Quit Praying For Rain and Go to Putting Down Irrigation Wells—Dig! Dig! Dig!

WHAT THEY ALL SAID ABOUT IT

Resume From County Weeklies About the Retirement of Senator J. W. Bailey.

Many of the country papers coming to The Brand have failed to even make a note of so important a matter as the pronouncement of Senator Bailey in regard to his retirement from office. A few ventured to comment in an editorial way and what they have said about the matter is given herewith.

MIDLAND REPORTER.

"You can say for me that I will not be a candidate for re-election to the senate next year, and you can also say that this decision is irrevocable. I know that the State cannot find a successor who will be more faithful to the honor and the welfare of her people than I have been, but I sincerely hope that she will find one who can represent her in the senate with greater ability than I have done."

So reads the last will and testament of Joseph Weldon Bailey, to "my countrymen," dished out by himself to a Fort Worth Record correspondent last Tuesday when he arrived at his home in Gainesville. Maybe Joseph did not see the handwriting on the wall—maybe it wasn't there. Maybe we never could have beaten Joseph. Maybe we couldn't. But if he, Joseph, only don't take it back, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow!"

CHANNING COURIER.

It is beginning to look like Senator Bailey really intends to retire from politics. Through the press comes the information that he will address the veterans at a reunion in Ardmore before returning to Washington. On the heels of this information comes the announcement from Senator Bailey that he will not be a candidate again for United States Senator from Texas. Be it remembered that Senator Bailey is devoted to his friends and at times values them highly. It may be that said friends will call him back again to a reconsideration of his rash statement. His refusal to offer again for office is an old trick of the Senator. In the beginning of his political career Senator Bailey, having served one term as congressman, declined in plain words to accept a second nomination. His friends in the congressional congress placed their bold hands upon Mr. Bailey and took him bodily upon their shoulders into the convention hall where the young statesman made a brilliant speech accepting the nomination. That talk was a Henry Clay effort, for it sounded like he was "prepared to be unexpectedly called upon to say something."

STRAITFORD STAR.

If Bailey really isn't going to run for the U. S. Senate again, maybe Thomas Ball knew what he was doing when he decided to run for governor next year.

CLAUDIA.

Senator J. W. Bailey makes the positive statement that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the senate.

This announcement will not be a surprise to those who have watched the political trend for the past three years.

BRADY STANDARD.

Just what effect Senator Bailey's announcement of his retirement will have upon the political horizon it is hard to say at the present time, but one thing is certain, and that is the whole complexion of the next election has been changed by the announcement. Instead of a bitter and relentless campaign being waged for and against Bailey, there will doubtless be a wild scramble for the senatorial toga that he has cast aside.

VERNON RECORD (J. RAY.)

The Record believes Senator Bailey has rendered his state a good service in making his retirement from the United States Senate, and completely withdrawing from state and national politics. The Bailey question has become so momentous that one could hardly be elected justice of the peace without rendering an account as to whether he was a Bailey or anti-Bailey man. We believe men should be elected to office by reason of their fitness to perform the duties thereof, rather than for their willingness to accept or reject the doctrines of any one man. While we believe Senator Bailey the strongest man in the Senate today, intellectually, yet Texas will be better united and hence be better represented by sending a man, about whom all can agree.

MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT.

The announcement of Senator Joseph W. Bailey to the effect that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the United States Senate was rather sudden and very unexpected to his many friends. He gives no special reason for his sudden decision, but it is generally supposed that it was because he and other democratic senators could not get together on important legislation at Washington. He states that he will remove to New York where he will become a member of one of the strongest law firms in that city and will devote the most of his time to the practice of corporation law. It may now be possible that Baileyism will be dropped from most of the public question in the state of Texas.

Deering Calf Binders at Garrison Bros. 26tf

Another Good Calf Crop.

While other sections of the Panhandle are making big reports about their calf crops, Deaf Smith county is not to be omitted from the count. On the J. D. Thompson ranch there were 337 whiteface cows from which 329 calves were dropped, 322 of which were saved. This is over 95 per cent and is a figure that may be bragged about. Mr. Thompson winter feeds his cows and keeps them in fine physical condition at all times. Hence the good showing.

BIGGEST MILLET CROP OF 1911

German Farmer in Nazareth Community Makes Record Crop. Others Also Have Good Crops.

Adam Backus, one of the industrious farmers in the Nazareth community a few miles east of Dimmitt in Castro county, was in Hereford last Saturday and in talking with A. J. Lipscomb, cashier of the Western National Bank, made a favorable report upon the crop conditions in his neighborhood. He said that the farmers in his part of the county all have good crops and much better than former years. As an example for himself, he says that he has just finished cutting and baling 100 acres of millet from which he secured 200 tons of hay and 1,500 bushels of seed, and that he has 50 acres more of the same kind. As the hay is worth $10 per ton delivered at Hereford and the seed $1.00 per bushel, this makes a total gross income from the 100 acres at $3,500 or $35 per acre. How is that?

County Board of Education Meets.

At a recent meeting of the county board of education some important matters were up for consideration. Under the new law, the county has the power to classify the schools of the county, and accordingly this was done, making all rural schools in the county as "Intermediate Schools" and the Hereford school as a first class high school. They recognize only three classes of public schools, Primary, Intermediate and High School. The primary school may include as many as four grades. An intermediate school may include all the work of the primary school and may also give instruction in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades, but no higher. A high school may include all of the grades of the primary and intermediate and one or more years of regular high school work. The courses of study that must be used in these different schools have been outlined and published by the State Superintendent. These courses as well as other points in the law will be published in The Brand. It is gratifying to note that under the new law, a teacher of a rural school is not required to teach the high school branches and thus give most of her time to the advanced pupils to the hurt of the primary pupils, who need the instruction for which she is paid. A bulletin issued by the State says: "It is rankst folly to permit one teacher to attempt to teach all the classes ranging from the first to include a few high school studies, the number of classes being from thirty to forty per day."

The county board has started a good work and if the trustees and teachers will cooperate, Deaf Smith county will soon have all her schools in teachable condition and much better work done. The county board is composed of A. P. Murchison, B. K. Nutter, W. H. Rayzor, C. B. Lancaster and C. Donald. Supt. Ben Short and Principal D. A. Shifley met with the board at its last session.

Miss Ethel Slofer of Snyder visited in the home of Mr. G. M. Suggs from Friday day.

More Wells.

There is a lot of talk among the real farmers about putting in more irrigation wells. It has been reported that as many as fifteen contracts are incubating and may hatch out by next week.

Water Meters.

The city authorities are expecting a shipment of meters most any day and then all water users will pay according to the amount of nature's juice used. This is justice. If a man uses 10 times as much as his neighbor let him pay as much in proportion.

"Weeding Out" Drones.

Down at Brownwood, the Methodist church proposes to cut out all the drones and have a church strictly of live, working members, and the stewards will at the coming quarterly conference ask that all dead timber be dropped from the church roll. This applies of course only to those who claim membership privileges and who have not lived up to their church vows. When a man becomes a member of the Methodist church he takes a solemn and binding obligation to attend the services of the church and to support its institutions, and the charge is made that many who are able to do so are not complying with that vow. The stewards are not disposed to place membership in the church on a commercial basis, but they do claim that the members who are abundantly able to pay and won't pay should not have church affiliation.

The action of the Brownwood Methodists will be watched with much interest, for the drones in every church are a great handicap to the work of the body. The member who does not attend services, nor do his part in the work of the church should not be continued on the church rolls, for he is certainly not a member in good standing nor living up to his obligations.—Plainview News.

Roswell Products Exposition.

One of the most interesting features in connection with the Roswell Products Exposition on October 5, 6 and 7, will be the demonstrations to be given by the various engine and pump manufacturers. The feasibility of pumping for irrigating purposes has already been thoroughly proven, but many homesteaders of eastern New Mexico have never been shown what a simple matter is the development of water by the pumping method. There are vast areas all over the Sunshine State that may be developed into fertile farms by the pump, and as there will be a tremendous crowd at the Production Exposition, the pump men will have plants in actual operation to show their methods.

Miss Ollie Cochran, who has been visiting in Hereford for some time, left last week for Baylor College at Belton, where she has been elected a member of the faculty of 1911-12. Miss Cochran made many friends in Hereford who regret to see her leave, but rejoice that Baylor College has secured the services and influence in its student body of so noble a woman as Miss Cochran.

300 MULES AND 100 MEN ON FARM

Houses to Be Built to Accommodate Farmers—New Land Will Be Broken—50 More Mules Have Arrived.

From Crosbyton Review.

Judge L. Gough arrived in Crosbyton Monday and has been busy ever since making arrangements to begin work on a large scale on the improvement of the 10,000-acre farm near town. He, Julian M. Bassett and C. P. Sanders have visited this week various districts that the farm is to embrace.

Fifty mules for use on the farm arrived from Ft. Worth last week. They are splendid animals and more like them are to be bought as the developments make room for them. Three hundred mules and one hundred hands, it is estimated, will ultimately be required. Buildings to accommodate this number of people will be erected. Sheds, barns, watering facilities, etc., will have to be provided also. Some of this work will begin this week east of town. Work was begun this week breaking one of the sections of land to be added to the Sanders' division. This section lies between the old farm east of town and the caprock.

The Craddock farm north of Crosbyton will be taken in and the improvements will be enlarged and made headquarters for the division in that locality.

Maine Election Still in Doubt.

Apparently a majority of 134 votes for repeal of the liquor prohibitory amendment to the Maine constitution was announced in an official statement tonight by Secretary of State Davis as the outcome of Monday's election.

The secretary's report is based on signed returns from town clerks. Certain discrepancies indicating errors by town officials in returning votes, are not taken into consideration in the secretary's report.

Only a canvass of the vote by the governor and council can adjust discrepancies that may exist. Press returns compiled in this city indicate tonight a "dry" majority of 356, taking into account alleged discrepancies in town clerk's reports.

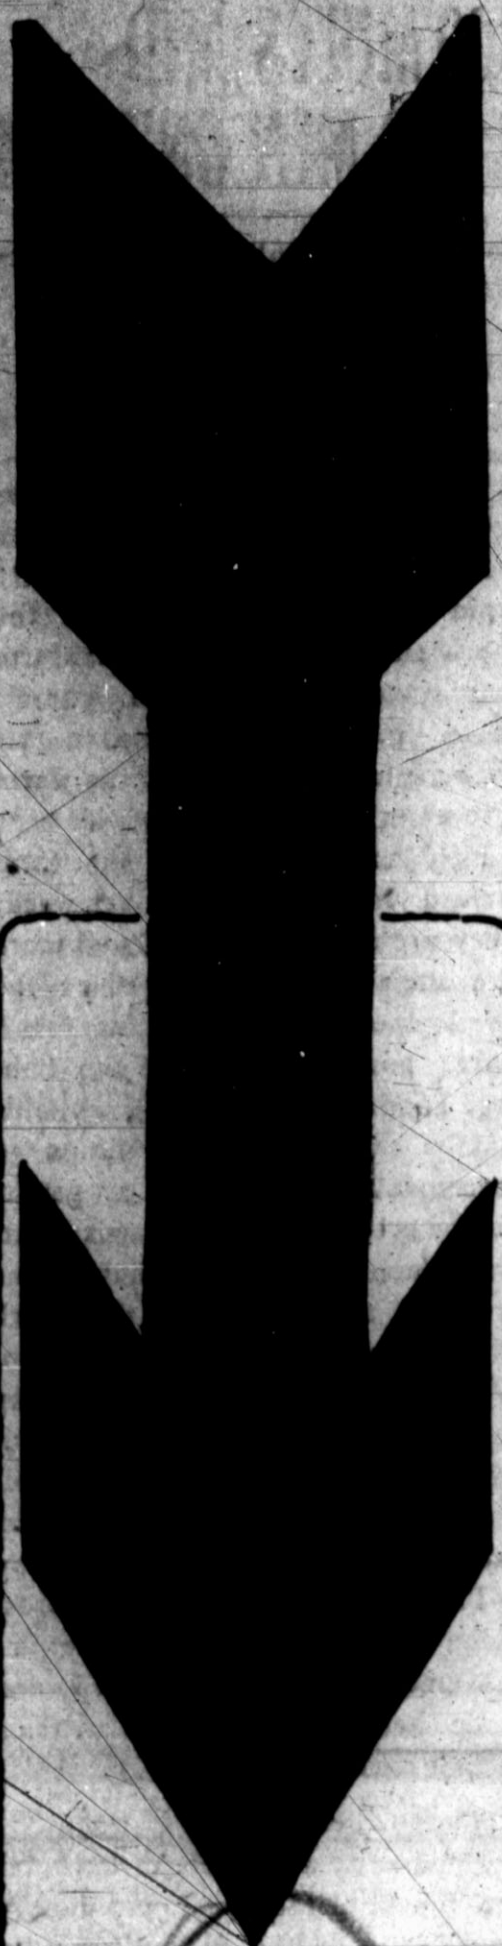

R. Collins, age 65, died at his residence on 3rd street Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. His wife and children were at the bed side when the peaceful end came. Arrangements for burial in the city cemetery were made today and interment will be made this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Rev. S. T. Shore, pastor of the Christian church, officiating.

Misses Nellie Black, French Davis and Ila Estes left Wednesday for school. Miss Nellie enters upon her third year at Southwestern, and the other two for their first year. Miss French at the Presbyterian college at Milford and Miss Ila at Waxahachie.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Guinn left yesterday for Clarendon where he has accepted a position in a drug store. Mr. Guinn is a prominent young business man and Hereford regrets to lose him and his good wife. The Brand wishes them success in their new home.

THE SANTA FE DE-LUXE TRAIN

The Santa Fe Inaugurates Extra Fare Train Between Chicago, Kansas City and Los Angeles.

Sixteen years ago the Santa Fe put on the first limited train ever run to southern California. This service started semi-weekly, in winter only, and is now run daily the year round.

Having set the pace for limited trains among Western lines, the Santa Fe announces that beginning December first it will put on the first extra fare train ever run to California.

The new train will be called "Santa Fe-de-Luxe." It will be operated once a week, during the winter, between Chicago and Los Angeles, via Kansas City and Albuquerque.

The schedule will be sixty-three hours between Chicago and Los Angeles, and fifty-one hours between Kansas City and Los Angeles, westbound it will leave Chicago 8 p. m., Kansas City 8 a. m., and arrive at Los Angeles 9 a. m., third morning. Eastbound it will leave Los Angeles 6 p. m., arrive at Kansas City 11 p. m., second evening, and Chicago 11 a. m., third morning.

An extra fare of $25.00 will be charged in each direction.

This extensive de luxe service marks a notable advance in trans-continental travel, and the Santa Fe is to be congratulated on the innovation. More and more California is becoming the play-ground of America. Repeated demands of those who have winter homes in California makes this extra fare service a necessity, as the California Limited train of the Santa Fe can no longer accommodate all comers. Fortunately the Santa Fe is in a position to meet the demands, having today practically a double-track line half way to California—the gap is being shortened every month. Powerful locomotives and a perfect roadbed assure the additional speed with safety.

The Santa Fe-de-Luxe will be equipped with compartment, drawing room and observation sleeping cars, club car and dining car, all newly built from special designs and with carte blanche as to expense. The cars are all steel underframe with wood interior, insuring a maximum of safety, comfort and artistic effect. The train will carry a barber, a ladie's maid, a stenographer and other accessories of high class service, in addition to the regular train employes. Bathing facilities will be provided. Market reports and daily bulletins of important world happenings also will be telegraphed the train en route. A library of western fiction, magazines, periodicals, etc., will be furnished. Telephone connections at terminals, afternoon tea and numerous other comforts and conveniences will be devised. The dining and club cars as usual will be under the management of Fred Harvey.

While this train de luxe is intended primarily for through travel between Chicago, Kansas City and California, there will be excellent connection at Williams for Grand Canyon of Arizona.

The celebrated California Limited train of the Santa Fe will be continued on present schedule with new equipment the coming season. The comforts and advantages of this train are so well known to overland travelers as not to require special mention here. Passengers on the California Limited will not be charged an extra fare. The Santa

Boy Earns Vacation Money.

While many other boys of his size were either loafing around town waiting for an easy job during vacation, there was one lad who did not lose a day in hunting a job. Just as soon as school was out he hunted up his hoe and took a job of cutting weeds known and earned $14. He then he had $2.50 chopping cotton, $3.00 driving a ranch and an- $3.00 driving cattle. Then he secured a permanent job on a Wesley, which he earned $44, receiving a check for that amount on Saturday before school opened. For a better name we will call this boy Frank. He never lost a day during vacation. In contrast to this industry, another story comes to mind. On the day that Frank received his last check for the $44, a ranchman stepped into a restaurant in Hereford and inquired for two boys (boys of good size) to work on his ranch for a few months at $20 per month and board and outfit furnished. As it happened, there were two boys of the size he wanted seated at the lunch counter who had just been refused credit for a ten cent pie. The kind restaurant keeper recommended the two boys to the ranchman as likely fellows and perhaps willing to work. But No! They turned down the ranchman's offer with scorn, remarking that they wouldn't work for nobody at that price. The boys went out without the pie and evidently hungry, the ranchman turned to the restaurant keeper and said: "Boys like that will not make good hands on a ranch. I don't need them. Perhaps they want a job as a soda jirker." The application of this true story is easy. Let those who would eat pie, work. Honest men and boys can always find an honest job.

S. S. CLASS RECEIVES LETTER

Another Interesting Letter From Miss Laura Edwards to Methodist Sunday School Class.

Songdo, Korea, Aug. 5, 1911.
Class No. 7, Hereford M. E. Sunday School.

Dear friends:
About a week ago I had a letter from your teacher asking for a letter by return mail telling you every thing interesting about our work. Now I can not tell you all, in fact only a very small part of what I see accomplished daily by the power of God in this beautiful, little country with its queer, dear people.

As you know, my home and work are in Choon Chun, and are wondering why this letter is headed Songdo. I am here for a little rest and visit. Have been here one week and will be here a few days longer. Another reason why I came up here is to put up some fruit for our use this winter. I mention this because you may think as I did before coming here, that there is no fruit or anything nice to eat in Korea, but there is plenty of different kinds of good things at all seasons of the year. Just now is the peach and plum season, and the finest are to be had here in Songdo. The apricots and berries of all kinds have just passed. The apples are just beginning to come in though not yet at the height of their season. The grape fruit season is just passing. In the fall will come the grapes, nuts and persimmons. In southern Korea pine apples and bananas are to be had. I might say, too, that we have as fine gardens here in Korea as can be had in America. Of course, we get our seeds from U. S. A.

You perhaps have heard of the rainy season in all the eastern lands. We are just in the midst of it. It began this year July 7, and for eighteen days we scarcely saw the sun, either just pouring as hard as it could or just misting. Every thing, during that time, in the house got just as sticky and musty as could be, even the matting on the floors moulding, our shoes and leather bound books turning white in one night. After the eighteen days of rain we have had some sunshine, but it rains almost every afternoon. And oh, how hot! When the sun shines it seems that it will almost cook you if out in it. But the weather is not all the time like this, only a week or two more of it then we will have delightful weather. The autumn and spring are more pleasant here than in any country I ever lived. Last year the rainy season was not so bad as it has been this year.

You asked for something funny. There are not many things that strike us as being funny. There are many things that are ridiculous, which are due to the ignorance of the people. There is one thing which to visitors or new missionaries would seem very funny, but which custom we, who are in charge of young ladies and school girls, have to see that they follow and that is the custom of having absolutely no contact, even a glance, with boys or young men.

The churches have a partition in the middle separating the two sexes. If when we are even on the way to church or any where with our girls and meet or pass a young man or school boy, the boy must step aside turn his back and the girl must turn her head. To speak to him would be a great disgrace. As you perhaps already know, young people never see or speak to one another before they are married. According to the heathen ceremony, at the time of the marriage the bride's eyes are sealed up until after the feast. she is married to the hor-home of the groom's parents. Among the Christians the young people are married just as Americans are married, but as the customs of the country requires there is no courtship. The parents or those in charge of the contracting parties make the arrangements for the union.

The Koreans are very fond of singing and in all religious services of any nature want to sing. Very few of them, only those who are of our school, have any idea of what we would call a tune, but are willing to undertake anything that is in the hymn book, if the words seem to suit them.

A few days ago, while I was in Seoul, one of our school girls was married to a very nice young man, a member of this year's graduating class of the Presbyterian school. At first the parents of course thought that it should be at the church of the groom, but after much persuasion agreed that it should be at the bride's church. The wedding had all been planned and at the last moment the groom's parents suggested that a hymn be sung just before the ceremony while the bridal party were before the altar. One of these wedding hymns which happened to be in the book was selected, and though I played as the music was written, the congregation sang at the top of their voices, but a thousand miles from any tune. After the ceremony another hymn was called. You would be amused to hear a congregation of Koreans sing, or perhaps would feel like stopping your ears or running, and yet the children can be taught to sing well.

Korean children are not inferior intellectually to American children. They can learn anything taught in our schools, and oh, they are so grateful for an opportunity to learn and being taught the Bible and principles of Christianity daily and along with other things, they all early accept such a Gospel of love and hope for Korean women at once and nothing can shake their faith in God as an answerer of prayer. A very pathetic thing occurred about a month ago when I was out in the country. A little girl had been mortgaged by her father for a debt and the time was just about up when she was to have to go as a slave, her father not being able to melt the debt, but the little child had heard of the Christians' love and kindness and on this occasion when we had gone there for quarterly meeting and a few days' of service, she went to one of our Bible women and told her her troubles and asked her to pray for her, thinking that God would in some way release her. The Bible woman prayed about it and to get the father to, in some way raise the money for the debt. The woman was, from the Korean viewpoint, very well to do, so without telling either her father or me any thing of the matter, on Sunday morning, as the Lord's supper was about to be administered, she rose and told the story and said that she was willing to pay the ransom for the child. Of course the child and her mother were made very glad and we hope to soon have arrangements to have her put in school. Oh! it is such a joy to teach and help these grateful people.

I am very anxious to get back to my work in Choon Chun and that surrounding district. We are anxiously looking forward to the arrival of our new physician for our station in Choon Chun, who is to come from Texas, also all of our new missionaries. I hope that some of Hereford's Sunday school pupils, by coming to help in ing of these Korean girls. It is such a p... together with... daily carried... connection. Let... matter how small...

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
 There is only one way to cure deafness,
 and that is by constitutional remedies.
 Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The state daily newspapers of Tuesday run headlines that Maine had "gone wet" and thus repudiated prohibition. The Amarillo Daily News of Wednesday and other papers corrected the report and shoved Maine back on dry land.

Mark the prediction: If the people of Texas do not settle the liquor question in a spirit of equity, some concessions on each side, making allowances for customs and convictions, it will not be ten years before the division of Texas into two or more states will be a burning question. We regret to say that, for it is a consummation to be deplored, but the signs of the times show what is ahead of us.—Waco Tribune.

In the retirement of Senator Bailey from the Senate, Texas will lose the services of one of her most brilliant and talented sons, but his withdrawal from the unequal contest will have a tendency to clear the murky political atmosphere, yet he will always be a strong partisan factor in shaping the political maps of the state. While we have admired Mr. Bailey for his strength of mind, force of character and ability to lead in the Senate, yet we have not been unmindful of his childish and peevish conduct, his personal and political errors, and his unbridled ambition to dictate the policies of the Democrat party.
 Therefore, we firmly believe that Senator Bailey's decision to retire to private life will cement the broken elements of the state democracy and insure a season of political peace.

PORCH PARTY.

Mrs. Clyde Wright entertained a crowd of young people last Friday afternoon for her sister, Miss Jane Gregg. The guests played "42" from 3 to 5 o'clock, at the tables which were arranged cozily on the porch among the vines, rugs and porch pillows. A dainty luncheon consisting of salad, cheese, sandwiches and olives, first course, and cakes and sherbet, second course, was served at the tables which were covered with linen doilies. Those invited to this delightful porch party were, Misses Mable Gass, Ida McKinley, Louise Oberthier, Louise Irwin, Mary and Clara Dunlap, Bessie Snyder, N. Anna Elliott, Grace Elliston, Jennie Wyche, Ethel Fuqua, Floy Jenkins, Lois Garrison, Elzina Mounts, Bess Nance, Nell Wilson, Alma Norton, May Gough and Jane Gregg.

Resolutions of Respect.

Hereford, Tex., Sept. 12, 1911.
To the Officers and Members of Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228. I. O. O. F.

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of respect on the death of Sister Ada Maples, submit the following:

Whereas God, in his all-wise providence, has removed from our midst our beloved Sister Ada Maples, wife of T. S. Maples, and

Whereas, Sister Maples was a true Rebekah, a loving wife, a devoted mother and a true Christian lady, and we know that her home has been deprived of a loved one whose presence will be greatly missed, whose memory will be lovingly cherished, therefore

Be it resolved, that we extend to the members of her family our tenderest sympathy in these hours of deep sorrow, and commend them to the care of the loving, heavenly Father.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge;

A copy be sent to the family, and a copy of the same be printed in the Hereford Brand.

Texas Needs Great Men

III. MISTAKES.

THE statesmen of China have fought back civilization for four thousand years and today it is the most benighted nation of the globe. The Mohammedan government ordered the world's greatest library at Alexandria burned and the followers of the prophet are to this day bound in fetters of ignorance. The dark ages were the result of nations fighting back the tide of civilization. Since the beginning of government, some of the leading statesmen of all countries have become badly frightened at the processes of civilization.

MOHAMMET'S MISTAKE.

The smoke of a factory has been distorted into the visage of a terrible ogre; the whistle of a locomotive has been mistaken for the war whoop of an Indian and the approach of capital has scared many of our amateur statesmen into fighting a duel with civilization. Texas needs leaders who will not become frightened at the torch of knowledge or stamped upon by the wheels of progress. Texas needs great men.

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep, I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE THE CARDUI Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

Brother Ross of Dimmitt is to be with us the first Sunday to form a Methodist church. Our topic for prayer meeting Wednesday night is "Prayer."

Brother Shepard returned from Amarillo where he had been attending the Sunday school convention. He told us just enough of the glorious time that he had to make us want to hear the full report that he will give next Sunday.

We had a number of the good Dimmitt people with us Sunday. Jack.

A New Back for an Old One. How it Is Done in Hereford.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Hereford citizen.

Gideon Linville, 300 E. Third St., Hereford, Texas, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills about two months ago, getting them from Woodburn & Son's Drug Store. At that time I was suffering from lameness in my back and was having a great deal of trouble from the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backache and lameness and were also of benefit to my kidneys. I most heartily recommend this preparation."

The Bench Congress.

There has been no regular meeting of the Bench Congress this week. The filibustering on the part of the members, who were trying to set the date in the 80's when hoop-skirts went defunct, keep a cross-fire of small arms during the time. The question has not been settled yet. As a compromise, one gentleman, who is not a member, proposed as a peace measure that the chairman appoint a committee, composed of chairman and chaplain to investigate. The proposal provides that they ask the first three women whom they meet and who are over 45 years of age. Their report is awaited with interest.

While nothing serious has been done by the Bench Congress this week, last Saturday, however, a rump caucus was held by five of the leading members. The object of this caucus was to nominate a successor to the Hon. Joseph W. Bailey. In this, the chairman, E. T. W., and chaplain, E. B. O., of the Bench Congress were together and felt that no man could be found that was big enough and strong enough to wear the Senator's armor. The other two members, H. B. W., the populist of Parker, and C. G. W., a strong advocate of woman's rights, were equally certain that Texas was full of great and near-great men who could wield the sword of the saint. The four aforesaid gentlemen sat on the swinging seats of one of the ice cream tables in Woodburn's drug store, while the chairman of the caucus, J. T. W., of Arkansaw, occupied a similar position at another table. The discussion waxed warm and melted several dishes of ice cream. The populist of Parker and C. G. W., the women's right man, favored Judge Brooks, Ex-Gov. Campbell, or even Cone Johnson, but the member from Silverton arose in the strength of his might and said, after a jirk at a new plug of Battle Ax, that he wouldn't stand for no such. The chaplain from Denton tried to reason with the two, but not even the verse and chapter would ease their pain. As a compromise the anti Arkansaw proposed to nominate a real whiskey man, but all in accord, arose and almost kicked the legs off the table, the registered such a terrible kick. The gentleman from Midlothian finally got the floor or rather got his talker a-workin' faster than the others, and as he did not have any obstructions between his jaws nominated one Tom Ball of state-wide fame. The chair, being an anti from Arkansas, tried to rule him out of order, but he wouldn't rule. So the four agreed, in the absence of better timber, that Tom Ball would, at least, make a hot race for honors, and perhaps would be able to catch the falling mantle from the shoulders of the Senator as the chariot of fire winged its way to the celestial peace of retired life. The membership of the Bench Congress was not given in full last week, but herewith is attached a complete roster:

E. T. W., chairman; E. B. O., chaplain and Bible authority; J. D. B., incense burner; C. R. M., heap-much war talker; Capt. W., constitutional lawyer; Capt. T., escapee de Quantrel; W. B. D., chief political cup bearer; C. G. W., chief advocate of woman's rights; H. B. W., populist member from Parker; J. T. W., big anti from Arkansaw; S. J. W., returned prodigal from California; J. P. M., sec'y to the Bench.

Other members may be taken in at any time.

She'd Made a Dash For It.

"Father," asked eight-year-old Alice, returning home from school, "are you good at punctuation?"

"Yes," replied the father.

"Well, tell me, please, how would you punctuate 'The wind blew a $5 bill around the corner.'"

"Why, daughter, I would simply put a period at the end of the sentence."

"I wouldn't," said Alice mischievously, "I would make a dash after the $5 bill."

Why He Went to College.

"Why did you come to college anyway. You are not studying," said the professor.

H. MYRICK

FRENCH DRY CLEANER

I WISH TO ANNOUNCE to my friends and patrons that I have installed a DeVasher French Dry Cleaning Machine for all kinds of cleaning work that usually comes to a first-class tailor shop. No water touches the garment, the work is done quickly, no wrinkles, no possibility of tear. Will be glad to have you call and let me demonstrate this ideal machine. Ladies work given special attention.
