

Unemployment Stable Despite Decline In Rates Across Texas

Hereford and the surrounding area still experiencing one of the best unemployment rates in the state indicating a stable control of local economic conditions compared with other parts of the nation.

FIGURES RELEASED statewide and here show that Hereford has about a 3.3 per cent unemployment rate according to Lester Rape, Hereford director of the Texas Employment Commission (TEC). "Our unemployment rate is about the same as the last time it was reported," he said.

An Associated Press wire story Tuesday reported that the Texas unemployment figure for September was 5.4 per cent, a decline for the third consecutive month. August was 5.5 per cent and July was 5.8 per cent.

Texas's unemployment rates are following seasonal trends which indicates the economy "is steady and that we can remain optimistic about Texas' future," says Harold Dudley, chairman of the TEC.

The total number of unemployed in the state totaled 292,000 persons in September. The Hereford unemployed numbers about 560 persons based on an estimated population of 17,000 persons.

Rape said the TEC office here, which covers Castro and Parmer Counties as well as Deaf Smith County, experienced normal activity for September and through October in its efforts to find jobs for applicants. "We're at about the same level as this time last year."

HE COULD NOT RELEASE exact unemployment figures since the TEC is transitioning into a new fiscal year which begins Oct. 1 and concludes Sept. 30. Presently, the state agency is operating on a 15-month fiscal year and figures received through state computer printouts are not directly comparable to last year.

The change is to conform to federal dates used for fiscal years.

"I do know we are more active this year than last and we were more active last year than the year before that," he explained.

Present, the agricultural harvests are providing the most seasonal action for the TEC. "Holly (sugar beet processors) will keep us static until the season (sugar beet campaign) is over," Rape said.

THE HEAVIEST DEMAND is for truck drivers to haul in the milo and corn grain and bring in the sugar beets. "It is the one demand over any one thing," he said. "We are giving them a supply."

The corn harvest is about 70 per cent complete and leveling off as other harvest are picking up and therefore taking over the demand for workers.

An evaluation of the summer employment showed that the TEC here had an off year. Rape attributes this to a slack in the promotion of jobs for vacationing college students and high school pupils. "We plan next year to put up the posters again and push it."

The 1975 summer job campaign gained significant results as figures are compared with the summer of 1976.

Unemployment rates in other parts of Texas are as follows: Abilene, 4.2 per cent; Amarillo, 3.4; Austin, 4.4; Beaumont-Port Arthur, 7; Brownsville-Harlingen-San Benito, 10.2; Corpus Christi, 6.3; Dallas-Fort Worth, 4.5; El Paso, 12.3; Houston, 5.6; Laredo, 13.1; Lubbock, 3.1; Midland, 2.7; Odessa, 2.8; San Antonio, 7.3; Waco, 5.2; and Wichita Falls, 3.8.

Influence Of Agriculture To Be Down, Poage Warns

By JIM STEIERT

AMARILLO--"Your folks and my folks have had an obsession with expanding the electorate, and when you let idiots, prison inmates and patients in mental institutions vote, you're going to have very little influence in government, folks."

THAT'S HOW W.R. "Bob" Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Subcommittee on Grains and Livestock summed up the chances of passage of agricultural legislation in the next Congressional session to members of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association during the final day of their annual convention in Amarillo yesterday.

Poage was joined by Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe in addressing convention delegates on the government's role in assuring an "earned future" for cattle feeding during the Tuesday session.

Briscoe urged support for a constitutional amendment which would raise the Texas Water Development Board's loan level by $400 million, terming the amendment and work covered by it "an absolute economic necessity for developing the great potential we have in Texas today."

Among other featured speakers Tuesday were Wray Finney, President of the American National Cattleman's Association and George Strathearn, vice chairman of the Beef Development Task Force.

POAGE POINTED out to the cattlemen present that "the next session of Congress will be consumer-oriented," and added, "consumers will take over...without a thought. They may very well want something that will destroy rather than promote."

The congressman stressed that the agriculture industry has been "forcing the bill for energy importation," yet is hampered by increased government intervention in the production of food and fiber.

U.S. Representative Jack Hightower of Vernon was singled out for honors by the former head of the House Agriculture Committee, who termed Hightower "the most valuable new member we had this year on the agriculture committee."

Hightower co-sponsored legislation assuring prompt payment to feeders for cattle sold to meat packers, and played a key role in having Poage conduct a prompt packer payment hearing last year in Amarillo. Hightower is also a member of Poage's subcommittee.

"IT COSTS 20 times as much to ship grain as it does to ship beef," Poage said in turning to the topic of exports.

He stated that it might be more economical to ship meat to Japan, rather than shipping the grain necessary to feed the beef.

George Strathearn, chairman of the Beef Development Task Force told cattlemen that Americans will be paying "a hell of a lot more for beef than they are now."

He said American cattlemen should be searching for outlets to export U.S. beef, as meat imports into the U.S. probably will never be completely halted.

STRATHEARN CALLED for selection of "the best man possible" to represent the beef industry on the board when the Beef Research and Information Act is passed.

Some $30 million would be raised annually through self-assessment for promotion, education and research if the act is passed.

"The $30 million would mean only 14 cents per person for promotional activities, figuring that the average American will eat $112 worth of meat next year," he said.

Strathearn commented that the 68 men who will be asked to direct expenditures from the assessment money "had better have sense and guts."

GOVERNOR BRISCOE cited the expansion of industry within Texas and stated that the only way the state can continue to support its industry "is to provide water for agriculture and industry both today and in the future," as he spoke on behalf of the amendment raising the Water Development Board's loan level.

Briscoe also attacked government spending at all levels, saying, "Government will spend all of the money there is at any level."

He cited the quadrupling of the federal budget over the past ten years and 1976 state expenditures which are 210 per cent above ten years ago, rising to $12.8 billion this year.

Court Allows Publication Of Nixon-Watergate Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) - Richard Nixon's Watergate conversations with his associates were quoted extensively in print and made headlines during the 1974 cover-up trial. Now, the public may be allowed to hear those incriminating and sometimes earthy tapes.

Jobs Provided

Even though drivers must stand idly by across the road from their grain trucks while in line to empty loads of corn, the time they're spending is well worth the effort. They are earning steady wages while driving their trucks. Hereford is among the areas of the state enjoying one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation. Trucking provides numerous jobs as harvest occurs almost year round here and cuts down on the unemployed in this area.

Texas Draws Ford, Carter Right Before Final Campaign Weekend

By The Associated Press

With almost 10 per cent of the electoral votes it takes to be elected President up for grabs, both President Ford and Jimmy Carter plan to campaign in Texas on the last weekend before next Tuesday's balloting.

Texas has 26 electoral votes and a candidate must corral at least 270 to win the presidency. Only California with 45 and New York with 41 have more electoral votes than the Lone Star State.

President Ford is scheduled to campaign in Houston, according to former Texas Gov. John Connally, one of Ford's campaign coordinators in Texas.

Jimmy Carter will open his final weekend of campaigning with an appearance at McAllen Saturday and move northward, with appearances scheduled at San Antonio Saturday night and Dallas and Fort Worth Sunday.

A White House spokesman said President Ford's schedule will be announced later.

In announcing the weekend visit, Connally predicted that Ford will win the election and carry Texas.

He also predicted that Ford could carry the state and Harris County without coming to Houston. He noted the importance of the Harris County vote by saying "We have one-sixth of the vote here."

However, Connally said Texas "is not going to be an easy state for a Republican to carry, and we don't kid ourselves about it."

Connally today began a three-day tour that will cover 35 Texas towns and cities.

Meanwhile, both U.S. Sen. John Tower and Texas Hutchison say they are convinced the Ford campaign is gathering momentum. But while Tower said he is convinced Ford will win, Hutchison said Tuesday the race is a

Man Survives Ship Wreck

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Bruce Collins says three rainstorms and his fondness for sleep helped him survive a 28-day shipwreck ordeal that killed two companions adrift with him in a raft.

But his parents say self-confidence and optimism saved the tall, guant but rosy-cheeked young sailor who arrived here Tuesday, aboard a Coast Guard cutter that plucked him from the Pacific Ocean on Sunday about 800 miles west of here.

"I just got into it - slept a lot," Collins said after he was rushed by ambulance to the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital.

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - White Rhodesian leaders rejected new black nationalist demands today and the rivalry among the black leaders surfaced again amid final preparations for the conference on the future of the white bastion in southern Africa.

Senior sources in Prime Minister Ian Smith's delegation scorned black demands that included the immediate release of an estimated 600 blacks held by the white minority regime and the end of military operations against black guerrillas.

Ford Tied To Playboy

By The Associated Press

Although the White House once expressed interest in setting up a Playboy interview for President Ford, presidential aides say Ford never really intended to appear in the magazine and that Playboy executives were just being given the run-around.

Ford has been trying to staple Democratic presidential nominee Jimmy Carter to the wall for granting an interview to Playboy, but executives of in Chicago-based magazine say Ford at one time was eager for the magazine to interview him.

Food Prices To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) - Consumers may pay a little more for food this winter but what happens after that depends on the general economy and the inclination of livestock producers, says the Agriculture Department. The department's forecasters have not changed their months-old prediction of a 2-to-4-per-cent overall increase in food prices in the first six months of 1977, over the average for the first half of this year.

But in a report Tuesday, they emphasized the decisive role of the livestock situation.

'Big Money' Put Into Congressional Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Big political money, driven from the presidential election by post-Watergate reforms, is rushing in unprecedented volume into congressional races with the potential for greater impact than ever.

The Federal Election Commission says there are at least 125 political committees which have given as much as $50,000 each. With the figures for some committees in the $1 million range, the over-all total and its clout is massive.

Common Cause, the self-styled citizens' lobby, computed that as of Sept. 1 special interest groups from big labor to big business had reported contributions totaling more than $10 million.

That is twice the amount given by special interest groups to congressional candidates during the same campaign period two years ago. Dairy farmers, who had difficulty placing their money in 1974 in the wake of the milk fund scandal, have tripled their donations so far this year.

Figures coming in from October filings indicate that the final tally for the 1976 campaigns may run 50 per cent or more above the September level.

FEC reports show that the American Medical Association, for example, had given $904,840 to Senate and House candidates as of Oct. 1, $350,000 of it in the 30 days since the September report.

"The record certainly appears to show that not only is special interest money coming in in record amounts but that it is focused on legislative and political goals," said Fred Wertheimer, vice president of Common Cause.

"It's never been an accident that special interest groups focus on congressional committees that have life or death power over their issues," Wertheimer said. "What's happening is that with the role of special interest money eliminated from the presidential system, everyone is flocking to Congress."

The biggest spender by far is the AMA and its related state societies. Gifts from AMA-related committees totaled $963,725 by Sept. 1.

The AMA had another 1 million in its war chest, some of which is being reflected in reports coming in now.

Common Cause has filed a formal complaint with the FEC charging that the AMA's system of giving up to the maximum $5,000 from both national and state units circumvents the legal limit. AMA claims its state units are autonomous and can make their own contributions.

The California Medical Political Action Committee alone has given out $50,750 to Senate and House candidates, some of it overlapping gifts from the national fund.

AMA groups gave a total of $21,815 to 16 of the 37 members of the House Ways and Means Committee as of Sept. 1 and among members of the Senate Finance Committee. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., also briefly a presidential candidate, got $20,000 and Sen. Harry Byrd, Ind.-Va., $6,000. Those are the committees that deal with health insurance legislation.

The next largest bloc of congressional contributions comes from the dairy industry, which benefits from numerous federal laws and regulations, including milk price supports which have been raised three times in the last two years. The industry's primary contributions go through political committees representing the three largest milk cooperatives. They had given $682,184 by Sept. 1.

Dairy gifts or more than $131,000 have gone to at least 21 of the 43 members of the House Agriculture Committee. The biggest beneficiary was Rep. John W. Jenrette, D-S.C., who received $27,000.

Other Democrats on the committee getting large dairy gifts included Reps. John Melcher of Montana, $15,000; Richard Nolan of Minnesota, $14,725; Charles Rose of North Carolina, $9,000; Joseph Vigorito of Pennsylvania, $9,000; Glenn English of Oklahoma, $8,000; and Tom Harkin of Iowa, $7,000.

The leading Republican on the dairy gift list was Rep. Richard Kelly of Florida, who got $6,000. Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee running for re-election this year, has been given $12,000.

Common Cause figures show agriculture, professional and business groups giving $4.9 million to Senate and House candidates, compared with $2.1 million at the same stage of the 1974 campaign.

Bentsen leads the list of individual recipients with $100,450, including some funds he received while seeking this party's presidential nomination. Other top recipients were Sens. Vance Harke, D-Ind., $85,150, and Robert Taft, R-Ohio, $74,115.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., was the largest recipient from all labor sources as of Sept. 1. He had been given $96,375, followed by Harke with $90,850 and Sen. John Tunney, D-Calif. with $90,493.

Common Cause estimates that all labor contributions to congressional candidates as of Sept. 1 had totaled $4.1 million, compared with $2.8 million for the same period in 1974.

Political committees of the AFL-CIO had given $630,974 by Sept. 1, more than $600,000 of it going to Democrats. The new October figures show the national Committee on Political Education giving $727,669.

Real estate interests had contributed $25,000 to 17 Democrats and eight Republicans on the 44-member House Banking, Currency and Housing Committee.

The political arm of the National Association of Realtors had given $314,373 in all to Senate and House candidates, the bulk of it to Republican incumbents. The Truck Operators Non-Partisan Committee, had given to ten of the 23 members of the transportation subcommittee of the House Public Works and Transportation Committee.

The new October figures show the political action committee of the National Education Association has given $399,437, most of it to Democrats. The NEA gave a higher proportion of its money to challengers than did most other groups.

Common Cause pushed the new system of financing presidential campaigns with federal funds to reduce the clout of special-interest contributions.

Tapes

displeased Nixon's lawyer. "The effect of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals decision is to permit the commercial exploitation of the recordings of presidential conversations subpoenaed for use in a criminal trial," Herbert J. Miller said. "Accordingly, we will appeal that decision."

The court noted "the tapes already have been played in a public forum" and said Nixon's claim of "intrusion on the sensibilities of those whose voices appear on the tapes" is groundless.

"The tapes at issue are not recordings of bedroom or other intimate conversations," the court said. "The embarrassment Mr. Nixon fears is not republication of highly personal matters. Rather, we deal with conversations between business associates admitted into evidence as proof of criminal misconduct."

The embarrassment Mr. Nixon anticipates is largely that which results whenever misconduct or questionable conduct is exposed."

The tapes involved cover 18 to 22 hours of conversations in the Oval Office and Nixon's Executive Office Building hideaway, including the June 23, 1972, presidential order to derail the FBI's investigation of the Watergate break-in that occurred six days earlier.

Nixon had fought through the courts to withhold that tape and 63 others from Watergate prosecutors. When the Supreme Court finally ordered him to provide them as evidence, Nixon made the contents of several June 23 conversations public and resigned three days later.

The appeals court ruled 2 to 1 that the common-law right to inspect and copy judicial records extends to exhibits, such as the tapes.

U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, who presided over the Watergate cover-up trial, had blocked public release of the tapes until the convicted defendants had gone through the appeals process.

The appeals court recently upheld the convictions of former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, former White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman and former domestic counselor John D. Ehrlichman. Their convictions, however, are being appealed to the Supreme Court.

Sirica was told by the appeals court to work out a plan for releasing the tapes and that "distribution should be prompt, and on an equal basis to all persons desiring copies."

Broadcasting networks, a broadcast-news directors group and a maker of phonograph records had sued for the right to copy the tapes.

NBC said it plans to "make some program" out of the tapes. ABC said it will not make a decision until it knows in what form the recordings will be released. CBS had no comment immediately.

Warner Communications, Inc., said it plans to release a condensed version of the tapes on one or two long-playing records, as well as a full set for use in libraries.

Campaigns

Carpet backers are preparing for their candidate's Texas re-entry beginning with a park rally in McAllen Saturday, then on to San Antonio and from there to Dallas, where he will spend the night. Sunday Carter is scheduled to have lunch with campaign workers at the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth.

While campaign aides prepared for the Carter weekend campaign swing, Texas Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Texas Agriculture Commissioner John White, have been attempting to rally Democrats in East Texas.

Briscoe issued a strongly worded plea for more political participation to the more than 12,000-member Missionary Baptist General Convention. Afterward, convention president M.L. Price of Houston, staunch Democrat, said the governor can expect near-total partisan support.

Tower began a tour on behalf of Ford Tuesday with stops in Sherman and Longview. Today he was to visit College Station, Conroe and Galveston; Thursday, Victoria and Austin; Friday, Harlingen and Mercedes; and Saturday in Abilene and Wichita Falls.

Connally started his tour in Austin with stops at Baylor University in Waco, Fort Worth, Denton, Wichita Falls and Lubbock. On Thursday, stops include Amarillo, Plainview, Big Spring, Midland-Odessa, El Paso, San Angelo and San Antonio. Friday, Connally is scheduled to enter the Gulf Coast area, but that part of his itinerary is not firm.

AUSTIN — Texas goat and sheep raisers cannot hunt golden eagles in Texas, the U.S. Interior Department has ruled. Gov. Dolph Briscoe's request was rejected last week.

Briscoe stirred up something of a storm last month when he asked Interior Secretary Thomas E. Kleppe to grant blanket authorization for stockmen to hunt the eagles in 31 counties of West Texas.

Lynn Greenwalt, director of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service replied to Briscoe. He said the request was turned down under a policy of former Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel which concluded in 1970 against blanket authorizations.

The golden eagle is protected under a special federal act.

The Interior policy referred to by Greenwalt permits consideration of requests from individual ranchers who can demonstrate that they need to hunt the protected birds.

Briscoe requested authority to shoot the eagles after ranchers complained about increasing numbers of the birds near the October 1 beginning of the lambing season.

Ranchers claimed the migratory birds would cause heavy losses in newborn lambs and kid goats.

An outcry was raised subsequently from groups seeking to protect the golden eagles from wholesale attack by outraged ranchers.

Courts Speak The State Bar of Texas has filed a complaint in district court at Houston seeking to disbar, suspend or reprimand Donald B. Yarbrough, Democratic nominee for the State Supreme Court.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed the death penalty for two men who killed an off-duty patrolman.

The same court upheld a trial court decision denying bail for Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis in the slaying of his stepdaughter.

The court also reversed the 14 years sentence given a man in the rape of a deaf mute in Bell County.

Hearing Slated Texas Public Utilities Commission set December 1 as a tentative date for review of the rural rate structure of Central Power and Light Company.

The commission turned down a motion from intervening cities to delay the consolidated hearing until late December after all cities have individually considered rate requests presented to them by CP&L.

Two intervening groups were named by the commission. One consists of 41 South Texas cities. The second combines interested ratepayers in Aransas and Nueces counties, South Padre Island and the Key Alegre Canal Owners Association.

Meanwhile, the commission granted Atty. Gen. John Hill and Texas Municipal League a three-day time extension to intervene in the Southwestern Bell telephone rate case. The company is seeking a $272 million annual hike.

Share $212.2 Million Texas cities and counties spent a combined total of $212.2 million in federal revenue sharing funds during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975, Comptroller Bob Bullock has reported.

Bullock said cities spent 72 per cent of their $132.3 million for capital improvements and the remaining 28 per cent on operating expenses.

He said counties spent 62 per cent of a $79.9 million allotment on capital improvements and 38 per cent on operating expenses. Transportation accounted for 26 per cent of the revenue sharing fund expenditures by both cities and counties.

Bullock reported August state expenditures of $408.4 million ended the state's 1976 fiscal year at a total expenditure level of $6.2 billion, an increase of $826.4 million over the previous year. August revenues were $633.5 million, closing the fiscal year with total revenues of $6.6 billion — a $917.1 million gain.

Short Snorts Texans from 60 counties joined in a $50 fund raising dinner honoring Gov. and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe here Friday (Oct 22).

Insurance Board members Durwood Manford and Ned Price had a fistfight during a recent meeting. A House sub-committee agreed Texas' presidential preference primary law should be revived, with refinements.

More than 8,600 Texas coyotes have been killed by gunfire from aircraft since the legislature authorized an aerial hunting program three years ago to protect livestock.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Nelson are at home at Arlington after their recent marriage held at Nance Farm in De Soto, Tex. with the Eugene K. Brink, former Hereford pastor, officiating.

Rust and beige were the dominant fall colors used during the wedding ceremony. The couple exchanged vows beneath an archway of lattice work and greenery in the garden at Nance Farm which is a historic landmark in De Soto.

The bride, the former Kim Kirkland, is the daughter of Mrs. S.J. Cortello of De Soto, a former Hereford resident, and Walter Kirkland of Garver, Mo.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Jowell of Kingsland, whose family is one of the earlier settlers in Deaf Smith County, and Mrs. Della Kirkland of Amarillo.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Nelson of Dallas.

Nancy Depew was maid of honor and bridesmaids included Marie Nelson and Joy Mann. Serving as flower girls were Angela and Andrea Ramsey and George Jowell, the bride's cousin, was ringbearer.

Dallas Eddie was best man and Bobby Bonds and Bob Buditt served as groomsmen.

Escorting guests to their seats were Mike and Craig Kirkland and Jonathan Nelson.

The bride wore a white quiana gown with accents of imported lace and seed pearls.

A reception and dance, using an Italian theme, was held immediately following the wedding ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School and completed her sophomore year at South West Texas State. She is currently employed by Bader, Wilson, Menaker, Cox and Branson Attorneys at Law.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School and is a senior student at the University of Texas at Arlington.

Attending the wedding from Hereford were Meses. Duffy McBrayer, William B. Smith and Jerry Don George.

Autumn Festival '76 To Be Staged Sunday

The 1976 Autumn Festival of the Hereford Camp Fire Girl Organization will be held from 2-5 p.m. Sunday at the Community Center.

The annual exhibit, which is divided into a category for judging and one for display spotlights art, crafts, stichery and photography works done by local Camp Fire members. The public is invited to view the varied entries during an open house show and tea Sunday afternoon.

Entry will be limited to Camp Fire participants. Those entering the judging phase of the show must be currently registered youth members of Camp Fire Girls, including Blue Bird, Adventure, Discovery and Horizon Clubs.

All entries must be submitted at the Community Center from 2-5 p.m. Thursday. Exhibits will be set up and those marked for judging will be appraised with winning entries so designated.

The display segment of the Festival will not involve competition and is open to Camp Fire Girls, leaders, advisors, sponsors or board members.

A Camp Fire Girl may enter two of the three categories, which are grouped as arts; crafts and stichery; and photography. Entries for judging must have been executed during the 1976 calendar year.

Display articles will not be limited as to number.

Special emphasis will be placed this year on the photography division, according to the Fourth National Camp Fire Girls Art Competition. Contest photos must be mounted on designated sheets of paper with two sheets allotted for each girl.

Also, pictures entered for competition need not be related to Camp Fire activities, but most tell a story. They can be posed or candid shots. All photographs must have been taken after Dec. 31, 1975.

Further information concerning contest rules can be obtained by telephoning the CFG Lodge, 364-0395 or Dorothy Brownlow, 364-2848.

Lo-Vaca To Sell Gas Minus Hearings

AUSTIN (AP)—The railroad commission voted Tuesday to permit Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. to make emergency natural gas sales for up to 10 days without requiring a public hearing.

Such sales could be made, the commission said, where the public health, safety or welfare is concerned.

Hearing examiner John Hays said now if a city's gas supply was cut off, Lo-Vaca could not provide gas service to the city until a hearing had been held.

The amendment to a July 10 order will allow a commissioner, director, assistant rate director, any gas utilities hearing examiner or the commission's special counsel to authorize emergency sales.

In other action, the commission:

-Dismissed Lone Star Gas Co.'s appeal of Garland's refusal to grant a rate increase because it was not filed in time.

-Gave Southwest Texas Municipal Gas Corp., a non-profit corporation, permission to increase natural gas rates in the unincorporated areas of Fort Davis in Jeff Davis County and Saragosa, Brogado and Toyahvale in Reeves County.

The bill for a Fort Davis customer using 10,000 cubic feet of gas a month would rise 15 per cent, from $20.05 to $23.06. The cost of the same amount of gas in the Reeves County towns would rise 18.8 per cent, from $15.95 to $18.95, the commission said.

Carrillo To Take Stand As Trial Nears End

AUSTIN (AP)—Ramiro Carrillo, charged with alleged official misconduct as a county commissioner in Duval County, was expected to take the stand today as his trial apparently neared an end.

One of his sons, Bobby Carrillo, testified Tuesday the late George Parr told him to use a Duval County truck to haul privately owned grain in July 1974.

"He said not to worry about it, that he would take care of it," Carrillo testified.

Asked what he understood that to mean, his son said he assumed Parr had already paid for the truck or had made arrangements for its use.

When he learned a year later that Parr had not paid the county for the truck, the son said, he gave a $280 cashier's check to the county treasurer, figuring $20 a load for 14 loads.

The father was county commissioner at the time the truck was used and is accused of misapplying the truck.

If convicted, Carrillo could get up to 10 years in prison.

Lone Star, Olympia To Merge

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Directors of Olympia Brewing Co. and Lone Star Brewing Co. have approved a merger of the two firms, a spokesman for Lone Star said Tuesday.

The agreement provides for the purchase of "substantially all the assets and business" of Lone Star by Olympia in exchange for 498,671 shares of Olympic common stock, a news release said.

Under the agreement, Lone Star shareholders will receive one share of Olympia common stock for each 3.75 shares of Lone Star common stock.

Stockholders of both companies still must give final approval to the plan.

Olympia, with headquarters in Tumwater, Wash., markets Olympia and Hamms beer brands in 26 states. Long Star, based in San Antonio, sells Lone Star beer mainly in Texas.

Production facilities are to be expanded at the Lone Star brewery to allow for eventual production of Olympia Beer at San Antonio brewery, officials said.

Overseas Costs Zoom
Overseas production costs were once far below those in the United States. But no more. They have jumped faster than those in the U.S. during the last three years. The Conference Board finds. Despite these trends, few U.S. companies are moving their plants and offices out of foreign locations. Most large U.S. firms say they must maintain their overseas facilities in order to stay competitive.

Lubbock Beverage People Indicted

LUBBOCK (AP)—An indictment accusing the Lubbock County Beverage Association, four liquor retailers and three of their executives of conspiring to fix alcoholic beverage prices between 1967 and 1974 was returned by a federal grand jury Tuesday.

The one-count indictment named the beverage association, a non-profit group made up of persons involved in the retail sale of alcoholic beverages; Cecil's Inc., of Lubbock; Craft Keys Package Store of Lubbock; Pinkie's, Inc., of Odessa; All Star Co. of Lubbock; Bob J. Grimes of the Lubbock Division of Pinkie's Inc.; Herbert Odom, president and general manager of Cecil's; and Kenneth F. Odom, secretary-treasurer and manager in charge of operations at Cecil's.

U.S. District Court Judge Halbert O. Woodward is to arraign the defendants Nov. 4. If convicted, the corporations face possible fines of up to $50,000 and the individuals face fines up to $50,000 and jail terms up to one year if convicted.

The investigation reportedly began in August 1975 when FBI agents surveyed Lubbock liquor

$500 Million On Line Water Amendments On Nov. 2 Ballots

AUSTIN (AP)—Texans will decide Nov. 2 whether they want to issue up to $500 million in bonds for new reservoirs and sewage improvement projects.

And part of the two-proposition package has become one of the most controversial issues in the otherwise quite general election campaign as far as statewide issues are concerned.

On the ballot, the two proposed changes in the state constitution will look something like this:

-Amendment No. 1, authorizing the issuance of an additional $400 million in Texas Water Development Bonds; requiring legislative approval of certain projects; prohibiting the use of certain state funds for development of water resources from the Mississippi River.

-Amendment No. 2, authorizing the issuance of an additional $100 million in Texas Water Development Bonds for water quality enhancement purposes.

The two proposals make 351 proposed changes to the 1876 state constitution of which 220 were adopted by voters. This does not include the entire proposed new constitution that was voted down in 1975.

Proposition No. 1, which has raised the most controversy, would increase by $400 million the amount of water development bonds that could be issued to finance such projects as reservoirs, wells, pipelines and purification facilities needed by Texas cities and towns.

Both propositions have been endorsed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton, along with a number of big name water association officials.

But No. 1 has aroused considerable opposition from the League of Women Voters, Citizens, Against Water Taxes, and several environmental groups.

"This is a $400 million blank check for six people appointed by the governor to spend," Richard Shannon, a spokesman for Environmental Action for Texas, said at one public hearing.

The Water Development Board should present a plan for future water development before asking voters to approve additional bonds, said Linda Ladenorff, president of the League of Women Voters in Victoria.

"It's corporate socialism, soaking the public for a few special interests," said John Henry Faulk, Madisonville, speaking for Citizens Against Water Taxes.

"The people of Texas, whether they live in a rural or an urban environment, must have adequate water of good quality for their needs," said Briscoe. "Approval of the amendment will help assure the people of Texas their water requirements will be met."

"We, as responsible citizens, must look to the needs of the future, not merely enjoy the benefits someone else's foresight years ago has provided for us," said Rep. Tom Massey, D-San Angelo.

In 1969, Texans defeated a Texas Water Plan that called for importing Mississippi River water. The ban on Mississippi River water was written into the proposed constitution change but opponents are still suspicious an out of state water importation plan is hidden in the Water Development Board plans.

There has been no organized opposition to Proposition No. 2 which authorizes an increase from $100 million to $200 million in the amount of bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement. These "clean water" bonds would be used by cities and towns to improve sewage treatment facilities.

"We are concerned that opposition to No. 1 could have an adverse effect on No. 2," Josiah Wheat, Woodville, chairman of Texans for Clean Water, told a news conference.

Hanging in there

Peter Strauss: looking for a power base

By DAN LEWIS

Two young actors make their mark in a new series. One looks for new fields to conquer. The other sees his future rooted in the same area for the time being. This clearly defines the courses taken by Nick Nolte and Peter Strauss.

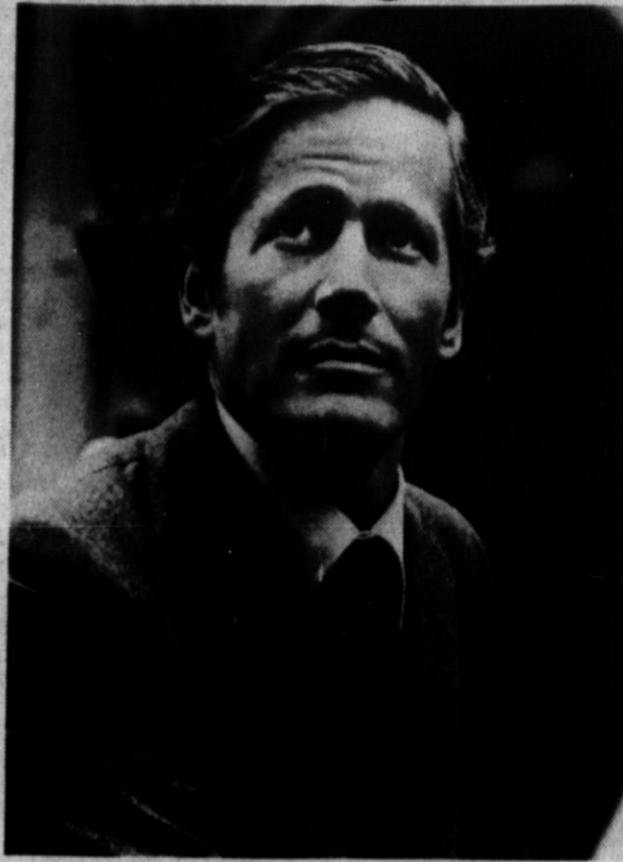

Both emerged as television stars last season as they played the Jordache brothers in ABC's startlingly successful television adaptation of Irwin Shaw's novel, "Rich Man, Poor Man." The series, a mid-season phenomenon, did so well for ABC in the ratings, it seemed inevitable that what was primed for a limited-run series would be continued into the new fall season.

It almost did not come to pass because of the reluctance of most of the prime characters to ride along with the series for another season. Nolte might have been resurrected from the past (he died in what was originally planned as the series finale) had he inclined to go along with the new season.

But Nolte made it perfectly clear that he wanted to venture into feature films. He is getting $225,000 to costar in a film version of Peter Benchley's latest book, "The Deep," now on location in Bermuda. Jacqueline Bisset and Robert Shaw are costarred.

Peter Strauss was also reluctant to continue in the series. He once was considered a bright prospect in Hollywood as a film star. He has worked steadily, but his reputation, while good as an actor, did not move appreciably forward as initially anticipated.

Suddenly, he achieved the plateau of stardom, but in television, not feature films. ABC obviously wanted to continue. "My first answer was 'no.' I was not resting on those laurels. It seemed no possible way we could continue the series," Strauss declared.

PETER STRAUSS is still trying to make it in the tough world of show biz, after Rich Man, Poor Man failed to bring him promised success.

But the show's popularity with the public was so overwhelming, Fred Silverman, President of ABC Entertainment, concluded it should continue. The alternatives, without a principal returning character were limited.

"He needed one of us," Strauss claimed. "Nick was firm. I thought I was, too. The alternatives (for ABC) were flashbacks, or age (take the series years ahead and bring in new actors for the roles)."

Then Strauss, who played Rudy Jordache, the more stable of the brothers, had a change of mind. The catalyst may have been the sudden interest in the television series from Shaw, the book's author. Until this point, Shaw had shown little, if any, interest in the TV series, other than to note that the series had stimulated book sales -- 750,000 sold after the four episodes were played. Shaw then got interested in the series. In two days, he watched 12 hours of the taped segments. Then he sat down at his typewriter and, in three days, turned out 90 pages of material for future episodes, according to Strauss.

Millard Lampell, a Paterson native, was signed on as headwriter, and 15 hours were completed in treatment form before production was started. Strauss was impressed with the new material. He agreed to continue, and Rich Man, Poor Man was back on the schedule for the new season. The show's early ratings are still strong. There have been some indications of Strauss's displeasure with the way his role has turned out this season, but in earlier interviews, he had other thoughts. He liked the material, and "loved the fact that I could see the entire story written out in advance and see the character develop."

Strauss was serious about moving on to other things at the end of last season. He joined the cast of "The Last Tycoon," the feature film version of Scott Fitzgerald's novel, which stars Jack Nicholson.

"What delighted me here is that I could change and develop a complex new character that I was creating."

Instead of new strides in his career, "The Last Tycoon" proved to be merely a hiatus project. Into the new season, Strauss said the level of this year's material was above some of the pulp, as he called it, that occasionally surfaced last season.

As of now, 22 episodes are ready -- an entire season. If the ratings falter, and the show doesn't make it past mid-season, Strauss noted, the series would end in the middle. Each episode will not be a story unto itself. They are continuing episodes.

The toughest part for Strauss has proven to be the aging process.

"It's tough to play a 40-year-old man when you're 29," he said.

Strauss is under a one-year contract.

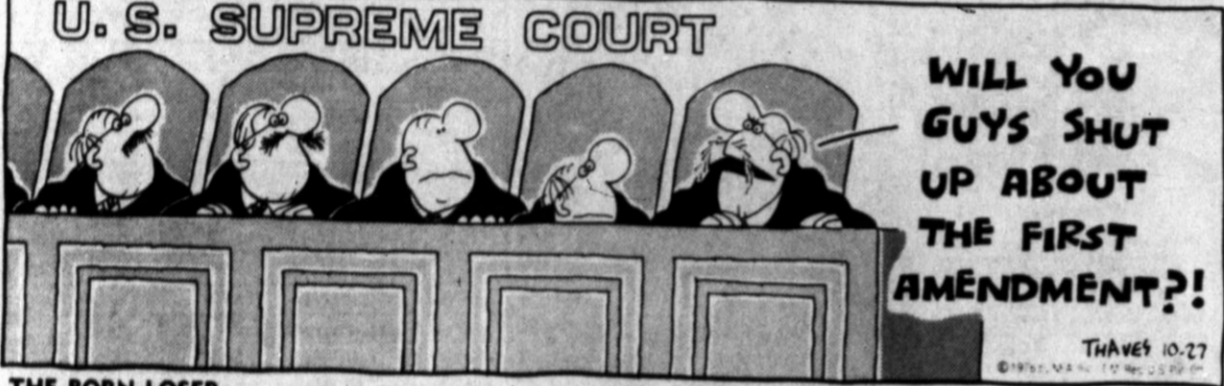

"I possibly could go on," he explained, "but I want to guard against an unhappy situation. Television has a habit of slipping into mediocrity."

"Television is very young. I do want to stay in it. It gives you incredible, devastating exposure. Nick (Nolte) feels differently. His attitude was once you're in it, get out of it. I want to stay in television until I get enough power."

"Then I can bring projects to television. All of a sudden, doors have opened for me, thanks to Rich Man, Poor Man. If we bomb this season, I'm on my backside again, and I'll have to start all over again."

Two 'And A Half' Candidates Run For Texas Railroad Commission

By The Associated Press

Austin attorney Walter Wendt stands as the final obstacle to a Texas Railroad Commission seat for state legislator John Newton, who says he's been battling "one and a half opponents" since winning the Democratic nomination.

Newton, a cherubic, 34-year-old three-term lawmaker from Beeville, swept crusty former Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler by almost a 2-1 margin in the June 5 runoff to win the nomination for the powerful oil and gas regulatory body.

He faced Republican Wendt, a 47-year-old former Railroad Commission engineer, in Tuesday's general election.

However since the June runoff, Sadler has filed - and lost - a series of suits seeking to have Newton removed from Tuesday's ballot, prompting Newton to remark last month, "At the present time, I have one and a half opponents - my Republican opponent and Jerry Sadler."

Newton and Wendt, who switched parties and ran unopposed May 1 to win the Republican nomination, are vying for the seat to be vacated by Commission Chairman Ben Ramsey, 72.

Two minor candidates, Fred Rodriguez Garza, 26, a Houston social worker running on the Raza Unida ticket, and Pat O'Reilly, 31, a Houston railroad shop worker representing the Socialist Worker's Party, are also on the ballot.

Texas will also decide Tuesday whether they want to issue up to $500 million in bonds for new reservoirs and sewage improvement projects when they vote on two proposed changes in the state constitution.

Amendment No. 1, which has raised the most controversy, would authorize the issuance of an additional $400 million in Texas Water Development Bonds, require legislative approval of certain projects and prohibit the use of certain state funds for development of water resources from the Mississippi River.

The second proposal would authorize the issuance of an additional $100 million in Texas Water Development Bonds for water quality enhancement purposes.

Voters in past elections approved the original $400 million in Texas Water Development Bonds, of which about $280 million have been issued to finance such projects as reservoirs, wells, pipelines and purification facilities needed by Texas cities and towns.

At current demand rates, the water board thinks the remaining bond funds will be exhausted by 1980. The board conducted a series of 22 public forums statewide to drum up support for the proposal.

Both propositions have been endorsed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House-Speaker Bill Clayton, along with a number of big name water association officials.

But No. 1 has aroused considerable opposition from the League of Women Voters, Citizens Against Water Taxes and several environmental groups.

Three positions for the Texas

Board of Education are also contested on the ballot.

Democrat Raymond Alexander faces Republican Jacqueline Barnhart in District 22, which encompasses the Houston area. In two San Antonio area districts, Democrat Jimmy Elrod faces Republican H. Dell Foster for the District 21 seat and Republican Mike Pagonias opposes Democrat Mrs. Pete Torres for the District 20 seat.

Wendt, picking up on campaign themes sounded by Newton's primary opponents, has accused the Beeville legislator of being controlled by oil and gas interests.

Newton released figures in late May that showed that he received more than $400,000 in donations, many of those from oil and gas interests, in his primary battles.

Sadler continuously referred to Newton as "my oil-financed opponent."

Wendt accused two commissioners, Ramsey and Jim Langdon, of calling on representatives of the petroleum and transportation industry to contribute to Newton's campaign and also charged Langdon with "breach of ethics" in a Hood County land partnership with a railroad lobbyist.

Scottsboro Trial Survivor Hospes Lesson Is Taught

NEW YORK (AP) - The only known surviving Scottsboro boy - pardoned after 45 years of proclaiming his innocence - says he hopes his story teaches people that "a man should never give up hope. Even if it kills you, stand up for your rights."

And Clarence Norris, 64, who has lived here as a fugitive for 30 years, said he plans to visit Alabama, where until Monday he would have faced arrest as a parole violator.

"I'll go to any state because I'm free," said Norris, whose 1930s trials with eight other black youths on charges of raping two white women became a symbol of Southern racial injustice. "I was born and raised in the South. It's one of the most beautiful places in the world."

Norris, a warehouseman, held an emotional news conference at NAACP headquarters here after learning that the state of Alabama had granted him a full pardon, which in effect acknowledges his innocence of the original charges.

He said he felt "no bitterness against the people who did me wrong. I'm just glad to be free. They had said that I was a nobody, a dog, but I stood up and I said the truth."

In 1931, Norris and the other youths were arrested in northern Alabama and tried in Scottsboro on charges of raping the women on a freight train. The defendants were convicted in a series of trials, and most of them were sentenced to death, but their sentences were commuted to life imprisonment.

Norris spent five years on death row, more years behind bars, and in 1946 he fled the state while on parole. Of the other defendants, some are known to be dead, and others have dropped out of sight.

First, the Alabama Pardon Parole Board and then Gov. George C. Wallace signed a pardon. By law, the board could pardon him only if it felt there was proof of his innocence.

Nathaniel R. Jones, general counsel for the NAACP, said the pardon "does more for the administration of justice than it actually does for Mr. Norris."

He said that while "no act of Alabama can restore to Mr. Norris that of which he was robbed, nor expunge from his memory the long nightmare to which he was subjected, this act of compassion by Gov. Wallace and the Alabama Board of Pardons and Parole in nevertheless praiseworthy."

Five Arrested After Holding Four Hostages, Attempting Cop's Death

FORT WORTH, (AP) - Three men and two women were being held in the Tarrant County jail today, charged with attempting to kill a police officer in a wild shootout while four hostages huddled in fear nearby.

"It was the worst experience I ever had - just like a movie," Orvall Hall said shortly after he and three others in his family narrowly escaped death at the hands of five gunmen Sunday night.

Hall's wife, Jean, was hit in the hip by a bullet during an exchange of gunfire and police after a motor home in which the gunmen and the hostages were riding was stopped on Interstate 35W south of the Fort Worth city limits.

Charges were filed in Justice of the Peace R.E. Ashmore's court Monday against three men and two women on charges of attempted capital murder of a police officer Monday. He set their bond at $50,000 each.

Named in the charges were Alvin Danny Martin, 17; Charles Edward Hall, 37; Iris Ann Pratt, 24; and Juanita Martin, 18, all of Fort Worth, and William Plumb, 46, of Springfield, Mo.

Orvall Hall, an excavating contractor and pawn shop owner, said he managed to telephone the sheriff's department just before the suspects burst into his suburban home some 17 miles north of Fort Worth. He said the intruders demanded money and jewels but had not planned to take any hostages until several sheriff deputies began to arrive on the scene.

At that point, the Hall family - Orvall and Jean, their son

Dennis and stepdaughter, Debbie Daughtery - were hustled into their motor home at gunpoint. The vehicle headed south toward Fort Worth. One of the women suspects followed behind in what was to have been their getaway car.

Mrs. Hall said the gunmen told her and her family "they had killed many people and didn't mind killing a few more."

"They said they were going to kill us one at a time if the police didn't quit following us and then throw us out one at a time," she said.

Fort Worth police officer Tim Stewart was shot by the suspects while he pursued the suspects in his patrol car. The gunmen surrendered after stopping at the roadblock and briefly exchanging fire with police from several law enforcement agencies. All of the wounded were taken to a Fort Worth hospital for treatment and later released.

"It looked like a firefight in Vietnam," said officer D.P. Miller.

A few minutes after officers returned the fire with shotgun blasts, the hostages came out of the motor home and fell to the ground. They were followed by the suspects, who came out with their hands in the air.

Tarrant County Sheriff Lon Evans said the phone call that alerted police to the intruders in the Hall home probably saved the family's lives. "If it had not been for that phone call, they could well have been tortured and murdered in their home," the sheriff said.

Evans added that the five suspects match the descriptions of the masked gunmen who robbed congregations of rural churches in Texas, Arkansas and Missouri this year.

The gunmen would burst into churches during evening services, threaten worshippers with automatic rifles and order them to pass valuables to center isles.

"We know these people were in the areas where the churches

Chrysler Reports Record Earnings

DETROIT (AP) - Chrysler Corp. reports that earnings of $76.2 million in the third quarter shattered a 26-year-old record, while Ford Motor Co. says it lost 30,000 car sales in mid-October because of a nationwide strike.

Ford also faces possible labor troubles with a subsidiary, Ford of Canada. The United Auto Workers, which must negotiate a separate contract covering 14,000 Canadian workers, said Monday it would strike unless a tentative settlement was reached by Nov. 3.

Chrysler said Monday that its earnings for the July-September period, equal to $1.26 a share, compared with a record $79-million loss in the same 1975 quarter, when the industry was in a recession.

The No. 3 auto maker's nine-month earnings totaled more than Chrysler has ever earned in a full year. The previous 12-month record was $302.9 million in 1968.

In the first nine months of 1976, Chrysler earned a record $303.4 million, including $60 million in tax credits and $73 million from Britain. The firm lost $242.1 million in the same period last year.

Chrysler's third-quarter earnings included a $15-million tax credit for prior losses and a $27-million subsidy from the British government for the firm's ailing operations there.

The British government has agreed to cover losses by Chrysler U.K., providing the parent firm keeps its subsidiary there.

The two income additions enabled the firm to eclipse its previous third-quarter record of $65.7 million in 1950.

Chrysler also reported record sales of $3.8 billion for the period, up from $2.9 billion a year ago.

General Motors and Ford give their third-quarter reports later in the week.

Financial analysts says GM will earn a record of about $345 million, while Ford will earn less than $25 million because of the strike, which cut the company's profits by some $100 million.

Ford said Monday its dealers sold 52,353 cars in the middle 10 days of October, a 32 per cent decline based on the daily selling rate a year ago. Ford said it could have sold 82,000 cars had it not been for the UAW strike.

Ford's decline more than offset modest gains by Chrysler and GM in the period, to send industry sales falling 5 per cent below year-ago levels.

Mossler Dies In Her Sleep Tuesday

MIAMI BEACH (AP) - Candice Mossler, the flamboyant blonde acquitted in 1965 of murdering her wealthy husband in a love triangle, died in her sleep Tuesday, police said.

Officials of the Fontainebleau Hotel said a secretary found Mrs. Mossler dead in her room. No cause of death was immediately established.

Police said there was no indication of foul play. Birth record show she was 62, but she maintained she was seven years younger.

A hotel spokesman, Harold Gardner, said Mrs. Mossler was in good health when she arrived from Dallas on Monday night. Officials said she was in Miami for the monthly board meeting of the Central National Bank, one of three banks she controlled.

In 1965, Mrs. Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, were acquitted for murder in the death of Jacques Mossler, who was found beaten in his Key Biscayne apartment.

During a sensational trial, testimony showed Mossler died June 30, 1964 of 39 stab wounds and a blow to the head.

Herd Offensive Lead Slowly Disappearing

By BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces still own the lead in total offense among District 4-4A teams after eight weeks of grid action despite their yards-per-game average dropping some 35 yards over the past two games.

Following the Dumas contest in which the Faces ran up 568 total yards, Hereford was averaging 295.3 yards per outing. Two games later that average has fallen to 206.3 yards per game.

Still, the Whitefaces lead second-place Monterey by about 13 yards per game. The Plainsmen are averaging 247.8 yards per contest.

Hereford has the largest totals in both rushing and passing yardage among the district members. The Herd has 1,603 rushing yards, and has added 479 more on passes.

Monterey is second in rushing yards with 1,373 and Lubbock High ranks second in passing yardage with 478 markers.

Hereford is the only district team to have over 2,000 total yards with their 2,082 standard. Monterey is second with 1,735 yards, Coronado ranks third with 1,567 total yards, Lubbock is fourth with 1,496, and Plainview is last with 1,253 yards.

While showing some offensive punch, the Whitefaces are only fourth in total defense, a category they finished last in 1975.

Monterey heads district defenses with a 177.9 yards-per-game average given up to opponents. The other four district members are all allowing opponents better than 200 yards per game.

Coronado is currently second defensively with a 207.4 average, while Plainview is third at 235.2 Hereford has allowed 245.4 yard to opponents each game, while Lubbock owns the most porous defense with a 301.3 average.

Monterey tops the district in defense against the rush while allowing their seven foes just 882 yards on the ground. Hereford boasts of the best pass defense, having given up just 224 yards through the air.

As far as lighting up the scoreboard goes the Plainsmen lead the league with 152 points scored. Defensively they have allowed just 42 points in seven games, a 6.0 per game average.

Hereford is the runner-up in points scored with 135, while Lubbock is third with 121. Coronado has tallied 115 points, while Plainview ranks last in the category with 58 points scored.

The Whitefaces own the dubious honor of having allowed the most points to opponents with 157. Lubbock has allowed 138, Plainview has given up 110, while Coronado has allowed 102, and Monterey 42.

The Plainsmen have yet to be scored upon in the first quarter this season, and have allowed just 13 points to opponents in the second period.

That stingy defense has boosted the Plainsmen to a perfect 7-0 record, far ahead of runner-up Coronado's 4-3-1 mark. Lubbock stands at 3-4 on the year, Hereford is at 3-5, while Plainview has a 2-5 mark.

Lubbock High's Victor Lugo remains the league's top rusher despite a week's rest. Lugo has 584 yards to lead runner-up Ron Reeves of Monterey who has 521 markers on the ground.

Robert Long of Plainview ranks third with 512 yards, while Carlee Graves of Hereford is fourth with 476. Herd back Roy Martinez is seventh in rushing with 325 yards, while Hereford's Jim Lawson ranks 10th with 222.

Lubbock High also has the league's best receiver in Robert Carrasco, who has 353 yards on 16 catches. Hereford's James McDowell is second in the category with 14 catches and 196 yards.

Martinez and Rowan Alexander of Hereford hold down the number five and six spots in receiving with ten and seven receptions respectively.

Lawson and Herd quarterback Kelly Kitchens rank first and fifth among league passers. Lawson, who saw most of his action under the center during the first of the season, has hit on 18 of 39 attempts for a .462 average. He was one-for-one against Coronado last week.

Kitchens has a .364 average to rank behind Lawson, Buck Williams of Coronado (.429), Reeves (.404), and Jerry Duffy of Lubbock (.388).

Martinez has seven rushing

TD's, three receiving touchdowns, and has kicked five PATs to have a 65 total.

Lugo is third in scoring with 38 points on six TDs and one two-point conversion. Hereford's Lawson and Graves rank 10th and 12th in scoring with 20 and 18 points respectively.

Lubbock's Casey Smith tops district defenders with 95 tackles. Steve Matthews of Coronado is second with 82 stops. Herd defenders Alexander and Sammy Davison are seventh and ninth tackles with 60 and 58 respectively.

Yocum Leads Herd Golfers

The Hereford High School boys golf team closed out its fall schedule with a sixth place finish at a tournament in Amarillo last weekend.

The Faces finished sixth as a team. BUT had the top individual golfer on the course in George Yocum, who shot a two-over-par 74 to take medalist honors.

Tasocosa won the team title with a 313 total, one head of runner-up Amarillo High, and two shots ahead of third-place Plainview.

Hereford finished the round with a team total of 326 for sixth. Besides Yocum, who edged out three other golfers by one stroke for the title, Hereford had Doug Walterschied at 83, Mike Hill at 84, Tony Albracht at 85, and Tommy Weaver at 92.

"We probably played better as a team this week than we have in the first two tournaments," coach Terry Russell said.

The Herd golfers will now take a rest before opening the spring schedule on February 4 at Roswell, New Mexico.

Also last weekend, Hereford's lone girl golfer, Barbara Scott, took medalist honors in the singles division of the West Texas State University Women's Tourney for High School Girls.

Scott, a sophomore at HHS, carded an 86 to take the individual honor. She will play this weekend in a tourney in Plainview.

Cowboys Nip Vikes To Stay Unbeaten

A full slate of flag football action took place with the boys continuing play after a one-week layoff due to wet grounds.

In Saturday's action the Cowboys kept their unbeaten streak alive in a 13-6 win over the Vikings. The Cowboys are the only unbeaten, untied team in the league.

Other games Saturday saw the Oilers trim the Saints 7-6, the Chiefs down the Redskins 12-6, the Bengals top the Jets 25-19, the Packers upend the Cardinals 19-13, and the Rams nip the Dolphins 14-7.

The Cowboys head the National Division of the league with their perfect 4-0 mark.

Following them in order are the Bengals (2-1-1), Packers (2-2), Jets (2-2), Vikings (1-2-1), and

Tight Conference Races Make Predictions Hard

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - "No matter who wins what game, it won't be decided until the last game of the conference schedule."

Missouri's Al Onofrio was talking about the Big Eight, but he could have been referring to almost any conference.

The Big Eight, for example, shows a startling five-way deadlock among Nebraska, Missouri, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Colorado - all ranked in the Top Twenty - with Kansas and Iowa State just one game out.

Kansas State is in last place with a 1-6 over-all mark and the powerful Big Eight, which used to be Oklahoma and the Seven Dwarfs, is now more like K-State and the Seven Giants.

The Big Ten and Pac-8 have two teams sharing the lead while the Southwest Conference and Ivy League are blessed with three-way ties. The Southeastern Conference finds four clubs within one-half game of each other while five of the eight Western Athletic Conference teams have one loss or less.

Only the Atlantic Coast Conference, where Maryland appears to be a shoo-in, isn't really up for grabs.

The close races make forecasting a hazardous chore at best, despite last week's score of 52 right and 18 wrong for a .743 percentage. The crystal ball did come through with three Upset Specials - Missouri over Nebraska, Oklahoma State over Oklahoma and Iowa over Minnesota. For the season, the scoreboard reads 337 right, 134 wrong and 10 ties for .715.

Having been so successful in the Big Eight last weekend, let's go back there for opens this week.

Missouri at Oklahoma State: The Missouri Tigers have invaded such snakepits as Los Angeles, Columbus and Lincoln and come away with victories, so why should they be leery of Stillwater, Okla.? Because the Cowboys of O-State kayoed Oklahoma last week, that's why...Missouri 28-17.

Oklahoma at Colorado: Barry Switzer says crippled Oklahoma is "in the worst shape" of any of the five teams tied for the Big Eight lead. The Sooners may get Mike Vaughan, the man-mountain tackle, back for this one...Oklahoma 24-17.

Nebraska at Kansas: Nebraska "would have liked a chance to win the national championship, although I'm not sure we ever set that as our goal," says Tom Osborne, whose Cornhuskers wore the preseason choice...Nebraska 31-14.

Kansas State at Iowa State: K-State's last three opponents were Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas. Its next three foes are Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Colorado. This week, it's...Iowa State 24-14.

Texas at Texas Tech: The rumors are getting stronger than ever that Tech's Steve Sloan will succeed Bear Bryant at Alabama. Right now, Sloan would like to succeed Texas' Darrell Royal, Arkansas' Frank Broyles and Texas A&M's Emory Bellard, who tied for SWC honors last year. Just a hunch...Texas 22-21.

Mississippi State at Alabama: Another case of the master Bear Bryant vs. the pupil Bob Tyler and the Bear hardly ever loses one of those...Alabama 20-13.

Cincinnati at Georgia: The Cincinnati Bearcats are unbeaten and untied - with one loss. Their on-field record is 5-1, but it's 6-0 if you count the game Southwestern Louisiana had to forfeit. Too bad their next two games are on the road against Maryland and...Georgia 35-14. Minnesota at Michigan: Minnesota may have been looking ahead while losing to Iowa last week, but looking ahead in vain...Michigan 28-14. Syracuse at Pitt: Can Syracuse stop Tony Dorsett? No one else has...Pitt 31-10.

UCLA at Washington: UCLA's Terry Donahue expects a tough game with the Huskies. But they made the mistake of handing UCLA its only Pac-8 loss a year ago and that almost cost the Bruins a trip to the Rose Bowl. Revenge is sweet...UCLA 28-14.

California at Southern California: Ricky Bell should be okay for this one and he needs to take a few Heisman headlines away from Tony Dorsett...Southern Cal 30-13.

Kentucky at Maryland: Kentucky has already knocked off one old grad this year, LSU's Charlie McClendon. Maryland's Jerry Claiborne is another ex-Wildcat, and he doesn't intend to pay the same price...Maryland 21-7.

Ohio State at Indiana: The Hoosiers were ecstatic last year because they only lost to the Buckeyes 24-14 and actually made them throw a pass for their final touchdown. It remains to be seen how the Bucks will perform without injured quarterback Rod Gerald, so a far-out choice as the Upset Special of the Week...Indiana 22-21.

Kashmere, Permian Top Schoolboy Poll

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
AP Sports Writer

The air can't get much thinner at the top of The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll in Class 4A where Houston Kashmere and Odessa Permian have finished the latest balloting in a deadlock for the No. 1 ranking.

The pressure-cooker effect of the race for No. 1 won't ease up this week however with both teams battling tough opponents.

Permian, a two-time state champion and finalist last season, will go against Midland Lee, 6-1, and Kashmere will play Houston Washington in the Astrodome in one of its toughest games of the season.

The rest of the top ranked teams, Beaumont Hebert in 3A, Rockdale in 2A, Aledo in A and Gorman in B, retained their No. 1 tags but for the first time in four years, Big Sandy has dropped from the AP rankings. Coach Ron Dupree's Arp Tigers kicked a field goal in the final six seconds to edge Big Sandy, No. 8 in A, 24-21 for the Wildcats, first loss since the Class B regional finals of 1972. Big Sandy moved up to Class A this season.

Permian, 7-0, will go into the Lee game as the leading offensive team in Dist. 5-4A, an unusual position for the Panthers who are better known for defense. The Panthers reached the state finals last season after finishing seventh among eight teams in total offense in their district.

Kashmere, 8-0, will go against Washington with the passing of quarterback Terrance Grant, who led the Rams to the state quarter-finals last season.

It was another mild week of upsets among the top ranked teams with five teams losing and another playing to a tie.

Seventh ranked Slaton was the lone 2A loser and was replaced by DeKalb, 7-1. Holliday, ranked No. 2 in A last week before a 15-14 loss to Muenster, 5-2, fell to ninth. Wellington, 7-0, replaced Big Sandy as the No. 10 team.

Forsan, 8-0, replaced Axtell, a 13-12 loser to No. 5 Chilton in Class B.

Other teams trying to break into the top 10 include: 4A. San Antonio Churchill, 18 points Baytown Lee and Eules Trinity, 11 each and McAllen, 10; 3A. Brazosport 18, Beville 15, Perryton, 14; 2A. Bellville 11, Slaton 10, Commerce nine; A. Falls City 25, Brownwood Early 14, Rankin 11 and B. Wilson, 18. Axtell 14, and Union Hill 10.

Record Crowd Sees Philadelphia Rip Jazz

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - The crowd came to see Dr. J, but it was George McGinnis who operated on the New Orleans Jazz.

Dr. J - Julius Erving of the Philadelphia 76ers - was held to 10 points but McGinnis scored 37 as the 76ers beat the Jazz 111-101 Tuesday night before a Louisiana Superdome crowd of 27,383 - a record for the National Basketball Association. The previous record was 26,511 for a Superdome game last season between the Jazz and Los Angeles Lakers.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the New York Knicks beat the Buffalo Braves 118-104, the Chicago Bulls edged the Milwaukee Bucks 90-88, the Atlanta Hawks stopped the San Antonio Spurs 122-114, the Indiana Pacers whipped the Seattle Super-Sonics 120-90, the Kansas City Kings trimmed the Los Angeles Lakers 117-115 in overtime and the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Golden State Warriors 110-96.

The big crowd attraction Tuesday night was Erving, whose $600,000 annual salary makes him the highest paid player in pro basketball. Erving was acquired recently by Philadelphia from the New York Nets after missing the entire training camp and exhibition seasons.

Erving, playing only in the second and fourth quarters, was guarded closely by rookie Paul Griffin and E.C. Coleman and connected on only one of his patented slam dunk shots. The Jazz, led by Pete Maravich with 28 points and Aaron James with 22, led by four points in the early minutes. But with three minutes left in the first quarter, Philadelphia took control and held on.

Josserand Out Upshaw Reveals

The Hereford Whitefaces headed into the Lubbock High game this week with two key performances already out of action, and fuel was added to the fire Monday when junior tackle Doug Josserand separated a shoulder and was lost for the season.

Herd head coach Fred Upshaw made the announcement of Josserand's injury at the Booster Club meeting Tuesday night.

Josserand's loss marks the third Whiteface to be lost for the season. Centers-linebackers Greg Brockman and Ricky Taylor were lost earlier. Of last Friday's 10-7 Homecoming loss to Coronado Upshaw said, "Our kids gave as fine an effort as they could have."

And looking head to the Westeners he commented, "all we have left now is pride...our kids are up this week, especially the seniors...it's tough for them when there's not much to play for."

The Whitefaces face some premier district performers when they take on the Westeners Friday night. Victor Lugo heads the Lubbock offense, and is the leading ground gainer in the district. Lubbock also has the league's leading interceptor in Earnest Day, who has snagged six enemy aerials, the leading receiver in Robert Carrasco, 16 catches for 353 yards, and the leading tackler on defense in Casey Smyth, who has been in on 95 stops.

One consolation to the Whitefaces is that the Westeners are "about our same size" according to Herd assistant coach Danny Haney, who gave a scouting report on Lubbock to the Boosters.

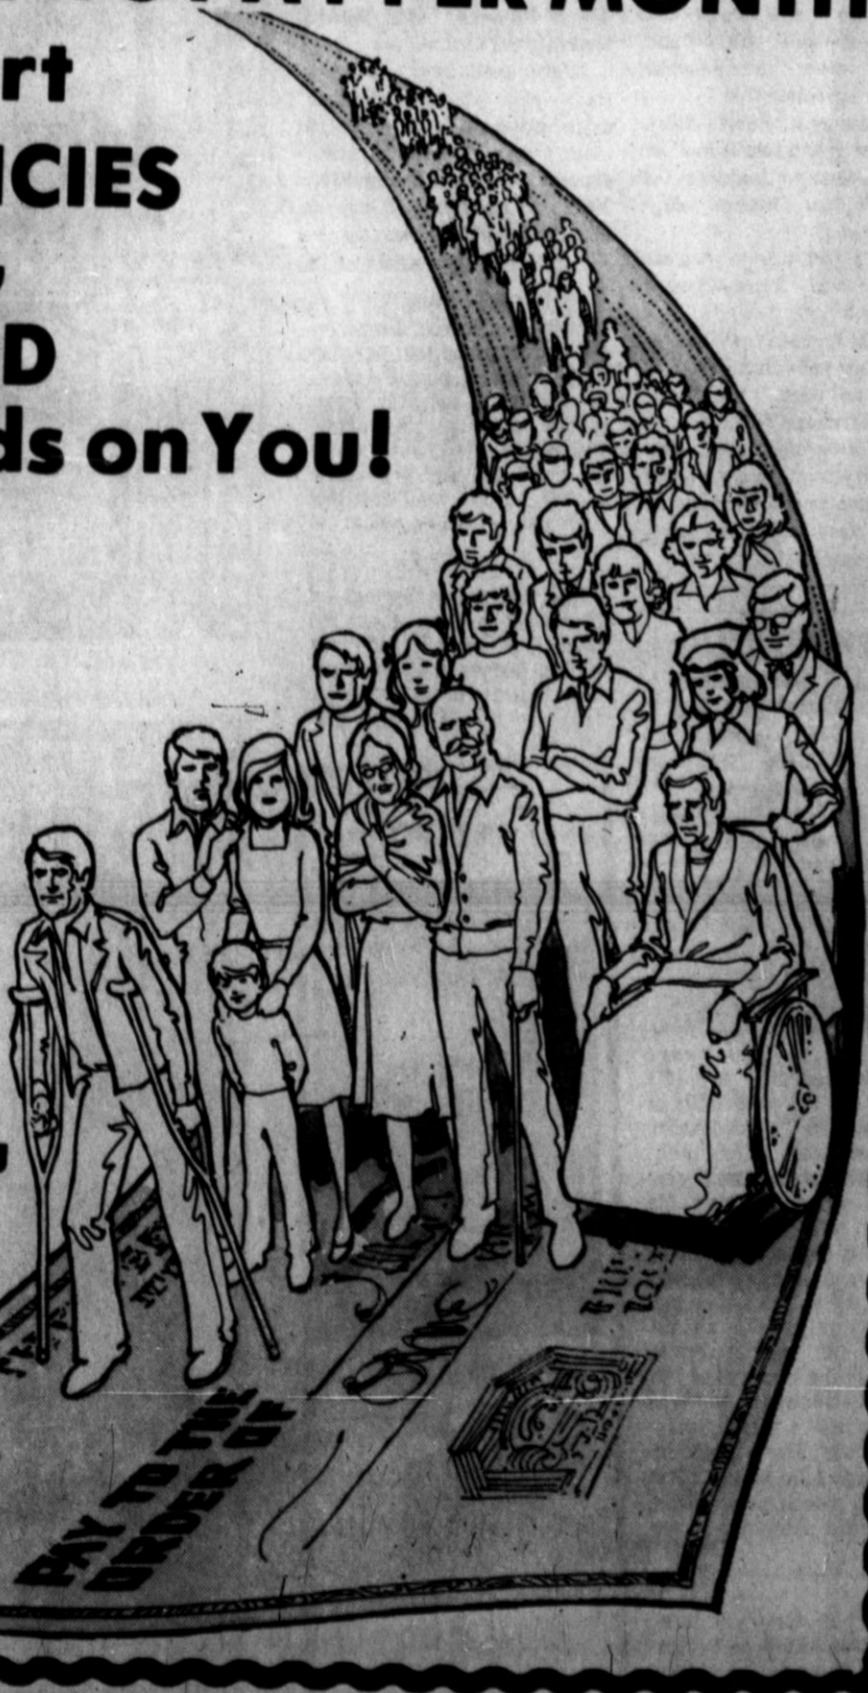

The Boosters will not meet next Tuesday due to the Kiwanis Club Pancake Supper, which will be held in the high school cafeteria. They will meet again on November 9.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) - Bob Wallace, 57, a Penascola, Fla., retired Navy captain, carried a two-stroke lead into today's second and final qualifying round for the North and South Seniors golf championship, after opening with a one-over-par 73.

Ford Winning In Hereford

Ford actually winning election? In a poll taken by the History classes of HHS, the results could be described as "startling" among Democrats in Hereford according to History Department chairman, Mr. Kelso.

Hereford, a traditional Democratic area, does not appear it will keep up the tradition. Results show Ford is leading by about 20 percentage points. In one of the questions by the pollsters, "Do you consider yourself a Democrat, Republican, Independent, other?" The results were: Democrat 58 percent, Republicans 13 percent, Independent 27 percent, Other 2 percent.

The results of question No. 2 contradicted question No. 1. "If the election were held today for which person would you vote, Jimmy Carter or Gerald Ford or undecided?" Ford 46 per cent Jimmy Carter 28 percent, 23 percent undecided, 3 percent others.

Hereford is a traditional Democratic voting area and that the race is considered neck and neck in Texas and the U.S.

On the left side of the Whiteface are comments or opinions from HHS students about the presidential elections.

The History Department, headed by N.D. Kelso, wishes to thank all the citizens that participated in the poll.

Cosmetology Students Gather At Conference

Hereford Cosmetology Chapter took 14 girls to an Area Leadership Meet in Brownfield. They were accompanied by members from Building Trades and ICT.

The meet is to inform the students and other members of things that are going to happen during the year.

At the meet the officers will give speeches and demonstrations to help the students to understand what they are to do. Beverly Edwards, District Vice-President, gave a club demonstration exempt speech at the meet. Beverly also gave, along with ICT, a club demonstration skit.

After the speeches, skits, and demonstrations, the officers divided into different groups. They took students that hold that office and instructed them on their duties and procedures.

After all this was over, opening, closing, ceremony contests were held. All or some students and groups may enter these contests. The winning team received a trophy.

In March, will be the first actual contest in Plainview. First place winners from this contest will go to State held in Ft. Worth, in April. First place winners from there will go to Nationals held in Cincinnati, Ohio in June. At all these levels of contest, officers will be installed.

Cosmetology officers for the Hereford Chapter of cosmetology were installed Monday night, Oct. 19.

Officers elected were President Beverly Edwards, Vice-President Ruth Hawley, Secretary-Tammy Mendiaz, Treasurer Delma Garcia, Sargent at Arms Sandra Brown, Parliamentarian Stephanie Kelso, and Reporter-Becky Landin.

HHS Has Five New Courses

Hereford High School's Homemaking Department has introduced new courses this year. Among these are: Hobbies for the Home, Bachelor Survival, Child Development, Consumer Education and Foods for Special Occasions.

Hobbies for the Home is a course offered for the housewife who needs something to do in her spare time. Students learn knitting, crocheting, embroidery, needlepoint and crewel.

Bachelor Survival is a course for the students who need to learn how to cook for themselves. They also learn how to keep house and wash clothes.

Child Development is to help prospective parents be better parents when the time comes. They learn how to care for a baby and how to cope with the different problems that come with raising a child.

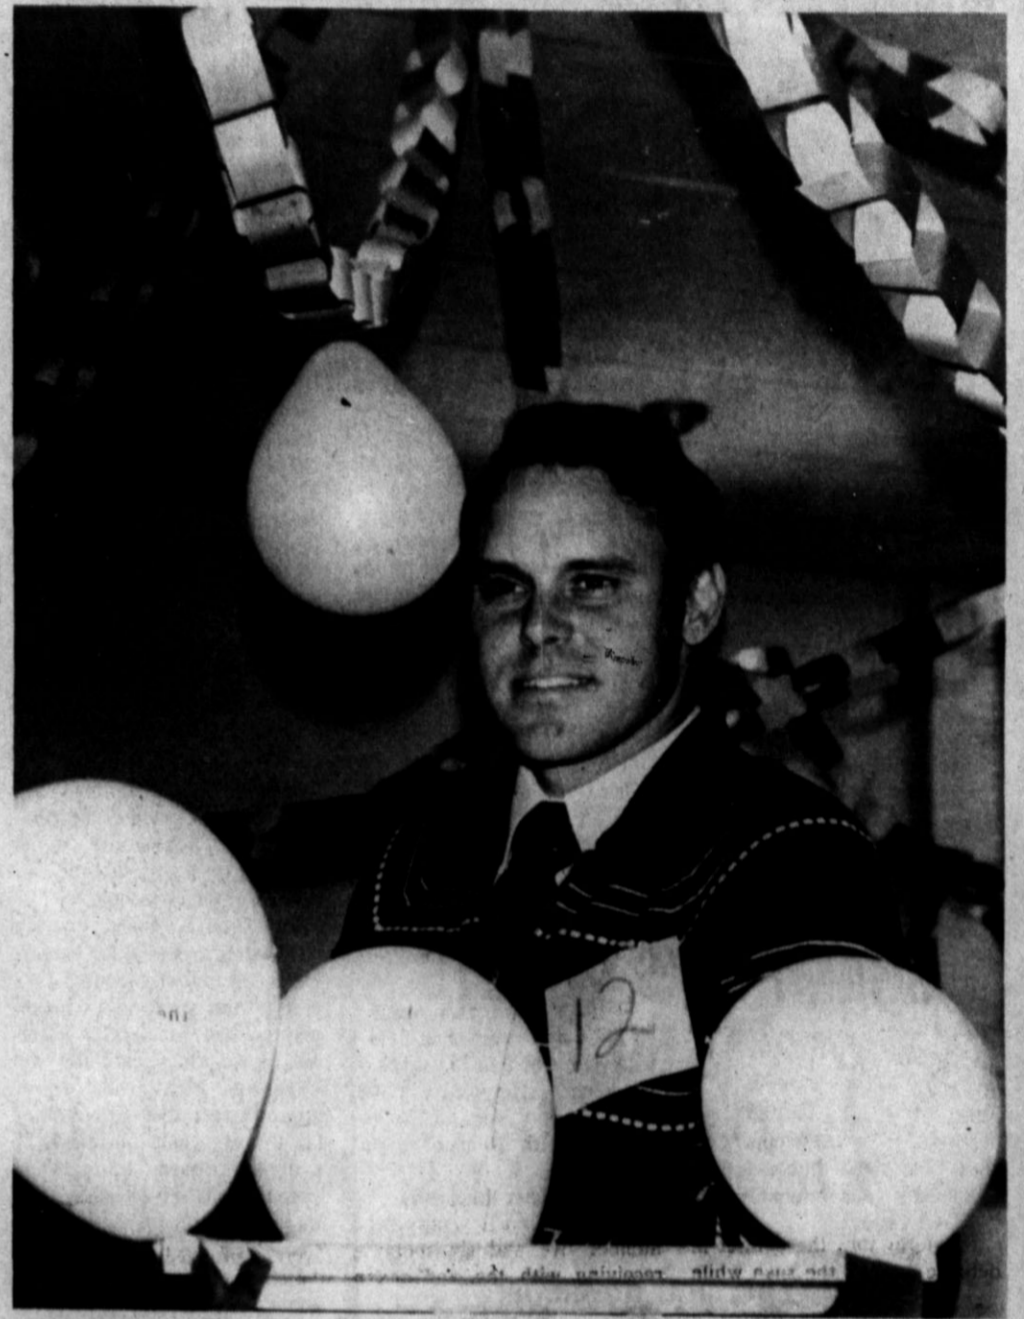

Consumer Education is a course meant to help lead a student to be a better consumer. It teaches them how to guard themselves against frauds and what to do about complaints they have about a product. They also practice buying products from the shelves and comparing the best buy.

Foods for Special Occasions is a special course. There are two boys in the class, Sammy Davidson and Arthur Rocha. They are learning to decorate cakes, plan buffets and how to set tables. The students have also learned to arrange tables for various receptions such as weddings and anniversaries.

The class has also learned to make pinatas and will in the near future learn to arrange center pieces.

Home and Family Living is a course to help students in better married life. The class pairs into boy-girl couples. They set up a budget, learn to spend money and find out about insurance.

The class has had several people from around the community such as Paul Mason from the Credit Union explain the importance of good credit and how to obtain credit. Others who have come to speak to the class include Mrs. Rudd, Don Tardy and Charlie Bell.

HHS Students To Attend Assemblies

This year Hereford High will be taking time out of the regular schedule to see various activities and assemblies. This year there are assemblies by International Lectures, Inc. the usual Southern Assemblies and special "Film" assemblies.

The International Lectures assembly this year will be about a reformed bank robber, Mike Dockery. He will lecture about how easy it is to get into crime and how hard it is to get out. Dockery whose life of crime started at the age of thirteen, now counsels youths. He will appear April 18. This will be a paid assembly.

Last year the English department presented a science fiction thriller "The Andromeda Strain" in the auditorium. This assembly was a paid assembly of 10 cents. This year, the English department will try to show two films. One will probably be another science fiction the other mystery and suspense film.

HHS has already had one southern assembly, an accordion player. The next assembly will be held Feb. 14. It is a musical featuring "Danny and Dereth" from Britain now touring the U.S. This is a paid assembly.

Intramural Football Begins Early

Chilly as it may be you will still see the intramural football boys hard at play. The footballers have to get up pretty early so they can make it on time. They start at 8 a.m. and if the opposing team doesn't show up by 8:10 they have to forfeit that game.

The rules are the same as ordinary football except you don't tackle, you use flags. Instead of 100 yard playing field they use 50 yard playing fields. Facilities at Hereford High are limited so a set of two teams play at the same time.

This year there are seven teams competing. There are four officials, two watch a game and call penalties. They are James Mays, Kenneth Mercer, Mike O'Rand, and Larry Ritter. Listed below is the names of the teams and their records. Buggy Bumpers 4-0-1; Mary Jane Gang 3-1-1; Mafia 3-1; Jayhawks 2-3; Big Bad Brass 2-3; Disco Ducks 0-4; Moonshine Gang 2-2.

These teams are competing for one thing. To get a chance to play in the Super Bowl in front of the Student Body. Each member of the first second and third place teams will receive a plaque.

FHA Hosts An Area Workshop

Hereford High FHA hosted an area workshop Monday Oct. 18, in the high school library. A welcome was given by Colleen Rudd.

After a supper in the cafeteria and an icebreaker, the girls moved into the library. They divided into three groups. The discussions in each group were about "Up-Membership", "Encounter" and "Impact." Encounter is a personal goal recorder, every girl works on individually.

Impact is the group projects in which the FHA chapter is involved. After the individual discussions, the three groups rejoined and reviewed what each had talked about.

The different chapters were from Plainview, Happy, Vega, Hale Center, Canyon, La Plata and Stanton schools.

The FHA also made a float for Homecoming about Peter Rabbit and is planning a Halloween Party for the Day Care Center Oct. 28.

The highest point on the North American continent is Mount McKinley in Alaska; the lowest is Death Valley, Calif.

DE Classes Work Hard

H.H.S. Distributive Education class is hard at work in more ways than one. About 45 students in Mr. Graves' D.E. class recently completed the annual DECA candy sale.

The students had a contest to determine who could sell the most candy, and the winners were: Sequal Balderez 1st; Freddy Banera 2nd; Kathy Hubbard and Alice Aquilas tied for 3rd. The students sold approximately 100 cases of candy during the sale.

Another project the D.E. class is involved in is the KPAN Radio day. The student participate in Radio day by selling ads, programming and some even announce. The Radio day has been going on for the last 12 years during Public Education week.

The First Official DECA meeting will be Nov. 8, 7:30 p.m. at Dickie's Restaurant. The Guest Speaker will be Vocational Director Mr. Robinson.

Contest Participant

Members of Coach David Ashby's room participated in one of the many homecoming events such as decorating their classroom. The contest is held each year to see which first period class can decorate their room best.

Art Department Remains Active

The HHS Art Department consists of many different sections. Not only do the students learn basic art techniques, but also learn and get to participate in making projects with their hands.

The textiles class has been creating many different kinds of projects this year. So far, art students have learned to carve linoleum blocks and block print them on fabrics, paint by using acrylics, design clay pots with Acrylics, and macrame. Ceramics, is another course in the art department that is available to the students. In this class the students learn how to create and paint ceramic pots, vases, bowls, and designs by working with clay by throwing the wheel, and by using the hand method. The ceramics

Acton Joins BB-BS

Barry Acton is now a member of the Big Brother-Big Sister organization. He's 18-years old and is now the youngest member of the organization.

When asked why did he decide to become a Big Brother he replied, "Because I like to be around kids and maybe I can help them with some of the problems they might have."

Barry still doesn't have his "Little Brother" yet but plans to have him soon.

Barry is President of F.C.A. and Captain of the Hereford Football Team. He hopes to get a scholarship somewhere and plans to get married in about 2 years.

Barry is originally from Amarillo and has lived here for five years. His present address is 502 East 3rd.

His hobbies include riding motorcycles, horseback riding, snow skiing, waterskiing, swimming, playing football, and other outdoor activities.

He doesn't know how long he's going to remain in the Big Brother Organization but you have to be in the Organization one year.

At 20, you wouldn't miss a party for anything; after 40, nothing would get you to go to most of 'em.

Bull Corner

The Hereford High School Journalism department asked several students to give their opinion on this question: "If you were able to vote for President who would you vote for and why?" Here are some H.H.S. students responses:

"I WOULD VOTE for President Ford. Jimmy Carter has some good ideas, but he confuses most people. Ford hasn't said very much but what was said is true. I would like to see less power in the federal government and more power given to the states. Therefore, I believe we can achieve this easier with Ford in the administration than Carter. The United States has many problems to deal with, and although Ford is not the best man we could come up with, in my opinion, he is better than Carter."

"IF I WAS ABLE to vote, I would vote for Carter because he is the sort of person that has and he knows how hard it is to get ahead. Therefore, if he was to get President, he would be trying to make things so people like my family and I don't have to work so hard to make ends meet. As far as I know Ford wasn't a labor man and therefore he doesn't know what it is to work less than 40 hours a week and the money's gone as soon as the check is cashed. You see that's what I am talking about. People like Carter, who have worked manual labor and know how it is try to make ends meet and all I want is the man who is going to make things better for me than my parents had it. And I think you have to experience it before you can change it."

"I VOTED for President Ford because I am totally against abortion for any reasons. I don't like the government paying for medical expenses."

"FORD IS THE MAN I would vote for. I like his domestic policies and especially his

Records Show 8,910 Registered Cars In Deaf Smith County

The number of cars in operation in Deaf Smith County continues to increase, year by year, with no saturation point in sight.

As a result, the car density in the local area, as well as the number of two-car and three-car families is now greater than ever.

The latest published figures show that, as of the beginning of this year, there were more passenger cars locally, per 100 families, than in most communities.

On January 1st there were some 8,910 cars registered in the area. This was equivalent to 151 for every 100 local families.

It was a bigger ratio than was found generally throughout the United States, where the average was 146 per 100 families. In the State of Texas, it was 147.

Despite the slowdown in auto production and sales during the recent recession, the number of cars on the nation's streets and highways is considerably greater than five years ago.

The records show that auto registrations in the United States are now over 105,625,000 which is 15,864,000 more than in 1971. It represents an increase of 8,700 cars per day over the five year period.

The additional millions of cars, combined with more trucks buses and other vehicles, is causing traffic jams and bumper-to-bumper driving, especially in urban areas. No relief is in view in the struggle for traveling and parking space.

Much of the increase in car ownership is attributed to the progressive movement of families from heavily-populated urban communities to the suburbs, where the automobile is the basic means of transportation.

The growing proportion of late model cars in and around

Deaf Smith County is a reflection of the rising purchasing power in the area. As family income rises, so does the number of cars in operation.

The net result is that auto registration locally have increased from 8,340 to 8,910 in the last five years.

With more cars in use, more money is being spent annually for maintenance. The expenditures in the past year in local service stations for gas, oil, repairs and incidentals came to more than $4,454,000, as compared with the total that was spent five years earlier, $3,323,000.

First Merit Scholarship Program Offered

The merit scholarship program of the school of Engineering and Applied Science was established in 1965 by the SMU Foundation for Science and Engineering. The program is made possible by generous contributions from the Foundation as well as from industrial firms, individuals, and technical societies.

The merit scholarships are awarded by SMU undergraduate students for study in curricula offered by the School of Engineering and Applied Science, including: civil engineering, electrical engineering, computer science, and management systems. The awards are made to freshman students and are continued throughout the upperclass years provided that, in each case, the recipient maintains at least a B average, continues in the School of Engineering and Applied Science, makes a positive contribution to the School and to the University both within and outside of the classroom.

Selection is based on the applicant's potential for leadership, personal accomplishments, and scholastic achievements. The Scholarship Committee examines carefully the applicants high school transcript, the record of extracurricular activities, and the results of College Board and other examinations. Financial need is not a requirement and is not considered.

In order to be considered for one of the merit scholarships, a student must complete the following two steps prior to March 1. Submit an application for a merit scholarship, a student of Engineering and Applied Science.

2. Submit an application for admission to Southern Methodist University along with all necessary supporting documents.

Applications that are received after the March 1 deadline will be considered only if funds become available by scholarships being offered but not accepted.

Each applicant for a merit scholarship will be notified of the Scholarship Committee's decision as soon as possible after selections are made. As a rule this occurs during the early part of April. Recipients are given a reasonable amount of time to accept their scholarship offers.

Alternates are named in case additional awards can be made as the result of awards being offered but not accepted.

The merit scholarship program in the School of Engineering and Applied Science is separate from the general University Academic Scholarship Program that is administered by SMU's Office of Financial Aid. All are urged to apply for financial assistance from the Office of Financial Aid. Application forms and information may be requested from the Office of Financial Aid, Box 196, Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Texas, 75275.

The Office of Financial Aid administers many types of financial assistance programs including scholarships, grants, loans, part-time jobs, or a combination of these. It is not unusual for a student to be able to meet all of his or her SMU expenses through these assistance programs. The Cooperative Program in the School of Engineering and Applied Science has been in successful operation for more than 50 years. A student who chooses to co-op is placed with an industrial firm for profes-

Ann Landers Lightning Can Kill

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A neighbor of mine was struck by lightning last Friday. She was buried today.

I never knew anyone who has been killed by lightning before. Her tragic death got me to thinking. I wonder how many people would know what to do if they should get caught in an electrical storm. I'm not sure I would know. Will you please spell out some Do's and Don'ts for your readers? Thanks, Ann. --Sad Neighbor

DEAR NEIGHBOR: First the Don'ts:

1. Don't stand under a lone tree.
2. If you are swimming or fishing, get out of the water as fast as you can.
3. Get off bicycles, golf carts and motorcycles immediately.
4. Don't touch anything metal, such as a wire fence, a golf club or a flagpole. Metal objects attract lightning.

Now the Do's: Get out of the storm promptly and go into a building or a closed automobile.

If you are in the woods, crouch down in a low area under dense brush.

If you feel your hair stand on end (an indication that you are about to be struck) fall to your knees and place your hands on your knees to reduce the chances of your body acting as a conductor.

Please note: The most frequent victims are farmers, fishermen, golfers and cyclists.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your answer to "Meant Well Parents" hit the nail on the head. Our son was a bright, charming, creative child with a high IQ. He did poorly in school, got into all kinds of trouble, took drugs and caused us many sleepless nights.

Finally my husband said to him, "You are not going to ruin our lives. From now on you are responsible for yourself. If you make it, fine. If you don't you will have to suffer the consequences."

From that day on we refused to give him one cent. By so doing we released him psychologically and put him in charge of his own life. We dealt with him in a kindly manner but let him know the apron strings were cut. My heart ached but I knew this was the right thing to do.

The boy had some very rough times but when he finally realized he had no one to depend on but himself, he began to shape up. Our son is now 26 years of age. He has a good job, is putting himself through night school and is off drugs. The Transformation is fantastic. He's a pleasure to be around. -- His Mother.

DEAR MOTHER: Thanks for the assist. I've said repeatedly that parents who give room, board and $5 to drug-addicted, dropout kids encourage their dependency. The sink-or-swim approach is the way to go. CONFIDENTIAL to Please Repeat the Wise Words of John Hasen Rhoades: Gladly. "Do more than exist-- live. Do more than touch-- feel. Do more than look-- observe. Do more than hear-- listen. Do more than listen-- understand. Do more than talk-- SAY SOMETHING."

Parents, what should you do if your teenager is having sexual relations? Ann Landers's new booklet, "High School Sex and How to Deal With It-- A Guide for Teens and Their Parents," give no-nonsense advice on how to handle this delicate situation. For each booklet, send 50 cents in coin plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Illinois 60120.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The junior class at Hereford High School has just finished cleaning up our building after using it to build their float for the homecoming parade.

The juniors that came out and worked on their float were a great bunch. They were considerate of our building and us and were most congenial in every way.

If they want to use our building or anything else in the future, they are welcome. We like them.

Sincerely Yours,
Rocky Lee and Bobby Owen

Art Program Is Aimed at Teen-Agers

By C.G. McDANIEL
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — After just one month of study, 25 teen-aged artists have their handiwork hanging in a leading museum.

Before participating in a program sponsored by the Art Institute of Chicago and Parkway Community House, many had never even picked up a paintbrush, says Li Fran Fort, the museum's project director.

Nevertheless, they produced a 5-by-20-foot mural depicting their experience, and it is being displayed in the institute's Junior Museum. Later, it will be shown at Parkway on the South Side and at other community centers.

The program, which operated for the second year this past summer, is designed to acquaint inner city youths with the Art Institute and its collections and to interest them in visiting other museums, Miss Fort said.

At the end of the month, 90 per cent were enthusiastic and wanted the program to continue, she added.

In fact, the students were so excited by their museum experience — for many, their first — that they wrote a letter asking the Art Institute to continue the program throughout the year.

Their portable mural, in six panels, is basic, straightforward and bright — very bright. It is painted in acrylics on a pink background. The first panel shows a segment of the Chicago skyline, with a rainbow arching over it. Slogans reading "The World is Art" and "Art Power" are painted beneath depictions of the Art Institute, pieces of outdoor sculpture in the downtown area, the museum's photographer, and pictures and objects from the collections.

While it is the work of beginners, what it lacks in finesse it compensates for with enthusiasm.

On the last panel, with their signatures, the youngsters wrote, "Flowers & Friendship from Parkway Community House. Thank you Art Institute O.C." (of Chicago).

When they returned to the museum for a reception to show their parents their work, Miss Fort said, the parents "were so proud," and so were the youngsters.

One mother told Miss Fort that her son, who was one of the youngsters involved, never smiled much. But every day he attended the Art Institute program, "he came home and smiled a lot," she reported.

Ancient Organ
The 17th and 18th centuries were the golden age of organ music, but music for the organ was being written and played even in the days of Rome. Ktesibios, a Greek engineer, described a "hydraulic" or waterpowered organ around 250 B.C. Saint Hieronymus, who died in A.D. 420, told of an organ in Jerusalem whose notes could be heard at the Mount of Olives almost a mile away.

Military Fashion
Military men have put their mark on men's fashions: Eisenhower (jacket) Blucher (boot), Cardigan (sweater), Raglan (coat), Wellington (boot). In the first decades of the 19th century, the Duke of Wellington, fresh from his triumphs over Napoleon, appeared in public in trousers, thus hastening the departure of silk hose and breeches.
