Killingsworth Co. Gets Community Center Job With Bid of $107,400

Chop At Original Bid; Funds Short

The Hereford City Commission in a special called meeting Monday approved a $23,695 slash in expenses of building the proposed Hereford Community Center and let a $107,400 building contract to Killingsworth Construction Company of Dimmitt.

Original low bid tabulated for the project last month was $131,131, and the cut in expenses came about as result of several meetings with the two low bidders, Killingsworth and the Doyle Construction Co. of Amarillo, to discuss revisions.

Originally, cost of the construction was $13.95 per square foot, but after revisions were estimated, cost of the project is about $11.43 per square foot.

Both Killingsworth and Doyle companies negotiated revisions with City Manager Dudley Bayne and John Wiley, designer with McMorris and Associates of Amarillo. "Doyle Construction Company never came up with a definite figure," Bayne said, "but it would probably have been about $12,000 more than Killingsworth's offer." Bayne explained that Killingsworth could build at a reduced cost as the company is building the new Pioneer Natural Gas Building in Hereford at this time.

FHA Boys Win Two Contests

Hereford High's Future Farmers of America chapter took two first places during an Amarillo District meeting at Boys Ranch Tuesday night. Winners were in the talent and public speaking divisions.

Eddie Gallagher won top honors in the talent competition with his piano solos, while John Hammett took first place in the public speaking contest.

Joe Reinauer of Hereford presided as president of the district. There were 16 chapters represented.

Colleen Reeves, chapter sweetheart, participated in a sweetheart contest. Nine students, Miss Reeves and chapter advisor Jesse Robinson attended the meeting. Also attending were two student teachers at Hereford High, Glen Davis and Billy Smith from Texas Tech. Davis coached Hammett for the public speaking contest.

Hammett and Gallagher will compete in the area contest at Amarillo on May 9. Winners there will be eligible for the state FFA contest at Austin in July.

Burglary Charge Bond Is $2500

A 17-year-old Alice man charged with felony burglary here Tuesday waived examining trial and his bond was set at $2,500, by Justice Of The Peace Perry Miles.

Eloy Mendiola Soliz, arrested by authorities in Alice, was returned to Hereford this week by Deaf Smith County Sheriff Charles Skelton. The man is believed to have been implicated in the Oct. 5, 1957, burglary of Hereford Hardware Store, according to Skelton.

A quantity of pistols and knives was taken in the burglary, Skelton said, and two pistols believed to have been taken in the burglary were recovered in Alice.

The case was scheduled to have been put before the 69th District Grand Jury, which convened at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

FAIR WEATHER has brought increased activity in construction the past week. Typical is the speed with which bricks are going up on the exterior of the new Hereford school cafeteria and administration quarters. Contractors report they have almost regained the time lost to bad weather on this project and the new northwest Hereford elementary school. (Staff Photo)

Wreck Victim Remains Serious

Condition of Carl Hutcheson, 31, son of Mrs. Elwyn Hutcheson, 343 Ave. H, Wednesday was listed as serious at the Medical Arts Hospital in Brownwood, where the Howard Payne College student was admitted shortly before noon Saturday after receiving injuries in an automobile accident near Brownwood.

Attending physician at the hospital said the 1946 graduate of Hereford High School sustained a broken neck in the accident. Mrs. Hutcheson left Hereford this week to be at her son's bedside.

According to reports on the accident, Hutcheson was a passenger in a light-weight foreign model car with three other students at the college when the driver apparently lost control of the car on a farm-to-market road near Brownwood.

The car overturned several times, but Hutcheson was the only occupant receiving serious injury. The other students received minor lacerations and bruises.

The students were travelling from the college to Lake Brownwood at the time the accident occurred. They were planning to fish there.

Attending physician at the hospital said it would be a few days before extent of Hutcheson's injuries could be determined. Hutcheson was placed in traction supports at the hospital.

New School Administration Plans Told; Two Bids Asked

Two new board members took office as the Hereford Rural High School trustees considered a variety of plans Tuesday night.

Dr. L. B. Barnett and Ivan Block were sworn in as trustees replacing Bert Boomer and Marcus Latham on the board. In the election which followed, W. R. "Dub" Hair was named as new president, B. F. Cain as vice president and Dr. L. B. Barnett as secretary.

Administration for the northwest elementary school, a new school buses and date to open bids on new furniture and renovation work all were brought up for action during the meeting.

Immediately after the canvass of the recent election for trustees, the two new members were officially sworn in and started to wrestle with the many problems inherent with the huge school system.

Board members approved the plan for administering the northwest Hereford elementary school, which was presented by superintendent Fred Cunningham. He proposed that the school be placed under the supervision of Central School, with principal L. C. Thomas handling the administration duties.

Four teachers and classrooms from Central are scheduled to be transferred to the new school, which is to be finished about Sept. 1. Other teachers will be assigned to the school this summer.

Physical education for the northwestern school will be un-

Officers stopped Johnson's car near Knight and Catalpa streets Sunday. A .38 caliber revolver was found in possession of Mosley, who was a passenger in Johnson's car, according to Police Chief Henry Aycock.

Bond for each was set at $500 by Justice of the Peace Perry Miles Monday, and trials in County Court are pending.

Around Town

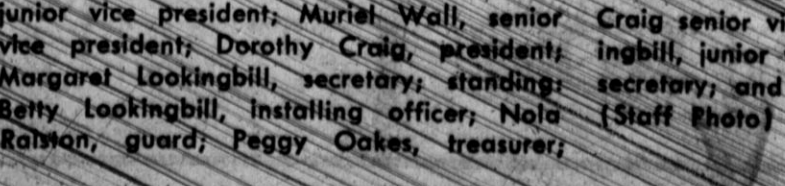

Newly-elected officials went to work in a hurry this week. The City Commission had a called meeting Monday and the new school trustees went into action Tuesday night. One thing is certain, all of the new board and commission members will have a better understanding of school or city affairs when their terms have ended.

This school business is a complicated affair. For example, Hereford Rural High School District draws funds from three different counties. Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro. . . on the intricate economic index plan for valuation and such.

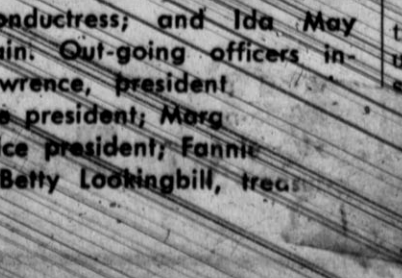

Leo Forrest reported ten entries for the annual "Miss REA" contest Wednesday morning, with four hours left before the deadline. That is sufficient to make an interesting contest. We just regret that he won't announce who the judges will be.

Community

Construction of the Community Center will probably begin sometime next week, according to Bayne. Total contributions at present are about $33,000, he announced. The Jim Hill Estate has allocated $60,000 toward the construction, but about $14,400 is still needed to cover costs.

Major cut in cost was the installation of heating equipment only. Originally, the commission had planned to install both heating and air conditioning units, but with the omission of air conditioning, a $6,050 reduction was realized. Preparations for future refrigeration will be made at the time the building is constructed, however.

Plans were to use quarry tile on the terrace, but it was decided to use 4 inch slab instead, which would constitute a savings of $1,565.

All insulated panels were changed to brick, which cut $1,400. The omission of exterior planter boxes reduced cost by $2,720, and the changing of gray plate to crystal sheet on glass walls and doors made a savings of $1,550.

A high fidelity system was included in original plans, but its omission reduced cost by $830.

Electrical system changes included the leaving out of 10 exterior floods, 20 interior plugs and exit lights, which reduced cost by $1,010.

Other changes and respec-

live reductions included: omission of all hand rails, $710; changing of aluminum entry to all standard material, $775; changing all glazed tile to face brick and all exterior ceramic tile to face brick, $570;

Cut in hardware allowance from $1,450 to $750, 700; changing aluminum facing to painted redwood, $425; changing finished woodwork to ash and kitchen cabinets to fir, $525; omission of perimeter insulation, $100; changing all remaining ceramic tile to standard, $230;

Changing one-inch rigid roof insulation to one-half inch, $430; changing carpet to vinyl asbestos, $690; changing sliding glass door units to six foot, four inches; $525; omission of garbage disposal and changing kitchen equipment brand, $510; and other miscellaneous changes, $860.

The two tallies. They added another in the second with two errors, a walk and a single. Hereford finally got started in the third with one run on two singles and a passed ball. Nazareth pulled away to a 4-1 lead, in the third with another tally.

The Whitefaces got a pair of runs in the fourth. They used a walk, two singles, a wild pitch and a sacrifice to harrow the gap to 4-3, and took advantage of two singles, a walk and an error to tie the game, 4-4, in the fifth.

Three singles, by Clearman, Edwin Thomas and Billy Baker, plus an error, a wild pitch and a passed ball gave the Herd two runs in the seventh.

Nazareth managed to add another run in the bottom of the seventh, but that wasn't enough. Holding started on the mound for Nazareth, lasting three innings. He gave up six hits, one run and struck out two. Gerber came on in the fourth and was charged with the loss. He gave up seven hits, walked three and struck out four.

Before You Buy Any Hoe!

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
Spring officially arrived some time back, but out in this country, it is just around the corner. And this is showing up in a lot of different ways.

In front of those homes with a lot of trees you can see where the folks have carefully "scratched-in" a new batch of grass seed — probably for the 27th time — but they keep on trying; I also notice that Ed Skypala has his boat out in the backyard for early repairs. A lot of old timers — and even a few of the younger generation — are busy with gardens. Occasionally, you see an old boy in a short sleeve sport shirt and, once in a while, a gal ventures out in shorts; more and more frequently the topic of fishing crops up in coffee drinking circles, and there seems to be a little activity around the drive in theatre.

These are fairly certain signs. Often nature will outwit the cherry and peach trees into blooming too early but when you catch Joe Beyer out in the yard scratching grass seed into the bald spots, Spring is just around the corner.

A prediction: Despite persistent denials in speeches and talks, Lyndon Johnson will make a stab for the Democratic nomination. He has a good 50-50 chance to get the nomination and, if he does, Johnson will certainly be named as the first Texan to hold the office of President of the United States.

To me, this is quite evident through watching his publicity releases, his general attitude on national topics and the manner in which he is being pushed into the spotlight. If Johnson doesn't get the nomination, it won't be because he didn't try! In addition, he is probably the strongest candidate the Democrats could nominate. I think he will be a good president.

Meanwhile, I fooled a lot of people and got to be 50 years old the other day. Back in the late 20's, when I graduated from high school, there were a lot of Collinsworth County citizens who would have given you odds that I wouldn't make it. Again, around 1937 to 1940, a lot of Deaf Smith County citizens would have made the same bet. Fact is, if the odds have been pretty good, I might have called a little bit myself. Every once in a while even now, Elmo Fridley still gets me into a corner and gives me a lecture about smoking "those old cigars"; Elmo just simply cannot understand why anyone enjoys cigars. However, I guess some people never do grow up, and I must be one of them.

Detroit and other border towns are buying Canadian bread at 10 cents for a 1 1/4 pound loaf — and the Canadian bakeries are really booming. The cause is said to be 30 per cent higher wheat prices in the U. S.; also our labor costs $2.05 an hour as compared with $1.50 in Canada; U. S. bread costs 17 cents in Detroit. Imports of Canadian bread were placed at 6.9 million pounds last year.

You hear a lot of talk about duplicate bridge these days. I quit the game a long time ago, just because the experts kept telling me I didn't know what I was doing. If everyone else in the house was playing the same hand, there couldn't be much question when an old boy made a mistake. In regular bridge you can always kid yourself into believing you would have taken high score — except you didn't get the cards. Frankly, I doubt if the duplicate fad will spread too far or last too long. I don't know anything about bridge, but I have been exposed to a lot of human nature. "People don't like to be wrong and, when they are, they don't like to have someone prove it."

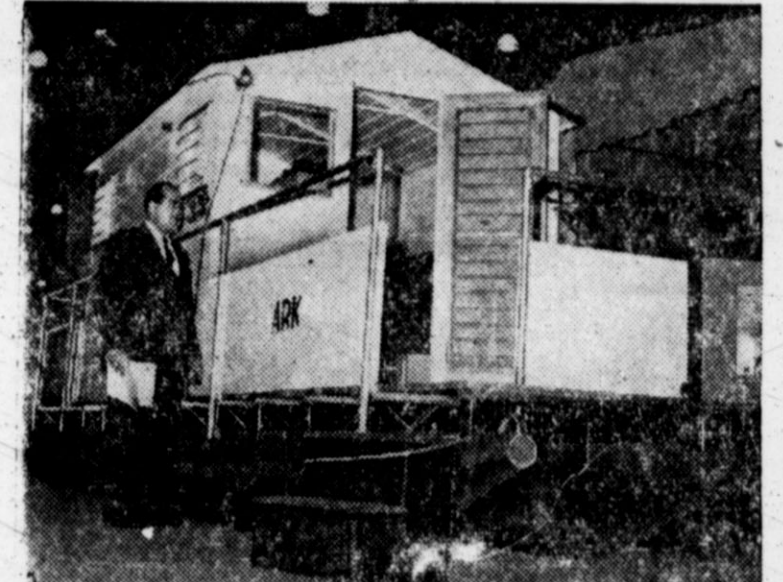

Frequently my heart goes out to baby sitters in general but, most of all, when some dotting mother goes into a store to shop and leaves her little darling in the car — and the kid gets on the horn. Never yet, have I seen one stop of his own free will.

Now that sugar beet quotas are in force and there seems little probability of many additional acres in the area, Odean Nixon tells me that the company has had applications for something like 15,000 acres. He also said that most of the present growers have stayed with beets from the start. Texas has a round 1,800 acres of beets allocated, and 1,200 of those acres are in Deaf Smith County. Year in and year out, this is a good crop for those who stay with it. No other industry could beat a sugar beet plant in this neck of the woods.

I want to join other folks in the Hereford Rural High School District with a word of appreciation to Bert Boomer and Marcus Latham, trustees who retired Tuesday night. These old boys have done a good job during a trying period, and I have heard quite a few people ex-

Our schools today are the biggest single business in our community; more investment, more payrolls and more headaches than any other enterprise, public or private. One thing hasn't changed, though. Scrapbook Helps In Home Sewing

By DOROTHY ROE

Do you have gremlins in your sewing basket?

These are the imps that unwind thread from spools and twist it into snarls, hide buttons, misplace bobbins and otherwise double the work of every sewing chore.

There is a way to foil the sewing gremlins, discovered by local sewing center experts. These professionals found that order can be restored to the sewing basket by two simple expedients — a role of ordinary cellophane tape tucked in the basket, and an inexpensive sewing scrapbook.

Here's how to use the scrapbook: Whenever you buy fabric, tape a small swatch into the book, with notations on how much extra fabric you have and where you put it — also where you bought it, in case you need more. When you are looking for a bit of extra material for a scarf or a patch, you can flip through the book and see what is available.

To keep extra buttons neatly available, tape them to the pages of the scrapbook. Have separate files for shirt buttons, coat buttons and special buttons. You can use shirt cardboards, making a separate card for each button group and inserting in the scrapbook, if you prefer. Then when you need a button simply cut the tape, pull out one button and the rest will stay in place. This is quicker and easier than dumping the button box on the floor to find the right button.

Here are some more tape tricks for your sewing supplies:

1. Use a bit of cellophane tape to keep thread from unwinding from spool. This also works on rolls of ribbon, balls of twine or partly used packages of seam binding tape.

2. You can avoid much of the usual mess and litter in the sewing room if you tape a paper bag at the side of the sewing table and drop all threads and scraps into the bag.

3. Roll fabric remnants neatly and secure with tape.

4. To keep frequently used measurements handy, write or type them on a sheet of white paper and tape to the sewing table.

5. Packages of matching thread, buttons, binding, fabric and pattern purchased to make a garment may be taped together until ready for use.

You'll find sewing is easier and more fun if you organize your supplies as efficiently as you would keep files in an office.

How Can I?

Q. What are the best kinds of brushes to use for shellac and lacquer?

A. When applying shellac, one should choose a bristle brush; for Japan colors, a squirrel hair or camel's hair brush will produce the smoothest surface. For lacquer, flowing brushes made of oxhair, fitch or badger prove most effective. When using paint or varnish, soft flat brushes of Chinese bristles, fitch or badger are best. Keep a varnish brush for varnish only.

Q. How can I make a substitute for baking powder?

A. It is well to remember that two teaspoons cream of tartar and one scant teaspoon of baking soda are equal to three teaspoons of baking powder.

Q. How can I conceal scuffed places on shoes?

A. If the scuffed shoes are rubbed with petroleum jelly before the polish is applied, the scratches will scarcely show.

Q. How can I avoid having spots of paint on metal handles and hinges when painting around?

A. When painting anything that has many handles and hinges of metal, coat the surface of the metal with petroleum jelly before starting to paint. In this way, all spots of paint that may be splashed on them will come off with one rubbing of a dry cloth.

Q. How can I make better salads?

A. Sprinkle a little lemon juice over fruit, vegetable, fish or meat salads just before they are served, and the flavor will be greatly improved.

AUTHOR'S BROOD—Mrs. Ed Doherty of New Rochelle, N. Y. holds Dennis, age 2, as her six other children gather around. The children, Eddie, 12, Nancy, 11, Gay, 9, Colleen, 8, Jean, 6, Pat, 5, all help out to give her time to write teen-age fiction and short stories.

Mother Of Seven Finds Writing Profitable And Relaxing Hobby

By VIVIAN BROWN
When you have seven children. It's a good idea to have a hobby to send your imagination winging into space. And, if your hobby pays off, so much the better.
This is one way to occasionally escape from routine housework as you enjoy life, points out author Nancy Titus, who believes you'll be a better mother because of it. The youthful New Rochelle, N. Y., housewife (Mrs. Ed Doherty to her neighbors) writes short stories and novels as she tends her brood, ages two to 12. Her husband is a New York businessman.

"When the children were little it was like caring for a basket of puppies. I had to be with them all the time. But now that they are old enough to help out, life is easy. In a large family such as ours the children tend to take each other over as they grow older, and you have built-in helpers," she says.

There is always one young 'un to get in your hair though, says Nancy. "Our 2-year-old Dennis is the mischievous one right now, filling the telephone dial with cold cream, tearing up cigarettes, books and papers." A new baby is on the way, she says casually. "It'll be here about the time my next book is published, so I'll get a respite from writing for a little while."

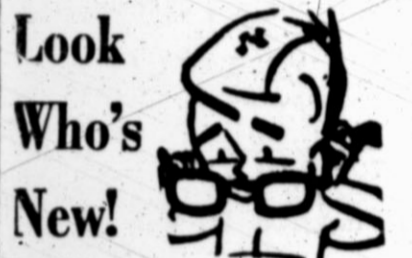

She writes about family, love, marriage, suburban life, things she knows best, she says. She sold her first story at 21, and was paid $300 for it. Her first book, "The Right One", published a few years ago, was teenage fiction. Her next book, to be published in the fall, also is on teenage fiction. Nancy, 11, is her best critic and makes fine suggestions, she says. "If she doesn't like something in the book, I'm very likely to rewrite it."

She writes about 4,000 words a day, a better goal, she says, than a set of number of hours. She writes in the afternoon after her children are in bed and before the children come home from school. She writes after they've gone to bed, and early in the morning—sometimes before dawn.

"I don't do much after they get home from school," she says. "The older girls really like to help out. Gay, who is nine, loves to help and often cooks dinner for the family. All the children love to surprise me and sometimes after dinner, they gang up and won't let me in the kitchen until they've cleaned up." Nancy keeps a journal. It makes her writing easier as she "looks back on some of the fantastic happenings of our household." It makes good story material, and also helps keep her mind in the teen-age groove.

She likes a change of pace occasionally, so just for relaxation she wrote her first suspense story recently, and sold it to a woman's magazine.

OFF THE Shelf

For shivers and thrills, a new book on the non-fiction shelf provides more than enough. In "The Silk" by Ian Mackersey tells of the men, and one woman, who have saved their lives by jumping into space, depending upon a parachute to bring them safely down.

Most of the incidents in the book came from the records of the exclusive Caterpillar Club, which is made up only of those who lived when they should have died... except for a thin canopy of fabric.

In October, 1922, a young Lt. Harold Harris became the first member of the club when he jumped from a disintegrating plane, landing safely in a grape arbor.

Mackersey traces the daring pilots of the 20's and early 30's as they began to rely on the chutes, chronicling the jumps they made.

But with World War II it became commonplace to jump from airplanes. The book is concerned only with those who jumped in emergencies, real or fancied, and not with the professional paratroopers.

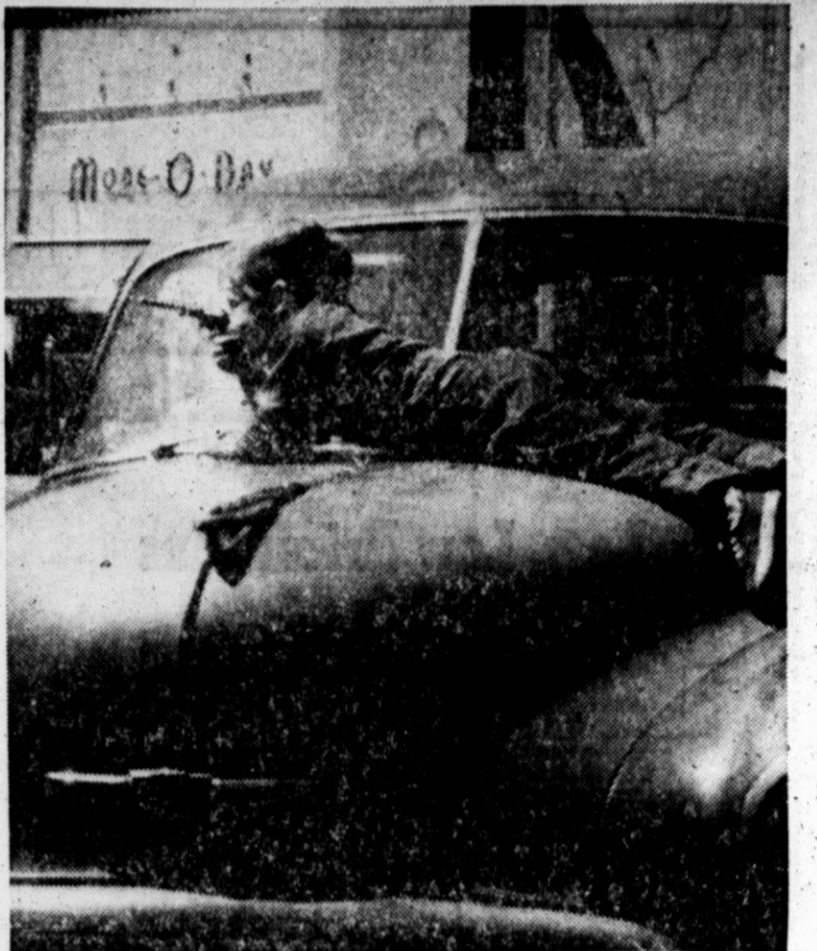

Mackersey divides the escapades into types, such as low-level, high-altitude and such. He also describes such unusual feats as baling out with parachute in hand, only half a parachute opening and the rarity of two men riding one parachute to the ground.

But the most hair-raising tales are of those few men who fell without parachutes and lived. The only drawback is that they don't get to join the Caterpillar Club.

He also tells of the first attempts at automatic or manual ejection from high-speed craft. After some technical details were worked out, they even worked with the plane on the ground.

In "The Silk" is an exciting bit of non-fiction wherein the tale literally hangs by a thread.

Another new book that is drawing good notices is "Prison Exposures" by Robert Neese

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures-known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

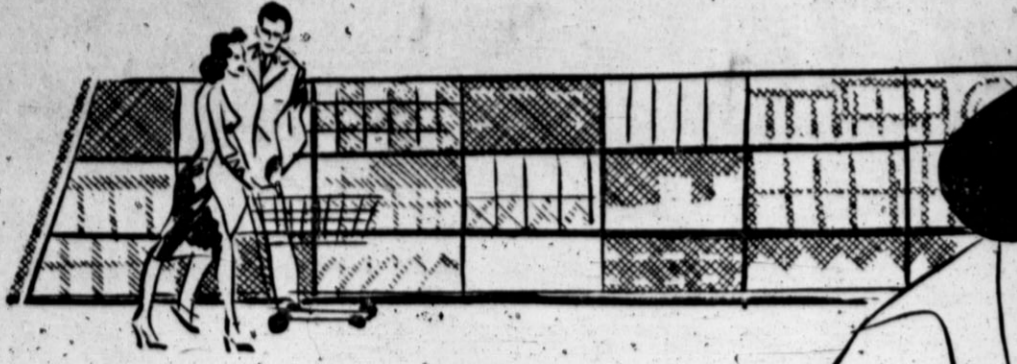

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. Visitors From France Give Rotary Program

Two Frenchmen Jean - Pierre Josset of Paris and Jacques Marchand of Cognac, presented the noon program at the meeting of Hereford Rotary Club Monday.

An installation of new members of the club also was held after the luncheon. New members are Gaston Baer, Ralph Beistle, Russell Carver and Myron Morgan, all of Hereford. Kenneth Coker introduced them to other club members.

Josset and Marchand, employed temporarily by vegetable producer Jack Renfro, are studying farming methods in this area. They plan to leave for France soon.

Josset told the Rotarians that both he and Marchand were impressed by the standard of living and friendliness of people in this area.

He added that his countrymen know little about Americans, and what they know is what they see in tourists and G. I.'s.

The Communists, he said, make an issue of actions of Americans visiting France.

In comparing farming in France to local farming, he said that 50 acres constitutes the average farm in France. In the southern section of his country, he said, 10 and 15 acre farms are quite common.

Josset said there are too many people (45,000,000) in France for the size of the country. All available soil is in conservation.

Politically, he explained, before DeGalle there was not a steady government in the country. There was a new dominate government every three weeks, and about 15 parties which could not reach any agreement.

In reference to grain sorghums, he told the group that little of the crop is grown in the country, but that marketing is similar to that of America.

In conclusion of the meeting, club president Francis Hardwick read a letter from Police Chief Henry Aycock commending the club and other Rotary Clubs in the district on their behavior during the recent Rotary convention here.

Single Vote Decides Mayor's Race

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL
Adrian held its fourth annual election for town officials Tuesday, April 7, with Bill Frank acting as presiding judge. Horace Betts and Johnnie Cavitt assisted in the duty.

The first five men were incumbents and only one failed to return. Bill James won over Bill Leslie.

The Justice of the Peace and City Marshall offices were filled by write-in votes. It seems they were both jobs no one would campaign for. The Justice of the Peace is now Mrs. Nell Morgan, and the new city Marshall is Bill Frank.

The only amendment on the ballot was passed 51 to 3 to close Sixth St. a little used street running west from the Methodist Church. A total of 54 votes were cast in the election.

Vega, Texas, Man Reports—
5000-pound Maize, Using Ammonia

Dan W. Berger, prominent Oldham County farmer, says: "Even with what I consider a light injection of Phillips 66 Ammonia—80 pounds per acre—I averaged 5000 pounds per acre on my grain sorghum last year. On a De Kalb 5-acre contest plot, I harvested 6400 pounds per acre.

"This experience sold me on Phillips 66 Ammonia. I plan to use 120 pounds of ammonia on my grain sorghum land this year; 100 pounds on my wheat."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied either by you or your distributor. See us today about Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

TEENS

By Jean

Hi there!
Well, I say there ole chap, how do you be these days?
Charlie Smith wants to know if boy exchange students can stay with girls.

Jimmy Bradley and Dale Carter seem to have a habit of taking their shoes off in some of their classes. Comfortable, boys?

In the spotlight this week, Betty Paetzold and David Larsen were the Hereford High School representatives at the Personality Pageant on the West Texas State College campus in Canyon.

R. C. Welty is driving a brand new 1959 Impala, and by the way R. C. who did you take riding Friday night? Jan Wallace and Dale Carter had a heated discussion on how long it would be before school would be out. The question was innocently asked by Gwin Morris.

Wonder why Pat almost went to sleep Friday night while watching Briget Bardot? Was it because he was more interested in Sophia Loren?

Margaret Burrus, do you always wear a pin cushion for a bracelet?

Who was your out-of-town visitor over the weekend, Lee Blocker and Connie Robinson?

Kenneth May seems to be quite a ladies man lately. Tell us more Kenneth.

Betty Waltersheid, Beverly Seaton, Lucy Beth Miller and

Natha Carroll knew they took a test and missed the first part of 6th period but couldn't tell Mr. Smith what kind of test it was. Girls, that was a college entrance test you took.

Carolyn Lee seems to have her eye on a two-tone, blue Ford. Wonder whose it is?

Melba Gay Lawrence sure had quite a weekend. How about it Melba?

Well, seniors, let's live it up tomorrow night at the banquet; it's practically our last chance for a fling!

Beauty At Home

Q. What can I do to accentuate eyelashes that are very thin?

A. You might try using two coats of mascara, instead of one — the second coat being applied a little drier than the first — and this will result in thicker — looking lashes. Be sure each coat is quite pasty, and that the second coat is almost dry so that the lashes will be kept separated and will not become stuck together in a heavy, artificial manner.

Q. Just what is the cause of and corrective for, a coarse skin texture?

A. Many women who have a coarse skin texture tend to treat their complexions too gen-

Tips To Better Telephone Use

Many people do not get the most out of their phone company investment.

If there is a new baby in the house, ask your phone man about the built-in devices with which you can control the volume of the telephone ring. On the desk set it is a rotating wheel on the bottom of the instrument. On the wall phone, a popular kitchen item, you may find the lever at the base of the phone. It may be moved from side to side to make the ring louder or softer. The wall phone has a raised lip at either side of the top of the phone so you can place the receiver on it while calling someone to the phone.

There are telephones with built-in night lights. When the receiver is lifted, the light brightens so you can dial in the dark. There are loud ringing bells that may be placed outside of the house to tell you the phone is ringing inside. There are outside plug-in jacks too, so that a portable phone may be used on patio or porch when the family is outdoors.

Larger homes may require intercommunication service so that calls may be made from room to room.

A coarse skin is the result of too little exercise both for the skin and body. To correct this condition, one must stimulate the skin well, through firm hand massages and by exercise of the body daily until it perspires freely.

Q. What eyebrow adjustment will help to counteract a nose that is too long?

A. By removing the eyebrows in the center above the nose, you will create an illusion of width in the forehead and thus decrease the length of the nose.

Parry O'Brien has won six straight National AAU indoor shot put titles.

Girl on garden bench to youth beside her: "I feel a little chilly, Lester, Will you run inside and get me Jack Davis?"

When a man's money runs out, a woman usually accompanies it.

Father to teen-age son: "Mind if I use the car myself tonight? I'm taking your mother out and I want to impress her."

Harassed butcher to fussy customer: "Anything else you'd like to know - perhaps the name of the cow?"

A businessman hired a new secretary, and the first morning she worked for him he dictated a letter to his wife, who was away on a trip. When she brought the letter back to him for his signature it was perfect, with one exception. She omitted his final words, which was, "I love you."
"Did you forget my last sentence?" he asked.
"Why, no. I didn't forget," she said. "I just didn't realize you were dictating."

Radio Announcer: "Tune in again next week-same station, same time, same jokes!"
My grandfather took out a million dollars worth of life insurance. It didn't help him. He died anyway.

Bellboy: "Paging Mr. Cloveny-bloverboxbury. Paging Mr. Cloveny-bloverboxbury."
Mr. Cloveny-bloverboxbury: "What initials, please?"

A Broadway playboy had a closer shave than he bargained for in a local barbershop. His manicure girl was very beautiful and he suggested dinner and a show that evening. "I don't

A handsome college student came into my studio to order small reprints of his girl friend's picture. He had with him the original she had given him.

APRIL IS WAR
April is war on polio month. I understand that there are still quite a few youngsters and adults, too, in Hereford who haven't had their full round of polio shots. The doctors say vaccine is plentiful now. There is still time to build up a defense before the '59 polio season starts.

SPRING-A-LING! — IT'S KITCHEN TELEPHONE TIME
I guess you might say that Spring and color just go together. The lawns are getting greener, trees and flowers are starting to bloom, and soon there'll be color all around us.

Spring is also a time for housecleaning and remodeling — at least at our house where we always have a project or two on hand. Whether it's housecleaning or remodeling — or both — why not add an extra touch of color like a friend of mine did recently?

His wife was having a new counter-top installed in the kitchen, and called to tell him what a professional job the carpenter was doing.
Figuring that he wouldn't let the carpenter steal his thunder, my friend called the telephone company and ordered a white wall phone for the kitchen.

SO MANY COLORS!
When he made the big announcement at dinner, my friend admitted he was worried about his choice of color. "They had so many colors," he explained, "I wasn't sure which to choose. They had red, green, beige . . ."

"But white goes best with the new counter-top," his wife interrupted, "just what I needed to perk up the kitchen even more."
The moral of this story is if you want to be a hero, add that extra touch of color by ordering a kitchen telephone for YOUR wife. A kitchen telephone in color will brighten up the team, help her get things done, and let her chat with friend between chores.

P. S. Be a hero. Call the telephone company today.

LISTEN AS BAND PLAYS—Walter Williams, 116, last surviving veteran of the Civil War, toys with a cigar as an American Legion band serenades him with favorite songs and marches of his youth at his Houston home. Housewife Can Be Interior Decorator

By EDWARD S. KITCH
CHICAGO (AP)—Decorating a room is like painting a picture to Marion Heuer, one of the nation's top interior decorators. She suggests that the American housewife take a similar attitude.

As the designer of interior decor for many homes, shops, motels, restaurants, offices and country clubs, Mrs. Heuer's work is known and seen across the country. How can the average homemaker become decorating wise? "The housewife can begin with household publications. They are doing a wonderful job with color photographs," Mrs. Heuer said.

"She can expose herself to open houses and apartments where she can get a great many ideas in decorating. Then if she can't decide, she should see a decorator. "He is familiar with the market and in the long run could save her money." Here are examples of do-it-yourself decorating hints Mrs. Heuer endorses: "Draperies should be seen and not heard. You don't want to sit and look at a big pattern and have it jump out at you. I like a plain muted background and accent with accessories the way a woman wears jewelry," she said.

In years of decorating, Mrs. Heuer is certain of one thing: She likes the uncluttered look. Her favorite colors are yellows and white because they look sunny. She uses a lot of charcoal.

She likes to give a room a theme. This can be taken from a painting or a textured pattern or an idea can be developed from the outdoors.

For example, a lobby she decorated for a Chicago apartment hotel includes a huge 11 by 15 foot sand casting that reflects the influence of the water of nearby Lake Michigan.

Sea shells and stones of the sort picked up by beachcombers are imbedded in the surface of the relief-like mural.

"I like muted colors and the sand suggested the beach," she said.

"Women usually have good taste in clothes, but when they are confronted with a room they are confused. If they would think of it the way they dress it would be simpler.

"She doesn't put on a hodgepodge of clothes and go down the street."

If one uses a painting or a mosaic for a theme of a room, he should be sure he likes it.

"A painting has to be a personal thing. It has to do something for the owners of the house. It has to give them a lift inside, not just because it is pretty. It has to tell some message," she said.

If the owner has artistic ability, he or she can create a mosaic of bits of glass. By fiddling around, you can get an interesting design.

WALCOTT NEWS

Students Compete In TIL Contests

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
District 3-B Interscholastic League 1959 meets are now history. The following schools were competing: Nazareth, Bovina, Happy, Lazbuddie, Hart and Walcott.

On Friday the literary events were held at Bovina. Mrs. A. L. Shelton took a dozen Walcott children: Adair Melton, Mary Ruth Weaver, Janet Jones, Clyde Wyly, Ronnie Buse, Nancy Tyler, Vicki Burns, John Perrin, Elizabeth Burrus, George Steward, Clyde Lockhart and Donald Tice.

They returned with three fourth-place ribbons, won by Clyde Wyly for sub-junior declamation; Elizabeth Burrus, junior declamation; and John Perrin, junior declamation.

Also present from Walcott were Mrs. Jack Weaver and Mrs. Glenn Burrus and Kathryn.

On Saturday morning, coach A. L. Shelton and principal Thomas L. Collins took seven boys to the TIL track and field meet at Lazbuddie. Entered were George Steward, Steve Patton, James Burrus, Keith Henderson, Donald Tice, Greg Jones and Barry Minks. They spent the damp, foggy, chilly day competing but had just one winner. Donald Tice won first in the shot put event for five points.

The Walcott School board held its regular meeting Tuesday night at the school.

Nice rain fell on Wednesday evening and into the night. More than half an inch of moisture fell, all of which soaked into the ground.

Mrs. Charlie Burk made a business trip to Clovis, N. M., Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Payne and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rader Friday night. Fried chicken was enjoyed by a group which met at Walcott School on Friday night.

Everyone is invited to the P. T. O. meeting Friday, April 17.

Beauty At Home

You can use several shades of one color in one room. Use reds, yellow, blue, orange or green individually for accents.

You can use cool colors in a room and pick up brighter or warmer color in a ceramic or a painting.

Mrs. Heuer says her easiest customers are men who want their offices to look like a library or den.

The executive wants his office to look elegant. He is aware of the age of texture and deep carpeting on the floor.

Here are trends in home and office furnishings predicted by Mrs. Heuer:

Oil teak wood will replace walnut. A great deal of Italian furniture in modern and in dressy woods or lacquer in colors of blue, red, black and some green will show up.

The lacquered chairs with walnut table will be used to give accent to a room. More monotone upholstery will be used with brightly lacquered chairs.

There will be a swing back to Early American or Oriental.

"I think that maybe we are going so modern with the machine age, Americans want the nostalgia of Early American and its warmth," she said.

Q. What can I do to help bring unruly hair under control after a shampoo?

A. A brisk brushing and scalp massage should so encourage the flow of natural oils into the scalp that within an hour's time after the hair is dry, it should be manageable.

Q. What is the best way to apply rouge to a large and rather heavy type of face?

A. Too much rouge is not flattering to this type of face. What rouge you use should be applied with an up-and-down motion, and should come well up to the outside corners of the eyes. Keep a wide, white space in front of the ears.

Q. Please suggest a good emergency treatment for bringing life back to a pale and rather wan-looking complexion.

A. Try pouring a few drops of cologne over a piece of gauze and patting this lightly over the face — and this should help to revitalize your skin. A bath of tepid water, without soap, followed by a dash of cold water, also helps to call the color back to your face.

at 8 p.m. Mrs. A. L. Shelton's first and second grade students will present the program. Mrs. Norman Minks, president, will hold election for a nominating committee during the meeting. Persons attending are asked to bring sandwiches for refreshments. Edward and Linda Salas entered Walcott school Tuesday. They came from Rails.

"Never Man Spake

...like this Man." John 7:46. Jobe suffered tribulation but he never lost faith. He asked a great question, "If a man die, shall he live again?" The Bible is full of proof in the affirmative. Death must give way to life. In deepest reality there is no death, only transition... the changing from one form of life to another. Spring is the time when Christ arose. Spring is the earth beginning again. It is the time of challenge to women and men to step up their church attendance and support record. It is the time when God called the sun to send her warm rays to awaken the dead earth, to summon new beauty to come forth and cover her brow. It is certainly the time when man puts on new graces of the spirit... love, joy, peace, patience, faith and self-control. Here we hear Him as He welcomes all to a new life in Him... to a new resurrection.

OLD REVENUE
WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — Mayor Ben C. Schuck is not only Wausau's chief executive, he's pretty good at collecting old bills — for the city.
When he took office Schuck found a stack of old bills nobody had bothered to collect. Most of the money was due for paving improvements, some of them made in 1953.
The mayor said that in some cases residents had not paid because they felt the jobs weren't completed. "In such cases we did the work and collected the bills," he said.

A Bobless Olympics Means Benham End

By EARL ARONSON

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. — The dean of American bobsled racers, making a daring comeback at 44, hopes it leads to the 1960 world and Olympic championships.

But Stan Benham says he'll retire from the hazardous sport if the Olympic games do not include bobsledding. This is a definite possibility since there will be no bob run at Squaw Valley, Lake Placid people are still fighting to have Olympic competition in bobsleds here but the case seems hopeless.

However, Benham has ordered two Podar bobsleds in Europe at a cost of $2,550. He plans to train "like I have never trained in my life" for the 1960 season.

Benham took up the breath-taking racing as a hobby in 1946 at the Mt. Van Hoevenburg run in this 1932 Olympic site. He was a member of the 1952 Olympic team, was world champion in 1949 and 1950 and runner-up in 1952-53-54. He holds 17 North American and 17 national four-man and two-man sled titles.

The Lake Placid sportsman was named to the 1956 Olympic team but was suspended for three years by the International Bobsled Federation (FIBT). The punishment came after he withdrew from the world four-man race in Italy and for "improper letters addressed to the press and president of the FIBT."

Benham has explained he withdrew because he was unable to arrange transportation for his four-man sled and couldn't find a replacement in Europe.

Benham's 1957 comeback was hampered when he broke several ribs in a race at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany. In 1958 he finished sixth in the world championships at St. Moritz, Switzerland, where his sled upset. His face was slashed.

Benham hopes the 1960 world run will be held in this country, and the FIBT has nominated Lake Placid. If Lake Placid is not approved by the International Olympic Committee, the world race will be at Cortina D'Ampezzo, Italy.

"We haven't had an Olympic championship in the United States since 1932," says Benham, "and we haven't won an Olympic championship since Francis Tyler won the four-man title in 1948. By rights we should have the chance to include bobsledding in the 1960 winter games and the U. S. should be host to this fine group of international competitors."

Benham says he has spent over $2,500 to support his belief that the International Olympic Committee will provide bobsled facilities in this country.

"I have pledged my future in the 1960 Olympic games. If these games do not include bobsledding I shall retire from the sport."

HANG ON—World champion bobsledder Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N. Y., is shown driving his four-man sled at 100 miles an hour through Byron curve at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany. Benham has been a bob man 14 years.

PAMPER BABY—After his bath relax him by gently rubbing his scalp and body with a baby liquid cream, cuddle him whenever you can. Babies love affection.

A-B-C's For A Happier Baby

By VIVIAN BROWN
What's your New Mother Quotient? Are you prepared to do the job of mothering your infant? Is baby a happy contented little cherub or does he cry a good deal of the time? Here are a few reminders to test whether you are doing the best for your baby:
Is baby content with life? A baby cries for a reason, so through the feeding just because you want to make a telephone call. Cradle the little fellow in your arms warmly, and let him take his time at the bottle. A little baby may look forward to these wonderful minutes in your arms when he can feel warm and secure. Some mothers prop the bottle up in the crib at feeding time. Any little fellow would rather be picked up and cuddled than to take his bottle lying down.

Is he comfortable? Do you change his diaper when necessary or do you postpone it another 10 or 15 minutes, just enough to put your little fellow in a bad mood? Do you change him gently or does the job annoy you, so that you make your feelings known to the baby?
When changing baby's diaper, make sure he is cleaned properly before putting on another diaper. Pat on a baby liquid cream, including all the little creases and folds of his skin in your massage. Put some liquid on your finger and gently pat it on any rough spots, and if a rash appears and does not heal up in a day or two consult your doctor. He may suggest a good ointment that could clean up the disturbance over night.
Do you respect baby's right for privacy? Babies have sensitive ears so it isn't fair to move baby's crib to a room where children roughhouse or a television set is blaring away. He should have a quiet place to go to sleep in the evening. If you start baby off on the right beam, he'll likely be a relaxed individual for the rest of his days.
