Cermak Near Death Doctor Tells Press

Little Chance For Recovery Now Given Chicago Mayor

MIAMI (AP)—Dr. Frank Jirka said Friday he considered Mayor Cermak, wounded by an assassin's bullet, had little chance to live. Dr. Jirka, the mayor's son-in-law, made the statement after members of the mayor's family visited him at the hospital. Jirka said chances that the mayor will live cannot be narrowed down to an estimate of hours.

Dr. Frederick Tice, Chicago heart specialist, said "human life is too complicated to place it on a valuation of chances on the one side against chances on the other."

No Agreement Is Reached On Site Of Game

Conferees In Abilene To Finish Argument At 5 P. M. Today

Representatives of Big Spring and Hamlin high school, in Abilene Friday for the purpose of agreeing upon the site for the third and deciding game of the district 8 championship series, had decided to finish their conference at 5 p. m. Friday, according to a telephone message from D. H. Reed of the local school staff.

Mark L. Goodwin, Washington correspondent of the Dallas Morning News, in an interview with Renek W. Dunlap, acting secretary of agriculture, was told that growing tendency of state legislatures to divert gasoline taxes to other than road purposes was making federal highway aid increasingly difficult to justify.

Dunlap said legislatures should bear in mind the basic purposes of federal road aid and that plans of many state legislatures to increase gas and motor vehicle taxes, and to divert funds collected from motor vehicles users to non-road purposes are contrary to the real purposes of federal aid.

"Specifically, the mere fact that any state takes funds collected from motor vehicles users and spends them for general administration, or any purpose other than highways, argues strongly that federal assistance for road building is not needed in that state," Dunlap was quoted as saying.

Hare And Woods Load The Gun, Freddie Townsend Pulls Trigger To Lead Way—Site Of Third Game Undecided

Hamlin's crack guards, Manning and Hall, saw to it that the Big Spring Steers got crisp shots Thursday night in the second game of the District 8 title series. But, Freddie Townsend is short of stature and quick on his feet and he could and did slip under them to lead the charges of George Brown to a 39 to 33 victory.

The Roosevelt Cabinet Lineup

Miss Frances Perkins Secretary Of Labor

The heart-rending screams of horror-stricken young women, trapped in a fire that claimed 146 lives, was a major factor in shaping the career of Frances Perkins, New York State Industrial Commissioner, who is slated to be Secretary of Labor in the Cabinet of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Miss Perkins, regarded as one of the nation's foremost authorities on industrial problems, witnessed the tragedy—the 1911 Triangle shirtwaist factory fire in New York City. She vowed she would do her utmost to prevent a recurrence.

Having become actively interested in industrial work a year previously, Miss Perkins was named secretary of a committee of safety to investigate the fire. After obtaining expert advice from casualty companies, she instituted a suit against the very department she now heads—state labor. Henry L. Stinson, present Secretary of State, was her attorney.

"Specifically, the mere fact that any state takes funds collected from motor vehicles users and spends them for general administration, or any purpose other than highways, argues strongly that federal assistance for road building is not needed in that state," Dunlap was quoted as saying.

Continuing, he said "Federal highway aid to the state ought to be continued, in my judgment, but it will soon be difficult to justify if highway receipts continue to be diverted to other than highway purposes. Levies with moderation, the gas tax is perhaps the best illustration of a tax levied according to ability to pay, benefits received and convenience of collections. This is no time to ride a willing horse to death."

Two Die In Unusual Shooting That Started In Ship Above Airport

SAN BENITO (AP)—Authorities expressed opinion Friday Erin McCall shot and killed Lehman Nelson, his flying instructor while flying over San Benito Thursday in struggle for possession of the plane. They believed McCall had been used by a band of robbers who contemplated a series of holdups in this vicinity and wanted the plane for a quick escape.

San Benito

Watchers at the field declared they heard a shot while the plane still was in the air. As it spiraled downward, the body of Leman Nelson, 33, pilot, hurled from the front cockpit to the ground. The ship straightened out, then nosed over as its wheels struck the ground.

Erin McCall, 20, student flier, was seen to climb out and run a short distance down the field, then witnesses said he heard another shot and he fell dead. A pistol was found beside his body. Nelson had been shot in the back of the head.

Mr. Nelson lived in La Feria and McCall in San Benito. McCall had been studying flying with Nelson and the two had left the San Benito airport in the plane only a short time before the ship crashed.

The crowd of horrified watchers rushed toward the plane as it hurtled to the field, one group of them running to the wreckage, where Nelson's body was found, and others toward McCall. He was dead before they could reach him.

Justice Frank Roberts began a coroner's inquest immediately after the tragedy and tonight was questioning witnesses on the ground who saw the crash.

One witness testified at the hearing that he heard a shot while the plane was in the air as it spiraled uncertainly toward the ground, straightened out and nosed over as its wheels struck in plowed ground, he saw Nelson's head hanging over the side of the front cockpit and blood on the fuselage. He said Nelson had been shot in the back of the head.

Other witnesses who testified at the hearing declared they saw McCall climb out of the rear cockpit run a few yards, then point the pistol to his temple and fire. He was dead before they could reach him.

Three shots had been fired from the pistol and investigators were unable to account for the third shot, as Nelson's body bore

Rev. Spann's Talk To Lions Points Out Two Kinds Of Life

Are you alive? Dr. J. Richard Spann, pastor of the First Methodist church, took occasion to ask Lions this question Friday.

West Texans are not alive to the material surroundings, the rich natural beauties, he declared. They are alive to friendship as they should be. Scarcely any are alive to truth, and few are alive to a Divine spirit as they ought to be, he said.

"Someone has said that when we think we merely rearrange our prejudices," Dr. Spann testified. When men become alive to friendship, he pointed out, worst enemies become best friends.

Members of the Harley Sadler company furnished entertainment on the program arranged by C. W. Corley. Mr. and Mrs. Sweet were encored after presenting an accordion duet. The Whitehouse twins, Dix and Le, delighted with songs and tap dances.

CHAPTER XL
Half an hour later Sheila was in the dressing room stepping out of the beautiful frock Henri had pressed. She was about to don her own modest attire when there was a knock at the door.
"Gordon answered. From behind the screen that concealed the girls when they were dressing Sheila recognized Henri's voice. "Tell Miss Shayne," he said, "that she's to lunch with you and me in my office. There are some things I want to talk to her about."
Sheila's eyes filled with dismay. She heard Gordon answering, agreeing and then the door closed again.
"But I've a date!" Sheila protested. "What shall I do?"
Gordon's eyebrows rose. "You want to keep your job, don't you? Then you'd better do as Henri says."
Sheila said nothing more. She finished dressing and Gordon, bustling through the door carrying a frock, cheerily assured Henri that Miss Shayne would be ready in a moment.
"Come along with her," the designer said. "I want you there, too, to talk about the showing this afternoon."
Tea hour on Friday was always an event at Henri's. Customers gathered to see the newest imports, as well as Henri's own designs. The mannequins understood that they were to look their best on Fridays. The week was behind them. They might be weary but the next day was Saturday and no one shopped at Henri's on Saturday. The fashionable women who bought their gowns there were to be found at their homes in Westchester or on Long Island or at any number of exclusive resorts. On Saturdays the mannequins appeared as usual at the shop but they were seldom asked to display a frock.
"If Henri wants another of the models told Sheila, "it means you've made a hit with him. You're in luck, my dear!"
Mrs. Gordon interrupted. "All right, Sheila. That's your name, isn't it? We'd better go now. I think Henri wants you to wear one of the bridal costumes this afternoon."
As the two moved down the corridor toward Henri's private office Sheila saw Dorothy Trevor waiting.
"Was your date with Miss Trevor?" Gordon asked. "Glory be, Henri'd be furious with you. You can't hobnob with the customers outside the shop. It's against the rules. Too much danger of spilling trade secrets. You'd better send Miss Trevor a note and tell her you are in a conference."
Gordon reached into the pocket

Miss Trevor. Yes, I saw you sitting with her. Perhaps you do not know but I do not know my models to go about with customers. You understand?"
"I had met her before," Sheila murmured. "I didn't know it was against the rules."
"But you know it now," Henri insisted. "You must not do such a thing again. You are not to meet customers outside the shop. His voice dropped in explanation. "Pretty models interest society men. My customers naturally object. Also quite naturally they will censure me. They will take their patronage elsewhere. You must obey. It is our rule."
"She won't do it again," Gordon put in hastily. She smiled reassuringly at the girl. "And of course she has her own circle of friends. Except in the store she won't breathe a word to Miss Trevor, will you, Sheila?"
"Certainly not if that is the rule."
"Of course," Henri reflected, "Miss Trevor has no husband, no brother or fiancé. Still a rule is a rule and we will not change it. Be charming to her here in the store. The more interested she becomes in you and what you are wearing the more she will buy. Miss Trevor is an excellent customer. It would never do to offend her. But be careful. If you visit her, sooner or later something will happen and you will see that she is jealous. Understand?"
"I understand," Sheila agreed. Privately she had no such fancies regarding Dorothy Trevor. She doubted very much if the girl could possibly regard her as a rival. She knew that Dorothy's interest in her arose from the fact that Sheila represented a world so unlike that in which the wealthy girl had always lived. She knew Dorothy considered her an amusing for a while and who later would doubtless be dropped. Dorothy had hinted that she would like a job at Henri's as a model. Later probably she would plead with Sheila to help her secure a chance to go on the stage.
To lunch with this spoiled daughter of millions would have amused Sheila as well as the other girl. But if it was forbidden that was that! Sheila needed the $50 weekly that Henri would pay her. She would obey his rules. Soon in the excitement of get-

Ottawa University Student Discovered In Dallas Hospital

DALLAS (UP)—Charles Newman, 33, missing student from Ottawa University, Ottawa, Kan., was discovered here in Baylor Hospital, a victim, physicians said, of amnesia.
The youth was taken to the hospital Sunday in an ambulance after he collapsed while attending services of the First Baptist church.
He aroused from a stupor to answer haltingly questions of physicians and nurses.
"The last thing I remember," the youth said, "was walking from the hospital laboratory at the University to answer the telephone. Miss Clarice Nichols, a friend of mine and student from Kansas City, called me telling that her mother had broken her leg in an accident."
Dr. C. O. Patterson, resident physician at Baylor Hospital, said he was unable to determine whether the youth was suffering from an organic or functional trouble, that no marks on his body were found which would cause physicians to believe the youth had been beaten or attacked.
He described the youth as "showing more than average intelligence for a college freshman." (Ottawa dispatches said the youth was a sophomore.)
State Bank Directors are: Roy Ridder, Lubbock; Guy Patterson, Rotan; J. V. Hellums, Rotan; H. T. Fillingim, Rotan; A. C. Nicholson, Dallas.
Capital stock is unchanged from the National of $30,000 and the financial statement given out at the time of consolidation as of date Feb. 14, shows surplus of $5,000 deposits of $188,371.84, no borrowed money, loans and discounts of $141,502.38 cash and due from banks of $66,942.10.
By consolidation of the two banks a stronger financial institution emerges and the new bank will no doubt be able to serve the community even better than the two banks formerly.
Rotan has had two banks from the beginning of the town, except for a very brief time several years ago, when the old Cowboy State bank was liquidated.

Banks At Rotan Are Consolidated

ROTAN—Consolidation of the First National Bank and Rotan State Bank was completed this week and the new institution formed and the new institution formed in the State Bank building with the former State Bank officials in charge of active operations.
It is understood that the National Bank building will be remodeled and business of the bank transacted in that building later. The new institution will operate under the National charter and be a continuation of the First National Bank of Rotan. Depositors of the State Bank can continue to write checks on the state bank, as both National and State Bank checks will be paid as though these were still the two firms. But out-of-town checks should be given on the National form even though the account was in the state bank.

The new officers and directors are: Officers: Roy Ridder, Lubbock, president; Guy Patterson, Rotan, vice-president; H. T. Fillingim, Rotan, cashier. Messrs. Patterson and Fillingim retaining the same positions they held in the Rotan

Penny Company Earns $1.57 Per Share For 1932

Net earnings of the J. C. Penny Company after all charges and taxes and after deductions for preferred stock dividends for the year ending Dec. 31, 1932 totaled $1,571,727.33 according to a statement received by D. W. Webber, manager of the local store.

This was equivalent to $1.57 a share on the 1,000,000 outstanding shares of common stock, after allowing $1,185,290 for preferred stock dividends.

This compares with a net of $7.11 per share for 1931, equivalent to $2.32 per share on 3,063,961 shares of common stock outstanding at that time.

Total sales for the year 1932 were $150,371,981.19 as compared with the total sales in 1931 of $173,705,954.32 a less in sales for the year of $23,332,973.13 or 13.43 per cent.

The total number of stores in operation at the start of 1932 was 1469 while the number in operation at the close of the year was 1473.

Investments

Investments at the close of 1932 were carried at $27,314,872.75 after having been fully depreciated to meet current replacement costs. This inventory figure compares with inventories of $26,322,947.41 at the close of 1931, a decrease in inventory of $9,018,974.66.

Cash on hand and in the bank at the close of 1932 was $22,829,706.77 as compared with the close of 1931 of $13,752,229.77, an increase of $9,077,477.00. The present cash position of the company is the strongest in its history.

In his letter to the stockholders accompanying this report, Mr. E. C. Sams, president of the company comments as follows:

"In spite of a decrease in dollar sales during 1932 of slightly more than 13 per cent from 1931 volume, the company increased materially the quantity of merchandise sold and apparently added many new customers. The established policy of adjusting our retail prices coincidental with the decline in replacement costs was maintained during the past year.

"The management during 1932 continued to direct its main efforts toward adjusting operating costs wherever possible to conform with the decrease in sales volume. Special attention was also given at all times during the year to a control of the merchandise investment to lessen, to the extent permitted by general conditions, the amount of mark-downs forced by declining merchandise prices.

"Revaluations of Treasury common stock, as well as of fixed assets of the J. C. Penny Company and subsidiaries, based upon available information and statistical data, were made by the technical staff of the company or by outside appraisers to revise book values to what are estimated to be present day values as to replacement costs or utility. The incidental write-downs amounting to $1,241,923.02 were charged against Earned Surplus accounts on the books of the respective companies after giving effect to the results of 1932 operations. Depreciation and amortization for the year 1932 were therefore charged on the books of the companies at the regular rates and against the accounts before any revaluations.

While such revisions of book values of investments had no effect on the company's operations for 1932, they will, of course, reduce the annual charges against current operations in subsequent years. No change is contemplated in the rates of depreciation or amortization to be applied to the properties for future years, but the rates will be applied against the adjusted values, making the annual burden against future years' operations of smaller total amount.

"The amount of cash on hand and in banks and the amount of outstanding preferred stock, as shown on the Balance Sheet, are both before giving effect to the retirement of approximately 96,000 shares of preferred stock recently consummated. Such retirement should reflect, for the common stock, a reduction of about $278,000 in fixed dividend charges on preferred stock.

"The financial and operating position as reflected by the balance sheet as at the close of the year, we believe, will continue to give assurance to the stockholders of our company.

"After adjustment for the proposed preferred stock retirement, the ratio of current assets to current liabilities is in excess of 10 to 1.

"The success of the management in the effort to control the merchandise investment and to maintain a strong liquid position for the company was attested by a reduction in excess of $9,000,000 in the closing merchandise inventory as compared with the previous year. This reduction was considerably in excess of the reduction due to price decline.

"It is not the purpose of the report to forecast trends for the future, but we believe the actions referred to are warranted by present conditions and continue to leave the company in a position to take advantage of opportunities which may arise for further development of its business."

"HAD CONSTIPATION SINCE BIRTH OF MY FIRST CHILD"

Then Mrs. King Discovered ALL-BRAN

"I have suffered from terrible constipation since the birth of my first child—9 years ago! I have tried everything and nothing had any lasting results. Very reluctantly I tried your 'ALL-BRAN' with no faith in it at all. Much to my surprise, I have not had to take any medicine since starting to use ALL-BRAN, 4 months ago."—Mrs. Doris Eyring King, 16 Abbey Road, Oxford, England.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red and green packages. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Trics To Save Her

Fredric March, Prefect of Rome and Nero's lieutenant, in "The Sign of the Cross," coming to the Ritz Theater Saturday night, Sunday and Monday, tries to save Elissa Landi, the Christian maid, from the death decreed by the Emperor.

A new romantic team makes its bow to film fans in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Sign of the Cross," opening Saturday night at the Ritz Theater.

Fredric March and Elissa Landi are the lovers in this drama of the stirring events of Nero's reign in imperial Rome, the story of Nero's persecution of the hapless Christians discovered making the "sign of the cross," by his myriad spies.

It is the first time March and Miss Landi have played together. March is a Paramount star and Miss Landi, "borrowed" for this picture, has spent her days on the Fox "lot."

March has the role of the virile, handsome Prefect of Rome, second in command only to Nero, who falls in love with the innocence and beauty of a Christian girl and who walks hand in hand with her to meet the fierce Numidian lions—and death—in the sands of the Circus Maximus arena.

DeMille has used all the vaunted spectacular trappings for which he is noted, reports from Hollywood declare.

HOT DOG SAVES THREE
LOS ANGELES.—It was lucky for Charles A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flippinger that they had a hot dog with them when they were snowbound in the San Bernardino mountains recently. The heat from the body of a German police dog kept them from freezing. They kept warm by hugging the dog until rescued.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan returned Thursday evening from a trip to Tucuman, N. M. and other points in the Panhandle.

Political Announcements FOR CITY COMMISSIONER J. W. ALLEN LEO NALL

WOODRIDGE (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) Policy Committee. He did not dare to get in bad with the leaders of the new Administration.

The Policy Committee was called by Democratic Leader Robinson. He said the Long Bank Bill filibuster a few weeks before had aroused the entire country. He urged his Democratic associates to show some spunk and break the river was clarified by a little time since. Crystallization is likely to occur swiftly. Last minute shifts and decisions are to be expected.

R. F. C.

Heated debates about the R. F. C. are the order of the day. There is a mounting feeling here that it has reached its limit of usefulness as a life-saving corps for drowning corporations. A suspicion grows that its continued activities will be no help to Federal credit. A year ago there were few financiers who did not think a shot of hope was preferable to a major operation. Now there are many. A New York bank which maintains close contact with the R. F. C. says that demands for assistance from banks have been nothing like as great as expected since the Michigan holiday began. Evidently self-help is being tried for change.

Cities applying for preferential relief from the R. F. C. will get nowhere. Most of the municipalities involved in the plea have striking records of administrative inefficiency and that the reaction of R. F. C. directors is said to be strongly adverse.

Dictator— We may come close to having financial dictator before we know it. Local bankers are much interested in pending Federal legislation which would give the Comptroller of the Currency extraordinary powers over all national banks. Sentiment here is generally favorable to the move.

Banks— Public reaction in the mid-West to the Michigan holiday is reported as remarkably calm. The bankers themselves appear much jumpy than their average depositor.

One special reform which the bankers would like would be action to prevent fly-by-night financial institutions from imitating the names of their more substantial brethren. There have been several cases of embarrassing mistakes in identity—especially in Pennsylvania.

Bonds— The current weakness in government bond prices is not due to any apprehension about Federal credit. The interior banks are simply liquidating their Treasury bonds to self-help their cash positions.

Roosevelt— The Roosevelt 'smile' psychology is winning a lot of admiration in financial quarters. It is felt that he is fully aware of the seriousness of the problems he faces but is not afraid of them. New York is much more willing to give him every break than it was a few months ago. This change of attitude is very noticeable.

Sidelights— Leffingwell probably won't get into the Treasury Department but he may turn up in Mcrow's old Mexican job. He would carry on the Morrow tradition. Also he might help recover some American investment there that now look pretty well sunk. Brokerage offices are dull places these days. The ebb of trading creates a demand for time-killing pursuit. Backgammon, cross-word puzzles and coin-matching are the favorites in the order named.

Fist Identified Earl Dodson, McCall's roommate, identified the pistol as one he (Dodson) owned. He testified he did not know McCall had taken it from the football team.

They took off from the Harlingen flying field operated by Bill Williams at 5 p. m. flying toward San Benito in the light biplane. They landed at San Benito airport at 5:30 p. m. McCall apparently piloting the ship to practice landings. They took off almost immediately and had been circling about the town only a short time when the crash occurred.

Friends declared they knew of no difficulties between McCall and Nelson.

HOME TOWN (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) "Federal aid is withdrawn from Oklahoma for the time being" was announced by Chairman Knox Garvin of the state senate's highway investigating committee.

Garvin said the telegram, from Thomas MacDonah, chief of the bureau of public roads, said MacDonah's representative would be in Oklahoma City Friday to confer with the newly confirmed highway commission members, which was completed Wednesday with Gov. Murray's appointment of L. B. Simons of Walters, Okla., and H. N. Arnold of Buffalo, and the reappointment of Secretary E. W. McDonald. L. V. Orton, Pawnee, previously had been named.

Fatal Mishap Causes Second Damage Action

Mrs. Nora Nabors Beauchamp Seeks $5,000 From Wright & Sill

Mrs. Nora Nabors Beauchamp, who filed suit recently for divorce from W. J. Beauchamp, Thursday asked $5,000 damages from R. L. Wright and P. O. Sill in a suit filed with District Clerk Hugh Dubberly.

Mrs. Beauchamp is the mother of Rena Nabors, 18, who was killed as the result of a collision with a car driven by Wright on Halloween night, Fannie Hull, 17, also died as a result of the accident.

The two girls were returning from the Casino dance hall when they were struck by the car.

Bob Hull, father of Annie, previously had filed a suit asking a similar amount of damages for the death of his daughter.

Mrs. Beauchamp's petition charges negligence in driving at an excessive rate of speed, driving while intoxicated, failing to keep proper outlook for pedestrians, Sill's knowledge of defective brakes and lights on the car he is alleged to have furnished Wright. They are almost identical with those cited in the case filed by Hull, James Little and Sullivan and Sullivan are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

New Trial Granted In Damage Action

Judge James T. Brooks Thursday granted a motion by attorneys for the plaintiff for a new trial in the case of E. A. Morrow, et al. vs. Maytag Southwestern, suit for damages.

Holley Morrow and Molly Morrow were awarded damages amounting to $2,500 February 6.

Cause for action grew out of an automobile crash occurring three miles south of town in which the car driven by J. H. Williams collided with a bridge railing and caused injuries to occupants of the Morrow car. Williams died as a result of the accident.

Under The Dome At Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER
AUSTIN (UP)—Many a law that goes on the state's fat statute book is never read by the legislators who pass it.

As a rule, as this may be, it is true. Sometimes the bill has not been read even by its sponsor. That is a rare occurrence but it does happen.

A session handles 1,500 or 1,600 bills on an average. If all were read in each branch three separate days as the constitution proposes, there would be time for nothing else. By long custom only the caption of a bill is read at any time unless some member calls for a full reading.

The reading of the caption on separate days is avoided when a bill can muster a two-thirds vote. Then the three-day rule is suspended and the measure goes through finally on one appearance after emerging from a committee.

Every bill must be referred to a committee before action. The house and senate act on the presumption that the committee has read it. Unless some member is particularly interested in the subject, the bill generally is accepted as it comes from the committee.

But those who attend committee meetings know that many a bill is not read even in committee. This is especially true of bills of local application. A member presenting such a bill to the committee that it affects only his town, county or a part of his legislative district, so the committee gives its approval. Others pass a committee on a general statement of contents.

Here is how a bill sometimes becomes a law without having been read even by the supposed author.

A city attorney comes to a representative from his county and says a law needs such and such a law and assures him it has been so drawn as to apply only to that town. The representative, unless he has learned the danger of such bills and wires back to find out if there is local opposition to it, offers the measure on the official's statement that it is all right.

The only persons who are really forced to read the bills that go through the legislature have no voice in passing them. They are the engrossing and enrolling clerks. They are held responsible only for the bills going through without error, checking for dropped lines, typographical changes, and such matters.

Few governors have read all the bills they sign before attaching the signature that makes them law. Gov. Ross S. Sterling attempted to read every measure from start to finish but found at times he had to take the assurance of members of the legislature for what some contained, or stop all other business of his office.

Senator E. J. Blackert, Victoria, has joined Lieut.-Gov. Edgar E. Witt in the casualty section of the senate. He is limping from a badly wrenched knee, received in a fall on some ice during the recent cold wave.

Rep. Harlee Morrison, Terrell attorney, has figured out that a member of the legislature can live in Austin on $3 a day—nearly.

Morrison says he has found a comfortable room for $1.50 a day and by patronizing a fifteen-cent breakfast counter and eating plain meals at other times, $3 a day will get a legislator and his wife by without hardships.

Rep. Harry N. Graves, Georgetown, might have rivaled Willie Hoppe, the billiard expert, if he had decided to give the green table precedence over law books. In his younger days, he admits, he could clean a pool table with the next one and was a wizard with three balls.

At Graves is an outspoken opponent of the proposed return of pool halls or legalizing miniature pool tables.

"I know what pool rooms were when I was a boy," he said. "We youngsters used to gather at them and plan all sorts of mischief."

Discussion of the miniature pool table bill in the house brought out the fact at the press table that one of the state's leading capitol correspondents is so fond of miniature pool that he has one of the little tables in his home.

In Texas game standing up under the onslaught of 500,000 hunters? Will Tucker, executive secretary of the State Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, answers "yes."

"We have no record of the total relative kill from year to year," said Tucker, "but we do have the records on shooting preserves totaling more than 2,000,444 acres in 50 counties."

Tucker pointed out that these records show a 25 per cent increase in the number of bucks killed and 200 per cent in the number of wild turkeys, indicating that neither kind of game is becoming scarce.

The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs will be in fine position at the present legislative session to keep an eye on measures affecting women. The federation state headquarters building here has been completed. It is a handsome colonial type structure costing approximately $200,000.

Texarkana, Denison and other state-line cities will have special trade difficulties if a sales tax is levied. In Texarkana, by merely walking across a street a prospective purchaser would be able to buy tax free in Arkansas the same article upon which there would be a tax in Texas. Cities along the Rio Grande, however, will be protected by international trade barriers.

Former Resident Of City Observes 79th Birth Anniversary

EL PASO—Snowy-haired Mrs. R. E. Wathen, 2839 Frankfort St., is celebrated her 79th birthday, Feb. 23.

Although it was a very quiet celebration, she has the pleasure of remembering a party with a huge cake and 79 candles at which her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Nelson, surprised her yesterday.

The guests, a group of her friends, some of whom she formerly knew in Balld, Tex., simply walked in on her as she sat sewing and gave her no time to don a party dress.

There was tea, and cake and conversation about old times, when Mrs. Wathen told of coming to El Paso in 1881 with her husband who was among those "bringing the railroad" to El Paso.

Mrs. Wathen was born Feb. 7, 1854, in Falmouth, Ky., which is near Lexington.

After a gay girlhood which most Kentucky girls have, she married M. Blythe and moved to Sherman, Tex., later living in Big Spring, during the days when there were long horn cattle and cowmen who rode horses over the ranges instead of airplanes.

After several years of widowhood, she married the later R. E. Wathen, with whom she came to El Paso to reside.

Guests who wished her a happy birthday yesterday included Mesdames G. E. Crayler, Fred Blythe, Maud Knight, Ellis Richardson, J. H. Tengely, L. H. Black, W. C. Snyder, J. C. Hensley, E. E. Armstrong, C. C. Mackey, C. D. Johnson, B. H. Grant.

Mrs. E. S. Murphy of Abilene was an out-of-town guest.

VALUATIONS HIGHEST McALLEN (UP)—Valuations of Hidalgo county farm lands and buildings exceeds that of any other Texas county by $17,000,000, according to compilation of figures taken from the 1930 federal census.

The valuation was $70,335,234. Dallas county, second in the state, had farm lands and buildings valued at $53,000,000.

SHE WAS CHOICY SALT LAKE CITY—A certain fashionably dressed woman, who exchanged some shoes in the shoe department of a downtown store, was suspiciously choicy.

"My mother bought these, but she died before she could wear them and I would like to exchange them for something in my own size," she explained to the clerk. Shortly after she had left the store, with the new shoes, police revealed that the shoes had been part of the loot stolen from the house of Harry S. Goudie.

Bids Received For Red Bluff Project

PECOS (UP)—Bids were received here recently for construction of the proposed Red Bluff dam and siphonic spillway near Pecos.

Large national contractors visited the site for the extensive irrigation project before submitting construction estimates to Vernon L. Sullivan, consulting engineer of El Paso who is in charge of the development.

Site for the proposed reservoir extends from near Angeles to within two miles of the New Mexico line.

The great irrigation system as planned will include seven districts in the Red Bluff area. They are Arno, Catarvale, Farmers' Independent, Imperial, Grandfalls, Pecos River and Victor.

Two sub-reservoirs will be a part of the system.

Bids received were accompanied by checks for two per cent of the contract price. Provision was stipulated for 600 working days on the dam and 500 working days on the spillway.

Sheppard Favorable To Maintaining Livestock Feeding Tests At Farm

Morris Sheppard, United States senator from Texas, has sent a favorable reply to a request that livestock feeding experiments not be discontinued here. He pledged he would oppose a plan to discontinue the work.

"It gave me great pleasure to do everything I did for your experiment station," he declared, referring to obtaining the appropriations for feeding stock here.

Roosevelt Favors Continuation Of U.S. Policy On Arms

HYDE PARK, N. Y. (UP)—President-elect Roosevelt spread his activity in international affairs to the subject of disarmament and ordered continuation of the present American policy in the impending parley.

Conferring with Norman H. Davis, American representative in the arms and economic negotiations, just before leaving his New York City home, Mr. Roosevelt asked him to continue as acting chairman of the delegation at Geneva.

The president-elect emphasized to Davis he regarded reduction of world armaments as one of the most vital and important matters of the present time.

He remained over several hours in New York to consult with Davis and also to confer with William H. Woodin, who was announced as the Roosevelt secretary of the treasury, Jesse H. Jones of Texas, the probable new chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, also was at the Woodin parley.

Discussing the world disarmament problem with newspaper men, the president-elect showed a full understanding of the American policy for limitation of the power of offense as the formula for reduction.

He said he hoped for early and successful action at Geneva, al-
