Grocery Prices Drop During August

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Shoppers are finding lower prices at the supermarket particularly for pork chops, according to an Associated Press marketbasket survey which shows grocery bills dropped by six-tenths of a percent during August.

More than one-fifth of the items checked by the AP declined in price last month and many of the decreases were substantial. In part, the price trends at the supermarket reflect what's happening on the nation's farms: The U.S. Department of Agriculture says farmers are getting paid less for many key crops than they were a

The AP drew up a random list of 14 commonly purchased food and non-food items and checked the price at one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973. Prices have been rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed that the marketbasket bill increased at the checklist store in four cities last month and decreased in eight cities. It was unchanged in the 13th city. Overall, the marketbasket bills decreased an average of six-tenths of a percent.

The marketbasket bill measured by the AP has declined in five of the first eight months of 1981, dropp-ing in February, March, April and May, as well as in August. It increased in January, June and July.

Looking at prices for the past year, the AP found that the marketbasket went up at the checklist store in five cities over the last 12 months and decreased in eight cities. Overall, it was an average of 1.6 percent lower at the start of September than it was a

"That is still our goal," deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes said Tuesday as Reagan prepared to end his month-long California vacation and fly east today. "But we have to face reality."

Some senior administration officials, who declined to be identified, said that without further cuts the deficit could soar above $60 billion.

In Milwaukee, budget director David A. Stockman said the administration would unveil its latest plan in a week or so.

He said a possibility was the wholesale elimination of federal agencies and further cuts in the federal work force. CBS reported Tuesday that 70,000 to 80,000 federal jobs would be eliminated.

Responding to a question from South Dakota Gov. Bill Janklow at a Midwestern meeting, governors Stockman said, "We are going to announce some changes in federal employment levels and agency termination levels that will warm your hearts, even in the middle of winter in South Dakota."

Ed Dale, an Office of Management and Budget spokesman, refused to say. how much more would be cut from the budget but said every agency would be vulnerable.

"The president is going to take a sharp knife on these 1982 budgets in order to hold the line," Speakes said. "We ficult job."

He said Reagan would be looking for further savings in already hard-hit social programs and probably would make cuts "across the board" in every department and agency.

Former Nazi Boss Dies in London

By GRAHAM HEATHCOTE Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) - Albert Speer, the Nazi slave-labor boss who spurred German war production despite massive Allied air raids, died during a visit to London, the city blitzed by the bombs and rockets of the war machine he ran. He was 76.

Speer, whose post-war memoirs provided the most detailed account of the inner working of the Third Reich and made him a rich man, died Tuesday of an apparent stroke.

The man who once said he was "mesmerized" by Adolf Hitler and served him as chief architect and production chief, was in Britain for a television interview with the British Broadcasting Corp.

After recording the first segment of the interview Tuesday morning, Speer returned to London's Park Court Hotel, where he collapsed in the afternoon. He was taken unconscious to St. Mary's Hospital and died there at 8:30 p.m., 2:30 p.m. EDT, the hospital said.

The BBC said Speer was being interviewed for a documentary about Hitler's proposed cultural center in the dictator's hometown of Linz, Austria. Speer, the project's chief architect, was questioned by Cambridge University historian Norman Stone, who said the ex-Nazi "showed no sign of strain."

Speer, who engineered Hitler's rise to power and later put his organizational skills to work running the Third Reich's enormous industrial complex, was convicted by the Nuremberg War Crimes tribunal in 1946 of crimes against humanity.

Described at Nuremberg as one of Hitler's "closest personal confidants," Speer was convicted for his expansion of the slave labor system, using civilians from occupied countries to power the Nazi war machine. The only senior Nazi to admit responsibility for his crimes, Speer served a 20 year sentence at Spandau Prison in West Berlin.

Speer was born March 19, 1905, the son of a prominent architect in Mannheim. As a young architech in 1931, two years before Hitler rose to power, Speer joined the Nazi Party and rose quickly through the ranks on the basis of his expertise in organizing the giant rallies that marked Hitler's ascen-

While still in his 20s, Speer was given the task of designing a new Berlin, complete with a quarter-mile-long marbled chancellery, that was to reflect Hitler's view of Nazi grandure. Like most of the dictator's other projects, the Berlin development was stalled when Germany invaded Poland on Sept. 1, 1939, starting World War II. Three years into the war, Speer became Hitler's minister for armanents. Under his leadership, German aircraft production rose from 12,400 planes in 1941 to 45,000 in 1944 despite roundthe-clock Allied bombing of German manufacturing centers. Some experts say

Khadafy Threatens to Attack U.S. Mediterranean Sites

By ROBERT McCARTNEY Associated Press Writer

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) -Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy threatened to attack American nuclear arms depots around the Mediterranean if the U.S. Navy again challenges his control of the disputed Gulf of Sidra.

"We are warning the peoples of Sicily, Crete, Turkey and all the states of the Mediterranean that if America again attacks the Gulf of Sidra, then we will intentionally attack the nuclear depots in their countries and cause an international catastrophe," Khadafy declared in a speech Tuesday on the 12th anniversary of his overthrow of King Idris. "We are willing to die for the Gulf of Sidra," he declared. "We will make the Gulf of Sidra into a new Red Sea with our blood."

It was over the disputed gulf some 50 miles off the Libyan coast that two U.S. Navy jet fighters shot down two Libyan fighters that fired on them during Navy

State Swears In 23 New Judges

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) -Texas' new court system of appealing criminal cases to 14 Courts of Appeals throughout the state began Tuesday with the swearing in of 23 new justices for the intermediate courts.

The new justices, all appointed by Gov. Bill Clements as authorized by the 1981 Legislature, join the justices already serving on the 14 former Courts of Civil Appeals.

Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill told the appointees the new appeals system was "the most advance step forward for the Texas judiciary in 100 years."

Greenhill administered the oath.

"I assure you, you were chosen on your merit, on the quality of the person involved," said Clements. Clements said he knew only two of the judges before they were appointed. All must approved by the Texas Senate when it meets again.

Making Texas' 14 Courts of Civil Appeals into a system of intermediate courts of appeals was approved by voters in a 1980 state constitution change. Formerly, all appeals of criminal cases went direct from district courts to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, which is swamped with a backlog of more than 3,000 cases.

Under the new system, approved by the 1981 Legislature and effective Tuesday, all appeals of both criminal and civil cases, except those punishable by death, will go to the new Courts of Appeals. The 14

Kani New Irani Prime Minister

FARAMARZI Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) -Iran's Parliament elected Ayatollah Mohammad Reza Mahdavi Kani prime minister today, and Tehran Television annuanced the execution of 55 more leftists since the assassination of Kani's predecessor and President Mohammad Ali Rajai two days ago.

Pars, the official Iranian news agency, said the Majlis endorsed Kani, a 50-year-old religious and political leader, by a vote of 178-10 with eight abstentions. However, Tehran Radio reported a vote of 178-0, with 10 absentees and eight abstentions.

Kani succeeds Mohammad Javad Bahonar, who was killed with Rajai Sunday by a fire bomb at the prime ministry in Tehran. Bahonar succeeded Rajai as prime minister, and Kani was interior minister in both their cabinets.

Meanwhile, Tehran Television announced 55 more opponents of the government

SCHEHEREZADE from the leftist Mujahedeen Khalq had been executed in 10 cities since the assassinations Sunday. The announcement gave no details.

This raised the total number of announced executions to 531 since the underground guerrilla organization launched a campaign of assassination and sabotage following the ouster of President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr on June 22. But Mujahedeen leader Massoud Rajavi, who escaped to France with Bani-Sadr July 29, claims that more than 700 of his guerrillas have been executed. The Majlis vote was never in doubt since Kani was the choice of the clergydominated Islamic Republican Party, which has an overwhelming majority in Parliament and the full support of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the supreme leader of the revolutionary regime. Kani studied theology under Khomeini and was jailed and banished during the (See KANI, Page 2)

Texans Clean Up After Flooding

The rain-swollen Lavaca and Guadalupe rivers chased South Texans to higher ground for a second day as they churned over their banks downstream from where floodwaters claimed the lives of at least five people.

In Cuero, the steadily rising Guadelupe River Tuesday flooded parts of the city about 80 miles southeast of San Antonio.

The National Weather Service said the Guadalupe River had fallen to 41.5 feet at Cuero early today. The river is at or near crest and should remain at or near 41.5 feet today.

At Victoria, the Guadalupe reached 30 feet early today and was expected to crest at 30.5 feet sometime Thursday. Most of the heavy rainfall had ended before dawn today, but forecasters said the flooding would continue for some

"Several river additions are completely under water," said Dewitt County Sheriff Bob McMahan. "And some livestock have been lost down the river." No injuries were reported and residents were warned in time to evacuate their homes and save most of their property, officials said. Rampaging floods, triggered by a tropical depression that dumped up to 18 inches of rain over parts of South Texas, claimed five lives Monday, including three teenage brothers.

Hundreds of evacuated residents in Gonzales and Lavaca counties returned home Tuesday to start massive cleanup operations and survey the damage from the muddy torrents. , Lavaca County Sheriff Hilmer Woytek said evacuated residents of a nursing home and county jail inmates remained in temporary shelters Tuesday in Hallettsville. "We had 6 feet of water in the jail. It's the worst we've ever had," he said. Cuero officials opened a center for evacuees early Tuesday afternoon, although most schools were able hold classes, said McMahan. He said county jail inmates accompanied sheriff's officials to help families move valuables and furniture. Most residents in Lavaca County, where flooding was most severe, had no flood insurance, officials said. "Fifty or 60 homes were flooded here," said Shiner city secretary Ila Stratman. "That water's a bad thing. Flood insurance is so terribly high and hardly any company will write it (for areas near rivers). Three Shiner youths drowned Monday when fast-rising waters swept away a home where they had taken refuge,

Texas Judge Takes Oath in Wales

LONDON (AP) - Judge James K. Allen of Dallas was sworn in Tuesday at Holyhead, North Wales, as a judge of the fifth district of the Texas Court of Appeals.

The oath was administered by a local solicitor, Daffyd Cwyfan Hughes.

Judge Allen was to have joined other judges in Austin for the swearing in. But he was carrying out a longstanding engagement in Holyhead for the Episcopal Church. The judge told the London Times "The trouble is, my successor in the district court is unable to take office until I am a member of the court. And I cannot be a member of the court until I have taken the oath." The oath may be heard by a foreign solicitor recognized by the U.S. Embassy and the only one in North Wales was Hughes' office in Holyhead. So in walked Judge Allen, with the legal papers in his pocket.

"I believe this is the first time an American judge has been sworn into office in England," he said, apparently oblivious of Welsh sensibilities. Now the papers will be forward to the Secretary of State in Texas and all

ATLANTA (AP) - Two of three inmates who fled Georgia prisons in separate escapes Tuesday were captured within hours, state prison authorities said.

Still at large early today was Ronnie Sims, 30, of Athens, serving a life sentence for murder and attempted armed robbery at the Clarke County Correctional Institution. He escaped while on a road detail in Athens, prison spokeswoman Sara Englade

John Edwin Watson, 38, of Pasadena, Texas, who was serving four life sentences for murder and other charges at the Georgia State Prison near Reidsvile, escaped from a work detail at a Georgia Forestry Commission nursery adjoining the prison, she said.

But Watson was apprehended by correctional officers Tuesday afternoon about two miles from where he had escaped, she said. Jimmy Ray Swearingen, 43, escaped from the Stone Mountain Correctional Institution apparently by walking off while working at the maintenance shop, she said. He was serving a five-year sentence for theft by taking and theft by receiving.

Swearingen was apprehended later Tuesday at his home in Jonesboro by Clayton County sheriff's deputies, Mrs. Englade said.

Sharon's Hair Fashions, east on Highway 60, was burglarized Tuesday night or early today, according to a Hereford Police report.

While on patrol around 4:30 a.m., an officer saw the building had been entered through a west window. The screen had been taken down and broken glass was all around the window.

Sharon Holmes, owner, told police that the only thing missing was an AM-FM radio valued at $55.

Three juveniles were reported milling around in an alley behind Willow Street Tuesday morning. The boys were found to be gathering aluminum cans, with a teacher's permission, for a school project.

One juvenile was taken into custody for fighting in the 100 block of Avenue E Tuesday afternoon.

The department investigated two minor wrecks. One person had minor injuries in an accident at Highways 385 and 60. No injuries were reported for a second fender-bender at Avenue F and Austin, however two citations were

To Have or Not Have

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was upset by your responses ("Butt out, Mother") to the woman who was concerned because her grown children did not want a family.

I am a mother who has "butted out", but someone should wake up these young people to the magnitude of their decision not to have children. Be aware, please:

(1) The money chase is never won. You only become more greedy and more acquistive.

(2) To have a baby means you have decided to GIVE. not just take from life. (3) In your later years what will you do with all the status and fancy things you have bought with your money? A

Auditions Tonight

Chamber Singer auditions will be tonight at 8 p.m. in the Hereford High School choir room, according to Bill Devers, director.

An invitation is extended to anyone who would like to audition for this group. If there is a problem with the time, interested parents may call Devers at 364-4053.

The audition will consist of singing hymns in a quartet.

(4) True, some people are not capable of a giving relationship. For them having children would be unwise. But what kind of a marriage do you have if you cannot give to a child what you are giving to each other?

I wish each couple who has made this decision would walk through any nursing home and see the loneliness and depression. People with no families are pathetic. They receive no cards...,no flowers..no visitors.

I remember a letter in your column from a young man who had made a lot of money and wanted a family. His wife chose not to be "inconvenienced" so he left her. How I wish that letter had been written to my son.-Never-To-Be Grandma

DEAR N.T.B.: Thank you for words that, I am sure, came from the heart. There is some validity in the points portant is this: Both husband and wife must want a child, and be willing to make the sacrifices demanded by parenthood. No other reason is good enough.

Swazi Girls Dance in Jubilee

LOBAMBA, Swaziland (AP) - Five thousand teenage girls danced barefoot around a royal cattle pen to mark the coming of spring and King Sobhuza II's 60th year on the throne.

The Reed Dance, an annual, two-day ceremony in this mountain monarchy in the southern hemisphere, opened a week-long celebration of the first royal Diamond Jubilee since Queen Victoria's in 1897.

Sobhuza, 82 and in frail health, drove up in a Lincoln limousine for the start of the dancing Tuesday. Clad in a thin, red toga and with feathers in his hair, he watched for awhile in the chill wind and rain as hundreds of spectators in winter coats shivered on the hillside near the royal residence.

Many of the girls wore only bikini bottoms of beads. Others wrapped themselves in sarongs brightly patterned in red, yellow and blue.

Many of the dancers carried long knives, trowels and flashlights, but Swazi onlookers could not or would not explain their meaning to foreigners.

One traditional part of the ceremony was missing. The king for some years has failed to exercise his prerogative of choosing a wife or two from among the dancers, the flower of Swazi womanhood. At last estimate, he had 100 wives and 500 children, and 15 percent of the population carries the name of the royal clan, Dlamini. But not all Dlaminis are directly related to the king.

"Any girl between 10 and 20 may take part," said Evelyn Ntombi Hleta, a 16-year-old student from the village of Buseleni, as she chewed a length of sugar cane. "I came because my parents wanted me to. In this way we honor the queen mother and keep our tradition alive."

About 150 men carrying hs and shields danced with the girls. "We do this for unity, to get our people together," said Fanuel Maphosa, 32, who manages an oil company depot.

The king, known as "The and Lion" Inexplicable," took his fifth queen mother last year, the first four having died. Queen Mother Dzeliwe is about 50 and is called "The She-Elephant."

The cattle pen is well known to the Swazis. Squatting amid the cow dung, Sobhuza holds public audience in it several times a year. He exhorts his people to keep a balance between their African traditions and the modern practices and habits the government's drive to industrialize and export has brought them.

CBS Holds Top Ratings

NEW YORK (AP) - With the start of the 1981-82 primetime season still at least a month away, CBS continues to hold fast to the No. 1 position in the three-way competition, figures from the A.C. Nielsen Co. show.

A measure of CBS' strength in prime-time is in a halfdozen consistently successful programs, including "M-A-S-H" - No. 1 for the latest week surveyed - "The Jeffersons," Dukes of Hazzard" and "House Calls."

Here are the week's 10 highest-rated programs:

"M-A-S-H," with a rating of 24 representing 19.2 million homes, CBS; "Diff'rent Strokes," 21.9 or 17.5 million, NBC; "Hart to Hart," 21.6 or 17.3 million, ABC; "The Jeffersons," 21.3 or 17 million, CBS: "Three's Company," 21.2 or 16.9 million, and "Too Close for Comfort," 21.1 or 16.8 million, both ABC; "Facts of Life," 20.9 or 16.7 million, NBC; "House Calls," 20.4 or 16.3 million, and "Dukes of Hazzard," 20.3 or 16.2 million, both CBS, and "Quincy, M.E.," 19.8 or 15.8 million, NBC.

Dr. Charles Wendt, professor of soil physics with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock, examines a cotton test plot in which water and daylight have been controlled by the rainout shelter in the background. Development of cotton and grain sorghum which resist drought stress will be featured at the 72nd annual field day at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, Tuesday, Sept. 8. I.UBBOCK -- Declining water tables on the High Plains are of real concern for a riculture. One way of combatting the problems is to develop new varieties of profitable crops which can thrive in this climate and require less water than current Research efforts to develop such plants have been going on for several years at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. This work will be featured Tuesday, Sept. 8, during the 72nd annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station(TAES) at the center, on FM-1294 just east of I-27 at the Shallowater exit.

Tours of the center will begin at 1 p.m. and conclude at 5 p.m.

The drought research is cusing upon cotton and grain sorghum, said Dr. harles W. Wendt, TAES proessor of soil physics at the ubbock center. It involves cientists of the USDA Agricultural Research Service and TAES in a program which combines genetics, plant breeding and soil and water utilization. It is under the leadership of Wendt, Dr. Jerry Quinesberry, USDA cotton geneticist and director the USDA cotton research laboratory; Dr. Darrell T. Rosenow, TAES professor and grain sorghum breeder, and Dr. Dan Kreig, professor associated with the TAES-Texas Tech cooperative reproduce.

research unit. "What we are essentially doing is providing an environment in which we can assure drought every year on crops, to try to save some time in the breeding programs," Wendt

This is achieved, he explained, by the use of "rainout shelters", which can be placed over test plots to eliminate rainfall and control the water available to the plants. The shelters also enable the scientists to control the daylight hours to which the plants are exposed. Four shelters are in use this year, Wendt said. "In one shelter we're comparing the irrigation of an exotic line of cotton with a fruit load, the T-25 line, with a common variety to see how the lines respond to an irrigation or a rain in the late season," the researcher said. Preliminary work last year and this year indicates the exotic line would hold up better,

To combat the extra growth, a few cotton producers are experimenting with sugar water as a type of growth retardant.

Leland Shelton, Whiteface Aviation of Hereford, said the unusual growth is new to this area, and the use of sugar water to control growth has not been tested enough to know whether positive regulation will result.

'There's a lot of 'ifs' about the use of sugar water. It just hasn't been tested out that extensively," he said.

Texas A&M extension specialists have tested the use of both sugar water and boron as means of growth control in cotton, but Shelton said they haven't documented enough positive results to endorse either product favorably or negatively.

"That's what we tell our customers when they call. We don't recommend it one way or the other," he said. We don't know it it is justifiable to apply or not."

How does sugar water work to control growth?

Shelton said sugar water, applied at a rate of three pounds per three gallons of water per acre, changes the chemical makeup of the plant and forces growth of the fruit, not vegatative growth.

"We can't see any visual results with it yet," he said. Growth regulators can be NRC Advises Halt to cording to Shelton. Three producers have hired Whiteface Aviation to apply sugar to their cotton. "Mostly it's being used just as an experiment. They spray part of their field and leave the other part alone so they can compare results," he said. "If it happens again, they'll know whether to use it or

"The bollworm activity is the highest we've seen in this area," according to Shelton. He said the rain encourages new growth in cotton and with it the laying of eggs.

Sugar water applications have been used in the seminole area for the past two to three years, however, Shelton said, "No one has ever evaluated results to know if it works or not."

Gerald Martin, another spraying service operator in Hereford, said his customers have been ordering Solubor, a type of boron, to be applicated on cotton. He said results have been positive,

Prices Sag Below Year Ago Levels

WASHINGTON (AP) -With huge crops hanging over their markets, farmers are seeing prices sag below yearago levels for some key items, including feed grain, cattle and cotton, the Agriculture Department

The department's price index for August dropped 2.1 percent from July and for the first time in 14 months averaged below year-earlier levels, officials said Monday.

Lower prices for corn, cattle, soybeans, dry edible beans and cotton led the decline in the price index from July.

However, higher prices for apples, oranges, lemons, milk, tobacco and calves offset part of the decline for the other commodities, the department's Crop Reporting Board said.

According to department records, the last time the monthly farm price index dropped below a year earlier was in June 1980.

Scott Steele, a staff economist in the department, said the bumper crops - including a record wheat yield mostly harvested already and an outlook for a huge

most important factor right now in the price situation. Also, he said, "It depends a lot on some of these foreign market purchases" and how those develop in the next few months as to what farm prices will do the remainder of the season.

On a month-to-month basis, farm prices rose slightly last January and since have held steady in three months and declined in four.

Meanwhile, the prices farmers pay to meet expenses rose 0.7 percent from July and averaged 7.9 percent above a year ago. Higher prices for replacement livestock and family living items more than made up for declines for many feed products and replacement cattle and hogs.

According - which are based mostly on the ratio was 67 percent. mid-month averages prices of meat animals as a group declined 1.3 percent from July. The index was 6.1 percent below a year earlier.

The August index for feed grains and hay declined 8.2 percent from July and averaged 4.3 percent below its August 1980 level.

Vegetable prices at the farm dropped 3 percent from July but were 16 percent below a year earlier. Lower prices for lettuce, cantaloupes and onions contributed most to the decrease from a month earlier. Higher prices were reported for tomatoes and carrots.

Fruit prices collectively jumped 20 percent from July and averaged 8.3 percent above a year ago. That included higher prices for apples, oranges, lemons, strawberries and pears. Lower prices were reported for peaches.

Department economists predict retail food prices will go up an average of about 8.6 percent this year, matching last year's gain, which was the smallest since 1977.

The August parity ratio to the was 61 percent, down from 62 preliminary August figures percent in July. A year ago.

> dicator would mean, theoretically, that farmers have the same buying power they had in 1910-14.

The report also said: -Cattle averaged $58.30 per 100 pounds of live weight nationally, compared with $59.70 in July and $64.40 in August 1980. Those are averages for all types of cattle sold as beef. -Hogs averaged $49.40 per 100 pounds, compared with $49.30 in July and $46.20 a year ago. -Corn, at $2.82 a bushel, compared with $3.14 in July and $2.92 a year ago. Wheat prices at the farm, according to the preliminary figures, averaged $3.63 a bushel, compared with 3.62 in July and $3.94 a year ago. -Rice averaged $12.80 per 100 pounds, unchanged from July. It was $10.60 in August of last year. -Soybeans were $6.69 a bushel against $7.16 in July and $7.18 a year ago. -Upland cotton was 67.8

cents a pound on a national average, compared with 70.2 in July and 80.1 a year ago. -Eggs were 59.3 cents a dozen, compared with 58.4 in July and 57.7 a year ago.

Broiler chickens, at 29.2 cents a pound, compared with 30.4 in July and 32.1 cents a year ago.

The committee's report, which was distributed here Monday, said the department's two trial programs initiated in 1978 to eradicate the boll weevil from test areas in Virginia, North Carolina and Mississippi have not provided adequate evidence to support an expansion.

"Control efforts over the next several years instead should be focused on continuing the development of integrated pest management programs that combine insecticides, short-season and insect-resistant strains of cotton, and natural insect primarily from cotton growers, to establish a federally administered, beltwide program to eliminate the boll weevil.'

The committee said an acceptable eradication program over the entire Cotton Belt "would have to allow cotton growers to produce efficiently with only minimum harm to the environment" from chemicals and other anti-weevil practices.

"The biological consequences, environmental effects and economic costs of an eradication program cannot be accurately predicted at this time," the report said.

Resurgent Reggie Leads Yanks' Rout of Twins

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Manager Gene Michael of the New York Yankees stayed with Reggie Jackson for a long time while he was in a slump.

Now that he's hitting, he can say he told you so.

"Reggie's one of the big reasons we're going the way we are," said Michael after the red-hot Jackson helped the Yankees rout the Minnesota Twins 11-6 Tuesday night.

Jackson hit a towering three-run homer and a single and has now hit safely in the Yankees' last five games, which incidentally have all been New York victories.

In other American League action, it was Detroit 2. Chicago 1; Baltimore 1, Seattle 0; California 3, Boston 2; and Toronto 9, Texas 3. The Oakland-Cleveland game was postponed by rain.

Jackson hit a 3-0 pitch off reliever John Verhoeven over the 416-foot barrier in right field, his 19th career home run at Minnesota's Metropolitan Stadium.

Along with Jackson's big night, Willie Randolph, Jerry Mumphrey and Dave Winfield each knocked in two runs for the Yankees.

Rick Reuschel, 2-1, checked the Twins on just five hits in seven innings before leaving in favor of relievers Ron Davis and Dave LaRoche, who pitched one inning each. Pete Redfern, 4-8, was tagged with the loss.

Kansas City 3, Milwaukee 1 ninth inning off newcomer Jerry Koosman lifted Detroit over Chicago and sent the White Sox to their fifth straight defeat.

> Koosman, acquired from Minnesota over the weekend, took over for starter Britt Burns at the start of the ninth. Lou Whitaker drew a walk and went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Ricky Peters. Alan Trammell flied out before Kemp singled to score Whitaker with the lead run. Koosman's record fell to 3-10 while Detroit starter Dan Petry, 7-6, gained the victory.

Orioles 1, Mariners 0 Cy Young Award winner Steve Stone, in his second start after 21/2 months on the disabled list, combined with Tippy Martinez to hurl a twohitter as Baltimore blanked Loser Glenn Abbott, 2-5, also allowed two hits but gave up a run in the fourth when Rich Dauer doubled and came around to score on infield outs by Ken Singleton and Eddie Murray.

Stone, 3-4, was backed by three fine infield plays and by the throwing of catcher Rick Dempsey while permitting only one runner to advance beyond first base before he was lifted after issuing a oneout walk in the eighth.

Angels 3, Red Sox 2

Bobby Grich and Don Baylor each singled home a run and reliever Don Aase pitched out of a tough ninthinning situation as California beat Boston. Grich's RBI hit keyed a two-run seventh and Baylor's single drove in the Angels' eventual winning run.

Winner Ken Forsch, 11-6, scattered eight hits, but left the game with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth and his team leading 3-1. Aase came into the game at that point and gave up a runscoring grounder to Rich Gedman before pitching out of the jam and recording his ninth save. Bob Stanley, 7-5, who wild-pitched a run home in the seventh, was the loser.

Kansas City, winning its first game for new Manager Dick Howser, opened the seventh with an infield single by Darrell Motley. Bunt singles by U.L. Washington and Willie Wilson loaded the bases, then White drilled a ground ball through Milwaukee's drawn-in infield to score Motley and Washington and extend his hitting streak to 11 games.

Gura, unbeaten in the second season, scattered eight hits, struck out two and walked one to raise his record to 9-5. Since play resumed after the baseball strike, the lefthander has allowed only three earned runs in 39 innings for an 0.69 ERA.

Bine Jays 9, Rangers 3 Lloyd Moseby drove in four runs with a single and a nomer and Jim Clancy scat tered nine hits to lead To over Texas. Clancy, 4-8, who walked three and struck out five, pitched shutout ball until the seventh. Danny Darwin, 8-7, was the loser for Texas.

Marshall's Caution Costs Mets

Seattle.

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD AP Sports Writer

Mike Marshall didn't want to make the pitch too good and it wasn't.

With Houston and the New York Mets tied 2-2 in the bottom of the ninth inning Tuesday night, the Astros had pinch-runner Scott Loucks on third base with two outs, with Marshall on the mound for the Mets.

"I had two open bases and I wanted to make certain I didn't throw it down the middle if the plate," said Marshall. "I wasn't worried about throwing strikes; I just wanted to make quality pit-

PUBLIC NOTICE ON REGISTERING LIVESTOCK BRANDS

The attorney general is reminding every citizen who has registered a brand prior to Aug. 30, 1981 that citizens must re-register each brand with the county clerk within six months in order to protect their right to it. If everyone follows the registration schedule set out by the law, county clerks will have a correct, revised set of records every ten years, and there should be no dispute about the correct ownership of livestock.

To register or re-register marks and brands, the livestock owner may obtain forms either by mail or in person from his or her county clerk's office. There will be blank spaces on the form in which to describe the mark or brand and the location on the animal where the brand is recorded.

The forms should then be mailed or delivered in person to the county clerk, who will keep the forms in an indexed bound volume or on microfilm for easy reference.

> B.F. CAIN, County Clerk Deaf Smith County

The Commissioners of Deaf Smith County will open bids at 10 A.M. September 14, 1981 in the Courthouse for the following:

3 cars for the Sheriff's Department; a used tractor for Precinct 3 to be purchased with Revenue Sharing funds. Specifications may be picked up at 242 E. 3rd in Hereford. The Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Common to sweat too much

DEAR DR. LAMB Could you please help me out? For the past four years I have had a problem of sweating so much that it is very embarrassing for me. I can get out of the shower, put on every kind of antiperspirant available to me at any store and it doesn't help my problem.

I am a very clean person so it bothers me a great deal. I was wondering if my body isn't getting enough salt. It is not my nerves so what do I do? It has been a problem since I was about 13 years old. I can't wear the pretty clothes available because I have sweat dripping down my underarms all the way to my waist. You are my last hope. I hope you come shining through.

DEAR READER — Your

problem is more common than you might guess. Of course everyone sweats but a few have such excessive perspiration that it is a social and personal problem. In some cases it is from anxiety and it may particularly affect the palms and soles in that case. In other instances it is mostly of the axilla, which may be true in your case.

You should see a dermatologist and see if he can help you. There are several medicines that are used to block the nervous system that supplies the sweat glands involved. Some of these are the same medicines used to prevent stomach acid (atropine and probanthine medications). You can't get these without a prescription.

Even Inderal used to control blood pressure, heart irregularities and migraine headaches may help because it decreases the adrenaline action. In extreme cases the nerve fibers that affect the area may be removed surgically with good results. If the area is just the axilla usually local surgical removal of the skin area (usually the area that has hair) removes the offending sweat glands and provides a good result.

DEAR DR. LAMB — A while back I read an item about folk remedies. The message was that perhaps people should look back to grandmother's cures rather than forward and they gave some examples of folk medicine that works. What is your opinion of these meth-

DEAR READER - My opinion is unprintable. I just happened to see that item and it was typical of medical misinformation that is being fed to the public. Specifically, the item referred to using thyme and sage to fight colds and flu, and it went on to say that thyme contains an antibacterial substance and oils of sage were capable of destroying bacteria. Well, that tells you the whole story. Colds and flu are not caused by bacteria at all. They are caused by viruses. With such faulty thinking you can't expect much. There are some substances that are found in nature that are very helpful but these must be subjected to the same rigorous tests as

DEAR POLLY - I've been working in the garden and an especially dirty job, rub a thin coat of petroleum jelly onto your hands. This will protect your skin from absorbing all that dirt and it will wash off easily. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — To top off my jelly jars with paraffin, I put the paraffin into the glasses before pouring in the jelly. I just shave off bits of paraffin and put it in the bottom of the

jar. Then I fill the jar with hot jelly. The paraffin melts and rises to the top, covering the jelly. — ROBERTA DEAR POLLY — When placing poisoned grain or seeds outdoors to attract and kill mice and rats, you can protect neighborhood pets in the following manner. Cut an opening in the side of a plastic milk jug, just large enough for small vermin (mice or rats) to enter and too small for cats and dogs. Pour the poisoned food into the milk jug. This will keep the grain dry and out of reach of pets. For further protection, hide the jug under a bush or in the garden. A weight inside the jug will keep it from tipping over. — E.M.N.

are the many new truly wonderful medicines that have developed and will be developed in the future. DEAR DR. LAMB - In the case of a second heart attack what is the best method of determining if there is cholesterol blockage of the right and left arteries leading to the heart or valve damage: a cardiogram, an angiogram, an arteriogram or a heart catheterization? DEAR READER - An electrocardiogram will give some information regarding the area and location of the heart muscle that is damaged. It is not 100 percent reliable in telling you which artery is involved but you can suspect which one of the main arteries is involved in causing the damage. If it shows two different areas of heart muscle it is usually caused by blockage of at least two main arteries to the heart muscle. There are three main arteries. The left artery divides into two arteries that supply the front and the left side of the heart and the right coronary artery supplies the back side of the heart. Fortunately there is a network of small arteries that connect these main arteries together. If it is open and working well it may help protect against heart muscle damage.

An angiogram may be used to show the size and pumping action of the chambers of the heart and may show a valve defect. But a coronary arteriogram is the most accurate method of seeing any blockage that may be present in the arteries. The technique involves injecting a radio-opaque dye into the arteries that can then be seen with X-ray techniques. X-ray films may be taken and then studied to observe the area of block-

A good recovery, so that the patient can walk a good distance without pain and with an absence of other signs of disease, usually means that here is still good circulat n to the heart muscle.

and a green thumb from shelling peas. (Is this where the expression "green thumb" comes from?) I do use gloves when gardening, but my hands just don't look present-DEAR DR. AMB - My aunt brought ur column nurs b nomes ention Something should be done about these people. The food they get is not that great. I've been there many times DEAR LOUISE - Have you tried one of the heavy duty hand-cleaning soaps made especially for super-grimy hands? They have an abrasive quality that should remove most of the grime. Soaking your hands in lemon juice may bleach out some of that green stain, too.

Whenever your hands get especially dirty, try rubbing them with petroleum jelly before washing them. The jelly helps clean off the dirt and grime. In fact, before you tackle an especially dirty ich, rub a thin coat of netroleum jelly when the food comes up. I have a very close friend who went there two months ago. He weighed 150 pounds. Now he weighs only 124 pounds. The poor man doesn't eat. He can't use his hands too well and they don't take time to feed the older people. If the food isn't eaten, the tray is removed. Because they don't eat in time, the patients die off.

I don't think this is right. People pay enough at these nursing homes so someone should see that all of them eat. I brought my friend a nice dinner a week ago. I fed him the whole dinner and he ate it. So it's just a matter of someone taking time to feed some of these people.

DEAR READER Thank you for your no There are many excell nursing homes but the pr lem you describe does of in others — also in hospi in others — also in hospitals. The result is malnutrition or starvation — in center that are supposed to provid help for a person's health. I agree that something should be done about it. And rela-tives should be sure their loved ones are being properly fed.
