City to put new ED sales tax on ballot

By CINDY POTTORFF
Staff Writer

On May 5, Hereford residents will vote on whether to be assessed a one-half cent sales tax to be used for economic development. The Hereford City Commission voted unanimously to put the issue on the ballot.

The City Commission hopes to use the money generated by the new sales tax to form a five-person economic development corporation to be answerable to the economic development commission. The new tax would generate about $300,000 a year and the City Commission wants to commit to a minimum five-year period to spur economic development.

Deaf Smith County presently has about $50,000 budgeted for economic development, but commissioners do not believe $50,000 is adequate to develop new or expanding business and industry. The commission has been trying to stimulate economic development for several years but has decided it needs a paid professional to help spearhead the effort.

"It's a question of whether you want to sit and see if something happens or make something happen. Wouldn't you all agree?" Wes Fisher asked the rest of the commission.

Commissioner Tom LeGate pointed out that the tax can be repealed after a year if 10% of the voters petition to have it put back on the ballot.

"This is going to be a community deal if it passes. We're going to work together with the Chamber," said Fisher.

"This is to upgrade existing businesses, not just recruit new businesses," said Commissioner Paul Hamilton.

Most regional cities will probably soon be getting out of the landfill business, due to new regulations coming out of the Environmental Protection Agency and the Texas Department of Health. Linda Wyatt, regional engineer for the Department of Health, explained the new regulations to the commission.

New requirements for landfills will include daily cover on all sides; explosive (methane) gas control and monitoring equipment; open burning prohibited; 24 hour access control on all sides (consisting of a guard or manproof fence); drainage control for runoff, which must be treated before release; no liquids allowed; no hazardous wastes or PCBs allowed; all sites must have a closure and post-closure plan, which cities must maintain for 30 years through a security bond; new landfills and trenches will probably require liners with a leachate collection system under each new system; and ground water monitoring systems.

Previously-existing landfills would be exempted from the new regulations except that any future environmental problems would be the responsibility of the agencies operating the landfills. Future environmental problems would be addressed under conditions of the new regulations.

The cost of setting up a new landfill under the new regulations is a minimum of $1 to $1.5 million, Mrs. Wyatt said. Operating costs are not included in these figures. An estimated population of 50,000 would be required to support a landfill of these dimensions, according to Mrs. Wyatt. A regional plan is being developed in an attempt to address the problem.

The regulations are not yet final, so some changes may be made. However, any individual family living in a rural area without a disposal system can burn their own garbage (but only their own), according to Mrs. Wyatt. Presently, such families can legally burn their trash either above ground or in open pits.

In other business, the commission gave City Manager Darwin McGill approval to go ahead with preparing and submitting bids for the annual sealcoat program; to prepare specifications for painting the water tower at the Swift Plant; and to prepare specifications for repair of the Fullwood Building's roof and the Airport Terminal roof. Bids were accepted by Jacobsen Turf for the Golf Course mower and by Plains Chevrolet and John Chandler Ford for pickups.

Administrator rejects new SW Bell schedule

AUSTIN (AP) - A request for a March hearing on a proposed settlement in Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s rate case was rejected Monday by a Public Utility Commission administrative law judge.

PUC General Counsel Robert Rima had requested a March 12 hearing to focus on the agreement being proposed for commission approval by his office, Southwestern Bell and parties including a number of cities and long-distance companies.

Consumer groups and a coalition of about 80 cities have criticized the settlement, saying it wouldn't lower basic rates. Settlement backers say it would mean a $1.2 billion benefit to customers over four years and result in a modernized telephone network.

Administrative Law Judge J.K. Trostle asked parties that support the settlement to file testimony by Feb. 12 and set another meeting for Feb. 14.

"The ruling is not at all what we had hoped for in trying to bring rate reductions and other benefits to Texas customers," said Southwestern Bell spokesman Bob Digneo.

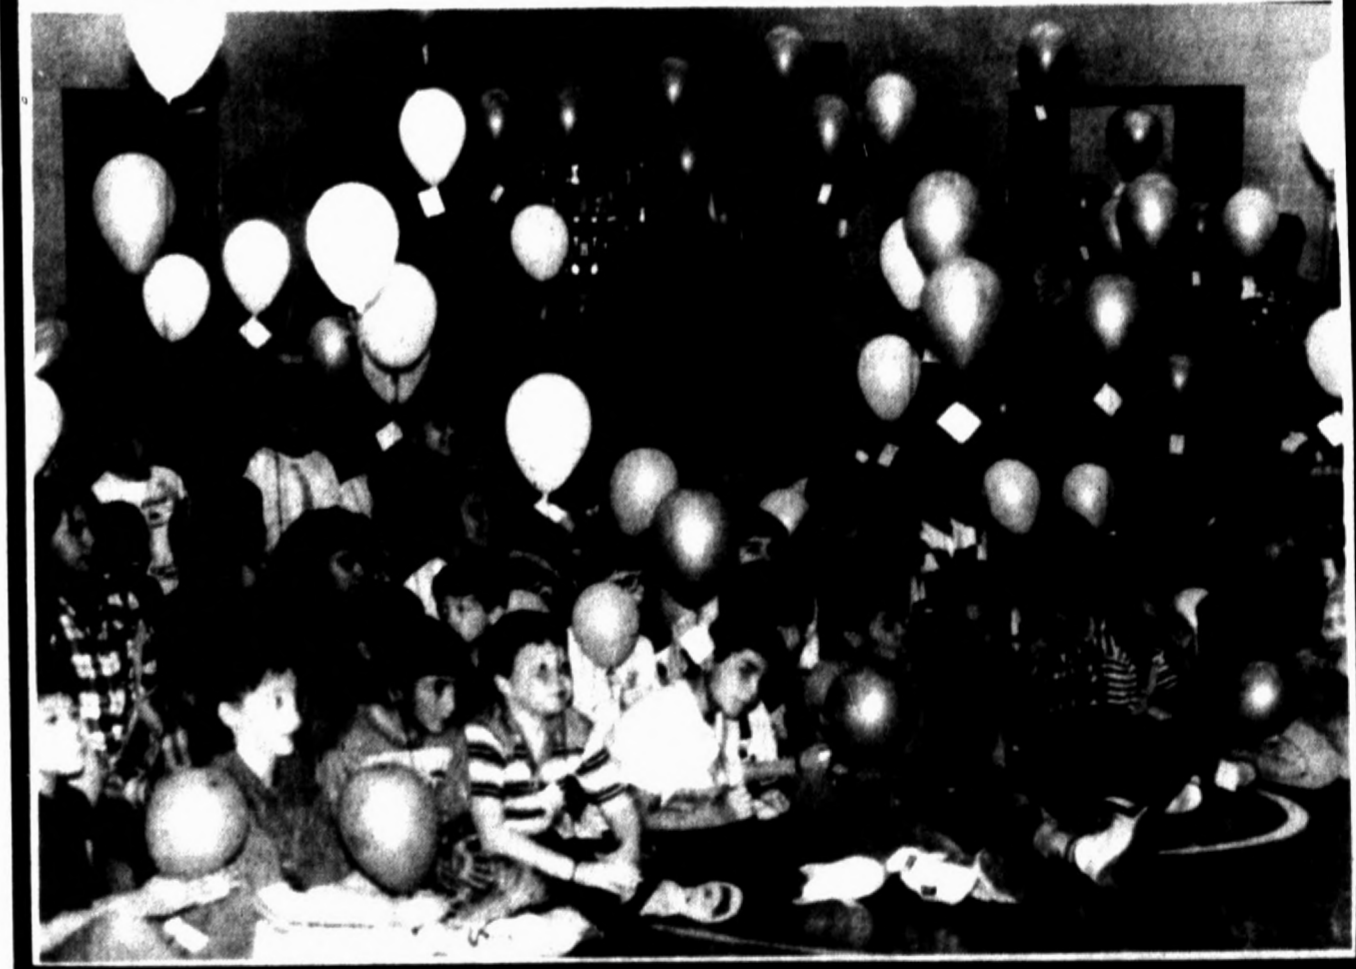

The general counsel and Southwestern Bell planned to appeal the decision.

Assistant Public Counsel John Laakso, representing residential and small commercial customers, praised the ruling, saying Rima's motion could have improperly restricted the case his office could put forth.

Cheering for test

Hereford Junior High cheerleaders help third graders at Tierra Blanca School in Hereford get enthused about doing well on the upcoming TEAMS test during a pep rally Monday at the school. Students held a balloon launch after the rally. Hereford third, fifth, seventh and ninth graders will be taking the test today and Wednesday to help judge their ability in several subject areas.

The trouble with owning your own home is that no matter where you sit, you're looking at something you should be doing.

Television announcer: "We've just received a bulletin of a catastrophe, the likes of which have never been known to mankind--but first, a word from our sponsor."

Charles Schlabs of Hereford has been named "Wheat Farmer of the Year" in Texas by the Fort Worth Star Telegram. We know that Deaf Smith County has some of the best farmers in the state, but it's great to see them recognized outside the area. Gerald Marnell was recently named the Star Farmer of the Year by the Young Farmers of Texas organization.

One of the highlights of the Texas Press Association's Mid-Winter Convention and Trade Show in Dallas over the weekend was a political rally featuring Texas' gubernatorial candidates. We had the opportunity to hear Democrats Jim Maddox and Mark White, and Republicans Clayton Williams, Jack Raines, Tom Luce and Rev. W.N. Otwell. It was a lively and entertaining evening of political speeches, followed by a question-and-answer session, and the only disappointment was that Democrat Ann Richards and Republican Kent Hance could not work the program into their schedules. If all 14 candidates (seven from each party) had shown up, however, it would have been a long evening.

The TPA group took the candidates to task for spending all their campaign funds with television, while seeking free news articles, photographs and editorial endorsements from the newspapers. None of the candidates had a good response for this issue, except to say that campaign consultants thought the name identification and imagery of television are vital to the race.

We thought all the candidates did a good job before the press audience. Personally, we were pleasantly surprised with the presentations made by Maddox and Raines--probably because neither of them impressed us that much in their TV commercials. White was impressive, as usual, and Luce came across as being sincere and well informed. Otwell made a fiery speech, but it was more a sermon than a political talk.

The school financing problem was another prime topic at the convention, and Texas Education commissioner William Kirby proposed a five-year plan to solve the court-ordered funding woes. He proposed raising up to $600 million this year with a mandate that the state improve equity by 5 percent each year--putting Texas at 95 percent equity by 1995.

Newton elected Democrat chairman

The Deaf Smith County Democratic Convention has been tentatively set for March 31 at 2 p.m. at the Hereford State Bank. The Democratic Party of Deaf Smith County set the date when it met Friday night at K-Bob's.

Lloyd Newton was elected interim county Democratic chairman after Helen Rose resigned the position. The position will be open for write-in candidates in the March 13 primary.

Running as write-in candidates for precinct chairman positions in the Democratic primary will be Gerald Parker for Precinct Seven, John A. Smith for Precinct Six, and Denzil Pulliam for Precinct Three.

A number of candidates running for election in the March Democratic primary introduced themselves at the meeting. Candidates present included Betty Lou Martin, Eileen Behunin and Margaret Perez, candidates for Tax Assessor-Collector; and Lupe Chavez and Austin Rose, candidates for County Commissioner, Precinct Two.

Two statewide offices, Attorney General and State Treasurer, were discussed by members.

Lawmakers file school equal funding bills

AUSTIN (AP) - Two state lawmakers said their $5.6 billion plan mandating a minimum county tax rate and having local school districts share the county tax revenue will equalize funding between rich and poor schools.

The measures filed Monday by Sen. Hector Uribe, D-Brownsville, and state Rep. Gregory Luna, D-San Antonio, are in response to a Texas Supreme Court ruling that the current public school funding system is unconstitutional.

The court has given lawmakers until May 1 to come up with a plan to change the system that allows funding disparities between property-poor and property-rich school districts. Lawmakers will begin meeting Feb. 27 in a special legislative session to tackle the school finance issue.

"The Supreme Court told us that a Band-Aid won't do. This bill meets the court's requirements and lays the groundwork for a prosperous 21st-century Texas," Uribe said.

The measures would increase school funding by $5.6 billion over the next three years.

Counties would have to assess a minimum tax rate of 80 cents per $100 of property value. Local districts would be allowed to enrich the county revenue with an additional 20-cent tax rate.

The counties would distribute the taxes back to the local districts. Luna said the legislation "upgrades the state's property-poor school districts by leveling up educational funding throughout Texas."

Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, a co-author of the proposal, said, the bills "will replace the conflict between rich and poor school districts by giving both a common interest in funding quality education for everyone."

Pig peddlers prove potbelly pigs popular

FORT WORTH (AP) - This little pig peddler went to market, and he says he's certainly glad he did.

Lorne McMillan sold 15 Vietnamese potbelly pigs at the Southwestern Livestock Show and Rodeo, which concluded Saturday, and accepted cash deposits on 10 more. The commercial sales booth, which he ran along with Pat Birmingham, was the hit of the livestock show, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported.

Prices on the tiny porkers, which are becoming popular pets, start at $1,500 and can exceed $25,000. The pigs can be housebroken and are extremely intelligent, breeders say.

Two sets of buyers nearly came to blows last Saturday over a piglet that both sides wanted.

"People have sent cashier's checks for pigs they've never seen," McMillan said. "We're learning the true meaning of buying a pig in a poke."

Texas insurance rates to go up

AUSTIN (AP) - A healthy and competitive market in the automobile insurance industry led to adoption of an average 2.88 percent increase in premiums, State Board of Insurance members said.

Insurers on Monday appeared before the Insurance Board wanting a 12.8 percent increase, while the board's staff recommended a 6 percent jump.

Board member Jo Ann Howard of Austin proposed the 2.88 percent increase, noting that in 1988, nearly two-thirds of the auto insurance policies were written below the board-set rate.

She also said that the lower increase will encourage insurers to contain medical costs.

"It's past time that insurance companies look at holding down the cost and not passing on the cost," Mrs. Howard said.

The rates take effect May 1.

In approving the increase, the three-member board also departed from a tradition of accepting estimates of expenses from insurance companies in determining rates.

The board said it would only consider actual expenses to help calculate rates. The industry-generated estimates usually are higher than the actual expenses.

Although the 2.88 percent increase was more than recommended by the state's consumer office, Kay Doughty, general counsel of the Office of Consumer Protection, said the change in figuring expenses was a big victory.

"That for us is a major achievement because that's something we've been arguing in favor of," Ms. Doughty said.

John Hildreth, director of the Southwest office of Consumers Union, said the decision on expenses will prevent insurance companies from passing on certain costs to the consumer, such as lobbying expenses.

"The industry should control their costs and pass on only actual and reasonable expenses to consumers," Hildreth said.

Ms. Doughty's office had recommended a 2.3 percent decrease in premiums.

"The rates are going to go up statewide for everybody, but not by very much," Ms. Doughty said. Actual figures on how the board's decision would affect the 52 different rating territories in Texas were unavailable.

Rick Gentry, a spokesman for the insurance industry, said it was too early to tell what effect the rates will have.

Board member Richard Reynolds of Flower Mound initially proposed a 6 percent increase because of rising medical and court costs, which he blamed on trial lawyers.

But Chairman Paul Wrotenbery agreed with Ms. Howard's proposal and Reynolds later joined in to make the decision unanimous.

from but said he would support a state income tax. In his opinion, the Legislature won't support the "Robin Hood approach" of taking funds from wealthy districts and redistributing them to poorer ones. Under such a plan, the state's largest districts would lose the most, and that's where more legislators are representing the voters. He also questions whether lawmakers will have the commitment to raise taxes during an election year.

Without a tax bill, Kirby said lawmakers could come up with about $200 million this spring, but he doesn't think that amount will meet the court test.

The Texas Supreme Court has ruled that the state's method of school funding discriminates against property-poor districts and has ordered a new funding system by May 1.

Kirby says the state's share of funding education has steadily decreased, placing an unfair burden on local taxpayers to finance education through higher property taxes.

It will be interesting to see what the Legislature comes up with in the special session.

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Feb. 6, the 37th day of 1990. There are 328 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Feb. 6, 1788, Massachusetts became the sixth state to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

On this date:

In 1756, America's third vice president, Aaron Burr, was born in Newark, N.J.

In 1778, the United States won official recognition from France as the two nations signed a pair of treaties in Paris.

In 1815, the state of New Jersey issued the first American railroad charter to John Stevens, who proposed a rail link between Trenton and New Brunswick. (The line, however, was never built.)

In 1895, baseball legend Babe Ruth was born in Baltimore.

In 1899, a peace treaty between the United States and Spain was ratified by the U.S. Senate.

Ten years ago: Iran's newly installed president, Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, denounced the militants holding the American embassy as "dictators who have created a government within a government."

Five years ago: President Ronald Reagan delivered his State of the Union address in which he called for a "Second American Revolution of hope and opportunity."

One year ago: Pulitzer Prize-winning historian Barbara W. Tuchman died in Greenwich, Conn., at age 77.

Today's birthdays: Attorney Louis Nizer is 88. Former President Reagan is 79. Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor is 73. Actor Patrick Macnee is 68. Actor Rip Torn is 59. Actress Mammie Van Doren is 57. Actor Mike Farrell is 51. NBC news anchorman Tom Brokaw is 50. Singer Fabian is 47. Actress Gayle Hunnicutt is 47. Singer Natalie Cole is 41.

Thought for today: "I am content to define history as the past events of which we have knowledge and refrain from worrying about those of which we have none - until, that is, some archeologist digs them up." - Barbara W. Tuchman, American historian (1912-1989).

WASHINGTON - Some might have thought the Army had gone hip when U.S. troops started blasting rock 'n' roll music toward the Vatican Embassy in Panama City to encourage Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega's eviction in December.

Texas

AUSTIN - Church members say they fear that the interim minister of the First Unitarian Church of Austin, who has been missing since last Friday, may have met with foul play.

WESLACO - Don't look for any Texas grapefruit or oranges for the next year or two. The stores won't have them. December's hard freeze killed or damaged so many trees in the Lower Rio Grande Valley that there won't be a crop worth marketing for the next year or two, say citrus growers and scientists who are still assessing the damage.

HOUSTON - Lisa Osteen, injured last week when a package bomb exploded in her lap, says she hopes the person who mailed the parcel to her father at the Lakewood Church can be caught and prosecuted.

AUSTIN - The politics of abortion continue to flare in the U.S. Senate race. Democratic challenger Hugh Panzer, blasting Republican incumbent Phil Gramm, Monday said Gramm is part of the "kooky right" due to the senator's strong opposition to abortion.

AUSTIN - A healthy and competitive market in the automobile insurance industry led to adoption of an average 2.88 percent increase in premiums, State Board of Insurance members said.

Returning to college topic of club meeting

The experience of returning to a university campus and earning an undergraduate degree was the topic presented by Mrs. Wes Fisher when the Bay View Study Club met at the Country Club Thursday. Mrs. Charlie Holt was hostess for the regular meeting.

Fisher explained that she made the decision to go back to school simply to satisfy a long-held dream of expanding her realm of knowledge and practicing again the art of studying and growing mentally. Her presentation included observations about how campus life has changed since she first entered college more than 40 years ago and how some aspects of the routine have remained very constant.

Mrs. Don Henslee was welcomed as a special guest for the afternoon.

The Feb. 15 meeting will be held at the First United Methodist Church and will include a piano concert featuring the talents of Mrs. Johnny Trotter. Mrs. Dyal Garner and Mrs. Carroll Newsom will be hostesses.

Others present were Mmes. J.R. Allison, Dudley Bayne, Charles Bell, J.A. Burran, R.W. Eades, Alton Fraser, Don Graham, N.C. Hays, Earnest Langley, M.M. Morrow, Austin Rose, Howard Gault, W.J. Gililand and W.S. Kerr.

HJH teams end hoops season with Canyon

The Hereford freshman and junior high basketball teams closed out the regular season Monday by taking two of 10 games with Canyon.

The girls teams had a rough end to the season with the eighth-grade girls Maroon taking the only home win, 38-30, at the HJH Gymnasium. Canyon teams topped the eighth girls White 33-30, the seventh girls Maroon 33-27 and the seventh girls White 32-20 all at HJH while winning over fresh girls 35-15 at the HHS Gymnasium.

The boys hit the road for the final week with the freshman taking a 51-38 win while Canyon swept the junior high competition. The Eagles posted wins of 70-23 over the eighth Maroon, 49-29 over the eighth White, 42-31 over the seventh Maroon and 37-33 over the seventh White.

The freshman girls and seventh-grade boys and girls squads concluded their years while the freshman and eighth-grade boys as well as the eighth-grade girls will finish up Friday and Saturday with district tournaments.

The frosh boys tournament will be held at Canyon while the eighth-grade boys travel to Borger and the eighth-grade girls play at Valleyview. Frosh boys 51, Canyon 38

Hereford jumped out quickly to take a 17-4 lead after one period behind nine points from Kyle Hansen.

The Herd posted the first 12 points of the second quarter to lead 29-4 before the starters came out. Canyon finished the half with a 14-0 run to pull to within 29-18.

Hereford upped the lead back to 20 points with a 17-7 edge in the third period before the Eagles closed the game with a 13-5 run in the fourth quarter.

Hansen finished with 13 points to lead all scorers while Jason Tatarevich had eight for the Herd. Eric Sims added six points with Chad Sandoval, Michael Melendrez and Shawn Fogo getting four each, Greg Coplen and Brad Lemons three apiece and Jason Paetzold, Ruben Gutierrez and Tim Burkhalter two each.

Kevin Kraai and Doug Friemel both had nine points to lead the Eagles. Canyon 35, Frosh girls 15

It took a full half before either team got going, and Canyon went first.

The Eagles held a 4-3 lead after the first quarter and extended the margin to 10-5 at halftime.

Canyon put the game away in the third period with a 13-4 advantage and out-pointed the Herd 12-6 in the final quarter.

Hereford was led by Kathy Hernandez with nine points while Claudia Ramirez had four and Jill Robinson two.

Teresa Hartman led Canyon with 16 points.

Canyon 70, 8th boys Maroon 23 Canyon got on top early and stayed there, opening a 15-7 lead by the end of the first quarter.

The Eagles upped the margin to 26-11 at halftime before outscoring the Herd 44-12 in the second half.

Hereford was led by Andrew Tijerina with 10 points. Robin Simons and Chad Carlile added four points each while Hayden Andrews had three and Jay Kendall two.

The Eagles were led by Jeremy Brandt with 22 points and Toby Cotter with 17. (please see HJH HOOPS, Page 5)

Herd netters take two

The Hereford Whiteface tennis team coasted through a pair of dual meets Saturday at Whiteface Courts, whipping Plainview 17-1 in a morning match before taking Borger 15-3 in the afternoon.

The Herd wasted little time dispatching Plainview in a match that began at 9 a.m. with temperatures hovering around the freezing mark before returning to rout Borger in the afternoon.

The Herd girls tamed both types of Bulldog in winning 12 singles and six doubles matches. Hereford came about as close to a perfect day as they could get, dropping only one set out of the 18 matches.

On the boys side, Hereford posted a 14-4 match record for the day. The Herd boys stumbled only once in doubles play while losing three singles matches (two of which went three sets).

Herd coach Luis Zavala said he was pleased at how handily his players won both matches despite having four players still committed to basketball.

"We did very well," he said. "When your No. 7 and 8 singles players can step in and beat their No. 5 and 6 players in straight sets, you're doing good."

The netters will spend this week preparing for the Wichita Falls Invitational scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

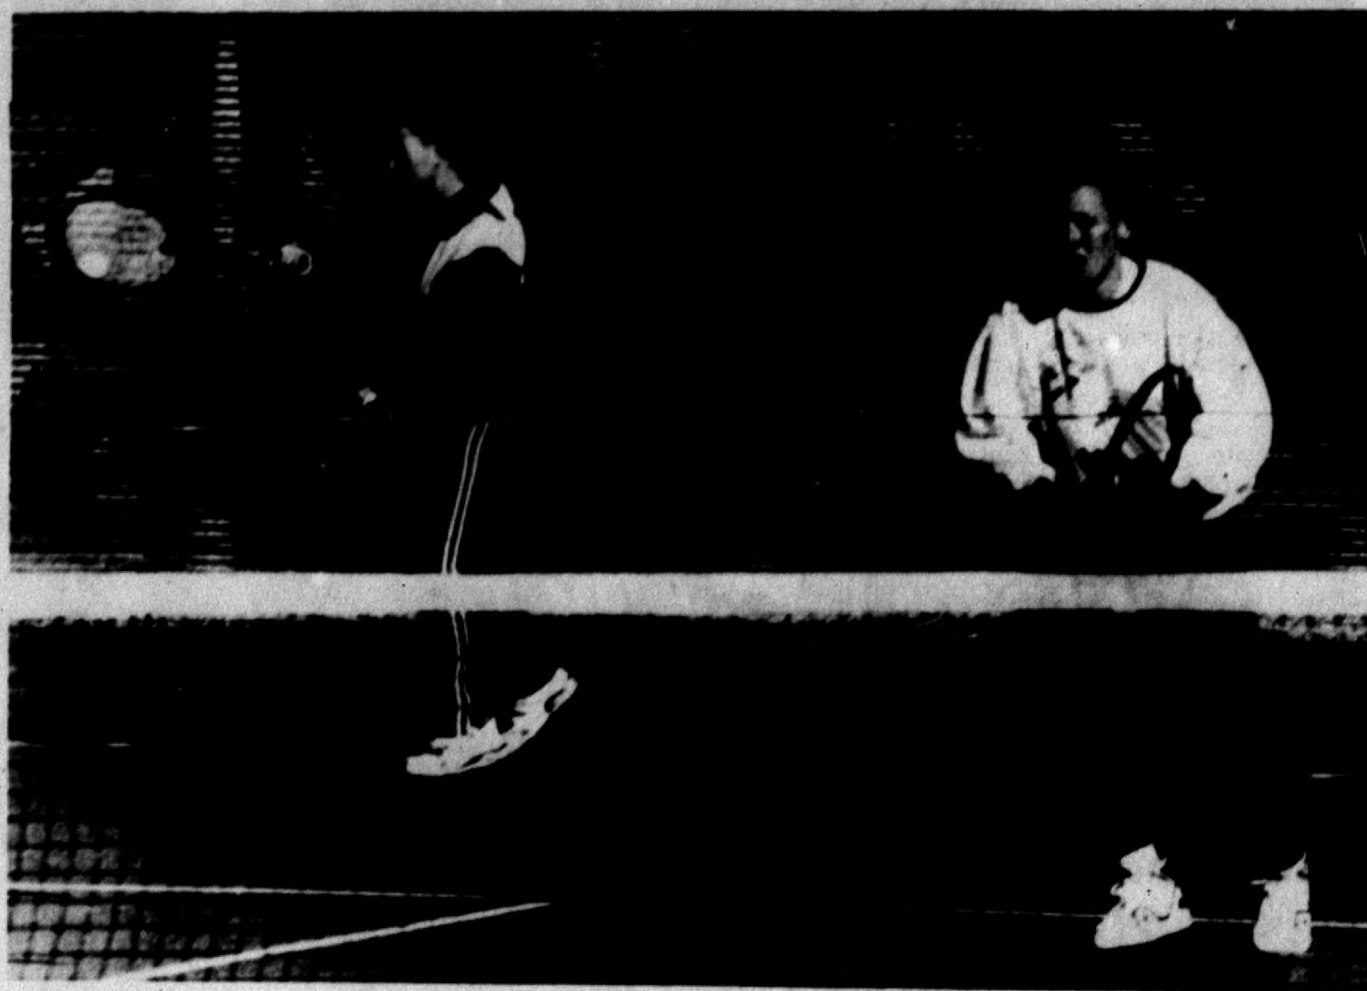

Zavala said he expects to take a full team (two doubles teams and two singles players in both boys and girls brackets) to the tournament.

"We should be in pretty good shape (for the tourney)," he said, "especially when we get everyone out."

The Herd's next home appearance will be Feb. 15 when the Amarillo Sandies visit for a dual meet.

UIL locks fans out of Atlanta-Gilmer contest

ATLANTA, Texas (AP) - The Atlanta and Gilmer boys' basketball teams are tied for first place in District 15 - and that's exactly why no fans, parents, reporters or other outsiders will see their game tonight.

After a post-game brawl ten days ago, officials in both school districts aren't taking any chances of a repeat performance, which would result in the schools being disqualified from the Class 3A playoffs.

The University Interscholastic League, which governs public school athletics in Texas, could bar both teams from playoff contention for unsportsmanlike conduct.

"We're not admitting anyone who's not a school official, player, coach or official for the game," said J.D. Cox, Atlanta school superintendent. "We were trying to protect the integrity of the programs in both the schools. What our biggest fear is is that you will have fans ... whose one ambition in life is to get something started."

To Sonny Long, the Atlanta Citizens Journal sports editor, it's a violation of his right to cover a publicly-funded event at a publicly-funded institution.

"I think I have a right to be there ... it's a bad precedent to set, especially when there are no fans present. Somebody needs to be the eyes and ears of the public," Long said.

Long's letter of protest to the UIL didn't change anything. The league sided with the school districts.

UIL Director Bailey Marshall said he agreed with Cox that Long shouldn't be allowed into the game, even though he represented the local press.

"He has not been to all their games," Marshall said. "We talked to the superintendent and asked him if there was a problem with this particular person ... and he said yes, there is a problem ... if we let him in we're going have let everyone else in."

As far as other media was concerned, school officials "didn't feel like they should be allowed to be in there just because (the schools) had had problems," Marshall said.

"We're not trying to violate anybody's constitutional rights," said Cox. "We're just trying to have a game without any tension where the kids can play and get this out of their system."

Long says that if Cox and Bob Smith, the Gilmer superintendent, hadn't banned reporters, he probably would have been the only one there. Now, at least two other local newspapers and a local television station plan to show up.

"Unfortunately, the negative coverage they were worried about has multiplied tenfold," Long said.

Marshall said two or three other games have been closed to outsiders in Texas over the past 10 years, either for crowd control or disciplinary reasons.

Cox said the ban on spectators will only be for this game. He said that if the two teams meet again in the playoffs, that game will be open and played in a bigger gym with more crowd control.

In the meantime, school officials and the UIL intend to teach a lesson about fights at sporting events.

"It is a message to everyone concerned that we're going to control it one way or the other," Marshall said. "It's to get the attention of everybody concerned that we're not going to have it."

The two schools are tied for first place in District 3A-15 with Linden-Kildare. All had 5-2 records going into Tuesday's games.

House three points shy of state scoring record

INGRAM (AP) - The last time Ingram Tom Moore guard Troy House played Blanco - on Jan. 19 - he thought he was going to set an all-time Texas schoolboy scoring record.

He did, but then he didn't. Calvin Gerke of Snook stepped forward and it was determined he set the record of 3,823 points from 1962 to 1966.

Tuesday night, House faces the Blanco Panthers yet again, and again he should break the career scoring mark. House has 3,820 points.

Since House began his assault on the state's career mark, the record has passed from Reggie Childress of Coleman (3,246) to Chuck Hall (3,550) to Gerke.

Hall said his teammates kid him about the way the record has kept moving away from him this season.

"We make jokes about it all the time," House said. "We figure as soon as I break that one, somebody else will come forward and say they have another one."

House downplays his talent, although he has helped boost the Warriors into the No. 2 ranking in Class 2A. His team is 23-3 and averaging 114 points per game in District 27-2A action.

Ingram is averaging 114 points per game in District 27-2A action.

The 6-1 House, who is considered a major college prospect, is averaging 40 points.

House will be glad when he finally breaks the all-time mark, but he still feels like it won't be that big of a deal.

"Oh, not that much," House says, when asked how important the achievement will be. "I mean, I will be glad to have it. But that's all."

Reluctant all-star leads Philadelphia

By The Associated Press

All of the Philadelphia 76ers are playing like All-Stars right now. That includes injured Charles Barkley, who will be the team's only representative in the All-Star Game - like it or not. The 76ers extended the NBA's longest winning streak of the season to 12 games Monday night, beating the Utah Jazz 114-89.

Barkley, nursing a strained leg muscle, scored 16 points in 27 minutes. He wanted to pass up Sunday's All-Star Game at Miami to rest, but says the league pressured him into playing.

"They gave me a play-or-else deal. They said I would be suspended next week if I play this week and miss the game," Barkley said. "Obviously, I don't agree with them, but I've got to go."

In other games, Seattle got past Charlotte 101-100, New York beat Miami 116-107, Washington topped Golden State 135-129 and Cleveland defeated the Los Angeles Clippers 100-84.

Hersey Hawkins scored 20 points for Philadelphia and Johnny Dawkins added 16. The 76ers have been particularly successful with their Hawkins-Dawkins backcourt.

"It seems like I know where Johnny is going to be, and he knows where I'm going," Hawkins said. "It seems like that's been happening all during this streak, and I hope it keeps up."

So does Dawkins. "It certainly is a good feeling," he said. "It's also something that you feel you have to protect like it's the most valuable thing in the world."

Philadelphia scored the last 14 points of the first quarter for a 35-21 lead. The 76ers were ahead 60-43 at halftime and used a 16-2 burst to make it 90-59 after three quarters.

Karl Malone had 29 points and Blue Edwards 14 for Utah, which lost for only the third time in 14 games.

SuperSonics 101, Hornets 100 Olden Polynice broke a 98-all tie with a foul shot, then scored on a tip-in with 31 seconds left.

After Polynice put Seattle ahead 101-98, Armon Gilliam scored with 15 seconds left. The Sonics, though, were able to run out the clock.

Xavier McDaniel scored 22 points and Nate McMillan had 14 for Seattle. For Charlotte, Gilliam had 22 points, Dell Curry 17 and J.R. Reid 16 to go with nine rebounds.

Knicks 116, Heat 107

Patrick Ewing scored 24 points and blocked a career-high nine shots as New York improved to 20-2 at home. Charles Oakley added 24 points for the Knicks, who took the lead for good in the second quarter.

Ewing and Oakley finished with 11 rebounds apiece for the Knicks, and Mark Jackson had 21 points and 12 assists.

Rony Seikaly had 22 points and 14 rebounds for Miami.

Bullets 135, Warriors 129

Bernard King got 30 points, Ledell Eackles had 29 and Jeff Malone 28 in Washington's highest-scoring game of the season. Darrell Walker had 15 points, 15 rebounds and 10 assists for the host Bullets.

Sarunas Marciulionis and Terry Teagle each scored 23 points for Golden State. Milt Richmond added 22 for the Warriors.

Washington led 119-96 late in the game before the Warriors got within 130-127 on Teagle's 3-point shot with 31 seconds left. Eackles made four foul shots in the final 25 seconds to preserve the victory.

Cavaliers 100, Clippers 84

Mark Price scored 20 points to lead seven Cleveland players in double figures.

Cleveland, leading 45-43, used a 16-2 burst early in the third quarter to break it open. The Clippers later got within eight points, but no closer.

Crist horse places at Augusta

Ron Crist of Hereford rode Sugs Paycheck to a three-way tie for 11th place Saturday in the finals of the Augusta Futurity cutting horse event in Augusta, Ga.

Crist earned $1,580 for his 11th place finish, out of 21 competitors in the Non-Pro division, which is for riders who do not ride or train cutting horses for pay. The Futurity is for 4-year-old horses.

Sugs Paycheck previously won the Heart of Oklahoma Futurity and Reserve Championship of futurities in New Mexico and Kansas. Crist and his wife, Mary, have a ranch and also own First National Fuel & Nursery.

The "L Train" just keeps chugging along.

Lionel "L Train" Simmons' latest stop is 10th place on the NCAA career scoring list. The 6-foot-7 senior reached that station Monday night when he scored 26 points in leading No. 14 La Salle to its ninth straight victory, 72-59 over St. Peter's.

Simmons, with 2,845 points, passed Otis Birdsong, who scored 2,832 at Houston from 1973-77.

Simmons needs six points to pass Indiana State's Larry Bird for ninth place.

"I never expected to score this many points in my career," Simmons said. "Every high school player comes into college hoping to score 1,000 points in his career. I felt I was lucky to get 2,000, but I never even dreamed it would reach 3,000."

In other Top 25 games, it was No. 6 Syracuse 74, Seton Hall 65; No. 9 UNLV 105, San Jose State 69; No. 10 Purdue 67, Northwestern 60 and No. 11 LSU 86, Mississippi State 68.

Simmons scored eight points as La Salle (17-1, 8-0 Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference) took a 16-4 lead and never trailed.

No. 6 Syracuse 74, Seton Hall 65

Stephen Thompson scored 26 points and Syracuse made seven of 10 free throws over the final 2:23 to extend its dominance over the Pirates to 19 games. Syracuse (17-3, 7-3 Big East) won its fifth straight. Seton Hall hasn't beaten Syracuse since 1981.

Derrick Coleman added 19 points for Syracuse.

Anthony Avent, who led Seton Hall with 21 points, hit a layup with 3:25 left to pull the Pirates to within 63-58. Seton Hall began fouling a team that shoots only 64 percent at the line, but Coleman made three of four free throws and reserve Tony Scott hit four of six.

Ironically, the Orangemen missed five straight free throws after taking a 57-43 lead with 11:29 to play. They also went four minutes without a field goal to let the Pirates back into the game.

No. 9 UNLV 105, San Jose St. 69

Larry Johnson had 18 points and 16 rebounds and five teammates also scored in double figures. The Rebels opened a 22-point lead midway through the first half and widened the gap to 37 points late in the game with the regulars on the bench.

Johnson did his damage while playing only 22 minutes.

No. 10 Purdue 67, Northwestern 60

Stephen Scheffler scored 16 points, including the basket that broke a 59-59 tie. A basket by Tony Jones and four straight free throws by Woody Austin in the closing minute sealed the decision.

Northwestern trailed by 11 points in the first half and nine in the second but rallied to go ahead 54-51 before Purdue mounted its own comeback.

Scheffler, who leads the nation in field goal percentage, hit all seven of his shots.

No. 11 LSU 86, Mississippi St. 68

LSU had lost five straight to Mississippi State but Stanley Roberts scored 17 of his 23 points in the second half.

With Chris Jackson and Shaquille O'Neal both having off nights, Roberts picked up the slack along with Maurice Williamson, who scored 20 points. Jackson had 19, well below his average of 28 points a game, and hit only five of 19 shots. Cameron Burns led Mississippi State with 26 points.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have Cushing's disease and had my pituitary gland removed in 1978. I have been taking medication ever since that time. Now my doctors tell me the medication does not control the cortisol anymore. They suggest another operation on the adrenal glands.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I have Cushing's disease and had my pituitary gland removed in 1978. I have been taking medication ever since that time. Now my doctors tell me the medication does not control the cortisol anymore. They suggest another operation on the adrenal glands.

DEAR READER: You obviously have a very rare disease. Cushing's syndrome occurs when too much adrenal cortex hormone is present, such as cortisol (the familiar cortisone is converted in the body to cortisol).

Actually, the most common form of Cushing's syndrome today is from taking too much of one of the cortisone group of medicines. It may cause accumulation of fluid, a rounded face called a "moon face," increased growth of facial hair and changes in body fat deposits to cause a "buffalo torso." But Cushing's syndrome caused from large doses of these medicines is reversible, when the medicine is stopped. I might add that certain diseases can only be successfully treated with large doses of these medicines. That is why such treatment is used in spite of the complications.

But you have spontaneous Cushing's syndrome. The most common cause is a tumor of the pituitary gland that stimulates the adrenal gland to produce excess amounts of hormones. That is why your pituitary gland was removed. That works in about 80 percent of such cases.

Much less often a tumor of the adrenal gland itself may cause an excess secretion of hormones, and if that is true, removal of the adrenal gland involved is done. Also, there can be another tumor somewhere other than the pituitary gland that forms a hormone to stimulate the adrenal gland.

I know you will want to understand the adrenal gland thoroughly and know more about Cushing's syndrome, so I'm sending you Special Issue 34-04, Your Vital Adrenal Steroids (Corticosteroids). Others who want this issue can send $2 with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/34-04, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713.

An endocrinology department of most university medical centers can evaluate your current status and make recommendations as to the best approach for management at this time.

DEAR DR. LAMB: My nephew has been diagnosed with Cushing's syndrome. He is now 476 pounds. No doctor seems to know what to do. All diet places I've checked with say that it is a matter of overeating. I furnished his doctor with the foods and amounts he ate for the last month. He admits it is not an eating problem, but a defective gene from birth. He says it is useless to bring him back. He has held 476 pounds for two years now. If he starts to gain again his heart will probably break. This boy is only 29. Can you help?

DEAR READER: If what you have told me is correct, he needs to see an endocrinologist, a specialist in hormone problems. If he has Cushing's syndrome, it is entirely possible he can be helped or even cured. Cushing's syndrome does result in marked weight gain, part of which is fluid retention.

If he has a tumor of the pituitary gland it may be possible to remove it. I certainly would not accept that nothing can be done. His overweight condition is not just a matter of overeating. There is a fine endocrinology section at the university medical center in your city. Take him there.

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am a 66-year-old woman in fairly good health with the exception of an underactive thyroid and low blood pressure. Is there anything that would raise my blood pressure? It is usually 100/70. At present I am recuperating from shingles and take Synthroid but wonder why my doctor does not prescribe any medicine for my low blood pressure.

DEAR READER: If you didn't know what your blood pressure reading is, would you know you had a problem? Low blood pressure is not a problem unless it causes symptoms — such as a tendency to faint on standing.

The fact is, it is a blessing. There are little if any fatty-cholesterol deposits in a person's pulmonary arteries despite advanced disease in the coronary arteries.

Here's truths behind chocolate temptations

Two unlikely trends are juxtaposed in the American lifestyle. We've just concluded a decade of explosive growth in fitness activities and in the consumption of chocolate.

In 1980, the per-person consumption of chocolate was eight pounds. Today, we're indulging in an average of 11 pounds per person per year.

Is chocolate part of a workout/pigout mentality? Certainly, feelings about chocolate run strong. What other substance could be called the "food of the gods" and also come in a variation known as "devil's food"?

What's fact and what's folklore? Here is a sampler of the scientific principles that are mixed in with America's favorite treat.

Acne—There is no established link between developing acne and eating chocolate or any other foods.

Addiction—"Chocoholic" is a catchy term with vague meanings. It may describe people who derive intense satisfaction from eating chocolate. Or it may refer to individuals who say they can't stop eating chocolate.

Chocolate may be psychologically satisfying because it evokes memories of childhood pleasure. And you could develop a pattern of turning to chocolate as a way of coping with disappointments or savoring pleasant times. As a food substance, however, chocolate has no addictive ingredients.

Allergy—Having an allergy to chocolate may strike you as one of the worst fates to befall a person. Fortunately, it's more of a folklore than a recognized medical condition.

For a small minority of people, foods such as peanuts and seafood can produce documented allergic symptoms: coughing, wheezing or a sudden outbreak of hives. Eating chocolate produces no such reaction. Similarly, there is no evidence to support the notion that chocolate can cause or worsen a migraine headache.

Candidacy forms available

Candidates for the Texas Silver-Haired Legislature, an elected group of advocates for the state's elderly, may begin picking up candidacy forms and petitions from the Panhandle Area Agency on Aging, 2736 W. Tenth Avenue, Amarillo, Texas 79105.

These forms and petitions must be turned in by Feb. 28.

The Texas Silver Haired legislature is a non-partisan body, composed of 116 members elected from 28 regions in Texas. It holds sessions even-numbered year to discuss issues affecting proposed legislation to address the issues identified as most important.

The legislation proposed by SHL members is then presented to sponsors in the regular Texas Legislature. The first two SHL sessions have been judged very successful, with state lawmakers responding positively to a majority of the senior group's proposals.

Prospective candidates for the SHL must be at least 60 years old, registered to vote in Texas, and live in the district from which they are seeking election.

Candidates for the Silver-Haired Legislature will officially campaign from March 1 to April 30, with elections held May 22 at their local senior citizens center.

To find out more about candidacy or elections for the Silver-Haired Legislature, call the Texas Department on Aging at (512) 444-2727 or the Panhandle Area Agency on Aging at (806) 372-3381.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former Mayor Frank Rizzo wanted Sylvester Stallone on his radio show, so an on-air phone call seemed the next best thing to interviewing the "Rocky" star in person.

It also turned out to be the next best thing to actually talking with Stallone, because the caller was an impostor.

"He really sounded like Stallone," Rizzo said of Dennis Malloy, WSNI-FM disc jockey.

Appetite—Mom was right when she said that eating chocolate before a meal will spoil your appetite. The fat and sugar in chocolate can appease hunger. But don't rationalize your chocolate intake as a way to control appetite.

Calories—Fat and sugar are the principal contributors of calories in chocolate. A typical 1.5 ounce bar of milk chocolate provides about 220 calories.

Carob connection—Carob resembles chocolate. But it comes from a different source: the carob tree is native to the Mediterranean and also grows in hot, dry climates. Once a staple of health-food stores, carob has entered mainstream cooking. Carob has a slightly different taste from chocolate. Carob contains no stimulants and about half the calories of chocolate. However, for carob to be useful in candy bars and coatings, manufacturers often add sugar and saturated fat (usually palm and coconut oil). These additions make carob an alternative to chocolate but not necessarily a more healthful replacement.

Cavities—Considered alone, the cocoa bean does not have cavity-causing properties. But most chocolate products, candies, cakes, cookies and syrups, contain sugar. Sugar and other fermentable carbohydrates are the leading dietic factors related to cavities.

Studies of humans and animals have not placed chocolate high on the list of cavity-causing products. In fact, the fat content of chocolate may even provide some protection against tooth decay.

Cholesterol—Chocolate contains no cholesterol, but the fat in cocoa butter is predominantly saturated. Most types of saturated fats tend to raise blood cholesterol levels. However, the type of saturated fat in cocoa butter may be an exception.

Studies in humans and animals have shown that cocoa butter has a neutral effect on blood cholesterol levels. Why? The neutral effect may occur because of cocoa butter's high levels of stearic acid (a saturated fatty acid). Also, digestion of stearic acid may be less complete than for other types of fat.

Love—To the ancient Aztecs, chocolate was an aphrodisiac. In the early 1980s, researchers noted that chocolate contains phenylethylamine (PEA). PEA is an amphetamine-like chemical present in the human brain that helps arouse emotions.

Can chocolate make you amorous? Chocolate does have texture and taste with sensuous overtones—but not enough PEA to alter your emotions. In fact, your body's absorption of PEA from chocolate is minimal at best.

Stimulants—Chocolate contains caffeine, but in minuscule portions. You'd have to consume about half a pound of dark chocolate and a pound or more of milk chocolate to get the stimulant effect of one or two cups of brewed coffee. For the small number of people who cannot tolerate caffeine, eating large amounts of chocolate at one time may be concern. Chocolate also contains theobromine, another stimulant, but this substance in chocolate has essentially no influence on your nervous system.

It's okay to treat yourself to chocolate, on occasion, as part of your overall healthful diet and lifestyle. Although the virtues of chocolate have been overrated at times, so have the health concerns. If chocolate is your sweet obsession, enjoy it. Just don't overdo.

Double the convenience of slow-cooker cooking and get two easy meals from one piece of meat. After the brisket has simmered all day, slice the meat and serve half with gravy. Freeze the other half and the remaining rich juices for another meal.

SPICED BEEF BRISKET
One 4- to 5-pound fresh beef brisket
2 cups water
One 1 1/2-ounce envelope regular onion soup mix
1/4 cup ketchup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon bottled minced garlic
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup cold water
4 teaspoons all-purpose flour

Place beef in a 3 1/2- to 4-quart crockery cooker. Combine 2 cups water, soup mix, ketchup, Worcestershire, cinnamon, garlic and pepper. Pour over beef. Cover; cook on a low-heat setting for 8 to 10 hours. Remove beef; keep warm. Pour cooking liquid into a glass measure. Skim off fat. Transfer 3/4 cup liquid to a moisture- and vaporproof container. Cool slightly. Seal, label and freeze up to 6 months.

For gravy, in a small saucepan stir 1/4 cup water into flour. Stir in another 3/4 cup cooking liquid. Cook and stir until bubbly. Cook 1 minute more. Slice beef thinly across the grain.

Transfer half the sliced beef to a moisture- and vaporproof container. Seal, label and freeze up to 6 months. Serve remaining beef with hot gravy. Makes two meals (8 to 12 servings total).

PITTSBURGH (AP)—For actor Anthony Hopkins, the chance to direct a one-man play about poet Dylan Thomas is an opportunity to reconnect with his heritage.

Hopkins will direct "Dylan Thomas: Return Journey," featuring Bob Kingdom based upon the Welsh poet's work, anecdotes and letters. The show makes its U.S. debut Feb. 16 in Pittsburgh.

"I'd always wanted to play Dylan Thomas myself, being Welsh," Hopkins said.

Ever get the idea your banker is somewhere else when you need him most?

While our example may be a bit extreme, our point is disturbingly real. It can be a waste of time and money to entrust your financial relationship to people unresponsive to your business and personal needs.

At Hereford State Bank you deal on a principal-to-principal basis with one of our loan officers, who have a personal interest in their business and therefore will be highly motivated to take a personal interest in your business.

Come to a bank where the people are known to have heads on their shoulders. And use them.
