AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Bill Smith, former Hereford resident, was today reported in critical condition in an El Paso hospital. His illness followed a heart attack Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Jr., left by plane Tuesday afternoon as did Mrs. Howard Turner, formerly Minnie Dee Smith, of Roswell. Reports Wednesday indicated that Mr. Smith was "holding his own," although his condition was regarded as serious. Mr. Smith has resided in El Paso for the past two years and is engaged in operating a large tourist court.

Mrs. Homer Brumley reports that while in Washington for the inauguration she met the brand columnist, Tex Easley, who is one of Associated Press' top-notchers in Washington. "I have always enjoyed his column each Sunday," says Mrs. Brumley "and will enjoy it even more in the future. Both he and Mrs. Easley are really nice people and have the appearance of being well read and thoroughly substantial."

BUSINESS CHANGES: Bob Lewis this week announces purchase of T. E. Seigler's interest in the Farmers' Equipment Company. He plans to operate the business in the same location featuring Aulis-Chalmers farm equipment.

Bill Phipps is active manager of the Barclay Hardware, successors to Barclay-Fuller-Phipps. The announcement followed purchase of the entire business by Sid Barclay last week.

Watch for the announcement of the opening of Hereford's new super-duper service station on Highway 60 soon.

Jack Wright is back on the job at West Texas Feed and Seed and R. J. Richardson is riding herd over his wholesale Texaco business. Both men underwent serious operations at Baylor Hospital, Dallas, recently.

Billy Smith is remodeling and improving the old West Texas building, Sampson at Second Sts., into a modern "town and country" style fruit and vegetable outlet. Bill plans wholesale and retail operations.

Also reopened is the Hereford fruit and vegetable market just north of town on Highway 51. It has been closed for the winter and is operated by Garland Cox.

Farmers will be glad to hear that the proposed paving program to serve the stock yards is practically assured. The new road will offer all-weather traffic conditions on livestock.

Thomas Sappington is the new pharmacist at Halle Drug. He comes to Hereford from Amarillo, where he has been employed by Herbert Drug. Mrs. Sappington is attending college at Weatherford, Okla., and will not be here until the school term ends this spring.

Mary Dyer is new bookkeeper and office clerk at the Hereford Hudson Company. She was previously employed at the Hereford State Bank and succeeds Mrs. Bob Gregory. The Gregorys recently moved to Muleshoe with their Peerless Pump Company.

"Welcome home" to the Homer Henslee's, who are back in Hereford after more than a year in Arkansas. Homer reports that he has sold his Arkansas farm and, although he has no definite plans, will be here for several months—if not permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Owen are also back on the job at Furr Food Store following a two month removal to "Sunny California," where they operated a suburban grocery store. Buck and Ortez say the kids wanted to come back, while the girls indicate that Mr. and Mrs. Owen were equally anxious. It seems that they were all glad to get (Continued on Page 8)

No Men To Be Drafted Through Board 18 In February Or March

There will be no men drafted through Board 18 (Hereford) during the months of February and March, Mrs. Eunice Peterson, local Selective Service head said Tuesday.

Board 18 is headquarters for Deaf Smith, Randall, Parmer and Castro Counties.

Mrs. Peterson said since registration for the revived draft began last Aug. 30, not more than five or six men had been drafted through Board 18.

A comparatively new ruling she said, had been announced stating men who joined the National Guard, since June 24, 1948, were not exempt from the draft. However, members of the National Guard or reserve components of the armed forces, who belonged to those organizations before June 24, 1948, could claim exemption, Mrs. Peterson added.

She said men who marry after they have been classified by their local draft boards, no longer can claim exemptions on grounds of marriage.

Questionnaires are to be issued to all within draft age starting with the oldest group within the draft age (26) to the youngest age group (18).

The questionnaires will be mailed out as soon as the local board can make classifications, Mrs. Peterson concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Pace Jr., and son, Chris Edward, of Borger spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Pace. Mrs. Pace celebrated her birthday anniversary with a family dinner.

Among The Pains And Pleasures Of Winter

Winter is a heap of fun, says little Coleen Reeves, shown here with her mother, Mrs. Dub Reeves, admiring a snow man at the Reeves' home recently at 107 E Street.—But to Edwin Pirtis probably thought it was a pain in the neck when he got up to find his car snowed under the other morning. ## About 450 Enrolled With Concert Group As Membership Drive Ends

Approximately 450 members, 370 adults and 80 students, were enrolled in the Hereford Concert Association when the membership drive ended last Saturday, it was announced by Dr. Will F. Graham, president. A total of $2,000 was taken in, $1,350 of which will be used for securing the artists. Except for 80c from each ticket, which will go for tax, remainder of the money will be used for operating expenses. Directors met immediately after the close of the campaign Saturday night to select the artists for the season.

First Concert Feb. 1
Richard Dyer-Bennet, the well-known singer of folk songs, will be the first to appear, slated for Monday, Feb. 7. Dyer-Bennet sings the ballads which have originated and lived for six hundred years among the English-speaking inhabitants of the world, strumming his own accompaniment on a guitar. His art is new to the concert stage, but is as old as the songs he sings, since he performs in the tradition of the minstrels and bards of old. He has appeared to enthusiastic audiences both at Town Hall and Carnegie Hall, and on many concert stages over the nation. Among many enthusiastic press notices is one from the New York Times:

Given With Simplicity
"All of these songs were given with the simplicity and the reserve that are at the core of Mr. Dyer-Bennet's art and that, combined with a characteristic subtlety and delicacy, are the explanation, to a large degree, of its effectiveness. The remarkable distinctness of diction and of musical utterance, the melting diminuendo, the perfection of phrase, the feeling and humor, combined with delicate and lovely guitar accompaniments, produced an art satisfying to both popular and cultivated taste."

Negro Tenor Scheduled
Three other concerts are scheduled for later in the spring. John Anglin, Negro tenor, will appear on Monday, March 14 on Saturday, April 2, the Beal twins, violinists, are scheduled and on Friday, May 6, Dr. Frank Asper, organist for the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City, will be guest artist.

Richard Dyer-Bennet, John Anglin and the Beal twins will present their programs at the High School Auditorium. The place of Dr. Asper's organ concert will be announced at a later date. All concerts will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m., with admittance by membership cards only. Membership cards are transferrable, but no single or special admissions will be sold at any concert. If membership cards have not arrived by the night of the first concert, February 7, receipts from the application, will be accepted.

New Record Announced As Deaf Smith County March Of Dimes Ends

Setting a new all-time record, Deaf Smith County's annual March of Dimes campaign drew to a close Monday with a total of $4,342.86 collected in the 1949 drive. The figure may still be increased by $200 or $300, according to Bruce Wooddell, County Campaign Director, who said that several groups had not

Maybe Weather Man Was Kidding

Although the Associated Press weather forecast for West Texas was partly cloudy and not quite so cold Wednesday night, it appeared early in the afternoon as if the weather man might be pitching a curve to residents of this vicinity as the sky grew more foreboding and an icy wind whipped up, buffeting Main Street promenaders and causing them to predict generally, "Another one is coming."

So far this week temperature recordings at the Fire Station indicated Sunday was the coldest day with a low of 3 above zero. However, there were other reports of mercury dips of as low as 3 below zero that frigid day.

Although the wheat crop is reported to be benefiting considerably from the heavy snows, weather-weary residents nevertheless seemed to be ready for a re-appearance of Old Sol and warmer weather any time.

When will this rough weather end? A $64 question indeed. "Perhaps the best prediction was that of an armchair forecaster this week who said: "We're due for a break, but then, anything can happen in this country."

QUESTION of the WEEK

Do you think school buses should run when the weather is bad?

MRS. J. O. CLARK: We live two miles off the highway and I think the buses could run most days. When the buses don't run we bring our children into school anyway. Of course parents want to be sure that the drivers are careful people. His experience in driving in the mud and sleet makes a lot of difference because it is harder to handle a bus than a car.

BOB WILSON: I think we are crazy as the dickens to try to maintain buses when the weather is so uncertain. We've had a few minor traffic accidents, already and we can't keep on guaranteeing they'll be minor. I turned my car over last fall on icy pavements, and a bus turned over at Dawn. Couple of things like that sure make you leery of further risks.

MRS. MERLIN KAUL: I'm like a lot of other people—I think buses should run when they can. My husband used to drive a bus, and according to him, those buses are awfully hard to handle, and get easily out of control. It is just too dangerous for children to be on the buses when the roads are slick. People shouldn't expect the rural bus service when weather and road conditions are dangerous.

A. J. SCHROETER: It all depends on whether the safety of the kids is involved. There's no doubt that it is hard on the country children to have to miss school because of the weather, but still if there is some doubt as to the safety of the trip, the buses should not go.

Camp Fire Girls Elected Officers At Meeting Monday

Chu-de-naang Group of the Camp Fire Girls met Monday at the Camp Fire Hut to elect officers. Margie Ford was made president; Marian Lomenik vice-president; Marilyn Legg treasurer; Naydne Flowers, secretary; and Wynogene Sowell reporter.

Following the election, the girls planned a Valentine party for their mothers. It was agreed to exchange valentines among the group, and to make gifts for the mothers, to be presented at the party.

Firemen's Show in Tokyo

Japanese firemen shinny up and down guy-ropes in a demonstration at the annual fire brigade review held at the Imperial Palace Plaza, Tokyo. Almost 5000 firemen took part in a spectacular review which was witnessed by thousands, including U. S. occupation personnel.

Mrs. W. A. Epperson Hostess At Thursday HD Club Meeting

By MRS. LEE HALL

Mrs. W. A. Epperson was hostess to the Easter Home Demonstration Club which met Thursday evening. Roll call was answered with "My Error in being a good hostess." In the absence of the Home Demonstration Agent, members of the club discussed points in being a good hostess, and table etiquette and setting.

Those who attended the meeting were Mesdames L. E. Stone, J. H. Burnett, Fred Walton, Leo Hall, Henry Flood, Jim Brooks and the hostess.

It was announced that Council will meet for an all-day meeting at the Court House in Dimmitt Feb. 8. The next club meeting will be held Feb. 10, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Burnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Suit of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stone were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett.

Gary Burnett has recently recovered from the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Medley and daughter of Hereford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Epperson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Stone and son of Dimmitt, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walton visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. E. Stone.

Those attending the party held at the Vocational Agriculture School in Hereford Thursday night were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Flood, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hall and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Olin LaPlant and daughter.

Auto Tags Get Off To Slow Start

Sales were slow as 1949 auto tags went on the market at the Court House Tuesday. Early in the afternoon Deputy Sheriff Worth Covington said only 24 customers had shown up.

He urged persons to get tags early to avoid a rush of persons buying tags at the last moment to avoid a 20 per cent penalty which is assessed after the April 1 deadline.

Covington said also persons buying new automobiles or pur-

Father Of Lee Curry Dies At Weatherford

Lee Curry returned Friday from Weatherford where he attended funeral services for his father, John C. Curry, resident of Weatherford for the past thirty years. The elder Mr. Curry would have been 95 on Feb. 11. Mr. Curry was born in Tennessee and was married to Miss Erophlar Elizabeth Patton in August, 1876. She died in 1939. He was a life-long member of the Methodist Church and was superintendent of the Sunday School at Post Oak, Stephens County, for twenty years prior to moving to Weatherford. At one time he owned acreage north of Summerfield and near Friona. He had visited his son and his family here on many occasions. Burial was in Post-Oak Cemetery Monday, Jan. 24.

All 13 children of the family survive, also 23 grand-children and 21 great-grandchildren. The 13 children surviving, all of whom were present for the funeral are:

Mrs. Effie Kinchen, Claud Curry, Mrs. F. T. Lawrence, and Ernest Curry, all of Breckenridge; Lee Curry, Summerfield; Eugene Curry, San Angelo; Mrs. Annie Sandidge, Austin; Mrs. A. M. Pharriss, Fort Worth; John Curry, Houston; Mrs. W. A. Glenn, Mrs. Conrad Russell and Mrs. J. B. Darby, Weatherford.

Mr. Curry was an uncle of Mrs. J. O. Newell, Mrs. Ida Ricketts and John Patton of Hereford.

Payments Of Poll Taxes Show Sharp Decline

Slightly more than half as many Deaf Smith County residents paid poll taxes this year than paid last year.

This was revealed by the County Sheriff's and Tax Collector's office Tuesday after the Monday poll-tax payment deadline. Actual figures on receipts issued are: Last year—2,225. This year—1,340.

Nineteen exemptions were made this year to persons who had become of voting age within the last year, or who will become of voting age before the next election.

'Can You Spare A Bath?' Cry Of Woe As Water Pipes Freeze

"Can you spare a bath, mister?"

The popular phrase echoed currently among friends of people who live on "I" Street and a few other scattered points in north and east portions of Hereford. The situation resulted from low temperatures which froze lead-in water lines and sent occupants scurrying for drinking water.

"Most of the trouble occurred on temporary lines placed last summer to bring service into new areas," Mayor W. E. Dameron lines have shallow settings, and were laid with the intention of replacement as soon as standard lines are available and conditions permit." Mayor Dameron also said that a car of pipe had arrived this week after having been on order for more than a year.

Several rural residents also reported shortage of water, due to freezing of windmill pipes and delivery systems. House gutters and drains were also frozen

Sister Of Mrs. E. B. Hedrick Is Buried In Palestine

Mrs. E. B. Hedrick received word Monday of the death of her sister, Mrs. Lev Frederick of Palestine. Death came suddenly early Monday morning following a heart attack. She was 64 years old. Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church in Palestine on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Frederick was a member of the Methodist Church and had been active in the work of the church for years. Besides her husband, she leaves three sisters, Mrs. Hedrick, Mrs. John A. Aldridge of Leland, Mississippi, and Mrs. A. R. Malloy of Tyler.

Weather conditions there prevented Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick from attending the rites.

Maybe you're the "slow" one!

Have you been a little slow about giving your engine the extra protection it needs for winter-weather driving? It's easy to change now to winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil and the extra protection of an engine that is OIL-PLATED!

Because free-flowing Conoco Nth actually fastens extra lubricant right to cylinder walls. This extra OIL-PLATING protects working parts from winter's grinding "dry-friction" starts . . . from metal-eating combustion acids . . . and from power-robbing sludge and carbon due to wear. So stop trouble before it starts . . .

FARM MARKET

Steady to strong livestock markets tended to offset lower grain and winter vegetables during the past week. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

South Texas cattle markets recorded price advances of most-50 cents to $2, with Monday's weather market showing a gain of the gain. Cows and calves declined about 50 cents at El Paso, while other southwest markets held about unchanged. Cattle sold $24.75 for medium weights. Medium and good yearlings cashed at $24.75 at San Antonio and $22.50 at Fort Worth.

Most hogs brought steady to cents higher prices for the week, but prices fell $1 to $2 at Denver. Top butcher hogs sold at $15.50. Butcher top was $15.50 at Kansas City, Oklahoma City and Fort Worth, and $20.75 at Wichita and San Antonio. Weights spread from $15 to $18.

Sheep markets ruled unchanged to slightly higher during the past week. Good and choice ewes brought $11 at Denver, $10.50 at Oklahoma City, and $9.50 at Fort Worth. Fort Worth took good ewes $11. Goats advanced $1 at San Antonio. Common and medium grades in the hair moved at $9.

Scattered lots of choice fine months wools were contracted in Texas at 65 cents per pound, f.o.b. Mohair eased little in slow trading.

Bad weather cut egg receipts in the southwest and prices held firm to strong. Fryers showed a weak undertone, as an ice storm limited movement from the southwest. Arkansas. Other poultry remained about steady.

Cabbage and carrots led general downturns on vegetables and citrus fruits at south Texas shipping points last week. Cold snap weather held back harvesting. Severe freezes over the week end may cause serious crop damage. Minimum temperatures today ranged from 23 at Brownsville to 20 at Crystal City, and snow around Hammond, Louisiana delayed strawberry harvest.

Wheat, sorghums and yellow corn dropped 4 to 5 cents for the week and white corn about 1 cent. No. 1 hard wheat closed Monday at $2.34 3/4, to $2.39 3/4, per bushel in bulk carlots at Texas common points. No. 2 white corn around $1.74, and yellow No. 2 around $1.58. No. 2 milo brought $2.53 to $2.65 a hundred.

Rice markets held barely steady last week, as growers began to offer rough rice more freely. Patna and Rexoro sold at $12 to $12.50 per barrel.

Slow demand for liberal offerings lowered prices of most feeds last week. Bran and shorts sold around $54 a ton, and cottonseed meal $68 to $69 in carlots. Snow and ice created more demand for hay. No. 1 alfalfa brought around $40 a ton at Fort Worth and $30 at Kansas City. Peanuts sold a shade higher. Cotton declined 50 cents to $25 a bale for the week. Spot bidding 15/16 inch closed Monday at $32.80 cents a pound at Galveston and Houston and $32.70 at New Orleans.

COTTON MARKET

Cotton markets were fairly quiet in Oklahoma and Texas last week and sales dropped from a week's moderate rate, reports U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Dallas, Houston and Galveston reported sale of 65,916 bales compared with 84,017 bales a week earlier. Sales in all 10 spot markets also were down, from $7,400 bales a week ago to $22,000. Export market continued active and sales increased.

Japanese Board of Trade announced an offer to purchase 8,000 bales of mostly medium to low grade short staple cotton. Also, reports indicated that export licenses had been authorized for shipments of raw cotton to Russia, estimated by the trade to be about 500,000 bales.

Many farmers continued to sell quilts freely in government loan cotton. Sizeable lots were bringing $2.50 per bale lower qualities to $9 for higher grades of medium staple lengths.

Loan entries to Commodity Credit Corporation through Jan. 30 totaled 4,306,700 bales.

Some interest was shown by domestic mills for better qualities of white cotton ranging in staple length 31/32 inch through 1/32 inch.

Hereford Concert Of Amarillo A Cappella Choir Is Postponed

Appearance of the Amarillo High School A Cappella Choir, scheduled for Tuesday Feb. 8 at the High School Auditorium, has been postponed until later in the month, according to Wayne Evans, president of the local Lions Club, sponsor of the program.

Tickets will go on sale as soon as a new date has been set, at $1.20 for adults, and $60 for students, tax included.

Recognized as Outstanding For the past several years, the Amarillo choral group has been recognized as the outstanding choir of its kind and age-group in the state, and has been considered by many the finest in the nation.

Under the direction of Mrs. Julia Dean Evans, the choir members appeared as official representatives for the Lions of District 2-T-1 on the program of the Lions International Convention in New York City last summer. After the scheduled appearance, the group was called in for two additional appearances.

on one occasion filling in for the absence of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who was slated to speak during its stay in New York, the choir sang for Fred Waring, and members were special guests at his Pennsylvania farm.

Present Varied Programs A mixed group, the choir presents varied programs, including sacred music, classic, popular and novelty numbers, with special arrangements on many old favorites.

Proceeds from the Lions-sponsored program will go to the Boy Scout Building Fund, to erect a headquarters building at Don Herrington Scout Camp in Palo Duro Canyon. The building will be used by all Boy Scout units in this area, after sufficient funds for the project have been raised by the Lions Clubs of the Llano Estacado Scout District.

crop Betty drove a tractor on her Dad's farm. She is also raising poultry to exhibit a pen of white leghorns at the 4-H club Fat Stock and Poultry Show in February.

In Eighth Grade An eighth grader, Betty attended Daniel School for five years, Canyon one year and for the past two years she has been going to Hereford Junior High School. She rides a bus over a hundred miles a day, which takes a lot of time out of a busy day. She will enroll in high school next year. She is undecided about attending college.

"You might as well make your learning pay off as soon as you can," Betty concluded.

Nanking has been the seat of China's government eight times.

Mrs. Frances Maxfield was a luncheon guest Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seed. Mrs. Maxfield left this week for Oklahoma City, where she will make her home.

Meeting Of Farm Bureau Scheduled For Friday Night

The Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau had scheduled a meeting and free dinner for 7:30 p. m. at the City Hall, County Agent Hugh Clearman said Tuesday.

The meeting, called by H. M. Thomas, president, and T. E. Seigler, secretary-treasurer, will be to discuss plans for a membership drive, Clearman said.

He added an effort would be made to have someone to discuss Farm Bureau insurance.

Thomas and Seigler attended a meeting of district Farm Bureaus in Amarillo Wednesday where discussions on Farm Bureau programs for the High Plains section were discussed.

George Graham, Ray Graham and Pat Sullivan attended the funeral services for Perry Barnes at Lazbuddy last Sunday.

D. C. Barnard made a trip to Pampa Monday and Tuesday on business.

Cattle Weather Storm Well

Cattle in this territory weathered the recent storm and came through in good shape, cattlemen over this section reported Tuesday as a collection of two-week's ice began to thaw.

The general report was substantiated by County Agent Hugh Clearman, who said that he did not know of a single range loss, except for one or two calves born during the storm. Meanwhile, reports from Western states continued listing fatalities among cattle and "three-below-zero" weather in Austin Monday resulted in damage to cattle in the South Texas areas. Recent low temperature readings were not accompanied with the usual high winds, which did much to alleviate loss and suffering of cattle. Too, the fact that most of the cattle brought here for grazing had been here 60 days or longer found them in good condition to face the cold weather.

"It is surprising how little loss of flesh resulted from the weather," remarked one cattleman. "Where cattle were in good shape and were well fed, the damage seems to be practically nothing."

Junior High School 4-H Club Girl Making Talents Pay Off

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH Betty Lou McGaughey, Junior High School student who lives on a farm near Wildorado, is a good example of 4-H girls in Deaf Smith County whose culinary and homemaking talents are already beginning to pay off.

She was a blue ribbon winner in the baking contest held Nov. 6 among 4-H girls so the Fairview Home Demonstration Club, mother organization of Betty's Fairview Four H club, presented her with piece goods for a spring wardrobe.

Betty has already begun to cut, baste and stitch on the material. She has completed the sheer wool plaid school dress and is planning designs for the two gay cotton prints. Her culminating task will be making the rayon print which will be her Easter dress.

Although she hasn't yet chosen her pattern for this green background floral print, it will be made up in some soft feminine design, right in keeping with the new spring fashions.

Green Favorite Color Green is Betty's favorite color. For Christmas her parents gave her five yards of grass-colored wool to make into a winter coat and Betty tackled it with help from her mother and Mrs. Ar-gen Draper, home demonstration agent. The coat is a swing-back model with a cape collar and Betty tailored it creditably for a 14-year old.

This sewing project was born when Betty's cornbread and whole wheat muffins took first prize in the breadmaking division at the cooking show. Mrs. Mattie Lee Seale and Mrs. Bob Wilson were the judges.

In recognition of the honor, the HD club from Betty's part of the county purchased the material and presented it to her at the Daniel School community pie supper. Mrs. E. W. Womble, Jr., sponsor of the 4-H club, presented the gift.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McGaughey, Betty thinks 4-H work is wonderful. She is interested in most phases of their activities. Last summer she completed a canning project in which she put up cherries from the trees in the McGaughey's orchard as well as pineapples and peaches.

Does Canning She canned squash, beets, black eyed peas, beans and corn from the garden which was raised by her younger brother, Travis. Travis cultivates the vegetables; Betty cans them. During the seeding of the row

Try Reading A Good Baseball Book To Brighten This Gloomy Weather

By MARGARET BARRETT

Hereford's men of action are having a hard time keeping content, warm and comfortable at the same time during the wintry weather of the past weeks. For those unaccustomed to staying in, suggestions as to amusement and entertainment might be welcome. Though many men do not care to spend much time reading, perhaps something in the line of sports would serve as pleasant diversion.

So "Let's go out to the ballgame," even though its ten below—you can enjoy that favorite American sport right by the fire. The county library has a good selection of baseball books—not fiction, but the real thing, ranging from the impressions of a bat-boy to the collected facts and histories by the major-leaguers themselves.

DiMaggio Book Popular

One of the most popular is "Baseball for Everyone" by Joe DiMaggio, written with the assistance of an advisory board of experts—Carl Hubbell, Frankie Frisch, Bill Dickey, and Art Fletcher, with a special chapter on "How to Score" by Red Barber. DiMaggio's book is written with an eye to pleasing both the player and the fan, taking in baseball life from the "one old cat" stage till the day a man gets too old for actual playing.

Chapters dealing with each of the nine positions on the baseball team, together with anecdotes and illustrations of old-time and present day heroes provide much good entertainment and instruction.

Goes Into Coaching

DiMaggio, famous center fielder for the New York Yankees, even goes into the coaching and signs part of the game, aided by the clever line illustrations of Lenny Holmeister.

The book "Babe Ruth" is a biography by Tom Meany of the man he considered to be the greatest single influence on sports of this century. Far from eulogizing the famous Babe, Meany, columnist for the now defunct New York PM and noted

New York sports writer, attempts only to give one man's impression—his own—of the colorful figure of the baseball world who died the past year.

Bob Feller, still going strong as pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, has a book entitled "Strikeout Story" which traces his baseball career from the time he was a small boy right to the present.

For those interested primarily in big league clubs, rather than personalities, a book such as "The Washington Senators" by Morris A. Beale should prove entertaining. The Senators, dating from way back in 1859, have ten former players enrolled in Baseball's Hall of Fame. Back in the days before 1912, the Senators were described by funsters in such ways as "Washington—First in War, First in Peace and Last in the American League." The civic slogan of Washington was said to be "Wait till next year." In recent years, the oldest ball club in the U. S. has seldom been out of the first division, and has captured the American League pennant three times.

Other big league histories include two by Frank Graham:

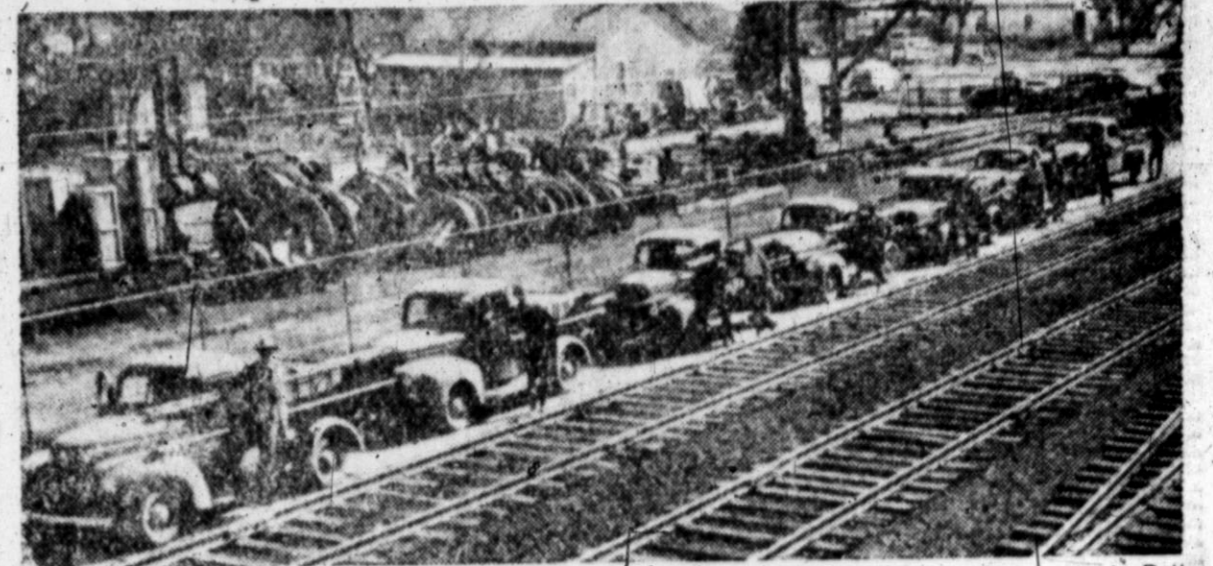

"The New York Yankees" and "Brooklyn Dodgers," two by Frederick G. Lieb, "The Pittsburgh Pirates" and "The St. Louis Cardinals." The saga of "The Boston Braves," by Harold Koese, and "The Cincinnati Reds" by Lee Allen can also be found on the library shelves.

Baseball Books For Kids

For youngsters who are baseball-crazy and have time on their hands, "Bat Boy of the Giants" by the bat-boy himself, Garth Garreau, should be appealing. When he was ten years old, Garreau started as bat-boy at the Polo Grounds for the visiting teams. His most ardent desire—to carry the bats for the Giants—came three years later when he was allowed to move into the Giants dug-out and hobnob with the heroes of the club.

As Joe DiMaggio says "If you live in the U. S., the chances

Schools And Teachers Trying To Make Education Fit Atomic Age

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON — It isn't enough to learn how to make atomic bombs. You also have to learn how to live with them.

That, in general, is the conclusion of a lot of educators in colleges and universities who are trying to remold educational standards to fit the atomic age.

How they are doing it is described in the forthcoming issue of "Higher Education," a publication of the Federal Security Agency. The Agency's Office of Education queried colleges and universities and received 500 replies.

Results of the survey are described in an article by Dr. Claude E. Hawley, associate chief for social sciences, division of higher education.

It was found that about 100 of the institutions are taking drastic steps to adapt their courses to the new force. As Dr. Hawley expresses it, they "are impressed with the weighty obligations of educators to help unravel some of the horrible and fascinating problems newly created."

"The pedagogues' awareness of the problem, however, was by no means unanimous. Of the 500 colleges replying to the questionnaire, 469 indicated that the coming of the atomic age had affected their activities only incidentally."

One of the most striking developments is the effect on training in engineering and other technical professions. Some of the faculties are requiring their students to acquire a much more general education so that they can understand their new problems and responsibilities. The State University of Iowa requires its engineering students to take twice as many courses in the social sciences and humanities as it formerly did. Many others have made similar changes or are considering them.

On the other hand, many schools are requiring their liberal arts students, the ones who are specializing in general education, to take more physical and natural science courses. Some have developed new non-technical courses on atomic energy for the benefit of students with little scientific background.

The teaching of all the social sciences in many of the schools is being revised. Students are being told about the probable social implications of atomic energy and of the social effects of new atomic inventions that are likely to come.

Economic aspects of the new power are studied. And in political science there is increasing emphasis on the problem of control of atomic weapons.

In some teachers' colleges future professors are being prepared to guide the next generation through the thorny atomic frontiers.

Some theological schools have added new courses on religion and science. Courses in philosophy stress the moral aspects of the development of atomic energy.

Reds Are Riled By 'Newsbabe'

AP Newsfeatures

BERLIN—The prettiest heckler of the Russians in Berlin is on the "wanted" list of their political police.

Twice a week, storm or shine, she makes jokes at Russian expense. Most of Berlin chuckles. As long as she stays on the Allied side of the boundary dividing this city, blonde Christina Chisen hopes she'll be safe. But regardless of dangers the future may bring, she is now the most popular entertainer on RIAS, an American-sponsored radio station here. It's managed by William F. Heimlich, of Columbus, Ohio.

She's a "Newsbabe"
 Christina calls herself, in Berlin slang, a newsbabe. Pretending to be hawking newspapers on a downtown street, she cries out the headlines with pin-pricking comment.

It's a rare week that word of action by German Communists and their Russian bosses doesn't make her script-writing easy. The newsbabe fad has grown so much that little dolls in Christina's supposed gamin likeness are sold in western sectors of Berlin. Each clutches a bundle of papers and wears two blonde pig-tails.

Russia Wants Her
 RIAS discovered Christina was on the Soviet wanted list when one of their reporters was arrested recently in East Berlin. Russian officers grilled him angrily about the newsbabe. "Nix gut, we'll catch her yet," the reporter said he was told before the reluctant Soviets released him.

Christina says her ambition was to be a ballerina. But the Nazis, she says, sent her to work in a factory after the war began. Her health broke down. After convalescing, she became a minor comedian in films and on the stage.

Gets Election Letters
 Her most prized radio fan letter bears an East Berlin postmark and is in the crude handwriting of a day laborer. It arrived just before the anti-Communist city election in December.

"If we could elect you, little

Arms Trade Stirs Dispute

GENEVA (AP)—Neutral Switzerland has exported nearly nine million dollars worth of war materials since the export of war materials was banned by the federal government in June, 1946.

This little anomaly created so much talk and head-shaking in this peace-loving country that the Federal Council made an explanation.

The council says the law banning exports of arms provides for the granting of exceptions in certain cases for the sale abroad of used Swiss ordnance material and small calibre arms and munitions. The following conditions are strictly observed:

1. Every export to nations at war or nations whose situation raises the fear that they might be involved in wars is refused.
  2. We deal only with governments (not with private concerns) which pledge not to export again the delivered weapons.
- The council said the exports were mainly to South American countries and includes mostly materials no longer needed by the Swiss Army.
- Argentina and Nicaragua are the two chief purchasers of Swiss arms in South America. In June and July of last year, Argentina bought arms worth approximately 2,500,000 Swiss francs (slightly over a half million dollars). Published figures of the Swiss foreign trade department show that Nicaragua's purchase amounted to 1,320,000 francs ($303,600) in April, 436,489 francs in June, 1,200,000 francs in August and 1,329,000 francs in October.
- The "National Zeitung" of Basel, publishing these figures recently, said:
- "Although the muskets go off easily in Latin America, Nicaragua's need for weapons under these circumstances is not very convincing. Do Swiss arms and munitions really go in the declared amounts to Argentina and Nicaragua? Both states have a sea trade, both are adapted splendidly as middlemen."

Arms Trade Stirs Dispute

newsbabe, we'd do it," the letter promised. "Then all the politicians could sell papers and we'd have peace in the world."

Unlike most German theatrical folk, Christina denies any wish to emigrate from her ruined homeland. She says:

"I want to stay in Germany and have a really beautiful life—getting paid in laughs."

She likes RIAS because her program doesn't hew to a rigid ideological line. Her barbs find a variety of targets. For example, she disagreed with the American-licensed Taggespiegel the other day when it called upon all Berliners to boycott all theaters in the Soviet sector.

"Silly!" retorted Christina. "You'd break down the bridges which us Berliners need."

POWER PLANT that uses its Head! This is the husky thrill-producer you find filling the bonnet of any 1949 Buick. Look it over and you'll observe, among other things, that it is a valve-in-head straight-eight. In simple language, this means that years ago Buick engineers lifted the valves from the side of the cylinder and put them on top—with some immediate advantages. Such an engine "breathes" better. Gets a full, even charge on every intake—exhausts spent gases more easily—enjoys extra power, life and ginger. And in such engines, compression ratios are relatively easy to establish. To step them up, the head is merely brought closer to the piston—no extra problems are presented getting fuel in and exhaust out. Thus Buick power can—and has—kept pace with progress in fuels. Compression ratios suit gasolines actually available—and there's no waiting for tomorrow's gasolines to get full performance. That's enough reason to see your Buick dealer now, with or without a car to trade, to get your order in. ## Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago

The death of Woodrow Wilson at 11:15 a. m. Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924 was the foremost story appearing in the Brand of 25 years ago.

The president's death, at 65 years, the Brand said, came after days of gradual decline and slow exhaustion which started on a cross-country speaking tour in behalf of his ill-fated League of Nations.

The ailment was reported to have begun with digestive disturbance, and he died "Just like a tired man going to sleep," Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his physician said.

Admiral Grayson's official report on President Wilson's death read:

"Mr. Wilson's death came at 11:15 this morning (Feb. 3, 1924). His heart action became feeble and feeblier and the heart muscle was so fatigued it refused to act any longer. The end came peacefully.

"The remote cause of death was in his ill health which began more than four years ago, namely arteriosclerosis with hemiplegia. The immediate cause of death was exhaustion following a digestive disturbance which began in the early part of last week but did not reach an acute stage until the early morning hours of Feb. 1."

On the brighter side was a list of prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce to cotton growers as ginning season drew to a close.

The prizes included $100 for the best yield on 26 acres or more; $50 for the best yield on 15 to 20 acres; and $25 for the best yield on 10 acres.

Everybody reckoned the ground hog had been a good guesser when he ventured out of his burrow Feb. 1 only to hurry back again because of the bright sunshine, because the next morning a "rip snorting" norther full of snow had hit Hereford with a 40-mile-an-hour ferocity.

George Washington was to be the theme for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held in the Methodist Church casement.

In the entertainment field the Girls Auxiliary was planning to present a three-act comedy "The Farmerette" at the Star Theatre. Admission was to be 25c and 50c. Other Star attractions scheduled that week were Betty Compson in "Bonded Woman" and "Ruth of the Range," both on the same bill, and Jack Holt and Beebe Daniels in "North of the Rio Grande," which was to show later that week.

Elliston-Jones - Bray Realty Company had just been formed and had opened an office in the Elliston and Son Building back of the First National Bank.

The year's basketball players were "jim dandies," said the Brand, and stood a chance to enter the state contest if the "breaks hold out."

Skelbin's Variety Store was doing a booming business in coal oil lamps, and the manager told a Brand reporter he had sold more lamps in the last 30 days than he had in the preceding two years.

"It must be the new cotton farmers," the Brand man reasoned, "cause city folks don't use 'em any more."

"It's just one of those straws in the wind," he said, "which shows the Hereford country is filling up—slowly of course, but they're coming, just the same."

The personal column reported that:

Miss Helen Lambert had made a trip to Friona.

John Heiselman had made a business trip to Crosbyton.

J. R. Sowell had gone to Clovis to attend to business.

C. E. Gatlin and family had arrived at Hereford after an "overland" trip from East Texas.

F. T. Minton had left for Greer, N. M.

C. E. Stroud had left for his home in Plano, Texas after a visit with Hereford relatives.

Mystery Solved By Bird Whistle

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Reporter NEW YORK—A whistled "wolf-call" on a barren plateau in Alaska solved a 163-year-old mystery. On a city street, a wolf-call means a young man has spotted a pretty girl. A bird, the bristle-thighed curlew, does the wolf-call in Alaska. They solved the long-kept secret of where the curlews have their nesting grounds.

The story is told by Henry C. Killingsstad, in Arctic, journal of the Arctic Institute of North America.

The curlew is a bird about the size of a crow, but slimmer. It has a five-inch, curved beak. It gets its name from hair-like modified feathers on its flanks and thighs.

The curlew was first found in Tahiti 163 years ago. Then they were spotted in Alaska. They are one of the species of birds that migrates each year from Alaska with marvelous navigation to Pacific Islands, including Hawaii, the Tuamotus, and Societies.

Curlew hunters knew that much, but one day found a curlew's nesting and breeding grounds in Alaska.

The general area was guessed at. Killingsstad spent four years searching without finding any nest. Success came last June when curlew nests were found in western Alaska, north of Mountain Village. In the party were Killingsstad, Warren Peterson of Kalskap, Alaska, Dr. Arthur A. Allen of Cornell University, and his son, David.

Killingsstad and David Allen were exploring a plateau when they heard a wolf-like whistle. Curlews curled near Allen, giving the call several times.

The two men quickly found the nest. It was a simple depression at the edge of a large black lichen, a low-growing plant. There were no grasses or feathers lining it. Inside were four

POLES TIGHTEN BORDER CONTROL

WARSAW (AP)—Poland is tightening her frontier controls.

Parliament has just ratified a governmental decree providing three years' imprisonment for crossing the country's frontiers without the proper documents, or in a place which has not been fixed for the crossing of frontiers.

Government authorities have expressed irritation over the landing of American planes from Berlin in Poland with crews lacking Polish visas.

The new decree also apparently is aimed at halting the illegal flight of Poles into Czechoslovakia or Germany.

The men in the next few days took motion pictures of the nest, and the hatching of the young birds. A second nest was found farther away. The entire range of hills and pairs of curlews and the area probably constitutes the main breeding ground," Killingsstad said.

Smoking In Bed Is Burning Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—A New Jersey hotel posts the following instructions for guests who plan to smoke in bed:

1. Call the Office and notify the management where you wish your remains sent, as it is a matter of record that a very high percentage of hotel fires are caused by this careless practice.

2. Notify guests in adjoining rooms of your intentions of endangering their lives so that they may take the necessary precautions to protect themselves.

3. Go to the corridor and locate the nearest fire escape, so that if you are fortunate enough to escape your room, you may reach safety.

4. Now sit down and think how foolish it is for you to take this risk you may enjoy your smoke while thinking it over.

Business may be good, but we do not have guests to burn, so please HELP US to PROTECT YOU.

AROUND TOWN

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Bill Smith, former Hereford resident, was today reported in critical condition in an El Paso hospital. His illness followed a heart attack Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Jr., left by plane Tuesday afternoon as did Mrs. Howard Turner, formerly Minnie Dee Smith, of Roswell. Reports Wednesday indicated that Mr. Smith was "holding his own," although his condition was regarded as serious. Mr. Smith has resided in El Paso for the past two years and is engaged in operating a large tourist court.

Mrs. Homer Brumley reports that while in Washington for the inauguration she met the Brand columnist, Tex Easley, who is one of Associated Press' top reporters in Washington. "I have always enjoyed his column each Sunday," says Mrs. Brumley, "and will enjoy it even more in the future. Both he and Mrs. Easley are really nice people and have the appearance of being well read and thoroughly substantial."

BUSINESS CHANGES: Bob Lewis this week announces purchase of T. E. Seigler's interest in the Farmers' Equipment Company. He plans to operate the business in the same location featuring Allis-Chalmers farm equipment.

Bill Phipps is active manager of the Barclay Hardware, successors to Barclay-Fuller-Phipps. The announcement followed purchase of the entire business by Sid Barclay last week.

Watch for the announcement of the opening of Hereford's new super-duper service station on Highway 60 soon.

Jack Wright is back on the job at West Texas Feed and Seed and R. J. Richardson is riding herd over his wholesale Texaco business. Both men underwent serious operations at Baylor Hospital, Dallas, recently.

Billy Smith is remodeling and improving the old West Texas building, Sampson at Second Sts., into a modern "town and country" style fruit and vegetable outlet. Bill plans wholesale and retail operations.

Also reopened is the Hereford fruit and vegetable market just north of town on Highway 51. It has been closed for the winter and is operated by Garland Cox.

Farmers will be glad to hear that the proposed paving program to serve the stock yards is practically assured. The new road will offer all-weather traffic conditions on livestock.

Thomas Sappington is the new pharmacist at Hiale Drug. He comes to Hereford from Amarillo, where he has been employed by Herbert Drug. Mrs. Sappington is attending college at Weatherford, Okla., and will not be here until the school term ends this spring.

Mary Dyer is new bookkeeper and office clerk at the Hereford Hudson Company. She was previously employed at the Hereford State Bank and succeeds Mrs. Bob Gregory. The Gregorys recently moved to Muleshoe with their Peerless Pump Company.

"Welcome home" to the Homer Henslee's, who are back in Hereford after more than a year in Arkansas. Homer reports that he has sold his Arkansas farm and, although he has no definite plans, will be here for several months—if not permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Owen are also back on the job at Furr Food Store following a two month removal to "Sunny California," where they operated a suburban grocery store. Buck and Ortiz say the kids wanted to come back, while the girls indicate that Mr. and Mrs. Owen were equally anxious. It seems that they were all glad to get (Continued on Page 8)

D. D. Monroe Of Clayton, N. M. To Be C of C Banquet Speaker

Announcing D. D. Monroe of Clayton, N. M., as the principal speaker, plans for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet were today reported as completed by O. P. Cowart, secretary. The banquet will be held Thursday evening, Feb. 10, at the First Christian Church.

"We feel that we are indeed fortunate to secure Mr. Monroe as speaker," said J. M. French, who handled arrangements for the program. "He is a nationally known speaker and has appeared before audiences over the entire Southwest, including numerous Chamber of Commerce affairs," French continued. Mr. Monroe has also been honored with offices in the state and international organizations of Rotary, and recently appeared as speaker at the Perryton Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Another important item on the program will be the annual recognition of Hereford's "Outstanding Man of the Year" by the committee and the selection remains secret until the award is presented at the annual banquet.

No Men To Be Drafted Through Board 18 In February Or March

There will be no men drafted through Board 18 (Hereford) during the months of February and March, Mrs. Eunice Peterson, local Selective Service head said Tuesday.

Board 18 is headquarters for Deaf Smith, Randall, Farmer and Castro Counties.

Mrs. Peterson said since registration for the revised draft began last Aug. 30, not more than five or six men had been drafted through Board 18.

A comparatively new ruling she said, had been announced stating men who joined the National Guard, since June 24, 1948 were not exempt from the draft. However, members of the National Guard or reserve components of the armed forces who belonged to those organizations before June 24, 1946, could claim exemption, Mrs. Peterson added.

She said men who marry after they have been classified by their local draft boards, no longer can claim exemptions on grounds of marriage.

Questionnaires are to be issued to all within draft age starting with the oldest group within the draft age (26) to the youngest age group (18).

The questionnaires will be mailed out as soon as the local board can make classifications, Mrs. Peterson concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Pace Jr., and son, Chris Edward, of Borger spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Pace. Mrs. Pace celebrated her birthday anniversary with a family dinner.

Maps Of Proposed Installations Available

Maps showing proposed water lines, sewer lines and fire plugs on an area which would more than double the present city limits of Hereford were today available to all interested persons.

The maps were prepared following a bond election Dec. 21, 1948, in which Hereford passed two bond issues, totaling $131,000 subject to being sold only upon condition of extending the city limits and installing facilities to serve new patrons.

"Any future move in this direction will be up to the residents adjoining the present city limits," Mayor W. E. Dameron pointed out. "It is not the purpose of anyone to force expansion of the city limits, but we have been approached from time to time by hundreds of persons interested in coming into the city. In case action should be taken along this line, we are in position to begin immediate

Condition Of J. E. Hill, Pioneer Of Area, Said, Serious

Condition of J. E. Hill, pioneer rancher and wheat farmer of this area, was Wednesday reported as serious by Rev. Roy Ford, who has been with him in Wichita Falls since Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill left Tuesday for Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Hill will undergo treatment at Mayo Bros. The trip was scheduled after treatment in a Wichita Falls clinic, and they were accompanied by one of the Wichita Falls clinic doctors. They are making the trip by rail after flight schedules were cancelled, due to uncertain weather conditions.

Rev. Ford, who went to Wichita Falls Monday to return Mr. Hill's car, was expected back in Hereford today.

construction of facilities, including water, sewer and fire plugs."

Mr. Dameron said that extension of the city limits is possible by two methods: petition of residents of adjoining areas, or by election.

"We do not favor an election," Mr. Dameron continued. He said that the City Council had discussed the subject and felt that any expansion would have to come by petition, which would be voluntary on the part of the adjoining areas and subject to approval of the City without an election.

The new maps show in detail an expansion program which would be favored by the City Council. The area extends east along Highway 60 for a distance of one-half mile, turns north a distance of two blocks (approximately to 14th Street), then follows

About 450 Enrolled With Concert Group As Membership Drive Ends

Approximately 450 members, 370 adults and 80 students, were enrolled in the Hereford Concert Association when the membership drive ended last Saturday. It was announced by Dr. Will F. Graham, president. A total of $2,000 was taken in, $1,350 of which will be used for securing the artists. Except for $800 from each ticket, which will go for tax, remainder of the money will be used for operating expenses. Directors met immediately after the close of the campaign Saturday night to select the artists for the season.

First Concert Feb. 1
Richard Dyer-Bennet, the well-known singer of folk songs, will be the first to appear, slated for Monday, Feb. 7. Dyer-Bennet sings the ballads which have originated and lived for six hundred years among the English-speaking inhabitants of the world, strumming his own accompaniment on a guitar. His art is new to the concert stage, but is as old as the songs he sings, since he performs in the tradition of the minstrels and bards of old. He has appeared to enthusiastic audiences both at Town Hall and Carnegie Hall, and on many concert stages over the nation. Among many enthusiastic press notices is one from the New York Times:

Given With Simplicity
"All of these songs were given with the simplicity and the reserve that are at the core of Mr. Dyer-Bennet's art and that, combined with a characteristic subtlety and delicacy, are the explanation, to a large degree, of its effectiveness. The remarkable of its distinctness of diction and of musical utterance, the melting diminuendo, the sudden dynamic contrasts, the perfection of phrase, the feeling and humor combined with delicate and lovely guitar accompaniments, produced an art satisfying to both popular and cultivated taste."

Negro Tenor Scheduled
Three other concerts are scheduled for later in the spring. John Anglin, Negro tenor, will appear on Monday, March 14. On Saturday, April 2, the Beal twins, violinists, are scheduled and on Friday, May 6, Dr. Frank Asper, organist for the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City, will be guest artist.

Richard Dyer-Bennet, John Anglin and the Beal twins will present their programs at the High School Auditorium. The place of Dr. Asper's organ concert will be announced at a later date. All concerts will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m., with admittance by membership cards only. Membership cards are transferrable, but no single or special admissions will be sold at any concert. If membership cards have not arrived by the night of the first concert, February 7, receipts from the application (Continued on Page 8)

They are interested in one thing, and one thing only," Mr. Dameron continued. "That is being able to start immediate construction of city improvements in case the adjoining areas should see fit to petition for admission to the City of Hereford."

"The fact that improvements might not follow immediately, or at all, has now been eliminated. If these people want to come into the City, as many of them have indicated, they will not be

New Record Announced As Deaf Smith County March Of Dimes Ends

Setting a new all-time record, Deaf Smith County's annual March of Dimes campaign drew to a close Monday with a total of $4,342.86 collected in the 1949 drive. The figure may still be increased by $200 or $300, according to Bruce Wooddell, County Campaign Director, who said that several groups had not reported due to weather conditions.

Top County Quota
The figure surpassed the county quota of $1,089.90 by a margin of $3,140.06, resulting in a per capita contribution of approximately 70 cents; the quota was based upon a 13 cent per capita contribution and all figures are based on the 1940 census. In 1948, Deaf Smith County was in the bracket in Texas with a 27 cent per capita contribution.

To Air With Drive
The final stages of the campaign were reached Sunday when March of Dimes leaders joined the staff of Station KPAN in a drive which netted $1,095.25. Automobiles furnished by the Jaycees were used in making the collections as people called in their names to the radio station.

Paul Harvey, County Chairman of the Pallo Organization expressed appreciation to every person who contributed to the fund, and especially to the chairman and individuals who contributed generously of their time.

"It just shows that the people of this country are the finest people in the world," Mr. Harvey said. "The generous response here will be one of the highest per capita contributions in the whole country and I know you agree with me when I say, 'It couldn't be for a better cause.'"

QUESTION of the WEEK

Do you think school busses should run when the weather is bad?

MRS. J. O. CLARK: We live two miles off the highway and I think the busses could run most days. When the busses don't run we bring our children into school anyway. Of course parents want to be sure that the drivers are careful people. His experience in driving in the mud and sleet makes a lot of difference because it is harder to handle a bus than a car.

BOB WILSON: I think we are crazy as the dickens to try to maintain busses when the weather is so uncertain. We've had a few minor traffic accidents already and we can't keep on guaranteeing they'll be minor. I turned my car over last fall on icy pavements, and a bus turned over at Dawn. Couple of things like that sure make you leery of further risks.

MRS. MERLIN KAUL: I'm like a lot of other people—I think busses should run when they can. My husband used to drive a bus, and according to him, those busses are awfully hard to handle, and get easily out of control. It's just too dangerous for children to be on the busses when the roads are slick. People shouldn't expect the rural bus service when weather and road conditions are dangerous.

A. J. SCHROETER: It all depends on whether the safety of the kids is involved. There's no doubt that it is hard on the country children to have to miss school because of the weather but still if there is some doubt as to the safety of the trip, the busses should not go.

Maybe Weather Man Was Kidding

Although the Associated Press weather forecast for West Texas was partly cloudy and not quite so cold Wednesday night, it appeared early in the afternoon as if the weather man might be pitching a curve to residents of this vicinity as the sky grew more foreboding and an icy wind whipped up, buffeting Main Street promenaders and causing them to predict generally, "Another one is coming."

So far this week temperature recordings at the Fire Station indicated Sunday was the coldest day with a low of 2 above zero. However, there were other reports of mercury dips of as low as 3 below zero that frigid day.

Although the wheat crop is reported to be benefiting considerably from the heavy snows, weather-weary residents nevertheless seemed to be ready for a re-appearance of Old Sol and warmer weather any time.

When will this rough weather end? A $64 question indeed. Perhaps the best prediction was that of an armchair forecaster this week who said: "We're due for a break, but then, anything can happen in this country."

Camp Fire Girls Elected Officers At Meeting Monday

Chu-de-naang Group of the Camp Fire Girls met Monday at the Camp Fire Hut to elect officers. Margie Ford was made president; Marian Lomenik vice-president; Marilyn Legg treasurer; Naydne Flowers, secretary; and Wynogene Sowell reporter.

Following the election, the girls planned a Valentine party for their mothers. It was agreed to exchange valentines among the group, and to make gifts for the mothers, to be presented at the party.

Firemen's Show in Tokyo

Japanese firemen shinny up and down guy-ropes in a demonstration at the annual fire brigade review held at the Imperial Palace Plaza, Tokyo. Almost 5000 firemen took part in a spectacular review which was witnessed by thousands, including U. S. occupation personnel.

Mrs. W. A. Epperson Hostess At Thursday HD Club Meeting

By MRS. LEE HALL
Mrs. W. A. Epperson was hostess to the Easter Home Demonstration Club which met Thursday evening. Roll call was answered with "My Error in being a good hostess." In the absence of the Home Demonstration Agent, members of the club discussed points in being a good hostess, and table etiquette and setting. Those who attended the meeting were Mesdames L. E. Stone, J. H. Burnett, Fred Walton, Leo Hall, Henry Flood, Jim Brooks and the hostess. It was announced that Council will meet for an all-day meeting at the Court House in Dimmitt Feb. 8. The next club meeting will be held Feb. 10, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Burnett. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Suit of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stone were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett. Gary Burnett has recently recovered from the measles. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Medley and daughter of Hereford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Epperson. Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Stone and son of Dimmitt, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walton visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. E. Stone. Those attending the party held at the Vocational Agriculture School in Hereford Thursday night were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Flood, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hall and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Olin LaPlant and daughter.

Auto Tags Get Off To Slow Start

Sales were slow as 1949 auto tags went on the market at the Court House Tuesday.

Early in the afternoon Deputy Sheriff Worth Covington said only 24 customers had shown up.

He urged persons to get tags early to avoid a rush of persons buying tags at the last moment to avoid a 20 per cent penalty which is assessed after the April 1 deadline.

Covington said also persons buying new automobiles or pur-

Father Of Lee Curry Dies At Weatherford

Lee Curry returned Friday from Weatherford where he attended funeral services for his father, John C. Curry, resident of Weatherford for the past thirty years. The elder Mr. Curry would have been 95 on Feb. 11.

Mr. Curry was born in Tennessee and was married to Miss Erophlar Elizabeth Patton in August, 1876. She died in 1939. He was a life-long member of the Methodist Church and was superintendent of the Sunday School at Post Oak, Stephens County, for twenty years prior to moving to Weatherford. At one time he owned acreage north of Summerfield and near Friona. He had visited his son and his family here on many occasions. Burial was in Post Oak Cemetery Monday, Jan. 24.

All 13 children of the family survive, also 23 grand-children and 21 great-grandchildren. The 43 children surviving, all of whom were present for the funeral are:

Mrs. Effie Kinchen, Claud Curry, Mrs. F. T. Lawrence, and Erenst Curry, all of Breckenridge; Lee Curry, Summerfield; Eugene Curry, San Angelo; Mrs. Annie Sandidge, Austin; Mrs. A. M. Pharriss, Fort Worth; John Curry, Houston; Mrs. W. A. Glenn, Mrs. Conrad Russell and Mrs. J. B. Darby, Weatherford.

'Can You Spare A Bath?' Cry Of Woe As Water Pipes Freeze

"Can you spare a bath, mister?"

The popular phrase echoed currently among friends of people who live on "I" Street and a few other scattered points in north and east portions of Hereford. The situation resulted from low temperatures which froze lead-in water lines and sent occupants scurrying for drinking water.

"Most of the trouble occurred on temporary lines placed last summer to bring service into new areas," Mayor W. E. Dameron lines have shallow settings, and were laid with the intention of replacement as soon as standard lines are available and conditions permit." Mayor Dameron also said that a car of pipe had arrived this week after having been on order for more than a year.

Several rural residents also reported shortage of water, due to freezing of windmill pipes and delivery systems. House gutters and drains were also frozen

Maybe you're the "slow" one!

Have you been a little slow about giving your engine the extra protection it needs for winter-weather driving?

It's easy to change now to winter-grade Conoco Nth Motor Oil and the extra protection of an engine that is OIL-PLATED!

Because free-flowing Conoco Nth actually fastens extra lubricant right to cylinder walls. This extra OIL-PLATING protects working parts from winter's grinding "dry-friction" starts... from metal-eating combustion acids... and from power-robbing sludge and carbon due to wear.

So stop trouble before it starts...

FARM MARKET

Steady to strong livestock markets tended to offset lower cotton, grain and winter vegetables during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

South Texas cattle markets recorded price advances of most-ly 50 cents to $2, with Monday's old weather market showing most of the gain. Cows and bulls declined about 50 cents at Wichita, while other southwest terminals held about unchanged. Houston paid $24.75 for medium earnings. Medium and good yearlings and yearlings cashed at $2 to $24.75 at San Antonio and $3 to $22.50 at Fort Worth.

Most hogs brought steady to cents higher prices for the week, but prices fell $1 to $2 at Denver. Top butcher hogs sold at $1 at Denver Monday, and sows $5 to $15.50. Butcher top was $1 at Kansas City, Oklahoma City and Fort Worth, and $20.75 at Wichita and San Antonio. Pigs spread from $15 to $18.

Sheep markets ruled unchanged to slightly higher during the past week. Good and choice ewes brought $11 at Denver, and $9.50 at Oklahoma City. Fort Worth took good ewes $11. Goats advanced $1 at San Antonio. Common and medium lambs in the hair moved at $5.

Scattered lots of choice fine-wool wools were contracted in Texas at 65 cents per pound, f.o.b. Mohair eased little in slow trading.

Bad weather cut egg receipts the southwest and prices held firm to strong. Fryers showed weak undertone, as an ice storm limited movement from northwest Arkansas. Other poultry remained about steady.

Cabbage and carrots led general downturns on vegetables and citrus fruits at south Texas shipping points last week. Cold and heavy weather held back harvesting. Severe freezes over the week end may cause serious crop damage. Minimum temperatures Monday ranged from 23 at Brownsville to 20 at Crystal City. Ice and snow around Hammond, Louisiana delayed strawberry harvest.

Wheat, sorghums and yellow corn dropped 4 to 5 cents for the week and white corn about 1 cent. No. 1 hard wheat closed Monday at $2.34 1/4 to $2.39 1/4 per bushel in bulk carlots at Texas common points. No. 2 white corn advanced around $1.74, and yellow corn $1.58. No. 2 milo brought $2.63 to $2.68 a hundred.

Rice markets held barely steady last week, as growers began to offer rough rice more freely. Patna and Rexoro sold from $12 to $12.50 per barrel.

Slow demand for liberal offerings lowered prices of most feeds last week. Bran and shorts sold around $54 a ton, and cottonseed meal $68 to $69 in carlots. Snow and ice created more demand for hay. No. 1 alfalfa brought around $40 a ton at Fort Worth and $30 at Kansas City. Peanuts sold a shade higher. Cotton declined 50 cents to $1.25 a bale for the week. Spot bidding 15/16 inch closed Monday at 32.80 cents a pound at Dallas and Houston and 32.70 at New Orleans.

COTTON MARKET

Cotton markets were fairly quiet in Oklahoma and Texas this week and sales dropped from last week's moderate rate, reports U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Dallas, Houston and Galveston reported sale of 65,916 bales compared with 84,017 bales a week earlier. Sales in all 10 spot markets also were down, from 57,400 bales a week ago to 228,000. Export market continued active and sales increased.

Japanese Board of Trade announced an offer to purchase 8,000 bales of mostly medium to low grade short staple cotton. Also, reports indicated that export licenses had been authorized for shipments of raw cotton to Russia, estimated by the trade to be about 500,000 bales.

Many farmers continued to sell quilts freely in government loan cotton. Sizeable lots were bringing $2.50 per bale lower qualities to $9 for higher grades of medium staple lengths.

Loan entries to Commodity Credit Corporation through Jan. 30 totaled 4,306,700 bales.

Some interest was shown by domestic mills for better qualities of white cotton ranging in staple length 31/32 inch through 1/32 inch.

The Doctor MUST Give Service

Much of the Patient's response to treatment depends on confidence in his Doctor. Not only is there a physical reaction to this feeling of confidence in the method of treatment, but the fact that you believe in your Doctor, causes you to follow instructions more carefully.

This confidence of the Patient can come about through only one thing—satisfactory service and the knowledge that your Doctor is competent.

This confidence of the Patient is the chief foundation of a Doctor's practice.

Naturally, it is up to the Doctor to render the highest type of service, if for no other than selfish reasons.

Hereford Concert Of Amarillo A Cappella Choir Is Postponed

Appearance of the Amarillo High School A Cappella Choir scheduled for Tuesday Feb. 8 at the High School Auditorium, has been postponed until later in the month, according to Wayne Evans, president of the local Lions Club, sponsor of the program.

Tickets will go on sale as soon as a new date has been set, at $1.20 for adults, and $0.80 for students, tax included.

Recognized as Outstanding
 For the past several years, the Amarillo choral group has been recognized as the outstanding choir of its kind and age-group in the state, and has been considered by many the finest in the nation. Under the direction of Mrs. Julia Dean Evans, the choir members appeared as official representatives for the Lions of District 2-T-1 on the program of the Lions International Convention in New York City last summer. After the scheduled appearance, the group was called in for two additional appearances.

on one occasion filling in for the absence of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who was slated to speak during its stay in New York, the choir sang for Fred Waring, and members were special guests at his Pennsylvania farm.

Present Varied Programs
 A mixed group, the choir presents varied programs, including sacred music, classic, popular and novelty numbers, with special arrangements on many old favorites. There are approximately 200 students in the chorus, but a selected number of about sixty usually makes the out-of-town performances. Proceeds from the Lions-sponsored program will go to the Boy Scout Building Fund, to erect a headquarters building at Don Herrington Scout Camp in Palo Duro Canyon. The building will be used by all Boy Scout units in this area, after sufficient funds for the project have been raised by the Lions Clubs of the Llano Estacado Scout District.

Cattle Weather Storm Well

Cattle in this territory weathered the recent storm and came through in good shape, cattlemen over this section reported Tuesday as a collection of two-week's ice began to thaw.

The general report was substantiated by County Agent Hugh Clearman, who said that he did not know of a single range loss, except for one or two calves born during the storm. Meanwhile, reports from Western states' continued listing fatalities among cattle and "three-below-zero" weather in Austin Monday resulted in damage to cattle in the South Texas areas. Recent low temperature readings were not accompanied with the usual high winds, which did much to alleviate loss and suffering of cattle. Too, the fact that most of the cattle brought here for grazing had been here 60 days or longer found them in good condition to face the cold weather. "It is surprising how little loss of flesh resulted from the weather," remarked one cattleman. "Where cattle were in good shape and were well fed, the damage seems to be practically nothing."

Junior High School 4-H Club Girl Making Talents Pay Off

By PHYLLIS RADOVICH
 Betty Lou McGaughey, Junior High School student who lives on a farm near Wildorado, is a good example of 4-H girls in Deaf Smith County whose culinary and homemaking talents are already beginning to pay off.

She was a blue ribbon winner in the baking contest held Nov. 6 among 4-H girls so the Fairview Home Demonstration Club, mother organization of Betty's Fairview Four H club, presented her with piece goods for a spring wardrobe.

Betty has already begun to cut, baste and stitch on the material. She has completed the sheer wool plaid school dress and is planning designs for the two gay cotton prints. Her culminating task will be making the rayon print which will be her Easter dress.

Although she hasn't yet chosen her pattern for this green background floral print, it will be made up in some soft feminine design, right in keeping with the new spring fashions.

Green Favorite Color
 Green is Betty's favorite color. For Christmas her parents gave her five yards of grass-colored wool to make into a winter coat and Betty tackled it with help from her mother and Mrs. Ar-

gen Draper, home demonstration agent. The coat is a swing-back model with a cape collar and Betty tailored it creditably for a 14-year old.

This sewing project was born when Betty's cornbread and whole wheat muffins took first prize in the breadmaking division at the cooking show. Mrs. Mattie Lee Seale and Mrs. Bob Wilson were the judges.

In recognition of the honor, the HD club from Betty's part of the county purchased the material and presented it to her at the Daniel School community pie supper. Mrs. E. W. Womble, Jr., sponsor of the 4-H club, presented the gift.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McGaughey, Betty thinks 4-H work is wonderful. She is interested in most phases of their activities. Last summer she completed a canning project in which she put up cherries from the trees in the McGaughey's orchard as well as pineapples and peaches.

Does Canning
 She canned squash, beans, black eyed peas, beans and corn from the garden which was raised by her younger brother, Travis. Travis cultivates the vegetables; Betty cans them. During the seeding of the row crop Betty drove a tractor on her Dad's farm. She is also raising poultry to exhibit a pen of white leghorns at the 4-H club Fat Stock and Poultry Show in February.

In Eighth Grade
 An eighth grader, Betty attended Daniel School for five years, Canyon one year and for the past two years she has been going to Hereford Junior High School. She rides a bus over a hundred miles a day, which takes a lot of time out of a busy day. She will enroll in high school next year. She is undecided about attending college.

She says her future 4-H plans will involve money making schemes. "You might as well make your learning pay off as soon as you can," Betty concluded.

Nanking has been the seat of China's government eight times.

Mrs. Frances Maxfield was a luncheon guest Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seed. Mrs. Maxfield left this week for Oklahoma City, where she will make her home.

Try Reading A Good Baseball Book To Brighten This Gloomy Weather

By MARGARET BARRETT
Hereford's men of action are having a hard time keeping content, warm and comfortable at the same time during the wintry weather of the past weeks. For those unaccustomed to staying in, suggestions as to amusement and entertainment might be welcome. Though many men do not care to spend much time reading, perhaps something in the line of sports would serve as pleasant diversion.

So "Let's go out to the ballgame," even though its ten below—you can enjoy that favorite American sport right by the fire. The County Library has a good selection of baseball books—not fiction, but the real thing, ranging from the impressions of a bat-boy to the collected facts and histories by the major-leaguers themselves.

DiMaggio Book Popular
One of the most popular is "Baseball for Everyone" by Joe DiMaggio, written with the assistance of an advisory board of experts—Carl Hubbell, Frankie Frisch, Bill Dickey, and Art Fletcher, with a special chapter on "How to Score" by Red Barber. DiMaggio's book is written with an eye to pleasing both the player and the fan, taking in baseball life from the "one old cat" stage till the day a man gets too old for actual playing. Chapters dealing with each of the nine positions on the baseball team, together with anecdotes and illustrations of old-time and present day heroes provide much good entertainment and instruction.

Goes Into Coaching
DiMaggio, famous center fielder for the New York Yankees, even goes into the coaching and signs part of the game, aided by the clever line illustrations of Lenny Hollester.

The book "Babe Ruth" is a biography by Tom Meany of the man he considered to be the greatest single influence on sports of this century. Far from eulogizing the famous Babe, Meany, columnist for the now defunct New York PM and noted

New York sports writer, attempts only to give one man's impression—his own—of the colorful figure of the baseball world who died the past year.

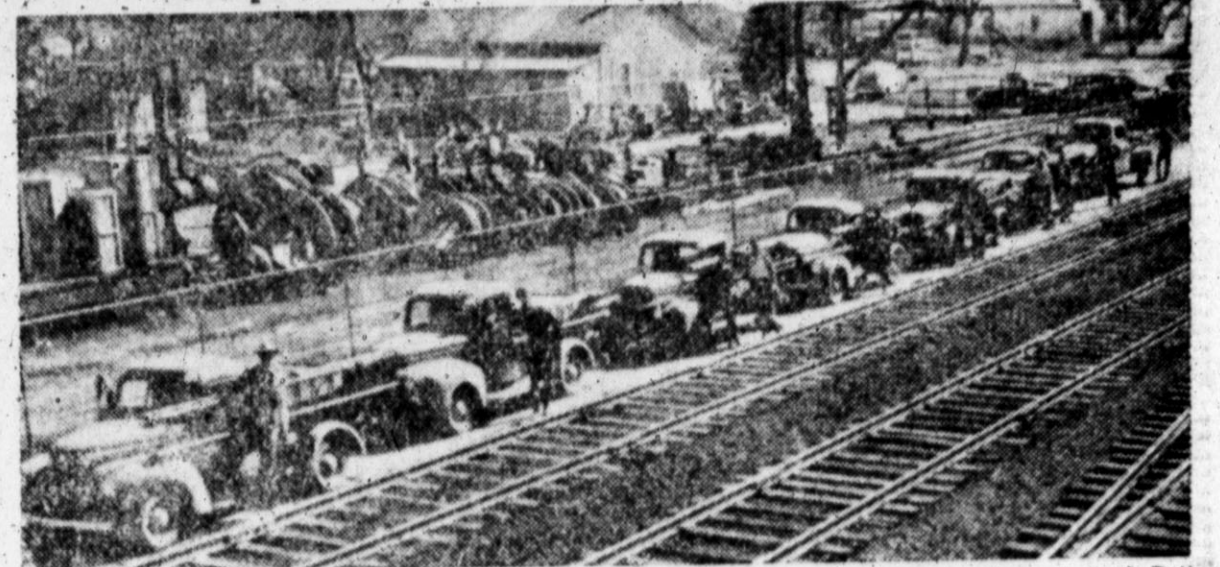

Bob Feller, still going strong as pitcher for the Cleveland Indians, has a book entitled "Strikeout Story" which traces his baseball career from the time he was a small boy right to the present.

For those interested primarily in big league clubs, rather than personalities, a book such as "The Washington Senators" by Morris A. Beale should prove entertaining. The Senators, dating from way back in 1859, have ten former players enrolled in Baseball's Hall of Fame. Back in the days before 1912, the Senators were described by funsters in such ways as "Washington—First in War, First in Peace and Last in the American League." The civic slogan of Washington was said to be "Way till next year." In recent years, the oldest ball club in the U. S. has seldom been out of the first division, and has captured the American League pennant three times.

Other big league histories include two by Frank Graham: "The New York Yankees" and "Brooklyn Dodgers," two by Frederick G. Lieb, "The Pittsburgh Pirates" and "The St. Louis Cardinals." The saga of "The Boston Braves," by Harold Koese, and "The Cincinnati Reds" by Lee Allen can also be found on the library shelves.

Baseball Books For Kids
For youngsters who are baseball-crazy and have time on their hands, "Bat Boy of the Giants" by the bat-boy himself, Garth Garreau, should be appealing. When he was ten years old, Garreau started as bat-boy at the Polo Grounds for the visiting team. His most ardent desire—to carry the bats for the Giants—came three years later when he was allowed to move into the Giants dug-out and hobnob with the heroes of the club. As Joe DiMaggio says "If you live in the U. S., the chances

Schools And Teachers Trying To Make Education Fit Atomic Age

By CLARKE BEACH

WASHINGTON — It isn't enough to learn how to make atomic bombs. You also have to learn how to live with them.

That, in general, is the conclusion of a lot of educators in colleges and universities who are trying to remold educational standards to fit the atomic age.

How they are doing it is described in the forthcoming issue of "Higher Education," a publication of the Federal Security Agency. The Agency's Office of Education queried colleges and universities and received 500 replies.

Results of the survey are described in an article by Dr. Claude E. Hawley, associate chief for social sciences, division of higher education. "It was found that about 100 of the institutions are taking drastic steps to adapt their courses to the new force. As Dr. Hawley expresses it, they are impressed with the weighty obligations of educators to help unravel some of the horrible and fascinating problems newly created. "The pedagogues' awareness of the problem, however, was by no means unanimous. Of the 500 colleges replying to the questionnaire, 469 indicated that the coming of the atomic age had affected their activities only incidentally. One of the most striking developments is the effect on training in engineering and other technical professions. Some of the faculties are requiring their students to acquire a much more general education so that they can understand their new problems and responsibilities. The State University of Iowa requires its engineering students to take twice as many courses in the social sciences and humanities as it formerly did. Many others have made similar changes or are considering them. On the other hand, many schools are requiring their liberal arts students, the ones who are specializing in general education, to take more physical and natural science courses. Some have developed new non-technical courses on atomic energy for the benefit of students with little scientific background.

The teaching of all the social sciences in many of the schools is being revised. Students are being told about the probable social implications of atomic energy and of the social effects of new atomic inventions that are likely to come.

Economic aspects of the new power are studied. And in political science there is increasing emphasis on the problem of control of atomic weapons.

In some teachers' colleges future professors are being prepared to guide the next generation through the thorny atomic frontiers.

Some theological schools have added new courses on religion and science. Courses in philosophy stress the moral aspects of the development of atomic energy. (Continued on Page 8)

Reds Are Riled By 'Newsbabe'

AP Newsfeature

BERLIN—The prettiest heckler of the Russians in Berlin is on the "wanted" list of their political police.

Twice a week, storm or shine, she makes jokes at Russian expense. Most of Berlin chuckles.

As long as she stays on the Allied side of the boundary dividing this city, blonde Christina Chisen hopes she'll be safe. But regardless of dangers the future may bring, she is now the most popular entertainer on RIAS, an American-sponsored radio station here. It's managed by William F. Heimlich, of Columbus, Ohio.

She's a 'Newsbabe'
 Christina calls herself, in Berlin slang, a newsbabe. Pretending to be hawking newspapers on a downtown street, she cries out the headlines with pin-pricking comment.

It's a rare week that word or action by German Communists and their Russian bosses doesn't make her script-writing easy.

The newsbabe fad has grown so much that little dolls in Christina's supposed gamin likeness are sold in western sectors of Berlin. Each clutches a bundle of papers and wears two blonde pig-tails.

Russia Wants Her
 RIAS discovered Christina was on the Soviet wanted list when one of their reporters was arrested recently in East Berlin. Russian officers grilled him angrily about the newsbabe.

"Nix gut, we'll catch her yet," the reporter said he was told before the reluctant Soviets released him.

Christina says her ambition was to be a ballerina. But the Nazis, she says, sent her to work in a factory after the war began. Her health broke down. After convalescing, she became a minor comedian in films and on the stage.

Gets Election Letters
 Her most prized radio fan letter bears an East Berlin postmark and is in the crude handwriting of a day laborer. It arrived just before the anti-Communist city election in December.

"If we could elect you, little

Arms Trade Stirs Dispute

GENEVA (AP)—Neutral Switzerland has exported nearly nine million dollars worth of war materials since the export of war materials was banned by the federal government in June, 1946.

This little anomaly created so much talk and head-shaking in this peace-loving country that the Federal Council made an explanation.

The council says the law banning exports to arms provides for the granting of exceptions in certain cases for the sale abroad of used Swiss ordnance material and small calibre arms and munitions. The following conditions are strictly observed:

"1. Every export to nations at war or nations whose situation raises the fear that they might be involved in wars is refused.

"2. We deal only with governments (not with private concerns) which pledge not to export again the delivered weapons."

The council said the exports were mainly to South American countries and includes mostly materials no longer needed by the Swiss Army.

Argentina and Nicaragua are the two chief purchasers of Swiss arms in South America. In June and July of last year, Argentina bought arms worth approximately 2,500,000 Swiss francs (slightly over a half million dollars.) Published figures of the Swiss foreign trade department show that Nicaragua's purchase amounted to 1,320,000 francs ($303,600) in April, 436,489 francs in June, 1,200,000 francs in August and 1,329,000 francs in October.

The "National Zeitung" of Basel, publishing these figures recently, said:

"Although the muskets go off easily in Latin America, Nicaragua's need for weapons under these circumstances is not very convincing. Do Swiss arms and munitions really go in the declared amounts to Argentina and Nicaragua? Both states have a sea trade, both are adapted splendidly as middlemen."

Ceylon Seeking To Become Tourist Center

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Ceylon, youngest of Britain's dominions, is out to sell itself as "the playground of southeast Asia." The idea is to boost annual tourist revenues in three years from the present six million rupees to 60 million rupees (nearly $20 million).

The program calls for a large advertising campaign, provision of more accommodations for tourists, a clean-up of hawkers and dishonest dealers in gems and, in general, efforts to fine tourists, wherever they may be.

For instance, an attempt is being made to interest Americans working in Saudi Arabia's oilfields in spending their holidays in Ceylon. Cedric Senaratna, secretary of the government tourist bureau, says he hopes to have 400 of them arrive every two months to cool off at Nuwara Eliya, 6,200-foot-high resort 112 miles east of Colombo. Senaratna also is working for stopovers by passenger vessels which now pass up Ceylon.

POWER PLANT that uses its Head! THIS is the husky thrill-producer you find filling the bonnet of any 1949 Buick. Look it over and you'll observe, among other things, that it is a valve-in-head straight-eight. In simple language, this means that years ago Buick engineers lifted the valves from the side of the cylinder and put them on top—with some immediate advantages. Such an engine "breathes" better. Gets a full, even charge on every intake—exhausts spent gases more easily—enjoys extra power, life and ginger. And in such engines, compression ratios are relatively easy to establish. To step them up, the head is merely brought closer to the piston—no extra problems are presented getting fuel in and exhaust out. Thus Buick power can—and has—kept pace with progress in fuels. Compression ratios suit gasolines actually available—and there's no waiting for tomorrow's gasolines to get full performance. There are other things to notice about this engine. It's a Fireball power plant—uses a special and exclusive type of piston that gets more good out of each fuel charge. And it speaks with soft, new quiet. Self-setting valve lifters automatically keep valves properly seated, ending tappet noises for good. With gasolines getting better, the swing to valve-in-head design will undoubtedly grow stronger. But that is what Buick has had all along—a power plant that uses its head to give extra lift and thrill. Buick's the Buy. Cogdell Motor Co. 322 NORTH MAIN HEREFORD

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago

The death of Woodrow Wilson at 11:15 a. m. Sunday, Feb. 3, 1924 was the foremost story appearing in the Brand of 25 years ago.

The president's death, at 65 years, the Brand said, came after days of gradual decline and slow exhaustion which started on a cross-country speaking tour in behalf of his ill-fated League of Nations.

The ailment was reported to have begun with digestive disturbance, and he died "just like a tired man going to sleep," Admiral Cary T. Grayson, his physician said.

Admiral Grayson's official report on President Wilson's death read:

"Mr. Wilson's death came at 11:15 this morning... (Feb. 3, 1924). His heart action became feeble and feeble and the heart muscle was so fatigued it refused to act any longer. The end came peacefully.

"The remote cause of death was in his ill health which began more than four years ago, namely arteriosclerosis with hemiplegia. The immediate cause of death was exhaustion following a digestive disturbance which began in the early part of last week but did not reach an acute stage until the early morning hours of Feb. 1."

On the brighter side was a list of prizes offered by the Chamber of Commerce to cotton growers as ginning season drew to a close.

The prizes included $100 for the best yield on 25 acres or more; $50 for the best yield on 15 to 20 acres; and $25 for the best yield on 10 acres.

Everybody reckoned the ground hog had been a good guesser when he ventured out of his burrough Feb. 1 only to hurry back again because of the bright sunshine, because the next morning a "rip snorting" northerly full of snow had hit Hereford with a 40-mile-an-hour ferocity.

George Washington was to be the theme for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held in the Methodist Church basement.

In the entertainment field the Girls Auxiliary was planning to present a three-act comedy, "The Farmerette" at the Star Theatre. Admission was to be 25c and 50c. Other Star attractions scheduled that week were Betty Compton in "Bonded Woman" and "Ruth of the Range," both on the same bill, and Jack Holt and Beebe Daniels in "North of the Rio Grande," which was to show later that week.

Elliston-Jones - Bray Realty Company had just been formed and had opened an office in the Elliston and Son Building back of the First National Bank.

The year's basketball players were "Jim dandies," said the Brand, and stood a chance to enter the state contest if the "breaks hold out."

Skelton's Variety Store was doing a booming business in coal oil lamps, and the manager told a Brand reporter he had sold more lamps in the last 30 days than he had in the preceding two years.

"It must be the new cotton farmers," the Brand man reasoned, "cause city folks don't use 'em any more."

"It's just one of those straws in the wind," he said, "which shows the Hereford country is filling up—slowly of course, but they're coming, just the same."

The personal column reported that:

Miss Helen Lambert had made a trip to Ft.ona.

John Heiselman had made a business trip to Crosbyton.

J. R. Sowell had gone to Clovis to attend to business.

C. E. Gatlin and family had arrived at Hereford after an "overland" trip from East Texas.

F. T. Minton had left for Greer, N. M.

C. E. Stroud had left for his home in Plano, Texas after a visit with Hereford relatives.

Mystery Solved By Bird Whistle

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Reporter NEW YORK—A whistled "wolf-call" on a barren plateau in Alaska solved a 163-year-old mystery.

On a city street, a wolf-call means a young man has spotted a pretty girl. A bird, the bristle-thighed curlew, does the wolf-call in Alaska, they solved the long-kept secret of where the curlews have their nesting grounds.

The story is told by Henry C. Kyllingstad, in Arctic, journal of the Arctic Institute of North America.

The curlew is a bird about the size of a crow, but slimmer. It has a five-inch, curved beak. It gets its name from hair-like modified feathers on its flanks and thighs.

The curlew was first found in Tahiti 163 years ago. Then they were spotted in Alaska. They are one of the species of birds that migrates each year from Alaska with marvelous navigation to Pacific Islands, including Hawaii, the Tuamotos, and Societies.

Ornithologists knew that much but no one had found a curlew's nesting and breeding grounds in Alaska.

The general area was guessed at. Kyllingstad spent four years searching without finding any nest. Success came last June when curlew nests were found in western Alaska, north of Mountain Village. In the party were Kyllingstad, Warren Petersen, of Kalskag, Alaska, Dr. Arthur A. Allen, of Cornell University, and his son, David.

Kyllingstad and David Allen were exploring a plateau when they heard a wolf-call whistle.

The curlew circled near Allen, giving the call several times. The two men quickly found the nest. It was a simple depression at the edge of a large black lichen, a low-growing plant. There were no grasses or feathers lining it. Inside were four

POLES TIGHTEN BORDER CONTROL

WARSAW (AP)—Poland is tightening her frontier controls.

Parliament has just ratified a governmental decree providing for three years' imprisonment for "crossing the country's frontiers without the proper documents, or in a place which has not been fixed for the crossing of frontiers."

Government authorities have expressed irritation over the landing of American planes from Berlin in Poland with crews lacking Polish visas.

The new decree also apparently is aimed at halting the illegal flight of Poles into Czechoslovakia or Germany.

eggs. The men in the next few days took motion pictures of the nest, and the hatching of the young birds. A second nest was found farther away. The entire range of hills and pairs of curlews, and the area "probably constitutes the main breeding ground," Kyllingstad said.

Smoking In Bed Is Burning Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—A New Jersey hotel posts the following instructions for guests who plan to smoke in bed.

"1. Call the Office and notify the management where you wish your remains sent, as it is a matter of record that a very high percentage of hotel fires are caused by this careless practice.

"2. Notify guests in adjoining rooms of your intentions of endangering their lives so that they may take the necessary precautions to protect themselves.

"3. Go to the corridor and locate the nearest fire escape, so that if you are fortunate enough to escape your room, you may reach safety.

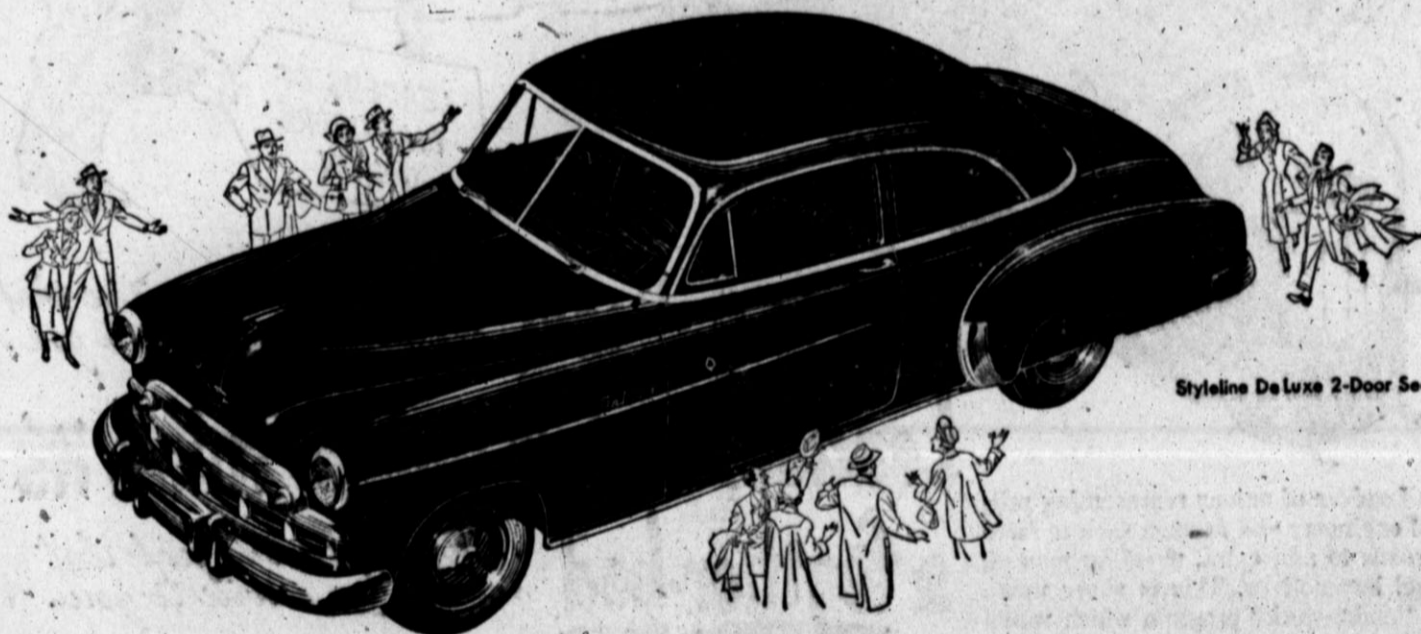

"4. Now sit down and think how foolish it is for you to take this risk—you may enjoy your smoke while thinking it over.

Senior Class Rings Arrive And Everyone Seems To Be Happy Now

Beaming senior faces are all that can be seen now except for those hands that are stuck in other peoples faces. We hope everyone else doesn't mind, but it is truly a wonderful feeling to know that we don't have to wait any longer for those beautiful rings. They are here and everyone is on top of the world.

Maybe to some people it seems like a very trivial matter, but to the seniors it is a symbol of accomplishment. It means that a goal which they set out to achieve four years ago is very near at hand.

At the present time it may mean a great deal to the seniors and teachers alike because the seniors can settle down to studying and won't have to be continually asking "When are the rings going to get here?" or "Have the rings arrived?" To the teachers we want to say—"We are sorry we have been such a bother, but just knowing they were on their way, was all we could think about. Maybe this hasn't bothered any of the teachers except Mr. Sullivan and Mrs. Audspen, but we hope they understand.

The paper took a survey to find out peoples' opinions of the rings. Some of the opinions follow:

Dwight Wilson—"Wonderful!"
 Jack Stanton—"Prettiest senior rings I've seen."
 Sari Smith—"Well—they are the best rings ever given to a senior in high school."
 Barbara Savage—"I don't like them."

Ronny Durham—"They sure are pretty!" It's one I can't be proud of."

John Newsom—"Well, mine is too big, but I think they are the prettiest senior rings I have ever seen."

Anna Lois Cummings—"Oh! Gee, I don't know."
 Jeanne Holman—"I think senior rings are real nice and I sure am glad they got them."
 Billy Moore—"Oh! I don't know—I sure do like them, but I had to wait a long time to get them."

Bradley Lookingbill—"Well, I like them."
 Mrs. Hudspeth—"They are beautiful—even prettier than the one I got."
 Mr. Criswell—"Very pretty."
 Mrs. Criswell—"Beautiful, I think they made a very wise decision."
 Eugene Collier—"They are pretty!"
 Naomi Carter—"Oh listen! They are beautiful!"
 Mr. Sullivan—"I've never seen any prettier high school rings."
 Danny McLallen—"They were worth waiting for."
 Bob Womble—"I think that they are pretty."
 Pat Longbottom—"Luscious!"
 Bettye Jo Carnahan—"Prettiest I have ever seen."
 Leta Dene Springer—"Gorgeous."
 Geraldine Knabe—"I think they are beautiful."
 Maurita Ramey—"I just know they sure are pretty."
 Inez Tucker—"It is an experience that every senior should go through."

Elaine Cox—"They are wonderful."

Mr. Purus Williams—"I would say they were good looking."

SPORTS SLANTS

By PAT CORBETT

When January comes around every year sports thoughts go to the Golden Gloves. Amarillo has just finished its Golden Gloves tournament. It was one of the best meets that they have ever had but was hampered by the bad weather. There were knockouts and all that goes with them. Winner in the open division, who want to, will go to the state tournament at Fort Worth.

Conrad Clark made the all-tournament team at Tulsa last week. The Whitefaces won fourth place in the tournament. They lost the first game they played to Canyon. Bob Patterson led the scoring for Hereford with 43 points. Dimmitt won the tournament as was predicted. Dimmitt beat Tulsa in the finals.

The Hereford "A" and "B" teams got their letter jackets last week at an assembly at the auditorium.

Today's sport fan is Mr. Bob Wilson who runs the school bus terminal at the football field. He became interested in sports by playing them at Hereford High School. He won the district high jump in 1915, '16, '17. Best high school athlete he ever saw was Waldo Young, the all-state back from Monahans.

Best pro athlete he ever saw was Gene Tunney, who beat Jack Dempsey in one of the greatest fights of all time. Mr. Wilson's sports thrill was when the Hereford team beat Clovis in a football game, in 1917, that Hereford was supposed to get beat in. His biggest sport disappointment was when they went to Portales to play a football game and after one play they had a big fight and the game was called off.

Did you know:

The longest baseball game was between Brooklyn and Boston, of the National League. The game was called at the end of the 26th inning because of darkness. The score was tied 1-1. Both pitchers went all the way.

They were Cadore, for Brooklyn, and Oeschger, for Boston.

The Exes of Hereford High School:

James Higgins is attending Texas A&M. He was on the Whitefaces in 1943, '44, and '45. He made the all-district team in 1946. He also played basketball, track, and played on the High School softball team in the summer. He won the 440-yard dash in the district; meet in 1945 but hurt his leg on the 100-yard dash and couldn't run any more that day.

LAUGHS

OF COURSE

Mr. Sullivan: Your essay on "Mother" is exactly like your father's, word for word.
 Pupil: Yes sir, we have the same mother.

USELESS

Mrs. (learning to drive) John, that mirror above the windshield isn't set right.
 Mr. What's the matter with it?
 Mrs. I can't see anything in it but the car behind!

ETIQUETTE

Mother: Don't dip your bread in the gravy. It's such bad manners.
 Son: I know Mother, but it's such good taste.

TENDERFOOT

Stableboy: (to new rider) Would you like the Texas saddle or the English saddle?
 New Rider: What's the difference?

Stableboy: Well, the Texas saddle has a horn and the English saddle hasn't.
 New Rider: I'll take the English saddle. I don't expect to be in heavy traffic.

TWOSOME

A flea and an elephant crossed a bridge together.
 "Boy, oh boy!" said the flea when they reached the other side.
 "We sure did make that bridge shake!"

A LONG TERM

Mr. Martin: George H., what do you plan to be when you graduate from H.S.?
 George: An old man.

Building Better World Termed Challenge To This Generation

By MRS. E. W. DETTMAN

The challenge to this generation is the same as it has been to every preceding generation—to make the world a better place in which to live. It is encouraging to note that in spite of many great upheavals of civilization, struggle, destruction of life and property, and changes in governments, the general trend of civilization has been upward. The living conditions in our country today are far more comfortable and pleasant than they were even one generation ago.

Most students of today have been able to attend school with very little hardship—and there is no danger. We have come to be a very demanding people; we expect to have all our material wants satisfied by very little effort on our part. I think our young people need to understand that money is circulating more freely now than at any other time in our history, and that it is not apt to remain so for very long.

They need to expect it is to be a little harder to earn a living in the future, and should not feel terribly upset when they find they cannot spend money so lavishly in coming years.

But this does not mean our people will be less happy. I believe that if youth of today develop the proper attitudes and habits of living, they have the greatest opportunity any generation has yet had to be a happy and powerful nation.

Here are three qualities which I consider most essential to a person to make him a citizen of which the United States and the world can be proud.

1. THE ABILITY TO DO SOMETHING WELL. Each person should investigate carefully the many kinds of work which are now available to young people and choose one of which he is capable and in which he will be happy. He should take plenty of time and really try to find out all about an occupation before deciding it for a life's work. It is a great misfortune to be engaged in a work which is distasteful to one. But after he has selected his work, he should devote it with energy and enthusiasm and try to be the best in his field. There are few things which give as much satisfaction as knowledge of a job well done. Of course, in doing a job well each person has done both himself and the world—a service.

2. TOLERANCE OF ALL RACES, RELIGIONS AND POLITICAL

BELIEFS. The lack of tolerance

has caused more unhappy homes, town or community rifts and wars, than any other one cause. If we could ever reach the place that everybody could have the same respect for other peoples' opinions which he has for his own, we would have jumped the highest hurdle between us and world peace. If I discover a new recipe for a delicious bread, I take it to my neighbor and say, "I would like for you to try my new recipe. I like it much better than the old way of making bread."

I do not take my gun, point it at her and say,

"Now this recipe is much better than the one you are using. Stop making bread your way and make it my way or I will shoot you."

Yet this is exactly the way we do with our political and religious beliefs. We are even willing to go to war to "liberate" a nation from its customs and traditions which have been a vital part of its life for centuries. How much more successful we could be if we would be more patient and say to the nations as in the case of the bread:

"See, this is the way we do it. Try our way and see how you like it."

3. FAITH IN GOD AND IN

OUR FELLOWMEN. We cannot hope to see the destiny of our world except in our trust in the powerful loving hand of God to guide us in the path of good. If we do our best to follow His counsel and trust Him to see that all ends well, we cannot go far wrong.

To love God means also to love our fellowmen. We must believe that the majority of them are also trying to do right—most of them are. I have put this to the test over and over, and I have found,

"There is so much good in the worst of us."

That is ill behooves the most of us.

To talk about the rest of us." So now I offer this challenge to the youth of our land. Learn to do something well; learn to be tolerant of all races; religions and creeds; love and trust God; love and trust your fellowman. If you do these things you will build a happy life for yourselves, and in so doing you cannot fail to build a better world.

McMurray Chanters Appear On High School Assembly Program

The McMurray Chanters, popular mixed chorus, appeared on an assembly program at the Hereford High School auditorium Jan. 27, 1949. They were directed by Mrs. Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wilie. They will stop in several West Texas towns before returning to Abilene. The thirty-two advanced music students are traveling by chartered bus.

"They plan to be gone nine days and they receive credit for their tours. Even in the midst of the fun they have on the tours they must keep up with their other studies that are going on back in McMurray.

Their program was of varied types. There were a few solo numbers as well as chorus numbers. A quartet also represented some of their outstanding talent. The chorus represented the Fine Arts Department of the McMurray College.

Dream Train Ride for Young 'Casey'

When Jimmy Colcough, 11, of Canastota, N. Y., reported a broken rail to New York Central railroad officials and averted a possible train wreck, he became a full-fledged hero. Among his rewards was a 150-mile ride in the engine of the Empire State Express from Albany to Syracuse, with a slowdown to greet the crowds in his home town. Jimmy also got a set of electric trains, a $100 check and promise of a job when he's 21, but he prized his time "at the throttle" most.

from getting in to him. The father, Charles M. Rotzler, and a policeman, Robert C. Swaney both received severe burns on their faces and hands in the rescue attempt.

Police Patrolman Swaney reported the blaze on the radio of his police car on the morning of Jan. 23, then entered the house through the rear door. Smoke was so thick, according to his reports, that he could hardly see in front of him as he made his way toward the door of the child's room.

Rotzler and Swaney, both groping blindly, found the door and opened it, only to be blown back out the door and knocked down as a result of the rush of flame, air, and smoke from the room.

Swaney suffered first degree burns and Rotzler suffered more serious first and second degree burns, since he was facing directly into the expulsion of flame. Other vain attempts were to enter the boy's room by firemen who groped about for the boy's crib but were unable to find it. After the conflagration was under control, the body was found on the floor near the door. The crib had been destroyed.

Probably the fire was started in the boy's room, possibly from an electric heater, but damage was done to the kitchen and the rear porch. A further investigation as to the cause of the fire is pending.

Rotzler, 29, is a Rohr Aircraft Corp. worker. Mrs. Rotzler, 23, is a former Hereford resident. The little boy who died in the fire was their only child.

Through the centuries, Warsaw, Poland, has been dominated by Sweden, Russia, Prussia and Germany.

SOVIET SWAMPS ARE DRAINED

MOSCOW (AP)—The subtropical swamps of the Cholchides are being drained.

Located along the seacoast of Soviet Georgia these swamps were famous in antiquity and entered into Greek mythology and chronicles. They have rich soil but all attempts at drainage of the area formerly undertaken failed because of the fact that the swamps flooded when ever strong western winds forced up the waters of the Black Sea coast and drove them into the swamp areas.

The Soviets have now for years been carrying out a scientifically planned major effort to drain the swamps. Large areas have been reclaimed for citrus and other subtropical cultures.

The minute hand of London's Big Ben is 14 feet long.

SOCCER NOW TOP SPORT IN SPAIN

MADRID (AP)—Soccer, not bullfighting, is Spain's national sport now.

While there are a few hundred bullfighters in Spain, recent statistics show that 33,571 soccer players are registered in this country.

Of this figure, 27,564 are amateurs, the rest professional. In Catalonia alone there are 897 soccer clubs, grouping 7,589 players.

Soccer also is deeply rooted in Andalusia, the native region of the most famous Spanish bullfighters. There are 3,470 players on the 489 Andalusian teams.

It is estimated that every Sunday about 300,000 fans attend the seven matches of the First Division League Championship. Bullfighting never provided statistics like that.

Child Study Club Is Entertained In Home Of Mrs. Clinton Jackson

Interesting talks were given by Mrs. Dale Tinnin and Mrs. Lisle Woodford at the meeting of the Child Study Club Thursday night when Mrs. Clinton Jackson was hostess at her home.

Mrs. Tinnin's topic was "What's Wrong With Today's Family—Nothing" and she quoted from well-known writers, saying "Gloom spreaders say the American family is cracking up but Americans have been facing problems since time began and the family is still intact. The American family must adapt itself to the mank changes being made and it must lead the way to better wholesome living. It is through differences and disagreements that many truths are brought to light, and the American family must practice tolerance in order to maintain a wholesome unit."

Mrs. Woodford talked on "Hobbies and their Psychological Value." She said in part, "Many people still think of play as unnecessary, a luxury available chiefly to children and prosperous adults, but everyone needs a hobby and should spend a part of each day in play."

A person should be able to tell his own feelings whether or not he has a good work-play balance. Every mother should have one or more hobbies and should encourage children in their hobbies. Dr. Will Menninger who headed the Army Psychiatric Service during World War II, says "The more anchors we have to windward, the less likely we are to founder in a storm."

"There are three fundamental types of hobbies—the acquiring of knowledge, the acquiring or collecting which is by far the most generally pursued, and the creating of things which is the most valuable. Music and art head the list of creative hobbies for as a hobby in adult life, as a release or an outlet for emotions, playing a musical instrument has no counterpart. The emotional effect on the child himself should be ample reason for giving every child an opportunity to study music. The study of art or painting is a popular hobby because of the many mediums with which the amateur may work and because of the low cost of materials," Mrs. Woodford said.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Merlin Kaul president, members discussed sponsoring a baby show in the future and the March of Dimes scroll was signed.

Members present were Mesdames Gordon Witherspoon, George Heard, Maurice Tannahill, Dale Tinnin, John Robinson, Joe Story, E. J. Pepper, Worth Covington, Merlin Kaul, Earthon Bryant, Ira Foster, Earl Springer, Lisle Woodford and the hostess.

Polish Farm Schools Push Collectivization

WARSAW (AP)—A series of agricultural schools are being set up in Poland to teach would-be farm experts the meaning of socialism and the application of farm collectivization.

A national convention of leaders in agricultural education held here recently declared "agricultural schools must become centers of socialism and every student must become a fighter and a builder of the new social structure."

Informed sources say a primary aim of the schools is to drive home to students that all farm production in Poland must be socialized in conformity with dictates of the Cominform. But Hilary Mine, minister of industry and commerce, has declared that he did not expect the collectivization scheme to affect more than one per cent of the nation's farms in 1949.

WHAT'S BACK OF CAR ACCIDENTS

CHICAGO (AP)—Are you troubled with anarchoresphobia? If you do a lot of driving you probably are.

Dr. W. A. Eggert, chief psychologist for Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Company, says this tongue twister—meaning reluctance to back up—contributes to thousands of automobile accidents each year.

In analyzing claims paid by the company on commercial vehicles in nine major industries, Dr. Eggert found that improper backing caused 25 per cent of the accidents—more than any other two driving errors combined.

Next in line were inattention, 13 per cent; and speeding, 10 per cent.

"Most of us today are in such a hurry that we resent the idea of backing up," said Dr. Eggert, and "unless we are trained drivers, we tend to think about where we are going next—even while backing—instead of concentrating on the job at hand."

Although mosaic was known in pagan and Christian Rome, it was notably revived during the Middle Ages.

Livestock Replacing Cotton As Income Basis In Texas

Special to The Brand

COLLEGE STATION—Twenty-five years have made a big change in Texas agriculture. A quarter of a century ago Texas farmers received a large share of their income from cotton—around 70 per cent, according to the figures. Today livestock is taking the place of cotton as the basis of income. It isn't quite up to the 70 per cent mark, however. At the present time, the income of Texas farmers from livestock and livestock products runs about 40 per cent of the total income.

In 1924, the total sales from livestock and livestock products were only 20 per cent of the total income, says C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A&M College. By 1944, returns from these sources had risen to almost one-half the total income—up to 46 per cent. The same year, receipts from cotton and cottonseed had dropped to only 25 per cent of the total farm income. It ran about the same as this again last year, says Bates. Sales from these products made up one-fourth of all farm income. Sales from other Texas crops—wheat, rice, sorghum, citrus, flax, and peanuts—made up around 33 to 35 per cent of Texas' farm income. And back in 1924, these miscellaneous sources provided only 10 per cent of the income. By 1944, they had climbed to 28 per cent.

This growth in sales from fruits and crops other than cotton brings out the increasing commercial importance of these parts of Texas agriculture. The big need for food and feed during the war and the years following was one main cause for this upward trend in these crops, says Bates.

Examples of the industry building up in the areas of production are the vast processing plant at Corpus Christi for handling grain sorghum and cereals, and the expanding milling and feeding manufacturing plants in north and northwest Texas.

Colds

To relieve misery, rub throat, chest and back with comforting VICKS VapoRus

Also markets for an increasing volume of milk have developed the rapid expansion of the industrial activity in the state. Population growth within Texas and the Southwest calls for an increased output of meats, poultry and dairy products.

Gorgeous George Takes a Whirl

Gorgeous George (horizontal), glamor boy of the wrestlers, gets the business from his unglamorous opponent, Ralph Garibaldi, in Chicago's Amphitheater. The Gorgeous One, wearing long, curly tresses wrapped in a spun gold hairnet, gives the fans a show. He wears startling robes, selected from a huge wardrobe, and wrestles until his valet has thoroughly sprayed the ring and ropes with perfume-scented disinfectant. Everybody laughs, but they flock to see George, and that's the payoff.

Prospects are that this growth will balance the economic pattern with more livestock on Texas farms.

Industrial markets, too, have aided in the shift from cotton farming to dairy and livestock farming, says Bates, especially in the South and East Texas areas.

This big turn in agriculture wasn't a case of wanting to, he concluded, but of having to.

TWO MARKS SET

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—When Michigan State, then Michigan Agricultural College, defeated Battle Creek 93-4 in basketball back in 1905, two all time records were set. The marks were total points scored by a State team and the 89 point margin of victory.

France Takes To Television

PARIS (AP)—France is taking to television. By the end of the year four different transmitters will be operating in the country.

It hasn't reached the point where television receivers are being installed to attract crowds in sidewalk cafes or as an added attraction to a "Can Can" show. But 10,000 sets are registered in Paris. Officials believe that there are many more unregistered sets.

Radio sets in France are registered and each set owner has to pay a tax of about two dollars a year. Although it has been customary with radio to let taxes pay for programs and keep the airways free of commercials, Radiovision Television is considering selling time to sponsors.

This revolutionary move on the European airways is being held up by Communists. A spokesman said recently that if the airways are opened to advertising, the wealthy Communist party of France will be one of the first customers. The matter is "discrimination," he said; has been delaying a decision.

At present there is only one television transmitter. That is on the Eiffel Tower. By the end of this year there will be a second transmitter operating in Paris, one in Lyon and one in Lille.

The television studios on the Left Bank were started while the Germans were here. The Nazi chieftains in France were taken with the idea and consequently did everything they could to help their captives along.

Russians To Get Books By Western Authors

MOSCOW (AP)—The Publishing House of Fine Literature will put out 40 books by western authors in 1949.

These include: The selected works of Mark Twain in two volumes. A collection of short stories and separate novels by Theodore Dreiser. The latest works of Sinclair Lewis. Other American writers also will be represented.

The English classical writers will be represented by: Dickens, Fielding, Smollett, Sterne and Godwin.

The Indian writer Mulk Raj Anand "Coolie" is to be published in Russian this year.

Chinese classical poetry will be published extensively. According to A. Kotov, director of the State Publishing House for Fine Literature, a six volume edition of Pushkin's complete works will be issued in 1949.

A prominent place in the publishing house's plans is occupied by Russian classical literature. About 25,000 titles are scheduled for this year.

In spite of the huge book printing programs, which increase from year to year, says an announcement, "the market is still far from glutted. It is only a matter of hours for new books to be sold out in Soviet book stores. (Moscow alone has about 400 bookstores). Everywhere in the country the demand is greater than the supply."

The year's biggest editions are scheduled for the works of V. I. Lenin. The final volumes of a 40-volume edition of his collected works are to appear in 1949. The edition is a half million.

SWISS SNOW 'LWS CONTINUE

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, (AP)—The private railroad connecting this famous winter-sports center with the outside world appealed to the cantonal (state) government recently to withdraw snow plows operating on the Julier pass, the only road between St. Moritz and the rest of Switzerland.

The appeal stressed the railroad's financial difficulties and pointed out that, if the Julier pass were permitted to remain blocked by snow throughout the winter, the railroad could transport automobiles as well as passengers through a tunnel between Switzerland and the St. Moritz district.

The appeal aroused violent opposition among motorists and hotel interests throughout the area. While the government was discussing the railroad's request, a column of automobiles bearing anti-railroad placards toured the district with loudspeakers describing the railroad management as "anti-Swiss" and "strangers of liberty."

The railroad's appeal was rejected. The modern public health movement was started in England in 1848 with passage of the first Public Health Act and setting up of the first General Board of Health in London.

30 Days Hath ... ?

Hollywood actress Laura Elliot looks over a proposed new "World Calendar," which would shake up our present Gregorian calendar a bit. The "World Calendar" would divide the 12 months into equal quarters of 13 weeks each. One extra day would fall between Dec. 30 and Jan. 1, and be known as "Worldsday." In leap years, a second "Worldsday" would follow June 30. Every day of the month would fall on the same day of the week every year under the proposed change.

HAS VARIETY OF LIQUORS

MOSCOW (AP)—Americans who may think that Russians drink only vodka are as far from the truth as any foreigners who may think that Americans drink only whiskey. The fact is that Russia, like the United States, has a large and varied liquor industry.

The menu of the Metropole Restaurant in the center of Moscow, for instance, lists four brands of Soviet red wine, six types of Soviet white wine, seven types of strong wine, 11 types of dessert wine, two brands of Soviet champagne, three brands of Soviet cognac, five different Soviet liqueurs, four types of vodka, 10 types of fruit liqueurs, and four types of Soviet beer.

These are only a small sample of the alcoholic beverages turned out in the Soviet Union. There are scores of types of Georgian wine alone of which only a few are listed in the Metropole's menu.
