Around Town

SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

If you're thinking of fishing for crapple—and they'll be biting soon—you'd better have another thought. Reason: There just aren't any minnows. This is true all over the county and, according to Clarence Schulz, is due to the heavy rains and swollen streams. The minnow sales points at Umbarger Lake have been closed several days, as have other minnow deals. Schulz says their place operated six weeks on tank stock and they have tried in vain to secure minnows from distant points. Furthermore, crapple are reluctant to take any bait except minnows. It's a typical fisherman's tale of woe.

Notice to Odd Fellows. The Hereford Encampment No. 56, IOOF, will entertain at Dimmitt next Wednesday night, August 30, all Hereford and Dimmitt members and guests. Music and speaking are included on the program, along with refreshments.

Jim Connell, the blonde haired typewriter man who calls in Hereford frequently, overturned his large truck near Perryton Friday night. Jim was able to walk away, but the truck was badly damaged. Fast driving and loose sand were cited as cause of the accident.

Now we know. Lt. Clifford Estes' new daughter, born in Lengries, Germany July 31, was named Juliet Elizabeth. They tried to call Grandpa Cliff over the telephone, but the connection was bad and Cliff was excited. He said: "I couldn't understand. It sounded like they were saying 'cigarettes'—but that would be a mighty poor name for a girl. Clifford, incidentally, is stationed on the old Goering estate, which boasted a large game preserve. Recently, he went trout fishing and hooked two 14-inch beauties on one cast.

Mrs. Leona Blood recently released a 24-page booklet covering new fall styles for her Wonderland Children's Shop. The booklet is probably the first of its type ever presented in this area and compares favorably with large city releases, containing individual sketches of numerous pieces. Art work was done by Mrs. Bill Wolfe, who also helped edit the booklet. Congratulations Mrs. Blood and Mrs. Wolfe for a job well done.

Lyle Blanton and Curtis Tra-week returned Thursday from Oklahoma City, where they flew George Strange for examination by bone specialists. They made the trip in slightly more than two hours each way.

E. A. Wells, secretary of El Paso Scottish Rite, will be in Hereford Thursday for a joint REGISTRATION kept local Jaycees busy most of Saturday afternoon. The above scene was snapped at the registration desk. A total of 225 delegates had registered Saturday night including delegations from Amarillo, Littlefield, Levelland, Abertown, Abilene, Borger, Kerrville, Dalhart, Floydada, Grand Prairie, Lubbock, Plainview, Odessa, Pampa, Tulla, New Braunfels and Sweetwater.

"We Could Save Millions" Sheppard Tells Jaycees

A brief musical skit featuring take-off on various Panhandle towns was given with a pungent speech by John Ben Sheppard for spotlight place at the Jaycee banquet here Saturday night. The banquet was high mark of social activities for the bi-regional convention.

Sheppard, secretary of state and secretary of the Texas Economy Commission, declared that literally billions of dollars could have been saved if suggestions resulting from a study of the state government in 1933 had been adopted.

In Texas, he pointed out, there are more than 230 different accounts, and money cannot be transferred from one to another. Thus, a special tax may be necessary when there is more than $100,000 in the treasury.

The state has 51 different kinds of inspectors, seven or eight may be in the same town at the same time.

"Twenty-seven states are now in the process of streamlining their governmental machinery," he declared. "But Texas will never have an efficient government until the demand for it comes from the forks of the creeks."

Loan Rate of $1.05 Set Here on Corn

A loan rate of one dollar and five cents per bushel will be received on corn by Deaf Smith County farmers until October 1, when a new rate will be set by the department of agriculture.

This information was received Thursday by the Deaf Smith Production and Marketing Administration.

The loan rate is standard for non-commercial areas. It is 75 per cent of the national rate of $1.40 last year, which was 90 per cent of parity.

Thus Deaf Smith County farmers will be loaned 67.5 per cent of parity.

There are also allotments on corn, but this does not apply to non-commercial areas such as this. Last year there was a loan rate on corn, but no allotment.

There is reason to believe the loan rate will be higher than $1.05 in October, when parity will be determined in dollars and cents. Parity, which is based on what the farmer buys, is going up, and the loan rate will rise with it, many people believe.

Also, there is a possibility that this will be declared a commercial area, because of the increased corn acreage. This would bring allotments of corn, but it would also bring the full loan rate, Faust Collier pointed out.

Estimates of the possible price farmers would receive on the market for their corn varied widely when The Brand called grain dealers. The main question was whether or not the local market could absorb the supply. One dealer did not believe farmers had much chance of a price higher than the loan rate. He pointed out that several times as much corn was planted this year as has been planted any previous year. At the other end of the scale, another dealer thought that the local market would take care of the entire yield, since most of the corn used here, is now imported from Nebraska.

Hereford Golfers Win J-C Tourney

Hereford won the first annual JayCee Bi-Regional golf tournament here Saturday afternoon—by two points, totaling 315 points. Field was second with 317 points and Amarillo was third with 328 points.

Playing on the Hereford team were Paul Conaway, Bill Howard, Stan Barrett and Jerry Stoltz.

Welcome Jaycees

Sunday's schedule begins with a breakfast from 8 till 9, followed by a meditation from 9 to 9:15. Business meetings last from 9:15 till 12, when the convention ends.

Two Injured In Collision

Jessie Ortiz, 24, Daniel Flores, 16, and Earl Lowery, 29, all of Hereford, were placed in the Deaf Smith County hospital Thursday afternoon as the result of a two-car wreck about six miles south of Hereford on the old Dimmitt highway in front of the Frank Knabe place.

Clyde Bast was in bed at home with a wrenched back as a result of the same wreck.

Ortiz has a fractured pelvis. Flores has a broken back. Both were doing fairly well Saturday, according to Dr. Lewis B. Barnett, who is in charge of their cases. Lowery was released Friday.

Ortiz and Flores were riding in the same car with Antonio Garcia Reyes, who was driving. The car was headed east.

Bast, with his son, Tommy, and Earl Lowery, his cousin, were headed north.

An ambulance summoned from the Gilliland Funeral Home took Reyes, Flores, Ortiz, Clyde Bast, and Lowery to the Deaf Smith County hospital.

Bast and Reyes were examined and discharged.

TWO CARS DAMAGED—TWO MEN SERIOUSLY INJURED! Above pictures were made following collision of two cars at the dirt road intersection in front of the Frank Knabe place, six miles south of town. Clyde Bast is seen standing beside his wrecked car, left. Two men in the other car, Jessie Ortiz and Daniel Flores, are still confined to the hospital, but are not considered in dangerous condition. Bast, a war veteran, said his back was hurt when he was flung from the car by the impact.

Protestant Women To Meet Tuesday

The United Council of Church Women will meet Tuesday, August 29, at the Christian Church at 3:00 o'clock for their regular meeting. The program will be on leprosy. Dr. M. W. Nobles will speak.

All Protestant women are invited.

Increased consumption of milk by city people would be a big step toward improving their diets. In 1948 sixty per cent of all city families were using less than five quarts or its equivalent per person per week.

During the business meeting officers for the coming year will be elected and the schedule of future meetings will be outlined.

Fish supplies the same high quality protein that is found in other meats and is an easily digested food. Most fish provide the consumer with vitamins A and B and the salmon and mackerel also contain the recently discovered vitamin D.

Demand Merits Repeat Of Recipe For Banana Cake

Here is a recipe we used in the Hereford Brand Cook Book but so many requests have come in for a banana cake recipe that we thought it would please the readers to print this one again.
Mrs. G. A. F. Parker, until ill health prevented, was one of Hereford's most gracious hostesses, entertaining often and well. She used this recipe for banana cake over and over again and because it was such a favorite through the years, we are giving it a repeat performance.

Bananas are now at their best which of course, makes the cake just that much better.

Moist Banana Cake
3/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1/2 cup sour milk
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
3 cups cake flour (sifted)
1 cup mashed bananas
1 cup ground pecans
Cream butter and sugar together and add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add the soda to the milk and the baking powder to the flour and then add the two mixtures alternately to the butter and sugar mixture, beginning and ending with the flour. Add the mashed bananas and ground pecans and bake in two layers in a moderate 375° F oven.

Use your favorite icing to which has been added 12 chopped marshmallows. You can cut this cake as soon as it is stacked and it is wonderful while hot.

Irrigation Wells Running 24 Hours Day To Save Feed

By WILMA MARIE MOORE
 Brand Correspondent
 No rain has fallen in the past few days, so the farmers are still running their irrigation wells day and night in order to help the feed some. The good weather these three days has helped considerably.

A tractor over-turned on Mr. E. V. Cartwright Thursday afternoon while climbing a hill south of Wildorado. He is suffering a broken left arm and hip in St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo. Our sympathy goes to him and we are sure that he would appreciate a visit from his neighbors of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Moore from Kress visited in the home of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tooley, Thursday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Allred, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howell, and Danita Allred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allred drove to Lamesa Sunday morning where they attended the wedding of Miss Jo McCullough.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Killebrew from Claude visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. Zelma Axe, Tuesday night.

The Ladies Home Demonstration Club of this community had an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Byron Campbell Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Myers and Mrs. W. R. Moore and children attended the wedding of Miss Mary Jo Tomlinson to Richmond Halles in Canyon Friday night. Mrs. J. F. Matthews attended the wedding of Miss Mary Jo Tomlinson Friday night after having dinner with a friend in Canyon.

A week end guest of Miss Neta Jo Moore was Davis Harrell who is attending Wayland College in Plainview.

Mesdames: Mrs. Uva Hargett, White House Demonstrator; Mrs. Belton Finney, of the Adrian community; Mrs. Ruth Dygert, Raton; Mrs. Dick Allred, Mrs. Glenn Allred, Mrs. Dorothy Gill, Mrs. Ervin Shugart, Canyon; and Carolyn, Mrs. J. Minor, Mrs. Buck McGaughy and Betty Lou, attended a White House party in the home of Mrs. W. R. Moore Friday afternoon.

There was an attendance of 57 in church Sunday. This coming Friday is the starting night for the revival at the Palo Duro Baptist Church. It will last one week closing next Sunday night. Everyone has a cordial invitation to attend this revival.

Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Helman of Los Angeles, Calif.; Sister Jeanne of Little Rock, Arkansas and Mr. and Mrs. Florence Helman of Amarillo.

Mrs. Seigler Is Honored On Birthday

Mrs. W. M. Stovall and Mrs. George Muse honored Mrs. Mary Seigler at a surprise birthday party Thursday afternoon, given at the home of Mrs. Stovall. Canasta games provided entertainment in rooms decorated throughout with mixed bouquets of midsummer blossoms.

Those present at the birthday courtesy were: the honoree and Mesdames, W. E. Dameron, A. M. Jones, C. B. Williams, A. C. Thompson, J. E. Beyer, Tom Alderson, R. G. Blue, C. R. Smith, P. W. Ridgway of Fort Worth, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Kellar Muse, and the hostesses.

Miss Marilyn Sutton, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Newell, this summer, plans to return to her home in Texas City this week end. Her mother, Mrs. Louise Sutton and brother, Allen, arrived Monday and will return to their home with her.

Plans for fall activities were made and a program committee was named to plan the year's work for the association. Those named to the committee were Mrs. J. C. McCracken, chairman; Mrs. Jim Bookout and Mrs. J. I. Findley.

The group decided to recommend to the Horizon and Camp Fire Groups that each group adopt a Bluebird group as little sisters.

Plans for the annual grand council fire were discussed and a tentative date set for the second week in October. Mrs. Elmer Patterson, Mrs. Louis Woodford and Mrs. Bob Wilson will serve on that committee to make arrangements.

It was decided to hold a Thanksgiving Fair in late November when the handcraft and other work done by the Camp Fire Girls groups will be displayed. The next meeting of the Camp Fire Leaders Association will be held at the hut on the first Friday in October.

Dimmitt Ropers Win First Place Here Friday Night

Hereford took second place to Dimmitt in the roping Friday night. Dimmitt also took first in the jackpot roping afterward. Friona did not place in the roping, but a Friona man was in the draw for second place in the jackpot roping.

About 100 spectators watched from the stands. An unknown number sat in their cars to watch.

Dub Windows and Leroy Cates, Dimmitt, placed first in the roping. Windows also took first in the jackpot lassoing.

Spicer Gripp and Jack Streun, Hereford, took second.

Friona failed to place when Everett Horner, Friona, quit in disgust after missing too many loops. Experienced ropers consider Horner an excellent roper and believe last night's failure an "off" night.

However, Horner went on to a drawn second place with Streun. Rather than rope more to break the tie, the two of them split the money.

Johnny Hands, Friona, made the best time of the evening, tying his calf in 15.2 seconds.

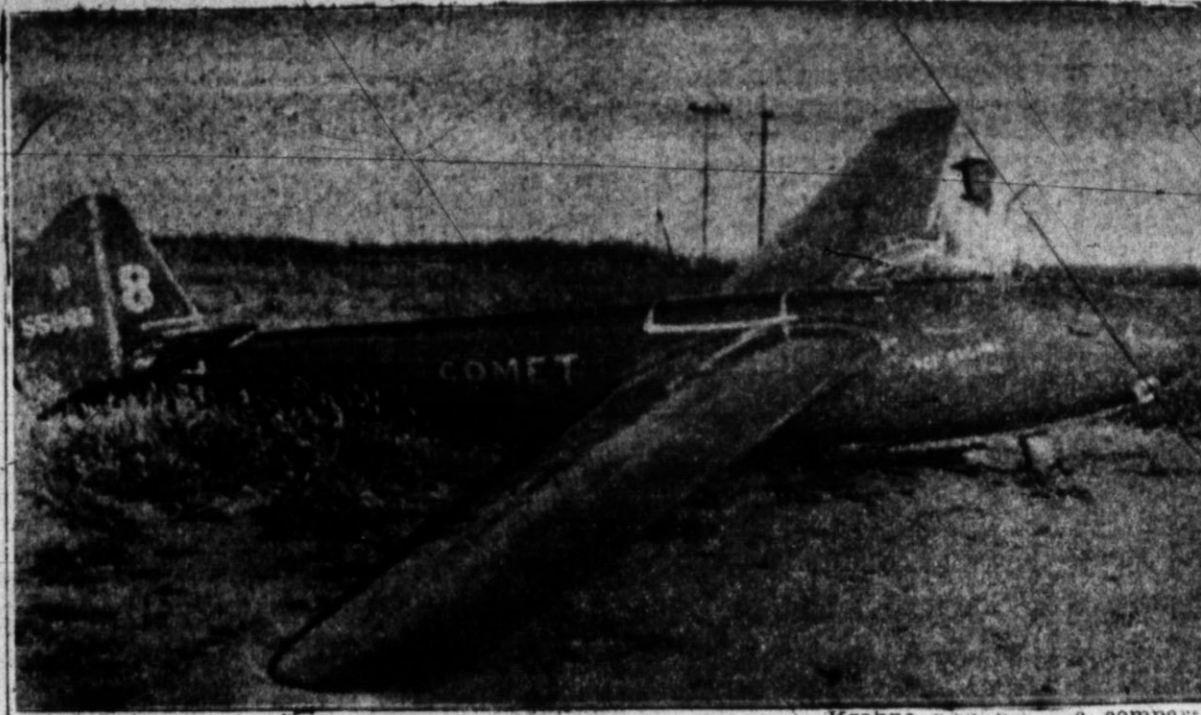

Wester Funeral Held At Salina

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wester and children have returned from Salina where they attended funeral services for his father, T. J. Wester, Tuesday. Mr. Wester was stabbed while sitting in a car in Dallas Monday morning. No motive for the stabbing was given.

Mr. Wester, 66, had made his home in Hereford on several occasions, leaving Hereford two years ago for Salina. While in Hereford he was associated with his son in cement construction.

Besides H. E. Wester, he is survived by two other sons, Charles of Van Alstyne and Don Wester of San Diego, California, and several grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wester had started on a vacation trip to California and received the news at Carlsbad, N. M. where they were going through the caverns.

'Golden C' Given Hereford Landing

One of the happiest men who ever "sat down" at Clover airport was Walter J. "Pop" Krohne of Sanford, Florida, when he eased his 50-foot glider to rest here at 5:45 Friday afternoon.

His face wreathed in smiles, Pop went down in history as the forty-seventh man in the United States to qualify for the coveted "Golden C" among glider pilots. Despite his 61 years of age, Krohne climbed into his bright red glider at Odessa, Texas, and at 12:15 Friday afternoon took off for parts unknown.

The landing at Hereford at 5:45 gave him a total of exactly five hours to make the 225 mile trip. He said that a non-stop flight of 187 miles was required to qualify for the Golden C award.

"I was really shooting at Amarillo, but wind conditions were unfavorable and I saw the Hereford port, so I decided to call it a day," said Krohne. Mrs. Krohne was expected to arrive at any time, he continued. She is also a glider enthusiast and follows Pop on most of his flights. At each town Mrs. Krohne called back to Odessa to find out if Pop had landed.

"I imagine she called back at Plainview and found that I sat down here at Hereford," he said. The Krohnes came from Florida to Grand Prairie to enter the National Glider contests, he said. Krohne had hoped to qualify for the Golden C at this meeting, but weather conditions were not favorable and no entries qualified.

"We had a good friend at Odessa, so we just went out there and I have been waiting several days to make this particular flight."

Made His Own Plane
Krohne, incidentally, wound up in tenth place in the Nationals, competing with 60 pilots, who flew 41 gliders.

The Krohne glider was made personally by Pop, assisted by friends. He says most competition gliders are made by the contestants and that he gets a real kick out of flying a plane which he designed and constructed.

"In fact, that's why I didn't enter the Internationals at Switzerland, this year," he said. "My plane wasn't finished, and I just couldn't find it in my heart to fly a foreign made ship."

In constructing his ship, Krohne also made a compartment for his wife and they both often fly together. He expects the international contests to be held in the United States in 1952 and says that he will be in there "soaring" to bring top honors to this country.

Gilding, he considers a most interesting hobby. He further said that this country was ideal, "because it is arid and affords numerous thermals," which was the reason he chose this section to make an attempt for his Golden C pin.

"I circled the field, then flew over town several times," Krohne said.

Distributive Education Topic

Sam Henry, director of distributive education in the Hereford High school, discussed this new phase of education before the Kiwanis Club in its regular meeting Thursday in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel.

He presented the idea from the viewpoint of the student, who is acquiring a practical skill toward making a living while he completes his formal education.

Most students never go to college, Henry pointed out. But the vocational training provides a better background for college education, too, he added.

Barbara McGee was presented with a compact as a parting gift from Kiwanis club by Bob Wear, president of Kiwanis and Church of Christ pastor.

Barbara, chosen Kiwanis sweetheart, has played the piano during Kiwanis luncheons during the summer. She is leaving for college shortly, and this was her last appearance at club meetings.

Pat Sullivan, assistant high school principal, will be in charge of the program next Thursday.

Guests at the luncheon were Don Boles, new manager of station KPAN, Boots Hulsey, new manager of Furr Food store, and Mutt Wheeler, partner in the barber shop of the Jim Hill hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hadfield of Denver, Colorado are spending Sunday and Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Roland. They are on their way to Greenville, for a short visit.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago

On Monday, September 4 the session of 1905-1906 of the Hereford public school was to begin. A full crop of teachers had been employed, all necessary repairs made and nothing remained in the way of an auspicious opening.

George Irwin purchased the D. C. Cashion section located six miles southeast of Hereford and belonging to C. B. Oxendine. This was considered a very choice section.

Impromptu Party

At a late hour on Monday afternoon, several members of Hereford's "Jollification Club" applied to Mr. and Mrs. Dodson for a party at their home that evening. A reluctant consent being at length obtained, by nine o'clock about 25 lads and lasses had found a ready and genial welcome into this hospitable home. That the evening resulted in a fine time to the young guests was easily believed by the neighbor and passer-by as the sounds of gayety issuing forth was proof positive. Busy as bees were all until they left. Games of various kinds were played, puzzles worked and riddles solved.

The entertainment given by the local lodge of the Woodmen of the World to their friends at the Webb building was one of the most enjoyable functions of the season. A large crowd of young and middle-aged people were in attendance and each number of a carefully prepared program, consisting of both vocal and instrumental music, addresses suitable to the occasion, besides some elegant reading by local talent were enjoyed.

Advertisements

A large advertisement which took up half the front page of the August 25, 1950 edition of the Hereford Brand contained some of the following bargains: Men's patent leather shoes—$2.00 to $3.75. Men's Opera slippers were on sale for $1.15 a pair. $1.25 grade California Buck gloves sold for $1.00. A "corker" bargain was 25-cent suspenders for 15c. Men's negligee shirts were on sale for $4.00 to $1.35 each. Socks were selling 12 pairs for $8.50 to 3 pairs for $1.00. Boy's undershirts sold for 20c and 3 R. Sweet-Orr overalls for 75c. All these bargains could be found at the H. C. Myrick store.

Another ad found in the paper was: "I have a 6 1/2 section ranch 17 miles southeast of Hereford for lease. Grass fine and will carry from 200 to 250 head of cattle. Price 20c a head per month. Apply to L. W. Ricketts."

Crop prospects everywhere were in a very flattering condition, but mention was made of J. F. Axe, who lived about five miles south of Hereford, who was really expecting a fine yield from his crop. He had a large acreage of forage crop, several acres in peanuts, about 15 acres in cotton and an excellent Indian corn crop.

Editor George A. Brandon of the Canyon City News was a welcomed guest of the Brand editor, J. Ray, in a short visit in Hereford. He was all enthusiasm over the prospects of the new road from Canyon into the south plains country.

Annual Picnic

The various committees of arrangement for Hereford's annual picnic on Saturday, September 2, had been doing good work and there remained but little work necessary to make the occasion a success. The committees were as follows: Finance—G. A. F. Parker, J. L. Fuqua, L. F. Alby, C. S. Garrison, W. H. Russell and W. B. Beach. Decoration—Mrs. John E. Ferguson, Mrs. L. F. Alby, Mrs. John P. Slaton and the young folks. Stock—L. R. Bradley, R. H. Norton, H. Trow and H. B. McKinley. Grounds—T. J. Graves, Robert Humphrey, B. F. Stanley, W. H. Rayzor, F. G. Edmonds and L. A. Simpson.

On the previous Tuesday when "Day had put on his jacket," and around his burning bosom buttoned it with stars," those having invitations to Miss Mina Dameron's home for the evening went eagerly thither for they knew that a rare social treat awaited them.

The hostess, in her gracious way, welcomed all on their arrival and saw that each one was made know to her friend, Miss Clara Stewart, who was visiting her from Lufkin, Texas. A group of very interesting games followed.

Those attending the party were Misses Pearl and Fannie Turrentine, Minnie and May Barnard, Minnie and Mary Tygart, May Gamble, Mary Clark, Mary Gilliland, Lunna Greer, Mary Talliaferro, Jessie Starnes, Linnie Heron, Inez McClain and McColough; Messrs. The Harrison Highway celebration brought the largest number of folks to Bellview ever. The folks of Bellview and those who attended know now that when the Hereford Chamber of Commerce does anything, it is done in a big way. Remarks were heard from every source that the barbecue was the best and tenderest they had ever eaten.

Case histories published here are from the files of Dr. Stapp. They are displayed here to show the extent and scope of Chiropractic.

While the wide scope of Chiropractic is amazing to the unformed, we do NOT recommend chiropractic as a CURE-ALL. Chiropractic is effective in those cases only where the cause is found to be defective in organic energization due to spinal misalignment (subluxation.)

BACK PAINS

CASE 350 (Umbarger, Texas): A farmer, age 58, came to the clinic complaining of backache, shoulder ache and leg ache. He said he was constipated, had gas on his stomach and dreamed all night long. Complained both his hands shook and said he had dizzy spells and was also bothered with hay fever. In the process of a chiropractic analysis it was discovered he had a skin rash on his arms and legs that itched constantly. He said, "I don't think anything can be done about that, I have had it for twelve years."

A spinal analysis revealed nerve wave interference and spinal X-rays located the spinal subluxation causing the interference. Adjustments restored alignment. The patient is in general good health now, and does not suffer with the skin rash.

"Workmen's compensation figures show that under Chiropractic care, workers were able to return to their jobs in one-third the time of those who took more conventional methods."

'Room For One More' Is A Heartwarming Tale

By CORINNE JENNINGS
"Room For One More" is a story of family life in America with Anna Perrott Rose as the narrator of her own family's experience when they tried out an experiment which all their friends and neighbors said would not work. It has all the humor, pathos and every day living incidents found in the well known "Cheaper by the Dozen" yet it is very unlike it.
With three children of their own the Roses are "adopted" by three homeless children, all of whom are handicapped by fear of the world in which they had been badly treated. The last one to come to the family even had a bad physical handicap resulting from poliomyelitis.
Of the three taken in by the Rose family they seemed to love this last one, Jimmy John the most, because he needed it most. Perhaps Mrs. Rose took him to her heart on sight, which was anything but attractive, and it was her love and determination that made him into an attractive and lovable child who grew into a worthwhile person. She had the entire cooperation of the family of course but the main victory was hers. (The story of his life with them seems to your reviewer the highlight of the book.)

Some good child study dealing with the long and much debated question of heredity and environment was involved in all the cases and Mrs. Rose tried out old and new theories with plenty of adaptation of her own ideas. The results seem to favor sure roundings as the winning factor, at least in the cases with which she worked.

She tells of how they dealt with the legal adoption of three and why she decided against it in spite of the usual procedure by foster parents in such cases.

The Rose's own children and others each had their own place in family life and all grew up to become good citizens which she thinks was a grand accomplishment but which was not without tears, laughter, tribulations by the parents and the youngsters themselves.

Jane was 13, a disturbed adolescent when she came to the family but grew up to become a serene mother of three.

Joy was 19 when he arrived six months later than Jane. He was able to find himself through music and though he learned to do many other things well, music was always first with him.

These two preceded the Rose's own brood and it was six years later that crippled Jimmy John came to stay.

Unlike "Cheaper by the Dozen" the mother takes the lead in the affairs of the family with the father always fitting in, doing his part as a real father to all of them.

If you like down to earth and wholesome stories of family life this is one of many to be found in the library, says the librarian, Mrs. J. J. Boydston.

Water Hearing Stated Tuesday

The three-man State Board of Water Engineers will conduct a 21-count hearing in Plainview Tuesday, August 29, prior to designating boundaries of one or more underground water reservoirs for the purpose of creating underground water conservation districts.

The High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association this week reminded irrigation farmers that their testimony at the hearing will have a direct bearing on boundaries designated.

Arthur P. Duggan, Jr., Littlefield, an attorney for the association, said that all farmers who depend on underground water for irrigation should attend the hearing, set for 10 a. m. Tuesday in the Plainview municipal auditorium.

"Any man who thinks he should be in or out of the district should be prepared to appear before the board, giving reasons for his desire to be included or excluded from the proposed district," Duggan advised.

Designation of reservoirs by the State Board is a step toward formation of conservation districts under provisions of House Bill 162, passed by the 51st Legislature in 1949. The law provides for districts, controlled by elective local boards of five directors, to conserve, preserve and protect underground waters in a program of well spacing, recharging and waste prevention.

Board members are H. A. Beckwith, A. P. Rollins and James S. Guleke.

The hearing is for 21 Panhandle - South Plains counties, Armstrong, Bailey, Brisco, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Swisher and Terry.

A Real Wage Boost

To seek a better and better living for oneself and one's family, is a basic human right. It is a cardinal principle of the free enterprise system. What is more, it is the chief energizing force in any nation's economy. The high standard of living enjoyed by the people of the United States is a monument to its effectiveness—for the history of our country is the history of effective human response of competitive opportunity.

In the days when the employers constituted an all-powerful dynasty, the right to seek a better living was collectively denied the manual workers of our nation. As a result of this downward pressure on the rank and file of our growing industrial society, the workers banded together into unions. The opportunity to gain a fairer share of the fruits of their toil was present, in the form of organization. This opportunity was guaranteed by the fundamental law of the land; the opportunity was responded to and the response became increasingly successful. Through the economic pressure exerted by their expanding organizations, the workers broke the tyrannical power of their employers and secured for themselves a real wage boost.

Their action was wholly in line with the spirit of free enterprise; it was competitive—for the workers were competing for purchasing power—and their success was good for the national economy.

That the emancipation of the workers added immeasurably to the standard of living of the nation as a whole is seen at a glance in the appeal of national advertising. The bulk of our total production today is for popular consumption—for purchase by the very men and women who themselves turn out the goods in shop and factory.

This extension of effective purchasing power, through real wage boosts to workers, has led to broader markets, increased production, lower consumer prices, and added profits for the manufacturer. Our entire economy has thus been advanced.

But, as in the case of every process, a situation point is eventually reached—and from there on in, the law of diminishing return applies. If it turns out that so much is charged by labor for its services that the employer is cut off from a reasonable return on his financial investment, either he raises the price of his commodity or he goes out of business.

In either event, labor is deprived of purchasing power—because, when prices go up, the worker gets less for his dollar, and when an employer throws in the sponge, his workers are out of a job and have no earnings at all to spend.

These are thoughts which should be borne in mind by our American workers and their leaders as they poise themselves to demand a fifth round of wage boosts. The law of economics, like those of physical science, were not debated and passed by any legislative body; they rule our world and cannot be repealed by wishful thinking. Water won't flow uphill, square pegs won't fit in round holes and blood can't be squeezed from a stone. To these facts we must adjust—and also to the fact that purchasing power can only be produced.

High prices result from high labor time costs. High taxes are the result of government's attempt to do what industry cannot do. But a high living standard is the result of high production alone. If the American worker still seeks to better his condition, then he must quit thinking of how many more cents per hour he can wrangle for his time and start figuring how best he can create additional purchasing power for himself.

It's time he got wise to himself, for truly he stands in need of a REAL WAGE BOOST.

—Maurice R. Franks

(Editor's Note: Maurice R. Franks is President of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

The average man and woman, who heartily denounces socialism, knows nothing about it—not even that some of our accepted governmental functions are socialist.

We feel sure, without any direct evidence, that patriotic medical men will volunteer in sufficient number to give adequate care to Americans wounded in battle.

Those who like the form of government that we inherited from those who founded the United States of America might keep their eyes on the pressure groups.

Deserve Supports

It would be a mistake for farmers to lull themselves to sleep with the idea that "parity" prices for agricultural products have been accepted by the nation as a whole. There are those who would vary the present formula with flexible parity supports and others who would, if they get the chance, abolish price supports under the guise of preserving the individual's freedom.

Most critics of the farm benefit program fail to understand that these payments offset the loss sustained by farmers under the tariff policy of the United States. For generations, the agricultural producers of the nation have had to buy their manufactured products in a market protected by the high tariff, but, in regard to most of the things that the farmers sell, they had to take what they could get for their products in a market which, because of surplus production, had its prices fixed by the world market.

There is an additional justification for farm price supports. If the farmers of the nation have no surplus money to spend, there is a serious unbalance in the economic machine of the nation. Farm population is a great market for manufactured goods. If the farmer has no spendable income, he is not in the market.

Trade in the United States has been a circular movement, with manufactured products moving from industrial areas to the farms and agricultural produce moving from the farms to the industrial areas. This is the great exchange that is the backbone of American prosperity.

Defense By Assumption

It seems to us that the responsible officials of the United States, familiar with the facts after studying the world situation, should have known for the past two years that Russian aggression was a possibility almost and time. This being the conclusion, it follows inevitably that there was no excuse for the policy of economy in connection with our preparedness for war.

Apparently, the defense of the United States was resting firmly upon an official, but erroneous, conclusion that no great war was imminent.

In support of the economy program, launched by Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson with the approval of the President, officials gave out optimistic statements as to the national defense.

Ten days later, Secretary Johnson told a Senate committee that the Army was stronger than at any time since the end of the war and the Air Force was at the highest state of combat readiness since the war.

In May, the President explained that he was not alarmed over the possibility of a shooting war with Russia and, in June, he was quoted as saying, "The world is closer now to permanent peace than at any time in the last five years."

While we call attention to these facts to show, beyond doubt, the complacency and over-confidence of the President and the Secretary of Defense, let us take note that, apparently, they have awakened in time and are now vigorously trying to implement programs which will translate our "defense potentials" into weapons and munitions before we get into a war for our national survival.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Super-Duper Spy Agency

IT ISN'T generally known, but Admiral Roscoe Hillekoetter, chief of the super-duper spy agency, Central Intelligence, had asked for sea duty well before the Korean outbreak.

The admiral has done a better job of foreign intelligence than congress gives him credit for, but he has never been particularly happy in the job and would like to get back to a battleship. Hillekoetter was former commander of the battleship Missouri, comes from the state of Missouri, and was picked by Truman personally for the difficult intelligence assignment.

Faced with the admiral's insistence that he wants to be transferred, President Truman has asked Gen. Bedell Smith, former U.S. ambassador to Moscow, to take Central Intelligence. Smith, so far, has refused, on the ground that he recently underwent an ulcer operation.

Therefore, some of the President's friends are urging that he appoint J. Edgar Hoover to this important post.

Hoover is one of the best organizers in government, has built up one of the best-trained investigation bureaus the world has ever seen, and has it in such good shape that it could operate under a new director.

On the other hand, getting intelligence on a prospective enemy is all-important in this day when a suitcase smuggled into an American harbor, or the flight of one plane across the arctic, or the secret massing of troops on a certain border could cripple the United States indefinitely.

That is why a man of Hoover's genius ought to be used to head an agency which today has become even more important than the F.B.I.

After You Alphonse

Republican members of the joint economic committee were just as cooperative as Democrats in supporting President Truman's call for increased taxes. Even Ohio's rugged individualist, Bob Taft, went along.

"The boys who are being inducted to fight for us are paying the greatest tax—with life and limb," declared another Ohioan, Democratic representative Walter Huber, during the closed-door meeting. "It's up to us to shoulder the financial arms, though they may be heavy. And those who are profiting from this war should be taxed the greatest."

Even GOP Congressman Robert ("where-are-you-going-to-get-the-money") Rich of Pennsylvania agreed. However, Taft didn't endorse over a facetious suggestion by Huber that the Ohio senator sponsor tax increase legislation—never a popular issue in an election year.

"I'll go along," grinned Robert Alphonse, who faces a hot reelection battle, "but I think the honor of sponsoring this bill belongs to you Democrats, the majority party. No, I wouldn't deny you that privilege for the world."

Brewster's Wire-Tapping

Interesting new evidence gradually accumulates in the justice department's belated probe of Senator Brewster's eavesdropping on Howard Hughes, the west coast aviation mogul.

It will be recalled that three years ago when the GOP senator from Maine was chairman of the senate war investigating committee, he staged a headline-snatching investigation of the rather far-fetched charge that Hughes had spent government money extravagantly in building a giant amphibious transport plane.

It turned out, however, that Brewster had something of an axe to grind for his good friends of Pan American World Airways, and had talked to Hughes earlier about an amalgamation between Pan American and his Trans World Airlines.

It also turned out, two years later, that Brewster had used the metropolitan police of the District of Columbia to tap Howard Hughes' phone and put a microphone in his room. In fact, police chief Robert Barrett submitted a report to the justice department almost one year ago that one of his officers, Lieut. Joseph Shimon, had been tapping wires for Senator Brewster's investigating committee.

Wire-tapping, of course, is barred by section 603 of the federal communications act and is a criminal offense.

Paid by Brewster's Office

However, the justice department, after letting the wire-tapping report gather dust for nine months, finally got around to ordering an FBI investigation. And the most interesting thing the FBI has turned up is a statement made to a G-man by Lieut. Shimon that Senator Brewster's secretary paid him for his wire-tapping.

So far, Shimon has stuck to a very careful story. He admits tapping Howard Hughes' phone, but he does not admit much else.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:

I am engaged to a boy who has many fine qualities, but who also has one trait that worries me a great deal. It is that he seems incapable of discussing any question with me without getting angry. As long as I agree with everything he says, everything goes along smoothly, but when I express a different opinion he seems to take it as a personal affront and usually ends up by telling me of my shortcomings.

Of course, all of this is very disagreeable and I certainly do not expect him to agree with me on everything.

I am so upset over this bad habit of his that I am seriously thinking of calling the whole thing off. What would you advise?

ENGAGED—WIS.

I think that housekeeping can be carried too far?

YOUNG WIFE—N. Y.

Answer:

There is a happy medium in keeping house as well as everything else. No one enjoys living in a cluttered up, dusty house, but it is almost as bad to live in one when you feel that everything must be kept exactly in place and you are afraid to come in the front door or walk on the rugs.

Keep your house clean but don't give it all of your time.

LOUISA.

In The News

By EDWARD H. SIMS, BRAND
 Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—xxx—This column this week turns our thoughts to the situation of Americans below Munich. Just about a year ago, last October, the writer climbed on a jeep and headed for our defenses south of Munich.

The reader may not know it, but the only two fighter fields the United States Air Force maintained in Germany were just below Munich. These two fields are still the backbone of European fighter strength, though some support has recently arrived in England. The jeep bumped along heading south, out of the busiest town in Germany. Cobblestone streets and street car tracks were left behind and finally we were in the country.

Bavaria—no one has ever denied—is gorgeous country. Rich and picturesque, it looks as peaceful as rolling country can look. Seventy or 80 miles ahead of our kneeless-action jeep lay Garmisch—where the GI boys liked to spend their week-ends. All around can be found ancient castles, and with the Alps only a few hours away, Bavaria added up to an ideal spot for American personnel.

Of the two fighter fields visited, only one boasted jet fighters. The other was assigned conventional tactical single engine combat ships, such as those used in the recent war. Here, south of Munich, was the United States

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Well, if the editors have any doubts about people reading the editorial page and the want ads we can tell that all they need to do is mention blackeyed peas.

Last Sunday's paper started a pilgrimage which still goes on with our customers from Dumas and White Deer payin' a return visit and also a car from Vega.

When it's all over we may have time to estimate our yield but up to now more than 1600 lbs. have been taken off the six acre patch. No fertilizer—no irrigation.

If everybody had the attitude of Mrs. Hobby Williams Congress could forget about hoardin' and spend their time on something else.

We overheard her tellin' Mr. Campbell at the Hereford Laundry that she wasn't goin' to stock up a lot of stuff. That she had used sheets made of feed sacks before and could do it again if necessary.

It is the unselfish people like her that are truly America.

It wouldn't have been so hard to see Buster's puppy die after bein' hit by a car if he hadn't dragged himself to the house for help and wagged his tail as long as there was any life left.

The BOOTLE'G Philosopher

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bootleg Philosopher is telling the truth about himself, at least, his letter this week reveals).

Dear editor:

I was sittin' around the stove yesterday afternoon with a bunch of farmers waitin' for a cloud to move over in front of the sun so I could go home, never did believe in bein' uncomfortable if all it took to avoid it was a little time, and one of the farmers said he was worried about the world situation and the prospects of Russia droppin atom bombs on this country.

"I tell you, things is serious," he said. "It makes a man stop and think. What if I get out here and plow my land and get it in shape and plant next year's crop and get it up and they drop a atom bomb and wreck civilization. All that work gone to waste. I tell you, I just don't know whether to figure on makin' another crop or not."

Personally, I can't see it that way. That is, I ain't never been so hard-pressed for an excuse I had to fall back on the atom bomb to keep from plowin'.

There are some folks who sit back in awe of them scientists who perfected the bomb, but it ain't never been necessary for me to depend on a scientist, a college professor, or anybody else to get out of plowin'. It ain't fear of the atom bomb that makes me prefer to sit under a tree to goin' up one row and down another. It's the shade.

Ever since I can remember, some new invention has always been goin' to change the course of human events, but it never does work out that way. Your newspaper ain't got no more in it whether I'm readin' it under a light bulb or a kerosene lantern. A young man with a lightweight set of brains is about the same whether he's holding the lines or the steering wheel.

The atom bomb ain't changed my way of life a bit and I don't intend to let it, not by worryin' about it at any rate. Some folks can throw up their hands in horror and give up farmin', but I am proud to say I'm ahead of them scientists and wasn't plowin' much before the bomb and expect to keep right on in the same path.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION:

Do you think that the United States should use the Atom Bomb in case of further war developments?

H. W. Robinson—It is quite a serious thing and requires much thought. If things become serious enough we may have to use it to combat the same kind of treatment they give us.

Mrs. Glenn Boardman—I think we as a nation should pray earnestly about it. God is ever present in time of trouble. We do not suffer without His knowledge. When we cannot see our way through we should let Him lead us in the faith that keeps life's purposes and reaches life's intended destination.

Kenneth Messer—Yes, I do.

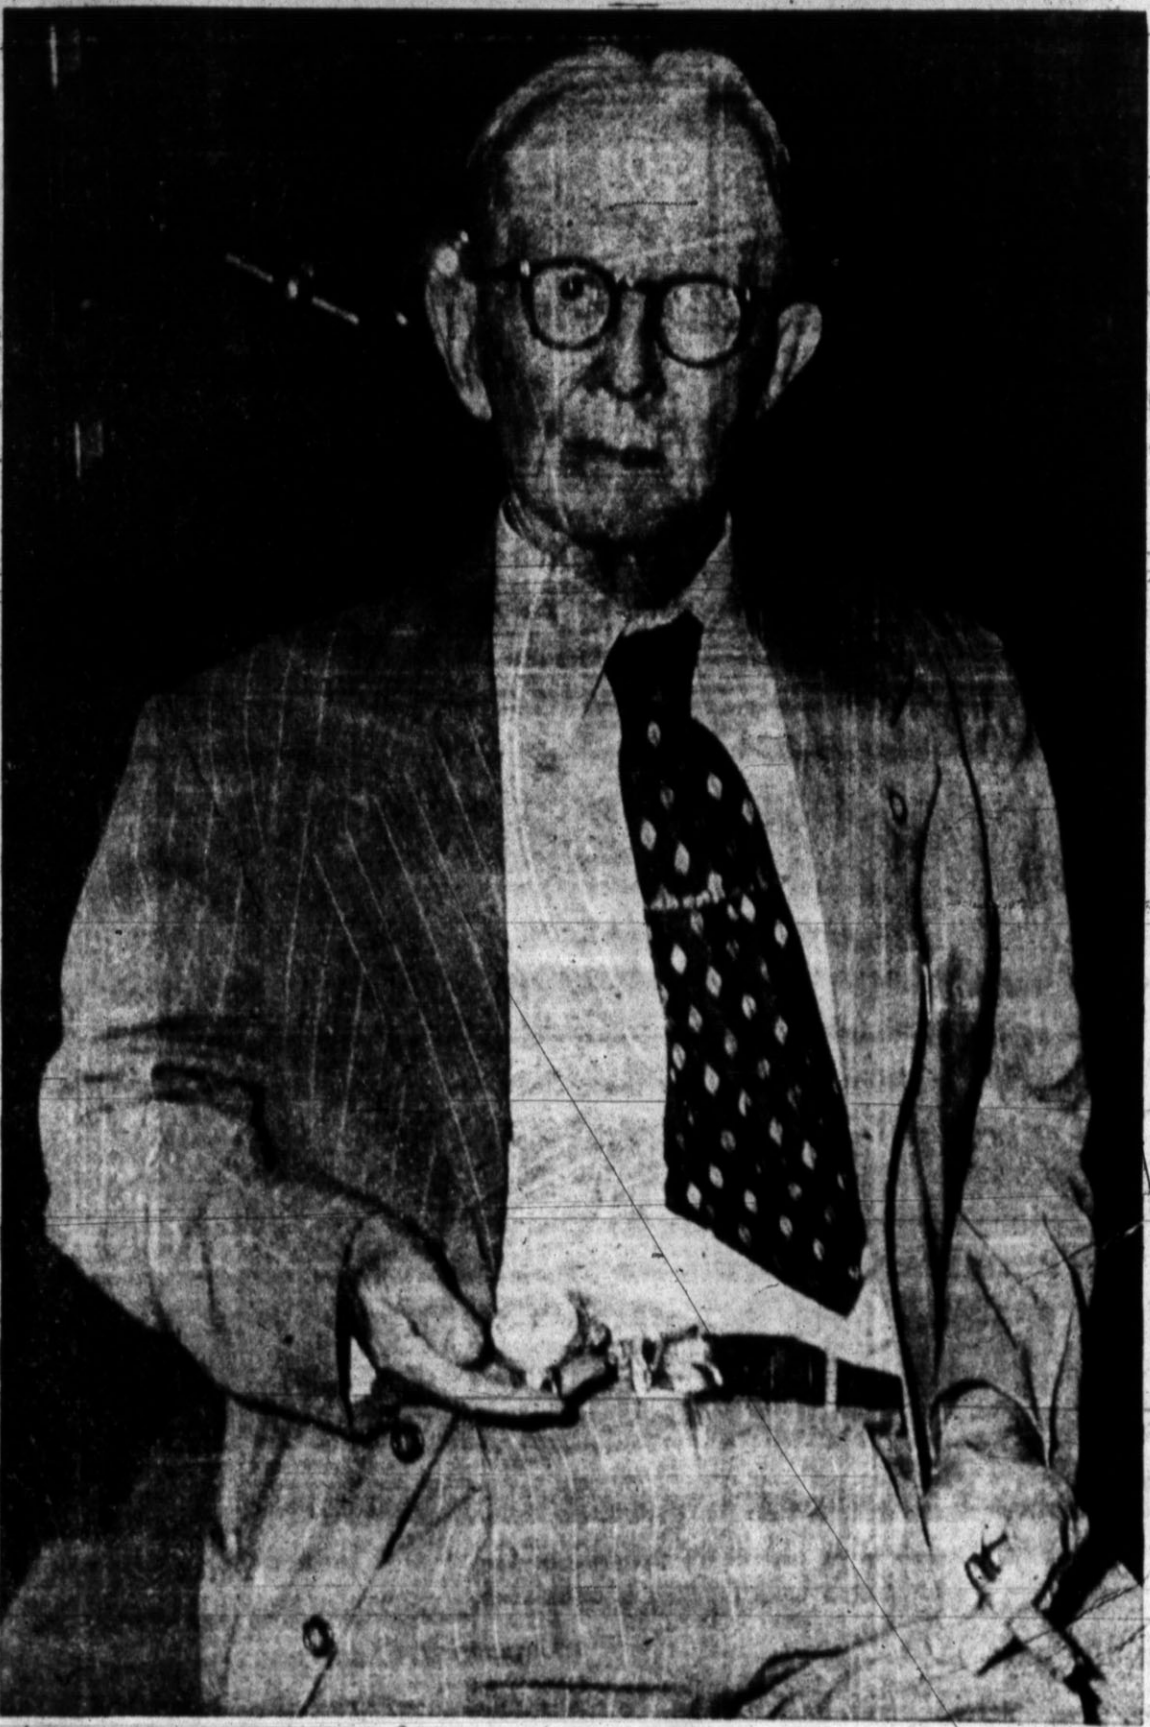

J. D. Pearch—in my opinion I don't think the United states would use it, although it might do some good to wipe up some of those big shots. But I don't think they'll use it because of the chance of destroying the human race.

Mrs. Elmer Patterson—I don't believe we should use the bomb unless the commanding officer believed that it would shorten the war.

Irving J. Alexander—No, I don't. We are more vulnerable to the atomic bomb than Russia. If they dropped the bomb on several of our large cities, they would ruin our economy. On the other hand the Russians aren't vulnerable to it. It isn't good sense to use a weapon on your enemy which they can use to hurt you more. The Russians have set up their factories behind the Ural Mountains and they are hard to get to. Russia's industry is decentralized while ours is highly centralized. I don't think either nation will use the Atom Bomb.

Ticklers By George

"The doc is dressed in a special outfit today. He's trying to scare some people into paying their bills."

"RIGHT ON THE DOT"—says J. W. Lacey as he peers at the gold watch presented to him by the business men of Hereford in 1908. The gift was presented at a ceremony which paid tribute to Mr. Lacey on his departure after three years as Santa Fe agent at Bovina and Friona during the "land rush" days which brought many settlers into Deaf Smith, Farmer and Castro Counties. Bovina was also recognized at that time as the largest single cattle shipping point in the world.

Early Depot Agent Visits Hereford After 41 Years

By ALEX O. THOMPSON

Coming back to Hereford after 41 years proved quite a shock to J. W. Lacey of Cotulla, Texas, who was here this week visiting with old friends and former acquaintances. As Santa Fe station agent in Hereford three years, 1906-07-08, Mr. Lacey was widely known over the territory. After leaving here in 1908, he became associated with the Missouri Pacific lines and is now a retired agent of the lines; he is also manager of the Cotulla

Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Lacey recalled some of his experiences when he was Santa Fe Agent at Bovina and Hereford in 1905 to 1908. These points, at that time, were the largest cattle shipping points in the world and the reason being that all stock cattle north of the Texas & Pacific railroad at Sweetwater were brought north to be shipped—as the quarantine line was just north of the Texas & Pacific railroad. Also this was the time that the Capitol Freehold Land and Investment Company, Limited, of London, England, was selling its three million acres of land to settlers.

George G. Wright Land Company had bought several hundred thousand acres and was running special pullman trains every two weeks bringing prospectors, he said. In addition, the actual settlers were coming by freight to settle upon their new lands and most of them were unloading at Hereford or at Bovina.

"We called them 'Zulus' when they came by freight," Mr. Lacey said. He had no regular hours for working as he billed all cattle shipments from the stock pens and at all times of the day and night. At one time he was on duty for 60 consecutive hours. Fletcher Rogers was one of the telegraph operators at the time and had one of the first motorcycles in town; Mr. Lacey used it a lot, and scared nearly all the horses to death, thereby creating the enmity of the owners.

Mr. Lacey was loved and respected by all the shippers and when he left Hereford in 1908, the business men of Hereford presented him with a fine 21 jewel Elgin watch which he still wears and shows with pride to his friends. The inscription engraved upon the watch says: "Hereford Business Men. To our retiring agent, November 30th, 1908."

Mr. Lacey was surprised at the great improvements in Hereford in the past 41 years since he was here and invites us all down to see him at Cotulla on the Nueces River near Laretto.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark of O'Donnell are guests this week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGehee.

Ceramic Art Club Will Return To Cultural Programs September 2

The Hereford Ceramic Art Club, after the summer weeks of vacation, will return to cultural study and activity on September 2, at 2:00 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Jim Black.

Feature of the afternoon will be a review of the book "Maria the Potter" by Marriot, given by Mrs. J. W. Spradley. The book gives the history of the making of Indian pottery by the Pueblo Indians.

A varied study of ceramic art will be included in the year's program, Mrs. A. Petersen, president of the club, has announced.

Gift Party Given

An informal gift party complimented Mrs. Kenneth Mayes Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. V. Stanton. Hostesses with Mrs. Stanton were Mrs. Wayne Stark and Mrs. Jay Fortenberry. The hostesses directed appropriate games and stunts were presented with a clever Brumley, R. E. Griffith of Plainview, Miss Della Stagner and the honoree.

Visiting in the Jerry Stoltz home last Sunday were Mrs. Stoltz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Heath of Hobbs, N. M. Coming later in the week were two of Mrs. Stoltz's sisters and brother-in-law, Betty Jo Heath and Mr. and Mrs. Foy Pibble of Hobbs. Mr. Stoltz's parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Stoltz and Joe, also of Hobbs, were to arrive sometime this week end.

Laid with a white linen cutwork cloth the table held a floral wedding ring on a reflector, fashioned of yellow rosebuds and snap dragons with puffs of yellow-gold net and maiden hair fern entwined. A horizontal arrangement of yellow decorative dahlias flanked by yellow tapers in crystal holders adorned the buffet. Mrs. J. R. They called this a Christmas party for the Navajo Indians. Each class member and invited guest brought a gift for a Navajo boy or girl of their own age. The gift could be something new or it might be an item of clothing which the children had out-grown. This collection will be added to from time to time and will be sent to the Navajo Methodist Mission in Farmington, N. M., in time for Christmas. Steel Moline-Monitor DRILLS

Famous Features

Sowing of seed has been one of the most important phases of living since the beginning of civilization. For centuries man has known covering of seed at uniform depth with even distribution of seed has assured better yields and uniform ripening. Even so it was not until the latter part of the 19th century that the first commercially successful grain drills were developed and these were Monitors. You therefore find that many of the world's finest features were pioneered and patented on Monitor Drills. For many years about 9 out of 10 beet growers used Moline Monitor drills for their expensive and delicate beet seed. Many growers of spinach, radish, onion and other crops where the seeds are very tiny, delicate and expensive, also prefer the Moline Monitor drills because they must be sure of careful seed handling, accuracy and uniform depth of drilling. They know they will get this performance in a MM drill. Fine flax seed, too, is accurately handled by Moline-Monitor Drills without use of any extra attachments.

Moline-Monitor Drills feature all steel construction and roller bearing axles. Accurate Feeds, Choice of Openers, Balanced and Durable Design, plus many improvements for the Best Performance. Thousands upon thousands of farmers have learned to depend on Moline-Monitors for accuracy, better balance, uniform drilling, lighter draft and longer life. Many Moline-Monitors 40 years old and older are still in use.

Remember, Moline-Monitors were the WORLD'S FIRST COMMERCIAL SUCCESSFUL GRAIN DRILL—have always led the parade of progress, and today are the world's most modern drills in every way.

HOPPERS: Made in Keystone shape of heavy duty zinc grip, galvanized steel. Covers and ends are made of the same steel. Top edges are rolled for extra strength and covers have roll type hinges. Covers fit snugly and are rain-proof. There is no open crack at the hinge. Springs hold covers open or closed. The hopper is rigidly cross braced and firmly bolted to main frame. Everything has been done to assure a long life, unbreakable, sagless, rust and warp-proof hopper.

Patented reversible HOPPER—Feeds on horse drawn drills face toward rear—Tractor drills have feeds face front. If you change hitches from horse drawn to tractor drawn or from tractor drawn to horse drawn the hopper is easily reversed—so you always have visible seeding with a MOLINE-MONITOR CAPACITY. Approximately a bushel per foot.

FRAMES: Built entirely of high carbon steel angles riveted together. Gussset plates securely brace the corners. Cross members are steel angles. This rigid frame holds all working parts in alignment. For the largest sized MM Drills extra bracing from the frame to hitch are used. This is shown on page 6-7.

HITCHES: Are easily bolted to the frame. Tractor hitches are built entirely of high carbon steel angles. Extra braces are furnished on the largest sized drills.

LEVERS: Front raising levers are used to regulate pressure. On tractor drawn drills levers are placed so that they can be reached from tractor seat. On horse drawn drills the levers remain in front, or seat, whichever is used, so with a MOLINE-MONITOR you never have to walk around levers when filling the hopper.

PRESSURE SPRINGS: High quality pressure springs are used. Pressure rods are made of tubular steel—light in weight yet strong and durable. Levers are used for depth and pressure control, but further adjustment is possible by changing position of cotter pin in lower part of pressure rods. Hole No. 4 is always used except in extra hard soil.

AXLES: The full floating stub axles made of heavy duty, high carbon steel are 1 3/8" in diameter. They are set to give pitch and gather to wheels. Inner bearings are fastened to frame and SPECIAL TRUSS RODS prevent end play.

AXLE BEARINGS: The outer ends of the axles, where the load is carried, are supported by extra large roller bearings. The bearings are completely enclosed in self-aligning, dust-proof housings. The inner ends of the axles revolve in durable, replaceable bearings which are also self-aligning. These bearings assure light draft and long life.

WHEELS: Famous MM wheels with spokes forged into the hub and rim while hot, forming a shoulder on the inside and a head on the outside—similar to a boiler rivet fastening. Wheels are 46 inches in diameter. The heavy steel concave tires are just the right width for the weight of the drill and vary somewhat with size of drill. The concave tires do not carry the soil up on the inside. Another reason for using the concave tire is to prevent side slipping on hillsides. They also assure light draft and leave a tract that is easy to see with a minimum of soil packing. Rubber tires also available as extra equipment. Size 6.50 x 16 implement type tires.

For careful Seed Handling, Accurate Drilling and Uniform Depth Insist on A Moline Monitor Drill.

Homer Fox Says: Did You Know..

In our story a couple of weeks ago about our trip to Tucumcari and our golf match, I left some names out: Albert Herbst, J. A. Pitman and Hollis Clark. Just why I left Albert Herbst and J. A. Pitman out, I don't know, because I certainly knew they were there. When Brack, Dubs, Frank and I left the golf course over there without going back to town, we left our hotel bill and Herbst and Pitman paid off for us—and probably kept us out of jail.

I also made a big BUST when I said, "No One" won a match I knew better than that. I can't remember that Jim Clark ever lost a golf match any place he played, and he won in Tucumcari. Jim's opponent had him down about seven holes in the first nine, but on the back nine he broke in two; Jim kept this old boy in the rough so much looking for Jim's ball that the rocks, cactus, snakes, shinnery blue quail and tall grass shattered his nerves (though he was a native). He had never been in the rough so much altogether in the length of time he had been playing golf as he did that day with Jim—and he flew to pieces and lost his match.

Some crazy things happen on golf courses. Remember one day in a match at Friona, on a tee shot that happened to be down the middle for about 175 yards and when the ball hit the ground, the fellow I was playing said "By George, you hit a bird," and we could see the feathers flying. I said, "Well, that is a pretty hard shot to make, and I didn't mention it before I shot because you just can't hit these birds that far away every time." I don't think he believed it, but anyway when we got down there sure enough there was the poor little bird dead as a mackerel, so I hit a "birdie" but I made a "bogey."

Back in 1929, Dow Mercer wasn't just the chairman of the greens committee, he was the Greens committee, and he did a fine job looking after our grounds as a man possibly could have; it was his pride and joy and what Dow said about the grounds was just about the best Dow had his likes and dislikes about what was on the grounds and what was going on down there, and in his likes that stood at the top was a couple of bull snakes and they were pretty fat-sized babies at that. These snakes stood pretty high with Dow because they kept the ground squirrels thinned out and squirrels are always a nuisance on a golf course. Then one day Dow stood and watched one of these big bull snakes flat footed kill a rattle snake, and brother that did it. We had orders to never bother these snakes, even if one was asleep in the fairway don't disturb him. Just walk around him! Mr. bull snake working and he wore a leveled crown, and every one respected Dow's wishes.

One afternoon about four o'clock a squad of us made our drives off number nine Tee, this Tee was high on the hillside and the fairway crossed the creek going to nine green, 605 yards away, and par five hole. The sun was really burning down and every one was almost too tired to go on but after our drive, we started down the hill dragging our bags. About that time one of those big fat bull snakes decided to cross the fairway in front of us. Now a snake to me is just a snake, I don't care what color his hair is and it doesn't make any difference whether he is dead or alive. I froze in my tracks, and, as usual, the cold chills started in my instep and went out in a little bald spot right on top of my head; 110 in the shade and there I stood; sadly in need of a big shot of sulphur and molasses like Maw used to pour down our necks every spring for chills. Just before both ears were frost bitten from this chill, some one turned me around. There wasn't a word said by anyone, just why he did it, no one will ever know, but Jim Clark slipped his number five iron out of his bag and threw it at that big snake. The club sailed lazily up and over and the point of the blade came down as true as an arrow, struck the snake just behind the left ear, or maybe he didn't have an ear; anyway, it was right behind the tonsils or square on the Adams apple, and broke his neck, we were all breathless! Jim didn't have any idea of hitting that precious snake, but there wasn't a man in the bunch that didn't wish that Jim had stayed at the store that day and rolled more pills. That was a silent foursome that gathered around that snake.

Not a word had been said, we gathered still closer, and the snake half way turned over and said, "It's okay, boys, don't worry. I have been around here a lot of years. I was here before there was a creek. I was out west when Kelly Gray, Walk Bradley, Vern and Anderson Witherspoon, George Muse and Claude Witherspoon, Bob Higgins and at the last Claud Higgins) dug this creek. Bob Higgins didn't do any of the work, he was foreman. George Muse didn't do any work he stood around to make a shade for Bob to sit in. Claud Witherspoon didn't do much, he talked so much the boys sent him home in a couple of days. In just a few days Kelly Gray got smart and broke the handle out of his shovel and he was out. Claud Higgins was willing, but it was before Claud had started wearing shoes, so he was no good on a shovel. He was good as a water boy so you can give Walk Bradley, and the two Witherspoon boys—Vern and Anderson—credit for the beautiful Tierra Blanca, now running through your golf course."

The snake was breathing with difficulty. He rested a moment and continued, "I used to enjoy life until you cotton picking half cowboy dubs started playing golf and now this is no place for a snake to live. We get in the rough and are liable to be killed any minute with a golf ball. The safest place is in the fairway where you birds hardly ever drive a ball, but there is no shade or protection there for a snake and we can't stay there long a time." He was getting weaker and weaker and it looked like he couldn't go any further, but this snake had what it takes and after a pause he still continued, "Last year you guys let Texas of Republican and now I have seen everything. I am tired of doing golf balls and big feet, so I am going to turn it over to you fellows. Get you a can of worms and a fishing rod and go fishing with Herbert, and I hope you don't catch anything but fish." Again he rested and again he continued, "I am going over and get me a harp. I always wanted to play a harp anyway, and I had a lot rather do that than chase these blamed ground squirrels."

That was all. He sorter tucked

Jolly Teens Plan Breakfast Tues.

A breakfast sponsored by the Jolly Teens Horizon Club will be held Tuesday morning, August 29, at the Camp Fire Hut on the corner of Park Avenue and Ninth Street from 7:00 to 10:00.

Tickets may be bought from any member of this club. Those who do not buy tickets are asked to call for reservations. They may call Margaret Phillips, phone no. 114-J, or N. A. Patterson, phone no. 256. A few tickets will be sold at the door Tuesday morning.

Tickets will sell for $75 for a full breakfast of waffles or ham and eggs with the trimmings and $50 for a short order. The former will be served only from 7:00 to 8:30.

A program will start at 9:00 and prizes will be given. An interesting program has been planned in the form of a "Welcome Travelers" program.

All money made from this breakfast will go to help send the girls of this club to the Camp Fire Conference this fall.

Cheri Baker Is Six Years Old

Mrs. Dennis Baker honored her daughter, Cheri, at a party given on her sixth birthday Monday afternoon. Outdoor games were played and toy favors were given each little guest.

Center of interest was the birthday cake which was in the shape of a lamb. Birthday candles rising from a wreath of snap dragons encircled the cake.

Children attending were Sherry, David and Kyle Kendall; Marsha and Diane Robinson; Pelva Jean-Richardson, Gerry Lynn Wheeler, Linda Sue Oliver, Buddy and Jimmy Winfrey, Karen Sue-Daniel, Judy Ray and the honoree.

Jolly Teens Hear Talk On Etiquette

The Jolly Teens Horizon Club held its regular meeting Tuesday night at the Camp Fire Hut.

A short business meeting was held with Gerry Patterson, vice-president, presiding. Further plans were made for a breakfast to be held next Tuesday morning to raise money to send the girls to Camp Fire Conference this fall.

After the business meeting the girls, accompanied by Mrs. Ulric Streu, advisor of the club, and two visitors, Gayle Roberson and Vallora Cook, went to the Jim Hill Hotel. There Paul Holland, manager of the hotel, gave them a talk on hotel etiquette and showed them through the hotel.

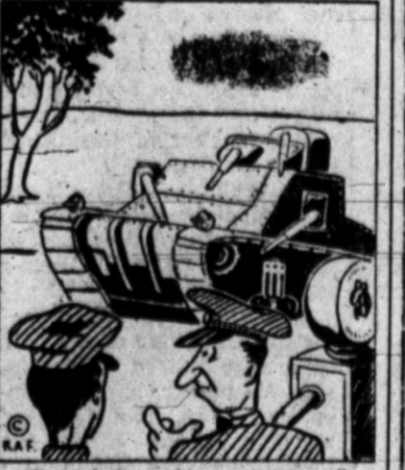

The girls attending the meeting and tour were: Jane Houston, Margaret Phillips, Betty Culpepper, Glenna Finley, Marilyn Matthews, Janice Craig, Bobby Drury, Gerry and Nancy Patterson, Martha Heard, Marion Jo Wilson, Cecelia Wilkins, and Nelda Guy Lawrence.

As a club project members of the Horizon club sold "Welcome Jaycees" banners Thursday morning. These were made by Glenn Broadman.

his head under his belly and left for that snake Paradise. We finished that ninth hole in a complete silence; there was never a word said about not telling Dow who killed his pet snake. We all knew better than to tell him. Dow found the dead snake the next day; he immediately started investigation, but he never did find out or even come close to finding out who killed that pet snake.

IN THE DAYS OF KING ARTHUR

By HAROLD R. FOSTER

Synopsis: BECAUSE AGUAR WAS A WISE KING HE LISTENED TO ALETA'S WAR PLANS. BECAUSE ALETA KNEW NOTHING OF WARFARE HER TACTICS THREW THE ENEMY PLANS AWRY. THEN, BECAUSE SHE SAW NO NEED FOR HATING ANYONE, SHE WON OVER HER ENEMIES.

STATESMEN WOULD HAVE TAKEN MONTHS TO DRAW UP A PEACE TREATY, BUT ALETA ENDED IT ALL IN ONE SENTENCE. (WE GIVE IT HERE, BUT ONLY A MARRIED MAN WILL BE ABLE TO UNDERSTAND IT)

"YOU ARE TO LEAVE RIGHT AWAY, SIR, I AM SORRY TO SEE YOU LEAVE, DEAR, JUST WHEN WE WERE GETTING TO KNOW EACH OTHER BUT THE MEN OF THULE HAVE RETURNED AND THE PASS IS CLEAR AND IF YOU HURRY THE PLANTING CAN BE FINISHED AND FAMINE AVERTED THIS WINTER AND DO BE CAREFUL CROSSING THE HILLS AND WRAP THE BABY UP WELL AND YOU MUST VISIT ME THIS SUMMER AND I'LL SEND YOU MY DRESSMAKER AS SOON AS SHE HAS FINISHED MY SUMMER THINGS GOOD-BYE SIR GOOD-BYE DEAR AND OH YOU FAT LITTLE RASCAL YOU!"

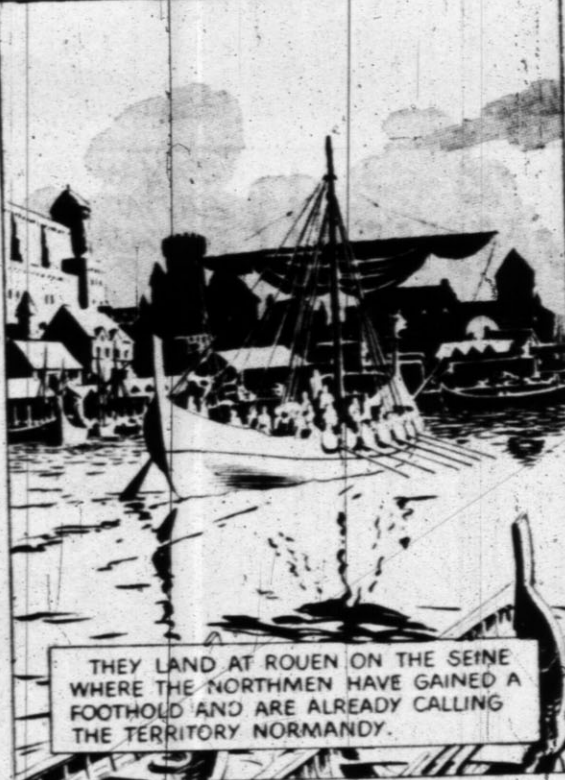

NOW THAT AN ARROGANT YOUNG KING HAS BEEN HUMBLLED, HIS DUTIFUL QUEEN NO LONGER ACCORDS HIM A REGAL DEFERENCE. GENTLY, FONDLY SHE TAKES THE BLUNDERING INCOMPETENT BY THE HAND AND LEADS HIM OUT OF OUR STORY.

ON THE HEAVING DECK OF A GREAT DRAGONSHIP TWO WARRIORS ARE EXCHANGING BRUISES WITH GREAT ARDOR. THEN THEY SIT DOWN, PANTING, AND CRITICIZE EACH OTHER'S SWORDSMANSHIP. FOR THESE MEN ARE WARRIORS AND LIKE PROFESSIONAL ATHLETES MUST BE CONSTANTLY TRAINING. THEY ARE PRINCE VALIANT, JARL EGIL, RUFUS REGAN AND YOUNG ARF!

AND YOUNG ARF IS DEVELOPING HIS BODY THE HARD WAY.

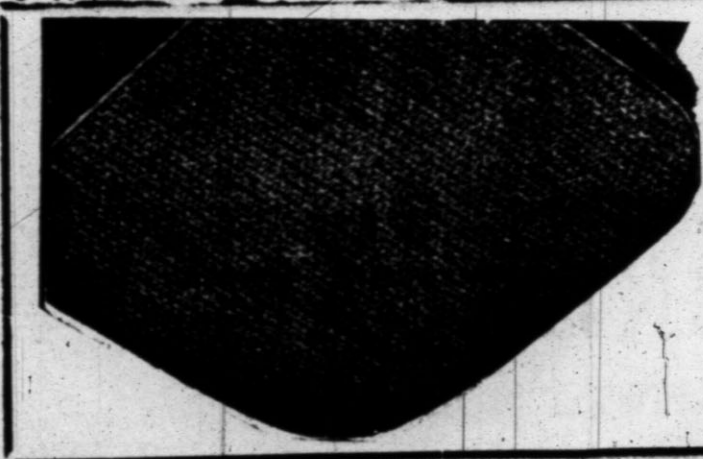

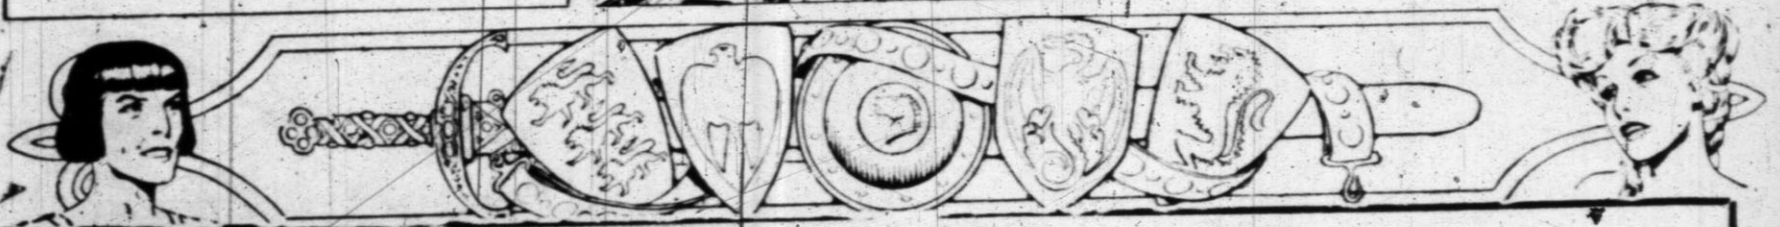

THEY LAND AT ROUEN ON THE SEINE WHERE THE NORTHMEN HAVE GAINED A FOOTHOLD AND ARE ALREADY CALLING THE TERRITORY NORMANDY.

HERE VAL LEARNS THAT SUCH IS THE CONDITION IN EUROPE THAT THEY MUST FIGHT THEIR WAY ACROSS TO ROME OR GO THE LONG WAY BY SEA.
