

Domestic Carrot Is Discussed At Messenger Club

COMMUNITY PLANS AID IN PIONEER PROGRAM MAY 11TH

"Native carrot is the best carrot that can be grown in home gardens but they are not sold commercially, because they are too tender to be shipped," stated Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, County Home Demonstration Agent, at the meeting of the Messenger 4-H Club at the home of Miss Georgia Nell Coleman on March 17.

The president appointed a committee to help plan a pioneer Day program. Those appointed were: Miss Anna Brown, Lavonne Carnes and Nova Wily.

A demonstration on seed identification was given by Miss Oliver. How to water frame gardens by subirrigation using tin cans was also discussed.

Miss Oliver read an interesting poem on clothing and showed some charts on Seams and How to Make Them. Bulletins on 4-H work elsewhere and on Making Breads were given to those present. The club adjourned and members went to see Mrs. R. J. Coleman's frame garden in which swiss chard, parsley, and endive were growing. English peas had been too few to keep.

BULL

By Jimmie Gillentine

Mrs. Cecil C. Williams, who was recently named acting postmaster for the Hereford office, is a mighty fine woman and I have lots of respect for her—but I still say that she is a postmistress and not a postmaster. She was down at The Brand office the other day and in the course of conversation stated that she is not a postmistress and that there is no such word—I don't know how her appointment reads, and she may technically be Acting Postmaster—but I do know that there is such a word as postmistress. I looked it up in the big dictionary down here and a Postmistress is defined, "A woman who has charge of a post office." Among the definitions of Postmaster, the dictionary says "One who supplies post horses."

Of course there are a lot of other definitions for postmaster, including the one which is generally accepted today: Uncle Sam and Jim Farley may have ousted the term "Postmistress"—but it's still in the English language, and it means just what it says.

By the way, Cecil definitely said that her appointment will likely be for only a short while, after which she will return to her post of Designated Clerk. It is my opinion that within 60 days the new postmaster will be named from the recent examinations. Cecil will then return to her old position, which is not affected by the temporary appointment. A lot of folks have been asking about this and wondering if she loses her standing in the civil service. The answer is definitely NO.

While I am on the subject, Judge Slaton came running in the other day to announce that he don't believe Hereford will get its new Federal building. He didn't say why, but I think and sure hope that he's wrong.

A lot of people have also been asking about driving licenses. I went over and asked at the sheriff's office, and they said that the situation is so messed up that not even the people in Austin know just where they do stand. If you remember, the original licenses were to be re-issued in 1939. Well, no provisions have been made and a new law is being considered. The officers in charge of this division don't know just where to turn. Right now, the thing to do is hold onto your old license, which is considered temporarily extended, and wait until something definite is announced.

And in the meantime hope you're not in Peggy Valentine's shape. She put her driver's license in one of the leather cases on the steering wheel of the car. Some of her brothers acquired a goat, which got into the car and ate the license. On top of all this she got some cowboy boots and while trying to walk in them, fell and turned her ankle. She can't drive and can just barely walk.

Folks, get set for one of the biggest fishing seasons Hereford has seen in a long, long time. In the first place, Mont Baker isn't here to feed them any longer and in the second place there are just naturally more fish than there has been in 10 years. This is a prediction. Already people are catching bass, and I heard that Herman Charles went down last Sunday and did mighty well on the perch. If you like to fish, get some minnows; there are hundreds of crappie and no one ever catches many. There will be more fishermen this spring, simply because there are more fish. Just wait and see. Remember, you can catch bass and crappie in this county until April 1; after that the game fish season closes.

Notice to residents southwest of Summerfield and in the Dimmitt-Nazareth area: There are likely to be some REA extensions in your vicinity. These extensions may be announced within 10 days, maybe a month—but they are likely to come soon.

I didn't intend to say much about whiskers, because I think everyone is getting tired of the subject as well as of the hair.

DEADEYE DICK

Young Dick Shaughnessy of Dedham, Mass., set a new world record as he paced his club to the team title in the annual Middle Atlantic skeet championship in Morristown, N. J., recently. His high-over-all for the three events, the .410, 20-gauge and all-bore was 295, three better than the previous record.

However, it seems compulsory. I think that everyone has shaved them off except Uncle Walk Brady and myself. I don't know what Uncle Walk plans to do with his, but I'm going to keep mine right on until Pioneer Day—maybe longer. A lot of women are talking about writing out to Hollywood and trying to get me the part of Rhett Butler in "Gone With the Wind." I would much rather be in a picture with Dorothy Lamour or with Alice Faye—besides, another duster like we had a couple of Saturdays ago, and they'll be "Gone With the Wind" right here in the Panhandle.

I was against this whisker business from the start, if you remember, but now I've started and I figure on keeping the shrubbery right on through Pioneer Day. Here's another letter; it's signed, but someone used a non de plume.

Dear Mr. Jim:
I'm reely joyin' the peeces about the men's whiskers and I shore like to go down on the street and watch the men (if I'm sittin' in a car) but do you no I akchilly ketch myself wonderin' WHAT some of 'em are instead of WHO, but I get the most fun out of them what can't raise none and I ain't no catty old maid neither. It's just that I think mebbe they'd have more sympathy for there maws and us wimmin what can't raise a "do up" bigger'n a blackberry, strawberry or pear 'termater, 'ordin' to the color of it and won't be-grudge us a harecut or permanent to try to make more of a showin'.

Yours trooly,
AUNT MIN.

P. S. I'm all fer the idee of bussels and skycarts fer the wimmin, I'm bowlegged enuff to look nacherul in cowboy close, but I'm too short and wide to ware 'em.

P. S. Agin, I'm not well enuff acquainted with none of the fellers to give 'em sly digs like the rest are doin'; but I think Elmer is reel artistik lookin' and Elmer is no slouch if you can find him in all that undergrowth of his'n, so I would advise young mothers who want to ralz fer future celebrations to name 'em Elmer.

Folks, this un shoe has got me agessin. Yes sir, it's got old Harold Close's spellin, but I don't believe he wrote it. I think it must have come from out in the country. I don't believe anyone in town's got what it takes to compose a letter this good.

The next few days will be busy ones. The Chamber of Commerce banquet comes Friday night, and Deck Wells and Ray Dickson are a couple of good speakers. Then next Tuesday afternoon and night the Junior Pioneers are sponsoring a Russian Marionette show. This event is well worth your consideration. At the Texas Centennial, the Tony Sarge Marionettes were crowded and jammed all of the time. These ladies are bringing one of the best shows of its type in the whole world right here to Hereford. I know that they had to put up a big guarantee to get the show, and you'll say it was one of the best things of its type you ever saw. It will be interesting to adults as well as to kiddies. Plan to attend, I think you'll like it. Besides all that, we should help these ladies out.

A few months ago when Hitler was threatening to take a little slice of Czechoslovakia everyone was talking the subject. Recently he comes along, takes it all, along with control of Rumania, and this community seems to take it for granted, and it's probably the same everywhere else.

Homer Pettigrew, who lives over around Grady, N. M., was in Hereford Tuesday on his return trip from the Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth, where he was a successful contestant in several rodeo events. He won the bull-dog championship of the show. His time was seven seconds, and he won over a field of more than 100 entries. He also took first day money in the calf roping. He won a total of $865 in prize money at the show. He carries his own roping horse along with him in a trailer. A lot of folks around here know Homer, and they are sure glad that he did so well in the contests.

My friend, John W. White, editor of the Friona Star, is worried over the fact that kissing seems to have become a lost art. Personally, I think Mr. White is losing his touch with the people—or maybe he's getting too old to pay much attention to the younger folks. Anyway, he says:

"It occurs to me that the kiss, while probably not so common now as in the days of the 'dim and misty past,' has had, perhaps, a greater variety of uses and meanings than any other human act. It is used as an expression of mother love for her offspring. It is used by the wooing lovers as an expression of their affinity. It is used as a bond of troth. It is used as a sign of faith and constancy and as a betrayal. It is used in the expression of a joyous greeting and as a sad farewell. It is used by the young in their gatties and by the old in their dotage."

Miss Ruth Harding spent last week in Shamrock. She visited her family and attended the St. Patrick's celebration held in that city on Friday.

Picnic Time Is Drawing Nigh

"What kinda sandwiches are you going to make?" "Reckon we'll have pink lemonade?"

It looks like someone's going on a picnic! It seems as though the juniors. Ever since their meeting on Wednesday, March 15, all they can talk about is the picnic which is to be Friday, March 24.

It has been the tradition of that class to have an annual spring picnic, so they are looking forward to it with much enthusiasm.

The committees for planning it were appointed at the class meeting time on the day they decided to have it. Those on the committees were: refreshment committee, Clifford Estes, chairman, Virginia Moseley and Lois Standifer; entertainment committee, George McLean, chairman, Lynwood Hallum, and Wanda Jean Reed.

LOOKING OVER THEIR SHOULDER

The Senior Class at Littlefield High School has chosen "Lady Spitfire" for its annual class play. The date for the play has not been set, but the cast has been selected.

The candid camera craze has become prominent in the Portales High School and has become an interesting hobby among the students.

Rams-Tale The Dalhart band lately went to Stratford to play in the chapel program there.

From the statistics of the enrollment of the Sac City High School taken in February there are two hundred and one students in junior high and two hundred and thirty-three students in the senior high.

The Indian Sentinel Fort Scott debaters won second place at the Kansas state debate tournament held at the University of Kansas during the last of February. Russell, Kansas won the state championship.

NOTICE!!!

Everyone be sure to come to the boxing, wrestling and tumbling in the Hereford High School Friday, March 24, at 8:00. This event is sponsored by the Athletic Association and the High School Band.

Keep the Horse in Front

There ought to be some sort of livestock and poultry on every farm in the Southwest. It offers means of increasing farm income, besides distributing both labor and income throughout the year.

And it is a great big "but"—we must be careful to not get the cart before the horse. Farm livestock and poultry are primarily a means of manufacturing raw materials—feed and pasturage—into more useable and saleable forms.

ing twelve months in the year. The feed must proceed stocking the farm with feed consuming fowls or animals, and now is the time to start producing the feed.

We Americans are constitutionally inclined to "bore with a big auger" to think a business beneath consideration if it isn't a big business. It is mighty easy to over-estimate the carrying capacity of a pasture, to "guess" we have feed enough for twenty cows or a hundred hens and find out, too late, that we have feed enough for only half as many.

Livestock and poultry are not like annual crops—they grow and require feed 365 days in the year. The very fact that they go in producing when crops are not growing is what makes them valuable in the farm set-up.

But Southwestern farms must

Girls Hi-Y To Plainview Meet

Two Public Speakers Rate Highly Superior

At last the long-talked-of speech festival is over. It was held in Amarillo Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18. Those giving declamations and their ratings are as follows: Elizabeth Rice, good; Betty Cockrell, excellent; Betty Sue Henslee, superior; Carolyn Frye, excellent; Mary Louise Dean, superior; Elizabeth Bezner, excellent; Edith Jackson, superior; Barbara Brotherton, highly superior; Kenneth Potter, highly superior; and L. C. Hewitt, excellent.

That evening at 7:30 a reception was held in the Woman's Club Rooms. The first number on the program at the reception was a bass solo by Byron George, the second number was choric speaking given by the Hereford group; the last number was a reading by Miss Helen Anglin of W. T. S. C.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to everyone attending the reception.

PEP CLUB HAS ACTIVE MEETING

Singing, playing, wise-cracking, initiating and eating constituted the entertainment for the Pep Club members, Thursday, March 16. Convening at the home of Bernadine Phillips for its bi-weekly meeting, the club was entertained by hostesses Bernadine Phillips, Vivian Olson and Polly Anna Crawford.

The girls decided to discontinue the meetings, unless need arise, and to let those girls who have not served as hostesses be in charge of the food for the annual Pep Club Picnic in the spring. Margaret Ann Miller, who joined the club after initiation time last fall, was initiated and took her oath as a full-fledged member of the club. The girls played games and sang popular songs after the business had been attended and the been read for the information of new members. Refreshments were served to approximately twenty members.

Next week end, March 24, 25, and 26, the Girls' Hi-Y Club will be well represented at the Older Girls' Conference at Plainview, Texas. This is the first year for the club to be represented at any conference; eight or more delegates are planning to attend to bring back all they can to the club to make it a better club, and to make it more able to carry out its purpose.

The conference theme is "Christian Character" and a tentative program has been made filling each hour from 1:00 p. m. Friday to 2:00 p. m. Sunday. One of the main features of the entire program is an Older Girls' Speech Contest on the subject, "A Clear Conscience Can Bear Any Trouble." Edith Jackson plans to participate in the contest. On Friday night the club is to present the devotional service. Those at the Conference will be honored by an opportunity to hear Mrs. Fred S. Rogres of Plainview, Miss Juanita Krisey of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Mary W. Doak of Texas Tech, Lubbock, and Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, each a fine representative of a christian character, speak on subjects of interest to all girls.

Besides the members of the Hi-Y Club, those attending the Conference from Hereford are Miss Irene Crawford, sponsor and Mrs. J. T. Roloson.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLASS IS ADDED TO SCHOOL CURRICULUM

A very much needed and much wanted class has been added to the school curriculum. It is a girls' physical education class and it is sponsored by Miss Foster during the sixth period of the day. In this class, which meets on Wednesday and Friday, aesthetic dancing is to be taught, including waltz and tap. Individualistic interpretations will be stressed.

Approximately eighteen girls from sixth period study hall attend the class, and the class plans to give recitals after it gets under way. The first meeting of the new class was held Wednesday, Mar. 1, in the gym. There were warm-up exercises, and then Edith Jackson played the piano while the girls learned the fundamentals of the waltz.

Continued success is wished the class by the school. "And as all good things must come to an end," the banquet closed with many memories for those who had attended it.

Tulia Defeats Whiteface Boxers

Hereford may not be able to win many bouts from Tulia, but the boys do put up some good fights. Some of the Hereford boys are proud of their "shiners" even if they did lose the fight. I have heard that some people were not satisfied with the fights. Well, if you weren't satisfied with those last Friday, we may be able to show you some better ones tomorrow night. Some of the boys were unable to fight last Friday on account of sickness, but everyone will be in shape this week. Having many boys sick made it impossible to have all the bouts scheduled. Come and take a more promising chance of seeing some good fights tomorrow night.

Girls' Hi-Y Meet

The Girls' Hi-Y Club, which met March 14, in room 23 for its regular meeting, decided to send cards to all members who were ill. Although there was a dust storm Tuesday night and many members were ill, there was a fair attendance.

Betty Sue Henslee was in charge of the program. Rachel Ireland led the group in prayer and Caroline Frye gave a talk on "Ways of Controlling Words and Temper." The group had a round table discussion on "Self Control." Many points were brought out on this subject, benediction and adjourned.

"Multum in Parvo"

"Multum in parvo," a Latin expression meaning "much in little," could very easily be used to describe the speeches of the H. H. S. debate teams. The girls' team, Wilma Higgins and Polly Anna Crawford, debated the Adrian boys' and girls' teams, Wednesday, March 15, at Adrian. No decision was rendered, but many criticisms (good and bad) were given by the sponsors to help the debaters to ameliorate the debates.

After the debates were finished, Mr. Baker, the debate coach of Adrian, escorted the Hereford debaters to see the new gymnasium which has recently been built. Adrian may be very well commended for its beautiful gymnasium and equipment.

The Home Is Half the Farm

"Last call for breakfast in the dining car" sings the porter as he gongs the belated passengers into activity. They have only to weave their way to the tables and pay the price to regale themselves on the fat of the land gathered from far and near and served by others—and what a price! Only farm folk can breakfast, dine and sup on the delectables of a daily menu without paying the pyramided cost of production, transportation, processing preparation and service which compel the high prices on hotel and dining car bills of fare.

Do we need a gong to arouse us to our opportunities of high living at a low cost? Then, let's "play like" (as children say) the gong is ringing for the last call not only for breakfast but for ter from every standpoint than many half-fed or well-fed for a few months and half-starved the rest of the year.

There is just now a sort of boom psychology in certain types of livestock, especially beef cattle, sheep and hogs. The price of these animals have held up better than most other farm and ranch products, which is always a temptation to overstocking. In at the top and out at the bottom is the sad history of many business enterprises, including every sort of farming enterprise. It is scarcely necessary to say that the in and out is seldom the winner in any line of business.

But Southwestern farms must dinner and supper as well! It's that time of a year when the good eats of summer, fall and winter are assured by planning and planting; or else are left to and cash income from salable farm commodities. Too often we do without the best things of life on the mistaken theory that we can buy them cheaper than we can grow them.

All the elements of a first-class diet are farm-grown, and most of them are ready to use without Here's what every member of the family needs for a year's wholesome and satisfying diet. Multiply these figures by the number in the family and you have the requirements for which planning and planting must be done early in the year.

Milk, 91 gallons; eggs, 30 dozen.

have livestock and poultry, each in proportion to the size and type of farm. It is essential to the present as well as the future of farming in this favored region. All I am trying to say here is that we must grow into rather than go into that phase of sound farm management, and growing into it means growing the feed ahead of the consuming needs of the livestock.

As we plant feed at this season we plant the eggs for the Christmas market, the cream for every day after summer pastures fall, the fat hogs and beefs of next winter and spring, the fat turkeys for Thanksgiving. Let's not get the cart in front of the horse.

A SENATOR STEAMS

If the senate chamber isn't hot enough for North Carolina's Sen. Robert E. Reynolds, he can always rely on the gymnasium sweat-box. Through exercise routine he keeps his weight down and stays fit for his duties.

meat, 175 pounds (including fat for cooking) potatoes, 200 pounds green and yellow vegetables, 200 pounds; other vegetables 200 pounds; citrus or tomatoes, 100 pounds; other fruits, 200 pounds; grain products (flour, meal, cereals) 170 pounds; butter, 20 pounds; sweets (sugar, syrup, preserves, etc.) 70 pounds; dried peas and beans, 15 pounds.

There is not a farm in the Southwest which cannot produce every item in this list except the sugar and grain products. Fresh meat (chicken, turkey, beef, veal, lamb or mutton, fresh pork) should be served at least once a day for a wholesome, healthful and strength-giving diet, and dry beans or peas three times a week. They grow on the farm and go to the table without paying tribute to handlers and processors.

The United States as a whole eats nearly 70 pounds of beef, veal, lamb and mutton per capita per year. Ironically enough the people who have to buy it eat more than those who grow it. Texas is a producer of great surpluses of all these fresh meats, yet the people consume only 15.5 pounds per capita or less than one-fifth the average for the whole United States. Arkansas farm people consume only about 8 pounds of beef per capita, though every pound of beef must grow on some farm or ranch, and there is enough waste on the average farm to produce all the meat the family can eat. It is no longer necessary to eat fresh meat only at killing time, for either canning or freezing (or both) is within the reach of every family, making possible the daily meat service throughout the year.

There is no reason why we should buy navy beans from Michigan, limas and black-eyed peas from California, pinto beans from Colorado, when a few rows of each will provide a variety of these nourishing foods. The recommended menu calls for them three times a week but a little forethought in planting will prevent the necessity of eating the same kind all the time.

To say nothing of the fact that garden vegetables are best when they go from garden direct to table, the money saved by producing and preserving the home supply of foods will buy something else which can't be raised on the farm—say a refrigerator or a washing machine, a radio, and a thousand other manufactures.

Windbreak Plants

Twenty-five dollars worth of deciduous seedling trees will plant a four-row windbreak around a twenty acre farmstead, according to a plan made by Charlie Robbins, who lives three miles north and one mile west of town. Seven hundred tall trees spaced ten feet apart could be of native Elm, Chinese Elm and thornless Honeylocust. Fourteen hundred Osage Orange, spaced every five feet, would complete the planting.

A Panhandle nursery quotes this list of plant material in 1 foot to 1 1-2 foot size material at this low price.

Hardy Annuals

Double flowered annual larkspur and cornflowers are two hardy annuals which have grown profusely all winter in the garden. Seed of perennial Babysue, which were shaken on the ground when the dried flower stalks were removed and hundreds are growing now. Bedding hyacinths flowered in 1938, were not moved and are again showing color on flower stalks. Violets and narcissus are also in blossom in sunny spots. A beautiful Pussywillow shrub and a hedge of Forsythia intermedia (Golden Bells) are showing the first flowers of this spring. Yellow Iris have been shared with a number of gardeners, the latest ones being Mr. and Mrs. Robert Viegel who live ten miles north of town.

A large plant of Spirea was dug by Carl Wimberly of Dawn for their landscape demonstration.

Early Spring Flowers

Winter Jasmine (Jasminum nudiflorum) and Winter Honeysuckle (Lonicera frabrantissima) have been in flower since early in March at the home of Mrs. Laura E. Hicks on Witherspoon Avenue.

Linum perenne, Perennial Blue Flax has been green all winter and is now 6 to 10 inches high. It is seen in flower in many gardens in Hereford during May and June.

Day Lily, Iris and Shasta Daisies are other hardy perennials which show new growth. The Shasta Daisies need to be moved to a new location this season since they have used up all plant food available to them in the spot where they have grown for two years. A thrifty Mock orange developed Chlorosis last season and will be treated with coppers to remedy the iron deficiency.
