Guenyoh Soda, Japanese rancher visits Hereford

Japanese Rancher Here For Hereford Cattle Purchases

Blood lines of registered Hereford cattle in the very near future may be mixed in with a breed of Japanese black cattle as result of a Tokyo rancher's visit to Hereford and Deaf Smith County Monday.

The visitor was Guenyoh Soda, president of the Soda Ranch Company of Tokyo, Japan. He was in Hereford on the final day of a three-week visit he has been making in the United States.

Soda, perhaps the top agriculturist and one of the leading livestockmen in Japan, visited this area's livestock industry as a part of his study to improve the breed of Japanese cattle so that quality meat can be marketed within the price range of lower income groups of people in that country.

Japan, Soda explained that it takes from four to five years for the native black cattle of his country to reach maturity.

"As it takes so long for our cattle to mature, meat is so expensive that only the rich can afford it," Soda commented. "The general consumer wants quality meat at a cheaper price."

Soda learned that Hereford cattle mature in from one to 1 1/2 years, and was told by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association of Amarillo that some of the finest Herefords in the world come from Deaf Smith County.

Eating habits in Japan, the rancher said, have changed since World War II ended. Before the war, Japanese people ate more fish and rice, but 50 per cent of those people want meat today.

In an effort to speed up maturity of his native black cattle, he plans to cross the breed with Hereford and Angus cattle. "Texas is doing in from one to 1 1/2 years what it takes us from from four to five years to do," he commented.

A local rancher, Jack Renfro guided Soda on a brief tour of various Hereford ranches in this county. "He seemed impressed and has indicated that he plans to come back later to purchase Herefords from local ranches," Renfro said.

6 Extinguishers Reported Stolen

Hereford police this week are investigating the theft of six fire extinguishers from six Hereford Rural High School District buses reported last Saturday.

The fire extinguishers, valued at $14 each, were taken from buses which were on the Hereford High School parking lot Thursday night, police reported.

Last spring, a similar theft of extinguishers from buses was reported and the stolen items were later recovered by city police.

The recent theft was reported to police Saturday by Bob Wilson of Hereford, director of transportation for the school district.

After 50 Years, Fred Baird Returns To Work On Degree

BY DAN MUDD BRAND STAFF REPORTER

In the fall of 1911, a husky youth by the name of Fred Baird enrolled at West Texas State College in Canyon. He had two motives in mind — to take a course in business administration and to play on the college football team.

Fifty years later, in 1961, a fellow from Hereford named Fred Baird enrolled at West Texas State College. He had only one motive — to study. No football for him! Yes, the two Fred Bairds mentioned above actually are one and the same. Now tax assessor-collector for Hereford Rural High School District, the spry gentleman of 71 years decided that a half century of being away from the classroom as a student was about long enough.

City Seeks Bids For Proposed Street Work

In a brief session Monday, City Commissioners voted to advertise for bids on an estimated $210,000 worth of street construction and repair. Residents will vote on Tuesday, Feb. 21, on whether the city should issue $220,000 worth of bonds to pay for the new construction and repair.

Chamber Names New Chairmen

Committee heads for the 1961 Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce program of work were named Wednesday morning.

Directors of the Chamber approved chairmen nominated by president C. Palmer Norton during their regular breakfast meeting.

A slight change this year finds certain of the directors being named department heads to supervise certain related committees.

Those appointed include: Business Development Department will be supervised by director Sam Bell with the following committees: trade promotion, Marshall Wilson; industrial development, Henry Sears; conventions and tourists, Ernest Kendall; and harvest festival, Clint Formby.

Community Betterment Department will be headed by director Les Combs. His committee heads are: education, J. W. Robinson; water resources, J. D. Kirkland; beautification, Mrs. Irving Alexander; aviation, Morris Easley; and recreation, Melvin Young.

Director Bill Damonson will supervise the Agriculture and Livestock Department, assisted by these chairmen: agriculture, Harold Shearhart; Hereford breeders, Jack Renfro; commercial livestock, Dr. L. B. Barnett; and appreciation dinner, R. G. Peeler.

Legislative Action and Economic Education Department is headed by director Wayne Phillips. Heading his committee are: governmental affairs, Dr. L. A. Beyer; and economic understanding, Dr. H. A. Cavness.

Curtis Roach is director in charge of the Internal Affairs Department. His committees are headed by: membership and finance, Mrs. Dyalthia Benson. Committees for the budget, nominations and the annual banquet are outlined in the Chamber's constitution and by-laws.

Director Ray Cowser will head the Publicity and Public Relations Department. Russe L. Carver is head of the community advertising and Paul Stevens is chairman of the public relations committee.

George T. Jones also was named to head a special committee to study vegetable marketing.

During the Wednesday meeting, directors also approved a budget of $18,000 for the ensuing 12 months of Chamber operation. This is the same amount as was budgeted last year.

Decision on whether the city should install a new telephone fire warning system for its volunteer fire department was tabled for additional study and consideration.

City manager Dudley Bayne issued a breakdown of the estimated cost of each of the street improvements sought. Total construction cost for the city would be an estimated $209,869.

This figure does not include election expense, bond printing and sale, publication costs and advertising for bids. The figure, however, does include engineering costs.

Bids are being called for at this time, Bayne said, to take advantage of current low prices on street and paving work. He said the current low price would likely be increased when the Texas Highway Department starts letting more contracts. The city would be under no obligation and out no costs if the bond issue is not approved.

The breakdown shows the following cost estimates: city's share for paving Grand Avenue, $11,431; repair of numerous intersections, $23,170; city's share of paving on Thirteenth Street, $1,699; parking lot paving at the Hereford Community Center, $3,286; seal coating of numerous city streets, 154,468 square yards, $23,170; hot mix overlay on some streets, 237,612 square yards, $118,806; widening of Third Street from 31 feet to 47 feet, $39,000; storm drainage at Park Avenue and Avenue K, $3,318; hot mix overlay on Blewins Street, $2,667; hot mix overlay on Irvin Street, $3,000; and hot mix overlay on Mable Street, $772.

If approved, the bond issue would increase city taxes by 7 1/2 per cent, or 8.97 cents per $100 assessed valuation. The present city tax rate is $1.25 per $100 valuation. The bond issue would raise this to about $1.34 per $100 assessed valuation.

With only Commissioners Gid Brown and Dr. R. R. Willis present, action was deferred on the proposed fire warning system would tie in to the telephone of each fire station and nature of the fire station. By dialing an automatic play-back machine in the fire station, by dialing a small combination of numbers, telephone, each fireman's house

Regional Boxing Titles To Trio

Three Hereford boxers survived one of the toughest tournaments in the history of Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves by becoming 1961 champions in their respective divisions Saturday night.

Golden Gloves counts from Hereford: Baird, welterweight; Rogers, high school heavyweight division; and Elmer Clement, 175-pound open.

Rogers and Clement were the only boxers in the four-day tournament to successfully defend their 1960 titles.

Clement scored a quick knockout over Gene Weaver of Deaf Smith County to win his division. He used an overhand right to canvas his lanky opponent in 1:51 of the first round.

Clement will be this region's entry at state Golden Gloves finals in Fort Worth in about two weeks.

Welter took a decision win over Gene Kerwin of Borger to win the 160-pound high school division.

Rogers, undefeated in his two years of boxing, defended his title without losing a glove. He won by default over Bobby Pierce of Lamesa. The 230-pound glover has had quite a bit of difficulty this year finding opponents who will get in the ring with him.

Donnie Lesly of Hereford, fighting a fairly even match with Ronnie Morgan of Deaf Smith, lost by a TKO with only 20 seconds of the fight remaining. Referee Ladell Pugh of Amarillo stopped the bout when Lesly sustained a cut over his left eye, giving the 135-pound open division victory to Morgan.

Hereford boxing coaches Don McNeese and Melvin Young entered eight local scrappers in the tourney. Fights were held in Amarillo Sports Arena on nights of Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday last week.

Trophies will be presented to Golden Gloves champions at a later date.

Richard Leggett Critically Hurt In Auto Mishap

Richard Leggett of Hereford is improving slowly this week from critical injuries received in a car wreck near Dallas.

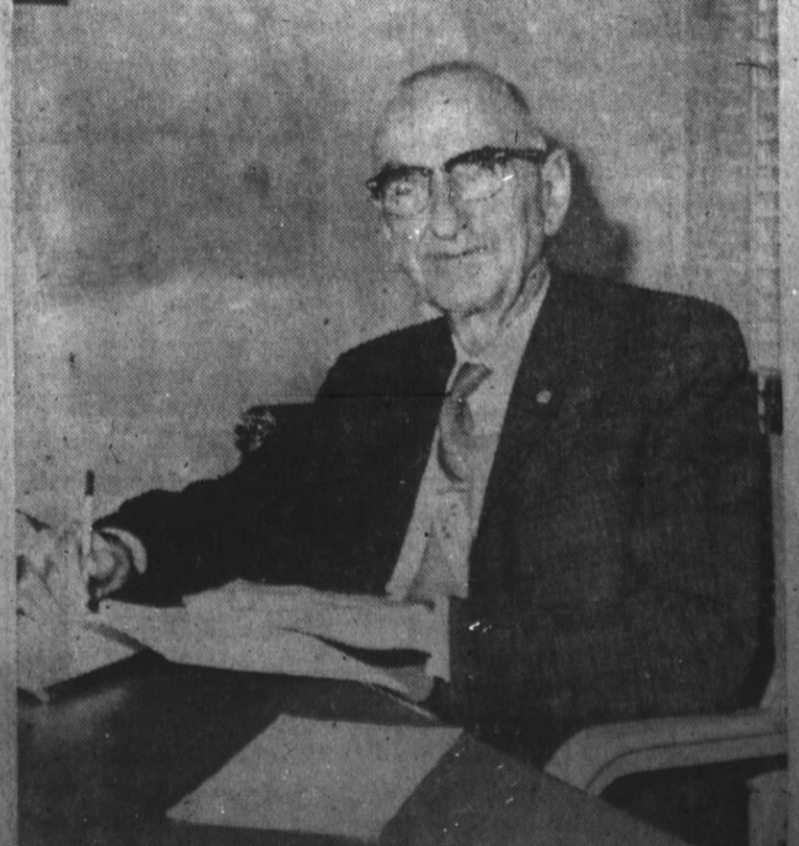

The 20-year-old graduate of Hereford High School sustained a broken pelvis, concussion and severe head lacerations Thursday night. A 1956 model sedan he was driving struck a sign post and rolled 400 feet down an expressway. Investigating officers said Leggett apparently had gone to sleep as he neared his destination.

Leggett is the son of Mrs. Olean Leggett, high school librarian, and a brother of Mrs. Don Little, both of Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Little and Mrs. Leggett flew down to Denton last week after the accident. Attending physicians at Flow Memorial Hospital in Denton were expected to allow Leggett to be brought to Hereford the latter part of this week.

The accident occurred just outside Lewisville, midway between Denton and Dallas. For the past three semesters, Leggett had been a student at Oklahoma City University, where he was majoring in journalism. He was sports writer for the OCU campus paper and also worked nights at the Daily Oklahoman.

A 1959 graduate of Hereford High, Leggett lettered two years in football and also wrote sports for the Hereford Brand during his senior year.

Relatives here said Leggett had dropped out of college and was on his way to Dallas and a job with the Dallas Morning News. He left here about 9 a.m. Feb. 2, went to Oklahoma City and was almost to Dallas when the accident occurred.

Fred Baird goes back to school ience in working with large figures through auditing and bookkeeping in all three governmental agencies in this city. In high school and college, he took courses in algebra, geometry and trigonometry, but he has never taken calculus or other more advanced courses in the field of mathematics.

However, he has to contend with an annual million-dollar-plus school budget which presents some problems that would give a Cal-Tech math major a nervous breakdown.

Baird has been school tax assessor-collector since January, 1948. He enrolled for the night class at WT this year "as I feel a tax assessor must be well-informed on all phases of tax appraisals," Baird explained.

And it doesn't bother him a bit that the young teacher of the evening course is his junior by more than 45 years. "He seems to be a good teacher, and I expect to learn a lot," Baird pointed out. Baird, like many youngsters in the early 1900's, had to quit school and go to work. He left school while a high school sophomore.

In 1913-14, he taught a private school for boys who also had quit school before completing their public school education. He talks about his students as if they were his own sons, and he is still proud of every one of them.

"One of them I'll bet you know," Baird said. "He's one of your County Commissioners — J. T. Gunn."

Another of his students, Bryan Edwards, became president of Texas Cattlemen's Association. Edwards now lives west of Fort Worth.

"I sure enjoyed teaching in that school," Baird said. "I don't know if the school ever had a name."

A school superintendent once asked Baird if his duties as tax assessor-collector ever became monotonous.

"It would if you let it," Baird answered. "But the monotony is taken out of the work when you see youngsters running and yelling on a playground at an elementary school, and a few years later you watch the same youngsters walk across the stage to receive their high school diplomas, and all the time know that you're a part of it."

While Baird watched the 1960 class receiving their diplomas last spring, he suddenly recalled: "Those seniors were only first graders when I became school tax collector!"

He winked as he added that he would get to watch another class graduate next May — another class which he has watched evolve from the first grade during his tenure as tax assessor-collector.

"A six-year-old child is the most important person in the school system," Baird said. "He is the only excuse for my being here, and he is who we spend that million-dollar budget on."

Baird was born Nov. 1, 1889, in Grayson County, Tex. His family moved to Hereford in November, 1900.

From 1914 through 1919, Baird worked as bookkeeper or office manager in several towns and cities, including El Paso, Dallas and Galveston and parts of Louisiana.

For 10 years, from 1920-1930, he was in the U. S. Army, and discharged as a staff sergeant. He served in the coast artillery branch and was stationed two years in the Philippines, two years in Hawaii, a year on the east coast and five years on the west coast.

He and his brother, Mike Baird of Hereford, were partners on Mike's farm southeast of the city from 1930 to 1933. He was auditor for Deaf Smith County, the City of Hereford, Hereford schools and for Parmer County from 1933 to 1937.

From 1936-1943, he was chief deputy in Deaf Smith County Tax Office. He was county judge here in 1943-46. In 1947, he said, "I kinda loafed," taking a vacation in the Rio Grande Valley. Part of that year, however, he helped audit books.

perhaps is one of the faces of the Hereford Whites. His face is familiar to all avid football, basketball and baseball fans in Hereford and the surrounding area.

It's possible that his deep interest in local sports stems from the fact that he was left guard on Hereford's first football team. He started for Hereford College, and later played starting left guard for WT grid squad.

When he played for WT in 1911, the Canyon team was beaten by Hereford High. Hereford High had a Baird of its own — Mike.

"That wasn't hardly fair, though," the tax collector jested. "Mike didn't even go to Hereford High that year. He just played on its football team."

He was quick to point out that non-students playing on early high school football teams was common as there were not enough students to field a whole squad.

"My happiest years have been when I was associated with the school in some capacity," Baird said. "Next time you get a chance, take a few minutes to watch children on a playground — then you'll know what I mean."

A UNIQUE PROGRAM was presented to the noon meeting of Hereford Lions Club recently when Hoper Scoggins of Borger Lions Club described the pyramids of Egypt. He pointed out that it was seemingly impossible for Egyptians to build pyramids, but that by some unknown process, they did. The speaker, who was introduced by Virgil Justice of Hereford Lions Club, was accompanied by Frank Smith. Guest at the meeting was exchange student at Hereford High, Erik Okseter. (Staff Photo)

However, Hereford hit an amazing 37 points during the quarter. Just seven came from free throws, as the Herdsmen hit 15 field goals. Reserves baffled the Cats with a fast-breaking, ball-stealing offense that netted almost endless points.

A third technical foul was called during the period on the Littlefield bench.

Dennis Hodges was high for Hereford with 16 points, eight each in the third and fourth periods. Thomas Coffman and Carl Miller added 14 each. Bobby Barker paced the Cats with 16 points while De Pierce got 14, all but two of them on fourth period free throws.

Under the present system, the fire marshal can ring eight home phones at one time and repeat the fire's location. Each of these firemen is responsible for alerting other firemen.

Speed with which the fire could be reported to all volunteers is the primary advantage of the proposed system. The city presently is paying $12.50 per month for the eight-phone system.

Proposed system would cost $100 installation for the base station and $100 per month rental on the unit. Charge would be $2 each for the volunteers' telephones.

Commissioners approved installation of street lights for the 800 block of Blevins, which now has more than 75 per cent occupancy.

One of our Texas congressmen has been sending the Bradp the daily Senate Journal for the 57th Session. We have noticed with great interest that two concurrent Senate Resolutions were offered on Jan. 25 to name a Poet Laureate and an alternate Poet Laureate for the state. Presumably the alternate would take over when the P.L.'s rhymes wouldn't. This is a move that delights us for a couple of reasons. First, it doesn't call for a salary and won't cost us taxpayers anything. Second, it gives proper recognition to all us rhyme-writers. Therefore, with the proper number of whereases, therefores, and resolved:

Congregation Here Planning Building

Work is underway on a new meeting place for the Hereford Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, it was announced this week.

Lloyd Reddoch, president of the group, said this is only one of many new buildings for Christian activity being built world-wide.

"This new building should be a great stimulation to the preaching activity of Jehovah's Witnesses in Hereford," Reddoch said. "Money for the construction comes from voluntary contributions. Much of the labor involved in construction of the building will be done voluntarily by the Witnesses themselves."

"The Witnesses believe," Reddoch said, "as Jesus told his disciples, 'freely you have received, give freely.' Jehovah's Witnesses believe this applies to their preaching activity as well as to material contributions."

The Kingdom Hall, as the new building will be called, is to be located at 319 Avenue I.

SCALE MODEL of Kingdom Hall, a new meeting place for the Hereford Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to be located at 319 Ave. I, was unveiled this week by Lloyd G. Reddoch, presiding minister of the group. The building, to be constructed of haydite block, will be 22 by 48 feet and is to seat 80 persons. It will include a book room, auditorium and rest rooms. Contractor is R. D. Erhard of Amarillo, and the building should be completed in about 60 days. (Staff Photo)

The jury gave its guilty verdict after witnesses testified that the driver staggered from his car and up to a dead cow, killed, when struck by his vehicle, and remarked in slurred tones: "This man seems to be hurt pretty bad. We better get him to a hospital."

department. Since its organization, it has fought four local fires but as the town grows, new equipment is desperately needed. A committee, O. E. Lemke, John Lewis and Manuel Lovelless, has been appointed to Dallas as soon as the roads clear to look into the possibility of purchasing a fire truck. Since this is a community project it will of necessity have to be financed by the town folks.

The boys voted to meet each first Thursday night. Newly-elected officers are: Fire Chief, Grady Skaggs; First Assistant, Joe Brownlee; Second Assistant, Wilbur Harris; Secretary-treasurer, N. C. Edmonds; and Fire Marshall, Bill James. A grievance committee was set up to attend to smaller matters which arise between meetings and is composed of Grady Skaggs, N. C. Edmonds, Fred Harwood, Manuel Lovelless and Ernest Frank.

The first meeting of the Boy Scouts has been called for Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. Scoutmaster Skaggs says "If you are in the 11-12-13 age group and like outdoor camping and fun, you are welcome."

Cub Scouts met in Den meeting Thursday where "Genius Kits" were passed to each boy. Each boy and his dad are to try to make something from the kit to be on display for banquet night, Feb. 27.

BY WAIN MILLER
BRAND SPORTS WRITER
Winning their 17th game, the Stanton Dogies defeated the Canyon eighth graders 47-31 here Monday night. Stanton goes to Littlefield Thursday night for one of its two remaining conference games.

Gaining a 12-7 lead during the first quarter, the Dogies faced little competition during the game. Frank Cain netted 12 points as Robert Strange totaled 11 to pace the Dogies.

Stanton maintained a 22-16 lead at the half. With Johnnie Dowd leading the way with nine points, the Dogies teamed up for 19 points in the third quarter to keep a 41-22 advantage.

Robert Strange canned two field goals in the fourth quarter. Jerry McCaslin added a two-pointer to round out the scoring column for Stanton at 47-31.

Marred with two losses to Estacado of Plainview, Stanton has a 4-2 conference record this year. Stanton plays its last two games at Littlefield Thursday and at Coronado Feb. 16. Stanton has outdone Littlefield 41-24 in a previous meeting. The Dogies have taken 34-21 and 40-27 wins from Coronado.

Canyon's freshman team cancelled out at the last minute for the scheduled ninth grade game here Monday night. It seems the Canyon team forgot its previous engagement and played Dimmitt instead.

The latest rage around the country seems to be "do it yourself" dry cleaning. Several of the big manufacturers have come out with machines which operate on a basis similar to helpy-selvy laundries, and the cleaners are catching on fast. The one fly in the ointment rests on the fact that the housewife does the pressing, and the cost seems to run about 50 percent of the old tailor shop system. Oddly enough, this trend is a direct reverse to that of the food business, where more and more pre-cooked foods are finding favor, and the "do it yourself" angle seems to be on the way out.

Personally, I do not think it will last too long. A passing fad, so to speak. The reason: most housewives seem to think they already have enough to do without adding the chore of pressing all the family garments, especially pop's pants.

Congratulations to Mrs. Earl Plank as "Citizen of the Year." Mrs. Plank truly is a remarkable person, as many people already know. You are liable to run into the lady anywhere you may roam. A few years ago I happened to be in the basement of the main building at West Texas State College in an effort to locate the printing shop. About halfway down the corridor I saw a lady working diligently on some old furniture - and it turned out to be Mrs. Plank.

"I thought I would like to learn the business," she said. "so I signed up for the course. It really is a lot of fun."

And that is one of the best things about Mrs. Plank. Anything she decides to do "is fun;" consequently, she does a jam-up good job. I appreciate all of her numerous accomplishments, but I think perhaps her greatest achievement is her outlook on life, which is the basic reason she achieves so much in so many fields. The only thing that made me unhappy about the whole thing was the fact that she comes from Oklahoma. I have kidded these "Okies" so long that it goes against the grain to admit that one of them could possibly be outstanding.

Dr. Clarence E. Hicks noticed the little item concerning luminous dial radiation from watches and was kind enough to send a sheet from the "Medical Tribune." The whole deal seems to have sprung from the use of cobalt instead of radium on some items, including luminous push buttons, especially in the cheaper articles. Now, at least, they think they have it whipped.

Abe Martin is having his teeth pulled to make way for a set he says he has ordered from Sears and Roebuck, and the process seems to be making him more mellow and philosophical than ever. Abe was telling me Tuesday that the climate in this country has undergone drastic changes during the past 35 years. He says when he first came to this country you hardly ever saw any kind of birds, except sparrows, crows and an occasional hoot owl.

"Robins and birds like that just didn't make it into this part of the country," avows Abe. He says it was a way too cold.

I tried to convince him that it was because we have trees these days, whereas all of this country was landscape and grass back when he got chased out of Central Texas. I never did convince him, though. Like most old timers, Abe is pretty stubborn, especially when he gets his neck bowed. It is getting so bad that even Charley Morris seldom wins an argument with Abe anymore. Maybe the "mall order" teeth will soften him up a bit more.

I notice the new First Baptist preacher, B. L. Davis, gets around a lot of places, which makes me feel better. At least the places where I hang out couldn't be so terribly bad if a preacher drops in once in a while. At least I can tell my wife, "now, this is what the preacher said . . ."

Verita Sanders, former Brand employee, is a fine young lady, but she sure has a lot to learn about public relations. She was standing with us in the chow line at the C-C banquet the other night and, right in front of my wife and daughter, she came out with a yarn about the time she resigned her post to return to college.

"I was delegated to train Ruby Brewton as my succes-or," Verita recalled, "and after about a couple of weeks Ruby and I went out for coffee one afternoon. On the way to the drug store, we passed Jimmie, who spoke to us, and continued on up the street.

"Who is that man?" asked Ruby. "I see him every time I drink coffee - and I've even noticed him around The Brand office once or twice."

"That," replied Verita, "is the boss. You'll like him. It's a rule they have at The Brand Office!"

The upshot of the whole thing is that I am getting less and less sympathy around the house, when I come dragging home, footsore and weary after a hard day at the office. Sometimes I think the male of the species is fading away faster than any of us realize. I sure do.

It reminds me of a friend who hired a secretary recently, and laid down the law about the use of slang words which grated on his nerves. "There are two words I never want to hear you use," he said. "One is 'lousy,' the other is 'swell.'"

"It's OK by me," answered the young lady. "What are the two words?"

American Heritage

BY SONDBA BRUMLEY

The freedom that we know today did not just happen. Our forefathers believed that all people were created equal and that everyone had the right to govern themselves democratically. They had the courage to stand up and fight for what was right, even if it meant their lives. They fought for a democratic way of life so that their children and descendants might have a better way of life.

Patriotism is the feeling of loyalty, love, and faith in your country. When people lose these feelings toward their country, the country becomes weak. That is why we, as Americans, each individually, must be ever interested in the affairs of our nation and its welfare.

Today we go on our merry ways, living in our own small worlds, feeling safe and secure. We don't even stop to think about what goes on in the world around us.

How many of us read a newspaper daily? Very few of us imagine. Do we really take an interest in politics as we really should? How many people listened to the presidential campaigns on television? How many voted? It is our privilege and duty to vote and set up our government and elect our leaders.

Instead of complaining about our leaders and how our government is run, we ought to do something about it. We should get men in Congress that are well qualified, dependable, and well informed on national and world affairs.

You say, "But what can I do? I am only one person. My vote wouldn't make any difference." That's where you are wrong. If you give your opinions and talk to everyone you know about your ideas, you will find that many of them agree with you and that starts the ball rolling.

The American people had better wake up and start taking an interest in their country and quit taking this great nation for granted, or they will not be free for very many years.

Khrushchev said that, in ten years the United States will be under Communist domination and they won't even have to fire a shot. They will conquer us by infiltration; they will have trained Communist agents stationed in our churches, towns, clubs, universities, etc. giving out their propaganda. It will be so slow and sneaky and subtle that we won't even know what's really going on right under our noses.

I think every young person and adult should be taught sometime in the near future what Communism is and how we detect agents in America that are trying to cause rebellion. If we know what to look for we can fight it.

I think if everyone would start thinking more about our relations with other countries of the world and doing more to create an interest in the government and welfare of our country, our nation would be stronger and better informed on what is going on in the world.

Whiteface Whims

Perfume salesgirl to blonde, just a word of advice; don't use this stuff if you are only bluffing."

A first-grader was telling his father how his school day began. "First, you have to be in your seat when the bell rings. Next, we say our morning prayer, give the pledge to the flag, and sing America. Then Mr. York, our principal, gives the commercial."

Wife: "You know, I suspect that my husband has a love affair with his stenographer."
Maid: "I don't believe it. You're just trying to make me jealous."

"Madam, your husband must have complete and absolute rest."
"Well, doctor, he won't listen to me."
"A very good beginning, madam, a very good beginning."

Mrs. Windrip used to wonden where her husband spent his evenings; then she came home early one night and there he was.

plus of women that really should have them worried.

May We Suggest:

Sophomores be informed that slim jims aren't worn to school. Second period art class students read their assignment.

Ginny Higgins learn to leave her senior ring on in assemblies to prevent a big commotion.

Sophomores and juniors not be too eager to volunteer to be slaves.

Juniors, next year's seniors, order their senior rings to fit them.

Mrs. Neill give easier civics test, let her classes know when she plans to give one, and review for them.

A certain junior girl appreciate her gifts from her friends more, instead of throwing them on the floor.

Waiting For Spring
BY JOYCE NEFF

Winter wasn't made for kissing Silly, don't you know
You should fall in love in springtime.

Fold your hands and wait for springtime.
Read a book and wait for springtime.

Don't hurry so.
I read a book last night
Sat alone the night before.

Snowflakes settled round my doorstep,
Wind slammed the door.
Now I'm tired of reading novels,

Now my door is wide -
Open wide for love and springtime.

Who's to blame if shambling springtime
Hesitates outside?
Conversational Claustrophobia
Do my eyes appear glassy,
My color like chalk?
I've been closed in a room
Full of very small talk.

Coming Events

Clubicity

The Library Club discussed Wednesday Feb. 1, which members will be selected to represent Hereford at the state convention in San Antonio, Feb. 4 and 5. The four members that will be going will be announced next week.

Barbara Tiefert brought the Future Nurses meeting to order Wednesday during activity period. They voted on the new point system which was revised from the old one. The members decided not to go to state conference but will go instead to Lubbock on March 4 to tour the hospital.

On Wednesday, Feb. 1, the F. F. A. met in the auditorium. After the meeting was called to order, a few announcements were made and the rest of the time was spent in committee meetings.

Miss Guess Who

"People who don't like you for being yourself," is the pet peeve of Miss Guess Who for this week. This 16-year-old beauty was born June 28, 1944 and lives at 112 Centre. She has lived in Hereford all of her life.

Whenever she has time she enjoys going swimming, riding horses, or skiing.

High school has been her biggest disappointment and to the underclassmen she tells them to make the best of school and hurry to get out. When asked she said, "H.S. could be improved very much."

After graduation she wants to make a long trip to Europe and go to college.

Last week's Guess Who was Nancy Edwards.

Valentine's Day Activities Set

'Slave Day' Auction Helps Council More Than The Girls

"Slave Day" was a big success for the Student Council as well as for the buyers. Twenty girls were auctioned off Friday, Feb. 3, bringing a total of $74.80. Joy Story brought the highest bid of $8.10 from Jimmy Kassahn.

Mickey Bonasio bought Jerri

Senior Class Personalities

"Toverarich" is what Ginny Higgins is called by her best friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Higgins of Dawn.

She says her favorite teacher was Mr. Garner because he was always so considerate. Her favorites are: subject, math; color, brown; holiday, Christmas; actor, Tony Perkins; song, "Summer Place"; and day of the week, Sunday, "because I can sleep late."

She represented Hereford High School at Girls State last summer. She plans to go to college and obtain her Mrs. degree after graduation. "H.S. is a pretty good place," was her reply to what she thought of Hereford High School. She says that going steady is definitely for the birds and she advises lower classmen to never get mixed up in the mess.

"Always plan for the future and never neglect studies," is the good advice that Franklin Watkins gives to underclassmen. Franklin is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton S. Watkins of Summerfield.

Franklin has some interesting hobbies. He likes archery "because it develops skill and aim, and just for the sport of it," photography because he likes to take pictures of people, places, and things; and piano playing because, "I can get any type of music I want."

Franklin's pet peeve is for a teacher or someone giving instructions to pop his lips when he talks.

Of Hereford High School, Franklin states, "I think it's the finest school I've ever attended." After graduation he plans to go to college, but has no particular one in mind.

Some of Franklin's favorites are: sport, football; food, pizza; movie, "The Ten Commandments"; book, Quo Vadis; subjects, physics and choir; day of the week, Friday because "I can look into the weekend"; and holiday, "Christmas, because if it's observed in the right way it makes a lot of people happy."

Franklin would like to live to be 80 or 85 years old so he could see what big changes will have been brought about during the times and his secret ambition is to "learn a little about everything."

Noland for $7.00, Jackie Nunneley was sold for $6.50 to Jackie McNeese, and Roxie Faughn went to Joe Shultz for $6.30. Four girls were also sold for $5.00 apiece.

The girls who volunteered to be auctioned off were Sharon Hill, Judy Bradley, Suzanne Langley, Connie Kent, Judi Stone, Jenny Holt, Judy Kriegshauser, Judy Shulte, Kay Seaman, Linda Edwards, Kay Lemons, Jerri Noland, Patti Skypala, Jan Reese, Roxie Faughn, Janie McBroom, Caroline Brumley, Nancy Edwards, Jackie Nunneley, and Joy Story.

Some of the many things that the girls had to do were: Sharon Hill and Suzy Langley had to fix supper for Walker and Randy. Most of the girls were to wash and clean out the boys' cars as well as other cars.

"Saturday night there was a dance in honor of the Slave Day girls. The girls that were slaves were to be dressed as slaves.

Assembly Film On Communism

"Project Abolition," a film on Communism, was shown in the High School auditorium, Tuesday, Jan. 31, during assembly. The film, sponsored by the Amarillo American Legion, told of the attempt by the House Committee on Un-American Activities to uncover Communist infiltration in California.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Mrs. Durham Likes Her Teaching, Exchange Work

During the summer Mrs. J. Durham spends most of her time catching up on the things she doesn't get to do in the winter, and visiting with friends.

Mrs. Durham went to the University of Texas for three years. She did home demonstration work for four years before going back to school. She received her B. A. degree from Sul Ross State College, her master's degree from West Texas State and has done additional work at Texas Tech.

"I enjoy cooking, planting, and people, especially young people," says Mrs. Durham. She has been teaching for twelve years. She taught in grade school and junior high before coming to high school.

Mrs. Durham said she had wanted to be a homemaking teacher since she was in the seventh grade. Her secret ambition has always been to be able to play the piano and sing.

"Everybody has to have basic things for making a home. It is part of life," Mrs. Durham emphasized. Her goal in teaching homemaking is to teach so that the students will gain enough from the course to be better homemakers.

As chairman of the American Field Service, Mrs. Durham got into the (student) exchange program on the ground floor. Mrs. Durham also belongs to the Wesleyan Service Guild, Business and Professional Women's Club, Lone Star Study Club, Classroom Teachers Association, Texas State Teachers Association, American Homemakers Association, and Delta Kappa Gamma.

Mr. and Mrs. Durham live at 316 Western Avenue. They have two children, James and Mary. James received his master's degree from Texas A&M in biochemistry. Mary graduated from Texas University Medical school where she majored in x-ray technology. She now lives at Daltart.

Three seniors from Palo Duro High School, Amarillo, were recently notified that they are finalists in their respective scholarships. Their notifications were based on their results in the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test.

A senior girl at Tascosa High School, Amarillo, was announced the 1961 winner of the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award. She had the highest scholastic standing in science at Tascosa.

A senior girl of the Pampa High School won the 1961 Betty Crocker Homemaking of Tomorrow Contest. She was one of six senior girls taking a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes; she made the highest score, according to her counselor.

A senior girl at Claude High School is participating for a $1000 scholarship in Future Teachers of America. The qualifications are that the participant be a senior in a Texas high school, a member of an FTA Club and must be planning on teaching as a career.

Cub Scout Campfire

And A Camp Trailer

For their annual Blue and Gold Banquet, Cub Scouts of Pack 51 and their dads were asked to build "anything" from a challenging list of materials, collectively called a "genius kit."

After wrestling with not quite enough materials, most of the dads were ready to admit that it would take a genius to build anything worthwhile. But some of the Cubs and their dads made ingenious use of the materials available to create these items. Products of the genius kit sessions were used as center pieces for the tables at the banquet.

To exercise your own thought processes for a time, here is a list of the materials included in a "genius kit." The accompanying photographs show how they were used in some cases.

GENIUS KIT

Take a 1" x 6" x 10" board, 1 No. 2 tin can, two corks, two spoons, 1 wire coat hanger, 8 1" nails, 12 tacks, six pipe cleaners, 1/2" dowel 12" long, 24" of string, a piece of cloth 10" x 12", and a small tube of glue.

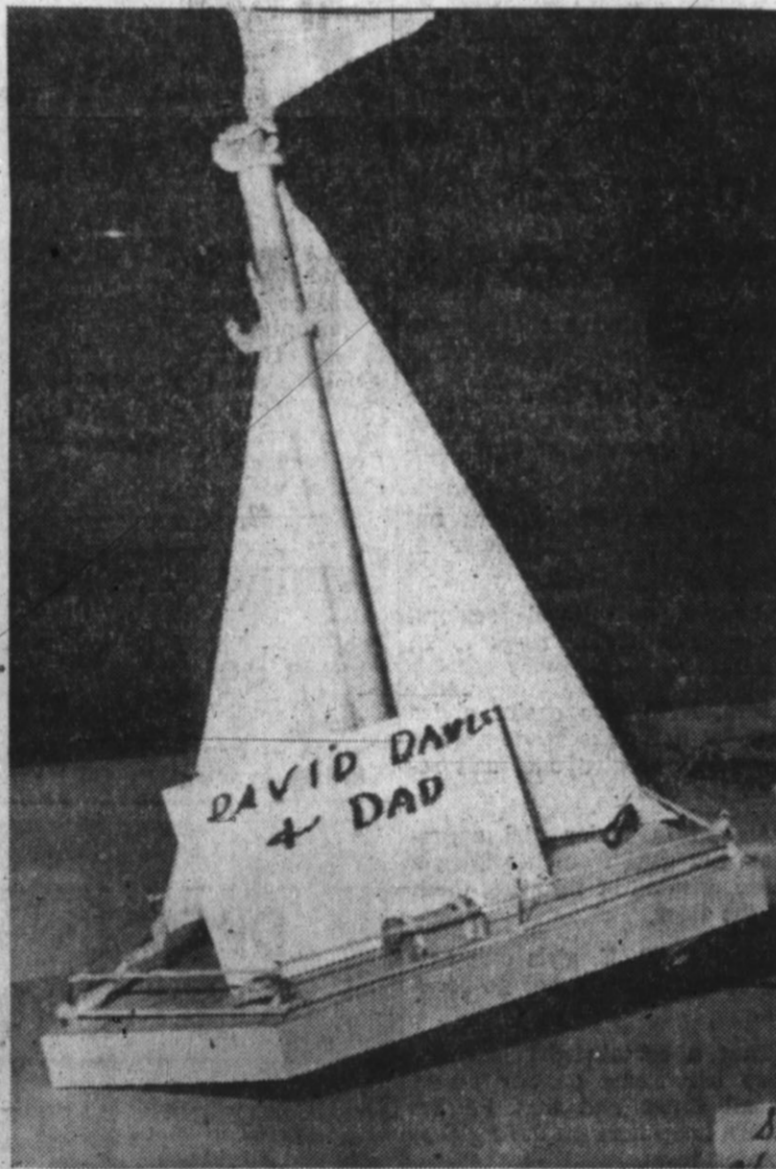

You don't have to use all the materials, but none can be added. The materials can be sawed, hammered, cut, sanded or glued.

That, coupled with some ingenuity and a lot of patience, becomes a "genius kit" product.

Sadie Lee Oliver 4-H Club Meeting Topic Is Health

The Sadie Lee Oliver 4-H Club met in the home of Teresa Radd on Feb. 3, Kathryn Flood presided over the meeting.

The program was given by Mrs. Harold Rudd, which was on "Health." Mrs. Rudd explained that it was important to keep records of illness and shots that the girls have had. The girls will meet in the community house Friday, Feb. 10, to practice their stunt.

Refreshments were served, which they all enjoyed. A decorated Valentine cake and strawberry ice cream were served.

Present for the meeting were Janice Turrentine, Grace Ann Flood, Teresa Radd, Kathryn Flood and Lynn Rudd. There was one visitor, Becky Jesko.

GRACE at MEAT

Bobby Burns calls us to thank God for food which He provides. The Jewish people use a beautiful grace, "We praise Thee, O God, who in kindness sustainest the world... Amen." They could well add their other prayer, "May our table be an altar of loving kindness, and our home a temple in which Thy spirit of goodness dwells." Many families use a poem, but more often this simple grace, — "Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us in Thy service; through Jesus Christ our Lord... Amen."

Every family would be blessed if they would say:
"Back of the loaf is the snowy flour, And back of the flour the mill, And back of the mill is the wheat and the shower, And the Sun and Thy Father's will."

But better than all learned prayers is our own, simply spoken directly to God.
Do you say Grace at Meat?

and international issues, as viewed by Mr. Kennedy as the new head of state.
He did not beg the question, but spoke straight from the shoulder. His observations were hard, cold approaches to tough problems. Whether one liked or disliked his observations or his conclusions, no one would doubt that he pursued the accepted practice of the umpire at the baseball game; he called them as he saw them.
His message was sprinkled throughout with clear and concise statements of basic generalities to which most everyone could subscribe. For example, in the very beginning of the speech he said, and I quote:

"To state the facts frankly is not to despair the future nor indict the past. The prudent heir takes careful inventory of his legacies, and gives a faithful accounting to those whom he owes an obligation of trust. And, while the occasion does not call for another recital of our blessings and assets, we have no greater asset than the willingness of a free and determined people, through its elected officials, to face all problems frankly and meet all dangers free from panic or fear."

And another example of a profound statement which could not be misunderstood regardless of the language in which it might be spoken, and I again quote:

"On the Presidential Coat of Arms, the American eagle holds in his right talon the olive branch, while in his left is held a bundle of arrows. We intend to give equal attention to both."
To these and other such quotations the entire populace of America and free men everywhere can subscribe. It is to the specifications as to the means and manners of fulfilling these policies where we find the sources of differences and arguments. I am sure that there will be great controversy during the year 1961 concerning the avenues to be travelled by our government and our people in meeting and resolving our many problems, both domestic and international. We in the Congress look forward to many heated debates, with the votes as close, if not closer, than was the 217 to 212 vote on the proposal to enlarge the Committee on Rules.

Some of the Members thought perhaps the President had reference to these potential battles when he said: "Life in 1961 will not be easy."
There were few, if any, subjects or primary concern to the nation which were not treated at length or, at least, by reference in the State of the Union message. The President ran the gauntlet from the economic problems of the farmer, the laborer, small business, large business; thence to unemployment, the dollar gap, the outflow of gold, foreign investments, and inflation.

He then moved to the current Federal budget for 1961 and that submitted for Fiscal 1962. He discussed the housing problem and referred to a new "Housing and Urban Affairs Department." This will be highly controversial, but will probably be adopted because of the overwhelming concentration of population in the metropolitan areas, which will be the main recipients of the benefits flowing from such a department.

He moved into the problems of the schools and the shortage of classrooms and teachers and a number of studies which he feels have been neglected. He touched on medical care, which is assured of a controversialial trip either in or out of Congress; thence to our polluted streams, juvenile delinquency, our military status, our diplomatic problems, and the measures which he feels will be most effective in fighting the cold war against Communism.
It was different from the proverbial Mother Hubbard, which was said to have covered everything and touched nothing. It not only covered everything, but touched it with austerity. WALTER ROGERS, MEMBER OF CONGRESS, 18TH DISTRICT OF TEXAS

Child Study Club Looks At Gadgets

The Hereford Child Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Frank Farmer for a regular meeting.
Mrs. George Springer was in charge of the program, "Kitchen Gadgets." On the display table were the latest in "gadgets" for convenience, in addition to new versions of the old ones. She explained the uses of each, and the different ways each could be used. It was noted particularly that stainless steel has replaced many items formerly made of aluminum and glass, thereby increasing its usefulness by several years.
Members present were the hostess, Mrs. Tommy Braddy, Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, Mrs. A. J. Reese, Mrs. Ed Wilson Jr., Mrs. L. E. Taylor and Mrs. Marvin Knox. Also present were Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, Mrs. Morris Easley, Mrs. Art Stoy and Mrs. George Springer.
The club welcomed two new members, Mrs. Alvin Smith and Mrs. Virginia Wheeler.

ALBUQUERQUE VISITORS
Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Lane of Albuquerque, N.M., spent the weekend visiting in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Hodges.
