Study Shows 'Y' Facility Needed

Hereford citizens believe a YMCA building is needed, with the most important facility being an indoor swimming pool, it was indicated in a developmental study conducted in March by a professional group from Chicago.

Ron Welty, president of the Hereford & Vicinity YMCA, Inc., revealed results of the survey to The Brand this morning. As a result of the developmental study, the YMCA is proceeding with its planning for facilities for Hereford. Welty said a capital funds campaign will be considered by the YMCA board for late 1978 or early 1979, depending on economic conditions.

"Most of the people interviewed felt that an indoor swimming pool is the most needed facility," stated Welty. The study was conducted by American City Bureau Beaver Associates of Chicago. In the study, 66 persons representing a cross section of leaders in business, farming, ranching, finance, government, civic groups, churches and professions were interviewed.

Welty said the study indicated that most persons believed that a YMCA requires facilities and would like Hereford to have a YMCA building of which it could be proud. Typical "Y" facilities elsewhere include an indoor swimming pool, handball courts, health club, a gymnasium and other support areas.

"We've got to be careful," stressed Welty, "not to build facilities that will duplicate existing facilities that are now being under utilized." He said the reason for projecting the 1978-79 date for a fund project is that the YMCA "has a lot of work to do in the meantime." Welty pointed out that the board has to find out about cost of maintenance, costs of construction, and the expected utilization of a facility.

Welty also said the time of the drive would depend on the economic situation at that time. "Thus, the next move for the organizations is to get the building committee started on some intensive research. Our building committee will have to do some careful research on Y facilities elsewhere in order to get an idea about expected utilization, operating costs, square footage, and so on," he said.

As far as looking ahead to the date when the full facility YMCA will become a reality, Welty said, "When Hereford is willing to support the building of a YMCA that will become a reality, it has to be a local community effort to get it done."

Claude Huard, executive director of the Y, said, "I am very pleased with the

State Senate Okays Injections As Texas Set To Join Oklahoma

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Texas may be the first state to execute a man or woman by a lethal injection in the veins.

Right now it's a close race with Oklahoma.

The Texas Senate approved on voice vote Wednesday and sent to the governor a House-passed bill that would change Texas' method of execution from "Old Sparky," the electric chair, to a fatal injection.

The measure, originally introduced by Rep. Ben Grant, D-Marshall, calls for those convicted of capital crimes and sentenced to death to die by injection of a "lethal substance."

The injection would be made by the director of the Texas prison system or anyone he designates.

Sen. Bill Braecklein, D-Dallas, said a licensed physician could make the injection because of the oath he takes as a doctor.

If the Texas bill is signed into law by Gov. Dolph Briscoe, the bill becomes effective 90 days after the end of the legislative session on May 30.

"So far no other state has this," said a spokesman for Grant. "Both houses have approved it in Oklahoma and a conference committee report adopted. The Senate has adopted it and if the House adopts it later this week it will go to the Oklahoma governor."

Other House bills sent to the governor included:

A complete revision and recodification of Texas liquor laws. "This makes no substantive changes," said Sen. Frank Lombardino, D-San Antonio. "It is being in the making for four years. It definitely does not provide for a full time paid Texas Alcoholic Beverage commission."

Authorizes the Texas Employment Commission to set up special counseling services for "displaced homemakers," mostly divorcees and widows who have

Rotarians Cancel Show

The annual Youth Talent Show sponsored by Hereford Rotary Club has been cancelled this year, it was announced Wednesday night by club president Roger Ruland.

The talent show had been scheduled tonight (Thursday) at the high school auditorium. Ruland said several factors had caused cancellation, including the fact that school is out Friday. With some families planning out-of-town trips, some of the entries in the show cancelled out.

Charles Wagner, coordinator of the show, announced that Rotarians will refund money on tickets that had been not worked for a living previously.

Senate bills sent to the House included: Replacement of certain juvenile courts and domestic relations courts by 35 state family district courts. Cost was estimated at $490,000 for the first year.

Issuance of a certificate instead of a policy for auto insurance.

Optional "under-insured motorist" coverage that would pay for injuries received in an auto accident caused by a driver whose liability policy was insufficient to cover the full cost.

Ruland said the club is planning to purchase. He said members will make an effort to contact those who have purchased tickets, but the ticket buyers can also contact the Rotarian from whom they bought tickets.

Ruland said the club is planning to revive the show for next year. "We hope to promote the show next year, because there are many talented youngsters in the community and both adults and kids have really enjoyed the shows."

Rotarians have used proceeds from the show to sponsor youth projects in the community.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Richard M. Nixon's long silence on Watergate ended Wednesday night, the former President saying "I let down my friends, I let down my country, I let down our system of government."

In his recorded interview with David Frost, Nixon said he considered resigning in April 1973, some 15 months before he became the first American president to do so.

"I brought myself down," Nixon said. "I gave 'em a sword - and they stuck it in and twisted it with relish."

Nixon insisted he was not involved in the break-in at Democratic party headquarters at the Watergate on June 17, 1972, or that he participated in or approved the payment of hush money to the burglars.

That is exactly what he said when he was trying to save his embattled presidency in the face of impeachment resolutions just before he resigned.

"Technically, I did not commit a crime, an impeachable offense," he said. "These are legalisms, as far as the handling of this matter was concerned, it was so botched up."

"I made so many bad judgments; the worst ones, mistakes of the heart, rather than the head."

Nixon acknowledged to Frost that "I said some things that were not true" in trying to defend himself. He said that was done in the heat of political attacks.

"It snowballed, and it was my fault," he said. "I'm not blaming anybody else. I'm simply saying to you that as far as I'm concerned, I not only regret it, I indicated my own beliefs in this matter when I resigned."

"People didn't think it was enough to admit mistakes, fine."

"If they want me to get down and grovel on the floor, no. Never. Because I don't believe I should."

Nixon said friends have suggested there was a conspiracy against him and that "there may have been." He said he doesn't know what had been going on in some Republican and Democratic circles.

"However, I don't go with the idea that there...that what brought me down was a coup; a conspiracy, etc. I brought myself down. I gave 'em a sword. And, they stuck it in and then twisted it with relish."

"I guess if I'd been in their position, I'd a done the same thing."

The Frost interview, first of four to be shown in succeeding weeks, dealt only with Watergate. The other programs have foreign and domestic policy as their subjects and the last deals with Nixon's final days in the White House.

He resigned Aug. 9, 1974, after 5 1/2 years in office, saying he had to "put the interests of America first."

The Frost interview is the first time since then - in exactly 1,000 days - that Nixon has talked about the scandal.

The bungled burglary of Democratic party headquarters happened nearly 5 years ago, June 17, 1972, when Nixon was gearing up for the drive that brought him re-election by a landslide over Sen. George S. McGovern.

What he thought and did in the days that followed, what actions he took to hide re-election committee involvement, the money-for-silence and clemency promises he made to the burglars - in other words, the cover-up - these are among the questions that remain unanswered.

British television personality David Frost, who reportedly paid Nixon $600,000 and a percentage of the profits for his recollections of Watergate and other aspects of his administration, put together a network of 155 stations to carry the interviews.

Watergate, aired Wednesday night is the first of four. The others, May 12, 19 and 25, focus on foreign and domestic affairs and Nixon's final days in office.

Frost spent 28 1/2 hours interviewing Nixon, saving his Watergate questions for last.

In the course of research, Frost's staff came across some White House tape transcripts not introduced at the Watergate cover-up trial of Nixon's aides.

Former Chancellor Of West Germany Dies

BONN, West Germany (AP) - Former Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, who fashioned West Germany's postwar "economic miracle" but was forced from office by a recession, died early today at the age of 80.

The portly, cigar-smoking Erhard, whose appearance reflected the prosperity his policies fostered, had been in declining health for months. He was hospitalized in March after an automobile accident in Duesseldorf, where he was attending a convention of the Christian Democratic Union.

Although Erhard served three years as chancellor, his most notable achievements came during his 15 years as West Germany's chief economist - first as adviser to the British and American occupation forces and then as economy minister under Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

His rise to prominence began in June, 1948, when, against the advice of the Allies and other German politicians, he revalued the deutschmark and ended rationing and other economic controls.

The moves, plus the massive infusion of American economic aid and the hard work of the German people, revived the defeated country's economy. Production doubled within a year, and eventually the nation that lost the war became the strongest in Western Europe.

In 1949, at the formation of the Federal Republic of Germany, Erhard became economy minister in Adenauer's first cabinet and held the post until Oct. 16, 1963, when he succeeded Adenauer despite the old chancellor's opposition.

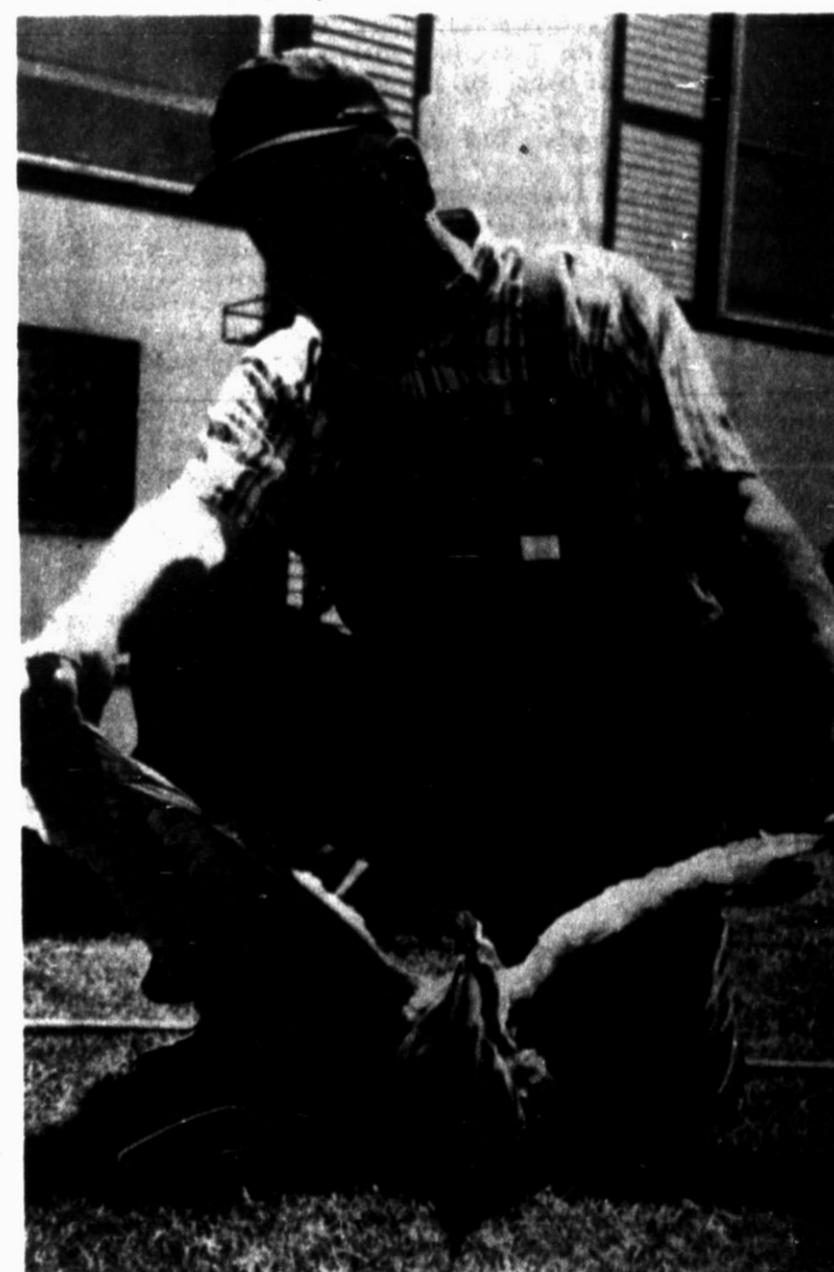

But by the time Erhard took over the government, the boom had slowed down, and the coalition of conservative Christian Democrats and liberal Free Democrats held together by the iron-willed Adenauer was coming apart.

Erhard's critics accused him of indecisiveness in a succession of crises, and he resigned in December 1966, after the Free Democrats bolted the coalition because he planned to raise taxes despite the recession. Erhard was succeeded by Kurt George Kiesinger, who formed a new coalition of Christian Democrats and Social Democrats.

School District Reorganization To Be Discussed

Reorganization proposals for Hereford Independent School District are to be discussed by Superintendent Harrell Holder Monday evening during a meeting of the Parent-Teacher-Student Organization. The assembly will convene at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Hereford High School Library.

Also on the agenda is the election of P.T.S.O. officers who will serve during the 1977-78 school term. Officials of the organization anticipate that Monday's meeting will be well-attended.

House Trims Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - After seven days of debating everything from judges' salaries to campus homosexual clubs, House members expected to finish work today on the $15.7 billion general appropriation bill.

They have trimmed the bill by $252 million, and a proposed two per cent cut in general revenue appropriations would increase that to nearly $400 million.

A $263 million teacher pay raise bill and $213 million worth of benefit improvements for retired teachers are awaiting their turn on the floor, so the money is needed.

Hearing Scheduled

NEW ORLEANS (AP) - George D'Artois, the former Shreveport public safety commissioner, will get a hearing Monday on whether there is enough evidence to keep him in jail in charges of murder.

The Louisiana Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that the hearing cannot be put off any longer to allow the prosecution more time to investigate.

Nixon Interview

The leaking of these over the weekend heightened interest in the interview, although Frost denies it was his staff that released them.

When Nixon announced his resignation on Aug. 8, 1974 - to take effect the following noon - he said "it has become evident to me that I no longer have a strong enough political base in the Congress to justify continuing that effort - the effort to fight for vindication."

Three days earlier, Aug. 5, Nixon disclosed that one of the tape recordings he was forced by the Supreme Court to relinquish showed he had political motives in diverting the FBI from its Watergate investigation.

That announcement followed on the heels of the House Judiciary Committee's vote to recommend these articles of impeachment to the full Congress.

Nixon's reference to the loss of his political base was made in the face of certain impeachment.

Since he left Washington for the District Judge Frank Foil docketed the case for hearing at 1:30 p.m. Monday in Baton Rouge.

D'Artois, a heart patient, was arrested April 19 ago and accused of paying $20,000 to have former friend Jim Leslie killed.

U.S. Watching Spain

WASHINGTON (AP) - Changing a long-standing U.S. position, the Carter administration will not press for Spain's admission to NATO until the Spanish commitment to democracy has been tested.

U.S. officials cite next month's elections, Spain's first free balloting since 1936, as the point where U.S. officials can begin to determine the country's commitment to democratic principles.

State Department officials revealed the change in policy as President Carter was departing today for summit talks in London, including a meeting with the NATO allies.

The U.S. officials stress that the administration still wants to see Spain join the 15-nation military alliance. But the officials said active U.S. backing for the admission of the Spanish might prove counter-productive.

assisting in construction of the new guidelines, said Wednesday that the standards contain several "safeguards."

Devers said "safeguards for computerized credit bureaus in the handling and processing of computer tape data, careful audit trails to permit backtracking each step of the information-gathering process and supervised destruction of obsolete information," are all contained in the new standards.

Students Cited, Charter Renewed

The students of the six weeks for the 5th and 6th six-week periods from La Plata Junior High were recognized by the Hereford Noon Lions at their meeting Wednesday.

In addition the Lions received a charter renewal for the local Boy Scout Troop 50, which they sponsor, and viewed a film entitled "Man's Material Welfare."

Lion president Clete Corlis presented Diane Warden, Damon Jones, Sharon Lowrie, and Randy Ellis with token gifts from the club for their being chosen the outstanding students of the designated periods of time at La Plata.

Troop 50 Scoutmaster Bob Saint presented the club with the charter renewal for the troop, and received an ovation for the job he does with the scouts.

The film was the program for the week, and was introduced by May Program Chairman Al Sauter. The film concerned the differences between the Socialistic and Free Enterprise methods of industry.

The film offered a formula which in symbols read: MMW=NR+HEX.T, meaning, Man's Material Welfare equals the natural resources plus human energy times tools.

The film pointed out that the main reason for the success of the American Free Enterprise system over the Socialistic system was that we, as a nation, have better tools with which to produce our goods.

"We have better tools; we make better products, and live better," it stated.

In contrast, the Socialistic approach has the tools in the hands of the governing body, and not in the hands of the workers, thus doing away with profit factor. However, the speaker in the film pointed out that the absence of the profit stimulus also cuts down on the motivation of the worker, thus cutting down the productivity.

Driscoll Going Home After Escape

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (AP) - David Driscoll was en route to his home in New Mexico today after authorities determined that the man who escaped from a prison in Piedras Negras, Mexico, was not wanted for any offense in the United States.

Driscoll was in San Antonio today awaiting a flight to Albuquerque. He spent the night in the Maverick County sheriff's office while authorities checked his records.

The 28-year-old New Mexico man dodged bullets fired by Mexican prison guards and did a hand cuffed dog paddle across the Rio Grande, to reach this South Texas border city. Some of his relatives arrived here Wednesday to accompany him home.

Driscoll spent 13 months in prison in Mexico following his arrest on a marijuana possession charge. He said that although he was tortured while in custody, he was never tried on any charge.

Meier Gets To Sit After Breaking Mark

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Sen. Bill Meier sank into a soft armchair at his desk Wednesday after 43 hours on his feet, and his colleagues approved the bill he had been fighting since Monday afternoon.

Meier's filibuster was a world record, eclipsing the mark of 42 hours 33 minutes, set by Sen. Mike McCool of Dallas in 1972.

The measure prohibiting commercial use of workers' compensation claim files was sent to the House on a 23-7 vote.

Sponsoring Sen. Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, said there was a "legitimate fear and concern" that companies might use the injury claims to "blacklist" workers.

The non-profit Texas Industrial Foundation of the South, consisting of 282 employer-members, has sought for 2½ years to get to the records.

Meier admitted that foundation officials have contributed to his political campaigns, but he indicated this had nothing to do with his exhausting effort to defeat the bill.

Meier, D-Eules, told the Senate he didn't think "rogues" are all that concerned about this matter. He referred to the bill as the "first chink" in Texas' Open Records Act.

Asked at a news conference who was concerned, Meier listed the Texas Industrial Accident Board, trial lawyers, labor unions and firms that write workers' compensation insurance.

Meier, who jogs to stay in shape, started his filibuster at 3:20 p.m. Monday after a harrowing flight that forced him to dip through a hole in a heavy cloud cover and fly 52 miles at 500 feet.

He rested at 10:20 a.m., 26 minutes after he had broken the record.

Senators and hundreds of spectators in the balcony gave him two standing ovations, and most of his colleagues lined up to shake his hand. "Bravo," shouted some visitors.

The two nights were the hardest, with Meier talking to a virtually empty chamber. Farabee slept in his office - prepared to round up his votes within 20 minutes.

Meier made only three visits to the restroom and was so tired on the last trip that he appeared to sway as he walked, about an hour before he sat down.

Farabee helped him get the record by questioning him the final hour. "I think you've made your point," Farabee said.

"You've done yeoman service for the state of Texas," said Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.

"For what?" queried Sen. A.M. Aikin, looking glum.

Meier sipped water at his desk and nibbled a roll, chocolate candy and lemon slices for nourishment.

Near the end, he repeatedly flexed his legs and rubbed his aching back.

At 8:05 a.m. he took a long look at the wall clock.

After he quit talking, the Senate cut off further debate on a 17-12 vote and then approved the bill.

Local Student, Teacher Will Attend Symposium

A Hereford High School student and faculty member have been selected to attend the 17th annual Texas Nuclear Science Symposium to be held at The University of Texas at Austin, June 5-8.

Jason Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clark, will be accompanied by Ronnie Wood.

More than 500 of the state's top science students and teachers will attend the symposium which is jointly sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation (TAERF) and The University of Texas.

Southwestern Public Service Company, a charter member of TAERF, is sponsoring 43 High Plains participants, including the Hereford student and teacher.

Clark is a junior at Hereford High School where he is a member of the band and the National Honor Society. His outside interests include camping, water skiing, and swimming.

Wood, a biology teacher, has been teaching at Hereford High School for the past seven years.

Leading scientists and engineers from education and industry will address the symposium, and the participants will spend two afternoons touring the laboratories at the University, including those in which the TAERF program for thermonuclear fusion research is being carried out.

Placed In Office

Mozelle Neill, seated, is to serve next club season as president of La Plata Study Club. Other officers, clockwise from left, include Linda McDowell, Audine Dettman, Margret Schroeter, Sue Sims, Clara Brown and Sherry Hoover.

Installation Held By La Plata Women

Officers were installed for La Plata Study Club when the club met Tuesday evening in the home of Betty Taylor, 328 Centre. The salad supper was the last meeting of the club year.

Mrs. Argen Draper installed the following officers: Mozelle Neill, president; Sherry Hoover, vice president; Sue Sims, recording secretary; Linda McDowell, corresponding secretary; Audine Dettman, reporter-historian; Clara Brown, parliamentarian; and Margret Schroeter, treasurer.

Mrs. Draper commented that La Plata has done much in this county along with 130 other women's organizations in our community.

A gift was presented to outgoing president, Mrs. Brown. A "Thank You" was read from Bessie Patterson for a charm the club had given her. She is moving to Tulsa, Okla. and had been a member of the club since 1934. The club voted her as a honorary lifetime member.

A report on the YMCA was given. The report revealed that a recent study proved it to be feasible for Hereford to have a YMCA and one of its first goals would be an enclosed swimming pool.

It was also reported that the Viola Chisholm Art Award would be presented for the 10th consecutive year by La Plata Study Club during the awards assembly May 12 at Hereford High School. The award goes to the outstanding art student at HHS. The award is in honor of Viola Chisholm who was an art and English teacher and yearbook sponsor at HHS and a past president of La Plata.

The club voted to have secret pals this summer and reveal them at the September meeting.

Attending the meeting other than new officers installed were Mary Helen Askew, Nancy Hall, Jean Kelley, Susie Mannschreck, Dolores McCuistian, Elizabeth McDowell, Layon Nieman, Dorothy Prowell, Lucy Rogers, Betty Taylor, Avis White and Virginia Woodford.

Anna Solomon presided over the election of new officers. The new officers are: Shirley Carlson, president; Deana Beams, vice-president; Linda Goss, secretary; Cara Dearing, treasurer; Kathy Abbott, reporter-historian; and Anna Solomon, parliamentarian. The devotional was given by Brenda Hardisty.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were: Eileen Alley, Shirley Carlson, Marilyn Culpepper, Cara Dearing, Brenda Hardisty, Janis Kelley, Anne Rayburn, Anna Solomon, Connie Urbanczyk, Sue Urbanczyk, Barbara Weatherford, Kathy Abbott, Linda Goss, Noel Hagar, Deana Beams, Gail Blaine and Dawn Lyons.

Also attending were Ann Bradley, past little sister; Viola Padilla, new sister and Mrs. M.T. Burelsmith, advisor.

Beef for Calorie Counters

Many Americans watching their weight these days are taking the advice of nutritionists and weight reduction experts and following well-planned, adequate diets to lose their extra pounds. A high protein, moderate fat, low carbohydrate diet has been found highly effective in weight loss programs. A diet that includes a generous amount of beef fits this description as many cuts of beef are low in calories. Beef is highly satisfying as well. There are 19 different cuts of beef that provide less than 300 calories per serving. Based Pioneer brand 3780 is no ordinary corn hybrid. It matures 12 to 15 days earlier than most hybrids grown in this area. It is several points drier at maturity than the average. It has roots and stalks that allow it to take some rough treatment late in the season.

This is the corn we call "the cost cutter" because it takes one less irrigation than later hybrids, saving you that big fuel and labor cost.

We think you'll be glad that the rain forced you to plant this fine short-season hybrid. You may discover you've made more net profit than you would have had you planted any other variety.

Sims Club Ends Year

In their final meeting of the season, members of Sims Study-Craft Club met Wednesday morning in the home of Mrs. Willis Duggan. Mrs. Jerry Teel was co-hostess.

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged. Diane Bim of Southwestern Public Service prepared a tasting luncheon during the program.

A guest was Kay Rhoides. Members in attendance were Mmes. Julian Perrin, Robert Lloyd, Roy Blevins, Grady Hughes, Tommy Wells, Dick Gregory, Tommy Blasingame, Morris Blankenship, Harvey Bronniman, John Brorman, Leland Burns and Jerry Roberts.

"Fiddler on the Roof" holds the record for the longest-running Broadway production with 3,242 performances.

Graduation Day Theme Of Meeting

With beautiful spring flowers adorning the tables, members of the Dawn Music-Club enjoyed their annual Spring Luncheon Tuesday in the Dawn Community Center. Place favors were miniature diplomas, extolling the accomplishments of each particular member.

Following the luncheon, a program in two segments were given. Roll call was answered by each member reading an original poem honoring "Mother."

"A Perfect Day," author unknown, was read by Mrs. Alfred Smith. The subject of the poem covered a day in the life of a mother and housewife of past years, from milking the cows, slopping the hogs, washing, mending and finally sitting at the old fashioned organ and singing "When You Come To The End of a Perfect Day". Mrs. R.T. Stewart accompanied Mrs. H.R. Stewart as she sang "An Irish Lubbaby." J.R. Shannon, and followed by "My Lover Is A Fisherman," by Lily Strickland, sung by Mrs. J.B. Caraway.

Graduation Day was the theme as Mrs. Stewart began by playing the Processional, "March From Vida," by Guieseppe Verdi.

"My Best To You", traditional, was sung by Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger, with Mrs. Carl Wimberley at the piano.

Mrs. H.V. McCabe gave the Graduation Address, followed by the Class Prophecy, given by Mrs. Alfred Smith.

"Two-piano" duets were performed by Mrs. Dwayne Nelson and Mrs. Carl Wimberley playing "More". Theme from Mondo Cane, by M. Cioccolini, followed by a Ferrante and Teicher arrangement of Ernest Gold's "The Exodus", with Mrs. Jim Tilley and Mrs. R.T. Stewart at the pianos.

Graduation Day drew to a close with Mrs. Carl Wimberley and Mrs. R.T. Stewart at two pianos playing the recessional, "Pomp and Circumstance", by Edward Elger.

Members joined in singing the Hymn of the Month, led by Mrs. Tilley.

Other members present were Mrs. R.G. Manning and Mrs. L.W. Tooley.

Capt. Johnson Assigned To Maxwell AFB

MONTGOMERY, Ala.—U.S. Air Force Captain Dennis J. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Reed of 1911 Sherrill Blvd., Murfreesboro, Tenn., has arrived for duty at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

His wife, Maribeth, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W.J. Gilliland Sr., Route 4.

Captain Johnson, a section commander with a unit of the Air University, previously served at Mountain Home AFB, Idaho.

The captain, a 1960 graduate of Central High School, received a B.S. degree in 1964 at Middle Tennessee State University, Murfreesboro. He received his commission in 1966 upon completion of Officer Training School, Lackland AFB.

Versatile bacon can add interest to any meal of the day. It's a natural with eggs and cheese, and its hardwood smoke flavor blends well with vegetables and with rice and macaroni products to make economical satisfying meals, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Display At Library

Jack Nunley, president of the Deaf Smith County Lapidary Club, has arranged the county library display for the month of May. The unique display is near the front entrance of the library. The Lapidary Club was formed less than a year ago, growing out of a class sponsored by the YMCA, and now has about 18 members. The club meets on the fourth Monday at 8 p.m. in the Community Center, and family memberships are $5. The club plans some all-day field trips in the future.

Nominating Unit Selected Tuesday

A nominating committee was appointed by Hereford Legion Auxiliary 192 Tuesday night at the Legion post in Veterans Park with Mrs. Ira Ott presiding.

Chosen to serve on the committee were Mmes. J.G. Gandy, Jacob King and Milton Adams.

After supervising the opening ritual, Mrs. Ott introduced the guest speaker, JoAn Dwyer, director of Hereford Big Brothers-Big Sisters program. In explaining the organization, Mrs. Dwyer said that the BB-BS theme is "a fair deal for ever child." She stated that "little brothers and sisters" must be aged 5-16 in order to qualify for the program and "big brothers and sisters" must be at least 18 years old.

The local Big Brother offices opened in 1974 and the program has a 15-member board of directors. The national founder is Irving Westheimer, who is now 97 years old.

In other business, Mrs. Grant Hanna reported that Girls State is scheduled June 14. Also, members approved the selected recipient for their annual scholarship. The identity of the local student will remain anonymous until the Hereford High School annual awards assembly on May 12.

Mrs. Jacob King, chairman of "Poppy Day" activities on May 25, asked for help in this project. It was reported that Mmes. James Jesko, Ott and J.E. Pavlicek assisted with the bingo party this month at the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo. The next party for the hospital patients will be held Monday, May 9 and volunteers are urged to attend.

Mrs. Gandy announced that several auxiliary members had attended a recent bingo party at King's Manor. Members attending included Mmes. Gandy, Ott, Adams and J.H. Holden. The next Manor party is planned at 7 p.m. May 27.

Mabel Wagner reported that flowers and cards had been sent to ailing members this month.

The 14 auxiliary members merged with the Legion for refreshments, served by hostesses Mrs. Pavlicek and Louise Hollenstein.

Arriving Tomorrow

The Young Americans, a talented musical company, will present their version of "The Music Man" for Community Concert Association members Friday night. Curtain time will be 8 p.m. in the Hereford High School auditorium. Only CCA members will be admitted.

Miss Texas Pageant Tickets Available

Hereford residents who are interested in seeing Miss Hereford-Dee Anne Caison compete for the state title are asked to purchase their tickets before Wednesday.

Lucy Rogers, who is chairman of the local pageant, announced that reservations can be made by contacting the Chamber of Commerce office. In order to be seated in a reserved section with the Hereford delegation, tickets must be bought now, with money paid in advance.

Mrs. Rogers explained that a season ticket for all four nights of the Texas Pageant costs $18 per person. Individual ticket prices are $4 each for July 6, $4 for July 7, and $4.50 and $5 for July 8 and $6 and $7 for the final night, July 9.

The 1977 scholarship pageant will be staged in the Tarrant County Convention Center in Downtown Fort Worth.

Brides of White House Presented to Teachers

Alpha Sigma Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa teachers society, met Monday night in the home of Rose Mary Shook.

The program, given by Mrs. Allo Reeve of Friona, was entitled "Brides of the White House." The guest speaker explained that there have been 15 women married in the White House and one, Tricia Nixon, who was wed in the garden adjacent to the executive mansion. Mrs. Reeve also noted that only three White House brides were blondes; the rest were brunettes.

Mrs. Reeve began her program research in 1971. She has a collection of 16 dolls dressed in authentic replicas of White House bridal gowns. Her collection includes one "Bridegroom doll." In the past six years, she has presented her program 100 times in the Friona area.

Her program Monday was heard by society members from Amarillo, Canyon, Friona and Hereford. Assisting in hostess duties were Harriet Nichols and Billie Birdwell.

Flag Use
Congress, in a joint resolution on June 22, 1942, codified civilian usage of the flag. Among the numerous prohibitions then established, it was ruled that the flag is not to be dipped to any person or thing, it should never be placed upon it any word or design, it should never be used as a receptacle for carrying anything, it should never be used to cover a statue or monument, it should never be used for advertising purposes and it should never be used as a drapery.

The first Poet Laureate of England was Geoffrey Chaucer, who with the title got a royal grant of an annual allowance of wine.

The Chesapeake Bay is the world's greatest single source of oysters. Sown regularly with seed oysters, the bay yields some 20 million pounds of the shellfish every year.

Noble Courts
The Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks, a fraternal organization, was founded in 1888 in New York City by 15 actors and entertainers with the objective of promoting good fellowship. The organization was originally called "The Jolly Courts."

ACROSS FROM THE POST OFFICE IN DOWNTOWN HEREFORD

Ann Landers Shoes Can Cripple

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Do you have the courage to print this letter in the face of all the money newspapers make on shoe advertising? We'll see.

Why in the world don't the designers and manufacturers of women's shoes have regard for their customers? Next question: When are women going to get smart and simply refuse to buy the cripplers offered to them?

Do you have any idea what a female must go through to look "chic" these days? The new five-inch heels are not only a hazard to life and limb while going downstairs (or even walking on an ordinary sidewalk), but the corns, fallen arches, and backaches caused by these preposterous shoes are a disgrace. Today a woman must either suffer or go barefoot. It's an outrage and I am Furious.

DEAR FURIOUS: Women have another choice. They can wear their old shoes. I do.

DEAR ANN: I am very upset with your advice to "Ashamed of Me." How dare you encourage girls to lie to boys? We deserve an honest answer when we ask a girl out. I'd rather be told I'm not the kind of guy she wants to go with than be kept in the dark until I figure out whether her excuses are valid or if she's just trying not to be "cruel."

It's much more cruel to keep a guy hanging on or to give him some phony story like, "I've got to pay more attention to my school work and do less socializing." What's he going to think when he sees her out with someone else?

I've seen some pretty nice girls break a guy's heart by not having enough guts to let him off the hook at the beginning. Tell the girls to let him off the hook at the beginning. Tell the girls out there to be honest when one of us asks them out. That's what we want. Randy

DEAR RANDY: Do you really believe a guy would rather be told, "you're a jerk and I'd never go out with you, so quit asking?" Sorry no sale.

I don't consider it lying when you fudge a little to save a person's feelings. There's already too much pain in the world. I'd go out of my way, if I could, to keep from adding to it.

DEAR ANN: Two weeks ago my husband came home from the office at 10:30 p.m. He is usually home by six. Wait, there's more. He was plastered.

His explanation: A man from the office went to celebrate the birth of a son after five girls. He lost track of time and ended up at a roadside tavern with five others—one, a blonde secretary with whom he "danced a lot."

Yesterday he came home and handed me a package, gift-wrapped. He said, "The nutty blonde gave this to me. Open it." It was a Don Ho album of love songs with a card that read, "This could be us if you weren't such a coward."

I handed him the note. He laughed and asked me to write her a thank-you note from the family.

Do you think something is going on that I'm too dumb to see? The Mrs.

DEAR MRS.: Nothing is going on. Only a man with a crystal-clear conscience would hand his wife a gift from a woman and ask her to open it. Write the thank-you note from "the family." She'll pull in her net pronto.

Local Heart Association Meets Today

The regular monthly business session of the board of directors, Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Heart Association, will meet at 7 p.m. today. Tonight's meeting will convene in the Community Room of First National Bank. All incoming and retiring board members are urged to attend.

Contemporary Group To Perform May 14

"Truth" is coming to Amarillo on Saturday, May 14. This touring music company of 19 members will be appearing under the sponsorship of Amarillo Baptist Association at the Civic Center Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

"Truth" is in the midst of its sixth tour which will encompass every corner of North America. This group of multi-talented musicians from eleven states gives a year or more to this evangelistic ministry. Their contemporary Christian sound has been heard by millions in concerts from coast-to-coast.

"They've traveled more than a half-million miles sharing, through "A bright and powerful sound," their witness for Christ.

With nearly a dozen albums recorded, "Truth" is heard on radio and also seen on network television around the world each day.

Make Vacation Plans In Six, Easy Steps

COLLEGE STATION—Effective vacation plans can increase enjoyment—and cut spending, says Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist.

Kerbel is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

She recommends "six easy steps" for vacations that succeed:

—Decide on vacation goals—such as adventure, travel, cultural enrichment, exercise or relaxation.

For vacations with friends or the entire family, consider each person's favorite activity, also.

—Know spending limits—and save ahead or plan the budget carefully for a "vacation on credit." A plan will help combat the overspending temptations.

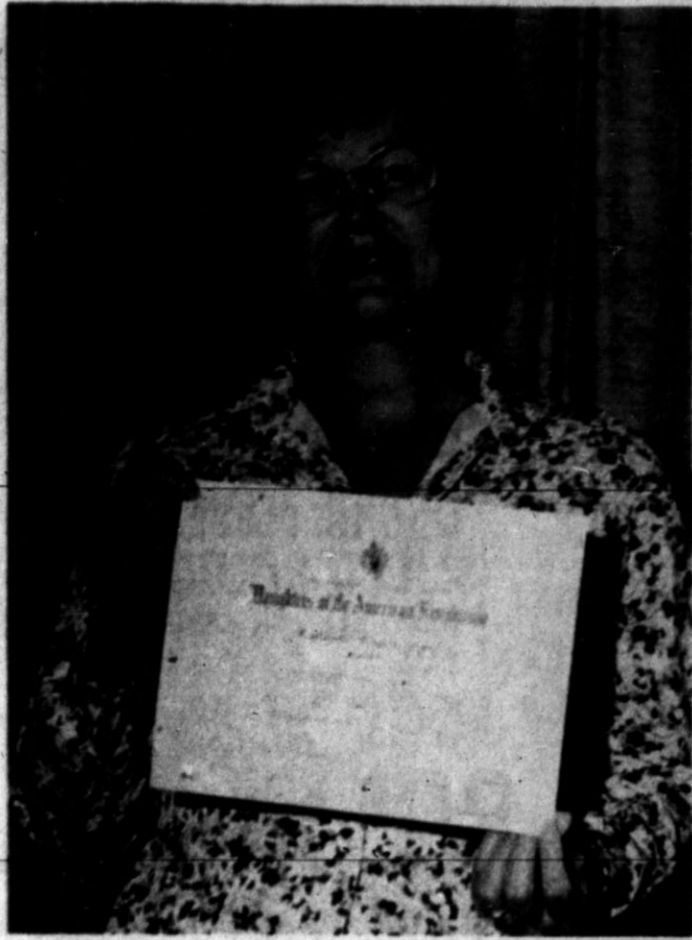

—Consider off-season vacations to save money. Many summer resorts have low rates in May and September—or winter resort areas, such as Florida, have good summer rates. Also off-season resorts will be less crowded.

—Several weeks before the trip, write the Chamber of Commerce or tourist bureau at your destination. Ask for free information about things to see and do.

Before leaving home, make sure you have all the clothing, equipment and other necessary items. Prices at vacation spots are often higher than they are at home.

—Finally, allow time in vacation plans for spur-of-the-moment activities. Over-planning—of planning too many activities—can mean no time to just relax and rest.

Third Parties
The only successful third party presidential campaign in American history was in 1860 when Republican Abraham Lincoln defeated a Constitutional Union and two Democratic candidates. Since 1860, there have been only four presidential elections (1892, 1912, 1924 and 1968) in which all three parties together polled more than 10 per cent of the vote.

Lying in State
The practice of public display of the corpse of a dead monarch or highly placed official originated in Anglo-Saxon times and arose from political considerations since accession to the throne frequently became the subject of contention. This ceremonial showing of the monarch's corpse demonstrated he had died a more or less natural death and had not been abducted.

Spring Banquets Held At Texico

State-Line (Special) Presentation of the Star Chapter Farmer award to Charlene Whitener and the Star Greenhand award to Jeff Sharp were among highlights of the annual banquet Friday night of the Texico chapter, Future Farmers of America.

Another feature of the annual event, attended by chapter members, their families and special guests, was an address by Buddy Deimler of Tularosa, N.M., state president of the FFA. His topic concerned traits for improving an individual and thus bettering the FFA chapter as a whole.

President Don Cherry was master of ceremonies in the Texico school cafeteria. Other current officers taking part in the meeting were Richard Hadley, vice president; Miss Whitener, secretary; Justis Gaddis, treasurer; Mike Snodgrass, reporter; and Chris Eshleman, sentinel.

The new officers, who will direct affairs of the chapter during the next school year, are Mike Scott, president; Floyd Cherry, vice president; Pam Southard, secretary; Terry Rucker, treasurer; Charlie Smith, reporter; and Keith Hadley, sentinel.

Other awards given during the banquet included the Honorary Chapter Farmer award, presented by Richard Hadley to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moss.

Don Cherry received the block and gavel award, presented by Charlene Whitener; and Justin Gaddis presented the chapter chain gift awards to Ricky Cain, David Cavallero, Dusty Casey, Clint Sharp and Steve Doolittle.

The leadership award went to Richard Hadley and the scholarship award was given to Susan Snodgrass by Pam Southard. High individual awards, presented by Susan Snodgrass, went to Terry Rucker, lambs; Pam Southard, crops; Jeff Christian, poultry; John Burgett, meats; Jeff Sharp, horses; Joe West, dairy; and Richard Hadley, livestock.

Steve Doolittle presented these foundation awards: Billy Joe Potts, crops; Susan Snodgrass, horses; Charlene Whitener, swine; and Monte Leavell, beef.

The top fruit salesman award went to Lynn McDaniel. The FFA chapter conducts a sale of citrus fruit each year as a money-raising project.

The Star Chapter Farmer and Star Greenhand awards were presented by Charlie Smith.

The meeting opened with a welcome by Billie Joe Potts and the response by his father Walter Marion Potts. Chris Eshleman introduced a number of special guests.

Before the benediction by Mike Scott, president Cherry introduced three generations of a family which has been active in FFA: John Hadley, who was state FFA president in 1937; his son Raymond, who received the State Farmer Degree; and his son, Keith Hadley, who is an officer in the chapter now.

Eddie West, advisor for the Texico Chapter was given a gift of appreciation by the retiring officers.

The Texico FFA's Parent and Daughter banquet was held last week. Awards were made to the "Most Valuable" members and in recognition of parents.

Most valuable members were: Leslie Elliott, Teresa Doolittle, Deanne Day, Cindy Taylor, Pam Cain, Sandra Hungerford, Debra Coffey, Debbie Flowers, Beth Kelly, Barbara Holley and Georgia Eshleman. Each of these girls sold more than 30 lbs. of pecans or more than 10 pumpkin pies.

The mothers receiving recognition were Kay Coffey, Audrey Kittrell, Danalee Cherry, Florence Eshleman, Janie Day and Lois Potts.

The Texico All-Sports Banquet sponsored by Texico Booster Club, is set for 7 p.m., May 10 in the Wolverine Gymnasium. Tickets are $3.

Activities for that night will include a guest speaker G. Scott, head football coach at ENMU, Portales, N.M. Outstanding awards will also be presented.

There will be a short booster club meeting afterwards to elect new officers.

At the last booster club meeting Coach Paul Topfiff and some of his football boys lifted weights for the booster club.

Coach Topfiff explained the purpose of each different set of weights while the boys lifted. At the end of the meeting it was decided that they would give $200 to the weight program as a gift.

At Wit's End

By Erma Bombeck

A group of women at a luncheon recently were in hysterics over a letter that was being passed around.

As it turned out, it was a letter from a daughter-in-law addressed to a new grandmother-in-law regarding her forthcoming baby-sitting chores.

The letter was six pages long. The first two paragraphs were given over to social amenities and the time of arrival.

From then on, it was a steady list of needs.

"Please add more lights for changing crib and bumper pads. The last time, it was inadequate.

"Four boxes of daytime diapers for a 19-pound infant.

"I gallon skim milk. Make sure the date is recent for freshness.

"Plenty of moisturized towels and plastic bags for dirty diapers.

"Bottlers may be washed in the dishwasher. However, nipples and caps must be done by hand. Push water through hole in nipple to make sure it works.

"Phisoderm soap.

"Vanilla ice cream.

"Two plastic pails and a large basket for laundry. Commercial washer and dryer may be used.

"No pets in room being occupied by the baby.

"Phone must be off the hook while baby is sleeping.

"Rectal thermometer should be shaken down after each using and stored in alcohol.

"Do not place crib under duct.

"Keep toys in plastic bag when not being used.

"Sprinkle baby powder on hands and not directly on area to be powdered."

And so it went. We all laughed and finally I said, "She's putting you on, isn't she?"

She shook her head. "When the baby was born she said, 'Be sure to put your hand behind his head to support him. When they're first born they can't support themselves.' I told her, 'That's funny. When my son was born he weighed 157 pounds and could dribble a basketball.'"

"So, what are you going to do?" asked one of the women.

"What every grandmother does. I'm going out and buy four boxes of daytime diapers for a 19-pound infant, Phisoderm soap, two plastic pails, a nipple bulldozer, and 15 pounds of cotton swab sticks to clean out two ears and two nostrils."

She folded the letter carefully and added, "It seems like a lot of fiddling around for a baby staying overnight."

Making a schedule for the day's work is a sure-fire method to postpone getting anything done.

Kappa Iota Women Install Officers

The annual installation of officers was conducted Tuesday evening by members of Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, in the home of Lynn Carter.

In other business, members discussed the BSP state convention to be held June 17-19 at Waco. The theme of the Texas assembly will be "Showboat to Waco 1977".

Also on the sorority calendar is a Mother's Day luncheon, scheduled at noon Saturday at Caison's Steak House. Certain BSP members will model fashions.

Members agreed to have their end-of-the-year social for their families at 2 p.m. June 5 at the country home of Poppy Head. The party will be a picnic barbecue.

In news concerning the BSP City Council, it was announced that this unit will convene at 7 p.m. Monday in the Medallion Room of Rural Electric Cooperative. This will be a salad supper for new and established members. Also, it was reported that Marcia Boyer was elected recording secretary of the Council.

In a multi-segment program, Judy Stoy spoke about religion, Mrs. Carter discussed child psychology, Donna Warrick commented on sociology, Delores Jones talked about government and Kathy Paetold considered economic issues.

Secret sisters for the previous year were revealed and refreshments were served by Mrs. Carter and Pam Stephens.

Others present were Betty Ann Boyd, Sharon Grover, Suzanne Howell, Poppy Head, Marcia Jones, Linda Thorell, Judy Wall, Lou Griffith, Billie Armstrong, Cheryl Betzen, Linda Kirkpatrick, Melody Siever, Connie Sublett, Susan Sublett and Marcia Winget.

Gathered around her are, l-r, Klint Ruland, Kevin Oakley, Chris Howell, Tony Gonzales, Kody Ruland, Johnny Lindsey, Burton Hayes and Vernon Hayes. Mrs. Tietel has lived in Hereford since 1910, moving here from Indiana where she was born. Her two daughters are Helen Sowell and Erma Lovin. Birthday cake and punch were served to the Scouts and many friends who came by to wish her a happy birthday.

Submissive Adults Need To Assert Themselves

COLLEGE STATION--Today's "submissive adults" should assert themselves more, so self-respect could replace the anxieties that trouble them--and there is a "no-fail" formula for it, a family life education specialist says.

Do you feel people often take advantage of you?

Do you feel embarrassed over complaining about poor quality goods and services for which you have paid?

Do you have trouble expressing your ideas and feelings?

If you do, then you need to learn to assert yourself.

At least that is how Ilene Miller with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says it.

"Each of us has the right to stand up for ourselves, our ideas and our best interests--but seldom are we assertive enough," she charges.

"From childhood, we have been taught to submit to authority. At home, school, work and church we learned to follow instructions, be obedient, pleasant, cooperative, humble and self-denying. We were taught to 'do as you are told, be seen and not heard, be quiet and follow instructions, be cooperative, don't argue--and many more submissive lessons.

As adults, we are often still too dependent on others and do not stand up for our own rights, she says.

"Many adults tend to exhibit the same submissive behavior they learned during childhood.

"When they do what others direct them to do--regardless of their own feelings or rights, these submissive adults become more dependent, display feelings of anger, anxiety, shame and defeat and are less able to make decisions for themselves.

"However, when individuals do learn how to assert themselves--pleasantly but firmly, they receive many benefits--feelings of pride, self-respect, competency, and much more," she suggests.

Her "no fail" formula is this: --First, remember you are not responsible for the actions of any other adult but yourself.

You build better relations when you are responsive to others' needs and feelings, but you are not responsible for their actions.

--Remember nobody is liked by everyone. Be yourself rather than spending time and effort trying to live up to others' expectations. It is impossible to please others all of the time, so don't try.

--Accept your right to make mistakes, to make unwise decisions and to fail once in a while. Attempts to be perfect can leave you feeling frustrated and inadequate. Remember, you can even fail occasionally in asserting yourself.

--Politely express your feelings and ideas and be willing to stand up for your right to make decisions which affect you.

Learn to say "no," "I don't care," "I don't know" and "I have changed my mind."

It may seem difficult at first, but you will find it easier to state your position as you assert yourself, she concludes.

The United States' flag was first raised in Idaho in 1834 at Fort Hall along the Oregon Trail.

Icebergs, broken-off ends of glaciers that slide into the sea, are about seven times as big below the water as above.

Crop Season Avails Produce

COLLEGE STATION--A fast-approaching "new crop" season will see "fresh" changes in grocery market choices--and that is causing shoppers to take a sharp look at current storage stock supplies in the meantime, one expert says.

Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer-marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reports the following grocery-buying summary--

VEGETABLES

Eggplant supplies are increasing with prices "moderate," potato prices are steady or slightly lower. Rutabagas, hard-shell squash, sweet potato supplies smaller, so compare price with quality carefully.

Other economical choices are cabbage, carrots, broccoli, collards, mustard greens and turnip and greens.

FRUITS

Avocados in good supply, more pineapples in markets from Mexico and Hawaii (Hawaiian pineapples usually fine in quality, large in size, though prices may be higher than pineapples from other areas), and strawberries have moderate prices with very good quality. Valencia and navel oranges in good supply, but grapefruit declining seasonally, except for good supply of #23 and #36 sizes at featured prices.

Anjou pears in good supply with reasonable prices. Honeydews, cantaloupes and watermelons available mostly at high-price levels.

POULTRY

Steady prices on fryer chickens--with some markets offering specials on whole and cut-up fryers and on turkey parts. Eggs have attractive prices.

PORK

Pork prices continue attractive--especially good values on Boston butt roasts, center end chops, and quarter-loins cut into chops. Smoked features include ham portions and bacon.

BEEF

Plentiful supplies with special emphasis on chuck roasts and steaks, round, sirloin and T-bone steaks, ground beef and liver. Take advantage of current prices for the food freezer.

GROCERY MARKET AISLES

Features are a variety of canned vegetables--along with pork and beans, rice and peanut butter. In frozen food chests, features may include vegetables orange juice, strawberries and dinner entrees.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: Prices on "pre-packaged apples" are similar to prices of recent weeks--but prices for "bulk apples" are creeping upward as the season progresses.

Electric Skillet Economical Tool

COLLEGE STATION--"one for all and all for one" could describe today's electric skillet, which can be an economical kitchen tool--if it meets family's needs, Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist says.

Depending on size and style, it can fry, roast, bake or broil a variety of menu items--efficiently and conveniently, she said.

Miss Bourland is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

In choosing an electric skillet, consumers might consider easy-care features, such as detachable legs, handles and thermostatic controls--along with no-stick interiors and immovable porcelain enamel exteriors. Also, some are dishwasher safe.

Other features aid cooking. They include baking and broiling racks, warming tray, fry basket and broiler lid. A tilt leg permits basting and draining of grease while cooking. A cover that locks at different angles serves as a spatter shield, and it provides a place to rest the lid when adding ingredients or stirring food in the pan.

A high-domed lid can provide extra head room for large cuts of meat and other "tall orders." Sizes range from 7x10 inches to 11x16 inches.

Best guides for proper care and handling are the manufacturer's instructions. Read them before using a skillet for the first time, Miss Bourland advises.

Generally before using the skillet, if immovable, it should be washed in warm sudsy water to remove any manufacturing oils.

If the interior has a non-stick finish, it must be conditioned by wiping the surface lightly with saied oil on a paper towel. Let the residue remain on the finish.

Also, follow care instructions for special attachments, such as a broiler element, rack, tray and crockery insert--and remember to clean the underside of a skillet by scouring lightly, he added.

A happy, contented marital relationship allows both husband and wife to grow together and to grow as individuals. That is what liberation is all about, says Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Summer evening sandals are appearing on the fashion scene in leather for a more feminine look. Heel heights on evening sandals range from mid- to super-high, adding to the provocative look, Margret Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reports.

Deaf Smith REC Directors Take Tour Of Area

A tour designed to point out the scope and magnitude of responsibility of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative was recently attended by the Cooperative's Board of Directors.

The all day tour, covering over 240 miles and three of the four counties served by the electric cooperative, included stops at the REC's 16 electric substations. The substations provide the power requirements of the rural areas of Oldham, Farmer, Castro and Deaf Smith Counties. These stations have a combined capacity exceeding 87,000 KVA or 117,000 horsepower.

The tour's first stop was in the Ford community where a proposed substation is to be erected this year in order to provide for the ever-increasing electrical needs of Oldham and northwest Deaf Smith Counties. In addition, the other five substations in Deaf Smith County were viewed.

Next on the agenda were the four substations serving the Farmer County area. These stations are located near the Rhea, Oklahoma Lane and Farwell communities, plus a substation serving the general area surrounding Friona. The aggregate capacity of these stations exceed 36,000 horsepower.

The six substations in Castro County have the capability of providing the needs of over 36,000 horsepower. The newest station is located in the growing Nazareth area. Three stations are required to serve the needs of the northern half of the county, plus one located in the vicinity of the Flagg Community.

The tour, attended by all seven directors, was timely and informative in better acquainting the Cooperative's board with the ever increasing responsibility and size of the locally owned electric cooperative.

Those attending the tour were Raymond Annen, Nazareth; Noel Gollehon, Dimmitt; Clark Andrews, Frío Community; Jerry Roberts, new director from the Simms Community; Eldred Brown, Boodleg; A.W. Anthony, Jr. and Sloan Osborn of the Friona area. Also in attendance were Loran Nixon, operation manager and James Hull, general manager of Deaf Smith REC.

Teen Charged With Abduction

DALLAS (AP) - Kidnap charges have been filed against a 16-year-old Dallas babysitter who has been missing with an 18-month-old infant since Friday afternoon.

Police reported that a search for the missing pair has produced no trace of either.

The charges against Mrs. Elizabeth Annette Campbell, who reportedly suffered a miscarriage about a month ago, have been filed. Police have been told that the juvenile may have taken the infant, Shanita Michelle Perkins for her own.

The infant's mother, Mrs. Kim Perkins, left the child with the sitter Friday on her way to work.

Surveying Equipment

Farm Prices May Effect Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) - Government economists fear that rising farm prices will push wholesale prices up sharply in April for the third straight month.

The Labor Department is scheduled to release its April wholesale price report today and some analysts predict another large increase.

Wholesale prices rose 1.1 per cent in March for the fastest one-month climb in 17 months. The March rise followed a nine-tenths of 1 per cent jump in February and raised concern about accelerating inflation.

Consumer prices, which generally follow wholesale price trends, have also been increasing sharply, rising at a 10 per cent annual rate during the first quarter of the year.

The February and March surge in wholesale prices was largely blamed on the winter weather's upward push on food and fuel prices. Farm prices rose 2.5 per cent in March and 2.2 per cent the previous month.

Government economists noted that prices paid farmers rose 1.5 per cent between March 15 and April 15, and said this could have had a major influence on wholesale food processing costs last month.

However, food has only been part of the problem. Industrial prices, including metals, lumber and transportation, also have picked up in recent months.

Concern over rising prices was expressed this week by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, who told Congress: "I don't like the recent signs of acceleration in the pace of inflation."

He warned that it "inevitably casts a cloud on our nation's ability to maintain a satisfactory rate of economic growth into 1978 and beyond."

The administration recently revised its inflation forecast, predicting a 6.7 per cent increase in consumer prices this year, up sharply from an earlier forecast of 5.3 per cent.

To help ease inflation fears, President Carter abandoned his $50-a-person tax rebate plan, trimmed the projected federal deficit and announced a moderate anti-inflation program.

Nixonists Claim Evasion

Former President Richard M. Nixon's interview with David Frost generally stirred the same partisanship that marked the Watergate era: His detractors complained the full story was yet to be told. His supporters applauded what they said was his candor.

"The evidence compiled by the committee and its staff total 7,200 pages and filled 36 books of information," said Rep. Peter Rodino, the New Jersey Democrat whose House Judiciary Committee voted to impeach Nixon.

"It showed clearly, conclusively and finally that Richard Nixon obstructed the Watergate investigation and that he abused the powers of his high office as president and that he failed to comply with lawful subpoenas," said Rodino after watching the 90-minute interview Wednesday night.

The show was the first of four covering the Nixon presidency, for which the former president reportedly will receive $600,000 and a share of the profits, for a possible total of more than $1 million. It was his first public discussion of Watergate since he resigned Aug. 9, 1974.

"I think it's going to have a healing and cleansing effect," said Raymond K. Pr., Nixon's chief speech writer when he was in the White House. "I think it was forthcoming. I think it was a very generous concession by Nixon of his own errors."

One early victim of the scandal, Nixon's former presidential chief of staff H.R. Haldeman, watched the show at his Los Angeles home but would only say:

"I have no comment to make at this time. It's too complex to discuss in little bits and pieces. I may have something to say in the future, but I'm not going to make a lot of little comments at this time. I'm going to think this thing through."

Another top-ranking former Nixon aide, domestic affairs adviser John Ehrlichman, is serving a term at a federal correctional facility at Stafford, Ariz., for his part in the Watergate coverup. The warden said the show was not carried on the two channels available at the facility.

Former President Gerald R. Ford spoke at a YMCA meeting in Dallas Wednesday night, but didn't mention the interview with the man he succeeded and later pardoned.

A Ford aide said arrangements had been made to tape the telecast for later viewing by Ford if he desired.

There were no plans for President Carter to watch the show, said White House spokesman Jody Carter.

Many members of the Senate and House missed the interview because Congress was still in session when the telecast began.

Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said he had seen only a few minutes of the telecast "but I had seen enough."

He said he didn't like "the idea of a former president of the United States appearing in such a context and for money."

In Honolulu, Ben Bradlee, executive editor of the Washington Post, which first linked the Nixon White House to the Watergate break-in, said Nixon's admission that he let the American people down "was very moving."

"He said a lot. He said he made some bad judgments. He hasn't said that before," Bradlee said after watching the show. "Factually, I don't think there was anything new."

Carter Firm On Gasoline Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite heavy congressional opposition, White House energy adviser James R. Schlesinger says the Carter administration has no plans to back off its proposal for a standby gasoline tax.

"We have no sacrificial part of the energy program," Schlesinger said Tuesday. However, he said he wishes members of Congress would worry less about the controversial parts of the energy plan such as the gasoline tax and think more about the program as a "complex whole."

Both President Carter and Schlesinger planned to go over the energy proposals today in an informal White House session with members of the new House ad hoc energy committee.

The panel also planned an open hearing later in the day on national security aspects of the energy plan. Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance and Defense Secretary Harold Brown were scheduled to testify before the panel.

Schlesinger testified for three hours Tuesday before the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, during which he repeatedly defended the controversial standby gasoline tax proposal.

The tax, which would only be imposed if gasoline consumption exceeded specified levels, could be levied beginning 1979 in yearly five-cent-a-gallon increments, up to a maximum of 50 cents a gallon.

The tax proposals have drawn considerable resistance, and many congressional leaders have predicted it will be defeated.

But Schlesinger said the administration views the standby tax as a necessary "mechanism to challenge the American public to conserve gasoline."

He said the tax could easily be avoided, but predicted a "50 per cent to 60 per cent chance" that it will be imposed if approved by Congress.

The tax would be "a reminder to the American people to achieve what we all know we can achieve," Schlesinger said. And, he noted, Americans stand to receive about $25 per person in tax rebates for every nickel the gasoline tax increases, if that portion of the President's plan is approved.

If the standby gasoline tax were to take effect, the tax rebate would be applied as a tax credit for all taxpayers, regardless of their use of gasoline.

But committee members expressed skepticism about the plan. Sen. Dale Dumpers, D-Ark., told Schlesinger the proposed gasoline tax was "a patently unfair method of trying to conserve energy."

Schlesinger said he is disappointed that discussion of the President's energy package thus far, "mostly negative, has focused on four or five" elements of the plan.

He said the plan, which contains 103 separate legislative proposals, should be viewed as a whole and not picked apart piece by piece.

But Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., warned him that "it is going to be very difficult to get a package this size out of Congress."

Marie Owen, a policeman's widow, was the first policeman appointed in the United States. She was appointed to the Detroit Bureau of Police in 1893.

Insurance Company Doesn't Pay

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - James M. Bright Jr.'s life was insured for $2,000 until age 22. He died 19 days before his 22nd birthday. The insurance company refused to pay. The insurance company won its case today.

The Texas Supreme Court upheld lower court decisions that New York Life Insurance Co. was not obligated to pay Bright's beneficiaries a dime.

Here's the catch.

While the policy said Bright was covered until age 22, it also said that "every reference...to 'age' means age at nearest birthday" to the anniversary date of the policy.

The anniversary date was June 1, 1975. Bright's 22nd birthday would have been Aug. 22, 1975. He died on Aug. 3, 1975. So under the policy terms, he already was 22, even though he was 21.

The Corpus Christi Court of Civil Appeals said the policy was "clear and unambiguous" on that point, and the supreme court agreed without writing a new opinion of its own.

Carter Bound For Europe

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Carter is bound for Europe and his informal initiation into the exclusive club of world statesmen.

Although Carter has met at the White House with a variety of presidents, prime ministers and princes, his first overseas mission will involve him in multi-nation talks with the political heavyweights of the industrialized world.

In advance of today's mid-morning departure for London and an international economic summit, Carter said, "I'd like to have a common approach among the developed industrialized nations toward dealing with inflation and unemployment."

Although this is the central challenge facing Carter and his foreign counterparts, they also will confront other minefields of conflicting national interests.

In addition to discussing how to achieve economic stimulation free of rampant inflation, the conferees will discuss other knotty issues such as help for the world's poor nations, nuclear policy, East-West relations and trade.

The summit will occupy only part of a busy six-day schedule for Carter. He also will participate in a NATO summit in London, fly to Geneva for talks Monday with President Hafez Assad of Syria, take part in a four-national meeting on Berlin, and confer individually with his country's most powerful global allies.

Carter's only respite from business will come Friday morning when he makes a four-hour tour of England's New Castle area, where his forebears once lived.

A low-key arrival ceremony, free of speeches, awaited Carter tonight at London's Heathrow Airport. During five nights in the British capital, he will stay at Winfield House, the home of the American ambassador.

Summitry will get off to an informal start Friday night with a dinner at 10 Downing Street, the office-residence of Prime Minister James Callaghan. Formal sessions will be held Saturday and Sunday at the same site.

Callaghan has visited Carter at the White House, as have three other summit participants: Premier Takeo Fukuda of Japan and Pierre Trudeau of Canada and Roy Jenkins, president of the European Common Market Commission.

Carter will be getting acquainted with three others: French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, Chancellor Helmut Schmidt of West Germany and Premier Giulio Andreotti of Italy.

Each government head will be accompanied by his foreign and finance ministers.

Odessa Editor Free On Bond

ODESSA (AP)— City editor John Slincy of the Odessa American was free on $5,000 bond today after surrendering at the Ector County sheriff's office to face a bribery indictment returned by a county grand jury.

Two other former employees of the newspaper, James Beaty, district distribution manager, and his wife, Susan, switchboard operator, were also indicted Tuesday on charges of possessing more than four ounces of marijuana.

Olin Ashley, managing editor of the Odessa American, said the couple quit their jobs shortly after the indictments were handed down. Slincy is still at work.

The indictment against Slincy accuses him of attempting to bribe Jimmy Edwards, a candidate for county attorney, last year. It specifically alleges Slincy promised to confer a benefit on Edwards with the intent to influence him.

Edwards was promised $5,000 to withdraw from the county attorney runoff election, according to Ector County Dist. Atty. John Green. However, Edwards entered the race and lost.

In a statement issued Wednesday, Ashley said, "You can believe that it was no accident that the three people who were indicted are or have been employees of the Odessa American. Do you really suppose that in all of Ector County there were no other criminal matters that could and probably should have been presented to the grand jury along with these cases? This smacks of selective prosecution."

The grand jury also issued a report saying it had been told that Slincy had contacted a member of the grand jury commission in an effort to have certain people named to the investigative panel.

The report also said the grand jury has evidence that "considerable illegal gambling" involving an unnamed Odessa American reporter had been going on.

Lyle DeBolt, publisher of the newspaper, issues a second statement, saying "I think the most important thing to remember about Slincy's indictment is that there remains in this country the presumption of a man's innocence until he is proven guilty by a jury of his peers."

Son Says Flight Not Discussed

ST. CHAMASSY, France (AP)— The son of the late Charles A. Lindbergh says his father's solo nonstop transatlantic flight 50 years ago was rarely discussed at home despite the delirium the epic journey touched off at the time.

Scott Lindbergh, 34, also said in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press that the kidnap-slaying of Lindbergh's first child in 1932 was "a sort of forbidden subject" in the home.

Scott said the reason the flight was only occasionally discussed at home was that his father, who died at age 72 in August 1974 in Hawaii, preferred looking to the future, promoting civil aviation and wildlife conservation, teaching his children to fly at a Connecticut airfield, or just horsing around by tossing water balloons in the house.

"The only time I can remember him saying anything was when the Jimmy Stewart movie came out, and even then he didn't say much," Scott Lindbergh said of the flight his father made from New York to Paris on May 21, 1927.

"He didn't speak about it because he didn't think it would be constructive. He always tried to be forward-looking. He wanted to use the flight as a springboard, to show that flying could be reliable, that aviation could be punctual, bring people together and reduce distances."

Scott said he was not aware of anything special about his father's flight across the Atlantic until he was about 16.

"I was aware he had flown nonstop from New York to Paris, but it really had no influence on me until later. "The impact didn't really come through to me until after his death when lots of reporters called up."

"It's difficult to realize what it really was like at the time he made the flight, difficult to understand the state of technology and understand the importance of what he did. Personally, in itself, it was a rather exceptional feat. It was well planned. Others had been moving in that direction. It was a feat for its time. The times were really ready for it, but the way he acted afterward was perhaps more important."

Six men died attempting the New York-Paris flight before Lindbergh, then 25, accomplished it and was cheered by a frenzied crowd when he landed at 10:22 p.m. at Le Bourget Airport.

As for the March 1, 1932, kidnap-slaying of Charles Jr., Scott Lindbergh said, "It was sort of a forbidden subject. I was over 10 when I learned of it, and that was through a newspaper story. Our parents found out, and then we were 'briefed' as to what actually happened. My parents never really spoke about the past." Bruno Richard Hauptmann was convicted of the kidnap-slaying and executed on April 3, 1936, professing his innocence to the end.

This June 2, Scott, who runs a money research center in this village in southwestern France, and hundreds of others will attend ceremonies in Paris commemorating Lindbergh's 33½-hour flight in the "Spirit of St. Louis." The Paris ceremonies will be tied to the Le Bourget air show.

Reminiscing on how his father spent time with him, his older brothers Jon and Land, his older sister Anne and his younger sister Reeve, Scott said: "He took us up regularly at Danbury Conn. Airport where he rented Piper Cubs. He'd sit behind, with us up front, one at a time."

"I was about 8 when I started, and the sessions would last anywhere from one to three hours. Sometimes he would get upset about how I handled the plane, especially in steep banks. I always leaned against the banks, instead of leaning with it."

"If you did something wrong like that you'd do it again and again, even against your will. But he wasn't really nasty about it, just very insistent. By the time I was 16 I could take off, fly and land but I never flew solo. He was always in the back."

He said his father never gave allowances to him or the other children, and that "when we needed money we had to work for it, cutting grass, sawing wood and things like that. He didn't want us to have the idea that money was just available."

But he said his father also had had a sense of humor.

"He was from the Midwest, and he just liked to horse around sometimes," he said. "I remember sometimes he'd put a cup of water over a door in our house in Darien and wait for it to fall on one of us kids. We would have quite a good long water fight, up the stairs, everywhere, with water balloons and sponges. He'd always take part, but mother didn't. She was from an Eastern banking family and would just stand to one side."

Lindbergh, who holds degrees from Cambridge and the University of Strasbourg, lives in a refurbished, 11-room, 17th century hunting lodge with his wife, Aika, a painter. A large wing attached to the main house has cages for 40 monkeys, which are free to roam about the 82-acre grounds at will, along with the Lindberghs' three dogs and six peacocks.

Lindbergh said he set up his private research center in 1972 mostly with his own money and grants from different organizations. The purpose is to study how the monkeys, imported from South America, form social groups in a changed environment.

"The vegetation here is a lot different from a tropical rain forest," Lindbergh said. "I've had to string ropes from the trees to substitute for vines."

Father Of Child Gets 20 Years For Abuse

HOUSTON (AP)— The prosecutor said 8-year-old Daniel Broynell was a "vegetable" because of injuries inflicted on him by his stepfather.

A doctor testified the words "I cry" had been burned into the boy's back.

The doctor said brain damage had resulted from the trauma of a ruptured colon and the gangrene which had set it. He said the boy's colon had been ruptured apparently by the insertion of a foreign object some 18 inches into the body through the rectum.

The blonde-headed boy was wheeled into court curled up on a roll-away bed and Dr. Wallace Fagan testified Daniel had the reflexes of a newborn infant and had to be fed with a syringe inserted in his mouth.

Fagan said the boy apparently could not see, hear or move.

"But nurses have told me that now and then there are tears in his eyes," the doctor testified. Some of the jurors wept when the doctor testified.

Prosecutor Hogan Stripling, in the closing arguments Wednesday asked the jury to tell "this community what you think of this behavior."

The eight-woman, four-man jury deliberated about an hour before convicting Lozier Ray Pickering, 25. It then assessed him the maximum 20 years prison sentence.

Carolyn Pickering, 28, Pickering's wife and the boy's mother, also is charged with injuring the boys. She is awaiting trial.

Pickering, a construction worker, did not testify in the emotion-packed trial which had an overflow crowd the final day in the courtroom of State District Judge Bob Scofield.

"If an eye for an eye were true, you should reduce Pickering to the life of a vegetable," Stripling told the jury.

J.B. Davis, Pickering's attorney, claimed there was no evidence directly linking Pickering to the child's injuries and criticized the circumstantial nature of the case against him.

"Don't find this man guilty because of what you feel for his child," David said in closing remarks to the jury.

Pickering brought the boy to a Houston area hospital last Oct. 13. Doctors said the child was in an unconscious condition. The boy still is a patient at the hospital.

Cattle's Roots Lead to "Bos"

Modern beef cattle date back in history almost 4 million years, to the "Bos primigenius" whose fossilized remains indicate a shaggy haired creature over six feet tall, with horns nearly ten feet across. Over the next several million years, man domesticated the Bos, and discovered that he was an excellent work animal and source of food. Today's beef cattle, are selectively bred for uniform size and weight gain, low fat content and choice lean meat that's the favorite of millions of Americans.

Still Make House Calls?

Some doctors still make house calls? I didn't know that. Most of us city dwellers have assumed that the demand for medical consultation and treatment so far exceeds the supply of physicians that we all have to wait in line at the doctor's office so that he can squeeze as many appointments as possible into each workday. Not everyone.

The American Medical Assn. (AMA) went to great lengths to research this subject, but so far comparatively few journals have considered the findings newsworthy.

Had the AMA released a more sensational expose or some caustic self-criticism of the profession you'd have heard about that.

But did you hear that American doctors still average 17 million house calls every year?

Two percent of all physician services are being delivered to the patient's home.

Granted, that is a lesser percentage than 20 years ago, when doctors made four times that many house calls.

Yet patients at all income levels still do get this most personalized service.

You, the patient, might be better off in the doctor's office or hospital where he has available more extensive diagnostic equipment and facilities and skilled assistants.

But these advantages may be outweighed by the inconvenience, especially to elderly persons. Thus it is that most (56 per cent) of all house calls are to accommodate patients who are disabled or otherwise limited in their activity. Fifty-one per cent are over 65.

And this surprised me: Seventy per cent of all house calls are made in cities. Only 27 per cent to rural families; only 3 per cent specifically to farm families.

Understandably, this survey reveals that most house calls are made by general practitioners—family doctors.

Nobody has ever watched Dr. Welby on television without some envy of the patients who are able to commend his total attention for the duration of their illness. (It is also comforting that most of his patients, however desperately diseased, are completely cured with less than 60 minutes.)

There is a father-son physician combination in Shippenburg, Pa.: Dr. Albert Freeman, 66, and Dr. William Freeman, 38.

Son Bill admits that his dad makes many more house calls than does he—seven to ten a day.

But young Dr. Freeman says, "I always try to imagine myself in the position of the patient or the concerned family member. If I would want a doctor to come out, I go out."

This survey revealing that there are so many "young Dr. Freemans" still around was reassuring to me, and I thought it might be to you, too.

North Koreans Stage Ambush Caffeine Linked To Discomfort

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—One or more North Koreans ambushed a South Korean foot patrol, killing one man, wounding another and shattering nine months of quiet along the demilitarized zone, the United Nations Command said Wednesday.

The American-led U.N. Command asked the Military Armistice Commission to investigate the shooting, but there was no immediate word whether North Korea would agree.

The command, which includes both Americans and South Koreans, said one or more North Koreans had hidden near the southern fence on the 2½-mile-wide demilitarized zone Tuesday and opened fire on the patrol.

Spent cartridges for Russian-made AK47 automatic rifles were found near the site, which is about 60 miles north of Seoul and some six miles northwest of Chorwon, the command said.

North Korea's official Radio Pyongyang rejected the charges in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo. The radio said no North Korean soldiers crossed the demilitarized zone or shot at South Koreans.

The radio said South Korean authorities and the U.N. Command fabricated the incident to have an excuse for the continued presence of U.S. troops in South Korea.

The South Korean fatality was the first reported along the demilitarized zone since Aug. 18, when two American officers were killed by a group of club-and-ax-wielding North Koreans at Panmunjom.

The incident, which occurred after the Americans tried to direct the trimming of a tree in the village, raised tensions along the 151-mile border that divides the two Koreas.

North and South Korean and U.S. forces were placed on full combat alert after the two Americans were killed. But the crisis eased when the armistice commission met and agreed to divide the village to prevent further clashes.

President Carter has said he planned to phase out the 33,000 American ground troops in Korea, but that he would leave Air Force personnel, now numbering about 7,000.

South Korea President Park Chung-hee has warned that North Korea may try to over-run his country if the American troops leave.

TOGONTO (AP)—A new study further linking caffeine and mental disturbance has found that among a group of psychiatric patients those with a large caffeine habit were more depressed.

The study of 83 psychiatric patients also showed that patients who drank large amounts of coffee containing caffeine were more anxious and tended to use tranquilizers more often.

The conclusions by researchers at the University of Michigan were drawn in a paper to be presented today to the American Psychiatric Association.

The doctors concluded that the higher the caffeine intake and this included tea, cola drinks and pills that contain the stimulant, the more likely it was that the subject would report symptoms of mental discomfort.

But the Michigan researchers emphasized that because their subjects were under treatment for psychiatric disorders, they did not know in what way the results could be applied to the general population.

They also said they could not definitely link caffeine consumption with depression.

Low consumers of caffeine were those whose intake ranged from none to 249 mg., and moderate use was classed as 250 to 749 mg. per day. The doctors noted that one patient consumed 400 mg. of caffeine a day, solely from stay-awake pills and another consumed a startling 4,000 mg. per day from various sources.

Energy plan's fine print

By Martha Angle and Robert Walters

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When the president of the United States looks you straight in the eye and tells you that sacrifice is character-building, it's time to count the family silver.

Bitter experience suggests that when the ennobling affects of President Carter's energy policy make themselves felt, it's the average American who will wind up with the most character and the least money.

Over and over, Carter has insisted that every segment of society is being asked to bear an equal share of the burden of curbing the nation's insatiable appetite for energy, that "equity" is the guiding principle of his entire program.

But anyone who honestly believes that Exxon and Gulf, say, will suffer the same net economic impact as the archetypal family of four must still be wondering where the Easter Bunny is.

If the President's program is adopted intact, every consumer in America will pay more for gasoline, more for heating oil, more for natural gas, more for electricity and more for every product made from petroleum — which means just about anything you care to name these days as we all know from watching those helpful television commercials.

Every dollar "more" that the average citizen shells out means just that much less in the family chequer. Under the Carter plan, prices will rise as a result of added taxes rather than extra profits for the energy producers, but that is small solace to the consumer.

The President says that if we're virtuous and reduce our energy consumption, we'll get all that money back and then some in the form of tax rebates. But somehow the folks who give to the federal government never seem to be the same folks who get money back from Uncle Sam.

The fellow who needs a big car because he has a large family, and who drives 50 miles to work each day because there isn't any other way to get there, won't be getting any money back on the gasoline tax. The middle-income family paying $1,000 or so to insulate its home will get only a fraction of that sum back in the form of a tax credit, and the money saved through insulation will be taken away in higher prices for heating oil or natural gas.

All of which is to say that rebates or no rebates, millions of ordinary citizens will indeed be making genuine financial sacrifices if Carter's energy program is adopted.

But what will the big oil and gas corporations be losing that they now have?

The answer, if you read the fine print of the Carter plan, is virtually nothing — as the President more or less acknowledged when he was asked that very question at his April 22 news conference.

What the energy producers will be required to relinquish is what Carter described as the "additional income" they had hoped to make if the Republicans had succeeded in deregulating oil and gas prices.

The companies are moaning that they stand to lose "billions" from the imposition of price controls on natural gas sold within the states where it is produced. But they don't tell you how much extra they will make as a result of Carter's proposal to allow higher prices on gas sold across state lines.

Nor do they mention that Carter's plan, while maintaining current ceilings on the price of oil already in production, would allow companies to charge the world cartel price for oil from offshore tracts leased hereafter and certain other new wells to be drilled in the future.

These juicy "carrots" to the oil and gas companies may indeed be necessary, as a matter of public policy, to insure an adequate supply of energy over the next 10 to 20 years while alternative sources like solar or geothermal energy are developed.

But let's not kid ourselves about who is going to pay the price to achieve a more rational balance between supply and demand. The Carter energy program calls for sacrifices "of the people, by the people and for the people."

COMMENTARY Don Oakley

Challenge and response

By Don Oakley

Someone has remarked that if Americans had reacted to Pearl Harbor the way they have to the energy problem, we would all be speaking Japanese today.

The analogy is a vivid one, but not really very helpful. The attack on Pearl Harbor was a direct and unmistakable challenge to the nation's security. There was no question about how to respond to it. Things are quite a bit less certain when it comes to the energy crisis.

War was declared on Japan the day after Pearl Harbor and young men flocked to join the armed services. It will take weeks and months for Congress to debate the various aspects of President Carter's energy program. In the meantime, where does the average citizen go to enlist?

We don't even know who the enemy is today. Is it ourselves, and our profligate waste of energy and other resources, or are the Arabs and the oil companies the culprits? Will a little conservation here and there be enough to solve the problem, or must we gird ourselves to accept the fact that our constantly improving standard of living is a thing of the past — that we face a permanent situation of scarce and high cost energy with no "VJ Day" in sight?

On the one hand, a study by the CIA warns that the world's reserves of petroleum are actually far less than previously estimated. Then along comes another report by geologists and other specialists at a United Nations conference who say that the world probably has enough gas and oil to last another hundred years.

Imagine the confusion if, on Dec. 7, 1941, Americans had heard conflicting reports that maybe there was and maybe there wasn't some kind of attack on Hawaii, and had seen the Congress and the President and all the experts disagreeing about the seriousness of the situation and what should be done about it.

Already, nearly every proposal outlined by President Carter has encountered a host of ifs, ands and buts. Such a seemingly simple matter as insulating houses becomes immensely complicated when we get down to implementing it.

The President has called for insulating or re-insulating 90 per cent of America's 53 million homes by 1985, but the insulation industry says it is presently producing at peak capacity and doubts that the goal can be reached.

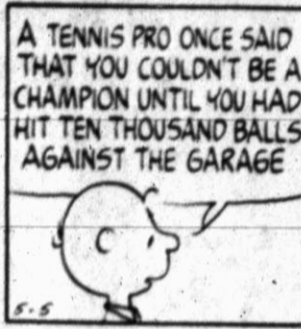

The President has also suggested a tax credit for homeowners of 25 per cent of the first $1,800 and 15 per cent of the next $1,400 they spend on insulation, but costs are rising so fast that by the time the program is enacted the tax credit may not be enough.

If the problem of conserving the energy we have is a difficult and controversial one, the problem of generating new sources of energy is a ball game all to itself.

Both the cost and practicality of widespread use of solar energy have been questioned. An increased use of coal will have serious environmental consequences. As for nuclear energy, the President has ruled out the once-promising fast-breeder reactor process using dangerous plutonium, and a recent court ruling has clouded the future of the entire industry by declaring unconstitutional the law limiting the accident liability of nuclear power companies.

No, this is not Pearl Harbor. But at least the President has, for the first time, confronted the nation with the dimensions of the energy challenge and made a beginning toward a comprehensive, long-term national policy.

All that Americans need is to be shown the way, and they will respond as they have to every other crisis in their history.

FCA To Conduct
Golf Tournament

The Hereford High School chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes is sponsoring a golf tournament to be held Friday, May 13 at the Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

"The annual tournament provides us with enough money each year to send our athletes to the National Conference, so we want to invite all local golfers to play in this worthwhile event," FCA sponsor Rick Stewart said in making the announcement.

The FCA, through hunting groups, is dedicated to finding a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. "It is our desire that each athlete will use the vehicle of athletics to inspire the lives of others, and to develop the physical, mental, and spiritual abilities that Christ has provided," Stewart said.

Cost of entering the FCA tourney is $15 per player, with tee times set at 9 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. May 13. Golfers must list a handicap on the entry form, and may sign up at the golf course or may call coach Stewart at 364-6614.

Gift certificates will be awarded to the three top finishers in the tourney.

Scott Renews State Title Quest

Hereford's Barbara Scott was among the challengers for the state girls' golf crown when she teed off in the State 4A Golf Tournament in Austin this morning.

Miss Scott, the District 4-4A medalist by 48 strokes, captured the state tourney berth by finishing second in the Region I Girls' Tournament in Lubbock recently. She finished behind Odessa Permain's Jackie Daiss in the regional meet. Both young ladies are sophomores.

Teams represented the region are Midland Lee and Amarillo High, which is led by senior Liz Remy. The team chase had been in turmoil before the meet even got underway, with highly-regarded Austin Crockett having been disqualified for missing the first day of their regional meet.

The problem arose when the Crockett team arrived one day late for the Region IV tournament. Crockett played a day late and finished with a 51-shot edge over San Antonio Roosevelt, which won on the scheduled dates.

The UIL executive committee refused to allow Crockett to participate in the state meet, however, and a judge ruled in favor of the UIL when an injunction was filed.

The tournament is a two-day, 36-hole affair, and is being played on two courses in Austin.

Lakers Clip
Warriors

BY JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—They were both All-Americans at UCLA and now the match-up will be Kareem Abdul-Jabbar against Bill Walton as the Los Angeles Lakers battle the Portland Trail Blazers in the National Basketball Association semifinals.

The best-of-seven series starts Friday night at the Forum, home of the Lakers and where they've compiled a 41-4 record this season.

The latest was a 97-84 triumph Wednesday night over the Golden State Warriors, who had beaten the Lakers three times in Oakland but lost all four playoff games at the Forum.

Abdul-Jabbar, who was Lew Alcindor when he played at UCLA, stands 7-foot-2, which gives him a three-inch height advantage over Walton, who followed him at UCLA.

"He's a good center and they're a good team," said Abdul-Jabbar, who spearheaded the Laker attack in the triumphant quarter-finals. He scored 40 or more points in four games and 36 in the last one.

"It's going to be a tough series. There's no doubt that the home court is an advantage, at least it has been for us this year. But I've seen things turn around quickly."

They did just that in the finale against Golden State. The Warriors built a 14-point advantage with two minutes gone in the second period and then Coach Jerry West sent in reserve guard Bo Lamar. The veteran of the American Basketball Association hit for 10 points in 10 minutes and sparked a Laker comeback to a 48-46 halftime advantage.

"The keys to our win were Lamar, Tom Abernethy and Earl Tatum," said West of his reserves. Tatum scored 12 and Abernethy five while also getting six rebounds.

And the Warriors scoring ace, Rick Barry, collected just 15 points, leaving Jamaal Wilkes the high point scorer for the visitors with 24.

Still, the big man was Abdul-Jabbar, who hauled down 26 rebounds, his high for the season, as the Lakers continued to surprise by reaching the semifinals.

Portland got there Sunday with a fourth victory over Denver which won just two.

During the regular season, the Lakers won the Pacific Division title with a 53-29 record while Portland was 49-33. In head-to-head competition, the Lakers won three of four.

Beavers have extremely large lungs which enable them to store enough air to stay underwater for 10 to 15 minutes, says National Geographic.

Real Miller
May Emerge

BY BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

DALLAS (AP)—The real Johnny Miller may be about ready to stand up and be counted.

"That wasn't Johnny Miller out there," Johnny Miller said of the dismal, frustrating slump that plague him early this season.

"That was somebody else with somebody else's swing," Miller said before teeing off today in the first round of the $200,000 Byron Nelson Golf Classic, a tournament that kicks off a busy, six-in-eight week playing schedule for Miller.

"I think I'm on the right track. It's just a matter of time—maybe a very little time.

"Now it just depends on two things—my putting and my start. If I'm putting, and that can come around at any time, absolutely overnight—and if I can get off to a good start, I may be ready to do something. An awful lot depends on the start. Almost all the tournaments I've won have been in front, where I got off good and just ran away. I must be the greatest front runner in the game."

A combination of circumstances have kept him from that front-running role this year, however. He played infrequently and with indifferent success early in the year, revived slightly in the Masters and had his best performance of the season in his last outing, the Tournament of Champions.

The problem, Miller said, was "I got too big and strong."

During the off-season he worked on his ranch in Northern California, "chopping wood, cutting down trees, things like that. I got up to 190 pounds and was stronger than I'd ever been.

"The problem was that I had muscles in places I'd never had them before. And that changed my swing just a little. I've had to work hard, practice more than I want to, to get my swing back to where I want it.

"Maybe this is the way it's supposed to be—start slow and work into it. I don't know. I've always had those fast starts to the season before, win two or three in a hurry and then I kind of lose interest. This year it's different. Look at my schedule.

Palmer Clips Birds, 9-2

BY FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Jim Palmer doesn't like the way he's pitching.

Neither does Milwaukee, Texas, Detroit and now Oakland, for that matter.

Oakland got its dose of nonvintage Palmer Wednesday night, falling victim to the ace right-hander's seven-hitter as the Baltimore Orioles crushed the A's 9-2.

"I haven't thrown the ball well the last couple of starts," said Palmer, who hasn't given more than two runs in any of his six starts this season. "I haven't had my good rhythm."

After losing to Texas 2-1 in 10 innings opening day, Palmer beat Milwaukee 1-0 on a two-hitter, beat Texas 5-0 on a three-hitter and beat Detroit 3-1 on a four-hitter. He also was involved in a no-decision game when he pitched 10 innings against California and left with the score tied, 2-2.

The American League Cy Young Award winner three of the last four seasons, Palmer sports an earned run average of 1.13 this season.

"I can pitch better," he said. Elsewhere in the AL, the Chicago White Sox tripped the Kansas City Royals 6-3; the Boston Red Sox beat the Seattle Mariners 5-2; the Toronto Blue Jays pounded the Milwaukee Brewers 10-3, and the Cleveland Indians nipped the Minnesota Twins 6-5. The Texas-Detroit and California-New York games were postponed because of rain.

Lee May hit a grand-slam homer during a five-run Baltimore first inning, and the Orioles led 7-0 after two innings.

May's eighth career grand slam came after the Orioles had loaded the bases on Al Bumbry's double and a pair of walks off Dock Ellis. Who's been bombarded in both his starts since being traded from the Yankees to Oakland. His ERA for the two games is 20.26.

Red Sox, 5, Mariners 2

Jim Rice's hitting and Reggie Cleveland's pitching did in the expansion Mariners.

Rice slugged a homer and a triple in support of Cleveland, 2-2, who gave up eight hits in eight innings. Reliever Bill Campbell took care of the Mariners in the ninth.

Blue Jays 10, Brewers 3

Dave McKay, a switch hitter with a .191 average, decided last week to bat right-handed exclusively. That switch paid off against the Brewers as McKay knocked in three runs, two with a homer in the seventh.

Bill Singer gained his first victory in five decisions, yielding five hits and two runs in six innings.

Indians 6, Twins 5

Buddy Bell's seventh-inning single off the glove of shortstop Roy Smalley scored Fred Kendall with the winning run.

Minnesota reliever Tom Johnson walked Kendall with one out in the seventh. Duane Kuiper moved Kendall to third with a single before Bell cracked his hit up the middle.

White Sox 6, Royals 3

Chet Lemon belted a 475-foot homer in the eighth inning and Oscar Gamble slammed a two-run shot in the ninth, powering the White Sox over the Royals.

Lemon's blast, his fourth of the season, was believed to be the first ball hit into the left center field water fountains since Royals' Stadium opened in 1973.

College Draft Fulfilled Needs

BY BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a clear case of drafting for need. What the Dallas Cowboys didn't need was a bunch of fair-to-middlin' players who probably couldn't break into the starting lineup anyway. What they did need was one super runner to fill the only noticeable gap in their arsenal.

What the Seattle Seahawks didn't need was one star player. What they did need was quantity, a bunch of kids to develop with the young team. What the Chicago Bears didn't need was more running backs or pass receivers. What they needed was someone capable of getting the ball to them.

What the Tampa Bay Buccaneers didn't need was another season like the last one. What they needed was something more than a bunch of anonymous runners, the stars who could burn up the yards that might burn a few opposing teams.

What the Washington Redskins needed was draft choices... for a change. And what they all got in the National Football League was just what they needed.

The Cowboys fired a salvo of selections in Seattle's direction and got in return the No. 2 pick that brought in Touchdown Tony Dorsett, the Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Pittsburgh.

The Seahawks caught Dallas' delivery—a first-round pick and three second-round choices and would up with a healthy collection of talent in Tulsa guard Steve August, Boston College tackle Tom Lynch, Kansas linebacker Terry Beeson and, via a draft choice return to Dallas, a second-year wide receiver Duke Ferguson.

The Bears, saddled with ill fortune the past few years with all-run, no-pass quarterback Bobby Douglass and then with not-much-better Gary Huff and Bob Avellini, decided to get a replacement.

What they wound up with was Mike Phipps, compliments of a trade with Cleveland that gives the Browns the Bears' No. 1 pick next year. But Chicago kept on calling signals and came out of the draft's sixth round with Vince Evans, Southern California's quarterback and Most Valuable Player in the Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. And all this after the Bears picked up former Heisman winner Pat Sullivan, a dud with Atlanta and Washington.

The Buccaneers, who came out on the short end of everything last season because they had runners like Louis Carter, Essex Johnson and people even less exciting than that. Now Tampa Bay's backfield has been converted into USCSE-University of Southern California-Southeast. Former Trojan Coach John McKay has gotten a pair of Southern Cal alumni—Anthony Davis on rebound from the World and Canadian football leagues and, on the first pick of the draft, Ricky Bell, the Bucs' ground game could be really dazzling this year.

The Redskins, under Coach George Allen's tutelage, became instant contenders by importing a ton of proven talent. To do so, though, Washington dealt away a ton of draft choices—sometimes unloading choices that didn't belong to them. Just an oversight, of course.

The problem with that tactic is that time eventually had to catch up with the 'Skins. It did: they were getting somewhat crumbly around the edges last season. So Allen pulled off a bit of legerdemain. He got three draft choices from his old club, the Los Angeles Rams, while giving up only one.

The Rams relinquished this year's seventh-round and ninth-round picks the Redskins drafted Nevada-Las Vegas tight end Reggie Haynes and Purdue running back Mike Northington with them and next year's eighth round in exchange for the 'skins' third-round pick in 1981.

It was not, most scouts agreed, the most talent-laden draft field in recent years. Bell and Dorsett were the only real stars on offense.

Had Joe Roth lived, he might well have been picked before one of the super runners. But without the handsome Roth from the University of California, a cancer victim last February, there was no quarterback star. Missouri's Steve Pisarkiewicz was the first to go, 19th in the first round to St. Louis.

Likewise, the crop of wide receivers left something to be desired. The first one picked was Tennessee's Stanley Morgan, 25th by New England.

On defense, it was not a year for the Leroy Selmon-Too Tall Jones-John Matuszak-type of lineman. No sensational players. Just a lot of solid starters like Miami defensive tackle Eddie Edwards, the No. 3 pick by Cincinnati, and Southern Cal's Gary Jeter, the No. 5 selection of the New York Giants.

When the draft concluded Wednesday night, 335 players had been selected—190 offensive players and 145 defenders. Thirteen kickers or punters were taken.

Taken were 52 running backs, 46 defensive backs, 38 linebackers, 37 wide receivers, 29 tackles, 25 guards, 25 defensive ends, 23 defensive tackles, 18 quarterbacks, 18 tight ends, 11 centers, 10 kickers and 3 punters.

Southern Cal led all schools with 14 selected. Followed by Colorado, nine; Boston College, eight; Kansas, Baylor and Georgia, seven; Nebraska, Michigan, Purdue, Arkansas State and Pittsburgh, six, and Oklahoma State, San Jose State, Memphis State, San Arkansas, Oklahoma and Tennessee State, five each.

For the first time in recent draft history, no Notre Dame player was taken.

The Big Eight led all conferences in the number of players drafted with 41, followed by the Pacific Eight, 36; Southeast Conference, 31; Southwest Conference, 29; Big Ten, 28; Atlantic Coast, 15; Southland, 9; Mid America and Pacific Coast Athletic Association, 8 each.

THE PERFECT PAIR

FOR THE PANHANDLE

The Proven One

The New One

This matched pair of heavy yielders can produce a profit in spite of increased cost of farming. They both have in-bred yield potential which gives you a profit even with expensive water and fertilizer. 8311 has dominated yield results in this area for three years. 8272 promises even more. They both have sturdy stalks and good roots... they can take a lot of punishment and still be standing at harvest. And if you split big acreage between the two, you're going to have as pretty a field as you've ever seen... good exertion of heavy, uniform heads, all at the same height... beautiful... and profitable.

A four-year-old, disease-safe, high test weight yellow endosperm hybrid which is now a proven champion. Bushel weights normally run two to five pounds above other hybrids... and that's pure profit. Classified as a medium-late variety, it adjusts its maturity to make full use of growing seasons. A relatively short hybrid with good standability, 8311 has sturdy stalks, good roots and good head exertion. It has outstanding height uniformity and semi-open heads of golden bronze grain. This great hybrid has good tolerance and good resistance to post-freeze lodging.

This new full-season Pioneer hybrid is recommended for this area where adequate water and fertilizer are available. And though it responds to water with super yields, it can also take a little moisture stress and still produce well. It has good roots and stalks and excellent tolerance to MDMV. It has a beautiful appearance... the grain will be dark red on semi-compact heads. Plants are short like 8311 with good exertion and uniform head height for easy combining.

John Thankful For Television Help

BY KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Tommy John can thank television for his recent successes. More specifically, he can thank his friend for watching it.

During a baseball game earlier this season, a pal of the Los Angeles Dodger pitcher taped one of his performances and discovered a "flaw" in his delivery.

"I saw that I was learning back too far," said John. "That was causing me to get my fastball up."

John has since corrected that slight error and the results can be seen in his last two starts. The veteran left-hander has allowed but one run in 15 2-3 innings and Wednesday night looked as good as ever with a four-hit 2-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Elsewhere in the National League, the San Diego Padres turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 4-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates routed the Atlanta Braves 8-0; the St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati 8-1; the San Francisco Giants whipped the Montreal Expos 5-1 and the Houston Astros downed the Chicago Cubs 5-4.

Bill Russell and Reggie Smith singled in runs in the first for the Dodgers while Dusty Baker slugged his fourth home run of the year in the second inning off loser John Matlack, 1-3.

Rookie Gene Richards drove in three runs with a single and his first major league homer, and fast-working Randy Jones hurled a four-hitter as San Diego defeated Philadelphia. Richards' homer followed a leadoff double by Jones in the seventh inning and provided last year's Cy Young award winner with a three-run lead going into the last two innings.

Pirates 8, Braves 0

Dave Parker drove in four runs with a pair of two-run doubles as Pittsburgh beat Atlanta and handed the Braves their 11th straight defeat.

Parker delivered a two-run double in each of the first two innings, helping the Pirates mount an early 5-0 lead off Frank LaCorte. Pittsburgh's Larry Demery hurled a three-hitter before being lifted in the eighth when the Braves loaded the bases.

Cardinals 8, Reds 1

Lou Brock smashed three hits and passed Lou Gehrig on the all-time major league hit parade and Bob Forsch pitched a four-hitter to lead St. Louis over Cincinnati.

Brock's three hits gave him 2,724 for his career and lifted him past the onetime New York Yankee great into 32nd place on the all-time list.

Giants 5, Expos 1

Willie McCovey drove in two runs with a single and Jim Barr pitched a six-hitter as San Francisco broke a five-game losing streak with its victory over Montreal.

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Braves have purchased the contract of pitcher David "Chopper" Campbell from their Richmond farm club and sent pitcher Mike Beard to Richmond, the National League club has announced.

Campbell has appeared in two games this season, allowing no runs in 61-3 innings. The 25-year-old right-hander was signed in 1974 while attending East Tennessee State.

Beard, a left-hander, appeared in four games with the Braves and had a 9.00 earned run average.

McCovey singled home a pair of runs in the first inning, kept a third-inning rally going with an infield hit and started an eighth-inning rally with a walk. Barr struck out five and walked two and was rarely seriously challenged.

Astros 5, Cubs 4

Julio Gonzales singled home the tying run in the ninth inning and the winning run in the 11th to lead Houston over Chicago. ZJoc Ferguson walked to open the 11th, was sacrificed to second and reached third when second baseman Manny Trillo bobbled Ken Boswell's grounder.

Boswell made it to third when Ferguson was caught in a rundown on Enos Cabell's grounder, then scored on Gonzalez' hit.

Run Dusty Run Ready For Slew

BY DICK JOYCE
AP Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Smiley Adams didn't smile when someone suggested he'd purposely avoided running Run Dusty Run against Seattle Slew this year.

"I ain't been duking that so-and-so," the crewcut trainer said Wednesday in his country twang. "I run 'em as they come."

Unbeaten Seattle Slew and Run Dusty Run will be running against each other for the first time on Saturday in the 103rd Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs. Entries were taken today.

"I've been waiting for this day since the 2-year-old Eclipse Award was made," said Adams, who saddled 1975 Preakness winner Master Derby. "We'll see who the best horse is on Saturday."

Although Seattle Slew raced and won only three times as 2-year-old, he was voted the division honor. Included was an impressive 9 1/2 length triumph in the Champagne at Belmont Park.

Run Dusty Run was much more active, going to the post nine times last year, registering six victories and two seconds.

Seattle Slew's purses in 1976 amounted to $94,350 while Run Dusty Run's bankroll totaled $268,241.

"We got robbed on that one," said Adams. "Seattle Slew didn't run enough."

Adams, a Kentucky native from the small town of Versailles, near Keeneland race track, has passed up running his horses at New York and West Coast tracks. Perhaps because of that, Run Dusty Run was overlooked in the voting last year.

Adams also hasn't been smiling as much lately because Run Dusty Run has finished second in his last three outings, including the Blue Grass Stakes on April 28. The son of Dust Commander, the 1970 Derby winner, Run Dusty Run had won his first two starts of the year.

Adams will be saddling another entry in the 1 1/4-mile Derby. In addition to Run Dusty Run, who is owned by the Golden Chance Farm, he is running Bob's Dusty, owned by Bob Lehmann, whose mother runs Golden Chance Farm.

Bob's Dusty has lesser credentials with one victory at Latonia in four starts this year, including a fifth-place finish in the Blue Grass Stakes.

Waterfalls
The earth has thousands of waterfalls which are measured by height, volume and steadiness of flow, crest width and whether the water drops sheerly or over a sloping surface, in the leap or a succession of leaps. Sete Quedas or Guarira in Brazil and Paraguri in Paraguay is the world's greatest waterfall in terms of mean annual flow combined with height. A greater volume of water, however, passes over Africa's Stanley Falls, though none of its seven cataracts, spread over nearly 60 miles of the Congo River, exceeds six vertical feet.

Texas Corn Growers To Hold Referendum

AUSTIN—Texas Corn Growers Association is now officially certified as representative of producers in 18 counties and will hold a referendum on officers and assessments July 29. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown certified the group in a hearing here April 28. Under the Commodity Referendum Act, the Texas Department of Agriculture is responsible for monitoring the referendum and subsequent assessment procedures. Corn growers will vote in their county seats for six board members who will set assessments collected from producers, not to exceed one-half cent per bushel. Monies collected in the program are used for education, research, market development and promotion of corn, Commissioners Brown stated.

Persons who wish to be a candidate for the board must submit petitions signed by ten corn growers to the Texas Corn Growers Association, 707 West Grant Street, Dimmitt, Texas 79027. Carl King of Dimmitt is currently serving as president of the association. June 29 is the deadline for petitions.

The election returns will be canvassed by a four-member team composed of a representative of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Corn Growers Association, and a county judge from one of the participating counties. Commissioner Brown will certify the returns. The 18 counties included in the referendum are as follows: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Farmer, Randall, Swisher, Dallam, Hansford, Hartley, Moore, Ochiltree, Sherman, Carson, and Hutchinson.

Low Sugar Prices Reflected In Holly Earnings Report

COLORADO SPRINGS—Holly Sugar Corporation today reported earnings of $3,021,000 or $1.91 a share on consolidated net sales of $178,710,000 for its fiscal year ended March 31, 1977. This compares with earnings of $17.3 million or $10.98 a share during fiscal 1976 on sales of $220.9 million. Provision for federal and state income taxes resulted in a $130,000 credit for the year ended March 31, 1977, due principally to investment tax credits. This compares with an $18.8 million tax provision for the prior fiscal year. President John B. Bunker attributed the drop in sales and earnings to low selling prices for refined sugar during the fiscal year. "The economic performance of the domestic sugarbeet industry in general, and Holly in particular, will be no more effective or predictable than the economic environment in which it operates," Bunker said. "If this continues to be an environment in which all major producing countries are shielded by one-way trade barriers and the domestic industry is not, then the corporation's future earnings and growth will be determined in large part by the whims of foreign government and their decisions on international sugar distribution," he pointed out. In an effort to reduce sugar losses from sugarbeets stored in piles and to shorten the length of factory operating periods to their most efficient levels, Bunker said Holly has contracted 23 per cent fewer acres of sugarbeets for the 1977-crop year compared with last year.

FFA Banquet Is Tuesday

The Hereford High School FFA Chapter will hold its annual Parent and Member Banquet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the HHS cafeteria.

Highlighting the banquet will be the presentation of the DeKalb Award for the highest academic and productive accomplishments by a chapter member in scholarship, leadership, and cooperation. A community resident will also be awarded an honorary chapter membership degree by the Hereford FFA chapter. Numerous other awards will also be presented to local chapter members, including the EFA Foundation Award, scholarship and leadership awards, certificates of merit and proficiency awards. Marcus Phillips, Bob Ward and Jess Robinson are the local FFA advisors.

Do It Yourself Barn Building

If you're going to participate in 4-H or FFA livestock projects, you'd better have a good place to keep your animals. Randy (right) and Gary Vogel, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Vogel of 305 Stadium Drive have taken it on themselves to make sure that they have a topnotch barn for next year's project animals. Their father purchased three acres of land located just north of Rowland Stables, on the north side of the city, and the two boys are now in the process of erecting a 22x100 ft. barn to house their 10 steers, 12 pigs and 6 lambs.

The boys purchased used pipe for construction material, and using a borrowed welder, they have been working after school and on weekends to complete their project. Automatic waterers are already in place, and the barn is quickly taking shape. Stock pens will eventually be added at the front of the structure. Randy, 13, is a 4-H member and a student at La Plata Junior High, while Gary, 15, is an FFA student at Hereford High. The brothers have been raising project animals for two years. ## Bentsen Praises Drought Relief

WASHINGTON, D.C.— Senator Lloyd Bentsen said legislation approved by the Senate Public Works Committee offers needed assistance to drought-stricken areas of Texas and other Western states. "The drought has placed a crushing burden on the people of West Texas and this bill will help ease the burden," Bentsen said. Senator Bentsen, a member of the Public Works Committee, said the measure provides $225 million to help communities improve emergency water systems. One hundred fifty million dollars of that amount would be available for 40 year loans at 5 per cent interest and $75 million for 50/50 matching grants.

"The drought has the gravest potential, not only for the affected communities, but also for the nation as a whole. I am pleased that the President has requested passage of this legislation and that the Committee has acted favorably on his request," Bentsen said. "The money it provides can be used for projects to improve, expand or construct water supply systems and it can be used for the purchase or transportation of water." "The people in drought areas of Texas need this money and I am hopeful that Congress will act swiftly in giving final approval to the drought relief bill," Senator Bentsen said.

Hereford Students Honored At WTSU

WTSU— Four West Texas State University students from Hereford were honored at the WTSU School of Agriculture annual recognition barbeque recently at the WTSU Nance Ranch. During the ceremonies, WTSU President Lloyd I. Watkins also dedicated the ranch's new $144,000 teaching pavilion. Bruce Barrett from Hereford was named the outstanding senior in agricultural business and economics. Barrett is the son of John D. Barrett of 112 N. Texas.

Mark Roberson and Raymond Schlabs, along with the two other WTSU crops team members, were recognized for their performance in contests in Kansas City and Chicago. Both senior plant science majors, Roberson is the son of the former Mrs. Hicks Roberson, and Schlabs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schlabs of Route 4. The junior livestock judging team, which includes Hereford junior Jay Boren, was noted for its ratings at the contests in Denver, Ft. Worth and Houston. Boren, an animal science major, resides at Route 1, Hereford.

Meat Consumption Really Not High

COLLEGE STATION— Many consumers in America are constantly bombarded with the statistics of their daily diets. One of the most prominent figures is how much beef and other meat is being eaten by the American household. Dr. Ed Uvacek, a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, notes that total meat consumed per person in the U.S. during 1976 was about 129 pounds, an all-time high. Most meat consumption figures, however, include the total weight of the slaughtered carcass, not what actually ends up next to the mashed potatoes. "Since meat is trimmed of excess waste and is cooked before it is eaten, more than half of the weight is actually lost," Uvacek points out. "The wholesale weight, therefore, greatly exaggerates the consumption figure."

"Actually, Americans consumed about two ounces of cooked beef daily last year," explains the Texas A&M University System specialist. "With lamb, veal and pork included on the same basis, the new total consumption figure adds up to just under three ounces of red meat daily—or about 67 pounds a year. That's a far cry from the 129-pound figure," contends Uvacek, "and really isn't very much."

Santa Fe Acquires Hopper Cars

NO MORE WASTED LAND NOW IRRIGATE THE CORNERS WITH VALLEY

Santa Fe Railway is acquiring an additional 700 jumbo covered hopper cars to augment its fleet for the coming wheat harvest season. Delivery of the equipment on lease from North American Car Co. has begun and should be completed by June 1. This addition increases the size of Santa Fe's fleet of jumbo covered hoppers to 13,172, the largest in the industry. New York City has lost 660,000 jobs since 1969. The Conference Board observes, 20 percent of the total employment in the city eight years ago.

NO MORE WASTED LAND NOW IRRIGATE THE CORNERS WITH VALLEY

It's a revolutionary new concept in center pivot irrigation. The new Valley Corner System is the first center pivot that hits the corners. It allows you to irrigate up to 150 acres per quarter and to adapt your system to any shape field. Expensive corner land can be converted into profitable new acreage with a Corner System Pivot. The amazing versatility of this unique system extends all the obvious advantages of center pivot irrigation—dramatic water savings, automatic irrigation the moment you need it, and precise fertilizer application to every farmer. Unusually high yields from land that was previously unproductive will enhance your whole farming enterprise. By irrigating nonproductive farmland, you are upping the overall value of your land as much as $500 per acre. You'll find, as many progressive farmers have already, that the corner catcher will actually pay for itself, and then some.
