nov. 1, 1947, and paroled Feb. 18, 1957.

However, since last year, a new face has come up on the prison rodeo horizon. He is Robert C. Bell, 34, serving three years for forgery from Tarrant County. Bell has been in prison since Mar. 25, 1958.

Happy Hikers Rate an "A" or off the campus

Although Director Moore had never heard of Bell, after watching him in action at the first trials, he declared, "I have never seen anything like it. Every time I'd turn around, there was Bell mounting up to ride a wild Brahman bull or bucking bronc."

Bell says he will be out there doing his best to unseat the old-timers who have hogged the prison rodeo championship crown "too many years."

Bell's prison record shows that he is a former ranch hand and a cowboy — "with experience."

Rodeo officials say that with the personal appearance of Boone and convict riders, who want to take the top spot of the show, attendance for the opener should break all previous records.

Reserved seat tickets at $2.40 and $4.40 each, may be had by writing Rodeo Ticket Office, Huntsville, Tex., enclosing check or money order.

Not This Doctor!

Dr. Sherman Lesesne is head of the chemistry department and chairman of the division of natural and applied sciences at Southwestern university. He holds the B. S. degree from Sam Houston State college, the M. A. from Southwestern university and the Ph. D. degree from the University of Texas.

The Westway Home Demonstration Club hosted a games party at the Community House for the members and their families Saturday evening. "Forty-two" and "pitch" were played.

Pro Adds 11 Holes-In-One But Feat Took 38 Years

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP)—Men play golf for a lifetime without getting a hole-in-one. But take George Aulbach—he has rolled up 11 of the aces over a 38-year period.

Aulbach, now professional at the Lufkin Country Club, got his first hole-in-one in 1920. It was at Wollston, Mass., a 152-yarder. His last was in 1950 at the Midland Country Club in Texas. It was 150 yards and was scored in the Texas PGA tournament.

But the hole-in-one that really makes Aulbach smile was a 330-yard swat recorded in 1923 at Winthrop, Mass. It was one of the longest ever made anywhere.

British newspapermen once tagged him "the Little Giant." That was in 1952 during the British Open at Troon, Scotland.

The official British long driving championships were being held prior to the start of the Open. Aulbach wasn't interested in winning the event but wanted to get in a round of practice.

He waited patiently until the field was cleared of all contestants. Competition was declared over, but before the judges could remove the winner's flag from the fairway, Aulbach teed off. He astonished the gallery by driving his ball three yards beyond the winner, a hefty 264 yards through the foggy, windy Scotland air.

The British press pounced on the story and Aulbach was a celebrity throughout the Open.

Perhaps his most famous student was the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the most famous of the women golfers.

ESTINOV PLANS REVISION

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Ustinov, English actor-author, may perform in one of his 12-year-old scripts—if he can rewrite it satisfactorily.

Invited to appear in a London production of "Paris Not So Gay," the star who is appearing here in another of his plays, "Romanoff and Juliet," reread the older piece. He said he experienced a feeling of awe, but decided that his dramatic technique at 37 is different from what it was at 25.

"I'm redoing the whole thing," he said.

BOON TO THE BLIND—Kenneth Jernigan, director of the Iowa Commission for the Blind, catalogues part of his 3,000-volume collection of Braille books. Blind himself, Jernigan plans to make collection available to the sightless in Iowa through a mail service.

Large Private Braille Library Being Shipped To Des Moines

By DAN PERKES - DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — What is believed to be the largest private Braille library in the world is awaiting shipment from Oakland, Calif., for use by Iowa's blind.

Kenneth Jernigan, 32-year-old Tennessee-born director of the Iowa Commission for the Blind, is owner of the collection, which he began accumulating in his days back at Peabody College in Nashville. He is the first blind person to ever head the Iowa agency.

The library will be set up in the basement of Jernigan's home. The 3,000-volume collection — ranging from Shakespeare to science fiction — would cost an estimated $15,000 to relace, he said.

Most of the collection is in Oakland, where Jernigan formerly served on the faculty of the Orientation Center for the Adult Blind.

lot of patience, money and letter-writing.

Some of the specialty reading, such as science fiction of which he is an avid fan, had to be specially transcribed by hand. Others are discarded books from Braille libraries throughout the nation and the Library of Congress. Still others have come from England, where Braille is printed at much cheaper rates than in the U. S.

In the collection are all of Shakespeare's plays and sonnets (38 Braille volumes), Tolstoy's essays, Westerns, classics and poetry.

"Very few people," Jernigan said, "make a hobby of collecting Braille books. I haven't heard of a larger collection anywhere, certainly not in the United States."

Jernigan said the library will be available to Iowa's estimated 4,000 blind persons through a mail service.

The library was built by a

Legitimate Firms Take Cues From Racketeers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Newsfeatures Writer OSSINING, N. Y. (AP) — The illicit narcotics racket has given respectable business a selling tip: Make an addict and you make a good customer.

The National Garden Bureau for the past six months has been making gardening addicts out of new home owners in a suburban development here.

Hooked this year by free seed, bi-weekly instruction by experts and a prize contest, next year and thereafter they will be customers for seed, fertilizer, tools and how-to-do-it books.

The experimental project was set up and underwritten by an organization of the nation's top seed-selling houses. It was designed to prove the existence of an untapped multi-million dollar market for flower seeds among new home owners of moderate income financially unable to swing immediate expenditures on more costly tree and shrub landscaping.

Chosen for the pilot project was Birch River, a development of $19,000 and $20,000 homes in this Hudson River commuting town an hour's train ride from New York City.

Few of the young couples — city dwellers before moving to the suburbs — knew the difference between crabgrass and false hellebore when the project got under way last April. By September, however, they were veteran diggers and weedeers; their front and side lawns were ablaze with color.

They called plants by botanical names, complained about the bugs wryly, and were analyzing their mistakes — mistakes they would rectify next year when they are on their own.

The National Garden Bureau is delighted with the ease with which the happy guinea pigs have become addicted to gardening ("stimulating gardening enthusiasm" is the bureau phrase for the activity). It believes that such projects in thousands of communities across the nation could open up a garden seed market worth 57 million dollars a year by concentrating just on families in the $5,000 to $10,000 a year brackets.

W. Atlas Burpee III, bureau chairman, suggests that similar projects, with the initial gift of about $5 worth of flower seeds, expert instruction and contests, be instigated and underwritten by local seedsmen or garden supply stores, garden or service clubs, real estate men or even home-owner groups themselves.

Effect of exposure to gardening on Birch River residents was closely charted.

The visiting experts — horticulturists, landscape architects and others — noted that enthusiasm for "low cost landscaping" ran high when the contest was announced and plans drawn. Families set to work digging and hauling out rocks with a will. Interest flagged, however, once they had planted the seeds. It revived when the seedlings appeared and continued to mount as the growing season progressed.

The experts guided the novices shrewdly. They first introduced them to sturdy, easy-to-grow and colorful flowers — marigold, zinnia, petunia, dahlia, cockscomb, salvia, portulaca, four-o'clock, nasturtium, ageratum, alyssum, morning glory.

Burpee says technical help and equipment must be provided to make real garden addicts. Instruction must be personalized to maintain interest during the "critical period" between seed planting and seed sprouting.

"It is easier to generate wide spread gardening interest if the leading residents of each area are drawn into the project," he advises. "If the key person in a group of houses gets excited about gardening, flowers and vegetables won't be long in coming to the other yards."

It is lucky that gardening is a healthy occupation. It is not only an addiction. Apparently, it is as infectious as chickenpox.

SUMMER THEATER IN 67th SEASON
DENVER (AP) — The Elych Gardens Theater, claiming to be the oldest summer showhouse in the nation, opened its 67th season June 15 with "The Rainmaker" as its first play. The cast is headed by Kathleen Mo-

Guire and John Dutra.

Increase In Storage Facilities Sparked By Grain Storage Boom

The five-year boom in Texas grain sorghum production is reflected in new grain warehouse licenses and the upsurge in construction of additional grain storage facilities over the state.

than 300 Texas warehousemen to double their storage capacity in the past 12 months. The Texas Grain Warehouse Law, which requires in part that warehouses be licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture and be bonded to protect farmers against theft and other losses, was enacted following national scandals surrounding misappropriation of stored grain. A force of 17 TDA inspectors constantly check licensed warehouses and receipts to assure compliance with the law.

Licensed Texas warehouses have a capacity of 322,671 bushels and more space needed for the coming season.

Through FTD, with 11,000 member florists, flowers can be wired to any part of North America. An international affiliate, Interflora, permits FTD members to wire flowers to any part of the civilized world.

Preliminary estimates show harvest of 427,906,400 bushels of grain this year, most of which will require storage for varying periods of time. To meet this demand, the number of licensed warehouses in the state will likely increase to about 775 before the year's end, upping storage space to over 400 million bushels.

Requests For Money Are Labeled Wholly Unrealistic

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN — Through the summer campaigns "economy in government" were words that rustled about as harmlessly as an evening breeze. But with the approach of winter and down-to-the-lick-log budget-making time, the same words have the cutting edge of a blue norther.

discount of from one to five per cent to cash their pay checks since the banks that cashed them had to hold them for some time waiting for the state to get the money to make them good.

Gov. Price Daniel stuck a pin in any last rosy hopes that "things might not be too bad." He sent back the money requests made by heads of state departments for 1959-61, saying they were "wholly unrealistic."

Dr. Edgar has until the end of this week to decide whether to recommend to the State Board of Education that Texas participate in a new federal school aid plan. This program, prompted by national defense concerns, is designed to help step up training of mathematicians, scientists and teachers.

Gov. Daniel took note of these predictions in asking department heads to re-examine their budgets, eliminating any non-essential items. A deadline of Oct. 8 was set for the new requests.

On the other hand, Sen. Ralph Yarborough, a Congressional sponsor of the new aid plan, is strongly urging that Texas take advantage of it. Others who agree declare that to stay out would mean Texas schools would lose millions — some of it paid in by Texas taxpayers.

A FURTHER GLUM note was the state comptroller's forecast that the general revenue fund would run dry in October.

Also, Governor Daniel took note of the recognition paid Gen. Mgr. O. B. Ellis in his election to the presidency of the National Congress of Corrections.

Misconceptions Of Registration Corrected By State Draft Board

AUSTIN — Some state draft boards are complaining that an increasing number of youths are registering late under provisions of the Selective Service law.

But when he gets out, the law requires that he go to a draft board and register within 30 days. For example, if he joins the Army at 17 and stays in 10 years, he must register for the draft at age 27. The law would not obligate him for further service currently, but it obligates him to register.

Several misconceptions about the legally required time to register cause most of the latecomers, Col. Schwartz believes. There is some belief among young men that they can wait until they are 18 1/2 years old to register.

Draft registration in Texas is expected to reach about 66,000 in 1958.

As a matter of fact, the law requires that a man register on his 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter. Colonel Schwartz pointed out that all males born since Aug. 30, 1922, are legally obligated to be registered under existing law, except those not yet 18. Some young men think that membership in the National Guard or the Reserves excuses them from registration, but it does not.

Dignitaries who will ride in the parade will include Gov. Price Daniel, who will officially open the fair; Tennessee Ernie Ford, who will appear in the Cotton Bowl Sunday night, Oct. 5; Meredith Willson, composer of the fair's top theatrical attraction, "The Music Man"; and Betty Furness, nationally known television personality.

Long before the parade gets underway, however, the gates to the $35,000,000 fairgrounds will swing open at 7 a.m. And even before that, the vanguard of some 100,000 Four-H club members, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers from all over Texas will begin to arrive for Rural Youth Day.

Guard or have already been in service. Texas draft quota for November will be 556 men, according to the state director, Col. Morris S. Schwartz.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has filed anti-trust suits against three oil companies engaged in refining and selling gasoline to retailers in the El Paso area.

Standard of Texas, the Texas Company and El Paso Natural Gas Products Co. are charged with illegally agreeing to fix prices. Wilson said a court of inquiry confirmed reports that gasoline prices were artificially high in El Paso. He said major brands had been selling for 34 cents a gallon in El Paso compared to 21 cents for the same product in Juarez, across the border.

Two good-paying state jobs are standing vacant. They are for an $11,500 program examiner for the Commission on Higher Education. But the Commission director says the salaries are less than terrific for the type-men-needed. Not since 1889 have there been so many cotton rats and mice loose in Texas, says the State Health Department. What's worse, the

Chene, Donovan Are Re-Matched As Chene Bites

Spotting their opponents the first fall, both Lolita Martinez and Iron Jaw Doug Donovan came back to chalk up wins in the grappling matches at the Bull Barn Saturday night.

In the womens' event, Kathy Starr won the first fall in 16:20 with a man-sized back-breaker and body press. But Lolita Martinez came rushing back to win the second fall when her foe was disqualified. Lolita also took the deciding fall in seven minutes with a body press.

A fit of temper cost Amazing Larry Chene his match with Iron Jaw Donovan. Chene won the initial fall in 10:55 with a rolling, step-over toe hold. Iron Jaw captured the second fall in 13:40 with a body press. He was awarded the third fall when Chene was disqualified for gnawing on the referee. Time on the third fall was five minutes.

Local rassing promoters announced that Chene and Donovan would be re-matched again this Saturday because Chene felt he had beat Donovan. This grudge fight will be the main event.

Also on Saturday's card will be Chico Romero battling Iron Mike DiBiose. First event will start at 8:30 p.m.

A. H. Elliston has sold his legless calf to Pike Stroud of Amarillo, who is gathering a bunch of freaks for a show. Mr. Elliston came in possession of the calf in a perfectly legitimate way. Mr. Money, who runs a large ranch east of town, one morning not long since, discovered a calf in his pasture that seemed not to be running around like the others. So he found that while the calf was perfectly whole every other way, he was minus legs, having only short stubs an inch or two long for fore legs and no sign of hind legs. Mr. Money brought the legless calf to town in his auto and after showing it, struck a trader in Mr. Elliston, who gave him a perfectly good white face calf for the legless one, and both knew they had made a good deal. Now, Mr. Elliston in turn sells it to Mr. Stroud at a good, fancy price. Thus the world moved on.

A city without electricity, without fuel, without a pure water supply, without telephone exchanges, without hospitals, without an effective government and police force, without a coordinate system of exchange of goods and services, without the operation of trained technical and managerial skill — such a city is not a city at all. It is only a rubble of concrete and steel, a jungle in which there is only the slightest chance for survival. I do not claim the apocalyptic wisdom to predict the outcome of a nuclear war between the Communist bloc and the free world. Given the refusal of the Soviet Union to agree to an effective system for controlling atomic weapons and the determination of the non-Communist world to defend its freedom and independence, we have had no alternative but to arm ourselves with the most powerful weapons at our command. We do this in the hope that war can be prevented and that civilization can somehow continue to balance two weights of terror on the precipice of survival.

This newsletter is not intended for the purpose of frightening anyone out of their wits. It is for the purpose of furnishing factual information es-established after very careful calculation. It must be remembered that even though the Soviet Union does have the power first mentioned in this newsletter, the United States has equal power, if not more, and the Russians know it.

Mantle, Still Hampered By Injury, To Use Lighter Bat During World Series Games

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor
Switch-hitting Mickey Mantle, Mr. Muscles in the New York Yankee attack since 1952 when Joe DiMaggio retired, will carry into this World Series the lightest bat he ever used. It will be 35 inches long and 31 ounces in weight, two ounces less than he has used in six previous classics.

"I haven't been able to pull the ball well all season, left-handed or right-handed," the 26-year-old center-fielder said when this writer brought up the subject. "I used a 35-33 (inches and ounces) in the past for left-handed hitting and 35-34 for right-handed hitting. Now I'm using a 35-31 left-handed. I'm hoping the two-ounce difference will help me get the bat around faster batting left-handed."

There's also a chance Mantle will swing the 31-ounce stick both ways. Each Yankee is having two new bats shipped from Louisville to Milwaukee for the opening game Wednesday, Oct. 1. Yogi Berra raised his bushy eyebrows when Mantle asked that his two be a pair of T89's — both 31 ounces.

When it comes to the series Mantle tries to look the other way when questioned. He has been hot and cold in the playoffs and has missed starting 11 times in three classics due to injuries. He takes the series with mixed emotions ever since his father passed away in 1951, the day after Mickey was hurt in his first classic.

Mantle has had everything from a twisted knee, to a pulled leg muscle, to shin splints and a bruised right shoulder. Yet he is so modest that he refuses to admit but admits privately the lighter bat is the result of the last classic.

The Yankees, from Manager Casey Stengel down, look back to the first series game ever played in Milwaukee. It was a costly 12-3 victory in the third game of last fall's seven-game set won by the Braves.

In the first inning, after Tony Kubek homered, Bob Buhl walked Mantle and Berra in succession. Flustered in his first series start, Buhl tried to pick Mantle off second and threw the ball into center field. When second baseman Red Schoendienst tried to apply a leg lock of 500 or more. He said the oceanology institute in Moscow has 120 scientists, including 22 Ph. D.'s.

He said the salary of the average Russian scientist is six to ten times that of the average working man in that country.

In closing, Dr. Leipper spoke briefly on the language problem that is even more of a problem for scientists in America than in Russia. He said almost every Russian scientist can read and write English and therefore, have no difficulty in reading scientific reports from the U. S. On the other hand, he observed, very few American scientists can read Russian material sent to this country.

MANTLE MISHAP—This second base collision between Mickey Mantle and Brave Red Schoendienst (No. 4) in the third World Series game last fall is the reason the Yankee slugger is using a lighter bat. A lame shoulder has bothered Mantle's timing.

around Mantle to prevent him from going to third, Red's left leg came crashing down on Mantle's right shoulder. Mantle scrambled to his feet and made third but the next day he couldn't throw from center field to second base or swing a bat with authority.

Mantle has never said a word about Schoendienst's interference. He knows that's part of baseball.

Against Warren Spahn in the fourth game Mantle batted five times. Best he could do was one outfield fly. He sat out games 5 and 6. He pleaded with Stengel and played the final game. Lew Burdette blanked the Yankees, 5-0, for his third win and the series. Mantle had one harmless single in four trips.

Mantle hit .365 during 1957 and since the pileup at second base has had to scramble to stay around .300 this season.

True he's played more than any Yankee this year and has his second best home run production season but he also has set a new strikeout record for a Yankee.

Mantle's series mishaps began in 1951 when he twisted his right knee and collapsed in right field under a Willie Mays fly in the second game. He was carried off on a stretcher and missed the last four games.

"My dad left the game with me," recalls Mickey. "When he helped me out of the cab at Lenox Hill Hospital he collapsed on the sidewalk. Dad never got out. He passed away the next day. It was the first I knew that he had Hodgkin's disease. No cure has been found for it and that's why I started the foundation to fight it."

In 1955 against the Brooklyn Dodgers Mantle entered the series with a pulled hamstring muscle in his leg. He started only two games.

"I guess my best series was 1952," says Mantle modestly. "I got a homer late in the game."

Mantle homered off Joe Black to make the score 3-2 then singled off Preacher Roe to send home the final run. Black was the losing pitcher.

Mantle will go into this year's series with the Braves with a .261 series average which is well below his .315 lifetime American League mark. He has driven in 17 runs and has 9 homers for 111 at bats.

Not bad, considering Babe Ruth's record of 15 series homers came after 129 trips to the plate. And Mantle is the slugger some juvenile fans have been booing in Yankee Stadium this year. Mickey has an outside chance at Ruth's record but a better chance to be the first player ever voted the most valuable player prize three straight times in either league.

Sian Students ed In Science en Allowance

Dr. Dale F. Leipper Friday night in a talk at A. and M. College. Leipper, professor and head of the Department of Oceanography and Meteorology at A. and M. College, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the college Oceanographic Society.

In his address, entitled, "Glimpses of Russian Science," Dr. Leipper reported that students of secondary schools are carefully screened for training in oceanology and other fields of science and are then paid while attending college. Oceanology is the term used by the Russians instead of the more common oceanography.

Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat" ank S. Wise, who farms 960 acres near Dimmitt, says: "I know from experience that Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat yields. I figure I'm getting an average of 20 bushels more to the acre by putting down 100 pounds of Phillips ammonia pre-plant."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable living. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, nitrogen-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per head.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in fall on maize land. They know that 82% nitrogen helps dispose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Don't Swear!

It's a Bible command... a common-sense law of life. "Thou shalt not take the name of The Lord Thy God in vain." THEN WHY DO YOU DO IT???

Careless habit? Limited vocabulary? Calloused soul?... JUST WHY DO YOU DO IT? "The Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh His name in vain." Man, too, will hold you guilty. The members of your family, — the fellows in your office, — the stranger on the street... none of them like it! Your family deserves better of you. Your neighbors expect better of you. God requires better of you. Go to church and break the swearing habit. Learn to respect and honor and reverence God's name. Please don't swear!

Members of the delegation now occupy offices on two floors at swank No. 2 Park Ave. Plans for the building were announced by Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations. Construction will start Nov. 1, he said, and the new home will be ready for occupancy in the spring of 1960.

TOO BIG TO CUDDLE—That's what comedienne Jean Carroll says about her pet collie who loves to snuggle in her lap, an impossible situation, she adds.

By VIVIAN BROWN
"Everything funny has been said, and that's why comedy is exhausted." So says Jean Carroll, one of the country's leading comedienne.

"People want a change of pace," she explains. "Television has turned comedy into a jape marathon, with comedians tapping every source available, including each other. They've drained dry joke books, friends and enemies trying to keep up with the pace, until now there is almost nothing so boring as a good joke, you've heard it so many times before."

Miss Carroll has been a performer on TV and radio, and she says she sees more of me than many children see of their mothers, that she eats dinner out with us, and spends week-end and vacation trips with her parents, unlike her friends, I tell her though that even if I did stay home all the time, I wouldn't be in the kitchen baking cookies. I'd probably be forced to become social and join the bridge club of the other mothers."

in night clubs in New York, Chicago, Miami and Las Vegas. Her specialty is situation-type comedy, which can be kept up to date because it is the mere relating of incidents with a funny twist.

"One of my acts is just a simple little tale about buying a dress I see in a store window. I never tell it the same way twice, but it brings the house down every time," she explains.

People are laughing at her acts harder than ever, she says, and she thinks it is because more people identify themselves with the scene she portrays. "Suburban living has forced many people into a community kind of life, so they are more receptive to simple comedy, such as one scene I do of a parent trying to communicate with a child. A few years ago it wouldn't have caused a giggle."

Comedy is the most difficult entertainment to sell, she says, because most people think they could be just as funny if just given a chance. Men believe they are comedians if they just read anecdotes and can quote. The butcher and fish dealer take their turn trying to prove how funny they are, Miss Carroll says, and one tradesman said his wife, like Miss Carroll, "talked constantly but didn't get paid for it."

Miss Carroll, born in Paris of a Polish mother who had a "delicious sense of humor," and a Russian father, both of whom were political refugees, made her big hit at an amateur contest in the Bronx when she became "the prize lemon cat."

"I was so bad," she relates. "That the MC couldn't resist making dreadful remarks to me right on the stage. I finally became so chagrined that I walked off calling over my shoulder 'how can you do this to me?'"

NOT FUNNY TO HER

HAZARD, Ky. — As a joke, a fellow employe put a pair of handcuffs on Miss Janet Stout, a secretary at the Hazard Credit Bureau.

Then it was discovered keys to the handcuffs were with the office manager in another county.

Hazard police tried to unlock the cuffs — no luck. The State Police were called. They couldn't free Miss Stout's hands.

Then Detective Orlester Mahoney took a file to keys of his own handcuffs. Within minutes, Miss Stout was free.

About Your HEALTH

Texas' senior citizens stand to get a better shake in nursing homes as far as care, safety and comfort are concerned, with the latest action from the State Board of Health.

Revisions in existing "standards for nursing and care homes" were adopted by board members at their recent quarterly meeting in Austin. More than 9,000 elderly persons residing in 560 licenses nursing homes in Texas stand to benefit from improved nursing care.

The board's action will prevent future applicants for state licenses from using existing buildings as nursing homes unless electrical wiring conforms to national electrical codes and unless all walls and materials are capable of resisting fire for at least one hour. Too, roofs must be constructed of non-combustible material and the building's heating system must be vented.

The new standards also discourage occupancy of upper floors of multi-storied homes unless they are equipped with automatic sprinkling systems.

New nursing home construction or remodeling plans must be submitted to the State Department of Health for review and approval, according to the Board of Health's new rulings. In new construction, private rooms must contain at least 100 square feet of floor space, and at least 72 feet must be devoted to each bed in wards or multi-bed rooms.

The revised standards require that nursing home laundry rooms be separate and screened, with washing machines connected to sewer systems. Invoices must be kept on foods purchased for patients. The new code asks that daily meals include the basic foods contained in "Texas Food Standard", prepared by the Texas Nutrition Council.

Other provisions set up in the new standards are aimed to keep the State Department of Health informed as to the policies concerning the operation of the homes. This will include information on types of patients, restrictive rules and charges or refunds.

The upgrading of nursing homes standards is the aim of the new standards. All future applicants for state licenses to operate nursing or care homes are required to be graduates of an accredited high-school or show proof of attaining the equivalent. Licenses physicians, registered nurses or licensed vocational nurses are exempt from this ruling.

These basic changes in existing state standards went into effect in September upon their adoption by the State Board of Health. Information on the new standards may be obtained from Texas Estate Department of Health.
