Four Seriously Injured Sunday In Plane Crash

Credit Given Man in Saving Victims' Lives

The amazing and heroic efforts of a Hereford man saved the lives of three other local people when the airplane crashed into the tops of some trees near the Ruidoso, N. M., airport Sunday afternoon.

THOUGH SUFFERING from a leg being broken in four places and a cracked knee cap, Austin Rose Jr., was able to pull his wife, Helen, Mrs. Dick Ross and Cameron Gault out of the flaming 1958 Beech Craft plane before it was completely engulfed in fire.

All four victims of the crash are alive and today are in three different hospitals being treated.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose are in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. Gault is in a hospital named Hotel Dieu and Mrs. Ross is in Providence Memorial Hospital, both in El Paso.

Mrs. Ross evidently was injured the most critically, receiving very severe burns on both her feet and a broken back. She underwent two-hour surgery Tuesday morning to relieve pressure on the spinal cord.

Gault, 28-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gault, suffered a dislocated and chipped right hip and five broken ribs, one of which punctured a lung. His hip was put back into place Monday, the same day it was discovered the punctured lung.

Mrs. Rose's injuries include left arm broken above the wrist, right arm broken above the elbow, left leg broken above the ankle and a severe laceration close to the left eye.

All four are reported to have multiple bruises and cuts about their bodies, especially about the head and face.

The foursome was en route to Ruidoso at the time of the accident to attend the horse races held there. Gault, the pilot, was in contact with the airport's radio operator, Ralph Brown, while attempting to make a landing.

Gault overshot the runway and started pulling up for another try at the field, but was unable to gain enough altitude to clear trees at the end of the landing strip. Talking to the radio operator, Gault first said they were in trouble, then that he didn't think they could make it over the trees, and finally that they were going to crash. The operator said the pilot was calm at all time.

Gault reportedly had the alternative of crashing into the tops of the trees or into the side of a hill, and took the trees as the safest possibility.

The plane's right wing was the first to strike a tree, and was ripped off, apparently throwing them into a horizontal spin. Wreckage was scattered over a 75-foot area. It was owned by Gault and his father.

Gault and Rose were in the front seat. Rose himself is a licensed pilot, and the two ladies were riding in the back.

The only comment Rose has made about his heroic rescue to visitors in the hospital has been that "I just drug them out of there. Some of their broken bones may have been on my

But children's beds are limited. There are only 3,523 beds in the entire area. There are four children's hospitals in the area with two at Fort Worth, one at Bethany, Okla., and one at Truth or Consequenza, N. M.

The Oasis Shrine said the number of beds for the proposed hospitals will be determined by the Imperial Divan's medical advisory board. A site for the hospital has been donated.

School Board Hires Six New Teachers

SIX RESIGNATIONS were accepted, replacements and three new teachers were named during a regular meeting of the Hereford Rural High School District Monday night.

Resignations were submitted by B. H. Baldwin, Shirley 6th grade teacher; Dick Mabry, high school assistant football coach; Rose Mary Shook, high school homemaking instructor; Mrs. Joe Fodges, high school homemaking instructor; Mrs. Mary Muse, high school math; and George Muse, assistant superintendent and tax assessor.

Noel Clemmons, a spring graduate of West Texas State College, was named to replace Baldwin at Shirley.

Bedford Forrest, speech teacher at Tullia High School last year, was hired to take the place of L. B. Russell in the Shirley physical Education department and will also coach sports after school and serve as assistant principal. Russell was named to replace Bob Naylor as principal last month.

Replacing Mabry as high school varsity football backfield coach will be John Thompson who was recently discharged from the armed forces after two years service. He graduated Texas Tech in 1955.

Mrs. Dorotha Prowell, assistant county home demonstration agent, will replace Mrs. Hodges in the high school homemaking department. No replacement was named for Miss Shook, who is moving to San Antonio.

The math teaching classes instructed by Mrs. Muse will be taken over by Bobby Williams, hired last spring as head football coach from Phillips.

No replacement was named for Muse, who is moving to Conway, Ark.

Jess Hodge was hired as Stanton junior high school coach and George Cunningham will be new in the high school physical education department.

Of two bids submitted on constructing a physical education area 150 x 90 feet in size, M. T. Rudder's was the lowest and was accepted. Rudder bid $900 for the job. The other bid was $1,050.

The PE area will be constructed on the south end of the football field. The bids were for preparation of sod and asphalt paving.

Local Scouts Go Camping

Boy Scouts from Troop 50 and 51 in Hereford will pack their gear this Sunday and leave for a week's outing to take part in the 1958 Camp Program at Camp Don Harrington, according to Wayne Lawrence, Troop 50 Scoutmaster.

They will be among the some 400 Scouts and leaders from Amarillo, Black Canyon, Friona, Dumas, Cactus and Delhart attending the annual event.

Sixteen Scouts from Troop 50 have already registered. They are Mike Ransport, Jerry Higgins, Robert Higgins, Eddy Thompson, Freddy Thompson, Johnny Brownlow, Leon Warrick, Glenn Nelson, Don Sheppard, Jerry Sheppard, Johnny Northcutt, Paul Moreno, Charles Moreno and Jimmie Craig. A few Scouts from Troop 51 have planned to go but have yet to register.

The camp program, already in session and scheduled to last three weeks, includes archery, swimming and life saving, marksmanship, woodcraft, leathercraft, axemanship, orienteering, pioneering, lashing, first aid, indian lore, games, vesper services, campfire programs and other Scout skills that "make for fun and survival in the outdoors."

W. M. Teague, district executive of Baden-Powell District, will serve as camp director, while Raymond Fletcher, dis-

Man Threatens To Take Life

Ervin Patton, 20, of Texarkana is being held in city jail after threatening to commit suicide by jumping off the Texas Hotel. He is also charged with malicious mischief.

According to Police Chief Henry Aycock, Patton was on top of the hotel about midnight Tuesday and was threatening to jump because a girl had refused to go out with him. He allowed police to talk him out of the jump.

Aycock said Patton has admitted breaking about $20 worth of windows at the Howard Gault Co. office, 108 Sampson, about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. Patton was employed by Gault.

Commissioners Study Possibility Of Hiring Assistant County Agent

Deaf Smith County might possibly have an assistant county agent, according to intentions and beliefs expressed by members of the commissioners court during a regular meeting Monday.

After commissioner Otto Massie's suggesting the possibility of obtaining an assistant for county agent Lefty Thomas, the court asked Thomas to meet with them to hear information of cost to the county and the need for an assistant.

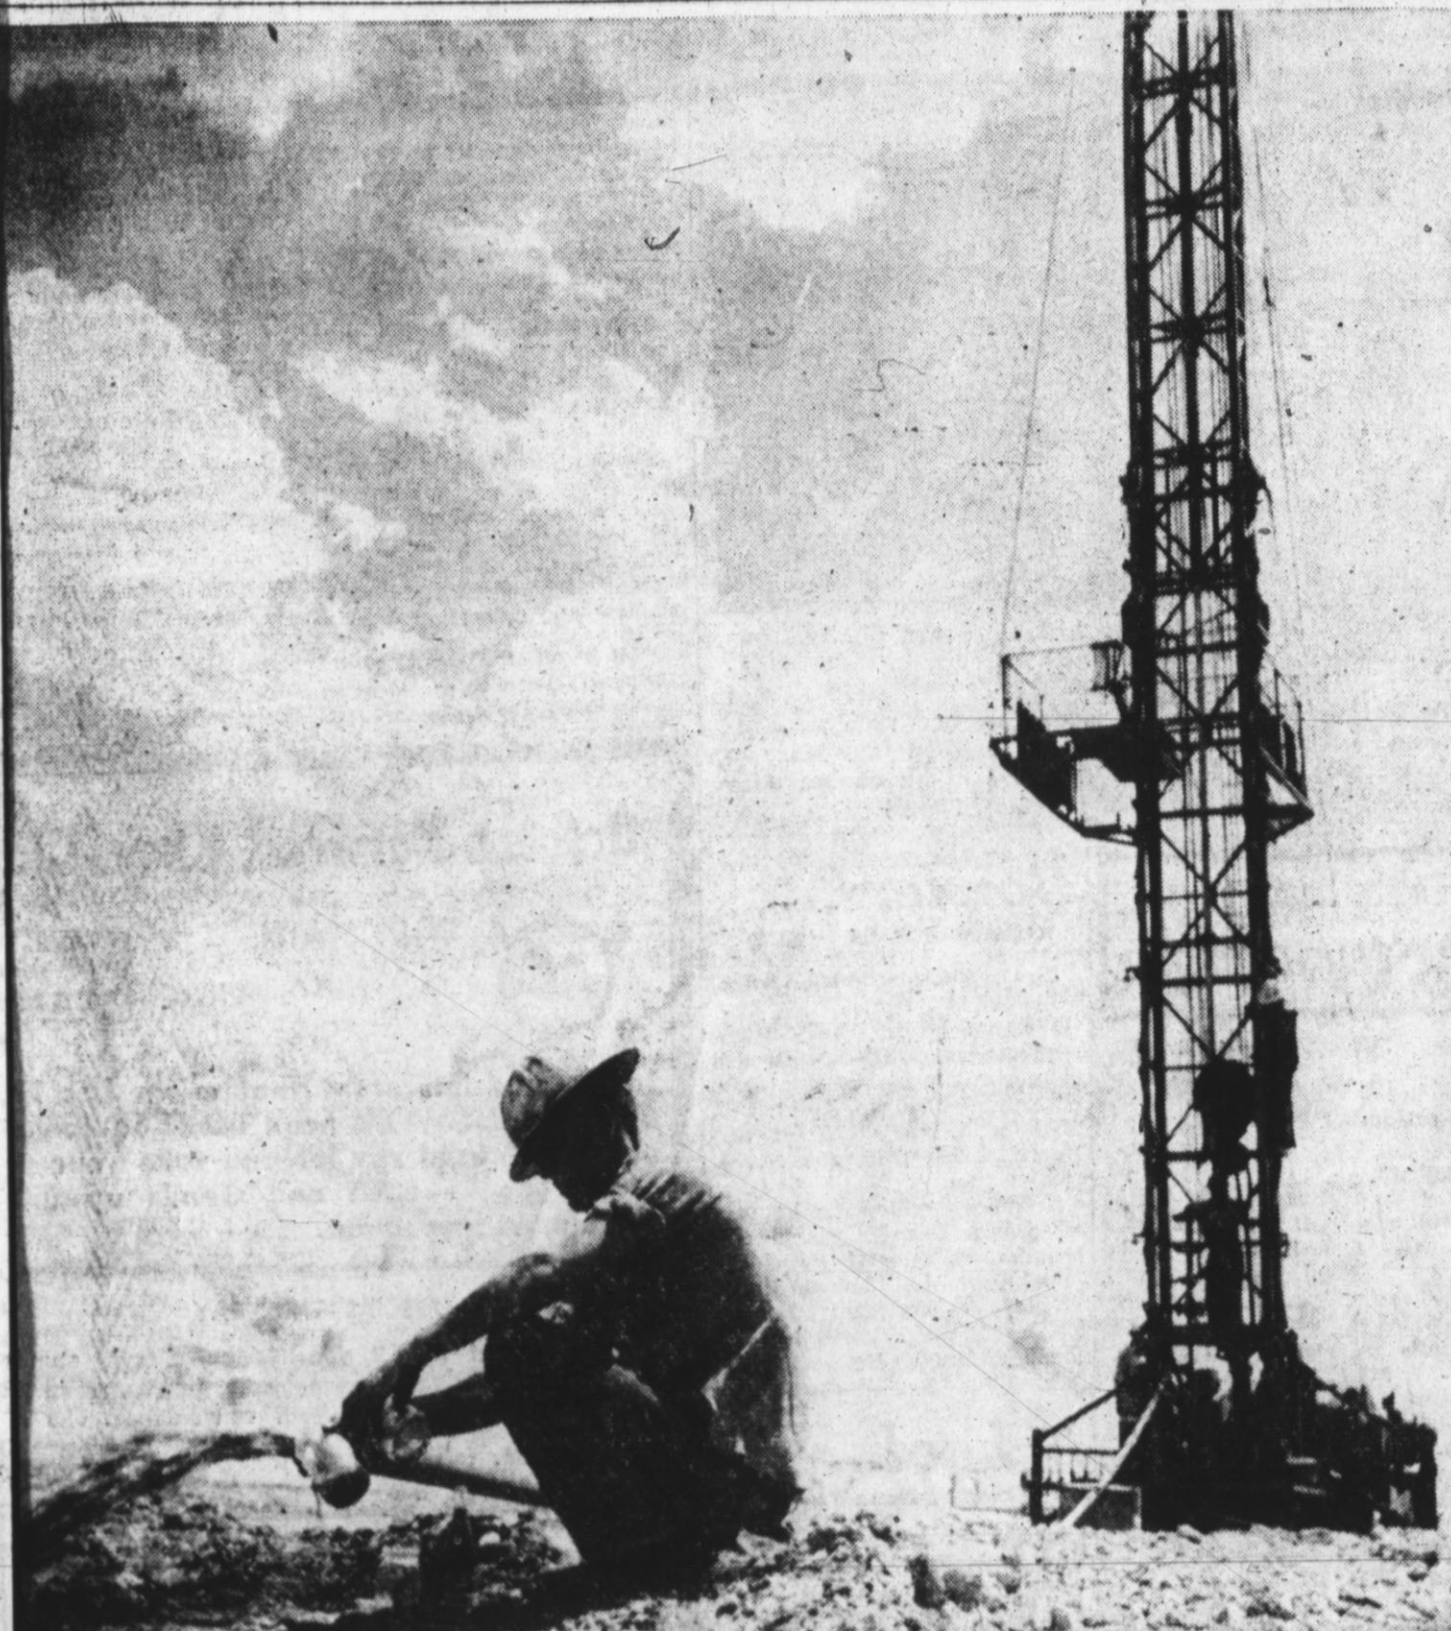

THOMAS TOLD the court, "This is more than a one-man county — got too much activity in it." He said the county's expense for an assistant would be about $2,400, with the rest paid by the extension service.

Knox Parr, head of county agent placement in this district, will be asked by the court to meet with them at the next regular meeting, June 23, to further study the possibility of obtaining help for Thomas.

In other business the county authorized Thomas to purchase a 16 MM movie sound projector for training aid, decided to ask for bids on paving an area around the Bull Barn and heard a report by a delegation of the Walcott Home Demonstration Club.

Thomas told commissioners the movie projector would greatly aid in his instructional programs, both for adult farmers and 4-H Clubs. It would also be used for Home Demonstration purposes. The projector's cost was estimated at about $500.

Wheat Harvest Started Here

Although harvest is still in the beginning stages, most of the elevators in this area have already started receiving wheat. Some 155,000 acres are to be cut.

Sears Grain Co. received its first wheat load Saturday from Frank Annen, who farms southwest of town. He averaged 16 to 17 bushels of dryland wheat per acre — at $1.60 market price and $1.65 loan price.

L. C. Hewett of Hewett Brothers, farming southeast of town, brought the first load of wheat to the Pitman Grain Co. Monday. He is averaging 15 bushels of dryland wheat per acre. It had been hauled on and had a moisture content of 14.73.

The Continental Grain Co. received its first load of wheat from J. B. Sowell, who farms north of Hereford.

L. W. Gibson, Black, brought in the first load of wheat to the Black Grain Co. Monday and the reported yield was "poor." He turned in 54 pounds per bushel with a moisture content of 12.41. The Black Co. also reported about eight other customers who are cutting.

Adrian Wheat Growers also reported its first shipment of wheat from the R. A. Burris farm, 20 miles southwest of Adrian. Production was estimated at 20 bushels per acre. The grain weighed 56 pounds per bushel and had a moisture content of 12 per cent.

The Pitman Grain Co. in Summerfield had its first wheat come in from Rollie Rule of Frío, who brought in a small load.

The Hereford Grain Elevator reported only a few loads of barley and no wheat as of yet.

Heaton's Condition Reported Uncertain

The condition of Claude Heaton, the farm-ranch hand who shot himself at Guyton, Okla., last week, was "uncertain" Wednesday morning according to attendants at Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo.

Heaton, 64, shot himself in the throat when he was stopped by officers in Guyton Thursday. The bullet is still in his throat and surgeons are planning to remove it.

Heaton has lived in the Simms community south of Adrian for about 10 years and is employed by George Porter of Amarillo.

Aggravated Assault Charges Are Filed

Marcos Salazar, 34, of Hereford is being held in county jail in lieu of $500 bond after being charged with aggravated assault.

Salazar allegedly beat his wife Monday night and then went to Morton where he was arrested. He was returned to Hereford Tuesday by Deputy Bill McCarver.

ROUGH 1980 Shriners' Survey Sees Big Boom for Hereford Area

STERLIN HOMESLY tremendous economic change and population growth in the area within a 350-mile radius of Hereford are predicted in the next 22 years in a survey compiled by C. Blanton, Dallas business economist.

will be used to back up the Oasis Club's request that a National Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children be built here.

Principal elements in the survey are as follows: number and distribution of inhabitants; per cent of urban and rural population; composition of population in the region; economic status of inhabitants in region; Hereford's strategic geographical location; hospital beds in the region; children's hospital beds in the region; number of doctors practicing in the region; acute polio patients in the region; Hereford's economic assets; future economic aspects of the region and the conclusion.

THE REPORT has been compiled to answer questions asked by the Imperial Divan's medical advisory board in January when it met with Oasis Club representatives in New York City.

National Shrine convention is held.

In different phases of the report, Blanton lists the previous population and economic status of the region — which includes portions of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado — and then projects them into the future as far as 1980. He shows a continuous pattern of growth.

For instance, the population of the region in 1920 was 3,500,

589. At present it is 5,779,465.

Blanton predicts it will be 7,600,518 in 1980.

The earned income in 1920 was $1,246,509,213. It is now $9,374,292,230. By 1980, Blanton says, it will be $19,214,109,504.

The purchasing power is now $7,499,433,784. By 1980 it will be $15,371,287,603.

"THE AGE and conditions in and under which inhabitants residing in this region will live by the advent of the year of 1980 will be vastly different in all their ramifications from the prevailing economy of 1958," Blanton states.

He predicts vast changes in transportation, industrial development, use of atomic power, construction and — perhaps most important to the immediate area — more profitable farming through more and varied uses of agricultural products.

He also predicts a major increase in the standard of living and capital investments.

HOWEVER, the core of the report — as far as the Oasis Shrine Club is concerned — is that which deals with the number of hospitals, hospital beds, children's beds and the number of doctors practicing in the area.

With the present population at 4,779,465, there are 373 hospitals in the area with a total of 40,935 beds, an average of 100 beds per hospital.

But children's beds are limited. There are only 3,523 beds in the entire area. There are four children's hospitals in the area with two at Fort Worth, one at Bethany, Okla., and one at Truth or Consequenza, N. M.

The Oasis Shrine said the number of beds for the proposed hospitals will be determined by the Imperial Divan's medical advisory board. A site for the hospital has been donated. (Continued On Page 2)

account."

MRS. ROSS was setting behind Gault, on the far side from the exiting door, which mainly accounts for her being burned more severely than the others, although they were burned slightly from exposure to the overhead flames.

Airplanes from the field circled overhead directing help which arrived by a small road which was nearby. The four were taken to a small hospital in Ruidoso where they were given emergency care and X-rays were taken. Later they were transported to the different hospitals where specialists were available.

Mrs. Ross' husband, Dick, was in Raton, N. M., when he was informed of the wreck. He had flown there with J. T. Carroll and Clyde Truly to watch the horse races.

Ross, manager of Jim Hill Hotel for the past six years, immediately flew to Roswell before being forced to land by a storm. He and the other two men then continued to Ruidoso by rented car.

The four victims left Ruidoso by ambulance about 4 a.m. Monday for the hospitals. They had taken off from a local air field shortly after 11 a.m. Sunday.

According to Truly, who returned early Wednesday morning from El Paso, Mrs. Ross' attending physician said there was absolutely no doubt that her feet and toes could not be saved. Extensive skin grafting will be necessary, but he was sure she would not lose any of her limbs, although they were severely burned almost to her knees.

The X-rays taken in Ruidoso showed that the seventh vertebra was cracked. Surgery Tuesday to relieve pressure on the spinal cord was reported successful.

GAULT'S HIP was put back into socket Monday, but it will not be known for about a week, according to the physician, if surgery will be needed to aid in mending the injury.

Can Yankees Be Beaten?

The big question is: "When will the Hereford Little League Yankees lose?" Ending the first half of Little League play Tuesday night, they registered their eighth straight win by beating the almost giant-killing Giants, 5-3.

The determined Giants, who seemed to have most of the fans on their side, led the Yankees 2-1 going into the fifth inning and it looked as if the Yanks were going to be stopped for the first time.

But when the Yankees took notice of the score and decided it was time to get started, they came through with four big runs in the last two frames to take home another win.

The base on balls and shoddy fielding by the Yanks were the only factors that kept the Giants in the ballgame. They got only one hit, a double by pitcher Richard Patton in the sixth inning, off the combined tosses of Yank pitchers Danny Cates, Van Smith and S. D. Balze.

IN MONDAY night's play, the sometimes hot — sometimes cold second — place Cardinals had a hot spell and crushed the last-place, luckless Dodgers, 11-4 behind the ringing power hitting of Lynn Cook, Mike Ferguson, David McNelly and Steve Conway.

Cook, the leftfielder, had a perfect night, going four for four, while the catcher Ferguson picked up three hits in his four times at the plate. Shortstop McNelly poled a three-run home run in the third and first baseman Conway hit a solo homer in the fourth.

In minor league play, the Cardinals took over first place, stopping the Dodgers, 12-11, while the Yankees beat the Giants, 11-8.

Doctors are concerned over Gault's punctured lung, it was reported, because it is feared pneumonia might set in.

Mrs. Rose's right arm, broken above the elbow, was put in traction Tuesday. The laceration near her eye reportedly will not effect her eyesight in any way, doctors said. She also received slight burns on both her knees.

Rose's left leg was fractured in four places, besides the cracked knee cap. One of the breaks is below the knee joint, one in the joint and the other two on the thigh bone. He is a farmer here.

There are facts and facts and facts in the report: Of the population 55.5 per cent is urban, 25.2 is non-farm rural and 19.3 per cent rural. Native whites make up 81.8 per cent of the population with 2.9 Negro, 14.9 Latin American and 0.4 of other races.

The bank deposits in 1956 for the area were $5,289,381,000. There were 258 cases of acute polio in there in 1957. Manufacturing adds a vaul of $1,664,800,000 to the area.

HEREFORD'S location and accessibility by rail, air and highway is stressed along with the city's economic and community assets.

Blanton lists Hereford's 1957 population, school enrollment, bank resources and assets, utility customers, building permits, wholesale and retail sales, property valuations, service business and industries.

All in all, the report would appear favorable for locating a Shriner's hospital here. It is favorable in that a more children's bed is and that the need will be increased as the population grows.

As Blanton states it in conclusion:

"The economic import of this region, together with future potential, is consistently reflected in the respective reports of this report; indicated on analyses and investigations made in the preparation of this report, this ranks as one of the most important from the standpoint of economics among the five entities comprising the continental United States.

"On a percentage basis, as embraced in the survey, has shown a great deal of economic growth in all fields than most other geographic or natural regions of the United States. This is indicated that this growth development will be a throughout the economic period from 1958 to 1980, inclusive.

will be a six-foot wide reinforced concrete sidewalk and curb around the structure.

Purpose for the curb, commissioners explained, was to keep vehicles from bumping into the building, as evidence shows some slight damage of such past occurrences.

A letter was read by Judge Homer Henslee from the International Parks Highway Assn., Texas Division of Highway 51 Assn., inviting either a member of the court or a representative to attend the association's national convention at Hot Springs, S. Dawn H.D. Club Studies Design

Mrs. Tom Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, presented a program on "Line and Design" at the meeting of the Dawn Home Demonstration home of Mrs. Muri Little. Members present asked questions concerning individual problems of style. It was suggested that one should "study your figure and learn which lines are becoming to you, then select your patterns and dresses with your best lines." In studying line, it was learned that one who is five feet five inches tall or over is considered tall. Those under five three are short. The council report was brought by the council delegate, Mrs. Zed Stewart.

Mrs. Little, the hostess, had re-upholstered another chair as one of her living room improvement projects.

The ice cream supper formerly planned for June was indefinitely postponed with wheat harvest intervening.

The club voted to accept the long range program in family economics as their choice from the year book committees' recommendations.

Mrs. Norman Tucheck was welcomed as a new member. Others present were Mesdames Marion Russell, Muri Little, J. B. Caraway, R. L. Johnson, H. S. Fuller, Zed Stewart, W. T. Beavers, Jessie Sisco, Milton Newman, Tom Draper and Miss Lulu Botsford.

SMASHED—This new Bell helicopter was turned into a pile of wreckage when it crashed on the Walter Paetzold farm south-east of Hereford Saturday. The machine developed engine trouble and while pilot Chuck Borgsen was trying to land it the aerial spray boom became entangled in heavy wheat and flipped the copter on its top, breaking the rotors, cockpit and damaging the rest of the craft. The $47,000 plane had been brought to Hereford a week before the accident to do spraying and dusting. The owners, Copter School Inc. of New Orleans seeking a replacement for the machine was left in the field three days awaiting insurance adjusters and a look about $100 worth of equipment. In the picture it is in a barn Paetzold's landing strip. (Staff Photo)

Among the first—L. C. Hewett of Hewett Bros. brought in this load of dryland wheat to Pitman Grain Monday afternoon. It was the first wheat of '58 for Pitman, but Frank Annen brought in the first of the southeast of Hereford. (Staff Photo) year Saturday night to Sears Grain. Hewett's wheat is averaging 15 bushels acre despite a heavy hail recently. It weighed 58 pounds per bushel with 14.7 percent moisture content. The wheat was cut by the leader, Mrs. Ira Ott, on June 9.

HEREFORD BULL

By JIMMIE GILLETINE
A farmer always figures the prettiest wheat field is the one that has been combined and left with stubble, but anyone else with an atom of artistry in their makeup is bound to agree that there are few prettier pictures than a field of waving wheat just before harvest. Fortunately, there are several such fields this year, and things should be rolling in high gear by this time next week. A lot of folks who have moved into this area in the past five or six years will definitely be in for a surprise. When harvest really gets rolling Hereford is an entirely different place.

OIL REPORTS are somewhat vague, but I get it via the grapevine that they really did have a little showing on the LaMance test this week. Nothing official, which is pretty well the way oil reports go. However, they seem to be sealing off and planning for another perforation. The Lindsey test, south of LaMance, is plugging away. Another few days and there should be something definite on, both rigs. If one comes in, the other also has an excellent chance. Everyone figures they should get oil between 7,500 and 8,000 feet. Don't write these two wells off. It is entirely possible that Merlin Kaul may get enough crude oil overflow to grease his hogs. Wheat crops are good, but there are few things that will equal a good stand of derricks.

The Shriners held somewhere around $4,000 on their recent wrestling promotion. Proceeds will be used to finance a hospital survey and to assist in sponsoring the annual children's clinic.

DORY FUNK really got peeved about the plug I gave him last week. At least, that's what Slim Wester and F. W. Dool say — although it is wise to take their reports with a grain of salt. Anyway, Mr. Funk, I was only kidding. Dory is one of the best sportsmen who comes to Hereford with the wrestlers, and I figured anyone who "dish it out" like Dory does on T.V. would also be able to "take it." Anyway, I apologize. I am prematurely a little bit thin on top myself — and I know how Dory feels. The Lions Club boys tell me that the crowd always picks up sharply when Funk comes to Hereford. Besides, not wanting to be unkind I don't like to make people unhappy — especially folks who are as handy with their grapplers as Dory Funk.

Meanwhile, there are going to be a bunch of other fellows around town who will slim down a bit, now that school is out. Woody Wilson, for instance, has been walking all over town. The reason is that his wife, a teacher, has the car. Several parents also find themselves in the same position.

Neil Cooper, president-elect of the Hereford Lions Club, plans to travel to the Lions International Convention in Chicago next month. The same is true of his brother, Clay Cooper, who is president-elect of the Canyon Lions Club. The two brothers will hold the office simultaneously, which is a bit unusual.

I keep hearing minor complaints about the new city street culverts. Nothing drastic, but a lot of people seem to think they liked the old ones much better. Mostly, the ladies don't like 'em.

MELVIN YOUNG first had his house painted pink and, after two girls arrived, decided a couple of years ago to paint it blue. Now, he is in the process of painting it white, whatever that indicates. He was busy welding a brush the other afternoon and along came 6-year-old Douglas Caldwell, who wanted to know what he was doing. Melvin reported that he was changing the color of the house. "Don't do it," said the youngster, "I liked it better like it was." Unable to halt the job, the youngster finally at the courthouse and found out that it is worthwhile, after all. The folder was entitled, "Tools for Food Preparation and Dishwashing." Furthermore, comments the Star editor, it said: "Dishpans should be large enough to hold the dishes, but not too large to fit into the sink."

I have to go along with the Aspermont editor. The information is definitely factual and practical. Only a sorehead would complain about his money being spent to disseminate the truth. However, a lot of people are getting those newfangled dishwashers these days and, first thing you know, the dishpan method will be obsolete. Furthermore, I'll bet they keep right on printing and sending out the pamphlets and — if they do — that's where my gripe starts. Besides, anything those Republicans do, Louis Woodford and I ain't gonna like in the first place.

There's another thing the average husband might encounter while his wife is visiting her folks this summer. What if he don't wash the breakfast dishes (not to mention breakfast, lunch and dinner the day before) and any dishpan that would hold the dishes might be too big for the sink, regardless of its size. Does he have a new sink installed to fit the giant size dishpan? It seems to me that those government bulletins might be a little bit more specific.

E. T. Brooks is one of the most unusual fishermen you will ever run across. He says the "big ones" are strictly for the birds. He plans to get off down Old Mexico way come October, but says he is not at all interested in sailfish, marlin or the big gruppas.

"It's too much like work," avers E. T., who adds: "I've seen fellows wrestle with a big fish more than an hour — and then they couldn't eat the meat after they landed him."

Fact is, he landed a 35-pound shark himself once — and was thoroughly disgusted after fighting the critter for 25 or 30 minutes.

The Aspermont Star folks recently got to wondering where their tax money went, but they picked up a government folder

Indians Win 4th Straight

Led by the clutch hitting of second baseman Johnny Willoughby and the combined three-hit pitching of Jim Haney and Ken Loerwald, the league-leading Indians dropped the Tigers, 5-2 Monday night to win their fourth straight game. They have yet to lose.

Willoughby had three hits in three trips to the plate and he drove in two runs. He walked in the third inning also. Haney, going five innings, yielded the last-place Tigers only two hits before Loerwald took over in the sixth. Loerwald finished the game, giving up only one hit.

The second-place Red Sox had a scare thrown into them but managed to halt the late uprising of the White Sox to win Tuesday night's game, 12-11. Leading 12-6 going into the last inning the Red Sox suddenly saw the White Sox come alive. They caught onto the offerings of Gary Kendrick and scored five big runs before Kendrick poured water on their sudden fire.

The White Sox, behind Roger Albracht, Ron Greenway and Jim Bridges, out hit the Red Sox 15-11 but couldn't score enough runs.

Shortstop Tommy Smithers of the Red Sox blasted a grand-slam home run in the first inning to take the hitting honors.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

House Votes for 900,000 in Army

To the people of the 18th District:

The House last week voted 389 to 0 to give the Department of Defense 3 1/2 billion dollars for the 1959 fiscal year.

The House added an amendment which would keep the standing army at 900,000 during 1959. The House voted, by the vote of 224 votes for, to 158 votes against, that the army should not be reduced to the 870,000 figure suggested by the President. In 1955 the Army had 1,109,300; 1,025,900 in 1956, and 998,000 in 1957.

The President first suggested for 1958 a standing army of one million, but subsequently reduced his estimate to 900,000. He then urged a further reduction to 870,000 for 1959. The matter was thoroughly debated, both in committee and before the House, and the conclusion to fix the standing army at 900,000 for 1959 was well justified. The fact is the Army gets the smallest amount of money from the defense budget, some 8 1/2 billion; the Air Force approximately 18 billion, and the Navy about 12 billion.

The tremendous amount of money involved in the overall defense picture is one of the bones of contention between the White House and the Congress with relation to the reorganization plan offered by the President. Our military establishment has always been maintained under civilian control through a Secretary for each respective Service.

The unification bill of a few years ago setting up the Department of Defense created a single cabinet office of Secretary of Defense, but did not abolish the administrative powers of the Secretaries of each of the Services. The latest requests of the President for changes in the bill written by the Armed Services Committee of the House would indicate that the Administration wants to concentrate all power in the Secretary of Defense and leave with the Secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force limited powers that would be ineffective as against the whims or desires of the Secretary of Defense.

To follow the President's suggestion would be to place in the hands of one man, the Secretary of Defense, almost absolute powers with relation to the military forces of this nation. That power, coupled with the power to control the expenditure of 32 1/2 billion dollars for the next fiscal year plus carry-over sums, could, and possibly would, create an over-all power in one man that could measurably affect the economy in any section of this country.

Although it could be argued that the proposal of the President would not, in itself, set up a Prussian-type of high command, it cannot be successfully argued that the powers placed in one man would not provide a vehicle by which a Prussian-type command could be set up in a very few years and perpetuated for many years.

Capacity Crowd Sees Benefit Wrestling Bouts

A capacity crowd of around 2,000 fans jammed the Bull Barn Saturday night and saw Dory Funk and Little Red Feather beat Mike DiBiase and Beau Brummel in a main event, tag-team tussle.

The night's benefit activities were sponsored by the Oasis Shrine Club with proceeds going to aid handicapped children.

Earlier in the night the midgets, Little Red Feather and Brummel, fought in the first event and Little Red Feather was the victor in nine minutes and 45 seconds.

In the second event Dory Funk and Mike DiBiase battled to a 20 minute draw.

Funk and DiBiase, fighting in the dressing room, after the main event, will return for a grudge match this Saturday. They will be featured in a double main event with Bull Curry and Cyclone Anaya in best two out of three falls, 60 minute time limit events.

Matches will start at 8:30 p. m.

A West Texas Pro-Amateur match is scheduled at the Levelland Country Club in Levelland today. It will be a low ball affair with an entry fee of $3 for amateurs and $5 for professionals. All Hereford golfers are invited to attend.

A Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament is being held at the Muleshoe Country Club this week. It started Tuesday with qualifying rounds and winds up tomorrow. Ladies from this course who are playing are June Gladman, Dugan Butler, Ola Mae Trimble and Maxine Walker.

Bill Howard has been playing some fine rounds lately shooting in the low 70's. He even holed a 50 yard approach shot on No. 7 the other day for an eagle 2. Joe Kerr has eagled number 9 the last two Sundays he has played.

E. B. Bridges Jr. of San Angelo, who has been visiting the Sylvester Slagles, played a couple of rounds over the weekend.

John Ethridge had eight birdies on 18 holes Saturday, finishing with a three under par 69.

The City Tournament is less than a month away. Dates are set for July 4, 5 and 6. Charles Seed is the defending champion and will be a heavy favorite to win again. Last year's runner-up, Joe Kerr, former champion, Bob Lindsey, Don Martin, J. M. Posey, John Ethridge, Max Drever, J. A. Pitman, and others, are expected to give him lots of trouble before the tournament is finished.

Golfers who participated in the National Golf Day at the local club and beat Lionel Herbert, the PGA Champion, who shot a 71 were Troy Moore, 86-18-68; Rowena Posey, 100-31-69; Dale Tinnin, 78-12-66; Frank Latimer, 78-8-70; Swain Burkett, 85-18-67; Wimpy Walker, 75-7-68; Ed Massey, 85-20-65; J. E. Knight, 94-24-70; Don Vaughn, 76-8-68; and Marvin Coffey, 78-8-70.

The National Open Golf Tournament starts Thursday at the Southern Hills Country Club in Tulsa, Okla. Favorite at the present time seems to be Ben Hogan, who has a strong desire to become the only man to win the Open five times. He has been practicing diligently for this one and is still the man who gets a lot of respect from the other Professionals, even though he seldom plays in Tournaments anymore.

'59 Wheat Parity Level Depends on Quota Vote

COLLEGE STATION — The level of price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be determined by the outcome of the June 20 referendum on marketing quotas for next year's crop, Searcy M. Ferguson, Chairman, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declared this week.

"Aside from a choice between a marketing quota program and no marketing quotas, the big issue to be decided by the June 20 vote will be the level of price support available for the 1959 wheat crop," the Chairman stated. "Acreage allotments will remain in effect no matter how the vote goes, as a means of determining eligibility for support."

As announced on May 1, price support for the 1959 wheat crop will be available in the commercial wheat area at a national average of at least $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity, if marketing quotas for the 1959-crop of wheat are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. This minimum will not be reduced, but may be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and wheat supply relationships as of July 1, 1959, indicate a higher support price.

If quotas for the 1959 wheat crop are not approved by at least two-thirds of the voters, however, the support level in the commercial wheat producing area will drop to about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower price support.

Those farmers who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1959 wheat crop, Chairman Ferguson points out. All farmers are eligible to vote if they will share in the 1959 wheat crop from a farm in the commercial wheat area on which the wheat harvested for grain in 1959 will exceed 15 acres and provided they did not take part in the 1958 feed wheat program.

the golden eggs. Our goose was cooked when we lost our ability to work and earn," said W. B. Wood of Port Arthur.

On behalf of the Texas Association for Tax Relief for Texans over 65, Wood asked for tax exemption for the first $3,000 of property owned by oldsters. He also opposed a sales tax.

Discrimination is charged because the law applies to wholesalers but not to producers who sell only the output of their own flocks. Suit also objects to the provision that makes violations a criminal offense and the requirement that eggs kept under refrigeration for 30 days or more be labeled "cold storage eggs."

REPUBLICAN — Texas Supreme Court is considering the question of whether a former Democratic candidate is entitled to a position on the Republican primary ballot.

Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor leader and onetime Democratic candidate for the Legislature attempted to file against Texas' only Republican congressman, Bruce Alger. He called himself a "Stevenson Republican," an apparent parody of Eisenhower Democrats.

A lower court ruled that Cantrell, as a member of one party, was not entitled to seek nomination in another party's primary. Cantrell appealed to the high court.

Since there is usually only one nominee for each office, Republican primaries do not ordinarily attract a heavy vote. It is widely assumed that many Republicans cross party lines to vote in Democratic primaries where most state offices are decided.

Cantrell's candidacy is generally interpreted as a move to force Republicans to stay in their own primary.

DIESEL TAX CHANGE — Proposed revisions in the diesel fuel tax law are being planned by the State Comptroller's Department.

Next Legislature will be asked to change the law so diesel fuel taxes would be collected from the wholesale distributor rather than the user, said a Department official. This is expected to make it easier for tax agents to keep track of consumption and purchases.

Comptroller's Department staffers admit that there are some evasions of the state motor fuels tax, but contend that Texas collects more per vehicle than any other major state. They discount as too large Sen. Charles Herring's guess that some $25,000,000 in fuel taxes went uncollected. Senate investigating committee (Continued On Page 2)

Highway 51 Group Seeks U.S. Number

LEVELLAND — A common state highway number designation through every state along a proposed international highway route across the nation's midsection from Canada to the Mexico border was approved here this week as the goal of the year for the Texas Highway 51, Assn., the Texas division of the International Parks Highway Assn.

The group also went on record as favoring a movement to draft Harley Rhoades of Burlington, Colo., for a second term as president of the international association when it holds its annual convention June 13-15 at Hot Springs, S. D. The proposed highway route passes through Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle, Colorado, Nebraska and South and North Dakota. President Paul A. Williams of Levelland told the Texas group he felt that federal designation of the proposed international highway route may still be "several years away, but he said he could see no reason why a common state highway number couldn't go up along the proposed route in each of the states this year if enough pressure is brought to bear in the right places.

Williams called for an effort to organize a letter writing campaign in every city along the entire international route to proper authorities in each state, and Secretary Bob Walker, also of Levelland, asked for dedicated personal contact work to achieve this important goal, which is one of the first requisites for federal designation.

A visiting state highway department engineer, Herb DeShazo, commended the Texas group for the work it has done and warned, in line with Williams suggestions, that state officials naturally assume that everything is satisfactory the way it is unless they hear from people in the affected communities.

"It does take civic action to call it to the attention of state and highway officials," he said. Joe Satterwhite of Brownfield, vice president of the international association, told the group that Texas is far ahead of the other states along the proposed route in highway improvements.

A $2.1 million construction program is underway on the route in Texas and another $1.8 million is already on hand for improving the highway route through Texas at other points.

Satterwhite praised Nebraska and Colorado for the progress they have made in improving their portion of the route, but cited a 60-mile stretch through the Oklahoma Panhandle, which has an inadequate bridge across the Cimmaron river, as one of the bottlenecks along the route.

Despite the work which remains to be done, Satterwhite said that the International Parks Highway Assn. is "better organized and in a better position than any other highway organization in the United States" seeking a similar federal highway designation.

He said that plans are being tension of the existing corporate normal tax rates and of certain excise tax rates. The measure came before the House under a closed rule. This means that no amendments or changes in the bill could be made except those named and provided for in the resolution calling for debate of the bill.

In other words, it was a case where you had to take the bill as it was or kill the whole measure. There was much dissatisfaction with this procedure, because there were some items that many Members wanted to reduce, such as automobile excise taxes. It was the feeling of many that a reduction of these taxes might generate some help for the recessionary situation that has developed in the automobile industry.

However, since this could not be done separately, it was practically impossible to get it done at all. The reason being that the bill under discussion carried with it a continuation of excise taxes on whisky, beer, wine and certain tobacco products; therefore, the killing of the bill, in order to provide a reduction in automobile excise taxes, would have also resulted in killing taxes on whisky, wine, beer and certain tobacco products. So under the circumstances, the measure passed the House and was sent to the Senate.

The bill had been recommended by President Eisenhower for passage and, in fact, it had been introduced by the Chairman of the Tax Committee at the request of the Administration.

Transportation taxes on freight and passengers were not included in the extension of the taxes under the bill that was before the House last week.

There was a discussion about the possibility of getting tax relief in the transportation field, but the indications are, both from the Administration's forces and the Leadership in the House, that there will be no tax reductions in any areas this year, except the possibility of some tax relief for small business. This, of course, made many of us rather sad, because we had hoped that some of the taxes could be revised so that relief could be had where it was most needed.

made for signs along the entire international route and "that work toward designation of a common number for the route is the purpose of a meeting of state highway engineers from the member states in Denver shortly after the South Dakota meeting.

Satterwhite said that Texas State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer has promised to be on hand for the Denver meeting to help work out the program.

tee looked into records in the Houston area to discover if small staffs, vague laws or insufficient penalties were causing the state to lose revenue.

OVER THE HUMP — Texas' general revenue fund is back in the black, according to State Comptroller Robert Calvert.

During the spring, state expenditures got ahead of tax receipts. A month ago the fund was in the red by some $1,250,000. But collection of corporation franchise taxes and insurance company occupation taxes during the month put finances back on schedule.

Now there's more than $12,000,000 in the fund, said Calvert.

The outstanding thing to Mrs. Kromer was the beautiful and beautifully dressed children everywhere they went. She asked the guides about this and they all replied that every penny the parents could get was spent on this "Sunday best" suit, but each child possessed only that one.

She said her one description of England was "cold." The people seemed used to it, but she stayed cold continually while there.

The most beautiful sight she saw was — "the Swiss Alps. An 11 inch snow fell the night before our visit and the whole countryside was a picture postcard," said Mrs. Kromer. They returned home the latter part of May.

The City Commission is to be congratulated upon the purchase of the new auto fire truck to take the place of the horses and wagon. This auto truck was made in Texas. The Wichita Falls concern is the first to put out a medium priced fire truck for the use of the smaller towns and Hereford is the first one to take advantage of the new equipment. The truck arrived last Monday and on Tuesday the fire boys cranked it up and "run" it around town to see how it worked. The truck is a thing of beauty and it will make Hereford look like a city to our visitors. The outfit is well built and it is an attractive piece of fire fighting apparatus.

J. M. Posey, Hereford's top golfer, drove over to Dalhart last Friday and entered the Dalhart Open Tournament. The qualifying round was shot Sunday, and Posey was fourth man with a 78, the top man shooting a 74. J. M. eliminated Ed Armstrong of Guyton, 3-2, on Monday, and fought Joe Stensass to the 36th hole Tuesday for second place, first place being won by Dick Coon of Dalhart. Posey had Stensass down five strokes through the 35th hole. His tee shot on the 36th was down the middle about 225 yards, but a little too low to clear a deep trap across the fairway, and when he saw the lie he had, he remarked that "He didn't see how he could get out of there in a week," picked up his ball and quit.

YOUNG MODERNS

Complaining Boy May Fail Trapeze Test

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer "If I had it to do over again, I'd never be a teen-ager," writes a typically harassed column fan. "It's complicated my life terribly to go through this period."

Enough said. We know what she means. But growing up isn't easy, and crossing the line from childhood to adulthood takes a bit of doing, especially these days. More letters testify to the puzzlement of the age:

"I have a trapeze dress which my family says looks wonderful on me. A boy I date steady says he wouldn't be found dead with a girl who would wear the new dress styles. He hates them. Should I wear it anyway and risk losing him, or just wear it when I don't see him?"

A. Chances are he doesn't know a trapeze dress from a pinafore. Wear it as a test. If he comments on its extreme style, don't be hurt. Say something like, "Oh, I thought you'd like THIS."

Q. "Is it fair of my parents to take me away for a whole summer? I am 16, and won't see my boyfriend for three months."

A. Many parents feel it's a good idea to separate young romantics for a spell. Maybe it would be good for you to get a change of scenery and meet some new young people. Give it a whirl. If you are very unhappy and lonesome your parents will probably be the first to notice and make other arrangements for you.

Q. "I had an opportunity for a summer job with my father's firm. I didn't follow it up at once and now I'm told they're not hiring students. My father blames me, saying that I hadn't procrastinated I would have gotten the job."

A. Many firms have cancelled out on vacation help, even where firm commitments may have been made. They are trying to make do during the vacation period with a minimum of help.

Q. "I have been told by an orthodontist that my teeth require braces. I would have to wear them two years. I am a sophomore in high school and can't bear the thought."

A. It'll be easier to tolerate the idea if you concentrate on what the results will be. For two years of wearing a mouthful of metal, you may earn a lifetime smile that would be the envy of toothpaste ad models.

Q. "I am entered in the college my mother attended, in spite of my dislike of the school. She is determined that I go there because she did."

A. Sometimes that is the case and perhaps your mother showed her hand too vividly. If she hadn't mentioned it, you may very well have chosen it as the one you'd most like to attend. This is the contrary age, when mother and dad are likely to look a little bossy in your eyes. If your parents are paying the college tuition, why not permit mother this whim of which she may have dreamed all her life. Lots of girls would like to be in your shoes when they're trying to figure out where to get a job to pay their college tuition.

How To Make Pillow Bag Pajamas

AP Newsfeatures GOOD WAY to teach a child as is to provide easy storage places for such things as pajamas and slippers.

A gay pajama bag will add a note of color to the junior bedroom and double as a pillow in the daytime. Local sewing center experts suggest you make your own covering for a round foam rubber or kapok-filled pillow, with room for pajama storage.

To make the pillow-bag, first measure your cushion. Cut two round pieces for top and bottom and a long strip for the boxing around the side. The drawing section is the same length as the boxing strip, and seven inches wide. Remember to cut all pieces to allow for a half-inch seam allowance.

Make bias cording for edges of pillow. Stitch cording around top and bottom sections. Stitch ends of boxing strip together. Baste boxing strip to bottom section and stitch. Leave opening for zipper. Trim seam edge so it will lie flat. Insert zipper.

Make drawstring casing for top of strip which makes the bag section. Stitch bottom edge to outside edge of top section of pillow cover and stitch both to boxing strip. Use remaining fabric to make bias cording for drawstring.

HIS DAY

Come Sunday, the world will pay homage to a very special fellow.
He is the husband—the father—the breadwinner and the sturdy foundation of our community. We pause to do him honor. He may be gruff, and stern, and tanned of face, but he is Dad. Just get an x-ray of his heart if you really want to see something rare. What strange, but wonderful people these fathers are. They are the world's easiest victims of love's attack. Just pour on a little attention, seasoned with about two parts of tenderness and give in very small doses...since he could never stand a big dose. Then just sit back and watch his big heart warm up. It will respond in true father fashion. This Father's Day, won't you take him to God's House for an hour of worship?

to be the answering devotion to the Lord God. As He hath trothed Himself to us, so we

FAMOUS SADDLE—C. Boone McClure, director of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon, mounts for display the saddle of the famous old rancher and trail blazer, Charles Goodnight. The Goodnight saddle, silver mounted and bearing his initials, was donated to the museum by Mrs. Cleo Hubbard of Goodnight, who used it herself for more than 30 years.

Canyon Museum Gets Goodnight's Saddle

CANYON (Special) — The saddle on which Charles Goodnight rode when he became the first ranchman to enter the Texas Panhandle to establish a ranch, has been donated to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

Silver-mounted and with tappers (brush guards on the stirrups), the saddle was believed to have been presented to Goodnight by a Mexican government official sometime prior to his cattle drive into the Palo Duro Canyon in the fall of 1875. The canyon, 10 miles east of here, is now a state park.

The museum here acquired the saddle from Mrs. Cleo Hubbard of Goodnight, who was given the saddle by the old rancher in 1926, "who told her to use it," according to C. Boone McClure, museum director.

Made in the Texas style, by F. M. Stern of San Jose, Calif., the saddle has eight silver tips, each with the initials, "C. G." carved in flowing script letters. When it was brought to the museum for display, the tappers had been laced out of the way, and shorter stirrups had been added for Mrs. Hubbard.

Harold Bugbee of Clarendon, curator of art for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, had visited Goodnight years ago to sketch the saddle. The sketch appears in J. Evetts Haley's biography of Goodnight, "Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman."

The saddle also appears in Bugbee's large mural of Goodnight taking his herd into the Palo Duro Canyon to establish the Panhandle's first ranch. The painting, along with many other Bugbee murals, hangs in the museum.

Site of Goodnight's ranch house, which burned in 1907, has been marked by Newton Harrell on Harrell's ranch near Claude. The Goodnight ranch became known as the JA after the old trailblazer became associated with the Adair family.

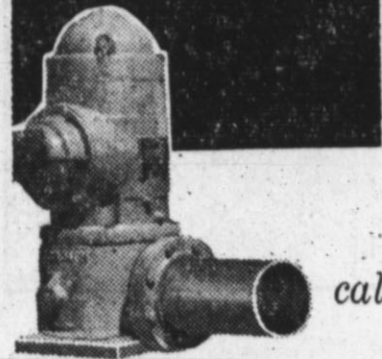

TEEN-AGERS KNOW THEIR OATS SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP) — Colleen Kelley and Saily Kiley ran a diet experiment for their science project at a high school here.

They gave one white rat a scientifically balanced diet, and another typical teen-ager fare of pickles, hamburgers and candy.

The "teen-ager" rat is thriving. The other one died.

Class of '51 To Reunite

Hereford High School's graduating class of 1951 will hold its second reunion here Saturday, according to one of the event's committeemen, Mrs. Glenn Wilson.

Highlighting the day will be a dinner-dance at Hotel Jim Hill.

Mrs. Wilson said the class' ladies and wives of men in the class were invited to a coffee social at her home two and a half miles south on the Dimmitt highway, starting at 9:30 a.m.

A buffet dinner will begin at 8 p.m. in the hotel's ballroom, but members are asked, Mrs. Wilson said, to arrive about 7:30. The dance will begin about 9:30 p.m.

Approximately 40 members of the class were present for its first reunion in 1956, at which time it was voted to hold one meeting two years later. Mailing of invitations was made in early May, and Mrs. Wilson said response has been good and she expected a large turnout.

Members of the event's committee are Buddy Pickens, chairman, Dwayne Walker, Jim Lookingbill, Rosene Dawson, Joyce Lyons, Helen Higgins, Lee Locke, Anna Lois McDurmett and Mrs. Wilson.

Dairy Foods demonstration stole the share of the spot light at the State 4-H Roundup this year. This is quite natural as June is Dairy Month and dairy foods are such an important item in the diet. The recent survey made among club women showed that about one-third of the women have sufficient milk in the diet. Of the 66 skilled 4-H demonstrators giving dairy foods demonstrations at Round-up, two of our club members, Nancy Green and Sandra Townsend gave a demonstration of lemon cheese cake.

Here is a recipe for a nice dessert for summer:

ANGEL CORDIAL DELIGHT
1 (8-ounce) bottle maraschino cherries
1 (4-ounce) package marshmallows
1 (9-ounce) can crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon gelatin
1 cup milk
1 pint heavy cream, whipped
1 cup sliced, blanched almonds
1 (10-inch) angel food cake
Quarter cherries and cut marshmallows into small pieces. Drain pineapple and combine with cut cherries and marshmallows. Let stand for about 2 hours. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup cold milk. Heat other 1/2 cup milk and add to softened gelatin. Refrigerate until gelatin is partially set. Add fruit mixture and almonds. Fold into whipped cream. Slice cake horizontally into 3 equal-sized layers. Spread fruit filling between cake layers and over top and sides of cake. Chill until mixture is firm. Refrigerate until served.
NOTE: This cake can be made a day prior to serving. Yield: 16 servings.

Egg Price Outlook Remains Favorable

COLLEGE STATION — Reduced cold storage holdings and a lower number of layers on farms point to favorable egg prices until the latter part of this year, according to John McHaney, extension economist.

The number of layers on Texas farms in April, 1958, was two per cent less than in March, 1958, and four per cent less than last April. The United States total this April and May was three per cent less than in April and May a year ago.

McHaney points out that this is favorable for prices in the short run. However, commercial hatcheries in the nation produced five per cent more egg-type chicks in March and April this year than a year ago and the production of these chicks during January through April was six per cent above the same period in 1957. This means there will be more eggs in the channels of trade when these chicks start laying this fall, and this will affect prices. Too, production during the first four months of 1959 will probably be larger than the first four months of 1958 and prices will probably be lower.

Cold storage holdings at the end of April were only about one-half as large as the holdings a year ago and one-half the average for that date, reports the economist.

Farm flocks in the U. S. laid three per cent less eggs in April of this year than last April and was the lowest April production since 1941. Total egg production, January through April, 1958, was four per cent below the same period last year. The rate of production per layer this April was 18.6 eggs compared to 18.7 in April, 1957, and the 1947-56 average of 18.0 eggs.

Prices received by producers in mid-April, 1958, averaged 37.4 cents per dozen compared with 40.8 cents a month earlier and 30.4 cents in April, 1957.

HERE'S HOW:

How To Get the Most Out Of Your Garbage Disposer

AP Newsfeatures

It's a good idea to know that appliance you have a yen to own before you invest in it. Make sure you have adequate wiring for your collection of large and small electrical units, and space and facilities for other installations you plan.

A waste disposer, for instance, is an easy appliance to operate, but because of its apparent complexities, many questions arise, says Sylvia White, director of consumer relations for one of the world's largest waste disposal manufacturers.

One housewife believes she cannot grind up corn husks, while another may attempt to throw an empty bottle down the disposal.

"Both are wrong," says Mrs. White. "You can put anything that feels unpleasant to handle in your disposal, except glass and metal. These may cause the unit's grind ring to wear out prematurely, and glass can stick in the sewerage line. But soggy paper napkins, cigarette butts, artichokes, pits, bones and corn husks may be ground up easily. Melon rinds should be cut up first."

It's a good idea to mix food wastes before putting them in the disposal, rather than putting them in separately, she says, "as different types of textures rub against each other they tend to liquify more quickly."

Large amounts of waste should be fed in a steady flow so there is room for it to be thrown against the grind ring, a steel file-like object that cuts up foods like a vegetable peeler.

"Most waste disposers hold waste in grind chambers until water is introduced to assure smooth passage into the sewer line. The food particles are carried off in water suspension, one reason why cold tap water should be run until the unit is shut off. Hot water will not do the job properly as it will just melt the grease which will congeal and stick to cold water pipes when it hits them. Disposers need not be cleaned with chemicals, but lingering odors may be removed by putting a tray of ice cubes or a half-lemon into the disposer."

More than half a million of these disposers were placed in sinks in 1957, says Mrs. White, and some 30 cities require installation of disposers in newly constructed homes.

"Before installing your disposer in an old home," she advises, "have sink drainage pipes thoroughly cleaned. They may be coated with grease, which may be easily removed and kept clean later by the scouring action of the disposal waste."

It's a good idea to read directions carefully, when you buy any appliance, not only to save wear and tear on the object, but to get the best out of it.

WASTE DISPOSER — It's a pleasure if you know how to operate it.

FALSE FRONT?

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—A leading Colorado educator thinks too much emphasis may be placed on the appearance of colleges and universities.

Quigg Newton, president of the University of Colorado, told a civic group here, "I sometimes think our institutions are too beautiful and give the impression we have everything we need." Newton said he is seeking higher pay for teachers.

STILL ON THE RUN

HOLLY HILL, S. C. (AP)—The still wasn't very still, but Police Chief E. I. Goss nabbed it anyway.

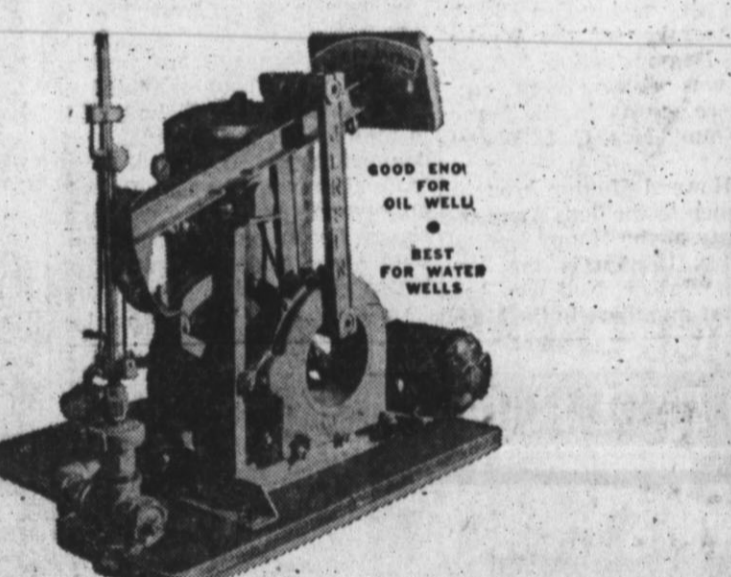

"The whisky making apparatus was mounted on the trunk of an automobile when Goss spotted it. The driver tied on foot after a chase but Goss got the still."

Exercise for the Big Summertime Leg Show

LEG SHAPER—Walk around the room on your toes in deep knee bends. Take about 10 steps, stand up for a rest then repeat. The exercise devised by Mala Rubinstein is said to strengthen the leg, including the ankle. Warm up to it by walking on tip toe.

KNEE SHAPER—Hold chair or table with right hand, lift and bend left leg at knee. Bend it until you touch knee to knee, then turn the left knee out and hold it, as shown. Continue turning it in and out 20 to 40 times, then repeat with the other leg.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Beauty Editor

Exercise your knees and legs, if you'd stand the short-skirt test. Your legs will show, even if you don't adopt the chemise. Newer dresses have short skirts.

"It's not the shape of your legs that is the main consideration, either," says Mala Rubinstein, director of a Fifth Avenue beauty salon. "The way you move your legs is important, and this too may be corrected with practice."

How should you walk for that look of grace and charm? "Stand some distance from a full length mirror, and walk directly toward your image.

Health Rules Important in Summertime

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
AP Newsfeatures

Time was when summer was a fearful time for mothers of young babies. Death rates were high during the hot weather season. There used to be an old fear that the "second summer" in a child's life was the most dangerous of all.

The big difference between now and times past is our knowledge of bacteria and sanitation. It was bacteria in the food that caused the greatest trouble. Food spoils easily in warm weather and babies who were fed contaminated food developed diarrhea. In those old days we didn't know how to treat diarrhea and all too often the disease proved fatal to the little patients.

Nowadays there are a multitude of safe prepared baby foods, and everyone has a refrigerator so that food in the home doesn't spoil any more quickly in summer than in winter.

The first summer a baby was on the breast in the old days and the danger of the second summer was the unpasteurized milk and other unprotected food he was fed.

The chief danger to our children of today with respect to food in the summer is in the meals eaten on picnics and away from home.

Food spoils in 1958 just as it did in 1858. When you go on a picnic, be careful what you feed your children. A delicious potato salad kept warm for three or four hours can cause severe food poisoning. The same thing is true of a meatloaf.

For picnics take food in unopened cans — that's always safe. Or else take raw food that you cook over a campfire. Watch the milk you give your children. It's better to skip the milk on a picnic meal rather than give the youngsters milk that has been warm half the day. Or you can take along some cans of evaporated milk and a little chocolate syrup. The chocolate disguises the canned flavor and the children will drink the special treat with gusto.

For the baby never, never carry milk warmed, on a picnic or anywhere else. If you take a feeding with you away from home for your baby, keep it cold in a thermos and warm it up at feeding time. You wouldn't think of warming the 2 p.m. feeding at 10 a.m. if you were staying home. Don't do it away from home.

Aside from food the next most important thing to watch for summer health is the question of chilling. When it's hot children run and play and get wet and sweaty. Then even a little breeze chills them as it dries the perspiration. Watch out that sweaters and shirts go back on when they stop playing.

In the early part of the summer watch out for overdoses of sunshine. Let the children get tanned gradually. A nasty case of sunburn is no fun.

will cause you to walk more like a duck than a woman should be avoided too, if you'd walk gracefully.

Ankles should be flexible and muscles must be strong because current shoe heel fashions allow you such a small point of contact with the floor. You must come down on them firmly if you are not to wobble.

Here is one for slimming and flexibility: Sit on the floor, resting weight on hands in back. Lift right leg and rotate feet with circular motion — up, side, down. Then reverse — down, side, up. Repeat with left foot. Do this 10 times, each foot.

To shape the calf if it is too thin: Walk around the room high up on your toes, and then try to do it while in a deep knee bend position.

Texans Prefer Texas Peaches

COLLEGE STATION — Texans like their peaches Texas-grown. Supermarket shoppers reached for local peaches over California fruit until a shortage in the Texas supply developed during consumer preference tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with a Dallas food chain.

The tests were conducted to determine preference and acceptance of new varieties of Texas peaches, and to study merchandising and other factors on which to base improvement in Texas fruit production and increase sales in the future.

Size — as an analysis showed nine out of 10 times — and not price comparison was the big factor entering the minds of shoppers as California and Texas peaches were displayed. Prices of the two were the same except for one period when Texas peaches were two cents a pound less.

In the four supermarkets, located in medium, medium-high and high income areas of Dallas, the total peach sales ranged from 16.1 to 20.8 pounds per 100 customers.

Texas-grown peaches were of the Cardinal, Dixired, Coronet and Ranger varieties sold in competition with California's Blazing Gold, Gold Dust and Red Haven varieties.

The shelf life of Texas peaches also compare favorably with peaches from other states, with a total loss of six per cent due to spoilage.

Spoilage varies because of different display sizes and rates of movement.

Peach production in Texas reached a high during 1941 when 2,475,000 bushels were produced. The smallest crop was in 1955 when only 35,000 bushels were produced, due to severe late spring freezes which damaged fruit buds and flowers.

Guide for Home Garden Insects Now Available

COLLEGE STATION — A good home garden can be a source of much pleasure and reducer of the family food budget. But both the pleasure and saving can be greatly reduced by harmful insects if proper control is not exercised, says Texas extension entomologist.

With few exceptions, vegetable insect control is a preventive program. Control measures should begin before insects appear in damaging numbers. Dusts and sprays, in most instances, are equally effective.

A new leaflet has been released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Vegetable Crops." It has a thorough rundown on insects that might harm almost any vegetable crop. It includes information on home garden mixtures, methods of application and precautions and contains a chart outlining a dust or spray program for controlling vegetable insects.

This leaflet should prove most helpful to all home gardeners. It can be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Tex. Ask for L-255.

Bushland, Tex., Man Reports—

"I Cut 2,190 Tons of Ensilage From 104 Acres of Maize"

Leo Bezner, Bushland, Tex., says: "I put down 80 pounds of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia per acre on 104 acres of irrigated maize land. I cut 2,190 tons of ensilage, or slightly more than 21 tons per acre. I use Phillips 66 Ammonia to help increase yields on all my cash crops."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that the 82% nitrogen in top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them to get more profit per acre, through higher yields and lower production costs.

They have found that, by using Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, they get more cotton that grades out higher at the gin; yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased; more marketable vegetables are harvested, and profits on wheat are increased through better forage, and higher yields of grain.

See your Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia distributor about profitable Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia, the 82% nitrogen fertilizer.

Rare Father-Son Combination Found in Local Insurance Agency

By DAVID STOKER
Like father like son.

In this modern day and age this statement is rarely used. Gone are the days when the son follows in the father's footsteps.

But such is not the case of John Patton and his son Bill of the Plains Insurance Agency here in Hereford. Bill not only has followed in his father's footsteps but it looks as if he has passed them.

"Bill used to ask me about the business," says the elder Patton, "but now I have to ask him about it."

JOHN PATTON established his insurance agency in Hereford 32 years ago. He previously had worked for a local lumber company and says he really doesn't know why he chose the insurance business.

Born in Breckenridge in 1891, his family moved to Plainview in 1895 and came to Hereford in 1900. John has lived here since.

After finishing high school here, he was offered an athletic scholarship to attend Polytechnic College in Fort Worth. He accepted and during his two years there he played football, baseball, tennis and ran track. The college was changed to Southern Methodist University in 1909 after the elder Patton had completed his second year. "They wouldn't accept my credits from Polytechnic so I never finished," he says.

In 1917 he married a Hereford girl, Virginia, and their only child, Bill, came one year later.

Bill graduated from Hereford High School in 1936 and from The Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas with a B. S. degree in 1941.

"He wanted to go to some other college," says the elder Patton, "but when I took him down to see their graduation ceremonies, he was sold."

After college the younger Patton received his officer's commission and served as a second lieutenant during World War II. Meanwhile, the elder Patton continued to run the business.

After the war Bill returned to Texas and started working for a firm in Wichita Falls. His father disapproved of this.

"I went to visit him once and saw immediately that he would never be nothing more than a bookkeeper for the place he was working for. He was competing against his boss' sons for advancement. So when I made him a good offer to join me, he accepted," his father says. This was in 1946.

SO BILL RETURNED to his hometown in 1946 and got up shop with his father, and that is the way things have been since.

As you enter the agency on 213 N. Main St. you can't help but notice the beautiful pictures that adorn the walls. This is the work of the younger Patton whose hobby is photography. Topping photography, however, is Bill's love for water skiing. Although a war injury limits this activity, he still finds time to teach others the art.

The elder Patton enjoys his spare time playing golf or going fishing. He is a charter member and one of the directors of the Tri-State Senior Golf Assn.

Both father and son are active members in their respective civic clubs, the Rotary and Kiwanis. The elder Patton was the Rotary's first charter member and first president. He has been present every meeting since the club was organized in this area 13 years ago.

"I've driven many miles to keep that record," he says.

Bill, lieutenant governor of this district in 1956, hasn't missed a Kiwanis meeting since it was set up here eight years ago. He and his wife, Helen, are presently the parents of three boys, Lisle, 15; Richard, 12; and Kevin, 5. They are members of the First Baptist Church. The elder Patton and his wife are also members of the First Baptist Church.

When asked when he expects to retire the elder Patton grinned and said, "I've been trying to do that for years, but as long as I'm able to hobble down here

TO GO—Sharon Beizer, left, and Peg Browning are tying luggage atop the preparatory to leaving for College Station and the Girls' State 4-H Round-up today. Helping with the work are Mrs. Parsons and Nancy Parsons, who also take the trip. Sandra Townsend, Nancy Green and Glenna Gandy also went to the annual event. All six girls won in district 4-H competition. Mrs. Doratha Prowell, assistant home demonstration agent, accompanied the girls. Seeds Motor Co. supplied the car. (Staff Photo)
