Sights and Faces Seen

Last week The Brand stated in the Hospital Notes column that Mrs. Grace Covington is the mother of a baby boy, and in a local item it was stated that she is the mother of a baby girl.

Taxpayers who have noticed the street lights burning in the daytime need not worry because the City is wasting money.

Little things don't bother Mrs. Hall Beavers, at least not very much. One little thing like painting the living room walls, ceiling and all, was all in a day's fun to her.

Silos Shown Profitable Investment

CONSTRUCTION OF SILOS IN DEAF SMITH COUNTY TO BEGIN SOON

The introduction of the storage and feeding of silage has met with almost phenomenal success throughout the Panhandle in recent years.

The manager of the Mashed-O Ranch in Lamb and Bailey counties, Mr. Gather, had heard about the success of feeding silage in other parts, but, like most producers in this section, he was dubious of the real value of the practice.

Allotments For 1940 Wheat Are Promised Early

Fulfilled this week was the AAA's promise of an early wheat program, as 1940 acreage allotments sped to wheat farms in 24 counties.

Glenn D. Scott, who handles statistical work in connection with acreage limits, said all wheat farmers in Texas are to receive their allotments by August 1.

Last year it was September before the first ones were issued. Counties which had received allotments by July 13, are Hemphill, Nolan, Fisher, Young, Ford, Somervell, Hardeman, Potter, Armstrong, Hutchinson, Oldham, Roberts, Hartley, Ochiltree, Wise, Wheeler, Hansford, Clay, Randall, Lipscomb, Sherman, Farmer, Knox and Wichita.

Jess Watson, Young county wheat farmer and vice-chairman of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee, said every farmer who seeded wheat for harvest in either 1937, 1938 or 1939, or who intends to do so for 1940, must be covered by a "work" (Continued on Page 12)

JUST A LOT OF LUCK—MOST OF IT WAS WILEY'S

Jim Lipscomb, Robert Campbell and Noah Ewton have quite a bit to say about a man of T. W. Roberson's age who has been fishing only once in his life, and that time only last week.

Another story comes from the same trip, but no one but Wiley likes to tell this one. It concerns the only real fish caught—a big seven-pounder landed by Wiley.

Warn Parents To Make Transfers Before August 1

Notice was served this week that there are only ten more days in which to complete papers for the transfer of students to the Hereford Independent District for the 1939-40 session.

Parents of children who intend to transfer to the Hereford District must appear at the office of County Superintendent A. J. Schroeter in person and sign the application for transfer in order for the negotiation to be permanent.

All children who resided in some other district at the time the last school census was taken in March, and who intend to transfer to the Hereford Independent District for the 1939-40 session must transfer, Superintendent Schroeter said. The (Continued on Page 12)

Will Begin To Measure Wheat Acreage Soon

ALL CANDIDATES REQUIRED TO PASS EXAMINATION UNDER NEW RULE

Official announcement from the County Agent's Office this week states that checking farm lands for compliance with the federal farm program and measuring land on which crops will be planted for the first time this year will start as soon as possible.

Alex R. Bateman, County Agent, stated that everyone interested in measuring land in Deaf Smith County will be given an opportunity to compete for a place on one of the crews.

The examination for candidates to measure wheat land in Deaf Smith County will be given next Saturday, July 22, in the Commissioners Court Room at the Courthouse, Mr. Bateman said.

The county agent stated that he expected to hire around fifteen men to undertake the job (Continued on Page 12)

The general good harvest has been highlighted by a number of producers whose yields have been exceptionally good. Most of the wheat cut better than was expected, but in some cases the crops were on a 1925 basis.

Among those who cut the highest yields in bushels were Davis-Ford and Cecil Guseman. The Davis-Ford concern harvested a larger number on acres, but the general yield on this land was reported to be slightly lower than on Guseman's.

J. T. Gilbreath, Sr., and Bill Wallace made excellent yields on irrigated plots. Gilbreath averaged close to 50 bushels per acre on 200 acres; Wallace cut 32 1/2 bushels per acre on 300 acres.

WELL TO BE DELIVERED IN OPERATION TO CITY FOR FULL CASH PAYMENT

Work started this week on a new well to be used to supply the city with water. Drilling operations are under way, and the new pump will soon be in operation, officials said.

The contract for the new well calls for a 20-inch casing sunk to the depth of 160 feet. It will be a straight-bored well, and the pump will raise the water directly from the level to which it rises in the casing.

The well now in operation operates at a capacity of about 1000 gallons per minute. The machinery used to operate it is set fifty feet underground. The well is 120 feet deep, and the water rises in the 22-inch casing to a height of 60 feet.

When the old well was first installed in 1927, it had a capacity of 1250 gallons per minute. It maintained that capacity until about six years ago, when it began to drop off due to wear in the machinery.

The contract for the new well was let to the Bradford Supply Co. It calls for an expenditure of $2927.40, which will be paid in cash at the time the well is completed and declared ready for operation by the city.

Growers Form Potato, Onion Organization

DISCUSS PLANS TO BUILD WAREHOUSE TO HANDLE CURRENT CROP

In a meeting of what is provisionally termed the Hereford Potato and Onion Growers Association last night in the Farm Security office, it was decided that the potato and onion producers in Deaf Smith County would form an association which would perform the function of marketing and storage agency for their products.

A committee was appointed to work out the details of the organization and draw up a plan of association. These plans will be presented to the group as a whole, at a meeting next Wednesday night, July 26, in the Farm Security Office on the third floor of the court house.

The possibility of constructing a warehouse in the very near future to handle the current crops was discussed. All the members in attendance expressed open enthusiasm for the project and stated their willingness to co-operate with both labor and money in the building of a warehouse.

If such a project is undertaken, it will be done through the agency of the association, which (Continued on Page 12)

Announce New Manager For Star Theatre

G. R. LUNSFORD TO ASSUME MANAGEMENT THIS WEEK; ROBERTS TO COLORADO

G. R. (Speck) Lunsford assumed duties of Manager of the Star Theatre here this week. Mr. Lunsford comes to Hereford from Clovis, New Mexico where he has been living for several years.

The new manager comes to replace John Roberts who has operated the theatre here for the past three years. Mr. Roberts and his family left this week for Fort Morgan, Colorado where they will make their new home.

Hereford citizens will receive the announcement of Mr. Roberts' departure with real regret. During his stay in Hereford he has made many friends who will miss him and his family. He and his family express their regrets on having to leave Hereford and state their sincere appreciation for the patronage accorded Mr. Roberts in his business.

They invite Hereford citizens who vacation in Colorado to visit them at Fort Morgan. Mr. Lunsford announces that he will continue to offer the people of Hereford the fine class of pictures and early showings to which they are accustomed.

Mrs. Lunsford and her five year-old son, Richard, will join Mr. Lunsford here at an early date. Arrangements for a home are being negotiated by Mr. Lunsford now, and his wife and son will join him as soon as possible. (Continued on Page 12)

SEEDS of ADVICE from The Garden Club

Lemon-Yellow Spiny Grubs

COLLEGE STATION, July 20—If the leaves of garden beans have numerous holes in them like an eyellet dress, they are likely being attacked by lemon-yellow spiny grubs which are the immature stage of the Mexican bean beetle, says R. R. Reppert, Extension Service Entomologist at A. & M. College.

This pest, which can make lacework of sturdy bean plants in short order if left unchecked, may be combatted successfully with a three-fourths of one per cent rotenone dust, Reppert says. In addition, a spray can be substituted. The spray is prepared by mixing four table-spoons of a cube of derri powder that contains five per cent of rotenone in three gallons of water. Three table-spoons of skim milk powder added to the three gallons of rotenone spray mixture will materially help the spray to adhere to the foliage.

Insecticides on the upper surface are ineffective for this beetle, so Reppert cautions the gardener to apply the dust or spray to the under surface of the leaves. First treatment should be made just after the orange colored eggs hatch or when the first feeding injury is observed. A second treatment may be necessary within five days after the first is made. Beans treated with this spray or dust are safe for eating, the specialist adds.

Relief for Gardeners

COLLEGE STATION, July 20—No longer must gardeners be round-shouldered and back sore from their labor now that tools are built so that the operator may stand erect while using them. According to J. F. Rosborough, Extension Service horticulturist, the chief requirement of a garden tool is that it will obtain the best results with the least amount of exertion. Just as the golfer needs a number of clubs for the best type of game, the efficient gardener needs an assortment of tools to prepare and cultivate his garden.

A light garden hoe with a rake and a garden plow with an assortment of sweeps will enable the gardener to cultivate the vegetables quickly and thoroughly.

A number of tips in the purchase of garden tools are listed by Rosborough. He says: "The tool should be light, easy to handle, and durable; the handle should fit the normal grip of the hands and should be somewhat flexible; the blade should be either welded or forged to the handle instead of being riveted; the tool should be adapted to the particular soil type. "Guard against the tool which is especially fancy or unusual," the specialist says. "Be sure that it will do the work with the minimum amount of effort."

CHURCH GROUP COMPLIMENTS MR. AND MRS. O. T. WILLIAMS

Among the courtesies extended during the past week to Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Williams who are leaving soon to make their home in Lubbock, was a gift shower given for Mrs. Williams on Wednesday morning of last week at the regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society. The meeting, held at the church, opened with a devotional given by Mrs. Williams. Mrs. Billie Roberson entertained with a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Thelma McMinn. A vocal solo, with violin obligato given by Mrs. Roberson, was sung by Mrs. Carl Mountz. Dona Jean Stagner gave a reading.

The shower was introduced during the social hour, when Mrs. W. E. Barnes presented the honoree with gifts as the winner in games. Refreshments were served from a lace-laid table centered with a large punch bowl surrounded with white moon flowers. Mrs. H. G. Conkwright presided.

North Hereford Club Meets At C. G. Robbins

"Crisp, cold salads served with an accompaniment may make up an entire meal," stated Mrs. Louie Olson at the meeting of the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club held in the home of Mrs. C. G. Robbins on July 13. "Salads," she continued, "are an economical food as left-overs may be used to prepare them." "Salads made of raw vegetables and fruits should be carefully cleaned as these products may carry dangerous bacteria. Lettuce is one of the most widely used salad greens. Parsley, endive, cabbage, romain and Chinese cabbage are other greens that may be used. They should be crisp and dry. Eat the salad greens and do not waste the rare vitamin content they provide. Salads should be mixed just before serving because the dressing tends to become watery and the greens begin to wilt. Marinading means pouring a dressing over fruits and vegetables and meats and allowing it to set until they have absorbed the flavor of the dressing."

Mrs. Louie Olson and Mrs. Grady Parsons gave a demonstration on fruit salad plates. A salad plate consists of a variety of fruits with cottage cheese, olives and sour pickles served on lettuce leaves. Potato chips and cheese crackers may be served as an accompaniment. Juices from the fruits may be used to make delicious drinks. This makes a dinner very easy to prepare on Sunday night.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Louie Olson, vice-president. Roll call was answered with a "Fruit I Have Planted This Season."

Mrs. C. G. Robbins was appointed assistant reporter. Mrs. Oscar Vaughn and Mrs. C. G. Robbins were on the entertainment committee.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Frank Wilde, L. P. Shaw, E. J. Parsons, Louie Olson,

HEREFORD CLUB IS ENTERTAINED AT DIMMITT

Members of the Hereford Garden Club were entertained at a breakfast given Friday morning by members of the Dimmitt Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Jack Miller in Dimmitt.

Tables were laid for four in the yard where wide spreading trees, shrubbery and summer flowers formed a natural bower, and on the porch where tall baskets filled with gladioli and greenery gave the floral complement. The rainbow colors in table covers matched the varied hues suggested by the flowers and the lovely Fiesta table service carried out the colors chosen. An outdoor furnace on wheels, where the breakfast was prepared, was an interesting innovation.

After the breakfast a tour of gardens at the home of the Dimmitt Garden Club members was conducted. Blooming in the gardens visited, were angel lilies, gladioli, dahlias, zinnias, petunias and other showy flowers and in almost every instance lily pools were featured.

Gardens visited included those at the homes of Mesdames W. A. Wright, Jack Miller, Henry Stalcup, R. B. Boren, Mark Cowser, Ray Cowser, Arthur Gladman, E. B. Dright and Jim Cox.

The Dimmitt Club has only been organized for about three years, but during that time its enthusiastic members have brought about increasing appreciation of horticultural beauty and by means of co-ordinated neighborhood activity have created greater public interest in beautification and civic pride.

TRANSIENT JIM'S PROBLEM

"I wanted to stay at home where we could find work and where we know people, but Mom and Dad didn't see it that way. They think we have to go to the wheat fields in the summer and the cotton fields in the fall. Do us kids get tired? Boy, I'm fed up on this. Why, for five days we've been livin' in the shade of this old sign board, and we ain't had but one meal a day. We ain't had nothin' to eat today, 'cause it took all the 50c Dad got for our tools to buy yesterday's grub. Gosh, I want Mom and Dad to stop us somewhere and stay for keeps."

This honest opinion came from Jim, 17-year-old son of a transient family investigated by Mrs. Dyalitha Brady, Deaf Smith County Welfare Worker. He spoke in the presence of his parents, frank and straightforward, but not bitter. His was a reasonable argument. He saw the futility of the hand-to-mouth existence they were living and the absolute necessity of establishing a permanent resident somewhere if they intended ever to do any better.

Jim's father had gone to the Deaf Smith County Welfare Office to seek help for his starving family. He was proud to say that his family had not been on the WPA since 1939—they had followed the crops and found work. But wheat harvest was over when they got here, and they were unable to find anything to do. It was 2 o'clock and they had not eaten, but the children were trying to sell a stool Jim had made out of an orange crate. They had sold three such stools this week at forty cents each. Jim had three brothers and four sisters, and there was soon to be another addition to the family. The family's possessions consisted of a half dozen cooking vessels, a wash board, one small tub, two flat and filthy mattresses, four dirty quilts, and one suit case of clothing—all this in addition to their 1925 model car which boasted a set of polished horns on the radiator (some more of Jim's work).

This case is essentially no different from thousands of similar ones encountered every day throughout the United States except for one particular thing, which was that the boy, Jim, was keen enough to see where the life they were living would lead them. He realized with unusual clarity that as long as they continued their nomadic existence their standard of living would degenerate. He saw his brothers and sisters, like thousands of other transient children, being taught to beg so early that it never occurred to them to mind doing it. Other children were going to school and learning to do things, but Jim knew that neither he nor his brothers and sisters would ever go to school as long as their father and mother continued to drag them over the country from one place to another. Jim didn't mind working. In fact, more than anything else he wanted to settle down to a steady job somewhere and bend all his efforts toward making good. His father was proud of the fact that the family had not been on WPA for three years, but Jim knew it would be better to be on WPA for awhile and stay in one place long enough to establish themselves. He had done all he could to convince his parents that he was right, and now, after they had repeatedly ignored his pleas, he decided that they would just have to count him out when they went on their jaunts.

The Welfare Worker persuaded the family to start immediately after their meal for their original home, Vernon. Jim was especially happy, and vowed that they would stay there for good, but the Welfare Agent knew that it was 9-to-1 that the family would not even get to Vernon. Even if they did go to Vernon, it was certain that they would not be wanted there. Such a family has no legal residence, and the pathetic thing about their situation is that nobody wants them. Deaf Smith County has no place for them; there is a housing problem here which is acute enough without any more additions. Then, there is the mother who is very likely to be ill and who would have to be cared for at the expense of the County. So, for various reasons, every place they stop considers it best to send them on, and boys like Jim are cast from society before they are given a chance to show whether they will add to it or take from it.

Thus it is that the transient problem is becoming one of the most acute social problems in the United States. The situation seems to defy any sort of solution. Many of the transients are worthless and would not settle down if they were given a chance to become of value to a community. Others are simply looking for a place where welfare agencies will support them. Those who really want a chance have a hard time convincing authorities of their sincerity. Even if they are given a chance, most of them show an astounding ignorance and are unable to do anything outside of common labor, and that field is already overcrowded.

The problem is a knotty one, and a solution has yet to be offered for it. There are those who think that it is best to leave the whole thing alone in the hope that it will work out by itself as economic conditions throughout the country change. Others offer various suggestions, but no one has been able to outline a definite plan which looks as though it might work. In the meantime, more and more transients crowd the highways, and new ways of begging and playing for sympathy are being taught to children too young to know their danger.

Rabies Threat Is Year-Round

AUSTIN—Rabies is increasing in prevalence in many parts of Texas, although it may be controlled and even could be exterminated by intelligent measures, according to records of the State Department of Health. Unfortunately it has been the practice to wait to apply control measures until the disease is widespread.

The dog is the chief source of rabies infection in man, but all warm blooded animals are susceptible. Contrary to widespread belief, rabies is not a warm weather disease. It occurs just as frequently in the cold months. The most logical procedure in the control of rabies would be to vaccinate all dogs. Where this is impossible the stray dog should be immediately impounded, for the stray dog is chiefly responsible for the spread of rabies.

Public health authorities are handicapped in their fight against the spread of rabies because rabies in humans occurs only infrequently. However, it must be remembered that rabies is 100 per cent fatal once the disease has developed. Treatment is only preventive and must be taken in time.

Do not kill the dog that is behaving strangely or immediately after it has bitten someone. The animal should be captured and kept under observation for ten days to determine whether it has rabies or not. The confinement should be ample secure, for a dog in the frenzy of furious rabies requires a much stronger collar and chain or enclosure than a non-rabid dog.

visited with her mother, Mrs. Garrison near Olton, Monday. Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson visited Mrs. J. M. White Saturday.

When the rabies virus is put into the body by a biting dog the virus travels slowly from the wound along the nerves until it reaches the brain and spinal cord. Thus if the bite is on the face the virus does not have far to travel to reach the brain. Consequently bites on the face are the most dangerous and immunization must be started at once.

It is possible to control rabies, but, owing to the large territory included in Texas, it will take extra efforts on the part of public health workers and the co-operation of the people of each town and county to carry on an educational program for this control.

MRS. J. N. MESSENGER

The hard winds of last few days are taking out the moisture, but there is underneath moisture which is good. In listing and plowing wheat ground they found lots of moisture.

Most of the wheat ground has been plowed or listed in this part of the county.

There are quite a few coming in trying to lease ground, and others trying to get more from raising good crops this year, and still others trying to underlease men that have had ground for several years.

The row crops are later this year than for many years. Crops that have been planted over twice and some a third time, are showing a good stand now but are needing rain badly.

Mrs. J. T. Guinn went to A. & M. last week to take short course in Club work. Her little daughter, Dorothy Nell, is at Canyon with her sister, Carmalee, while her mother is away. Mr. Guinn and Junior are batching.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Buffalo grass seed were successfully harvested at the Temple Station this season during the last week in June, at the rate of about one pound per man hour cleaned unhulled weight. A lawn mower was prepared for the job by removing the cutter bar, taking off the roller, attaching an ordinary grass catcher, and placing a shield on top of the mower and up the handle to deflect the scattering seed into the catcher. This machine was used on a Buffalo grass lawn that had been mowed regularly and on a field area that had been cut with a mowing machine immediately prior to the seed collecting operation. In both cases satisfactory amounts of seed were secured. On the lawn, earth-worms had worked up considerable soil which was caught with the Buffalo grass seed. This soil was removed by placing the catch in a tub of water and skimming the seed from the top. By using this method of collecting seed, the amount of hay that is caught in addition to the seed is materially reduced by removing the cutter bar on the lawn mower. The separating process is thus simplified so that the coarser surplus hay is easily removed by hand. Fanning is then effective in the removal of the smaller trash particles. Neither the floating nor the fanning need be done if the seed are to be planted by the collector.

This economical method of harvesting Buffalo grass seed will make possible the seeding of pastures to this grass, that have not been practicable because of the difficulty in securing the seed supply.

AUSTIN—The regular session of the 46th Legislature set what Game Department officials believe to be an all-time record in the passage of game and fish laws.

In all, 94 new laws relating to wildlife were enacted out of a total of 134 wildlife bills introduced, 113 originating in the House and 21 in the Senate.

At the start of the session 545 applications of county game and fish laws were on the statute books.

The new crop of laws, officials said, adds considerably to the number, although in several cases the new regulations merely extend the life of old laws about to expire.

Only seven of the 94 new laws are general laws, applicable to the State as a whole, the Department announced. The rest apply only to individual counties or groups of counties.

Fishing received more attention than hunting. An analysis shows the Legislature passed 30 new laws dealing with regulation of fishing or sale of fish. Fourteen new laws dealing with deer and turkey hunting were passed, 10 relating to fox, nine to quail, and five each to squirrels and fur-bearing animals. Various other local laws were enacted.

Most important among the general laws passed was that declaring the Collared Peccary or Javelina game animal. Killing of the animals was declared illegal except during an open season, from Nov. 15 to Jan. 1, and the bag limit was declared to be two per season. Sale of javelinas and their hides were declared unlawful, except that javelinas or their hides imported from other States or countries might be sold. Many of the animals are imported annually from Mexico.

Other general laws included that placing the Starling on the unprotected list; forbidding fishing from bridges or causeways maintained by the State Highway Department; allowing the Game, Fish and Oyster to condemn lands for use in construction of fresh-water fish hatcheries or passes leading from one body of tidal water to another; providing for the issuance of non-resident trapper's licenses at a cost of $200 each; and placing the brown pelican on the protected list.

Another general law had the effect of giving the Game Department permission to accept federal funds to be used in an extensive game management, survey and research program.

Part of the federal money already had been received for this purpose and the program had been inaugurated with executive approval of James V. Allred, before his term as governor expired.

The game restoration program, being undertaken in cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, was expected to last five years, as originally conceived. The Game Department was to match federal money in the ratio of 1 to 3. Several projects for the restoration of quail, antelope, mountain sheep, turkey, dove, deer and fur-bearing animals have been evolved during the first year of the fedral-stat project, and were due to get under way in the near future. Veto of many Game Department items by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel last week, however, left the fate of the entire co-operative program in doubt.

BULL

By Jimmie Gilentine

Harvest is over, and time has come to settle up on this wheat estimating business. The estimates included wheat handled through Hereford, Dawn, Umbarger and Black. It is apparent that the highest estimate wins — because they were all below the mark. Therefore, I'm going to award the prize starting with the top estimate and coming down.

First Place—2,997,500 bushels—goes to Mrs. C. B. Miles of the Ward Community. And her check for $2.50 is waiting at The Brand office.

Second Place—2,655,000 bushels—goes to W. L. Alexander, who has a one-year subscription waiting at The Brand Office.

Third Place—2,525,000 bushels—goes to Col. W. S. Williams of Amarillo. His prize is any dollar knife in Strenu Hardware. Winners in the next five places each get a pass to the Star Theatre by calling at The Brand Office. These winners and their estimates follow:

- W. T. Leachman, Amarillo 2,325,000 bushels.
Worth Covington—2,225,000 bushels.
Mrs. John Kropff, 1,982,763 bushels.
F. L. Lucas, 1,920,250 bushels.
F. Adamson, Amarillo, 1,850,000 bushels.

I really thing that Mrs. Miles owes me a set-up because I did not push my own guess of 3,997,745 bushels for the four terminals. By getting the grain stored on farms and putting it with the total, I believe I would have been pretty close — maybe 5 or 10 bushels off, due to the fact that they combined a little cleaner than I expected. Anyway, there are the winners and I hope that everybody is happy.

There are a lot of folks who can never seem to find any excitement around their home town, but evidence exists that at least one person got pretty well worked up last week.

Proof of this statement rests in a desk drawer in The Brand office. It's nothing other than the "lowers" from what must have been an excellent set of false teeth. Geo. T. McCurry found them in front of the First State Bank. The teeth wouldn't fit Playboy Jim Clark, who is now making his headquarters on lower Main, so Mr. McCurry brought them by the Brand office. All the owner has to do to recover the teeth is to come by the Brand office and reveal what brought on such a big "Ah-h-h..." as to make him lose the teeth.

Sid Maxfield, upon being asked which check he wanted, answered "The one with the bull."

Last Thursday was July 13, and it sure resulted in lots of errors for The Brand. Among other things, we said that Harry Rice left Wednesday for Philadelphia, Pa., where he will attend Lions International convention. Friday, Harry said that it reminded him of the time when a newspaper erroneously printed an account of the death of Mark Twain. When a friend told Mark Twain that he read about his death in the paper, the famous humorist replied, "I haven't read the account yet, but I feel sure that it was slightly exaggerated."

In one place in the paper last week we announced the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Worth Covington — and in another we announced the birth of a son. Worth insists that the baby isn't twins; HIS name is Carl Worth Covington, a boy to be sure.

I'm between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea, as the old saying goes. I think that the Chamber of Commerce needs a good reaming out — and being on the board of directors, I hardly feel at liberty to criticize them too much. Anyway, here's the low

Famous Name Sets New Record

Taken from the production line recently, the 5,000,000th Frigidaire was posed for this picture with E. G. Biechler, Frigidaire general manager, (left) and C. F. Kettering, vice-president, General Motors Corporation. Well-known for his contributions to industrial research and development of a number of widely used mechanisms, Mr. Kettering had particular interest in the 5,000,000th Frigidaire. His inspiration and engineering knowledge of refrigeration were in a large measure responsible for the original establishment of the Frigidaire industry. During the years, Mr. Kettering, working closely with Mr. Biechler, has made many contributions which have been of tremendous value in making this product what it is today.

down on the situation. The board met July 11 and elected Fred Sterner (the fellow who used to manage Jones Dry Goods) as secretary. Thursday Mr. Sterner sent word that he doesn't want the job. That puts the directors right back where they started. The next meeting is slated for July 26 — and a secretary will probably be named. Hereford surely needs a Chamber of Commerce that will meet the present situation. There is a greater need for a live-wire organization here than probably anywhere in the entire state.

dames Harry Smith and Sam Hunter and Vay Allen went to Canyon Sunday to visit in the Ed Peters home. Mr. Peters is a cousin of Mr. Allen's and is seriously ill.

Miss Hazel Chambless, who is employed in Amarillo, spent last Sunday night and Monday with her parents. Hazel left Monday night with friends to attend the Fair in New York. They will make the trip by train.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Allen took her mother, Mrs. Lee Parker, to Amarillo Wednesday for medical treatment. Mrs. Parker remained there over night.

Bud Hinderich of Duke, Okla., visited last week in the M. T. Sparkman home.

New Clerks Are Seen at Popular Store This Week

The Popular Store announced this week that the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Emmorie Hoffman, has been filled by Miss Laura Sullivan.

Miss Sullivan will give special attention to the store's new stock of women's apparel. Gaston Baer, store owner, said she will be able to help in the selection of good, inexpensive clothes for the younger set and will also be able to help mothers solve the problems of their children's clothes in the most economical way possible.

Another replacement was made at the Popular store during the month of June, when Noland Miller was hired to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of George McLean, who is now working for the J. C. Penney Co.

Canyon To Hold

In Canyon will be in the parade. Thirty beavers are to be barbecued by John Snider of Amarillo for the free barbecue starting at 11:45 a. m.

Station KGNC will broadcast from 12 to 1:15 p. m.

The speaking will start at 1:15 o'clock, and will end at 2:30 p. m., with the dedication of a monument to the pioneers.

The rodeo will be held at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening at Buffalo Stadium. This is the largest rodeo so far assembled this year, and there will be a complete change in the program for the night show under the floodlights.

A street dance will end the day's festivities starting at 9:30 p. m. Dances will also be held at the American Legion Hall and at Burton Gymnasium.

Old Settlers

and Donley Counties have been invited to attend the reunion and be honored guests at the annual barbecue on Friday, the 28th. Tickets will be free to all who have lived in this section for more than 28 years.

Chief Baldwin Parker, son of Quanah Parker, and his tribe of Comanche Indians from Cash Oklahoma will appear twice daily in the pioneer parade on the Old Settlers program and at the rodeo in war dances, scalp dances, Indian love songs, and other Indian ceremony.

Sydney Yokley, the Canadian, Texas, girl who has been an outstanding performer at almost every major rodeo in the Southwest, will be featured in a special exhibition at all four shows of the two-day rodeo at Cyclone Stadium.

The Memphis rodeo will be one of the outstanding affairs of its kind in this section. Limited strictly to amateur performers, it will feature many of the top cowhands from West Texas ranches. Attractive prizes are being offered, and invitations have been mailed to more than 300 punchers.

Silos Shown

dles and cottonseed meal; those in the other pen were fed ensilage and cottonseed meal. At the end of the 120 feeding days he weighed both pens and checked these weights with those obtained before the feeding program was begun. He found that the heifers which had been fed on ensilage had gained sixty pounds more than those which had been fed on dry feed and cottonseed meal. Both groups of animals had been given the same amount of cottonseed meal per day throughout the test period.

That is telling evidence, pound for pound, that ensilage is more beneficial than dry feed. It is the kind of evidence that should convince even the most hard-headed of the unbelievers who stand pat on the statement that you can't beat good bundles.

The paramount value to be derived from the storage and feeding of silage is three-fold: first, the feeds used in preparing the silage are cut during the slack season on the farm; second, the silo provides absolute protection against damage to the feed by rats, weevils, cold weather, dust and other detrimental agencies, and third, the silage is definitely more digestible and more beneficial to the stock than other feeds. Nothing can surpass good ensilage for cold weather feeding.

These advantages would be sufficient to make the installation of a silo profitable, even if the cost were somewhat larger. But the truth of the matter is that silos, especially the trench-type silos, are amazingly inexpensive to install. Once they are built, they are good for many years of service without further expense. They more than pay for themselves the first year in what they save on feed. Too, silos and irrigation go together. With the introduction of large-scale irrigation in this county, more and more crops suitable for silage can and will be grown, it is but little short of foolish to forego the benefits to be derived from feeding ensilage when they can be had almost for the digging of a trench.

The best crops for silage purposes are the corns and the grain and sweet sorghums, all of which are rich in nutritionally essential ingredients. Silo storing saves all these factors and gives the stock the full benefit of good feed. Dry feed is deficient in many nutritional elements at best.

There are a number of silos in operation in Deaf Smith County at the present time, and all of them are saving money for their owners. Among the most successful are those belonging to Bonnie Brumley, T. W. Roberson and John McDonald.

There is a wide movement on foot at the present time to install a number of good silos in Deaf Smith County to take care of the coming feed crop. Bids are being taken in the County Agent's office for the contract to dig all of the trenches and complete the construction of the silos, and it is expected that the contract will be let Friday of this week.

Among the feed growers who intend to construct silos under this plan are Joe Evans, Cecil Guseman, Sylvester Slagle, John Pitman, Oscar Esley, J. M. White, Cecil Gunter, Roger Brumley, Ky Lawrence, Rufus Sewell and others. These men expect to make a paying proposition out of their feed crops, and just how much more the silos will make their crops pay will be evident after the winter feeding has been done.

route gave a great deal of attention to the young travelers from the Panhandle. In Washington D. C., the group was photographed by one of the nation's well known News Reel organizations. In Hannibal, Missouri, the party was accompanied to Mark Twain's home and the museum, and their picture was made for the local paper. Both buses were chaperoned by members of the Amarillo High School teaching staff.

Plans for the second tour are arousing wide interest. The route will be similar to that of the first trip. The tour will be made in a modern Trailways Bus with an experienced driver. Stops will be made at points of interest along the way.

The party will leave Amarillo on August 1st, to be gone seventeen days. Sponsors of the trip are endeavoring to give young men and women in towns surrounding Amarillo an opportunity to go along. By using a cooperative plan among the young people a very moderate cost is possible. Competent chaperons will accompany the group.

Anyone desiring further information may write to: Mrs. Katharyn Miller Renfro, 1612 Madison, Amarillo, Texas.

Growers Form

will be completely organized at the next meeting.

There is a definite need for a warehouse where the potatoes and onions produced in this county can be stored and prepared for market. Under the program of the Farm Security Administration a large number of producers have planted potato crops this year, and the success with which they are able to market their products for a profit will to a large extent, determine the future production of such crops in this territory.

It has been shown by "Potato Joe" Ballinger and Glenn Boardman that irrigated potato crops are more profitable than the same acreage, or even greater acreage, of irrigated wheat. The introduction of widespread irrigation in this county has opened the eyes of progressive farmers to the possibilities of a wide variety of crop production hitherto unknown to this region. The degree of success experienced by the pioneer growers of these new crops will determine the extent to which their production is undertaken by other growers. Whatever is done in the way of aiding the potato and onion growers to realize a substantial gain from the production and marketing of their crops will be just that much done in the direction of making Deaf Smith County one of the most successful farming districts on the plains and a better place in which to live.

Everyone who feels any interest in the production and marketing of potatoes and onions grown in Deaf Smith County, is requested to attend the next meeting of the Association at the Farm Security Office in the court house, next Wednesday night. At the meeting the organization will be completed and the business at hand will be attacked with the full vigor of enthusiastic workers.

Present at the meeting last night were Joe Ballinger, Glenn Boardman, Grady Hall, John Gallagher, John Kropff, John Paetzold, Henry Hoffman, Pat Filbin, George Paetzold and Hubert Jones.

transfer should be made whether the student is in grade school or high school. It is also necessary if the student lives in the Hereford district now but has moved there since the last census was taken. Even if the grade into which the child transfers is taught in his own district, a transfer is essential if the student plans to attend the Hereford School during the coming year.

As previously announced by Superintendent Schroeter, the County Board of Education, at its last meeting on June 3, classified all rural schools in Deaf Smith County as elementary schools as having facilities to county board considers rural schools a shaving facilities to teach only up to the Eighth Grade, and that the student cannot receive credit by transfer for subjects above the Seventh Grade if they were taught in a rural school in Deaf Smith County.

August 1 is the deadline before which all rural school transfers must be made.

Many Growers

ty, averaged 25 bushels on 4000 acres. All his wheat was No. 1 Hard, and it was grown on unirrigated land.

J. T. Davis, one of the best farmers in Deaf Smith County, averaged 40 bushels per acre on one plot of 200 acres. The rest of his 1080 acres cut around 20 bushels. Davis has his own portable elevator which enables him to harvest his crop with about half the equipment for trucking ordinarily required.

Bill Edelman, Black, harvested 20,300 bushels of good No. 1 wheat from dry land acres.

C. S. and Jim Perrin, Bippus, made a steady 25-bushel yield on 3500 acres of dry land wheat.

S. F. Neely, whose land is west of town, cut a good average of 38 bushels per acre from 130 acres. Part of this acreage was irrigated late in the season.

Phillip Miller, who owns land near the old 7-Bar outfit, averaged 32 bushels per acre on a large acreage which, taken together, included several sections.

John Johnson, 21 miles northwest, cut 4000 bushels from one 300-acre plot and got about a 10 percent better average on another section.

H. D. Robbins, south of town averaged better than 20 bushels to the acre.

In addition to those listed, there were many other producers whose crops were better than 20 bushels to the acre, but about whom, for various reasons it was impossible to obtain accurate information. It was reported that Byron Gist, Adrian, had 39 combines running at the same time while he was harvesting his record yield. T. E. Seigler, J. T. Gilbreath, Jr., George Brumley and a great many others are known to have made excellent crops.

All in all, the average yield over the county was around 20 bushels per acre. The total yield for the county was well over four million bushels. This is about 6 per cent of the total estimated for Texas, which is something over 79 million bushels. Texas produced over ten per cent of the total wheat cut in the United States, estimates for the nation being between 700,000,000 and 710,000,000 bushels. This figure represents a drop from last year of 220,000,000 bushels. Officials in Washington have estimated that in spite of the reduced yield this year, there were about 300,000,000 bushels more wheat produced than will be consumed by the American public. The United States is still struggling under the burden of the enormous surplus from the 1932 and 1937 crops.

Federal farm wheat acreage allotments for 1940 are somewhat larger than those for 1939, and although the county allotments have not been made yet, it is expected that they will be proportionately larger.

The great majority of the wheat in Deaf Smith County has been placed in the government loan. This is true for most of the crop cut through the nation. Since it has been arranged for the banks to handle these loans for the farmers, the program will help financial conditions over the entire country. In most instances, it is possible for the producer to collect cash for his loan immediately, but in certain cases where the grower does not own the land and the landlord cannot be reached at once and where the land is in the wife's name, some delay has been encountered.

Wheat growers in Deaf Smith County are still working night and day, for now they must prepare their land for the fall planting. Much of the wheat that has already been plowed out thousands of acres are still to be turned over with the one-way. Afraid that rain would come and spoil the harvest for the past month, farmers are now hoping it will rain in order that their land will be in the best condition possible at planting time.

Around Town

helped her with that, but when we happened by Hall was just standing around and she was doing all the work.

Four fishermen, whose fish stories may be bigger than the fish they caught, returned last Tuesday from fishing points in New Mexico. They did bring home fish, but not in the proportions promised. They had a good alibi, however. Rain and muddy water do make a difference when it comes to the fish biting, but not in the amount of good fun, according to Jim Lipscomb, T. W. Roberson, Robert Campbell and Noah Ewton.

Mrs. J. F. Ward and Mrs. E. M. Borden have been living next door neighbors for the past two years but didn't find out until Tuesday that they were girlhood friends, when both attended Huntsville Female College at Huntsville, Alabama. A chance remark by a mutual friend led to the discovery that Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Borden ate directly across the table in the girl's dormitory of the school for a whole year. That was 48 years ago, which may account for their failure to recognize each other.

Will Begin

of checking the farms. It is preferable if the applicant has a car. Those who have cars will be paid for the expense of operating them in the field. Measurement will start as soon as possible.

In order to avoid errors and delays, an attempt will be made to measure farms only in the presence of and with the consent of the owner. While the strict application of this rule will be practically impossible, it will be followed as closely as possible. It is therefore desirable that the owners try to be there when their land is measured. The men doing the measuring will all be competent and experienced, but if they can do their work with the cooperation of the land owner everyone will be better satisfied.

It is essential that the wheat grower be in compliance with the farm program in order to collect for his wheat through the government loan.

Acreage allotments for next planting are expected to be somewhat higher than those for this season because the allotment for the state as a whole is considerably larger.

"We expect to open the season on August 2, with a big consignment," they said. "Already we have the promise of a large number of animals, and the offering will likely increase daily. Buyers will be notified over the entire area, and we are expecting a big sale."

Representative Baptists from more than sixty nations are expected to attend the meeting which is the largest Baptist group ever gathered in the United States. The group is scheduled to meet every five years. Twice the meeting had to be postponed on account of war or rumors of war. Meetings have been held in London, 1905; Philadelphia, 1911; Stockholm, 1923; Toronto, 1928; Berlin, 1934. At the Berlin meeting Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Dallas, was elected president he will preside at Atlanta.
