3 jailed in shooting

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Three Hereford men have been arrested in connection with an attempted murder in a shooting early Sunday morning in East Hereford.

Ruben Hidalgo, who also uses the name Jesus Martinez, 39, and Enrique Rios, 33, both of Hereford, were arrested without incident Sunday afternoon and charged with attempted murder. They were taken to Deaf Smith County Jail on Sunday and were arraigned Monday morning by Deaf Smith County Justice of the Peace Johnnie Turrentine. Their bond was set at $10,000 on each of the counts, for a total of $20,000 each.

On Monday, police arrested Juan Enriquez, 24, whose address is listed as the Chateau Inn. He is charged with one count of attempted murder and is also being held in lieu of bond in Deaf Smith County Jail.

Saturio Martinez, 21, of Hereford, is in guarded condition at Deaf Smith General Hospital. He was shot once in the upper left abdomen, and the bullet caused extensive internal damage. He was in surgery for several hours early Sunday morning and is listed in guarded condition at DSGH.

Also wounded was Isreal Rodriguez, 19, also of Hereford. He was shot in the right elbow and was taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo after initial treatment at DSGH. He is in satisfactory condition.

The shooting occurred at 1:06 a.m. Sunday when a Deaf Smith County sheriff's deputy, making a traffic stop, heard what he thought were gunshots coming from the area around the intersection of East U.S. Highway 60 and Myrtle, between the former Hereford Coca-Cola warehouse and Joe's Country Club. The deputy went to the area and found the two men in a vacant lot between the two facilities.

There were several witnesses to the shooting. The witnesses said a car pulled off a street west of the club. A man stepped out of the passenger side of the car and fired three or four shots. Police said the assailant fired a .32-caliber automatic handgun, and police have found three shells at the scene. According to police, witnesses said the man got back in the car and the vehicle left the area.

Working on a tip received Sunday afternoon, detectives brought Hidalgo and Rios to the police station for questioning. While interviewing Hidalgo, officers discovered he was wanted in California on a warrant for assault with a deadly weapon. Shortly later, he was also charged with attempted murder in connection with the Hereford shooting.

Rios was later arrested at his Dayton St. house by the police department's Special Response Team. He was arrested without incident and also charged with two counts of attempted murder.

Where the carrots were

A truck loaded with carrots driven by Valentin Garcia, 54, of Hereford, overturned after narrowly missing another truck on U.S. Highway 60 east of Hereford. Garcia, who was westbound, turned into a turnaround on the highway and just missed a truck driven by James Foxhorn of Cheraw, Colo. Garcia was taken to Deaf Smith General Hospital for treatment of injuries sustained in the accident. An eastbound and a westbound lane were blocked for about 15 minutes by the spilled carrots.

Trucker robbed on US 60

An Amarillo truck driver was robbed at knifepoint Monday morning in an incident east of Hereford on U.S. Highway 60.

Michael Bennett, 51, of Amarillo, told authorities he had delivered loads of cinder blocks to locations in Vega and Hereford and pulled into a weigh station about four miles east of Hereford to make sure his load was secure on his truck. He said he noticed a white pickup truck, carrying three men, pull into the weight station behind him.

Bennett said one of the men came up to him and asked to borrow $5 for gasoline. When Bennett told the man he did not have any money, another man grabbed him from behind, and the first man then pulled a knife from his pocket and ripped the pockets from Bennett's shirt. The men also took Bennett's billfold before fleeing the scene.

The men got away with about $250 Bennett had in his billfold, and another $876 in his pocket he had picked up for the loads of cinder block.

The robbery happened at 11:04 a.m. Monday. The white pickup had New Mexico license plates.

Iraqis detain UN inspectors

UNITED NATIONS (AP) - Iraqi troops detained U.N. nuclear weapons inspectors in Baghdad again today and demanded they turn over a videotape and documents collected in their search of a records-keeping building, U.N. officials said.

David Kay, head of the inspection team, said 60 armed Iraqi security men were surrounding the U.N. team at the Baghdad building where they examined documents on Iraq's nuclear program today.

"We have been detained for 5 1/2 hours," he said in a telephone interview with CNN from Baghdad. "We don't (have) freedom of movement."

"It's not a pleasant experience," he said, noting that night was approaching and that the guards were armed.

But he added he did not feel "hostility" from the Iraqis and did not believe the lives of the team were in danger.

The same team was detained for more than 12 hours Monday at a different site when they found and copied documents they said proved Iraq has been developing nuclear weapons. Iraqi soldiers seized the papers from the inspectors.

Johan Molander, spokesman for the U.N. Special Commission in charge of finding and demolishing Iraq's weapons of mass destruction, said the inspectors today found "significant records" at the documents repository, but not blueprints and nuclear weapons program plans as they did Monday.

The inspectors did not try to remove the documents, but videotaped their search, he said. Iraqi security forces were detaining the inspectors and demanding they turn over the videotape, Molander said in New York.

Earlier in the day, Iraq returned some of the secret documents its troops forcibly took back from the inspectors on Monday, but U.N. officials said key information on Saddam Hussein's nuclear weapons program was missing.

"We suspect that important documents have not been given back to us," said Hans-Friedrich Meyer, spokesman of the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

U.N. inspectors had taken the documents, providing strong evidence Iraq has been developing nuclear weapons, during a surprise search in Baghdad on Monday. They were later detained in another defiant step by Baghdad against the United Nations.

County drops dance charge for Bull Barn

By GEORGIA TYLER
Staff Writer

A significant reduction in the deposit required for "non-commercial" dances at the Bull Barn, and an increase in deposit for some activities, are features of a new policy approved Monday by the Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court for the county-owned facility.

The controversial deposit for a non-commercial dance at the Bull Barn drops from $1,500 to $250. Rental remains at $200.

The commercial dance deposit stays at $1,500 and the rental per dance is being raised to $1,000, from $200.

When the issue of deposits for use of the Bull Barn came to the commissioners at the Sept. 9 meeting, the main focus was on the amount required for events that included dances that, in general, were not open to the public for an admission charge.

Family reunions, weddings and other activities that included dances required the full $1,500 deposit. The new policy lowers the deposit substantially, to $250, for non-commercial dances.

Deaf Smith County residents or organizations using the Bull Barn for non-commercial purposes will be required to post a $250 deposit, a $50 increase. No rental is charged for non-commercial use.

If the building is to be used for commercial purposes, rental is $50 per day and the deposit is $250. The policy notes that even if fees are not charged, "passing the hat" or "love offerings" put use into a commercial category.

Non-profit groups in Deaf Smith County that rent the Bull Barn for fundraising activities also will pay $50 per day and deposit $250 to ensure that the building is kept in good condition. Previously the deposit was $200.

Fundraisers conducted by non-local, non-profit organizations will require the same deposit and rental as commercial dances -- $1,500 deposit and $1,000 rental per day.

Individuals, families and organizations renting the Bull Barn will be required to pay a fee for custodial services during the event. The charge was set at $10 per hour, or any part of an hour.

The issue of the deposits for Bull Barn use was brought up by Pct. 2 Commissioner Lupe Chavez at the Sept. 9 meeting. He said that the $1,500 deposit was prohibitive for many families and groups desiring to use the facility for dances.

County Judge Tom Simons and a citizens committee worked on revising the policy, which was last amended in 1988.

A committee member, Teresa Munoz, said Monday at the meeting that "if the rent is set high enough, it may discourage commercial dances."

One of the complaints about the previous county policy for the Bull Barn was that promoters could make the $1,500 deposit for dances but private citizens often could not provide that amount.

Freddie Barrera said "now is the time to make a change... if not now, it won't be long because the Mexican-American people won't give up" in their efforts to have the deposit policy changed.

Commissioner Chavez entered the motion to approve the policy, saying he wanted the court "to take action now, even if we have to change it later."

After a second by Commissioner Johnny Latham, the policy was adopted.

County delays boundary okay

A hoped-for decision on new boundaries for Deaf Smith County commissioner precincts did not materialize Monday since the latest requests to the consultant for changes did not meet expectations.

A fax received last week was not clear enough for County Clerk David Ruland to determine if voting boxes remained in precincts they served.

"I couldn't tell for sure, but I think the courthouse and Aikman school are not in the right precincts," Ruland told the commissioners' court at the Monday morning meeting.

Another issue was raised by Pct. 1 Commissioner John Stribling. He said the lines should be drawn so that county roads are the responsibility of the commissioner in whose precinct the roads lie.

"The way it is now, Commissioner Chavez (Precinct Two) sees to some roads in my precinct and I see about some in his," Stribling asserted.

The situation has arisen because the county commissioners have tried to divide the road mileage equitably among the four.

"People think they should vote for the commissioner tending to their road," Stribling added.

County Judge Tom Simons said that he would contact the Austin law firm of Allison and Associates about changes.

A decision on the precinct lines had been anticipated by Oct. 1 so the proposal could be sent to the U.S. Department of Justice. All counties in Texas must seek preclearance of changes that involve voting.

Judge Simons indicated that a special meeting may be called if new material can be obtained from the consultant law firm.

In other business during the meeting, a request was heard from a representative of the noxious weed district for the county to take over some duties of the district in a "joint venture."

Ralph Diller, representing the weed district, told the court that the district had been unable to obtain liability insurance, resulting in an ineffective approach to weed problems.

Legal questions about the county assuming some responsibilities will be referred to Roland Saul, Deaf Smith County criminal district attorney, Judge Simons said. He suggested that the proposals be looked at further.

Commissioners approved a request from Deaf Smith County Sheriff Joe Brown to advertise for bids for a new patrol car. Brown said he proposes to trade in or sell two cars used by the sheriff's department.

New fees will benefit county

Some legislation enacted in Austin this year took a little different tack from the usual: new fees to be charged in county offices stay in the county, not go into the state treasury.

Two Deaf Smith County officials, Tax Assessor-Collector Margaret Perez and County Clerk David Ruland, told the commissioners' court that the extra fees will benefit county government.

"They increased the charge for receipts from $1.50 to $1.90, and we keep the 40 cents," the tax collector said. She estimated the net would be in the neighborhood of $8,000 per year, based on some 20,000 receipts handled annually.

Commissioners agreed with her request that a part-time employee in the office be elevated to fulltime status, an added expense of about $2,500 per year.

Formal action on the employee was not taken because the item was not listed on the meeting's agenda. County Judge Tom Simons assured Perez that the court will act on the request at the next commission meeting, on Oct. 14.

Ruland said a new $5 fee will be charged per instrument, in addition to regular fees, for filing certain documents in the county clerk's office.

He said that the number of documents for which the $5 would be charged is about 3,000.

The law passed by the legislature provides that revenue from the fee is to be earmarked for records preservation. Ruland suggested that the funds could accumulate and be used for computer equipment.

The new fee will be assessed on filing of land records, initiation of probate proceedings and civil records, Ruland reported.

Quick ruling asked on redistricting Attorney general goes to Supreme Court

AUSTIN (AP) - Attorney General Dan Morales asked the Texas Supreme Court to avert "electoral chaos" by quickly ruling on whether the state properly used census numbers that undercounted Texans for its redistricting plans.

Candidates for the 1992 elections must file for office between Dec. 3 and Jan. 2 of next year.

"There is no time to wait... if the next round of elections is to come off as state law contemplates it," Morales told the court in a statement filed Monday with the court.

In his motion, Morales also asked the Supreme Court to halt trial court proceedings until the issue is decided.

A lawsuit challenging the state's redistricting plans for Congress, the Legislature and the State Board of Education is scheduled to go to trial on Oct. 1 in Edinburg.

State District Judge Mario Ramirez of Edinburg last month issued a preliminary injunction declaring the state's plans unconstitutional.

Ramirez said the plans violate minority voting rights because they relied on the 1990 federal census, which missed about half a million Texans, particularly minorities.

The judge gave the state until Sept. 30 to submit new plans to the court based on adjusted census figures that would compensate for the undercount.

But Morales said in a motion filed with the Supreme Court that Ramirez did not give the state any standards to use, other than not undercounting minorities.

State officials contend that the Texas Constitution permits the use of official census data, Morales said. He earlier noted that the state is pursuing an official readjustment of the numbers by the federal government.

But Morales said that according to expert testimony, a state adjustment of the numbers could take months, cost millions of dollars, and result in a count that is possibly less accurate than the official federal numbers.

"The questions raised in this appeal are of vital importance to the functioning of democracy in this state for the next decade," Morales said. Lawmakers draw new districts every 10 years to take into account population changes as reflected in the federal census.

The state's redistricting plans also are being challenged in federal court.

The U.S. Justice Department has not yet ruled on whether the plans comply with the federal Voting Rights Act. Justice Department preclearance is necessary to ensure the plans do not dilute minority votes.

Morales last week asked a federal court in Washington to allow the state's redistricting plans to take effect for 1992.

He suggested that a trial may not be necessary if the Supreme Court agrees with Ramirez that the state may not use the official 1990 census numbers.

"The state in all likelihood will simply have to start over in the process, first with devising brand new population numbers, then with redrawing new redistricting plans based on the new numbers," Morales said.

Car plunges into PHEW! Lagoon

Five Hereford youngsters received minor injuries when the car they were riding in plunged into a lagoon at the Hereford sewer plant early Monday morning. The car sank to the bottom of the lagoon. Police said the youths were apparently trying to go down the road atop the levee when they missed a jog in the road, sending the car into the lagoon. City workers were draining the lagoon to try to salvage the car. The youths were treated and released from Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Rancher's habit helps officers locate radio equipment thief

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) - A New Mexico rancher's habit of jotting down license numbers of suspicious vehicles led to a Texas man's arrest after millions of dollars of radio equipment was stolen in eight states.

Authorities in Texas, where Allen Lee Sherrer was arrested, alleged that Sherrer would take orders for electronics merchandise, which would then be stolen.

Besides New Mexico, states where the alleged thefts occurred include Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Alabama, Florida, Georgia and Kansas, said Ronnie Blasingame, an investigator with the district attorney's office in Hood County, Texas.

"He would take orders requesting items, go out and commit the theft and then ship it to them," Blasingame said.

Investigators said there had been 35 to 40 such thefts in the last 4 years that totaled from $3.5 million to $5 million in eight states.

"I think it will be closer to $5 million by the time we're through putting all the decimals in," Lea County (N.M.) sheriff's Capt. Ron Kilman said.

"We just don't have a bottom line figure on it yet," Kilman said.

He said the rancher, whom he declined to identify, provided the key lead in the case.

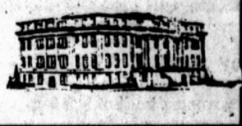

"The whole thing amounts to us getting a major break out of this rancher," Kilman said.

Sherrer, 36, owner of a Commercial Communications of Granbury, Texas, was arrested last week by authorities in Hood County, Texas, Kilman said in Hobbs.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband has always been something of an oddball and he kids a lot, but a recent request that I thought was off the wall turns out to be something he is dead serious about. I need your advice.

"Jerry" has recently gone to considerable expense to build an area in a corner of our basement for running water and dirt storage. He is almost finished with a little retaining wall and then it will be ready for us to mud wrestle.

He claims it's wonderful exercise which we both need, and it's an activity we can do together. Actually, he's pretty excited about it. I can beat him in arm wrestling so we would probably be evenly matched in the mud because he has a weight advantage. Jerry claims this could be a beauty treatment for me since mud is known to be good for the skin.

Is this kinky? To be honest, Ann, I'd be a little ashamed to tell our families and friends about it. I'd appreciate your advice.--J.P. in New Jersey

DEAR J.P.: Mud wrestling one's husband in the basement is not exactly every woman's cup of tea, but if you think it might be fun, go ahead and do it. Believe me, I have heard of kinkier requests.

If, however, you would rather not, you might suggest that he consider wrestling with the dog or some of those other odd matchups we see on TV.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What are a parent's obligations when it comes to providing a college education?

My husband says it is our responsibility to help our children as much as possible. I say if they want a college education, they should study hard and make grades that are good enough to get a scholarship. Or they could scout around and find financial aid and/or work to pay for it themselves.

We own a small business that we operate on a shoestring. As of last year, we were solidly in the red. We have no retirement benefits or pension to look forward to and live from paycheck to paycheck.

We have six children and have sacrificed a lot so I could stay at home and raise them. We've never had a vacation and we don't have any rich relatives who might leave an inheritance.

I am concerned about our so-called "golden years." Ann. Am I wrong to refuse to mortgage our future and say, "We are not going to put ourselves in hock forever so our children we will college degrees?" My husband claims

I am being selfish. Am I?--Wondering in Florida

DEAR FLORIDA: Parents who can afford to pay for part, or all, of the cost of college for their children should certainly do so, but it would be foolish to incur heavy, long-term debt.

You don't say what schools your children are interested in. There's an enormous financial difference between Georgetown or Princeton, and Florida State.

Students who are determined to get a college education can find any number of part-time work programs on campus and put themselves through. Your children should speak to their high school counselor for informed guidance. Forgive me for this time-worn cliché, but "where there's a will, there's a way."

Gem of the Day: Marriages may be made in heaven, but the maintenance work is done right down here.

Lonesome? Take charge of your life and turn it around. Write for Ann Landers' new booklet, "How to Make Friends and Stop Being Lonely." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.15 (this includes postage and handling) to: Friends, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

Extension club hears reports

Argen Draper reported Deaf Smith County has had training furnished for four district Texas Extension Homemakers Association Directors, 18 agents an assistant agents and two state presidents.

Jo Lee reported on the state TEHA meeting in Austin and the workshops. There were 469 delegates attending. Members attending were Louise

Injuries hurt Herd's finish at Hereford meet

Nearly 800 runners crowded into Veterans Park Saturday for the Hereford Cross Country Meet. The winning teams were the Borger girls and Amarillo High boys in 5A-4A, while Canyon ran away with both 3A-2A-A titles.

Hereford finishes—seventh for the girls and tenth for the boys—were a little disappointing to coach Martha Emerson, as injuries and cramps knocked both teams down one place.

Two girls who would normally be among Hereford's top five finishers fell out of the race with injuries. Minerva Salazar stepped in a hole near the beginning of the race and hurt a knee. Later in the race, Renee Banner fell, lost consciousness and had to be taken to the hospital.

"We lost two pretty good ones there," Emerson said.

The boys' team's best runner, Jack Borden, cramped up with less than a mile to go in the three-mile race. Borden was 13th at the two-mile mark, Emerson said, and would have finished in the top 20, maybe the top 10. He had finished fourth at both the Brownfield Jamboree and the Plainview meet, but the cramp made him finish the Hereford meet 57th.

None of the injuries cost Hereford a chance to win, however. Had the two injured girls finished their normal race, the team would have had only enough points to move up one spot. Hereford had 175 points, while Plainview, in sixth place, had 169. Tascosa, in fifth with 108 points, was unreachable.

Borden's cramp also cost the boys probably one place. Hereford had 244 points, and next up the ladder was Dumas with 213. Emerson said the cramp probably cost them 40 points—enough to pass Dumas but not enough to pass eighth-place Tascosa with 190 points.

"We did not run well," Emerson said of the boys' team. "Pedro Dominguez ran a good race, but the rest of them did not. I was proud of Pedro."

Dominguez finished 39th with a time of 19 minutes and 26 seconds. The other varsity boys, with places and times were: Aurelio San Miguel, 52, 20:00; Armando Garza, 56, 20:28; Borden, 57, 20:31; Chris Hart, 65, 21:18; Chancy Bainum, 67, 22:03; and Eric Davis, 68, 23:19.

The Hereford girls' best performer was Ricka Williams, who finished 20th with a time of 13:45. The other finishers were: Belinda Murillo, 36, 14:34; Jill Dutton, 38, 14:42; Nora Herrera, 39, 14:44; and Veronica Hernandez, 56, 16:01.

Hereford's girls' junior varsity team placed fourth with 104 points, behind only Perryton with 43, Amarillo High with 72 and Dalhart with 103. The JV runners were Rita Soto, 14, 15:00; Karon Harder, 17, 15:02; Monica Diaz, 20, 15:13; Brandie Webb, 30, 15:30; Gina Haschke, 32, 15:32; Rachel Martinez, 53, 15:58.7; and Laura Rangel, 67, no time given.

Several other Hereford girls ran in the JV race. They were Bethany Townsend, 27, 15:27; Linda Martinez, 45, 15:45; Krista West, 56, 16:02; Katy Aukerman, 107, 17:15; Michelle Chand, 119, 17:30; Aretha Padilla, 146, 18:00; Priscilla Saucedo, 154, 18:42; and Cami Bainum, 160, 19:15. Townsend is in seventh grade, Aukerman is in eighth grade and the rest are in high school.

Hereford did not enter a boys' JV team. Ryan Caperton ran by himself and finished 91st in 23:45.

Amarillo High's Ryan Guana won the boys' 5A-4A race with a time of 16:23.6. The boys' small school winner was Canyon's Gene Medlock in 16:27.8.

Rebecca Nugent of Lubbock Coronado captured the girls' 5A-4A race in 12:31.5, while the small school winner was even better. Canyon's Colette Medlock won in 12:19.7.

Herd, Harvesters head District 1-4A

After three weeks of the 1991 football season, Pampa and Hereford are alone atop the non-district heap, while Caprock is looking for its first win of the season.

The Herd and the Harvesters are 3-0, and have a shot at being 5-0 when they meet in the District 1-4A opener on Oct. 11 at Whiteface Stadium. The Herd has wins over Tascosa (20-7), Palo Duro (8-7) and Lubbock Coronado (19-7); Pampa has defeated Levelland (17-7), Amarillo High (23-21) and Dodge City, Kan. (35-20).

This week, the Herd travels to Wolfforth to face the Frenship Tigers, while Pampa hosts Lubbock Dunbar. Next week, in the final pre-conference tuneups, Hereford hosts Levelland on Friday while Pampa goes to Wichita Falls on Saturday to meet Gainesville.

Randall (2-1) is the only other team in District 1-4A with a winning slate. The Raiders defeated Dunbar in their season opener, 27-19, and nipped Perryton last week, 14-10. In the season's second week, Levelland downed Randall, 24-14. The Raiders will face perennial 3A toughie Childress at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Kimbrough Stadium in Canyon.

9th graders win 1 of 2

Hereford's ninth grade football teams split a pair of football games at Randall Saturday.

The junior varsity game scheduled for Saturday against Monterey in Lubbock was canceled.

The "B" team got a second-quarter touchdown from Johnny Rodriguez of 4 yards and a third quarter TD of 5 yards from Coy Laing to take a 12-0 win, coach Robert Gamboa said.

The "A" team was swamped 40-8. Hereford got its only score in the third quarter when Michael Brown ran 25 yards. Shannon Wells ran for the two-point conversion.

Speed not Smith's most effective trait

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The NFL is learning what Dallas coach Jimmy Johnson already knew: Emmitt Smith is much more dangerous than his speed suggests.

"Prior to the NFL draft we noticed everyone was talking that Emmitt only had average speed," Johnson said. "But we noticed he was making longer runs at Florida than faster backs."

"He just has a knack. He has a great burst at the line of scrimmage and safeties glance off him when they try to bring him down. He just makes 'em miss. Other backs would be on the ground but not Emmitt."

The Cowboys have become Smith's team.

If he does well, the Cowboys win. If he doesn't have a big game, they lose.

Even quarterback Troy Aikman admits: "Our success is based on Emmitt running the ball."

Smith, the NFL's 1990 rookie of the year, carried 23 times for 182 yards and scored touchdowns on runs of 60 and 12 yards in the Cowboys' 17-9 victory over Phoenix Sunday night.

It was the third highest rushing total for a single game in Dallas history.

Spikers slip past Coronado

The Lady Whitefaces survived a horrible second game to pull out a 15-13, 1-15, 15-12 volleyball victory over Coronado Saturday in Whiteface Gym. It was the Herd's second win in three tries against Coronado, and the Lady Whitefaces' record improves to 15-1.

The first and third games were good, close volleyball battles. The second game was so bad, it looked like aliens had taken over the bodies of the Lady Whitefaces.

Hereford coach Brenda Reeh did not appear pleased with the Herd during the game.

"We talked—right before we got out of the huddle (for the second game)—about how we need to treat it like the first game of a match," she said after the match. "Obviously, we didn't do that. Mentally, we withdrew from the game. We spent too much time focusing on how frustrated we were rather than on what we could do to clean up our act."

Though Hereford was much better in the other two games, Reeh said she thought her team helped Coronado too much.

"We scored most of the points in the match—whether for Hereford or for Coronado, we scored most of the points. I'd be willing to bet they had twice as many unearned points as earned."

In the first game, Hereford leads of 7-1, 9-5 and 13-9 but Coronado kept coming back, eventually tying the score at 13. With Teresa Baker serving for Hereford, the Mustangs gave Hereford a point with a hitting error, then Shantel Cornelius put the game away with a kill.

After the nasty second game, Hereford needed a good start to the final game. They got one on a clean Jennifer Hicks kill for the first side out, and moments later another one gave them a 2-0 lead.

Hereford reverted to its second-game form briefly to let Coronado take a 12-8 lead, but the Lady Whitefaces only let the Mustangs have one more point in the game. Reeh credited a loud crowd with helping at that point.

"I think the crowd helped us keep our momentum," she said. "The crowd made a lot of noise, and that really helped us at the end. It made our kids' eyes spark up."

Hereford's junior varsity team started Saturday's action by beating Coronado in two games, 15-6, 15-7.

Hereford jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the second game before Coronado scored. The score was stuck on 11-1 for a long time, until Jeannie Barrientez served three points to make it 14-1.

Hereford couldn't put it away, and Coronado got to 14-7 before Hereford got the last point on a Traci Deckard serve.

"I though they played well," JV coach Jill Harrison said. "The only thing we know we need to work on is to beat someone quickly and not take several rotations."

Michelle Brock served for 10 points, including eight in the first game.

Hereford's ninth grade teams also played Saturday against Amarillo High. The "B" team won 5-15, 15-13, 15-11, with Karen Manchee serving for 14 points, including the first 10 points of the second game.

The "A" team fell 13-15, 2-15. Leslie Tatarevich led with seven points.

Good catch!

Coronado's Jennifer Owen (11) appears to catch the ball after Hereford's Lori Sanders hit it. Hereford beat Coronado 15-13, 1-15, 15-12 Saturday in Whiteface Gym.

Rickman captures all-around

Chasity Rickman captured the all-around cowgirl title at Saturday's performance of the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association in Spearman.

Rickman finished first in goat tying with a time of 12.3 seconds, was second in barrel racing at 20.601, and was third in pole bending at 21.785. She lives in Hereford, but rodeos for the Adrian team.

Several members of the Hereford team placed this week. Justin Henderson was second in barebacks with a score of 59. Samantha Winters was second in goat tying with a time of 12.814 and third in breakaway roping in 4.967. Jennifer Smith was fourth in barrel racing with a time of 20.716.

Also, Cloudy Meason of Hereford and his partner, Justin Morris of Lazbuddie, came in fourth in team roping in 8.596.

Sub-varsity spikers win 5 of 6

Hereford's ninth grade volleyball teams swept a pair of matches from Caprock Monday while Hereford's junior high teams went to Amarillo and took three out of four from River Road.

The ninth grade "A" team beat Caprock 15-4, 15-3, and the "B" team won 15-7, 15-11.

"Our serves were good; they couldn't really return them," coach

Brett Steagall said.

In Amarillo, the seventh grade White team lost a close match to River Road 16-14, 15-10. Annie Hoffman led servers with 13 points.

The other three teams won, according to coach Kathyna Hatla. Shawna Lindsey served seven points for the seventh grade Maroons in a 15-2, 15-8 win. Natalie McWhorter had eight points to lead the eighth grade White, which won 15-1, 15-6.

Finally, the eighth grade Maroon nearly shut out River Road, winning 15-0, 15-1. Carlotta Ruiz served for 11 points in the first game, and Aimee Alley got six points in the second game.

The junior high teams and the ninth grade "A" team all are playing in tournaments in Borger Saturday.

Hard-luck Jets give Ditka 100th

CHICAGO (AP) - The New York Jets did everything right but win the game.

"Maybe it's luck, maybe it's divine intervention," Chicago coach Mike Ditka said after Monday night's 19-13 overtime victory over the Jets gave him his 100th victory as a head coach. "We didn't play our best football but we won the game."

It was a game they apparently had lost several times - before winning. The Bears, now 4-0, tied the game on the final play of regulation on a 6-yard touchdown pass from Jim Harbaugh to Neal Anderson, then won it on Harbaugh's 1-yard quarterback sneak with 18 seconds left in OT.

"I don't know what to say but to thank the good Lord," said Harbaugh, who had a career night as the Bears improved to 23-2 in September under Ditka. "I thought we had lost it several times."

The Jets took a 13-3 lead on Brad Baxter's 1-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter.

Kevin Butler's second field goal of the night cut the lead to 13-6 early in the fourth quarter and the Bears were driving for the tying touchdown - only to be denied when Harbaugh was tackled just short of the goal line.

Now the Jets were in command. They were running Blair Thomas, who gained 125 yards on 27 carries, and working the clock.

"They had no timeouts and the formula says we needed a first down to run the clock out," Jets coach Bruce Coslet said.

It appeared to be a winning formula - until Steve McMichael stole the ball from Thomas at the Jets' 32 with 1:54 remaining, giving the Bears another chance.

They got down to the 3 before the Jets stiffened. Jeff Lageman's sack and Brian Washington's tackle of Harbaugh on a scramble set up fourth-and goal at the 6 with time running out.

With one second left on the clock, Harbaugh took the snap and threw to Anderson, who made a spectacular catch for the tying touchdown.

"I threw it hard and low and Neal made a phenomenal catch," said Harbaugh who completed 28 of 42 passes for 303 yards, all career highs. After an exchange of punts in overtime, the Jets mounted what appeared to be the winning drive. Ken O'Brien marched New York from its own 20 to a first down on the Bears' 11.

No time to take any chances on a fumble or interception. Coslet called on Pat Leahy, one of the most reliable kickers in the league, to end it with a 28-yard field goal. But Leahy, who had missed only 7 of his last 105 kicks inside the 40, was wide left.

"It was my fault," Leahy said. "It seems like we're snakebit. That's the last thing you expect to happen."

Working out of the shotgun, Harbaugh moved the Bears downfield. Then came the big play, a 22-yarder to Cap Boso for an apparent touchdown with 35 seconds to play.

But wait: The play was reviewed and Boso was ruled down inside the 1.

"I was being interviewed on television," Harbaugh said. "I couldn't see," said Boso, "my helmet was full of mud."

The Jets were sure the game was over, too - the officials had to get them out of the locker room.

After the delay, Harbaugh tried to go sneak the middle, slid outside and crossed the goal line - and after another review, the TD stood. So did the Bears' fourth victory in as many games, by a combined total of 14 points, leaving Chicago as one of four unbeaten teams.

Blue Jays self-destructing

By The Associated Press Not that it's on purpose or anything, but the Toronto Blue Jays seem intent on making a race of it in the AL East.

The Blue Jays continued to self-destruct on their West Coast trip, losing 10-9 to California on Monday night. Boston lost 4-3 at Baltimore and remained 1 1/2 games behind Toronto.

The Angels had no problems with Tom Candiotti's knuckleball and scored seven runs in the first inning, all with two outs.

Give the Jays credit, though, they showed some heart.

Candy Maldonado drove in four runs, with a two-run homer and a two-run double, and Kelly Gruber hit a two-run homer, singled and scored twice to rally the Blue Jays.

Maybe a sign of Toronto's luck came in the ninth inning when Dave Parker singled with one out to left-center field off reliever Bryan Harvey and was thrown out trying to stretch it into a double. TV replays showed Parker was safe.

"I knew I was safe," Parker said of the call by second base umpire Jim Evans. "He blew the call. I was on the corner of the bag and I wasn't even tagged the first time. It's an important time of the year and I hate to see that happen, but you can't take out the human element."

Max Venable had three hits, including a three-run triple in the seven-run first inning. Lee Stevens also had three hits and three RBIs in California's 14-hit attack.

Boston's problem wasn't an umpire's call, but great relief pitching by Jim Poole.

Poole (2-0) retired 14 of the 15 batters he faced after entering the game with the bases loaded in the fourth inning, allowing only a two-out single to Jody Reed in the eighth. Gregg Olson got the last three outs for his 30th save.

Poole came into the game in the fourth with the bases loaded and no outs. He got Tom Brunansky to ground into a game-tying double play.

The Orioles made it 4-3 in the bottom of the inning against Mike Gardiner (9-8) when Leo Gomez doubled and Mike Devereaux singled him home.

"I was pumped up to play against a team in the pennant race," Poole said. "The adrenaline was flowing, and I almost hyperventilated."

Elsewhere in the AL it was Detroit 2, Cleveland 1; New York 9, Milwaukee 8; Oakland 7, Kansas City 6; and Texas 11, Seattle 4 in 11 innings.

Tigers 2, Indians 1
Bill Gullickson became the AL's first 19-game winner as Detroit beat Cleveland, breaking a six-game losing streak. Gullickson (19-9) is the Tigers' first 19-game winner since Jack Morris won 21 in 1986.

Yankees 9, Brewers 8
Matt Nokes hit a grand slam to key a five-run seventh inning and Roberto Kelly drove in four runs as New York rallied from a six-run deficit.

Athletics 7, Royals 6
Harold Baines had four hits and drove in three runs as Oakland beat Kansas City, despite 16 hits by the Royals. George Brett had three hits for Kansas City.

Rangers 11, Mariners 4
Pinch-hitter Julio Franco's bunt single scored the go-ahead run in the 11th inning and sparked an eight-run rally. The eight runs in the 11th tied a modern major-league record last accomplished by Pittsburgh in 1984.

3, and Houston 8, San Francisco 0.

Todd Zeile hit a three-run double to lead St. Louis out of a prolonged scoring slump and Bryn Smith pitched a three-hitter in the Cardinals' first-game victory.

Ozzie Smith added a two-run homer, Pedro Guerrero had a two-run double for his first extra-base hit since July 4 and Ray Lankford had a two-run single for the Cardinals. Entering the game, St. Louis had scored only 13 runs in its previous six games and was 1-5 in that span.

Expos at home on road

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Expos are currently a team without a home, but things could be worse.

"We've won 16 out of our last 23 and we feel we're on a roll," said pitcher Mark Gardner.

That included a split of a two-night doubleheader in St. Louis on Monday, when the Expos lost the opener 10-1 and won the nightcap 5-1. That gave the Expos a 9-6 record since their home games were switched from Olympic Stadium after a 55-ton concrete beam fell from the side of the stadium on Sept. 13.

"It's been a crazy schedule," Gardner said. "None of us have gotten any sleep. You get up early. You go to bed late because we have to fly around so much. Nobody likes what's happened in Montreal, but there are certain things in life you have to accept, and I could understand the reasoning for not being able to play there."

In other NL games on Monday night, it was Chicago 10, Philadelphia

Four sentenced after bloody attack

BRENHAM, Texas (AP) - Four people have been sentenced to prison in the wake of a bloody attack by Brenham High School fans on football players from Del Valle after an August scrimmage.

"We want to send a message that we will not tolerate these type of activities at athletic events," District Attorney Charles Sebasta told the Austin American-Statesman.

Four former Brenham High School students, ages 19 to 23, received 10-year prison sentences Friday after pleading guilty to aggravated assault charges.

During the attack, Del Valle assistant coach Michael Buchanan was hit with a bottle and required 16 stitches; senior defensive back Joe Hutchins was beaten and junior running back Kevin Atwood was hit with a pipe.

Del Valle High School players exchanged words with players and fans from Brenham while the groups sat in the stands watching a junior varsity scrimmage before the varsity exhibition, said Del Valle principal Gordon Perez.

Brenham principal Darrell Garrison said his investigation found that the incident initially involved Brenham fans and Del Valle players only. During the scrimmage, a Del Valle player pushed a Brenham player as he returned to a huddle after scoring a touchdown, Garrison said.

But, Garrison said, the coaches intervened and there were no more problems on the field during the scrimmage.

Hutchins was attacked as he went to the team bus. Atwood, Buchanan and another assistant coach, Bob McLeod, intervened.

The attack involved 15 to 30 people. Of the 10 indicted, only two or three are students, Garrison said. Since the attack, Brenham has revised its security plans to include additional officers and lighting and escorts for visiting teams and game officials to their vehicles.

The Brenham district has sent a letter of apology to Del Valle schools.

The University Interscholastic

League's nine-member state executive committee will review the matter on Oct. 2.

The youngest driver ever to win the Hambletonian was Tom Haughton, who at age 25 and five months won with Super Bowl in 1982.

The San Francisco 49ers had the best record in the NFL in 1990, winning 14 games and losing two.

Salt River Show heads here

The Salt River Show, a Lubbock-based stage show featuring country, gospel and bluegrass music, will come to Hereford on Oct. 26. The show will begin at 7:30 p.m. at The Country Opry on West U.S. Highway 60. It is being co-sponsored by the Country Opry and the Hereford Whiteface Kiwanis. Tickets are available from any member of the Whiteface Kiwanis, Walker Auto Sales and Warren Auto Sales. The show will be opened by the Walkers of Hereford, and all advance ticket sales will be for reserved seats. The Salt River Show comes to Hereford from recently acclaimed performances in Paducah, Silvertown and the Texas boys Ranch Chili Cookoff. The program includes 22 songs with an intermission. "Throughout the music industry, there are many greats who believe in the fundamental precepts on which our country was founded," said Ron Blakley of Salt River Productions. "The Salt River Show holds no lesser values.

"We believe in good, wholesome family entertainment for the entire family. We strive toward this goal in every Salt River Show." Featured entertainers are Blakley, an interdenominational minister who plays pedal steel, dobro, lead and acoustic guitar and banjo; guitarist Sonny Grant; bassist Kim Townsend; percussionist Mike Huffman; and singers Holly Dee, Kim Wisdom and Bob Campbell. Sound and lighting are by Clear Sound Co. of Lubbock.

Hints from Heloise

LIMITED CLOSET SPACE
Dear Heloise: Having limited closet space, I found myself often hanging my most-frequently-worn shirts on the chain of my swag lamp.
Now I've gone to the store and bought several yards of the "deco" chain so I can fasten one end to the wall, letting it hang freely or on a hook from the ceiling in the laundry room.
The links of chain are far enough apart that the clothes don't get messed up and I can spot the shirt or slacks I want to wear at a glance with less space taken up. — Mavis B., Grand Rapids, Mich.

These chains are great near an ironing board too! Freshly ironed clothes can be hung up easily instead of using the nearest doorknob. — Heloise
SOUND OFF
Dear Heloise: The toilet-paper rolls and the paper-towel rolls are constantly shrinking in size but the manufacturers keep the price the same.
They neglect to mention that we are now purchasing fewer sheets and fewer square feet. One brand now has a new jumbo roll similar to the old-size rolls, for which they charge another 35-40 cents. — Mary Gillman, Winchester, Va.

FAST FACTS
Other uses for a coffee-mug tree:
• Make it into a jewelry organizer.
• Use as a key ring holder/organizer.
• Put one in the bathroom so each person can hang a cup.
• Use as a candle dryer when making small candles.
• Keep ponytail holders/hair accessories together with one.

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I am 67 years old and have atrial fibrillation. I run, swim, jump and do calisthenics. All of them, except swimming, I do all year-round outside. Winter running is my favorite. I feel my best after exercise.
I've never known what to ask about atrial fibrillation. I take aspirin every other day. I understand I could drop dead at any moment. I feel great but think I should feel despondent, and sometimes I do. Is this my life — take aspirin until one day I drop dead?
DEAR READER: Don't let it throw you. No one knows when he or she will drop dead or not wake up the next day or get hit with a car.
The atrial fibrillation itself will not kill you, particularly if you can do that much exercise. The question is what causes the atrial fibrillation. If there is no obvious cause, then the main concern is being sure you do not develop a blood clot in the atria. Since they don't contract, blood can stagnate in the atrial chambers and form a clot. Such a clot in the left atrium can break loose and pass to the brain to cause a stroke — which is not always fatal.
Very good studies show if patients with atrial fibrillation take aspirin or medicine to prevent blood clotting, the risk of a stroke is cut in half. It sounds like you are doing just fine. I do think that you should have an exercise test to be sure your exercise program is not excessive.

THE BUCK STARTS HERE.

Newspaper is usually the first place people go when considering a purchase. It's their primary source of advertising information. Newspaper helps spark the local economy by putting dollars into circulation. And that's good for everyone, not just the retailer.

Because a strong local economy means lower property taxes, more jobs, tax support for community services and a better place to live. Newspaper is more than just a smart place to advertise. It's an integral part of our lives.

Newspaper. It delivers.

Former Noriega aide testifies

MIAMI (AP) - Tales of drug cash, Fidel Castro and four French prostitutes marked the end of direct testimony by Manuel Noriega's former right-hand man in the ousted Panamanian leader's drug and racketeering trial.

Luis del Cid, 47, a lieutenant colonel at the time of his surrender to U.S. invasion troops, was to be cross-examined by the defense today after more than two days on the witness stand for the government.

On Monday afternoon, the defense asked to introduce classified material during that cross-examination. U.S. District Judge William Hoevler called a hearing out of the jury's and spectators' presence that was to continue early today.

... BUT IN YOURSELF. — HORACE

Federal prosecutors claim Noriega was bribed by Colombian drug traffickers to protect their shipments and launder their money. His lawyers contend that Noriega worked for the CIA and other U.S. agencies who knew what he was doing and encouraged it.

Del Cid agreed to testify against his former commander as part of a plea bargain that would see his potential 70-year sentence reduced to a maximum 10 years, with a government recommendation for no more than three.

Noriega faces up to 140 years in prison if convicted on all 10 counts. He surrendered to U.S. invasion troops in January 1990.

Del Cid ended his testimony Monday by identifying Noriega, and the general's wife and two daughters in court. As he pointed toward his former commander at the defense table, Noriega stood up - and del Cid reflexively rose to his feet in the witness box.

But before that gesture, del Cid, who described himself as Noriega's confidential "errand boy," told the jury he had picked up two envelopes stuffed with "drug money" from pilot Floyd Carlton for delivery to Noriega, the first in November 1982.
