Another class of jet pilots—this one 53-F—got its formal send off from Webb Air Force Base Wednesday afternoon, with graduation ceremonies staged at the base academic building.

The student officers and aviation cadets heard brief remarks from one of the major figures in the Air Force, Major General Fred H. Smith Jr., vice commander of the Air Defense Command with headquarters at Ent AFB, Colorado Springs.

There were 107 in the class, including a number of foreign cadets. They represented Great Britain, France, Denmark and The Netherlands, and these young men heard their national anthems played as a climax to the ceremony, along with the Star Spangled Banner.

General Smith challenged the new officers to go forth to new assignments with "a high sense of duty." He pointed out that the military needs to "improve discipline upon ourselves," and urged a keen sense of integrity in handling any chore given.

General Smith told the class "We welcome you and we have confidence in you. I would remind you that no amateurs can lick the enemy that threatens us. Only professionals can do the job. We accept you into the ranks of the profession."

The freedom of the U. S. and the whole world depends upon upon fighting men such as the Webb grads, General Smith said. He told the class "You will be flying high performance aircraft, and using weapons that are the best this country can produce. You must learn to use them. You must be eager to absorb more and more training as you progress in the Air Force. You must pledge yourself not fall prey to those errors which can be costly and even fatal."

The graduates were congratulated by the general for having completed a hard course of training. "You can wear your new insignia with pride and understanding of your responsibility," he said. "Your progress is now in your own hands."

General Smith was presented by Col. Fred M. Dean, commanding officer at Webb, and after the ceremonies was guest of honor at an informal reception held at the Officers Club. There the officer met military and civilian guests, including relatives present for the new officers' graduation rites.

Class 53-F is the last one going through Webb's new 107-jet pilot training wings upon graduation. Hereafter, graduates will be commissioned upon completion of work here, but will receive wings upon completion of their Crew Training phase, at other bases.

McCarthy To Wed Former Assistant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Miss Jean Kerr, former research assistant in his office, are to be married.

Mrs. William P. Kerr, mother of the bride-to-be, announced the engagement today. The wedding will be Sept. 29 in St. Matthews (Roman Catholic) Cathedral here.

Miss Kerr, 28, was employed in McCarthy's office from 1948 until 1952.

A brunette, she was voted the most beautiful girl at George Washington University in 1945 while a student in the school here.

Miss Kerr also attended Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill. McCarthy is 43. A former judge in Wisconsin, he was elected to the Senate in 1946.

Miss Kerr, a native of Washington, joined the senator's staff on her graduation from Northwestern in 1946. Her name has been linked romantically with that of the bachelor senator since shortly after that time.

But Deputy Sheriff Jerry Hill and Dan Weisberger, blushingly wrote a happy ending to the story. The 41-year-old woman stepped calmly out of a maize field two hours after she vanished, still undressed except for her red foot-socks.

Hill and Weisberger said their two-hour hunt began when a flustered man rushed into the sheriff's office last night. He said he and his wife, driving along a country road, decided to take a swim in an irrigation ditch. They stripped. He walked over to the ditch and when he turned around his wife had disappeared.

Clark Assures Fair Shake For Reluctant Returnees

MUNSAN (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark today promised a fair shake for thousands of war prisoners—Allied and Communist-held—who have refused to return home.

The U. N. Far East commander pledged any Americans who have refused repatriation "our sympathy for the hardships they have suffered, our understanding of the pressures to which they have been subjected."

Clark offered any Americans the "legal rights and protection" guaranteed by U. S. laws. A U. N. Command spokesman said that being a "progressive"—Red sympathizer—is not considered a crime in the United States.

The Communists say they hold about 200 South Koreans and more than 29 non-Koreans—presumably most of these Americans—who refuse repatriation.

Clark also vowed to protect the "freedom of choice" of nearly 2,000 Chinese and north Koreans who renounced communism while in Allied captivity.

As the statement was released, 1,000 fiery, anti-Red Chinese war prisoners being handed over by the U. N. to Indian guards near Pusan, Korea, were refused to give their names to the Indians.

The prisoners spotted Communist observers outside the barbed wire and unleashed a hail of stones. None of the Reds was injured.

The five-nation repatriation commission, which will decide the fate of all prisoners who refuse to go back to their home countries, called a special conference.

An Indian spokesman said the commission would consider refusing further Allied deliveries of prisoners without their identification cards. The prisoners apparently feared Red interviewers might discover their names and homes and take reprisals against relatives.

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. A. I. Hamblen, chief of the U. N. C. group which will talk with reluctant Allied prisoners, said the command feels both Allied and Red captives "already have made their choice."

The general told a news conference at Munsan:

"If the prisoner does nothing, it is assumed that he wants to stay under the control of the country which now holds him."

He said a prisoner's decision to act must make some "overt act" such as an oral or written application, to be considered for repatriation.

Hamblen told correspondents that his explainers are "not going to say anything to the POWs that we cannot back up. We are not going to give wild promises of immunity. But we will assume all men innocent unless proven guilty."

They will be told their rights as American citizens, Hamblen said. Hamblen said being a "progressive"—a POW who sided with the Reds—is not considered a crime in the United States.

Two-Day Fiesta Comes To Close

Music and dancing last night brought to a close the Fiesta de Big Spring, observed by Latin-Americans on the anniversary of Mexico's independence.

The fiesta started Tuesday with appropriate religious ceremonies and continued for the two days which included the crowning of Miss Lucia Lopez as Fiesta Queen by Mayor G. W. Danberry; ball games, street dancing, music and other entertainment.

Mrs. Lopez was attended by Fiesta Princess Lidia Corales and Fiesta Duchess Ramona Molina. Marquez Melendez was master of ceremonies and the Fiesta officers are N. E. Holguin, president; Jose B. Zamora, vice president; Pedro Cortez Suarez, secretary and Jesus Morina, treasurer.

Thursday's delivery of about 2,000 Chinese to the Indian camp raised the number now in stockades in the demilitarized zone to about 11,600—just over half the total.

The deliveries are expected to be completed next week.

The board of directors of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, at its meeting here Wednesday, declared dividends on both common and preferred stocks.

President W. G. Vollmer announced that dividends of $1.25 per share on the common stock and one and one-quarter per cent on the preferred, both payable Sept. 30 to stockholders of record Sept. 25, 1953, were voted.

In addition to Vollmer, thirteen members of the Texas and Pacific Board of Directors were in attendance at the meeting.

SEATTLE (AP)—The commander of the American Ex-Prisoners of War, Inc., has asked Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to accept the position of honorary national commander which was vacated by the death of Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright.

The pole is about 900 miles from Thule, far longer than helicopters even with extra fuel tanks like these two could make in a single leap, so the plan is to "stage" up along the route with refueling stops at such places as Alert, on the northernmost tip of Ellesmere Island (the last part of land), and the floating ice island T-3, presently about 100 miles from the pole.

Successful operation of the 'copters from the Greenland ice cap would be almost as precedent-making as the polar trip. The great sheet of almost unbroken ice and snow, covering everything except the coastal rim of the southern part, stands at an altitude running from 8,000 to 10,000 feet.

Texas Will Have New Governor On Saturday

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas will have a new governor Saturday, one who's never served in the office before.

He is Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, president pro tem of the Senate.

Phillips will become acting governor in the absence from the state of both Gov. Allan Shivers and Lieut. Gov. Ben Ramsey. Shivers will be in California for the Baylor-University of California football game. Ramsey will be in Louisiana.

Dulles Says Reds Stand In World Peace's Way

Russell Charges A-Bombs Exceed Planes To Carry

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said today the United States has more atom bombs than it has planes and pilots to deliver them against any aggressor that might attack this country.

Russell, top Democratic senator on the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, made the remark in expressing concern about Eisenhower's administration cuts in Air Force funds.

How many A-bombs this country has stockpiled is a carefully guarded secret.

The Georgian, interviewed about the impact on U. S. defense requirements of Russia's announcement she has developed the H-bomb, said the best deterrent to aggression is the ability to strike back. He said he felt, therefore, that the retaliatory power of long-range strategic bombers must be the cornerstones of America's defense.

Despite any defense network that may be thrown around this country—with radar warning systems, guided missiles—some enemy bombers are bound to break through in a determined attack, Russell said.

However, he also said more intercepter planes, as well as an improved radar network, are needed. He put more stress on planes than guided missiles but said he was not at liberty to expound on his reasons.

At the last session of Congress Russell opposed the Eisenhower administration's five billion dollar cut in funds for the Air Force. He repeated today he felt too deep cut had been made. He also noted the Defense Department had ordered a further cutback in plane orders since Congress adjourned.

Russell said the objective of achieving a balanced budget must be kept, but he took the position it was better for the government to go into the red than to risk an inadequate defense.

In a separate interview, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) told reporters Russia's progress on the H-bomb should bring a thorough reappraisal of U. S. defense planning and spending. But he said this would necessarily blight his often expressed hope for a tax cut by Congress next year.

Bridges heads the Senate Appropriations Committee, which handles spending bills, and is the senior Republican member of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

He said he hopes to have a talk with President Eisenhower in Boston Monday—when the President arrives to address a Republican meeting there—and that the tax-defense financing problems probably would be discussed then.

Dean Honor Proposed

SEATTLE (AP)—The commander of the American Ex-Prisoners of War, Inc., has asked Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to accept the position of honorary national commander which was vacated by the death of Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright.

The pole is about 900 miles from Thule, far longer than helicopters even with extra fuel tanks like these two could make in a single leap, so the plan is to "stage" up along the route with refueling stops at such places as Alert, on the northernmost tip of Ellesmere Island (the last part of land), and the floating ice island T-3, presently about 100 miles from the pole.

Successful operation of the 'copters from the Greenland ice cap would be almost as precedent-making as the polar trip. The great sheet of almost unbroken ice and snow, covering everything except the coastal rim of the southern part, stands at an altitude running from 8,000 to 10,000 feet.

Talbot said the Ford Air Force facility in Chicago will move forward with Pratt & Whitney of East Hartford, Conn., by changing from production of the B3500 piston engine to become a second source for the J57.

Similarly, he said, the Dodge plant in Chicago will be used in part for J37 production.

Talbot said the Air Force will place increased emphasis on development and production of turbo-prop engines—jet engines harnesses to propellers—particularly for transport and tanker airplanes.

Big Spring Pilot To Try To Land 'Copter At Pole

THULE AIR BASE, Greenland (AP)—The Air Force aims to land two helicopters on the North Pole the first whirlbirds to go to the top of the world.

The two twin-rotor Piasecki aircraft already have a long flying trip behind them. On Aug. 17 they left Eglin, Fla., air proving ground and with 14 intermediate stops reached this northernmost USAF air base on Sept. 14.

Crews from the air proving ground flew the 'copters up here to test them out under arctic conditions, then left them for rescue and other use by the Thule base.

Pilot of one 'copter is Capt. Raymond N. Gottfried of Brooklyn. The other is Capt. Vernon C. McKenzie of Big Spring, Tex. Navigator for the long flight from the subtropics to the arctic was Maj. Clarence E. Hoke of Lebanon, Pa.

The flights will make up here will take us up on the Greenland ice cap and to the North Pole," say the pilots.

The pole is about 900 miles from Thule, far longer than helicopters even with extra fuel tanks like these two could make in a single leap, so the plan is to "stage" up along the route with refueling stops at such places as Alert, on the northernmost tip of Ellesmere Island (the last part of land), and the floating ice island T-3, presently about 100 miles from the pole.

Successful operation of the 'copters from the Greenland ice cap would be almost as precedent-making as the polar trip. The great sheet of almost unbroken ice and snow, covering everything except the coastal rim of the southern part, stands at an altitude running from 8,000 to 10,000 feet.

AF Will Cancel Some Jet Engine Spare Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force plans to cancel contracts for possibly 6,000 spare engines costing perhaps a half-billion dollars because, it says, jet engines are sturdier than at first thought.

Secretary of Defense Wilson and Secretary of the Air Force Talbot told a news conference yesterday the cancellations will "not affect the production of one single plane."

They said the engines, all spares or extras and mostly for jets, are no longer needed for two chief reasons:

1. Jet engines are much more durable than had been expected—the result of "accumulated know-how" in operation, maintenance and improved design.

2. Attrition rates have fallen off—that is, fewer accidents and, of course, no losses in combat since the truce in Korea.

Tells U. N. 'Mere Words' Not Enough

By MAX HARRERSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The world is at a crisis, Secretary of State Dulles said today, and it is up to the Communists to remove the roadblocks that stand in the way of peaceful solutions for Korea, Indochina and Germany.

"Mere words" are not enough, Dulles told the U. N. General Assembly, and there can be no "new world climate" unless the Communists contribute more to it by changing their policies.

The United States, he declared, stands ready to explore all possible means to end tension and bring world peace—before scientific discoveries "spit life off the surface of this planet."

Dulles accused the Communists of dilatory tactics in Korea since the armistice. And he added: "We are forced to doubt that the Communist side really wants to comply with the armistice and face up to the problem of withdrawing their forces from Korea and creating a united and independent Korea."

Dulles spoke for 87 minutes before a packed audience, including top-ranking diplomats from 6 nations. Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky listened intently and took notes, but the Soviet bloc delegates did not join in the applause when the secretary of state concluded.

This was Dulles' major policy statement in behalf of the United States, before the Assembly session which began Tuesday. Vishinsky will present Russian views within a few days.

Dulles mentioned Premier Malenkov's recent statements that the Communist and non-Communist systems can co-exist peacefully. He commented "such expressions are welcome but he added, "Mere words do not reassure us in view of the fact that "since 1950, 60 million people of some 15 nations have been brought into the Soviet camp of dictatorships."

Saying there never was a time when the need for harmony was more urgent, Dulles told the Assembly: "The United States will seek to...

"Governments which exert themselves without reserve to the creation of ever more powerful methods of mass destruction, which tolerate no delays and spare no expense in these matters, and which at the same time are dilatory, evasive or negative toward curing the situations which could bring these destructive forces into play, cannot but stand morally condemned."

He said there never had been a time when the need for harmony was more urgent.

Dulles made these declarations on major issues:

1. Policies which will permit Korea to be united and free.

2. A peaceful solution of the Indochinese problem.

3. Unity of Germany and a free Austria.

4. Policies which will enable Russia's neighbors to enjoy national independence.

5. Policies which will end the dedication of the Soviet Communist Party to the violent overthrow of independent governments.

Then Dulles observed: "Governments which exert themselves without reserve to the creation of ever more powerful methods of mass destruction, which tolerate no delays and spare no expense in these matters, and which at the same time are dilatory, evasive or negative toward curing the situations which could bring these destructive forces into play, cannot but stand morally condemned."

He said there never had been a time when the need for harmony was more urgent.

avoid any word or deed which might needlessly aggravate the present state of dangerous tension."

"The United States is quite prepared to explore ways to end the present tension," he said. "But what the United States does cannot achieve the required goal unless there is an equivalent response."

"Occasions are now imminent which permit, indeed require, the Soviet leaders to show more authentically their present intentions."

Then Dulles said: "If the Soviet leaders are honest, they must recognize that, if there is to be a new world climate, they must contribute more to it than they have yet contributed."

He accused the Soviet Union specifically of "dilatory tactics" in Korea and of sponsoring rebel forces in Indochina, as well as failure to cooperate on the German and Austrian questions.

The secretary of state laid down the following points, which he said would "go far to end the present tension":

1. Policies which will permit Korea to be united and free.

2. A peaceful solution of the Indochinese problem.

3. Unity of Germany and a free Austria.

4. Policies which will enable Russia's neighbors to enjoy national independence.

5. Policies which will end the dedication of the Soviet Communist Party to the violent overthrow of independent governments.

Then Dulles observed: "Governments which exert themselves without reserve to the creation of ever more powerful methods of mass destruction, which tolerate no delays and spare no expense in these matters, and which at the same time are dilatory, evasive or negative toward curing the situations which could bring these destructive forces into play, cannot but stand morally condemned."

MAY PROVE FATAL

Doctors Separate Siamese Twins

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A team of eight surgeons separated Louisiana's Siamese twins today after operating two hours.

"The condition of the twins is very satisfactory" following the separation, a staff surgeon reported and expressed hope that both girls would survive.

The surgeons split into two teams of four each to finish the work on each girl individually.

The operation went satisfactorily with no unexpected developments, a staff surgeon reported.

The 3-hour and 55-minute overall operation ended at 11:30 a.m. (EST) and the girls were placed in separate cribs for the first time.

If both girls survive, the surgeons believe they will have written a new page in medical history. A spokesman at New Orleans Foundation Hospital said that never before have both twins survived such an operation.

The surgeons separated the lower intestinal tract that the eight-week-old girls shared after dividing a fused vertebrae that also joined them.

The girls are the daughters of Mayor and Mrs. Ashton J. Mouton of Lafayette.

Hospital spokesmen said yesterday the girls, Carolyn Anne and Catherine Anne, are "bright, alert and normal in every respect except for the connection."

The girls were born in the Lafayette Sanitarium July 22.

The only organ the twins had in common was the lower intestinal tract, spokesmen said. They were joined at the fourth sacral vertebrae, which is fused.

The lower intestinal tract was bypassed in a preliminary operation by an opening in the abdominal wall, spokesmen said. Plastic surgery will complete each twin's lower intestinal tract.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The election of a supervisor from Area 5 of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District will be held at the Lomax School the evening of Oct. 6, it has been announced.

Each soil conservation district is divided into five areas with a member of the board of supervisors being elected from each. The re-election of one supervisor is held every year, thus the supervisors serve for five years. All over the country this year the supervisors will be elected from the Area 5 of each district. Next year the rotation will be started again with the election of supervisors from Area 1.

Morris Patterson is presently the supervisor from Area 5 of the Martin-Howard SCD and he is also chairman of the board of supervisors. To be eligible either to hold the office of supervisor or to vote in the election a person must own land in the area. Land owners from four counties, Martin, Howard, Midland and Glasscock are eligible to vote in the election of an Area 5 supervisor, since the Area is roughly the shape of a wedge of pie and extends into the four counties.

In a general way it is bounded on the north by U. S. Highway 80 from Big Spring to Midland; on the west and south by the Midland-Garden City highway to a point near Garden City where it makes a jagged turn back to Ranch Road 33 from Garden City thence along that road to the intersection with U. S. Highway 87 south of Big Spring and thence with Highway 87 to Big Spring.

Wiley Seeks Far Eastern Mutual Defense Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), declaring "our job in the Far East has just begun," called today for a mutual defense arrangement with that area as soon as the nations of Southeast Asia are ready for it.

"We should use our great influence to help develop the concept of collective security in the Far East," said Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Security in the Far East is every whit as important to world peace as security in Western Europe or Latin America. . . . What we need to do now—as soon as the countries of the Far East are ready to assume the obligations involved—is to move ahead with a third great pact for the Far East."

In speaking of a "third" pact, Wiley referred to the North Atlantic and the Rio treaties, in which this country pledged its mutual security with the nations of Western Europe and this hemisphere, respectively.

The senator, in a speech prepared for the National Foundry Assn., a trade group, also declared:

1. Russia is seeking to divide the Western Allies, and Americans should not help her by magnifying differences between, for example, the United States and Britain. "The fact that we disagree with respect to a particular policy," he said, "is not nearly so important as the fact that we continue to agree on our common goals and work together to achieve them."

2. The Soviet world "is in the throes of an acute attack of totalitarian indigestion" whose "symptoms approach those of ptomaine poisoning." Wiley said that, if the free world does all it can to encourage this development, "the internal pains will continue to the point where the Soviet Union will be forced to disgorge her satellites and eventually revolution will break out within the mother country itself."

3. More information about atomic and hydrogen bomb development should be made public because, he said, "if the leaders in the Kremlin had the facts at their disposal, they would hesitate a long time before taking action that might provoke the United States to take retaliatory measures."

Wiley declared that the United Nations, at the Korean Peace Conference due to start next month, will not be maneuvered into seating Communist China. But he cautioned against threatening U. S. withdrawal if Red China should be seated.

"Advocates of this extreme position should realize . . . that if we are ever compelled to take such a drastic step it would probably sound the death knell of the United Nations and be a serious blow to the cause of world peace," he said.

Wiley's suggestion for a mutual defense treaty with the nations of the Far East was part of a four-point program he outlined to govern U. S. policy toward the Pacific areas.

As other steps he proposed: A U. S. declaration that it will meet armed aggression anywhere with whatever action this country's interests require; continuation of financial aid; and efforts to convince the countries of Asia that their national aspirations can best be achieved on the side of the free world.

"The Communists come in with glittering promises," Wiley said. "They promise rice. They promise independence. And they talk about Asia for the Asiatics."

"We know these are bogus promises. We know that wherever communism has its chance, confusion, chaos, despotism and despair will be left in its wake."

and the junction of U. S. Highways 80 and 87.

The election is scheduled to follow a conservation meeting which will include the showing of conservation slides and an explanation of the overall conservation program as administered through self-governing soil conservation districts.

The first 11 head of cattle were registered with the American Polled Hereford Association in 1901. Then it took another 16 years before a total of 10,000 were registered. Only 10,012 Polled Herefords were registered in the full year of 1940, but during one month this year (April) registrations totaled 10,000.

But the breed is growing as is evidenced by the fact that during the past 12 months a total of 78,152 certificates have been issued, which represents an increase of 5,572 over the previous 12-month period. The total registration of the breed now stands at more than 630,000 and approximately one half this number have been registered in the past five years.

D. W. Chittenden, executive secretary of the polled breeders group, writes that: "The increase in numbers of purebred Polled Herefords is unparalleled in the history of America's beef industry. When the naturally hornless Whitefaces were introduced at the turn of the 20th Century other breeds had been flourishing for years, thus making it doubly difficult for the new Polled Hereford breed to gain a foothold. But the breed rose from almost complete obscurity to carve a permanent place in the future picture of American beef progress."

Farmers in Howard, Martin and Mitchell counties will soon start receiving letters asking them to supply information for a "range of wages" survey on the pay of cotton field workers which is being compiled by the Texas Employment Commission, according to Leon Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the TEC.

This survey is being made by the TEC for the purpose of gathering wage information to be supplied the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the U. S. Department of State, and the Mexican Government since Braceros are being brought into this country under a labor treaty with Mexico in which the United States guarantees the payment of certain minimum wages and other conditions.

The letters going out will explain the wage survey in detail and will also request information on the general characteristics of the farm such as size, cotton acreage, anticipated cotton yield, whether irrigated or dryland, and

Revenuers Send Price Of Moonshine Higher

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Revenuers are making a good run on stills in the lush moonshine liquor district of Logan, Lincoln and Mingo Counties. But their activities are forcing higher prices.

William R. Harvey, chief investigator here for the Federal Alcohol Tax Unit, says the going price for moonshine has climbed to $16 a gallon—roughly the price of some legal brands.

He thinks it's because his agents have been knocking off so many stills lately. They destroyed five in the last 30 days.

Chicago Man Still Wants To Rent Sub

CHICAGO (AP)—Edward M. Moran says he still is trying to rent a submarine to use for a combined business and pleasure cruise in Lake Michigan.

Moran, who sells plumbers' supplies, thought he had rented a submarine yesterday but discovered he was a victim of a prankster.

Surveys will be made every two weeks and on Mondays of the survey week cards will be mailed the selected farmers requesting information on the situation on Wednesday of the survey week, and it is hoped, Kinney said, that the farmers will return these cards and information promptly on that day so the data can be compiled for the weekend analysts. Farmers not receiving these cards through the mail will also be given an opportunity to furnish information on cards that will be available at all cotton gins.

Moran said he believed the deal was closed—except for the payment—after a telephone call from a man who identified himself as a representative of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., Kearney, N. J.

He told Moran the submarine would be in Chicago in about three weeks for Moran, who planned to take about 50 guests on the lake cruise. Moran also planned to deliver some plumbing supplies. The Deputies Gail Back and Ken Clayton drove to the home of Mrs. Ruth Curtis in Bear Canyon. They found half a dozen live rattlers in the yard.

The Synod also voted yesterday to encourage the seminary's board to discuss a possible merger with trustees of the Louisville, Ky., Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Twenty-Eight Killed

Wreckage of an American Airlines plane that crashed and burned at Albany, N. Y., killing all 25 passengers and a crew of three, lies in a field, a twisted pile of metal. The plane, enroute from Boston to Chicago, was circling over the airport area, waiting for runway ground fog to clear up, when the crash occurred. (AP Wirephoto).

GOP Worried About Barkley As Candidate

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO (AP)—Republicans arriving in Chicago for regional party conferences discovered today they may have to contend with former Vice President Alben W. Barkley in a critical 1954 contest involving control of the Senate.
Democrats leaving town after a two-day rally here said there is little doubt that Barkley, a veteran of 30 years service in Congress before he was vice president for four years, will be a candidate for the Senate in Kentucky next year. This means that Sen. John Sherman Cooper, Republican, looked upon with high favor at the White House, will face the stiffest kind of opposition next year in a state

President Eisenhower lost by 700 votes in 1952 while Cooper was being elected by a comfortable margin.
To the incoming Republicans, who are aiming their forthcoming conferences here primarily at retaining control of Congress, it was obviously gloomy news that Barkley probably will run again for the Senate.
The Kentuckian, who served several terms in the House, was Democratic leader of the Senate and a frequent national convention keynote before he became "The Veep" in 1948.
Cooper's Kentucky seat is one of the two now held by GOP members in which Republican strategists are doubtful of the outcome. The other is the seat held by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), scheduled as a fill-in keynote at the combination meeting of party women from 18 states and 21 GOP state chairmen.

Suspended Dallas Policeman's Rights Held Not Violated

DALLAS (AP)—Suspended police detective J. W. Fuller's civil rights were not violated by Dallas Police Chief Carl Hanson, the Department of Justice says, and the FBI has been advised to drop investigation of the case.

Warren Olney III, assistant attorney general for the Justice Department's criminal division, yesterday said no further investigations would be made of Fuller's charges that Hanson and two other officers violated his civil rights by holding him prisoner in a hotel room for more than 24 hours while he was questioned about theft charges.
Hanson suspended Fuller and six others last June on a charge of theft while on duty. The suspended officer applied to the FBI after Hanson's action was upheld by a civil service trial board.
Fuller now has applied to a district court for a writ of mandamus compelling the City of Dallas to restore him to his position.

Worms To Be Snacks For Zoo-Bound Bird

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—One of New Zealand's non-flying Kiwi birds took off for London today—in a plane—with a trans-America supply line of big fat worms on tap for mid-flight snacks.
The rare, ostrich-like Kiwi is headed for the London zoo.
The Kiwi, found only in New Zealand, feeds almost entirely on earthworms. About the size of an ordinary domestic hen, it is almost wingless and has a very long beak.

Gilmore Believes Malenkov Needs Careful Watching

HOUSTON (AP)—The Russian government of Georgi Malenkov is weak but needs close watching, Eddie Gilmore, former chief of bureau of The Associated Press in Moscow, says.
Gilmore said Russia may suggest an international inspection of atomic weapons and indicated such an eventuality would be to the Russians' advantage.
"And why shouldn't they suggest it?" Gilmore asked. "They have convinced many people they have the hydrogen and the atomic bomb. They have many people believing they are just about as strong, or stronger, than we are. Now, would not it be a beautiful maneuver for them to agree to mutual inspection?"

Such an agreement, Gilmore said, would only permit the Russians to copy and imitate U. S. advances in nuclear science.

Knight Wants To Be Warren's Successor

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Goodwin J. Knight, who has been acting governor of California 56 times, likes it so well he wants to drop the "acting."
Knight, a two-term Republican lieutenant governor, formally announced yesterday he is a candidate to succeed Republican Gov. Earl Warren, who recently said he won't seek a fourth term. Warren's third expires in January 1955.
Knight has piled up his remarkable 56 times in the governor's chair while the widely travelled Warren was out of the state.

Dorothy Lamour Is Heard In Spreckels Trial Wednesday

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Dorothy Lamour testified her friend Kay Williams looked like she had been clawed the morning after Miss Williams' ex-husband is accused of beating her.
Miss Lamour appeared yesterday at preliminary hearing for sugar heir Adolph Spreckels who is charged with felonious assault.
The actress said she saw Miss Williams the morning of last Aug. 20 and testified:
"I saw a scar on the left side of her face about three to four inches long, bleeding very badly. I mean really very deep scratches. Blood was coming from her head profusely."

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little PASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get PASTEETH at any drug store.—Advt.

number the Republicans if Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio, a Democrat, names a member of his party to succeed the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Recognizing this situation, Victor A. Johnston, director of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee said in an interview he believes Cooper will give a good account of himself against any Democratic opponent.
Cooper's seat is before the electorate again because he was elected to fill out the unexpired term of the late Democratic Sen. Chapman.

Ferguson, who is being threatened with opposition from Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, was chosen as a substitute speaker when GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall developed a virus infection, preventing his appearance at the meetings here.

Ferguson, head of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, might be faced with strong opposition if Williams decides to run for his seat.
More than 1,000 women from Midwestern and Southern states were expected to attend regional conference sessions starting tomorrow. These sessions were to be concerned primarily with the role of women in attempts to retain Republican control of Congress.
To counter the national publicity attained by the Democrats in appearances here of former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois and former President Harry S. Truman, the Republicans arranged to bring in two Cabinet members.
Secretary of Interior McKay, whose power policies have been under fire from the Democrats, and Postmaster Gen. Summerfield, whose postal rate increase proposal was shelved by Congress this year, were on the program.

South Houston Water Rationing End Okayed

HOUSTON (AP)—City councilmen here have informally agreed to approve next Wednesday as the end of water rationing for South Houston residents.
Restrictions now limit those persons living south of Buffalo Bayou to watering lawns only between 8 p. m. and midnight on alternate evenings.

A Beauty Lesson

Marjorie Main, who is one of the busiest and best-loved actresses in Hollywood, confides that her success is proof that you don't have to be beautiful to get to the top. Miss Main's personality is her greatest asset.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Personality Makes Up For Lack Of Beauty

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — The trend in Hollywood is to do away with long term contracts and engage actors by the picture. There are, of course, exceptions to this policy and Marjorie Main is one to hold a coveted contract with MGM. When I visited Miss Main on "The Long Love Triller" set, the new Lucy-Desi picture, I asked her what she contributed her success.

With her distinctive home spun manner she remarked: "I should be an encouragement to every young girl who is not beautiful, yet who is attracted to the theatre or to any field where beauty seems to be required. The important thing is to love your work and no matter what they tell you, always insist on being yourself. As long as people run out to see an elephant on parade you don't have to be pretty to be a successful actress."

"Back in Indiana my father was a minister and in those days there were no radios, movies or television sets so the church was much more of a social center. As a form of entertainment we used to have Jubilee Singers and I used to mimic them. I think that my ability to amuse people with those impersonations strengthened my determination to become an actress. I asked Miss Main to tell me some stumbling blocks in the path of success. "I grew up with too much discipline," she confided, "and I was dominated by my elders to such an extent that I developed a feel-

District Program Led By State P-TA Officer

Mrs. Leon Price of Dallas, state P-TA vice president and a nominee for state president, conducted a school of instruction at the 16th District fall board meeting Wednesday.

The meeting was held in the Howard County Junior College auditorium. Mrs. J. F. Black opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. Stanley Erskine of Midland led a get-acquainted period. Mrs. W. N. Norred, district president, presided at the business meeting.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. L. B. Vineyard of Abilene from the position of district vice president and aide to the president. Mrs. Andrew Hunt of Abilene was elected in her place.

The board approved appointment of the following board members: Mrs. B. V. Gilean of Snyder, arts and crafts chairman; Mrs. R. H. Whitaker of Stanton, national headquarters; Mrs. H. E. Rowland of Midland, public relations; Mrs. Ethel Preston Trice of Abilene, recreation; Mrs. W. L. Vaughn of Big Spring, education for family living; Frank Monroe of Midland, legislative; C. L. Yarbrough of Snyder, safety; Mrs. Nathan Norris of Abilene, publications, Dr. W. A. Hunt, of Abilene, civil defense; Mrs. D. N. Bardwell of Forsan, life membership; Mrs. M. H. Armstrong of Odessa, preschool.

A district civil defense work shop in Abilene Oct. 8 at McMurry College was announced. Local unit presidents, civil defense chairmen and any other interested persons are invited to attend.

Mrs. Lou Hertenberger of Navasota, state recreation chairman, will be in communities of the 16th District on the following dates: Gall, Sept. 21; Snyder, Sept. 22; Lamesa, Sept. 24; Big Spring, Sept. 25. She will conduct Family Fun Nights.

The district spring conference will be held in Snyder in 1954, it was announced.

Texas state convention will be Nov. 17-21 in San Antonio. Mrs. Norred appointed the following to a committee to plan the district party at the state convention: Mrs. Stanley Erskine, Mrs. R. E. Scott, Mrs. Jack Sparks and Mrs. Alton Underwood.

District vice presidents are Mrs. Curtis Walker, Coke and Runnels counties; Mrs. Raymond Leggett, Dawson, Martin and Midland counties; Mrs. H. C. Whitley, Ector, Gaines, and Andrews counties; Mrs. J. R. Asbury, Mitchell, Howard and Glasscock counties; Mrs. Hunt, Taylor and Nolan counties; Mrs. Amon Weaver, Borden and Scurry counties.

Appear At High School

The Owens Talking Mynah Birds will appear at an assembly program at Senior High School at 2:45 a.m. Friday, under sponsorship of the student council. Generally regarded as the most intelligent of birds, the Mynahs react to their cues and answer the commands in a voice that is startlingly like that of a human being. They talk, whistle and perform on command.

VA Moving To End Hospital Segregation

By RAY HENRY
WASHINGTON (AP)—Veterans' Administrator Harvey Higley said today his agency is moving "as rapidly as possible" toward wiping out segregation of whites and Negroes in veterans' hospitals.

"We find any semblance of segregation unsocial, uneconomical and undesirable," he said, "and we hope the day is not far removed when there will be no semblance of racial segregation in VA hospitals."

Higley made the statements in an exchange of letters, released today, with Clarence Mitchell, an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Mitchell had asked Higley in an Aug. 7 letter what he was doing to end segregation in veterans' hospitals in line with President Eisenhower's stated stand against segregation in any federal institutions.

In an interview, Mitchell said segregation was practiced in most VA hospitals in 17 Southern states. He said he didn't know the number of hospitals involved, but knows of only five VA hospitals in the 17 states which don't have segregation to segregation only in hospital barber shops.

Higley told Mitchell in his letter, dated Aug. 14, that the VA "has attempted to take the lead in minimizing segregation," and he continued: "In certain areas, however, it has been found that segregation to some degree is necessary for

33 Lone Star POWs Dock

By The Associated Press
Thirty-three repatriated Texans arrived Wednesday in San Francisco aboard the transport Gen. William Black—plus a Texas-bound mongrel named "Spike."

Sgt. William Stone of Wichita Falls said he "liberated" the tan and white pup while he was on a prisoner work detail in North Korean village. Stone said a North Korean tried to get the dog back but after long negotiation accepted a "compromise."

"I gave him an old pair of tennis shoes," Stone said. "Then I was barefoot until I got another issue."

California reporters had a lot of fun writing about another Texas POW on the ship—a native Texan who said he didn't like Texas.

"I really don't have anything against Texas," they quoted Staff Sgt. Robert E. Hall of Houston as saying. "I just don't like it."

"Hall said he spent 33 months in various POW camps and was classified as a "real reactionary." He said he once spent 16 days in solitary confinement "because I refused to work in the kitchen."

Hall said that after his 30-day furlough—most of it in Houston—he plans to return to regular Army duty.

"That's fine with me," his wife, Norma, said, "but I hope you stay in the United States for a while."

Cinemascope Is Stunning Effect

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood came to Broadway last night in a bold $75,000,000 bid against television. It was quite an evening.

The film industry unveiled one of its newest processes—Cinemascope—in a war-studied world premiere of "The Robe."

It was as glamorous as the opening of the Metropolitan Opera season, and added several more million-dollar candlepower of glitter to the Great White Way. It was a black tie and mink jacket event, and the diamonds on the lady guests were outshone only by giant searchlights stabbing a cloudy Manhattan sky.

The 6,500 invited guests—who had to push their way through some 6,000 uninvited spectators jammed outside the RKO Theater—included Mayor Vincent Impellitteri, General James Van Fleet, and a local restaurant owner called Toots Shor.

Also invited were churchmen, entertainment celebrities such as Milton Berle (and him in television) and Shirley Booth and Mary Martin. So were a few scattered millionaires such as Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt. And diplomats such as Sir Percy Spender, Australian ambassador. And more movie moguls than you could sell a script to—at the moment.

"Gee, and me with only one page left in my autograph book," sighed one teen-age girl.

It was a show within a show—a real life drama surrounded a film one.

Few autograph collectors noticed a small shy elderly Frenchman with a beard who smiled dazedly as his wife gave him a congratulatory peck on the cheek. This was Professor Henri Chretien, who invented Cinemascope.

Nor did they pay much attention to a big breezy fellow near the professor. This was Spyros Skouras, president of Twentieth Century-Fox, who once signed shoes as a boy immigrant from Greece and now leads a group of film giants who hope Cinemascope will prove the movie industry's best answer to television.

Some scores of serious-faced gentlemen in tuxes also were passed over by the autograph fans. These were the bankers reported to have raised between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 to finance Cinemascope on a national scale.

There was an air of tenseness about the whole premiere. Hundreds would be affected by it, as anything new in the entertainment field is always a gamble—and this was one of the greatest.

What is Cinemascope, and what did they see?

Well, the traditional movie screen is roughly the shape of a newspaper page. The screen for the debut of Cinemascope is wider and curved—as if you opened a newspaper in the middle and looked at a picture spread across both pages. The curved screen and special wide-angle lenses invented by the French professor are supposed to give the illusion of depth.

The picture, based on Lloyd Douglas's best-selling novel, is a biblical drama of the conversion of the Roman officer in charge of the crucifixion of Christ. It was filmed in technicolor, and it cost $4,500,000.

Many in the audience appeared uncertain whether the debut of Cinemascope proved anything. They appeared more stunned by the sound effects, the brilliant color, and the vast images on the huge screen than they were moved emotionally by the scenes portrayed. It was a great spectacle, but Cinemascope—which occasionally blurred the images—couldn't make it into a great movie.

In this initial test of Cinemascope, it was more of a new kind of crutch than a fresh kind of wing. The full scope of Cinemascope still is to be explored by this pioneering effort.

"I heard," one spectator said on the way out, "that 'Gone with the Wind' drew 20 million dollars at the box office."

"Yeah," said his friend, "and 'Birth of a Nation' pulled in more than that, and it didn't even have color or sound."

Those were the good old days.

Suniland Picks Up Wilshire Interest

FORT WORTH (AP)—Suniland Oil Corp., Fort Worth, has announced the purchase of a one-third interest in properties formerly owned by the Wilshire Oil Co., dissolved earlier this year.

Mrs. Elsinore C. Machris, Palm Springs, Calif., who retained a 1-3 interest when the Wilshire Co. dissolved, sold the interest to Suniland for a price reported in excess of ten million dollars.

Producing properties purchased included the Kelley-Snyder area of Scurry County, Texas; the Wilshire Ellenburger pool and Spraberry areas in Uppton County, Texas; the Townsend pool in Lea County, N.M.; and the South Cuyama, Huntington Beach and Santa Fe Springs pools in California.

Suniland also acquired leasehold interests of some 200,000 undeveloped acres in Texas, Canada, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, California and New Mexico. The Monterey Oil Co. and the Wilshire Oil Co. of Texas operate the producing properties.

Anniversary of A Document That Continues To Guide This Nation

September 17 is a day of great moment in the United States, though it usually slips by all but unnoticed. It marks the adoption by the Convention on September 17, 1787, of the Constitution of the United States. It was later to be approved by the Congress as the fundamental law of the land, and duly ratified.

those present withheld their signatures. In a sense, the Constitution puts into one document the essence of the spirit that governed the British people, a sort of codification of British law. To this day Britain has no written Constitution; the nation is governed under the whole mass of laws of many generations.

Despite Suspensions, Americans Take Delight In Swapping Cars

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

A friend of mine once called the used car ads in the classified section of the paper "the poor man's stock market." It seems to me that's hitting it right on the head. We Americans are always swapping cars, and for many of us, it's not a case of swapping a used car for a new car but a case of swapping a used car for a little less used car (we hope).

rid of them is to have the customer laughing so hard he's an easy mark. Now any other car is a "real gem" or words of that nature. Its defects are less obvious though none the less present. Here of course the old standard school has to be used to some extent. All the virtues are mentioned, radio, heater, overdrive or automatic transmission, new tires, new seat covers, new paint job (this is not necessarily a virtue), and, even, low mileage.

Senator Says No Taft-Hartley Act Agreement Has Been Broken

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today he was "amazed" at the assertion by former Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin that the Eisenhower administration broke an agreement on Taft-Hartley law revision.

"I know perfectly well there wasn't any agreement to break," said Smith, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee who has just returned from a Canadian vacation.

Smith said prolonged talks looking toward agreement on a revision bill continued right up to the time Congress adjourned Aug. 3. Representatives of the Senate and House Labor Committees and the White House took part, he said.

But, he added in an interview, the divergent views of labor and management groups were not fully resolved, and it was agreed the parleys would be resumed this fall with an eye to introduction of legislation in January.

Durkin did not contend there had been full agreement among all parties on proposed revisions to the labor relations law—19 in number. He said at St. Louis Tuesday he had discussed them with President Eisenhower and the President "agreed with me that the 19 amendments should not be withheld, that they should be submitted to Congress."

A few days later, Durkin said, a White House staff member notified him the administration would not be able to go along with the proposed amendments.

When he quit the Cabinet a week ago, Durkin gave as his reason what he called White House failure to abide by an agreement on the proposals.

Smith said there never was any agreement. He said the 19 proposed amendments, word of which leaked out a few days before Congress adjourned, were never anything but a working draft. It was his impression, he added, that this particular draft came from Durkin's department because it contained many changes sought by unions.

The senator said he still hopes his committee will have a bill embodying changes, ready when Congress comes back, and that it can get floor action early next year.

Smith said he thought it would be unwise to pick Durkin's successor from the ranks of union labor or management.

He said he had no idea who would be chosen, but added he believes Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey would be a fine choice.

The senator said he thought Durkin's problem was "a conflict of loyalties" caused by his long period of union service. Durkin was president of the AFL Plumbers Union before entering the Cabinet, and has returned to that job.

Two Accused Kidnapers Are Nabbed By Watchman, 65

FORT WORTH (AP)—Two accused kidnapers who had a hard time at robbery and burglary in Texas were jailed today after being nabbed by a 65-year-old night-watchman.

Arrest of the pair, both from Oklahoma, ended a three-state search that began Tuesday night when Airman Charles R. Quetta, 22, of Tinker, Okla., Air Force Base was kidnaped on an Oklahoma City street.

K. O. Boone, nightwatchman at the Masonic Temple here, nabbed them after they broke into the building early today by a basement window. Boone said they took $6.40 from a soft drink machine.

Quetta, who walked into police headquarters here last night and told his story, identified the pair as his abductors soon after their arrest. Charges of kidnaping, robbery, forced entry and interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle were prepared against the two men.

The airman, a resident of New York City in civilian life, said the pair kidnaped him after he and his date, Miss Sally O'Hern, were accosted in his parked automobile in front of her home Tuesday night.

Duster Pilot Killed

ENGLAND, Ark. (AP)—James Simpson Renner, 25, of Brownsville, Tex., was killed yesterday when his crop duster plane nose dived into the ground near here. Witnesses said the plane appeared to stall in a low altitude turn.

Fort Worth Detective A. C. Howerton said the pair succeeded in robbing a man and woman about 7:30 p.m. in a downtown parking lot. But Howerton said, they got only 50 cents.

Quetta told officers the men were silent on most of the trip but mentioned meeting while both were prisoners in a Nebraska penitentiary.

One of the men was identified as from Tulsa, the other from Carnegie, Okla.

French Officials Wonder What To Do With O'Brien

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—French authorities puzzled today where next to ship Michael Patrick O'Brien, the perpetual passenger. The man without a country remained locked in a cabin on the liner Bretagne while officials tried to find some country that would take him.

O'Brien arrived here yesterday with the liner after being denied entry by Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina and Italy. France also refused to let him land. He previously had spent almost a year shuttling back and forth on the Hong Kong-Macao ferry when both China coast colonies closed their doors to him. The United States refused to recognize his claim to American citizenship.

O'Brien got aboard the Bretagne after a sponsor offered to set him up in Brazil. When the liner arrived at Rio De Janeiro, the Brazilian government changed its mind and denied him entry.

Man Thought Dead Is Alive

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP)—Van Iker Sellman, 46, collapsed in Longview yesterday when he learned funeral services were held for him here, Aug. 31.

After all, he has been living, hale and hearty, in Waco.

The buried body, killed by a Cotton Belt passenger train Aug. 27, had been identified "positively" by Sellman's family from a scar on his nose and from his height and weight.

Furthermore, the family was sure it was Sellman because funeral home attendants revealed the dead person had tattoo marks on his shoulder and arm. Sellman had tattoos in the same places.

Sellman was told of his "death" by a Longview friend. He did not believe it, however, until his family, on a call from the friend, brought him home where he saw memorial booklets signed by friends who attended the funeral.

Whose funeral? That is the mystery Bowie County Sheriff W. J. Watlington now has to solve.

The dead man was injured in the railroad yards, a spot where Sellman often visited.

He was wearing khaki pants and a faded blue shirt, a typical Sellman attire.

He carried a wallet with no identification. His funeral picture looked exactly like Sellman's picture the family had.

Trespassing Fine Will Be Appealed

HOUSTON (AP)—The $25 fine levied on a Houston Press reporter for trespassing will be appealed, the newsman's attorney has announced.

Mike Dorman, 21, yesterday was fined by corporation court for entering the back yard of F. C. Johnson, 48, Sept. 5. Dorman had been sent to the neighborhood to investigate a tip that quantities of fireworks were being stored in a garage.

Oil Operator Dies

HOUSTON (AP)—Funeral services for George E. Colvin, 50, former Pennsylvania independent oil operator, will be held here tomorrow. Colvin, a Houston resident for 25 years, died at his home yesterday.

Disappears

Police Chief Charles Knecht of Geneva, Switzerland, announced that Mrs. Donald MacLean, American born wife of a British diplomat widely believed a fugitive behind the Iron Curtain, disappeared with her three children from Geneva Sept. 11. Mrs. MacLean is shown leaving London for France, July 20, 1952, with two of her children, Fergus, 8, foreground, and Donald, 6. Her third child is a daughter, 2, born three weeks after her husband disappeared. (AP Wirephoto).

Sedan Of MacLean's Wife Located Today

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—The black sedan in which missing British diplomat Donald MacLean's wife disappeared last Friday from Geneva was found today in a Lausanne garage.

The garageman said it was brought in early Friday night by a woman with three children answering to the missing family's description and that the group rushed across the street to the railway station.

He said the woman told him she would come back for the car in about a week.

The disappearance of Chicago-born Mrs. Melinda MacLean, 37, and her three small children was revealed yesterday. Her husband and another member of the British Foreign Office staff, Guy Burgess, are generally believed in the West to have fled behind the Iron Curtain after they crossed from England to France in May, 1951, and dropped from sight.

There has never been any official confirmation, however, that the two men had gone to the Communists.

Mrs. MacLean and her children—Fergus, 8, Donald, 7, and 2-year-old Melinda, born three weeks after her father disappeared—had been living in Geneva with Mrs. MacLean's mother, Mrs. Melinda Dunbar.

Mrs. Dunbar told police her daughter left with the children Friday to spend the weekend with friends in Montreux. When they did not return on Monday, Mrs. Dunbar notified the police.

The Lausanne garageman, Marcel Michell, said Mrs. MacLean and the children arrived about 6:50 p.m. Friday and that she told him she was in a great hurry to catch a train.

The only train leaving Lausanne immediately after was the 6:58, arriving at Zurich at 11:06 p.m., with stops en route at Fribourg, Bern and Olten.

From Zurich there are almost daily air connections to Prague, capital of Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia, but Swiss Air Line officials said Mrs. MacLean had not been on any plane to Prague since Friday.

Until the discovery of the car today, the only clue to the family's disappearance was a telegram filed early yesterday from the Montreux suburb of Territet to Mrs. Dunbar. Purportedly from her daughter, it said:

"Terribly sorry delay in contact you unforeseen circumstances have arisen. I am staying here longer. Please advise school. Boys returning about a week's time. All extremely well. Pink rose in marvelous form. Love from all. Melinda."

Police said the telegram was handed in at the Montreux post office at 10:50 a.m. Wednesday by a thick-set woman, definitely not Mrs. MacLean, who was 5 feet 2 inches and slender.

After examining the original of the message Mrs. Dunbar told Swiss security police she believed the handwriting was not her daughter's and a handwriting expert was checking it today.

Geneva's police chief, Charles Knecht, said last night he believed it "somewhat unlikely" Mrs. MacLean had been kidnaped or met with an accident, but he added: "If she deliberately left the country, it is strange that she failed to advise at least her own mother of her plans."

State Auditor's Wife Dies At Age Of 69

FORT WORTH (AP)—Mrs. James A. Slaughter, 69, of Austin, wife of a state comptroller department auditor, died early today.

Mrs. Slaughter was a native of Fannin County and spent most of her early life at Van Alstyne. Her husband was county judge of Reagan County from 1928 to 1930. Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at Van Alstyne.

Adenauer Ready For Anti-Alliance Moves

By BRACK CURRY
 BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is striking fast after his sweeping election victory to eliminate the last internal threat to West German participation in the defense of Western Europe.
 This is the possibility that the federal supreme court might rule unconstitutional the arming of half a million German troops for the proposed six-nation European army.
 The court is now considering a suit filed by the opposition Socialists and challenging the constitutionality of rearmament.
 Parliament has approved the European Army Treaty but President Theodor Heuss has withheld his signature of ratification until the court rules, probably next month.
 With a firm mandate from the people to join the Western alliance against the Soviet menace, Adenauer and his Christian Democrat party are working to clear the way for quick legislative approval of a constitutional amendment if the court rules against rearmament.

 An amendment requires two-thirds approval in both the Bundestag (lower house of parliament) and the Bundesrat (upper house).
 In the Bundestag, Adenauer's forces are practically assured of the necessary two-thirds backing on the rearmament issue. The Christian Democrats have a one-vote majority and the three other anti-Socialist parties would vote with Adenauer on the rearmament issue even if they are not included in the new coalition government now being formed.
 But in the Bundesrat the government does not even have a majority. The lineup now is 20 opposition votes against 18 for Adenauer's last three-party coalition.

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Nagging Backaches
 Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backaches—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 million kidneys that are flushed out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Since the state governments appoint the members of the Bundestag, Adenauer and his Christian Democrats are pressing for new elections or changes of government in two big states.
 The Chancellor's forces argue that the present regimes in Baden-Wuerttemberg and lower Saxony are unrepresentative in view of the sweeping Christian Democratic victory in the Sept. 6 national election.
 A coalition of Free Democrats, Socialists and refugees headed by Free Democrat Reinhold Maier has been governing in Baden-Wuerttemberg. An opponent of Adenauer's foreign policy, Maier as president of the Bundestag delayed parliamentary approval of the European Army Treaty. Maier has just announced he will resign as a result of the national election.
 In lower Saxony, the Socialists, Refugees and Centrists govern.
 If Adenauer can replace these two governments with regimes dominated by his Christian Democrats, he will control two-thirds of the votes in the upper house.
 In Baden - Wuerttemberg, there is a good chance that the Christian Democrats will form a new coalition with the opposition Socialists and the Free Democrats, with the CDU actually running the show.
 In lower Saxony, the CDU is pressuring the Refugee party to desert the state coalition with the Socialists and join a new rightwing government headed by the CDU.

 This political maneuvering conceivably could determine whether the Germans take part in Western defense in the near future. Adenauer has said bluntly that he expects the supreme court to "follow the election returns" and rule that rearmament is constitutional. But no one is certain how the court will rule. Only three years ago, the tribunal has handed down few opinions. It still is an enigma to Adenauer and the nation.

More Hot, Dry Weather Likely In Lone Star State

By The Associated Press
 Drought-harried Texas apparently faced another 30-day siege of hot, dry weather Thursday while farmers cried for rain and a state official said the drought was being used for "political chicanery."
 Meanwhile, there was no word from Washington that indicated any change in an order that this week took 116 Texas counties from the list of those entitled to low-priced cattle feed under an emergency drought disaster program.
 The U. S. Weather Bureau in Washington in its monthly, long-range forecast predicted above-normal temperatures for half of the country including Texas along with subnormal precipitation. It meant a continuation of the drought that has plagued the state for more than three years.
 In Austin, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported farmers begging for rain again. Even in South Texas, said the USDA, where floods roared two weeks ago, ranges need more water.
 In Corsicana, speaking before a service club, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White charged the Eisenhower administration with using drought relief for "political chicanery." The Agriculture Department Tuesday permanently cut 116 counties from drought disaster status, leaving only 48 seared areas eligible to receive low-priced cattle feeds.

 White said, "Our national farm program is being used as a political football in Washington."
 He said the administration had a great opportunity for demonstrating farm leadership in the drought plight but gave only promises. He said the program launched by the administration was one that did not include a bale of hay for the ranchers but proved to be the "most flagrant example of political chicanery in recent times."
 "When we needed hay," White told his Corsicana audience, "we were offered government surpluses of feed concentrates." The concentrates, he said, are useless without hay roughage.
 With the official end of summer near, temperatures rose near the 100-degree level over most of Texas again Thursday. For some of the state the present hot weather was the first real heat of an otherwise mild summer.
 Friday's weather, like Thursday's, would continue hot and dry, the Weather Bureau indicated in its late forecasts. Evening hours, however, were cool and comfortable. High temperatures over the state Wednesday ranged from 104 at Seymour to 95 at Dallas and a low maximum of 84 at Marfa.

Rejected Suitor Kills Sweetheart, Commits Suicide
 DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—A 15-year-old girl who spurned her boy friend's pleas to quit school and marry him was shot and killed last night as she slept in bed with her mother.
 The rejected suitor then fatally shot himself.
 The shooting occurred in the farm home of Mrs. Mary King, who was awakened after her daughter Janet had been killed.
 Lying unconscious on the front room floor of the King home was James Jacob Bolt, 18, an auto supply store clerk. He died about three hours later in a Decatur hospital.
 Deputy Sheriff Sam Pulliam of Macon County said Mrs. King, a widow, told him Bolt had visited her daughter last night and they had quarreled over his insistence that Janet quit school.
 Pulliam quoted Mrs. King as saying Bolt was "getting jealous because Janet had boy friends at school." Bolt walked into the house, Pulliam said, and without awakening mother and daughter, fired one bullet into the girl's right temple.
 Coroner Harold Brintlinger of Macon County termed the double shooting a murder and suicide.

More Careful Shopping Seen For This Week

By The Associated Press
The economy-minded housewife will have to shop a bit more carefully in the nation's food stores this weekend. Meat and vegetable prices generally will be higher than a week ago.

Beef, pork, lamb and veal went up at the wholesale level this week, and many stores will be raising their prices on these meats for the weekend. Produce men say the rise in vegetable prices can be laid to cooler weather, which has brought a pickup in cooking.

Egg prices also will be higher this weekend. The same goes for frying chickens. And some stores will ask more for butter.

The situation is far from intolerable, however. Judging from reports from food stores, the housewife will be able to find specials on items such as legs of lambs, fresh and smoked hams and various cuts of beef if she watches prices closely. Many stores don't plan to hike beef prices immediately and some plan features on chuck roast, pot roast and ground beef.

Bargains in pork chops, however, will be hard to find. In general, they'll cost a few cents to around a dime more per pound than last week. Stores advancing prices on frying chickens will ask two to six cents more per pound.

Egg price rises will range from two to eight cents a dozen for the large grade A white. Butter advances will amount to a penny or two.

Although vegetable prices edged higher, there are still a good number listed as good buys. Heading the list, in the opinion of produce men, are beets, cabbage, corn, lettuce, onions, potatoes, rutabagas and tomatoes. In the moderately good classification were celery, spinach and sweet potatoes. Produce men called cucumbers expensive and said carrots are quite high.

California Tokay grapes are arriving in volume, and the experts classed them with California seedless grapes as especially good buys in fruits. Also cited as good buys were peaches, prunes, cantaloupes and honeydew melons.

Twenty-Four School Busses Go 1,450 Miles Daily In County

By JOHN BUSER
Twenty-four school busses transport children to Howard County schools each day. They cover a lot of distance in doing so, 1,450 miles. And it's a rather expensive operation. The total, according to figures gathered from the independent school districts and from County Superintendent Walker Bailey, comes to $46,455.08 for one year's operation, a little less for some but not all depreciation.

For the most part local district taxpayers do not pay for the bus operations. In all the Gilmer-Alken foundation program schools, the state pays for all or nearly all of the expenses of school bus operation. In the non-foundation schools, such as Forsan and three of the common schools, Gay Hill, Elbow, and Vealmoor, the funds are provided locally.

State aid is provided under the formula which figures 55 miles as the average roundtrip run a day per bus. Actually the busses in some districts travel quite a bit further, since students are fewer and farther apart out here in West Texas than in East Texas. For districts where the mileage runs above the average an extra allowance is made.

Every school district, independent and common, except one, has at least one school bus.

The Big Spring Independent School District has three school busses which cover 174 miles a day. The three routes are Hartwell, Fairview, and a route east of the city, past the Cosden plant. One hundred and ninety-six children are eligible to ride the school busses although the capacity of the three busses is 150 children. E. S. (Pat) Murphy, business manager of the district, explains that not all the pupils eligible to ride the busses do so. The Big Spring schools get $6,700 from the state, which Murphy says just about covers all expenses including depreciation.

There are nine busses in the common school districts. Gay Hill has three busses which operate approximately 150 miles a day. Cost of operation is figured by Bailey at $4,613.01. Fifty-three pupils are eligible to ride.

Center Point has one school bus which operates 98 miles a day. Cost of operation is computed at $2,496. It and Midway are the only two common school districts to get state aid for their busses. Forty-seven pupils are eligible to ride the bus at Center Point.

Midway has one bus which operates over a 76-mile route, making three trips each morning and afternoon. Eighty-six pupils are eligible to ride the bus. The cost is computed at $2,437.22.

Elbow has three busses which operate a total of 187 miles each day with 60 pupils eligible to ride. The cost last year was $1,845.89 with only two busses used.

Vealmoor has one bus which operates over an 85-mile route each day with 35 pupils eligible to ride. Cost is computed at $2,539.83.

None of the common school district figures include depreciation. The Knott schools have four busses which operate over 290 miles of routes a day with 153 pupils eligible to ride. The cost is computed at about $9,500, the amount of state aid received.

The Coahoma schools have five busses which operate 295 miles per day. Cost is $11,573 including depreciation of busses. That is the amount of state aid received.

The Forsan schools have three busses which travel 93.6 miles a day. The cost is $4,740.13 which includes a $100 a month contract to a private individual for the transportation of children from the Hyman district over in Mitchell County. The Forsan schools receive no state aid on school busses.

Two new busses were obtained during the year. New bus routes were added at Gay Hill and Elbow. School busses are purchased through the state which lets a contract for all the busses to be purchased in the state and obtains a lower price than the school districts could individually. The state figures in allowing for depreciation in state aid that a bus should last five years; they figure that after that the maintenance becomes more expensive than the depreciation on a new bus would be.

No Future For Homburg In These Parts, Pardner

By BRUCE HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Relax, Texans. Your "Texas hat" will never be replaced by the homburg, says a man who's been selling Texas hats 30 years.

W. H. Sandusky, president of the Dallas Retail Hat Men's Assn., says the "Texas hat"—the familiar, toned-down version of the old 10-gallon—has lost none of its favor to the homburg.

The homburg, a soft, felt job with a dented crown first worn in Central Europe, enjoyed a boost in popularity over much of the nation after Dwight Eisenhower chose a homburg over a traditional topper for inauguration last Jan. 20.

Probably few Texans expected Eisenhower to approach the inaugural platform in a Stetson (although it was noted at the time that, after all, he was born in Denison).

Be that as it may, Texans didn't have to join the homburg bandwagon. And they didn't, says Sandusky.

"Of course, we sell a few more homburgs than before," he reports. "But just a few. The 'Texas hat' has lost nothing to the homburg. It's just as popular as ever."

Sandusky heads the hat department of a men's store which does a lot of mail order business over the state.

He says Texans will never abandon the range-style hat because it has a personal meaning to them. "It's a tradition. That hat is a descendant of the hat their ancestors wore when they fenced off the ranges. Most Texans are proud to wear it anywhere—even down Broadway."

Sandusky says the old 10-gallon started going out of style about 20 years ago, although a few cowboys still wear it.

"It's hard to say why it went out. It was wide enough to protect a cowboy from the sun and rain. It could hold enough water for a horse to drink if the rider couldn't find a water hole. That's where it got its name, although I doubt that the crowd could really hold more than one gallon."

Sandusky says the present "Texas hat" has a standard 2 1/4-inch brim and a 5 1/4-inch crown. Like its predecessor, it is made of rabbit and beaver fur.

Many sartorial experts, he says, think combining a business suit with a "Texas hat" borders on the ridiculous.

"But I say if that's what they want, let them wear it," Sandusky claims. "A ranch hand wearing a homburg would look worse."

Toth Case Will Bring Test Of Uniform Military Justice Code

By DON WHITEHEAD
WASHINGTON (U.S.)—One bullet among all the millions fired in the Korean War has kicked up a legal storm over how much power the Armed Forces should have in selecting honorably discharged veterans for trial by courtmartial.

A court martial was held and Schreiber to life imprisonment and gave Kander a similar sentence which later was reduced to two years. Both cases are now under review.

limited to the question of whether the Air Force had authority to take Toth to such a distant point as Korea for trial. He said the law did not specifically authorize such an action.

But the Air Force contends that if it has authority to move a man one inch—then it has authority to move him 10,000 miles.

Involvement in the argument—which may yet reach the Supreme Court—are these questions, among others:
1. Does the military have the right to arrest a veteran, a civilian, and transport him without a preliminary hearing or advice of counsel to a distant country to stand trial for a crime allegedly committed before he left the service?

On the other side, the Air Force contended it acted merely in accordance with the laws approved by Congress—and that Toth was given every legal consideration under the uniform code of military justice. He was not arrested, the Air Force said, until the action was approved by the secretary of the Air Force after a careful review of the facts.

But Toth never went on trial. A few days after his arrest, an attorney for Toth charged the Air Force had denied Toth his constitutional rights to a preliminary hearing and benefit of counsel. A federal court was asked to free Toth from Air Force custody.

In any case the Supreme Court likely will have to make the final decision. And there is some sentiment to change the law under which Toth was arrested and taken to Korea.

The Air Force cited article E of the code as authority for Toth's arrest and his transportation to Korea to stand trial. This article, part of the revised uniform code of military justice which became effective in July 1951, provides:

Any veteran is subject to arrest and trial by military court—even after an honorable discharge—if he is charged with having committed while in uniform a crime punishable by five years or more in prison. However, this action is authorized only in cases where the accused cannot be tried in a U.S. civil court.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) has termed the Air Force's action "high handed." He said it appeared the Air Force acted "without due regard to the rights of the accused."

Rep. Fulton (R-Pa.), a Pittsburgh lawyer, is working on amendments to the present military code of justice. Fulton says a person in a situation like Toth's should be taken before a U.S. commissioner or judge and given a preliminary hearing before being taken from the country. He favors such cases being tried in the federal courts of this country.

Ever since 1953 the Armed Forces have had authority to arrest and try ex-servicemen for any frauds committed against the government while they were in uniform.

Four years ago Congress began considering ways to close loopholes through which ex-servicemen have escaped trial for major crimes because neither military or civil courts had jurisdiction in their cases.

Now physical waste is no longer imminent "but is actually occurring" the commission said.

It added that it would have reduced allowances substantially long ago "had it not been for the pendency of hearings on the Scurry untization agreement and pressure maintenance program." A full and fair study of that question was so big, the commission said, that it is still not yet possible to "take final action" on the field.

But neither of the accused men has been brought to trial. The Army could not try them because both had been discharged to civilian life. And a federal judge ruled they could not be extradited to Italy for trial—because the Germans, and not Italy, had controlled the place where the crime was committed.

Holohan was shot to death by an American sergeant who plotted the murder with an American lieutenant (both OSS agents) after they had disagreed with Holohan over distribution of arms to Communist partisans. Both denied the allegations.

Retired Chaplain Dies
LONDON (U.S.)—The body of the Rev. William Augustus Maguire, retired U. S. Navy chaplain widely believed to have inspired the wartime hit song, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," will be flown to the United States Saturday, Maguire, who always denied the incident recounted in the song, died here Sunday.

Sen. Duff (R-Pa.) has termed the Air Force's action "high handed." He said it appeared the Air Force acted "without due regard to the rights of the accused."

MRS. T. H. McCANN, TOMMY AND BETTY.
... brown sugar cookies

Brown Sugar Cookies Are Easy To Prepare

"They're so easy to make," is the reason Mrs. T. H. McCann gives for so often turning to her recipe for brown sugar cookies when she bakes cookies. And they're delicious, too, as her son, Tommy, 6, will tell you. Tommy has a 15-month-old sister, Betty. The McCann family lives at 1418 Tucson and Mr. McCann is a consignee for Cities Service Oil Co. Her hobbies? Mrs. McCann says she likes to work in her garden, but next to the children, her sewing takes the most time. The sugar cookies are especially distinctive in their somewhat chewy texture and are cut from

dough baked in a baking dish. BROWN SUGAR COOKIES
Ingredients:
2 cups brown sugar
1 cup flour
2 eggs
1/2 pound butter
2 teaspoons baking powder
Pecans
Method:
Cream the brown sugar and butter and add the eggs. Sift together the baking powder and flour and add to the mixture. Then add the nuts. Pour into an ungreased baking dish about 8 by 14 inches and bake for 20 minutes in a 375 degree oven. Cut into squares while still warm and remove from pan with a spatula.

Tasty Snacks Will Satisfy Even Heartiest Appetites

The heartiest appetite will be satisfied with a snack tray arranged around a mound of crisp, golden brown corn chips. Put them in the center of your lazy susan and around the edge try these tasty morsels: of ham 'n cheese rolls, lunch meat snails, pineapple spears, avocado dip and sardine spread. LUNCH MEAT SNAILS
Roll spiced luncheon meat and thin sliced bread jelly roll style, skewer with toothpicks and slice into half-inch "snails."

AVOCADO DIP
Mash ripe avocado and season with lemon juice, mayonnaise, salt and garlic salt. Use corn chips to spoon mixture out of bowl.

PINEAPPLE SPEARS
Spear cubes of American cheese and pineapple chunks with toothpick and serve using toothpick for handle.

HAM 'N CHEESE ROLLS
Combine chopped stuffed olives and sweet relish with cream cheese, spread on slices of the ham and make into a roll.

SARDINE SPREAD
Mix minced sardine, chopped dill pickle, mayonnaise, mustard and season with onion salt. Spread on thin bread and sprinkle with crushed corn chips.

CRUSTED EGG TOAST FINGERS
4 slices bread
3 eggs, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups corn flakes
1/2 cup shortening

Cut each slice of bread into three strips and remove crusts. Dip strips in egg mixed with salt, then in corn flakes which have been crushed into fine crumbs. Fry in shortening until crisp and brown on both sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle lightly with confectioners' sugar if desired. Serve warm. Makes 12 fingers.

COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD BALLS
2 cups cottage cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon chopped chives or onions
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 cup corn flakes
Drain cottage cheese until very dry. Add salt, chives and pimiento; mix well. Shape into small balls; roll in slightly crushed corn flakes. Serve at once. Makes nine balls 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

Remember HONEY BOY SALMON
Keep Several Cans on Hand
CREAMED SALMON
Prepare 2 cups medium white sauce in double-boiler. Add to this sauce 1 pound Honey Boy Salmon (full can) which has been coarsely flaked. Heat thoroughly. Add 2 tsp. minced parsley and 2 tbsp. chopped sweet pickle. Serve on rice or white toast. Honey Boy is so popular, it's so easy to prepare. So delicious - so nourishing!

Flank Steak Is Cheap Cut

Flank steak is generally cheaper than round steak, but since it is one of the tougher cuts of meat, moist heat is necessary to cook it tender. A delicious use for it is in swiss steak.

SWISS STEAK
Ingredients:
2 lbs. flank or round steak
1/2 cup flour
3 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons shortening
2 cups canned tomatoes
2 tablespoons chopped onion
Method:
Mix flour, salt and pepper; pound into the steak with edge of a saucer. Brown steak in heavy iron skillet. Heat tomatoes and chopped onion together for five minutes. Pour over the steak, cover tightly. Cook about 1 1/2 hours, or until tender. In oven 350 degrees F. or over low heat on top of range. Serves from 6 to 8.

Orange Juice News

Mothers of babies who are allergic to orange juice now may buy a new canned juice which has been certified as non-allergic. Many babies formerly unable to take the important nutrient now may have the juice safely, without suffering upset stomach or rashes, according to an article published recently in "Annals of Allergy," a publication sponsored by the American College of Allergists.

Chocolate Malt Gives Hermits New Flavor

Made to order for porch party, bridge refreshment, or for cookie jar come-on is this new version of a long-time favorite, Hermits. Never before have Hermits found themselves with a subtle chocolate malt flavor wedded to their nutmeat taste. Usually its been raisins or mince-meat combined with brown sugar, plus nuts, in this hardy favorite. Now—perhaps to honor Summer (and to enhance your reputation as an inspired Cookie Maker)—the world's largest maker of malted milk has discovered a new Summer '53 taste for Hermits. Made just like cake—except that they're dropped from a spoon—chocolate malted milk Hermits not only offer a flavor transformation, but also will surprise your party guests or cookie jar raiders with a texture contrast. Bite through the thin crunchy cookie "crust" on the outside, and you find they're like delicate featherweight cake inside, perfect complement to a summer day and to long, tall glasses of iced tea.

CHOCOLATE MALTED MILK HERMITS
(Makes about 6 dozen)
Ingredients:
2-3 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar

2 eggs
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup cocoa
1 cup chocolate malted milk powder
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup chopped nuts
Method:
Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with water and vanilla, beating until smooth after each addition. Fold in nuts. Drop from a teaspoon on greased cookie sheets. Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Broiling Fillets

Here's an excellent basic method of broiling fish fillets or steaks. First brush the fish with melted butter or margarine or salad oil; sprinkle with a little lemon juice; dust with paprika. Place on greased broiler or cookie sheet. Broil on one side only, avoiding very high heat, until fish is tender and can be easily flaked with a fork. The time will depend on the thickness of the fillets or fish steaks.

'Zipper' Package Makes Biscuits More Appealing

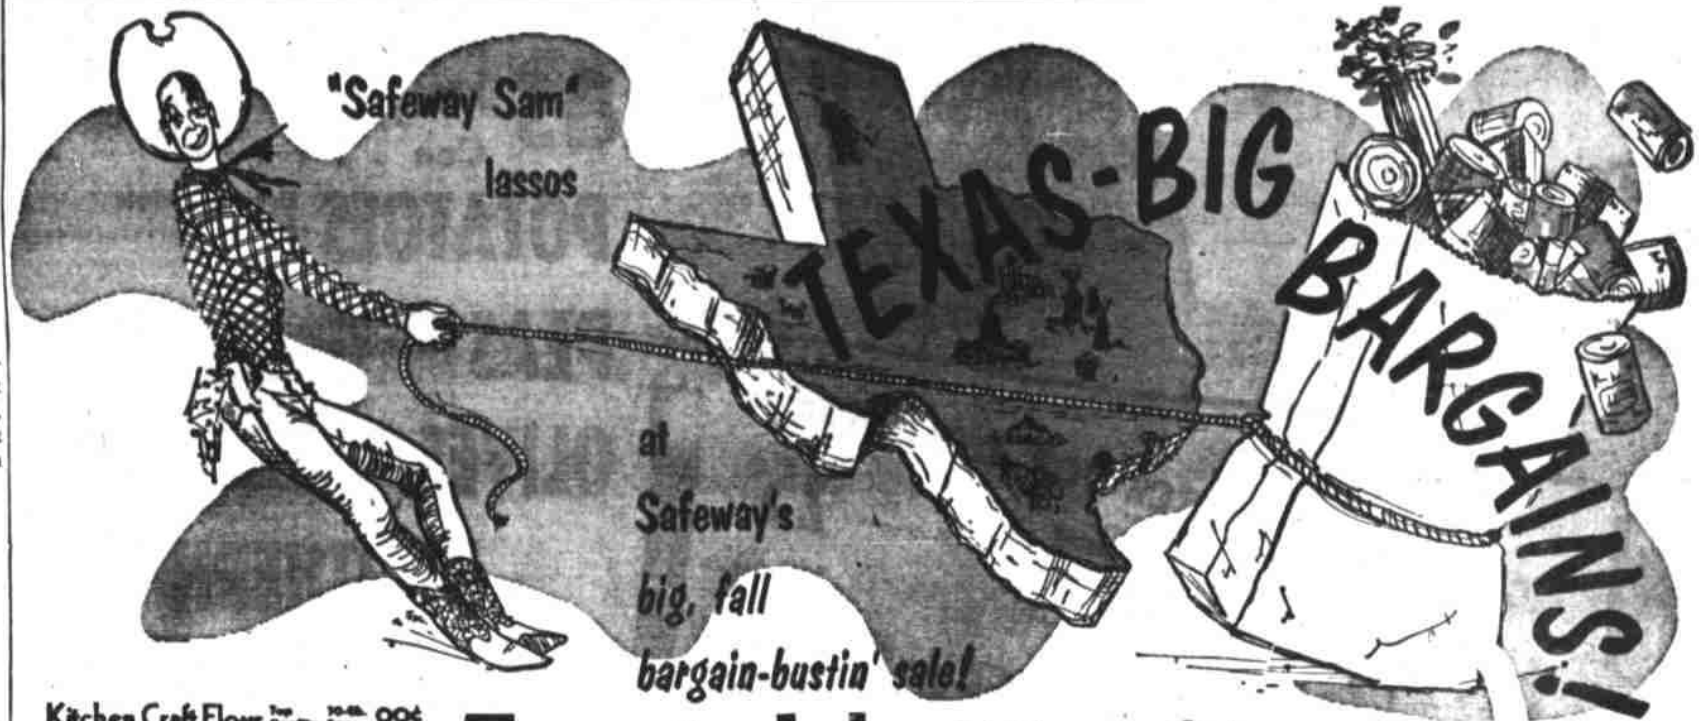

Welcome news is in store for the housewives who have skinned raw a knuckle, chipped nail polish and, in general, struggled furiously to open old-fashioned, inconvenient, refrigerated biscuit packages. Something has been done about it—a brand new patented zip-open package which now is available in the food stores. Gone is the prying, slicing and tugging. Just pull the string, and zip! The package is open. Then simply remove the top half and since the biscuits are packed under pressure, they almost emerge by themselves in their special foil wrapper.

These same biscuits are so easy to bake, too. In just nine minutes, the ten biscuits that were popped into the oven have become a tasty treat. And the housewives who search tirelessly for new recipes will be pleased with the infinite number of variations these ready-to-bake biscuits offer. Serve them piping hot for breakfast with lots of jelly, jam or honey. When lunches must be quick, easy and appetizing, try these biscuits toasted with ham and cheese. And chicken biscuit dumplings are a tempting dinner treat.

A Can Of Chicken Stretches For Four

A six-ounce can of boned chicken may be combined with celery and green pepper to make salad for four. Dice the chicken and vegetables, moisten with mayonnaise and season with salt, pepper and a little finely grated onion. Serve on lettuce and garnish with slices of tomato and hard-cooked egg.

Chuck-full of bargains for two big week ends, this sale is Safeway folks' way of saying "many thanks" to the nicest and thriftiest people in Texas... our customers!

Safeway Sam and all the others in the stores wanted to show their appreciation for your loyalty and patronage; so, they got their heads together and came up with this sale. They suggested the theme... the items... even the prices!

We at Safeway's offices latched on to the idea quick-like, for we've been wanting to show our appreciation for your patronage, too.

Speaking for all Safeway folks—those in the stores, as well as behind the scenes—many, many thanks for being our customers. We'll always do right by you!

Prices effective Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

M&M FROSTY NOOK

2009 Gregg Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Merworth

Cupcake Topping

Here's a simple way to frost cupcakes under the broiler. Just cut marshmallows into eighths with wet scissors. Arrange the marshmallow pieces on the cupcakes—using about 1 1/2 marshmallows for each. Place the cupcakes on a broiler rack about four inches from the source of heat. Broil until marshmallows are golden brown. Serve at once with strong hot coffee for an afternoon or evening snack.

Tip For Tasty Soup

A tasty and unusual summer soup is easily prepared by chilling a can of cream of green pea soup, serving cold flavored with a dash of curry powder and garnished with chopped chives.

THE SPRINGBOARD
News From Webb Air Force Base
By A-2C FERD BORSCH

ROA
All reserve officers stationed at Webb are urged to attend the monthly Big Spring-Webb Air Force Base chapter of the Reserve Officers Association meeting at Ellis Hall Lounge Thursday, 7:30 p.m.

This business meeting will get under way at 8 o'clock and will be immediately followed by a U. S. Navy color film entitled "The Silent Service." It concerns submarine warfare and was taken through the periscope of subs in battle action.

REPORTS
Webb Air Force Base became the New York Yankees of the Flying Training Air Force Reports League for the month of July. Webb placed first in reports containing control symbols and in morning reports.

The Big Spring Installation racked up a perfect 100 per cent in turning in 92 reports with control symbols. A lone error in morning reports was more than sufficient margin for first place in that department.

KIDS DAY
Welcome addresses by Colonel Fred M. Dean, base commander, will raise the curtain for Webb's celebration of the Kiwanis Club's annual Kids Day.

Several hundred youngsters in the Big Spring area, ranging in age from 8 to 17 years, are expected to tour the base on Saturday, September 26, as Kids Day is observed.

An estimated 800 found out how a jet pilot training center operated last year and as many, if not more, are expected to give the base the twice-over this time around.

The base tour program will start at 1 p.m. and close at 5:30. The Air Force will provide all transportation needed for the tours.

SURVEY
Air Installations has ordered a large, rush shipment of steel and metallic tapes so that a measured, physical survey of all installations and utilities may be completed at Webb. This survey will be completed as soon as possible according to Maj. Ernst Heister, Installation Officer.

TESTS
Monday begins a week-long testing in three career fields at Webb. Over 200 airmen are eligible to try for higher duty levels in three fields—administration, supply, and aircraft maintenance.

MASS
Effective this week the daily Mass schedule at Webb's Sacred Heart Chapel in Building 261 has been revamped, according to Father Henry Dunkel, Catholic chaplain.

Catholic Mass on Tuesday and Friday will now be celebrated at 5:15 p.m. Mass times on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday will remain at 7 a.m.

Confessions will also be heard from 4:45 to 5:15 p.m. on Tuesday and Friday in addition to 7-8 p.m. on Saturday and before Sunday's 9 a.m. Mass in the Academic Auditorium.

DRILL TEAM
Webb's new drill team is in need of new members to augment the present number for performances at collegiate football games. Currently the team is practicing twice weekly on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 3 p.m. behind Supply Squadron barracks.

Personnel interested should see Lt. Harry Danciger in the O&T Office at Wing Headquarters as soon as possible. Uniforms, helmets, boots and gloves are furnished as well as a cleaning allowance.

In their final softball game of the season Webb's Dusters bowed to Sun Oil, 9-8, at Silver, Tex., last week. The Duster record for the season stands at 18 wins and 13 losses.

Pilot Training trimmed Medical Group, 20-6, last week to remain the only undefeated team in Squadron Softball League competition. Meanwhile Field Maintenance suffered its first setback, 13-12, at the hands of AACCS.

It is estimated that when white men first came to the United States there were about eight trillion board feet of timber in the forests of the country.

Soil Dries Fast After Big Rains

AUSTIN—Soil dried quickly after heavy rains in East Texas and farmers hustled to get some field work done last week, the USDA reported today.

Cotton ginning was active and in South Texas, seed bed preparation boomed as soil conditions permitted planting.

Over the western half of the state, where rains have been spotty, more moisture is needed now to maintain dryland feed crops and pastures. Wheat planting continued in the northwest, but here also more rain is needed.

Recent rains caused some loss of grade in cotton, especially in the upper coastal counties.

In East Texas and along the upper coast, livestock made satisfactory development on the generally lush range and pasture grass. In the northwest, moisture was again getting short. Rain is needed for pastures in the southern low rolling plains.

In South Texas, the USDA found, weeds and grass were furnishing some sheep grazing, but very little "cow" grass will be available until additional moisture is received.

TEA And Houston Schools Dispute Bus Law Ruling

HOUSTON—The Texas Education Agency is seeking to recover $187,000 from the Houston school board in a dispute over who should pay transportation costs of children living more than two miles from school.

Houston School Supt. W. E. Moreland says TEA has changed its original interpretation of a law about the agency's financial participation in school bus operations.

The Houston board has asked the state attorney general for his interpretation of the statute.

TEA, Moreland said yesterday, originally advised that the Houston district would be eligible for reimbursement of expenses for transporting any child living more than two miles from school.

Now, said Moreland, TEA has decided the law only covers children living two miles from public transportation.

"It makes no difference now whether the public transportation can be used," Moreland said. "If a child lives within two miles of a public bus line, he is ineligible for state aid, though the public transportation may be running in the opposite direction from the school."

Falcon Dam To Be Nearly Completed For Dedication

LAREDO—President Eisenhower and Mexico's President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines will dedicate Falcon Dam, Oct. 19, the U. S. engineer in charge of building says.

Richard B. Ward, the engineer, says Falcon will need one or two spillway gates and piping in the United States powerhouse come dedication time.

Four gates, two of which will be placed in use this week, are now on hand. The other two are due early in October.

The spillway barriers will replace steel stoplogs, which now form the dam's reservoir. The stoplogs will be moved to other vents, raising the lake level by four feet. Falcon Lake now is 94 feet deep at the dam.
