Although it was suggested Hadacol pe used instead of water, and 22 ambulances be on hand at all times, the occasion is not expected to result in too many injuries. "Hit me lightly," will be the slogan for the game.

A number of the players already have begun wondering whether or not they will be able to run the length of the field in the event they lose the ball.

Although the game will be impossible unless several details can be worked out, both clubs are doing all they can to prepare for the occasion.

The Kiwanis Club has 'Coach H. V. Stanton on their side, but the Jaycees already have offered Coach Dalton Criswell an honorary membership if he will help them through a few plays. Whatever the result football fans (better say comedy fans) should not be disappointed.

According to reports almost all organizations in town are well underway with plans for the "posadas." It becomes more difficult day by day to name the time and place for occasions being planned now. Almost all dates and meeting places are sewed up already by organiza-tions who planned early.

Whitefaces' New District Has Lockney And Floydada Who's In The Plane?

The all-inclusive reclassification of Texas Interscholastic league schools announced Wednesday night by the league's executive committee puts Hereford in a Class AA district with Canyon, Floydada, Lockney and Tulia, all of which were rated unofficially by sportscasters to be less threatening in conference play than was Hereford during the past season.

Ask your DOCTOR

It is important that you relax, enjoy yourself, and have peace of mind, for there is more illness-physical and mentalcaused by worry than any one thing. Just ask your doctor, He will tell you how deadly worry can be. You can get rid of a lot of worries by shifting them to the broad shoulders of an insurance company. The more worries you can sabotage, the more peace of mind you will have. More peace of mind means a longer, happier life. INSURE AND RELAX.

Home Demonstration Achievement day was held by the Frio club with Mrs. Glenn Gripp as hostess. The program was divided into three parts-discussions on simplified work, clothing demonstration and design selections.

The first discussion was led by Mrs. W. A. Spring, work simplification leader for the year, who heard members tell ways in which they had simplified their work this year.

Mrs. Owen Andrews, clothing demonstration chairman, conducted the second part of the program. The program consisted of a discussion by each member of the dress she wore, if it was made by her, or accessories, alteration of a dress or children's clothes. Each told why she had chosen the material, the pattern and any detail she considered important.

Mrs. Tom Draper, County Home Demonstration agent, led the discussion for the third part of the program. The topic was "Selection of Designs for Textile Painting" and dealt with those appropriate for various occassions that harmonized. "Flow ered dishes are much prettier with a simply-designed cloth, and fancy designs on cloths look much more attractive with plain dishes" the HD agent said. "Consideration also should be given to texture of materials,"

Judge And Revolution

There are revolutions in the world which need management and direction. Revolution is the great heritage of American life.

The above quotation comes from a recent address by Justice William O. Douglas, of the U. S. Supreme Court. The Justice pointed out that millions of the peoples of the earth are trying to do today for themselves and children what our forefathers did for us in 1776. "It will be shameful if, when the history of the period is written, America is credited with suppressing these struggles, with aligning itself on the world scene with reaction, tyranny, an oppres-

We are not sure that we can identify the "millions" of peoples in the world trying to do what this country accomplished in 1776. If the Justice refers to efforts of people in various parts of the world to overthrow their present governments, he seems to suggest that the United States should cooperate with the revolutionists.

We are not quite sure we understand just where there is danger of this country's "aligning itself" with reaction, tyranny and oppression. The Justice suggests that the natives of eastern countries think of freedom in terms of ridding themselves of slavery and includes land reform in areas where the land is largely held by a few. Admitting that in these areas there is "no such thing as a free election," the jurist said that the people do not need money so much as "ideas and backing for reforms." He winds up his address by suggesting that "America should get behind a program of social reforms."

This is, of course, a considerable order of business. It certainly applies to the condition in China, in India and probably applies to Spain, Italy and the Eastern countries of Europe. Just how the United States can carry out the recommendations of the jurist is something of a puzzle because it is perfectly obvious that this country cannot guarantee or obtain J'freedom, peace, stability and security" for the entire world.

Miraculous Cures

Some light on so-called miraculous cures of human ailments comes from a recent book, "Speaking of Man," written by the late Dr. Abraham Myerson, who points out that there is a condition called hysteria, "which looks very serious but which, is in reality 'curable' by any hocus-pocus that impresses the patient."

The fact that there are many who suffer from hysteria, or think that they have a disease explains most of the miraculous cures that occur. Certainly, if the patient is convinced that he is sick, all that it takes to cure him is to convince him that he is

A Profession

The story is told of a demogague in the French Revolution who once said:

"There go the people. Let us hurry and overtake them-I am their leader!"

This is a somewhat ironic but not wholly untrue commentary upon political behavior. As a general rule, the successful politician is one who adopts a course based upon sentiment which has already been built or is clearly building in the public. He then forges to the front as their "leader."

Sometimes, it is true, a political figure miscalculates. If he does this too often, he becomes an ex-political figure. Keeping this hazard before them like a guiding star, tion on how the public feels.

This is as true in Texas as it is anywhere else. Yet it is probably true that no Texas politician has ever had the benefit of knowing the true sentiments of the majority of the people of our state. Each for his own reason, the majority doesn't express its sentiments one way or the other.

When the Texas Legislature meets in January, various organized groups are going to take advantage of that fact. On issues in which they are interested, they are going to try to convince our legislators that they express the true sentiments of the people of the state.

If nobody but a pressur, group bothers to write them, or phone them, or talk to them, nobody else has a right to criticise how the legislators vote.

Most people would genuinely welcome an unorganized "people's lobby"-representative citizens who would tell them in a straight-forward manner just what they think about the issues which will come up in the next legislature.

The members of the precarious profession of politics need our help. If they get it, we Texans will get better government.

Neat Sleight-of-Hand

THE SENATE commerce committee has pulled some neat sleightof-hand to keep the taxpayers from finding out how much government gravy Pan American Airways is getting.

Under a senate resolution, the committee is supposed to examine the airmail subsidies paid to the airlines for hauling mail. What the senate wants to know is how much of this subsidy is legitimate compensation and how much pure government handout.

Yet, in defiance of the senate, the committee staff has quietly excluded Pan American Airways from the study. And, as a double precaution-believe it or not-it has hired Pan Am's accountants to make the survey.

Interesting fact is that the senate commerce committee is partly dominated by Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine, close friend of Pan American airways. Brewster has traveled all over Latin America free in Pan Am planes, also commuted between Washington and Maine in a special Pan Am plane and is now being investigated for tapping the wires of TWA's Howard Huges on behalf of Pan American Airways.

What Brewster had to do with the recent maneuvering inside the senate commerce committee is not known. But it is known that the contract for the airmail-subsidy sur-'vey was awarded to Ernst and Ernst of New York City, which also was retained by Pan American for fees of $109,000 in 1948 and $157,000 in 1949. What is even more peculiar, Ernst and Ernst's bid was not the lowest, but one of the highest. Despite this, the committee staff awarded the contract to Ernst and Ernst for $145,000-though other bids were submitted as low at $70,000. for example, by Georgetown University. In other words, it is costing the taxpayers twice as much to hire Pan American's accountants.

Tricky Word-Juggling

The commerce committee at first tried some tricky language to protect Pan American from the subsidy survey. This was written into the senate resolution by Edward Sweeney, the committee's aviation consultant, who called for a survey of "certificated interstate and overseas air carrier operations.

By a technicality, this left out Pan-American entirely, whose operations are classified by law as "foreign." However, West Virginia's alert Sen. Harley Kilgore caught this word-juggling.

"At first, I myself understood that the word 'overseas' covered the operation of all our planes flying abroad," he told the senate. "But it seems that the civil aeronautics act divided our planes into three classes instead of two. Overseas planes are defined as those which fly overseas to our island possessions."

As a result of Kilgore's vigilance, the senate unanimously changed the resolution to include Pan American. Despite this, the commerce committee has flagrantly ignored the senate mandate and has left Pan American out of the survey contract. The Hawaiian runs of Northwest and United Airlines are included, but Pan American's Hawaifan run is left out of the study by its wire-pulling friends on the senate commerce committee.

Ocelot Killed

Cotton pulling was disrupted on the farm of Mrs. H. Hoggard about 21/2 miles Northeast of Hedley last Friday when a fourfooted prowler, was found near the field where the cotton was thought that the animal was a Bobcat but upon closer inspection it had a long tail and was spotted like a Leopard.

The Ocelot was flushed out of tall weeds near the field by one of the boys pulling boles and the cat ran up a tree. Part of the group watched the cat while Arthur Wingate, 19 years old, ran and got a shot gun and shot the animal out of the tree. The Ocelot was believed to be about half grown as it weighed only 25 lbs, and a full grown cat weighs around 45 lbs. -Donley County Leader

Trapped by Fire

Mrs. Frank Keene received second degree burns on her more than any other folks. It is right leg, and less serious burns hard for me to make a state- on her left leg when she was temporarily trapped between some flaming cotton and the outside door of the Keene Gin at 1:00 a.m. Tuesday. The cotlonger, and had more different ton had ignited in a flash fire I, around the gin stands.

Saves Life

Perry Grannon, age 11, didn't stop to ask anyone what to do. When he saw Henrietta Janes Carter, age 7, running and screaming with her clothes ablaze last Saturday afternoon.

He tackled her with all the drive of a football player and rolled her on the ground, putting out the fire. Except for his quick thinking and quicker action, the little girl might have burned to death. As it was she suffered second and third degree burns over her entire back and one arm. She is recovering at the Guymon Municipal hospital.

They were playing ball and the little girl in running after the ball fell against a trash barrel which contained burning rubbish which was burning near the barrel, and was screaming with her clothing ablaze She started home on the run, but young Grannon caugh her immediately and extinguished the Young Drannon, when asked why he thought of rolling the little girl on the ground to put out the blazing clothing commented that he "had learned it as a Boy Scout."

Few Calls Are Made For Farm Workers

Tom Bourland of the Texas Employment office at the Court house, reports he is having few calls for agricultural workers and not many applicants.

Bourland said he expected the calls for workers to be much greater during the cotton picking season than it is. He credited the lack of calls to the fact so much equipment is used in this area in picking cotton. He explained that this is possible due to the fact the hard freeze kills the growth and makes it possible for the crop to be harvested by machinery.

BIG MAN SOMEDAY

Sonny climbed out of his high chair into a partnership with his dad. Before he started to school, he was hunting eggs and tending a couple of runt pigs. Now he's feeding a baby beef of his own. Of course, dad still does the muscle work around the place, but both of them are fiving for the day when they'll farm together.

Even John Deere power equipment doesn't make farming child's play, but it saves time and energy that farmers can spend shaping the character and guiding the development of their youngsters. No wonder so many farm boys are growing up with warm spots in their hearts for the land. They are learning first-hand that farming is one of the most challenging of all occupations . . . discovering that the farm offers opportunities for profit and a satisfying way of life that few jobs in the city can match.

Like thousands of other farm boys, this youngster is developing the initiative and self-reliance of a grown-up long before he is big enough to fill his dad's shoes. These qualities will help him to become a successful farmer, a community leader—a good American! In such hands the future of our agriculture and our nation will be secure.
