Committee to study Bull Barn deposit

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

A committee of three citizens and two Deaf Smith County officials will work on a policy for use of the Bull Barn, with an eye toward changing the $1,500 deposit required for some activities at the county-owned facility.

County Judge Tom Simons named Joe Soliz, Teresa Munoz and Cecilia Garza to serve on the committee with him and Precinct Two Commissioner Lupe Chavez after a lengthy discussion of the deposit, initiated by Chavez at the Monday morning meeting of Deaf Smith County Commissioners.

The Precinct Two commissioner called the $1,500 deposit, required for activities that include a dance, "unfair and unjust" and made a motion that a "more fair and just reasonable

After his motion died for lack of a second, Judge Simons asked the three citizens to serve on the committee.

Chavez said he wanted to be on the committee, also, and Simons agreed. The committee is to meet before the next regularly scheduled commission meeting, Sept. 23.

The issue, raised by Chavez and placed on the commission agenda at his request, is the deposit required for dances at the county-owned Bull Barn.

Events that do not include dancing, but have admission charges, require a deposit of $200 and a $50 per day rental.

For uses that do not involve fees or funds solicited for participation, the deposit is $200 and no rental.

Rental of the facility for an event with dancing is $200, plus deposit.

The renter in each case pays for custodial services.

The $1,500 deposit has been in effect since at least July 1982. The deposit is returned to the renter if the building remains in good condition after use.

Chavez, in presenting his case for reducing the amount of the deposit, gave commissioners and judge copies of policies obtained from eight other counties that have similar facilities.

"Not one of these has a $1,500 deposit," Chavez exclaimed, rapping the table with his hand.

He complained that "families have to pool resources . . . the $1,500 deposit is a big burden."

Chavez told the court and about 25 citizens attending the meeting that he polled several county judges and commissioners at a meeting in College State and found no county required a deposit as high as $1,500.

"I also asked people at the Hispanic County Judges and Commissioners meeting and got the same answer," he declared.

"People cannot come up with a deposit of $1,500, $200 rent and $100 cleanup," he added.

Joining in the discussion, a spectator, Lupe Crox, asked why the amount was so large, complaining that the Hispanic community has "to look for other ways to observe our traditions."

Teresa Munoz, associated with Fiestas Patrias, noted that "we have to rob Peter to pay Paul -- borrow from the church fund -- to make the deposit."

Another citizen, Herb DeLaRosa, said, "Now, only the upper class can use the Bull Barn. It should be available to lower and middle class."

Joe Soliz asked the commission to consider some policy on "who can use the Bull Barn."

Chavez said a "promoter" has come to Hereford on more than one occasion in recent months and rented the Bull Barn for dances.

"The promoter uses the building, takes the money and goes back to Amarillo," he said. "But families here can't come up with the money for the deposit."

DeLaRosa suggested that the deposit be reduced to $100 with a $200 rental, except for profit-making, which would stay a $1,500.

He also raised briefly the issue of alcohol consumption at the Bull Barn and Chavez indicated the "majority" of the counties he polled allowed alcohol.

However, the policies he distributed showed that five of the eight specifically barred alcohol, two didn't address the issue and one mentioned it only in relation to security requirements.

Chavez said the $1,500 deposit requirement was put into effect in 1985. However, records indicate that the deposit amount has been required since at least July 1982.

Changes in the policy through the years have been directed at employment of security officers, their pay and the number required for events at the Bull Barn.

'Pioneers' will visit Wednesday

Gregorio Esparza and Davy Crockett will be digging up a little dirt in Deaf Smith County on Wednesday.

Esparza and Crockett, representing Fiesta Texas, a new $100 million theme park being built in San Antonio, will be collecting Deaf Smith County soil to take to the theme park. It will be part of a special ceremony at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

The special event is being held in each county in the state, so each may be represented at the park, which will open in the spring of 1992.

In addition to the soil, there will be a Texas Square, where a walkway will have special bricks with the name of Hereford and other Texas cities on the bricks.

County Judge Tom Simons, Mayor Tom LeGate, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce President Pat Robbins and other dignitaries will take part in the ceremonies, which will last about 20 minutes and will be open to the public.

Fiesta Texas is a 200-acre theme park designed to reflect the music, culture, history and spirit of Texas and is expected to establish new standards in the theme park industry. It will be owned and operated by the same corporation that owns and operates Opryland USA and other parks. The park will concentrate on the country and western, Hispanic, German and rock 'n' roll influences of the state, all celebrated with Texas gusto.

Melugin is winner

This week's contest appears in today's edition of the Brand.

Down with the old, up with the new

The old Furr's sign was removed (top photo) and replaced with the Homeland marquee Monday by a work crew. The store was one of four that changed hands Monday morning when Homeland officially acquired the stores. Store Manager Richard Selmon said store employees were busy most of the weekend with inventory (Selmon put in 35 straight hours) and restocking shelves with Homeland products. Customers were greeted Monday with special coupons as a welcoming gift from Homeland, based in Oklahoma City.

United Way '91 kickoff is Wednesday

Bob Josseland of Hereford will be the keynote speaker at the annual kickoff luncheon for the United Way of Deaf Smith County at 11:45 a.m. Wednesday at the Hereford Community Center.

The 1991 UWDSC campaign actually started toward its $150,000 goal Monday with a special luncheon at the Caison House in Hereford, where board members, division chairmen and agency representatives met. Representatives of the 12 member agencies that receive funds from UWDSC gave brief overviews of each of their organizations, and 1991 campaign chairman Don Cumpston also made a few brief remarks.

"Each one of these organizations does great things in our community," Cumpston said. "I hope everyone will be dedicated and make the commitment we need to make so these organizations can do more great things for all of us."

Organizations which will benefit from UWDSC this year include the Children's Rehabilitation Center, Camp Fire, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Senior Citizens, Hereford YMCA, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Hereford, the Hereford Outreach Office of the Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center, Red Cross, Salvation Army, High Plains Epilepsy and Family Services.

Members of most Hereford civic clubs will be participating in Wednesday's meeting, where they will also hear brief presentations from the agencies and Josseland's keynote address. Josseland, president of AzTx Cattle Company and past president of the National Cattlemen's Association, will focus on the importance of the community and how the United Way campaign can pay dividends for everyone.

The general public is invited to attend the meeting, which will be catered by K-Bob's Steak House.

Lewis McDaniel is president of the UWDSC. Other officers include John Sherrard, vice president; Pat Newton, treasurer; and Charles Britton, assistant treasurer. Other board members include Mike Hatley, Andy Radford, Mark Kelly, Betty Taylor, Pete Holcombe, Dennis Printz, Debbie Tardy, Mary Edwards, Lanny Wheeler and Sara Pesina. Kyla McDowell is executive director of the UWDSC.

Prayer vigil set Wednesday

Student-led "Meet You at the Pole" prayer meetings are scheduled here Wednesday at 7:15 a.m. on the high school and junior high school campuses.

Local Christian students will join more than 60,000 Texas young people and up to 2 million across the nation in the largest simultaneous youth prayer meeting in history, according to a news release from The Baptist General Convention of Texas.

"See You at the Pole" was launched by Texas Baptists last year and drew more than 45,000 students to pray around the flagpoles at about 1,000 Texas schools. "Students are encouraged to pray for their teachers and other leaders and for God to intervene in student problems such as drug and alcohol abuse, sexual immorality, depression, suicidal tendencies and satanic cult influences," reported the Baptist news release.

Hereford churches, including First Baptist and Temple Baptist, are encouraging students to attend the prayer meetings, which are scheduled to last about 10 to 15 minutes. "Parents are welcome to wait if they need to take their youth back home before school starts," said Bryan Cooper, youth minister at First Baptist.

To avoid potential conflicts, it is essential that these prayer meetings be student-led, said Cooper. This year, added Cooper, there will be an adult "Meet You at the Pole" prayer meeting on Thursday morning at 7 a.m. at the courthouse flagpole. He said all parents and interested adults are invited to meet at the pole for a brief prayer meeting "for our city and our young people."

SPS passes new credit

Customers of Southwestern Public Service Company can expect a larger-than-anticipated credit on their bills over the next two months.

This month, SPS customers will share in $1 million worth of credits, while approval is expected from the Public Utility Commission of Texas for $11.3 million in credits in October.

For a residential customer using 1,000 kilowatt hours of electricity a month, the September credit will be $1.14; the anticipated October credit will be $11.15.

"There could be some confusion because of these different credits," said Gerald Diller, SPS group manager of rates and regulation. "We don't want customers to mistake this smaller credit (in September) for the larger one they may be expecting."

The September credit represents the customers' share of profits from certain wholesale power sales made by SPS to other electric utilities on the "spot" market in June and July. Under the program regulating the spot sales, 75 percent of the proceeds are passed along as credits to SPS retail customers. The program has resulted in credits of $5.3 million for Texas retail customers since April 1990.

The expected October credit comes from lower fuel costs. SPS was able to buy natural gas for significantly lower prices for the past several months, and saved some money on low-sulphur coal purchases.

Babbling Brooks

I have heard of lots of crazy things done on the radio.

I was in radio for nine years in a former life. I did a lot of crazy things on the radio. I sold the Morton High School boys' basketball team one day. I fooled most of the city of Plainview with a "Plainview Lakes Resort" ad campaign.

But I never married anyone. There are lots of people who have the authority to marry folks: licensed ministers, judges and ship's captains come to mind right off.

Radio folks, although licensed to do lots of things (I still have my First Class Radio-Telephone license on a prominent place on my wall, just in case I need a job), aren't licensed to marry.

Unless I missed part of my life Saturday while I was trying to rest up for an all-nighter of work Friday night, I'm single but pretty much committed.

Or at least until Monday morning. I must admit I slept in on Monday morning. I awoke about 8 a.m., and never thought about turning the radio on (although I do most mornings, and I listen to KPAN).

Not turning the radio on Monday morning was a huge mistake.

I didn't know how big a mistake I had made until I went to the police station. The animal control officer usually picks up all of the city's mail and leaves it in the police station for someone else to pick up. Dolores Hernandez came in to pick up the mail.

"The family is always the last one to know," she said.

"What do you mean?" I asked, my brain still in a sleepy fog.

"About you and Grace getting married. Congratulations!"

"What?"

That's when I found out that Grace and I were KPAN's Good Neighbors of the Day for Monday. Except that when it was first broadcast, it was Grace and John Brooks.

A quick call was made to the radio station to straighten that out, and we were correctly identified as Grace Gamez and John Brooks.

Except, as it so often happens in radio, TV and newspaper, a lot of folks who heard the first announcement didn't hear the second (or so they said).

After assuring Dolores (Grace's aunt) and the others at the police station that we would let them know if and when such an event actually occurred, I raced to the Brand to call Grace.

"Grace's already called," said Office Manager Janey Allmon as soon as I walked in the door. I caught a fair amount of hurrahing around here before I raced for the solitude of my office to call Grace at Colortyme.

She was able to kind of laugh about it, and had also gotten the needle from lots of folks by 9 a.m.

To whoever nominated us, we appreciate it. She enjoyed the bud vase from Park Avenue Florist, and we'll savor the meal at the Ranch House Restaurant.

And we might even sit together on the same side of the booth. Gotta keep that rumor mill flowing, you know.

Erasing the lines

Steve Prock of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation does a little housekeeping work at the intersection of U.S. Highway 385 and Moreman on Monday. Highway department crews are "erasing" lines at one of the crosswalks that were painted in the wrong place by a subcontractor earlier this year, and the highway department was forced to scrape off the top layer of pavement to "erase" the lines. The lines will be repainted in the proper place, but may cause traffic delays in the area today and Wednesday.

County okays bids, proposals

Bids for group health insurance, fuel and an audit of financial records were awarded during the Monday morning meeting of Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court.

The county will continue a self-funded insurance program, commissioners decided, rather than contract with a new carrier. Two proposals were presented.

The bid accepted for purchase of fuel was 1/10 of a cent less than another bid. Conway Oil Company submitted the bid of 2.1 cents above refinery cost. Another bidder, Consumers Fuel Company, offered to sell the fuel at 2.2 cents above refinery cost.

Proposals for conducting the annual audit of county finances were received from five certified public accounting firms.

The Brown, Graham and Company firm of Hereford was selected on a bid of $9,000 to $9,500, including audit of records of the juvenile probation department.

Other proposals were presented by Cornall and Company of Amarillo, Dozier, Pickens and Francis of Amarillo, Jones and Pendergast of Plainview and Gerhardt and Puckett of Hereford.

Commissioners' Court also made amendments to the retirement system and accepted the contract for purchase of a house in the 200 block of E. Fifth for offices of the juvenile probation department. Purchase of the property for $25,000 was approved at the Aug. 26 commission meeting.

Hearings open for candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush is proclaiming that "no litmus test" was used in Clarence Thomas' nomination to the Supreme Court as the Senate Judiciary Committee launches confirmation hearings.

Making a fresh appeal for Thomas on the eve of today's opening hearing, Bush exhorted lawmakers to "preserve the independence of the court" by avoiding asking the nominee how he would vote on legal issues.

The president's statement came as the 43-year-old black conservative braced for tough interrogation on such volatile subjects as abortion and affirmative action. "There's a fight on," Bush acknowledged. But he said, "I'm confident we're going to win it."

The commencement of the hearing part of the advise-and-consent process follows two months of campaigning by supporters and opponents to influence the senators who will pass judgment on Thomas, a federal appeals court judge.

Bush picked Thomas to replace the retiring Thurgood Marshall, the increasingly conservative court's most liberal member. If confirmed, Thomas would be the 106th Supreme Court justice but only the second black.

Bush's first high court appointee, Justice David H. Souter, was largely an unknown quantity when he sailed through relatively quiet confirmation hearings last year. Thomas' more extensive record, however, has sparked controversy.

The committee's points of inquiry are expected to include:

-Abortion and privacy. Thomas has never commented publicly on the 1973 Supreme Court decision legalizing abortion. But in a 1987 speech he praised an essay that attacked the ruling.

-Thomas' record as chairman of the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and as head of the Education Department's civil rights office. Liberals contend he pursued policies that slowed, or even blocked, increased opportunities for minorities and women.

-Thomas' belief in "natural law," a legal theory that some individual rights are inherent and independent of all governmental authority.

Some critics contend Thomas' view leads to the conclusion that fetuses have a "right to life" requiring states to outlaw all abortions. But Judiciary Committee Chairman Joseph Biden, D-Del., is himself an advocate of natural law in some form, and that could defuse any attempt to portray the theory as kooky or outside the legal mainstream.

Even after all the efforts to influence opinion for or against Thomas, 65 percent of respondents in a new poll said they had no opinion about whether he should be confirmed. This was close to the 73 percent who had no opinion about Robert Bork just before the confirmation hearings that led to rejection of his nomination in 1987.

Who Was Junius?

LONDON (AP) - An enduring mystery concerns the authorship of "the Junius Letters," which from 1767 to 1772 savagely attacked King George III and leading government ministers and politicians.

The biting and satirical letters signed Junius appeared in the London Public Advertiser. Of 30 possible authors, research shows the most likely culprit to be civil servant Sir Philip Francis (1740-1818).

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: X-rays show I have a hiatal hernia. My doctor never prescribed any diet, but just said to eat six small meals a day. I take Cytotec after a meal and Zantac before bedtime. Can I take these pills with milk? I also have coffee which I've read in your column to avoid. Can I take Postum, which is a cereal? Also, can I take peppermint tea? I am at a loss as to what to drink since I also have rheumatoid arthritis and read that milk, if not absorbed, causes calcium deposits. I take Voltaren twice a day for my arthritis.

DEAR READER: You didn't mention having any symptoms that relate to a hiatal hernia. Many people do have such a finding on an X-ray, have no symptoms and require no treatment at all. More than 50 percent of people over 50 years of age have a hiatal hernia. The hernia of a portion of the stomach through the diaphragm can be demonstrated with an X-ray study.

If you need treatment, Zantac or related medicines are prescribed to decrease the stomach's production of acid. The acid digestive juice, regurgitated into the lower esophagus may cause symptoms such as heartburn.

For those who have symptoms, avoiding coffee, alcohol, cigarettes and large meals is important. When the lower esophagus is irritated, which it can be from the regurgitated acid, the diet is important. Acid substances bathing the inflamed area can cause pain. Diet may be less important for just stomach acidity.

If you are having symptoms, you need to do more than just limit your diet to six small meals a day. I have discussed the other changes you should make in Special Report 93, Heartburn, Esophageal Spasm, Hiatal Hernia. Your address was not on your letterhead so I couldn't send you a free copy. Those who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LET-

No, do not use peppermint or spearmint. Both may increase stomach acidity. If you have no symptoms, you can drink some coffee or tea. Postum is OK. ## Spikers win 2nd tourney in San Angelo

By JAY PEDEN
Sports Editor

When the Lady Whitefaces' Traveling Volleyball Show makes a stop in Hereford tonight, they'll carry an 11-1 record and two tournament titles into a match with Amarillo High.

The Lady Whitefaces, after playing exclusively on the road the past three weeks, finally get to play a home game. Volleyball action will get underway in Whiteface Gym at 6:30 p.m. The varsity will follow the junior varsity.

Hereford's road warriors most recently conquered the field in the San Angelo Invitational Tournament, where Hereford also won last year.

They started winners' bracket play Saturday with a 15-0, 15-0 pasting of Andrews, defeated El Paso Bel Air 15-6, 15-10 in the semi-finals, and beat Bronte 15-10, 15-6 in the final match.

Bronte is a Class A school, but is annually one of the best volleyball teams in Class A. Hereford coach Brenda Reeh was glad Bronte made the finals because that meant the tournaments two best teams squared off for the title.

"Bronte was strong," she said. "Bronte had great hitters. They hit the ball down on us."

Hereford was significantly behind in a game only once, Reeh said, when they were down 7-0 in the second game to Bel Air. Otherwise, the Herd's powerful attack was too much for the competition.

"This weekend we hit the ball really well," Reeh said. "Our size intimidated people, that and the fact we were hitting the ball as hard as we were."

She added that one Shantel Cornelius spike hit an opponent "square in face" and made the girls' nose bleed.

"We've gained a nasty reputation offensively," Reeh said, chuckling, "which is great. We're really proud of that."

Statistically, the players didn't do much against Andrews. Reeh said Andrews made lots of errors and seemed extremely intimidated. The Lady Whitefaces were led by the serving of Teresa Baker, who had nine points, including three aces and no service errors, and Brek Binder, who had 10 points, including two aces.

Against Bel Air, five different Hereford players had at least one ace. Baker, Cornelius and Lori Sanders each had one, and Binder and Kara Sandoval had two each.

In the final match, the Lady Whitefaces had an opponent against which they could rack up the stats. Cornelius had 10 kills, Binder had five and Hicks and Kyanne Lindley each had four. Hicks had eight attacks without an error.

Hereford's junior varsity team played in the Amarillo JV Tournament Saturday, falling to Dumas 15-6, 12-15, 15-6 in the consolation game.

Hereford JV coach Jill Harrison said that Dumas had 20 players on the team.

"All the players who normally sit on the bench at varsity games were playing for the JV," she said.

In the first round, the JV Herd fell to River Road's varsity 15-8, 15-13. They came back to beat Canyon 15-0, 15-8 and Coronado 15-2, 17-15 to reach the consolation game. The Hereford JV is 5-2 for the season.

The freshman girls teams had a busy weekend. First, freshman coach Brett Steagall sent two teams to two different tournaments Saturday, and each team came in third.

One team participated in the Amarillo Ninth Grade Tournament, beating Caprock "B" 16-14, 6-15, 15-8 in the third place game. They also beat Caprock "A" 15-6, 15-8 in the first round but lost to Amarillo High Black 15-8, 15-5 in the second.

The other Hereford team played in a tournament at Randall High School, beating the hosts 15-7, 15-4 in the third place game. Earlier in the tourney, they beat Dalhart 15-2, 15-3 but fell to an Amarillo High team 15-9, 15-11.

Then Monday, the freshmen traveled to Clovis, N.M. to play the ninth grade team at Yucca Junior High. Hereford won 15-13, 16-14.

The freshmen are 6-1, Steagall said, and he is looking forward to the teams' second chance to play at home. On Monday, the "A" team will face Valleyview at 6 p.m., and the "B" team will meet Yucca at 7.

Omigosh, we won another one!

The Lady Whitefaces are either elated at winning the San Angelo Invitational Volleyball Tournament Saturday, or they are auditioning for parts in Home Alone: the Sequel. They are (left to right) standing: Kathy Hernandez, Kyanne Lindley, Cassie Brooks, Erin Bullard, Angie Jowell, Lori Sanders and Jill Robinson; and kneeling: Kara Sandoval, Shantel Cornelius, Jennifer Hicks, Teresa Baker and Brek Binder. The team plays its first home game today at 6:30 p.m. at Whiteface Gym.

Winters places in Pampa rodeo

Samantha Winters finished eighth in barrel racing in Saturday's Pampa performance of the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association. Winters was the only member of the Hereford club to place.

No times were available. Chasity Rickman, who lives in Hereford but rodeos for the Adrian club, was fourth in barrel racing and eighth in breakaway roping.

Harrier girls finish 2nd in Brownfield

The Hereford girls' cross country team finished second at the Brownfield Jamboree cross country meet Saturday, and the Hereford boys' team finished eleventh. It was the first meet of the season for both teams.

"I was pleased for the first meet," Hereford coach Martha Emerson said. "The girls are doing OK, but our pack needs to get closer to the front. The same is true with the boys. This was a good meet for us and we'll get better."

Jack Borden finished fourth individually, running three miles in 17 minutes and 57.6 seconds. That was only 30 seconds off the pace set by winner Jeff Lewis of San Angelo Lake View (17:26.9).

Ricka Williams ran the girls' two miles in 14:15.7, finishing ninth. She was nearly a full minute off the winning pace of Coronado's Rebecca Nugent (13:20.3), but was only four seconds out of fifth place.

Though Hereford was second, it wasn't a close second. Guthrie, a surprise winner, had 75 points. Hereford nearly doubled that with 141. Floydada and Coronado were close behind, each with 144.

Muleshoe won the boys' division with 67, outdistancing Ruidoso, N.M., with 87 and Lake View with 92. Hereford had 255 points, just behind ninth-place Sundown with 249 and tenth-place Abernathy with 252. Individually, the Hereford girls went like this: Williams in ninth; Belinda Murillo, 23rd in 15:08; Nora Herrera, 29th, 15:13; Veronica Hernandez, 45th, 15:37; Minerva Salazar, 52nd, 15:52; Gina Haschke, 57th, 15:56; and Jill Dutton, 61st, 16:05. More than 120 runners were in each division.

For the boys it was Borden in fourth; Aurelio San Miguel, 68th, 20:18.4; Chris Hart, 69th, 20:18.7; Pedro Dominguez, 75th, 20:34; Chancy Bainum, 92nd, 21:20; and Eric Davis, 105th, 22:34.

The Jamboree started out with some excitement in the girls' junior varsity race. According to Emerson, the course was not marked clearly, and the leaders went the wrong way.

Because of that, no times or places are available for the runners. Renee Banner led the Hereford contingent, followed by Karon Harder, Rita Soto, Laura Rangel, Denise Davila and Rachel Martinez.

Hereford did not enter any boys in the junior varsity.

Coming to the net

Torey Sellers stretches to hit a ball as Jamie Kapka watches. The pair will be two of Hereford's top tennis players in the fall season.

Hereford netters ready for season

The Hereford High School tennis team tuned up for the season at a two-way team tennis scrimmage Saturday by beating host Plainview and District 1-4A rival Borger.

"They were impressive at Plainview," said new coach Kim King. "The girls didn't lose a set, and the boys only lost four or five."

Hereford was to start the season today with a 3:45 p.m. match at Canyon.

"They're the defending state champions (in 3A), so that'll be a tough match for us," King said.

Hereford's schedule has not been released yet because some changes are still being made, King said.

Also not set is the team's line-up.

With the first district match (Borger, here, Sept. 21) more than a week away, King is still deciding on who the top players are.

She said Torey Sellers and Jamie Kapka are the top boys singles' players, but everything else is up in the air. The girls' line-up, she said, has no superstars but a lot of depth. She added that Bri Reinauer, Robyn Sublett, Sherry and Emily Fuston and Jennifer LeGate looked good in the scrimmage.

After today, the team will play its next match Saturday at 2 p.m.

However, the site has yet to be determined, and the opponent is narrowed down to Amarillo High or Tascosa.

Dykes: Oregon has huge offensive line

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - After looking at the size of the players on Oregon's offensive line, Texas Tech coach Spike Dykes thought he was preparing to play a basketball team.

"Six-foot-6, 6-foot-4, 6-foot-5, 6-foot-5 and 6-foot-4. It sounds like the Harlem Globetrotters instead of the Oregon Ducks," Dykes said Monday at his weekly press conference. "I mean they are tall. They'll put a lot of pressure on you."

Dykes said the Raiders will need every weapon they can muster against Oregon (1-0) Saturday in Lubbock. Oregon, the Pacific 10 Conference runner-up last year behind Washington, defeated Washington State 40-14 Saturday.

"Oregon will be breathing fire when they come in here," Dykes said. "They are a big-time football team. They can run it and throw it, and they are loaded with experience on defense. It will be quite a test for us this early in the season."

Dykes said he was very impressed with Marcus Brooks, Oregon's 6-foot-2, 299-pound nose tackle.

"He's as good as there is in the country," Dykes said. "He is a sure-fire first-round draft choice. He's so big and strong he could go bear hunting with a switch."

Tech defeated 13-game loser Fullerton State 41-7 in its season opener in Lubbock last Saturday.

Dykes said getting out of the first game of the season with a victory was a big relief, even if it was against the team with the nation's longest losing streak.

"We played a team that has very little credibility with a long losing streak going," Dykes said. "Everybody just expects you to beat them at will and if you're not careful you get to thinking that yourself and it doesn't work that way. They played hard and we are just happy to get that first one under our belt."

Dykes had a lot to smile about as the Red Raiders' offense used a balanced air and ground attack in amassing 371 yards without a turnover. But it was Tech's new 3-4 defense that left Dykes beaming.

The Raiders held Fullerton (0-2) to only 93 yards on the ground and 204 yards total. Tech finished the game with a goal-line stand.

The victory was costly for Tech in terms of injuries. Wide receiver Rodney Blackshear, who led the Southwest Conference in receiving yards (973) last year, and wide receiver Lloyd Hill both suffered knee injuries that will put them out of the lineup for at least one week.

Cowboys victimized by fake punt

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The Washington Redskins used fake punt sorcery to exorcise their Monday Night Football demon.

The wildest scoring game between Washington and Dallas in 29 years turned on a gamble that's in every playbook from junior high school to the NFL.

It fooled the Cowboys and helped the Redskins to a 33-31 victory that ended their string of pratfalls on Monday Night Football. The last time Washington had earned a Monday night victory was in 1987 against Dallas, also in Texas Stadium.

Washington coach Joe Gibbs was thankful to get the Monday Night jinx off his back.

"I'm thrilled to death to get over that Monday Night thing," he said. "Now we can quit worrying and talking about it."

It was the most total points scored between the two teams since a 35-35 tie in 1970, and the victory snapped Washington's six-game losing streak on Monday nights. The Redskins were just a loss away from tying the New York Jets record of seven straight Monday Night losses.

Washington is 18-16 in Monday Night games and Gibbs now has a winning record against Dallas with 11 wins against 10 losses.

The fake punt was the talk of both locker rooms after the game.

"We worked on that fake punt all week," Gibbs said. "We felt it would work but, of course, you know what happens if you miss. If it backfired, it could set them off."

"You have to give (special teams coach) Wayne Sevier credit. He yelled at me and told me it looked good, and I said if we got the right situation to go with it. It was a heckuva play."

Brian Mitchell took a short snap on fourth-and-1 from the Washington 48 and gained three yards. Four plays later, Gerald Riggs scored from a yard out to give the Redskins a 30-24 lead with 12:58 to play.

Chip Lohmiller later kicked his fourth field goal to put the game out of reach.

The loss spoiled Dallas' first regular-season Monday Night game since 1988. Dallas is 19-17 on Monday night.

Mitchell said he read the Cowboys' defense and made an automatic call.

"Actually the defense made the call for us because they overloaded on one side," he said. "I got a great, quick snap and I knew I had it."

Dallas defensive end Jim Jeffcoat said: "We weren't totally surprised, but it was a good play on their part. We just self-destructed out there."

Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson said a lost fumbled punt and the fake punt killed the Cowboys.

"You can't give a good team the kind of gifts we gave them," he said. "All that kept them alive."

Gibbs said it was a typical Dallas-Washington alley brawl.

"It's going to be a battle with those guys every time out," Gibbs said. "It took some guts because things looked bleak for us early."

Dallas upset Washington 27-17 in Texas Stadium on Thanksgiving Day last year and Johnson's only victory in 1989, his rookie year in the NFL, was against the Redskins.

Mark Rypien of Washington and Troy Aikman of Dallas traded touchdown pass-for-touchdown pass.

Rypien hit 14 of 26 passes for 203 yards and two touchdowns, and Aikman hit 27 of 42 passes for 234 yards and three TDs.

Emmitt Smith caught a touchdown pass and ran 75 yards for another although he was sick before, during, and after the game. He had 112 yards rushing for the second consecutive week.

"I was sick before the game and after I made the long run," he said. "I was light-headed and had to get some fluids into me at halftime. I think I was too excited about Monday Night Football. It's all I thought about all week."

Earnest Byner had 101 yards rushing for the Redskins.

The victory put Washington (2-0) into a tie with Phoenix in the NFC East. Dallas dropped to 1-1 after an opening victory over Cleveland.

Lohmiller said there's no feeling like beating the Cowboys.

"It's one of the best days of my life in football," Lohmiller said. "Doing it against Dallas is something special."

"The game was kind of like going through a war. It was what I call a gut-check game," Rypien said. "A real test for us. And we passed."

Tyson indicted; fight will go on

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Mike Tyson's career and his shot at regaining the heavyweight title have been thrown into jeopardy by his indictment on charges he raped a Miss Black America contestant.

The 25-year-boxer was charged Monday with rape, deviate conduct and confinement - the most serious in a string of allegations over the years that he has fondled or roughed up women. The charges carry up to 63 years in prison.

The pageant contestant accused Tyson of attacking her July 19 in his room at an Indianapolis hotel. Tyson, who has denied the allegation, was in town at the time to make promotional appearances for the Indiana Black Expo and the beauty pageant.

Marion County prosecutor Jeffrey Modisett said an arrest warrant was issued and bail set at $30,000. He said Tyson would be allowed to surrender later this week. The case probably won't go to trial for several months, he said.

The word from Tyson's promoters, heavyweight champion Evander Holyfield's camp and Caesars World Inc. is that the Tyson-Holyfield title fight Nov. 8 in Las Vegas will go on.

"Tyson has a contractual and constitutional right to fight and we intend to honor that," says promoter Dan Duva.

However, Luther Mack, vice chairman of the Nevada State Athletic Commission, says the panel will meet to decide whether to allow the fight to go on or block it and strip Tyson of his boxing license for an arrest involving "moral turpitude."

David Hennessy, one of the woman's lawyers, said she is upset by the prospect of Tyson making millions while awaiting trial. The boxer is guaranteed at least $15 million for the fight.

"She continues to live with the nightmare while Mike Tyson promotes himself for a multimillion-dollar payday," Hennessy said.

Substation technicians, electrical linemen and maintenance crews are trained to work in high-voltage situations and to recognize and avoid potential hazards that exist in the substation. You can avoid these hazards by paying attention to the signs on the substation fence; they mark the danger zone for you.

Between the Covers Rebecca Walls

The new book list begins this week with Ed McBain's Downtown. Michael Barnes, a lone out-of-town businessman, finds himself in New York City on Christmas Eve with few hours to kill before his plane leaves.

It has the making of a sweet interlude when he meets a lovely blonde in a bar. Then the misadventures begin--first his wallet is stolen, containing all of his money and identification. Then the rental car disappears only to resurface on the other side of the city with a corpse as passenger.

The next twenty-four hours will take every ounce of Michael's cunning and guts just to survive. Michael will encounter cops who arrest victims, mobsters, beautiful women who offer rides in their limousine, women who try to kill by driving their stiletto heels through your skull, warehouses full of furs, jewels and other valuables and much more in the wildest 24-hours of his life.

Exceptional Clearance by William J. Caunitz also takes place in the pre-Christmas cold and dark of New York City. A young black woman is brutally murdered, a carbon copy of a grisly murder that took place a few days earlier.

NYPD calls in Detective Lt. John Vinda, rescuing him from missing persons and dead end career. They want him to apprehend the killer before the news media exploits the possibility that a serial murderer may be on the loose. Vinda is ordered to close the files fast--no matter what it costs--before the killer strikes again. But this hope is dashed when the killer strikes in a crowded, exclusive department store. Was the killing done at random or was the killer aiming to kill prominent movie actress who was in the store?

The M.O. of the killer is unlike anything the NYPD, the FBI or any law enforcement agency has ever seen. Is the killer even human? Vinda must cope with the recent death of his wife and the mounting terror spreading throughout the city.

The faceless killer's final target is Vinda. In a pyrotechnical finale the case is closed by "exceptional clearance"--the rare and unusual special procedure used only when the cops know that the person who committed a crime is beyond the reach of the law.

Anne Tyler's Saint Maybe is a story of a young man who is haunted by guilt over his brother's fate and of his struggle to atone for the wrong he feels he has done.

In 1965 the Bledsoe family is an "ideal, apple-pie" household living in Baltimore, Maryland. 17-year-old Ian is looking forward to a future with the usual expectations and dreams of the time. But everything changes when he meddles in his older brother's life. Nothing can ever be the same.

Ian, seeking to make amends, is drawn to the Church of the Second Chance where he is taught forgiveness is not automatic but earned. Ian finds himself drowning in family and duty, raising the three children that are thrust on him. Out of the heart of the domestic clutter, a light begins to flash.

Anne Tyler's novel makes you smile and ache while weaving a spell as you are immersed in the bewilderment of family life and the surprising complexities of personal salvation.

Key West, Dayo Hueso, Island of bones is the setting of this taut, gripping suspense novel Bones of Coral by James W. Hall. 38-yr-old, Shaw Chandler, is a miami paramedic who has learned to keep his feelings at arm's length and now get involved in other people's problems. But in this thriller, Shaw is called to the scene of a "suicide"--it has the earmarks of murder and he knows the victim. It leads him back to Key West, tracking two murders--20 years old and still unsolved.

Shaw returns to Key West, 150 miles away from the safety of the mainland. Almost immediately he finds himself running up against Douglas Barnes, a psychotically upstanding ex-military man, president of Barnes Waste Management Enterprises.

Dougie, his son, is a chesty, no-pain threshold thug who has a taste for fhyme, an aptitude for murder. His sidekick, Elmira slaps, punches, and spansks her way into his heart, marrying him, for better and then for much worse.

Shaw can't seem to keep out of their way as he stumbles on information that points a trail of suspicious "suicide"--starting in Miami dipping two decades into the past and leading to his own doorstep.

Looming large at the head of the trail are the Barnes'. For years they have been running a get-rich scheme that costs their victims more than money. The Barnes will go to any length to keep this intact!

Other titles of interest this week are: Walk Yourself Thin by David A. Rives

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - It's up to a judge to decide whether Robin Williams should have shared his sexual secrets with a woman before sleeping with her.

The woman claims the actor and comedian gave her herpes. Superior Court Judge William Cahill said Monday that before deciding whether to dismiss Michelle Tish Carter's $6.2 million lawsuit against Williams, he must rule on whether Williams was legally obligated to tell all.

Carter, 28, sued Williams for personal injury, fraud, and intentional infliction of emotional distress. Their two-year relationship ended in 1986. Williams, 40, in a countersuit, has accused Carter of extortion.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: In one of your recent columns, a writer lambasted California schools. The Merced Sun-Star (Calif.) recently printed an article on this subject by Richard H. Lewis, a local teacher. I think your readers may find it interesting.--B.B. Brentwood, Calif.

DEAR B.B.: Lewis' piece will certainly open a lot of eyes and perhaps close the mouths of some parents who have no idea how hard teachers work. Thanks for sending it on. Here it is, folks:

"If you believe education is our future, the future looks bleak. The very people on whom education depends are now experiencing a crisis in morale."

"If you think teaching is an easy job, reflect on how you would enjoy spending an entire day with 32 of your neighbors' kids and their friends."

"Suppose of those 32 students, 12 speak only Spanish, Hmong and Lao. Five of the students had no breakfast that morning. One girl spent the night with her mother going from bar to bar looking for her stepfather. Two students are exhausted. They were up all night listening to their alcoholic parents argue. Another is distraught because a boyfriend beat up her mother last night."

"Remember to send the boy to the office to take his medicine that helps keep him calmed down. The student next to him must see the psychologist in 30 minutes to help work out his molestation problems. Two students in the front row are too sick to be at school. They may infect the entire class with flu. Deep down you have a terrible feeling that these kids were sent to school because there is nobody home.

"What are you going to do with the student who has lost his third social studies book this semester? The librarian says we are out of books."

"When you donate your time for open house tonight, try to convince those who will listen that there will be no educational reform without parental intervention. Let them know they must insist that their children turn off the TV and spend the evening studying. Blaming failing grades on too much TV is a cop-out. It is the parents' responsibility to police the viewing. Parents have an obligation to take control of their children's lives. Children are not just small adults."

"Don't forget to return the telephone call from the parent who wants to know what you are doing wrong that causes his or her child to misbehave at home."

"Remember to write the $400 check for the mandatory college class you must take this summer so you can keep teaching.

"Most people believe you get paid during your time off, but don't tell them you get no paid vacation because they probably will not believe you. They don't see you spending one to two hours every night correcting and grading papers."

"Forget the fact that the federal and state politicians continue to criticize your teaching even though they know nothing about your profession. You must realize their primary concern is getting re-elected."

"Be sure to teach these kids the basics and remember they must score well on the state test. If they don't, we know whose fault it will be."

Gem of the Day: (Credit The Progressive magazine): When Frances H. Moore died peacefully at age 90 in a local shopping mall, relatives suggested, according to the Journal Times of Racine, Wis., that she be buried in her "Shop 'Til I Drop" sweatshirt.

Planning a wedding? What's right? What's wrong? "The Ann Landers Guide for Brides" will relieve your anxiety. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Brides, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Gorbachev addresses conference

MOSCOW (AP) - President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, opening an international human rights conference today, promised an end to "persecution of dissidents" and declared that the nation's reform depends on protecting individual liberties.

Giving the keynote address at a gathering of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe, Gorbachev said the new Soviet Union will respect the human rights declarations reached at previous CSCE conferences.

After he spoke, the representatives gave him a resounding ovation, and some in the back of the hall stood in admiration.

The human rights conference was the first major one hosted by the Soviet Union. During more than 70 years of Communist rule, the Kremlin had called human rights standards an interference in internal affairs.

As the conference's first order of business, it admitted Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia as members. They join every European nation plus the United States and Canada and raise the total membership to 38 countries.

It is the first international organization to accept the Baltic states since they gained their independence from the Soviet Union last Friday.

The CSCE is giving leading officials from the United States and other member nations a chance to assess the Soviet Union after last month's failed hard-line coup.

While the spotlight is on the Soviet breakup, human rights will be reviewed in all CSCE countries. Jeri Laber, executive director of U.S. Helsinki Watch, said "horrible things are going on right now in Turkey and Yugoslavia."

"There are really gross violations of human rights in Yugoslavia, in Croatia. People are being taken as hostages and used as human shields," Ms. Laber said Monday.

"In Turkey, human rights activists are being killed - disappearing Latin-American style that we've never seen before, by people who are clearly death squads."

Helsinki Watch asked the U.S. delegation to raise the Yugoslav and Turkish issues.

Ms. Laber said of the conference, "Everything's changed. Now the heads of half the East European delegations are friends from the human rights struggle. ... and the co-chairman of the Soviet delegation is Sergei Kovalev, a former political prisoner."

Human rights activists said problems remain in the Soviet Union and the republics.

The Helsinki Federation president, Bjorn Elmquist, estimated there are still between 80 and 100 political prisoners as well as people in psychiatric clinics run by the KGB.

Ms. Laber estimated that 50 conscientious objectors are still imprisoned.

Sen. Dennis DeConcini (D-Ariz), co-chairman of the U.S. CSCE delegation, said he left with Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Petrovsky a list of more than 100 people who were refused visas and would leave the same list with Russian Federation President Boris Yeltsin.

Many were Jewish "refuseniks" denied visas on security grounds. DeConcini named polymer physicist Mikhail Fridman and electronic engineer Solomon Smolyar, who works on MiG jet navigation systems and needs medical treatment because he suffers from Lou Gehrig's disease.

Ms. Laber said that as power shifts to the republics, she expected some governments to be more democratic and some more repressive. "I'm very fearful that in certain places communism will be replaced by nationalism ... and the dictatorial government will continue in the same way, only under a different and much more potent ideology."

Helsinki Watch and the U.S. CSCE delegation weighed the prospects for democracy in Georgia, where opposition groups demand that President Zviad Gamsakhurdia, a militant nationalist, resign. Hoyer described the situation in Georgia as "chaos."

DeConcini said there may be as many as 87 political prisoners in Georgia. Gamsakhurdia has denied holding political prisoners and offered to let human rights groups investigate.

Strawberry, Justice blast foes

By The Associated Press

If there's pennant pressure in the National League West, Darryl Strawberry and David Justice don't seem to be bothered much.

Strawberry and Justice each drove in five runs as Los Angeles and Atlanta won Monday night, keeping the Dodgers one-half game ahead of the Braves.

Justice drove in a career-high five runs with a pair of homers and a single and John Smoltz won his 10th game since the All-Star break as Atlanta defeated visiting San Francisco 8-3 for its fourth consecutive victory.

"Tonight was my turn," Justice said. "Yesterday it was Brian Hunter and the day before it was Jeff Treadway with three hits. It's a different guy each and every day. That's what makes a good team, and we have a good team."

Smoltz (12-13) won his fourth straight and is 10-2 since July 12 after going 2-11 in the first half of the season. He pitched seven innings and gave up one run and five hits.

"Mentally, right now, I feel like I can beat anybody. It doesn't matter what stuff I have. It's a fun feeling," Smoltz said.

At Riverfront Stadium, Strawberry's RBI single tied it 4-all in the fourth, and his three-run double an inning later sent the Dodgers to their third straight win and their ninth in 11 games. He also had an RBI grounder in a three-run seventh.

"The bottom line now is just playing and having fun," Strawberry said. "You play up to your ability and make the best of it. Anytime you're in a pennant race, that's the best time of the year."

There was one troubling development for the Dodgers: Starter Tim Lincecum had to leave the game in the second inning with pulled groin muscles. Kevin Gross (9-10) got the win despite giving up four runs in three innings.

Cardinals 4, Phillies 2

Omar Olivares gave up two runs and six hits in 8 2-3 innings as St. Louis beat Philadelphia at Busch Stadium, snapping a five-game losing streak.

Olivares (8-5) outpitched rookie Andy Ashby (0-3), who gave up five hits in 4 2-3 innings. The Phillies spoiled Olivares' bid for his first major-league shutout when Charlie Hayes hit a two-run homer with two out in the ninth. Lee Smith finished for his 38th save.

Record Year

NEW YORK (AP) - Among the unusual facts that were part of Roger Maris' record year of 61 home runs for the New York Yankees in 1961 was this: Maris did not receive a single intentional pass that season. One reason being he usually was batting in front of Mickey Mantle, who clubbed 54 homers himself.

According to the 1991 Elias Baseball Analyst, Maris drilled 57 homers to right field, three to center, and only one to left. Roger connected for 49 homers against right-handed pitchers and a dozen against lefties.

Tiny crowd sees Red Sox edge Tribe

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

Maybe they should've made it Ball Night at Cleveland Stadium, because everyone who came had a good chance of catching a foul ball.

Only 1,695 fans showed up in the biggest ballpark in the majors Monday night for a makeup of the Boston Red Sox won, 4-3 over the Indians.

Despite a special promotion in which all 74,483 seats cost only $4.50 apiece, the Indians drew their smallest home crowd since 1,564 fans saw a game against Oakland on April 24, 1974.

"I feel sorry for the players of Cleveland to have to play in front of crowds like that," said Tom Brunansky, whose sacrifice fly in the ninth inning gave Boston its sixth straight victory. "Major league baseball doesn't deserve crowds like that."

Boston moved within five games of idle Toronto in the AL East. The Indians lost their fifth straight. The one-game series was a makeup of a rainout April 19, and both teams are back on the road today.

"You hear comments from different players about the crowd, but I think everybody expected a crowd like this, since it was a makeup game," Cleveland manager Mike Hargrove said.

The Red Sox blew an early 3-0 lead, although manager Joe Morgan said the small crowd did not blunt Boston's enthusiasm.

"We weren't going to sleep at any cost," Morgan said. "One guy in the stands says something, you hear it all over the park. That keeps you awake."

We were talking it up on the bench all night."

The Red Sox loaded the bases in the ninth against Shawn Hillegas (3-4). Tony Pena walked, Luis Rivera sacrificed and Wade Boggs was intentionally walked. After a passed ball, Jody Reed was walked intentionally and Brunansky followed with a short fly that barely enabled Pena to score.

Greg Harris (11-11) was the winner despite allowing the tying run to score as the Indians rallied for three runs in the seventh inning. Jeff Reardon pitched the ninth for his 37th save.

Twins 10, Royals 4

Dan Gladden, mired in a 12-for-70 slump, hit a two-run triple that keyed a four-run fifth inning and led Minnesota past host Kansas City. The AL West-leading Twins won their fourth straight and seventh in eight games.

Tom Edens (1-1) pitched five innings and Gary Wayne worked 3 1-3 innings of one-hit relief for his first save. Mike Boddicker (11-11) gave up five runs on eight hits. The game was delayed by rain for 1 1/2 hours in the top of the sixth, and neither starter returned when it resumed.

Lenny Webster hit a two-run homer, his third, in the Minnesota ninth.

White Sox 7, Athletics 1

Alex Fernandez pitched a three-hitter and Lance Johnson went 4-for-4 as Chicago won in Oakland.

Fernandez (8-12) struck out nine, walked two and was hurt only by Mike Gallego's home run in the fifth inning. The White Sox won for the fifth time in six games.

Johnson hit his 15th home run and Bo Jackson went 2-for-4 with a double before leaving for a pinch-runner.

Ron Darling (3-3) lost again. He began his AL career at 3-0 with a 1.69 ERA in four starts, but since then has gone 0-3 with a 7.17 ERA.

Angels 4, Rangers 2

Lance Parrish hit two solo home runs and Dave Winfield had his 24th homer, helping Mark Langston get his 17th victory.

California, coming off consecutive 1-0 victories for the first time in its history, won its fourth straight game.

Langston (17-7) allowed five hits and struck out seven in seven innings. Bryan Harvey got his 38th save, striking out Jack Daugherty and retiring Jeff Huson on a grounder with the bases loaded to end it.

The Angels had hit only one home run in 12 games since Buck Rodgers replaced Doug Rader as manager before Parrish homered in the fifth against Oil Can Boyd (1-5) for a 2-1 lead.

Parrish, who also doubled, hit his 17th home run in the seventh. Parrish had not homered in more than three weeks, and had not connected at home since July 1.

Orioles 8, Yankees 0

Bob Milacki pitched a five-hitter for his fifth career shutout and improved to 5-0 lifetime against New York. Milacki (9-8) struck out five and walked one. He is the only Baltimore starter with a winning record.

Chito Martinez hit his 11th home run in the fifth inning off Scott Sanderson (14-9). Sam Horn hit his 19th in the sixth against Dave Eiland.

The host Orioles scored four runs in fifth, helped by an error by rookie third baseman Pat Kelly, and four more runs in the sixth, aided by Kelly's two throwing errors.
