

Col. Garrison Honored As World's No. 1 Peace Officer At Austin Fete

By BO BYERS

Austin, (AP)—Col. Homer Garrison, Jr.—No. 1 peace officer of the world.

That's what they called him at a recent dinner honoring the director of the Texas Department of Public Safety after he had been elected president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Tribute came from many men. Bob Dysart, Fort Worth chief of police and president of the Texas Police Association, said it first:

"Col. Garrison is not only the number one peace officer in Texas, but he is now the number one peace officer internationally. Texas peace officers respect him no end. I have never heard a single man speak a derogatory word of Homer Garrison."

Appreciation Expressed

Albert Sidney of Dallas, a member of the Public Safety Commission and one of the commissioners who originally named Garrison Public Safety director, expressed appreciation of the fine work done by Garrison and his department.

He remembered that the final ballot on which the commission chose Garrison director in 1938 "was based on what a fine woman his wife was. We knew he couldn't go wrong."

Johnson recalled "the natural suspicions that surrounded the creation of a new state department—fear that it would take away power from local officers."

"Cynics said, 'Well, it's started off all right, but just wait. It will be in politics. The merit system won't work.'"

Then Johnson thundered: "It's not in politics. There's no favoritism, and it's up to us and the people of Texas to see it never gets in politics."

Jester Pays Homage

Gov. Beauford H. Jester paid final homage.

He looked at the crowd of 225 persons who filled the hotel ballroom and observed that a gross section of every business and industry, all levels of state government, and every branch of law enforcement in Texas was present to honor Garrison.

"Texas honors, it's number one peace officer," said Jester.

"We are grateful to you. You have given us a fine department of public safety, a department known throughout the nation."

Garrison, a 47-year old husky who started his law enforcement career as deputy sheriff of Angeline County at 19, acknowledged the praise.

"I have always prided myself on the ability to rise to any occasion, but I can't tonight."

"This tribute and recognition—I don't feel it should come to me tonight, but to the men of my organization. I want them all to stand up so you can see them."

Hearty Applause

There was hearty applause for the men in the blue uniforms of the Highway Patrol, brown of the Driver's License Division, and plain clothes of other office workers.

Then Garrison gave credit to his "bosses" for helping him to reach the top. First of his bosses, he said, was "My dad, Homer Garrison, Sr., who has set the pattern for me to follow. He moved a lot of obstacles out of the path and made it easy for me to follow in his footsteps."

Garrison also praised Dan Moody, who was governor when he joined the License and Weight division in 1929; Johnson; Jester; George Prendergast, his "boss" as chairman of the Com-

Personal

Mrs. O. G. Hill attended a school of instructions held in Dimmitt by Mrs. Patillo, of Lubbock. Mrs. Patillo is district president of the Women's Missionary Union. Mrs. Hill represented the Baptist Tierra Blanca Association W. M. U. acting in the capacity of president of the local group.

A group of teachers left Wednesday to attend the Thanksgiving Cotton Bowl Game between TCU and SMU in Dallas. Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Criswell, Pat Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Thompson. Enroute they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Brantley, former teachers here. The Criswells will also visit their parents in Throckmorton before returning with the group Sunday.

mission of Public Safety; Supreme Court Chief Justice J. E. Hickman; and Attorney General Price Daniel.

Garrison was a deputy sheriff until 1929, became a member of the Highway Patrol when it was consolidated with the license and weight division in 1930, and was assistant director of the Department of Public Safety from 1935 to 1938.

INDIA FACED WITH LANGUAGE DISPUTE

NEW DELHI, (AP)—Warring of a possible disintegration of India on the language issue has been given by a member of the constituent assembly. T. T. Krishnamachari, a delegate from Madras, says if North India in its exuberance for a national language wanted to force Hindi on the whole of India, "the chances are South India which knows little Hindi will like to cut off from the rest of India."

Hindi is spoken or understood by the majority of India's 325,000,000 but in the South it is an alien dialect. It is so especially in the Madras province and in the princely states of Mysore, Travancore and Cochin.

The controversy in the constituent assembly arose out of the demand of some of its members from the united provinces to conduct the proceedings in Hindi and to draft the constitution in Hindi. "Without a national language, independence will be meaningless," they asserted.

The past hatred in South India for the English language as being foreign had gone with the departure of the British, Krishnamachari says. "The impatience and intolerance of the North is starting a new hatred though Hindi is ultimately destined to become the national language of India."

Miss Cecilia Guseman, daughter of C. T. Guseman, is home from Denver, where she is a student at the University, to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.

Thanksgiving

As we once again turn away from our everyday activities to observe Thanksgiving Day, we should enumerate the things which demand our gratitude. They are truly innumerable. We give thanks for our country... free, strong and prosperous. We give thanks for the spirit of goodwill and kindness which pervades us as a nation. We give thanks for home, for family, and for a community in which we are glad and proud to live. We give thanks to God... the giver of all good things.

SMOG RELIEF SOUGHT

LONDON, (AP)—The "cheerful open fire" which Britons worship is wiling both the nation's housewives and its choice orchids, the National Smoke Abatement Society reports. The society says, for instance, that the smoking chimneys of Manchester make housewives toil an hour longer over their tubs on every wash day than do the wives at nearby Hasfrigate, the spa of northern England. One of last winter's smogs made all the orchids and orchid buds in famed Kew Gardens drop off within twenty four hours. The society, long time campaigner for a smoke abatement plan like that used in St. Louis, Mo., estimated smoke and smog damage in Britain costs at least $400,000,000 a year.

Wyche Club Makes Plans For Christmas

"Glass House of Prejudice" was the book selected from the T. H. D. A. reading list for review Thursday afternoon when the Wyche Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Ira Ott, Mrs. N. G. Elliston was the reviewer. Mrs. Ira Ott conducted the business meeting and plans were completed for the annual dinner honoring husbands which will be held in the Ira Scott home on December 3.

Reports were heard and Mrs. Ira Ott announced that the Happy Home 4-H Girls were winners of three first prize ribbons and four second place awards in the recent 4-H Show and sale.

It was announced that the next regular meeting will be in the form of a Christmas party on December 18 in the home of Mrs. R. L. Coconougher. Members and guests present were Mesdames George L. Olson, E. C. Hewitt, N. G. Elliston, Troys Carmichael, Ira Scott, H. H. Caraway, V. P. Walker, Helen Timber, Los Angeles, Calif., Mary Ott and the hostess. Others present were Linda Hewitt and Nell Walker.

Danger of Sleeping In Room With Gas Burning Is Sounded

AUSTIN, —With the advent of cold weather each year in this state, several deaths are usually reported, resulting from asphyxiation by gas fumes in improperly ventilated homes or sleeping quarters.

Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning in this respect, emphasizing that it is never safe to sleep in a tightly closed room with a gas fire burning. Even if there are no gas leaks, the air soon becomes vitiated and unfit to breathe.

"When occupying a room in which gas is burning, be sure always to have at least one window or door open, to admit fresh air," Dr. Cox said. "If the weather is too cold to permit leaving an open window in the room occupied, then play safe by opening a door into an adjoining room, where a window can be opened." "Occupying a room heated by an open gas flame, and at the same time keeping the room tightly closed, may prove disastrous the very first time it is tried," Dr. Cox said. "It is better not to risk it even one time. Always be sure that your room has plenty of fresh air, but make doubly sure when you have a gas fire burning," he added.

LOTTERY IN INDIA MAY REHABILITATE REFUGEES

SIMLA, India, (AP)—The government of East Punjab has decided to hold a state lottery with "world-wide scope" for raising a sum of $150,000,000 for the rehabilitation of 4,000,000 non-Muslim refugees.

A letter has been addressed to the government of India asking it to organize the lottery or permit the East Punjab government to organize it.

The question was also discussed during recent finance minister's conferences in Delhi. Dick Lucas, new employee at the Hereford State Bank left Monday for Wichita, Kans. to be with his family for Thanksgiving then he will move them here to live. They will be located in one of the Cone duplex homes on Knight Street. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Lucas the family includes a two-year old son, Rickey and a three week old son, Jack.

Treasure Is Stolen By Communists In Burma

RANGOON, (AP)—Burmese Communists, occupying the sleepy village of Payabyo, 30 miles east of the rail junction of Pegu, hit what proved to be more than "pay dirt."

The Reds faced the threat of a government attack. They decided to "dig in." Accident rather than design guided their picks to a spot where six years previously Pegu's wealthiest citizen, U Sein Win, buried his riches when the Japanese overran Burma.

The Communists uncovered two large chests. They pried one open—and found it crammed with currency and jewelry. Government troops arriving at Payabyo found no sign of the Communists. But Sein Win, who accompanied them to investigate the safety of his hidden treasure, found plenty of evidence of their recent presence. The larger of the two chests, containing gold, jewelry and currency worth more than 130,000 pounds sterling, had disappeared. The Communists had decided that wealth was preferable to prestige.

For Sein Win there was some consolation. The smaller chest was untouched. It contained approximately 40,000 pounds sterling. Sein Win, learning the hard way, has removed its contents to a place of greater safety—a local bank.

High Wind Teams With Tumble Weeds To Break Down Fences

By MRS. W. R. MOORE
There were plenty tumble weeds in the air last Thursday and quite a few fences were broken down by the weight of the weeds which blew across the fields and stacked up against the fences.

Rev. Ivan Chiles of Plainview Wayland College preached at the Palo Duro Church Sunday for both the morning and evening services.

A group of young people enjoyed a party at the Daniel School Tuesday night. Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Womble Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Higgins, Wilma, Billy, Harold D. and Joyce Moore, David and Dick Axe, Truman Price, Oliver Ray, Billy and Weldon Finney, Ike Wilcox, Miss Marco Summer of Summerfield; Milton Newman, Jack Foster and Pat Miller of Denver, Mary Jane Pickens, Doris Jean Williams, Joyce McGee, Earl Smith, Wendall and Harold Morton and Richard Alston of Hereford; Charles Greaham and LeRoy Burgess of Progressive Community; Jimmie, Charles and Carroll Russell.

Released From Hospital
Mrs. E. W. Womble Sr. was released from the Canyon hospital last week after several weeks there following a car accident earlier which occurred between the Womble ranch and Canyon.

Mrs. J. F. Matthews made a business trip to Lorenzo last Wednesday and visited friends in Abernathy Thursday. Miss Neta Jo Moore of Plain-

Blackhawks Beat Rangers To Make Class A Finals

The Phillips Blackhawks went into the district 1-A Class A finals Friday night when they hammered out a 7-0 win over the Perryton Rangers on a muddy field gridiron.

In beating the Rangers, the Blackhawks, highest scoring high school team in this section, chalked up their 10th victory of the season.

The first team the Blackhawks will meet in the Class A playoffs will be the Lefors Pirates of District 2-A.

The Phillips victory was marred, however, when 148-pound Quarterback Billy Hughes received an arm fracture during the first quarter when he tackled Rayford Powell, 180-pound Perryton fullback.

Loss of Hughes undoubtedly will harm the Blackhawks' chances in the state playoff.

Suicide Attempt Fails; Four Burmese Arrested

RANGOON, (AP)—Four young Burmese government employees, depressed by chaotic conditions in their country, made a suicide pact.

But they decided to enjoy a final good time before they died. During the weekend, the four—two policemen, a clerk and a messenger boy—met at a Rangoon hotel. They ordered the best food and drink available.

Then, linking arms, they staggered down to the waterfront. In full view of bystanders, they bade each other goodbye. Then they jumped into the river. Horrified onlookers summoned aid. Two of the four were rescued.

They told their story to the police. The law charged both with attempted suicide.

Couples Are Entertained

A recent party of interest to members of the As-You-Like-It Club was the dinner session and forty-two party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Blue. Mrs. Blue was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Bill Brady.

A white and yellow theme was carried out in table decorations with chrysanthemums and candles giving the decorative accent. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hopson won the couple prize for high score and the Jack Grady's won the low award. Couples attending were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hopson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grady and the hosts. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Covington expect to spend the Thanksgiving weekend in Winslow, Arizona. They will be guests of Mr. Covington's relatives while there.

Story to be told an American child...

A LONG, LONG time ago, in a land way across the Atlantic Ocean, there were some people called the Pilgrims.

These people lived under a wicked king who wouldn't let them do what they wanted to do. They wanted to worship God in their own way, and he wouldn't let them.

So they got together in each other's houses, and they locked the doors, and they talked—so that no one outside would hear them—about what they ought to do. And they decided to sail in a ship to the other side of the world.

They decided to sail to America.

After many weeks on the ocean, they arrived on strange shores. The woods were all about them and not even the promise of food. Yet they got down on their knees and thanked God that they were safe.

The men went into the woods and cut down trees and built homes. Some of them were killed by the Indians. So they set up guards to protect them from the Indians while they planted seeds for food for their wives and their children and themselves to eat.

Then the winter came, and it got cold, and many of them got sick and died. But the others carried on. And in the spring they planted again. All the time they had to fight off the Indians to protect themselves.

That year, when the harvest was in, they all got together and knelt on their knees and thanked God for being so good to them. They had their troubles, but at least they had their freedom—and that was why they thanked God. For they felt that nothing was better than freedom—and nothing is.

It's been a long time since the Pilgrims first came here. But every fall we still have Thanksgiving. For no matter what happens—whether we have war, or sickness, or trouble of any kind—just like the Pilgrims, we can still do what we want to do here in America. We still have freedom.

And that's why we have Thanksgiving here in America. Nobody anywhere else in the world has Thanksgiving. For nobody anywhere else in the world has quite what we have here in America.

Some day maybe everywhere in the world they'll have Thanksgiving. Because maybe some day, everywhere else in the world, they'll have what we have here in America.

So let's all of us, right now, not only thank God for what we have, but pray to Him that everybody, everywhere else in the world, can some day be just as lucky as we are.

Don't you think we ought to?

Freedom is everybody's job

WORE OUT BUGGY 16 YEARS AGO

Parker County Circuit Preacher Makes Rounds On Old Paint Mare

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer
Parker County still has a circuit-riding horseback preacher, a grizzled, kindly old farmer-philosopher who spends Saturday in the saddle to deliver the Word of God on Sunday.

Every week-end for 54 years, 76-year old Benjamin Johnson Forbes has traveled by horse or buggy to preach in the churches of Parker and neighboring counties.

"When I wore out my last buggy," he says, "I couldn't get another one. So for 16 years Ollie has been carrying me."

Ollie is Forbe's 20-year old paint mare, a fat, patient creature which pulls the preacher's slow five days a week and totes him to and from his guest pulpits assignments the other two days.

Before Ollie, Brother Forbes, as he is known, had a sorrel horse 23 years.

Sorrel Was Too Rough to Ride
The sorrel was too rough to ride but she sure could get along with that buggy. Ollie rides smooth and easy. She's a 'fox trotter' and a single-footer but mostly a fox-trotter. A 'fox trotter' is a lot easier on a man than a jog trotter.

Forbes lives in the Balch community of Parker County, 12 miles south of Weatherford. He owns 265 acres, most of which he leases to his daughter and son-in-law with whom he resides. But he reserves for himself and Ollie a small orchard, a garden and 10-acre plot on which he grows cotton, feed and corn. "I also own a couple of hogs."

Up at dawn, Forbes farms all dusk five days per week works without rest, not even taking time out for lunch. "Ollie and I figure two meals a day are enough for us."

Is Church of Christ Minister
A minister of the Church of Christ, Brother Forbes preaches in Parker, Palo Pinto, Earth and Hood counties. "Distances don't make much difference—Ollie and I get up early and travel late. And we take the near cuts—just strike right out over the fields and little roads and once in awhile we hit an old road, no longer in use, that I traveled decades ago. A man can really think back riding an old road for an old road's like meeting an old friend."

While following the plow on weekdays or riding Ollie to church, Forbes composes and rehearses his sermons. "I follow Brother Forbes across my ranch the other day," a friend says. "He didn't know I was there and I listened to one of the best sermons I ever heard."

And Forbes declares: "A man can lose himself and prepare a sermon on horseback. He never could do that in a car—most likely he'd find himself in a ditch."

Reflects on State of World
Sometimes, riding along on Ollie, Brother Forbes reflects on the state of the world. "I've always been an optimist and hope I always will be. I think everything will turn out for the best. There's a great world crime wave on now, but crime waves ebb and flow like the ocean tides."

A native of Pettus County, Mo., Forbes came to Collin County, Texas in 1889. He went to Add-Ran Christian College at Throp Suring, Hood County (a school that later became Texas Christian University) After leaving the college in 1898 he taught school in Parker and Hood counties before settling down to his main occupation as a farmer.

Brown-eyed Brother Forbes was Parker County's representative in the Texas legislature from 1928 to 1932. Slightly built and of medium height, he weighs 140 pounds, his thick crop of hair is now grey. "Once it was red as a woodchuck—folks could warm their hands over it in winter." Overall, a cotton shirt and an old straw hat cannot hide the innate dignity of this quiet, serious, well-loved man. There is dignity in his weatherproof face, in his manner and voice, and in his strong, toll-scarred hands the dignity is there.

To find the oldtimer you follow a lonely country road a dozen miles south of Weatherford. You go through a couple of barbed wire gates, cross a cottonfield path and stop your car at the bank of a dry river. After that, you are on foot and you follow the river a quarter of a mile, cross it, and walk through snagging brush another quarter of a mile and then you catch sight of Forbes and Ollie, plowing.

Trow Bale of Cotton
This year, he and Ollie plowed, planted and picked three acres of cotton which yielded a bale, and five acres of corn which amounted to 125 bushels. All that, besides the feed crop, Forbes never hires any help. "Ollie and I do every lick."

The pair are admirably-suited. "Ollie goes along nice and slow but she keeps going. When I was younger and after I wasn't so young, I followed a team of mules, but those plagued mules just wore me down."

Forbes has a son and a daughter. His wife died in 1931.

He never sets any fee for his sermons—just takes any pay the churches want to give him. He spends Saturday nights at the homes of the brethren. "I'm always welcome."

Brother Forbes can read the New Testament in Greek as easily as in English but he doesn't read the Bible much any more.

"I've read it so much that now I just think the Bible instead of reading it. I just turn the verses and chapters over in my mind."

He preaches without notes. "Folks have been after me to set down some of my sermons for the young men who will come along when I'm gone." He stood ankle deep in the sandy loam of his lonely field, surveyed those 10 acres and sighed: "I'll do it if I ever have enough time." He smiled faintly at this and added: "No man ever has enough time."

Former Marines Offered Choice of Duty Stations

Former Marines re-enlisting now may have a choice of duty stations, the NCO in charge of the Amarillo Marine recruiting station announced this week.

Former Marines also may request special overseas assignments, he said and added that men interested in this new program may obtain details at room 208, Post Office Building, Amarillo.

Men between the ages of 18 and 19 may enlist in the corps for a period of one year.

Completes with cement mixer, left, in which the batter was mixed, this Paul Bunyan pancake supper took on gigantic proportions in Iron Mountain, Mich. About 4000 persons attended the party, a benefit given by Iron Mountain and nearby Kingsford Boy and Girl Scouts to aid their local Community Chest drives. Hungry guests kept the mixer mixing batter at top speed.

Bookout Awarded Trip To Indiana For Salesmanship

Hugh Bookout, manager of the Commercial Oil company store in Hereford, has won a trip to Evansville, Indiana for selling Seryel products.

A six-day trip with expenses paid will begin when he boards the train in Amarillo to travel by way of Chicago where he will spend one day on his return trip.

Part of the program planned will include a tour through the Commercial plant at Evansville. Mrs. Bookout will be unable to accompany him as she will manage the store in his absence.

In Amarillo Bookout will join other Commercial representatives making the trip. Fourteen towns from the Panhandle to be represented at Evansville are Dumas, Silverton, Dimmitt, Amarillo, Spearman, Dalhart, Stratford, Quitaque, Channing, Borger, Vega, and Guymon.

Bookout sold over a hundred refrigerators and water tanks for the company and which totaled above the quota necessary to win the award.

Funeral Is Held For W. B. Haile, Father Of Former Hereford Man

Funeral services for W. B. (Burt) Haile, 78, father of Meade Haile, former owner of the Haile drug store in Hereford, was held Tuesday afternoon at the Clarendon Baptist church with Rev. Mathew Doyle officiating.

The elder Mr. Haile died in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo Saturday morning after having suffered a stroke in the early part of the summer. He had been in the hospital since September 5.

He was a cattleman and had oil holdings.

Mr. Haile was well-known as a philanthropist.

Before coming to the Panhandle he was engaged in the cattle business in the lower plains country. He was born in 1870 in Grayson county.

Mr. Haile married Miss Minnie V. Fisher in Collinsworth in 1906. After his first wife died, he married Mrs. Irene Faye.

Through the years Mr. Haile was a leader in the communities in which he lived and played an important part in their development. He was well known as an early-day settler in this part of the country, having lived near Clarendon since 1919.

Interment was in the Clarendon Cemetery under the direction of Blackburn-Shaw of Amarillo.

Survivors in addition to Meade, now of San Angelo, include three sons, William C. Corona, Cal. J. B. Haile, Midland, Texas; and Byron of Yakima, Wash.; three daughters, Mrs. Monroe Herrings, Rogers, Ark.; Mrs. Clyde Holtzclaw, Amarillo; and Mrs. Clyde Martin, Clarendon; two step-daughters, Mrs. Buel Gray, Skellytown; and Mrs. Paul Russ, Panhandle; 12 grand children and three great grandchildren.

Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Beavers and Milton Beavers plan to spend the holidays in Lubbock with a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Hendricks and family.

Mr. and Mrs. William Richards left this week for DeFuniak, Fla. to spend the winter. They had lived here for some time near her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hodges.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Barnard and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Crutchfield and family will spend the Thanksgiving holidays with Mrs. Barnard's and Mr. Crutchfield's mother, Mrs. Matie Crutchfield of Pampa. Two other sisters who live there will join the group in a family get together.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagoner and family will be in Hobbs, New Mexico with her twin sister and other relatives for a family reunion during the holidays. Howard Gault, are expected home to spend Thanksgiving with their families. The boys are students at Colorado A&M College at Fort Collins.

solo; a piano duet, "Over the Waves," by Patricia Walton and Myrtle Smith and a lighted baton routine by Bobby Nell Pitman.

Annually Master of Ceremonies Beta Eta president Beas Hager welcomed the audience and introduced Sam Nunnally who acted as master of ceremonies. He in turn presented Elmer Patterson who showed his ten minute technicolor movie of Hereford's Golden Anniversary Celebration.

Jack Cogsdell, English III teacher at the High School, played a composition of his own and in a hilarious encore did variations on "You Are My Sunshine" ranging from a classical to a jazz interpretation.

Clovis Musicians, Del Miller and Gregory Montoya, playing a electric steel guitar and a Hawaiian guitar, serenaded the audience with "Isle of Golden Dreams" and "Steel Guitar Rag." Beta Eta Member Wanda Ward rounded out the musical entertainment playing her accordion. Accompanied by Jack Cogsdell she did "Twelfth Street Rag," and "Along the Navajo Trail."

Concluding the program the Jaycees presented their "Womanless Wedding," skit. They were dressed to represent natives of Lower Slobbovia with pigtailed mustaches, blacked out teeth and drooping pantaloons.

While the audience rocked with laughter at the costumes and uninhibited antics of the Jaycees performers, the wedding got underway. The singer rendered "Feudin and Fightin" as wedding music while doing some hill billy jitterbugging. The bride came mincing down the aisle on the arm of her father, surrounded by bridesmaids and a ring bearer. The groom, being wed under duress came to only in time to say "I Do" and then fainted again at the prospects of kissing the

Whiteface Calves Swamp Tulia' B's 26-0 For Seventh Straight Victory Of Season

By JUNIOR McGEE
In their final game of the year, the Hereford Calves marched away to their seventh straight victory of the season when they defeated the "B" team Tulia Hornets 26 to 0 Friday afternoon at Whiteface Stadium.

Scoring in every quarter, it was the Calves' game all the way with Walterscheid and Brock making the touchdowns.

The first score came in the opening minutes of the game after the Calves kicked off to the Hornets' 15-yard line.

Webb took the ball for the Hornets, ran it back to the 20-yard line, then attempted a pass which was intercepted by Morton for the Calves. Morton ran the ball to the Calves' 10-yard line.

ball and ran it back to the 50-yard line. Again Walterscheid and Forbes made short gains to carry the ball to the 20-yard line from (Continued on Page 3)

On the first day of the deer hunting season, David Carter (above) of San Antonio shot what turned out to be a doe with eight points and a fifteen-inch spread of antlers near New Braunfels. Carter said the 86-pound deer was large for the hill country and that he understood the freak of nature occurs once in 20,000 times.

Calves Win Every Game; Are Score On But One Time

Winning every game and being scored on but once, the Hereford Calves—"B" team of the Hereford High School, completed the current football season Friday with every member of the squad eligible for the first string team next year, provided of course his school grades are satisfactory, Dalton Criswell, assistant high school coach, said Monday.

Criswell said this was the first full season for the Calves. Last year they went to Happy for their only game of the season, he added.

The creation of a "B" conference was decided upon at a District 1-A school executives meeting last spring, Criswell said.

During the 1948 season the Calves played seven games with Happy, Dumas, Canyon, Perryton, Dalhart, Tulia and Phillip which made one touchdown, the only team to score.

West Hereford Home Demonstration Club Holds Annual Holiday Banquet

The First Thanksgiving was the theme evidenced in all decorations and appointments for the annual West Hereford Home Demonstration Club banquet held at the Lions-Rotary banquet hall Friday night. Large yellow bowls filled with ruddy-toned fruit, were flanked by matching tapers and miniature men and women Pilgrims marched along a center line of the "T" shaped table. Stacks of feed and pumpkins added color and atmosphere to the room.

Bruce Wooddell served as toastmaster and following the doxology sung by the group, Mrs. Ed Cox, president, gave the invocation. Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr. welcomed the husbands who were honor guests, and Travis Caraway responded. Sandra Jo Caraway entertained with a piano solo.

A poem, "The Landing of the Pilgrims," read by Ginger Smith and a barber shop octette concluded the program with A. L. Thomas giving the benediction. Games of forty-two provided entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

Members and their families attending were Messrs. and Mesdames A. L. Thomas, E. M. Cox, Vern Witherspoon, Jack Flowers, Howard Gore, Elton Brooks, L. H. McMurry, Travis Caraway, P. H. Luck, Bernice Luck, Roy Boyd, Carlos Vaughn, Jimmie Mercer, Bruce Wooddell, Neill Young, Alfred Smith, Tom Garner, Mesdames John Jacobsen Sr., Minnie Walker, A. G. Bell, Ida Vaughn, Birdie Dee Fellers, Misses Evelyn Bell, Ara Lewis, Jeanie Rusk, Glenda Barnett, and Chris Jacobsen and Melvin Garner.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McWright are expected home Wednesday from an extended trip visiting his mother and other relatives in Mt. Hope and Birmingham, Ala. Enroute they visited with Mrs. McWright's sister, Mrs. Nina Vassey in Beeville.

Benefit Tea Is Held By Church Council Group

Members of the Woman's Church Council of the First Christian Church held a benefit tea at the home of Mrs. J. C. Ricketts Tuesday afternoon. Proceeds went to the Juliet Fowler Home in Dallas.

The program consisted of readings by Nancy Cagle, piano selections by Donna Jean Stagner and piano music and readings given by Jane Welch. Betty Jo Carnahan entertained with readings and Marilyn Barkley gave vocal selections.

The refreshment table was covered with lace and decorated with a blue horn-of-plenty overflowing with ruddy-hued fruit in varied shades of gold, yellow and orange. Orange tapers burned in candle holders in shapes of miniature turkeys. Silver appointments marked the table arrangement and presidents of the circle groups assumed table duties. They included Mesdames C. H. Dyer, Robert Veigel, J. M. Posey and O. H. Culpepper, general president.

Others in the house party were Mesdames George Muse, J. J. Clark, Frances Maxfield, J. E. Kirby, B. F. Cain and Mrs. Ricketts.

Bob Lawrence, educational director of the First Baptist Church is assisting Rev. Harmon Cole this week in revival services at Happy. Rev. Cole is well known here as he was former pastor at Summerfield.

Luncheon-Program Entertains Club

Miniature turkeys were used to decorate luncheon tables Thursday when Mrs. Zerrell Thomas was hostess to members of the Farm and Ranch Club. A fruit center piece for the table indicated the harvest season.

After the luncheon a business meeting was held and a program on home decorating was presented. Mrs. Phillip Miller stressed the importance of choosing draperies to blend with walls and furniture in her talk on interior decorating and Mrs. Ed Thomas discussed the subject "Furniture Arrangement." Music was provided by Mrs. Zerrell Thomas and at the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Phillip Miller was winner of the club prize.

Dawn Club Plans Christmas Party

Dawn Home Demonstration Club met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Walter Galley. Members answered roll call by listing books they have read from the T. H. D. A. reading list.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party which will be held in the home of Mrs. T. L. Sparkman on December 10. Secret pals will be revealed at the party.

Those attending were Mesdames W. T. Beavers, A. C. Hershey, W. W. Wilcox, R. A. Frye, C. P. Norton, J. B. Caraway, Ray T. Stewart, Orval Galley, Ted Stewart, Miss Lula Botsford and the hostess.

Texas Bats Cheated Out of World War II Role By Atom Bomb

Hondo, Tex., (AP)—Listen to the strange story of Medina county bats, how they were conscripted for a secret role in World War II, only to be cheated out of service by the atom bomb.

For a long time the secret was kept as dark as the Frio and Ney caves near here, where the bats lived in peace—until the war came.

Of course, they were signed up in the air corps, no less. Hondo learned of the bats when F. Alton Everest of the Moody Bible Institute came here to look over the two caves as a possible scene for a religious movie.

He's interested in bats. He's studied them. That's how he happened to learn of the part South Texas bats were designed to play in winning the war. The army, he said, made elaborate plans to use them as flying wings for powerful incendiary bombs to destroy the Japanese war industries.

Military strategists were ready to strap the bombs on the bats and send them overseas. Then came the A. bomb. The bat went out.

The army, after attaching the bombs to the bats, planned to freeze them, ship them by air to the Japanese Islands and drop them out over major targets.

As the bats came nearer the warmer air close to the ground they would begin to thaw and fly around until a time fuse fan out, exploding the bomb and scattering fire in all directions. It was suicide for the bats.

Experiments were carried out at the air force base here. Most of the bats, ready to give their lives to their country, came from the Frio and Ney caves. The experiments proved successful.

An unused airbase in New Mexico was used as the experimental target.

The "bat-ting" average was high. The place was left in charred ruins.

The Louie L. LeGrand family expect their daughter, Mary Estelle of Hardin-Simmons, Abilene, and a son, George L. LeGrand of Baylor at Waco for the Thanksgiving holidays. Mrs. George L. LeGrand will also form part of the family circle here.

Let 'er blow...

The one thing that won't help you through the winter is a lot of talk. So we'll make it brief:
 Change now to winter-grade Conoco No. 1 Motor Oil for faster starts, peak winter engine performance and the full-time protection of OIL-PLATING.
 Faster starts: Winter-grade No. 1 is specially refined to lubricate your engine even when the temperature plunges. It's free-flowing.
 Peak winter performance: When you drain out that thick, dirty summer oil, you say goodbye to balky engine response. Winter-grade No. 1 puts June under the hood!
 Full-time protection: A special added ingredient fastens an extra protective film of lubricant to metal surfaces... OIL-PLATES every working part... cuts down "dry" friction starts and general engine wear.
 Let winter blow...

B. Armstrong and Mrs. T. B. Armstrong, and each of them; the unknown spouses of T. B. Armstrong and Mrs. T. B. Armstrong, and each of them; the unknown heirs, assigns, devisees and legal representatives of the unknown spouses of T. B. Armstrong and Mrs. T. B. Armstrong, and each of them, who may be deceased; the unknown owner or owners of the Northeast 1/4 of Section No. 26, Township 2, Range 1 East, Deaf Smith County, Texas; and any and all persons owning or having or claiming any legal or equitable interest in or liens upon said land.

That all of the Northeast 1/4 of Section No. 26, Township 2, Range 1 East, Deaf Smith County, Texas, so involved in said suit is situated in Deaf Smith County, Texas. Said land is delinquent to the plaintiff in said suit for ad valorem taxes in the amount of $208.50, exclusive of interest, penalties and costs; and there is included in said suit, in addition to the taxes, all interest, penalties and costs thereon allowed by law up to and including the day of judgment therein.

You are hereby notified that suit has been brought by the State of Texas and County of Deaf Smith, as plaintiff, against each and all of the defendants above named, and also against Clarence Dixon.

You are further notified that said suit was brought by petition filed on the 12 day of November, 1948, in a certain suit styled "State of Texas and County of Deaf Smith vs. Clarence Dixon, et al" for collection of the ad valorem taxes on said land above described, as well as penalties, interest and costs; and that said suit is now pending in the District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, 69th Judicial District; and that the file number of said suit is 3110.

That said suit is also brought for the purpose of foreclosure of lien securing the payment of such taxes, interest, penalties and costs allowed by law as to and against said land.

All parties to said suit shall take notice that claims not only for any taxes which were delinquent on said land above described at the time said suit was filed, but all taxes becoming delinquent thereon at any time thereafter up to the day of judgment, including all interest, penalties and costs allowed by law thereon, may, upon request, be recovered in said suit without further citation or notice to any parties therein; and all of said parties to said suit shall take notice of and plead in answer to all claims and pleadings now on file and which may hereafter be filed in said suit.

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear and defend said suit on the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from and after the date of issuance hereof, the same being the 27 day of December, 1948, which is the return day of this citation, before the Honorable District Court of Deaf Smith County, Texas, to be held at the Courtroom thereof, then and there to show cause why judgment shall not be rendered in said suit for such taxes, penalties, interest and costs and condemning said land and ordering foreclosure of the constitutional and statutory tax liens thereon for taxes due to plaintiff, together with all interest, penalties and costs allowed by law up to and including the day of judgment therein, and all costs of said suit.

LET'S LOOK INTO THIS TRADITION...

Thanksgiving means a lot of work for Mother... let's not deny it! The question before the house is... "Why not pitch in and help her?" We know she's grateful for the new range we delivered last week, for the shining silver you gave her on her anniversary... but we know there's nothing that would make her smile quite so much as, "Move over Mom..."

STREU HARDWARE

Thanksgiving

Thanks to many people for many things

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THANKSGIVING...
 And there is much for which we can all be thankful in this great country of ours.
 Certainly we are thankful for a bountiful harvest of grain and corn, for a high level of production and employment, for a standard of living that is the envy of the world.
 Most of all, perhaps, we are grateful for our American heritage... freedom of opportunity, freedom of choice, freedom to think and worship according to our own beliefs.

We feel as a Chevrolet dealer it is an appropriate time to convey our sincere appreciation to the people of this community for their loyalty, patience and understanding.

For Despite Chevrolet's production of more cars and trucks during 1948 than any other manufacturer there is still a long "waiting list" for America's most-wanted cars and trucks.

Chevrolet is doing everything within its power to maintain and increase production. Meantime, we would like to express our thanks...

Thanks to Buyers and Prospective Buyers of New Chevrolets for your generous recognition of the honest value built into this first-choice car in the low-priced field. More people have bought Chevrolet cars and trucks, during the eighteen-year period from 1931 to date, than have bought the cars and trucks of any other manufacturer.

Thanks to Those Who Are Waiting for Orders to be Filled for your patience and understanding. You can be sure we are doing our best to treat all customers fairly... doing our best to speed the day when we can give you the good news, "Your waiting days are over!"

Thanks to Service Customers for the opportunity to keep your present cars in safe driving condition. We have tried to serve you well, and appreciate your patronage.

Thanks to all whose friendship and favor have helped maintain Chevrolet's leadership...

Thanks for your patronage which has made

ITALY Mother Goose Gets Red Tinge

By FRANK BRUTTO
Associated Press Staff Writer

Rome—"Children of the world," the latest war cry of the Communist Party in Italy. In its weekly publication, "Visi dove," New Roads—a page for boys tells Mother Goose myths and tales a red twist. Cartoons and comic strips are led to guide the first steps of children on the Communist path. Its director is Luigi Longo, better known in the past for his leadership of the Italian Communist underground than as a child's guide to Communism.

The current issue knocks a few red proverbs in the head and reats, with pictures, the story of the Red Riding Hood—featuring "Little Italy" as the wayward kid and America as a top-hatted starved and striped big, bad cat.

There is a place for everybody in the world. (But what place?) It asks. "There are those first place and those for last, the theaters and trains as in life. There are those who have a riding all to themselves and here are families of eight, ten people who live in a single room; here could be, yes, a place for all in this world. But, for that social justice is needed which only communism can assure. In the USSR, for example, there is place for all."

The current issue's special attraction is the story of Red Riding Hood, in verse, with a final visit, thus:

"The fable recalls a great, reedy beast—
"An American wolf—who constantly feasts;
"And now with sly smile and attery entices
"Poor little Italy in this world of crisis,
"Who, with her small sisters, gnaw on a bone,
"Risks to finish the way Red Riding Hood's gone."

What Will It Cost To Stop Chinese Reds? Constant Question In Capital

By HAMILTON FARON and ROBERT E. GEIGER
Associate Press Staff Writers

WASHINGTON, One elemental question keeps popping up in Washington discussions of the Chinese crisis. It is: What will it cost the United States to stop the spread of Communism in China?

And this raises a second elemental question: What will it cost us if we do not stop the Communists?

One reason that no definite answers can be given is this: If the Chinese are in the mood to embrace Communism, who can say what it would cost us—in dollars and possibly lives—to swing them over to our viewpoint? One great difficulty is that for years the Chinese have been a divided nation. There has been much civil strife, violent internal politics and corruption.

Many important people among them President Truman and Representative Bloom (D-N.Y.), who is expected to head the 81st Congress House Foreign Affairs Committee—are saying China must show an increased inclination to help herself. In the full sense this would mean she would have to place her house in order economically by adopting better business methods in government, balance her budget and stop civil war.

The Nationalist government can't do all of this, of course, with a Communist war raging.

American officials probably would be satisfied if she displayed more solidarity and a greater will to fight the Communists. Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) and others who have kept close watch on the China situation say it would take more aid than we have been giving to stop Communism. But Senator Wiley adds that many people do not realize full-scale American aid to the Nationalist government might mean "eventual U. S. military participation in the China conflict."

Congress voted $250,000,000 for China's economic recovery last spring and $125,000,000 for whatever use the Nationalist government desired. This $125,000,000 was allotted by the Chinese government to the military. China's former finance minister, Wang Yun-wu has estimated it would take at least $500,000,000 a year for four or five years to bring victory to Chiang Kai-shek's troops.

Rodger Lapham, Economic Cooperation Administration Administrator for China, is more cautious but says much more money than has been voted is needed in China. So, in view of these estimates, to prevent Communism from sweeping China might cost upwards of $2,500,000,000 plus possible American participation in the war.

What do we lose if we let China go? In dollars, American investments in China are relatively small. Officials estimate they may total only around $2,000,000.

But Senator Bridges (R-N.H.), who proposed a special session of Congress to deal with the China situation, says it takes no great student of China and world politics to realize that the loss of China means politically to the United States and other democracies.

"Communist forces now spread over all of North China are no simple group of indignant patriots," he says. "They are part and parcel of the Moscow-controlled legions of world revolution."

If we lose China we have lost our main bulwark against Communism in the Orient. Then what of Japan?

Some government officials believe if China goes Communist, nothing can stop Japan from doing the same unless we keep a military force there indefinitely. But Japan is decadent, economically, on China and other parts of the Asiatic mainland. Even a military force in Japan can't keep a Communist China from waging an economic war against the Japanese.

Lost Border Found And Everybody Happy Again

GENEVA, Switzerland, (AP)—The lost border between France and Switzerland has been found and marked and everybody is happy again. Some farmers who thought they were Swiss are saying French taxes now and some who thought they were French now find their farms are in Switzerland. The correction was made after more than 100 years of uncertainty along the Jura mountain frontier of western Switzerland. It involved a stretch of about fifteen miles. The frontier was fixed in 1824, but the Duke of Neuenberg on the Swiss side and his Imperial French colleagues neglected to mark it for posterity. Peasants in the region have been asking themselves for years whether they really were in Switzerland or France.

Fish Are Where You Find 'Em

By BOB LEERIGHT

Bolse—You catch your fish in some of the strangest places in town. Take the case of the Bolse police officer. Making his rounds a proud car he saw something flapping on Main street. He stopped a live trout.

Nine-year-old Daniel Peck of Bolse caught a 15½-inch sucker in the middle of his lawn. Lloyd Moody of Lawerion caught a 17-inch carp in his basement after flood waters subsided in North Michael Carter, three, of Bolse hid to stay home while the "this" went fishing. But he wasn't blarney. While helping his mother water the lawn a three-inch squaw fish slipped out of the end of the garden hose.

Mrs. May Schultz of Sandpoint was fishing in Lake Pend Oreille on one of those giant Keanloops street her hook. She stood up and turned around in her boat to better fight the big rainbow. She was held overboard.

Ralph Lindberg was fishing with Walt Overson when another Keanloops struck. Lindberg jumped into the lake to seize the line which was fouled under a rock. The line broke, but Lindberg's grab was fast and he hung on. When he got his grip the fish dove to the bottom, then turned and leaped into Lindberg's net. The ill-dressed angler grabbed the short line again and swam for the shore.

The four-ounce Keanloops made a nice meal.

An angler at McColl was disgraced when he caught a six-ounce Keanloops. He bit the fish open and found a good-sized trout inside. Mrs. Ken Leavitt of Blackfoot insists there is no trouble handling fish in Idaho. She sat in her automobile which was parked on a bridge. While listening to a radio account of a prize fight she hauled in a nice trout.

TB Association Christmas Seals Arrive In City

Christmas seals for 1948 have been sent out by the National Tuberculosis Association from its headquarters in Austin. They arrived by mail Monday, first day of the drive which will last until December 25.

Red, yellow and blue this year, the seals will brighten Christmas cards, envelopes, packages and letters to aid the tuberculous campaign. The pictures on the seals depict a blonde six-year old boy in red pajamas sitting before the fireplace awaiting the arrival of St. Nick on Christmas eve. From the mantle above him hangs a stocking and three empty stockings dangle before the blazing hearthfire. Barry Bart, of South Kent, Conn., was the designer of the seal. He conceived the idea after watching his young nephew last year as he patiently awaited the arrival of Santa Claus. The perforated sheets containing 100 seals are to be sent from Austin headquarters to several hundred Hereford people either to purchase or to sell. Unlike the cancer and infantile paralysis drives which have committees in each community, the tuberculous association has only the one state headquarters, to which all contributions are mailed. Deaf Smith has no committee.

Money received goes to aid tubercular patients, who need financial assistance, to maintain the state sanatorium, and to support research. These penny-perfect seals finance year around tuberculous control work of the 3,000 associations affiliated with the NTCA.

The American and British filers are laughing, particularly at Russian propaganda promises to supply the entire city with food and coal. One such jab purports to repeat a joke said to have originated in Russian-occupied Saxony. This says: "Americans are supplying Germany with food by air, the British by ship while the Russians send their supplies by radio."

Seven Deaf Smith Youths Accepted, Draft Board Says

The local selective service board is has been notified of the acceptance of seven Deaf Smith County youths into various branches of the service. Eugene Peterson, clerk announced this week.

Most of these were volunteers who entered during October. There are three Navy recruits, one Marine recruit, two Army recruits and one in the Army Air Forces.

Joining the Navy were Wesley E. Guthrie, 218 Avenue B; Fred D. Thomas and Paul L. Conklin (no street address given.)

Sherman Matthews, 209 McKinley joined the Marine Corps and Frank Barber, 1100 East 11th entered the Army Air Forces.

Army volunteers were Johnny K. Rodgers, 607 Mile, and Stanley J. Phillips, 238 Avenue B.

Mrs. Peterson also announced induction calls were being speeded up. Hereford's first induction under the new military training program, Ivan Roy Miller, will report to Lubbock, Nov. 29.

Statistics On Illiterates Revealed By Newsmen

Fort Worth, (AP)—Editorial Writer Robert Hicks of The Star-Telegram has revealed some startling statistics on illiterates in the United States.

And he is fearful that they are a threat to the freedom of the press. There are 2,850,000 people in the U. S. over 14 who can not read or write, he said, compared with 3,400,000 people who have four or more years of college.

Newspapers perform an invaluable service in reporting and interpreting the news, but Hicks said people must be able to understand and judge the facts or the effort is worthless.

He blamed disregard for compulsory school laws for part of this bad situation. "In Texas we have a compulsory school attendance law," Hicks said, "but it obviously is not being observed. We have 1,300,000 children of school age and the average school attendance is only 1,600,000."

He said plugging the loopholes in the school law would help maintain not only freedom of the press, but the value of this freedom.

Thanksgiving

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day, Humbly, in our faltering way — Not with the graceful wordy arts, But simply, deeply with our hearts — As little children mindful of A Father's broad and boundless love.

We thank Thee, Lord for everything — The shining miracle of spring, Green grass, and cool and kindly rains, Stars, and soft clouds in silken skeins, For tall trees, patient and precise, That point the way to paradise.

We give Thee thanks for life's rich years, For courage, and for cleansing tears, For faith that builds us tall and strong, For laughter, and the gift of song — And most of all — that we are free To bring our grateful hearts to Thee.

Dear Lord, we give Thee thanks for youth, For trust and tenderness and truth, For brotherhood — that we may tread A peaceful earth, and break the bread Of friendship with our fellow men; We give Thee thanks for love.

AMEN.

FUN IN COOKING

By CECHLY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If these are children in your family, or if youngsters are coming to visit for the holidays, it's a good idea to plan desserts that are not only festive but also suitable for young appetites. Delicious sweets made with gelatin will do nutritious duty.

You may have noticed that more recipes call for one envelope, rather than one tablespoon, of unflavored gelatin. Variations in the strength of the raw material itself have been taken into consideration. The number of grains of gelatin put into the envelope in the package is calculated to jell one pint of liquid.

Instead of sprinkling the envelope of gelatin over a quarter cup of cold liquid and allowing the grains to stand for a few minutes until they swell and absorb the liquid, it is now suggested in many recipes that the gelatin be softened in a half-cup of liquid so that when the hot liquid is added it will get to the jellifying point more quickly.

Children like light and foamy whips. These clear gelatin mixtures are chilled until slightly thicker than egg white consistency, then beaten with a rotary beater until delicate and foamy.

A delectable gelatin dessert can be made from a clear gelatin mixture and icy cold evaporated milk that has been beaten stiff. Grownups who do not like the heavier pies or steam puddings after a holiday meal will appreciate this dessert just as much as young fry:

Pineapple Cream Dessert
Ingredients: 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 1-2 cups icy cold evaporated milk.

Method: Drain crushed pineapple. Soften gelatin in pineapple syrup; place over low heat and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Mix in crushed pineapple, lemon juice and rind; chill until the mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Whip chilled evaporated milk until stiff; beat in gelatin mixture. Turn into 1 1/2 quart mold. Chill until firm. To serve, unmold and garnish with citron slices cut in holly pattern and cinnamon candies. Makes 8 servings.

Bob Wear Speaks At Friona PTA Meeting

The Friona PTA met for the regular monthly meeting last Thursday night in the Friona grade school building. The subject for study was: The Home—A Pattern for Building Character and moral values.

Bob Wear, minister of the Hereford Church of Christ, was the guest speaker. In discussing the home Wear said:

"The home is a divine institution and as such should be governed and directed by laws which God has given concerning the home. In the home is the place for our children to receive religious instruction, sex instruction, and where they should be directed in the ways that are right. In Proverbs 22:6 we read, 'Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it.'"

"In connection with this let us remember the preschool years of our children are the most important years so far as character training is concerned."

Wear emphasized the joint responsibility of fathers and mothers in the task of developing sound character in the children, and said, "We must demonstrate in our deeds what we tell our children in words, they must have our good example."

Elk, Deer Domesticated

MOSCOW, (AP)—Professor P. A. Mantel, of the Moscow Fur Institute, is reported to be domesticating elk and deer.

"Evening Moscow" said the professor was the first person in the USSR to begin taming elk, but now others are following his methods. This autumn experiments are going forward on harnessing elk as well as deer. The elk have become so tame that two of them were recently seen standing near an open field at night watching a tractor crew at work.

These ill and undernourished German children are being evacuated from Berlin to rest homes in the British and American zones. First group of some 8000 children, aged and infirm to be moved, they will be assured better medical care and special diet during the winter months. Conklin Re-enters Army Air Forces For Three Months

First Lt. Merlin Conklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Conklin, is in Laken-Heath, England, now on the first week of his three-month assignment there with the Army Air Forces.

He is co-pilot of a B-29, the capacity in which he served during World War II. He was discharged from the Air Forces in July, 1945, and re-entered the service Oct. 15, 1948. At the termination of his assignment in England he will report to Smoky Hills Air Base at Salina, Kansas, his home field.

Before re-entering the service,

Conklin was manager of a tourist court in Amarillo. Mrs. Conklin is at present making her home in Salina.

Fur Coats On The Hoof Featured By New Colorado Drive-in Store

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EVERGREEN, Colo.—If you're out driving around the Colorado mountains sometime you might pop into the state's newest drive-in and pick out the original makings for a fur coat.

Bring along your pocketbook. Also, you better bring along the kids' piggy bank, the wife's pin money and if you're really serious, borrow a couple grams from some well-heeled pal. You'll need it.

The drive-in store along U. S. highway 49 offers customers a complete service from a wide selection of live fur animals to the finished garment. Customers may take the pelts to their own furrier if they prefer.

Hundreds of shoppers, mostly tourists from out of state, stopped at the Indian-Pueblo style building 25 miles west of Denver during the summer. The initial venture was so successful the operators, Dr. Howard E. Lamb and John McNeill, decided to keep the establishment open through the winter—a season more conducive to fur coat shopping, anyway.

A healthy collection of greenbacks is necessary to do business if your wife's tastes run to mink. From 75 to 85 pelts are needed to make a full length mink coat. The cost of the individual pelt runs from $25 to $150 depending upon the coloring and other qualities.

Assuming that your wife's tastes could be limited to the $50 range, it would set you back $3,750 for the minimum number of pelts. In addition, you'd have to pay the costs of fashioning the pelts into the finished garment.

In the economy range the drive-in has on display some attractive silver foxes. A swanky little six-skin Pearlina coat can be picked up for $600—that includes Uncle Sam's cut of your luxury money. You can go up from there.

On display is a U-shaped series of pens are more than 25 live varieties of fox and mink. Women shoppers in looking over the live animals usually select the silver fox. The pearl platinum and Norwegian platinum fox are next in popularity.

The fur farm operated by Lamb and McNeill produces 1,750 mink and 650 fox pelts a year. Other ranches on the slopes of Mount Evans produce another 4,000 fox furs and from 8,000 to 10,000 mink skins. Most of those fur growers are making their supply available to the new enterprise.

Lamb and McNeill launched their retail store after a study of the fur trading business convinced them there was need for a direct producer-to-consumer operation, with no middlemen.

Other Mount Evans fur farmers praised the drive-in salon as a welcome outlet for their production, suffering from a slump in the fox market.
