By G.G. LaBELLE Associated Press Writer

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) A suicide bomber attacked an Israeli command post in Tyre early today, killing at least 14 Israeli troops, the military command said. Israeli jets swiftly retaliated with two big air strikes on Palestinian positions in the central moun-

Beirut radio said waves of bombing, strafing jets blasted targets around Sofar and Bhamdoun at midday, then returned to pound the same area in midafternoon.

Private radio stations said the jets made at least 10 bombing sorties that reduced several artillery positions and tank concentrations in the Syrian-controlled central mountains to a smoking wreckage.

Meanwhile, a White House spokesman said President Reagan deplored the truck bomb attack and that the latest violence demonstrates "how far radical elements" will go to disrupt a Middle East peace process.

Spokesman Larry Speakes said Reagan was informed of the bomb attack when he awakened. Reagan received a briefing from national security adviser Robert McFarlane before 8 a.m. EST, Speakes said.

Speakes talked to reporters aboard Air Force One while Reagan was en route from Washington to Cherry Point,

It was the first time the Israeli air force has attacked in Lebanon in 14 months. The Israeli command said the raids were a retaliation for the daybreak bombing near Tyre, 50 miles south of Beirut.

In addition to the dead, the command listed 21 Israelis wounded and 13 missing. Beirut radio said 25 Palestinian and Lebanese prisoners also were killed in the blast.

Reagan says he'd use force again

By MICHAEL PUTZEL Associated Press Writer

CHERRY POINT, N.C. (AP) - President Reagan, who came to this Marine air pase to honor American servicemen killed in Lebanon and Grenada, said today he is prepared to use force again "to prevent humankind from drowning in a sea of tyranny."

America's responsibility to preserve and pass on liberty "is not without cost," Reagan said in remarks for delivery to Marines and their families. "But let no terrorist question our will, no tyrant doubt our resolve. Americans have courage and determination, and we must not and will not be intimidated - by anyone, anywhere."

Young murder suspect turned over to council

The 13-year-old Stanton Junior High student suspected in the stabbing death of his stepmother has been turned over to the Texas Youth Council for placement and counseling.

Della Knight, 52, of 328 Avenue J, was pronounced dead at Deaf Smith General Hospital on Sept. 16, and the youth was apprehended the next day at a lake near Clarendon. He had left the residence in the family pickup shortly after a neighbor reportedly witnessed the slaying in the back yard of the family home.

A detention hearing was held the following Monday, and the boy was held in custody until a closed hering on Oct. 28. Juvenile Probation Officer Lewis Rangel said the youth was charged with delinquent conduct in the juvenile devision of district court.

District Attorney Roland Saul said under no circumstances could the 13-year-old have been charged with murder and tried as an adult.

Rangel said he delivered the boy to the TYC reception station in Brownwood, where the youngster was to be evaluated for placement. He will be under the direct supervision of TYC for at least 12 months, and could possibly remain in their care until he is 18 years old. Rangel said those who are released before their 18th birthday continue to receive counseling from the youth council.

The coup precipitated the U.S.-led invasion of Grenada on Oct. 25. Supporters of Bishop, a leftist, said he was ousted by government factions who favored an even more hardline Marxist policy. Coard and Austin were captured last weekend after evading U.S. forces for several days, and since have been in custody on the American helicopter aircraft carrier Saipan off the coast, Gillespie said Thursday.

Scoon, who is considered by U.S. officials to be the legitimate authority in Grenada, has the power to detain people suspected of violating Grenadian law, according to State Department officials. He has indicated he may try those responsible for Bishop's death.

Scoon said Thursday an investigative commission was needed to examine events in coup that prompted the Grenada during the past several weeks.

He said elections may not be held until this time next year because it could take that long to set up a bureaucracy to oversee voter registration and balloting.

The elections would be open to all political groups. "Any Grenadian, as long as he does not have a criminal record, will be allowed to take part," Scoon said. "We are going to go directly according to our constitution."

Grenada, a former British colony and still part of the British Commonwealth, has had only one election since it became an independent nation in 1974. Sir Eric Gairy, elected prime minister in 1976, was ousted in 1979 by Bishop's New Jewel Movement in a bloodless coup.

Meanwhile, 16 Libyans, including four diplomats, flew from Grenada to London aboard a U.S. military plane Thursday. They were the first diplomats to leave the island since Scoon on Tuesday ordered the Soviet and Libyan embassies here closed and said Cuba could keep only one person at its embassy.

Unemployment rate falls

WASHINGTON (AP) -America's civilian unemployment rate plummeted to 8.8 percent in October, the lowest in 20 months, as 320,000 people found work, the government reported today. The roster of the jobless fell below 10 million for the first time since March 1982. Improvements were felt across the labor force. Some 101.9 million people had jobs.

Although 9.9 million people remained of the unemployed, the number out of work for 15 weeks or longer fell for the third straight month.

In all, the Labor Department's civilian jobless rate, adjusted for seasonal variations, was the lowest since the 8.8 percent of February 1982 and 0.5 percentage point under the September rate of 9.3 percent. Just last June, unemployment was 10.0 per-

Nearly two-thirds of the 550,000 labor force decline occurred among 16- to 24-year olds, and bureau analyst Deborah Klein said that the normal autumn adjustment of labor force figures for the reopening of school may have shrinkage in the size of the labor force.

Klein noted that officials did not believe the susbtantial drop from September's 9.3 percent was a statistical anomaly because a separate survey of business payrolls showed 320,000 people went back to work last month.

That survey, however, is not used in computing the unemployment rate.

An alternate unemployment rate, combining the civilian labor population with the nearly 1.7 million U.S.

residents in the domestic military force, dipped from 9.1 percent to 8.7 percent in October, today's report said.

Civilian joblessness has fallen dramatically from December's post-Depression peak of 10.8 percent, when more than 12 million Americans were out of work. The declines in the unemployment rate have generally come in small installments. with the exception of dramatic plunges in January, July and October.

House passed bill sends message

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas automobile insurance rates will go up 3.9 percent statewide next Feb. 1, the State Board of Insurance has decided.

The 2-1 vote of approval of a staff recommendation came Thursday after the three-member board split three ways on how much profit insurance companies should make from insurance policies and investments.

The increase will mean $88 million more income for the Chairman Lyndon Olson said later the board actually had no philosophical difference on whether investment income should enter into the ratemaking procedure.

"Our differences of opinion as reflected in voting today go mainly to the extent, procedure and timing of its (investment income) inclusion," Olson said.

The impact on insurance buyers in the 40 rating territories will range from an annual premium increase of $39 in Dallas County to a $17 decrease for the East Texas oil field area.

City sued in family's death

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The Wurstfest Association of New Braunfels, which begins its annual celebration today, has been named in a suit filed by an attorney for a family killed by a drunken driver at last year's event.

The suit, filed Thursday in a Bexar County district court, names the automobile's driver and the Wurstfest association as defendants.

A man, his pregnant wife and their two children died as they walked along Old U.S. 81 in New Braunfels.

Army Pfc. William Dale Savage, who had attended the celebration, was convicted by a jury last April of involuntary manslaughter in one of the deaths. Attorney Rubel Sandoval of San Antonio, who filed papers in the suit, alleged that the association was negligent in allowing Army Pfc. William Dale Savage to consume an excessive amount of beer at the German-style celebration on Oct. 30, 1982.

Legislation may not pass

WASHINGTON (AP) - Legislation requiring some American-made parts in cars sold in the United States probably won't get through the Senate, but foreign manufacturers should get the message from House approval of the measure, a sponsor of the bill says.

"The majority of the House still feels that we have to take some strong action to restore our automobile industry," said Rep. Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y., a sponsor of the bill which passed the House 219-199 Thursday. As picketers circled Greyhound facilities and thousands of job applicants mobbed the bus line's offices on the strike's first day Thursday, cranky children and bewildered adults waited in long lines at rival ticket counters throughout the United States and Canada.

Lebanese leaders discuss security

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) - Lebanese leaders met today to review the cease-fire in their country, just hours after an Israeli army post was struck in the latest of a series of devastating suicide car bombings in Lebanon.

The Sept. 26 cease-fire and the issue of internal security had been on an agenda drawn up for the fifth day of the "conference of national reconciliation" before the early morning bombing at Tyre in southern Lebanon and later reports that Israeli warplanes had attacked Syrian and Palestinian targets in Lebanon.

But conference sources said the new violence may figure in discussions during the closed-door session.

Alfred Mady, political adviser to Pierre Gemayel, president of the Christian Phalange Party, said the Tyre bombing "shows the need for a strong central government" to guarantee security in Lebanon.

Similar attacks at the U.S. Marine and French bases in Beirut on Oct. 23 and the U.S. Embassy in Beirut on April 18 have left a total of hundreds of people dead.

Burma blames Korea for attack

RANGOON, Burma (AP) - The government formally charged Friday that North Korean army commandos were responsible for a terrorist bombing here Oct. 9 which killed 21 people - the majority of them South Korean government officials.

The state radio said Burma, which had previously enjoyed warm ties with North Korea, was breaking off diplomatic relations with Pyongyang and ordered its embassy personnel to leave the country within 48 hours.

The radio said a Burmese investigation committee had reached its conclusion from examiniation of materials recovered at the explosion site, articles seized from three captured Koreans and confessions from two of them.

This evidence "firmly established" that the bombing was "the work of sabotuers sent by the Democratic People's Republic of Korea," the radio said.

The bombing, at a Rangoon memorial, occurred during a state visit by South Korean President Chun Doo-hwan. He was not hurt, but several of his Cabinet ministers and advisers were killed.

After 20 years

Books still fetch readers

NEW YORK (AP) -Before the tears had ebbed, before the confusion had cleared, before the nation had returned to normal, books on the slain young president were already speeding from printer to bookstore.

Since Nov. 22, 1963, about 300 books have been written on John Fitzgerald Kennedy, and hundreds more on other family mention the late president, according to the John F. Kennedy Library in Boston.

Kennedy books continue to feed a public eager for any information on the life and times of the late president and the celebrated clan he was a part of.

This fall, at least eight Kennedy books were published. In September, Ralph G. Martin's "A Hero for Our Time: An Intimate Story of the Kennedy Years" (Macmillan Publishing Co. $19.95) was released. Martin had traveled with Kennedy in the presidential campaign in 1959 and wrote the book, "Front Runner, Dark Horse," based on the race.

William Manchester, a professor of history at Wesleyan University in Connecticut, was a close Kennedy friend and wrote about the president's assassination in "Death of a President" in 1967. On Nov. 4, his latest Kennedy work, "One Brief Shining Moment" (Little, Brown and Co. $25) was published.

The book brims with family pictures and anecdotes and dwells on the late president's accomplishments while in of-

"Lincoln's death was tragic, but we remember what he did as president," Manchester said in an interview. "Kennedy didn't do as much as Lincoln; he didn't have time. But he did a lot more than people think. And so, it's a tribute. It's not a scholarly book. I do not pretend to be objective."

Other new books include "Kennedy: A Time Remembered," by Jacques Lowe (Quartel Books, $39.95); "J.F.K. - Ordeal in Africa." by Richard D. Mahoney (Oxford University Press, $25); and Lucy P. Frisbee's "John F. Kennedy: America's Youngest President" (Bobbs, $3.95), a children's book.

The rest of the new ones concern the Kennedy family. "Kathleen Kennedy: Her Life and Times," by Lynne McTaggart (The Dial Press, $14.95), tells the story of the late president's rebellious kid sister who married a Protestant while her father, the late Joseph P. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, was U.S. ambassador to England.

Her husband, Billy Hartington, died in World War II. Kathleen fell in love with another Protestant, Earl Ftizwilliam, who was married. Before his divorce could come through, the two lovers died in the crash of a small plane in the south of France.

There's also "Kennedy: The New Generation," by Frank Teti and Jeannie Sakol (Delilah Books, $24.95), and 'Growing Up Kennedy," by Harrison Rainie and John Quinn, published by G.P. Putnam's Sons. It includes interviews with 15 Kennedy cousins and discusses what growing up as Kennedys meant to them.

The late president's two children, John and Caroline, were not interviewed for the book.

Every pore of John F. Kennedy's life and death has been probed by writers.

There's "The Kennedy Wit," edited by Bill Adler; "Mr. Kennedy and the Negroes," by H.L. Golden "John F. Kennedy and Poland," edited by Jan Wszelaki; and "John F. Kennedy: Man of the Sea," by T.T. Shepard.

Although the official report of the Warren Commission's investigation into the assassination was published in 1964 and said that Lee Harvey Oswald had acted alone, many authors have written books on purported conspiracy theories.

Among the earliest assassination books were Who Killed Kennedy?," by T.G. Buchanan, published by Putnam in 1964; J. Joesten's "Oswald: Assassin or Fall Guy?" published in 1964 by Marzani & Munsell; "Whitewash: The Report on the Warren Report," by Harold Weisberg, published in 1965; and Mark Lane's "Rush to Judgment," published by Holt, Rinehart & Winston in 1966.

"Jack's death was a tragedy and his life was a triumph," says authorhistorian Manchester about the slain president. "I think we should remember more than the tragedy. " tack, called it "a very great loss for the people of Israel," and vowed, "We will hit back and we will hit back very hard."

Hours later the Israeli jets attacked, and the Tel Aviv command said they struck "following the escalation of terrorist activity against Israeli forces in Lebanon which climaxed this morning in the attack... in Tyre."

The Israeli command said the retaliatory air attacks were directed at targets of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command headed by former Syrian Capt. Ahmed Jebril, and Abu Moussa, leader of the Palestinian rebellion against PLO leader Yasser Arafat.

It was the first Israeli aerial action reported in Lebanon since October 1982, when Israeli planes attacked Syrian missile batteries in eastern Lebanon.

At the truck boming scene near Tyre, Israeli Brig. Gen. Amos Yaron said there were about 60 Israeli soldiers, border patrolmen and civilian security officers in the army intelligence post when the attack occurred at daybreak.

Bruce Kashtan, spokesman for the Israeli Foreign Ministry near Beirut, said Israeli guards opened fire at the intruding pickup truck and "apparently hit it."

"It exploded before the building and not inside, where it could have caused even more damage," Kashtan said.

The force of the blast damaged a Lebanese army barracks and a post of the United Nations peacekeeping force across the street from the bombed Israeli compound.

Four Lebanese soldiers and 10 civilians were injured, said U.N. spokesman Timur Goksel from his headquarters in Nagoura, about three miles north of the Israeli border.

The Israelis took over the compound, on the main coastal highway 12 miles north of the Israeli border, after they invaded Lebanon last year. They used the post to interrogate suspects.

Meanwhile, Arafat's PLO loyalists were locked in heavy artillery and rocket duels with Syrian-backed mutineers trying to oust the guerrilla chieftain from his last Middle East stronghold, the Palestinian refugee camp of Baddawi on the outskirts of Tripoli, in northern Lebanon.

Police said the combatants were shelling each other's positions in the highlands and at highway intersections around Baddawi and another Palestinian refugee camp, Nahr el-Bared.

DEAR B.B. & B.: I have a slight hunch your first wife's family had quite a lot of money and when she died, she left everything to you with the understanding that the son would eventually inherit it. Too bad her attorney didn't advise her to leave him a specified amount. That would have eliminated the problem you are now struggling with.

Your second wife apparently feels the kids are grabby and selfish and she would prefer you leave them nothing - in which case she would have it all.

Has a lawyer told you that you CAN disinherit your son? Perhaps his mother's will that my first obligation is to states specifically that he shall inherit your estate.

Regardless, it is extremely ungracious of your son and his wife to pressure you to give them money NOW. I

La Plata's Tim Long (40) flies through the air after being hit on a kickoff return in the 8th grade battle between Stanton and La Plata Thursday. Stanton's Bill Ruckman (30) arrives on the scene along with La Plata's Brent Berry (73) and Arthur Jimenez (70). La Plata won the game, 7-6.

Stanton 9th upsets La Plata; Maverick 8th edges Dogies, 7-6

By SPEEDY NIEMAN The Stanton "jinx" over La Plata worked again Thursday when the 9th-grade Dogies put up a strong defense, took advantage of Maverick turnovers, and scored an upset, 14-0 win over the previously unbeaten La Plata 9th graders.

Stanton had won the 8th grade game last year and the 7th grade contest the year before. Thursday, Kyle Streun passed for one score, hit a pass to set up another and recovered two fumbles on defense to spark the Stan-

La Plata recovered a Stanton fumble on the 22 early in the second period and Shire passed to Bobby Baker to give the Mavericks a first and goal at the 3-yard line. La Plata promptly lost the ball on the ensuing kickoff, and Stanton almost hit paydirt again. Two Streun passes were just off the fingertips of Joe Fuentez, then Todd Weaver in the end zone. La Plata took over on its 14-yard line, but the Mavericks could never get a sustained drive going.

In the 8th grade contest, Stanton got the first big break and the first score. In the second period, La Plata lost the ball when a punt snap was not handled by the punter, and Stanton took over on the Maverick 35.

'Hollywood' Henderson finds trouble again

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) - Former Dallas Cowboys linebacker Thomas Edward "Hollywood" Henderson was free on $16,000 bail Thursday night after being arrested when two teen-age girls told police he held them at gunpoint, demanded sex, assaulted them and then threatened to kill them.

Long Beach Detectives Jerry Gadbaw and Sgt. Don Hesslink said Henderson, 30, was taken into custody at his Ocean Boulevard apartment Wednesday evening. Officers said they found a .38-caliber revolver in the apartment, as well as narcotics paraphernalia, some rum and about $200.

Lt. Jim Reed, a night watch commander, said Henderson was booked for investigation of oral copulation, kidnapping, exhibition of a firearm in a threatening manner and use of a gun in the commission of a felony.

Gadbaw and Hesslink said Henderson was apparently walking to a store several blocks from his apartment at about 8 p.m. Wednesday when he met the girls, who are 15 and 17 years old.

The girls, who were interviewed Thursday, said the man identified himself as "Hollywood Henderson."

"We'd never met a star before," the older girl said.
"So we were thrilled to meet a star. So we asked him for a picture, to show our friends." Henderson, the girls said, told them he had a plaque in his apartment that would verify who he was. They said they accompanied him there. The girls alleged that for three hours Henderson wielded a gun and forced them to remove their clothes. They alleged he threw them about, kicked them and ordered the

Maroon JV wins, White team loses

Hereford's Maroon Junior Varsity scored a 26-14 win over the Plainview JV here Thursday night to conclude the season. The White JV lost a 27-15 decision in Amarillo to the Tascosa sophomores.

Hereford and Plainview traded quick touchdowns in the opening minutes of play here at Whiteface Stadium before the Maroon JV team took a 13-7 lead at halftime.

Patrick Phibbs raced 47 yards early in the game to counter a Plainview score and knot the game at 7. Minutes later, quarterback Stefan Hacker hit Doug Watts with a pass, and Watts broke a tackle and went 52 yards for another Hereford touchdown. The extra-point attempt Curtis Cotten scored two touchdowns in the second half as Hereford racked up the victory. The Maroon JV ended the season with a 5-4-1 won-lost-tied record.

At Amarillo, Tascosa led by 15-8 at halftime. Hereford White scored on an 11-yard pass from quarterback David Ankeney to wide receiver Larry Backus. Bobby Martinez ran for the conversion points.

Martinez scored on a 7-yard run in the second half for the other Hereford touchdown.

Monterey erased Palo Duro from the chase Thursday night, downing the Dons by a convincing 28-7 score in Lubbock. That clinched a share of the title for Monterey and apparently gave Amarillo the opportunity to win the league's No. 1 playoff berth.

If Hereford, Amarillo and Plainview win tonight, it appears the league rules would give Amarillo the first spot and the other three would flip for second. Naturally, Plainview and Monterey will be checking the score at the Hereford press box tonight, hoping for a Coronado victory.

Coach Jerry Taylor said Thursday he is "scared of the Mustangs." They beat Amarillo 13-12, two weeks ago and had an open date last week to prepare for the Herd. Coronado is 4-3 in district and 4-4 on the season. Their top running back, Chris Moore, had time to recuperate from a rib injury last week.

Hereford has 31 seniors who may be making their final appearance before the home crowd. Many of them remember the embarrassing defeat in Lubbock last year, and the Mustangs added a field goal to the lop-sided score with second remaining in the game.

The offensive starters for Hereford are expected to be: Eric Walterscheid at end and Robert Amar at wide receiver, Keith Bridwell and Lee Brockman at tackles, Max Middleton and Melvin Kalka at guards, Jeff Shelton at center, Mike Scott at quarterback, Ronnie Terry and J.D. High at running backs, and Mickey Stengel at wingback.

Probable defensive starters: August Castillo and Brian Lady at ends, Dennis Chandler and Ricky Treadway at tackles, David Parsons at nose guard, Brockman and Alan Ritchie at linebackers, Ronnie Collier and Larry Jimenez at cornerbacks, and Jeff Streun and Sammy Suarez at safeties.

Darryl Dawkins was having his best game as a New Jersey Net, and Buck Williams couldn't have been happier that some of the pressure was off.

"If he's having a game like that, it makes it that much easier on me," Williams said. "I just love the way he played tonight."

With the help of Dawkins and Otis Birdsong, who had 23 points, the Nets got off to a fast start and led by as many as 27 points midway in the third period before the Bulls made a run. The Houston Cougars have at least 50 reasons to want to upset the No. 2 ranked Texas Longhorns Saturday night in the Astrodome.

The Cougars suffered a 50-0 humiliation to the Longhorns last year in the most lopsided defeat in the school's history. Some Houston players and coaches said later they thought the 'Horns might have run the score up on them.

Houston has picked a bad year for revenge.

The talented and unbeaten Longhorns are whopping 20-point favorites. They also have just installed Todd Dodge as their starting quarterback and he gives Texas a legitimate passing threat to go with the salty Longhorn ground game.

Texas' defense is the best in the nation. Houston has already lost to Baylor, Texas A&M and

Arkansas in SWC play. The self-destruct Cougars lead the SWC in rushing offense, but have also lost twice Texas Coach Fred Akers said his 'Horns expect the same suicide effort from the Cougars that they got from the Texas Tech Red Raiders last week.

"We represent a 'seasonmaker' for every team we play," Akers said.

Akers added, "Houston is a very dangerous football team. I doubt if anyone in the country is more physically talented.

and we seem to bring out the best in our opponents," he said. "I'm expecting them to be at their best." The Cougar defense has

In other SWC action Saturday, No. 8 ranked Southern Methodist was a whopping four-touchdown choice over the Rice Owls at Texas Stadium; Arkansas was an 8-point pick over the Baylor Bears at Fayetteville; and as many fumbles as any other Texas Tech was a touchdown

The San Diego Chargers, fresh from the demise of their 1983 season, will be trying to put a crimp in the Pittsburgh Steelers' playoff plans Sun-

The last three times these teams met, the Chargers won - most recently last January when Dan Fouts' three touchdown passes knocked the Steelers out of the playoffs. But Fouts isn't playing these days. Ed Luther is. He threw two TD passes against Washington last Monday night. He also threw six interceptions.

favorite over Texas Christian at Lubbock. All are day games.

The Texas Aggies were idle.

Texas Tech, SMU, and Arkansas each have one SWC loss and need victories to keep pace with the Longhorns, who are 4-0 in league games.

SMU Coach Bobby Collins is worried about Rice wanting to give Ray Alborn a going away present.

'Rice comes into the game with nothing to lose and everything to gain, playing a nationally ranked team," Collins said. "As we noticed in the Texas Tech game where Rice led late, if you don't go out and play well, you will be in for a fight."

It's Homecoming for SMU

"It seems everytime we play on the road, it's somebody's homecoming." Arkansas has a revenge motive itself on the Hogs' Homecoming. The Bears ambushed the Razorbacks 24-17 on Homecoming at Waco last

First United Methodist

Leading up to Christmas, a series of musical programs with the theme, "Advent Alive," will be presented on Sunday evenings in December at First United Methodist Church.

Rehearsals are underway in all the church choirs, directed by Jeff Wakeley, minister of music and youth.

The contemorary cantata, "I Believe," by the Youth Singers will start the series Dec. 4. The youth choir will also assist with the Dec. 11 program, which will feature children's choirs in the Candles and Carols service which has become a tradition in the church, followed by a live Nativity scene on the lawn staged by youth.

Sunshine and Carol Choirs will be heard in the main presentation of the evening, a musical titled "Angels, Lambs, Ladybugs and Fireflies." Zack Farr will be the narrator.

Music by the Brass Experience will open the Sanctuary Choir's progrm Dec. 18, and an orchestra will accompany the choir in the cantata, "Rejoice, Earth and Heaven." Other songs will be from Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" and the final selection will be "Many Moods of Christmas" by Robert Shaw, and William R. Bennett.

Christmas music will be a part of morning worship services during Advent, and a Christmas Eve service.

Women's Forum holds luncheon

The Women's Forum met for a luncheon on Monday at the Community Center. Nineteen members and one visitor were present.

Carol Odom and Barbara Edwards of Sugar Works Cake Decorating Club gave a program on cake decorating, demonstrating by decorating a cake.

During the business session presided over by Leatrus Clark, it was decided, regretfully, to disband the Women's Forum because of loss of interest. It was decided to donate all remaining money to the Senior Citizens Building Fund; the green satin tablecloth to Kings Manor; and the books and scrapbooks to the museum.

COMMUNITY CHURCH
The congregation of Hereford Community Church will celebrate the 10th anniversary of the church this weekend, beginning with a sack lunch fellowship at 6:30 p.m. Saturday. A videotape depicting the early history of the church will be shown.
The Rev. Morris Means,

first pastor of Community Church, will preach at 9:30 a.m. Sunday and Mimi and Paul Vancil, formerly with New Harvest, will present special music. There will be a pot luck dinner, with singing and sharing, in the Hereford Community Center after the morning worship service.

All present and former members of the church, as well as other interested persons, are invited to the weekend services.

Community Church was started by a group of 28

Westway residents on Nov. 4, 1974. The group worshpped in homes and at the old Jim Hill Hotel in Hereford.

On Feb. 10, 1974, they began services in the Westway Community Building. The Rev. Dick Hollis pastored for a short time and several others filled in until Means was called as the first pastor in August of 1974.

The congregation continued to meet in the community building until 1978. Plans were made to construct a building in Hereford. The building was started in July 1977 and the first services were held there Feb. 19, 1978, at which time the name was changed to Hereford Community Church. The building was paid for in cash as it was constructed.

Means was pastor until 1982. The current pastor is the Rev. Dorman Duggan. The church now has approximately 350 members. Community Church School was started by the church in 1981 for children in kindergarten through grade 12. Approximately 45 students are currently attending the school.

TEMPLE BAPTIST

Youth discipleship will be held Sunday at 6 p.m. and the youth will have an after worship fellowship in the fellowship hall following the evening service.

Tests offer hope for AIDS cure that a naturally occurring substance produced by healthy people's white blood cells may help victims of acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), says the Texas Medical Association.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration and the National Institutes of Health are testing interleukin-2. This substance is produced by normal lymphocytes (white blood cells) to combat viral infections or other foreign substances.

Test-tube results have been encouraging. The scientists found that interleukin-2 increases the infection-fighting ability of weakened lymphocytes from AIDS patients.

Although interleukin-2 is available only in small amounts, the initial results clear the way for trials on patients themselves.

As of early October, the Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta had recorded 2,416

Laboratory tests indicate AIDS cases and 981 deaths nationwide. The Texas Department of Health had recorded 71 cases and 35 deaths in Texas.

> AIDS is a serious condition characterized by a weakening in the body's natural immunity against disease. People with AIDS become susceptible to a variety of rare illnesses. The two most common are a form of pneumonia caused by a parasite, and Kaposi's sarcoma, a rare cancer that attacks walls of blood vessels.

Early symptoms of AIDS are similar to those of other diseases, such as a cold or the flu. The signs include fever, night sweats, unexplained weight loss, yeast infections, shortness of breath, diarrhea, persistent coughs, fatigue, appetite loss, and swollen glands in the neck, armpits, or groin. Symptoms that persist should receive medical attention.

the State Hospital in Wichita Falls. Plans were also made for the Christmas luncheon to be held Dec. 6.

Refreshments of Watergate salad, fruit, cheese and coffee were served. Others attending were Eva Gililland, Tresa Hale, Lucile Hughes, Lola Jewell, Allyne Johnson, Emily Suggs, and Mary Williamson.

Although no cause has been found, scientists suspect a virus, possibly one present in the blood or in body fluids such as semen. AIDS appears to be transmitted primarily through sexual contact.

The U.S. Public Health Service says nearly 95 percent of all AIDS cases have occurred in one of four groups: homosexual and bisexual men with multiple sex partners, Haitian immigrants, intravenous drug abusers, and hemophiliacs.

No cases have turned up among friends, relatives, and co-workers of AIDS patients. This strongly suggests that routine contact may offer no risk, according to the Public Health Service, whose tollfree AIDS hotline is 800-342-AIDS.

The Texas Medical Association recently adopted a policy stating that "AIDS patients should receive no less care than any other patients requiring medical help. Physicians are morally bound to treat persons who have AIDS."

Two handy recipes

DEAR POLLY - You recently gave a recipe for making buttermilk, but the recipe was incomplete. It did not specify the quantity of buttermilk to use as a starter. — DIANNA
DEAR POLLY — I BEG a repeat of a Pointer that got away from me: the method of making a cream sauce base that's frozen in ice cube trays, ready for gravy, creamed

DEAR DIANNA AND B.B. - I must admit, I left out the quantity of buttermilk with my own two little hands and I'm sorry for the inconvenience it must have caused all you would-be buttermilk makers. The measurement actually doesn't have to be very exact, but here's the recipe so you can proceed with confidence. And after that, for B.B. and others who have recently requested this recipe, a formula for making your own cream sauce cubes. Buttermilk: Mix one and one-third cups instant non-fat dry milk with three and three-fourths cup warm water to make one quart milk. Add one-half cup buttermilk and pour into a tightly covered jar or vacuum bottle. Let milk incubate in a warm place until it thickens to desired consistency (about 10 to 12 hours). Refrigerate to store. Before using, beat the mixture with a whisk or electric mixer to break up any curd.

White sauce base: Stir together one cup softened butter or margarine and one cup all-purpose flour until smooth. Spread into ice-cube trays and freeze. When solidly frozen, remove from ice-cube trays and store cubes in a plastic heat one cube in one cup milk. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Let boil one minute, continuing to stir until thickened. Season as desired.

DEAR POLLY - Some time ago, I read in your column about a woman who has problems with salty hams. Here is my answer to the problem. Put the ham in a pot and cover it with ginger ale. The ham can be cooked right in the ginger ale or just soaked in it for several hours, drained, then cooked in water. After the ham has been thoroughly cooked, the ham can be baked with a favorite topping. I like powdered orange drink mix, mixed with brown sugar and dry

LOOK WHO'S COMING

Now Paul and those with him left Paphos by ship for Turkey, landing at the port town of Perga. There John deserted them and returned to Jerusalem. But Barnabas and Paul went on to Antioch, a city in the province of Pisidia. On the Sabbath they went into the synagogue for the services. After the usual readings from the Books of Moses and from the Prophets, those in charge of the service sent them this message: "Brothers, if you have any word of instruction for us come and give it!"

So Paul stood, waved a greeting to them and began. "Men of Israel," he said, "and all others here who reverence God, (let me begin my remarks with a bit of history). The God of this nation Israel chose our ancestors and honored them in Egypt by gloriously leading them out of their slavery. And He nursed them through 40 years of wandering around in the wilderness. Then He destroyed seven nations in Canaan, and gave Israel their land as an inheritance. Judges ruled for about 450 years, and were followed by Samuel the prophet.

Then the people begged for a king, and God gave them Saul (son of Kish), a man of the tribe of Benjamin, who reigned for 40 years. But God removed him and replaced him with David as king, a man about whom God said, 'David (son of Jesse) is a man after My own heart, for he will obey Me.'

"And it is one of King David's descendants, Jesus, who is God's promised Savior of Israel! But before He came, John the Baptist preached the need for everyone in Israel to turn from sin to God. As John was finishing his work he asked, 'Do you think I am the Messiah? No! But He is coming soon -- and in comparison with Him, I am utterly worthless." Acts 13:13-25

Avoid tap water scalds by lowering temperature

COLLEGE STATION - Tap water that's too hot can be hazardous to yout health, says Dr. Mary Ann Heussner, a health education specialist.

Each year, thousands of people are scalded by tap water, says Heussner, who is with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Those most likely to be scalded are pre-schoolers, the elderly and handicapped.

According to Heussner, tap water scalds are usually more extensive than other burns because many occur in the bathtub or shower where larger portions of the body are exposed at one time to the hot water.

"Small children and the elderly or handicapped may be unable to react quickly enough to get out of water that is too hot before it scalds," says the specialist.

"Hot water burns don't have to happen," she says, "if homeowners will simply lower the temperature of the water in their hot water heaters." Most safety measures require repeated actions, but turning down a hot water heater only takes a few minutes and only has to be done once, she adds.

among 2,600 people

registered at a three-day

Gas water heaters are easy to turn down because the temperature control is on the outside of the heater. Most control dials are marked "hot" and "warm." The midpoint mark between hot and warm on the dial is pre-set by manufacturers at 140 degrees

At this temperature, a third degree burn takes only five seconds of contact, says Heussner.

The safest place to set the dial is in the middle of the word "warm," which should be about 125 degrees F. At this temperature it would take more than a full minute of exposure to get a severe Electric hot water heaters have a more exact control with an adjustable temperature range of 110 to 170 degrees F.

This control is inside the cover plate of the heater. Lowering the thermostate requires turning off the electric power, removing the cover plate, adjusting the thermostat, replacing the cover and turning the power back

Turning down the thermostat in either a gas or electric tank will not guarantee the water temperature, since it can vary within the tank by as much as 15-25 degrees, cautions the specialist.

But homeowners can test their tap water temperature by using a water, candy or meat thermometer. Run the hot water for 3-5 minutes before letting the water run on the thermometer tip. If the temperature is 130 degrees F or more it's too hot and the hot water heater control should be turned down.

Some people become concerned that lower water temperature will decrease the sanitation in their homes.

"But it should be remembered that the spread of illness occurs mostly from touching or personal contact and by breathing cough and cold germs. Laundry and dishes are not significant disease spreaders," Huessner says.

As an added precaution, disinfectant such as chlorine bleach can be added to the laundry water if there is an illness or young children in the home, she adds.

On Espionage Charge

East German arrested

BOSTON (AP) - The FBI wants to know why an East German physicist, charged with being a spy, was at a scientific conference on vacuum technology where an official said "no one... had any idea who he was."

"That's part of the question we're trying to get the answer to," agent James W. Greenleaf said at an FBI news conference Thursday night, shortly after the arrest in Boston of 44-year-old

FBI agents arrested Zehe in the Sheraton Boston Hotel where the conference was being held, a spokeswoman said. He has been charged with espionage, and if convicted could face up to life in prison, the FBI said.

"This is yet another example of the concern we have on the issue of the transfer of technological matters," Greenleaf said. "We have unveiled an example of Soviet or Soviet-bloc countries trying to obtain information."

The FBI said an investigation indicated Zehe is affiliated with the the East German Ministry of State Security, which collects foreign intelligence.

The FBI said Zehe had established contact with an American civilian employee of the U.S. Navy in Mexico City in October 1982 and requested secret documents dealing with military technology. Unbeknownst to Zehe, the unidentified American civilian was cooperating with the FBI and the Naval Investigative Ser-

The civilian employee, who worked for the Naval Electronics Systems Engineering Center in Charleston, S.C., was instructed by Zehe to photograph classified manuals and was provided with a special camera and film, the FBI said.

The civilian returned to Mexico City in May 1983 and was instructed to take a vacation in Europe and cross over to East Berlin to turn over the film, the FBI said. In July 1983, the American civilian did travel to Europe, crossed to East Berlin and met with Zehe where he exchanged film of classified documents for money, according to the FBI.

Federal sources, who asked not to be named, indicated that the classified documents on the film posed no threat to U.S. security if seen by foreign governments.

Help for heartburn

DEAR DR. LAMB - I had beartburn for several months. I didn't think too much about it at first because I kept thinking it would go away. Finally I saw a doctor and he sent me to a gastroenterologist. He kept me in the hospital for three days. He did the examination where they put a tube down and look around. He said I had peptic esophagitis. I thought I had an ulcer. He recommended that I take Tagamet and drink Mylanta. The doctor didn't tell me how long I would have to take this medicine. I don't take it all the time except when I have a severe case of heartburn. Should I take the medicine every day even though I don't have the heartburn all the time?

DEAR READER - I wish all patients would find out exactly what their doctor wants them to do regarding their medicines. Call his office and find out.

Usually the doctor wants a person taking Tagamet and antacids for your condition to take them daily, on schedule. 'The Tagamet is prescribed to prevent your stomach from producing too much acid. Once you have heartburn you already have too much acid and it is already irritating your lower esophagus.

Your condition is related to acid digestive juices regurgitating into your lower esophagus. As the irritation progresses it can become an ulcer. These ulcers are much like peptic ulcers in the duodenum, other than for the location.

By avoiding irritation you can promote healing. That is what your medicine is for. You should follow a program similar to that of the patient who has too much acid or actually has an ulcer. I'm sending you The Health Letter 15-10, Understanding Ulcers and Acidity. to help you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, selfaddressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. No coffee, tea, colas, alcohol or cigarettes.

doctor has just confirmed my fears that a distention of my left groin is a hernia. I was advised to wear a support but if there is an increase in discomfort I will have to have an operation. How safe is an operation? What does it entail and how long would I be laid up? Will the surgery cure the hernia?

DEAR DR. LAMB - My

Can an athletic supporter such as I am now wearing really help? DEAR READER - Evidently you have an inguinal hernia. The cord to your testicle passes through your abdominal wall and down scrotum. The cord is surrounded by muscles and ligaments to hold your intestines inside your abdomen.

When you have an inguinal hernia the muscles and tendons are stretched and torn enough to allow the opening around the cord to enlarge. The bigger hole then permits a loop of intestine to slip out of the abdomen and even down into the

The surgery is simple in skilled hands. And you will probably not have to stay in the hospital more than a few days' at the most. The surgery is to repair the torn and stretched structures and if the repair holds you should have no more problems. If you really mean an athletic supporter, about the most you can expect is some support to the scrotum. It will not prevent the hernia from slipping out.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm healthy 23-year-old male, 6-foot-3 and 250 pounds. I'm currently laid off and taking it very hard despite trying my best to get back into the work force. I'm worried that this will affect my health.

I grew up to believe that when you were angry or depressed a full stomach would result in ulcer problems. So I eat less and keep my stomach empty most of the day. I have a bowl of cereal for breakfast, no lunch and a medium-sized warm meal for supper. The food I eat includes plenty of milk, vegetables and fruit.

I'm also a body builder. On the days I am looking for work and feel depression taking over my body I go to the gym and work out. When I am depressed or angry I tend to overexert and not feel it. Am I doing the wrong

DEAR READER - The current jobless problem is no doubt causing many people to feel depressed as you do. It helps to have a plan to follow that helps you get through this period.

It is a mistake to think an empty stomach is a resting stomach. When you hear your stomach growl because you are hungry you can realize that. It is contracting vigorously because you are hungry. So I am not enthusiastic about your diet.
