MULES IN ACTION-It was touchdown time for the Muleshoe Mules Friday night when they scrimmaged the Denver City Mustangs. The Mules proved they have the mettle to tackle strong contenders and not only score, but the tough defense necessary to keep the other teams away from the goal line. The Mules should be very strong contenders this fall as they take on another football season. Be there!

Football Is In The Air; Mules Looking 'Tough'

CofC Schedules New Brochure Boosting City

Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Manager Tom Eagle is currently working on a new project. Despite numerous requests from travelers, corporations, out of town businesses and other CofC's there is no city brochure. So Mrs. Eagle said the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is asking assistance with the printing of a new brochure.

"The Chamber has several inquiries every week requesting this type of information," said Mrs. Eagle. "At the present time the Chamber does not have anything except a school brochure and a general summary of Muleshoe, put out by SPS."

She reminded, "A brochure is a valuable asset to the city as well as the Chamber. When a business or prospective newcomers write or call for information, we do not have much that is up to date, or for that matter, interesting."

"Muleshoe is not given 'Justice' with what the Chamber has," continued the CofC manager. "It is difficult to lure new people here without some type of brochure or pamphlet to catch their attention."

According to the CofC manager, Con't Page 6, Col. 6

Those Mules look 'tough', folks! Just in case you have not seen them in action in practice or in one of their scrimmages, they are proving to have the potential to be formidable opponents this fall.

During a scrimmage with the Denver City Mustangs Friday night, the Mules really 'showed their stuff.' Extremely tough on defense, the Mules also proved they have the potential to be deadly on offense.

Five times, the Mules punched across the goal line, but only three of the times counted for various reasons. One of the runs was more than 40 yards by Sean Shipman, and Mark Moton really 'turned on' for a 70 yard scamper to the end zone. Jerry Gleason added his TD to the tally, along with Michael Del Toro on another score.

At the same time, the Mustangs only managed to penetrate the Mule defense one time, and that was in the first series after the scrimmage got underway.

That is not to say that the Mules are without a few problems to work out prior to meeting the Portales Rams in the first game of the season next Friday night. The Mules were somewhat inadequate on pass defense, although that did appear to be working out before the end of the scrimmage, as they started getting it all together. But, ground defense for the Mules was very good.

Heading up the team of coaches for the Denver City Mustangs is Coach Mike Wartes who formerly was head football coach for the Muleshoe Mules. Picked in the Number Two slot to finish in the district, the Mules should prove to be very strong contenders for the district title.

The 1984 Mules are Todd Jones, Mike Holt, Eddie Perez, Jerry Gleason, Mark Moton, Michael Del Toro, Sean Shipman, Smiley Orozco, Jeff McCarty, Jarrod Embry, Lester Burks, Sergio Leal, Chris Johnson, Chris Hernandez, Hector Flores, David Vela, John Isaac, Jaime Torres, Noe Mora, Loy Triana, Jamey Haralson and Ray Vinson.

Tuesday night was 'Meet The Mules' night and a good crowd was on hand at Benny Douglas Stadium to be introduced to the coaching staff and the freshmen through varsity football players.

Enthusiastic fans exhibited a lot of football spirit and enthusiasm for the upcoming football season.

Head Football Coach Windy Williams introduced his coaches who in turn introduced the freshmen and junior varsity players.

County Fair Begins Thursday

It's almost time for the Bailey County West Plains Fair, which is scheduled this year September 6-7-8 at the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum on Highway 84.

The annual event is sponsored by the Extension Advisory Committee, Muleshoe Rotary Club and the Bailey County Commissioners Court, says Bailey County Extension Agent Spencer Tanksley.

He said entries will be accepted from persons who reside in Bailey, Farmer, Lamb and Cochran Counties. The same type of schedule will be followed for the fair this year as in past years. Entries will be checked into the fair on September 6, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Judging of exhibits is scheduled for Friday morning, September 7, with the fair opening to the public on Friday at 2 p.m., and concluding for the day at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, the Fair will be open to the public from 11 a.m.

to 8 p.m., added the county agent.

Fair participants who attend any of the two-day fair will have the opportunity to take part in several cash drawings. Although you must be present to win the $50 to $100 cash, it will be worthwhile.

On Friday at 3-5 and 7 p.m. drawings will be held for $50 cash. On Saturday, five drawings will be conducted. The 12 noon drawing will be for $100 as will 8 p.m. drawing. Drawings on Saturday for $50 will be at 2-4 and 6 p.m.

Also, on Saturday, at 8 p.m. another type of drawing will be held, and could be worth up to $300 cash. At each of the drawings before the final one, with the person whose name is drawn out having to be present, if they are not there, the second name drawn will receive half the money. The other half will go to the 8 p.m. Saturday drawing, and if names have to be drawn more than one time, the last drawing on Saturday could be worth a hefty little sum of cash, says Tanksley.

Another new feature for the fair this year will be a new booth display for the Fair. Johnny Young is in charge of helping develop food booths for the fair. Spaces will be provided free for youth or civic groups who will be selling something along the food line such as soft drinks, popcorn or candy. He can be contacted at his office at 272-5578 or at home at 272-4792.

Also, a $50 cash prize will be presented for the best commercial booth and a $25 prize for the best food booth.

Anyone interested in obtaining a fair catalog to have a copy of the rules and classes that are offered, may contact the Bailey County Extension office at 806-272-4583. Entry classifications will be agriculture, horticulture, textiles, arts and crafts, culinary, canning, food preservations and fine arts. Persons wishing to exhibit other items not classified above may contact the Extension office for the proper division.

From Roswell, he moved to Levelland as assistant manager, before coming to Muleshoe.

He said he really is enjoying Muleshoe, and believes he really has found a home.

Congressional Candidate Returns For Campaign

Larry Combest, Republican candidate for Congressman representing the 19th Congressional District, made a return visit to Muleshoe Thursday at noon, as he continues on the campaign trail before the general election in November.

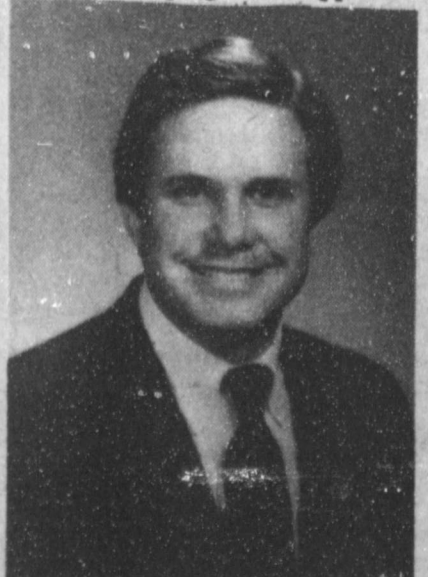

Prior to the May primary, Combest was a frequent visitor in the Muleshoe, and says he plans to continue to visit and meet with everyone possible prior to the November general election.

He made the following statement while in the Journal offices on Thursday, "One year ago today, I announced here at this courthouse that I was a Candidate for U.S. Congress. In making that announcement, I stated that this Congressional seat always has and always will belong to the people. I am a candidate because I want to represent the people and I believe my experience and qualifications will enable me to hit the ground running" in Washington."

Combest outlined his background as a fourth generation West Texan, and his experience in farming, business, teaching and oil. He also outlined his experience as an aide to Senator John Tower for seven years and reiterated his decision to run a positive campaign based on his experience and qualifications.

He said he continues to believe his position is in line with the conservative views of the district.

TOM WATSON

Tom Watson Is Honored With Award

Robert Ferguson, honorary president of the American Police Hall of Fame, located in Miami, Fla., has announced that Tom Watson, of Muleshoe, has been inducted into that organization's Legion of Honor.

In making the award in a letter addressed to the community, Ferguson made this statement:

"Too often we take for granted the vigil of our nation's law enforcement officers to protect life and property. Citizens observe officers in what is called routine calls or even minor traffic offenses. However, there is no routine duty that is not cloaked in danger, injury or sudden death!

"In making the award on behalf of the law enforcement community, we recognize service and valor above and beyond the line of duty."

The citation which accompanies the award states, "This will certify that Tom Watson has been elected to the American Police Hall of Fame Legion of Honor in recognition of the grievous injuries he sustained while in the performance of his duties as a law enforcement officer."

In his law enforcement career, Watson has been hospitalized seven times for injuries ranging from gunshot and stab wounds to broken bones.

The American Police Hall of Fame, is a national memorial to officers killed in the line of duty, houses a museum of police artifacts and serves as a crime prevention center. It is non-profit, tax-exempt and the organization is supported by the police officers nationwide.

by many conservative democrats who realize the national democrat party no longer shares their conservative philosophies," he added. "I hope all conservative democrats will always remember the rousing cheer that went up from the democrat delegates in San Francisco when the Rev. Jesse Jackson said that they must "rid the party of the boll weevils."

Combest also takes issue with the presidential candidate, Walter Mondale, adding that Mondale did not take issue with what the Rev. Jackson said.

"I do not know anyone in West Texas who wants the tax increase Mr. Mondale has promised," he continued. "The same tax increase House Speaker Tip O' Neill and the liberal democrats in Congress will be pressuring for."

He said he is running on the same ticket with former democrats Ronald Reagan and Phil Gramm "who have changed parties simply because the democrat party no longer aligns itself nor represents conservative philosophies and ideals."

Microwave Your Pork; It's Safe And Delicious

Pork prepared in a microwave is tender, juicy, flavorful -- and safe, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

Many people have been legitimately concerned about cooking pork in their microwave, says Dr. Dymple Cooksey. The problem is that heat distribution patterns vary in meat cuts cooked by microwave, she explains.

In the case of pork, thorough cooking is necessary to insure that micro-organisms such as trichinella do not survive, says the nutritionist. Since evaporative cooking occurs when meats are cooked in a microwave oven, the internal temperature would be only 120 F.

However, through research for the Pork Industry Group of the National Livestock and Meat Board, conducted at Iowa State University and private laboratories, recommendations for proper and safe microwave cooking methods of pork have been developed, she says.

In order to create an environment in which pork can be prepared safely, the researchers used a "cooking bag" to produce a vaporous atmosphere while the pork cooks. The procedure has been tested extensively using meat from hogs infected with trichinella, and no organisms were found to survive, says Cooksey.

Here are the resulting recommendations for microwave fresh boneless pork roasts: Choose evenly shaped boneless roasts weighing no more than 3 to 2 1/2 pounds and having a diameter of no more than 4 inches.

Place roast into a 10-by-16-inch oven cooking bag and place in microwave-safe baking dish or place on a microwave-safe rack with sides.

Evenly sprinkle roast with a package (24 grams) of pork or brown gravy mix. Close bag loosely with string or a 1/2 inch strip cut from open end of bag.

Allow 22 minutes per pound. Cook at medium low or 30 percent power (approximately 200 watts).

Invert or turn roast halfway through cooking period and rotate dish 1/4 turn and continue cooking.

Cover roast (in bag) tightly with foil and allow to stand for 10 minutes.

Library News

Storyhours for children age 3 and up will begin on Wednesday morning, September 5, at 10 a.m. Thereafter storyhours will be on the first and third Wednesday mornings of each month. The second Wednesday will be for the kids at the Day-Care Center, and any other Wednesdays will be open for booking. The Muleshoe Young Homemakers will help with the storyhours, as they have in the past on the third Wednesday. Their help is truly appreciated and will add variety to the program. Storyhours give the pre-schoolers a chance to be with other children, and learn to participate in group activities before they start school. There will be stories, films, songs, games, and flannel board stories, old and new.

Mothers are welcome to stay and visit anytime with their children, and see what storyhours are all about.

In other news -- the Library has been honored to have for display a collection of sixteen newspaper size scrapbooks which cover the term of office of Governor James V. Allred, from 1935 thru 1939. In my perusal of these, I found not just all the major news stories, such as his inauguration; establishing the Parole Board; the Texas Old Age Pension system; but also human interest stories such as one dated April 23, 1936 which said - "Tempering Justice with mercy, Governor James V. Allred last week remitted the remaining part of the 60 day jail sentence and the $500 fine which had been assessed against J.R. Johnson, the driver of the oil truck which collided with the W.D. Stokes' car near Mineola March 23, and caused the death of Mrs. Stokes, the Governor's sister. Blaming the long hours of driving, often half asleep, Governor Allred extended clemency to the man without malice." This was part of an editorial in the Kerrville Times, entitled: A magnanimous Act I became so ingrossed in this and other clippings, which brought back events of those years to mind, that I know others, whether they are History buffs or not, would enjoy looking over this wealth of material. This collection is courtesy of Mrs. Hardee Albert, and will be available by request at the Library, and must be handled with care.

Protecting The Elderly From Drugs Effects

Older people take a lot of pills. Although only 11 percent of the U.S. population is over 65, this group takes about 25 percent of all prescription drugs -- and not always to good effect.

Used carefully and appropriately, drugs can improve the quality of life for the elderly, but they can also cause problems, says Dr. Judith Warren, a gerontologist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension service home economics program.

Some elderly people take incorrect medications, too much medication or a combination of drugs that are not compatible, she says. Then, if they suffer fatigue, confusion or depression, the symptoms may be written off as evidence of simply growing old. The problem may be compounded if the elderly patient's symptoms are inappropriately treated with a tranquilizer or antidepressant.

Drugs are a special problem for the elderly because certain body organs become more responsive to drugs as we age, notes Warren. In addition, as older people take more and more drugs, the likelihood of interactions and side effects increase along with the chances of making a mistake in dosage. Warren suggests that family members, concerned friends or healthcare professionals consider the following steps to help protect the elderly from adverse drug effects: Encourage a regular review of all medications taken by the patient. Put everything from the medicine cabinet into a bag and take it into the doctor's office. Keeping drugs that were prescribed years ago can be a dangerous practice. Over-the-counter sleeping aids, diet pills or laxatives can also interact badly with the prescribed drugs and prescriptions from more than one physician may have an adverse effect on each other.

Ask about uppers and downers. Ask the doctor whether mind-alerting drugs are really needed and whether they should be taken regularly or just occasionally for a particular episode of insomnia or anxiety.

Slates Revival

Next Weekend

Jose Fernandez, acting pastor of the Spanish Methodist Church at the corner of East Fifth Street and Avenue D, is issuing an invitation to all interested persons to attend a revival at the church.

It is scheduled September 7-9 and will feature Reverend Carlos Martinez from Lovington, N.M.

Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. each evening of the revival.

Rev. Fernandez commented, "We would like to invite you, whoever you are to come and hear the word of God, The Divine Savior."

for example. These drugs are too often prescribed for the elderly in an attempt to relieve the effects of life problems such as isolation and loneliness. Getting out of the house, making social contacts and other activities should be considered in place of drugs.

Manage pill-taking. Enter the list of drugs on a calendar and check off each dose as it is taken. Or use a set of small envelopes marked with the time of day. Sometimes a visiting nurse or family member will need to allocate pills dose-by-dose to the envelopes to make sure that the patient is taking the appropriate amount. However, the presence of young children in the household may require a different pill management method for safety's sake.

Keep a drug schedule as straight-forward as possible. Work with the physician to eliminate drugs that are not necessary and choose those that can be taken once or twice a day instead of more frequently. Selecting pills that look different from one another -- as long as this does not affect the quality of treatment -- can help the patient keep track.

Be alert for any new symptoms, especially nonspecific complaints such as fatigue, weight loss or confusion, that could be the adverse effect of a drug rather than a disease or simple aging.

When an individual makes up his mind to work, he is usually surprised, by the pleasant results.

THIS IS WHY MULESHOE NEEDS A NEW TRACK--This picture graphically illustrates one of the reasons a new all-weather track is needed at the MHS football field. These clumps of grass, weeds and sand burrs have filled the track, creating hazards for all runners. An effort will begin in the very near future to try to collect enough funds to install an all-weather track and rebuild the west side stands into the 'home stands' for Benny Douglass Stadium.

Early Childhood Screening Set For September 10

A free screening to assess the development of children, aged birth to three years, will be conducted in Muleshoe on Monday, September 10, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the community room of Summit Savings Association.

Sponsored by Central Plains Mental Health - Mental Retardation Center at Plainview, it is provided by the Rural Infant Education Program (RIEF). Funded by the state's Early Childhood Intervention Program (ECI), RIEF provides early intervention and training for developmentally delayed and disabled children, said Mariene Hoover, Homebound teacher.

"If you suspect your child is not developing as he/she should or if you are concerned about a particular area of development, please come by for a free test," said Ms. Hoover.

"The staff will be happy to discuss your child's progress with you and offer suggestions for enrichment. For further information call 272-4433 or 806/293-4475."

Research To Help Producers

As the importance of vegetables as a source of High Plains farm income has increased, scientists at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock continue to search for better suited vegetable varieties and cultural practices.

Vegetable research was begun as early as 1918 at the station's original site east of Lubbock to find vegetables that are adaptable to this area and climate, said Frank Gaines, plant breeder at the TEAS for 50 years.

"We would have around 5,000 visitors at the station each year who were interested in the project and came to see what we were growing," he commented. Gaines noted the station grew an assortment of vegetables at that time.

In 1940, several High Plains farmers became interested in commercial vegetable growing. However, growers began having problems with vegetable quality, fertilizing, storage and shipping. "The farmers needed vegetable research information," said Dr. William N. Lipe, vegetable and fruit research scientist at the station.

The TEAS at Lubbock saw the need and in 1962, a horticulturist was employed to investigate horticulture problems.

There are now around 40,000 acres in the area devoted to vegetable production, Lipe said. Some of the most popular vegetables grown are potatoes, onions, carrots and peppers. Variety tests have been performed on these as well as other vegetables.

Extensive breeding and production research has been done on potatoes. A program titled "Development of Improved Potato Varieties for Texas," was initiated in 1973 at the Lubbock center. "This is the only potato breeding program in the state," said Doug Smallwood, research associate in vegetable research.

There are 15,000 acres in Texas for potatoes with 10,000 of those acres in the High Plains, he said. The main purpose of the potato program is to develop varieties specifically for this area. Smallwood said that most new varieties were developed for northern U.S. production and it was only by chance that they could be grown in this area.

"We continue to make our breeding selections and we now need to learn to specifically produce them," he said. Growing includes irrigation, fertilizer requirements, spacing and many other cultural practices, Smallwood said.

Onion research has included variety studies, anti-transpirant use and irrigation studies to determine the most efficient watering method. About 10,000 acres of onions are grown in the area, Lipe said. "There is currently a growing interest in the storage of onions for a later market."

"Our vegetable research project has reduced the producer's input of fertilizer and water; which reduces their costs," Lipe said. "This has also helped to improve vegetable quality and has cut back on production and harvest loss."

Recent studies include further research of the use of anti-transpirants on potatoes, onions and peppers; insecticide residue studies; and varieties of tests on peppers. Weed control is being researched, as well as irrigation and planting system modifications on onions to achieve maximum water use efficiency, Lipe said.

Bounty Hybrid Top Wheat Yields

Records are made to be broken.

That is certainly true of the Kansas State University winter wheat variety performance tests. The record yield of 104 bushels per acre was set in 1983 by Cargill's Bounty 310, a hybrid (as opposed to a wheat variety, the traditional type). This year, at the same irrigated site, the Sandyland Experiment Field at St. John, Bounty 203 yielded 106 bushels per acre to eclipse the year-old mark of Bounty 310.

The new champion, also a hybrid by Cargill, was the top yield entry at seven of the university's 14 test locations (two of its 16 sites were abandoned during the growing season). Thus, Bounty 203 demonstrated that its sky-high performance at St. John wasn't a fluke.

But the glory was not Bounty 203's alone. For example, also at St. John, TAM 107, a new semidwarf variety to be released jointly by Texas A&M and KSU this fall yielded 102 bushels per acre. TAM 107 led all wheats in yields at Ottawa and Tribune.

Ted Walter heads KSU's variety performance test program, which is open to all varieties and hybrids, public or private. Walter, a research agronomist, cautions against a rush to judgment by farmers selecting seed for planting this fall.

The reason, he says, is that some hybrids have been producing high yields in recent years in a cool, moist high yield environment. It remains to be seen if they can maintain their record under different weather conditions.

Walter said some hybrids, such as Bounty 203, have exhibited considerable leaf disease resistance, which undoubtedly has contributed to their yield advantage over such susceptible varieties as Newton.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
Texas law is very explicit concerning the loading and unloading of public school students on or from a school bus. While there are some who may choose to ignore this law, said law states that if a school bus is stopped to load or unload students while the red, alternating flashing lights are on, any vehicle - car, truck, tractor, motorcycle, etc. - must stop and remain stopped while the bus is in this stationary position.

Only if the bus driver waves a motorist around the stopped school bus or an officer of the law directs a motorist around the stopped school bus, shall the operator of any motorized carrier proceed.

It doesn't take an IQ of genius plus to understand you have to stop for the above mentioned bus. Why is it then that so many motorists in our school district choose to ignore the law which says they must halt-cess-desist-and stay put until all the loading or unloading students are in a position of safety?

An iron-clad guarantee concerning the behavior of the motorists who freely choose to ignore the law of stopping for the school bus which is loading or unloading students can be issued. If a child of one of the transgressors so mentioned happened to be injured or killed by a motorist who failed to stop for the stopped school bus, a holy war of indignation and wrath would pour forth from their emotions and physical attributes.

You would hear cries of - "Well, why didn't he stop? Doesn't he know you stop for a stopped school bus which is loading or unloading kids? How could anybody be so dumb as not stop?"

We all hope no student must suffer injury or death before the people who choose to flagrantly flaunt this law wake up to their responsibilities.

With this in mind, I say to the driver of the blue Monte Carlo, the bearded man who pilots the blue, foreign made pickup, and to the lady in the red Chevrolet - would you please concentrate on your driving and pay attention to that 35 ft. long and 8 ft. wide yellow and black vehicle called a school bus. Be a little more concerned for the safety of the children aboard this bus and try to obey the law which says you must stop when its red flashers are operating.

So far you haven't injured or killed a child when you passed the stopped bus, but don't gamble with his or her life again. It could happen that such careless, thoughtless, and reckless behavior on your part might cause the local funeral home to have another customer. It can happen.

I have children of my own who ride a school bus and I have more to think about than whether or not some fool killed one of them because he/she wouldn't stop for the school bus as it was loading or unloading students.

Let's be more considerate of others, obey the law, and by so doing, make this school year a safer and much saner one.

Sincerely,
David Gray

Dear Editor,
I'm writing you to complain about people not stopping for the school bus when it loads or unloads students.

If people don't start paying attention to the bus, someone is going to get hurt or maybe even killed. Is it so hard and so much trouble to just stop for a minute, just one minute, and maybe save a life?

Thank You,
Russell Young

Dear Editor,
I'm writing to tell you about bus regulations. Cars trucks or pick-ups must stop when a school bus is loading or unloading. If drivers don't stop, they should be punished, perhaps even have their licenses taken away. An pay a fine for not stopping.

Irene Rosa

Dear Editor,
I am writing to you to complain about childrens safety. You know and we know that there are so many people who do not stop for a school bus loading or unloading passengers. They don't stop if the bus has on its red blinking lights either. People who don't stop are going to kill some little child.

You can pass a school bus which has on their yellow blinking lights. People its a law that you must stop for a school bus loading or unloading passengers.

People who do not obey the rules should be fined heavily. The police should be on duty at school and around school zones.

Sincerely Yours,
Shelly Howard

Joe Reap, State Department press officer, on cutback on outside shipments of food, clothing, etc., to Soviet citizens:
"We can only assume that it is their intent to further restrict contacts with persons outside the USSR."

Dear Editor,
I believe we need to follow all school bus stopping procedures. What I mean by this is stopping for all children loading or unloading.

In the past, there have been many children run over because of people who do not stop. Why don't people stop? Maybe because they are in a hurry. It is better to be late than have some little boy or girl dead or even seriously hurt.

Please try to obey all signals on the buses.

Yours Sincerely,
LaDawn Fowler

Statewide survey:
motorists slowing,
but not to 55 mph

COLLEGE STATION— While all Texas drivers aren't observing the 55 mile-per-hour speed limit, only a small number of motorists are traveling more than 65 mph, a big change from before, say researchers for the Texas Transportation Institute (TTI).

According to a state survey, less than 10 percent of all drivers are exceeding 65 mph, said Dr. Quinn Brackett, a TTI researcher stationed at Texas A&M University.

In 1974, just after the new 55 mph law was passed, 62 percent of the motorists were in noncompliance, said Brackett. The highest rate of noncompliance came in 1978 when 77 percent of the motorists exceeded the speed limit, he said.

In the last surveying quarter which ended April 23, results showed that about 54.9 percent of the state's drivers were exceeding the 55 mph speed limit, he said.

The researchers have found that compliance with the speed limit tends to increase when gasoline prices increase dramatically, and decrease when prices are stable or dropping.

Single - Person Families Must Shop With Care

The old saying that encouraged young people to marry in spite of hard times, "Two can live as cheap as one," is nearly true today. Single-person households spend considerably more per person for food than households of two or more. A recent report, "Food Shopping in One-Person Households," released by the Newspaper Advertising Bureau, showed that the median weekly food cost is $30.67 for a person living alone and $16.83 per person for a four-member family.

With single-person households growing in number and percent of the population, ways to control food costs are important, especially to persons 65 and over who make up 39.6 percent of the single households and often have lower than average incomes. Older persons may also have different food needs. Shopping and eating patterns should be re-evaluated at times like changes in household size, retirement and other milestone events.

At every budget level, meals should include servings of foods from the four basic food groups. Calcium intake, however, becomes especially important as you age because the risk of osteoporosis increases. One easy way to get dietary calcium in a convenient, palatable and readily available form is to eat cheese. One and a half ounces of Cheddar cheese contains about the same amount of calcium as a cup of milk. Because cheese has no waste, it is a good basic food for budget-minded people.

Exercise is also important to health and well-being at all stages of life. Daily walks, exercising with contemporaries and swimming are all good activities for older adults.

After retirement, individuals may have more time than money, so traditional ways of reducing food costs increase in importance. Among these are checking advertised specials, selecting generic foods and paper products, using coupons and comparison shopping.

Extra time to prepare meals from basic ingredients also saves money. One day's cooking for two day's meals is efficient and offers convenience on the second day. When a freezer and a microwave are available, larger batches can be prepared and frozen as single meals. Macaroni and cheese, lasagna and enchiladas all freeze well and permit quantity shopping to save money.

Many varieties of cheese keep well, so shoppers can buy it on sale for use when needed. Cheese can be refrigerated or frozen unopened in the original wrapper. Pieces larger than one-half pound should be cut into smaller ones and wrapped tightly with wax paper, plastic or foil to prevent drying out in the refrigerator or freezer. Frozen cheese should be thawed slowly in the refrigerator. For its most distinct flavor, most cheese should be served at room temperature.

Some varieties that may be frozen are: Brick, Camembert, Cheddar, Edam, Mozzarella, Muenster, Parmesan, Port de Salut, Provolone, Romano and Swiss. Some Limburger, Colby and Gouda cheeses will freeze well, while others will become crumbly and mealy. Blue may become crumbly but will be suitable for salads. Freezing will affect the texture of soft cheese such as cream, cottage and process.

At any age and in any circumstance, informed consumers take charge of their budgets and their health.
