

Rainfall for last two days exceeds month's average

By REED PARSELL
Managing Editor

Hereford has received more precipitation in the last two days than it does normally for the entire month of October, according to statistics provided by KPAN.

This news is reportedly encouraging to the area's agricultural sector, which suffered from a lack of significant rainfall over the summer. Meanwhile, the wet conditions have apparently not caused any serious problems with children getting to schools.

Chip Formby, news director at KPA, said 1.87 inches of rain have fallen in Hereford since Monday. Wednesday alone saw 1.4 inches descend. The average precipitation for the city in October is 1.77 inches.

So far this year, Hereford has received 14.51 inches of moisture. The normal year-to-date figure is approximately 15 inches.

"I'll have to say that the rain has been super," exclaimed John Fuston, manager of the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

Problems with crops won't occur, Fuston said, unless the wet conditions prevail for a long period of time. Continued wetness, combined with heavier winds, would cause some damage and make harvesting quite difficult.

Fuston estimated 30 percent of the county's corn has yet to be harvested while 40-50 percent of the milo remains untouched.

From what Fuston

understands, rain has been fairly evenly spread over Deaf Smith County. Most places, he said, have received about two inches of precipitation. This morning, a small telephone survey confirmed Fuston's comments.

"Hopefully," Fuston said, "the benefits of the rain are going to way, way outweigh the drawbacks."

Meanwhile, the local school district has had to cope with some muddy bus routes. "We don't have any problems we can't handle," said Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent for HISD.

Wartes praised the cooperation of rural families, which usually make efforts to have their children meet school buses on paved roads during especially wet periods. "They understand the weather much better than we do," he said. "They're very helpful."

The forecast calls for a decrease of precipitation today, with skies to clear Friday and temperatures to return to the 60s.

In Lubbock

Rain prompts evacuations

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Sheets of rain inundated Lubbock for a second day, forcing the evacuation of a nursing home, closing streets and area roads, and stalling numerous cars.

The storm dumped 5.85 inches of rain on Lubbock for the 24 hours that ended at 7:17 p.m. Wednesday, the most precipitation the West Texas city has ever received in a 24-hour period. The previous record was 5.7 inches on June 7, 1967.

"I don't know if it means anything, but the animals are coming down in pairs," the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal quoted a city policeman.

Another Lubbock

policeman reported seeing teen-agers in a four-wheel-drive vehicle towing friends down usually busy Quaker Avenue on water skis.

"We are receiving reports of lakes overflowing their banks, of water in some residences, and of many stall-

Wet conditions prevailed Wednesday afternoon at Damerson Park. By this morning, most of the park's area was covered by water.

KPAN reported 1.4 inches of precipitation fell Wednesday.

On Marines or missiles

Reagan says he won't back down

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, standing firm in two key foreign policy areas, says the United States will "deploy on schedule" its modernized nuclear missiles in Europe, and that if Syria thinks it can wear him down by delaying peace talks in Lebanon, "they're going to be disappointed."

Reagan, calling Syria "a roadblock" to peace in Lebanon, said at a news conference Wednesday night the 1,600 Marines deployed in a multinational peacekeeping force will remain "as long as there's a possibility of making the overall peace plan work."

"We have made great progress there," he said.

The president said that the United States was trying to make the Marines' positions on low ground near the Beirut international airport safer. Seven have been killed, including two hit by sniper fire since Friday.

"I know the Syrians are dragging their feet" in Lebanon, Reagan said, adding that about 7,000 Soviet advisers and technicians in Syria "are contributing to the disorder and the trouble."

But, he said, "if they're doing it with the idea of wearing me down, they're going to be disappointed."

The president said the Soviets were conducting "a great propaganda effort" in Europe to "persuade our allies to turn back and not ask us for the deployment of intermediate-range weapons."

"Well, we're going to deploy, and deploy on schedule," Reagan declared. "And once they see we're going to do that" and not disarm, "I think they're going to see that the best thing for them is to negotiate with us and in good faith."

Under a 1979 NATO plan, the United States is scheduled to deploy the first of 572 Pershing 2 and land-based cruise missiles in Western Europe in December, unless U.S.-Soviet arms talks produce an agreement on controlling medium-range weapons.

Reagan said the Soviets "may do some things, they may try, as has been rumored, (to) walk out and things of that kind. But we'll just wait at the table, and I think they'll come back."

The president said he hoped that an agreement could be reached by the end of his current term, 16 months from today.

During the nationally broadcast news conference, Reagan gave no hint about whether he will seek a second term. A re-election committee was formed with his approval on Monday, although he refuses to announce his candidacy or bow out of the race.

"Down the road one day, probably in the not-too-distant future, probably before my (Feb. 6) birthday, I will put your minds all at rest one way or the other," he said. That seemed to put the decision date back one month, because on Monday he said he would reveal his decision "possibly by the first of the year."

Asked whether there was some slippage, Reagan said that a decision by Christmas was possible. He added: "I'm unpredictable in many ways."

Asked about the propriety of Central Intelligence Agency support for rebel raids in Nicaragua, the president said, "I think covert actions have been a part of government and a part of government's responsibilities for as long as there has been a government. I do believe in the right of a country when it believes that its interests are best served to practice covert activity...."

Reagan also said he did not doubt the sincerity of Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., who is opposing a national holiday to honor the slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. The Senate passed such a measure on Wednesday and it awaits the president's signature.

President to sign legislation

Senate approves holiday

By LARRY MARGASAK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan says the country will "know in about 35 years" whether slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. was a communist sympathizer, but, meanwhile, he will sign legislation creating a holiday honoring King.

Reagan, speaking at a televised news conference hours after the Senate passed the bill 79-22, made it clear he would have preferred something less than a formal national holiday. But he said he believes "the symbolism of the day is important enough that I will sign that legislation."

Reagan's comments touched on a fierce debate in which conservative Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., had claimed King was a communist sympathizer and sought to delay action on the bill until secret FBI files were released.

Asked whether he agreed with Helms about King's alleged communist links, Reagan said, "We'll know in about 35 years, won't we?"

Reagan added he doesn't fault Helms' "sincerity with regards to wanting the records opened."

But at the same time, the president said there is "no way" the records can be unsealed because "an agreement was reached between the family and the government" to keep them secret another 35 years.

Reagan's commitment to sign the bill caps a 15-year struggle in Congress to honor King, who was assassinated on April 4, 1968. The final act was played out before a hushed gallery, with King's widow, Coretta Scott King, looking on.

Although King's birth date was Jan. 15, the holiday will be observed the third Monday in January beginning in 1986. Federal workers will have the day off, with many state and local governments and private employees to follow suit.

After the vote Mrs. King appeared at a news conference that resembled a locker room victory party, with dozens of cheering supporters and nearly as many television cameras crowded into a small room near the Senate chamber.

Surrounded by her son Martin III, King's sister Christine, singer Stevie

Wonder, civil rights leaders and congressional backers, Mrs. King said: "We want his birthday to be more than a day of fun and games. It must be a time when all Americans and peace loving peoples all over the world reflect on the man and his principles, which ring as true today as ever."

Among those with Mrs. King as she spoke was Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., who has sponsored a King holiday bill each year since King's death in 1968.

"Every year for 15 years there were those who thought he would fade away as a temporary hero," Conyers said of King. Instead, he said, "We have the most incredible symbol that knocks down the wall of segregation."

The boisterous crowd after the vote provided a sharp contrast to the solemnity of the Senate chamber when Vice President George Bush, who was presiding, announced passage of the bill. Before he gave out the tally, he reminded spectators of the Senate rule prohibiting any display of approval or disapproval.

The House passed the bill Aug. 2 by a whopping 339-90 margin.

Fifteen representatives expected

Museum meeting scheduled Friday

By KIM THOGMARTIN
Staff Writer

Representatives of 15 Panhandle museums will be in Hereford Friday for a meeting of the Northwest Texas Museum Association.

Both the Deaf Smith County Museum and the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center are members of the association.

Lois Gilliland, executive director of the local museum, also serves as president of the museum association. She said activities will begin at 11 a.m. in the museum with registration, coffee and an executive board meeting.

Members of the Deaf Smith County Museum's board of directors will serve a casserole lunch to the group at noon at the E.B. Black House. Dortha Prowell and Lavon Nieman are co-hostesses for that event.

Back at the museum, the 1 p.m. program will feature a workshop by Suzanne Hewitt Knorpp, director of education at the Panhandle Plains Museum in Canyon. Knorpp plans to describe the history fair held each year in Canyon and provide the museum representatives with tips on organizing history fairs at their own facilities.

A native of Hereford and 1973 graduate of HHS, Knorpp holds bachelor's and master's degrees in education from West Texas State University. She taught in the education department for two years while working on her master's degree and taught music for one year at St. Andrews school in Amarillo.

Knorpp and her husband, Raymond, live in Amarillo, where she also gives private voice and piano lessons.

As director of education, Knorpp's responsibilities at the museum include arranging tours for area school children and talking about the museum in classrooms and to civic organizations. She coordinates the Old World Christmas Party, a holiday favorite at the museum. She is also a member of the Texas Historical Association.

The business meeting is supposed to begin at 2 p.m., followed by a tour of the Cowgirl Hall of Fame. The CHOF visit is the last scheduled activity that day.

Gilliland said curators and directors and other museum personnel are expected from such Panhandle towns as Tulia, Dalhart, Dumas, Crosbyton, Lubbock, Borger and Childress.

Color television set stolen

A one-year-old color television set, worth an estimated $400, was stolen Wednesday evening from the back of a pickup truck.

Hereford police, who handled and reported the theft, said the victim is Ricky Kubiak of 109 Aspen. There were no suspects as of this morning.

Over the past two days, police have also investigated four minor thefts and made two arrests: one for shoplifting and the other for driving while license suspended.

Micro-computer classes on tap

A series of word-processing classes for micro-computers are being offered by the adult vocational and community education program of the Hereford Independent School District.

Classes, to be conducted Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6 to 7:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m., have 12-person limits and will be a total of 12 hours long.

Registration for the micro-computer instruction courses will continue through Tuesday. A charge of $15 is required to enroll.

Anyone wishing to participate is advised to see Kenneth Helms in Room 120 D of Hereford High School. Helms may also be reached by phoning 364-5112.

Friday game tickets plentiful

Whereas tickets for the last couple of Hereford High School football games were scarce, there does not seem to be any chance of Friday's Palo Duro contest being sold out.

According to Larry Wartes, assistant superintendent for the local school district, several seats still remain on the west side of Whiteface Stadium. "We haven't sold any on the east side," he said over the telephone this morning, "and probably won't until tomorrow night."

Last Friday, the Whitefaces had their dreams for a perfect season shattered when they lost at Plainview's Homecoming, 21-7. Both those schools, along with Palo Duro and Amarillo, are tied for first in District 3-5A.

A more detailed preview of the game may be found on Page 4.

Farmers feel

Cotton controls necessary

Despite the fact that an early freeze and recent hail storms have caused extensive damage to cotton crops in the High Plains area, members of the Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) feel that strong production controls are again needed in the 1984 federal cotton program.

According to the Amarillo Daily News, the executive vice president of the Lubbock-based PCG, Donald Johnson, said cotton growers need a strong program to ensure better prices next year.

Marvin Payne of the Hereford Farmers Gin, where the first bale of cotton harvested by Deaf Smith County farmer Weldon Stephan was ginned last week, said the price is "fair," at about $57 a pound. He felt the market is as good as it is because growers were allowed to allocate as much as 50 percent of their acreage to the Payment in Kind (PIK) program.

Payne said as far as he knows, all of the local cotton farmers took advantage of the PIK program. Actually, he said, the grower needs $70 per pound to make a good profit.

Charles Schlabs, who has about 20 percent of his cropland in cotton and opted for the PIK program this year, said he hopes the Department of Agriculture will implement some sort of production controls again next year, because the surplus has been building for several years now and there's still too much cotton in storage to guarantee good market prices.

Payne said that even though the PIK program has been good for the farmer, he fears the Department of Agriculture may not continue the program in 1984. "It's caused a lot of paperwork," he said, "and it has cost the government a lot of money."

Cotton stripping will continue for another two months in Deaf Smith County. Local agriculturists estimate about 25 percent of the county's 10,000-acre cotton crop was destroyed by the early frost.

update thursday

Economy grew 7.9 percent in third quarter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today that the economy grew at a brisk 7.9 percent annual rate in the third quarter, following through on the rapid spring quarter with a greater strength than earlier estimated.

The Commerce Department said in its preliminary estimate for the July-September quarter that the growth came from the building of inventories by businesses and from final sales, which covers buying by consumers and government and net exports.

Last month, before the quarter ended, the department predicted in its unofficial "flash" estimate that there would be 7 percent growth, as measured by the inflation-adjusted gross national product.

Today's revised figure follows an annualized 2.6 percent growth rate in the first three months of the year and a heady 9.7 percent advance in the April-June quarter. Economists had said that rate was certain to moderate.

Although the spring spurt in activity was welcomed as the economy pulled away from the 1981-82 recession, many economists have said that growth at such a clip was unsustainable — and undesirable because of the threat such a pace could rekindle inflation.

Today's report said inflation, as measured by the GNP-linked, fixed-weighted price index, is running at 4.1 percent, compared with 4.3 percent in the second quarter. The third quarter figure had previously been estimated at 3.8 percent.

Adjusting for inflation, the department said the economy grew to an annual rate of $1.554 trillion from $1.525 trillion in the second quarter.

Before such adjustment, it was estimated as growing to an annual rate of $3.363 trillion compared with $3.272 trillion of the second quarter, the report said.

In other areas, the president said:

—He would work on immigration legislation, and stated, "This country has lost control of its own borders." Reagan backed an immigration bill approved by the Republican-controlled Senate, but immigration legislation is bottled up in the House.

—He could not disclose his course if Iran closes the Straits of Hormuz, through which Middle East oil destined for Western nations passed. But he stated: "I do not believe the free world could stand by and allow anyone to close" the straits in the Persian Gulf.

—Reports of an $18 billion to $27 billion spaced-based missile defense system are greatly exaggerated. Asked whether the new system might create a defensive arms race, rather than an offensive arms race, he replied: "Would that be all bad? If you've got everybody building defense, then nobody's going to start a war. And that's, maybe, part of the idea."

Marines may get chance to go after snipers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan is leaving open the possibility that U.S. Marines on peacekeeping duty in Lebanon might be allowed to go after snipers who attack their positions. Two leathernecks have been killed by sharpshooters in the last week.

Asked at his Wednesday night news conference whether the Marines would be allowed to "sally forth" from their encampment around the Beirut International Airport, Reagan replied: "I can't answer that question right now."

In response to another question, Reagan said looking at every option and everything that we can do that can leave us in a position to carry out on for which they (the Marines) were sent and at the same time make their lives safer."

Earlier, Pentagon sources said the Reagan administration was considering broadening the authority of the 1,600-man Marine contingent to counteract snipers who have been shooting at them from houses as close as 100 yards from the Marine perimeter.

"We aren't going to stand by and let our men be picked off," said one source.

Officials refused to discuss the options under study in any detail, but it was understood there was a possibility the Marines might be allowed to go after sniper nests outside the Marine perimeter around the Beirut airport.

Judge bars work on demolished fair ride

DALLAS (AP) — An amusement ride inspector who works for the State of Maryland has been summoned to head an investigation into an accident at the State Fair of Texas Monday night that killed one person and injured 16.

Fair officials said a thorough probe led by Dan Dudley, supervisor of amusement ride inspections in Maryland and a recognized expert in the field, would get under way today.

A support rod that connected a car to the frame of a ride known as the Enterprise tore through its metal casing about 8:05 p.m. Monday and sent the car hurtling into the midway crowd 50 feet below.

"It actually broke out the metal when it came off," said Wayne Gallagher, general manager of the fair. "We won't know why until the engineers study it. We don't know if it was under undue stress, pressure put on the metal or if we had fatigued the metal."

The popular European ride revolves in a circular motion while rising to an 80-degree angle. The Enterprise was going full speed and at its maximum angle when the car began pulling free from the frame, witnesses said.

Emergency powers ordered into effect in Brazil

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP) — President Joao Figueiredo invoked emergency powers in the capital shortly before a defiant Congress rejected unpopular austerity legislation intended to help rescue Brazil from a $90 billion foreign debt.

The emergency measures, imposed Wednesday night and set to last for 60 days, allow for house searches and arrests without warrants, suspension of freedom of assembly, and control over state-run companies.

Both pieces of legislation were tied to the release of billions of dollars in much needed loans from the international banking community. Brazil has virtually no hard currency in its treasury and its foreign debt is the largest in the developing world.

President Reagan 'cool' under fire

The world was thrown for two loops. First when the Soviets shot down that passenger jet.

Second, when our president responded with something less than nuclear war. After the shock wore off, the most aggressive right-wingers were reassured and the left-wingers were respectful. President Reagan's anti-communist credentials date way back.

So vigorous, so "militant" was he in the two decades preceding his election that some scribblers predicted we'd have a hip-shooting cowboy in the White House.

At least one of those same critics now protests that the president's response to the Soviet murder of 289 people aboard that Korean jetliner "was not tough enough."

American military presence in the Middle East and in Latin America is worth worrying about. Anybody who ever fought a brush fire recognizes the hazards.

But President Reagan's response to the airliner thing, while firm, was measured, deliberate and responsible.

Frankly, I don't know where this man gets his savvy. Perhaps where you and I get our sixth sense—from our wives.

But given the fact that the United States and the U.S.S.R. are going to have to live side-by-side on this planet, our inescapable objective must be to induce the Soviets to modify their belligerent and deceitful behavior.

The liars of Moscow who overtly distorted the airliner atrocity are the same people with whom we are seeking to negotiate arms control.

We know we can't trust them.

The most naive Kremlinologist in Congress has to know now that we cannot expect meaningful treaties with them.

Our president could never have convinced some of that but now the Soviets have done that job for him.

With minimal rhetoric our president let the Soviets unmask themselves.

Our commander-in-chief had two obvious options: Make war or say "I told you so."

He did neither.

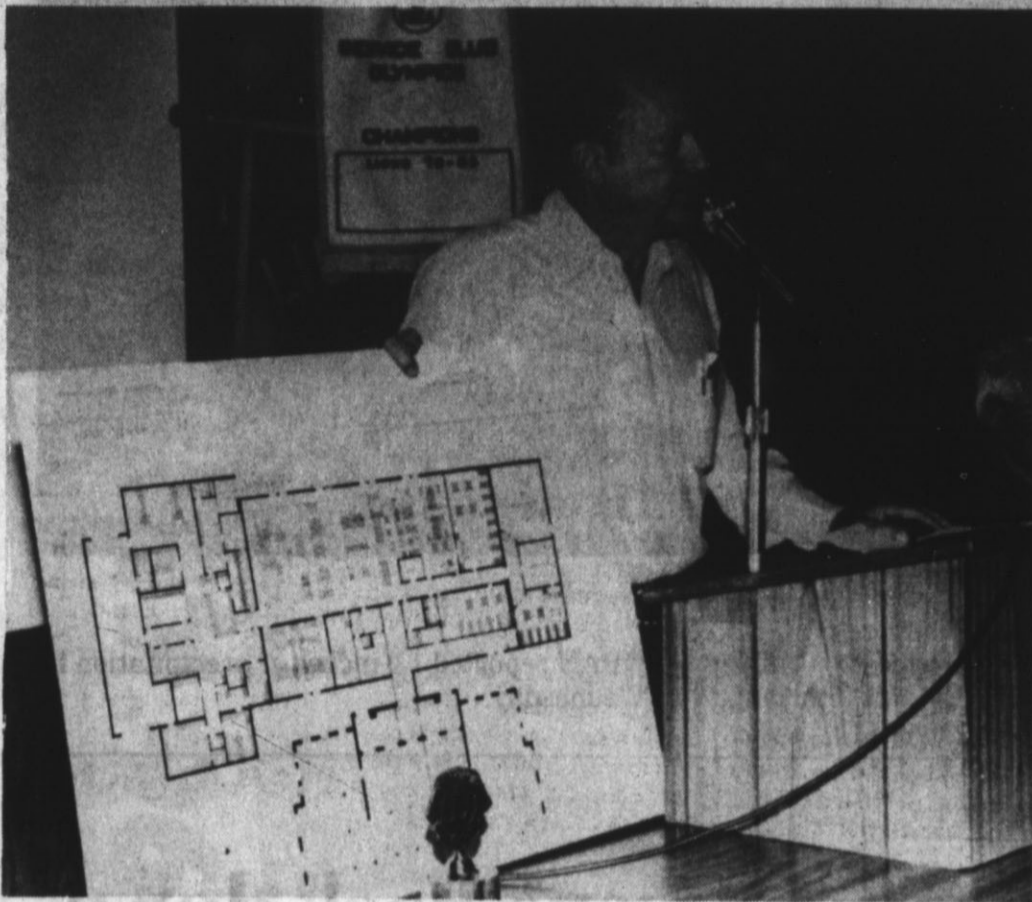

He re-acted the facts in careful chronological sequence and allowed the atrocity to stand on its own atrociousness.

As I say, the president's intervention in Latin America where he says the Soviets might move in — and in the Middle East — where he says the Soviets might move in — was encountering much dissent in Congress.

Less now, thanks to the Soviets.

Indeed, the recent event demonstrates that they are the irresponsible hip-shooters, not he.

And however inadvertently, may well have re-elected him.

Accusations tossed back

HOUSTON (AP) — Striking pilots, charged with bargaining in bad faith by a $50 million Continental Airlines suit, have leveled the same accusation at the carrier in their own legal action and asked for twice as much in damages.

The Air Line Pilots Association claimed in federal court papers filed Wednesday that Continental hired replacement pilots "with the intent of eliminating" the union after filing for reorganization under federal bankruptcy laws Sept. 24.

In the federal court suit, ALPA claims that Continental "unilaterally abrogated" its contract with the pilots and established "new and drastically inferior" rates of pay and working conditions. The action, said the suit, forced ALPA pilots to refuse to work.

ALPA asks the federal court to issue an injunction to restore the pilots' contract and to bar Continental from using "outside strikebreakers to replace the Continental pilot work force." It also asks $100 million in damages, plus a punitive award.

Flight attendants filed a similar suit, differing chiefly in that it did not ask for a specific amount of damages.

Continental spokesman Bruce Hicks said that the pilots' suit "addresses many of the same issues we addressed in our suit. We are very confident in our legal position."

In a separate action, the pilots also asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to bar chairman Dan McKinnon from participating in deliberations on applications filed by Continental to form three separate international airlines. The ALPA petition claims McKinnon has talked privately with Continental management, making a fair hearing impossible.

Pilots union spokesman Richard Smith said his group invited Continental officials in a telegram sent Wednesday to join in choosing a mediator for talks aimed at ending the strike.

An indescribable uneasiness seemed to still be present in some of the areas where Hitler's Third Reich had reigned, even after the passage of four decades, according to Jeanette Caviness, who along with her husband, Terry, had an opportunity to accompany members of the United Jewish Appeal League on a mission to visit Jews in Europe and the Middle East last fall.

Their group of 24 couples, only four of whom were not Jewish (including Jeanette and Terry), visited points in Yugoslavia, Lebanon and Israel, while other groups traveled in Italy, Egypt, Austria and other countries. All 1200 participants met in Israel, where Menachem Begin spoke to the group. The league, which was begun in the early 1900s, is a U.S. organization which supports the Jewish people, monetarily and in other ways, explained Jeanette. The league operates joint distribution of food, clothing and other needed items in Eastern Europe and surrounding areas.

"We were over there 10 days," said Jeanette. "It was a real educational experience and it gave us an opportunity to learn about the Jewish people, their customs and religion. One afternoon and a day we took off to visit Christian sites in Israel."

Jeanette and Terry, who is president of Caviness Packing Company Inc., are involved in several local Christian organizations and have had opportunities to share some of their insights from this unique trip with residents of this community.

They attend the First Presbyterian Church, where Jeanette is a member of Circle and is a fifth and sixth grade Sunday school teacher. She serves as celebrations chairman for Church Women United and attends a nondenominational Bible study. She also volunteers time to help at the clothes closet operated by Operation Good Shepherd, a nondenominational local ministry which Terry is also involved in.

Jeanette is a member of L'Allegra Study Club, and has held several different offices in that group. She has been involved in the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division in the past, and worked with the Miss Hereford Pageant several years.

She enjoys needlepoint and bridge, but hasn't had much time for these hobbies since her sons, Trevor and Regan, have started getting involved in things outside of the house. Eight-year-old Trevor, a third grader at St. Anthony's School, is playing flag football and Jeanette takes Regan, who is almost 5, to preschool at the First Baptist Church.

Jeanette had her own dance studio and taught ballet, modern dance and tap the first five years she lived here. She loves to dance and tries to keep that interest alive. She assisted with choreography for the Hereford Chamber Singers summer production.

Jeanette started taking dance lessons when she was growing up. She is originally from Woodson, Texas. She continued dance instruction at Texas Tech University, where she earned a degree in government with a minor in dance.

Terry is also a graduate of Texas Tech, where the couple met. He was born in Roswell, N.M., and was raised in Clovis, Amarillo and Hereford. He has been with the family business here since finishing school, and he and Jeanette were married following her graduation.

Cooking is not something Jeanette normally spends a great amount of time doing, since she has a number of outside involvements and enjoys spending as much time as she can with her children. Two of her favorite recipes, which are quick and simple to make, appear below.

PITA BREAD

1 (7 to 8 inch) pita bread round
3 Tbsp. tomato sauce
1/2 lb. cooked ground beef (or other meat)
1/2 small onion, chopped and partially cooked
2 Tbsp. chopped green pepper
2 Tbsp. Chopped ripe olives
2 Tbsp. chopped mushrooms

Jeanette Caviness

1/4 tsp. ground oregano
Garlic, salt, and pepper to taste
1/4 c. mozzarella cheese

Cut pita bread crosswise to yield two round crusts. Place pita bread on baking sheet; spread cut side with tomato sauce, meat, and any or all of remaining ingredients. Top with cheese. Bake 20 minutes at 400 degrees.

Optional additional toppings: chopped anchovies, shrimp, green olives, or parmesan cheese.

COCONUT CUSTARD PIE

1/2 c. flour
1/2 c. sugar
2 c. milk
4 eggs

1/4 c. butter
1 Tbsp. vanilla extract
1 1/2 c. flaked coconut
Combine first six ingredients in electric blender and process 10 seconds. Stir in coconut and pour into 9-inch deep-dish pie plate. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes or until set. (Pie will puff, then fall slightly). Cool; chill thoroughly.

Robinson presents program on the benefits of exercise

Dee Robinson, owner of the Academy of Dance, presented a program entitled "Tone Up, Tighten Up, Get It Off," to members of La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening at the dance studio. She was assisted with demonstrations by Susan Marnell.

Ms. Robinson outlined the benefits of exercise. She said exercise improves the health, promotes restful sleep, aids in circulation, regulates the appetite, improves the figure, and generates energy and enthusiasm.

She stressed that people need at least 12 minutes of constant exercise each day to reap these benefits, and encouraged the women to work at their own pace.

Sarah Hazelrigg, president, led the club in repeating the club collect and then presided over the business meeting. Peggy Fox and Julie Helm were welcomed as new members. It was reported that Jean Kelley is moving to Angel Fire and therefore is resigning from the club.

Ms. Hazelrigg reported that members of La Plata Study Club are taking residents of King's Manor shopping this month.

The club voted to participate in the Civic Club Blood Drive being sponsored by the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and the Hereford Lions Club. Blood may be donated Nov. 10, Nov. 23, Dec. 28, Jan. 25, and Feb. 22. The club's telephone committee will be reminding members.

The club will hold a Thanksgiving dinner on Nov. 22. Husbands will be guests. Reservations should be made by Nov. 18 by calling Margaret Schroeter at 364-6641.

Hostesses, Virginia Woodford, Clara Brown, and Ms. Schroeter served finger sandwiches, cupcakes with orange icing, and hot punch from a table decorated for Halloween.

Others attending were Ruby Boston, Patti Brown, Sunny Brush, Audine Dettmann, Beverly Jayroe, Mozelle Neill, Lavon Nieman, Dorothea Prowell, Betty Taylor, and Avis White.

Humanism film to be shown here

"Let Their Eyes Be Opened," a documentary concerning humanism and its influence in the schools, will be shown at 8 p.m. today in the fellowship hall of Wesley Methodist Church, 410 Irving.

The film is 29 1/2 minutes long and there will be no admission charge. Local educators, students, parents and other interested persons are urged to attend.

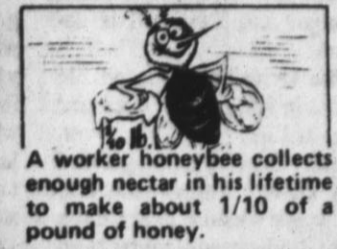

Many prominent humanist researchers and authors are featured in the documentary, which depicts humanism as a root cause of the modern-day breakdown of educational effectiveness, discipline and morals, and also as a prelude to a possible new world order, devoid of moral absolutes and restraints of the past.

Hereford's showdown with Palo Duro figures to be close game

Hereford's "Cinderella" Whitefaces couldn't find their magic slippers last Friday and lost their first game of the season, but the Herd was seeking to rebound this week against the potent Palo Duro Dons.

"I've told the players that we're already in the playoffs," said Coach Jerry Taylor. "We've got to win the remaining three games if we hope to win or share the league championship."

Kickoff is slated at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Whiteface Stadium for the all-important District 3-5A contest. Hereford is 6-1 on the season and 4-1 in district play, while the Dons are 5-1 on the year and also at 4-1 in the league.

On paper, it figures to be a close game. The Harris Rating System has Palo Duro ranked one point above the Herd. Palo Duro is leading the district teams in offense and the Herd is third; the Dons are third on team defense and Hereford is second.

The Dons have scored 141 points in six games; the Herd has tallied 146 in seven games. Hereford has yielded only 43 points this season, and last week was the first time a team had scored more than one touchdown against the stingy Hereford defense. The Dons have also shown a tough defense, giving up only 73 points in six games.

The two teams have met 13 times since 1970, and Hereford holds a 7-6 advantage in the series. The Whitefaces have won the last four meetings. Palo Duro's last win over the Whitefaces was a 28-0 whitewash in 1978.

Each team has lost only one game this year, and that loss was to the same team. Plainview beat the Dons, 30-21, the fourth week of the season, while Hereford lost by 21-7 last Friday. Against other common foes, the Herd shutout Caprock (26-0) and Tascosa (16-0), while Palo Duro's victories were by 28-7 and 16-13, respectively.

Coach Taylor said this week that Hereford must keep the Palo Duro running backs "fenced in," and that the Dons also have a good passing attack. "They're explosive and it's going to be a task in stopping them from making the big play." Taylor is looking at several starting lineup changes Friday night. He plans to start little J.D. High, 135-pound senior, at tailback. Ronnie Terry, one of the district's top rushers, will start again at fullback after playing only sparingly last week.

Alan Ritchie, standout linebacker, has been bothered with a pinched nerve this week, and Lazaro Abalos, 175-pound junior, may start at that position. Ritchie will be in action, however. Jeff Streun, the Herd's big-play man in the secondary, did not re-injure his arm at Plainview, but Vernon Carrol, 156-pound senior, may start in the secondary.

There were still plenty of tickets available for the game on Thursday morning.

Texas favored by 8 over SMU

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

Kansas Coach Mike Gottfried has this comment on the ups and downs of college football:

"One week the band's waiting on you, then you play another game and the dog's barking at you."

The band hasn't played for West Virginia against Penn State since 1955. In the intervening 27 years, Penn State has won 26 times, including 24 in a row since a 14-14 tie in 1958.

This may come as a shock to those Rip Van Winkles who have been dozing for the last two decades, but times have changed and West Virginia, 6-0 and ranked No. 4 nationally, is a 3 1/2-point favorite for Saturday's game at State College, Pa., against the defending national champions, who are 4-3 and unranked, but own a four-game winning streak.

However, Penn State Coach Joe Paterno says he'll be "very disappointed if we don't play our best game of the year. We're healthy and ready to play."

When Joe speaks, you gotta believe. Penn State 24-21.

Houston Rocket 'family' together again

HOUSTON (AP) — It's taken more than a year, but at last the Houston Rocket family is together.

The Rockets broke up one family and started another when they traded Moses Malone to Philadelphia prior to last season for a first round draft choice and center Caldwell Jones.

Ralph Sampson came into the fold first as the No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft, but it wasn't until Wednesday that Louisville's Rodney McCray and his agent Howard Slusher ironed out a four-year contract with the Rockets two weeks into preseason training camp.

"It's taken more than a year to get the whole program together," Rockets General Manager Ray Patterson said Wednesday. "But for Moses, we got Sampson, Caldwell Jones, Bill Fitch and Rodney McCray."

The Rockets made McCray the third overall choice in the NBA draft.

And Fitch? "I can't see him coming here if we didn't get Sampson," Patterson said. So at last, the Rockets can begin catch-up drills for the regular season and Fitch, with a reputation for brutal practice sessions, can't wait to get started.

The late arrivals by McCray, starting guard Allen Leavell and former starter Robert Reid, will extend the rugged preseason routine, Fitch said.

"We'd really be cooking if everyone had been here on time," Fitch said. "We'll probably have to extend our training camp into the regular season."

Reid, a former starter for the Rockets, and starting guard Leavell, who had been holding out, signed contracts Monday.

McCray was the third player taken in the 1983 NBA draft after the Rockets made 7-4 center Ralph Sampson the first player chosen in the overall draft.

Plainview, Palo Duro, Monterey ranked over Whitefaces in state Harris poll

Hereford dropped to 52nd place in the state on the Harris Rating System after its first loss last week, while Plainview moved up to 22nd place.

Plainview has a "power rating" of 170; Palo Duro and Lubbock Monterey are next at 165; Hereford is 164, and Amarillo is 159. That rates three of the District 3-5A teams just six points apart, while Plainview advanced 5 points above its nearest league member.

In games this week, however, Harris picks

Hereford to "upset" the Dons by 1 point. Plainview rates a 31-point nod over Lubbock High; Amarillo is picked by 9 over Lubbock Coronado; and Monterey is favored over Tascosa by 15.

Converse Judson remains the top team in Class 5A, while Midland Lee moved up to second on the basis of its win over Odessa Permian.

Lubbock Estacado is the only area team appearing in the top 20 in Class 4A. Estacado is ranked 17th. Littlefield is rated second in Class 3A behind Daingerfield, and Muleshoe and Idalou are 11th and 12th.

Hamlin and Morton are rated second and third in AA behind Groveton, while Panhandle is 10th and Shallowater 12th.

Players eligible to declare free agency have until Nov. 1 to decide whether they want to be on the Nov. 7 list.

Others who will enter the draft include catcher Ted Simmons; pitchers Doug Bair, Jim Bibby, Doug Bird, Rich Gossage, Don Hood, Frank Lacorte, Dennis Lamp, Jerry Reuss, Dan Schatzeder, Larry Sorensen, Kent Tekulve, Dave Tomlin, Tom Underwood and Milt Wilcox.

Also, infielders Rob Picciolo, Manny Trillo, Mark Wagner and outfielders Warren Cromartie, Ruppert Jones, Dave Parker and Dennis Walling.

6 more players file for baseball free agency

NEW YORK (AP) — Six more players, including veteran outfielder-designated hitter Oscar Gamble of the New York Yankees, have filed for baseball free agency, bringing to 27 the number of players who have decided to become free agents.

In addition to Gamble, who had seven home runs in only 180 at-bats last season, those adding their names to the Nov. 7 re-entry draft were utility man Derrel Thomas of the Los Angeles Dodgers, outfielder Gene Richards of the San Diego Padres, shortstop Mark Wagner of the Texas Rangers and pitchers Dale Murray of the Yankees and Jamie Easterly of the Cleveland Indians.

Philadelphia drops Pete Rose after he refuses to accept status as parttime player

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pete Rose took his unconditional release by the Philadelphia Phillies with his usual homespun philosophy, but made it clear he intends to remain in the majors.

"If it's the best thing for the Phillies for me to hit the road, and the best thing for me, then hit the road," said Rose, 42, who was dropped Wednesday after refusing to accept the status as a parttime player.

"I don't like to play part-time," said the player who is among the top five in almost every major league offensive category.

"I've been an everyday player for so many years it is hard for me to play three days a week. I'm sure there are some teams out there who want me."

Rose turned down the role the Phillies offered because he wants to break Ty Cobb's all-time career major league hit record. He has 3,990, just 201 short of Cobb's mark of 4,191. He needs just 10 to become the second player in major league history to record 4,000 hits.

He said he had not talked with any other clubs, debunking a report that he had agreed to play for the Atlanta Braves who have a spot in the outfield. There also have been reports he would return to his native Cincinnati, where he played 16 years for the Reds, to finish his career.

Rose's agent, Reuven Katz, who attended the news conference disclosing Rose's unconditional release, said: "Any rumors are false rumors. We haven't had any conversations with anyone. We didn't know until an hour ago what the Phillies had in mind."

Rose added: "It's against the rules to talk to anybody when you're under contract."

He said he would be willing to switch to the American League and perhaps play parttime as a designated hitter and parttime in the field.

"It's a major league baseball," he said.

Phillies' President Bill Giles announced the parting of the ways. He thanked him for his part in getting the Phillies to two World Series and one championship in his five years.

"I would say I admire him more than anybody who has ever been in the uniform," said Giles.

Rose said his greatest memory of his stay in Philadelphia was the 1980 championship parade down Broad Street. He expressed regret that the 1983 team didn't achieve its goal of winning the Series.

Rose signed a four year contract with the Phillies in December, 1978, at an estimated $3.3 million. He signed a one year contract last winter, which gave the Phillies an option to renew by Nov. 15, 1983. The contract also called for $300,000 buy out, which Rose described as a "nice going away present."

Ann Landers

Behind closed doors

Jan Walser

Two cups of water weigh about one pound.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has made me feel as if I am mentally deranged because I am highly critical of the following situation.

His son by a former marriage is 20 and sex-crazy. I don't need to tell you there are plenty of young girls around who go half naked with everything hanging out. It's enough to make a man's brain come unhitched.

My stepson "Gary" has a 17-year-old girl friend who visits his bedroom with the door closed. The first time this happened I told him I did not approve of such goings on, and he told me it was 1983 and to mind my own business.

On several occasions when Gary left to make a phone call or to take a shower, my husband went into the bedroom to visit the girl. He also kept the door closed. The last time this happened I told him I thought it was improper for him to be alone with the girl. He blew his top, said I was insanely jealous, that my mind was warped and she was "just a kid." (Some kid—a 40-inch bust and two layers of false eyelashes).

I do not think he is getting intimate with this "kid," but I believe it is in terrible taste to run into the bedroom everytime his son leaves. When I told him to cut it out, he yelled, "You are crazy!" Am I?—Fuming in Morristown

DEAR FUMING: He's the crazy one, but you aren't going to change him—so don't try. The whole thing smells like a barrel of lost herring.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My letter and your reply may be helpful to many middle-aged women with aging mothers.

I am employed, with children of my own. My mother is a widow in good health, financially secure and lives nearby. She is by no means alone. The woman has sisters and brothers who also live nearby, as well as friends and pleasant neighbors.

The problem: Our daily phone calls and frequent visits are becoming extremely unpleasant. The reason: My mother has always adored gossip but now she is obsessed with it. I can no longer tell her anything personal or confidential. No matter how many times I make her promise she will not repeat it, within two days everything I say in confidence comes back to me. You would not believe the number of hours she spends on the telephone and the dimensions of her network.

I feel used, and it infuriates me. How demeaning it is to be forced to weigh every word that comes out of my mouth. It seems the only safe topic is the weather. I feel guilty that I have these feelings about my own mother, but it's the only way I can protect myself. Comment, please.—Zipper Lip In Texas

DEAR ZIP: Trust, that basic element of friendship, is lacking in your relationship with your mother. Obviously you feel betrayed. Moreover, it is apparent that your mother uses gossip as currency—a common practice among people who have little else to offer.

You already have solved the problem by limiting your conversations to inconsequential subjects. You didn't need advice, just someone to unload on. I'm glad you wrote.

Chamber Singers to perform on Sunday

"A Festival of Praise" will be presented by the Hereford Chamber Singers at 3 p.m. Sunday in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church. The concert is free of charge and the public is invited.

The afternoon program will include several sacred selections in various musical styles.

Jan Walser will be the featured soloist in the major work, "Gospel Mass" by Robert Ray.

Other numbers are "Morning Has Broken" arranged by Ed Lojeski, "I Will Arise" arranged by James Buffaloe,

"Saul" by Egil Hovland, "Regina Coeli" by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, and

"Gradual" by Anton Bruckner.

The Chamber Singers are directed by Bill Devers. Elva Devers will accompany the group on piano, Rex Lee on bass, Brad Walser on drums, and Ms. Walser will play the organ on "Saul."

Bazaar slated in Lazbuddie

The Lazbuddie Young Homemakers will hold an arts and crafts Christmas bazaar on Saturday, Nov. 12, in the Lazbuddie School cafeteria.

All entries are welcome and the cafeteria will be open at 7:30 a.m. that day for set-ups. Booths along the wall (10x10) are $10 and middle booths are $7.50. Booths may be shared.

To reserve a booth space, send a card listing name, address, type of craft and preference of wall space, middle or shared booth to Vickie Burch, Route 1, Friona, Tx 79035.

THE SERMON GOD INTERRUPTED

"Just then," said Peter, "three men who had come to take me with them to Caesarea arrived at the house where I was staying!"

"The Holy Spirit told me to go with them and not to worry about their being Gentiles! These six brothers here accompanied me, and we soon arrive at the home of the man who had sent the messengers."

"He told us how an angel had appeared to him and told him to send messengers to Joppa to find Simon Peter! He will tell you how you and all your household can be saved!" the angel told him.

"Well, I began telling them the Good News, but just as I was getting started with my sermon, the Holy Spirit fell on them, just as he fell on us at the beginning! Then I thought of the Lord's words when He said, 'Yes, John baptized with water, but you shall be baptized with the Holy Spirit.' And since it was God who gave these Gentiles the same gift he gave us when we believed on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I to argue?"

When the others heard this, all their objections were answered and they began praising God! "Yes," they said, "God has given to the Gentiles, too, the privilege of turning to Him and receiving eternal life!"

Meanwhile, the believers who fled from Jerusalem during the persecution after Stephen's death traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus, and Antioch, scattering the Good News, but only to Jews. However, some of the believers who went to Antioch from Cyprus and Cyrene also gave their message about the Lord Jesus to some Greeks. And the Lord honored this effort so that large numbers of these Gentiles became believers.

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, Oct. 20, the 293rd day of 1983. There are 72 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Oct. 20, 1964, the 31st president of the United States, Herbert Hoover, died in New York, more than 31 years after leaving office. He was 90 years old and had lived longer than any other president except John Adams.

On this date:

In 1853, Benjamin Harrison married Caroline Scott; he became president and she first lady in 1889.

In 1910, a cork-center baseball was used for the first time in the World Series.

In 1918, Germany accepted U.S. terms to end World War I and ordered its submarines back to their home bases.

And in 1968, former first lady Jacqueline Kennedy married Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis.

Ten years ago: In the so-called "Saturday night massacre," President Richard Nixon fired special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox and Deputy Attorney General William French Smith, and Attorney General Elliot Richardson resigned in protest.

Five years ago: The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. agreed to the largest tire recall in history, 10 million Firestone 500 steel-belted radials.

One year ago: The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Milwaukee Brewers 6-3 to win the 1982 World Series in seven games.

Today's birthdays: Radio and TV personality Arlene Francis is 75. Columnist Art Buchwald is 58. Baseball Hall of Famer Mickey Mantle is 52.

Thought for today: "A good many things go around in the dark besides Santa Claus." — Herbert Hoover (1874-1964).

Silk diet
Silkworms feed on the leaves of the white mulberry. The worms will feed on leaves of other members of the mulberry family, but the quality of their silk is then poorer.

King's Manor Auxiliary officers installed Tuesday

Headed by Norma Walden as president, officers were elected by the King's Manor Auxiliary at its fall meeting Tuesday morning in Lamar Garden Room of the Manor.

Mrs. Walden will succeed Betty Martin, who was given a standing vote of appreciation for her services as president the last two terms.

Lottie Wertenberger was named vice-president, Bertha Dettman was returned to the secretary's office and Lucy Fae Cocanougher was named treasurer. Ruby Stevenson installed the new officers in a ceremony based on a poem, "Reward of Service," by Elizabeth Browning.

The program guest was Jeff Wakeley, director of music at First United Methodist Church, who spoke of America's favorite hymns and spirituals. He sang the hymns, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," "Beneath the Cross of Christ," and "God Be With You Til We Meet," also a spiritual, "Go Tell It on the Mountain." Virginia Holmes was his piano accompanist.

Reports of activities since the March Auxiliary meeting included volunteer work of 711 hours at the Manor by members. Dorothy Betzen, resident aid chairman, said 100 hours were added by Mrs. Wertenberger, bringing her total to 1,543; Margaret Ann Durham, for a total of 638; Della Stagner, 353; Dorothy Betzen, 273; and Theda Sevier, 200.

Bea Noland, activities director at the Manor, reported new blinds installed or ordered for residents' rooms after $661 had been raised at a recent rummage and bake sale and $1,500 at the balloon party last summer.

Birthday parties for residents have been scheduled for the remainder of this year and into 1984, with area organizations as hostesses, Jeane Dowell reported. Miss Stagner, transportation chairman, said her committee is caring for needs of the residents, and a group of young men from First Baptist Church volunteered to help when needed.

Miss Stagner and Lola Jowell have sent birthday cards to residents, and Mrs. Dettmann said the Cultural Extension Club also continues to send birthday greetings.

Mrs. Martin thanked Nadine Hill for her work as ticket chairman for the benefit barbecue in the summer, and expressed appreciation to the American Legion Auxiliary for its monthly bingo games which entertain residents.

Dr. Wallace Kirby, King's Manor chaplain, thanked the 31 members and guests present for help to the Manor, now and in the past. He reminded them of the annual Founders Day dinner, set for Nov. 10.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Letting gallstones be

DEAR DR. LAMB — I recently became diabetic. While in the hospital I underwent extensive tests and X-rays. They discovered that I had a stone in my gallbladder. My doctor wants me to have surgery to remove my gallbladder to, as he put it, prevent the stone from moving.

I am a man of 70 and have always been in excellent health and have worked hard all my life. The doctor said my body is in excellent shape but he is serious about the surgery.

My question is should I have this surgery? I have never had any pain or discomfort from this condition. I have a feeling I should let well enough alone.

DEAR READER — Of course I do not know the exact location of your stone but unless it is now causing obstruction I would seriously question the necessity of having surgery. Why? Because recent studies have changed the earlier opinions about the need to do surgery for gallstones. Older studies would have supported your doctor's view.

But a recent study published in Gastroenterology, volume 80, page 1161, 1981 reports that among people like you who have never had any symptoms, only 10 percent will develop symptoms within five years, 15 percent in 10 years and 18 percent in 15 years.

The thrust of the study is that you need not operate on silent gallstones. I have included the scientific reference because this is a relatively new change in what patients are advised. And, as the study indicates, if you happen to be one of those who do develop symptoms, you can be evaluated for surgery at that time. In the study only 2.5 percent developed acute gallbladder attacks or pancreatitis, so your chances of developing a problem that might require surgery are rather small.

I have discussed this change in recommendations in The Health Letter 20-6, Your Gallbladder: Stones and Attacks, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My 35-year-old son suddenly developed multiple sclerosis. After many tests his doctors have told him he has chronic progressive multiple sclerosis. Are there different types of this? Is there no hope for him? I am so worried. I would appreciate any advice or information you can give.

DEAR READER — I wish it were possible to be of more help. We really don't know what causes multiple sclerosis. It causes a patchy loss of the sheath that encases nerve fibers, affecting nerve function at random. The current best opinion is that a virus infection triggers off an abnormal immune response in people who inherit a susceptibility to such a reaction.

I don't want to encourage false hopes but a study of the effects of new treatment (ACTH with cyclophosphamide) provided some encouraging results in patients with the progressive multiple sclerosis (for doctors who want a reference, New England Journal of Medicine, Jan. 27, 1983). In 16 of 20 cases the patients had stabilized or improved after one year of study.

Yes, there are different degrees of severity of multiple sclerosis. Many cases that occur early in life have a good outlook. As many as 80 percent have no significant disability 10 years later.

Tests used as weapon against inflated grades

HOUSTON (AP) — Teachers are handing out so many high grades that Houston schools have decided to require students to pass standardized tests in key subjects or be forced to repeat the classes, superintendent Billy Reagan says.

District-wide testing in 14 subjects last spring reveals there is "little correlation between grades and knowledge obtained," Reagan said Wednesday.

"The startling evidence that comes forth is how many students are making A's and B's but yet are failing the departmental exams," he said at a student press conference at the High School for Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. "It is really a shocking situation."

Reagan said school-by-school scores from the sample testing of students last spring will be released within the next 30 days, after the district has determined the cutoff points for passing scores.

The school district board members have approved requiring the tests

World Series wraps up television ratings for ABC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The World Series grabbed four places in the Top 10 and sent ABC sliding into first place in the Nielsen ratings for the week ending Oct. 16.

ABC's victory stopped CBS, winner of the first two weeks of the fall season, and gave the season-to-date laurels to ABC.

The opening game of the World Series between the Baltimore Orioles and the Philadelphia Phillies was the top-rated show of the week. Game 2 was second, Game 3 was fifth, and Game 5, in which Baltimore clinched the series, was sixth. The final game Sunday afternoon ran into prime-time and was counted in the ratings, while Saturday's fourth game, all in the afternoon, was not counted.

ABC won the week in the A.C. Nielsen Co. survey with a rating of 20.2. CBS was second with 18.0 and NBC was third with 15.3. The networks say this means that in an average prime-time minute 20.2 percent of the country's TV homes were watching ABC.

The victory gave ABC a slim lead for the season. ABC has 18.2, CBS is second with 18.0 and NBC is third with 15.3.

ABC, outside of the World Series, did not place any regular shows in the Top 10. CBS had five shows and NBC one at the head of the list.

CBS' "Simon & Simon," in third place, was the highest-rated regular show. CBS' "AfterMASH" was fourth.

In seventh place was the NBC movie "Adam," which told of the fight by a Florida couple whose child was kidnapped and killed to have Congress establish a national register for missing children.

Other CBS winners: "The Country Music Awards" in eighth place, "Magnum, P.I." ninth and "Scarecrow and Mrs. King" tenth.

Most of the new network series remained at the bottom of the ratings, although it was an unusual week because of the World Series.

Two NBC shows made their season debuts. "Hill Street Blues" was 18th and "Silver Spoons" was 36th.

The lowest-rated show of the week once again was NBC's "First Camera," the magazine show it has placed up against CBS' "60 Minutes." The bottom five in descending order were CBS' "Cutter to Houston," a political telecast paid for by John Glenn on CBS, NBC's "For Love and Honor," NBC's "Coneheads" special, and "First Camera."

CBS maintained its lead among the evening news shows with a rating of 12.1. NBC was second with 10.6 and ABC was third with 10.0.

The week's 20 top programs:

1. World Series Game No. 1, ABC, a rating of 27.3 or 22.8 million households.
2. World Series Game No. 2, ABC, 26.8 or 22.4 million.
3. "Simon & Simon," CBS, 26.0 or 21.7 million.
4. "AfterMASH," CBS, 24.2 or 20.2 million.

On long distance

Most regulation dropped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has concluded there's only one "dominant" company in the long-distance communications business — the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. — and thus its competitors should be freed of virtually all regulation.

Completing work it began more than three years ago, the FCC voted unanimously Wednesday for "forbear" from regulating companies like MCI Communications and GTE-Sprint, and to substantially reduce its regulation of domestic satellite and telex and telegraph operators.

The decision means that companies like MCI will be free to raise or lower rates, enter new markets or discontinue services without the FCC's prior approval. Satellite operators like RCA American Communications and Satellite Business Systems, and domestic telex and telegraph providers like Western Union Telegraph, must still file proposals to change rates or services with the commission, but only on 14 days notice instead of 90 days. If the FCC does not overturn such a proposal in 14 days, the company will be free to implement the change.

The decision leaves only AT&T and firms offering in-Painting by Ruth Taylor and bronze sculptures by her son, Rolan Taylor, are on display this month at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center. Pictured with the display is Jackie Hammett.

Paintings, sculptures on display

Ruth and Rolan Taylor have been selected as feature artists for the month of October at the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center.

Ruth and her husband Edward live on a ranch in Yoakum County, Tx. She has studied art from a variety of teachers in that area as well as the instructors from the Northeast and England. She paints many different subjects and enjoys using oils, watercolors, pastels and ink.

Rolan Taylor, the artist's son, is a young cowboy bronze sculptor. His works reflect the love of the country and the people with whom he was reared.

The National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center invites all interested persons to visit the Hall and view this feature art.

Q: I'd like to try my hand at painting an old car of mine, but have seen too many botched jobs. What I'm particularly concerned about are the basics of sanding and priming. Are there any tips in this area toward a semi-professional job? A: You've actually hit on two of the most common places for going wrong. In sanding, use 360 or 400-grit wet-or-dry abrasive paper, using a hose or bucket of water to keep it wet, thereby preventing clogging of the abrasive with paint. Be sure to remove all gloss from the entire surface. If you miss some, the new paint won't bond. After sanding, apply primer to any bare metal. After sanding and priming, wash the car, and rinse completely to remove all soap. Now, let the surface dry completely — and don't even touch it for at least a day. Even the oil from your hands will cause new paint to bond improperly.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with rules and orders of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of its intent to re-file evidence and appropriate tariff(s) in support of a request to establish rates for the use of certain complex inside telephone wiring in the amount of $54.5 million annually. This request was previously a part of the considerations in Docket 5141 and now has been re-docketed as Docket 5420.

Customers who do not own the Complex Inside Wire associated with their Customer Premises Systems (such as PBX and Key Systems), and who utilize Southwestern Bell's wiring after January 1, 1984, could be affected by this request. On January 1, 1984, all of the Customer Premises Systems presently provided by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will be transferred to a subsidiary of AT&T and that subsidiary of AT&T will be almost exclusively responsible for the charges pursuant to the proposed tariff on January 1, 1984. After January 1, 1984, customers who purchase their Complex Customer Premises Equipment and do not purchase, but continue to use, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's inside wire will be subject to the charges proposed in the tariff.

The proposed effective date for these new rates is January 1, 1984.

Persons interested in intervening in this matter should file a written motion expeditiously with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Austin, Texas 78757, as the Hearing on the Merits in Docket 5420 is set for November 21, 1983.
