FREE MAIL DELIVERY

Hereford Swings into List of Legible Towns at Close of June Business.

A little work on the part of Secretary Holman of the Commercial Club with the assistance of other good boosters brought Hereford into line for free mail delivery, having reached the ten thousand dollar minimum which the department requires. It was seen about ten days ago that the post office receipts would reach the mark, but that there should be no slip, the patrons of the office were encouraged to add a little to their business and carry the amount over the line with some margin. The month of June showed a business of $1,010.72, while the total for the fiscal year was about $10,075.00. This amount puts Hereford in the list of legibles and Postmaster Smith says that the department will take notice at once.

It may be of interest to friends beyond the borders of the county to review the post office situation at Hereford, knowing that the volume of business done by that institution is a sure and safe indication of the progress of the town. The following table shows the amount of business done for the years, 1906, '07, '08 and the first six months of '09. It also gives the percentage of increase of one year over another.

Year	Amount	Percentage of increase	Rank
1906	$5834.74		100
1907	7195.93	24	124
1908	8383.90	17	144
1909	5565.71	33	191

A study of this table will give the cheerful information that 1909 receipts for the first six months ending June 30 are 33 per cent more than the previous year and that the period lacks only 9 points of being double what the receipts were for 1906. Taking a safe count that the second six months will show additional income, it is safe to conclude that the year 1909 will more than double the year 1906. In other words, the receipts of the office have doubled in three years, which means that the population has doubled. You don't have to watch Hereford grow; she grows without watching and while you sleep.

Prohibition Rally.

At the prohibition rally last Sunday afternoon held at the Opera House a large crowd listened to R. C. Dial of Clarendon explain the organization and work of the Anti-Saloon League. Mr. Dial is not what we would call a "polished speaker." He goes a little on a mixed style between Sam Jones and Granville Jones, not being so rough as the former nor as logical as the latter, but he made some telling points and his deep earnestness carried conviction with his remarks. After his address, he assumed further charge of the meeting and organized a league for Hereford with the following officers: L. Gough, Superintendent; T. E. Shirley, Geo. W. Barcus and G. W. Ross, chairman respectively of the education, legislative and law and order committees. Judge L. Gough called the rally to order and introduced the speaker; Rev. J. W. Story lead in prayer.

Methodist Revival.

Pastor J. W. Story announces that all arrangements for the revival to be held in Hereford beginning Friday, July 9, are being completed. A large temporary tabernacle will be erected next week on the vacant lots west of the Presbyterian church. Rev. M. S. Hitchkiss of Waco has been engaged to do the preaching and comes to Hereford with the highest commendations. Pastor Story asks the co-operation of all christian people of the city and community to assist in the work.

RECEIVES CATTLE

Five Thousand Head at Bovina for LX Ranch on the Canadian.—Cow-Boys Again.

Last Friday the boys of the L X Ranch owned by Lee Bivins of Amarillo passed thru Hereford on their way to Bovina, where they were to receive 5,500 head of Texas and New Mexico cattle. There were eleven men in the crowd led by W. B. Johnson, familiarly known as "Big Bill," and while here they took-in the town in a quiet and gentlemanly way. The cattle were "rounded up" at Bovina the following day and were driven across the country to the ranch on the Canadian river north of Hereford. One hundred and fifty horses were used in the round-up and drive.

While in Hereford, they fell into the hands of a "curio fiend" and before the boys knew it, one of the boys was about to lose his spurs. On promise that they would add to the curio window and outfit, consisting of leather leggins, cow-boy hats, spurs, lariats, boots and a head of Texas long horns, and some Indian relics, all of which will be placed on exhibition in the curio window. The "cow-boys" in the bunch were: Big Bill Johnson, Akins, Broadus, Boykin and others whose names could not be learned.

Get in the game: read the Foxy Grandpa story.

500 Club.

The 500 Club was most pleasantly entertained Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Matthews.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Biscoe, Mr. and Mrs. Estock, Mr. and Mrs. Hough, Mr. and Mrs. Cardwell, Mr. and Mrs. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Morris; Misses Hendricks, Potter, Collins, Keitt and Graham; Messrs; Woodburn, Nesbit Pirkey and Oleson.

Mrs. Matthews was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. Dunn. The hostess had spared no pains in making the affair a success. A delicious luncheon of fruit salad, cheese sandwiches, olives, wafers and punch was served at midnight. Mrs. Cardwell and Mr. Russell were awarded the ribbons. This was quite the most successful of the club parties.

Miss Hendricks will be hostess next week and the game will begin at nine.

Baskin at Salt Lake.

The following picture card from Mr. Baskin will inform his friends of his whereabouts:—

Salt Lake, 6-25-'09.

Friend Elliott: I arrived here 1:20 P. M. Traveled over 500 miles constantly in sight of snow; saw some over 70 feet deep; will leave here at 11 p. m. 26th for Los Angeles. Haven't seen a good wheat field since I left Hereford. All crops backward. This city is on a boom. L. BASKIN.

MONDAY LUNCHEON

Board Transact Routine Business—Elects New Member—Wires Fort Worth Bonus.

At the Monday noon meeting of the Board of Directors of the Commercial Club several matters of importance were done. The election of a new member in the person of A. H. Elliston to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. E. Garrison was the first thing done. Two names were presented, that of Eli Dunlap and A. H. Elliston. By vote the two gentlemen tied, but a motion on the part of one member made the matter unanimous for the gentleman elected.

The ever present question railroad was brought up. The new enterprise of the Fort Worth & Albuquerque was no sooner mentioned than it was suggested that the gentlemen in charge be wired that Hereford was ready to do her part. The following telegram which appeared in the Daily Panhandle, the Fort Worth Record and the Dallas News will, at least, let the world know that Hereford is more than a "fly speck" on the map.

"Hereford, Texas, June 29—C. I. Dickinson, Fort Worth, Texas, Directors of Hereford Commercial Club voted to undertake to raise $100,000 for the Fort Worth and Albuquerque railroad."

And this is not a bluff either. The Club would turn every chip and stone in Hereford trying to raise that bonus for such a road and the work would be worth the while. Hereford could more easily afford to give that amount for that road than to give one tenth the amount to some "jerk water" proposition, and she will do it.

Big Rain at Hereford.

Last Friday night all of Deaf Smith and Castro counties received a good rain. At Hereford the fall measured one and one-third inches. This put the finishing touches on all growing crops. Yesterday about 10 o'clock another good fell at Hereford and extended west and north of town covering most of the county. This shower measured about one half inch in town but was heavier further out.

New Market.

The City Meat Market has just installed its fixtures in the building formerly occupied by the City Cafe. They opened for business July 1, and are ready to serve the public with all kinds of meats.

The Brand acknowledges receipt of complimentary tickets to the Amarillo Auto Show to be held in that city July 26, 27 and 28.

Oscar Cooper with the brightest prospects for a long and happy life and to be called away so suddenly seems untimely, indeed. The Brand extend sympathy and condole with Mr. Thomas in this sad hour.

SANTA FE CUT-OFF

Governor Declares He Will Not Interfere. Abilene Up in Arms --The Remedy.

Austin, Tex., June 30.—Governor Campbell today declared he had no intention of calling a special session of the legislature relative to the Santa Fe's Texico-Coleman cut-off. He has written to President Ripley of the Santa Fe and believes the question can be settled satisfactorily.

The governor does not believe the railroad would take such action as would antagonize the people of the territory to be severed.

The daily papers have been full of dispatches from Abilene, Austin and Chicago with reference to the Santa Fe. The whole trouble has arisen over the decision of the officers of that road to build a cut-off from Texico to Coleman and because certain towns have been missed, these towns have protested. Abilene has even gone so far as to send a delegation to Austin to wait on Governor Campbell asking him, among other things, that he call a special session of the legislature and compel the road to touch certain towns. The above wire indicates that Mr. Campbell has not entirely lost his senses. But Abilene is not to be beat. Her citizens are aroused and are going to build a number of short lines to protect their trade territory. The Santa Fe has been in the habit of doing as she pleases as to the extension of her lines and the state is not likely to interfere with such matters. But there is another side to the question. The Santa Fe claims all of the Panhandle from Amarillo south as her territory and the other big systems recognize this. Accordingly she is extending her arms in every direction. The Pecos Valley line from Amarillo to Clovis and Roswell, the Canyon City-Lubbock extension, the Plainview-Floydada spur, the Texico-Coleman cut-off indicates how well the Santa Fe proposes to protect what she claims. Unless another independent line gets into this territory in a short time, the giantess of the Southwest will have the entire country in her grasp and greed. Hereford is up to the same proposition as Abilene. Only one line and the foils of the parent system sending out her tentacles in every direction preparing to suck the life-blood from the healthy veins of her commercial interests.

The remedy for Hereford, Abilene and other towns is to support some independent line. Help by bonuses to build a few lines into the territory and then give them all the patronage possible.

UNION DEPOT AT AMARILLO.

Some days ago, there appeared in The Daily Panhandle a most peculiarly stated argument for the building of three separate depots in the city of Amarillo. It was to the effect that the maintenance of three depots placed at from three to six blocks apart might redound to the benefit of the town and, in fact, had in the past resulted in bringing an investor to his senses. It occurred when a certain traveling man missed his connection in that city a year or two ago and as a result was forced to remain over for twenty-four hours. During the long wait for the next train, this certain gentleman in order to while the time, took a stroll over the city and, as the story goes, was so impressed with the possibilities and opportunities that he made some investments which has resulted in the financial betterment of this delayed passenger. Therefore, the writer argues, it is a good thing to have the depots of a city widely separated so that possibly some traveling gentleman might miss his connection and be forced to look at the town from the stuffy rooms of a hotel long enough to invest a few hundred dollars in Amarillo property. A Hebrew might hunt for a blessing in misfortune, but the average American would see no good in a town which forceably retained him.

But the three roads at Amarillo are using this very argument and methods in the construction of depots. The Rock Island has finished its building, the Denver has another and now the Santa Fe is to erect still another at some distance from the other two. Depots are supposed to be for the accommodation of the public as well as for the roads, but in Amarillo, the public seems to have been entirely ignored. And then the depots in Amarillo are certainly not for Amarillo people only. In fact, the inconvenience of three depots will be felt by other towns of the Panhandle more than by Amarillo. Should not Hereford, Dalhart, Plainview and other places have some consideration? The traveling public from and to the Panhandle need to be considered in this question. What do the other towns of the Panhandle think?

THE Randall County News, R. A. Terrill, editor and manager, sends out a special illustrated edition, printed on heavy book paper. The extra is well written and artistically printed and a piece of work of which any paper may be proud. The edition is full of boosting articles from beginning to end, telling the story of the city and country in picture and pen in a way that will attract attention.

Dr. R. M. Johnson was recently at Bartlet, Texas, where he was called on account of the illness of his granddaughter, Gene Fowler. She had sufficiently improved to return to Hereford with her grandfather.

Mrs. R. H. Boxley and Miss John Hill Boxley of Houston passed thru Hereford Wednesday on their way to visit in the home of J. W. Alexander of Dimmitt. They have just returned from a visit to Seattle. Mrs. Boxley is an aunt of Mrs. S. B. Holman.

Thornton S. Shirley from the western part of Castro County, was in town Wednesday and said that he would begin harvesting one hundred acres of wheat the next day and expected to get a little more than 15 bushels per acre. All other crops are in fine condition he says.

Miss Ora Haile, sister of President Haile of the Hereford College, and who taught music in this College the past year was married at her home in Kingman, Kansas, on Wednesday, June 30, to Mr. Callahan of one of the neighboring towns of Kingman. While Mr. Callahan is a stranger to the Brand, we understand he is a man of means and worthy in every respect or the lady that has become his wife.

J. I. Phipps and family were here from Callao, Missouri and are at present living in our town. While having been here only six weeks, Mr. Phipps has his half section fenced, well bored, barns and sheds erected and part of his crop in. This farm is near Spring Lake and Mr. Phipps spends most of his time there. In speaking to a reporter for the Brand Mrs. Phipps said: "Yes, tell the people we like the Panhandle and have come to make it our home."

Charles E. Hilt of Trenton, Missouri is erecting a modern, two-story residence on the twenty-five mile avenue near the home of C. C. Ferguson and, when completed, will be one among the best and most commodious homes in all of Hereford. Mr. Holt expects to move his family here about the first of September, where they will make their future home.

A very beautiful service was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud W. Meadows when Rev. W. M. Baker of the Presbyterian church conducted the impressive baptismal service of this church in baptizing the little son of this home, Claud W. Jr. Many friends and relatives were present at this solemn service and heard the vows of the parents, and saw the hands of the good pastor placed upon the head of this little child as the benediction of heaven was asked to rest upon him.

Farmer Hauls In Over Seven Hundred Bushels of Wheat at One Time This Week.

Wm. Linville who owns a large farm some fourteen miles west of Hereford began harvesting his wheat last Monday. He used headers. The wheat heads were hauled in barges from the machines direct to the steam thresher. The first day's run turned out over 700 bushels of grain which was sacked and loaded into four trail wagons all of which were coupled to a steam road engine and pulled into town. When weighed there were 740 bushels, that is, 44,400 pounds. He was offered $1.20 per bushel. The train of wagons as they were hauled along the street attracted a good deal of attention and comment. It was halted a sufficient time to allow the outfit to be photographed.

South Ward School.

The patrons of the South Ward school have been circulating a petition this week asking for donations in building a suitable school house in that part of town. A committee of citizens appeared before the school board of the Independent District yesterday afternoon and asked for additional aid. It was thought to erect a $4,000 building and the board was asked to appropriate $2000 from the bond funds recently voted. It is understood that there were possibly some legal obstacles in the way and that the board could not set aside a part of the fund for ward buildings. The matter remains unsettled as to what steps will next be taken.

PRE-NUPTIAL FOR MISS HAMMACK.

Mrs. W. C. Witherspoon and Miss Sudie Bell Warren entertained at the home of the latter a party of ladies Tuesday from 5 to 7 p. m., at a linen shower, in honor of Miss Frances Hammack.

The first part of the evening was pleasantly spent on the gallery in playing progressive "42." Refreshments of ice cream and devil's food cake were served by little Misses Warren and Barnes, the latter also contributing to the entertainment by a number of pretty piano selections. In the dining room was stretched a line of ribbon on which an elegant assortment of linen was hung. Miss Warren and Mrs. Witherspoon presided over the punch bowl, serving the guests with fruit nectar while they viewed the array of pretty and useful gifts presented to the charming bride elect. Mrs. Bullock, sister of Mrs. Barcus, delightfully rendered several musical numbers and the showers of good wishes bestowed upon the guest of honor. Those present were: Mesdames Warren, Barnes, Tucker, C. G. Witherspoon, Cardwell, Irwin, G. W. Harris of Amarillo, Warner Arnold, Gibson and Bullock; Misses Murdock, Vanghn, Hendricks and Hammack.

MESDAMES WITHERSPOON ENTERTAIN

Mesdames C. G. and W. C. Witherspoon pleasantly entertained at "42" Friday morning, June 25, from 9:30 to 11:00. There were eight tables and each couple labored diligently to secure the highest score, but as it is in other phases of life, the laurels only belong to a chosen few and Mrs. Tucker on this occasion received as a reward for skillful playing a pretty bunch of white carnations. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served while Mr. Joseph Wynn delighted the guests with a display of his rare musical talents. Those present were: Mesdames Elliott, Dodson, Matthews, Barker, Barcus, Biscoe, Estock, Lipscomb, Warren, Barnes, Tucker, Price, Russell, Morris, Arnold, Ferguson and Lea; Misses Estes, Mercer, Cardwell, Collins and Bell.

WALTER-HAMMACK.

The marriage of Miss Frances Malcolm Hammack and Mr. James Weldon Walter was solemnized in a simple manner Wednesday morning, June 30, at the Presbyterian church. The ring ceremony said by Rev. W. M. Baker in his own earnest way, and the soft strains of music rendered the nuptial service a pretty and impressive one. The chancel was decorated with ferns and cut flowers. Mrs. H. B. Stephens sang very sweetly the beautiful love ballad: "Oh! Promise Me," before the approach of the bridal party. At eight o'clock, the hour for the coming, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Mrs. Bullock the ushers Messrs. Thompson, Daniel, Herbst, and Mercer led the way down the aisle where they were closely followed by the bride and groom. The latter unattended came in singly and were met at the altar by the officiating minister. The bride wore an old rose traveling suit with hat and gloves en suit and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses.

This marriage is the culmination of a three year's courtship and will no doubt prove a very happy union. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hammack who came from Kentucky to Hereford about three years ago. Her home training has been careful and painstaking and she represents the highest type of young womanhood. She will prove a blessing to him with whom she has linked her life.

Mr. Walter is a civil engineer in the employ of the Santa Fe railroad. He came to Texas from Pueblo, Colorado, several years ago and since his residence here he has made a host of friends who wish him God's speed in his new relationship. After congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Walter drove to the station where they boarded the 8:55 train for a short wedding trip. They will go in a few days to their home at Lubbock, Texas.

MRS. BARKER ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. J. F. Barker entertained the Monday Club and a few other friends Thursday morning with a progressive "42" party.

In spite of the inclement weather five tables of charming ladies gathered at the Barker home at the appointed hour. A special feature of the party was the beautiful music rendered by Mrs. Lee Clark and Master Joe Wynne of Oklahoma. Mrs. Oberthier won the high score trophy and Mrs. Evants, the consolation.

Mrs. Barker, assisted by Mesdames Slaton, and Evants, served brick cream and angel and devil's food cake. Those present were: Mesdames Wray, Clark, Johnson, Irwin, Slaton, Sullivan, Evants, Witherspoon, Mason, Oberthier, Russell, Morris, Biscoe, Estock, Johnson, Lipscomb and Miss Terrill. All felt very much indebted to Mrs. Barker for this pleasant affair.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ricketts were at home to a large number of their friends Thursday evening. Progressive "42" was the special feature of entertainment. Their cozy little country home is always noted for its genial hospitality and on this occasion the friends who were bidden found an unusual welcome awaiting them. An interesting game was engaged in until a late hour, when the hostess served delightful refreshments after which the guests departed for their homes.

Mrs. G. W. Harris of Amarillo attended the Walter-Hammack wedding.

Mrs. H. B. Stephens was the guest Tuesday and Wednesday of Mrs. B. S. Arnold. She came to Hereford to assist in the Walter-Hammack wedding.

Miss Amber Collins left Wednesday for a visit to California.

Mrs. B. S. Arnold entertained at dinner Tuesday evening the following guests, in honor of Miss Hammack and Mr. Walter: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Cardwell, Miss Warren and the guests of honor.

A PLEASANT EVENT

"Gather the rosebuds while ye may,
Old time is still a-flying:
That same flower that blooms today,
Tomorrow may be dying."

On Friday evening, June 25, Mrs. Edgar Johnson entertained in her genial and sunshiny home in honor of her sister, Miss Pearl Stratton, of Des Moines, New Mexico, and Miss Elsie Beck who had just returned from a year in school at Baylor University. An invitation for an evening of social pleasure at this home was an assurance of a good time and how all enjoyed themselves.

The entertainment for the evening consisted of any, and all the simple little games in which the young people desired to participate together with the popular "42". Refreshments of cream and cake were served in a very delightful manner.

To enhance the pleasure, and make the indoors entertainment more effective. About the time the guests arrived, a gentle rain began to descend upon Mother Earth, and as time went on, the amount increased until it was a pour-down. Tho' the cards read from 8 to 12, yet many remained to greet the rising of the sun.

Perhaps there has been no social gathering of the young people during the season where all enjoyed themselves more.

FLIES AND FILTH

The State Board of Health of Florida Asks You to Carefully Read The Following.

Flies are disease carriers; live and breed in all kinds of filth; they infect food and drink by their germ-laden feet; each female fly can lay 150 eggs.

Flies breed in horse manure, cow dung, decaying vegetables, garbage of all description, dead animals and human excrement.

Flies are nature's scavengers, it is true, filling the same function as some bacteria do, but became an intolerable nuisance and danger when entering human dwellings and contaminating foods.

The presence of flies is a direct evidence of careless housekeeping and the existence of filth in some form about the premises.

Remember that when and where absolute cleanliness prevails there will be no flies.

Look daily after the garbage cans. See that they are carefully sprinkled with lime or kerosene oil and effectively covered.

Do the same to manure heaps, and remove all manure from stables every three or four days, and when removed, cover with lime and sand.

Look carefully after the cuspidors. They require constant attention. This is particularly true in hotels, boarding houses, station houses, Railroad Stations, and, in fact, wherever people congregate in large numbers.

Flies are fond of feasting on tuberculous sputum, and hover around cuspidors. The specks of flies contain live tubercle bacilli after they have eaten tuberculous sputum, showing that the bacilli will pass thru the digestive tract of the fly in an active infective state.

Flies carry on their mouths (proboscis) and on their legs, putrify-ing and disease germs, on which they have recently fed, and then crawl over food, infecting it, unless shut out by screens.

Keep flies from the SICK, especially those ill with communicable or contagious diseases. If the room is not screened the patient should be treated under a net, both for safety to others as well as for individual comfort.

Screen all food. Apply this rule, not only to food prepared at home, but to food stuffs offered for sale, and especially fruits, salads and all other things which do not require to be cooked. For—

Flies crawl over fruits when exposed for sale, unguarded by screens, and the generality of people do not wash fruit before eating it. This is a fruitful source of human infection, particularly if a case of typhoid fever nearby is being carelessly handled. Don't forget that flies will carry the bacilli of typhoid fever from the stools of the patient (if left exposed and not disinfected), if given an opportunity, to the food in the kitchen and dining room. This is no conjecture, for the Spanish-American War proved this fact.

Death of Little Mary Gordon.

On Saturday, June 26, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Gordon were called on to give up their little daughter, Mary, for the angels of death visited these parents and bore the little one away. Death is sad at all times, but especially so in this case, as Mr. and Mrs. Gordon are strangers in our city having been here but a short time from Oklahoma City. The little child at first had the whooping cough, but later other troubles developed which caused its death.

The interment took place at the City Cemetery on Sunday at 3 p. m. The Brand extends sympathy to the grief-stricken parents.

W. B. C. Social.

One of the most enjoyable meetings of the W. B. C. was held at Mrs. R. N. Mount's residence last Friday afternoon. An especial treat was the music rendered by Mr. Joe Wynne, Mrs. Lee Clark and Mrs. Kathryn McNeerney. Cream and cake was served by the hostess.

THE TEXAS PANHANDLE

BY JOHN T. BRAMHALL—In Farm Press.

"Don't talk to me about the Texas Panhandle. I want to tell you that one of these years they will have a drouth on that abandoned back shed of the world that will desiccate it till the mummy of Pharo won't be a circumstance, and send them to Kansas begging for corn. You mark what I'm telling you."

And I marked the knocker accordingly, and last fall the Panhandle was visited by dry weather, even as the prophet of evil had foretold. At Amarillo, from August first to the end of December, there was scarcely five and five-tenths inches of rain as compared with the normal summer rainfall of sixteen inches, and the milo maize and kaffir corn cracked with the heat. The mercury went (once) to ninety-eight degrees in the shade and, in the terse language of the fire-reporter, "at one time it was thought the whole town would go." But it didn't go. Nor was the country burned up. Nor did the Panhandle go down into Egypt for corn. Not a shekel's worth. What happened? This happened:

The Panhandle shipped grain. Now, you must know the Panhandle never pretended to be a grain country. If they produce over and above what is required at home, it is not on the bills. But look you; the Panhandle, handicapped as it was, shipped grain. The actual figures, as reported by the railroads, were: Wheat, 1,140,089 bushels; oats, 141,248 bushels; corn, 301,920 bushels; kaffir, 66,975 bushels; milo, 21,955 bushels; sorghum, 23,820 bushels; millet, 7,433 bushels; barley, 3,919 bushels. Total, 1,607,000 bushels, in round numbers, or about 2,500 car loads. And there were also 11,865 car loads of cattle, running twenty to the car.

That is what they shipped. I wish I had the figures of what was consumed. They fed their stock—they are feeding more stock every year—they kept their mills going, and they had a surplus of 1,600,000. Not so bad, is it?

I spoke of stock. Some people have an idea that there isn't anything there but stock, and Longhorn at that; while others think that the stock is all gone. Both wrong. Ever hear of Herefords? The Panhandle is their happy home. And there are shorthorns, too, and the "Doddies," and they don't do a thing but capture prizes every year at the Chicago International Fat Stock Show. No, the Panhandle isn't so bad. And the Panhandle is going to be a greater hog country than Indiana for the alfalfa-kaffir combination is hard to beat. All stock do well, and there is little or no disease.

And fruit? They seem to be peculiarly free from fungus and other pests, and produce bountifully. Apples, peaches, pears, plums, apricots, cherries, quinces, grapes and small fruit, especially strawberries do finely, and it is believed that this is going to be the leading orchard and vineyard country in the United States. The rich, dry soil; the sunshiny days and cool nights; and the elevation, 3,650 feet at Amarillo, do the business. Vegetables, nowhere better. Cabbage, potatoes, beets, tomatoes, celery, onions, beans etc., all do finely. All this may sound like boasting, but here are some cold facts:

To me the most important thing is health. I do not care so much about big crops. How about the Panhandle as a country to live in and to bring up a family? I have observed with both eyes open, and I find this: that health stands A1. Tuberculosis, bronchitis, chills and fevers etc., are unknown in the vocabulary of the Panhandle, and consumption cure and ague dope do not stare at you from the drug store shelves. And as for culture! Well, you ought to see the women's clubs. And schools? In many particulars they are better than those of our Northern cities, more progressive and with better material (I say it advisedly) in the seats. Figures as to school funds and expenditures mean little or nothing, but if I say that Texas has 800,000 enrolled children, and that she pays her teachers more per month than either Illinois or Ohio, perhaps that may set you thinking. And while our Northern states have only eight or ten per cent men teachers, Texas has thirty-six per cent. Which state, think you, is apt to produce mollycoddies, and which will train strong, active men?

And, added to all this, the Panhandle is "dry" and it is a white man's country. I have not a greater amount of race prejudice than most men, but I profess a preference for the Caucasian for a neighbor and particularly for the Anglo-Saxon, and of such are the Panhandle of Texas.

CHICAGO FAT STOCK SHOW

Annual Exhibition at Great Coliseum—Farm and Stock Will Be Given First Place.

The promoters of the Chicago fat stock show which will be held in that city from November 27 to December 4 inclusive have made arrangements with the railroads leading into Chicago to take part in the show to the extent of gathering up an exhibition of farm and garden products from the southwest. The Santa Fe not slow to see the benefit to be derived from such an exhibition has already begun work on the proposition to which end the company is sending out men to make arrangements with local parties to assist in getting up a credible exhibition. T. B. Gallager, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe in the southwest, was here the other day and called at the Brand office to explain the plan. It is expected that the commercial club thru its committees will obtain from the farmers and others samples of all crops grown during the year, that these will be prepared for shipment and turned over to the local agent, who will forward all products to the proper place. Mr. Gallager explained that there would be no cost to the local people, that the Santa Fe wanted a great exhibition from the Panhandle, especially from the towns along its route and that the proper authorities would see that each town was given due credit for each exhibition made. Space will be given in the Coliseum for a creditable exhibition.

Hereford cannot afford to neglect this opportunity. The Commercial Club, the real estate firms should join hands in making this the biggest advertisement for Hereford yet put out. There will be thousands of people at the show and they will go there to see what can be raised in the Panhandle. The show will be worth thousands of dollars as advertising scheme.

A Correction.

In a notice referring to the death of a former Hereford lady, Mrs. S. B. Harbison, who died at Bellvue, Texas, March 29, the name was given as Mrs. Hutchinson. This was an error. The Brand regrets the mistake and makes the correction. Mrs. Harbison lived at the Locust Grove Ranch a few miles southeast from Hereford.

Growing Cow Peas.

The Missouri experiment station, after extensive investigations, has issued instructions for growing this crop, from which the following quotations are made:

"The seed bed for cowpeas should receive as thorough preparation as for corn. To insure prompt and uniform germination it is necessary to provide a warm, moist, mellow soil.

"The method of planting peas will depend upon whether they are to be cultivated or not. Where cultivation is intended they may be planted in rows varying in width from 20 to 44 inches. A common practice among farmers, and a method we have used successfully at the station, is to seed with an ordinary corn planter with drill attachment straddling each alternate row and thus making the rows 22 inches apart. The field is drilled as for corn, placing the peas six to ten inches apart in the row at a depth sufficient to insure plenty of moisture. This method of planting requires about six to eight quarts of peas per acre so that a bushel planted in this manner will sow as much as four or five bushels broadcast. However, the saving in cost of seed is about equaled by the cost of the subsequent cultivation. Where a corn planter is not accessible an ordinary two-horse wheat drill may be used by plugging up all the holes except each third one.

"Another method of planting is with the two-horse eight-hoed wheat drill, sowing exactly as for wheat at the rate of four or five pecks per acre. The advantage of sowing with wheat drill in cultivation is not necessary. If the ground is in good condition the peas will come up uniformly and vigorously and the weeds will be choked out completely. This method of sowing is generally practiced after wheat and oats, and if the soil is well prepared, will insure a good crop. Peas sown in this manner will make a hay not so coarse as that from cultivated peas. Further, the land is left more compact and level so that the crop is easier to cut and less dirt is raked up with the hay. Cultivated peas generally make a better yield of hay, set more peas, and is the more profitable method of sowing where the area of the crop is limited and where the peas are sown as a main crop for the summer. But where a large acreage is sown, or where the peas are used as a catch crop, non-cultivated peas are grown to the best advantage.

"The time of planting will depend upon the purpose for which the crop is grown. If the peas are intended for a main crop on the land to take the place of corn or oats, they should be planted not earlier than two weeks after the usual corn planting time. However, they may be sown as late as the middle of July in Central Missouri and then mature. Early planting of peas causes a heavy growth of vine with an increased tendency for the vines to run, and in some cases the yield of seed is considerably lessened. Rather late sowing tends to promote seed production and lessen the growth of vine.

"Care should be taken to have the ground thoroughly warm before planting. Peas are very sensitive to cold, wet, soil, and the seed will rot very readily when sown under those conditions. A short period of cool weather immediately after sowing will often seriously interfere with the growth of plants. When peas are to follow wheat and oats they should be sown at the earliest possible moment after the crop is cut. The practice necessitates the stacking of the grain or very early threshing from the shock. Yet time and effort spent in stacking the grain is not wholly lost, as the labor of threshing is thereby lessened.

"The methods employed in the harvesting and curing of cowpea hay are not unlike those practiced with red clover and alfalfa. The readiness with which the cowpea hay is cured depends largely upon the maturity of the vine and upon its habit of growth. Both harvesting and curing are greatly facilitated by the use of varieties upright in growth and of uniform maturing habit. The ordinary mowing machine will readily cut and save the entire plant if of upright growth, and for the reason that vines of this character do not lie so closely together is of advantage in curing. Vines that bear a large percentage of pods are cured with less difficulty than those of excessive growth. The length of time required for curing will depend upon the maturity of the vines, thickness of planting, rankness of growth, and upon the weather. If the vines are ripe as indicated by the color of the leaves the hay can usually be cured in about forty-eight hours under favorable weather conditions. If the vines are green and in vigorous growth when cut they may not cure at all, especially if the crop is very heavy. The greener the vines the greater the liability from loss during bad weather. Some varieties of peas when nearly matured tend to produce an after-growth of vine following a period of wet weather. This is a serious drawback in caring for hay. But when vines are well matured when mown and are well cocked after lying a day or two they will endure several days of rainy weather.

"Cowpeas should be cut when the pods are full grown and when a considerable number of them have turned yellow. At this stage none of the leaves have dropped and the plant has practically attained its growth. Begin cutting in the morning as soon as the dew is off, if indications are favorable for a number of fair days. Leave in the swath until the exposed portion is well cured, but not dry enough to crumble and break. The vines should then be teddered, or, if a tedder is not available, rake into small windrows. Always be careful to use the tedder early in the morning when the dry leaves are 'incase,' so as to avoid breaking them off by the teddering process. When the upper side is well dried the windrows should be turned over. Where the hay is heavy a tedder should immediately follow the mower. This practice insures uniform drying, and if the vines are handled before the leaves are dry enough to break, no loss will occur. The hay should be thrown into cocks at this stage, preferably cocks made as high and narrow as will stand well in order to admit circulation of air.

"Time may be saved if the windrows are bunched just before cocking. If the peas are well matured and the ground dry, they may be raked as soon as well wilted and not turned, but cocked at once. If the part of the cocks nearest the ground is slow to dry they may be turned over to the north a few hours before hauling begins, so that the under portion may be exposed to the sun and the process of curing hastened. Cocking need not be resorted to if there is favorable weather, but in any case this method of curing will be found to produce a sweeter, brighter hay than when left to scorch in the sun. Care must be taken that the hay does not become too dry before handling, as much of the best feeding value of cowpea hay is lost when the leaves are lacking. When cured the pea hay may be placed under roof or in the stack. The latter method is not desirable, unless grass, straw or timothy be used for stopping out the stack or rick.

"Cowpeas are difficult to cure if not properly managed, but with strict attention to maturity of the plant and to weather conditions little more trouble will be experienced in making cowpea hay than red clover hay. The weather conditions for September are generally more favorable than June for hay making. In the fall the ground is warmer and contains less moisture than in the spring."—Farm and Ranch.

Drowns in Canyon.

Canyon City, June 28.—P. B. Carlisle, bookkeeper for a lumber company of this city was drowned in the Tierra Blanca canyon yesterday at noon, near this city, while bathing with friends.

He was seen to sink below the surface and when he did not reappear, his friends were frightened and undertook to locate the body, but they were unable to rescue him. His body remained under water about two hours. Assistance from this city was phoned for and soon a rescue party was on hand.

Mr. Carlisle in company with Chas. June, Chas. Malcolm, all of Happy, Texas, were in bathing. They had removed only their coats and shoes. Mr. Carlisle did not think of his watch and it showed to have stopped at 11:58, probably the time when the young man first entered the water. The young man has a cousin at Dalhart to whom a message was sent. The remains were shipped to his former home at Clarksville, Tenn.

E. Carl Whittaker Weds.

Just as the clock was tolling the hour of 5 on Tuesday evening, June 29, the wedding bells pealed forth, and, in the distant state of Ohio, E. Carl Whittaker of Hereford, led to the hymeneal altar Miss Mary Louise Waite of Ravenna, Ohio. The wedding took place in the home of the bride and was an elaborate affair. The young people left immediately for Hereford, Texas, and are expected here today. (Friday) Mr. Carl Whittaker is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker and a young man of sterling worth. Having traveled quite extensively over the continent of Europe, and being conversant with the ways of our own people together with superior natural attainments is fitted in every way to make a happy home for his chosen bride.

While Mrs. Whittaker is an entire stranger to the Brand, we are sure that she possesses all the womanly graces that are befitting the queen of the home. Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker, father and mother, are just completing a beautiful bungalow on twenty five mile avenue, and this will be presented to the bride on her arrival as a wedding gift and also a complete surprise to her as she knows nothing of its erection.

Mr. and Mrs. Whittaker will occupy this cozy little place and it will be their future home.

Six- O'clock Dinner.

Mrs. Claude Meadows entertained Saturday with an elaborate six o'clock dinner, Mrs. Morriss being the honoree. The table was laid with a cluny-piece, on which rested a mound of daisies. Dainty place cards to which were tied corsage bouquets of daisies, marked places for Mesdames Morriss, Russel, Dodson, Witherspoon, Obertheir, and the hostess.

The brethren known as Non-progressive Christians meet at the court house each Lord's day at 3 o'clock p. m., for worship and the study of the scriptures. All are invited to meet and take part in the investigation of the truth.

Save Your Trees.

The annual visit of the caterpillar is on. Being a leaf eater, any kind of poison that will adhere to the leaves will get him. Spray your trees and thus save them. If someone would make it their business to care for the shade and fruit trees of the town, a good paying job could be worked up.

A Pleasant Visit.

One morning, early this week, when the Brand reporter was in South Hereford, and while she was nearing the home of F. H. Britain she heard a bird caroling from a tree nearby. Its notes were so joyous and so full of contentment that no one passing that way and hearing its song could help forgetting the cares and burdens of life, at least for a time.

When the home was approached it was not surprising that the bird sang so sweetly, for in the well-kept grounds were trees with beautiful foliage; roses everywhere in bloom and the sweet scented honeysuckles climbing the trellises here and there, and shading the sunny sides of the verandas.

Mr. Britain has twenty-six acres in this suburban place, of which twenty acres are in alfalfa and the remaining six in orchard, garden and grounds about the beautiful two-story residence. In the orchard are found varieties of peaches, apples, cherries, pears, plums and apricots. Here is also found a hedge of wild plums that came from seed that Mr. Britain planted. He secured the seed from plums gathered near the Canadian River. The ground of this orchard is in perfect condition and the trees shapely and thrifty. Mr. Britain, so far, has pastured his alfalfa and considers it excellent grazing for any kind of stock.

Around the surface tank the willows are growing, and dip their long extended branches far into the water. The grounds about the house are set in blue grass, and with well arranged walks and shade trees at proper intervals present a "thing of beauty and a joy forever."

While gathering a bouquet of flowers, a birds nest with eggs in it was found near a cluster of roses. This was, doubtless, the home of the sweet-voiced mocking bird.

Mr. Britain and family came to Hereford in 1891, from Swisher county, Texas, and located about six miles south of the present site of Hereford. About seven years ago they moved to their present home making most or all of the improvements. This home is a model of neatness throughout, for Mrs. Britain is an ideal housekeeper and if one is captivated by the surroundings without he is no less charmed by the scene within.

Mr. Britain believes that: "The man who seeks one thing in life, and but one, May hope to achieve it before life be done; But he who seeks all things, wherever he goes, Only reaps from the hopes which around him he sows; A harvest of barren regrets."

Coming to Hereford.

Hereford Brand:

Enclosed please find $1.00 for your paper. As I stated before I am going to make my home in your vicinity, also expect to bring a lot of my friends along. This may not sound very good to some people, leaving the golden west and going to a country where (some people say) the cyclone will lift the top of your head off and no rains at all.

I would like to have some old settler of Hereford to give me thru your paper an answer to the above, also what this year's wheat crop looks like.

Yours truly,

H. B. BIER.

Smile, Dern Ye, Smile.

From Campbell's Scientific Farmer.

Here you discontented knocker, Growlin' 'bout the country's ills, Chloroform your dismal talker; Take a course of liver pills. Stop yer dern ki-o-tee howlin' Chaw some sand an' git some grit; Don't sit in the dumps a growlin', Smile a few An' boost a bit.

Fall in while the band's a-playin' Ketch the step an' march along; 'Sted o' pessimistic brayin' Join the hallelujah song; Drop your hammer—do some rootin', Grab a horn, you cuss, an' split Every echo with yer tootin', Smile a few An' boost a bit.

June Weather.

June is the warmest month for the Panhandle. It is also the growing month for crops. The average temperature for June this year was 80 degrees, 00 higher than the average. The hottest day was on the 00th, the thermometer recording 00 degrees. The total rainfall at Hereford was 2.77 inches. In the vicinity of Hereford, a number of good showers fell which did not cover the entire county. In the northern part of the county, the rainfall was much more. All of the Panhandle has had ample precipitation and crops are in good shape. Wheat harvesting is in progress.

District Convention.

The program of the Panhandle District Convention of the Christian churches has been issued and Canyon City is named as the place of meeting, July 7-9. A good program with a number of live topics is promised. A number of Hereford people will attend.

Ships Porkers.

J. H. Wilson has just returned from Fort Worth where he sold a carload of hogs at the highest price. He says that the Panhandle has shipped more hogs to the Fort Worth market this year than any other section and that Plainview heads the list in the number of hogs shipped from any town in this state. Good for Plainview.
