C of C Directors Push Harrison Opening Plans

Chamber of Commerce directors discussed plans for the Harrison Highway opening at length, with particular emphasis on the importance of every merchant in the community participating at their regular monthly meeting Wednesday night.

Three of the directors took the Harrison Highway plan to the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis club meetings to familiarize them with the project. Bruce Woodell will speak to the Lions, Henry Sears to the Rotarians and O. L. Bybee to the Kiwanians.

Secretary-Member C. C. Crowl also said a letter will go out to all merchants in the next few days, explaining the whole setup.

A report was made to the directors on the meeting with the City Commission Tuesday when the Chamber of Commerce received authority to start a bromo-salt sale of Hereford water.

Howard said they have started answering requests from all 48 dealers concerning rights to sell the water. They also worked on details of the label, which will be uniform for all dealers. They considered sales agreements and other problems concerning the water.

The annual Lions club carnival will start Monday night right on the heels of the circus. The carnival will be held on the vacant lot opposite Hotel Jim Hill. The usual fun will be had by all, including participating Lions.

Couples anticipating taking the step towards marriage can now take premarital examination at Hereford Clinic instead of Amarillo. The Hereford Clinic laboratory received official approval for performance of premarital and prenatal serological examinations Saturday.

Coca Cola is going to install a scoreboard at Whiteface Field this fall. That is good news everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Terry are the new owners of George Beach's grocery on 25 Mile Avenue.

Mr. Hunter of the North Amarillo Kiwanis Club spoke to the Hereford club Thursday noon on "Parents and Schools."

Mr. Hunter has been principal and superintendent of Horace Mann Junior High School for about 20 years. He is also a past president of the Amarillo club. He was accompanied by Benny Brockner, also a past president and Howard Eisinger, and two Amarillo girls who presented two musical numbers.

Mr. Hunter's talk concerned the opportunities a service club had to benefit the local school.

Seven Delegates To Attend Convention

Thirty-four delegates attended the Deaf Smith County Democratic convention in the county court room Saturday afternoon.

The 34 delegates were in a roomy turnout for a county convention. In fact, County Chairman C. C. Acker said, "I've never seen a turnout like this before."

The convention elected delegates to the State Democratic Convention in September and were in common accord on every thing except the unit rule.

Odds For Recent Heavy Rain Are More Than One To Fifty

The recent heavy rain in Hereford is one of those rare storms that occur on a probability of only ONCE in fifty to one hundred years, according to O. H. Russell, District Engineer of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District.

According to technicians of the Soil Conservation Service, the recent deluge has a probability of only once in fifty to one hundred years.

Mr. Witherpoon also said a few words concerning the fact that the large turnout, 34 out of 68 elected from precincts one and two, was indicative of a greater interest in government by the people.

Six More Check Cases Tried In County Court

Six more worthless check cases were disposed of in County Court this week as "bad check" activity continued.

All cases were fined $1 and five paid this week making their checks good. The five were Jack Kendall, Howard Johnson, Sammy Stanford, J. M. Halbert and Obie Malone.

The remainder came in later. The number of delegates a county sends to the state convention depends on the number of votes cast in the last gubernatorial election in the county.

Hereford Man Is In Unfortunate Position Of Paying For Something He Doesn't Have

"You figure you're getting along pretty good and — Wham! All of a sudden the bottom drops out."

Such is the opinion of Burnis Graf, employee on the Harrison Highway construction crew, who although innocent of all guilt, lost his 1949 Chevrolet to Texas Rangers and State Highway officers here Thursday afternoon, due to illegal title papers.

W. E. "Ruz" Renfro, Texas Ranger and veteran peace officer, felt about as sorry for Graf as the next fellow, in fact — but, as he pointed out, his only duty was to confiscate the car. It was a story which goes all of the way back to a ring of auto theft hoodlums in Chicago.

About a year ago some fellow living in Detroit bought a new 1949 Chevrolet. Less than an hour later the car was stolen, having been driven only a few miles and whether the insurance company made good this loss or not is beside the point.

Next step: the thieves took the Georgia registration and secured an Illinois state title, having first done an exceptionally good job of changing the motor numbers. With everything now in apple-pie order, they sold the car — along with 146 others — to a dealer in Dallas, Texas.

Burnis Graf, then a resident of Levelland, decided he wanted a new automobile, so he went to Lubbock, made all necessary arrangements and bought the Chevrolet. Later, he secured a job with the construction company which is building Harrison Highway and moved to Hereford.

to an over-drive, he has improved the original with most of the fancy gadgets available, totaling around $500 in his rough estimate.

Finally, the police cracked the Chicago theft ring, someone "squealed" and the round-up started. As the search spread out, the cars — at least 146 of them — were traced to Texas, on to Lubbock, and down to Graf in Hereford, Texas.

When the group approached Graf at his job on Harrison, he was unhappy but, as they said, "took it like a man." He brought the car into Hereford, removed his personal belongings and it is now impounded under police custody at the Chevrolet garage awaiting orders for disposal from State police headquarters.

About these $500 worth of extras, Renfro says maybe Graf can keep them, but it isn't customary. However, he hopes it can be arranged since Graf was an innocent victim.

"Nothing like this ever happened to me before," moaned Graf, and he added, "Lord, I still owe the finance company for part on the car." Graf unquestionably the loser, unless the used car dealer in Lubbock stands behind his sale and makes good a replacement which might, in turn, be renewed to him by the Dallas dealer — all of which means someone might go broke on a total of 147 car replacements.

Graf had the car insured, yet however, his insurance was against theft — and he could not collect insurance on goods previously stolen. The finance company has, of course, lost its collateral, but unless Graf makes his payments, he might have a hard time ever financing another automobile.

"We've one who understand sympathizes with Graf, who has an excellent reputation. Further more, they are inclined to agree when he said, "Wham! All of a sudden the bottom dropped out of everything."

LOSES CAR AFTER 11 MONTHS—Unhappy, but taking it like a man, Burnis Graf is pictured above just as he finished unloading personal belongings from the 1949 Chevrolet, which he bought for new, but which proved to have been previously stolen in Detroit. The car was confiscated by Texas Rangers and State Highway officers here Thursday afternoon. The lunch pail, flashlight and small tools shown to his left are items which Graf was allowed to remove from the car. Lower left: Deputy S. B. Berry is entering the police car on the right side, while W. E. "Ruz" Renfro, Texas Ranger and State Highway Patrolman Jack Crownover are entering on the left. Rotary Club Sees Film Of Bikini Atom Tests

Hereford Rotarians enjoyed a 20 minute film on the Bikini Atom Bomb Tests, Friday at their noon luncheon. The picture was complete even to the actual explosion of the fission bomb. Both explosions were shown, the one under water and the one over the water. Various committees reported on their progress in upcoming activities of the Rotary Club.

Mrs. Roy Ford, James Alexander and James Witherpoon received corsages.

HAZARDS—Sky gazers are liable to step up in the hospital without a step's notice. The pictures above are a definite hazard as shown in the small pictures above. We aren't showing the danger that exists. The top and middle pictures were taken in the alley between Third and Fourth on the west side of Main and the bottom was taken in the first block on the east side of Main. The big picture has Dale Taylor on the sidewalk out in front of the Brand and is a laughing matter.

Cotton Classing School Date Set

The Extension Service, represented by local County Agents, with the cooperation of the Cotton Branch of the Production and Marketing Administration, announces the dates for the 2nd Annual Farmers' Cotton Classing School. The school will be held from August 14 through August 25 at the Government Classing Office, 1701 Avenue H, Lubbock, Texas, under the direction of Mr. L. O. Buchanan.

The school is being conducted for farmers who raise cotton to better acquaint themselves with the classification of cotton as well as the marketing of their product. Learn why there may be a variance in the classification of cotton even though the cotton comes off the same trailer. There are many other questions relative to cotton classing and the marketing of cotton that will be answered for you.

Any cotton farmer may attend the school free of charge. All farmers are urged to attend. Classes will be held daily from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. Mondays through Fridays. You may attend one, two, five, or the entire 10 days. A certificate of attendance will be given to all farmers who attend five or more days.

If you plan to attend, notify County Agent Hugh Clearman or the Cotton Classing Office, 1701 Avenue H, Lubbock, Texas, as soon as possible.

Rebuild Damaged Parts Of Harrison Highway

By Mrs. N. A. Brown
Brand Correspondent

The farmers in our community are busy since the rain, plowing wheat land and working out the row crop. We have received 8.50 inches of rain since July 1.

Work on Harrison Highway has been resumed since the rain. The contractor has moved in some big equipment to rebuild several culverts and rebuild the dams that were washed out. The asphalt work has also begun again. They are working 30 miles west of Hereford now.

Mr. and Mrs. Slim Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown visited Mrs. Brown's mother, Mrs. Charles King, in Belview Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown were Sunday dinner guests at the Roy Potts home in Hollens community. Sunday evening they attended the wedding shower at the Bellview Methodist Church, honoring Floyd and Ernest Brown and their wives. They received many lovely gifts from their friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Buel Monroe of Westway spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Monroe and children, Joe Marie and Alton.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown gave a party Saturday night at the Garcia Community Building. All their many friends were invited. No one needed a special invitation to attend. Cigars, punch, cake and candy were served to about 70 guests. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Ruth Colman suffered a heart ailment the past week. We wish her a speedy recovery.

J. T. Guinn won the commissioner's race in Precinct No. 3, with 82 votes. Elmer Norjheut received 43.

Mr. S. N. Thweatt's mother from Amarillo is visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt this week.

Mrs. Henry Irlbeck has been vacationing for the past five weeks visiting relatives in South Carolina and Virginia. She was accompanied by her mother, sister and a brother of Happy.

Southwest Conference Lists Toughest Football Schedule

Associated Press Sports Editor
The Southwest Conference football schedule for this fall has been completed and there never was a tougher one. The Southwest can rightfully lay claim to national leadership by winning a majority in the study schedule of inter-sectional games. Twenty-one teams from other sections will be played and conference members will meet top players from every area—the Pacific Coast, West, Midwest, South and East.

Appearing on the inter-sectional card are Nevada, Oklahoma, Virginia Military Institute, Oklahoma A&M, Vanderbilt, Tulsa, Wyoming, Mississippi State, Santa Clara, Louisiana State, Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Missouri, Kansas, Mississippi and Purdue.

Conference teams will travel to California, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Missouri, Kansas and Tennessee.

The composite schedule of the conference shows 49 games, 21 of them inter-sectional and 21 of conference, while Texas Tech will be played five times, North Texas State once and University of Houston once.

For the first time in history there will be a double-header. It is probably the first time for major colleges anywhere to play two games on one date. Texas meets Oklahoma in the afternoon in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas Oct. 14. That night Southern Methodist plays Oklahoma A&M.

First games are scheduled Sept. 23 with Texas A&M meeting Nevada at Sacramento, California and Arkansas tackling Oklahoma

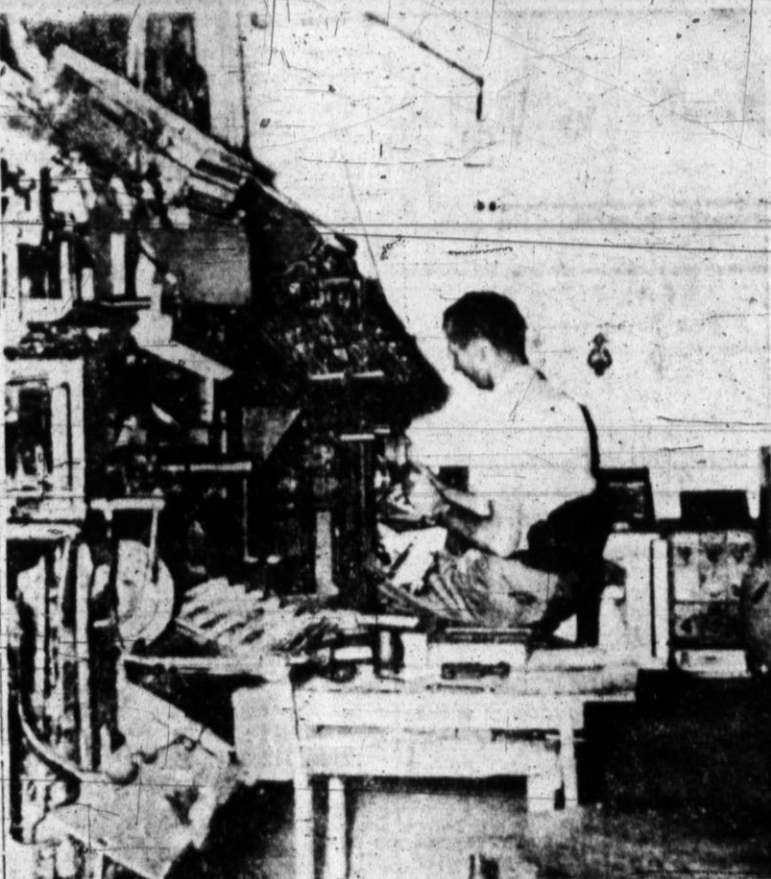

A&M at Little Rock in a night tilt, Baylor engaging Wyoming at Laramie, Wyo. Southern Methodist battling Georgia Tech at Dallas in a night game, Texas Christian playing Kansas at Lawrence, Kans., and Texas taking on Texas Tech at Lubbock.

The remainder of the schedule: Sept. 30 — Texas A&M vs. Texas Tech at San Antonio (night), Arkansas vs. North Texas State at Fayetteville, Baylor vs. University of Houston at Waco, Rice vs. Santa Clara at Houston (night), Southern Methodist vs. Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio, Texas Christian vs. Oklahoma A&M at Stillwater, Okla., Purdue vs. Texas at Austin.

Oct. 7 — Oklahoma vs. Texas A&M at Norman, Okla., Arkansas vs. Texas Christian at Ft. Worth (night), Baylor vs. Mississippi State at Shreveport, La. (night), Rice vs. Louisiana State at Houston (night), Southern Methodist vs. Missouri at Columbia.

Oct. 14 — Texas A&M vs. VMI at College Station (night), Arkansas vs. Baylor at Fayetteville, Rice vs. Pittsburgh at Pittsburg, Southern Methodist vs. Oklahoma A&M at Dallas (night), Texas Christian vs. Texas Tech at Ft. Worth (night), Texas vs. Oklahoma at Dallas.

Oct. 21 — Texas A&M vs. Texhump in his back. Scared? Sure you are, you don't know whether the horse is fixing to buck or is just stiff like you. Anyway you feel like a million when you start up the mountain that morning, but by the time you make that ten miles, you begin to wish you had never heard of a horse. But you make it and pretty soon and you are dragging 'em out and you forget all about being stiff. Everyone gets his limit, and you start back about four o'clock—brother, what a trip! It gets dark on you, it rains on you, and just before dark the flies and mosquitoes take you. You shift in the saddle trying to find some easy spot, your legs hurt, your back hurts, your knees feel like you had nails driven in them, and when you finally hit camp, someone has to drag you off the horse. The number of skinned and blistered spots you have depends on how well you filled the saddle. You are too tired to eat kupper and the fish haven't been put away. To H— with the fish, you go to bed and Mommy looks after the fish.

Next morning you can't get out of bed. The only place that isn't sore is a small spot right on top of your head, and you have walk, probably lost eight pounds, only been there two days. You and they call this relaxation. are so stiff and sore you can't about like Hitler had in 1945.

Homer Fox Says: DID YOU KNOW.....

Mrs. Ann Poling, 609 Delaware St., Indianapolis, Indiana, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B, B, Iron, and Niacin, smiles as she pours herself another cup of coffee. Mrs. Poling says life lately is like it used to be years ago. "That is of course, since I've been taking HADACOL." She can't get over what a difference HADACOL has made in her outlook on life.

Mrs. Poling says: "Three months ago a good friend of mine told me about HADACOL—she knew how much stomach distress I have had. Any type of food that was fried or that had acid in it I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep, too. In fact, I couldn't have been in a worse condition. When I ate what I wanted to I felt miserable and when I didn't eat these things, I didn't have a proper diet and still felt bad. Then, when I started taking HADACOL, I felt better immediately. I've got a bottle in the house now—and will continue to keep HADACOL from now on. I have told many all thank me for telling them about HADACOL. They all have gotten wonderful results from HADACOL like I have. Now I eat anything I want and get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

HADACOL Can Help You, Too!—as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B, B, Iron and Niacin. Yes, even hundreds of doctors have recommended HADACOL to their patients. The HADACOL formula is so effective for stomachic distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, and a general run-down condition caused by such deficiencies.

Make Up Your Mind... to give HADACOL a chance to help you, as it has helped countless thousands of others. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you your money will be refunded.

A few weeks ago, I wrote a little story about Friona and listed a group of names of a lot of old timers, course I knew I would leave some of them out, and sure enough I did. Two of the old timers that are still there—good friends and mighty fine people—are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sherrill. They were among the first I thought of but just didn't write the names down and I missed them.

If it gets around pretty quick, we may have an influx of vacationists from the mountains, we have them whipped to death on weather this summer. Anyone going to the mountains this summer, is not going for cooler weather for sure.

All we need is some more streams, we have plenty of water in the lakes and "bar pits" (I spell it like it sounds, anyway) for fishing. Even at that, those fellows would catch just as many fish out of the bar pits here as some guys I know that went to the mountains fishing.

Get a kick out of these old boys that go to the mountains fishing to relax. They get all packed up, lose a night's sleep trying to wake up at 4 or 5 o'clock to get started and finally get headed out. They drive like a drunk Indian all day, hardly stop to eat, want to get to camp and maybe fish a little that day and it's not but six hundred miles up there. They make it okay, get unloaded and make camp and do get in a little fishing that same day. Just can't wait for daylight next morning to get started. They crawl on in the wee hours, lack just a little of being zero, wrestle with a wood fire and just before both feet freeze and drop off, the stove gets going. By the time you get breakfast, the cabin is so burned hot that you have to open the windows and the one door. You make it to the stream in a dead run and start fishing.

You fish and fish; you slip and tumble and sweat and cuss; you use grass hoppers, worms, salmon eggs and flies. You lose leader after leader in the rocks. And then in the limbs, high over your head, you lose the biggest one of the day and finally wind up with about three little ones, with one being a doubtful keeper. You're a pretty tired little fellow and doubly disgusted when you get in, but a good dose of bacon and eggs and coffee puts a little sunshine in your world. Some of the boys come over and they know where all the big ones are, so arrangements are made to hire some saddle horses and make a ten mile trip up to where these big ones are.

You crawl out before daylight again, freeze your fanny half off, crawl on an old horse with a

BOOKS ON PARADE

"The Immortal Lover" is Example Of Modern Trend

At present there seems to be a trend in the revival of poetry, not modern in content and style, but old favorites. In keeping with this, is the new book, "The Immortal Lover," by Frances Winwar which brings us the romance of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning.

The author has drawn upon letters, contemporary records, poetic analysis and other sources of material and with her gift for vivid narrative and minute research has brought forth an intimate biography of two of the world's greatest poets.

Elizabeth Barrett began writing poetry while quite young and was on the way to success and literary recognition when Robert Browning was still struggling to gain attention and favorable comments from the critics of the time.

She acknowledged Browning in some of her works to his great satisfaction, before they had ever met and he felt deeply attracted to her through her works as well as her awareness of him. It has been said that they fell in love before he was able to obtain permission to call on her.

After the first meeting one of the greatest love stories ever known began to unfold. They lived and loved and their poetry climbed to greater heights, hers still leading as far as popularity as a poet and in financial returns.

Elizabeth's ill health over a number of years was the barrier as well as a difference in age, she being older, that Browning had to overcome to win her hand but once she was won, they pledged "to love through love's eternity." This is the story of that matchless love.

"Sonnets from the Portuguese" her contribution to poetry, is her own love poems written to her husband before they were married but not given to him for some time afterwards. Because of their beauty he obtained her consent to have them published. At that time they were living in Italy because of her continued ill health; hence one reason for the name. Another was because of their baby whom they called "Little Portuguese," as a nickname.

"The Ring and the Book," written by Browning after his wife's death, is considered as his finest work and with it came success, even gained the attention of Queen Victoria. He had strived so long and wanted to succeed so much during his wife's life time, and now it was too late for her to share it with him.

She realized how badly he wanted this and said she would have gladly given up her own success if he could have had his heart's desire. This is only one of the concrete examples of her great love for him.

That he stayed by her and cared for her all through her illnesses and buried his heart with her was all that any woman could have asked of a man to prove the depth of his love, says the author.

The story of the Brownings made Wimpole Street famous and set an ideal for lovers everywhere and perhaps only that of "Romeo and Juliet" is better known.

Those who have read or seen the movie titled "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will enjoy reading this new biography in contrast, and for additional information presented in a different manner. "The Immortal Lover" can be obtained at the library.

Announcement Tea Honors Joy Miller, Bride-Elect

Announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Joy, Mrs. H. E. Miller entertained with a tea Friday afternoon at the Miller home. The bridegroom-elect is Herb Dones.

The house was decorated throughout with midsummer blooms in colors of the rainbow, chosen by the bride-elect in recognition of her interest in the Order of Rainbow for Girls and her membership in the Hereford chapter.

Formal announcement was made at the serving table which was laid with a Madeira cloth. Placed in the center of the table was an ivy-covered love-log of driftwood with the names "Herb and Joy" carved across the top. The mirror base carried out a water scene and tiny leaves, drifting idly, spelled out August 20, to reveal the wedding date. Dainty figurines paused at the water's edge near the mass of flowers which encircled the picturesque scene. Blue and white tapers on the table and buffet picked up the bride's personal colors for her wedding. White cake squares were topped with dainty posies in blue.

Mrs. Jim Black and Mrs. Wallace Cox presided at the table and Patsy Wiltshire, Nora McLallen, Bobbie Jane Sisk and Nancy Cagle served alternately at the guest register.

The guest list included Mesdames: John Winkler, George Suggs, Walter London, Luke Larimore, Lloyd Airhart, Edgar Lemon, Baker Womble, C. O. Brown, John Hall, Sank Ramey, Bob Lewis, Carl Frye, Dick Frye, Clifford Stewart, Wilda Womble, Sam McLallen, R. H. Cagle, Morris Thomson, Chas. Hood, Roy Phillips, J. C. McCracken, Walter Galley, Walter Stewart, Art Lewis, Ray Johnson, Bob Lawrence, B. E. Roberson, Norman Miller, Herbert Miller, Gordon Miller, Martin Campbell, Charles Dones, Clyde Hughes, Jim Beams, H. E. Marshall, Jeff Roberson, D. C. Kinsey, Cliff Potter, B. M. Wiltshire, Buck Brownlow, Taft McGee, A. O. Thompson, Carl Wimberley, Bill Stephens, Roy Calvert, George Graham, Don Martin, Jimmie Allred, Owen Stagner, Tandy Legg, Alfred May, Floyd Tucker, Miss Thelma McManis and members of the house party.

8:30 the bride-elect entertained a group of classmates, friends and members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls at a backyard party to reveal the wedding date and plans. Joan McGee and LaJuan White assisted and kept the guest book. Those included in invitations were: Bobbie Brownlow, Collin Brown, Katherine Davis, Gayle Foster, Patricia Walton, Faye Knox, Audrey Hood, Ruth London, Joyce McGee, Joyce Rose, Bobbie Jane Sisk, Betty Henry, Claudia Lewis, Dona Airhart, Joyce Potter, Gerry Patterson, Patsy Wiltshire, LaJuan White, Caren Walker, Marilyn Barkley, Donna Cowser, Pat Frye, Sallie Womble, Wanda Gunstenson, Joan McGee, Lee McNeese, Nancy Cagle, Reba Dones, Clara Jane West, Abbey Longbottom, Sharon Moore, Helen Markham, Evelyn Tucker, Molly Bettis, Joan Southern, Betty Hamilton, Marilyn Lewis, Nan Buckner, Mettie Lee Roots, Jeanne Holman, Junnane Smith, and Gayle Roberson.

Visitors in the G. E. Harris home last week and was their son, Marvin Harris, and his wife and daughter, Sharon, of Slaton. They came here from Austin where they had been visiting Marvin's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Harris.

Mexican Meal Offers Large Variety In Food Selection

By Robert F. Allen
MEXICO CITY. (AP) — Mention Mexican food anywhere and the fellow you're talking to thinks of tortillas and beans. They are the foundation staples, sure enough, but back of them is cooking in the true grand style.

The tortilla, a thin, round, toasted sheet of unleavened corn flour, is standard. Equally common are the rich, dark beans—stewed, or boiled, mashed and fried. With these go chile peppers—from the mildest type to the innocent looking, but searingly hot little green variety.

The tortilla can be eaten as is, or with salt or butter; rolled with chunks of meat, beans, chile, or onions to become the taco; rolled into a taco, covered with sauce and a sprinkling of cheese to become an enchilada; or toasted or fried to a crisp like potato chips.

The tortilla keeps teeth a brilliant white, is excellent for mopping up sauce from a plate, and will put a nice polish on silverware. It costs 65 centavos (8 cents) a kilo (2.2 pounds), and is packed with health.

A truly Mexican meal, however, might start with crisply sautéed cusanos de maguay with guacamole (avocado) sauce. The cusanos are grubs found under the skin of the maguay cactus.

Pozole soup, traditional around Guadalajara, is a hog's head soup with cacahuaztles, dried sweet corn with dark blue or black kernels.

Then comes nopales con huevo made from leaves of the nopal (prickly pear) cactus, boiled with soda, dried, and scrambled with eggs.

The central course is mole de guajolote—wild turkey swimming in rich spicy mole sauce of a deep rust color and peppered with varieties of dried chile. With it comes a huge bowl of Mexican rice, sautéed with onions and garlic until lightly brown and cooked with little water until dry.

The salad is chayote, a delicately flavored vegetable, boiled, peeled and served in cold slices, vinaigrette.

The fruit, which precedes desert, is zapote negro, another native delicacy with jet black mushy pulp which is blended with orange juice, rum, and sugar.

Long Time Ago

40 Years Ago
 Immigration Agent Brown, of Springfield, Illinois, representing Witherspoon & Gough, arrived with a car of prospectors. The car was then put on the side-track and the prospectors were enjoying the scenes of a prosperous Panhandle. The centers of operation were to be Hereford and Bovina, at which latter place the firm controlled a large tract of land.

A concert given by the choir of the Methodist Church with the assistance of Misses Tygett, Farmer and Vanderbaugh, and Mesdames Clark and Smith was attended by a well filled house. While the proceeds very slightly exceeded the expenses, leaving the choir only a small amount to be used as their donation for new church seats, the concert was considered a real success as it furnished delightful entertainment for the evening.

The fine rains of the week had caused the Panhandle to blossom and everybody smile.

The County Board of Health drew away all hesitation with reference to an active campaign for the betterment of our sanitary condition and issued a mandate in the form of a circular letter, which was distributed among the citizens, warning them of the necessity of keeping all premises in perfect sanitary state.

L. R. Bassham went to Amarillo on business connected with his barber shop.

L. P. Landrum returned from College Station where he had been to attend the farmers Congress.

Wild plums, very nice for jellies and preserves at 35 cents per gallon, were advertised for sale. Anyone interested was to see Bertha Witherspoon at her home.

M. Jacobsen, a prominent citizen of Lewisville in Denton County, spent a week with his brother, J. N. Jacobsen, of Hereford.

L. P. Landrum and N. S. Woodfin left for Portales to take in the old soldiers' reunion at that place.

G. W. Walcott left for his home at Midland after paying his brother, W. H. Walcott, a short visit.

B. Barnard and A. E. Argo finished invoicing their stock of groceries and the new firm was to be known as Barnard and Argo.

Mrs. M. Armstrong and children left for Holland, Texas, their home, after visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sybert for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Walters, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Garvin and Claude Norton left on a week's fishing and hunting excursion over on the Canadian River.

Miss Myra Howard returned from Springfield, Missouri, where she had been for two months

taking a special course in the Musical Normal. Miss Howard was to teach a class in Hereford that fall.

Mr. and Mrs. William Head, who had a ranch north of town, were among Hereford's shoppers one day that week.

Rev. J. R. Hicks and wife arrived to visit Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Hicks, the former being a brother of Dr. Hicks.

Mrs. O. P. Norman of Kaufman arrived to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. LeGrand, and other Hereford relatives.

J. H. McGee of Gilmer, Texas, and son, Prof. I. G. McGee, of the Mt. Lebanon, La. College, arrived to visit their brother and uncle, Rev. H. B. McGee.

Misses Tressye Coston, Jessie Wright, and Sina Hodges of Hereford and Miss Lee of Hart, Messrs. Lewis Turrentine and Sam Bratton returned from Clarendon where they had been attending the Summer Normal.

All the above mentioned took the examination at the close of the Normal and it was believed that there would be no failures. Those who attended from Hereford reported a good normal, the enrollment being 87 teachers.

Dr. Aronson, the well known optician, was here and was to remain about a week. Those who needed his services could find him at Hotel Ritchey.

On September 6th, Dalhart was to hold her annual Barbecue and Melon Festival, in which several counties were to participate.

The girls attending this meeting were Mary Dufer, Jan, Sue and Carolyn Childers, Jeanne Palmer, Patsy Childers, Billy and Glenda Hargett, and two sponsors, Mrs. R. R. Cooke and Mrs. Louis Olson, and Miss Mahaffey.

The Workers 4-H Club has three sponsors. They are Mrs. A. F. Hargett, Mrs. Louis Olson and Mrs. R. N. Cooke. The three of them are planning a trip to Palo Duro Canyon for the girls some time in August. They are hoping that all the girls can go and that there will be enough mothers to go with their cars to carry the group. All mothers who can go let the sponsors know.

Two families of the Barclays went to Okla. this week; they were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barclay and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Barclay. They went to Sayre, to visit Mrs. S. J. Barclay's mother, Mrs. Doris Smith, who was in Deaf Smith County Hospital for eight months with a broken hip before she went to live with her son, Fred Smith at Sayre. Reports are that Mrs. Smith is doing fine but isn't able to walk yet. She has a wheelchair and gets around in it. Mrs. Smith reads a lot which helps her pass the time. She is 76 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Hardman visited in the home of relatives in Melrose, N. M. Sunday.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro this week were Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Renfro from Fredrick, Okla. They are Mr. Renfro's parents.

Mr. Renfro hopes to start digging his potatoes again this week. He has one hundred acres to dig yet. In all he had in 180 acres of potatoes. Mr. R. N. Cooke started digging potatoes Thursday. He has 90 acres in potatoes, and E. L. Adams had 85 acres in potatoes. Mr. Adams got his potatoes dug before the big rain.

Mrs. Oliver Rudd of Summerfield, and Mrs. Bob Hlebowicz, and Mrs. Georgia Crooks went to Amarillo Friday. Mrs. R. N. Cooke went as far as Canyon and will visit with friends there.

Mrs. Maggie Baggett, mother of Mrs. Fred Wolfington, has been seriously ill for the past several weeks but is improving, and they think that she will be all right now.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams are taking advantage of the rainy weather, and are vacationing in Idaho. They have been away for two weeks but are expected home this week.

Mrs. Aubrey Talley and daughter ter and grandbaby, were visitors in the home of Mrs. Talley's mother, Mrs. E. O. Parsons, Thursday.

Mrs. Jack Stallins from Muleshoe visited her mother, Mrs. Z. J. Malohe in the home of Mrs. E. O. Parsons Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfington were in Plainview on business one day last week.

Leavin at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning by car from this vicinity for the 4-H Encampment at Cimarron, N. M. are Glenda Hargett, Jeanne Palmer, Sue Cooke, Mrs. R. N. Cooke, 4-H sponsor, and Doris Mahaffey.

Mr. Fred Wolfington was in Amarillo on business Monday.

Mrs. Ray Stewart from Summerfield was a visitor in the home of her sister, Mrs. Hershel Crooks, Wednesday.

Friday Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parsons took Mrs. Parsons mother, Mrs. J. A. Pool, to Lubbock to visit her daughter, Mrs. B. F. Patton.

Mrs. L. F. Von Almen and son, Lewis, from Rockford, Ill. spent one week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Corbitt this past week. Mrs. Von Almen and Mrs. Corbitt became very good friends when the Corbitts were living in Amarillo. Then they both moved away; now they visit one another almost every year.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends whose thoughtfulness and kindness helped greatly during the loss of our baby girl.

Informal Parties Mark The Week's Social Calendar

Traditional with the summer season are the many informal parties given to honor out-of-town visitors...

Mrs. Crump Entertains Mrs. C. J. Crump was hostess at a coffee given on Friday of last week...

Those attending the party were Mesdames: J. D. Neill, N. E. Milburn, J. W. Witherspoon, Kellar Muse, Ernest Medkief, Grant Fuller, Frank Cogdell, Henry Sears, Carl McCaslin, Troy Moore, Sylvester Slagle, the honoree and the hostess.

Summer flowers provided bright and cheery decorations for the party.

Bridge Party Given

Mrs. Ernest Medkief honored Mrs. Halle with a bridge-party courtesy last week. Midsummer flowers with gladioli and roses predominating were used throughout the house.

Those attending the party were Mesdames: Troy Moore, Sylvester Slagle, Grant Fuller, N. E. Milburn, Frank Cogdell, J. W. Witherspoon, Clyde Cave, the honoree and the hostess.

Sister Is Honored

Mrs. J. R. Johnson was hostess at an informal coffee Monday morning complimenting her sister, Mrs. Frank L. Harris and daughter, Shirley, of Dallas who returned to their home Thursday.

Invited to meet and visit informally with the out-of-town visitor were Mesdames: Urline Fren S. S. Dodson, A. L. Manleot, Nelson McRight, N. E. Milburn, O. P. Cowart and Leona Blood.

Personals

Former Residents

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hudson, formerly of Hereford and now of El Campo, stopped here enroute home from Boulder, Colorado, where both attended summer college sessions...

Mrs. Don Davidson and daughter, Donetta and son Rondal, left Friday for Slaton where Rev. Davidson is conducting a revival meeting...

Summer Or Winter Kids Flock To The Library

Approximately 900 children-readers use the Deaf Smith County Library, with at least 500 reading consistently...

books available in the library for children ranging from the first to the eighth grade level. Seven hundred and fifty of them are non-fiction, with biography rating first in preference and history second.

Summer reading trends mostly towards pleasure reading while during the school months much reference reading is noted. Rural reading drops in the summer with about 700 winter readers against 500 in the summer.

Younger boys and girls prefer animal stories while older boys turn to sports, and girls to stories about girls, according to Mrs. Corinne Jennings, assistant librarian.

Rondel Davidson (above), son of Rev. and Mrs. Don Davidson, gives you a good example of the way a ten-year-old boy reads the funny paper.

Gayl Ann Ware, perched on the chair arm, likes to look at the book of nursery rhymes, particularly when her brother Dick pretends to read about them.

The two top pictures were taken by Alex Thompson.

Former Hereford Girl Is Named To High Church Post

The Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States has announced that on September 1 Miss Vivian Olson will assume the duties of field secretary for women's work under the Board of National Missions.

For a year and a half Miss Olson worked with the Rev. J. Hoyt Boles, Interboard Commission field representative of the Synod of Texas, where she came in contact with the rural church work of the Board of National Missions.

MRS. A. L. MANJEOT Flavorsome Desserts Are Designed For Summertime

Flavorsome desserts in a variation of old-fashioned ice-cream provide appropriate end-of-the-meal dishes for hot August days. Keeping refrigerator trays full is a major problem during July and August and today's recipes are designed for the busy party-hostess whose plans include social affairs for her club or courtesies for out-of-town guests...

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot has worked out some recipes that turn out just right and they may be made in the old-fashioned ice-cream freezer, electric refrigerator or deep-freeze.

- Lemon Delight 2 packages lemon jello Juice and grated rind of two lemons 1 pint pineapple juice Heat juices to boiling point (do not boil) and pour over the jello and grated rind. Stir until jello is thoroughly dissolved and set aside to cool. 1 1/2 cups sugar 1 quart whole milk 6 eggs 1 pint coffee cream 1/2 teaspoon salt Place milk in sauce pan and heat. Beat egg yolks thoroughly...

Her father is an ordained elder; her sister is married to a ministerial student and her mother was Presbyterian president while living in Hereford.

add sugar and salt and when milk steams pour the egg yolk mixture into the milk and cook until the spoon is coated. Remove from fire and mix with the jello mixture, add the coffee cream and fold in the egg whites, which have been beaten to peaks. Pour into a gallon size ice cream freezer and freeze, pack and serve. (A gallon size freezer requires 25 pounds of crushed ice and two cups of ice-cream salt for freezing and packing.)

For the Refrigerator If frozen in refrigerator trays, follow the same directions as used for the old-fashioned freezer. (Continued on Page 8)

Pre-Nuptial Party Honors Jeanne Holman Tuesday

Intimate friends attended a pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Jeanne Holman, bride-elect of Bradley Lookingbill, given at the home of Junanne Smith Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 3:30 and 6. Hostesses were Miss Smith, Joy Miller, LaJuana White and Gayle Robertson.

Rainbow colors which the bride has chosen for her wedding were emphasized in decorations and appointments for the party. The refreshment table was covered with a satin damask cloth and centered rainbow hues blossoms flanked by candelabra holding yellow tapers. Bettye Henry and Joyce McGee presided at the punch bowl and Gerry Patterson kept the guest book.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Don Holman, and her sister, Mrs. Bill Stephens.

Recordings provided background music during the calling hours.

The guest list included: Mrs. Aubrey Smith, Mrs. Don Holman, Mrs. Bill Stephens, Mrs. C. O. Brown, Mrs. Aubrey Smith and Catherine Davis, Nancy Cagle, Reba Dones, Gerry Patterson, Ruth London, Bobbie Jane Sisk, Colline Brown, Betty Robbins, Bettye Henry, Joyce Rose, Joyce McGee, Joan McGee, Jeann Palmer, Marilyn Barkley, Paty Wiltshire, Sharon Moore, Wendy Gunstenson, Doris Jean McGee, and the honoree.

The wedding is scheduled for Sunday, August 6, in the Summerfield Baptist Church.

4-H Girls And Sponsors Take Weeks Tour Of N. M.

By Mrs. E. H. Mosteller
Brand Correspondent

The Adrian 4-H Club girls and their sponsors returned Monday night from a most interesting, educational and enjoyable tour. They left Adrian about 7:00 a. m. Wednesday, July 12, the first stop of interest being in Roswell, N. M. where they went through the museum. They continued on from Roswell to Ruidoso which they made their headquarters for the entire time. By making early reservations they were able to obtain a five-room furnished house in which to stay.

From Ruidoso they went out each day to different places of interest. One day was spent in visiting Monjeau Ranger Look-Out and playing baseball. Another day the group visited Alamogorda and the White Sands. While there they visited the museum. One of the most interesting features of this museum was viewing the many items made from the white sand or gypsum. Another object of interest was an old ox cart which had been covered by the sands for years and then uncovered by the changing positions of the sands.

Another place of great interest visited while in Alamogorda was the government-supported school for the blind. This school has an enrollment of 85 and has capacity for a hundred. The group saw the different equipment used in the school. A pupil read to them in braille. This pupil gave them her name and address so they could write to her and send her presents.

One drawback to the trip was that it was too rainy for hiking and too cold for swimming. To make up for this the girls enjoyed visiting curio shops and skating.

Exhibition skating by the Pueblo Indians proved most interesting to the vacationers. They had the privilege of observing the Indians as they did the "Hoop Dance," "Snake Dance," "Eagle Dance" and "War Dance."

From Ruidoso the group went to Albuquerque where they visited the park and zoo and continued on to Santa Fe.

In Santa Fe they saw the oldest house in the United States and were shown through an old mission in which the spiral stairway is seventy-five years old.

A most interesting scene in the museum in Santa Fe was a mummified Pueblo Indian baby. It is a baby of about 18 months which was found in a cave wrapped in a blanket of feathers and also one made from the fiber of the yucca plant. Also buried with it was corn and the usual items that Indians bury with their dead. The baby was completely preserved except for the face. It is believed that the dryness of the cave in which the baby was buried caused its mummification.

The group returned home from Santa Fe, arriving here about 9:00 p. m. Monday, July 17. Due to the rains, those living on farms were unable to get home until about noon of the next day.

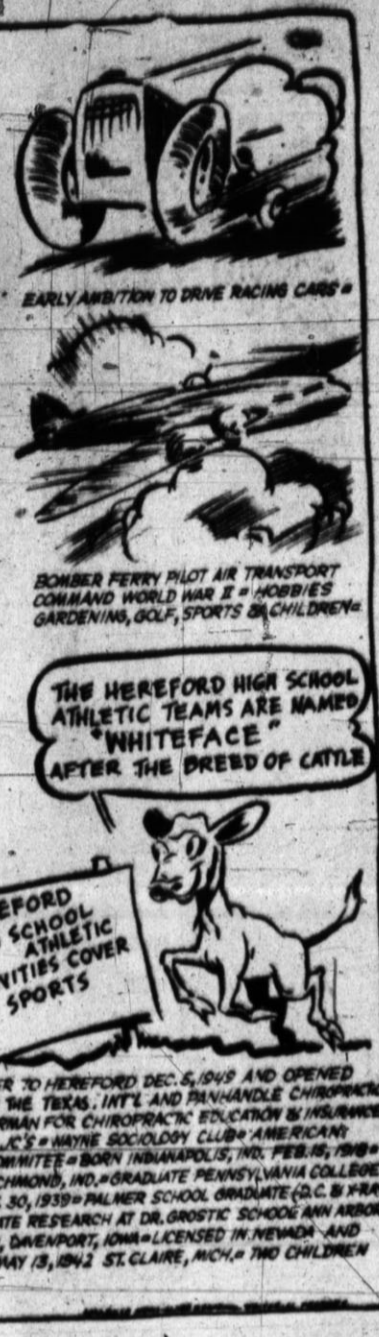

The only mishap of the trip was when Doris Story cut her wrist while cutting a stick for roasting wieners.

4-H club members who made this trip were: Doris Story, Mary and Billie Gruhkey, Marvalene dens from the rain and hail Monday night. In Adrian the rain fall amounted to about three inches with practically no hail. At the V. E. Lemke and the N. L. Jacobson farms everyone was busy the entire night trying to keep water out of their basements. Mr. E. N. Jacobson had a cesspool to cave in. There was a five-inch rain with hail in this area.

At the E. K. Pinnell and Hardy Harris farms fifteen miles south and west of Adrian the rainfall only measured 2 1/4 inches.

People are deciding maybe this isn't such a dry country after all.

Miss Pearlina Schuyler, who has been a guest of Doris Story in the Ernest Frank home for several days left Monday with her parents to return to her home in Buffalo, Okla.

The Adrian Baptist Women's Missionary Union met Wednesday of last week in the church. Eight members entered into the study of portions of the New Testament. Each lesson until October will be a study of the Bible. These lessons will be twice a month, the next meeting being August 2 at 2:30 p. m. in the church.

The Adrian Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service was not able to meet at the regular time, July 18, since several of its members were water-bound from the rain Monday night. The Society met July 25 and had the same program planned for July 18.

Guests in the R. E. Caldwell home are Mrs. Caldwell's niece, Janell Watson of Albuquerque and Jeanie Watson of Wichita Falls. Both girls are seven years old.

The Adrian Methodist Church had only one Intermediate to go to camp this year, Jean Finley. She went with Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Young who are workers of the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. James, Jr. and children visited Mr. James, Sr. in Amarillo Sunday. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ames and saw a show at a drive-in theater.

Bill Frank who has been a patient in Mayo Brothers Clinic for the past three months has sent word that he can not return now as planned. The bone graft apparently is a success but the skin graft was not and must be done again. Therefore, he does not expect to be home now before the middle of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Harris and family expect to move into their new home one day this week. It was built on the site of the one destroyed by fire sometime ago. J. W. son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Harris, underwent an operation on his eye in Amarillo Monday of last week. He is reported as doing nicely and will have the bandages removed in a few days.

Miss Ruth Jacobson was a guest in the H. I. Stephenson home in Amarillo for a few days last week. She was visiting her cousin, Miss Gail Stephenson. Guests in the Ed Klein home, arriving Sunday, are Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Klein of Lubbock. Mr. Klein reports rains at Lubbock but not as much as we have had. However, he says surrounding towns have had rains to equal or exceed ours and there is extensive damage to crops there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Proctor have had as guests last week Mrs. Proctor's sister, Mrs. Jack McMeer, and small daughter of Dalhart. Mr. McMeer came Sunday to visit and to take his family home.

Mrs. F. M. Brown and her niece, Doris June Horton, saw a show in Amarillo Sunday and visited Mrs. Lillian Lemke in (Continued on Page 8)

Pressing Problem

One of the amazing things that greet students of modern life is the failure of many people—men, women and children—to take a personal interest in the development of a happy, safe and intelligent family.

Men, who are wizards in the business world, make miserable failures as husbands and fathers. Mothers, who are attractive in looks and intelligent in activities, also fail disastrously in making their homes duplicate these attributes. Children who amaze strangers by their good qualities rarely exhibit these virtues when within the family circle.

Let us make it plain that we are not talking about disolute, profligate or worthless people. We are referring to the people in communities who are considered the backbone of local society and the pace-setters of local affairs. No one would intend to assert that charming family life does not exist in Orangeburg. What we call attention to is that, too often, it is not to be found in the homes where one would expect to look for utmost felicity.

There will be some people who read this and realize that their family, as a social unit, is happy, harmonious, cooperative and eminently successful by any standard. These families are to be admired. Whether they know it or not, they are somewhat more fortunate than many others.

There will be other men and women who will instantly admit to themselves that their own home life and its development of admirable family traits is not as it might have been. What is the answer? Boiled down, let's call it plain selfishness, and then think the problem out on this basis. The solution of many a family feud and the end of many a blood-battle will be the result.

It is remarkable how many foolish statements wise men make.

Fortunate Absence

Early this year, former President Herbert Hoover proposed that the United Nations exclude Communist countries in order to be a functioning organization.

His suggestion was condemned by leaders in the United Nations, including Brigadier-General Carlos R. Romulo, former president of the General Assembly, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and delegates from virtually the entire membership. It is now believed that a substantial number of the delegates have agreed, since the aggression in Korea, that it might be better to go ahead without the Soviet Union and its satellites.

It is to be noted that the delegates have been unable to make a decision on disputes between the East and the West for the past four years or consider the employment of military force. The stalemate was caused entirely by the obstructionist tactics of the Soviet Union. Now that its delegates are not present, the organization finds itself able to take decisive action.

This is a good time of the year to get up early and see a sunrise.

Depend On What?

In these troublesome times, the individual who has no great principles to guide his life finds the present an era of great tribulation.

There are wars, rumors of wars, economic difficulties, political puzzles and personal problems to confound the average citizen of this country. What once seemed relatively safe and secure in many fields of human activity is now precariously attacked and even the sacred formulas of early days are badly battered.

Upon what, then, can man depend? Surely, he can depend upon the fundamental principles that he has adopted to guide his life. The basic faith in God that makes men lift up their heads, the confidence that faces doubtful fate superbly and the attributes of the soul that stand supreme above the vicissitudes of earthly strife are strength to the intelligent and the brave, a staff upon which the tired may lean and a blessing to all those who are willing to work for a better world of better human beings.

Loud talking sometimes passes as intelligence but not for long.

Husbands and wives should not gamble—the firm is certain to make no net gain.

The Bull Rush

The fighting in Korea and a somewhat widespread belief that it may be preliminary skirmish of a titanic clash between the United States and Russia have led many Americans into something like a buying spree.

Already there is some indication of a tendency on the part of consumers to buy goods in unusual quantities as a safeguard against the possible effects of another war. Dealers in some lines, including automobiles have experienced something of a rush by anxious buyers who are afraid that unless they buy at once they will not be able to get what they want.

It is obvious, of course, that this buying rush tends to create the very scarcity which people fear. It is equally obvious that there are many people unwilling to heed the advice of leaders, like the President and other defense officials, who advise loyal Americans not to rock the economic boat.

We have no end of troubles of our own, so why bother us with yours?

A General Says

Lt. Gen. Bedell Smith, who served this country as Ambassador to Russia, admits that after going to Russia he changed his mind.

The General recently pointed out that in a struggle to win the support of men, their allegiance is not secured by force or the threat of force. He suggests that we "analyze why Communist troops in Korea are fighting like the devil" while the Southern Koreans, who, we think, represent democracy, did not do so well. He believes that it is because Soviet propaganda has been extremely effective.

Continuing, the General declares: "It's an idle thing to preach democracy to a man with an empty belly." He thinks that the Asiatics, for example, are interested first in a rice bowl or something for himself and his family and that generosity does not take the place of a plan that will get these people on their feet, with the opportunity to do something for themselves.

A Korean Custom

From the Korean fighting zone come fresh tales of brutal atrocities, with American soldiers the victims of the bloodthirsty customs of the North Koreans. An uncertain number of our soldiers, captured in battle, have been executed in cold blood.

Such tactics will, in the end, cause the North Koreans more than it is worth. Nevertheless, we should not lose sight of the fact that such brutality is not uncommon in the area and among the peoples of the Korean peninsula.

On the same day that news of the atrocity reached us, there was another item, via United Press, which told of 40 persons on all fours on truck beds. A South Korean policeman was crashing their backs with the butt of his rifle. When onlookers complained, he explained, "guerrillas; we bang-bang in woods."

The men, it seems, were not caught fighting with the North Korean forces but were rounded up around the South Korean line of battle and executed on suspicion.

THE Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
New Weapon Developed

THE NAVY is itching to rip the "top secret" label from the most revolutionary weapon since the atomic bomb—the guided missile. Reason for the navy's itchy fingers is that it thinks guided missiles may make the big bomber as obsolete as the dog.

Here are some of the facts which can be revealed without giving aid and comfort to the enemy:

1. The guided missile is guided unerringly to the target by radar echoes. If, for instance, a missile is fired five miles to one side of the target, it will automatically change its course while in the air and hit the target. The exact distance a homing missile will change its course remains a military secret; but the effect is that of a magnet drawing a bullet to the target. I cannot miss.

2. The joint chiefs of staff, including sober, cautious Gen. Omar Bradley, were so impressed by homing missiles they persuaded reluctant Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson to earmark millions for mass experimentation and production. Johnson has finally approved an order.

3. The navy in its new construction program now before congress proposes two cruisers and a number of small vessels and submarines be converted into guided-missile carriers.

4. The navy has developed anti-submarine and anti-ship missiles which will dive under water and speed toward a fast-moving ship. This may make the transportation of troops in wartime almost impossible.

5. It will also be fairly easy to shoot down invading airplanes. Comdr. L. P. Ramage of the navy's guided-missile research reported to the secretary of the navy: "The highest priority goes to those missiles whose targets will be hostile aircraft. The pendulum swings one way and then the other. The guided missile shows promise of achieving a quantum jump in the effectiveness of weapons available to a task force against the bomber. Success is inevitable."

The Navy's "Lark"

The only missile which can be described in print is called the Lark, of which the navy has manufactured and tested approximately 200. Originally developed as a counter-weapon to the Jap kamikaze, the Lark has two liquid rocket engines, uses acid and aniline fuel, and can operate outside the dense oxygen layer of the earth's atmosphere.

When the Lark bears the target, a second and independent electronic system automatically picks up the target and guides the missile to it. A proximity fuse sets off the bomb. The Lark weighs 1,200 pounds and is 15 feet long. It has two pairs of wings at right angles.

It is a healthy fact that the air force, instead of bucking a navy development which may put its big bombers out of business, is giving 100 per cent cooperation to the navy. In fact, the air force was so impressed with the Lark, it purchased 82 from the navy. It also went to bat with Secretary Johnson in demanding that funds be allocated for further developments.

Note—Another weapon in the navy's bag of scientific tricks is a pilotless ram jet plane. It operates on a radical principle—the more air it rams into, the faster it goes.

Basing-Point Lobby

A genial back-slapping lobbyist named Frank McCarthy is one reason administration ranks have been split wide open over the hot Basing-Point bill.

No relation to the Wisconsin senator, McCarthy is a graduate of Paul McNutt's old Indiana machine, and is now Washington lobbyist for some of the railroads which would profit by more cross-hauls under the Basing-Point bill.

McCarthy's infectious good humor helped to line up such Democratic bigwigs as Sen. Francis Myers of Pennsylvania, and spurred an elderly statesman Sen. Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

Note—Lobbying against the bill on the Republican side during the senate debate was done by William Simon, former counsel for the Capehart subcommittee on trade practices, now an $1,800-a-month lobbyist. At the time Simon was working for Senator Capehart, he also lobbied with the federal trade commission on behalf of alleged violators of the trade practices he was supposed to be investigating. And Senator Capehart let him get away with it.

Merry-Go-Round

Ex-Sen. John Sherman Cooper, the state department's Republican adviser, has his eye on the governor's mansion in Kentucky. The popular and liberal Cooper may run in 1951. A win would put him in the spotlight at the 1952 GOP national convention. . . . The Republican primary in Tennessee's first district is a bitter scrap between right and left wings of the party. Congressman Dayton E. Phillips, a GOP progressive, is opposed by messback ex-Congressman Carroll Reeca.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:— When we were first married it was necessary for my wife to work but now, after twenty years, I am in a position to support her without her having a job. My trouble is this. She refuses to give up her job because she likes it. She says she finds it more interesting to be out among people where there is something always happening than to stay home and keep house. Don't you think she should give up her job and pay a little more attention to me? Disgusted Husband—N. Y.

Answer:— I am afraid you have waited too long, my friend, to make any change in your domestic set-up. Your wife has been working outside of the home so long that all of her friends and interests are probably in the business world and should she quit her job and stay home, she would no doubt feel like a fish out of water with nothing to do. Another thing is that she has become accustomed to making her own money and spending it as she pleases and a woman, who has been doing that for twenty years, is hesitant about giving up her financial independence. The only thing for you to do is to hire someone to fix your breakfast and look out for your comfort. Perhaps in a few more years, your wife will be older and get tired enough to stop working and stay home with you. LOUISA.

Dear Louisa:— I have an only child and I am thinking of sending him to kindergarten next year. He is five years old and we have always been very particular with him. My mother thinks he is too young and thinks I should keep him home. What do you advise? B. C. T.—Conn.

Answer:— If there is a good kindergarten in your community, I should certainly send him to it. All children need to learn to work and play with other children. They have a much easier time when they start school if they have learned to adjust themselves to the give-and-take of group society. An only child particularly needs this experience. He does not have to share things with other brothers and sisters and is accustomed to having everything his own way at home. LOUISA. Address your letters to: "Louisa," P.O. Box 532, Orangeburg, S. C."

About Your Home

By Frances Dell

A rug which skids, turns up at the corners, or buckles, is an annoyance and a hazard. There are any number of things that can be done to correct these annoyances.

For shag, hooked or rag rugs, use the new liquid or paste rubber-composition backing paint or anti-slip powder. Curling edges can be held down with carpet tacks or a row of Mason jar rings sewed or glued to the back of the rug. However, curling edges are often a sign that a rug needs rebindng. Long runners for halls or stairways are best held in place with tacks.

One of the most practical new building ideas in years is the "house that grows." These houses were designed especially for young people who don't have a great deal of money to put into a home at present, but are tired of paying rent and are anxious for a real home to settle down in.

For obvious reasons, building this kind of home with a future, as they are sometimes called, is more appealing than building something to "make do" until there is money enough to build the dream house. Anyone planning to build would do well to ask their builder to show them several examples of "homes with a future."

Now is the time to start quick-freezing cantaloupe, watermelon and honeydew balls to enjoy during the winter months in fruit cocktails or as dessert. Also, the really industrious homemaker will make watermelon-pickle from the rind, of the watermelon frozen. It is very easy and inexpensive, while the bought pickle is often not as tasty and is very expensive.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Seems like nature always comes up with something for us to worry about. Neighbor tells us that ear worms are havin' a field day in the corn and that there's bugs in the beets. We were hopin' that the lady bugs had gobbled up all the green bugs but now their plant lice cousins have moved in on the row crop full force. We didn't think too much about them until a farmer told us he had seen them kill maize on the plains long before he ever saw them kill any wheat.

Wonder what will develop an appetite for our black-eyed peas besides us?

Tourists who don't care for comics must have a little trouble finding cards in Hereford to mail back home. We were asked so many questions about our part of the state that we decided to send a few scenic cards up north but discovered the one we found showin' public buildings in town was two schools behind. Looks like the Brand might pass around some more really nice ones like the "Onion Harvest Scene".

We are at a loss to understand the man who demands rigid honesty of others, yet is the kind of liar himself who could take a drink in a revenue man's face and then convince him he hadn't been drinkin'.

If we had any proof that the rain-maker experiment in New Mexico and Colorado was responsible for our down pours recently we would see if we couldn't interest him in a little wood healin' on the same scale.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher has found out about the Korean war, but this week reveals it. It just shows how far behind a person can get when he doesn't have an chance to turn up his newspaper for him.) Dear editor:

I been through two wars already without rushin' into town and subscribin' to a newspaper, not to mention buyin' no sheets and pillow cases and shirts and nylon hose and suntan and pepper and automobile tires, and I figure I can get through the present one the same way, consequently I am frank to say I was a little late findin' out this Korean conflict had started, but yesterday afternoon I found a stack of newspapers a couple of weeks old which the wind had blown against some weeds which had been blown against a fence earlier, maybe last year for all I know, and I took them home and read 'em up on the war.

As I understand it, the Russians are claimin' the North Korean Reds, with plenty of tanks and guns and airplanes, was first attacked by the South Korean democrats, who didn't have a tank to their name and 60 aviators but no planes! I know exactly how it was. My neighbor's pasture is always at-lackin' my cows.

Many's the time my neighbor has come over and accused my cows of breakin' in his pasture, but he's so thick-headed he can't understand this modern world. It's his pasture that's clearly to blame. You don't see no cows breakin' in my pasture. If he'd keep his in the shape I keep mine, he wouldn't be bothered with my cows. If there ain't no better pickins across the fence than there is at home, very few cows will take the trouble of leavin' home.

Now this may not make any sense to you, in which case you clearly ain't got no international mind.

However, since I found out about this new war, I been keepin' up with it pretty close and I ain't very excited. It's gonna take time, it always does, but Stalin ain't the only dictator who won a lot of quick victories at the start. I can think of two in the last ten years, but you don't hear much out of them these days. One got strung up by the heels, the other took poison. Yours faithfully, J. A.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION:

Garden Club Proposal Is Accepted As Good Idea

What do you think of the Garden Club proposal to offer, at actual cost, plants to be used toward general beautification of Hereford?

Dr. R. E. Lingenfelter—I think it's wonderful, because I don't think there's anything more beautiful than yards abloom with beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Jim Hill—I think it is a grand idea. It would improve in some places, but Hereford is already a beautiful town.

Coy Phillips—That's a good idea. Flowers make any town look prettier. I have heard some tourists commenting on the pretty flowers here, and the more flowers the better.

Mrs. W. D. Jones—I think it is a wonderful idea if people will really cooperate with the plan.

Dick Ghelson—It should be a good deal.

Georgia Armstrong—I think it is a wonderful idea. I think everyone ought to cooperate.

R. C. Anderson—I think it would be a good idea. I don't notice flowers much myself unless they're really beautiful, but my wife is really a flower woman. For that reason I think it is a good idea, because most women enjoy flowers.

Mrs. Homer Brumley, present Chairman of Program Committee of the Hereford Garden Club—I think that it would give everyone a chance to have a variety at a nominal cost. I also think the iris is no doubt one of the best spring flowers we have for this area. Since I came to Hereford fifteen years ago, I have seen a remarkable improvement in the beauty of the town and I attribute it much to the work of the Garden Club. We hope that everyone will make at least one planting in their front yard so the flowers can be seen from the street.

Mrs. O. G. Hill, Flower Show Chairman of the Hereford Garden Club and President of the Hereford Council of Garden Clubs—I am in favor of it. It will be a great benefit to the town. It seems to me with all our other improvements in Hereford—business houses, new homes, etc.—we should make our yards prettier. Landscaping and gardens always make a town more beautiful. I am wholeheartedly in favor of it and I think it will improve our town a great deal.

Mrs. Alex Thompson, Horticulture Advisor of the Hereford Garden Club—I think it is marvelous; it is something that I've been wanting to be done for years. Everybody can have irises, because they are inexpensive and easily grown. If we plant the irises throughout the city, we can really make Hereford beautiful. The irises keeps increasing; so as they increase, you have flowers for your own home and then you can give flowers to your friends and neighbors.

Bernadette Albracht To Wed Air Force Captain At Roswell

Miss Bernadette Albracht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Albracht, will become the bride of Captain William Morton McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGuire of Idabel, Okla. this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. The wedding will take place in the Walker Air Force Base chapel in Roswell, N. M., with the Rev. Father Cornelius A. Sharbaugh, base chaplain, officiating.

The single ring ceremony will be read before altar arrangements of white tapers and gladioluses. Lt. Walter Klenkowski will provide the wedding music playing the traditional wedding marches and "My Rosary" as

The bride's only attendant will be her sister, Mrs. Henry Hill of Roswell, whose dress will be of yellow organdy made on lines similar to that worn by the bride. Her gloves and white pique bonnet will be in white and she will carry a colonial hand bouquet. Lt. W. A. Zobias will serve as best man.

The bride, who will enter with her father who will give her in marriage will wear a white marquisette wedding gown, designed along simple princess lines and trimmed with bands of lace. Bands of lace form the deep yoke outlined with wide ruffle and the long sleeves extend to points over the hands. Her fingertip lace-edged veil of nylon marquisette falls from a bonnet-shaped cap of lace and the long full skirt fashioned with insets of lace banding from the waist to the hemline, extends into a long full train. She will carry a wedding bouquet of red rosebuds atop a white prayer book with a blue rosary. Her only ornament will be a single strand of pearls.

The bride's mother will wear a navy sheer with matching accessories and a corsage of salmon colored gladioli.

Reception Follows

A reception has been planned to follow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGuire, after which the couple will leave on a short wedding trip. The bride will travel in a blue suit featuring white accessories. Upon their return they will make their home at 417 College Ave., Roswell, N.M.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and San Jacinto Beauty School in Amarillo. She has been a beauty operator in Roswell for the past two years.

Capt. McGuire is stationed with the U. S. Air Force at Walker Air Force Base, Roswell. He is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma.

Hereford relatives and friends expecting to attend the wedding include: Mr. and Mrs. John Albracht, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Banner, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Albracht, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kreighshouser, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Albracht, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Albracht, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Urbanczyk and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stengel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken and son, Jack and daughter, Sylvia, spent the past week end in Fort Sumner, N. M. with Mrs. McCracken's brother, Sam Steele, and family. They were accompanied by Patsy Wiltshire.

Sub-Deb Club Meeting Held In Lewis Home

The Hereford Sub-Deb Club met Wednesday night at the home of Claudia Lewis. Joyce Potter presided over the sharp business meeting.

Sandwiches, lemonade and ice cream were served to the following: Doris Jean Smith, Pat D. Jap, Ruby Barclay, Bobbie Pittman, Nancy Owen, Joan Southern, Dohna Cowser, Joyce Potter, and the hostess.

The next meeting of the club will be Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock at the home of Joan Southern. This is a called meeting to make plans for a trip to Amarillo.

Have Plastic Party At Springer Home

By Mrs. Owen Andrews
Special Correspondent
Mr. and Mrs. Seigler, of Wellington, brought their grandson, Clifton Warrick, of San Antonio to see his other grandparents, the J. E. Warricks on Wednesday. Clifton will remain for several days with the Warricks.

Attending a 'Plastic party' at the home of Mrs. W. A. Springer Thursday were Mesdames: Henry Andrews, Fred Axe, A. T. Jones, Elbert Summers of Hart, Mrs. Creek of Hart, Mrs. Watts of Hereford, the demonstrator, and the hostess, Mrs. Springer.

Visitors in the W. A. Springer home Friday and Saturday were Twila and Sue Springer of Hereford, daughters of the J. E. Springers, who were visiting Mrs. Springer's sister-in-law in the Hale Center hospital Friday. The sister-in-law, Mrs. Esther Nafzger, has been seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Summers and children and Mr. and Mrs. Creek, all of Hart, were Sunday visitors in the W. A. Springer home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Benson and daughters spent Monday and Tuesday at Pampa visiting Mrs. Benson's relatives. Genevieve remained for a longer visit there.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond White and family were visiting relatives in Oklahoma last week.

Mrs. L. Juana Davenport and daughter, Frances Jo of Midland spent this past week with Mrs. Davenport's parents, the C. N. McClures. Little Miss Sharon Mills, who has spent the past six weeks with her grandparents, the McClures, went back to her home at Midland when her mother, Mrs. John Mills, came for her Sunday.

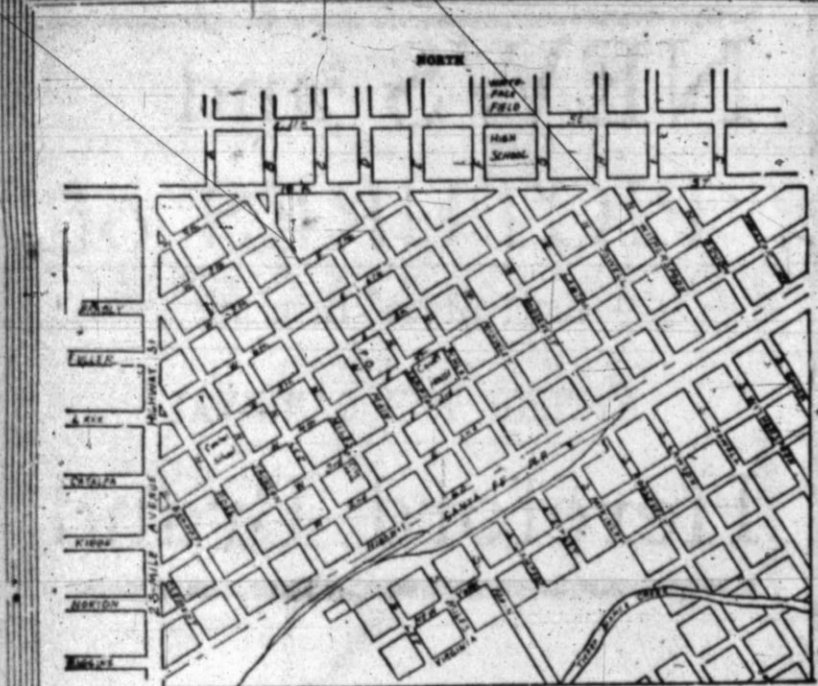

Mr. and Mrs. Razz Irwin and family, who have been visiting the Leonard Irwins, returned to their home in California, leaving on Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry Andrews entertained her relatives last week end.

North West Texas Hospital. Mrs. Lemke is well pleased with her improvement and is looking forward to being able to sit up in about two weeks.

Mrs. E. H. Mosteller and Jean Finley visited Arthur Jewett in St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Saturday. There is a great improvement in his condition. He expected to be able to return home one day this past week.

Mr. F. M. Brown and son, Billy Don, attended the Western Cattle Auction Sale in Amarillo Monday.

Mrs. M. F. Loveless took her daughter, Roberta Larsen, to Amarillo Saturday to board a plane for Seattle, Washington where her father was to meet her.

Those of Adrian who went swimming at the Youth Center in Amarillo were Max Reno, Erma Lou Jordan, Doris and Wesley Story, Pearlina Schuyler, Wilbur Harris, Billy Mack Briggs, Judy Nell Tomlinson, and Marvalene and Bobby Allen. Parents who accompanied them were Mr. and Mrs. Weldon G. Reno and Mrs. A. H. Paik.

Mr. and Mrs. John Horton took their small son, Michael, to a doctor in Amarillo Wednesday of last week. He was suffering with a sore throat.

Mrs. G. S. Grubbs and son, Perry Dale, attended the Soap Box Derby in Amarillo Sunday. They visited Mrs. Grubbs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wood. Her brother, Billy Wood, came home with her to help out on the farm.

Those of Adrian who attended a rodeo in Claude over the weekend were Walter Ray Jackson, Wilbur and Bascom Harris, Wilbur and Bascom (once lived in Claude).

Rita, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Coel, is on the sick list at present. Hope she is better soon.

Lumber has been purchased to build a 6x10 foot store room on the back of the Star Cafe. Don Morgan and Jackie Gainer will do the work.

Mrs. Elmer Weidner and children left Saturday by train from Amarillo for Oregon where they will visit her parents for the rest of the summer. Mr. Weidner is harvesting in Colorado.

Those of Adrian who recently visited relatives near Morrilton, Arkansas were Mrs. D. C. Banks and Barbara Dee Mrs. Frank Reed and Ronda, Mrs. Schmitt Lewis and Charles Banks. They visited Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Slaton. Mrs. Slaton is also Mrs. Banks' sister and Mrs. Lewis' aunt.

few year's absence is Mrs. Ed Hayes with her husband and children. Mrs. Hayes is the former Helen Rogers, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Gudwell. Mrs. Hayes lived in California and has been there since. She is again employed at the "66" cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jordan and Mrs. Lou Mr. A. G. Jordan and Mrs. Edna Allen went Sunday to visit Mrs. Jordan's mother, Mrs. Apple Garrett and in most her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rankin and family in Clinton, who were also visiting in Sudan.

Those who attended the luncheon in Amarillo were Mrs. M. F. Loveless, Mrs. Apple Garrett and in most her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Rankin and family in Clinton, who were also visiting in Sudan.

LET'S COOK

er except adding the cream. Mix all the other ingredients and let mixture partially freeze in trays, and then add the cream which has been whipped and seasoned to taste.

For the Deep-Freeze

If you want to prepare a really delightful summer treat, hollow out a sponge cake, baked in angel food pan, and fill with the frozen Lemon Delight. Place in deep freeze until time for use. Serve on chilled dessert plates with an iced drink and if you are in a festive mood, add a rosebud for color.

Another delightful combination is angel food cake sliced crosswise in three parts, using the Lemon Delight between the layers and covering sides and top with whipped cream, flavored and sweetened to taste. Place cake in deep-freeze and when frozen it is ready for use. This cake may be made several weeks in advance of the party date.

If you prefer orange to lemon, use orange jello, with orange juice or lime juice, with ginger ale.

Mrs. J. W. Kirby's Ice Cream
Here is a recipe for ice cream using evaporated milk that fills warm weather needs. It's simple enough for the teen-age girl to prepare, yet good enough for the entire family to enjoy.

- 1 can evaporated milk
 - 2 fresh eggs
 - 1/2 cup Karo
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1 teaspoon flavoring
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- See refrigerator control to coldest point and put evaporated milk in trays to chill. Beat eggs thoroughly, add Karo and sugar gradually and add lemon juice and flavoring. Remove milk from tray to large bowl and whip until stiff. Add to beaten egg mixture and return to trays to freeze. When cream is partially frozen remove from refrigerator to chilled bowl and whip up again. Return to trays and allow to freeze. (If a richer cream is desired a cup of whipped cream may be added before returning cream to trays). When cream is frozen return the controls to normal.

RFN GUILI SAYS:

Farm Support Brings Forward Farm Control

This news report is of vital importance to every farmer in the entire district. Read it carefully and call the attention of your friends to the following words and discuss it at length.

There was some dissatisfaction with the meeting held in Amarillo two weeks ago. I think you must be coming to the conclusion that any time your crops are supported you must have some kind of control. Now, what I want to say is this; I am not arguing either in favor of controls or against them, but under supports and controls the farmer has apparently prospered. We don't want 25c wheat again, nor do we want 4c and 5c cotton. I am not the one to say that we shall have no controls and until I can get a complete report from the people will I ever vote to withdraw any price supports, but remember, with supports there must be controls.

As I have stated, there was dissatisfaction over the meeting held in Amarillo, but since that meeting the Department of Agriculture has announced a new wheat allotment for the coming year and with the raising of that allotment the biggest problem of both summer fallow farmers and fence to fence farmers will be partially settled.

Now, here is the most important item of what I have to report to you. Under the proposed formula that will be set up by the Department of Agriculture, which will be called the 95-105% Formula, the Panhandle of Texas will receive a greater wheat allotment than they did in 1950. To quickly explain the 95-105% Formula: It means that no county shall get less than 95% or more than 105% of its 1950 allotment. It looks today, from reports of the wheat sub-committee of the House, Agriculture Committee, that the Panhandle of Texas will receive 103% of its 1950 allotment. However, note carefully, 1951 acreage allotment in each county must be worked out by the PMA Committeemen on the fairest basis possible. The 1951 acreage allotment of each independent

Employees Are Entertained

Employees of the Hereford Butant Gas Company were entertained at a picnic supper and wiener roast in Veteran's Park Saturday night with Jimmie Allred and R. C. Anderson, owners, as hosts.

At the conclusion of the picnic supper, frezzerice cream and cake were served and outdoor diversion was enjoyed.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lee and Gladys, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Helmke, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Shaw and Louise, Cathy and Mary Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred, Marlene, Clydene and Lynton, and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson and their children, Harold and Camella Ann.

Gift Party Given For Mrs. Brinkman

Mrs. Frank Brinkman was named honoree at a gift courtesy given in the home of Mrs. Frank Wilde Thursday afternoon with Mesdames Wilde, Fred Saltzman, Dudley Rutherford, Otto Olson, Paul Hoff and Mary Bodkin serving as hostesses. Mrs. Paul Hoff was in charge of an appropriate program. Gifts were opened and refreshments were served to Mesdames: H. D. Pcardman, Louie Olson, H. E. Pettyjohn, W. H. Russell, L. C. Jenkins, C. L. Whitehead, R. E. Barrett, Fred Barrett, the honoree and the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Edwards and daughter of San Angelo are visiting Mrs. Edwards' mother, Mrs. Eddie Mathis.

Card of Thanks

I take this means to thank the people of Hereford and Deaf Smith County for your support and will serve you to the best of my ability, which I think I am better qualified to do than ever before. When I can be of service to you call on me.

Yours truly,
A. L. Thomas—for better government and law enforcement.

WAGES MEETS

"A Story of Israel" was the topic of the lesson presented by the Adrian Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service by Mrs. Robert Crenshaw at the Tuesday meeting.

The society met as usual in Fellowship Hall with Mrs. V. E. Fenske, president, presiding. The house came to order with the reading of a poem, followed by the reading of the minutes. Roll call was answered by majority verse of scripture. A business session followed in which a plan was discussed for the 70th Anniversary of which the Adrian Society will be the hostess August 15. Plans for entertaining the Willadora Society on Visitation Day were discussed. The date set for this was August 8 with the removal of the Willadora Society.

Members present were Mesdames: V. E. Lemke, Henry Crepe, Lavinia Grell, Genae Baker, H. Mosteller, F. N. Jacobson, N. L. Jacobson, Robert Crenshaw, B. E. Witt and P. H. Grubbsky.

CALL THEM TOM AND JERRY FOR A COUPLE OF SLUG'S OLD PALS.

I SUPPOSE SIMIL & ANO FACSIMILE IS GETTING TOO TECHNICAL!

IF THEY WERE PUPPIES, SHE COULD CALL THEM CUR AND RECUR.

IF THEY WERE MINE, I'D NAME 'EM MORRIS AND REMORSE!

COME ON, GRANDPA, WE NEED YOU IN THE PICTURE!

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, GRANOPA? I'M ONLY THEIR UNCLE - AND BY MARRIAGE!

IT'S BETTER THAN WORKING ON MYSTERIES! I LIKE TO GET OUT IN THE SUNSHINE!

DON'T YOU GET TIRED OF SHOOTING BABY PICTURES?

I TELL YOU, ALICE, THEY WERE THAT BIG AROUND AND WENT RIGHT PAST ME AT TEN THOUSAND FEET!

WHAT WERE YOU DOING AT TEN THOUSAND FEET?

SLUG'S BEEN A PAPA FOR A WHOLE WEEK... HE OUGHT TO BE SETTLING DOWN A BIT.

Prince Valiant

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR
by HAROLD R. FOSTER

Synopsis: TWO KINGS AND THEIR OFFICERS ARE LOCKED IN ENDLESS DEBATE OVER TERMS OF PEACE. TWO QUEENS AND THEIR BABIES ESTABLISH FRIENDLY RELATIONS AT ONCE. BUT ALETA IS AT WORK; SHE HAS MORE IN MIND THAN PLEASANT CONVERSATION.

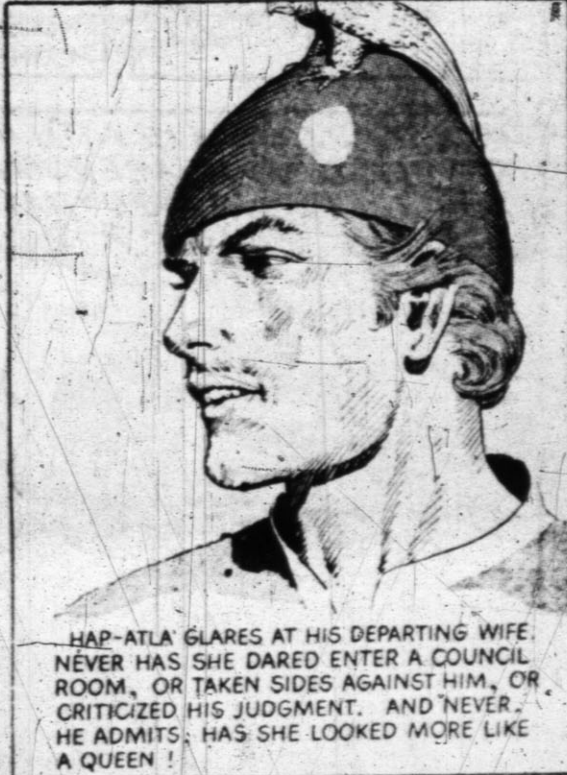

"PESTILENCE AND FAMINE FOLLOW WARS," SHE REMARKS. "WE ARE FORTUNATE. OUR BABIES ARE PRINCES AND WILL BE FED, BUT OTHERS WILL STARVE THAT THEY MAY LIVE!"

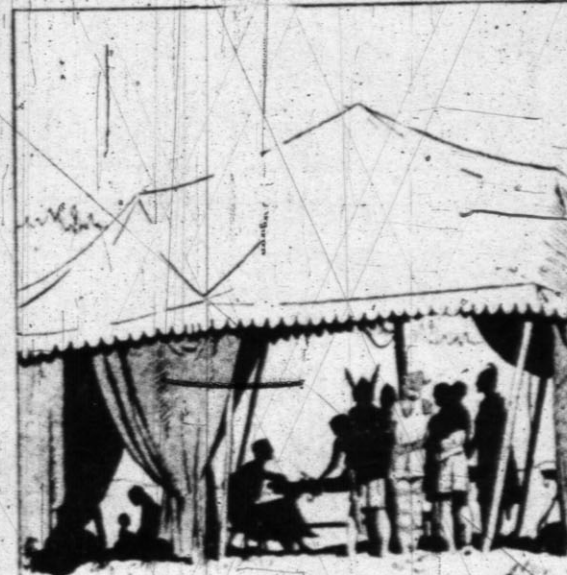

"COME, WE WILL GIVE THEM SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT!" AND ALETA LEADS THE WAY INTO THE COUNCIL. GRIM SILENCE GREETED THIS GREAT IMPERTINENCE.

SHE LOOKS VERY SWEET AND FEMININE AS SHE SMILES INTO EACH WARRIOR'S EYES, BUT HER VOICE CUTS LIKE A WHIP:—"CALL YOURSELVES MEN?" SHE ASKS. "BARGAINING LIKE SO MANY HUCKSTERS WHILE YOUR FLOCKS GO UNTENDED, YOUR FIELDS UNTILLED! AY! YOU BE SPLENDID WARRIORS WHEN THE TRUMPETS SOUND AND YOU GO SHOUTING INTO BATTLE, BUT WHEN FAMINE COMES THIS WINTER AND YOUR FAMILIES STARVE, WHEN YOUR BABIES DIE, THEN LOOK INTO THE EYES OF YOUR WOMEN-FOLK AND ASK, 'WHERE IS THE WARRIOR'S GLORY NOW?'"

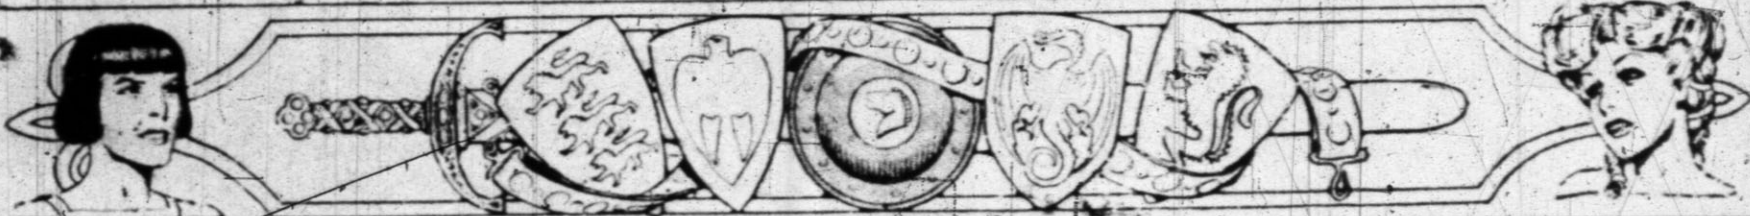

HAP-ATLA GLARES AT HIS DEPARTING WIFE. NEVER HAS SHE DARED ENTER A COUNCIL ROOM, OR TAKEN SIDES AGAINST HIM, OR CRITICIZED HIS JUDGMENT. AND NEVER HE ADMITS. HAS SHE LOOKED MORE LIKE A QUEEN!

THEN THE CAPTAINS GO BACK TO THEIR HAGGLING... BUT, SOMEHOW, IT ALL BEGINS TO SEEM FUTILE, CHILDISH. AS IF A GRAIN OF PLAIN HONESTY MIGHT SETTLE EVERYTHING!

NEXT WEEK - Hap-Atla Enters the Castle.

MANDRAKE

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

THE "GHOST WHALE," SECRET CRAFT OF THE GHOST PIRATES -- IS ACTUALLY A SUBMARINE BUILT ON TOP OF IT!

UNDERSTAND, LOTHAR? THIS IS REALLY A SUB--WE'RE ON TOP OF IT, INSIDE THE "WHALE'S" MOUTH! THE PIRATES RAM A SHIP WITH THE "WHALE"--THEN ATTACK!

WATER LEAKS RAPIDLY INTO THE "WHALE'S" SUPERSTRUCTURE

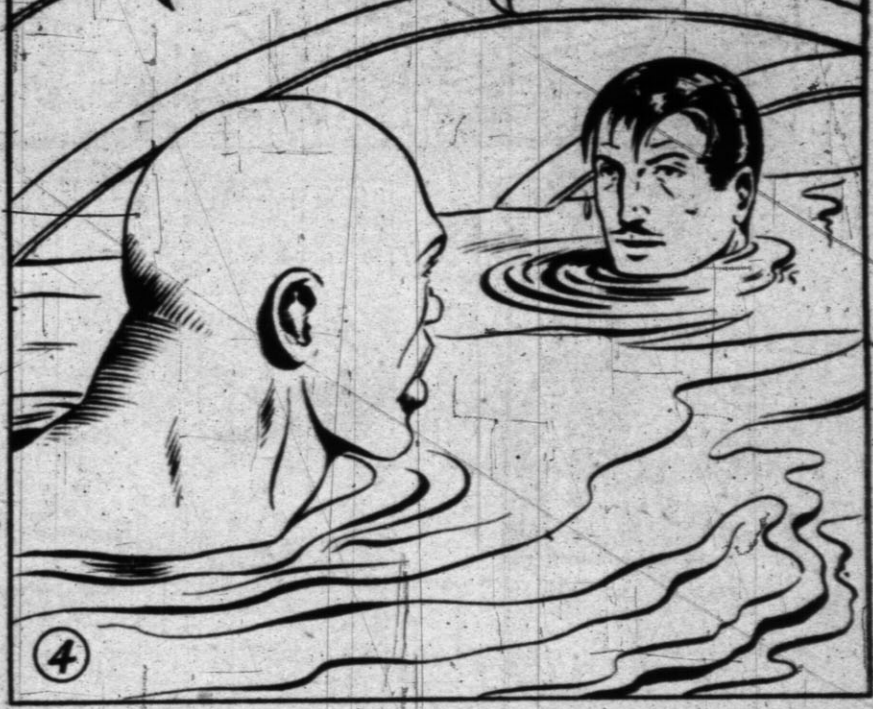

FILLING UP WITH WATER!

THIS TOP PORTION ISN'T AS WATERTIGHT AS THE SUBMARINE ITSELF!

WHAT US--blub--DO?

WHAT CAN WE DO? WE'RE TRAPPED UNLESS THE SUB GOES TO THE SURFACE--WE'LL DROWN!

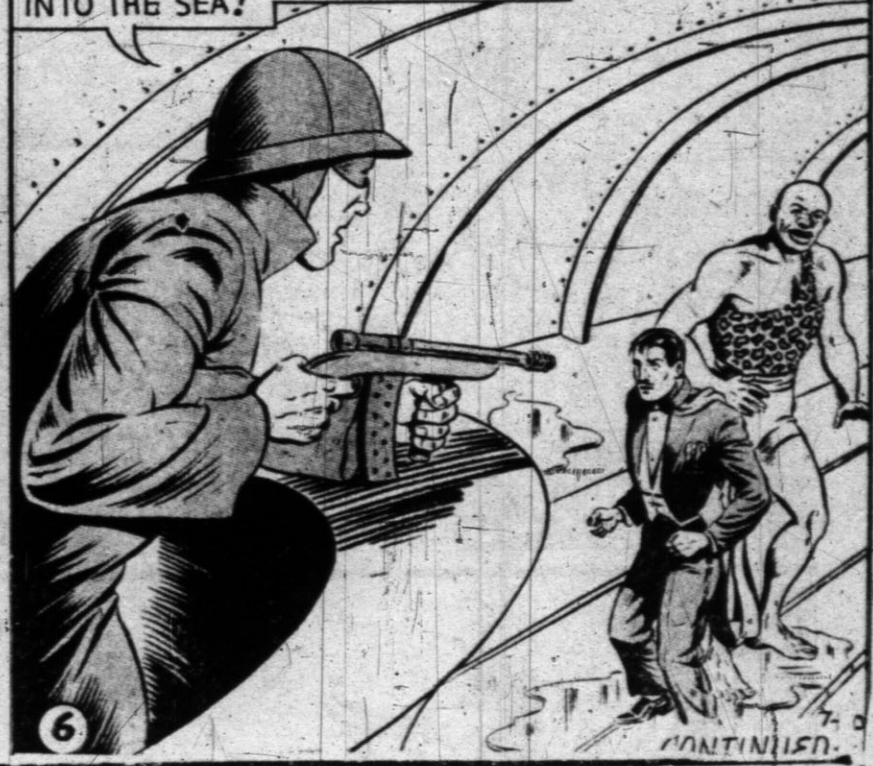

SUDDENLY, THE SUB TILTS, THE WATER DRAINS RAPIDLY FROM THE "WHALE" STRUCTURE--AND THE HATCH OPENS.

WE SAW YOU FOLLOW US! WE WENT DOWN, JUST TO GIVE YOU TWO A SCARE!

WE'VE NO ROOM FOR PRISONERS! WE MUST KILL YOU AND DUMP YOU INTO THE SEA!

RUSTY RILEY by FRANK GODWIN

DOC... AND YOU TOO, RUSTY... DON'T SAY A WORD ABOUT HILLBILLY BEING SICK... JUST ACT AS IF NOTHIN' HAPPENED... ..UNDERSTAND?

OF COURSE I'LL DO AS YOU SAY... BUT I CAN'T SAY I UNDERSTAND WHAT'S IT ABOUT, TEX!

WELL, LET'S JUST RIDE HERD ON THE FACTS... HILLBILLY'S A DURN GOOD-LOOKIN' HORSE AN' HE'S TEMPORARILY LIVIN' IN BIG BLAZE'S STALL... AN' HE'S GETTIN' HIS FEED OUT O' BLAZE'S PAIL... SAVVY?

HOLY SMOKE, TEX! YOU MEAN THAT SOMEBODY IS TRYING TO KEEP BLAZE OUT OF THE SELBY CUP RACE?

THAT'S THE ONLY WAY I CAN FIGGER IT.. AN' I AIM TO PUT A BRAND ON THE VARMINT.. THAT'S WHY I WANT TO KEEP IT QUIET 'TIL HE TIPS HIS HAND!

JUST KEEP ON LIKE NOTHIN' AT ALL HAPPENED... AN' BE SPECIAL ATTENTIVE TO ALLERDYCE AN' HIS WIFE.. JUST DO ANYTHIN' THEY ASK.

SURE, TEX!

RUSTY, IF THE HUNT CLUB CROWD IS BACK AT THE HOUSE, ASK MR. MILES TO COME DOWN TO THE TACK ROOM... THEN YOU GO OVER TO THE OTHER BARN WHERE BIG BLAZE IS AN' KEEP YOUR EYE ON HIM!

OKAY, TEX... BUT YOU LOOK AFTER HILLBILLY.

'SCUSE ME, SIR, BUT TEX SAYS COULD YOU PLEASE COME TO THE TACK ROOM? IT'S IMPORTANT.

HE WANTS TO SEE ME NOW? HM-M!... IT MUST BE IMPORTANT. ALL RIGHT, RUSTY.. I'LL BE RIGHT OVER!

WHAT'S THE MATTER, TEX? IT MUST BE SOMETHING SERIOUS TO CALL ME AWAY FROM MY GUESTS!

IT IS SERIOUS, BOSS. THERE'S SOMETHIN' POWERFUL QUEER GOIN' ON.. I CAN'T PUT THE FINGER ON ANYBODY YET, BUT I MUST HAVE YOUR PERMISSION FOR MY PLAN... IT'S THIS...

I CAN'T FIGURE THIS, GOLDY... BIG BLAZE 'GUGHT TO BE SHOWING THE EFFECTS OF THAT STUFF BY NOW, BUT I HAVEN'T HEARD A THING ABOUT IT.. I'LL HAVE TO DOPE OUT SOME WAY TO GET THAT KID RUSTY AWAY LONG ENOUGH TO SEE FOR MYSELF!

LEAVE THAT TO ME, TAFFY.. I'VE GOT SOME PRIVATE PLANS FOR THAT YOUNG NUISANCE... AND WHEN I GET THROUGH, YOUR UNCLE QUENTIN MILES ISN'T GOING TO THINK HE'S SUCH AN ANGEL!
