

Hispanic Candidate Hopes To Win a la Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ben Fernandez didn't get to be a millionaire by being coy about Ben Fernandez. "There is not the slightest doubt in my mind," he says. "I truly believe in 1980 I will be elected president of the United States. And I will be superb."

That's what they all say; a nobody named Jimmy Carter was saying that just about this time in 1975.

"My name will become a household word by the end of this year," says Fernandez. "I think I'm going to surprise a lot of people."

Surprise may be too mild a word. Astound perhaps. Or dumbfound.

So far, Fernandez is one of the 10 Republicans whose campaign is registered with the Federal Election Commission. He is proceeding methodically to be the first American president of Spanish heritage.

Fernandez is one of the Johnny-come-lateries of the new political season and he's already made three forays into New Hampshire, where the first-in-the-nation primary still is more than 11 months distant.

"I'm a realist, a very pragmatic man," Fernandez says. "I know I'm the underdog of all time. But I think my chances of capturing the nomination are superb."

His campaign manager, Daniel James, says Fernandez hopes to get at least seven or eight percent of the vote in Yankee New Hampshire — enough to establish him as a candidate to be reckoned with.

"People seem impressed with the depth of my knowledge," he says. "This campaign will change politics forever. It will be healthy for the Hispanic-American, good for America as a whole."

The 54-year-old Fernandez views Hispanic support as the seedbed of his campaign. His own career is his favorite anecdote. He was born in a boxcar in the Kansas City, Kan., railroad yards to illiterate Mexicans who were in this country illegally. In his youth, he and his seven brothers and sisters did stoop to labor in Michigan sugar beet fields. Now, an economic consultant, he is worth a million dollars or so.

"I think the Fernandez story must be the most inspiring story to every poor kid, regardless of background," he says. "It has to be inspiring to him as to what an American citizen can do in the United States if he takes full advantage of the opportunity in this country."

And he is dead certain that "the Horatio Alger story of Ben Fernandez, the story of a poor boy working like the Dickens now fighting for the Republican nomination, is a story that will sweep the country like brushfire."

Fernandez began preaching the gospel of the possible in November after announcing his candidacy at the National Press Club, no less and he sometimes travels 5,000 miles a week to line up backers.

To qualify for federal matching funds, a candidate must attract at least $5,000 in contributions from each of 20 states with no single donation exceeding $250. Fernandez says he's reached that goal in California, Texas, New York, New Jersey and Florida and he expects to add five or more states by the end of the

Board Slashes Property Insurance Rates

Having Fun with Reading

These gaily-garbed clowns, who visited local third and fifth grade classes this week point out that books, even big ones like this, are the key to learning. The clowns [alias Jane Gulley and Amy Gilliland] are part of the RIF, Reading is Fundamental, program. Each third and fifth grader in the public school system will receive a book of his or her own today during a RIF book distribution program.

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The State Insurance Board slashed property insurance rates Thursday by 4.1 percent statewide average, but homeowners' premiums will rise in five of the six largest cities.

New rates will take effect July 1.

The decision — probably the last important one involving veteran member Ned Price — means Texans will pay an estimated $38 million less for property coverage in the 12 months starting July 1.

Actual premiums paid by a property owner will vary according to location, coverage and type of construction.

The average cost of homeowners policies, which account for more than half the property insurance premiums paid by Texans, will drop 2.3 percent.

Homeowners in 14 coastal counties and in Northwest Texas will enjoy even bigger reductions.

Despite the overall reduction, homeowners in the Central rating territory, which includes Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio and El Paso, will pay 3.3 percent more.

Homeowners rates will drop 7.5 percent in the Seacoast territory, which includes Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Galveston, Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

In the North-Northwest territory, which includes Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, Abilene, Wichita Falls and San Angelo, homeowners coverage will be 5.7 percent cheaper.

The rate decisions mean the cost of insuring a $40,000 brick veneer home will drop $26.70 in Houston, $30.67 in Corpus Christi and $29.07 in Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, San Angelo and Midland - Odessa.

The cost of insuring such a house in Dallas and Fort Worth will rise $9.44.

Other rate changes ordered by the board include:

Tenant homeowners — Seacoast down .3 percent, Central up 5.2 percent and North-Northwest down 3.7 percent.

Farm and ranch owners — seacoast down 13.5 percent, Central down 7.8 percent and North-Northwest down 10.5 percent.

Fire — statewide, dwellings down 1.9 percent, farms up 3.1 percent and "all other" up 3.8 percent.

Extended coverage — Seacoast down 23.4 percent, Central down 8.5 percent and North-Northwest down 6.6 percent.

Price made the motion to approve the rate changes, and all three board members voted for it. The decision came less than an hour before the Senate voted 29-0 to confirm Gov. Bill Clements' appointment of Dallas banker William Daves to replace Price, a board member since 1961.

Thursday's decision means four consecutive years without a statewide increase in homeowners rates.

Board actuaries said the deduction came largely from the use of data the agency has never obtained from insurance companies in the past. The new formula recognizes the fact that companies earn more premiums as homeowners increase their coverage to compensate for inflation.

Inflation Shows Drastic Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharply higher prices for food, housing and gasoline pushed consumer prices up 1.2 percent in February, the biggest monthly increase in inflation in 4½ years, the government said today.

Food prices rose 1.6 percent during the month, and were up 12.7 percent for the 12-month period ended in February. The government said meat prices rose another 4.9 percent and were up 26.4 percent for the February-to-February period.

Overall consumer prices for the 12 months ended in February were up by 9.9 percent.

The sharp one-month rise in the Consumer Price Index was more disappointing news for the Carter administration's already badly battered anti-inflation program. President Carter is known to be considering additional measures to try to hold down the surge in prices which is now about double what he has predicted for the year.

The 1.2 percent rise in the price index in February compared with a 0.9 percent rise in January and was the highest since a 1.2 percent in September 1974, a year in which inflation was at a postwar high of 12.2 percent.

If continued for a full year, the February rise in prices would mean a total inflation of 15 percent, double the administration's 1979 target of a 7.4 percent inflation rate.

The Labor Department gave the following breakdown for various categories of price increases in February:

- Food and beverages 1.6 percent, up from 1.4 percent in January.
- Housing 1.3 percent, up from 0.6 percent.
- Apparel and upkeep 0.3 percent, up from 0.2 percent.
- Transportation 1.1 percent, the same as January.
- Medical care 0.6 percent, down from 1.1 percent.
- Entertainment 0.4 percent, down from 0.8 percent.
- Other goods and services 0.7 percent, the same as January.

The 1.3 percent rise in housing costs was primarily due to a sharp 3.1 percent increase in mortgage interest costs, a 1.3

President Ken Rogers praised membership chairman Mike Patrick for his committee's work in signing up 52 new members this month. The group is concentrating on farm and ranch memberships this week.

John Fuston, sports committee chairman, gave a comprehensive report on the "Super Sports Weekend" sponsored by the C of C. Last weekend's action drew teams from 19 schools as track, baseball and golf tournaments were held here.

Carter Health Plan Assaulted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and his coalition of labor and interest groups pushing for national health insurance have rejected President Carter's limited approach and are proceeding with plans to introduce their own comprehensive bill next month.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, who Wednesday had begged off a White House invitation to discuss the plan with Carter, said the proposal announced Thursday "for all practical purposes abandons the president's commitment" to a comprehensive health plan.

And two senior citizens' groups active in the coalition had similarly sharp words for the "phase one" plan unveiled by Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr.

Truck Driver Still Critical After Wreck

An Otis, Colo., truckdriver remained in critical condition today after a Wednesday morning accident with an ironic twist two miles east of Dawn on U.S. Highway 60.

Joe Hudson, 62, was driving a grain truck in the westbound lane when he apparently lost control of the vehicle. The truck, according to Texas Department of Public Safety reports, hit the highway median, jackknifed and wound up on the east shoulder of the road.

Hudson was thrown from the truck as it hit the median. He was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital by ambulance then was transferred to Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo where he was reported in critical condition this morning.

Mrs. Jerry Sublett of Hereford reportedly was the first person to arrive at the accident scene and administered emergency first aid to Hudson.

Mrs. Sublett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover of Hereford. Ironically, it was her sister, Debbie Hoover, who administered first aid to Bill Lookingbill of Hereford after he was struck by a vehicle last Sunday between Canyon and Umbarger.

Both sisters have undergone emergency first aid training.

Judge Hasn't Decided On New Davis Trial

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - The on-again-off-again divorce trial of Fort Worth millionaire Cullen Davis appears to be on again, but the presiding judge is still not sure where.

State District Judge John Barron said the trial will resume "whenever I get ready. But I'm going to be reasonable about it. I'm not going to play cry baby. I'll listen to reason. I feel like even if I'm embarrassed by going back to Fort Worth, I'll just have to do it."

Barron, a visiting judge from Bryan, threatened Wednesday to withdraw from the case and declare a mistrial after assistant District Attorney Jack Strickland presented him with a subpoena and seized the divorce trial records for presentation to a grand jury.

However, the judge reconsidered Thursday after reflecting in the comfort of his home in Bryan.

"They (the attorneys) for both sides have asked me to come back," Barron told the Associated Press Thursday. "I think I will. We will resume Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. I've got to go rabbit hunting you know."

"I'd rather have it here in Bryan. I wouldn't want to subject myself to that district attorney again."

Marines Investigate Man's Vietnam Stay

TOKYO (AP) - A U.S. Marine going home after 14 years in Vietnam was held by the Navy on Okinawa today for a medical checkup as the Marine Corps began an investigation to determine whether to bring him to trial on charges of collaborating with the enemy.

Pfc. Robert R. Garwood, 33, of Greensburg, Ind., arrived in Bangkok

Thursday aboard a commercial flight from Ho Chi Minh City, formerly Saigon. A U.S. military transport flew him to Okinawa, and a Marine Corps spokesman said he would spend "a few days" at a Navy hospital on the southern Japanese island.

"He is being accompanied by Marine Corps officers, and his stay is estimated to be a few days," a Marine spokesman said. "We don't know exactly when he will be leaving for the United States."

In New York, a lawyer who said he was hired by Garwood's family objected to the delay.

"I don't believe it's necessary to keep anybody three to five days to give him a physical examination," said attorney Dermot G. Foley. He claimed the delay was "part of the pressure-cooker atmosphere that they're building to get Garwood as deeply in trouble as they can."

The State Department said Garwood was captured by the Viet Cong in 1965 and other prisoners of war reported he remained with the Communists voluntarily.

Carter Investigator Given Probe Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) - Attorney General Griffin B. Bell is laying down rules today giving "a good deal of independence, fairly broad power" to the investigator he appointed to look into finances of President Carter's family peanut business, a spokesman says.

Release of a charter spelling out powers and job protection of the new "special counsel" comes amid continuing complaints about Bell's refusal to appoint a "special prosecutor" instead.

Department spokesman Robert Havel said Thursday night the charter will give the investigator, former U.S. attorney Paul J. Curran of New York, "pretty free rein" in checking allegations concerning 1975-76 Carter Warehouse loans of more than $6.5 million from the National Bank of Georgia - then headed by Bert Lance who later was Carter's federal budget director.

Congressional critics - primarily Republicans - have been demanding more than a grant of broad authority to a Bell-appointed investigator. They want a full-fledged special prosecutor completely independent of the Justice Department and Bell, who was appointed by Carter.

Farm Workers' VP Upset Over Hearing

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The vice president of the Texas Farm Workers Union says he feels less "in limbo" about the chances of a legislative hearing for a collective bargaining bill after a meeting with House Speaker Bill Clayton.

Union members met last week with Gov. Bill Clements, who said he had little influence over House committees.

Rep. Forrest Green, chairman of the House Agriculture and Livestock Committee, attended the supporters' meeting with Clayton on Thursday. Green told the group he has tentatively scheduled a hearing on the bill before his committee on April 25.

"I think he (Green) had left himself a catch-22 clause," said Alfredo Deavila, the union vice president, after the meeting.

Deavila said he was disappointed Green would not move up the date. "We would still like it to be earlier, but at least it's set," he said.

The bill that would allow farm workers to bargain collectively with their employers has failed in past legislative sessions. The union recently staged a 600-mile, 6-week march from West Texas to the Capitol to dramatize the issue.

Green, D-Corsicana, said he had already told his staff to set up the hearing and the only remaining hitch was checking with committee members.

Credit Union Reports Assets

Assets of Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union increased, almost $2 million and more than $600,000 in dividends were returned to members during 1978, it was reported at the 42nd annual membership meeting of the credit union here Thursday night at the high school auditorium.

Robert L. Thompson, board president, paid tribute to retiring director A.J. "Major" Schroeter during the session, and members elected Bud Snyder and Ed Coplen as new directors. Snyder succeeds Schroeter, while Coplen was named to his first elective term after being appointed to replace the late O.L. Bybee. Charles Hoover and Joe Kerr are holdover directors.

Bartley Dowell was elected to the credit committee, replacing Bub Sparks who had resigned. Other members of the committee are Neils McRight and Dr. Milton Adams.

Jimmy Rowton, who was named manager since the last annual meeting, was introduced to the members. Rowton welcomed members to the meeting and reported the credit union was planning to initiate new services which would "make the credit union be of even more benefit to the community."

The union made 2,067 loans during 1978, and they represented a total dollar figure of $8,080,574.87. It was reported the union now has some 6,434 members. The organization has made loans totalling more than $78 million since its beginning.

Thompson cited the longtime service of Schroeter on the board, pointing out that assets of the credit union had risen from about $40,000 to more than $10 million while he was on the board. A plaque of appreciation was presented to Schroeter.

Thompson also led members in a moment of silent prayer in memory of the late Mr. Bybee. The credit union presented a number of door prizes during the meeting.

Candidate

month or early April. There's no way to verify such claims until a candidate is certified for federal matching funds by the FEC.

To Fernandez, his Hispanic heritage is an asset for a presidential candidate.

"We are a fiscally responsible people," he says. "We may get behind, but we pay our bills. We are a most individualistic people; we are all generals and very few of us are Indians. And among our folks we have this great fear of big government - we refer to federalists looking over our shoulder."

Fernandez, who lives in Los Angeles, made his fortune setting up banks and savings and loan associations for Spanish Americans. In 1972, he volunteered to set up the National Hispanic Finance Committee to Re-elect the President and became chairman of that arm of Richard Nixon's finance organization.

During the Senate's Watergate hearings, a Florida builder who was in trouble with the government, testified that Fernandez promised his cabinet-level help in return for a $100,000 contribution. But Fernandez swore to the committee that wasn't true. He told the senators he supported Nixon "because his track record on our behalf is unbelievable." Fernandez said he was interested in getting a cabinet post or an undersecretaryship after Nixon was re-elected.

Fernandez says Hispanic people will rally behind him out of "joy, pride and happiness" and that "it's surprising the way non-Hispanic folks are jumping on board." His estimate of 16 to 20 million people of Spanish origin in the country is high; the U.S. Census Bureau puts the number at 11.3 million and says a generous estimate is that 2 million voted in 1976.

Fernandez has started to issue position papers on foreign and domestic policy, mostly reflecting his conservative outlook. He wants the private sector, not the government, to solve economic problems.

If his campaign has achieved nothing else, it has brought Fernandez together with his family.

Last December, while waiting to address the American Chamber of Commerce of Mexico in Mexico City, Fernandez was called from the dias. In the hall outside was a wizened old man, a dirt farmer, who had traveled 500 miles by bus and ox-cart to hear him speak.

They talked briefly and Fernandez brought the man inside. To the audience of businessmen he said proudly, "meet my uncle."

There wasn't a dry eye in the house.

Chamber

project a successful one. He also thanked the Women's Division for providing lunch for the workers on Saturday. He reported that an open tennis tourney is being planned for June 1-3.

Helen Eades, a member of the cultural committee, asked the board's opinion on sponsoring an "art festival" here. Directors agree that the committee should continue its study of the project.

Mike Carr, executive vice president, reported on the health and safety committee's study of initiating an Emergency Medical System in the county. An open meeting was held last week to outline the project. A steering committee, with representatives from the city, county, hospital district and chamber will be formed to study the feasibility of the plan.

Carr announced that the C of C Follies, a project initiated last year, will be held Nov. 15-17.

Mary Herring, president, gave a report on the activities of the Women's Division. The group is currently conducting a membership drive and has signed 16 new members. The group has scheduled a Women's Closed Tennis Tourney for April 21-22, and is planning a Clean-Up Week for April 23-28. The Miss Hereford Pageant is set for April 28, and the group will conduct the Little Miss Pageant on May 5.

Rogers announced that the industrial development committee was working with two contacts, and the group was researching the companies in question. The C of C president reported that a concentrated effort would be put into industrial development work this year.

Attending the regular meeting were Rogers, Dr. Milton Adams, Johnny Cloud, Speedy Nieman, Joan Coupe, Raymond Schlabs, Dave Hooper, Earl Brookhart and Mrs. Herring. Butch White, Jerry Payne, Paul Abalos and Jake Webb were absent.

Inflation

percent rise in housing prices and a 1.5 percent jump in property insurance, the Labor Department said.

The rise in mortgage interest was due partially to removal of the statutory ceilings on interest rates in California and New York, the department said. Only in one other month since the housing index was begun in 1967 have housing prices risen so sharply. That was in August 1974, when they also rose 1.3 percent. In addition to meat prices, there were also sharply higher food prices in February for poultry, fresh fruits, bakery products, dairy products and fats and oils.

The labor Department said fuel oil prices rose 3.1 percent in February, reflecting tighter oil supplies that have resulted from the slowdown in petroleum production in Iran.

It said gasoline prices rose 2 percent and prices of fuels and other utilities advanced 0.8 percent. Gasoline prices have increased at an annual rate of about 18 percent since last June.

Prices of new automobiles rose 1.2 percent, while used-car prices jumped 0.8 percent.

The only positive news in the February price report was the slowdown in the rise of medical care prices. The Labor Department said the improvement was primarily due to smaller increases in physicians' and dentists' fees during the month.

Shrine Presentation

The Oasis Shrine Club made a presentation of 250 circus tickets at the Kiwanis Club meeting here Thursday. The tickets for Saturday's Amarillo circus will go to the Big Brothers-Big Sisters chapter, the Camp Fire organization, handicapped children in the school system, and to some members of the Hereford Satellite Center. W.Y. Buchanan, left, Oasis club president, and Dennis Latham, past president, made the presentations to Cindy Norvell of Camp Fire, Jane Fawell of BB-BS, and Kiwanis Club president Bub Sparks. Thursday's program for the weekly Kiwanis meeting was presented by Ann Worley, curator for clothes and textiles at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

The Abundant Life

DOING GOOD

BY BOB WEAR

"A DO-GOODER" has become an uncomplicated expression, and rightly so.

These are the people who think they know how everybody should live (physical environment, and in other ways, too); what they should have; etc. They try to bring all of this about whether the other people want it or not. They are actually busybodies and meddlers in other peoples' business.

THEY DO MORE HARM than good. Even granting that they may have good intentions does not excuse their actions.

DOING GOOD, in the true sense of doing good, must not be confused with the "do-gooder" problem. There is good to be done that all of us can do without imposing upon the persons being helped. There is good that will help us, too; and in the way we will appreciate.

NO HUMAN BEHAVIOR is more ennobling than doing good, in the right way, for and to others. "He who does good to another, does good also to himself, not only in the consequences, but in the very act; for the consciousness of well-doing is, in itself, ample reward." - Seneca.

"IT IS MORE BLESSED" to give than to receive." The benefits resulting from the right kind of good being done are very constructive. The recipient of the good is assisted, encouraged, and uplifted. The one thing the good, however, receives the greater benefits. These, however, are not the only ones profited. When the right kind of good is being done, many persons are blessed.

ONE GOOD DEED is often multiplied many times, and is never in vain. Those who observe good being done will often be encouraged to do good things. In fact, this kind of doing good is often a chain-reaction force that moves on and on among human beings. Even people who, at sometime, receive this help often become more alert to their opportunities for helping their fellowmen.

NEED AND OPPORTUNITIES for doing good are all around us. They are easily recognized if we are looking for them. They appear in many forms, and are hidden from no one, except those who refuse to see. We may not be able to do everything we see needing to be done, but all of us can do our best.

"GOD HAS SO CONSTITUTED" our nature that we cannot be happy unless we are, or think we are, the means of good to others. "We can scarcely conceive of greater wretchedness than must be felt by him who knows he is wholly useless in the world." - Mason.

WHEN WE DO GOOD solely for the sake of doing good, with a sincere spirit of brotherly love, our efforts are never in vain.

Health

called Califano "a cheap huckster of piecemeal health insurance," and the American Association of Retired Persons said the secretary's "sketchy outline of the administration's unformulated national health plan leaves much to the imagination and little hope for prompt action."

Kennedy, who has battled unsuccessfully for national health insurance for nearly a decade, expressed "serious disappointment" with the president's decision to seek only limited expansion of existing programs this year. "I couldn't support this program," the Massachusetts Democrat said.

While "phase one" would cost $10 billion to $15 billion beginning in fiscal 1983, Kennedy said it fails to deal adequately with rising health care costs and therefore would be more wasteful than the present system.

Alcoholism Program Scheduled Tuesday

Charlotte Foster, one of six occupational consultants employed by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism, will present a program on employee assistance programming during a meeting of the Hereford Council on Alcoholism Tuesday, March 27 at Dickie's Restaurant.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be geared to Deaf Smith County industry representatives. Ms. Foster works out of the Area I TCA office in Amarillo which serves the Amarillo, Lubbock and Wichita Falls areas.

According to Jim Sanders, local council director, there are approximately 10 million alcohol abusers and alcoholics in the country. He added that more than one-half of those people are employed.

Ann Landers Child Risks

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Yesterday I parked my car in a parking lot and happened to glance up and notice a child in the car next to mine. The boy couldn't have been more than three years of age. The motor was running and the doors were locked. I decided to wait till the driver of that car came back because I wanted to tell that idiot a thing or two.

In about 15 minutes the child's father appeared. He looked like a perfectly nice fellow and I'm sure he was, but he had a lot to learn. I tried to be calm as I spoke to him and I must say he took it rather well. I let him know what could happen to a youngster who is locked in the car and left alone. He seemed shocked and said it never dawned on him that he was risking his son's life. Since people all over the world read your column, I feel it would be a public service if you would quote the following information. Young children left in locked cars can meet the following fate:

1. Suffocation from exhaust fumes.
  2. Burns from cigarette lighters.
  3. Accidents caused by putting the car in or out of gear.
  4. Strangulation caused by playing with power windows.
  5. Kidnapping or rape. (There are lots of lunatics running around these days.)
  6. Accidents caused by someone hitting your car.
  7. Heat prostration.
- If any of your readers think that I am Mr. Gloom, they should talk to anyone who has worked in an emergency room of a hospital.

The above-listed accidents are everyday occurrences. Needless to say, the parents are guilt-ridden and can never forgive themselves. All they can say is, "I didn't know such a thing could happen." So here it is in the newspaper for all to see. Don't let it happen to your dear little boy or girl. -- A Mother Who Cares

DEAR MOTHER: I appreciate your having taken the time and trouble to write. You may have saved a life or two, or three, or four -- who knows?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a woman in her early 30s who is very confused and in need of some sound advice. I've been seeing this man off and on since 1976. He moved in with me in '77. I lost a child last year and now have a five-week-old son by him. I used my cousin's name when I went to the hospital because the man is married.

I finally called his wife to ask her to give him a divorce so he could marry me. She said, "You did it for revenge. I still love my husband. I've forgiven him for this mistake and now I hope you will leave him alone."

I told my lover I would pay for his divorce, but he has done nothing. He visits or calls his wife every day and says he doesn't love her but he needs to know about their children.

He is still living with me as I write this and I need to know what to do. -- Messed Up Life

DEAR MESSED UP: (1) See a lawyer. The man must support the child whether he is a married man or not.

(2) Ask him to leave at once and tell him not to phone or show his face until he has started divorce proceedings. (P.S. Don't stand on one foot waiting. He sounds like a clinker to me.)

Spring Outing Set April 7 by LAE

Plans for their annual spring trip were made by members of La Afflatus Estudio Club Tuesday afternoon during a meeting in the home of Eva Gilliland. Mary Leland White-side was cohostess.

Alberta Higgins presided during the business session, which included discussion of the club's trip to Dimmitt for lunch and a tour of Castro County Museum April 17. Also, members voted to pay membership fees in the Friends of the Library for 1979.

Carolyn Hays, representing the local division of the American Heart Association presented a program on hypertension or high blood pressure. She stated that the heart is a specialized muscle which sends oxygenated blood through the arteries and receives unoxygenated blood from the veins. Mrs. Hays stressed that high blood pressure is the leading cause of death in the United States and that half of the people who suffer from hypertension are not aware that they have it. That is why it is known as "The Silent Killer."

At the conclusion of her program, Mrs. Hays tested the blood pressure of each member in attendance.

Those present were Aileen Montgomery, Opal Elliston, Allyne Johnson, Della Stagner, Pet Ott, Irene Markham, Lydia Hopson, Mrs. Higgins, Tresa Hale, Lucile Hughes, Madeline Bell, Jennie Terrell and the hostesses.

The club's next meeting is scheduled April 3 in the home of Mrs. Markham with Mrs. Ott acting as cohostess.

4-H Firsthand

Most of the 4-H program centers around work on projects. Projects help 4-H members grow because, as a member studies and works, he learns by doing.

4-H members learn and develop skills through practice such as sewing a dress or baking a cake. Publications and other project aids, project meetings and talks with parents, leaders and others all help members learn. Projects are real life experiences that help 4-Hers learn to make wise decisions.

First a member must decide which project to take. Then he must decide a lot of things as he is doing the project, such as where to place the garden, what vegetables to plant or what to build, what to serve the family or what clothes to sew. These decisions help members feel responsible for their own actions and give them personal satisfaction.

Learning to work with others is another benefit of the project. The work is done in or near the home where the whole family can work and be together. As members work together, they share ideas and help each other. They learn to compare their work with what other club members are doing. In some projects, club members own their projects. When they do, they learn to care for their property and respect other's property. Most 4-H projects are set up to meet the needs of boys and girls of different ages. These generally are projects planned for beginners, for juniors and for advanced members. As a member grows older and progresses, he has a chance to make more of his own decisions and do work that he could not do at an earlier age. Besides developing skills in a project area, the 4-H project offers the 4-H member fellowship, leadership growth and personal development. The 4-H project, the most important part of the 4-H program, offers members the opportunity for head, heart, hand and health development through many avenues of participation on 4-H.

VICA Class Presents Program To La Plata

Two members of the cosmetology class at Hereford High School presented a program and demonstration to the Coordinated Vocational-Academic Education classes at La Plata Junior High School.

The program was given on grooming, with Silvia Munoz and Rosa Casarez demonstrating the proper procedure for shampooing the hair, arching the eyebrows and giving facials. Rosa Casarez fixed one of the students hair by using a portion of the new trend. She used a basket-type weaving in a hairstyle and suggested types of hairstyles for long hair.

The high school students talked to the classes about the cosmetology program and its extracurricular activity club the "Vocational Industrial Clubs of America" (VICA). They explained what VICA tries to instill in the students and that through participation in the club the students grow in leadership abilities.

During Mark Twain's days as a newspaperman, he was editor of a small Missouri paper. One day he received a letter from a subscriber, stating that he had found a spider in his paper, and asked if this was an omen of good or bad luck. Twain replied: "Finding a spider in your paper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so that he could go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

relay trophies as well as the overall trophy, the girls totaled 124 points for the wind hampered meet. [Brand Photo by Marc Herring]

Mavs Collect 4 Trophies

The trophy case at La Plata Junior High received four new additions thanks to the efforts of the eighth grade track team in a meet held at Bovina yesterday. Winning the sprint, 880 and mile relay trophies as well as the overall trophy with a total of 124 points, the fems placed in nine events for the wind hampered meet. Because of the weather and track delays all the events with the exception of the relays, the 660 and the 1320 were declared as final times after the preliminaries. The 660 and the 1320 were reductions of the 880 and the mile which were used to help sweep up the meet. The seventh grade took second place honors at the Bovina meet using a first and a third in the quarter and a second in the mile relay to give the team a total of 50 points for the day.

La Plata girls came in 2nd in over-all points. 440 RELAY - Sherri Tamleton, Paige Phillips, Paula Mason, Jana Cabiness - 6th 54.5. 880 RELAY - Lori Walterscheid, Paige Phillips, Jana Cabiness - 6th. MILE RELAY - Lori Walterscheid, Paula Mason, Marta Carrille, Vanessa Sina 2nd - 4:59. 440 - 1st - Paula Mason; 3rd - Marta Carrille. 220 - 2nd Lori Walterscheid; 100 - 4 and 5 Dana Cabiness.

Bell Leads Track Team

Paul Bell, tops in the area with top times in the 220 and the 440, will be leading the Hereford Whitefaces in their attempt to capture first place in the Berger Invitational Relays to be held tomorrow. Bell, clocked in a time of 22.3 in the furlong and 50.1 in the quarter mile also competes on the spring and mile relay teams with the spring team also being the best in the area with a clocking of 43.8. The spring relay team consists of Keith Adams, Joe Walker and Norman Brown and Bell running 110 yards each. The mile relay with members Brown, Bell, Glenn Yosten and

Adams have the second best time on the area with a 3:31.7 time. Other top performers for the Hereford include Brown in the 440 with a 51.5 time, Yosten and Juan Flores in the 880 with times of 2:03.6 and 2:03.8 and the quickness of Brown and Walker in the 100 with times of 10.1. The track meet at Berger will have 10 teams in the boys division I with junior varsity teams making up division II. Events that could have new records set include the 220, 440 the sprint and mile relays and the shot and discus. Gary

Goodin of Hereford still holds the record for the 330 Intermediate hurdles with a time of 38.5 and unless the wind is in the favor of the hurdlers, the time is secure according to the officials at the Berger meet. Goodin's record at Hereford was tied at the Chamber of Commerce Relays here last week by Scott Kehoe of Dumas, with a time of 39.7. The girls will be involved in a two day meet today and Saturday at Bovina and is listed as one of the favorites of the meet. Leading the girls efforts is the mile relay team with Louise Mays, Linda Walterscheid, Velma Arroyos, and Beverly Nixon. The fems best time is 2:10.3, tops in the area. Also Mays is a contender in the quarter mile and Darlene Sanders, who missed last week with an injured back is a definite threat in the sprints if she is healthy according to Coach Roy Shipp. Also Arroyos in the 880 and Nixon in the hurdles are contenders for top finishes.

Holmes Favored

LAS VEGAS (AP) - "Good luck," said Ossie-Ocasio. "You need it," replied Larry Holmes. "Me no Jimmy Young." Most people agree with Holmes, who is an overwhelming favorite to successfully defend his World Boxing Council heavyweight championship tonight against Ocasio, who will be trying for the big prize in only his 14th fight. His last two fights, decision victories over the highly regarded Young, earned Ocasio the WBC's No. 3 ranking and his title shot. The Puerto Rican's big chance will take place at the Las Vegas Hilton Pavilion, the site of Leon Spinks' stunning upset of Muhammad Ali Feb. 15, 1978. Spinks won the title in only his eighth pro fight, but he had many amateur bouts and won an Olympic gold medal. The 23-year-old Ocasio had only three or four amateur fights. But the biggest advantage the 29-year-old Holmes enjoys is in experience. A pro since 1973, he has won all 29 of his fights, 20 by knockout. Ocasio, who is 13-0 with nine knockouts, has been as far as 10 rounds only three times - his last three fights. Besides Young, a clever fighter but certainly no puncher, the best opponent Ocasio has faced is journeyman Kevin Isaac. He outpointed Isaac over 10 rounds last year. Ocasio is getting $250,000 while Holmes is earning $1.2 million. Norton, 33, is getting $750,000 and the 34-year-old Shavers $250,000 for what could their last shot at getting another title chance. Norton is rated a 2-1 favorite to win the fight, which most observers felt would not go the distance.

YMCA Activities

The deadline for the YMCA sponsored Men's Power Volleyball League has been set according to Weldon Knabe, Program Director. Entries must be turned in by March 30 with play set to begin April 2 or 3. Fees for each team will be $12 per team with a $7 charge for non-members of the YMCA and a $4 charge for members. Plans are to have a double round robin schedule with a double elimination tournament following league play to determine the league champ, Knabe said. All games will be played at the old Central gym on Monday or Tuesday.

Nicklaus Shoots 67

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - It was with a definite sense of relief that Jack Nicklaus said: "That's got to help. I don't know what I'll do tomorrow, but that's got to help a lot." Golf's greatest performer, off to probably the slowest start of his unmatched career, had just fired a 5-under-par 67 - his best round of the year and his first under-par effort in three weeks. "I knew it would happen. I just didn't know when. I was getting sick and tired of explaining why I was playing poorly," said the obviously pleased Nicklaus, the defending champion in the $440,000 Tournament Players Championship. "I'm delighted to be back." He was tied for second behind Kermit Zarley, who took advantage of ideal playing conditions to rip tough Sawgrass with a course-record matching 66 and establish the first-round lead Thursday. Sharing second with Nicklaus at 67 were U.S. Open champ Andy North and Lanny Wadkins, winner of the Los Angeles Open earlier this year. Gil Morgan, Ron Streck, Canadian Jim Nelford and veteran Don January were at 68. And there were a dozen players at 69 - in sharp contrast to the scores usually yielded by the Sawgrass links, which often are raked by gale-force winds. Last year, for example, there were only 25 subpar rounds in the entire 72-hole tournament and only one score under 70. On this day alone, there were 20 scores under 70 and 53 under par. "This golf course will get it back," said Wadkins. "The weather was perfect today. You have to take advantage of it when you can." Tom Watson and Lee Trevino,

Mav 7th Wins Track Meet

By MARC HERRING
Brand Sports Editor

With the weather as the biggest foe the Hereford Junior High Boys relays finished with La Plata winning the seventh, and Stanton taking second and fourth in the eighth and ninth grade divisions.

With the wind aiding and hampering the running and field events times were not as significant as the finishes of the contestants.

Taking first in the mile and sprint relays of the Maverick seventh graders totaled 151 points to completely dominate the division. Second place was captured by Dumas with 95 points and Stanton finished sixth with 36 points.

Members of the winning relay teams for the Mavs were Larry Jimenez, Randy Stribling, Steve George and Robert Martinez for the sprint relay, and the same boys with the addition of Ricky Stengel instead of Stribling in the mile relay.

Eighth grade action was much more balanced with Canyon taking top honors with 113 points with Stanton second with 96 points. La Plata was seventh with 38 points.

The Dogies won the eighth grade mile relay with a time of 4:11.0. Ball of Stanton was a double winner in the hurdles taking first in the 120 and 330 events. Also Stanton had first in the 440 with Castillo timed in 60.5 and Rodriguez first in the 880 with a time of 2:30.3.

La Plata could not manage any firsts but took second in the 440 and 220.

Ninth grade action was not too bright for the local schools as Stanton managed 80 points for fourth place and the Mavericks collected 44 in a tie for fifth.

First places for Stanton were recorded in the 120 hurdles by High and the mile relay with a time of 3:59.3.

The Mavericks had a first in the mile run by Manuel Carrasco with a time of 5:18.0, just edging Arroyos of Stanton who had a clocking of 5:19.0.

Faith Sees A New-Born World In The Spring

When the white snows of winter, so recently here, Are dispelled by the warmth of the sun,
And the tiny green plants will begin to appear; Then the season of spring has begun,
Soon the tops of the trees will be tinted with green, As the buds on the branches unfold;
With the spectrum of flowers creating a scene that is truly a joy to behold.

You will learn through your Church what the Lord has planned, In this lesson of nature's rebirth;
When the beauty of spring will awaken the land, And new life will be born on the earth!

"For as the earth bringeth forth her bud...so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations."
—Isaiah 61:11

HEALTH Variations of stroke

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A year ago I had a stroke. My neurologist believes the stroke was caused by a thrombus. My cardiologist believes it could have been an embolus from the heart due to an irregular heart beat. My family doctor tells me the neurologist is right. He says my stroke occurred in my right middle artery in the brain and it is impossible for an embolus to reach this artery from the heart. Who is right? Is it impossible for an embolus to reach the right middle artery coming up from the heart?

DEAR READER — You can develop an obstruction of an artery in the brain either way. A thrombus means a simple clot. In the artery it's usually a complication of fatty-cholesterol deposits. The fatty material is somewhat like a pimple and may rupture and a little hemorrhage starts within the artery and the clot forms. That is the most common cause of strokes.

The clot that forms in the arteries in the brain to cause a stroke is exactly the same as a clot formation that can occur in the artery to the heart and cause a heart attack. In both instances the underlying problem is usually fatty-cholesterol deposits.

Now the arteries that go to most of your body, including the brain, come from the left side of the heart. If you have a significant irregularity of the heart — and I mean something besides an occasional skipped beat — you can develop clots in the left side of the heart. A good example here is atrial fibrillation. The left atrium may be fibrillating or just twitching, so to speak, at rates as fast as 500 beats per minute.

Under these circumstances, it never really contracts in a rhythmic manner. A clot can form in the left atrium, pass into the left ventricle, which is the lower heavy pumping chamber of the heart, and then flow out with the blood through the arteries. The clot may lodge in the brain and cause a stroke.

A clot that develops in the veins in most locations cannot go to the brain. If you have a clot in the leg, for example, associated with thrombophlebitis, it will follow the veins as they get larger and move upward toward the right side of the heart. It will enter the right atrium. It can pass down into the right ventricle which is the lower pumping chamber for the right side of the heart. It can flow out of the right chambers of the heart through the pulmonary artery to the lungs. There it will lodge in the lungs and cause a pulmonary embolism. So it makes a difference whether the clot is coming from the right side of the heart or the left side of the heart as far as the complications it can cause.

To give you more information about strokes, I am sending you The Health Letter number 2-5, Strokes, Cerebral Vascular Accident, Cerebral Thrombosis. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

In most instances the best means of preventing a stroke are the same means we recommend for preventing heart attacks. Specifically, avoiding obesity, eating a diet that's low in fat and low in cholesterol, not smoking cigarettes and maintaining a normal blood pressure. If need be, medicines to lower blood cholesterol and decrease high blood pressure can be used.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm very grateful for your column and appreciate the opportunity to ask you a question that I don't want to ask my doctor. My problem is that I've been on a strict diet for three weeks. I'm about 25 pounds overweight and am really serious about losing it all. I do very well 99 percent of the time but once in a while I slip and when I do, I feel so guilty that I induce myself to vomit all that I've eaten right away. The question is, "Am I harming myself in any way and is this method effective? Are any

Small Savers Need Immediate Attention

NEW YORK (AP) — As some small savers see it, they are victims of a caste system that limits them to a minimal return on investment, while big savers earn several percentage points more.

Not merely prejudicial treatment, they say, but a caste system, one that effectively limits their ability to ever get a shot at higher rates, the rates that go to those who already have a hunk of capital.

The passbook savings rate, for example, is 5.25 percent in savings institutions, 5 percent in commercial banks. But if an individual can commit $10,000 for six months, he or she can earn nearly 9.5 percent.

The difference is more than a few points of interest; for the small saver it can mean lending at a loss. At inflation of 9 percent, as prevailed from December 1977 to December 1978, the loss is significant.

Even discounting inflation, the effect is to widen the gap between small and big saver. At 5.25 percent interest, the face value of money doubles in 14 years; at 9.5 percent it doubles in less than eight.

offer small savers little solace, to say nothing of the affront to their sense of justice. And they aren't without support. Some savings industry people share their view.

Some of the latter, in fact, fear that their very existence could be endangered. They see would-be savers disillusioned by the low return available to them, and find them becoming spenders instead.

What this country needs today, say the latter, is less consuming and more savings. Savings feeds capital investment, which helps restrain inflation. Spending, in contrast, supports inflation, our No. 1 enemy.

The U.S. League of Savings Associations, by far the largest trade group of mortgage lenders, feels small savers should get immediate attention.

It proposes that the lower limit of deposits accepted for higher-paying, longer term savings certificates — those in which funds must be left for at least a year — be lowered to $100 from $1,000.

That, at least, would permit small savers to obtain interest rates of up to 8 percent, even if they had to leave the funds on deposit for as much as 8 years.

An opportunity for an interest rate that high least offers the distant hope to small savers that some day, if inflation is brought under control, they might become big investors.

ANDERSON NAMED WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter Anderson, director of the National Endowment for the Arts' Music Program, has been named special assistant to the endowment chairman.

In his new post, Anderson will serve as adviser to the chairman in a broad range of activities.

Red Sox Yankees Duel Even In Spring Training

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — For a meaningless exhibition game, the scene was unreal. It was more like last October's playoff at Boston's Fenway Park.

The New York Yankees were in town to play the Red Sox. Scalpers asked $20 for a $2.50 general admission ticket and fans lined up more than 5 1/2 hours before game time to buy even standing room — on a rise far beyond the outfield fences.

Moreover, baseball fever reaches its peak whenever and wherever the Yankees and Red Sox meet, whether during the regular season, a playoff with all the marbles at stake or in a small park in central Florida during spring training.

Let's face it — the Yankees and Red Sox would draw fans even in Dogpatch on Sadie Hawkins Day. The two teams not only are good, they have charisma. Each drew more than 2 million both at home and on the road last year and both are setting Florida attendance records.

The Yanks and Red Sox boast one of the bitterest rivalries in professional sports while respecting each other to the utmost. However, neither team expected the reception it got Thursday at little Chain O'Lakes Park, the Red Sox' training camp.

The park, seating 3,809, was packed, with fans jamming the aisles and standing in every nook. So, too, were newly erected stands seating about 600 well behind the fence in left and left center. Others brought various types of chairs, even chaise lounges, to join standees on the hilltop behind the fences in center and right.

The result was a whopping crowd of 6,196, shattering the old Winter Haven record of 5,121 for a Red Sox pre-season game. The players, though, barely noticed the fans' enthusiasm. They were bent on getting in routine work while having some fun.

Neither team felt the pressure as in their last meeting. That was on Oct. 2, when the Yankees rallied from a 2-0 deficit and held on for a dramatic 5-4 playoff victory for the American League East championship.

Yankees owner George Steinbrenner, who called his team and the Red Sox the best two clubs in baseball after the playoff and again after his team's World Series victory over Los Angeles, was on hand to root for his charges.

It didn't do any good. The Red Sox reversed the playoff result, winning 7-3 as Jim Rice drove in five runs with a single and a three-run homer against C. Young Award winner Ron Guidry and a sacrifice fly against old teammate Luis Tiant.

He still is the all-time Cowboy leader in touchdowns scored, receiving and punt returns.

Psychiatrist Dr. John J. Holbrook testified that nothing would be served by sending Hayes to prison.

He has punished himself in his own mind, Holbrook said.

Hayes Sentenced To Five Years

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Hayes, once at the top of amateur and professional sports in America, is a financially and spiritually broken man today at 36 with his imprisonment just days away because he trafficked in narcotics.

"The Bulletin" and "The World's Fastest Human" — as sportswriters dubbed Hayes after he won two gold medals in the 1964 Olympics — was sentenced to five years in prison Thursday by State District Judge Richard Mays on a guilty plea of selling drugs to an undercover agent.

Hayes received two 5-year terms, to be served concurrently, on charges of selling cocaine to an undercover agent in March, 1978. Hayes was assessed seven years deferred probation for selling methaqualone. He could get out in less than a year on good behavior.

The former wide receiver for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League was free on $30,000 bond until formal sentencing, expected next week.

Taking the stand in a desperate defense effort for probation, Hayes said, "I'm guilty. I was wrong. I've paid the price in image and my respect. People see me as Bob Hayes — the dope dealer — not Bob Hayes — the citizen. It hurts."

"I've hit rock bottom financially. I'm broke," Hayes added.

He said the narcotics trafficking cost him lucrative commercials with a beer company and a credit card company. His wife now works to help support the family.

Such character witnesses as Cowboy Coach Tom Landry, Club President Tex Schramm and quarterback Roger Staubach were called before Judge Mays.

"I only saw the sunny side of Bob Hayes," Staubach said.

After hearing a tape conversation between Hayes and the undercover narcotics agent, Staubach said, "That's not the man I know. If this was a trial I wouldn't have anything to do with it, but I see the potential in Bob as a human being. This tears my guts out."

Assistant District Attorney Richard Zidna tore into Hayes in the final arguments after admitting, "To be candid, I haven't enjoyed prosecuting a former Cowboy. I watched him on the football field and saw films of the Olympics. I was a fan of Bob Hayes."

"After hearing all the testimony about him, maybe I should apologize for being here to prosecute the man. But what would Mr. Average think if Hayes got probation?"

Hayes could have received a maximum sentence of life on the cocaine charges.

Rose Mad At Kuhn's Directive

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Pete Rose is mad at Bowie Kuhn and the only way baseball's commissioner can mend his bridges with the Philadelphia Phillies star is to take another look at the directive issued recently regarding exhibition game lineups.

Kuhn said major league clubs have an obligation to present "representative teams" for exhibition games and Rose said the ruling was one reason for his slow start with the Phillies this spring.

Umpires In Court For Raise

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The ballgame is back in the courtroom for major league umpires, whose ongoing battle to improve salaries has again been challenged by the National and American leagues.

League lawyers called on U.S. District Court Judge Joseph E. McGivern Thursday to find the umpires in contempt of a preliminary injunction he issued last Sept. 25 preventing a work stoppage. They also want McGivern to fine the umpires $10,000 for each day they stay off the job.

After six hours of testimony, the hearing was continued. This season the 51 umpires in court opinion have collectively refused to honor their contracts and have refused to work, said Theodore Martinian, an attorney representing both leagues.

The umpires say they are not striking. Rather, they claim Philadelphia lawyer Richie Phillips is representing them individually. Whatever talks are at a standstill and substitute umpires from the minor leagues and college ranks have been officiating exhibition games this spring.

The umpires contend their salaries are well below those of other officials in pro sports like basketball and football.

Major league baseball contends the umpires violated last September's injunction for failing to sign their contracts and report to spring training.

Ingeniar Jonasson was disqualified in the finals of the 1982 Olympic heavyweight competition for an inept effort, but seven years later he won the world heavyweight title.

"You know spring training is different now than it was 10 years ago," said Rose. "It used to be that all you had to worry about down here was getting in shape. But now, with the commissioner's ruling, you got to play and there's no time to take extra hitting. I just came back from a road trip to Miami and Pompano. Hey, if I had stayed behind, I could've taken an hour or two extra batting practice. You can't do that on the road."

Rose said his 2-for-26 spring start doesn't upset him particularly. "I'm not worried," said the $3.2 million free agent. "I'm not trying to make the team."

Another reason Rose said he has had a slow spring is the time he has put in learning to play first base, a new position for him.

"I've been devoting so much time to defense that I haven't paid much attention to hitting," he said. "I'm working an hour every day after practice at first base, learning the cutoff positions, the throws, how to hold the runner — all that stuff."

Rose said he was enjoying the transfer from third base. "It's a lot easier than the other switches I've made — from second to the outfield and from the outfield to third base."

Pressure Not Reason For Cunningham Resignation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gary Cunningham said pressure to win didn't cause him to resign as UCLA's basketball coach and Chancellor Charles Young claimed stories of undue pressure were "complete distortions."

In a surprise move, Cunningham quit after two years and a 50-8 record because he "wanted a different lifestyle" including more time with his family.

Cunningham and his wife have two young daughters and the 39-year-old coach said he had only five weekends free for his family the past year.

Cunningham succeeded Gene Bartow, who in turn had succeeded the legendary John Wooden — whose clubs brought 10 national championships to UCLA. After two years, Bartow said the pressures were too great.

"Pressure? It depends on the individual," commented Cunningham, who had been Wooden's chief assistant for four years prior to the latter's retirement in 1975.

At that time, Cunningham did not seek the job but later said he missed coaching and applied when Bartow quit.

"I have not felt pressure on winning at UCLA," said Cunningham, whose clubs went to the NCAA playoffs each year after winning conference titles. "I never felt this was a high pressure job. I had the support of the people that count."

As Cunningham looked forward to an undisclosed administrative position with the school and UCLA sought a new coach, Chancellor Young told newsmen:

"I think our UCLA athletic program is the finest in the United States. You don't have a program like that without concern for winning, in perspective."

"I think recent comments on pressures at UCLA are a complete distortion of the facts. Fans, alumni, sports writers and others don't run the department. We do."

Cunningham said he was pledged to secrecy about his new job but that an announcement could be expected soon.

Conjecture has started about the new coach, with the names of former pro mentor Larry Brown and Cunningham assistant Larry Farmer mentioned.

It's expected the new man will be named prior to April 11, the day the school athletes sign letters of intent to enroll in specific institutions.

Cunningham said he began thinking of resigning last fall in order to spend more time with his family and that the final decision was made Monday.

"This decision has been made after much and careful consideration," he said in a statement read to the news media. "My two years as head coach have been extremely enjoyable. The administration, alumni and fans have provided tremendous support during my tenure, and I am very appreciative to all."

"In particular, I want to express my appreciation to the young men I have had the opportunity to coach."

RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Dan McLaughlin, a 6-foot-5 forward who led Fairleigh Dickinson in scoring this year with a 19.4 average, was named the winner of the Ben Johnson Award symbolic of the state's freshman player.

Johnson was an FDU star freshman from Plainfield, N.J., who was killed in an automobile accident three years ago. Shortly after the tragedy, the New Jersey College Basketball Coaches Association named the award in his memory.

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Rockies have recalled left wing Mike Dwyer from the Philadelphia Firebirds of the American Hockey League and he is expected to be in uniform when the Rockies play Minnesota here Saturday night.

Dwyer, 21, was Colorado's fifth-round pick in the National Hockey League's 1977 amateur draft. He is fourth overall in scoring for the Firebirds this season, tallying 20 goals and 27 assists in 60 games.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Marvis Frazier, son of former heavyweight champion Joe Frazier, stopped Ed Bednarick of the Swissvale Eagles in the first round with an overhand right to successfully defend his state amateur heavyweight title at the Pennsylvania Golden Gloves championship Thursday.

Frazier, 18, the No. 2-ranked amateur heavyweight in the country, is now 26-0. He will likely face No. 1-ranked Tony Tubbs of Cincinnati when he and the 10 other winners of open bouts compete in the National Golden Gloves championship in Indianapolis March 28-31.

Frazier decisioned Bednarick for the state title last year but did not compete in the nationals because of an injury.

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins are planning to try cornerback and punt returner Neil Colzie on their inconsistent special teams and at weak safety, according to Coach Don Shula.

The National Football League team swapped a third-round draft choice to the Oakland Raiders on Thursday for Colzie, who in 1976 set an NFL record for return yards.

Colzie, a Miami native, was the Raiders' first-round draft choice in 1975 out of Ohio State. The Dolphins surrendered one of five third-round choices they had accumulated for this year's draft.
