

County will wait to pick weed board

By KAY PECK
 Staff Writer

Deaf Smith County commissioners decided on Monday to delay the selection of a board for the newly-formed noxious weed district.

"I think we should get input from the public before we start appointing this board," said Precinct 2 Commissioner Austin Rose Jr. during Monday's regular commission meeting.

County officials will continue the process of selecting weed district board members during the next regular commission meeting on Sept. 11. Rural voters in Deaf Smith County approved the formation of that district in an election on Aug. 5. The weed district (established to aid in the control of noxious weeds) includes all of the county excluding land located within the Hereford city limits.

State law indicates that the initial board for a newly approved weed district will be appointed by the county commission. Those first board members will serve staggered terms. Once those first terms have expired, voters from the district will approve subsequent board members.

During discussions about the organization of a weed district board, commissioners indicated that a representative from each of the four county precincts would be appointed in addition to one member at large.

"First go-around, I think the member-at-large should be a (county) commissioner... since we're going to be the biggest spender," said Precinct 4 Commissioner Johnny Latham.

The spread of weeds from public right-of-ways onto agricultural land is a major factor for the formation of weed districts. Once the Deaf Smith County Noxious Weed District begins enforcing weed control, county commissioners expect a hefty investment in the treatment of weeds along county right-of-ways.

Local residents should contact their county commissioners if they wish to provide input about the selection of weed district board members.

It is likely that county commissioners will be given ample time to prepare their weed control program. Fred Fox, chief appraiser for the Deaf Smith County Appraisal District, informed commissioners on Monday that it is already too late to include weed district funding in 1989 tax collection.

"What would be the deadline to get it on this year's tax?" Commissioner Rose asked.

"It's already passed," Fox said.

Tax collection for the district is complicated by that fact that a weed district is not collected as the standard ad valorem tax which funds most entities. Instead of being based on land value, a weed district collects a flat fee per acre with a maximum of six cents per acre.

Once a weed district board is formed, that board will decide whether or not to collect taxes through the existing appraisal district. Although the new tax would require some additional computer software, Fox does not foresee any long-term problems in integrating a weed district into current tax roles.

"It would just appear as one more item on our tax statement," Precinct 1 Commissioner John Stribling said.

During Monday's meeting, commissioners decided to retain Gerhardt and Puckett, P.C. for preparation of an independent audit of county records. A second proposal for the audit was submitted by Brown, Graham and Company, P.C. This company nearly missed the opportunity to submit a proposal because of apparent confusion as to the exact time of the deadline. Representatives of the company arrived after the commission closed the acceptance of proposals at 9 a.m.

"I don't like not accepting a proposal, but that was the time (deadline)," said Precinct 3 Commissioner Troy Don Moore.

The commissioners' dilemma was eased when Bill Allen, representative from Gerhardt and Puckett, stated that he had no objection to the commission accepting the second proposal. With both proposals before them, commissioners faced another difficult decision.

"I've never taken a bid on an estimate before," Commissioner Stribling said.

Accounting firms are forbidden by law from submitting exact bids for professional services. Gerhardt and Puckett estimated a range between $9,000 and $11,000 for the audit. Brown, Graham and Company gave an estimate of $9,400.

In the end, commissioners decided to stay with Gerhardt and Puckett, the company which prepared last year's audit.

After opening bids from Whiteface Ford and Stevens Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, commissioners accepted the low bid for a new pickup for Precinct 4. A 1989 four-wheel drive pickup will be purchased by the county from Whiteface Ford for $14,800.

Other bids included a 1990 Ford four-wheel drive for $15,697, and a 1989 three-quarter ton four-wheel drive Chevrolet for $15,296.73.

Commissioners tabled the awarding of bids for printing and office supplies in order to have time to analyze bids. While some companies listed separate items and prices and then gave a total figure, others included only the itemized list with individual prices. The commission decided that additional time was needed to put the bids in a form that could be easily compared.

Fiestas Patrias royalty

Consuelo Castillo, left, was named 1989 Fiestas Patrias queen during ceremonies Saturday night at San Jose Catholic Church in Hereford. Named as princess was Annabel Liscano, right. Miss Castillo will be crowned by 1988 queen Delinda Hernandez during ceremonies Sept. 15-16 during the annual Fiestas Patrias celebration here.

Consuelo Castillo, 16, of Hereford was named the queen of Fiestas Patrias for 1989 during competition and ceremonies Saturday at San Jose Catholic church in Hereford.

Miss Castillo, 16, a junior at Hereford High School, becomes the 35th queen crowned locally. A queen has been crowned locally for all but one year since 1954.

Consuelo, the daughter of Augustin and Lupe Castillo, will reign over the Fiestas Patrias celebration Sept. 15-16 in Hereford.

Miss Castillo is an honor roll student, a member of the HHS band and PALS, and was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students.

The princess is Annabel Liscano, 15, a sophomore at HHS. She's the daughter of Joe and Carmen Liscano of Hereford.

Miss Liscano is a member of the National Honor Society and Keywanettes at HHS.

The contestants were judged on a written essay and oral presentation of an item dealing with Hispanics and its past, present and future impacts.

Miss Castillo dealt with politics, going back to 1810 when Father Hidalgo began the independence movement; through Mexico's political struggles after gaining independence; the Hispanic leaders of today, and keys to future political power.

She cited local leaders Lupe Chavez and Delia Griego, state district judge Abe Lopez of Amarillo, and state/national leaders Maria Luisa Mercado, Lauro Cavazos and Henry Cisneros.

"These are example we can use as role models," Miss Castillo said.

"The key to the future is education," Miss Castillo emphasized. "Push yourself and your children. Educate your children for the future."

Miss Liscano's presentation was on the music of Mexico from the original music of the native Indians to the European influence brought by the Spaniards, the African influence added by slaves, and religious music.

"The music is known as an art, and the younger generation is causing the music to change," Miss Liscano said. "We must make sure that we keep the music alive."

Events planned for the Fiestas Patrias celebration include game and food booths, two dances, Ms. Mercado as a special speaker, coronation of the queen and princess, and a parade over Sept. 15-16.

Lubbock: negotiate for hostages

LUBBOCK (AP) - President Bush is getting passing grades in his political barometer city of Lubbock, at least when it comes to the issue of Americans being held hostages in the Middle East.

Of 400 Lubbock County residents surveyed last week by Southwest Research Associates of Lubbock, 61 percent said Bush has handled the hostage situation to their satisfaction since the slaying of Marine Lt. Col William Higgins.

But 30 percent said Bush should act more aggressively, perhaps by bombing Iran or terrorist bases in Lebanon.

Almost four-fifths of Lubbock residents said they favor negotiating with Iran or Syria if it could lead to the release of the eight Americans believed held hostage in Lebanon or elsewhere in the Middle East. Seventy-nine percent favored negotiations, 16 percent didn't and 5 percent didn't answer.

The monthly survey underwritten by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is called "The Pulse of America."

The poll originated after Bush said in March that the South Plains city of 160,000 reflected the country's prevailing political mood. He said at the time that Lubbock residents supported John Tower, who was undergoing his ultimately unsuccessful fight to be named Secretary of Defense.

Lubbock's business and political leaders decided to capitalize on Bush's comment and billed Lubbock as the successor to Peoria, Ill., as the city synonymous with middle America. President Nixon immortalized the Illinois town by asking, "Will it play in Peoria?"

The latest Lubbock poll was devised shortly after the killing of Marine Lt. Col. William Higgins, who had been taken hostage in Lebanon in February 1988. An Iran-backed group said it hanged Higgins July 31, though the claim has not been confirmed.

Although Lubbock residents seemed to urge caution following Higgins' death, they became more hawkish in the event another American hostage is killed.

Asked, "If another hostage is killed by the terrorists, would you be in favor of bombing Iran, Syria or Lebanon in retaliation even if it meant the death of the remaining hostages," 48 percent did not favor bombing and 40 percent did. Because the poll's sampling error is plus or minus 4 percent, the answer to that question is not conclusive.

Respondents were also evenly split over support to Israel. About 42 percent said they believe American foreign policy in the Middle East is tied too closely to economic and military support for Israel, and 37 percent said the United States' support for Israel is about right and should be continued.

Pollsters also found Lubbock County residents, by a 2-to-1 margin, are against a state constitutional amendment to increase Texas legislators' pay from about $7,200 a year to $22,000 a year. Texans will be given a chance to vote on the matter in November.

The random telephone survey has an accuracy of plus or minus 4 percent with a confidence level of 95 percent, spokeswoman Lisa Nowlin said. That means that if everyone in the county were polled, there is a 95 percent chance that the poll's results would be within 4 percentage points of the countywide sample.

Camera adjustment saved Triton photos

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) - Voyager's pictures of Neptune's moon Triton - which revealed a unique world of icy volcanoes - might have been washed out if not for last-minute adjustments to the spacecraft's cameras, NASA says.

"It wouldn't have wiped out the mission, but would have made a lot of photographs embarrassingly overexposed," said Rich Terrile, an astronomer at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. "It would have been an incredible disappointment." "They would have been white images," Voyager project scientist Edward Stone said Monday.

Meanwhile, scientists said the spacecraft found that Triton is the coldest body ever measured in the solar system, and that Neptune has something in common with Los Angeles: smog.

Only days before Voyager made its closest approach to Neptune last Thursday and zipped past Triton on Friday, scientists recognized that the frosty surface of Neptune's largest moon reflected much more light than originally expected, said Mary Beth Murrill, a JPL spokeswoman.

Engineers compensated by sending Voyager new computer commands reducing the exposure time on its television cameras from 6.68 seconds to 3.84 seconds for the best close-ups of Triton, Murrill said.

Those photographs revealed that giant craters, called calderas, once oozed an icy form of lava that flooded thousands of square miles of lunar terrain. They also found what scientists believe are active ice volcanoes that explosively propel frozen nitrogen particles 20 miles skyward.

During its Neptune encounter, Voyager's cameras discovered six moons in addition to Triton and Nereid, which were discovered from Earth. They also found three thin rings of debris and five broad rings encircling the solar system's fourth-largest planet.

NASA engineers are investigating the feasibility of reprogramming Voyager to take a snapshot of the entire solar system sometime in the coming months, said Lanny Miller, manager of the flight engineering office.

By 9 p.m. PDT tonight, Voyager will be 2.76 billion miles from Earth and 4.55 million miles behind Neptune, speeding toward the edge of the solar system at 37,568 mph.

Voyager 2's ultraviolet detector determined Triton's surface temperature is 400 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Rains sweep region

By JOHN BROOKS
 Managing Editor

Torrential rains fell in northwestern portions of Deaf Smith County on Saturday, then Hereford was drenched with one of its biggest rains of a dry summer on Sunday afternoon and night.

Officially, Hereford received .19 of an inch on Saturday, 1.09 inch in Sunday's storms, and another .53 inch of rain in the showers Monday night and this morning through 8:20 a.m., according to the official recording at KPAN Radio.

The showers were spotty, though.

At Northwest Grain at Milo Center, about 10 miles north of Hereford, Cal Mitts reported 1.7 inches of rain over the weekend.

"About three or four miles west of here we're out in a field putting down fertilizer," Mitts said Monday morning. "But down on my farm, just a little north of the Cowboy Country Club (about 10 miles west-northwest of Hereford) we got right at four inches."

Another .30 fell in the Milo Center area on Monday night and this morning.

The biggest rains in the county fell in the Bippus area, about 40 miles northwest of Hereford.

Kenneth Homfeld reported six inches of rain on Saturday, then another inch on Sunday.

"It started raining just after dinner on Saturday, and it just kept raining," Homfeld said Monday morning. "It looks like a river out here. All of the lakes are full."

Bobby Hammock, Precinct 2 foreman at Bootleg, said he only recorded about .10 inch over the weekend, but he saw the storm that hit in the Bippus area.

"I was over on my brother's place north of Bellview (in New Mexico) and we could see that cloud over there," Hammock said. "It just sat there for a long time. We could tell somebody over there was getting it." Hammock recorded another .25 inch this morning, and it was raining at Bootleg at 9 a.m. today.

At Dawn, the J.E. McCabe's recorded only .23 inch of rain from the weekend showers, but picked up an inch of rain this morning.

The showers were spawned by tropical moisture kicked up into the area by Kiko, a hurricane in the Gulf of California until it crossed into the peninsula, where it weakened into a tropical storm, and two other tropical systems off the western coast of Mexico. The storms were strong enough to continue spreading moisture well up into the northern High Plains, where heavy rains have fallen in the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas.

Man jailed after burning Texas flag in Amarillo

AMARILLO (AP) - A 41-year-old man was arrested after he ignited a Texas flag in the street in front of the Potter County Courthouse, authorities said.

"If someone wants to burn a flag, my advice would be to read all the codes very carefully," said Potter County Sheriff Jimmy Don Boydston.

The man was arrested Monday afternoon on complaints of not having a permit required for burning, attendance of an open fire without an extinguishing device and discarding a burning object.

Authorities said the man had called a television station and the sheriff's office to tell them that he planned to burn a flag.

Sheriff's deputies were nearby when the man first pinned a Texas flag to the courthouse building then placed it in the street. He held up a sign reading "Don't Mess With Texas," then poured charcoal starter fluid on the flag and ignited it with a cigarette lighter.

"We were there as much to arrest him for fire code violations as to protect him," Boydston told the Amarillo Globe-News.

Closing planned for PCS Home Health Agency

The Panhandle Community Services has announced the closing of its Home Health Agency, it was announced Friday by Johnny Raymond, PCS executive director.

Workers' compensation costs have forced the termination of the agency, according to Raymond. PCS had delivered Home Health to 25 Panhandle counties for 15 years. Services provided by the agency include meal preparation, house cleaning, general errands, bathing, medication, physical therapy and doctor's orders for medical services.

Raymond said the decision will affect 1,200 elderly clients and 2,000 immediate family members in the Panhandle, as well as 470 employees of the agency.

PCS has notified the funding sources of its intent and all contracts will be terminated Sept. 30, said Raymond. "My hope is that another agency will assume this vital program and not allow these elderly people to suffer and be without these vital services." He said the clients were elderly, disabled and low income.

The PCS director said that within the last seven months, worker compensation costs amounted more than $91,000 in just the health-related programs. The Department of Human Services does not allow for such unforeseen and uncontrollable costs, said Raymond.

He said many of the agency employees are elderly people hired by the agency on a part-time basis and live on a fixed income. "They really depended on the 15 hours per week to supplement their meager earnings."

"We were hoping the Legislature would provide relief on this problem," said Raymond. "Instead it appears an additional 30 percent increase is facing everyone beginning Jan. 1."

Raymond said the services provided by Home Health were designed to assist the elderly to stay in their homes and not be forced into convalescent homes. He added that every county in the Panhandle would be affected by termination of the services.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has been "bringing" things home from the office for years. I am scared to death that one of these days he will be caught. Lately I've been having nightmares and wake up in a cold sweat.

He has brought home furniture (desk, tables, chairs), tools, office equipment (both manual and electrical) and clothing (uniforms, including pants, shirts, shoes and jackets), which he wears around the house but not to work. How he gets the stuff out is a mystery to me. Either the guards are blind or they are in on it.

I have told him many times I hate to see him bring these things into the house. He looks me straight in the eye and says the business is so big they can afford it and because he has worked for so long "they owe it to me."

At age 40 he is not about to listen to a lecture on morality. His ideas are already formed and I know I can't change him. Our children are too young to understand what is going on, but I worry that one day they will discover the truth. When this happens I may have to take them and leave.

I have always been a very scrupulous person and it is difficult for me to describe the agony I have suffered over this man's lack of integrity.

In most other ways he is a good husband and, believe it or not, he is an excellent father. No one would dream that my husband steals like this from his employer.

Can you offer me some words of wisdom? I feel helpless and trapped and afraid of the future. -- The Wife of a Man With Taking Ways.

Dear Wife: You are in a tough spot because you cannot ask anyone to speak to your husband about his "problem" for obvious reasons. Your best hope is to hand him this column and tell him the letter is yours.

I will address myself to this "good husband" and "excellent father," and pray along with you that between the two of us we can reach him.

DEAR FRIEND: This is no lecture. It's just me, dishing out a little common sense.

For years you have been stealing from your employer. Granted, the business is big and the things you lift periodically won't break them. Also granted, you have worked there a long time. But neither of these facts justifies stealing merchandise and equipment. In the eyes of the law, you are a criminal and that's the way you will probably be dealt with.

So far, you've been lucky -- but eventually your luck will run out and you will be caught. Every time you steal something you reduce the odds of getting away with it. When you are finally apprehended your good name will be forever tarnished, you will bring suffering and shame to your wife and children, lose your job (with all the benefits built up over the years), and there is a good chance you will go to jail.

Take a good look at all the things you've stolen over the years. Are they worth your reputation, your family, your job and a stretch in the slammer? I leave it up to you, mister.

Confidential to don't like what we see: I'm not surprised. It's not a very pretty sight. Tell that goof to stay home or bring his wife along when he comes to visit. He sounds like a case of arrested development to me. As for your 12-year-old daughter, she needs to have her speedometer adjusted. Order her to stay off his lap and to keep her fingers out of his hair.

People once believed they could keep their cattle healthy by hanging boughs of the mountain ash tree in front of the stables.

Council meets for luncheon

Seven clubs were present with all having 100 percent attendance. They included Bippus, Cultural, Draper, Ford, North Hereford, Westway, Wyche, Messenger and Dawn Clubs.

The minutes were read by Kate Bradley, recording secretary. Sherrie Blackwell, corresponding secretary, read a thank you note from Judy Flynn expressing appreciation for the vest workshop.

Standing committee reports were given by Byrdie Fellers, finance chairman; Maudette Smith, yearbook; Edith Higgins, recreation; and Mariellen Homfeld, education.

Several announcements were made. A vest workshop will be held Nov. 16; programs on Festive Foods is planned at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Oct. 17; and delegates will be attending a state meeting in Corpus Christie Sept. 12-14. Also, reports to council will be made at noon Sept. 25.

It was reported that Deaf Smith County 4-H'ers have excelled the last few years.

The women also discussed forming a new evening extension club for those who are interested.

Council officers present at the meeting included Odom, Smith, Bradley, Fellers, and Naomi Brisendine.

MOTIVATING EMPLOYEES
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) - Complimenting workers on a job well done and being as free with praise as with criticism are two ways to motivate the people who work for you.

The advice comes from a Manager's Quiz compiled by the Metropolitan Economic Development Council of Richmond.

A.J.C. Wood, council executive director, says other motivating factors for workers include: giving them proper training, placing them in jobs with growth potential, making sure they understand what they are supposed to do, and having them attend refresher and continuing education courses.

Spikers fifth in Lubbock tourney

The Hereford Whiteface volleyball team took fifth place at the Lubbock Invitational Tournament held Friday and Saturday at Coronado High School.

The Herd recorded a 3-1 mark for the weekend, upping its season mark to 5-1, in matches with El Paso, Andress, Coronado, Borger and Lamesa. Hereford suffered its only loss of the tourney, and season, against Coronado, 15-8, 15-10, in the second round. Coronado eventually won the 16-team event with a 15-5, 15-2 win over Dumas in the finals.

Herd vs. EP Andress

Hereford had little trouble with Andress of District 1-5A, scoring a 15-2, 15-1, win in the opening round.

Nikki Self and Libby Kosub held serve for the Herd for most of the match as both recorded 13 service points. Self had four aces and Kosub three for the match.

Shantel Cornelius led with three kills while Self and Kosub added a pair each. Jessica Dearing also had

JV takes second at Borger

The Hereford junior varsity almost brought home the title of the Borger Junior Varsity Tournament, held Saturday at Borger High, but Dumas edged the Herd, 15-12, in the third game of the championship game.

Hereford defeated Perryton and Borger in the first two rounds of the tourney to run the season record to 3-1.

Herd JV vs. Perryton

Hereford walked through the first round of the eight-team tourney, downing the Rangers, 15-2, 15-9, in the Saturday morning match.

Jennifer Bullard was the leading server for the match, recording nine points.

Herd JV vs. Borger

Host team Borger forced the Herd to a third game, but Hereford rebounded for a 15-4, 15-12, 15-3 win in the second-round match.

Lori Sanders led with 13 points on serve. Robin White added eight service points.

Herd JV vs. Dumas

After Dumas took the first game of the title match, 15-8, Hereford scored a 15-5 win to force the deciding game.

Sanders served 11 points for the match with Bullard adding eight.

"Overall we had a very good tournament," junior varsity coach Lynn Gilbreath said. "We are playing at a much higher level than many of our opponents."

"In the championship match we had a few tough breaks at crucial times," Gilbreath added.

"I am very pleased with the girls' performance. They are doing a good job."

The JV returns to competition tonight by visiting Dalhart. Game time is 6 p.m.

a kill for the match.

Herd vs. Coronado

District 3-5A's Coronado handed the Herd its first loss of the season Friday, 15-8, 15-10, in the second-round match played on the Mustangs home floor.

Self led the Herd with six points on serve.

Cande Robbins and Kosub were credited with five kills each and Cornelius added a pair.

The Herd performed well on service receptions as Cornelius passed 12 serves to the setter while Robbins handled 11 serves successfully and Kosub 10.

Robbins also had eight digs for the match and Kosub and Jill West had six apiece.

Herd vs. Borger

Hereford downed Borger on Saturday, 15-0, 15-10, in the Herd's first competition against a District 1-4A opponent.

Self served up 15 points including two aces for the match and Kosub added three aces on her serve.

Kosub also led with five kills for the match while Krystal Sims, West and Cornelius each had three.

Poppo Richardson led with five digs.

Herd vs. Lamesa

Hereford wrapped up fifth place for the tourney Saturday with a 15-11, 15-1 victory over the Golden Tornadoes of District 3-3A.

Self again led the serving with 11 points and four aces. Robbins added seven points on her serve.

Richardson had six kills for the Herd and Robbins and West had five each.

Kosub and Cornelius both recorded four digs for the match.

Herd Coach Brenda Reeh said the team played well in the tournament, but made to many mistakes in the loss to Coronado.

"We were a little shocked against Coronado," she said. "They were the first team we've played this year who hit and blocked us very well. We got behind early in that match and never could quite catch up."

"We just can't allow any unearned points scored against us," Reeh added. "We must play mistake-free against each opponent if we expect to become a real powerhouse."

The Herd travels to Dalhart this evening for a rematch of Thursday's season opener. Reeh said the varsity would again play two matches against the Golden Wolves. Game time for the first match is 5 p.m.

Mac is back, ready for U.S. Open

NEW YORK (AP) - John McEnroe is back on his game, back among the favorites in the U.S. Open, back in his home territory. Even Mac feels like he's back.

"I've come a long way and I've set myself up with an opportunity here," said the four-time U.S. Open champion who has not won this tournament, or any other Grand Slam event, since 1984. "I feel like I did some successful things the last year to put myself in a position not to have to play a Becker or Lendl until in the semifinals."

"If I play my best, I feel I can win. I feel I can give the top players a run for their money."

McEnroe is one of the top players again, rated fourth in the world. He won at Indianapolis and lost to Ivan Lendl, the world's No. 1 player, in the finals of the Canadian Open this summer.

On Monday, McEnroe beat Eric Winogradsky of France 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 in the first round of the American championship.

"I've been through it all here," said McEnroe, who grew up in Douglaston, five miles from the National Tennis Center.

Brad Gilbert must have felt the same way entering the Open. Gilbert, seeded eighth, had won his last three tournaments, the first man to put together such a string since Boris Becker in 1986.

Gilbert's match winning streak had reached 17, and he was primed for the Open. But a bout with a stomach virus sapped Gilbert and he lost to Todd Witsken 4-6, 7-6 (7-4), 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

"It was God's way of torturing you when you lose," Gilbert said. "I've only had it twice in my career. In fact, I had it seven years ago here. I hope it's another seven years before I get them again."

Gilbert was the only seed to lose Monday. Winners included both defending champions, Mats Wilander and Steffi Graf.

Wilander, who has not won a tournament this year, swept Horst Skoff of Austria 6-1, 6-3, 6-1. Graf, seeking her seventh Grand Slam title in the last eight major tournaments, routed Etsuko Inoue of Japan 6-3, 6-1.

Other seeded winners were Becker, Aaron Krickstein, Alberto Mancini, Jay Berger and Carl Uwe-Steeb among the men, and Zina Garrison, Monica Seles and Conchita Martinez of the women.

Five men, including the 10th-seeded Mancini, rallied from two-set deficits to win. Mancini, of Argentina, beat Jonathan Canter 3-6, 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-3.

Today, Chris Evert began what she has said would be her final U.S. Open. The six-time champion, who will retire from tournament competition after the Open, drew Bettina Fulco of Argentina. Martina Navratilova, Gabriela Sabatini, Lendl, Stefan Edberg, Jimmy Connors, Andre Agassi and Michael Chang also were scheduled.

Becker wasn't looking beyond his next opponent after manhandling David Pate 6-1, 6-3, 6-1. He certainly wasn't thinking about next week.

"It's too early to say, it's the first round of a 128-man draw and anything can happen," the second-seeded Becker said.

Graf admitted she is much more at ease this year than last, when she was trying - successfully, it turned out - to finish off the Grand Slam. She has lost only twice in 1989, but one was to Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario in the French Open final.

"It was much easier before the tournament, that's for sure," Graf said. "It's much easier than last year."

Nothing has come easy for Wilander this year. But he feels redemption would come with a victory here.

"Basically, if you win it, then 1989 was not such a bad year after all," he said. "On the other hand, you could get to the final and play a great match and lose and that would make it a pretty good year."

NFL begins steroid suspensions

NEW YORK (AP) - For the first time ever, NFL players are being suspended for using steroids.

Within minutes of hearing that a federal judge in Washington had given it the go-ahead, the league gave its teams the names of approximately 24 players who will be suspended for at least a month after testing positive for the muscle-enhancing substances.

The names were to be made public today.

The NFL planned to release the names on Monday, but the announcement was delayed when the players' union asked U.S. District Judge Thomas Hogan to issue a temporary restraining order to stop the league from implementing the suspension plan.

League spokesman Joe Browne declined to say exactly how many players under contract tested positive, but he did say "fewer than two dozen" were involved. Browne also said an unspecified number of other players among the 2,300 tested at training camps had tested positive but had already been cut by their teams.

Teams were required to reduce rosters to 60 players by today and to the regular-season limit of 47 by next Monday.

The steroids-testing plan stems from an announcement last March 21 by Commissioner Pete Rozelle in which he said that any player testing positive for steroids or agents used to mask them would be given the same treatment as anyone testing positive for illegal substances - a four-game suspension.

On Monday, the NFL Players Association went before Hogan, saying that releasing the names would damage the reputations of the players. It also claimed that the procedures under which 2,300 players were tested were "sloppy and unreliable."

But Hogan refused to grant the request, saying all players had been given ample warning that they would be disciplined for using steroids. He also said the union failed to show how its members would face irreparable harm under the league's plan.

In seeking the temporary restraining order, the union called the accuracy of the testing procedures "highly questionable" and said that identifying and suspending a player for steroid use would stigmatize him.

Hogan acknowledged that a suspension "could be fatal to a marginal player" and called his decision "a close call."

But he said the union's lawyers had failed to prove that players who might be suspended would suffer irreparable harm and added that most legal questions relating to the NFL's steroid-testing program must be left to an arbitrator to decide.

After failing in court, the union said it still hoped the league would reconsider the suspensions and release of the names.

The union's lawyers said they were considering whether to take further legal action. They may return to federal court Sept. 7 to seek a preliminary injunction against the NFL's plan and they also could appeal Hogan's ruling.

"The ball is in their court now, not Judge Hogan's," said Doug Allen, the union's assistant executive director. "We are not trying to hide steroid users and we're not condoning steroid use. We do think the testing methods are suspect."

Johnson to tell team starting QB

IRVING, Tex (AP) - Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson was expected to tell his players today who will start the season as their No. 1 quarterback.

The Cowboys start workouts for Saturday night's preseason game against the Houston Oilers today.

Johnson's starting lineup for the 1989 season will be announced in Texas Stadium just before the kickoff on Saturday night in a final preseason tuneup against the Houston Oilers.

However, the Cowboys' players will know before then because Johnson is expected to tell them at mid-week when they begin workouts in designated units.

Johnson, who says he doesn't want a two-quarterback system, will name either Troy Aikman or Steve Walsh, both rookies, as his pick.

Aikman, the $11 million, first-round pick in the regular NFL draft, was expected to be named the starter because he has been more consistent in the preseason than Walsh, who has had some spectacular games but also has thrown two interceptions. Walsh, who played for Johnson at the University of Miami, was the top pick in the supplemental draft.

"We will have a starting quarterback but our second team quarterback will get some action," Johnson said. "We won't have a two-quarterback system but we won't necessarily have one quarterback going all the way in a game. I'll have no set schedule when I play the backup. I want to leave the door open for both quarterbacks to play. I'll continue to evaluate because they are both rookies and we need to find out the strengths of each quarterback."

Johnson said both quarterbacks "are farther ahead than any rookie quarterbacks you've ever seen."

He said he felt the competition between the pair had "brought out the best in them. They are so close it would be an injustice to play just one."

Aikman has completed 18 passes in 32 attempts for 177 yards and two touchdowns. He has no interceptions.

Walsh has hit 25 of 53 passes for 348 yards and four touchdowns. He also has served up three interceptions.

Dallas is 2-1 in the preseason, losing 24-21 in overtime to Denver on Saturday night.

Walsh's interception in overtime led to Denver's winning field goal.

Johnson said both will play against Houston but added "we need to focus on the starter. I just don't like the two-quarterback system. We'll have a starter and it could be a long stretch with no action for the backup."

Asked if he thought it would bother the starter to have the constant pressure to produce, Johnson said "looking over your shoulder isn't that bad. Competition brings out the best in people."

Rose unhappy with remarks

CINCINNATI (AP) - Baseball Commissioner A. Bartlett Giamatti says the agreement banning Pete Rose from baseball leaves Giamatti free to express his personal opinion that the former Cincinnati Reds manager bet on baseball.

Rose said he felt he was double-crossed by Giamatti's remarks, made during the news conference last Thursday at New York in which the commissioner announced Rose's lifetime banishment.

"Just 12 hours earlier, we signed that agreement in good faith, and there he was saying he thinks I bet on baseball," Rose told The Cincinnati Post in an interview published Monday.

"The only reason I signed that agreement was that it had no finding that I bet on baseball. We got what we wanted, and we didn't have to go another eight months and spend another three-quarters of a million dollars," Rose said.

On Monday, Giamatti said that Rose appeared to misunderstand the agreement.

Mets win Cy Young matchup, 1-0

By DICK BRINSTER
AP Sports Writer

Neither Frank Viola nor Orel Hershiser, participants in the first-ever matchup of pitchers coming off Cy Young Award seasons, would admit to being moved by what amounted to the stuff of which dreams are made.

Until Viola was traded to the National League, such a showdown would have been virtually unthinkable, pure Hollywood. Naturally, any decent script writer would have it end 1-0.

Ridiculous. But that's exactly what happened Monday night in Los Angeles when Viola pitched the New York Mets to victory over Hershiser and the Dodgers.

Still, the principals in one of the more ballyhooed games this season seemed underwhelmed by it all.

"It's not that big of a deal," Viola said of the occasion, which also was the first matchup of the last two World Series MVPs.

Hershiser, who shut out the Mets in Game 7 and became MVP of the National League playoffs last season, viewed it similarly.

"It wasn't really Frank," he said. "I really just went out there and pitched against the New York Mets."

Viola pitched a masterful three-hitter, striking out five and walking none for his first NL shutout and complete game. The 26-year-old left-hander, 24-7 last season for the Minnesota Twins, had 10 shutouts in his American League years.

In another bit of Hollywood, Jack Clark bettered the request of an Easter Seals poster girl who'd asked him to hit a homer. He hit two and tied a career high with six RBIs as San Diego whipped Montreal 9-4.

Elsewhere, it was Philadelphia 9, San Francisco 1; St. Louis 3, Cincinnati 2; Chicago 6, Houston 1, and Atlanta 5, Pittsburgh 2.

While he didn't match Viola pitch for pitch, the 30-year Hershiser, who spun magic a year ago when he set a record with 59 scoreless innings en route to a 23-8 finish, didn't need to issue any apologies. He allowed eight hits in eight innings, struck out four and walked one.

Hershiser, 14-10, leads the league with a 2.32 earned-run average.

The game's only run came in on Gregg Jefferies' third-inning single, a groundout and Howard Johnson's RBI single.

Padres 9, Expos 4

Clark's pair of three-run homers helped 1988's top draft pick, Andy Benes, to his second straight victory. Clark's homers, his 19th and 20th, came off Kevin Gross, 10-9.

Benes, 2-2, pitched 6 2-3 innings, allowing five hits, striking out eight and walking five. Mark Davis collected his 32nd save.

Phillies 9, Giants 1

The Giants must have thought they were seeing double when the Hayes boys came to bat for the Philadelphia Phillies.

Although unrelated, Von and Charlie Hayes hit back-to-back doubles in the same direction in both the second and third innings.

Ken Howell, 11-9, allowed five hits in eight innings. Rick Reuschel, 15-6, gave up seven runs and seven hits in 2 1-3 innings in his worst outing since since 1987.

Cardinals 3, Reds 2

A two-out, two-strike, two-run single by Pedro Guerrero capped a three-run eighth inning.

Guerrero drove in his 89th and 90th runs with a hit off Rob Dibble, 7-4, after Cincinnati rookie Scott Scudder carried a four-hitter and a 2-0 lead into the inning.

Scudder left after Todd Zeile grounded out, and Denny Walling doubled pinch-hitting for John Costello, 3-2. Todd Worrell pitched the final inning for his 20th save.

Braves 5, Pirates 2

Pete Smith, who came into the game with a 9.32 ERA against Pittsburgh, pitched 6 2-3 innings. Smith, 4-13, allowed five hits, struck out four and walked three.

Jeff Blausner hit his third home run in three games and ninth of the season.

Trailing 2-0, the Braves scored four runs in the fifth inning against Bob Walk, 11-9.

Mike Stanton worked the last two innings for his first major league save.

Cubs 6, Astros 1

Greg Maddux won for the ninth time in 12 decisions and Shawn Dunston hit a two-run double in Chicago's four-run first inning. Maddux, 15-10, struck out four and walked two in his sixth complete game.

Jose Cano made his major-league debut for the Astros, giving up five runs and five hits in five innings. After the rocky start, he retired 10 straight Cubs before Lloyd McClendon hit his 10th homer, in the fifth.

Esasky powers BoSox past Tigers

By The Associated Press

Nick Esasky is having a career year with the Boston Red Sox. It may also be his only year at Fenway Park.

Esasky hit a three-run homer in the first inning Monday night as the Red Sox completed a five-game sweep of Detroit with a 6-3 victory over the Tigers. Esasky has 26 homers and leads the American League with 93 RBIs.

Esasky is a free agent at the end of the season and has expressed a desire to play in Atlanta. He hits a ton there and makes his off-season home in Marietta, Ga.

"I'm not deciding now," Esasky said. "But it's good to know others might be interested."

The first baseman was traded by Cincinnati along with reliever Rob Murphy to Boston for first baseman Todd Benzing, infielder Luis Vasquez and pitcher Jeff Sellers on Dec. 13, 1988.

For the Reds last season, Esasky hit 15 homers with 62 RBIs. His previous career high for homers was 22 in 1987.

"I'm just trying to relax and swing the bat," Esasky said. "I've been having a lot of fun lately. But I've been having fun all year."

Will it be enough fun to keep him in Fenway?

"Nick's a good hitter and he's in a groove," Boston third baseman Wade Boggs said. "He's one of the best - and he's doing it all for us, not just with home runs but with other hits."

Elsewhere in the American League, it was Oakland 7, New York 3; Milwaukee 8, Toronto 2, and Minnesota 5, Seattle 4 in 10 innings.

Esasky's three-run homer off Jeff Robinson, 3-4, in the first inning enabled him to take the RBI lead from Texas' Ruben Sierra, who has 92.

Mike Boddicker, 12-9, shut out the Tigers on three singles for five innings before tiring and needing relief help in the seventh as the Red Sox extended their longest winning streak of the year to seven games.

After allowing three hits and one run in the sixth, Boddicker gave up two singles to start the seventh and was replaced by Rob Murphy, who pitched 2 1-3 innings and allowed a run. Lee Smith got the last two outs for his 19th save.

Athletics 7, Yankees 3

Dave Stewart became baseball's first 18-game winner, Dave Parker and Walt Weiss homered during a barrage of eight straight hits and Oakland beat New York at Yankee Stadium.

Stewart, 18-8, moved ahead of Houston's Mike Scott and St. Louis' Joe Magrane as the top winner in the major leagues.

Andy Hawkins, 13-13, got tagged for 10 hits and five runs and left after three consecutive hits started the third inning.

Brewers 8, Blue Jays 2

Robin Yount had three hits, including his 15th homer, and newcomer Ed Romero drove in two runs.

Tom Filer, 5-2, allowed two runs and four hits over five innings and Bill Krueger gave up one hit the rest of the way for his third save.

John Cerutti, 9-8, allowed four runs, one earned, and nine hits in 5 2-3 innings.

Twins 5, Mariners 4

Seattle lost a club record-tying 12th straight game as Kirby Puckett doubled home Dan Gladden with two outs in the 10th inning.

With one out in the 10th, Wally Backman singled and was forced at second on Gladden's grounder to third before Puckett doubled up the right-center field gap against reliever Mike Schooler, 1-5.

Jeff Reardon, 5-3, who blew a save opportunity in the ninth, retired Seattle in order in the 10th inning for the victory.

Kendalls to appear during Tri State Fair Sept. 20

The Kendalls are scheduled to appear as another free show at the Amarillo Tri State Fair on Wednesday, Sept. 20. The fair, scheduled for Sept. 18-23, will feature five nights of free coliseum concerts.

Royce and Jeannie Kendall have surely earned the title, "The First Family" in country music. Their unique vocal sound and resulting success as a father-daughter duo, have helped open doors for family groups to follow, and paved the way for country groups in general.

In 1970, the pair came to Nashville where they enlisted the aid of legendary steel guitarist/producer, Pete Drake, for a demo session. Picked up by tiny Stop Records, the session yielded a Top 20 country cover of Peter, Paul and Mary's "Leaving on a Jet Plane," which became the title track of The Kendalls first LP. After several years and some moderate hits, they recorded "Heaven's Just A Sin Away", which shot to number one on the charts and stayed there for four consecutive weeks. Over the years, more than a dozen albums have produced a continuous stream of Kendall hits, including numerous number one singles.

The Kendall's concert is cosponsored by KCIT-TV of Amarillo. Two shows will be presented at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Tickets are free and may be obtained at locations selected by KCIT-TV after Sept. 4. For additional information about tickets, you may contact the sponsor or the Tri State Fair office at 806/376-7767.

Abundant Life

BY BOB WEAR
No Safe Shortcuts

One of the most common sources of human loss and disappointment is in the misconception that there are safe shortcuts to every destination. Much of the frustration and real hurt in the lives of people is caused by their efforts to make the shortcuts safe and workable.

Some people try to find a place in the work of the world without making adequate preparation. They try a shortcut and begin before they are ready. Consequently, they find the way difficult and unpleasant. They see opportunities that they must let others have and many instances in which they would like to fill. The shortcut which seemed so right turns out to be all wrong.

There are no safe shortcuts to a happy and a self-fulfilling relationship among the sexes. People flaunt the time tested laws of morality and the legal and traditional standards of behavior, thus creating miserable and overburdening conditions. The shortcut does not lead to a happy, satisfactory man-woman relationship.

Shortcuts may be safe and acceptable in some instances but there are none in truly worthwhile human behavior and accomplishments. In character development, personality improvement, business and professional success, satisfactory human relationships, happy marriages and successful home life, there are no safe shortcuts.

It has been said that most shortcuts are deadend streets and from many of them, there is no satisfactory retreat. We must remember that certain biological, physiological and psychological facts make many shortcuts unusually dangerous and others impossible.

There are right times and time tested ways for the experiences important to our well being and respect for this arrangement is essential to the abundant life.

Amarillo's Discovery Center featuring kite exhibition

Pat Hammond of San Antonio has her collection of kites on exhibit at the Amarillo Discovery Center. The public is invited to view the unusual kites at no charge.

On Sept. 4, in conjunction with Discover '89, Hammond will be presenting workshops free of charge at 1 p.m. and 3 p.m. After the workshops visitors are encouraged to raise their kites and spirits outside the Discovery Center. Visitors may bring their own kites, make their own, or may purchase them at the Discovery Center for a small fee.

The Hammond kite exhibit teaches not only of math and science but also of the social sciences with stories that cross the centuries: China in 2000 B.C., the Greeks and Icarus, the Middle Ages, and contemporary customs in Japan and Central America. Military uses of kites are explained with fascinating references to the American Civil War and World War II.

"It was a dark and stormy night. My men and I were outnumbered. We knew we would all die in battle the next day. Then I had an idea. I told the men to start making kites out of string and bamboo, whatever they could find. We rigged them with hummers for noise and with lanterns. In the darkest part of the night, we flew the kites over the camps of the enemy. Believing their guardian spirits were warning them, they panicked and led. We were saved." -Huan Theng, Chinese general, 202 B.C.

The Hammond kite exhibit has a point of view that is rare and refreshing. One of the kites you see outside the Discovery Center is a battered kite stuck in the branches of a tree. It is meant as a reminder that progress is made by overcoming failure. The theme of persistent endurance over failure is embedded in this exhibit, as is the idea that a kite is a vehicle for the invisible (wind) to be made visible.

"Only those than can see the invisible can do the impossible." -Pat Hammond.

Planning a wedding?

Engagements should be announced at least SIX WEEKS BEFORE the wedding date to ensure publication. Couples submitting engagement announcements after the deadline must choose to have either the engagement or the wedding photo published. The engagement announcement must include the date of the wedding.

Wedding and anniversary information should be submitted to The Brand the Monday before the next Sunday publication date. Wedding information submitted eight days or later after the wedding date will be shortened.

Black and white photos are preferred for engagements, weddings, and anniversaries but color photos may be used if suitable for reproduction. Lifestyles reporters do not take photos for engagements, weddings, anniversaries, or showers.

Shower forms are available at The Brand, as are engagement and wedding forms. This information will not be taken by phone.

Eliminating fire ants difficult

Fire ants are increasingly difficult to eliminate because of a change in the life histories of fire ant colonies. They are appearing with multiple queens instead of single queens, according to a study conducted by the University of Florida's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences and the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

These new colonies house as many as 200 queens per mound compared to single-queen mounds. When the queen in a single-queen nest dies, the entire nest dies; but when one of the multiple queens die, the workers scatter. In multiple-queen nests, fire ant workers have no loyalty to a single queen. This makes eliminating the colonies even more difficult.

The study, which found 30 to 40 fire ant mounds per acre back in the days of single queens, now reports that there are up to 5,000 mounds per acre. Entomologists are still trying to determine whether the multiple-queen ants are a hybrid or a different species altogether from single-queen ants. They hope that with more research, they'll be better able to understand--and control--fire ants.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR LAMB Why do older people suffer so much from the heat? This past summer has been terrible for me. I know that senior citizens are more likely to have heatstrokes. I usually do fairly well if I don't do anything, but if I try to garden or walk, it seems like I get hot so much faster than I used to. My tolerance to heat has really decreased.

DEAR READER It appears to be related to skin circulation. The body cools itself by evaporation, which includes sweating, or it can radiate heat from the hot blood circulating through the skin, much like the hot fluid from the engine of a car is cooled by the radiator. Researchers at the University of Nevada at Las Vegas' Desert Biology Research Center showed that older people did sweat as much as younger people when exercising in the heat. But their body temperature increased much more with the same amount of work. Since evaporative cooling from sweating is normal, that leaves decreased circulation to the skin as the underlying cause. It is important to protect yourself as you get older from excess heat exposure and not to try to work or exert when it is too hot.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

Hints
from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I recently purchased some wicker furniture at a flea market because it was such a great bargain I couldn't pass it up. The furniture is almost new but it didn't come with any care instructions.

Can you please share some tips on maintaining wicker? Thanks. — Rebecca K. El Paso, Texas

To keep the furniture dust-free, keep it vacuumed or dust it with a feather duster. If the furniture has a build-up of dust and grime, put it in the shower and rinse it off. You may have to scrub it to remove it all. With a little elbow grease you will have it looking clean in no time. Wipe off as much of the water as you can and allow the furniture to air dry.

Darker shades of rattan can be cleaned with lemon oil. Pieces that aren't lacquered do well when sprayed with a clear varnish to seal the surface.

Wicker can sure be an attractive addition to any home and takes only minimal care. — Heloise

BABY BOOK

Dear Heloise: I recently became a grandmother and as my daughter got closer to her delivery day I could sense her nervousness about the baby and all.

I decided I would do something special for her. I started cutting out all the baby hints from your column. I also checked magazines and cut out interesting articles and funny cartoons on raising children.

I purchased a photo album and began compiling the grandbaby book. After the baby was born I gave the book to my daughter.

Well, she loved it! It really touched her that I had taken the extra time to make a special book instead of just buying one. — Brenda Martellaro, Anaheim, Calif.

BREAD PUDDING

Dear Heloise: Whenever I make bread pudding (which is quite frequently) I look in the cookie jar and retrieve all broken pieces and large crumbs and add them to the pudding.

This avoids waste and lends a distinctive (and varying) flavor to the pudding. — Don Partridge, Los Angeles, Calif.

SNAP BEADS

Dear Heloise: When I gave birth to my son, I received, or should I say my son received, several sets of bright snap-together beads. Since he couldn't possibly play with all of them, I used one of the sets another way. There are 15 to the package and I used almost all of them.

I bought an inexpensive round clock and hung it on the wall in my son's room. Then I snapped the beads together and put them around the clock.

It sure made a cute addition to his room. So easy and inexpensive! — Louise Silvas, San Antonio, Texas

What a wonderful baby-shower gift this would be. — Heloise

BUTTON HELPER

Dear Heloise: When the buttons on sweaters or blouses start to loosen up, use matching embroidery floss. Use the 6-inch strands and the color will match exactly. — Dotty Decker, Silver Springs, Fla.

First home buyers scale down dreams

IRVINE, Calif. (AP) - The number of first-time home buyers hasn't decreased in the past five years, but the size of homes they buy has.

"The average first-time buyer is a few years older, buying a smaller house or purchasing a townhouse or condominium instead of a single family home," says Monte Helme of Century 21 Real Estate Corporation. "The first-time buyer may also be purchasing farther out and in less expensive neighborhoods."

According to a survey, the national percentage of first-time buyers remains at 40 percent of all home purchases, although rising prices and mortgage interest rates have caused prospective buyers to scale down their desires.

The National Association of Realtors says the average price of a starter home rose to $77,800 in March from $63,000 in 1985. Interest rates fluctuated between 9.3 and 12.4 percent.
