According to Webster, a hobo is a "lazy fellow;" but luckily for Hereford housewives, members of the Tri-Hi-Y Club are not taking the definition literally. They plan to celebrate "Hobo Day," Saturday, Feb. 17, by doing housework in the morning for any lady who will make an appointment for a girl to help her. Just call No. 379 (the high school) and leave your name with Helen Tucker, if you want a girl to help you on Saturday morning.

Money earned will be turned into the club treasury for buying cards and flowers for the sick. Urlin Streu claims that Streu Hardware was the only store to display a flag on Lincoln's Birthday; and says that the Democrats in this town are carrying things a little far, when they fail to put out the flag in honor of a great Republican.

Evidently folks just forgot it was a legal holiday; because somebody remarked that Streu's flag was probably out in celebration of Boy Scout Week.

Maybe the fruit crop is just naturally doomed. At least, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver reported this week that burying ice in the ground around tree roots (as suggested by Old Tack) would not save the fruit. Miss Oliver says that the plan has been tried at a number of experiment stations—and the scientists say it does not work.

County Gives $872 to Polio Prevention Fund

A total of $872.54 was collected here in the recent drive conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, it was announced this week by H. A. Close, county chairman of the foundation.

Of the total, $350.00 was raised through ticket sales to the two Birthday Balls held here, and through donations by individuals and clubs.

Total amount given by theatre audiences and in the March of Dimes collection came to $522.54, Mr. Close said.

Half of the amount collected will go to the National Foundation to help finance studies and treatment of infantile paralysis. The other half will remain with the local chapter to aid in the treatment of cases in this county.

Entries Requested In Amateur Night Show

Entries are still desired for the Talent Hour program to be presented Friday night Mar. 2 under the sponsorship of the High School Band Parents Organization. Individuals or organizations desiring to present a stunt are asked to get in touch with Mrs. C. B. Williams or Mrs. C. G. Hill.

Stunts may be of any type—humorous or serious—and the Band Parents hope to arrange a good variety show with the entries representing the best of local talent.

All proceeds from the performance will go to the High School Band.

A World Day of Prayer Proclamation

Whereas, The United Council of Church Women are sponsoring a WORLD DAY OF PRAYER to be observed on the first day of Lent, Friday, February 16th, 1945; and Whereas, the Local Committee of the Council has fixed the hour of 3:30 o'clock, p. m. of said day as the time, and The Methodist Church, as the place, where the people of Hereford may come and join in the observance of this Day; and

Whereas, at no time in the History of the World has the need for Divine help and guidance been greater than at the present time when the forces of evil have arrayed themselves against all peace-loving peoples, seeking to destroy them and to undermine their faith in God; and

Whereas, the Local Committee of the Council has requested that I, as Mayor, issue this proclamation designating this day as a Day of Prayer;

Now Therefore, I, E. S. Ireland, Mayor of the City of Hereford, do hereby designate Friday, February 16th, 1945, as a Day of Prayer, and urgently request all who believe in an all-wise and loving God, the Divine Ruler of the Universe, to join in observing this World Day of Prayer, by assembling yourselves together at the appointed place, or in your homes or place of business, and in faith offer up to your God a prayer for the protection and guidance of our Armed Forces everywhere, and the guidance of all mankind in this fateful hour; that the day may soon come when Peace on Earth and Good Will towards men will prevail.

E. S. IRELAND, Mayor.

New Power Line Adds 8,000 KW to Electricity Supply in This Territory

Work is well along on the high strength electric transmission line from the Southwestern Public Service Company's Amarillo generating plant through Canyon to Hereford a statement from the company announced this week. The new line from Amarillo to Hereford is constructed with a substation capacity of 8,000 kilowatts (10,720 H. P.) and is expected to be placed in operation about May 1, according to the company news release which also gave an outline of other new power plant and transmission line construction throughout the South Plains and Eastern New Mexico territory served by Southwestern Public Service.

The additions are being made to insure adequate electric power for the rapidly expanding agricultural, industrial and R. E. A. needs of the area; and the entire expansion program represents one of the largest power plant and transmission line construction jobs ever built at one time in this territory. In announcing the program C. D. Hardesty company manager in Hereford stated that work already started and work approved would cost in excess of two and one-half million dollars for the South Plains territory, with an equal amount to be spent in other parts of the company's system.

A new steam turbo-generator of 10,000 kilowatt (13,400 H. P.) capacity is to be installed at the company's Denver City Plant, along with auxiliaries consisting of a 150,000 pound-per-hour capacity steam boiler and a cooling tower of 20,000 gallons of cooling water per minute. Additional electrical equipment will also be installed in the plant substation for delivery of power into the company's transmission system. Total capacity of the Denver City Plant, when the new turbine is installed will be 17,500 kilowatts (23,450 H. P.).

The line through which Hereford now receives its electrical power comes from the Tuco Station, which is connected by transmission lines with the Denver City Plant; and work is now nearing completion on a new 66,000 volt transmission line increasing the capacity of the line between the Denver City, Clovis and Tuco plants.

According to the Company report, the new capacity for the entire region, after completion of the Amarillo-Hereford power (Continued on Page 12)

Ration Chairman Urges Care of Coupon Books

Chairman E. H. Norton of the Deaf Smith County War Price and Rationing Board today cautioned that ration books are property of the United States government and should not be mutilated. Owners should take the utmost care to see that their ration books are kept in good condition.

Owners should paste back in the book with tape or paste on a piece of plain paper any stamps that might come loose, he advised.

"Merchants should not send customers with mutilated books to the Local Board to ask for a replacement," Norton said.

Baxter Sale at Friona Tuesday, February 20

Charley Baxter of Friona this week announces a large farm sale to be held at the Bill Flippin place, on the North side of Highway 60 in Friona, on Tuesday, Feb. 20, beginning at one o'clock.

Baxter will sell a good dairy herd, and also included in the offerings is an unusually large selection of farm machinery.

Bill Flippin is auctioneer and Frank Spring of Friona will clerk the sale.

The bill is printed on page nine of The Brand.

Burglars Rifle Cash Registers At Super Market

Twenty-five dollars, mostly in small change, was removed from the two cash registers at the Hereford Super Market Monday night sometime after 11 o'clock; and Sheriff J. O. Newell reported yesterday that no definite clues had yet been found as to the identity of the burglars.

Time of the entry is placed as after 11 o'clock, because Gaylor-Newell, Super Market owner, was in the store at that time Monday night. Frank Daniel discovered the rifled cash registers when he came down to open the store Tuesday morning.

Although the west window was down, Sheriff Newell believes that the burglars made their entry through an east door, in which a hole had been cut. They got out through the North door, which they left open.

No checks were taken from the cash registers, and the burglars also left several rolls of pennies and one plugged quarter.

First Letters in Favor of Airport

Evidently the people of Hereford are in favor of an airport—and they are ready to get started on construction right now. For in response to the Brand's call for letters on the subject, four citizens have replied this week and their letters are printed on another page of this paper.

The gist of the replies seem to be that other towns the size of Hereford—and smaller—already have airports; and that Hereford will be overlooking an important possibility if the airport question is allowed to "hang fire."

"Let's do it now," is the idea of Mayor E. S. Ireland, F. M. Kester, Lyle Blanton and Miss Ann Cockrell.

OPA To Revise Rules To Aid Veterans

In connection with a recently announced program for assisting veterans of this war to return to business or employment affected by OPA regulations, District OPA Director Howard R. Gholson today announced the appointment of W. A. Robertson as Veterans' Advisor.

The job of Veterans' Advisor will include the establishment of an OPA Veterans Advisory Committee to discuss and plan with us ways of making price and rent control and rationing more effective, ways of meeting special veterans' problems, and increased employment for returned service men in the OPA in full cooperation with the Civil Service Commission, Gholson said.

Robertson is already a member of the District Price Division staff, is familiar with the OPA set-up, and is a veteran of the last World War.

In referring to the new program, Gholson said that OPA price and rationing regulations have clauses in them that restrict the sale to those who were in it before a certain date. Several rationing regulations, especially in the case of sugar, fats and oils, have a similar effect.

The national office is in the process of amending the price and rationing regulations to meet this problem, he stated.

Hereford Soldier In Hospital in England

Pvt. J. L. (Pat) Livesay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Livesay, is now in a hospital in England, according to a letter received this week by his parents.

The Livesays do not know the nature of their son's illness, no particulars having been given in the letter; and they have received no official notice from the War Dept. as to whether Pvt. Livesay was wounded in action. Livesay has been in service for 11 months and overseas for the past six months.

County in A-1 Financial Shape

With the highest percentage of tax collections on record, Deaf Smith County this week turned in a very healthy financial report for the year, 1944. County Auditor E. C. Eubanks points out that in addition to the high percentage of tax collections, the county can also boast of the lowest actual amount of delinquent taxes on record.

In 1944, 95.21 per cent of all taxes were collected; and the amount of delinquent taxes on Dec. 31, 1944, was only $2,699.26, as compared with a $10,377.43 delinquency on Dec. 31, 1943.

Concerning other items in the comparative statement, Auditor Eubanks points out that despite the fact that the cost of both materials and labor used in road and bridge maintenance was high, some valuable work has been done in the county; and an ample reserve is on hand for carrying out further improvements when material and manpower supplies are again readily available.

Pointing to the fact that hospital revenue is less than the cost of hospital operation, the auditor states that this fact points to the need for improvements and additions to the county hospital. With more adequate facilities, the hospital should be self-sustaining, Eubanks says, adding that citizens should be thinking about a hospital building program for after the war.

Actual cash balance in the county fund has shown a $21,407.43 increase in the past year; and other items on the statement show commensurate improvement.

The county financial statement is printed on page 5 of The Brand.

More Equipment Needed In Camps and Hospitals

Because of the fact that a game room has been added to Day Room facilities for soldiers at the Hereford P. O. W. Camp, additional furniture and other equipment can now be used, it was stated this week by Mrs. Dorothy Ross, chairman of the Red Cross Camp and Hospital Service Committee.

Already a number of donations have been received, Mrs. Ross says, listing the following equipment which has recently been contributed:

Two chairs and a floor lamp, given by Mrs. Bob Wilson.

A four dollar cash gift from the Simms Home Demonstration Club for purchase of materials to make a chair. (Soldiers are doing the carpentry and shop work in making and rebuilding some of the furnishings.)

Two tables contributed by the Dimmitt Red Cross Chapter.

A floor lamp, the gift of the Swisher County Chapter.

Four chairs given by the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court. These chairs can be repaired to give good service, Mrs. Ross states.

Any other gifts of furniture or other equipment suitable for use in the new game room will be appreciated, Mrs. Ross states.

Collecting Pencils

The Camp and Hospital Committee is also collecting pencils for use in Army hospitals in this territory, the chairman states. "The pencils that most homes will yield a collection of stub pencils if a thorough search is made. Pencils collected here should be turned in to Mrs. Ross's office in the courthouse."

Error in War Dept. Report on Soldier Missing in Action

Pvt. Vondal L. Mayfield, listed as missing in action in Belgium on Jan. 7th, is safe; and his family believe that the entire War Department report was in error.

Pvt. Mayfield's mother, Mrs. Zena B. Mayfield, has received two letters from her son dated since he was reported missing. The Mayfields, who moved to this community recently from Lubbock, live southeast of Hereford. They have four sons in service.

Newman Missing

Parachute Rigger 2-C Troy W. (Bill) Newman, pictured above, is listed by the Navy as missing as result of enemy action in the Pacific. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy B. Newman of the Ford Community, and has been in the Navy since Nov. 21, 1943 and on sea duty since May, 1944. Since official Navy announcements came through this week, it can be announced that young Newman was a member of the crew of the Ommaney Bay, an escort carrier of "Baby flattop class," which had established a superb record during the year since she was christened. The carrier had a normal complement of 500 officers and men.

Former Hereford Business Man Dies in Amarillo

Funeral services were held Saturday in Amarillo for Bill O'Brien, 66, prominent oil operator, rancher and banker, who had large ranching interests in this territory. Services were held at the Polk Street Methodist Church with Dr. Neal Cannon, pastor, officiating, assisted by Dr. R. Thomsen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo.

Mr. O'Brien died Friday morning in an Amarillo hospital following an illness of several months.

Coming to Castro County in 1902 from Oklahoma, Mr. O'Brien started ranching operations in that territory and moved to Hereford four years later. While here, in addition to continuing his cattle business, he served on the board of directors of the First State Bank and Trust Company and was prominently identified with civic activities. In 1917 he moved to Amarillo and for the next 13 years was president of the National Bank of Commerce.

Among the first Panhandle businessmen to acquire oil interests, he started in the oil business at Wichita Falls and was president of the Nabob Oil and Gas Co. and a director of the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Association at the time of his death. He was a Mason and a Shriner and a member of the Polk Street Methodist Church.

Survivors, besides his wife, include three sons, Cecil L. O'Brien and W. B. O'Brien of Amarillo and John G. O'Brien, in the U. S. Navy and stationed at Great Lakes, Ill.; four daughters, Mrs. O. M. Oliver, Mrs. J. A. Killough, Mrs. J. E. Satterstrom and Mrs. E. E. Watson, all of Amarillo, and five grandchildren.

New Farm Publications Received by C. H. D. A.

New publications recently received at the office of the county home demonstration agent, Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, include the following:

A leaflet on "Sour Cherry Growing in Northwest Texas." An A & M Bulletin on Barbecue and Utility Furnaces, which Miss Oliver states is complete in every way and should answer a big demand in the county.

Stating that the entire tempo of the 1945 Red Cross War Fund Drive will be speeded up, J. C. McCracken, roll call chairman, this week urged that all block and community workers make every effort to attend the "kick off meeting" on Monday night, Feb. 26, at the courthouse. Local workers are being named by Mr. McCracken this week and will be notified of their appointments within the next few days.

Stating that the quota this year will be even higher than in 1944, when an $8,300 goal set up a record for the county, the chairman emphasized that reaching the quota this year will take increased effort on the part of every volunteer and increased donations on the part of every chapter member.

As in the past, part of the money raised remains in the county, where the list of Red Cross services is increasing daily and where the many phases of chapter activity fulfill vital needs in the community wartime life.

At the meeting on Feb. 26, supplies will be issued and instructions given to the community workers, and it is absolutely urgent that they attend. "The information to be presented at this meeting will be essential to every block worker in enabling her to do her work with top efficiency," the chairman states.

Prior Approval Of Conservation Practice Required

In order to keep a better check on the conservation practices being carried out in the county and to know, in advance, how much money will be paid out for such practices, the county AAA committee this year will require that all farmers report on conservation practices which they plan to carry out and receive the committee's prior written approval of these practices.

Not only will this new system mean that the committee will be able to keep practice payments within a budget, but also it will mean provision for cutting payments on practices which are not used or are used infrequently and assuring full payments on the practices which are most popular.

According to F. G. Collier of the local AAA office, goals for 1945 farm production have been received but have not yet been approved by local representatives of farm agencies. As soon as approval of the 1945 farm program is announced from Washington, the county goals and rates of payment for practices carried out here will be announced.

Leaflets on "Making Soap from Cracklings" and "Remembering Lard at Home." All of these publications are available upon request at Miss Oliver's office.

Hereford Officer Describes Return Crippled Fortress

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—Flight Officer Hollis G. Moulton, Jr., 24, Hereford, Tex., recently returned to his station with an exciting tale of a crippled Fortress making an emergency landing on an airstrip in France. F-O Moulton is the co-pilot on an Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress in the 385th Bombardment Group.

"We were out to bomb the marshalling yards at Kaiserslautern, a rail junction which was supplying the Nazi front line. Everything went according to plan all the way to the target, but just when the bombs were dropped, and we were turning away from the target, flak from the German ground defenses knocked out one of our engines. The pilot wasn't able to feather the propeller, and it began to cause a great deal of drag. It vibrated terribly and shook the ship so violently that the pilot gave the order to prepare to bail-out. We reduced the air speed which smoothed down the action of the Fortress. It was then decided to try and land at the nearest emergency air field. The crew was returned to their respective stations and they began to man their equipment.

"Just as we were crossing the German battle line, another engine went out. With two engines out, it was rather difficult to decide what to do. We had plenty of altitude and it was decided to wing the Fortress back to England. As we were passing over France, and over the channel, a third engine began to cough and refused to take power. We didn't realize the trouble until the engineer began to transfer fuel from the other engine that was still functioning. As the engineer continued to transfer the gasoline from the other engine, it began to fail and we realized that we were running out of gasoline. Our gauges had stuck at a fixed reading.

"Rather than risk a ditching," continued Moulton, "the Fortress was turned around and we prepared to make a crash landing on an airstrip. All the crew were prepared for a crash

Seniors Guests at Sweetheart Dinner Given by Class Mothers

On Thursday night, the senior class was entertained at the club house with a sweetheart dinner sponsored by the Senior Mothers.

In keeping with the holiday theme, the house was beautifully decorated with a red and white color scheme. The center of attraction was a huge red heart placed high above the fireplace with the words "Seniors 1945" on it. Individual table decorations included cupid place cards and a centerpiece of red hearts. An artistic mixed sweet pea and crystal arrangement made an appropriate centerpiece for the candle-light cocktail table.

Featured on the program were L. W. Bridges, Patsy Sanders, Juanita Upton and Carl Hennington, singing two numbers, "I Dream of You" and "My Dreams Are Getting Better All the Time." Helen Acker played the piano accompaniment. Patsy Sanders then sang "Always." Helen Acker gave a reading "The Love Song" by T. A. Daly. Wanda Lee Terry then played several piano solos.

After these selections, the group enjoyed a delightful dinner served by senior mothers. Then the program continued with Mr. Stanton, a senior class sponsor, giving his memories of the days when the 1945 seniors were Freshmen. Miss Hancock, the other class sponsor, presided over the beautiful valentine box. C. W. Reeves was in charge of the contest that followed. Everyone present tried his genius at recognizing baby pictures of the seniors. This proved to be a rather fascinating and

"Imagination" Is Topic for Child Study Club

Mrs. John Robinson discussed "When Your Child Imagines Things" at the Child Study Club meeting held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Witherspoon, Thursday evening.

Mrs. Robinson used "Knowing Children Better" by Hazel A. Lewis and "Your Child Today and Tomorrow" by F. M. Gruenberg as a background for her discussion, bringing out the thought that a healthy imagination is important in the development of a child's character. "Imaginative play often gives parents an insight into a child's emotional needs, but as he grows older he should be taught to adjust to reality rather than to continue in a make-believe world," she said.

Mrs. Worth Covington reviewed an article in a current issue of "Parents Magazine" on "What Children's Drawings Tell Us," in which the writer developed the thought that spontaneous drawings of children provide a rough index of their character, often furnishing a glimpse of the child's inner life as he responds to everyday life.

Miss Betty Carnahan and Mrs. Urlin Streu spoke on Camp Fire Girls work. Betty gave a history of the organization and its work and Mrs. Streu told something of the nature of the local work and what is required of a sponsor.

Members present were Mesdames James Aiken, D. D. Bivins, Cawthon Bryant, Worth Covington, Frank Daniel, Ira Foster, W. F. Harlow, J. C. Reese, John Robinson, Earl Springer, O. M. Stewart, J. R. Fowlkes, the hostesses and a new member, Mr. G. G. Heard.

thought-provoking game. Loidene Martin Edmonson, president of the class, served as mistress of ceremonies.

Those present included some 45 or 50 seniors, Mr. and Mrs. Knox Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ford, the class sponsors, Mr. Stanton and Miss Hancock, and several senior mothers.

Missionary Is Speaker

Miss Dora Jane Armstrong, a nurse in the Congo, was the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church held Wednesday at the church.

Miss Armstrong who has done missionary work for 17 years in the Belgian Congo, was a pioneer in the training of African nurses in public health nursing and in experienced work with African foods. She told of her interest in working out a formula for peanut milk which has been successfully used.

For the past two years she has been southeastern secretary of the American Mission to Lepers and her talk dealt with her work for the people with leprosy in the Congo.

Mrs. S. S. Easley gave the devotional talk and an offering was taken and presented to Miss Armstrong. Mrs. A. C. Thompson entertained with a violin solo.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mesdames H. D. Reed, J. B. Hammer, J. B. Jones, J. O. Newell, T. E. Seigler and Ed Warren.

In keeping with the valentine season decorations suggestive of February 14 were used when four hostesses entertained for members and husbands of the Farm and Ranch Club Friday night. Hostesses were Mesdames, Ed Thomas, Glenn Hetzler, Zerrell Thomas and Claude Bogle.

The scene of the dinner party was the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Miller and forty-two and card games were enjoyed later in the evening. Winners of the high score awards were Mrs. N. D. Bartlett, Jr., and Claude Bogle. Low awards went to Mrs. B. R. Jennings and Glenn Hetzler.

It is harder to fly a plane from east to west than from west to east. The earth, turning on its axis from west to east, drags along an envelope of atmosphere, which when added to the prevailing winds that also move in the same direction make it necessary for west-bound fliers to buck headwinds all the way along the westward route.

Arrives in States

Tech. Sgt. Donald B. Brotherton arrived this week at Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., prior to visiting his grandmother, Mrs. B. L. Branson, in Hereford.

Sgt. Brotherton has already completed seven months of service in the European Theatre of Operations. He was an engineer-gunner in the Eighth Air Force and completed 31 missions on a B-17. He is credited with 230 hours of operational combat flying.

The Byrd Expedition to the South Pole sailed in a fleet of four ships, and was the most elaborately equipped expedition that has ever undertaken polar research. More than a million dollars was spent in outfitting. Besides the ships' crews, there were 82 scientists, engineers, aviators and radio experts, plus 79 dogs.

Local Flying Fraternity Write Favoring Airport

Hereford aviation enthusiasts this week came through with four letters in support of immediate construction of airport facilities here; and the tone of the letters shows that interest is high—and persons favoring the airport are ready with plenty of ideas in support of their position.

Lyle Blanton is really sold on flying—and he quotes some facts and figures which may be surprising to persons who have never operated their own plane.

Miss Ann Cockrell and F. M. Kester, other members of the local flight class, come through with 100 per cent approval for airport construction—right now.

Mayor E. S. Ireland thinks we should have an airport and makes definite suggestions for financing it.

What do you think? Let's have an opinion.

Dear Sirs:

In regards to the Air Port Question and to the future of aviation, please allow me to express my opinion on the subject. Most people have misconceived ideas about flying to the extent that if you were flying around and had motor failure that the ship would nose over go into a spin and down you would come; but such is not the case as your gliding angle on the present day light air craft is such that in this plains country one can select a suitable place to land and make a perfectly safe landing without damage to life or craft.

As to the future of Aviation, and any part that Hereford may share in it, may I say that if we as a town and community do not make definite steps toward securing a site for an Air Port at an early date we are going to be left out of the picture. As every one knows Friona, Dimmitt, Canyon, Plainview, Amarillo, have designated ports; at this time there is a map being made that will be sent to every private pilot in the United States showing the ports and facilities available at each port. Since Hereford is in the lime light at this time it behooves me to believe that we should have Hereford on that map.

I have just returned from a twelve hundred-mile trip in a light plane and to give you some idea as to the interest that other towns are showing, we landed at eight ports and every one had excellent service. Most of them had restaurants on the ground, which is good to see after a few hours in the air.

Several of the larger towns have from two to four well equipped ports. The town of Waco has a controlled port, an Army port, and one private port. Hereford should have one.

As to the expense and gas consumed on the trip, we averaged 25 miles to the gallon, and averaged 100 miles per hour on the entire trip. Our expenses on the entire trip counting taxi fare to and from the ports—which at this time is a little high—was about equal to going from Hereford to Dallas and return in a car for two people.

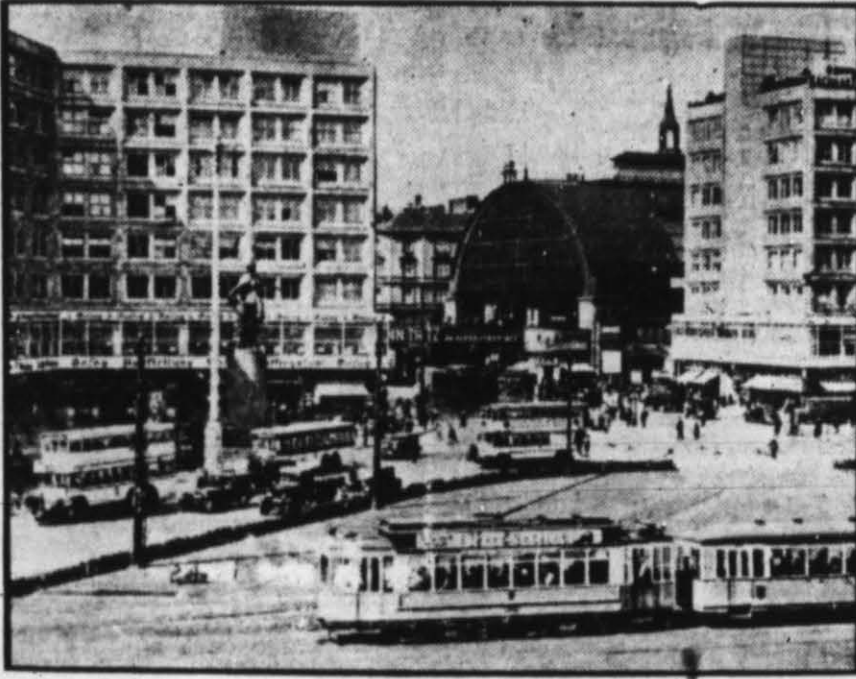

Hereford let's go. We need an Air Port.
Lyle Blanton.

Dear Sirs:

Hereford is on the map! The name of this Deaf Smith County town has been reported from Italy to New Guinea to be in articles in magazines, newspapers, and even in the news-reels. All of that is good, but I'm not satisfied. There is a particular kind of map on which Hereford isn't shown but most towns of our size are, that is the aerial map showing airports in this region.

Why doesn't Hereford put herself on this map too? With the exception of the banks of the Tierra Blanco, any spot around here would make an ideal landing field, one to be envied by people from sections of the country where rivers, trees, hills and other natural features make an airport a problem to build.

The idea that air transportation is coming is no longer the brainchild of the dreamer, but is a reality that is being faced by many communities much smaller than ours. In a recent edition of The Amarillo Daily News, Hereford was listed as a proposed stop on a feeder line program outlined by one of the large Airlines servicing this area, but what have we to offer now? We have no designated airport and so far, no definite plans for accommodating such a program as the Airline Companies are considering. Certainly our town with its promising future in commercial products could not afford to pass up an opportunity to become a part of such a wide-scale program as the future of commercial air transportation promises to be. If planes can take our tanks and men to war, why not let planes take our potatoes to market?

Ann Cockrell.

Dear Sirs:

Based on an estimated 400,000 civil airplanes in the United States within 10 years after the war, the Civil Aeronautics Administration has outlined to Congress a one and one-quarter billion dollar program for the improvement of 1,625 of the 300 existing airfields, and construction of 3,050 entirely new airports, it is this last item that we should give our immediate attention; the Government is planning to build and maintain airports throughout the country so that no part of the country will be without landing facilities; some of them will be merely for emergency landings while others will operate in the interest of commerce in its various forms, from civilian pilot to large transports and airliners.

Hereford is ideally located for a medium size airport, one which will take care of Deaf Smith's fast growing truck gardening, poultry and dairy industries; fast transportation to distant markets means better prices. It is a well known fact that when an enterprise becomes located and well rooted in a city or locality it is next to an impossibility to uproot that enterprise and move it to some other place. There are several cities making strong bids to centralize the air industry in their cities and unless Hereford takes steps toward securing land for an airfield we may lose that advantage and prestige which should be ours.

Hereford has had more tree publicity than any small city in the country and is destined to be one of the best little cities on the plains if we follow up that publicity with concerted and immediate action in securing landing facilities and Government approval, which means Government aid.

F. M. Kester.

To The Brand:

You broke the ice about the Airport question last week, and brought it out in the open for discussion, as it should be.

I believe an Airport to serve Hereford and Deaf Smith County should be put on the must list. The tremendous strides in air travel and transportation during the war make it certain to become in general use after the War. We will use public means afforded, and many will own and operate their own private planes for business and pleasure, and the change over from the automobile to the plane will be more rapid than was the change from the horse and buggy to the car for several reasons. Tens of thousands who never flew before are in the air every day and night, many of our boys being among them. They are and will be air-minded, and will fly when they get home, and will probably get some of we older ones at it later on. We already have manufacturing facilities for turning out Planes in great numbers, already perfected to fly anywhere, any time and under most any kind of conditions. With the automobile it was different. Its development to its present degree of perfection was slow, and its use was limited because of lack of highways. No Bonds will have to be issued and no taxes to pay for building or maintaining highways for the plane, for the Creator of the Universe provided these about the same time he made man, and they are paved to all points of the Globe. All we will have to do is to provide a place for them to land and for service, and this we must do. Yes, this town and county needs an Airport, and must have one if it expects to take its place along with others of its class. It will cost us something, but not $150,000.00. To begin with, the land will be the principal cost, and money paid for land will not be thrown away. The improvements may be made along as needed and need not be extensive to begin with, and in time the volume of traffic should be sufficient to not only pay expenses, but should show a profit. As an Airport would serve both Hereford and the surrounding Country, it should be a County or City-County project. Funds for the initial cost would of course have to be from a Bond issue. Rents from unused portions of the land and revenue should in time liquidate these.

THIS WEEK... AT THE USO

A number of "Lonely Hearts" went to the USO party and dance on Monday night. Cards were sent to girls living in Hereford whose husbands were stationed elsewhere and we were glad to see that some of them went and had a good time. Each person was given a half valentine and had to match it. In that way the crowd became acquainted early in the evening. We are sorry about the decorations. The understanding was that the BLS decorations would be left up for our party (we weren't trying to get out of work-but to save paper) but the men in the armed services who are used to pulling up the goal posts after the football game took down the pretty red and white paper. Result—no decorations!
Our apologies to some volunteers not mentioned in last week's paper. Some of the soldier's wives have taken charge on afternoons when local women were not available. Mrs. Al Edelschick, Mrs. Roland Tangley, Mrs. Darrzel Birch and Mrs. John Mazzullo have been very helpful in this capacity.
This USO just isn't going to be the same place anymore. Twenty men left us last Saturday and another group on Wednesday. Some of them had been here for two years and had come to think of Hereford as home. We hope others will come to replace them but they have found a place in our hearts that no one can fill. We surely are missing them. Cpl. Bussman came too us the night before he left and said, "I haven't asked many favors, but I am asking one now. Will you please put in your column a great big 'Thank you' to all the people of Hereford for being so nice to us. We can't get around to tell them individually but we do appreciate all they have done."
Even though it isn't spring, the love bug has been at work. We heard of a wedding and two new diamond rings this past week. Our congratulations to all of you!
We just haven't heard the details but we still think that seeing is believing. The day after Hilda and Jimmy were married Jimmy came into the USO with his eye all bandaged up. Let this be an example to you, men.
We were happy to see Harry Kudsak back in Hereford this week. He came in from Camp Howze on a three day pass. He says that most of the men who shipped with him are scattered all around the country now. Joe Rogers went to Camp Warren, Wyo., he says.
According to the calendar for February the next USO entertainment will be a game party at the USO next Monday. There will be table games too so every one come out and have a good time.
Mrs. J. B. Harlin and Mrs. Ira Ricketts brought cakes in this week. There was only one trouble with them. They didn't last long enough. The men who were waiting for the train to El Paso to play basket ball made short work of Mrs. Harlin's.

Lone Star Club Meets Tuesday

Lone Star Study Club met with Mrs. John Jacobsen, Jr., with Mrs. Lyle Blanton as co-hostess Tuesday afternoon.

"Immigration From the South" was the subject for the program which was presented by Mrs. C. D. Kelton and Mrs. W. S. Fluit. Mrs. Kelton told of the early Spanish and Mexican immigration, reminding the group that many towns and states bear Spanish names—and that the Spanish though few in number left great influence in early architecture and cultural art.

She pointed out that tho the Mexicans came, for the most part, as day laborers they have had a definite influence on the customs, music and art of this nation.

Mrs. Fluit told of "A Young Man from Mexico" an interesting story which might be typical of any poor Mexican coming to our country, and who was ambitious enough to work and study in spite of being shunned by Americans. The story reveals how his standards were raised and his subsequent thinking and progress equaled that of the American people.

During the business session Mrs. S. B. McLallen was welcomed as a new member.

Those present were Mesdames Lyle Blanton, R. G. Blue, Cawthon Bryant, O. L. Click, Roger Corbett, Leo Forrest, W. S. Fluit, Jack Grady, C. D. Kelton, Louie LeGrand, Forrest Minton, G. W. Newsom, Earl Phillips,

OLIN KNIGHT GREESON

Olin Greeson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Greeson of Summerfield, was born at Hydro, Okla., Aug. 1, 1918, and passed away Feb. 5, 1945, at the age of 26 years, six months and five days.

Although his health had not been good, he had been seriously ill only a short time and his death came as a shock to his friends and family.

He moved to a farm near Summerfield with his parents in 1923 and attended the Summerfield Schools. He joined the Summerfield Baptist Church when he was 15 years old and was a member at the time of his death.

Olin engaged in farming with his father, until the past few years, when his health would not permit him to continue the activity. Rejected by the U. S. armed services, he had been operating a truck line in Hereford as his part in the war effort.

A true friend to all who knew him, Olin had a wide circle of friends; and he was a real help and a pal to his father, mother, sister and brother.

Survivors, besides his parents, include a sister, Mrs. K. W. Clayburn of San Diego, Calif., and a brother, J. D., who will soon be called for duty in the armed forces.

"I cannot say—and I will not say."

"That he is dead—he is just away."

With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand

He has wandered into an unknown land.

And left us dreaming, how very fair

It needs must be, since he lingers there,

And you—O you, who the wildest yearn

For his quick step, and the glad return,

Think of his faring on—as dear

In the love of there, as the love of here

Think of him still as the same, I say

He is not dead—he is just away."

Radio School Course Gives Instructions On Chick Raising

COLLEGE STATION, A radio short course on growing baby chicks will be a feature of the Texas Farm and Home program Feb. 26 through Mar. 2 under the sponsorship of the A & M College Extension Service. Stations broadcasting the 6 a.m. program include WBAP, Fort Worth; WOAI, San Antonio; KPRC, Houston; and WTAU, College Station.

Enrollment will continue through Feb. 24, and enrollment blanks can be obtained through county Extension agents or from Extension headquarters at College Station, according to C. W. Jackson, director of the radio short course.

Since the war, Jackson explains, no Farmers' Short Courses drawing thousands of people have been held on the A. and M. College campus, and rural people have had to depend on other means to keep up with scientific developments and improved practices. Success of this breakfast-table type of education was demonstrated several months ago when more than six thousand persons enrolled in a fall garden school of the air. Directors of the poultry radio short course are hoping for similar interest.

Outstanding poultry authorities from the college faculty, Experiment Station, and Extension Service will be the speakers for this school of the air. They will discuss the buying of chicks, what to do before and when the chicks arrive, care of chicks during the brooding period, and disease control.

The Goodyear Zeppelin Dock at Akron is so large (56,000,000 cubic feet) that sudden changes of temperature cause clouds to form inside the hangar, and rain falls even though it may be a clear day outside.

Grohoma is not a wheat but a grain sorghum. It originated in Oklahoma and is now grown in surrounding states, such as Kansas and Texas.

Better—or Just as Good?

MOST of us aren't satisfied with buying—or growing or manufacturing—something that's "just as good." We want something better. And, in most cases, that something better comes through competition. For competition—real competition—is something besides two people making, or offering for sale, the same goods or services. It involves a lot more. And anybody who serves the public prospers because he has something better to offer—whether it's quality, prices, service, or just a clean appearance and a pleasant smile.

Real competition doesn't come from punitive taxes, or subsidies, or any other sort of horse-race handicapping to make everybody in business start even. For it isn't equality that's needed; it's the inequalities that are the true measure of progress.

Real competition is the kind that encourages the manufacturer, the farmer, or business man to get his quality up, his costs down, and to develop new things his customers want. It's this kind of competition that produces something better rather than something just as good—that insures to the public a steady increase in the value it gets for its money. Importance of the program is attested by the fact that the War Production Board has recently increased priority ratings from AA-3 to AA-2X to insure an adequate supply of critical materials to finish the job on schedule.

Tailor Garden Planting To Taste of the Family

"Government statistics show that the reserve food supply in this country is now largely made up of home-grown and home-canned foods," Miss Sadie Lee Oliver, CHDA, said this week, emphasizing that large garden plantings will again be necessary this spring.

"As home gardeners most of us are now out of the strictly amateur class," Miss Oliver said, expressing the hope that gardeners will profit by past mistakes to make 1945 a record year for food production.

Miss Oliver points out that it is good gardening to omit entirely those vegetables which were not popular with the family last year. The space saved could be used to grow other vegetables which were in demand.

A nation-wide survey by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics showed that tomatoes were an outstanding favorite with both farm and city gardeners.

Reflection

Movie actress Mary Howard models a Dalmatian print, complete with a Dalmatian for an accessory.

Snap beans, wax beans, beets, carrots and peppers were general favorites and grown almost as commonly in towns as in the country. Cabbage was grown freely in town gardens and to a larger extent on farms. Lima beans and green peas likewise were popular in towns but were grown in larger volume in country gardens.

Miss Oliver believes that home planting of various types of fruit trees and small fruits, in addition to gardens, makes a desirable supplement to the food supply.

Descending planes always have the right of way at an airport. The theory is that those on the ground can never know how important it is for a plane to effect a speedy landing.

Cultivation of cotton first began in the South about 1621.

Approximately twenty-one times as much plant food is washed away by erosion yearly as is taken out of the soil by plants.
