Potato Harvest Climbs Towards Peak Quality High, Yield Is Down Some

Potato harvest struggled on this week as only a few growers were able to get into their fields to dig the crop, but banking on hopes of dry weather, potato officials figured the harvest would hit into its peak next week and run late into August.

Only two processing sheds, the Hereford Potato Growers Association, and the Associated Growers of Hereford, were running this week, but all five others were planning to open soon. Two sheds at Munroe, one at Kress and one at Dawn were also open this week.

The year's heavy rains, reminding potato people of the deluge which swept the country in 1941, second year of the spud experiment here, had taken their toll of crop prospects. Quality was high but yields were running low.

Officials were agreed that the yields were far short of the usual average, running as low as 50 sacks of number ones to the acre, but average yields so far had been making about 100 sacks of number ones per acre. High yield for this county is 350 sacks a product of 1947's bumper year.

"However, the quality is good this year, and they grade out better than usual," said Dave Lurry, sales manager of the Hereford Potato Growers Association. By grade out Lurry refers to the percentage of number one potatoes in every 100 pound sack of spuds from the fields.

Lurry explained the low yields resulted from all the rain and hall. Too many potatoes on each vine meant smaller potatoes, fewer number ones.

George Carmody, sales manager of Associated Growers, who said their spuds were being sent to Pittsburg, Cleveland, Chicago, Memphis, points in Louisiana and Texas, declared the quality had never been higher.

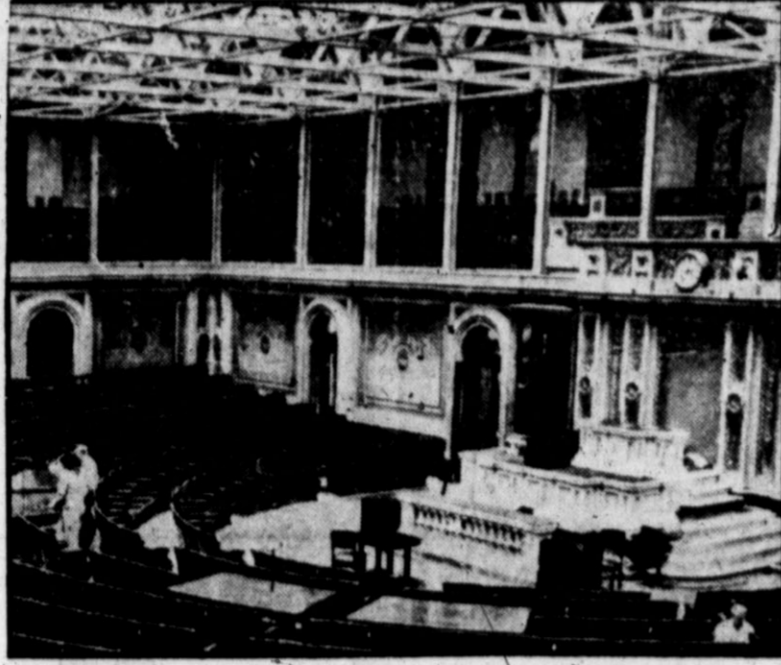

Chicago sold a car of Hereford potatoes at $5 according to Jack Renfro who indicated there was a tremendous demand for Hereford potatoes. Officials were agreed that these demands were impossible to meet until more growers began digging.

The market had been steadily rising since Friday and now ranged between $3.15 and $3.60. Practically all the number ones were being waxed before they were shipped.

In this area there is an estimated 3,000 acres seeded to spuds this year, a cut from last year and a big drop from the 6,000 acres of 1946. The drop in government support price in parity from 90 per cent to 60 per cent also upped the gamble and was partly responsible for drop in acreage.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aldridge and son Bill of Leland, Mississippi arrived yesterday for a visit here with her sister, Mrs. E. B. Hedrick.

Guests in the home of Mrs. J. F. Ward the past weekend were a nephew, George Story of Friona and a great niece, Joyce Robertson of Pantex.

HOUSING SHORTAGE HITS CONGRESS—U. S. representatives in Washington are temporarily displaced as the job of repairing the sagging roof of the House Chamber gets under way. Shaky ceilings, now supported by steel girders, forced congressmen to convene in the House Ways and Means Committee Room of the House Office Building.

Couple Is Married In Amarillo Church

Miss Lura Elizabeth Webster, daughter of Mrs. Virgie Gambrell of Amarillo and Adrian K. Webster of Antonito, Colorado, became the bride of William B. Black of Brownwood Tuesday evening in the First Baptist Church of Amarillo at 8 p. m.

Miss Webster, who was given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin gown. Rev. Roy Rossell read the service. A reception was held at the church parlor following the ceremony.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Black attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock following their honeymoon, which is to be spent at Webster's Trout Lodge in Colorado, they will return to Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patton left today for a vacation trip to points in New Mexico. They expect to return in a week or ten days.

Visits Hereford

Chet W. Williams, a prominent attorney of Phoenix, Arizona, accompanied by his son, Frankie, 15 year old, spent several days in Hereford during the past week. Mr. Williams with his father S. F. or Frank Williams, are the owners of Box Car Ranch, located some 28 miles Northwest of Hereford. During the early beginning of the late war President Roosevelt appointed Chet Williams an assistant attorney general of the United States, to handle government business in the state of Arizona.

Miss Leta Dene Springer, Earline Phillips and Jereen Sowell have been added to the forces at the Agriculture Conservation Office during harvest.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:
I'm not sure that I should write you about this little incident but you probably get a lot of gripes, so maybe one more won't be too much of a burden.
Hereford, is my home town. I'm down here in Dallas because I couldn't get the job I needed in Hereford in order to pass the State Board of Embalming and Funeral Directing. I am a disabled veteran, and my wife and family of two daughters still reside in your fair little city. My wife, (Margaret Higley) wrote me several days ago, that my oldest daughter, Lajune, age 12, was riding on the street on her bike and a car hit her, damage was done to the bike, but luckily not to her. The driver of the car didn't stop to see if he had injured her or not, and the child was too frightened to get the license number, but noticed that the car pulled into a filling station not far away. My wife was at work at the time, and by the time she got around to reporting this to the Police Dept. of Hereford, they merely told her that too much time had elapsed and that there was nothing that they could do about it. It does seem funny to me, that where there were witnesses to the thing that if the good Policemen were up on their toes, that something could be done about it. I suppose that if the child had been seriously hurt that they would have just let it go? I wonder what they would have done had it been one of their children, instead of one belonging to a vet who has to find work away from home, in order to keep his family together. Maybe this sounds like a lot of 'stuff', but anyway I've got it off my chest.

Yours,
Harold T. Higley

FIGHTING TO SAVE CROPS—Truck farmer George Rasweiler, above, whose 52-acre farm on Long Island, N. Y., is hard-hit by lack of rain, turns to a portable irrigation system to sprinkle his cabbage patch. Limited to the use of ten sprinklers at one time by low water pressure, farmer Rasweiler jockeys them among his cabbage, beets, lettuce, spinach, corn and cucumbers.

We get to feelin' pretty good about bein' human until an emergency arises and we are reminded again that there are two kinds of people. Those who are ready to help and those who are ready to hog, especially if the railroad or the government is payin' the bill.

Spending Sunday fishing at Buffalo Lake were Miss Genevieve Eberle, Miss Helen Ann Pitman, Mac Pitman, John D. Pitman and Art Manjeot.

Our sister visiting from Phillip, South Dakota couldn't have chosen a more appropriate time than the sizzling weather of last week to recount her blizzard experiences of last winter when snow drifts were fifteen to thirty feet high and a mile long, and her son walked two miles to school in weather 35 degrees below zero.

Newcomers to Hereford are Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Sigler, of Clinton, Oklahoma, who moved to Deaf Smith County at the first part of this month. The Siglers who have three children Virginia, 13; Donald, 11; and Marilyn, 9, have purchased the Jett home on Avenue F. They are members of the First Methodist Church.

One of their neighbors dug forty-three head of steers out of a drift under which they had been buried more than thirty days but another neighbor's hogs buried sixty-two days also lived after being re-educated in the art of eating and drinking.

Campers are returning home this week. Mrs. J. M. Witherpoon accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Carl Gilliland and son, Jerry, will leave today for Camp Karankawa for Iren Witherpoon who has been attending the camp for the past six weeks. Wednesday morning Mrs. Elizabeth Womble and Mrs. J. C. McCracken left also for Camp Karankawa for their daughters, Janie Womble and Sylvia McCracken.

Incidentally, people from Texas had very light losses as they were used to feeding in the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Curtsinger accompanied by their two children, Eddie and Lavada Sue were in Hereford this week-end to visit with his father, Ed Curtsinger and other relatives and friends. The Curtsingers are now employed on the Boy's

As we see it, Mrs. Jimmy Witherpoon has a very definite and effective means of eliminating vandalism. We are still drooling over the description of that cherry pie.

The thunder showers forecast for Hereford Saturday afternoon were drowned out by a real hard rain.

DEAR DIARY:

Sorry to have neglected you so long, but have been too busy to try to write. Have been trying to make some money—and at the same time trying to save the customers some money—and here is the way it works—

A few years ago almost all prices were rising—so we purchased in large quantities—thus holding prices down for our customers—now the situation is reversed—we are faced with prices going down—so we buy often and in small quantities so that we can pass on the lower prices to our customers as quickly as possible—this process entails much more attention to details—to shortages—outs—and prices. Few persons realize the task of keeping a full stock of some 10,000 items!

Of course, there is always a mistake—or several!!! I got caught with too many gas ranges—too much money tied up, and too much space occupied by slow moving stoves—so, until I get the stove stock reduced, will sacrifice a bunch of them at give-away prices—like a $164.50 range for 119.95. Got too many console radios, too. One might just steal one of them from me—almost.

Just received—Thirty odd dozen trout flies—more folding cots—auto refrigerators—RCA record albums—mail boxes—Delta home workshop equipment—Fostoria glassware—Presto cookers and pressure cookers—cold pack canners—White Mountain ice cream freezers—electric freezers.

We are now in a position to furnish the famous Aermotor electric water systems—this stroke type pressure system enables the user to utilize his present well—including pipe, rod, and cylinder—thus reducing installation costs and delivering a maximum of water regardless of depth. And—it never requires priming.

Almost forgot to mention our display of Youngstown Steel Kitchen Cabinets and sinks—and garbage disposal units. We've got them, and will gladly furnish free estimates and plans for your kitchen.

Note several times recently that the County Commissioners have had to publish excuses for not doing things suggested by citizens of the county. Probably we, the citizens, are all wet in our desires, but it has always been my experience that where there is a will there is a way, and action invariably eliminates the need for excuses.

"One Wreck, the Only One He's Ever Had-and One's Enough"

TRAIN WRECK PICTURES—E. J. Sheffler, brakeman, examines the remains of this potato car shortly after the diesel rammed into the string which had been switched out on the line. The car above was eighth in line away from the point of impact. The big diesel Engineer Baird had out on her maiden run is shown as she laid on her side in the right hand picture. Burrell Cowling, left, fireman, and Sam Townley brakeman are looking and wondering. They were aboard with Baird. Townley jumped when he saw the crash coming and suffered a slight leg injury. (Photos Courtesy News-Globe)

By Phyllis Radovich
Boyhood's young dream, to be a railroad engineer, to go whistling through the valleys in the dead of night with the thrill of a bright-lighted train at your command, to go whizzing along in the daytime, blasting that one note serenade at little towns and big towns, hamlets and horses, to be the man at the throttle in the stripped railroad workers hat—well there's another side to that story, too.

It's the side you know when you come to groggily in a hospital room with your left ear and your right side swathed in bandages, and your mind, dimmed with sedatives, races and reverses as thoughts come and go dizzily through the fog.

That's the side that Engineer

Fred Baird, convalescing in Deaf Smith County hospital was so rudely aware of, this week.

For engineer Baird is the man who went over with the locomotive when the first part of a four-unit Diesel plowed into the potato car on the Santa Fe tracks here Friday night.

Now, lying in a hospital bed, he tried to reconstruct the events that led to the wreck, but it wasn't easy.

One Is Enough
"That's the one wreck, that's the only one I ever had. And it's enough." Red headed Engineer Baird found talking difficult.

"That light was green. I looked up and saw the light burning green. That meant the mainline was all mine. I called the light to the fireman and the brakeman and they answered me, 'Clear Block'. That's the way we call them."

Baird rubbed the perspiration off his forehead, perspiration contrived by the pain, the medicine, the still, hot morning.

"We weren't more than 30 yards from it, and I saw that light turn red. I yelled at the brakeman, 'Look at that block going red in my face.' But they'd all gone. Then I looked at my watch just as we passed the west end of the block. It was 9:05. The next time I saw my watch was when I woke up here in the hospital and asked for it."

Seconds after the engineer had glanced at his wrist watch, all the noises of Pandemonium broke loose. The screech of locomotive brakes, splintering freight cars, the agonized squeal of hogs, shouts from the spectators and the harsh, frightening clatter of freight cars ramming one another, buckling, de-railed.

Like A Dream
All this was a confused outlandish dream to the engineer who was wedged inside the locomotive.

Two of the eyewitnesses to the crash raced over to lend a hand. E. Ward and John D. Pitman climbed inside the diesel engine.

"One man grabbed hold of my arm. I said 'Don't, it'll break, too.' Then someone reached down and lifted me out. I don't know who it was; I forgot to get his name."

"My ear, huh. I hit it on that steel rim. That's how I cut it. On the steel rim of that bucket. I don't know how I got my ribs broken."

"They got me out. I looked over at the side and saw Jack Bradley. Do you know Jack? I remembered him. He'd been up to Amarillo at our Shriners meeting. I told him to call my wife. They'd got the dope out that we were all killed. I knew we weren't all dead and I didn't want her to worry. Jack called her."

Just Resting
And now it's all over. All over, but the convalescing. The lying still in the green tinted room, looking at the flowers that the railroad sent, talking to his roommate at the hospital, waiting for the pain to go away so he can move about easily once more, waiting for the dizziness to go away so he can talk and think.

It's a pretty good record the engineer has stacked up in his 31 years with the Santa Fe. He joined the railroad down at Kennedy, Texas in October 27, 1918 and except for 90 days he's been in service all the time.

"Those 90 days, they were for absent-mindedness. It happened a long time ago to me and Engineer Hart. We got a Meet Order to stop at this little town. I read it and handed it to the engineer. Then we both forgot about it. Well, we drove right on through. Lucky for us, though there wasn't any accident. But the company suspended us for being absent minded. They hired us back. I haven't had any trouble since."

He worked five years and three months down state and then came up here. He started this run in 1940 and has been following it through for nine straight years.

Jumped Up In Face
"I thought I always knew it pretty well," he said. "This time I was taking out this new engine from the factory to the west coast. I'm from the Amarillo terminal and I picked it up there. And there we were, going right along when that refrigerator car of potatoes jumped right up in my face."

Mr. and Mrs. Baird, who live in Amarillo, have three sons, Loran, Tommy and Fred. None of them are working with the railroad.

Even from his hospital room Baird looks over his railroad past and admits that it has been a good life. "It has its ups and downs. They all do."

So there he lay. The man who is the envy of countless youngsters all over the United States who thrill to a train whistle with childhood's yearning to grow up and be a real, live engineer.

Mr. Baird just smiles. Maybe he used to feel that way when he was a kid and maybe he didn't. He doesn't remember. All he knows is that he just happened into railroadin' and right now he's mighty glad he's a real live engineer.

Winkler Pitches Perfect Game Against Umbarger to Win 18-0

Johnny Winkler accomplished the perfect and achieved every pitcher's dream Sunday afternoon as he set down 18 consecutive Umbarger batters without a hit or walk. The game was called in the sixth because of rain with Hereford VFW winning 18-0.

ROOKIE SENSATION—Dino Restelli, 24-year-old rookie who recently graduated from the San Francisco Seals to the Pittsburgh Pirates, shows the batting stance which has already brought him acclaim. In his first 10 trips to the plate, the promising young outfielder manufactured six homers, and 14 hits out of 40 times at bat.

Winkler struck out seven Umbarger batters. Six more flied out and infield assists took care of the other five. The reshuffled VFW infield played heads-up ball in handling every chance perfectly. L. J. Clark made a catch back against the fence in right field in the fifth to snuff the closest thing Umbarger got to a hit.

Stan Barrett pounded two home runs over the left field fence, to highlight the hitting. His second ended the game. He led off the sixth, hit his home run and the bottom dropped out of a couple of clouds while he was rounding the bases to end the game.

The game was also delayed in the third for about 15 minutes for rain.

Legion Juniors Meet Lubbock In Bi-District

Hereford Junior American Legion stepped right out of their district championship series with Stratford into the Bi-District play-off against Lubbock last night. The game played at Veteran's Park was too late to get in this paper.

Regardless of who won last night, the two teams play Saturday afternoon in Lubbock. We may possibly get the score on that game before presstime Saturday. They couldn't have picked any two days that would have been less satisfactory to us from the viewpoint of getting it in the paper if they had tried.

The third game which will be played in Hereford depends on how the first two come out. If each team has won one, then they'll be back here for the final and deciding game, next week.

Second Guessing

By JERRY STOLTZ
25,000 fingerling bass were added to Buffalo last week. From 2 to 2 1/2 inches long, the fish were reported healthy-looking, and a high survival rate is expected. Bass fishing by next summer should be plenty good. I might be wrong, but I believe they figure the survivors will be a pound or better by then. The fingerlings came from the Federal Fish Hatchery at Dexter, N. M.

Add that 25,000 to the one percent of all the bass spawned naturally at the lake this year (that is the rate of survival but it still leaves a lot of fish) and the bass may be jumping in the boats next year. That's about the only way some of us could ever catch one.

The Lubbock Junior American Legion team Hereford played last night has several members on it from the High School team that went to the semi-finals in state Class AA baseball this spring. They have played a lot of baseball, incidentally they even won the state Junior American Legion playoff two years ago, and I believe they went to the finals last year. Lubbock is a good baseball town where they can watch them and an enthusiastic Legion Post back of them. If Hereford wins this series they are really playing big league ball for kids.

In case you missed this one you can get a chuckle out of it. A Pampa baseball fan was handing the ticket taker his ticket at the Pampa-Clovis West Tex. N. J. M. Posey And Hereford Trio Find Golf More Hazardous Than Expected Golf was downright shocking on the Amarillo Country Club course Sunday morning for a burlesome of Hereford golfers.

The four, J. M. Posey, Bill Waldrep, Wayne Phillips and Dr. John Channer, were seeking shelter under trees on the course as it started to rain about 11:20, when lightning struck the tree under which Posey and Waldrep were sitting on a bench.

It hit the tree, bounced off and struck Posey. It burned the hair on the back of his head, burned his chest, melted his zipper and belt buckle, burned his hand near his thumb and burned a hole in the leather grip of his six iron. It ended up by bouncing onto Waldrep's leg and burning it slightly.

Wayne Phillips said he was under a tree about 15 yards up the fairway and Dr. Channer was across the fairway under another tree when the lightning hit. Dr. Channer immediately applied first aid treatment and Phillips ran to the clubhouse for assistance.

He brought a car back within 150 yards of the group and they carried Posey, who had turned blue, to the car. Both he and Waldrep were taken to Northwest Texas Hospital. Waldrep was released after his leg had been treated.

Posey was put into an oxygen tent and returned to near normal Sunday night. He came home Tuesday.

VFW Takes Firmer Hold on Second As Hart Upsets Canyon Sunday 7-4

An unexpected 7-4, Hart win over Canyon set Hereford VFW more securely in the number two spot in Central Plains league standings Sunday. It also put Nazareth, who defeated Dimmitt 15-5, in a third place tie with Canyon.

Two wins, one over each Nazareth and Canyon, will clinch second place for Hereford. Or by winning any three of their five remaining games they can also assure themselves of runner-up honors in regular season play.

Nazareth comes to Hereford Sunday. Vega plays in Hart, Tulla is at Canyon and Dimmitt at Umbarger.

Golf Interest Is Up Course Opens Aug. 6

Golf interest took a surge forward this week in Hereford as Jim Terry, club pro announced group instruction for women will commence Monday, that the putting green is now open to the public and the driving range for the August 6 opening is going full blast in preparation of the course.

The course will open Saturday August 6th, at noon unless more hogs tramp down greens between now and then as they did following last Friday's train wreck.

Terry said the first two days, Saturday and Sunday will be free days with everyone invited to play the course.

The course of instruction opening Monday will consist of a series of either 6 or 12 lessons starting with the five iron and working from there. Terry said the courses are being offered in answer to a demand for them. He expects a dozen or more women to enroll.

Veteran Farm Loans Applications Here

Ralph Smith, veteran's service officer reminded the vets this week that applications for farm loans were available at his Court House office.

"We have the information in our office and will be happy to explain it to veterans at any time," said Smith.

Any World War II veteran who is a citizen of Texas and was at the time of his enlistment in service is eligible to apply for the loans which are available in amounts up to and including $7,500. This money may be applied on the cost of purchasing a farm and terms of the application became effective July 1.

"However, disabled veterans get 90 days priority," Smith pointed out. "After that it is open to any vet."

Smith is expecting more information on veteran's insurance about August 1.

We're Building to Meet

Your Natural Gas Needs

To keep facilities and service abreast of the rapid development of West Texas, we are continuing an accelerated improvement and expansion program.

This year West Texas Gas Company will invest over $2,225,000.00 in new facilities to maintain good gas service and also extend gas service to new customers.

Shown above is the new home of Mrs. O. C. Higgins. She is one of many new customers now enjoying natural gas service, at a saving over former fuel costs.

The 1949 improvement and expansion program is in addition to the more than $2,280,000.00 we invested in 1948 in new facilities to maintain good gas service, high in quality, low in price... the best bargain in the family budget.

Vacation Lands are Beckoning

By PHYLIS RADOVICH
 Vacation time! Travel time! When the heat waves wiggle along the horizon and the still hot air engulfs the town, when the fever of harvest subsides and the calendar moves into mid July, then a distant and longing look creeps into the eyes of even the most ardent supporters of the town.

This is definitely the time to think of vacation, to plan on one for the future or dream on one of the past.

The eternal battle of the mountains versus the seashore rages hot and strong; the antagonistic pull between going new places and seeing new things, or making the same famillar retreat again, is argued over and over. These, of course, being minor squirmishes which must be settled once, the major battle—to vacation or not to vacation—has been settled in the affirmative.

For sheer popularity, the craggy mountain peaks seem to hold the upper hand with Deaf Smith's "get-away-from-it" all population. However, people go to the mountains for lots of reasons, to fish, to camp out, to ignore civilization and revert to the primitive life.

Woodrow Ireland says his favorite retreat is Lake City, Colorado. "However, I doubt if I make it this year," he added, wistfully, we assume. He likes the mountains, the rugged life, you know, the camping-out and mosquito bite haven. Woody declares that his wife likes the mountains as well as he does, which automatically eliminates any discussion on that score.

Divided Opinions
 Now Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hromas take a different view of vacations.

"We don't like the rough life. When we travel, we want to enjoy the luxury of living, the big towns, good restaurants and big hotels," said Mrs. Hromas.

The Hromas are tentatively planning a trip this fall to the Pacific Coast and the northwest, planning to see Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Canyon, Oregon, and up into Canada, going one route and returning by another.

Their plans hinge on the new house they are building; if they finish it in time, they'll travel. If not, they'll wait awhile, but it's a trip they are planning to make sometime soon, even if it doesn't work out this year.

Mrs. Hromas, who used to collect paper weights has given them up now in preference for a demitasse cup collection. Since one of the glories of travel is picking up souvenirs to help you pick up the memories later, Mrs. Hromas will go scouting for new cups from the west.

The Frank Marrs have agreed they both like the mountains and the sea shore, the former in the winter. However, they usually make it to the mountains where it's cool. They hibernate for awhile, getting away from everybody and everything.

No Burden
 That way, as Mrs. Marrs puts it, they aren't a burden on anyone else.

Now Mrs. Marrs likes to camp out. Mr. Marrs does not. He wins. In the mountains they can go hiking, and sometimes they can even go horseback riding. That is one item Mrs. Marrs prefers not to talk about. According to her, she tried it last year for the first time, and the way Frank tells about it, Mrs. Marrs prefers not to talk about it.

The Marrs are planning a short trip to Bennett Springs State Park in the Ozarks of Missouri later this summer.

Solving the perennial controversy was easy for the Phillip Barkleys. They plan to see ocean and ridges and rills. Bound for Washington State sometime in August, the Barkleys will visit relatives, vacation at the Yekima Valley, which is located in the Cascade range and is their former home, then they'll drive down to Los Angeles and San Bernardino so the family can also spend some time on the seashore.

Compromises aren't always that neat. Nell Spradley and Virgie Lee Sparks have just come back from a vacation trip to the New Mexico mountains. Why did they pick the mountains? Nell explained it.

"We want to see my brother. It rained all the time we were there. I saw my brother and we camped home. If he'd been at the seashore we'd have gone there instead."

Undecided
 Mr. and Mrs. Bill Knox, like so many hundreds of other Hereford neighbors, may and may not vacation this year. However, they all want to see California and if they don't make it this year, they will sometime in the near future.

Bill's been out there, but nobody else in the family has. He wants to show them the sights and they want to see them.

Usually their vacation trips are camping jaunts, so the whole family discarding formals and formalities can give themselves up to a few uninhibited days of outdoor living. They don't go fishing, however. The master of the house, himself, doesn't like to fish or to eat fish, so that settles that.

Now some people occasionally can take time off and vacation on a grand scale. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mountz have just returned from a 7,000 mile automobile tour of the east and middle west, a trip that took them over 15 or 20 states and up into Canada.

"We had a wonderful time. It was the first time we'd ever seen some of those places, and the first time we could make the trip by car," they said.

South Dakota proved to be the biggest surprise of any stop on their trip. They visited in the southeastern part around Sioux Falls, and are still talking about the good crops and the pheasant which they kept discovering.

Trip Highlights
 Other highlights of their trip were visits to Washington, D. C., Niagara Falls, Richmond, Va., and Gettysburg, Penn.

Now people like the Allisons, for instance, with two young children, have discovered that vacation planning is not nearly so simple as it was when there were just the two of them.

"If we were going to go on a vacation this year," said Mrs. J. R. Allison, "we'd probably go to the mountains. We like them fine. It's so cool there and we may never suffer from feel better. Last year we took Ruth Ann and went up to Colorado. Of course it was such fun and the scenery is just beautiful."

"We've never been to the seashore, and I don't expect we'll be going until the children get a little larger," she said.

Dr. and Mrs. Milton Adams, who don't have to worry about what to do with the children, took off in April for a vacation spree, combining sightseeing with some business while Dr. Adams attended a Naval Officers Training Course.

"They spent a couple of weeks in New Orleans, which year after year holds its own as a lure to the seasoned traveler and the non-seasoned traveler, be-with Prestomatic Fluid Drive* Transmission... Drive without shifting.

Beauty In Appearance! Every clean, lovely line of the Silver Anniversary Chrysler has purpose and meaning. Beauty that is useful is the Chrysler idea. A striking line of chrome along the fenders may please your eye, but it's there on a Chrysler to act as a rub rail. Behind each detail of Chrysler design there's a story of common sense and imagination in engineering.

Beauty In Comfort! A chair in your home can be beautiful because fine design gives it the ideal combination of grace and comfort. Chrysler chair-height seats have this kind of beauty, too. Perfectly proportioned, they seat you at the proper height to see the road and to enjoy your ride. Even the instrument cluster in your line of vision on the steering wheel eases the strain of driving and adds beauty to the relaxing pleasure of riding in a Chrysler.

Beauty In Performance! You thrill to this kind of beauty the moment you feel the smooth response of Chrysler's great Spitfire High Compression engine. With Prestomatic Fluid Drive Transmission, driving becomes wonderfully easy. You start in third gear, and a slight lift of your foot takes you into cruising range. You rarely touch the gear shift lever. A few minutes in this car gives you pleasure it would take a book to describe. Phone for a demonstration today.

Long Time Ago

25 Years Ago
 "How many people in Hereford know that probably the largest wheat field in the Pan-handle of Texas is located in Deaf Smith County?" the Brand for July 17, 1924 wanted to know, and was willing to supply the answer. "So far local inquiries have been unable to hear of anything approaching the wheat farm of John Heisleman, thirty miles northwest of Hereford and ten miles south of Adrian. Mr. Heisleman has 1620 acres of wheat, thick as hair on a dog's back, averaging twenty eight bushels to the acre although a straight sod crop, waving in the wind with a rustle like so many greenbacks and presenting a sight which almost stuns the imagination." Further description reveals that the Heisleman farm is "power farming on a huge scale. Horseless farming, too. There is not a horse of any kind on his place. Mr. Heisleman is operating the entire plant by machinery from start to finish." And the Brand concludes that:

"The Heisleman wheat farm gets a man's breath. It is a stupendous thing. The nery proprietor sold his first five thousand bushels for ninety eight cents. This week the price went to $1.03. It's easy to make figures on such a place and to build air castles and stuff from which dreams are made."

A major story on page one of the Brand for that week read: "The first letter bearing an aeroplane stamp to be received in Hereford came to Mrs. R. G. Sisk, from her son, Carl M. Sisk of Reading, Penn. The letter which arrived July 11 came via air mail from New York to Cheyenne, having gone from Reading to New York by rail. The trip was made in three days, seven hours and forty minutes. The special aeroplane stamp cost the sender sixteen cents."

A major decision by the school trustees during that week replaced the manual training course in the high school with a vocational agriculture course—as it was felt that "vocational agriculture was possibly more practical in a community that must of necessity depend on agriculture and stock raising for its growth and development."

Local items included: "Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ricketts drove to Amarillo Tuesday morning to meet Mrs. C. A. McDaniels of Denver, Colo. Mrs. McDaniels is a niece of Mrs. Ricketts, and will spend a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts and in the Neal home"; "Mrs. Arthur Brooks and three children left on Thursday morning for Vaughn, New Mex., where they will spend a few days with Mr. Brooks, who is working on the highway there"; "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watkins of Terre Haute, Ind., arrived here Thursday morning and are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tiefel."

"Col. F. T. Woodburn's home once again is scene of galty. Last Sunday brought another memorable day to Col. Woodburn, when he had with him all of his children, although his eighty-first birthday was not till Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Woodburn, Loma and Lon Woodburn of Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cross of Texico, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Neely and little daughter Jimmie Louise of Texico, Mrs. O. W. Squers and twin daughters Vadia and Veita of Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Woodward and daughter Jimmie Joe of Claude, Mrs. Charles Woodburn and son of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Woodburn and son Pat of Lockney, Miss Mattie Woodburn of Hereford, Mrs. W. E. Betts of Claude, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frye and daughters Louise Anne and Caroline, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woodburn of Amarillo, Mrs.

TRIAL BY FIRE—A newly-developed gas tank for aircraft gets a blowtorch test by an aviation mechanic at Floyd Bennett Field in New York. Capable of withstanding direct flame and intense heat up to 2000 degrees Fahrenheit, the specially coated tank failed to burn after being exposed to the blowtorch flame for 28 minutes. A conventional gas tank burst into flames after less than two minutes.

T. Caldwell of Claude and Miss Catherine Gooch of Ft. Worth were also guests in the Woodburn home."

Duane Walker, Lloyd Parsons Receive Awards

Duane Walker and Lloyd Parsons were the two 4-H boys whose club activities merited them special awards for the club year of 1948, sponsor Hugh Clearman announced at the 4-H Club meeting Saturday.

Duane, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Walker who live south of Hereford, was named the Gold Star Member of the year. The High School Junior's nomination was based on his calf raising program, his wheat and grain sorghum patches. Duane's calf was Grand Champion calf in the 4-H show last year.

Young Lloyd Parsons received special recognition for his wheat demonstration.

"His achievement was based mainly on the sample entries presented at the Tri-State fair and later entered in the Texas-Oklahoma wheat improvement program. There were other Hereford entries but Lloyd's placed higher than any other," said Clearman.

This is the first time the local 4-H club has sponsored a wheat improvement contest, but they plan to repeat it for 1949.

Lloyd planted ten acres to Westar and averaged 25 to 30 bushels an acre on the plot. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons who live four miles north of Hereford.

Duane has been a 4-H club member for five years. This is his first year to receive the coveted 4-H button that marks the Gold Star winners in each chapter. Lloyd has been in 4-H work for four years.

At the Saturday meeting when awards were presented, new officers for the coming year were elected. John Dale Kelly was elected president of the 4-H club, Jack McCracken, vice-president and Bill Kelly, secretary.

Qualifications for nomination provide only that the officers be bonafide members of the club.

John Dale and Jack were also selected to be the delegates which the club will send to the 4-H camp above Cimmaron, N. M., for a four day course, beginning August 1.

John Dale, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Dale Kelley is a newcomer to Hereford, moving here from Stanton. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken and Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kelly.

Hens in the laying flock that show a shrunken, dried-up comb, yellow beak, new feathers, yellow shanks and yellow vents should be culled and sold. A continuous culling job will pay any poultryman good dividends.

Vacation

(Continued from Page 3) cause of its flamboyant past, an influence that still spills over into its politics, its French quarter hide-aways and its Canal Street stalls.

The busy sea port city kept the Adames busy during his non-training hours. They took a moonlight cruise on the river steamer up the Mississippi, visited Lake Pontchartrain Amusement Center, peeked in the antique shops, and had steaks at Antones, and seafood at Arnauds.

Pralines Are Same "It was exciting and it was unusual, but I wasn't as impressed as I thought I was going to be," said Mrs. Adams. "And as for those creole pralines, they taste just like any other pralines to me."

One of the few Hereford people who actually preferred the seashore to the mountains was Mrs. J. D. Neill, and she readily admits that it's the call of the surf for her. One reason for her choice is that she does not like mountain climbing.

"My husband likes to swim, too," she pointed out. "And I like to loaf, therefore it's the seashore for us."

The Neills want to go to Florida some time. They've seen the Gulf Coast and the Pacific Coast and now they want a look at the Atlantic.

Well, the Barnetts and the Bradleys got a good look at the Atlantic this winter. Along in February, when Hereford was shivering in below zero temperatures, these couples escaped the northern blasts by running south.

Dr. L. B. Barnett, who had been to Florida, Cuba and Jamaica before, had suggested it after their former plans to see Hawaii had to be cancelled. So the Barnetts and the Jack Bradleys drove to New Orleans, flew over to Havana, cruised to Jamaica, back to the Florida mainland at Miami and then drove home.

Kingston Was Most Fun They all agreed they enjoyed Kingston, Jamaica, the most.

It was not so Americanized. They toured the island, snapping pictures of the tall and picturesque native policemen, the industrious workers in the fields around Kingston (some of whom proved co-operative and some of whom did not exactly relish being the subject of snapshots relegated to a photo album and stored away to help pass other long winter evenings).

But even if the enthusiastic shutterbugs didn't get all the co-operation they desired, the foursome picked up other souvenirs of their trip—handmade alligator goods, made right down in the country where the alligators lived their languid life, argyles and sweaters, with the imperial British stamp of quality, china and linens to remind them later of the winter they spent in the sunshine.

But vacation is, as much as anything, a state of mind, it's getting away from the dull routine of everyday life and seeing something new, doing something different with people you enjoy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Loerwald are going to spend their vacation near at hand this year. They are going to take the children to see Carlsbad Caverns, because they want their children to be familiar with the interesting spots close to home.

"After they've seen these sights then we'll branch out. The children have been to the mountains and they just love them. I like the seashore," Mrs. Loerwald says.

Disappointed in Gulf She recalls when she was down at Corpus Christi, her first sight of the Gulf was most disappointing. "I thought the ocean would have breakers and cliffs around it. But not down there, the beach just rolls right off into it," she said.

So there are some who will be traveling and some who will not. Some will go beating off for a week of rest and return so exhausted they'll be a couple of weeks recovering. Some people's vacation will be a mad mixture of citronella, ashes in the scrambled eggs and camp cots that collapse.

In return for those minor inconveniences they'll be able to commune with nature, beat around in their oldest clothes and sleep out under the only canopy in the world that has no peer.

Some people will consume hours of precious vacation time struggling with various transportation problems, exorbitant hotel bills and arrogant head waiters.

But when they return they'll have a new store of memories, and spice for their conversations that will run, "Let me tell you how I told off that headwaiter" and "oh, yes, Spencer Tracy was in the box next to ours."

Vacations are really as personal as a toothbrush, and as universally in demand as that health device is. Take your pick. They are for doing something different, whatever your choice may be.

Many women like to knit in summer but find that yarn sticks to their fingers. Wearing a cotton glove on the hand that feeds the yarn eliminates this trouble.

Good Buy—all around

FRIENDS gather, look over that long bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts—and don't have to be told how these things step up "see-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space—and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflow Drive is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

†Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER models.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-sprung weight, and power delivered through a torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain on much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness a demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer—and get that order in promptly!"

BUICK alone has all these features

Silk-smooth DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FULL-VIEW VISION from enlarged glass area • SWING-EASY DOORS and easy access • "LIVING SPACE" INTERIORS with Deep-Crodele cushions • Joy-ant-riding QUADRUPLEX COIL SPRING • Lively FIREBALL STRAIGHT-BIGHT POWER with SELF-SETTING VALVE LIFTERS plus HI-POISED ENGINE MOUNTINGS • Low-pressure tires on SAFETY-RIDE RIMS • Cruiser-Line VENTIPORTS • DUREX BEARINGS, main and connecting rods • BODY BY FISHER
