Ramsey Denies Being In Town

By DAN MUDD
Brand Staff Reporter

Conflicting testimony between state and defense witnesses Thursday, Friday and Saturday highlighted the trial of Garrett Milton Ramsey, 26, of Fort Worth, in 69th District Court.

The calm, mild-mannered and confident defendant, who has been indicted for the Jan. 18 burglary of Cooper's Market in Hereford this year took the witness stand Friday afternoon and Saturday morning and emphatically stated that he had never been in Hereford before this arrest in Fort Worth and return here in custody of Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock.

The state prosecutors, District Attorney Bill Hunter and King Fike, both of Dalhart, based their case on circumstantial evidence surrounding the burglary. More than $8,000 in cash and checks were taken from the local super market on or about Jan. 18 this year.

Key witnesses for the state were Mrs. Betty Jewell, bookkeeper at Cooper's Market, and Wood Vaughn of Hereford, a retired truck driver, who both testified that they saw Ramsey in Cooper's market on the afternoon prior to the burglary.

Key witnesses for the defense Saturday morning were two rodeo cowboys of Fort Worth and Ramsey's father.

Jim Haywood of Fort Worth, who works in the bookkeeping department of a steel and lumber company in that city, and Johnny Brooks rodeo performer and part-time worker for an insulation business, both testified that they were in two business establishments in Fort Worth on the night of Jan. 18 when the burglary was reported to have committed here.

The defendant's father, Myron Ramsey, said he had drunk coffee with his son in their home at about 12:30 a.m. Jan. 19. He said his son had been in Fort Worth at least eight days prior to the super market burglary, and that the defendant had never left that city.

Appearing a little nervous when he took the stand shortly after 5 p.m. Friday, Ramsey told the court that he believed he lost his billfold on the evening of Sunday, Jan. 15. He testified that he first discovered it missing the following Monday morning.

The trial was expected to continue through the day Saturday, and through Monday. It is in court in 69th District Judge Harry Schultz.

Attorneys for the defendant are Frank Coffey, Dave Miller and Clyde Woody, all of Fort Worth.

A billfold, containing articles bearing Ramsey's identification, was found in Cooper's Market on the morning the burglary was investigated here, on Jan. 19.

Saturday morning, Ramsey said he first heard the billfold had been found in Hereford on the afternoon of Jan. 19.

A state's witness, Claude Roper, former Hereford police officer and now assistant chief of police in Dumas, told the court he was one of the officers who investigated the market.

Around Town

Interest this week in Hereford is centered on the 69th District Courtroom, where Fort Worth's Milton Garrett Ramsey is on trial for burglary. At no time during the trial have less than 50 persons been in the courtroom and most of the time attendance has been above 100. A number of children are getting a practical lesson in American jurisprudence as they watch the proceedings. Most of the youngsters are junior high students who have studied government and civics.

Deaf Smith County Commissioners had a special meeting Thursday. They gave approval for J. F. Messer to repave 779 square yards of parking area at the Bull Barn, with a total cost of $582.75. They spent the rest of the day talking with Jim McMories about the property valuation schedule he has made on county property.

Hereford Young Farmers will meet Tuesday, June 20, at 8:30 p.m. in the Hereford High agriculture building. Jack Tompkins, farm director for KFDA-TV in Amarillo, will be the guest speaker. Officers for the (Continued on Page 2)

Class On Making Hats Scheduled

Beginning hat-making classes will be conducted at 2 p.m. Monday through Wednesday at the high school this week. Mrs. Frank Prowell will direct the classes.

Fairly simple summer hats of straw and fabric will be made. Mrs. Prowell reports, anyone wishing to participate in the hat-making classes may still join, but must have their own fabrics. Eleven people have already enrolled. Mrs. Prowell reported Saturday.

Basic sewing classes are still in progress. Mrs. Prowell said. These are being taught every other morning at the high school.

Fourteen are enrolled in the classes which will conclude this week.

The students range in age from 11 to adulthood and are all making shirt-waist dresses.

Classes in refinishing furniture will be conducted during the morning the first week in July. Mrs. Prowell announced. The second and third week in July will be devoted to refinishing furniture.

These classes are for anyone and anyone desiring to participate should contact Mrs. Prowell at EM 4-3843 immediately and arrange to order fabrics.

Casa de Amigos Has Busy Slate

Casa de Amigos, migrant ministry building at the Labor Camp, has become a popular place with children and adults alike. Mrs. Marian Davis, teacher at the camp, reports.

Children and teenagers are appreciative of the toys and facilities at the camp, many of which were donated by people in Hereford and surrounding communities. Mrs. Davis continued.

Baseball, ballgames and tether balls are most popular with the boys. A large set of swings is about ready to be put up and when the wading pool is ready, more sand and gravel will be put in the play area.

The teenagers especially like the free movies shown each Wednesday night. One English movie and one Spanish movie will be shown when possible, Mrs. Davis said.

An adult class at night has been organized at the camp for drivers' license training. An adult-class in writing and speaking English is being organized and if there is enough response, a class preparing non-citizens

Rains Stop Wheat And Barley Harvest

As much as two inches of rain during the past week has halted preparations for a bumper wheat crop.

A major part of the barley had been cut before rains started drenching the area early in the week, but the wheat fields were still waiting for combine crews.

Rains were varied across the county, ranging from half an inch to an even two inches. Barley yields are ranging from good to excellent, going up to 50 bushels per acre. Some barley fields haven't been harvested at all while others are finished.

Grain elevators in the county estimated from 30 to 60 percent of the barley had been harvested, but only three to ten per cent of the wheat had been cut before rains halted field operations.

Spokesmen at the elevators said yields were good, with moisture content running from 11.5 to 13 per cent. Peak of the wheat harvest is expected between June 25 and the last of the month.

C. J. Albracht, who farms 3 1/2 miles southeast of Hereford, reported 1.45 inches of rain this week, with 2.45 for the month. He said he hadn't started cutting barley yet and expected to start cutting wheat next week.

Clark Anderson, who farms 17 miles north of Hereford, reported an inch of rain this week. His barley was finished last week, with yields of 40 to 50 bushels per acre. He estimated his wheat would make as much as 50 bushels per acre.

Robert Betzen, who farms six miles northwest of town, reported 1.10 inch of moisture this week and 3.60 inches for the month. He had 10 per cent hail damage on one field and corn badly damaged. His 20 acres of dry-land wheat already out was making 25 bushels per acre and irrigated wheat should make 30 to 40 bushels per Leland Burns, who farms nine miles northwest of Hereford said his wheat should be ready to cut about July 1. He reported only 7 inch of rain during the week and 1.3 inches for the month.

Herschel Burrus, who farms 24 miles northwest of Hereford, has finished his barley with yields running 30 to 35 bushels per acre. He has started cutting some of his wheat and thought he could finish with a week of good weather.

P. L. Carmichael, who farms ten miles northeast of Hereford, has cut three loads of barley with "pretty good yields." He expects to begin wheat cutting in ten days if the weather is good. He reported an inch of rain this week and the same for the entire month. He said a light sprinkle of hail fell at his place but did no damage.

From the Ivan Block farm the report was that barley harvesting had started this week with yields up to 100 bushels per acre. This farm, located four and one-half miles northwest of the Easter community, reported a slow 2 inches of rain this week and 2 inches for the month, with no hail. Wheat harvesting is expected to start in about two weeks.

A report of 1 1/2 to 2 inches rain came from the east T. L. Cavanaugh farm, with 2 1/2 to 3 inches for the month. Hail covered the ground one time this month but did no damage. A small percentage of barley has been cut and wheat cutting will start as soon as weather permits.

Meet Tuesday On United Fund Budget Requests

All agencies which desire to be considered for inclusion in the 1961-62 budget of the Deaf Smith County United Fund are reminded of the budget meeting Tuesday, June 20.

The meeting will start at 4 p.m. in the Hereford Community Center. Each agency making a budget request must submit a written budget outline and have a representative present to answer any questions the budget committee might have regarding operation of the organization.

The committee will accept budget requests, study them and then approve or disallow requests totalling $25,000 to $30,000 are expected. There were seven groups included in the 1961 budget of the United Fund. These included Red Cross, Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts, Little League, Pony League, Hereford Commission on Alcoholism and Hereford Athletic Association.

J. W. Robinson Jr., general chairman of the United Fund, will serve as chairman of the budget committee. Other members are Henry Sears, Mrs. H. A. Cavness, Mrs. Bill Messick and Lowell Sharp. Other officers of the county United Fund also will be present. They include Mark Woodall, vice president; Mrs. Howard Gault, secretary; and Don Baugous, treasurer.

At that time there were only two doctors in the area and a few stores which handled "a little bit of everything." Grimes clearly recalls the many hitch-

If you would like to keep one of these high school students overnight, you are asked to submit your name to one of the housing committee members here.

Members of the committee are Mrs. J. J. Durham, at EM4-3553 or EM 4-0617, and Mrs. G. W. Newsom, EM 4-3338.

The students, from 19 foreign countries, will arrive in Hereford on the evening of Tuesday, June 27 and will remain about 36 hours. While here they will be guests of the community, taken on tours and entertained in various ways.

Through the American Field Students, this group spent the last school year in California and Nevada, attending high schools and living with American families. They, with two sponsors, comprise one of two busloads of students now enroute to New York. From there they will sail home.

Bailiff Resigns County Duty After Serving Past 23 Years

BY DOT BOWLES
BRAND STAFF REPORTER

Twenty-three years as Deaf Smith County bailiff came to an end for D. R. Grimes when he handed in his resignation to Sheriff Lowell Sharp last week.

The 81-year-old white haired man has watched the growth of Hereford since 1906, "when it took four large mules to get through the mud on main street."

At that time there were only two doctors in the area and a few stores which handled "a little bit of everything." Grimes clearly recalls the many hitching posts scattered around town. Born in Alabama in 1880, Grimes helped drill water wells when he first came to Hereford. In 1913 he married Belle Turnbull and worked on the Green Valley Ranch near Hereford.

Mrs. Grimes recalls when she accompanied her husband in a buggy to bring in witnesses. One time Grimes had made two trips to a ranch near the New Mexico-Texas border and failed to bring back any witnesses.

Mrs. Grimes traveled her husband in the attempt to get the mules to break in bailiff duties. (Continued on Page 2) room at the ranch and in a loud voice she commanded that he come out. That time the bailiff and Mrs. Grimes got their man.

Mrs. Grimes remembers when they began using an open top Ford for their "riding" bailiff duties. She reports that they carried no weapons on their trips through the dusty Panhandle.

Grimes served under six sheriffs, he reported. These included Orville Newell, John Purcell, Claude Benton, Charles Skelton and Lowell Sharp.

buglary here on Jan. 19.

Roper said he discovered the wallet on the floor under a hole which had been cut in the roof of the market's motor room. He and Jim Neal, another Hereford police officer, investigated contents of the wallet after finding it, Roper said.

The $8,000 in cash and checks, which have not been recovered, were taken from the floor safe of the market in the northwest corner of the building, just inside the front exit door.

Ramsey pleaded "not guilty" to the indictment read to the court by Hunter at 4:40 p.m. Thursday. The jury panel of 12, including seven men and five women, was sworn in at 4:35 p.m.

Opening the trial, Hunter told the jury that on Jan. 18, Ramsey broke in the rear part of Cooper's Market and from the front safe of the market took approximately $8,000 in cash and checks.

Hunter told the jury that a billfold was found inside the building, and that the billfold contained various articles bearing Ramsey's identification.

Hunter said that subsequently, Ramsey was found digging up money bags taken from Cooper's Market on a dirt road outside of Hereford.

First witness, Dale Barkley, grocery manager at Cooper's Market, was called to the stand by the state at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Barkley, being cross-examined by Fike, said the floor consisted of two compartments, and is located just inside the front door entrance. Other state's witnesses were James Neal, investigating officer, Neil Cooper, owner of the super market, Mr. and Mrs. Dub Maddox of Hereford, Milton White of Hereford and two employees of Cooper's Market.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddox and White testified they saw Ramsey and a girl at the location where the money bags had been dug up about five miles east of Hereford on the afternoon of Feb. 21.

Mrs. Betty Jowell, bookkeeper at Cooper's Market, was called to the witness stand by District Attorney Hunter at 11:08 a.m. Friday.

Mrs. Jowell said she was sitting in her office in a corner of Cooper's Market when she saw a stranger between 5:30 and 6 p.m. on Jan. 18. She later said Ramsey was the stranger she saw in the store.

When she noticed the stranger in one of the aisles of the store, Mrs. Jowell said, she went to where he was standing. "I thought he was a stranger and might need some help," she said.

"Did you speak to him?" Hunter asked.

"Yes," she answered. "What did you say?" Hunter asked.

"I asked him if I could help him find something. "What did he say?" Hunter asked.

"He mumbled something. I don't know what he said," Mrs. Jowell told the court.

While being cross-examined by defense attorney Woody, Mrs. Jowell said: "I couldn't understand him. He turned and went the other way." "Could you tell us why you did remember this defendant?" Hunter asked.

"Because I talked to him," Mrs. Jowell answered. Wood Vaughn of Hereford took the witness stand at 11:30 a.m. Friday. Vaughn, a retired truck driver and former police officer in Amarillo, said he was in Cooper's Market between 5:30 and 6 p.m. on Jan. 18, Vaughn said he observed a stranger in the market.

"Do you see that man in the courtroom today?" the district attorney asked.

"Yes," Vaughn said. "Is he that defendant?" Hunter asked, pointing to Ramsey.

"Yes," Vaughn answered. "When was the next time you saw him?" the district attorney asked.

"Two or three days later in a cell (of the county jail)," Vaughn testified.

While defense attorney Coffey was cross-examining Vaughn, Vaughn said Ramsey was the "only stranger that I paid any attention to" and that he (Ramsey) "was not pushing a basket. He was just milling around."

Vaughn left the witness stand at 11:50 a.m., when Judge Schultz called a recess until 1:15 p.m.

Vaughn took the witness stand again at 1:15 p.m. After Hunter opened cross-examination, Vaughn said there was nothing unusual about the stranger's mannerisms in the store.

The witness told Coffey he was called by the police department either on the evening Ramsey was arrested or the next evening. He said he had never seen a picture of Ramsey or had not seen him on television.

"Do you mean to say that they (the police department) just up and called you and told you to come down to the police station?" Coffey asked.

"Yes," Vaughn replied. "That's all," Coffey said, and took his seat next to the defendant.

Vaughn got off the witness stand at 1:30 p.m. The defendant took the witness stand at 5:10 p.m. Friday. Defense attorney Woody told the jury the defense would present testimony to substantiate that Ramsey was not in Hereford on Jan. 18 this year and that he was here for a legitimate reason on or about Feb. 21.

Ramsey explained to the court that he is owner of a car lot and mobile tire service in Fort Worth.

On the morning of Jan. 18, Ramsey said, he got up from bed about 7:30 a.m. Later in the morning at his car lot, he claimed he sold a 1953 model car to a Fort Worth man.

Ramsey pulled the transmission from the car, he said, and had gone to Sammy Simpson's Body Shop in Fort Worth later in the afternoon to get another transmission for the car. He claimed he was unable to obtain one there.

Later, the defendant said, he went to a lounge in Fort Worth called "Kenneth's Place." He stayed there until 10:30 p.m. and went to another Fort Worth establishment, "Bob's Cafe," with two friends, Johnny Brooks and Jimmy Haywood. Ramsey said Brooks and Haywood were planning to leave Fort Worth for Amarillo that evening to attend a rodeo. Ramsey said that Brooks and Haywood stayed in Bob's Cafe with him for about 15 minutes and then left.

Ramsey said he stayed in the cafe about a half an hour and then went home.

At about 12:20 a.m. on the morning of Jan. 19, he said, his father arrived home. They drank coffee until about 12:45 a.m., when he went to bed, Ramsey testified.

He got up at 7 a.m. that morning and went to another car lot to get the transmission for the car.

Woody asked Ramsey when he first discovered he was accused of the burglary in Hereford. Ramsey replied that he was informed of it at the home of Johnny Leach of Fort Worth, at about 4 p.m. Jan. 19.

After he was told of being wanted for the burglary, he said he called Miller, his attorney, at about 6 p.m. that afternoon.

The next morning, he told the court, he started out of his home to see his attorney, Miller. As he was leaving the house, he related, he saw a sheriff's car and turned and walked back inside, where he again telephoned his attorney.

Shortly afterward, he said, he was arrested by the sheriff. He was taken to the sheriff's office there, and was turned over to Hereford Police Chief Henry Ayecock.

Ramsey said he theorized that he lost his billfold the Sunday night before the burglary here, but that he first missed it the following Monday morning. He said he made a search for it, but was unable to locate it.

"I guess about 500 people knew I had lost my billfold," Ramsey told the court. "I offered a $100 reward to anyone who could recover the billfold."

One of Ramsey's friends brought a girl to his house, Ramsey said, and he told the court the girl commented "she had met someone who acted something like a gangster and had bragged about making a lot of money up here" (in Hereford).

Ramsey said that although he was unable to get in contact with the man, he learned that the man was supposed to have buried the money about five miles outside Hereford on a dirt road.

The defendant said he also heard "the man said he had almost broken his neck in a pit."

He said he started searching for the money bags on the Sunday before his second arrest here. On Sunday and Monday, he searched for the money outside of Hereford.

Ramsey admitted digging with the hoe that had earlier been entered as evidence to the court. He said he found the money bags on a Tuesday afternoon in the approximate location where he had heard they would be.

When he found the sacks, Ramsey said, he discovered they were empty.

About 5 p.m., Ramsey said, he had found the empty sacks and saw no point in looking any further. He testified that he and the woman started back toward Amarillo and were stopped by officers.

Ramsey said he was placed under arrest and taken to Hereford, where Capt. L. B. Bartlett, a member of Hereford police department at that time, remarked: "We've got you this time."

After his release by Sheriff's officers, Ramsey said he and Sheriff Lowell Sharp talked in a hotel coffee shop. During the conversation, Ramsey testified, he told Sheriff Sharp: "This has hurt me more than it has helped me," relating to his second arrest here.

He said he had an idea as to who he could go to to get the checks. "But I never got the information I needed," he told the court.

Thirteen weekly camps will be conducted this summer, with each session accommodating about 175 youths. The local campers were to have left Hereford at 7:30 p.m. and will return on June 26, Mrs. Smith said.

The six boys will be housed in the camp's brick and redwood cabins. Meals will be served in the camp's dining room.

Camp Hoblitzelle is made possible through the gifts of more than 100 men and women in Texas. The camp is operated by the Salvation Army for boys who would not otherwise have the opportunity to participate in camp life.

In Deaf Smith County, the Salvation Army is supported by the United Fund.

Returning to town, they will see the wheat harvest. After a rest, they will be guests for a swimming part at the Hereford Country Club.

At 6:30 p.m., they will be guests at a basket picnic in Dameron Park. The public is being invited to attend this meet and visit with the students. Each family is asked to bring its own supper.

The full day will be climaxed with a special show arranged by the Hereford Riders Club. The public also is being invited to attend this affair at the Riders Club arena, starting at 8:30 p.m.

There will be Junior Riders playing games on horseback, a demonstration of calf roping, bull riding and bronc riding. There also will be a demonstration of cutting horse events. Then the exchange students will be allowed to ride horses, specially selected for gentleness, around the arena.

On Thursday morning, the students will be picked up in Hereford by their chartered buses. They will be joined by a busload which went from Clovis to Dimmitt two days earlier.

This will be the only stop for the students in Texas, according to Paul Stevens, who is chairman of arrangements for their stay in Hereford.

There will be a reunion of all former citizens of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State at the Colonial Cafeteria in Amarillo on Friday, June 30, at 6 p.m. All former citizens, with husband or escort, are requested to be present. We had several persons telling us about the tiny worms that showed up in garages and on driveways right after the rain in Hereford the other night. Nobody seemed to know exactly what kind of worm they were or where they came from. But I'd bet one thing, they'll be some type that will eat on vegetables, grass, shrubs or flowers. We hardly get any other type around here.

The new storm sewers along First Street are really proving their worth. The new paving stays almost dry, where, in past years, you could just about drive motor boats after a large dew. Only drawback is it sure does cut down on the fun of wading in the gutters for the youngsters.

Now it's small worms we get something else to make us fret. But we can always hope and wish they get big enough to use for fish.

farms 14 miles north of Hereford, reported 1/2 inch of rain this week and almost 1 inch for the month. He had some hail but suffered no losses. He hopes to start cutting wheat in one week.
One inch of rain this week and this month has fell at the Dameron Hereford Ranch 25 miles northwest of Hereford. The dry land wheat is ready to be cut and the irrigated wheat should be ready in one week.

T. E. Davis, who farms two miles south of the Sims Community House, reported 1.25 inches of rain this week and the same for the month. He expects to start wheat cutting in 7-10 days and believes the yield will be good but not so good as last year.
Earl DeHart, who farms two and one-half miles northwest of Hereford, reported 1.4 inches of rain and 1.5 to 1.75 inches for the month. There has been a light hail at his farm but no damage from it. In about 10 days he expects to start wheat harvesting.

R. L. DeRusha, who farms four miles south of Summerfield, reported 1.61 inches of rain for the week and 1.75 inches for the month. As soon as the ground is dry, he will start wheat cutting.

ready for cutting and he expects about the same yield as last year.
G. W. Duncan says his wheat is the best he has ever had and he hopes to start cutting it early next week. His barley will be ready in 7 to 10 days. He reported 1.75 inches of rain during the week and the same for the month on his farm eight and one-half miles southeast of Hereford.

CRASH CAUSES
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three human factors which have caused countless automobile accidents are beginning to show up in airplane crashes, says an education specialist Norman J. Crabtree of the Ohio Division of Aviation.
They are (1) tendency to be prouder of willingness to take chances, (2) trying to justify what one wants to do rather than what one knows is right and proper and (3) risking losses all out of proportion to possible gains — such as chancing a risky landing to save a few minutes.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley
Q. How can I renew artificial fruits?
A. Wash them carefully and quickly with lukewarm soapsuds, rinse, and dry well. Then rub a small amount of cold cream on your hands and gently coat the fruit with a thin film by rolling between your fingers. This imparts a delicate fragrance and gives the fruit a natural-looking and attractive appearance.
Q. What is a good way to provide support for the weak stems on some houseplants?
A. You can do this effectively, and decoratively too, by wedging some colorful plastic forks into the soil and then inserting the stems of your plants between the tines of the forks.
Q. What is a good substitute shoe polish for use when the real thing is not at hand?
A. Try using a little of your paste floor wax. This has a neutral color, may be used on either dark or light shoes, and produces a high gloss.

Miss Anna Martin, Kenneth May Are Wed In Formal Ceremony

Mrs. Kenneth May
nee Miss Anna Martin

The sanctuary of Wesley Methodist Church was the scene last Sunday for the wedding of Miss Anna Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Martin, and Kenneth May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard May, all of Hereford.

The Rev. E. H. Martin read the double ring ceremony as the couple knelt on a white satin prayer bench in front of an elaborate arrangement of white stock, gladioli, and greenery, flanked by wrought-iron candelabra holding white tapers. The altar was completely covered with white satin and four fern trees were placed in the area for color.

Mrs. E. H. Martin played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Betty Stephens as she sang "Always" and "Wedding Prayer." "Lohengrin's Wedding March" was played as the bridal party entered and "Mendelssohn's Wedding March" was used as the recessional.

Miss Teena May, sister of the groom, and Miss Karen Harper of Amarillo lighted the candles. They wore dresses of blue polished cotton under white organza and white carnation corsages and carried brass candle-lighters.

Miss Rhonda Stephens wore a blue polished cotton under white organza and a floral hat with a white background. Her corsage was also of white carnations and she carried a basket of white rose petals.

Clifford Martin, nephew of the bride, carried the rings atop a heart-shaped white satin pillow accented with blue flowers. He wore dark trousers and a white jacket with a blue boutonniere.

Miss Linda Martin acted as her sister's maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of blue chiffon highlighted with lace in the back of the very full skirt and lace for the cap sleeves. She wore a white veiled hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white streamers strewn with white flower buds.

Miss Brenda Jones and Miss Kathy Jones of Bovina, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids. Both wore dresses of blue chiffon over a polished material, fashioned with cap sleeves and white lace at the neckline. Their head-dresses were white veiled hats and they carried nosegays of white carnations.

Muri May served his brother as best man and ushers were Archie G. Martin of Plainview, Donnie Jones of Bovina and David May, another brother of the groom.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chantilly lace with a chapel train. The scalloped neckline was outlined with seed pearls and sequins and the fingertip sleeves fastened with tiny buttons. The back was lined in a circle with huge lace roses. Her Vogue butterfly veil was secured with a crown of sequins and seed pearls. For something old, the bride chose a diamond and pearl teardrop necklace given to her by her father some time ago. As something borrowed, she wore her cousin's blue gem birthstone ring. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses tied with white streamers.

Mrs. Martin, mother of the bride, wore a blue Italian linen lace dress and matching accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. May, wore a blue linen dress and both wore corsages of white roses.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. The bride's table was appointed in crystal and silver and centered with an archway of white topped with silver bells and surrounding a miniature bride and groom. The tiered wedding cake was circled with blue flowers and held a tiny bridal pair atop a confection of blue blossoms.

Mrs. Robert Brown registered the guests and Mrs. Archie Martin and Mrs. Johnny Hodges alternated at the punch service.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride was wearing a floral sheath dress with a matching duster coat. These were fashioned of combed silk under beige organza. She completed her costume with bone accessories and a white rose corsage taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. May is a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School where she was a member of the D. E. Club and F. H. A. The groom also graduated from Hereford High School and presently is employed by Brown's Sheet Metal Company. The couple will reside at 303 Witherspoon until August when they will both enroll in Draughon's Business College in Amarillo.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Foister Rector and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brookfield, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rector and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith, all of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Oldham, Mr. and Mrs. R. G.

In the four year period before the Salk vaccine was introduced, there were approximately 39,000 cases of infantile paralysis each year. Since 1955 when the Salk vaccine appeared, the number has continued to drop with about 3,200 cases reported during 1960.

Wilcoxin and Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Reggie Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Harper of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Ordie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Boozer, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hodges, all of Bovina and Mr. and Mrs. Archie G. Martin of Plainview.

Plainview Vows For Miss Bell

Miss Pat Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bell of Hereford, and Charles R. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wall of Friona, exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, June 10, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith of Plainview.

The Rev. Cline R. Paden read the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before a trellis of greenery and roses.

Paul Epps, organist from Plainview, played traditional wedding selections and played "Where Art Thou Going" as the groom and minister approached the nuptial area.

Mrs. Quinfred Oakley (nee Miss Wilena Bell of Plainview) was the bride's only attendant. She was attired in her wedding gown, as this was a double wedding. Her dress was of white chiffon with a lace bodice, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline. She wore white accessories and a pill-box hat of white net and satin. Quinfred Oakley of Dimmitt attended the groom as best man.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white chiffon, over taffeta, designed with short sleeves and rounded neckline. Her hat was of white lace with a net covering the face. Her only jewelry, a single tear drop pearl, was borrowed from a friend. For something blue, she wore a blue garter. The bridal bouquet was made of white carnations.

Mrs. Bell, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue lace dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a brown dress with bone accessories and both wore corsages of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couples were honored with a reception in the Smith home.

The table was appointed in crystal and silver with the two bridal bouquets forming the centerpiece. The tiered wedding cakes were surrounded with pink rosebuds. Miss Judy Smith of Plainview and Miss Linda Jones of Hereford presided at the serving table.

When the couple left on a trip to Littlefield, the bride was attired in a white shirtwaist dress with matching accessories.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School. Mr. Wall attended Hereford schools and is now employed by Hereford Butane.

The couple is at home at 324 Ave. J.

EAST ORANGE, N. J. — The First Lutheran Church here has dedicated four stained glass windows — in commemoration of Roman Catholic saints.

Rev. Ronald T. Englund, pastor, says such an "anomaly" is logical "when one realizes that the Lutheran Church is catholic in the true sense."

He said the windows "seek to emphasize that significant developments took place in the life of the church between the New Testament and the Reformation. Too often, Lutherans, along with other Protestants, pretend that the centuries did not exist."

BY JIMMIE GILLENTE

This is a good time for jitters, especially if you have a wheat crop ready to cut. I noticed a combine standing in the Lee Benefield place on Highway 60; it looked as if they made four or five rounds — and had to stop because of the rains. Even if a fellow doesn't get hauled out, he will probably get ulcers thinking about what could happen if the hail comes. I don't know if Hank Williams has any wheat or not, but he looks like the nervous type and, if he has, he is probably running Mrs. Williams and the kids plain nuts.

Mrs. Ed Loerwald says the reason I didn't locate any vice in Galveston is because I am a country boy who doesn't know his way around. She and Ed were in Galveston, so Ed gets on a bus, rides to the end of the line — and goes into one of the places to look around before he started back. His story (to Mrs. L. at least) is that he was most happy to emerge in one piece and without any knots on his head. This lets me out. If a big fellow like Ed Loerwald was glad to get out alive, I am real happy not to have seen the place at all.

Paul Harvey is doing a bit of Scout work these days, and I hope he keeps at it until he gets the "Order of the Arrow." I understand they carry you out into the woods blindfolded, spin you around several times, take off the blindfold and turn you loose with a couple of matches and a piece of string. All you have to do is get back to camp — and what I want to know is can an old boy with no more hair than Harvey make it? Dr. R. R. Wills, another smooth topper, is back from Lake City, where he and Marlin Gilliland are reported to have taken plenty of trout from the lake; anyway, they both came back with that lank, hungry look which usually accompanies what a fisherman tells his family and friends was "a wonderful vacation."

The Dudley Bayne family is getting ready to accomplish the same look. At least, Dudley is doing a lot of research on fishing spots.

For all these months you had to be in the right place at the right time to buy ice and Bingo! you can get ice a lot of places just about any time you choose. Super markets, community stores, the ice plant — all side stands — take your choice.

If you can't find it, it's either being fixed — or it's not.

Plek Harman has been unusually quiet of late. At least, he hasn't been giving me much trouble, all of which is living proof that a little rainfall is not enough to slow down a rabid golfer.

The trial of Garrett M. Ramsey of Ft. Worth, charged in connection with the Copper's Market robbery, is attracting the largest crowd seen in district court here in many a moon. Some observers attribute the daily attendance of 150 persons, in part at least, to the improved courtroom quarters.

And regardless of the reason, most people connected with our courts appear happy to see the public take a renewed interest in courtroom proceedings. Some of the spectators are naturally a bit confused, including Jan Reese, who asked a friend: "Which one of those fellows is Ramsey? They all look like lawyers to me."

Our news department has been taking some available light photos, and I understand that at least one Amarillo TV station was taking pictures Friday. In answer to several questions, such procedure is at the option of the judge. Certainly, no flash pictures should ever be taken without permission — and out of courtesy, no one should ever take any pictures without permission of the judge; otherwise, the action is subject to a fine and contempt charges. Grounds for objection to courtroom pictures is based on interruption of the proceedings — and the objection is often justified, especially when pictures are shot indiscriminately.

J. W. Robinson says now that we have improved The Brand in typography and reproduction, why don't we get a new publisher and print something worth reading? Mrs. E. C. Eubanks, who is far more widely travelled, says she thinks we had the best small town paper she ever saw — even before we improved the print. Well, Mrs. Eubanks is a fine woman — and I'll withhold any remarks about Robinson, due to postal regulations.

He got away before I could investigate, but I hear that Mutt and Mrs. Wheeler hopped aboard a commercial flight in Amarillo and headed for Brazil, where Mutt is looking into some cheap land now offered in that country. Which reminds me, what finally happened to the Nevada land boom? N. D. Bartlett, Grady Rogers, and a bunch of other Hereford people filed on holdings and have done a lot of developing out that way. Anyway, it will be interesting to have Wheeler's land. I'll bet that old boy learns more the first day than Adlai Stevenson turned up in two weeks, and I know he will have a lot more fun.

Jesse Stanford attended the annual reunion at Clarendon College last week and had the time of his life. Jesse also attended Southwestern U. in Georgetown, and was widely known for his ability on the baseball diamond. He has seen a lot of changes in this Panhandle country since he went to school in Clarendon — and predicts that its growth has only begun.

Boss: "We're giving you a raise. We want your last week here to be a happy one."

The Trans-Canada Highway, under construction since 1949, is expected to be completed in 1963.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Venerable Editor,
How are you Sir? Feeling fine I hope. I am sound.

Sir, for some months past after the attainment of our Nigerian Independence, I have been seeking for some reliable and trustworthy pen-pals all over the world, most especially from that blessed, wonderful United States, the land of Dollars - America.

This morning, very lucky for me, your address was passed to me by one of my best friends in Lagos. He told me that you are a nice and reliable editor who could satisfy all of my needs by publishing my name and address in your famous and reliable journal as a Nigerian who is seeking trustworthy pen-pals of both sexes.

Perhaps I should introduce myself. I am a boy of 20 years old, 5 ft. 6 inches tall. I have a fair complexion. You will note that my eyes are blue and my hair is dark, curly and I have a round face.

My hobbies are map collecting, coin collecting, reading, corresponding, hunting, traveling, photography and sports.

To make the friendship more interesting and a lasting one, I would be happy to correspond with the Hereford residents and to exchange our African products for American ones.

African items: Crocodile skin hand bags and bill folds, alligator skin jackets, leopard skin jackets, ebony carvings, dagger knives, snake skin slippers, native dolls, monkey skin hand bags, necklaces, jungle drums, combs and etc.

The above mentioned African products could be exchanged with the following American ones: sport shirts (14 1/2-15), jackets (medium size), knit sweaters (medium size) T-shirts (plain color) and candles and etc.

The full length of the animal skins mentioned above is available. Anyone interested in a write for it.

For your information, Sir, the local postmaster says letters can be sent to Nigeria with 25 cents and it takes five to seven days to reach here. I therefore promise to reply to all letters written to me by air mail.

May God bless you and your family.

A million thanks for the space allowed,

Yours very truly,

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS
Many ring experts claim that, pound for pound, Sugar Ray Robinson, three times middleweight champion of the world, ranks as the greatest fighting machine of modern times. One of his most remarkable feats will probably never be repeated: three times Sugar Ray lost his middleweight crown and three times won it back! He turned the trick against Randy Turpin, repeated it when he won his title back from Bobo Olson, and did it again against Carmen Basilio when all the experts said he was too old!

Remember when Robinson lost his title the first time—and then won it back again in the same year? Randy Turpin was the man who decided him in 15 rounds to take the crown in London, England, in July. Just two months later, the two fighters met in a rematch, Sugar Ray was once again the master, winning by a TKO in the tenth round to regain his crown.

Remember the year? That was a year when new cars were still hard to get—and used cars commanded high prices. A man had to do a lot of looking to find a dependable used car at a good price.

The year was 1951. You don't have to look any further than our big used car lot today to find terrific deals of clean, reconditioned, beautiful used cars... trade-ins on the new 1961 Fords. Drive Safely—at low cost—with a used car from CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co. Inc., W Hwy. 60 at Miles. Phone EM 4-2727.

Young athletes strengthen their spirits and skills at the summer conferences of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Their day begins with a devotion at breakfast, followed by sessions of "inspiration and perspiration." Athletes huddle to discuss Christian life, while coaches study ways to impart spiritual values. Greats such as Branch Rickey, Otto Graham and George Kell testify to the strengthening factor of faith. Field workouts follow technical talks by pros and coaches such as the St. Louis Hawks' Bob Pettit, L.S.U.'s Paul Dietzel and Minnesota's Murray Warmuth. With headquarters in Kansas City, the inter-denominational Fellowship has not only inspired athletes at the Colorado and Wisconsin summer camps, but also over a million youths through talks across America.

Father Is Hand That Guides A Way Of Life

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL. We have honored our mothers in May and now it is Father's Day — the day we should honor our father and think of him as an individual and not just someone to beg a favor of or to give you money; or extra money which you could very well do without, and before you realize the value of money or the fact that it takes work to earn money. Oh yes, the dollar isn't what it used to be, but it takes a bit of effort to make those said dollars roll into the family pocketbook — and Dad is it. The kids aren't the only ones who fail to realize that father takes a beating every day to keep his family going. Mother sometimes fails to understand the strain poor Dad is under and spends more than she should for the children, because Sally has a new dress, mother; just why can't I have one? Have you ever thought just how much responsibility a man has when he has a family? He is not only responsible for the lives of his children but also their future as well, and therein lies a very sobering thought. It has been said that "a man is only a third, that he is not whole until he holds his wife and a child in his arms; then he is a whole man, a man who can wrestle the whole world and come out on the winning side."

25 YEARS AGO Soil Conservation Act Safeguard For Future

Under the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, land owners should rejoice that an unusual opportunity has presented itself. The act provides a safeguard for the future generation in that soil may be built, maintained and moisture held where nature has distributed it. At the same time, both owners and tenants will be compensated, the amount they receive being measured by their farming practices. The earning power of a producer will be determined by the total base acres of soil depleting crops that a farm contains. Approximately 70 per cent of land in Deaf Smith county is owned by non-residents and a majority of it is operated by non-resident tenants. By using some of the soil building practices, the land is restored to a high degree of fertility, thereby permitting greater yields, also a big factor in keeping soil from eroding either by wind or water. Terracing, contouring and cropping are of vital importance to all acres in the county; not only should cultivated acres be contoured or terraced, but pasture land as well needs treatment. Had all water in the lakes of the county been maintained where it fell, a bumper crop would have been assured.

It should not be a thing of surprise for a newspaper man to turn inventor, especially when his fertile brain should turn out a wind-engine. Not a hot air compressor, but an engine that is run by the wind just as some engines are operated by steam or gasoline. W. A. Williams, of Olivet, S.D., is the genius whose name is mentioned in the patent papers as inventor. He has been informed by Munn and Company of the Scientific American that his application for a patent for a wind turbine, or motor, has been allowed by the U.S. Patent Office at Washington. This mechanism is a new departure from the old style windmills in that it can have one or any multiple of power wheels, and can be constructed with from ten to five hundred horsepower or more. The power wheels are placed within a building, safe from storms and as wind concentrators or sails are used extending out from corners of the building and high up into the air, great power can be brought to bear upon the power wheels from a light wind. This engine should be used by irrigators in the Panhandle. With all the power of the Panhandle wind going to waste, something should be done to utilize it. This power which costs nothing, could be turned into use by pumping water; a greater part of the Panhandle would become the irrigators mecca.

American 'Buck Passer' Has Made Psychiatric Couch An Institution

Along with our freedoms, we Americans enjoy numerous conveniences and luxuries known to no other nationality in the world. Consequently, we have developed many faults which are peculiar to our own nation. The greatest of these shortcomings is that of "passing the buck." Buck passing is a two way evil. Frequently we shirk a border line responsibility on the grounds that it is not our obligation. Worse still, when something goes wrong, we immediately start looking for some method to pass the blame to someone else. As a result, we even kid ourselves into believing that we are blameless. This circumstance is true in business, in professions, in industry and government; it is even true in our homes, churches and lodges. This one fault has probably held back more individual progress than any other single factor in the American way of life. It frequently overcomes years of school work, training and higher education, and has contributed more toward developing the field of psychiatry than any other given factor.

Bob Kennedy And Integration Rule

Desegregation of the South by executive order and court ukase is to continue if the latest move by Attorney General Robert Kennedy is any indication. The Attorney General seems to believe that the Interstate Commerce Commission is convertible into an Integration Commerce Commission. At least he appeals to the ICC for an order to all rail and bus terminals to force desegregation of eating places. There has been no law of Congress on this matter. There is no question of equal treatment of patrons of these lunch facilities. But Attorney General Kennedy is bent upon forcing the result, regardless of the methods. At the same time, President Kennedy is appealing to everybody to unite behind him as he undertakes to deal with the world. If there be a color of legality in the demand made by the Attorney General of the ICC, there can be no valid claim of legality in supplying people from his staff to accompany the "freedom riders" as they tour the South inciting one less of the methods. If The News were in the least degree persuaded that these actions of the Kennedys are motivated by keen conscience and high humanitarian objectives, it would be possible in some measure to respect all too clearly that the whole immediate aim is to gather votes in New York, Illinois, Michigan and Pennsylvania, where Negroes are congregating in great numbers.

Are Americans So Money-Mad?

Someone recently said that the average American family is only 15 days away from bankruptcy and, unpleasant as the thought may be, it strikes fairly close to the truth. To say the least, most of us—in case our incomes were removed for the next 15 days—would find things decidedly unpleasant, especially if we had no credit upon which to rely. Considering our extremely high national income, and present day inflation, the situation seems almost impossible. To our grandfathers who often toiled 12 hours a day for $8 to $10 a week, it would have sounded like a hysterical nightmare. On the other side of the fence, it would have sounded no more fantastic than our present day tax schedules and some of the average retail prices which we pay as routine.

Rare Choice For County Farmers

A thoughtful and reasonable approach is being used in an education program on the use of dangerous herbicides. Detailed letters are being sent out by the county to all farm owners and operators in the county, nearly 1000 of the in all. The letter carefully outlines proper safeguards and precautions to be observed when using the high-powered herbicides. The letter is no less specific when it tells of an alternative to the precaution listed. It points out that the county is able, by vote of the County Commission, to invoke the stringent rules of a state law governing the use of herbicides. Clearly, the choice now rests with the farmers of this county as to how they will control herbicides. They can be prudent in their use, so as not to harm one of their neighbor's crops. Or, they can continue to spray and dust indiscriminately and eventually be subjected to strict state controls.

A representative of the Texas Agriculture Commission was quite frank when he met with farmers and herbicide leaders here recently. He told them that he would not advise them to ask for the state law unless everything else failed. "It is a lot easier to get the (state) law than it is to get rid of it," he said. This applies not only to the herbicide law, but to any type of federal control or state control. It is a lot easier to obtain than it is to shuck. This county's farmers have a rare opportunity, since it seems to be fashionable now to slap on outside governmental controls without bothering to ask the people involved. It's up to them now.

STILL NEED POSTMASTER
Leo McLellan, acting postmaster at Friona since November of 1953, is still Friona's acting postmaster. That's about all one can say on the post office situation here and be reasonably certain that he knows what he's talking about. And, even that can change at any moment although it isn't likely in view of the latest word from Washington in regard to the matter. A letter from Congressman Walter Rogers, stating that the Post Office Department had been requested to conduct another examination, was received last week by J.P. Sims, commander of Friona American Legion Post 206. In this letter to Sims, Congressman Rogers said, "The Post Office Department has been requested to conduct an examination with reference to the appointment of a permanent postmaster at Friona at the earliest possible time." No date has been set for the examination yet, but Acting Postmaster McLellan says he will be notified as soon as it is. When the exam is set, it will be the third time for such an examination to be given in Friona since McLellan took over as acting postmaster seven and a half years ago. The first examination was in 1954 after which Paul Fortenberry was selected to replace McLellan. After being appointed, however, Fortenberry declined the position, thus leaving the way open for McLellan, a Republican, to continue in the post throughout the Eisenhower administration. When the Kennedy administration took office, it was inevitable that a change would soon be forthcoming. Such was the case, and in March, Roy V. Miller, who had previously taken the postal exam and had one of the top scores was appointed to the post. Just prior to the time Miller was to have taken the position, the appointment was cancelled for reasons that have not been clearly defined.

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm meets a difficult problem this week, and then sidesteps.

Dear editor:

A friend of mine who didn't have much to do and less on his mind stopped by out here the other day and after complaining about the weather and high taxes said: "Say, if you were making a speech to a class of graduating students, what would you say?"

This is like asking somebody who has just gone bankrupt how he would pay off the national debt, and I ignored the question, but after he left I got to thinking about it.

Later on in the day I read a newspaper account of a speech a man made to a bunch of university graduates, and he pointed the picture of the world as so serious, so grave, so fraught with dangers and momentous uncertainties, so filled with the possibilities of the destruction of man if the wrong decisions are made, that for a moment my advice to anybody graduating from school this spring was: Don't do it. Get back in school. It's too dangerous out here in the world.

You'd think somewhere, sometime, a speaker would tell a graduating class: "This is a fine, wonderful world we've arranged for you. Be sure to take care of it," but so far none of them has had the nerve. They just warn em what's out there, then duck.

But then I got to thinking. If the present world, under the type of management us adults have been giving it, hasn't blown up, it ought to be safe for graduates to come on out and see what they can do with it.

Of course it won't be much, but then the standards already set aren't too high anyway.

Personally, I have never felt uneasy about turning over the world to a new set of graduates. In the first place, they don't have nearly the effect on the world as they figured they would. Doesn't make any difference how much education a graduate has, the world just doesn't seem too impressed at the start, and frequently not at the finish.

When it comes to giving advice to graduates, I shut the gate and retire to the back side of this bootleg farm.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Kyleene Hodges Marries In Formal Church Ceremony

Miss Norma Kyleene Hodges and James Howard Gentry exchanged wedding vows on June 18 in the Temple Baptist Church with the Rev. Charles Davenport, pastor of the Dawn Baptist Church, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gentry of Hereford.

Double ring vows were read before an altar banked with white flowers and greenery with wrought-iron candelabra holding white tapers. Miss Joy Wiman, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Carole Sneed who sang "Because," "Always," and "Wedding Prayer."

Miss Sandra Hodges served as her sister's maid of honor. She wore a white embossed taffeta sheath accented with an emerald green sash and green accessories and carried an arm bouquet of emerald green carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Cherry Holt; Miss Ann Gentry, sister of the groom; and Mrs. Terrell Hodges, sister-in-law of the bride. They were attired in sheath dresses of emerald green embossed taffeta with white accessories and carried bouquets of white carnations. The bridesmaids and the maid of honor all wore half-hats of emerald green satin with face veils.

Jerry Clark served as best man and ushers were Edwin Thomas, Charles Burris and Terrell Hodges, brother of the bride. Bob Gentry, brother of the groom, and Bill Lechner of Dallas, cousin of the groom, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Little Misses Pamela Thomas of Shallowater and Dianna Williams of Dallas were flower girls and carried baskets of rose petals. Their dresses were fashioned of emerald green with bouffant skirts and the waists were circled with white sashes.

Sammy Andrews of Seminole, cousin of the bride, and Mary Nell Williams, cousin of the groom, carried the rings on white satin pillows. Sammy wore dark pants and a white jacket with a green boutonniere and Mary Nell's dress was identical to those of the flower girls.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal wedding gown of white Rosepoint lace over taffeta. The scalloped sweetheart neckline was adorned with seed pearls and sequins. The dress was fashioned with a long pointed bodice and long sleeves pointed at the wrists. The extremely bouffant skirt boasted three tiers of Rosepoint lace with each tier edged with scallops of Alencon lace. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Hodges, mother of the bride, wore a yellow silk sheath with white accessories and Mrs. Gentry, mother of the groom, wore a rose embroidered linen dress with white accessories. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white hand-crocheted cloth over green and the bridesmaid's bouquets formed the centerpiece. The four-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with emerald green with a miniature bride and groom on top.

Miss Karen Sue Daniel registered the guests and Miss Deanna Kreighbauser presented piano music during the reception. Other members of the house party were Misses Carol Kent, Sandy Blythe, Paula Moore, Colleen Reeves and Suzanne Yarbro.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Austin, New Orleans, and points in Arkansas and Oklahoma, the bride was wearing a white cotton suit with red accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Both the bride and groom are 1961 graduates of Hereford High School and plan to attend the University of Texas next fall where the groom will major in engineering and the bride will study elementary education.

Mrs. Hodges was a member of Psi-Hi-Y and Future Homemakers of America. She was an office assistant and was elected as Football Queen attendant her senior year.

Hodges was a member of the National Honor Society, the football team, Spanish Club, Jr. Red Cross and went to Boys State his junior year. He was elected as runner-up to Mr. Hereford High School last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gentry hosted the rehearsal dinner in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Tables were laid with white cloths and centered with candles tied with maline. Members of the bridal party and relatives of the bride and groom were guests at the buffet dinner.

There is a poem called "The Human Touch," written by Spencer Michael Free, that expresses the situation better than I can:

'Tis the human touch in this world that counts,
The touch of your hand and mine,
Which means far more to the fainting heart
Than shelter and bread and wine;
For shelter is gone when the night is o'er,
And bread lasts only a day—
But the touch of the hand and the sound of the voice, Sing on in the soul always.
Dad will appreciate that hand more than he will be called "The old Man."

MILTON, N. C. — Folks thought that a black oak tree on the Connally's View Farm near here was the biggest in the country. It's 19 feet, 10 inches around at a point four and one-half feet above ground, rises 64 feet and has a leaf spread of 74 feet. Foresters have estimated its age at more than 500 years.

But State Forester F. H. Cliridge says it isn't the biggest black oak (quercus velutina) in the country. He says there's a bigger one listed by the American Forestry Assn., at Lloyd's Neck, Long Island, New York.

Jack Bradley Shows Slides About India At Optimist, Kiwanis Clubs

Jack Bradley of Hereford showed slides which he made in India to the Optimist Club Tuesday and again at the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday. Bradley named India as the country he enjoyed visiting most on his world tour earlier this year. He traveled in the country for 11 days.

India is about the size of Texas and California combined, Bradley commented. It is populated by approximately 400 million people and New Delhi is the capital city.

The climate and terrain of northern India is much like that of West Texas, Bradley explained. The slides illustrated the flat terrain and very short grass found in the northern regions. Bridges seen in the slides give evidence that some rain falls in the area but not in great amounts, Bradley said.

In the southern areas rainfall is abundant during the rainy seasons. Good crops of wheat are produced, Bradley pointed out.

The caste system is still in existence in India and the lower classes live under extremely poor conditions. There is enough water to improve sanitary conditions but hardly any soap for the common people to use, Bradley said. He suggested that soap would be one of the best good-will products the United States could possibly send to India.

Bradley was emphatic in his plea that Americans support missionary programs in India. The Indians are deserving of aid because they do everything possible to help themselves, he said.

The Indians are almost ruled by their religions, primarily Buddhism. Bradley saw goats being sacrificed and was told that young girls were sacrificed in the past.

When asked whether America or Russia would win the fight for world supremacy, Indians often replied that Buddha would win, Bradley commented. Cows are sacred in India and are never killed. Cows die from old age only, Bradley added. Large herds of cows often wander about the countryside unattended with vultures circling overhead.

Bradley called the Taj Mahal the "most beautiful building I have ever seen." Slides pictured the marble monument built by the Mogul emperor in memory of his favorite wife. Marble was carried 140 miles by oxcart and carved by hand from 1631-45.

Both the emperor and his wife are entombed in the structure which is open to visitors. It stands in Calcutta which was the dirtiest place he has ever seen, Bradley reported.

Bradley said that he had come to respect the Indians during his brief stay in their country.

The station is operated on a non-commercial, non-profit basis and is operating on funds appropriated especially for a two-year experiment.

PRIEST OF THE STIGMATA —A 40-year-old Italian Priest, whose hands, feet and sides since 1918 have had wounds resembling those of Christ, is told in a book, "Padre Pio," by Oscar de Liso, published by McGraw-Hill. The account says doctors and psychiatrists, who have studied the phenomenon for years, have been unable to explain it.

Increased Number Receiving Benefits

By the end of 1960, there were 19,233 people in the Texas Panhandle receiving old-age, survivors and disability insurance benefits, according to Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office. The total benefits paid to these people for December, 1960, was $1,129,145.

This is an increase in the number of people receiving benefits by about 10% per cent over the same month in the previous year, Geldon said.

Nationally, almost 15 million people were receiving about a billion dollars a month in old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits at the close of 1960.

Deaf Smith County people participate and share in this program along with the rest of the United States. In December, 1960, there were 644 persons in the county receiving monthly payments. These insurance benefits totaled $37,389 for that month.

For the entire State of Texas, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance payments at the end of December, 1960, were being paid to 599,032 persons at the rate of $33,439,869 per month. Benefits totaling $397,481,000 were paid in Texas during 1960.
