Bleachers going up, up, up

Workers moved pre-stressed concrete forms into place for the stadium expansion at Whiteface Stadium in Hereford. About 400 new seats are being added onto the north end of the stadium to accommodate more students in the west, home, stands.

Hussein pressing PR campaign

By CHRISTOPHER BURNS
Associated Press Writer

Iraq's Saddam Hussein is pressing on with his public relations offensive, following up another TV appearance with hostages with a promise to free Western women and children he has been holding as shields against a U.S. attack.

The Iraqi News Agency said the captives would be freed beginning today.

The buildup of troops and hardware showed no sign of letup on either side of the Saudi-Kuwait border on Tuesday. The Pentagon said Iraqi troop strength in and around Kuwait has increased to 265,000, and dozens of heavy U.S. tanks arrived in Saudi Arabia and wheeled northward into the desert.

Tragedy struck the massive U.S. mobilization today when a giant C-5 cargo plane en route to the region crashed on takeoff from Ramstein Air Base in West Germany, killing at least 12 of the 17 people aboard, officials said.

The high seas embargo aimed at pressuring Saddam to pull out of Kuwait was reported nearly air-tight, and British defense sources said multinational forces may seek authorization to stop sanction-busting flights to Baghdad.

On the diplomatic side, U.N. chief Javier Perez de Cuellar was to hold talks Thursday in Jordan with Iraq's foreign minister on the crisis that began with Iraq's Aug. 2 invasion and subsequent annexation of oil-rich Kuwait.

Baghdad hardened its position on Tuesday, declaring Kuwait a 19th province of Iraq, and the White House condemned the move.

Saddam's promise to free all the foreign women and children came in a statement from Iraq's Revolutionary Command Council. The move came hours after Iraqi television showed Saddam meeting captive foreign families and hearing them express concern for their children.

The official Iraqi News Agency said the decision was made "to preserve the Arab humanitarian image."

The Iraqi agency, monitored in Cyprus, said the foreigners could leave starting today. It was not known how many women and children were among the hostages in Iraq or whether the decree also applies to foreigners in Kuwait.

A State Department spokesman, Mark Dillen, said the U.S. government had received no official word of the planned release of women and children.

Saddam has detained about 21,000 foreigners. About 3,000 Americans were in Kuwait and 500 in Iraq at the time of the invasion but an undetermined number have managed to escape.

British and U.S. officials say Iraq has moved more than 150 Britons and more than 60 Americans from Kuwait to strategic locations for use as human shields against a possible attack.

Saddam's televised visit with foreigners was his second such appearance and apparently intended to convince Western viewers that he is taking a reasonable stand in the crisis. He was widely condemned for his first visit last week, which was seen as a crude attempt to use the detainees for propaganda purposes.

Saddam also said he was willing to talk to Bush and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher on television about ending the gulf crisis. But both rebuffed the idea. Mrs. Thatcher called it "gimmickry."

Iraq's troop strength in and near Kuwait has increased to 265,000 soldiers, supported by larger numbers of tanks and artillery, the Pentagon said Tuesday.

"There's been a general trend in the past several days of these numbers increasing," said Pete Williams, the Defense Department spokesman.

Last week, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney said about 160,000 to 200,000 Iraqi troops were in Kuwait and southern Iraq together with an estimated 1,000 tanks.

About 60,000 U.S. troops backed by dozens of planes and dozens of warships have assembled in the Persian Gulf region since the Iraqi invasion.

The U.S. Army's heaviest armor has reached Saudi Arabia, including dozens of M-1 tanks and M2 Bradley armored infantry fighting vehicles.

CRISIS IN THE GULF

Bush says troops bringing 'America's principles to life'

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush today called the Persian Gulf crisis "one of the toughest military missions in modern memory," and told U.S. troops they are bringing America's principles to life.

Bush's pep talk to U.S. troops in Saudi Arabia was broadcast over Armed Forces Radio, but many troops apparently did not hear it because the radio network does not have a transmitter in Saudi Arabia.

The president nonetheless forged ahead with his speech as military officials in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, tried to figure out how to get the message to their troops.

"You stand on the front line against aggression and international lawlessness," Bush said in his brief speech.

"We have never sought conflict nor do we hope to chart a course for other nations, but at the hands of injustice in the face of aggression, ours is a once reluctant fist now clutched resolutely," he said.

As he spoke, two public relations officers, one from the Army and one from the Marines, listened to the speech in a Cable News Network facility set up in the Intercontinental Hotel in Dhahran. They said they would try to transcribe it and disseminate it.

Bush told the troops: "It is your presence, your skills, your talents, your judgment that bring America's principles to life and give them strength and meaning.

"You're now in one of the toughest military missions in memory," Bush added. "As tough as it is, know this: thanks to you, nobody's feeling the heat more than the government in Baghdad."

The president's pep talk came a day after he received a strong vote of confidence from a large, bipartisan contingent of members of Congress.

While they voiced overall support for his policy, some said they wanted to see other wealthy nations share the cost.

The Bush administration is trying to get friends like West Germany and Japan to help pay for it.

USDA will cut programs, workers Oct. 1

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Government employees in Hereford were given notices Tuesday of a probable furlough on Oct. 1 unless Congress can reach agreement on a new federal budget by Sept. 30.

The cutbacks could lead to $1.8 billion less for farmers who put crops in the loan program, and will affect all of agriculture, including beef and chicken production.

There will likely be cutbacks in programs including deficiency payments and price support loans, Farmers Home Administration, dairy price supports, meat and chicken inspection, the Conservation Reserve Program and other farm programs. However, a USDA official in Washington, asking not to be identified, said the agency would likely not have to cut back on contracted CRP payments, although that has not been ruled out.

Food stamp and most nutrition programs are exempt from the cuts, although there could be cuts in employees administering those programs.

Overall the cuts will be $7.3 billion, or about one-third of USDA's $23 billion budget.

The likelihood of a furlough was first reported by the Brand two weeks ago. Since then, however, the USDA says in a cover letter to employees that it has been able to save enough money that temporary employees will likely not be terminated and full-time employees will not be cut quite so much.

Earlier, officials were worried that full-time employees would be cut from 40 to 24 hours per week. The notice received Tuesday said full-time employees will work about 28 hours a week.

The cutbacks may be required by automatic cuts required by the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, better known as Gramm-Rudman. A sequester order, setting the funds to be used Oct. 1-15 by federal agencies, was issued Saturday. Another order may be issued later for after Oct. 15.

The budget process is in the hands of Congressional leaders in a "budget summit." If those leaders are unable to work out a compromise acceptable to both houses of Congress and President Bush by Sept. 30, all government agencies except the military and the Congress face immediate cuts the next day.

For full-time employees, they will be cut about 12 hours per week, with the furlough to be on intermittent days. The hours of part-time employees will be prorated based upon their work schedule.

The four-page letter to employees said the number of furlough hours per pay period could vary, depending on the hours needed to be worked and the funds available to the agencies.

"At this time, we do not reasonably anticipate the need for furlough beyond 22 work days (the end of October)," the letter said. "...We recognize the difficult personal financial implications of any furlough, no matter how limited its length."

In a cover letter over the signature of Acting Secretary Jack Parnell, he said, "The secretary and I are very much aware of the difficulties any furloughs would cause both for our employees and for those who depend on USDA services. ...In the meantime, I know that we can count on you to continue to carry out your responsibilities with your usual professionalism and dedication as Congress and the Administration undertake difficult budget negotiations."

DOE planning Pantex cleanup

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Energy Department is planning a $113 million cleanup of the Pantex plant near Amarillo, where the nation's nuclear weapons are assembled.

The money, to be spent between now and fiscal year 1996, will correct safety and environmental hazards found at the plant by an inspection team last fall.

The DOE released the Pantex plan Friday. The Associated Press reviewed it Tuesday in the Freedom of Information room at DOE's Washington headquarters. It may also be viewed at the agency's Amarillo Area Office and Albuquerque Operations Office.

The plan calls for hiring additional technicians to check workers' exposure to radiation. Still more will be hired to monitor the plant's effects on the environment.

There will be new ways to monitor groundwater contamination. Sewage lines and fuel storage tanks are to be refurbished, the plan said. It also presents ways to solve violations found by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

The plan is part of the DOE's effort to clean up its major research and production facilities. In July, the department said it would need about $28.6 billion for the cleanup during the next five years, about 50 percent more than the $19.5 billion estimated in November 1989.

The department received $12.7 million to start the cleanup at Pantex this year. The plan called for an additional $930,000 that was not appropriated by Congress. The DOE should ask for the remaining $99.2 million in increments over the next six years, the plan said.

The so-called "Tiger Team" that inspected Pantex in October 1989 found no situations that posed an imminent health threat to workers or the public. Its most stinging finding was that workers were not prepared to cope with an accidental release of radioactivity.

The agency did not wait for the just-released plan to solve that problem. Plant officials updated their emergency response plan last November and training programs were given in November and December, the new document said.

The Tiger Team found Pantex did not comply with six environmental regulations, including three that covered monitoring.

About $29 million will be spent to guard the exposure of workers to radiation. That includes $10 million to implement specific procedures by Nov. 1, 1991.

At least 10 extra workers will be hired to the radiation protection staff, including three safety engineers, a health physicist, an industrial hygienist, two environmental scientists and a fire protection engineer.

A new $22 million radiation alarm system should be in place in 1993. The plan also calls for better monitoring of groundwater, land use, wetlands and fluoride releases into the atmosphere.

Centennial Clips

1883-Rules drawn up by the big cattlemen to stop the cowboys from running their own small herds led to the famous cowboy strike of 1883 in the Panhandle. Cowboys from several ranches met in a dugout on Frio Creek, southeast of Hereford, to organize. The strike lasted a month and the ranchers refused to release them at branding time. This led to an increase in cattle ranching with the big ranches as targets.

Local Roundup Crisis still dictating oil prices

Senior parents meet Thursday

Parents of seniors at Hereford High School will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Hereford Community Center.
Plans for the senior supper on Sept. 14 will be made. Persons unable to attend the meeting but willing to help may call Linda Daniel at 364-2701 or Shirley Wilson at 364-8826.

Police arrest four Tuesday

Hereford police arrested four persons on Tuesday, including a man, 25, and a woman, 23, as they tried to leave a convenience store after they had allegedly shoplifted over $70 worth of items; a man, 36, for public intoxication; and a man, 29, for domestic assault.
Sheriff's deputies arrested a man, 34, for theft under $20 and over $200. Reports included a missing horse; family problems; burglaries of three motor vehicles; criminal mischief; telephone harassment; possible indecency with a child; reckless damage to a vehicle; and burglary of a building. Police issued seven citations and investigated one accident.

Hot, dry weather forecast

Tonight will be fair with a low in the mid 60s. Light and variable wind. Thursday will be sunny and hot with high in mid 90s. South wind 5 to 15 mph.
The extended forecast for Friday through Sunday is for hot and dry weather. Highs will be in the mid to upper 90s, with lows in the mid 60s to lower 70s.
This morning's low at KPAN was 63 after a high Tuesday of 93.

NEW YORK (AP) - Oil prices rebounded Tuesday from a tumultuous slide a day earlier, rising almost $1 per barrel as traders speculated on diplomatic efforts to resolve the Middle East crisis.
Traders also were monitoring OPEC discussions that could lead to higher crude production, offsetting the shortfall caused by the international boycott of Iraq and Kuwait. Overall, however, market strategists saw no news that could push it wildly in either direction.
"It was such a collapse yesterday that it's getting its breath," said Philip L. Dodge, an oil analyst with Nomura Securities International Inc. "OPEC has postponed their meeting, maybe suggesting to some that they're not agreeing on ways to increase production."

In Vienna, ministers of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries delayed formal endorsement of a plan for production increases to give more time to hear from absent members Iraq and Libya.
The price of light sweet crude, the benchmark grade of oil, rose 97 cents to $27.88 per barrel for October contracts on the New York Mercantile Exchange. Wholesale unleaded gasoline rose .97 cent to 88.53 cents per gallon for September delivery, while home heating oil rose 1.42 cents to 79.52 cents per gallon on September contracts. Natural gas barely budged, closing at $1,500 per 1,000 cubic feet, compared with Monday's close of $1,502 on October contracts.
With no cataclysmic news coming from the Persian Gulf, traders pondered the diplomatic nuances and reports of prospects for peace in the region, a crucial provider of petroleum to the United States and other developed nations.

By some reckonings, 4 million barrels of oil a day has been removed from the market because of a U.S.-led boycott of crude from Iraq and Iraq-occupied Kuwait.
U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar planned to meet Thursday with Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz to discuss the turmoil that has developed since Iraq seized Kuwait Aug. 2.
Earlier speculation about a nonviolent solution to the crisis was a partial cause of Monday's $4-per-barrel drop in the price of crude, but some petroleum strategists said Tuesday the market may have overreacted.

"It's almost as if the market has declared peace, but in reality we're still missing 4 million barrels a day of oil," said Stephen Smith, an analyst with Bear Stearns & Co.
Others predicted prices would fluctuate, pending outcome of Perez de Cuellar's mission.
"It's just a very choppy market at this point," said Ed Kevelson, of Dean Witter Reynolds Inc. "I think it will chop around for a couple of days. You'll probably see a lot of emphasis put on that meeting."
After the market closed, the American Petroleum Institute released figures showing that the U.S. stockpile and imports of gasoline declined sharply as the Persian Gulf crisis turned 3 weeks old, while the stockpile and imports of crude oil were slightly higher.
Gasoline imports dropped from 545,000 barrels per day to 287,000 barrels per day for the week ending Aug. 24, compared with imports of 515,000 barrels per day a year earlier, API said.

SPS offers help to corn producers

Texas should process more of its own corn into consumer-ready products rather than sending it--and the related jobs and revenue--out of state, said a recent study by the Texas Agri-Business Electric Council and Texas A&M University.
TABEC is composed of 10 Texas investor-owned electric utilities, including Southwestern Public Service Company, and works in conjunction with Texas A&M's Agricultural Engineering Department.
Texas produces as much corn as several corn-belt states, the study said, and breakfast cereals, Mexican food and snack foods are possible markets for corn that could be processed in the state.
"There is a misconception that since Texas brings in large amounts of corn to feed its cattle, we don't have corn of our own to process. That's just not true," said Greg Boggs, SPS agricultural marketing consultant. "Many Texas corn producers have switched from growing feed-grade corn to food-grade corn, which provides a better price."
"We need to take advantage of that," Boggs noted the Azteca corn-mass plant under construction near Plainview as an example of how the processing industry can be developed in Texas. Azteca is expected to process up to 2-1/2 million bushels of corn each year and provide 150 jobs.
Currently, much of the Texas food-grade corn is shipped to processors in California and Arkansas, indicating sufficient quantities exist in Texas to support an expanded processing industry, he said.
A market also exists for the by-products of corn processing in the state's beef and dairy industries.
"SPS will be using this study as an economic-development tool to provide information for those interested in developing the corn-processing industry in our service area," Boggs said.
Anyone wanting more details of the study should call Boggs at (806) 378-2178.

Food & beverage companies rally behind the flag

NEW YORK (AP) - You knew beverage companies would rally around the flag after President Bush sent American troops to the parched Saudi desert.
GIs have to eat, too, so it was no surprise when an Arkansas chicken processor said it was helping feed the troops.
But the mission has also meant an unexpected public relations windfall for companies that might not normally be associated with a military maneuver.

How about the casinos that came up with 10,000 decks of cards, the games maker that is sending 2,500 jigsaw puzzles or the workout magazine that offered to send reservists an exercise brochure?
None of these companies has been brash enough to take out advertising that touts what it has been doing to help America's efforts to keep the oil flowing from the Persian Gulf.
In fact, the only companies buying ad space that alluded to the Middle East crisis have been the oil giants, which are scrambling to deflect criticism they had unfairly profited from the turmoil by raising gasoline prices.

But the other companies have, to varying degrees, gotten the word out about what they have been doing. It's called public relations.
Artesia Waters Co. in San Antonio has orders for 17,000 gallons of water for troops in Saudi Arabia and is waiving its recent 10 percent price increase on the shipment.
Artesia President Rick Scoville said word got out about his company's involvement when local reporters called. "We didn't initiate this thing," he said. "But once it got snowballing, we took advantage of it. You would, too."

Quaker Oats Co. of Chicago put out a news release late last week announcing it had orders for 100,000 cases of its Gatorade drink and had already shipped 20,000 for use by the troops in Saudi Arabia.
Spokesman Ronald Bottrell said there are no plans to tout the connection in advertising.

"Frankly, we don't think the military would want to be in a position of making an implied endorsement," he said.
Tyson Foods Inc., a longtime government supplier, received special orders for 240,000 pounds of frozen chicken for troops in Saudi Arabia. There was no news release, but spokesman Bob Justice in Springdale, Ark., stood ready to answer questions.

GRANT AND TROYCE HANNA

Reception planned

A reception for Grant and Troyce Hanna will be held from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 2, at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center, 426 Ranger. The couple will be honored on their 45th wedding anniversary.

Grant and Troyce Hanna were married Sept. 17, 1945, in Hereford. Troyce grew up in Hereford and was doing volunteer work at the USO. Grant, who was raised in Pilger, Neb., was stationed at the POW Camp. He needed some typing done and met Troyce at the USO. They married at the end of World War II.

The couple has lived in Hereford most of their lives. Their daughter, Cynthia Shattles, resides in Gilmer, Texas and has a daughter, Michelle. Their youngest daughter, Joette, now lives in Dallas.

Family and area friends are invited to join in the afternoon festivities. The couple will enjoy visiting with those attending and requests no gifts be brought.

Banquet scheduled Aug. 30

Arrowhead Mills Annual Grower Banquet is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 30, at the Hereford Country Club. This year's theme is "A Sustainable System".

The guest speaker will be Fred Kirschenmann of Kirschenmann Family Farms from Windsor, N.D. His 3,000 acre farm and 100 head cow-calf herd are all managed using organic farming practices, and have been for the past 12 years.

Kirschenmann is founder and past president of the Northern Plains Sustainable Agricultural Society and the author of the how-to-booklet, Switching To A Sustainable System, which will be the topic of his presentation. A slide show of the Kirschenmann farming operations will also be viewed. Specific subjects to be discussed will include crop rotations, soil fertility, and pest control without chemicals.

Anyone interested in listening to Mr. Kirschenmann's presentation should arrive at 8:30 p.m.

Katherine Hepburn has been nominated for 11 Academy Awards, more than any other actor.

40th class reunion set during Labor Day weekend

The 1950 Hereford High School graduating class will be gathering several times during the Labor Day weekend for a 40th class reunion.

To start the festivities, the first informal get-together will begin on Friday, Aug. 31, at 7 p.m. in the home of Bobby Owens, 340 Elm.

On Saturday, Sept. 1, at 2 p.m. Joyce McGee Lomas will serve as hostess at a coffee in her home at 509 Star. Old annuals and other pictures will be on display.

At 7 p.m. Saturday, the former classmates, spouses and others will attend a banquet at the Hereford Country Club. The cost is $15 per person.

To conclude the reunion on Sunday, Sept. 2, a brunch will be held beginning at 11:30 a.m. in the home of Joe Kerr, 226 Northwest Drive. Kerr explains that those who plan to attend local church services are invited to come after 12.

The group invites all parents, friends and former teachers to join them in renewing old acquaintances.

The 1950 class has met every five years for approximately 30 years and an average of 40 from the graduating class of 80 have attended. Joyce Lomas has held the position of planning coordinator each year.

Drivers urged to follow safe operating procedures

It's that time of year again when vacations end and it's back to school for children. "Unfortunately, this also means an increase in traffic accidents involving school children," stated Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Most of these accidents are caused by drivers who fail to follow safe operating procedures as well as laws pertaining to passing a school bus," Major Cawthon stated.

State law requires drivers on the same roadway as a school bus that has stopped to load or unload school children to top and remain stopped until one of three things happen. The bus driver signals you to go on by or they turn off the flashing red lights or the bus itself goes into motion. This law applies whether you are meeting the bus or whether you are going in the same direction as the bus. It also applies inside the city limits as well as outside the city limits. The only exception to the law is that drivers on the other side of a divided highway (roadways separated by a physical median) are not required to stop. Motorists who fail to stop for a school bus could be fined up to $200.

"We, as drivers, should realize the dangers involved and do everything possible to prevent these needless deaths and injuries involving our school children," Major Cawthon stated.

President Abraham Lincoln died in 1865 after he was mortally wounded at Ford's Theater in Washington by John Wilkes Booth.

The White House has 132 rooms and a bomb shelter. It occupies 84,184 square feet.

MEET THE HERD:

Offensive line features new faces

By SAM WALLER
Sports Editor

A major part of the Hereford Whitefaces' 1989 success was the offensive line.

The Herd's front wall paved the way for a school-record 4,031 total yards and for of the five starters, including All-State selections Anthony Tijerina and Benny Gonzales, earned post-season honors.

But graduation claimed the top seven players in the line, leaving Herd coach Don Cumpton with a major rebuilding job.

"This year we have two lettermen that played a little bit last year," Cumpton said, "Ralph Martinez and Andrew Tijerina.

"That's it with varsity experience, for the most part. So what we're looking at is pretty much a rookie bunch."

Offensive line candidates

MEET THE HERD

- TUESDAY: Captains
- WEDNESDAY: Off. Line
- THURSDAY: Def. Line
- FRIDAY: Running Backs
- SUNDAY: Linebackers
- SEPT. 3: Receivers
- SEPT. 4: Defensive Backs
- SEPT. 5: Quarterbacks
- SEPT. 6: Special Teams

Cumpton said while the Maroon's front line has a decidedly green shade to it, he isn't worried about the group's talent.

"I'm not concerned about their ability," he said. "We feel like they have some ability and will give us an effort. What we're concerned about now is getting them some playing time and experience because with the schedule we're facing, we are going to have to grow up and get experienced in a hurry."

Cumpton added that the inexperience of the unit has forced a different approach to implementing the entire offensive attack.

"It doesn't limit us as such, but we have to take it a little slower," he said. "We threw a lot of stuff at them the last two weeks before we scrimmaged Monterey. Now we're trying to cut back on it and simplify it a little bit so we can start learning to execute better."

"In that Monterey scrimmage we got great effort but I was disappointed a little bit in our execution offensively. And that's what we're trying to work on this week in preparation for the Amarillo High scrimmage."

Cumpton said this year's situation has necessitated converting some players to line positions, but most of the holes will be filled by players coming up from the sub-varsity teams.

"Cody (Page) is a letterman we've moved from linebacker," Cumpton said. "He's actually working out at two positions, offensive line and linebacker. And there are one or two other we may move later."

"Brady Wilson (the starting junior varsity center in '89) played a play or two last year (on varsity), but not very much, and then there's Andrew and Ralph."

"The rest of them are coming up off the JV and sophomore teams. They'll be OK, it's just going to take some time. We've got to be patient with them, but they've got to grow up in a hurry, too."

Offensive coordinator Danny Haney, who is in charge of the group, said the has made great strides over the first three weeks of the season.

"We have really made progress since the start of two-a-days," Haney said. "We learned quite a bit from the Monterey scrimmage and the kids have put in a lot of hard work every day, and that has shown up in practice."

Another change in how the front wall will look this season is size. Last year's starters averaged close to 220 pounds while the new group will run about 20 pounds lighter. But, Cumpton said, size will not factor in to choosing this year's starting five.

"Different years we've had different size, he said. "We never worry too much about size. We think that in high school football that's the least important thing."

"We're interested in the size of their heart more than their body, and we think we've got some big ol' hearts in this group."

Spikers sweep Canyon, ready for busy weekend

The Hereford Lady Whitefaces picked up their third win of the season on the road Tuesday with a 15-3, 15-1 thrashing of Canyon High.

The Lady Whiteface junior varsity opened its season on a successful note, downing the Eagles 15-8, 15-0.

Shantel Cornelius led the Herd with five kills and added three service aces and three stiffs to the attack.

Brek Binder led Hereford at the serving line with 11 points on serve while Kyanne Lindley had three kills. Robin White led the Herd defense with four passes to the setter.

Lady Whiteface coach Brenda

Reeh said the team has progressed well in the early stages of the season.

"We did a good job of staying up emotionally," Reeh said. "We have got to work well together in order to improve and we did that against Canyon."

Reeh said the match provided the Herd with a good tuneup for the rest of what will be a busy week. The Lady Whiteface varsity, JV and freshman teams travel to Brownfield Thursday for matches beginning at 5:30 p.m., and the varsity will spend Friday and Saturday at the Amarillo Invitational Tournament.

Herd set to scrimmage Amarillo High squads

The Hereford Whitefaces will wrap up preseason workouts Friday with a scrimmage against Amarillo High.

The scrimmage is set to begin at 7:30 p.m. at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium in Canyon.

Friday's action will be preceded with scrimmages Thursday between sub-varsity teams of the two schools.

The Herd junior varsity and sophomore squads will travel to Amarillo to meet the Sandies at 5:30 p.m. at Bopham Middle School.

The Herd freshmen will host their AHS counterparts at 5:30 p.m. at the South Field.

Herd coach Don Cumpton said a little more importance will be placed on Friday's scrimmage.

"Each week you progress a little," Cumpton said. "Last week we didn't worry too much about what the other team was doing. This week we worked a little more on that kind of stuff."

"But we're still in a scrimmage situation. We're going to look at everybody and give everybody a chance to play. The main thing we're going to be looking for is better execution and not making the same mistakes we did last week."

Cumpton added that the competition with the Sandies is just what the Herd needs in preparation for the opening of the season.

"Amarillo's picked to win their district and their as good as anybody we'll play during the season," he said. "But that's what we need right now. We need to play people to show us where we're weaker, what we've got to work on."

YMCA holds youth tennis tournament

The Hereford YMCA held its annual tennis tournament over the weekend with competition being held in eight divisions.

Torey Sellers claimed the High School Boys Singles title with a 6-2, 7-5 win over Randy Robbins. Brandon Flood defeated David Garcia 6-1, 6-1 for third place.

The High School Boys Doubles field played a round-robin schedule with Robbins and Eric Cortez winning with a 2-0 record. Sellers teamed with Greg Coplen for second place while Flood and Jamie Kapka were third.

In High School Girls Singles, Robyn Sublett defeated Trisha Teel 6-0, 6-3 for the title with Leslie McWhorter finishing third.

Cortez and Sublett paired to win the High School Mixed Doubles round robin at 3-0. Sellers and Brenna Reinauer were second with Jon Paulsen and Elaine White third.

In Junior High Girls Singles, Bri Reinauer defeated Natalie McWhorter 2-6, 6-2, 6-0 for the crown. Gabriela Gamez beat Michelle Brock 7-6, 2-6, 7-5 for third place.

The Elementary Boys and Girls Singles divisions both played round-robin schedules. Holly Weishaar won the girls' title at 2-0 with Shawna Lindsay second and Jennifer Jones third. Rob Reinauer was the boys' winner at 3-0 followed by Johnathan Keening in second place and Pete Vargas third.

Keening and Rob Reinauer teamed to win the Elementary Boys Doubles with a 7-6, 6-1 decision over Vargas and Tom Munoz.

BoSox extend lead over Jays in AL East

By The Associated Press

The week that was for the Boston Red Sox isn't over yet.

In the last five days, Boston has won five straight while Toronto has dropped five in a row. And the Red Sox, whose lead was a scant one game after a loss to the Blue Jays last Thursday night, suddenly find themselves with a whopping six-game bulge in the American League East.

"We're definitely peaking now. We're doing everything right. It's amazing that we've picked up five games in five days," said Mike Greenwell, whose triple drove in the tying and lead runs in a three-run ninth inning that carried the Red Sox past the Cleveland Indians 6-5 Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, Milwaukee beat Toronto 6-2. Elsewhere, it was Oakland 3, Kansas City 2; Minnesota 12, Chicago 6; California 2, Texas 0; New York 11, Baltimore 3; and Seattle 4, Detroit 3.

Cleveland had taken a 4-3 lead on Brook Jacoby's tie-breaking home run off Dennis Lamp in the bottom of the eighth, but the Red Sox rallied with three in the ninth. The five-game winning streak, including three straight shutouts in Toronto, is their longest on the road since June 1986.

Indians relief ace Doug Jones (4-3), who pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth thanks to a double play, started the ninth by walking Carlos Quintana and Wade Boggs. Ellis Burks popped out, but Greenwell tripled to put Boston ahead and scored what proved to be the decisive run on Dwight Evans' single.

Cleveland scored a run in the bottom of the ninth when Jeff Gray threw a wild pitch with runners at second and third. But the Boston rookie nailed down his seventh save by striking out Chris James looking and retiring Jacoby on a grounder with runners at first and third.

"It's like we find a new way to do it every day," said Wes Gardner (3-6), who got the win by retiring the only two batters he faced in the eighth.

"I think this team is well-blended," said Jody Reed, who homered off Charles Nagy for Boston's first run.

Boston starter Tom Bolton gave up three runs and eight hits in 4 1-3 innings.

Brewers 6, Blue Jays 2
Jaime Navarro scattered eight hits in pitching his second straight complete game.

Dave Parker had three hits - including two homers and three RBIs - and B.J. Surhoff broke open a tight game with a two-run double in the sixth inning.

Loser Dave Stieb (16-5) yielded four runs and seven hits in seven innings.

Athletics 3, Royals 2
Terry Steinbach's two-out, bases-loaded single drove in the tying and winning runs in the ninth inning.

After Danny Tartabull put Kansas City ahead with a leadoff homer in the top of the ninth, the A's loaded the bases against Royals reliever Jeff Montgomery (5-3).

Oakland's Mike Moore (11-12) pitched a six-hitter for his third complete game.

Twins 12, White Sox 6
Kent Hrbek's two-run homer in the fifth inning put Minnesota ahead to stay.

The Twins rallied from deficits of 2-0 and 5-2 before taking their first lead in the fifth and putting the game away with five runs in the eighth off Scott Radinsky, capped by Hrbek's two-run single.

Twins reliever Tim Drummond (2-4) pitched 2 2-3 innings for the victory.

Angels 2, Rangers 0
Kirk McCaskill pitched a four-hitter for his first shutout in more than a year as California spoiled Nolan Ryan's bid for his 302nd victory.

Ryan (12-7) lost despite pitching a three-hitter and striking out 11. McCaskill (10-9) struck out four and walked one.

The Angels scored both runs in the third inning on Johnny Ray's single, Ryan's only walk, a wild pitch, an infield out and an error by third baseman Jeff Kunkel.

Yankees 11, Orioles 3
Jesse Barfield and Randy Velarde homered to back Mike Witt's pitching.

Barfield singled home the tying run in the second inning and hit a tie-breaking two-run homer in the fourth.

Witt (3-6) gave up seven hits in eight innings, including a first-inning homer to Brady Anderson.

Mariners 4, Tigers 3
Edgar Martinez hit a two-run homer with one out in the bottom of the ninth inning off Paul Gibson (3-4) following a single by Harold Reynolds.

Keith Comstock (6-3) got the victory with 1 2-3 innings of hitless relief after replacing Brian Holman.

NL experiences power surge

By BILL BARNARD

AP Sports Writer

The six-game National League schedule saw 17 doubles, six homers and three triples.

None of those at-bats, however, was any bigger than the walk and the bunt single put together by a couple of pitchers in New York and Cincinnati on Tuesday night.

Reds right-hander Jose Rijo, batting .421 in his last nine games, dropped a two-strike bunt single down the third-base line in front of a shocked Terry Pendleton, giving Cincinnati the decisive run in a 2-1 victory over St. Louis. The win kept the Reds 6 1/2 games in front in the NL West.

Meanwhile, Mets starter David Cone fell behind 0-2 against San Diego's Calvin Schiraldi, then drew 14-pitch walk, starting a two-run third inning that carried New York to a 4-0 victory over the Padres. Combined with Pittsburgh's 9-0 loss at Atlanta, the Mets now trail the Pirates by two games in the East.

Elsewhere in the NL, it was Montreal 5, San Francisco 2; Los Angeles 5, Philadelphia 1; and Chicago 5, Houston 2.

Cone, who finished with a five-hitter for his third consecutive complete game, conceded that his walk might have been the turning point of the game.

"Maybe it did get us going," he said. "Maybe it did give us a spark."

Cone fouled off pitch after pitch to stay alive against Schiraldi.

At 3-and-2, catcher Benito Santiago walked to the mound.

"It was just to give me a break, a breather," Schiraldi said. "Having to throw 14 pitches to one guy, especially the pitcher, didn't help. They were all fastballs, but they weren't all strikes. Any one of them could've been a ball."

After Cone's walk, he took second on Santiago's passed ball and moved to third on Daryl Boston's single, with Boston taking third on the throw home. Dave Magadan followed with a single for a 2-0 lead.

Tim Teufel's two-run homer made it 4-0 in the fourth.

Schiraldi (3-7) lost his fifth consecutive decision and fell to 1-5 lifetime against his former club. The Mets are 4-7 against San Diego this year.

Reds 2, Cardinals 1
Cincinnati led 1-0 on Barry Larkin's RBI triple in the first inning, then Paul O'Neill led off the second with a double and took third on a groundout.

Rijo said he saw Pendleton back off when Cardinals starter Joe Magrane got to 2-2 in the count. The resulting bunt single gave the Reds a 2-0 lead.

Rijo (10-6) allowed only one run despite giving up six hits and four walks in five innings.

Magrane (8-15) gave up just five hits in eight innings.

Braves 9, Pirates 0
Atlanta handed Pittsburgh its fourth consecutive loss as Charlie Leibbrandt pitched a five-hitter for seven innings and Greg Olson drove in four runs with a double and a homer.

Leibbrandt (6-8) did not walk a batter, and the Braves jumped on Pirates starter John Smiley (7-7) for three runs in the first inning, chased him with three more in the fifth and got the final three on Olson's seventh homer.

Dodgers 5, Phillies 1
Kirk Gibson's single with two outs in the eighth inning broke a 1-1 tie, and Hubie Brooks had three RBIs.

The Dodgers had only three hits off Jose DeJesus (4-5) through seven innings, but Jose Offerman led off the eighth with a walk. Offerman advanced to third on a sacrifice and a groundout before Gibson hit the first pitch into center field for the tiebreaking run.

Expos 5, Giants 2
Montreal pitchers struck out 15 San Francisco batters, including 11 by rookie Mark Gardner (7-7), who scattered three hits in six innings.

Spike Owen, who took a 6-for-30 slump into the game, was in the middle of two Montreal rallies against Giants starter Scott Garrelts (10-10), who lasted three innings and allowed five runs, four of them earned. Owen had three hits and two RBIs.

Cubs 5, Astros 2
Ryne Sandberg's fourth-inning home run made him the first second baseman in history to have consecutive 30-homer seasons, and Greg Maddux pitched his seventh complete game.

Sandberg, who also had a sacrifice fly, led off the fourth with a homer, the Cubs' first hit off Bill Gullickson (8-12).

Maddux (12-11) didn't allow a runner past second base until he gave up two runs in the ninth.

Smith down to last chance

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Timmy Smith's last shot.

That's one of the themes for Saturday night's preseason game between the home-standing Dallas Cowboys and the Houston Oilers.

With the Labor Day cut to 47 players looming, Smith, the hero of Super Bowl XXII, could find himself on the waiver wire again with a poor performance.

The Cowboys running game has been almost non-existent in the first three exhibition games as Johnson has alternated Smith, Terrence Flagler, and Lorenzo Hampton while negotiations continue with first round draft choice Emmitt Smith, who has enrolled at the University of Florida for the fall semester.

"I want to give Timmy more work and see what he can do," Johnson said. "It's obvious our running backs really haven't had a lot of opportunity the way we are blocking. I would like to look at Smith over an extended period."

Johnson said he was "optimistic" that Emmitt Smith would be in camp before the regular season starts on Sept. 9.

"I have no particular reason to be optimistic but I just have a feeling Emmitt wants to be here," Johnson said.

Asked if he had heard about Smith helping arrest two thieves in Florida, Johnson quipped "he's a good person, a law-abiding citizen and we want law-abiders with our team."

The Cowboys have only averaged three yards per rush and that includes some long scrambles by quarterback Troy Aikman.

Capriati wins at U.S. Open, top seed Edberg sent home

NEW YORK (AP) — How sweet it is for Jennifer Capriati. And how sweet it was for the legion of players from that Scandinavian country.

Capriati, the 14-year-old sensation from Wesley Chapel, Fla., made her first trip to Stadium Court at the U.S. Open. She was impressed and impressive, and she became the youngest winner ever at the National Tennis Center.

"I think that's great that I could do that," she said after her hard-fought 7-5, 7-5 victory over West Germany's Anke Huber. "I feel really good about it."

And as far as the 20,000-seat Louis Armstrong Stadium is concerned, she said, "It's so big."

Before Capriati made her U.S. Open debut in the cavernous stadium, Stefan Edberg made a quick exit.

Four years ago, five players from Sweden were seeded at the U.S. Open, the top 16 players in the world. This year, Mats Wilander was the defending champion and Edberg was the No. 1 seed, coming off his second Wimbledon title in three years.

Today, only four Swedes are left in the men's draw. Wilander and Edberg are not among them.

Ivan Lendl, seeking a record ninth consecutive trip to the final and his fourth title, played his second match in two days today when he faced West Germany's Michael Stich.

In other key matches today, fifth-seeded Gabriela Sabatini played Isabelle Demongeot and Martina Navratilova, the No. 2 seed going for her second consecutive Grand Slam title, faced Britain's Clare Wood. In night matches, Monica Seles, the French Open women's champion, plays Ros Fairbank-Nideffer and Jim Courier, seeded 14th in the men's singles, takes on South African Gary Muller.

Edberg on Tuesday became the first top seed to lose in the opening round of the U.S. Open in 19 years, falling to Alexander Volkov of the Soviet Union 6-3, 7-6 (7-3), 6-2.

"He was very relaxed out there and had nothing to lose," Edberg said of Volkov.

Edberg, on the other hand, had a lot to lose, but not the world's No. 1 ranking. Despite the first-round defeat, the right-hander will continue in the No. 1 spot even if No. 2 Boris Becker or Lendl, the No. 3 player, wins the U.S. Open.

"This is something I need to sit down and think about," Edberg said. "I just have to think it over and try to not let it happen again."

Wilander, who rose to No. 1 in the world after winning the U.S. Open in 1986, has fallen to 59th on the computer. Unseeded this year, he was ousted by eighth-seeded Brad Gilbert on Monday.

Besides Edberg, other Swedes falling on Tuesday were Mikael Pernfors, the French Open finalist in 1986, Thomas Hogstedt and Lars Jonsson. Remaining in the hunt for the title are Johan Carlsson, Anders Jarryd, Peter Lundgren, David Engel and Jonas Svensson.

Edberg has one other distinction: He is the only seeded player to lose thus far in the tournament.

Tuesday's winners included Lendl, No. 4 Andre Agassi, No. 7 Emilio Sanchez, No. 9 Aaron Krickstein, No. 10 Andre Chesnokov, No. 11 Michael Chang and No. 13 Jay Berger.

Besides the 13th-seeded Capriati, other women's seeds who were victorious on Tuesday were Navratilova, No. 4 Zina Garrison, Sabatini,

No. 6 Arantxa Sanchez Vicario, No. 9 Manuela Maleeva-Fragnier, No. 12 Jana Novotna, No. 14 Natalia Zvereva and No. 15 Judith Wiesner.

Capriati ripped off the first eight points of the match en route to a 4-0 lead.

"She was making a lot of errors," Capriati said. "I didn't really win. She gave me free points. Then she started playing better and I started playing loose."

After Huber won five straight games, Capriati went on a six-game streak, closing out the first set and grabbing a 3-0 lead in the second. And again Huber, a 15-year-old West German, came back, knotting the set 5-5 before Capriati took the final two games and the victory.

John McEnroe, a four-time U.S. Open champion who is unseeded this year, won his first-round match, edging Spain's Javier Sanchez 7-6 (10-8), 7-6 (7-3), 6-4.

Johnson said he would use the Houston game as an opportunity "to look at four or five players on the bubble" before the next cut of 13 players is made.

"Our starters will not play more than a half," Johnson said. "We're going to hold (fullback) Daryl Johnston out because of an injury and probably won't play guard Crawford Ker."

Johnson said the Dallas offense needs to start clicking.

"Obviously we're not a great offensive team at this stage," he said. Dallas, 1-2, will host the winless Oilers at 8 p.m. Saturday at Texas Stadium in their annual Texas professional championship game.

City leaders list priorities for Hereford

Ag base should be utilized for greater growth, progress

By ORVILLE HOWARD
Special Feature Writer

Hereford tops Texas in agricultural production, ranks Number One in world fed-beef and has the sweetest sugar beet cash flow south of Denver.

But city leaders say this agribusiness foundation should not be taken for granted — it should be a springboard to even greater social and industrial horizons.

As part of the "Hustle Hereford" series that appears each week in The Hereford Brand, the City Commission, the mayor and the city manager today present their opinions on the priorities and needs for Greater Hereford, an agricultural hub of the Texas Panhandle recognized worldwide for its progressive leadership.

Mayor Wes Fisher emphasized their industrial growth of Hereford during the past 30 years, but pointed out that greater social and industrial heights could be attained through communitywide unity in expansion of both, present and new industry.

City Manager Darwin McGill was explicit in showing where the Hereford area is not in the position to be content with the current economic plateau, but must reach for a greater tax base as national inflationary trends continue to bite the hands that feed it.

Members of the City Commission touched on many points of priorities — upgrading of parks, expansion of local industry and the move for something new in payrolls—but one of the key points of interest was the need for continued efforts to enhance the quality of life in Hereford.

The following presentations are as given by the governing body of Hereford:

Wes Fisher

When setting priorities for Hereford, one must consider what we already have going for us, which is more than most people realize. We are the envy of most communities in our area because of our highly diversified agricultural economy with the cattle feeding industry, the sugar industry, the grain industry as well as the vegetable industry. We are not a one crop community.

Our city is efficiently operating and in good financial condition with no tax bonded indebtedness. The City operates its own water and wastewater systems, operates its own landfill, can boast an outstanding 30 plus member volunteer fire department which serves the entire county, has a very efficient 28 member police force, operates numerous parks and an exceptional 18 hole golf course, a swimming pool, a very functional Community Center, along with one of the best airports in the area.

In addition, our community has an outstanding school system, County library, a hospital with an excellent staff of doctors, a beautiful country club and an ambulance service that has been a model in the Panhandle. This all contributes to the quality of life in Hereford and these attributes are considered when attracting people to Hereford. We are also within an hours drive of a major airport which is an important consideration for new industry.

In addition, we have a very unique and cooperative working relationship between our local governmental agencies which I feel is important as it demonstrates the spirit of cooperation in our community.

We are rapidly developing regional unity in the Panhandle with the formation of the Panhandle Area Alliance and the Panhandle Conference of Mayors. This is proving to be a big help in regional economic development and cooperation.

We must broaden our tax base if we are to hold taxes in line and to continue providing the services that we are providing. To put it simply, the only way we can accomplish this is to promote and expand the businesses and industries that we already have which should be our first priority because most of our growth comes from within. Secondly, we must continue to work in attracting new businesses to our community. We have the existing base to attract agricultural related industries and we should also work to diversify our economy with light industry and retail establishments. The recent announcement of Holly's expansion is a good example along with the growth of other local industries.

The defeat of the 1/2 per cent sales tax for economic development was a disappointment as it now reduces our chances to compete with other communities. However, we can't look back so we will all have to work harder to promote our community and attract new industry.

The one major concern that I have is the apathy that has been demonstrated in recent local elections. In the 1989 City election, for example, only about 3 percent of the eligible voters bothered to cast their ballots. Not only is this a disgrace, it discourages the elected officials as they feel that no one cares. If this continues, we could wind up with a local government which may not be what we want.

Hereford probably has more entrepreneurs than any other community of its size. It is made up of dedicated and involved people who demonstrate an outstanding community spirit. Hereford is alive and well and has a lot to be proud of and I see us moving into the future with a positive attitude. As President Reagan once said, "As long as we believe in ourselves, the future will always be ours."

Darwin McGill

Although I think Hereford is extremely fortunate to have maintained as high an economic position as we have when compared to other cities throughout the State, I feel that our highest priority has to be the attraction of new business and industries. We all know that according to the census estimates our population has declined since 1980 and this is a concern.

The City has been fortunate to not have to increase the tax rate, but with continued inflation year-to-year the only salvation will be to expand existing businesses or to attract new ones.

Cities today have many more constraints placed on them from both State and Federal agencies than in years past and most of these constraints are costing us more. We are faced daily with new regulations that create added expense to cities and this plus the inflation increase results in a financial burden that in my judgment can only be overcome with growth in our tax base. This tax base can only increase with expansion of existing and new business; so without question, my highest priority for the City of Hereford would have to be economic development.

The City of Hereford is no different than any other city, the services provided are directly proportionate to the funds available for these services and presently we cannot increase the level of services nor add new services and maintain the existing tax rate without an increase in our tax base. With an increase in the tax base, which would generate more dollars, programs and services could be provided that would improve the quality of life for our citizens.

Tom LeGate

Having been involved in the economic development programs of Hereford for a number of years, I believe the Number One priority for the Greater Hereford area is the establishment of a professional department to enhance existing industry and to attract new industry to our city.

We had a golden opportunity to fund such a division for the community through the half-cent sales tax proposal but as you know this was soundly defeated by the voters.

The three regional towns which supported such a tax area already reporting good success in bringing in new payrolls, and I sincerely believe that for Hereford to reach similar success, we must develop a professional economic development department.

In recent years, Hereford had a highly active volunteer economic development program working through the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, but we found that without question it takes personnel trained in the acquisition field to go out and get a new payroll.

And new payrolls are exacting what we are talking about when we speak of bringing in new industry. Some people may think we are talking only about big buildings and big business when we speak of new industry, but the bottomline of new industry is bigger and better paychecks for the breadwinners, better park facilities, better streets, added public services and enhancement of community lifestyles for Deaf Smith County and the surrounding areas.

I admittedly was a bit miffed when the half-cent proposal was turned down by the voters...I could not understand why because the funds would have been helping those who were doing the voting. When a new industry comes to town it not only puts money in the pockets of many at the household level but also provides additional funds for needed and deserving public services.

Our national inflationary rates are continually eating away at our city and county budgets. Therefore, any time we stand still on the economic development front, we're heading for big trouble because inflation is not standing still—it's getting greater every year and will continue to do so into the 21st Century.

So, it goes without question that the Greater Hereford area is going to have to increase its tax base to retain its current level of public services if the current inflationary trends continue. There are, of course, alternatives which we don't even like to discuss—tax hikes and the elimination of many exemptions—but the real answer to most of our priority needs in Hereford can be found in expansion of existing businesses and industry and in new businesses and industry.

Thus, we're right back to square one — how do we get new industry? I thought the sales tax proposal was truly a fair and equitable way to build a community war chest to go out and fight for new business, and believe me in this day and time you really have to fight for it. Hereford is just one among thousands shooting for the new payrolls, and it takes the trained leaders to go on the firing line with towns like Amarillo or Lubbock or Dallas.

Now that the tax proposal has been defeated, I don't have the answer but that doesn't lessen the need one little smidgen for a hard-hitting professional economic development program for Hereford. We need a hired gun, one who answers to a board of directors, to go after new industry and help expand existing industry. This is a sophisticated field that demands full-time employment—volunteer work just won't cut it on today's business market.

Hereford is a busy town filled with busy people who really don't have the time to get involved in volunteer projects that requires extended time it takes for long-term promotional projects. But we are blessed with having had some of the greatest leaders of any town in the Southwest. And of course, leadership is a priority. But here is a point that may be critical to economic development—we may have so many leaders that we don't have enough followers. It has been said that a good leader must know when to follow. Sometimes we need to stop and listen to what someone else has to say...at some point in time some of us may have to stop leading and do a little bit better job of following.

The quality of life in Hereford is another priority, but all too frequently this goes right back to the first question—where do the funds come from to build better parks, upgrade the golf course or develop services for such public entities as the YMCA? I well understand that quality of life is different things to different people. While a simple 40-hour work-week may hold priority for one person, a water therapy room at the YMCA may be the most important to another.

Water is also a priority but as far as the City of Hereford is concerned we've got a pretty good handle on that. We have reserves out west of town that will have to be tapped some day but right now we're holding good locally.

On the development side of Hereford, some times we need to enhance what we already have on the table—listen to what someone has to say even though it may seem like old stuff on the surface...you don't always have to build a better mouse trap.

Sylvana Juarez

I feel we need more attention to the parks. We have done some construction in the parks—we have added new barbecue grills, a playground to the east side of Veterans Park, and some playground equipment to Dameron Park.

We need some equipment for the handicapped children. We have set aside more dollars to help beautify the parks in the 1991 budget.

We also need to attract more business into our community. At this point the economy is depressed and that causes unemployment to increase. What we do as a community to encourage other businesses is important.

We need to work together to bring about new and expanded business activity to Hereford and thereby create more jobs.

Irene Cantu

As your elected official, my visions for the future of Hereford is the continuance of opening doors to growth, communication and economic development to all the residents of the city of Hereford.

When I first decided to seek my position on the commission it was because I felt there was a need of Hispanic input on the council. The needs of our community could not be voiced or addressed because of the lack of communication. People need to be able to relate to others in their own ways. The need to see hispanics and Anglos working together for the betterment of the community will open the doors for others to follow and to continue in the growth and betterment for all the people of Hereford.

There is a lot more to be learned and worked out yet, but I see Hereford as a growing community that has a lot more to offer in time. The greatest thing that can happen in Hereford would be more Community participation—as you all know our voter turn out is very low. In turn it tells me that people aren't interested in what's going on in their local governments. As an elected official, I'm there to represent you, the people of Hereford!

Your elected officials need more of your input. Remember we are your voice in local government. We are there to represent you and your needs. As your elected official I hope that each and everyone of you can feel confident enough in me to call on me and give me your input.

Together Hereford has a great future ahead of it. Especially for our younger Leaders to come.

Emory Brownlow

Here are just some of the things I feel need attention:

- (1) I would like to have more people to be interested and get involved in the operation of our city government, particularly some of our younger citizens.
- (2) I would like to see more people with legitimate complaints to come before the commission to express their views.
- (3) Continue the operation of our city in as an efficient manner as possible.

- (4) We need a longrange water supply program.
- (5) We need a program for cleaning up the city with local residents and businesses being involved, and we should be proud of the appearance of our community—making it attractive to those passing through. The traffic will probably increase after the completion of the four-lane highway going west.
- (6) And, last but not least, the traffic light located at Hwy. 60 and 385 should be made to operate correctly.

Terry Langehennig

As a commissioner for the City of Hereford, Texas, my thoughts on the priorities for the community are that these priorities should include furnishing an environment where citizens can make their homes, raise their families, operate their businesses, and enjoy their employment in such an economic climate that the citizens feel they are participating in and accomplishing the "American Dream."

Specifically, for Hereford, Texas, I think that the community is blessed with a sound and strong agricultural base and it is of utmost importance that this agricultural base be protected, nurtured and allowed to continue in growth. This can be accomplished by persons in leadership positions keeping an open mind and attentive ear to growth prospects and developments which can blend into our strong agricultural base.

Another priority for Hereford, Texas, should be to promote our own people because it is indeed our own citizens who made hereford a great community. We are fortunate to have many citizens who have spent much personal time and personal funds to build Hereford, and I think that it is now time for the upcoming generation to take its place and try to rekindle the growth which this town has experienced in the past.

In summary, the priorities of this community should be to preserve what we have and work diligently to grow with the future.

To all the people who think the press goes too far sometimes, consider the alternative.

Proctor-Silex recalls coffeemakers

In cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, Proctor-Silex, Inc. today announced the voluntary recall of certain discontinued Proctor-Silex, Sears & J.C. Penney brand automatic drip coffeemaker models manufactured in 1985/1986 which present a potential fire hazard.

The recall includes certain Proctor-Silex coffeemakers with model numbers that begin with A4 or A5 and series numbers that end with 58 or 86. Recalled Sears Counter Craft and Sears Kenmore coffeemakers are models 360.480293 and 360.480272 (last digit may vary). Recalled J.C. Penney coffeemakers have the model number 784-2178H (or G) and a "C" number ending in 58 or 68. Coffeemakers manufactured after 1985 with model numbers beginning with A6 are not being recalled.

Owners of these coffeemakers should call a toll-free number, 1-800-341-3333, to determine whether their coffeemakers are included in the recall, and to get instructions on how to return them and to obtain reimbursement for shipping. The recalled coffeemakers are not repairable, and owners should unplug and stop using them immediately. Proctor-Silex will send each owner a new coffeemaker free of charge. Consumers are being asked to check the automatic drip coffeemakers at their place of work, as well as at home, to see if they have been recalled.

The company believes that thermostats and thermal fuses purchased by Proctor-Silex for use in the coffeemakers may both malfunction causing overheating and a potential fire hazard. Proctor-Silex has received approximately 181 reports that their coffeemakers caught fire, including a number with property damage and a report of one minor burn injury that occurred when an owner attempted to pick up an overheated unit. Proctor-Silex estimates that approximately 800,000 of these coffeemakers are still in use.

Owners of other Proctor-Silex, Sears Counter Craft, Sears Kenmore and J.C. Penney coffeemakers, which are not being recalled, should not call the 800 number. The lines need to be kept open for the owners of the recalled coffeemakers.

Young rabbits are known as kits or kittens.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You've said a good word for waiters, maids, bellboys, police officers, airline pilots and garage mechanics. Now will you give a hand to the most abused people in America -- the utility meter readers.

My son Elmer has been a meter reader for two years. He has been harassed, cussed out, kicked, bitten and mugged. A few weeks ago a husband came home unexpectedly, saw Elmer in the basement and mistook him for his wife's lover. Elmer was lucky to get out with his life.

After that letter appeared in the column, I had dozens of letters from mothers who said their sons had decided on a career. They wanted to be meter readers.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was interested in the letter from the man whose wife died. He pointed out that many widowers are left helpless -- and don't know how to boil an egg or sew on a button. He said, "Wives would be doing their husbands a big favor if they stopped waiting on them hand and foot and taught them how to do things for themselves."

People put all sorts of things over their meters so the readers can't get to them -- heavy trash cans, garden implements and lawn furniture. They park their cars in front of the meter and refuse to move them. To top it all, if the bill seems high they complain their heads off and write dirty letters to the management saying the meter reader is off his nut.

It is my opinion that the teaching should be done by mothers, not wives. My mother saw to it that all of us kids washed dishes, cooked, cleaned house and ironed our own clothes -- the boys as well as the girls. I hated it at the time, and so did my brothers, but when we went to college we were thankful.

Please say something in your column to give these poor guys a lift. They sure deserve it. -- A.R. rhmond Mom

Shortly after I married, my wife had an emergency call to fly to the coast. She left knowing I'd manage OK. And I did. I cooked for myself and even did my own shirts.

DEAR MOM: I did my bit for meter readers a few years back when I printed a letter from a housewife who liked to do her housework in the nude. It seems she was in the basement doing her laundry and decided to take off her house dress and throw it in the washing machine. The woman suddenly noticed the pipes overhead were dripping, so she put on her son's football helmet, which was lying in the corner. The woman turned around and stared straight into the face of the meter reader. He looked completely bewildered, and all he could say was, "I hope your team wins, lady."

So tell the moms out there that their sons may yell a lot when they are forced to do household chores, but in time they will rise and call her blessed. -- One Who Did

HSC plans fundraiser

Approximately 30 Hereford Senior Citizens Association members and guests met to make plans for the first Festival of Trees planned for Nov. 15-18.

DEAR DID: Thanks for the assist. And now, Mom, don't hand this column to your teen-age son, but put it where he's likely to see it. (Like in the refrigerator.)

Confidential to Best Foot Forward: Who are you trying to kid? You know perfectly well if you really wanted to put your best foot forward you would step out of the picture.

What's the truth about pot, cocaine, LSD, PCP, crack, speed and downers? "The Lowdown on Dope" has up-to-the-minute information on drugs. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Lowdown, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $4.45.)

The festival is a myriad of activities and displays, including scheduled entertainment, children's activities, festival characters, gift shops, special events, bake shop and over 25 professional decorated Christmas trees.

This year many Hereford individuals will become involved in the event by volunteering to staff the various activities. Their gift of time to the festival will be invaluable and will enable thousands of people from the Panhandle to enjoy sights, sounds and sensations of the festival.

HOLMDEL, N.J. (AP) — Frank Sinatra says he's no fan of Irish singer Sinead O'Connor, who refused to perform at a New Jersey concert if the national anthem was played.

"She should leave the country. Her behavior is unforgivable. For her sake, we'd better never meet," Sinatra told his audience Saturday night at the Garden State Arts Center.

Individuals are needed to work approximately three hours at a variety of jobs which include ticket sales, ticket taker, hostess, and assisting in the gift shops and the workshop.

Anyone interested in volunteering for various jobs to help this event become one of the largest community celebration in this area may contact the Hereford Senior Citizens.

The Hoboken native's remarks drew thunderous applause.

O'Connor, best known for her hit "Nothing Compares 2 U" and her nearly shaved head, threatened on Friday to walk out on an audience of 9,000 if "The Star Spangled Banner" was played at the center, as it is before every show. Fearing trouble if the concert didn't go on, the center's staff relented.

But O'Connor won't be allowed back, said center official George Zilocchi.

"No performer who does not agree to have the national anthem played will be allowed to perform," he said.
