Third Sharp Rebuff Given Truman On Major Nomination

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—A smarting 53 to 15 defeat of the reappointment of Federal Power Commissioner Leland Olds today handed President Truman his third and sharpest Senate rebuff this year on an important nomination.

C. R. Anthony Store Suffers Big Fire Loss

Flames claimed a heavy toll of merchandise and inflicted considerable damage to the building at the C. R. Anthony department store Wednesday night in the largest of three blazes that kept city firemen in action for several hours.

M. C. Grigsby, manager of the Anthony stores, said an exact assessment of damage would be made as rapidly as possible.

Fire Chief H. V. Crocker said he believed the loss might run as high as $35,000 to merchandise and $5,000 to the building.

Heat and water-damaged considerably merchandise in addition to the flames.

Crocker said the blaze apparently started from an electrical plug at the rear and top of the north show window. The fire chief said he believed an arc formed at the plug.

C. R. Anthony was due to arrive here early this afternoon by chartered plane to survey the damage. Grigsby said the store will decide upon its future plans after Anthony makes his survey. An insurance adjuster from Midland also was due here to begin assessing the damage.

Charles Sparenberg of Austin was expected here to inspect damage to the building. The building is owned by the Sparenberg estate.

The fire broke out at about 10:30 p. m. and flames which had gained considerably headway at the front of the building worked back half the length of the structure before they were put out.

Firemen were called out on two other alarms last night, no serious damage was reported. Some cotton was lost at the Guitler gin during a blaze which broke out about midnight. Firemen said the blaze there probably started from a match that was in cotton being

Conferees Split On Military Money Measure

Solons Disagree Sharply Over Size Of Air Force

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—A Senate-House conference today broke up again in disagreement over the huge military money bill.

House members of the conference committee walked out after refusing to back down on demands for a 38-group Air Force.

The Senate is backing President Truman's recommendations for a 48-group force.

The dispute over the Air Force funds in the $15 billion appropriation bill has spilled over to involve all three armed services.

It has left the Army Navy and Air Force without legal authority to spend a dime. It also has threatened to delay adjournment of Congress.

Since July 1—the start of the new fiscal year—Congress has kept the government's agencies and department running by approving emergency spending programs.

The last stop-gap measure ended on Oct. 1. The military appropriation is the only big money bill remaining.

Cotton Picker Held In Slaying Of Big Springer

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 13 (AP)—A 41-year-old transient cotton picker, held here on a robbery charge, today was identified by fingerprints as suspect in a Big Spring murder last month.

He is David Crockett Callaway, charged Sept. 17 in 70th Judicial Court in Howard County with the budgeon slaying the day before of Hope Leonard, 49, Big Spring trucker.

Callaway denied guilt in the murder while questioned in county jail here by Deputy Sheriff John Roberts and newspaper reporters.

He admitted leaving Big Spring around the slaying date but said rain at that time had spoiled prospects of cotton picking.

He said he was a native of Palestine and had tramped over the state recently, staying briefly in Lamesa, Lubbock, and Colorado City in the last few weeks.

The suspect said he came to Fort Worth last Thursday. He was arrested here the next day and charged in Justice Hurley's court with two other men as suspects in the assault robbery of Norman Daniel.

His fingerprints were sent to the Department of Public Safety in Austin, and a report received here Thursday said the prints checked with those on file on the suspect in Big Spring.

Callaway's prints were taken there a few days before the murder when he was arrested on a drunk charge, according to Howard County Chief Deputy Sheriff C. E. Kiser.

Deputy Sheriff C. E. Kiser said that he planned to take witnesses, who had seen Leonard together in company with another man prior to his slaying, to Fort Worth to view Callaway. They plan to leave here either today or Friday.

Mitchell county gins had processed 9,231 bales by the first of the week, and expected a total of 40,000 bales before season's end. Mitchell county farmers need about 900 more harvest laborers.

Mayor G. W. Dabney has received a letter in answer to his communication with Gov. Gordon Browning, Nashville, Tennessee.

Governor Browning wrote: "It has been a pleasure for me to accommodate your good town x x x and I am glad Grandstaff could add to the occasion. It was not only the courtesy to Big Spring, but I also was anxious to comply with the request of your governor, who urged me to do it. I only regret that I could not accept the invitation extended me to attend your celebration."

However, the board ruled against the union by finding that Emmis Moore, an employee which the union claimed was discriminatorily discharged, actually was discharged because of inefficiency.

11,247 Bales Of Cotton Ginned In Howard County

Howard county cotton gins are humming along on their task of processing one of the largest cotton crops in history.

The Texas Employment Commission's weekly survey, which was tabulated this morning, showed that 11,247 bales had been ginned at the first of the week, and estimates are that considerably less than one third of the county's crop has been harvested.

The TEC report estimated that 50 percent of the crop is ready for harvest, but only about 26 percent had reached the gins. These estimates, pegged at 37,000 bales earlier in the season, has been elevated to 40,000 bales.

The TEC office reported that 1,700 more harvest workers are needed immediately in Howard county. Ten crews averaging 24 workers each arrived here last week, but there were still 49 unfilled orders and 1,788 unfilled orders listed. The TEC office made 1,442 referrals last week.

In Martin county, where the crop is estimated at 50,000 bales, ginning figures had mounted to 9,140 bales. The crop there is believed to be 50 percent open, and 183 percent harvested. Martin county farmers need 1,000 more harvest laborers, the TEC said.

Mitchell county gins had processed 9,231 bales by the first of the week, and expected a total of 40,000 bales before season's end. Mitchell county farmers need about 900 more harvest laborers.

Air Force Will Reply To Criticism Of B-36

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee agreed today to hear the Air Force next week in reply to the Navy's bitter criticism of its B-36 bomber program. Secretary of Defense Johnson also will testify then.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) and Secretary Johnson held a long conference this morning. Afterwards, Vinson announced the schedule for the next phase of the committee's inquiry into military policy.

Vinson said that beginning next week the committee will hear Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gen. Omar Bradley, Secretary of Air Symington and Air Force officers.

Then, he added, "Secretary Johnson will give the committee and the country" his view. Johnson, as civilian boss of all the armed services, is caught squarely in the cross-fire of the angry controversy over military policy.

He also has come in for harsh words from some Congress members because, by executive order, he has cut back appropriations that the lawmakers made for the Navy.

Vinson publicly accused Johnson yesterday of making "a grandstand play" by economizing on Navy funds. He said the committee "is to have a lot to say about this."

Capital City Awaiting Entry Of Communists

80,000 Government Troops May Be Encircled By Reds

CANTON, China, Oct. 13 (AP)—The main body of the Canton Nationalist garrison fled westward tonight down the main highway.

National resistance to the Communists in the entire Canton region had collapsed.

HONG KONG, Oct. 13 (AP)—Telephoned reports from Canton said Nationalist forces tonight abandoned the South China city. Plans for all organized resistance ended within the provisional capital, Entry of Communist troops is now awaited.

Earlier information from Canton said troops had pulled out of Canton, but this was coupled with reports the Nationalists had been ordered north to defend the city.

New Zealand Presbyterian missionaries told an Associated Press correspondent in Canton they had heard heavy gunfire around Kongsueu, 10 miles distant.

But there was nothing as yet to indicate whether the Nationalists were quitting the city under military pressure or whether they were attempting to reach escape corridors ahead of the swift moving Red troops.

Communist troops last week reported driving directly down the Canton-Hankow railroad to within 30 miles of Canton. There was no telling whether the gunfire at Kongsueu was Red or Nationalist artillery or not.

As yet, Hong Kong has heard no reports of Nationalist resistance. Instead, 80,000 government troops in the Canton region face isolation by encircling Reds and by insufficient shipping to escape to the sea.

The British mated troops used the border separating British, Korean territory and China, proper, but they did not expect trouble.

The 70th District Court tally sheet this morning showed 119 cases disposed of this week, but the docket still bulged with 627 entries.

Judge Charles N. Sullivan found 13 civil cases, and 10 criminal cases Wednesday afternoon when he examined the docket for Martin county.

Eleven of the civil cases were dismissed there, while three divorce cases were tried Wednesday afternoon and four criminal cases were dismissed.

Martin county's first term of court under the new 11th district will begin on the first Monday in January.

Howard county still has over 300 civil cases and 85 criminal cases on its docket, while the remainder of the district's total is in Glasscock county.

NEARLY MILLION IDLED

Steel, Coal Strike Parleys Continue

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Oct. 13 (AP)—John L. Lewis disclosed today that his contract demands on soft coal operators would cost 30 to 35 cents a ton more than now. He said the industry could absorb it out of profits.

Lewis, at a 75-minute news conference, went into an exhaustive outline of his theory that powerful financial and steel interests were determined to hold up a coal settlement until they "battled it out" in steel.

By The Associated Press The steel and coal strikes commanded top attention of federal conciliators today as both disputes neared the critical stage.

Negotiations to end the 25-day old coal strike continued in White Sulphur Springs and Charleston, W. Va.

The government's conciliation director, Cyrus S. Ching, hopes to get leaders of the CIO-United Steelworkers Union and industry officials back at the bargaining table.

Ching planned to meet today with representatives of the Bethlehem Steel Co. in New York. He also planned sessions with other major steel producing companies and hopes to meet later with Philip Murray, CIO-USW president.

The two strikes have made idle nearly 300,000 workers and continuation of the work stoppages threatens to idle additional thousands.

The biggest threat appears to be the fast-moving steel industry—the plants that use steel for hundreds of articles. Some 500,000 USW workers are employed in the fabricating plants and Murray wants free pensions and insurance for them as well as for the 454,000 men on strike.

Their contracts begin expiring Saturday. About a dozen firms, which employ a few thousand workers, have signed new contracts with the union, agreeing to pay the 10-cent hourly package recommended by the presidential fact-finding board.

Murray, in a radio speech last night, urged the public to support the steel strike because "our cause is just and righteous." He said the steel workers "cannot and will not permit any wage cut, whether by the false principle of contributory pensions and insurance or otherwise." The big steel companies have said they will pay toward a pension insurance program but only if the workers also contribute.

Gunfire was reported in the coal strike. At Harriman, Tenn., police Chief E. E. Patterson said a band of armed men broke out the tires of a coal-laden truck from a non-union mine near London, Ky., last night.

One of her costumes is a pair of black velvet pajamas.

That old reaction came from the other side of the footlights last night when she turned her back. Margie whirled quickly, placed a bolero around her hips and sidled over to a window seat.

She finished the scene facing the audience.

Now, Margie's thinking strongly about buying sturdier pajamas—one that won't split down the back.

Validity Of New Court Questioned

The appeal challenges the right of Clem McClelland to hold and exercise the powers and duties of judge of the probate court.

Three Houston citizens, Carl Rectorn, Morris Rosenthal and Howard Lee, are attacking the court's constitutionality.

Attlee Rejects Demand For Fall General Election

LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee turned down today demands for a general parliamentary election this fall and decided that his Labor Government would ride out Britain's economic crisis.

The announcement that there would be no early election was made, an official statement said to quiet "disturbing effects on trade and industry" caused by widespread speculation of a vote this fall.

The Labor Government's five-year term runs until next July under Britain's constitutional system, the prime minister has authority to call an election at any time.

Ever since Britain devalued the pound from $4.03 to $2.80 on Sept. 18 there has been a rash of predictions that Attlee might seek an early vote of confidence from the people.

Leftwing laborites had urged a vote soon on the ground that rising prices caused by devaluation might cut into the government's popularity within a few months.

Texas Roads Suffer Under Heavy Traffic

AUSTIN, Oct. 13 (AP)—Highways built in Texas 20 years ago are beginning to crumble under the constant pounding of traffic.

It would be desirable to re-design most of the primary arteries and re-align most of them for safety.

It would cost several hundred million dollars to put Texas' main roads in first-class shape, but where's the money coming from?

Those three assertions contain the meat of a recent statement issued here by Fred Wemple, Midland, chairman of the state highway commission.

He said highway planners are becoming increasingly concerned over the cost of maintaining state roads. That cost runs around 22 million dollars a year.

Most of the main routes through the state were built almost 20 years ago. The rate of their run-down increases every year, Wemple said, and the time is nearing when patching them up here and there will not help much.

Texas continues to lead the nation in the total mileage of roads built. The latest estimates call for 4,250 miles to be completed in 1949.

Elsewhere in the nation, there are only seven states that will build more than 1,000 miles of road this year. North Carolina with 3,000 new miles should wind up next to Texas.

Each mile of new roads adds to the maintenance problem.

"Although a large number of new roads are being built, we cannot be content with the highway situation in Texas," Wemple said.

"The size of the state demands more road mileage than any other state. As we build more and more new roads, they are added to the list for maintenance."

"Unless some solution is found for the highway maintenance problem, we shall soon find the our worst roads are the heaviest traveled roads."

Wemple offered no immediate solution. He did say the financial condition of the state and nation was such that a general overhauling of the primary road system was impractical now.

The state highway program is chiefly dependent on the gasoline tax for basic revenue. The last legislature supplemented farm to market road money with a direct allocation on the clearing of State funds and also supplemented by local and federal money on specific types of projects, but the gasoline tax is still the major factor.

Wemple's statement aroused considerable speculation in the capital as to whether or not the legislature would be asked to find more money for roads.

TWO SLAIN, FIVE WOUNDED WHEN GUNMEN TRY TO HOLD UP GAME

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 13 (AP)—Two men were slain and five others were wounded, one seriously, early today when two gunmen attempted to hold up a poker game in a downtown cigar store.

The gunmen fled after firing more than a score of shots at the 20 men who, Police Chief Harry Nelson said, were playing cards in the rear of the store. Later one of the gunmen, wounded in the hall of bullets, was captured and moved to a hospital, Nelson said.

The other man, Nelson said, admitted his part in the shooting. No charge was placed against him immediately.

Nelson identified the dead men as Theodore Raines, 43, a Muncie restaurant owner, and James Wills, 34, an unemployed laborer.

Raines was shot through the heart and fell dead beneath one of the three card tables in the rear of the "New Deal" cigar store. Wills, hit several times about the abdomen, staggered to the front of the store and fell fatally wounded.

Nelson identified the captured gunman as George E. Graizer, 27, of Bedford, Ind. Graizer, weakened from loss of blood, was taken to Ball Memorial Hospital. He was suffering from a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Nelson said Ralph Frazier, owner of the cigar store, was seriously wounded from a bullet in the stomach. The others wounded in the shooting were Gleg Castile, 40, a machinist, Tom Cook, 55, and John Stewart, all of Muncie.

Nelson said Frazier told him one of the gunmen had been in the rear of the store and when the second gunman entered he drew a gun. Frazier said he shouted "watch that man with a gun," and both gunmen started shooting. He said they fled without taking any money after firing between 20 and 25 shots.

Retired U. S. General Sought In $130,000 Martial Law Suit

HONOLULU, Oct. 13 (AP)—A United States marshal said today he was trying to find Lt. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, former military governor of Hawaii, to serve a three-year-old summons.

The retired general is named in a $130,000 martial law suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Walter of Honolulu in 1946. Marshal Otto F. Heine said his office hasn't been able to serve the summons.

Emmons and his wife arrived here yesterday aboard the Army Transport General Buckner on their way to Tokyo for a vacation. At the dock to greet them were Lt. Gen. Henry S. Aurand, Mrs. Aurand and Brig. Gen. Albe E. Pierson.

No one from Heine's office was there.

Later in the day, deputy U. S. Marshal Emmanuel U. Moses said he called Aurand's residence with the summons. He said he was told Emmons was not expected there.

Moses said he then called the Fort Shafter Officers Club where a cocktail party was scheduled for Emmons. He said he was informed the general was not expected there, either.

Emmons was scheduled to sail for Tokyo on the Buckner today.

The Walters' suit claims compensation for alleged unlawful internment during the war.

But Curly "Knows What The Score Is!"

Was over at Doc Sherman's drug store listening to the World Series on the radio. Curly Lawson wanders in and says: "How about a chocolate malted, Doc?"

"Sorry, Curly," says Doc, "can't make you a malted for a while yet." "What's the idea?" Curly asks. "Well," says Doc, "most of the folks want to hear the game and the mixer makes too much noise." Curly thinks a moment and says, "Okay with me, Doc—I'll take a chocolate soda!"

This shows how tolerant folks can be. Doc showed his respect for how the majority felt; Curly was big enough not to insist on his malted even though he doesn't happen to be fond of baseball.

From where I sit, willingness to respect the other people's feelings is important in a Democracy. If we're tolerant of a person's like for baseball or a glass of temperance beer, we've come a long way on the right road... the road to a better America, that is!

Black-Eyed Peas Boosted By Solon From Lone Star State

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Rep. Lindsey Beckworth of Gladewater thinks there's no better reason than black-eyed peas, so he's been trying to persuade the armed forces to serve them.

As a result of his efforts the Navy is going to test the dish the latter part of October and early November in the general mess of a supply corps school at Bayonne, N. J.

And the Air Force has arranged to serve them during October at Randolph Field, San Antonio, to determine their "acceptability in airman field ration messes."

Army authorities replied that black-eyed peas were served "however a demand arose for them, but that they were not stocked for regular use."

Beckworth inquired particularly about their use at army centers in southern and southwestern states where black-eyed peas are liked and eaten by the civilian population more than in any other part of the country. The reply was that they did not appear on the regular menu, although a check "indicated that occasionally" they were served.

Around the Capital: The Civil Aeronautics Administration, headed by Texas A&M graduate Del Rentzel, reports that Texas is second only to California in the number of civil aircraft.

On July 1 there were 7,027 civil planes in Texas. California had 10,452. "Both states should increase from a year earlier, when the respective figures were 8,148 and 10,829."

The total number of civil planes throughout the country on July 1 was $2,618. Of these 86,212 were single-engine, craft, 4,571 twin-engine, 20 three-engine, 533 four-engine, one eight-engine and the remainder gliders and lighter-than-air craft.

Behind Texas, in the order named, were Illinois, New York and Michigan.

All except of 20 Texas counties showed a registration of one or more civil aircraft. The leading counties, with the number of such planes as of July 1:

Dallas, 943 Harris (Houston) 578; Tarrant (Fort Worth), 428; Bexar (San Antonio), 423; Cameron, 217; El Paso, 125; Travis, 125; Jefferson, 120; Lubbock, 112; Potter, 106; McLennan, 96; Galveston, 91; Gregg, 86; Hale, 86; San Patricio 75; Tom Green, 84.

Dr. C. E. Matthews of Fort Worth, secretary of evangelism of the Southern Baptist Convention home Mission Board, recently delivered the opening prayer in the House of Representatives at the invitation of Rep. Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth and Grapevine.

Excerpts from his prayer: "We recognize the fact that we not only stand in the presence of an August assembly of people but that we are in the Holy presence of the One who spoke the world into existence, who holds the destiny of Nations in his hand and who shall some day judge all men without regard to race or color. In these testing times help that the decisions on the part of leaders of all Nations that affect the peace of the world be made in the fear of God and for the welfare of humanity the world over."

In his offices in the Pentagon you'll find Texas' John Mayfield hobbling about "with a crutch these days. The son of former Senator Earle B. Mayfield, Sr., of Tyler, broke a bone in one foot when he fell while hanging a picture. He is Defense Secretary Johnson's chief personnel executive."

... ..

Sidelights of the hearing on tidelands legislation before a Senate Interior subcommittee: Texas Attorney General Price Daniel, arguing Texas' special claims to submerged lands by virtue of terms under which it entered the union, quoted a speech of President Truman: "In Austin in 1949 Truman said: 'Texas is in a class by itself.' Senator Downey (D-Calif.) interrupted to ask: "Now, Mr. Daniel, in all fairness do you think a candidate ought to be bound by a statement he makes in campaign?"

When the laughter subsided, Daniel replied, "Yes, when it's in our favor."

Actually Downey is one of the strongest supporters of legislation.

A letter to the editor, published in the Washington Post, was signed by "Pettus Hemphill, ex-officio ambassador of the Republic of Texas."

In it the writer defended Texas' claims to its tidelands.

"When Texas joined the United States a hundred-plus years ago," he said, "it was by joint resolutions of the Congresses of both nations not by treaty, and we (Texas) reserved to ourselves all the ocean within a 'cannon shot' of the shore."

"That distance has never been defined exactly, but we now claim that it should be limited only by the range of the V-2 rocket gun and increased as the trajectory of that gun increases."

Progress Made In Rail Strike Talks

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13 (AP)—A feeling of accomplishment marked Missouri Pacific negotiations today but both sides doubted that the crippling railroad strike would end this week end.

"We'll have to go faster than we did yesterday," observed Guy A. Thompson, the line's trustee.

"It's too risky to predict when we will complete this job," agreed Roy E. Davidson, spokesman for the four striking brotherhoods.

The "job" to which Davidson referred was settlement of the union claims that precipitated the strike Sept. 9. More than 80 of 282 cases have been disposed of since direct negotiations began Monday.

But most of the work was accomplished in the first two days and the tempo appeared to have slowed down yesterday—probably due to discussions on more complicated cases.

Includes image of a woman in a dress and text: "This is fire prevention week and last night's fire should remind us all to be a little more careful. Fire prevention is a good policy in the office and shop. But the danger of fire comes closer to all of us in our own homes. The National Fire Protection Association report that fire is attacking our homes at the rate of 700 a day. Most fires, the claim, are attributed to the violation of 7 easy-to-remember safety rules. They are of the opinion that if housewives take these steps now, the number of fires will be cut 90 percent almost overnight. Some of the suggestions may not apply to your present situation but the ones that do, might be worth a try. We're sure they won't increase fires. 'Never smoke in bed. Keep ash trays handy. Don't discard lighted cigarettes and matches. Keep matches in metal containers out of reach of children. Don't use oil or store flammable cleaning fluids or other explosive liquids in the home. Use carbon tetrachloride or some other fire-safe cleaning fluids. Old magazines and newspapers stored in closets, basements, and attics are good tinder for a spark. Throw them out, along with broken and discarded furniture. Keep oily rags in covered metal containers. Have an electrician check the wiring to make sure it is adequate to operate all electrical appliances safely. Protect the circuits with the right fuse. Disconnect appliances when you have finished using them. Never attempt to operate if defective. See to it that frayed cords are replaced. Flammable curled roofing is a large, attractive target for a chimney spark or air-borne fire brand. Asphalt shingles or other fire-resistant material cost no more, and often fire insurance rates are lower. Have your heating system checked to see that it is operating properly. Replace defective or worn parts. Have the furnace cleaned yearly. Enclose the furnace in fire-resistant walls, and have exposed beams covered with some fire-resistant material. Have the chimney inspected and make sure it is solidly built, properly supported and lined. Clean once a year. We're sure you've read such rules before, but have you ever tried them?"

Good Breakfast Habits Are Missing; Recovery Is Essential, Say Experts

Surveys by experts show that Americans are falling down on good breakfast habits. And nutritionists continue to tell us that good breakfasts are essential—maybe more essential than any other meal. Add the two points together! And you get the fact that it's high time we put more ingenuity into breakfast plans. Here's an idea. See what you think about it for your family.

Folks say they don't eat breakfast because they aren't hungry—which, of course, they aren't! They've not had a habit of eating breakfast. But others say they almost have to eat, once they've smelled that good aroma which fills the house when hot breads are baking. So again, why not put two ideas together? Bake some nutritious muffins for breakfast—wake up those lazy appetites. It won't take long to make the muffins. They're easy to mix and take only about 25 minutes to bake. To make the idea worth as much as possible, choose muffin recipes which are especially high in nutritive value—here are three to start you off:

SAUSAGE MUFFINS
(Makes 10 medium-sized muffins)
1/2 lb. fresh pork sausage meat.
2 cups sifted flour.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1 egg, slightly beaten.
1/2 cup evaporated milk.
1/2 cup water.
2 tablespoons butter, melted.
Heat skillet over moderate heat; add sausage meat, spreading it over bottom of pan. Cook meat until browned, stirring to brown evenly. Pour off fat as it accumulates in the pan. When sausage is done, drain on absorbent paper. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine egg, evaporated milk, water, crumbled sausage meat and slightly cooled butter. Pour into flour mixture and stir just enough to wet dry ingredients. DO NOT BEAT. Fill greased, 2 1/2 inch muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 F.) until brown, about 25 minutes.

Peanut Butter and Bacon Muffins
(Makes 10 medium-sized muffins)
2 cups sifted flour.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.
3 tablespoons sugar.
1 strip coarsely chopped crisp bacon.
1/2 cup peanut butter.
1 egg.
2 tablespoons melted bacon fat, slightly cooled.
1/2 cup evaporated milk.
1/2 cup water.
Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add crisp bacon and mix well. Beat together peanut butter and egg, using rotary egg beater; gradually add shortening, while beating. Combine evaporated milk and water and pour in flour mixture; stir just enough to wet dry ingredients. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Orange Muffins
2 cups sifted flour.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
1 teaspoon salt.
1-3 cups sugar.
2 tablespoons grated orange rind.
1 egg, well beaten.
1/2 cup evaporated milk.
1/2 cup water.
1/2 cup melted shortening, slightly cooled.
Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine sugar and orange rind, binding well. Add half to flour mixture saving remainder for topping. Combine egg, evaporated milk, water and slightly cooled shortening. Pour into flour mixture; stir just enough to wet dry ingredients. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full. Sprinkle tops with Bake in moderately hot oven (400 F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Bean Stuffed Peppers Made From Staples

One of the staples found in every pantry today is oven-baked beans. In every homemaker's life there has come a time when she wished she were a magician and could turn that can into something excitingly different.

It really is possible! There are hundreds of different and easy ways to serve oven-baked beans. Before we tell of these exciting recipes, we'd like to remind you that oven-baked beans are nutritionally fine. When you serve them to your family, you can be sure that they are a good source of protein, carbohydrates, calcium, and phosphorus. Let us warn you, though, just mention how good they are—we've found through long years of experience that families take a dim view of the dishes described as "good for you."

Our key recipe today for using oven-baked beans is bean stuffed peppers. Simply blanch 4 large or 6 small green peppers, season with salt and pepper. Place 1 tablespoon tomato ketchup in each pepper. Fill peppers with oven-baked beans and bake in a moderately slow oven (325F.) 30 minutes.

Or if you like, stuff whole tomatoes instead of the green peppers. Your family will enjoy them too. But don't stop with this one recipe—combine beans with diced pineapple—the flavor is exquisite, and with a small slice of ham or bacon, the flavor is even more delightful. Beans with cheese, either melted or grated are excellent.

Try some ideas of your own. You'll find that oven-baked beans team well with onions, can be substituted for potatoes or meat, and will come to your rescue over and over again.

New, Homogenized Swift's Jewel Shortening Gives "Magic" Results in Cooking, Baking and Frying!

MAN AND WIFE AGREE: "JEWEL CAKES TASTE PERFECT"

JEWEL'S "SMOKE-POINT" 40° HIGHER!

LIGHT, TENDER, FLUFFY... AND THEY COST LESS TO MAKE!

Want to keep hubby happy—and cut down on food costs, too? Then here's good news!

With the new, homogenized Jewel Shortening you can cook to his heart's desire—and save money while you do. For new Jewel—although it costs much less than costliest brands of shortenings—challenges them all when it comes to results.

In Memphis, for example, Mrs. J. A. Perry reported making a Jam Cake that would "just melt in your mouth!" While in New Orleans, another homemaker, Mrs. Alice H. Langston stated that her husband "just loves his biscuits made with Jewel!" Mrs. Langston further commented: "With the amount of shortening we use, we figure our savings on Jewel at about $3.00 a year. That'd buy plenty of eggs!"

As Swift's famous Test Kitchen has discovered however, Jewel's magic is not restricted to cakes and biscuits. Piecrusts, cookies, fried foods of all kinds, likewise benefit when new Jewel Shortening is used.

No Other Shortening Is More Digestible Or More Nutritious!

Don't be fooled—any scientist. Just because a shortening costs more doesn't make it any more nutritious or digestible.

Actually, any fats—including the fine vegetable and meat-food fats in Jewel—are among the most completely digested foods. Furthermore, all fats are important in good nutrition. For they yield 2 1/2 times as many energy units per pound as either carbohydrates or proteins.

In other words, money can't buy a more nutritious or digestible shortening than new Jewel. Not even if you pay $10 a pound!

CHALLENGES THE COSTLIEST... COSTS MUCH LESS! SAVINGS OF 5¢ TO 7¢ A POUND REPORTED

There's a new "headliner" in the shortening field! Swift's new, homogenized Jewel Shortening. Only recently introduced, this new product challenges costliest brands. Yet it costs 5¢ to 7¢ less per pound.

The new Jewel employs a controlled homogenization process in the blending of its fine vegetable oils and meat-food fats.

As a result, the finished product is of highest quality with a remarkable smooth and even texture. No other shortening is more nutritious or more digestible.

*Many of the compliments now being lavished on Jewel by enthusiastic homemakers concern its use in preparing fried foods of all kinds. For this new shortening remains smoke-free and free from objectionable odors at extreme cooking temperatures. Actually, its "smoke-point" is 40° higher than costliest shortenings.

The thriftiness of the new product, has also come in for its share of applause. Many homemakers, in fact, state that they have been able to purchase 4 pounds of the new homogenized Jewel for the same price they usually pay for 3 pounds of costliest shortenings.

Like Fried Chicken? Here's How to Add a Touch of "Magic"!

Developed by Swift's famous Martha Logan, here's a special fried chicken recipe featuring new Jewel Shortening. Just follow the 6 magic steps indicated for your convenience.

1. Clean, wash and drain a 2 1/2 to 3 lb. (dressed) chicken.
2. Cut into serving pieces.
3. Measure 1/2 cup flour and 2 tps. salt into a paper bag.
4. Drop in each piece of chicken separately and shake until coated.
5. Heat enough Jewel Shortening to make 1/2 inch depth in a large skillet.
6. Fry chicken over medium heat, turning until golden brown. Reduce heat, cover and cook about 1/2 hour, until tender. Uncover and cook ten minutes.

England's Premier Earl Now Selling Apples At Roadside

LONDON, Oct. 13. — Motorists passing Stafford can stop at the roadside and buy apples and cabbages from the Premier Earl of England and Ireland.

Well, maybe not from his lordship, the 24-year-old Earl of Shrewsbury and Waterford in person, but it's his vegetable stand and he manages it and keeps it well supplied from his own estate.

John George Charles Henry Alives in stately Ingestre Hall nearby and is known in the neighborhood as the "titled Barrow Boy."

The vegetable stand is not a pose or a stunt. The roadside enterprise, he explains, is just a common sense effort to help save what is left of the premier earldom of the realm.

It was created in 1442 and while it's not the oldest earldom in the land it is the first in prestige and protocol.

Under a Socialist administration and in an age in which the rural landlord is fast running out of ready cash desperate measures were called for to preserve at least the heart of the old Shrewsbury estate.

There was a good deal to save and the Earl, passing out farm produce, is by no means a pauper. He's just land poor.

One of the measures taken to hold the earldom together was the sale at auction last June of about one-third of the Shrewsbury acres.

There were about 8,000 acres, leased to 56 tenants, and the young aristocrat said they simply didn't produce enough revenue to pay the taxes the treasury demanded.

Another emergency measure was the vegetable stand at the roadside. The Earl formerly sold produce and game to dealers and restaurants. He decided to reduce prices to the ultimate consumer and increase his own earnings by cutting out the middleman.

He now dreams of setting up a string of stands and shops to be provisioned by the 4,000 acres still under his control. He himself farms 270 acres and is proud of his herd of Shorthorn cattle.

He is equally proud of the sign on the vegetable stand which informs the passer that the 21st Earl of Shrewsbury and Waterford is "licensed to deal in game." Such licenses are difficult to get, but the Earl has his. Some of the game for sale is shot by the Earl himself in the woods and fields about Ingestre Hall.

NOT AS CUSHY
The auction sale of about 2,000 acres, divided into 13 farms and numerous small plots, was a spectacular example of what is happening to Britain's aristocracy. It's not as cushy to be an Earl as it was.

When the Earl decided he had to retrench by selling some lands which had been in the family since the year 1170 he arranged, as far as possible, to have his old tenants buy the properties they occupied. The sale was necessary, said the auctioneer, because of the "merciless taxation" to which the land has been subjected. The sale realized about $414,000 under the old valuation of the British pound.

"That's pretty good," the Earl remarked ruefully, but Sir Stafford Cripps (chairman of the exchequer) will get most of it.

The former tenants, who are now just neighbors, are as proud of the premier earldom as the Lord himself. They boast that the seventh Earl of Shrewsbury won 40 battles in the fifteenth century wars against France, and that the 20th Earl grandfather of the present holder of the title, deserves well of history because he got the bright idea of putting rubber tires on Hansom cabs. London became a quieter town.

Between the first and the 21st Earls was a succession of distinguished soldiers, statesmen and country squires. The earldom attached to itself the title of hereditary Grand Seneschal of Ireland.

Hilton Chain Now Controls Waldorf-Astoria

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. — The Hilton Hotel chain has acquired controlling interest in the company that runs the luxurious Waldorf-Astoria hotel for $3 million.

Conrad N. Hilton, of Los Angeles, president of the Hilton Hotels Corp., announced the transaction yesterday.

It involved, he said, purchase of 250,000 shares, or about 65 per cent of the 36,000 outstanding common shares of the Waldorf-Astoria Corp., which operates the hotel.

Hilton said the purchasers got the right to keep the hotel's name and would not change its "character and individuality."

The sale does not involve the Waldorf-Astoria building which occupies a whole block on Park and Lexington Aves. between 49th and 50th St. The building, 47 stories high, has 2,700 rooms. It was opened in 1931, and cost about $40 million.

This property is owned by the New York State Realty and Terminal Co., a subsidiary of the New York Central and the New York New Haven and Hartford Railroads, and is leased to the Waldorf-Astoria Corp.

Hilton said he and Henry Crown, chairman of the board of directors of Material Service Corp., of Chicago, acting as individuals, and the Hilton chain had bought a majority of the corporation stock at $12 a share.

The stock had been selling for some time at $8, and recently went up to $11.

The Hilton chain also controls the Plaza and Roosevelt hotels here, the Mayflower in Washington, the Stevens Hotel and Palmer House in Chicago, the Dayton Biltmore of Dayton, Town House in Los Angeles, the Hilton Hotels in El Paso and Lubbock, Tex., and in Albuquerque, N. M., and others.

Pay for the very lowest ranks, which has risen since 1939 from $21 a month to $75, remains unchanged, but back privates with five months' service get a $5 raise.

The generals and admirals fare best under the new scales with raises running as high as $300 a month for top officers with 20 years' service.

The new law provides higher compensation in many cases where men were retired for disability and call for gradually doing away with family allowances for enlisted men.

Brownwood Citizens To Demand Flood Control-Water Project

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. — A delegation of Brownwood, Tex., citizens tomorrow will urge the Army Engineers' Board for Rivers and Harbors Improvements to approve a flood control-water conservation project for their area.

Arriving here during the past two days by automobile, train, members of the group have conferred with Rep. Fisher (D-Tex.).

Specifically under consideration will be an Army division engineer's report which recommends authorization of some improvements the Brownwood people want but asserts that some other requested work is "economically unjustified" now.

Recommended by the district and division engineers is a proposed $9,035,000 earth dam which would be constructed just downstream from the present Lake Brownwood.

The annual maintenance cost of the dam is placed at $49,000, of which approximately $5,000 would be furnished by local interests.

The Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, which owns and operates Lake Brownwood, would have free and exclusive use of conservation storage in the new reservoir below an elevation of 1,425 feet above sea level. The capacity above that figure would be set aside by Army Engineers for flood control purposes.

Recommendations For Safeguards Against Fire Here Far-Fetched

The extensive expansion and improvement of Big Spring facilities recommended as fire safeguards by State Fire Commissioner Paul Brown is under advisement by the city commission. Our guess is that it is apt to stay under advisement for quite a spell.

Among the various things the commissioner suggests an outlay of half to a full million dollars is involved. Not the least is the recommendation that the city provide storage facilities for some 19 million gallons of water. That figure out a reserve of about 1,000 gallons per capita and a volume sufficient to flood any one of the draws of the city, and extinguish fire by foundation.

The 19 million gallons reserve (something we would like to see except for the staggering financial outlay) also is about four times the peak summer consumption per day. In winter months it would run the city a third to half a month, based on past records. Big Spring does need some expansion of its reservoir facilities as a peaking safeguard. We cannot imagine a fire which would require 14 million gallons of water to combat.

The commissioner suggested two more pumps and a ladder truck, two additional fire stations. He also recommended an increase of nine to the fire fighting force.

Add all these together, and you come out with a neat piece of change. The state fire insurance commissioner hints that something must be done on pain of insurance rate penalties "in the near future". As between doing the things which he has suggested and paying tribute not justified by the record, most people would rather pay the tribute. They'd be dollars and dollars and dollars ahead.

Historian Takes Exception To Play Given Local Celebration

J. Everett Haley, noted Texas historian, has taken exception to the fanfare which surrounded the appearance of Frank Grandstaff, the prisoner, during the Centennial week here.

In a letter addressed to the San Angelo Standard-Times, Mr. Haley said that "I see from the papers that the Big Spring Centennial degenerated into a maudlin publicity stunt to glorify a confirmed thief with a sense of rhythm, instead of being a tribute to the pioneer stock with the sturdy character of the real man who was nailed to the Cross on the Eternal Mount to symbolize the reward of virtue."

"How long, Oh God, are we, in our myopic view, to worship the vain and vulgar instead of the valiant and true as personified for us by the One Who was cast in Our Image?"

"Nor will an appeal to tolerance gloss over the orgy. While I am no authority on the Bible or anything else, what little I know of the faith seems to suggest that tolerance was never designed to banish a sense of taste and proportion among civilized people."

British Bobbies Think Gallows Protection Against Criminals

LONDON'S POLICEMEN (BETTER known as "Bobbies") who ordinarily are unarmed except for truncheons, have told a royal commission that the hanging penalty for murder should be retained. They feel that this is their best protection from desperate criminals.

The commission is studying the question of whether the laws on capital punishment should be changed, and of course the Bobbies' viewpoint is understandable. The only time they carry firearms is on the rare occasions when they are confronted with a desperate situation, and then guns are served out to them, to be returned to headquarters as soon as the emergency is over.

THE ENGLISH LAWS ABOUT THE USE of firearms are pretty fierce. For example, if you as a householder catch a burglar in your home, you may not shoot him unless you believe he is about to do you or a member of your family bodily injury. The mere fact that the thief may be climbing out of the window with the family silver doesn't give you the right to shoot. If you do use a gun under those circumstances and kill somebody, it is murder. The Bobby is a cool, steady and methodical individual who inspires respect. I encountered a typical example of how they work one day at the big Victoria railway station. Two men were having a furious word-battle, interspersed with flat blows. A Bobby was standing beside them—listening to the argument—while a crowd of several hundred surrounded them. The policeman never spoke but every time one of the batters aimed a fist at the other, the cop coolly blocked the blow and then listened some more.

FINALLY, HAVING GOT THE GIST OF the debate, the Bobby raised a hand and said, partly to the fighters and partly to the big crowd:

"That's all on your way!"

Bobbies handle all situations with that same studied calm, which more often than not is mixed with a sense of humor which bridges many rough places and engenders respect. They are hand-picked—men of sound judgment and understanding. They are the law.

Postscript: Among those who expressed approval of capital punishment by hanging were British prison wardens, who said it was humane, and three clergymen who had seen hangings. The ministers said in their report that "society may act on behalf of God."

Adm. Decker Doing Good Job Of Democracy Among Japanese

YOKOSUKA, Japan. — (By Airmail)

Adm. Benton Decker, exponent of the Seattle-Alutians-Japan defense line, may not be the heir to Admiral Mahan but he is some U. S. city hall's loss.

With Japan's prize navy yard, the admiral was handed Yokosuka City and outlying districts, a looming harbor area of 300,000 people roughly comparable to the Brooklyn Navy Yard section. He had several advantages—he was the occupation, he had 8,000 jobs to dispense, and the masses of the people were so slavish, poor and defenseless that any change for them had to be for the better.

The admiral plunged in with the fury of a reform administration and an exhilarating certainty that American religion, health, education and sanitation can save the world. He also terrified any obstreperous city fathers with a mythical weapon on the order of mama's bank account. It is a Louisville slugger which, he assures the baseball-conscious Japanese, is the most formidable baseball bat ever manufactured so he hopes he'll never have to use it on anybody in Yokosuka.

Today the once disreputable waterfront claims it is the most democratized place in Japan. It has formally invited Admiral Decker to become a Japanese citizen and in the recent mayoralty election where, naturally, his name was not on the ballot, he got the most votes.

A general cleanup was the first order of the day and then the hospitals and schools were reorganized. Another Decker secret weapon was the women. Deliberately searching for the most feminist and civic-minded housewives he could find he turned them into women's clubs where refreshments missing here since pre-war—chocolate bars—were always served. Then he gave them the job of encouraging, educating, and policing his civic projects.

Membership in the women's clubs hovers around 5,000 and it has a steady source of income—the right to sell the scrap and trash that accumulates within the area.

Church schools were welcomed and given quarters on the base. Japanese industry was encouraged to make use of facilities the Navy found it did not need—one little factory is making beautiful small boats according to a design furnished by an American naval architect. It was decided to make American Labor Day a rival to the Communist May Day. So a holiday was declared and every Japanese worker invited to bring his wife and one dependent to a tour of the Navy yard complete with refreshments—American soft drinks and cocoa—and, for each to take home, a package of ten-ion rations which had been mouldering in the warehouses on Guam.

Unhappily admiral in the Navy today is probably Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations, one of the squareshot officers ever to command a battle wagon. Denfeld is right in the middle of the Navy-Air Force battle, a battle which he did not start. Now that it's started he is publicly siding with his brother admirals. But before it started, he expressed the private view that the Navy could better use more money for submarines and smaller airplane carriers, rather than putting all its eggs in the giant experimental airplane carrier which has now become the war cry of the admirals.

Since then, some admirals have tried to cold-shoulder Denfeld, accused him of transferring Adm. Arthur Radford out to the Pacific because he had been a contender for Denfeld's job—an accusation completely untrue.

How like the present flare-up are not unusual in the Navy, and the situation between Admirals Radford and Denfeld is not unlike a similar Navy fracas which has been just as many headlines back in the Hoover administration. It illustrates the unfortunate fact that the admirals frequently put their judgment ahead of their commander-in-chief.

At that time, the admirals, who always worship bigness, were bent on building a lot of 10,000-ton, 8-inch-gun cruisers, and refused to go along with Secretary of State Stimson on a treaty of limitation. Spearhead of the Navy attack against Stimson was salty Adm. Hilary Jones—the Admiral Radford of his day.

But siding with Stimson, and holding the same chief of naval operations job which Admiral Denfeld occupies today, was Adm. William V. Pratt. Pratt believed that smaller cruisers with 6-inch guns could fire faster, and were more effective at close range or at night. But because he held these views Pratt was almost ostracized from

Feud Between Sen. Scott And Barkley Isn't Helping Truman Farm Program

WASHINGTON — It has been kept out of the papers, but sparks have been flying between two of President Truman's most potent congressional leaders—Vice President Barkley and Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois.

Things came to a head when the Vice President, called upon to settle a tie, voted for rigid 90 per cent support of parity farm prices which the administration opposed. Sen. Lucas, faced with defeat, lashed out at Barkley privately in language unprintable in a family newspaper.

"What does Barkley know about farming?" stormed the Democratic Senate leader. "He has a few tobacco farms down in Kentucky, but he knows nothing about the agricultural problems of the great west."

Lucas, whose nerves are frayed after the long and thankless job of riding herd on rebellious senators, further accused Barkley of torpedoing the farm program and embarrassing him personally.

"Who ever heard of anyone explaining his vote," scolded Lucas, referring to the fact that the vice president, in breaking the tie, had explained that he had campaigned for parity price support. "It's unheard of in the history of the Senate."

Barkley was not present during this tirade, which was meant for private ears. But word of it got back to him and it won't help relations between the two men who are supposed to guide the Truman program through the Senate.

the Navy. For a time his fellow admirals would not speak to him. And when he retired as chief of naval operations, almost no one was on hand to see him depart.

THE ADMIRALS' LEAK. As today, the admirals arranged a series of "leaks," and threatened the resignation of Admiral Jones. As today also, various congressmen took up the cudgels and debated the pros and cons of the 8-inch-gun and 6-inch-gun cruiser—much to the delight of the Japanese and British Navies.

Upshot of it all was that when five of the big 8-inch-gun cruisers came off the ways, they had cracked stern-posts—one of the most important parts of the ship, for on it hangs the rudder. Not only did the stern-posts have to be replaced at a cost of $150,000 paid by the taxpayer, but all the new cruisers rolled so badly it interfered with gunfire. This applied not only to the five cracked cruisers but to all of them. They had to be fitted with bilge keels and rolling tanks.

BATTLE OF GRAF SPEE. But it was not until the battle of the Graf Spee that Admiral Pratt, whose latter years were made miserable by his fellow admirals, was completely vindicated. In this famed battle off the River Plate, the British Navy with small, fast-moving 6-inch-gun cruisers was completely victorious over the 10,000-ton German cruiser carrying 8-inch guns.

What Admiral Pratt had argued in the face of almost every other admiral about the speed and mobility of the small cruiser, was proved right.

And the fact that Pratt and Secretary Stimson forced the Navy into building some fast 6-inch-gun cruisers turned out to be the Navy's salvation when it came to patrolling the vast South Pacific during the recent war.

MYSTERIOUS MARAGON. Jack O'Brien, director of information for the office of housing expediter, got a phone call some time ago from a man with a thick accent who said:

"This is Drew Pearson calling, and I want to know why Col. James Hunt spends so much time around your office? If you're not careful I'm going to write a story about it. You'd better get rid of that fellow Hunt."

The alleged "Drew Pearson" referred to "five-percenter" James Hunt, the friend of Gen. Harry Vaughan, and supposedly also the friend of the mysterious John Maragon.

However Jack O'Brien, being reasonably familiar with the voice of this columnist, recognized the thick accent to be that of Maragon, himself. Posing as this columnist, Maragon was trying to scare the housing expediter's office away from Hunt in order to leave a clear field for himself.

NOTE—Maragon is now telling friends that he is engaged in a big diamond deal, says he is leaving the country shortly on a mission to buy diamonds.

Mankind Stands At Crossroads As Atom Age Mutation Begins

The announcement that two rare forms of white blood cells have been found in the veins of workers of the gigantic Rochester cyclotron indicates that the predicted human mutations of the Atomic Age already may have begun. This comes as somewhat of a shock to those of us who had supposed that the changes would not become manifest until perhaps a hundred generations had lived and died. Evidently, it is later in the day than we had thought.

Of course, it is hardly likely that any considerable number of sideshow freaks will make their appearance within the next thousand years. Nature as a rule works slowly rather than in leaps and bounds. The process of mutation indeed may be carried out by such imperceptible steps that the mutant will be accepted without question as a member of the normal community.

What direction mutation will take is something that only time can tell. We may evolve a race of mutated supermen, and on the other hand we may find ourselves doomed to inevitable retrogression and eventual extinction as a species. All we know is that we are in the grip of atomic forces which are capable of turning man into a degraded creature infinitely lower than the African ape, or of making him a godlike being, fitted to search out, conquer and colonize every planet of the Galactic System.

Although man already is on the very threshold of interplanetary travel, it cannot be denied that he is poorly equipped, biologically, for extra-terrestrial conditions. It is possible that mutation, perhaps intelligently guided by atomic scientists, could give him a body adapted not only to the cosmic rays of deep space, but to the conditions of any planet upon which he might find himself. Long life, naturally, would be the corollary of such perfect adaptability, barring accidents, one might live a million years or more. In any event, man must become a long-lived creature if he is to have the incentive to reach the stars as well as the planets, for even in a space-ship equalling the speed of light, an ordinary lifetime would be consumed in a single interstellar journey.

Another benefit of this hypothetical mutation would be a vast increase in intellect. No one claims that mankind in its present stage of development is particularly bright. In fact, Prof. Walter B. Pitkin has proven exactly the opposite in a book of 700 or 800 pages entitled, "Introduction to the History of Human Stupidity." Incidentally, if you haven't read this tome, it's a howler.

It is significant that man's first thought with regard to his discovery of atomic power was to utilize it as a weapon. Nothing could illustrate better his utter stupidity and lack of spiritual vision. He has shown himself incapable of the proper use of the tremendous forces which have been placed in his hands, and the outlook for humanity is gloomy unless there is a drastic change in its thinking and objectives. Christianity apparently has failed to bring about this change, but perhaps Atomic Age mutation will provide the answer to the problem.—R. G. MAC-READY.

Newsman Recalls That Nehru Once Saved His Life In India

By JOSEPH C. GOODWIN (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, (AP) — INDIA'S PRIME minister, the Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, says one of the principal reasons for his visit to the United States is to learn about Americans.

Perhaps Americans also may learn something about Nehru and the way he ticks. Back in 1945 Nehru saved the lives of four of his Congress Party colleagues and one Associated Press correspondent. I was the correspondent.

Nehru may have forgotten it. I doubt that he even considered that anything unusual had occurred except an annoying delay to a three-day political speaking tour.

BUT BECAUSE I FELT CLOSER to death that day than before or since, I retain some pretty sharp mental pictures of Nehru, now the political and spiritual leader of some 300 million people.

We were late for a meeting at the Punjab town of Lyallpur. A quarter of a million people had waited two hours on a sun-baked plain outside the town when we arrived in a station wagon with an Indian driver. Lath-parking party troops—illegal in those days of British rule—held open a lane.

The crowd was still while Nehru spoke. When he climbed down from the platform, he shook the rest of us out through the straining lane of lathis and men. He hung back.

Turning, I saw that the lane was breaking up back of him and the crowd was pouring in.

WE RAN TO THE STATION WAGON. Nehru dug along ahead of the adoring mob like a crisp little chip on the head of a powerful wave. He screamed to the driver to get going.

Then he ran the last few steps and leaped. The human wall closed about the car. The motor died.

Men were crushed against the car. The pressure of thousands straining nearer lifted it off its wheels. The walls began to strain and crack.

"What a stupid way to die," I thought, "crushed inside an automobile by a scrambling mass of men fighting to see or touch another man."

Then a lean white fury Nehru, pounced head first through the window on the shoulders of the crowds. He pounded backs and heads with his silver-headed cane. He shouted and—I think—swore.

WILDWEYED PEOPLE FELL BACK before his violence. The car bumped back on its wheels. The motor caught. The crowd tried to push back. The car was in gear again, scurrying through falling men. We spurted out of the teeming mass.

Nehru followed on foot. We got away from there, fast.

In three days I got to know and like the man Nehru more and more. Away from crowds he was relaxed and quiet, browsing through books and newspapers, chatting easily, joking about his days in English schools and English jails and talking earnestly about freedom and liberty.

He was trying at the time to give up smoking. Often he would take a cigarette and then put it back. After a bit he would take it out and put it in half with scissors he carried for that purpose.

CATCHING MY EYE DURING THIS operation, he winked and smiled.

But the moment the car stopped at a village he went into action. After a speech he was so terse he couldn't eat or sit still.

At another village we were stopped by a crowd at the tomb of an ancient holy man. The villagers showered Nehru with flowers. Men, women, and children dropped to their knees and reached out to touch him. He didn't even glance at them. But he turned aside to a feeble old beggar, patted her on the head and spoke a few words to her.

Become A Film Star And See The World

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Want a first-class, prepaid vacation in Europe, staying at the best spas and hotels?

Watch kid. And it's available to you at no cost and little obligation—provided you're a film star.

Take Joseph Cotton. In the past year or so, he has made three pictures in Europe—in London, Vienna and Italy.

"This is the only way I could afford to take a European trip first-class," Cotton says, with perhaps unwarranted modesty about his money status.

Joseph doesn't cotton the ho-joke to this tall about the rigors of making pictures in ill-nourished, ill-equipped Europe. "Making pictures on location in Europe is exactly the same as making them on location at Lake Tahoe," he told me. "You undergo what people think are indignities in either place they always say. This couldn't happen in Hollywood."

eat cooks in the world, and know so little about good cooking?" he wondered.

Cotton has his own solution to England's fuel-saving problem and he offers it herewith to Sir Stafford Cripps:

Have the British cook their vegetables one day instead of two.

Whether at Lake Como or Lake Tahoe, Cotton remarked, there is always a wind machine to make the female star's hair blow.

"Then the sound man says it's making too much noise. So they try a wind tunnel affair, but that is too noisy, too. So someone gets the idea of waving a piece of board to make the girl's hair blow. It happens every time."

Cotton didn't even grouse about England, where he spent nine austere months. "You soon find what you put in your stomach is not too important," he remarked.

His only complaint is that English cooks do to food. "How can they live just 20 miles from France, where you find the great-

More Texans On Old Age Rolls

AUSTIN, Oct. 12. (AP) — An additional 728 recipients joined Texas' old age assistance rolls this month.

State Department of Public Welfare Director John H. Winters announced yesterday that the increase brought total recipients this month to 219,382. The average check amounted to $34.16.

The average October grant to needy blind was $38.59. There were 6,234 in that category this month, 74 more than a month ago.

A decrease of 25 was reported in number of families receiving help under the aid to dependent children program. Checks in an average amount of $46.75 per family went to 17,260 families, representing 48,096 children. The average amount was down 6 per cent from a month ago because of insufficient funds, Winters said.

Convicted Robber Remains In Jail

DALLAS, Oct. 12. (AP) — Ollie Otto Prince's lawyers tried to get the convicted bank robber out of jail Wednesday. They failed, but said they'll try again.

Attorneys Clyde Hood and Howard Dailey asked U. S. Commissioner W. Madden Hill to approve two sureties so Prince could go free on bond. Hill said the sureties were too low.

The lawyers said they will ask Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson to overrule Hill.

Prince, 45, of Corsicana, was convicted last March of robbing the First State Bank of Rice, Navarro County. He is appealing a 19-year prison sentence in the case.

He also is under indictment in a bank robbery in Malone and another in Mount Calm. Both these cases are due for setting sometime during the second week of November in a War Federal court.

Prince has posted $10,000 bond for the Malone case. He has posted $12,500 for the Mount Calm case and $10,000 for his appeal bond on the Rice conviction.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12. (AP) — Educational "peepshows" as a teaching aid for colleges and schools were suggested today by a technical illustrator.

"People get fun out of looking through a peep-hole, no matter what they're looking at, and when they have fun the things they see are more apt to stick in their minds," declared Stewart.

Cock Crowing Tilts Underway In Belgium

By WILLIAM ANDERSON
AP Staff Writer

BRUSSELS, Oct. 12. — Down near Charleroi, in Belgium's coal mining country, the coming of autumn brings on the opening of the nation's oldest sporting pastime—the cock crowing competitions.

Before dawn on crisp Sunday mornings miners flock to the town meeting place with their favorite birds tucked under their arms.

Once inside, the business goes quickly. The roosters are placed in cages where they cannot see each other. The official in-charge lists the birds and owners while the other old Belgian pastime of betting gets under way.

An owner and his cronies get into a huddle to discuss a bird's form in muted tones.

"He's been as regular as a clock," Pierre whispers. "One hundred and ten crows in half an hour every morning for a week."

A little more discussion follows and they settle on 110. This means they will bet their rooster will crow exactly 110 times during the half hour trials.

Other owners are also settling their birds' crowing potentialities. Some decide on 55 or 70, or maybe 100. Others may go as low as 20.

The winner will be the bird which crows nearest to his master's estimate.

There is very little guesswork in arriving at this. For days the rooster has been under careful observation. The fate of a chanticleer which refuses to follow past performance is swift and sure—on the dinner table.

A knock on the table signals the beginning of the competition. Owners give their birds last minute words of encouragement and the contest manager and his helpers take their places in front of the cages, each with pencil and paper in hand.

All talking stops as about 100 birds start giving vent to their feelings. The controllers find a musical ear very handy in order to distinguish the note made by the bird they are checking, and not confuse it with the one next door. For onlookers, however, deafness might be a blessing.

The owners stand tensely, watches in hand, checking the regularity of their cock crows. "Too fast," "too slow," "just fine" can be read in their faces as they gaze anxiously from bird to watch and back again.

Tension gets higher as it becomes obvious the competition is narrowing down to two of the dawn sycophants. Then one gets out of stride and either fails to reach his predicted number or goes far beyond it.

Another sudden knock on the table announces the end of the contest. Cards are checked, the winner declared and all bets are paid off.

With the meeting over, the miners repair to the cafe to partake in another old Belgian pastime—boasting of their bird's achievements or muttering "attendez, le semaine prochaine," which means "wait until next week."

Explosion Blamed On Hydrogen Leak

HOUSTON, Oct. 12. (AP) — An explosion which injured 10 men at the San Jacinto ordnance depot ammonia works was blamed on a hydrogen leak.

The explosion occurred Monday. A preliminary report yesterday by a board of investigation said hydrogen leaked through a line which normally carries caustic solution to a gas scrubbing vessel. The board said it hadn't found what ignited the hydrogen.

BOTH PASS RIGID TESTS

Two City Fire Trucks Are Antiquated Models

Veteran of the Big Spring fire department are a pair of Seagrave "pumper" fire trucks. One of the two, old No. 300, purchased by the city in 1925, has been on duty longer than any of the present personnel of the department. The other, No. 301, has been making runs since 1930. Both trucks passed rigid State Fire Commission pumping tests in September.

The 1925 pumper was the second such truck purchased by the City of Big Spring. Its predecessor was the Thomas Flyer, first motorized fire truck in the state, which was bought on Sept. 22, 1909.

The oldest Seagrave truck, a 750-gallon pumper, has been retired from making runs to "first-alarm" fires, and is called into action only for blazes large enough to require all the city's fire fighting equipment.

Number 301, the 19-year-old vehicle, now makes all first-alarm calls. A 650-gallon pump truck, it has responded to at least 5,000 fire alarms, Fire Chief H. C. Crocker estimated. It was the third pumper purchased by the city.

Mileage on the big truck is only 3,214, but that is no indication of the long hours of steady, grinding pumping service the big six-cylinder engine has seen, Chief Crocker said.

The speedometer has been broken on No. 300 for about 20 years. Only 226 miles are registered for that vehicle.

No mechanical work has ever been done on the 1930 Seagrave, Chief Crocker said. A set of piston rings were installed in the 1925 model truck in 1930, the only repair it has ever had.

Truck No. 300, biggest of the two, weighs 12,000 pounds. It cost $12,000 in 1925—a dollar a pound. Both have six-cylinder, 115 horsepower engines with both battery and magneto ignitions. Pistons are of cast iron and weigh about 20 pounds each, the fire chief declared.

Supporting the two aged trucks in protecting Big Springers from fire losses, the city has two other pump trucks and a squad car. Pumping equipment is mounted on late model Ford chassis, making the two new fire engines.

A staff of 21 men is maintained to man the equipment which is operated from two fire stations.

Bridges' Trial Starts Nov. 14

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13. (AP)—Harry Bridges' trial on charges of perjury and conspiracy to defraud the government will start on Nov. 14, barring some unforeseen delay.

Federal District Judge George B. Harris yesterday denied a series of motions by which counsel for Bridges and two aides attacked the indictments on various constitutional and legal grounds.

The Australian born Bridges, stormy labor figure and head of the CIO Longshoremen's Union, was charged with perjury in testifying at his 1.45 naturalization hearing that he was not and never had been a Communist.

Union Vice President J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, union international representative, were accused of aiding and abetting an attempt to defraud the government by their statements at the hearing.

There was no immediate comment from defense counsel whether further steps would be taken to delay the trial.

Judge Harris denied a defense contention that Bridges was being placed in double jeopardy. The court held Bridges never had been prosecuted for the crimes alleged.

Champion's Boss Overlooks Latin

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13. (AP)—How cocky can you get? Ezzard Charles defends his NBA heavyweight boxing championship against Pat Valentino, the San Francisco Scumson, here tomorrow night. But his manager's eyes are set on more distant green (back) fields.

Virtually ignoring Valentino—the local Latin with the long, long looks—Jake Mintz talked today of a title defense for Charles before year's end. And he didn't mean the 15-rounder which may pack 20,000 fans into San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Sure, Ez is a 1-4 favorite. The odds even might lengthen a bit before the Cincinnati Negro climbs into the rings at 10 p.m. tomorrow (12 midnight CST).

Mintz said he has no specific challenger in mind. He seemed to consider the Valentino fight already won.

Mintz may be cold to Valentino's chances—but San Francisco area fans are steaming up. Several fight followers who originally looked on the scrap as a glorified exhibition now are saying Pat really has some chance.

Man Gets Two Years For Shooting Ex-Wife

DALLAS, Oct. 13. (AP)—Albert Andrew Mathews, 43, drew a two-year county jail sentence Wednesday for shooting his ex-wife through the legs.

A district court jury found he was guilty of aggravated assault but not assault to murder, as the state had charged.

The shooting occurred Aug. 12, 1948. Mathews' 13-year-old daughter and his former wife testified she came to their home after calling and threatening to kill Mrs. Mathews.

Comic Strip Artist Seeks Flight Record

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13. (AP)—Norman Marsh, comic strip artist, (Danny Hale) takes off today in another attempt to set a record for small planes in a non-stop flight to New York.

The 48-year-old Marine infantry veteran of both world wars hopes to fly from International Airport here to La Guardia Field in 22 hours. The current record, held by Johnny Jones, is 30 hours, 37 minutes, set 11 years ago.

Marsh is using the same 145-horsepower Aeronca in which he attempted the flight Sept. 2. He was forced down near Cleveland when he ran out of gas.

Shorthorns Meet Robert Lee In 8 O'clock Test

The Big Spring high school B football team invades Robert Lee this evening to challenge that city's Steers in an 8 o'clock battle.

The Dogies, coached by Conn Isaacs and Wayne Bonner, tasted victory last week when they thrashed Coahoma's rugged Bulldogs with a long pass. Final count was 6-0.

It represented their second victory in five starts. They previously had defeated Midland, 31-7, lost to Sweetwater by a touchdown on two occasions and dropped a 24-0 decision to Seagraves.

Recent addition of Robert Cobb to the lineup has helped the Dogies attack tremendously. It was Cobb who tossed the long pass that enabled the Shorthorns to nip Coahoma. Frank Philley was his receiver.

The Big Springers are shipshape and apparently ready to operate. They'll probably be outwitted in tonight's fracas but that didn't prove too much of a handicap last week.

Speck Franklin, the team's chief sprinter and kicker, will provide quite a problem for the Dogies. Unless the coaches see fit to hold him back for Friday's game with Brownwood here, Jimmy Stewart will see his share of action, too.

Robert Lee boasts one of the better teams in District 8-B.

Corsairs Work For D'Baker

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 13—After dropping their first Conference game in a 10 to 13 decision to A.C.C., the Southwestern University football squad settled down to a week at home in preparation for the game in Georgetown Saturday against the Daniel Baker College "Hillbillies."

In playing host to the "Hillbillies" this weekend, the Southwestern Pirates expect to meet less rigid competition than has marred their season thus far. Nevertheless Head Coach William H. "Spot" Collins points out that no margin will be allowed against what might prove to be an upset.

From Brownwood, Head Coach Paul Tyson states that his starting lineup is uncertain due to the fact that his squad was deprived of spring training and he is still experimenting with a starting lineup. He declares, however, that his charges have manifested a marvelous attitude and that their short training season is compensated for in part by extraordinary school spirit.

Spot Collins expects previous injuries in the Pirate lineup to be overcome by this weekend and should, therefore, field a team unhampered by injuries. Next week will find the Pirates in Conference competition again against Howard Payne in Brownwood.

Tim Corley, eastern intercollegiate welterweight boxing champion, is captain-elect of the Stratus University cross-country team.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Willard (Pop) Ramsdell, a mainstay of the Big Spring pitching staff back in 1938 through '41, was on the mound for Hollywood Sunday last when the Stars clinched the Pacific Coast League crown by beating the San Diego Padres, 8-4, in a game at Hollywood.

The win was the Chanute, Kansas, knuckleballer's third in the playoffs and his 21st of the season. Ramsdell, who won 25 decisions for the WT-NM league team here in '41, received $550 as his share in the playoffs. Pop experienced his best year in history, financially, no doubt. He probably earned not less than $5,000 for the regular campaign.

Will is apt to get another trial in the major leagues, although he might prefer to spend the remainder of his baseball career in the Coast league. If he goes up again, it is almost sure to be with some club other than Brooklyn, which owns his contract. The Bums have taken him to spring drills twice and haven't seen fit to keep him. Branch Rickey, the Brooklyn mahatma, reportedly has him on the trading block.

On the subject of the Coast league, Arlie Wilson, a colored boy with Oakland, won the circuit's batting championship the past season. He did it without hitting a home run, the second time in history that's been done.

The East Texas baseball league clubs will be limited to only three classmen next season, compared to the six they were permitted this year.

Jerome West, the local theater man, who likes to diet on a fare of Southwest Conference football will whet his appetite on the TCU-Texas A&M game in Fort Worth Saturday afternoon and then drop over to Dallas to catch the Rice-SMU contest that night.

A few patrons have asked for the names of the officials who 'called' that now historic game between Texas Christian and Arkansas a couple of weeks ago.

Paul Boyd (Texas) was the referee, H. S. "Boots" Coleman (Hendrix) the umpire, W. C. Mills (West Virginia) the head lineman and Roy Selby (Tulsa) the field judge.

The Brownwood Lions, who play the Big Spring Steers here Friday night, are supposed to come up with one of their greatest ball clubs in history around 1951 or '52.

The Brown county school has a crack junior high eleven that boasts a world of promise, actually outweighs the varsity club.

Ollie Cordill, the Steer star of the 1933-34-35 seasons, is coaching an AAF grid eleven in Tokyo, Japan, again this fall. Ollie's team was to have played its first game Sept. 24.

James Garner, Amarillo high school's great end last year, is now enrolled in Yale University on a scholarship, an academic rather than an athletic one. James is not playing football for the Eli frosh but will try for the tennis team.

Garner had offers from virtually every school in the Southwest but decided to forego football entirely when he got to college.

Charley Keller, Whose Baseball Days Are Numbered, Ready For Retirement

By WHITNEY MARTIN AP STAFF

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. The square-jawed guy stood alone on the subway platform. In his neat, conservative suit and with his hair neatly combed, he looked like a solid businessman. It was his eyes that drew attention, eyes that were looking toward you with a mixture of sadness and defiance.

He spotted us and ambled over, his rugged jaw split in a genial grin. "Hi," he said, and it wasn't until then that we recognized him. He, walls Ch one of the big heroes of past series and still a fearsome sight for any pitcher when he strides purposefully to the plate.

Keller, one of the midgets of men and one of the true gentlemen of the game despite an 18-inch torso which earned him the nickname of King Kong, was heading for the stadium and his sixth series as a member of the Yankees, although because of an injury he did not take an active part in 1947.

He didn't this year, either, being one of the four men Casey Stengel didn't use, but he would bear no malice because of that. "I haven't been much good to the club this year," he said as the subway rattled northward. "My back still is weak and I've lost 30 or 40 feet on my hits. I used to get just a piece of the ball and be able to hit it out of the park."

Charley's career has been punctuated by injuries—a chipped ankle.

Yanks Captain Jack Jensen, Billy Martin

By JOE REICHLER AP Staff

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. (AP)—The New York Yankees, announcing they won't "stand pat" on their present world championship team for 1950, bought two of the brightest stars in the Pacific Coast League today.

Manager Casey Stengel announced the purchase of Jackie Jensen, outfielder who is a former California football star, and Alfred (Billy) Martin, an infielder.

They were bought from the Oakland club, which Stengel managed last year.

No price was divulged, but it's rumored the Yankees shelled out in the neighborhood of $100,000 and five players for the two athletes, who were widely sought after by major league clubs.

"You never sit tight," Casey told newsmen in the Yankees' final news conference of the season yesterday. "You can't afford to stand pat in this league. We're going to try to strengthen our pitching staff, although it looked pretty good in the last week. Sure, we could use a couple of pitchers."

"I'd like to improve my outfield a little, too. We're willing to listen to anybody who has something reasonable to offer."

Jensen, 22, is the former football star at the University of California. He is a bonus player. A. J. C. L. (Brock) Laws, in beating 14 big league clubs in his services, lured him at the close of the college baseball season last spring with a bonus of $40,000 plus a three-year contract at $15,000 per year.

"My scouts told me that Jensen is the greatest outfield prospect in the minor leagues," said Casey. "He is fast, has tremendous power, and owns the strongest arm in baseball since Bob Meusel."

In 125 games with the Oaks, Jensen batted .261 this season. Included in his 122 hits were 21 doubles, seven triples and nine home runs. He drove in 78 runs.

Jensen is engaged to wed Zoe Ann Olsen, national diving champion.

Stengel said eight clubs had been after Martin, a second baseman who also can play short of third.

Martin, 21, hit .284 this year—including 29 doubles, three triples and 13 homers. He drove in 91 runs.

Sooners, Herd Extend Dallas Pact To 1953

DALLAS, Oct. 13. (AP)—The Universities of Oklahoma and Texas will play their annual football game in the Cotton Bowl here through 1953.

"We are hopeful that the contract will be extended indefinitely," said Bill Hitzelberger, general manager of the State Fair of Texas. The fair operates the Cotton Bowl.

Hitzelberger had just said yesterday that the two schools' "several weeks ago" extended their contract until 1953. It had been scheduled to expire in 1951.

"They wanted to extend it longer than that but the Conference has a rule that a contract of this sort can't be extended more than five years," the fair manager said.

After a bitter rowing by Oklahoma fans in 1947 in protest over official decisions in the game the schools agreed to put the match on a home and home basis when the contract expired in 1951.

But there have been better relations since then. Two games here have been played.

Each team received $8,000 as its share of the $16,000 as customers, biggest fan ever assembled in the Southwest.

"There are very pleasant relations between Texas and Oklahoma," Hitzelberger said.

Porkers Ready For Longhorns

FAYETTEVILLE, Oct. 13. (AP)—Barring practice injuries, the Arkansas Razorbacks will be in their best condition of the season when they square off against Texas in Little Rock Saturday.

Capt. Alvin Duke, who has been used only on defense because of an ankle injury, is runner at offensive right halfback for the first time since the 1949 campaign opened.

All other members of the first string backfield—Quarterback Don Logue, Fullback Leon (Muscle) Campbell and Left Half Ray Parks—also are ready for full speed action.

The Razorbacks went through a light scrimmage.

Carroll Stauple, outstanding end on the 1948-49 University of Delaware football team, is assisting with the Heen freshman team.

Hawks Prepare To Slow Air Offensive In Saturday Go

Oswalt Enemy's Chief Gunner

Decatur Baptist college and Howard County Junior college, which tangle here in a conference football game Saturday night, will stack up about evenly in weights.

The Baptists have only one man in their starting lineup who does 200 pounds or better. He is Joe Torres, 205-pound right guard.

Bill Renner, left tackle, tips in at 190 pounds while all the other Decatur linemen are 185 pounds or less.

Noel Hull, heaviest man among the HCCJ regulars, won't start due to a leg injury. Bill (Chop) Van Pelt, crackerjack guard, carries the most tonnage among Hawk forwards is due to line up for one kickoff. He weighs 205 or thereabouts.

The HCCJ team suffered a blow with the announcement that Jack Gaines, who weighed nearly 260 pounds, would not be available for play. Gaines has quit school to go to work.

From all indications, the local lineup will be composed of Arless Davis and Donnie Carter at ends, Gerald Harris and A. J. Cain at tackles, "Fisher" Turner and Van Pelt at guards, Kimbel Guthrie at center, Louis Stallings at quarter, B. B. Lees and Horace Rankin at halves and Moe Madison at full.

Lees suffered a broken nose recently but will wear a nose guard.

The Big Springers are preparing for a Decatur air offensive. Chief Decatur bomber is a lad by the name of Oswalt, a 135-pound boy who has proved quite accurate in early games. His favorite target is Hill, 165-pound left end.

The Decatur team is coached by L. I. Lewis. The eleven runs off a T.

Saturday night's game will begin at 8 p. m. Ducats are on sale at Johnny Dibrell's Sporting Goods store.

Yearlings Meet Tide Saturday

Coaches Earl Crawford and Roy Baird take their Big Spring Junior high school Yearlings to San Angelo Saturday for a 2:30 p. m. contest with the Junior gridders of that city.

The Yearlings are in top shape for the encounter but Crawford indicated the locals are in for their toughest game of the season, since the Crimson Tide will field a rugged, hard-hitting lineup.

Big Spring will build its hopes around J. C. Arvstad and Doyle Maynard, who led the Yearlings to a victory over Sweetwater here a couple of weeks ago.

Storm Damages Fishing Pier

If you read the story of the hurricane which blew into Texas last week you may have noticed that the South Pier at Port Aransas, Tex., was damaged.

Pounding seas ripped out 200 feet of the old wooden structure and caused another 200 feet to buckle.

If you've never been fishing at Port Aransas, the news didn't mean much. But if you have, you'll know that it was more than just a pier that plopped into the Gulf of Mexico.

The South Pier is where fishermen are born-god fishermen.

Most of the novices start out by dropping a shrimp-baited hook over its scarred sides. You always get a bite, even though most of the time it is a type of catfish no one knows exactly what to do with—a type that usually swallows the hook clear down to the tail.

You can catch catfish off the pier and tarpon, too. You fish with shrimp or squid.

No matter what time of day or night you wonder down to the beach, someone will be there fishing. At night, they use lanternlight to bait their hooks and unhook their catch.

It's easy to tell a "first timer." He timidly looks around, makes sure he has plenty of room to cast, winds up like an amateur fighter throwing a roundhouse right, and usually ends up trying to get his hook out of one of the big wooden pilings that support the pier.

It's quite a chore to get plenty of room to cast. People usually stand elbow to elbow. That's a "gentlemen's agreement" among the tarpon fishermen at the tip end—"coming out" means everybody ducks.

They'll probably repair the South Pier in a hurry. And after a few weeks next spring, the new boards will probably take on the same weather beaten-lure as the rest of the pier.

At least, a lot of fishermen hope so.

Prepsters Oper Action Tonight

By The Associated Press The City

For a further deficit increase this week in its battle with Class AA in Texas schoolboy football.

To date the City Conference teams have been able to win only two games while losing 40 and tying two with Class AA.

Six inter-conference games are scheduled this week end.

Tonight Sunset of Dallas entertains Weatherford. Tomorrow night Woodrow Wilson of Dallas is host to Orange, Grand Prairie to Crozer Tech of Dallas, Amarillo to Forest (Dallas), Highland Park to North Dallas and Baytown to Austin (Houston).

Not a single City Conference team unless it is Sunset is given much chance of winning. This means Orange, Grand Prairie, Amarillo, Highland Park and Baytown are the favorites.

In other headline games of the State, undefeated, untied, unscorred on Galveston entertains Austin and Henderson. Which also is undefeated and untied, goes to Longview.

Galveston is the underdog against Austin and Henderson appears in for plenty of trouble with Longview in District 9 conference game.

Eleven of the 20 City Conference and Class AA districts have conference games in the schedule of an even 50 tilts over the state.

Marlene Bauer Upsets Texan

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13. (AP)—A 15-year-old Californian who's been cutting down the veterans in the Women's Texas Golf Tournament faces another stiff test in today's quarter final.

Young Marlene Bauer meets Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill. Each won a 18-hole victory yesterday. Marlene ousted defending Champion Polly Riley, and Marjorie defeated Babe Zaharias.

Kansas City Champion Marilyn Smith moved ahead with a 3 and 1 victory over Marlene's 20-year-old sister Alice. Marilyn's quarter-final opponent will be another state champion, Betty MacKinnon, the Arkansas titlist.

Mission Player Death Victim

MISSION, Oct. 13. (AP)—A Mission High School halfback injured in football practice died yesterday.

Enrique Carrizales, 16, was hurt in a pileup Monday. He died in a McAllen hospital from an internal hemorrhage caused by a kidney injury.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. Carrizales, a miler on the track team as well as a football player, was a junior. His father, Enrique Carrizales, Sr., his mother, two brothers and two sisters survive.

Heath To Obtain Baseball Freedom

BOSTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Walters, "for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release," have been asked by the Boston Braves for Jeff Heath, veteran, hard hitting outfielder.

Utah Senator Blocks Action On Canadian River Project

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Rep. Worley (D-Tex.) said last night that he would block action this year on the $55 million Canadian River development in Texas that has been blocked by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah).
Worley has just returned from an inspection of European foot and mouth disease research centers.
Worley said Watkins objects to any Senate hearing this year on the Canadian River project. Watkins is a member of the Senate Interior Committee, which handles such legislation.
The Texas congressman said Watkins' lone objection could block passage of the legislation.
"Although it would have been all right with other senators to report the Canadian bill on the floor for a final vote, accepting the date developed by the House, the Utahpers during his absence that he senator said he felt there should be a regular meeting of the committee," Worley said.
"There is nothing to such report as such, and may even sup-time and again, and over my long period of years about my predecessor."

As for the reports published in Congress before he was appointed in various Texas newspapers to a federal judgeship.

Ex-Deputy Faces Lunacy Charge In Extortion

HOUSTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—A former deputy sheriff accused of attempting to extort $50,000 from Oilman Glenn McCarthy was charged with lunacy today.
Raymond Chambers, 43, until yesterday a janitor at McCarthy's swank Shamrock Hotel, was taken to the city-county hospital psychopathic ward after the lunacy charge was filed with Justice of the Peace Tom Mass.
Chambers, who served four years as a Harris County deputy sheriff before becoming a Shamrock employe early this year, yesterday was released under $7,500 bond after being charged with writing the extortion note to McCarthy.
An examining trial has been set for Wednesday.

The lunacy charge was filed by Tom Shelley of the Shamrock's police force.
County Judge Glenn Perry appointed Dr. Abe Hauser to examine Chambers.
Dr. C. A. Dwyer, physician for Harris County, had asked that a temporary physician be appointed to make the examination. Dwyer also is director of the Shamrock's health clinic.
Dwyer said the lunacy charge was filed with his approval but that he did not want to make the examination "for obvious reasons."

Another blaze at the Quick Lunch cafe was extinguished after minor damage. It probably started from electrical wiring, firemen said.
Firemen had answered a previous alarm at the Gulltar gym Wednesday afternoon, but no damage was reported on that call. It was caused by an overloaded electric line, firemen said.
A minor blaze, extinguished by staff members, was reported at Minute Inn, one mile east of the city during the night. No serious damage occurred, police said.

Delegates Named To State P-TA Meeting In Waco

Mrs. T. F. Horton and Mrs. Frank B. Wilson were elected to attend the state P.T.A. convention in Waco Nov. 16-17 at the meeting of the North Ward Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday.

Following the opening song of "The P.T.A. Roundup" led by Mrs. Noble Kenner. Mrs. J. E. Parker gave the inspirational thought. She discussed the subject of "Team Work between Home and School."

In her talk, she stressed that "the greatest reason for P.T.A. cooperation is that children of today have a degree of varying personalities which will help or hinder them in the task of becoming efficient." She further said that "parents of today expect the teachers to build the character of our children and that for that reason parents should know the child's teacher in order to better cooperate with the faculty member in the development of the child."

Lee Milling, guest speaker, discussed the topic of "Budgeting Time." Milling said that "most of us have to budget our time in order that we may have some leisure, and that until we do budget our time, parents will not have enough time to spend with their children."

"The greatest need of today is greater recreational facilities for our children and the most important part of a parent's life is to play with his child."

The sixth grade students under the direction of Mrs. Mabel H. Logan, presented the program for the afternoon. Room count was won by Mrs. Frank Cook's first grade class. This group received 100 per cent in membership.

Announcement was made of the annual procedure course to be taught by Mrs. B. E. Winterrowd, 701 N. Gregg, Thursday, Oct. 20, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. J. C. Lane, council president, requested all members to attend the parliamentary course at the First Presbyterian church under the direction of Mrs. James T. Brooks.

Mrs. Earl Hollis was appointed hospitality chairman. Those attending the meeting were Mrs. J. W. O'Shields, Mrs. Raymond Hamby, Mrs. Earl Plew, Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Lee Milling, Mrs. J. E. # House May Refuse To Accept Senate Action On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (AP)—Senate approval of a flexible system for supporting farm prices ended one long argument today but started another—on whether the House will go along.

After weeks of debate, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans yesterday pushed through on a voice vote the farm support bill sponsored by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), former secretary of agriculture.

They substituted it for the one-year continuance of wartime-level price supports voted by the House in mid-July. Leaders of the coalition said they are confident the House will accept the Senate version eventually.

Farm-minded house members talked equally optimistically about forcing senators to take their one-year extension of existing price props at least for 1950—a year when all 435 House members and more than one-third of the senators must face the farmers and other voters.

Both the Senate and House bills peg their proposed price supports to percentages of parity. Parity is a price for a farm product deemed to be fair to the farmer in relation to the cost of things he has to buy.

However, the Senate bill would revise the parity formula to take into account the cost of hired hands.

Under the Senate bill the government would support major crops in 1950 at 90 per cent of parity, but only if they were under production or marketing controls. After 1950, support levels could range down to 75 per cent.

House May Refuse To Accept Senate Action On Farm Bill

Under the House bill support would continue through 1950 at the 90 per cent of parity levels that were in effect during the war.

House leaders planned to send the dispute to a conference committee—sometimes called the third chamber of Congress—to try to adjust differences.

Anticipating this, the Senate has named its seven conferees. They will vote as a unit and five of the seven are strong supporters of the flexible support price system.

BUGGY RIDE NEARING END

DENISON, Oct. 13. (AP)—The end of a horse and buggy trek from Chicago to Waco is in sight for two teen age girls.
The girls, Alice Michaelis, 18, and Ruth Kenyon, 18, both of Chicago, crossed into Texas late yesterday and spent the night here. They expect to reach Waco via Fort Worth, in about a week.
They are making the trip as a "jerk" and because "we thought Texas would be a nice place to see." They said they might even stay.

The distance from Chicago to Waco is a little over a thousand miles.

ONE MORNING ON TAYLOR 3991—

A ring-by-ring description of one morning in the busy life of Mrs. R. E. Sivley, 2115 Rutland St., Houston, Texas, (Taylor 3991).

7:00 Saved my husband's pocket knife with an early call to Cleo. She found it in his navy pants before she started our family washing.

8:15 Dorothy, my sister-in-law, phoned to offer me a lift to the bridge luncheon today. She'll be by at 11:30. That will be a big help!

8:20 Called Mrs. Charlot to see whether she can stay with Beaver (our son, age 2½) while I go to the luncheon. My lucky day! She can.

9:45 Mother phoned from Austin, wanted to hear Beaver's voice, said she was lonesome for her grandson. He was cute, carried on quite a conversation.

10:30 Called a real estate agent about a house I saw advertised in the newspaper. Only five rooms and too high priced. So we're still looking!

10:45 My good friend, Jen, called to exchange the latest news. We made a date to spend the day together a week from tomorrow.

11:30 Dorothy had to hunt for her car keys, called to tell me she would be a few minutes late. That gives me a few more minutes to get ready.

...and thanks for a wonderful bargain!
This is just one morning's record in the diary Mrs. Sivley kept for five days of all the telephone calls she and her husband made and received. Score for the five days was 25 separate conversations, two of them long distance calls from Austin, the rest local calls. Cost per local call—about two cents.
Like most people, Mrs. Sivley had never realized how much she depended on her telephone to run her household—or how many good times started with a telephone call. When she figured the actual cost, she added a footnote to her diary—
"Thanks for a wonderful bargain."
Every year brings further progress in telephone service. New telephones added so you can call more people, more people can call you. Improvements made so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. The result—a real bargain today that keeps growing in value every year!

Entire Crew Killed As B-50 Explodes

ISLEHAM, Eng., Oct. 13. (U.P.)—An American B-50 heavy bomber plowed into a fog-covered wheat field and exploded today killing 12 or 13 crew men aboard. The terrific blast, heard 12 miles from the scene, shook down ceilings and smashed windows in homes here. All those aboard the big plane an atom bomb-carrying version of the B-29, were killed.

A Royal Air Force rescue squadron recovered 12 bodies from the smoking twisted wreckage within two hours after the crash. A U. S. Air Force spokesman said the plane may have been carrying 13 men. Names of those aboard were not announced pending notification of next of kin.

The plane, one of the newest types in the U. S. Air Force, is designed to carry conventional bombs as well as the atom bombs.

The RAF threw a guard around the wreckage to protect secret equipment. Flaming high octane gasoline from the shattered plane set fire to big stacks of wheat straw stacked in the field. The fire spread to adjoining farm buildings. Firefighting equipment from nearby towns fought the flames.

The B-50 belonged to the 43rd Bombardment Group which flew here from its base in Tucson, Ariz., in August. The group now is stationed at Sculthorpe in nearby Norfolk County for 90 days of operational training.

Witnesses said the plane burst into flames just before diving into the field. In London, U. S. Air Force headquarters, the B-50 bomber might have been carrying live high explosive bombs on a practice mission.

GOP Flays Report Absolving AEC Of Mismanagement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—A congressional report absolving the Atomic Energy Commission of "incredible mismanagement" charges set critical Republicans at work today on a dissenting document.

The report clearing Chairman David E. Lilienthal and the other AEC members of the charges was approved by the Senate-House Atomic Committee late yesterday. The vote was 9 to 6 on straight party lines — Democrats for, Republicans against.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.), who made the mismanagement accusation, promptly labelled the majority report a "cleverly written whitewash" of the committee's investigation last summer. He promised a minority version "highlighting the proof" of his charges.

Hickenlooper thus applied the same general criticism to the majority's final product that he did to a preliminary draft circulated to the committee two weeks ago.

As a matter of fact, Sen. McMahon (D-Co.) said, the committee chairman, said only minor changes were made in the first draft. He said the substance of the document was in no way altered.

But Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said he got one "important change" into the report.

"It says now and it didn't before — that while this so-called mismanagement phase of the investigation is pending, the committee feels there were other matters developed which should be looked into," Johnson said.

Hickenlooper took issue with McMahon's statement that the report was substantially changed.

"Most of the revision is significant," Hickenlooper said, "because it changed this report from an utterly one-sided thing to a document that gives a little credit for certain things."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) subscribed to that view, too, but he said the revision was not sweeping enough to satisfy him.

Knowland and Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.) said they are planning to sign a minority report, but both said they were uncertain whether to go all the way with Hickenlooper.

Little Asthma Victim Aided

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Janet is coming to Albuquerque, just as her mother wished. Janet is the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Wilma Latsha of Nacogdoches, Tex. The little girl is critically ill in an Oklahoma City hospital with asthma. The doctors say she is dying.

Mrs. Latsha said she wanted to bring Janet to Albuquerque in the hope the climate might help her. But she needed money. She asked for public aid for funds to provide care for her daughter until she could get a job.

Both pleas have been answered. Sister Francis, Marie, director of the Catholic St. Joseph's Hospital here, said last night she wants Janet to come to the hospital to be cared for. A job, she said, will be provided. Mrs. Latsha in the hospital so she may be close to her daughter.

In Oklahoma City, Mrs. Latsha cried when told the news. Earlier, she had been given $270 from 15 persons or groups.

Man Gets Five Years in Killing

SWEETWATER, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Henry W. Strickland, 20, of Jackson, Miss., was found guilty last night of murder in a jail killing and given a five-year sentence.

Strickland was accused of beating Robert C. Sperry, 48, to death while they were in the Scurry County jail at Snyder last June 27.

Strickland did not testify.

Before resting, the defense introduced Dr. C. R. Cockrell and Dr. H. E. Rosser of Snyder to testify an autopsy showed Sperry was suffering from a serious heart disease and that a brain hemorrhage alone was not enough death. On cross examination, they admitted a blow on the head could have hastened death.

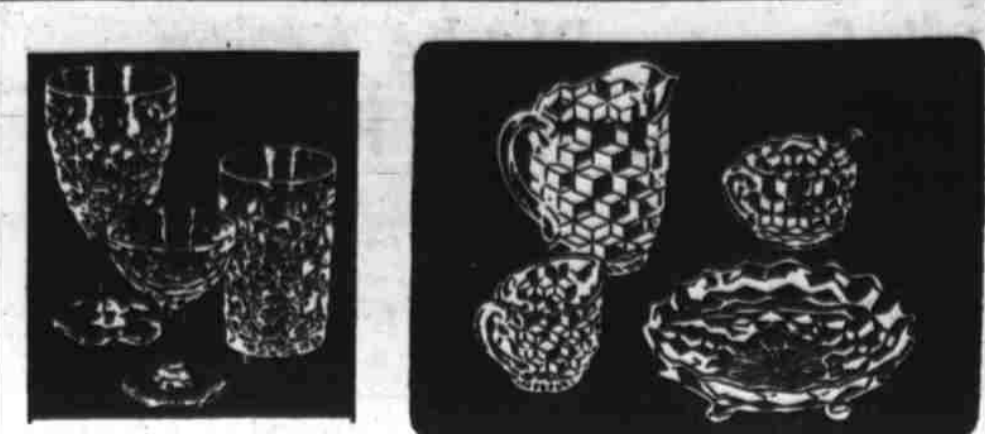

Earlier Dr. L. R. Hershberger of San Angelo testified an autopsy showed Sperry's death was due to heart trouble and blows on the head. He testified that without the heart disease Sperry would have died of wounds within three days.

Texas, New Mexico Officers In Search For Suspected Slayer

AMARILLO, Oct. 13. (U.P.)—Texas and New Mexico officers searched today for a man they said was a friend on a World Series trip and killed him, leaving the body alongside an Illinois road.

Alfred E. Clark, 23, of Boise City, Okla., was found dead beside a country road three and a half miles south of Jerseyville, Ill. He had been shot through the head and robbed.

It was learned in Clayton, N. M., where Clark worked in a restaurant, that the suspect told him he had World Series tickets and would share them and pay the expenses, if Clark would drive his new car. Clark agreed, and they left Oct. 3.

Officers began looking for Clark last Saturday after a Dalhart, Tex., girl reported the suspect had kidnaped her and pistol-whipped and robbed her date. The girl said papers in the car driven by the man identified it as Clark's.

The girl said she had known the suspect in Clayton and in Montana.

George French, a farmer, discovered Clark's body Wednesday, nearly running into it with a plow. Coroner Rodney Jacoby estimated Clark had been dead about a week.

Clark had mailed postcards to his parents as late as a week ago.

Jugate Groves, 19, of Dalhart reported Saturday that she saw with Otis Benson about two miles west of Dumas Friday night when the suspect drove alongside their car and fired into it. She told Sheriff J. A. McMurry of Dumas the man ordered them out, beat Benson with his pistol and took his billfold. Then the girl said, the suspect forced her into the car with him.

She said he drove to Vega, about 45 miles west of Amarillo. There, the girl said, she knocked out the suspect with a fire extinguisher after they stopped at a tourist court.

She went to Vega officers, who accompanied her to the court. As they arrived, the suspect drove away, heading west. The officers did not pursue.

The girl said they told her that if she wanted to charge him with kidnaping her she would have to go back to Dumas.

She arrived back in Dumas about 6 a.m. Saturday and made her report to Sheriff McMurry.

No charges against the man had been filed last night. Statewide pickup orders were broadcast in Texas and in New Mexico.
