Lake Texhoma's Tagged White Bass Caught

AUSTIN - The first catches of white bass released in Lake Texhoma have been reported to the chief aquatic biologist of the Game and Fish Commission. Three of the marked beauties were recorded through Aquatic Biologist Ed Bonn at Denison.

He had directed the original tagging of 252 white bass. About one half were returned to Hickory creek near the head of Lake Texoma on Red River Arm. About 50 were released at

Residents Think Of Old Days As Community Falls In Duster's Path

By Mrs. Merlin Kaul and Mrs. Elmer Combs

The sandstorm last Wednesday made old timers think of the bad times back in 1934. Several homes here were "covered up" where the house was in the direct path of a blowing field. In contrast to our sandstorms, Mrs. Albert Kaul, who left here February 26 for her home at Sabetha, Kans., says that they have had three blizzards since she got home and she has been able to get out of the house only once due to drifts, icy walks, etc.

Mrs. Kelly Gray is spending a couple of weeks in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Green at Summerfield. She will leave in a few days for Brewton, Tenn., where she is having a new brick home built. The house will have six rooms and will be located near her brother's home. Her two sisters will make their home with

Yahama, Kasaboski Victors On Local Mat Saturday

The "furriners" swept both nds of the double main event estling card Saturday night at e Bull barn.

Sesue Yahama, a ju-jitsu arist from Tokyo, Japan, used ome of his Oriental bone-breakng culture on Billy Hickson, of Cnoxville, Tenn., in the first vent, an hour-long match, two est out of three falls.

Alex Kasaboski, former Rusan strongman, now claiming familton, Ontario, Canada, as his ome, won the bunting in the econd event by overpowering George Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss, with a barrage of his usual rough Yahama, a 200-pounder, proided plenty of competition for Hickson, who returns to the local nat after a prolonged absence. The burly Japanese lost the first all as Hickson pinned him in minutes with a front face lock nd jack-knife.

Yahama made it quick work or the second fall, which he aptured in five minutes via a apanese arm bar.

He kept in the habit and closed the proceedings nine minutes ater with the same type of Janese arm bar.

Hickson and Yahama put on an excellent match with Yahama sprinkling the crafty ju-jitsu liberally throughout. His uncanny knowledge of nerve centers made it tough for Hickson to keep a hold of the visitor for any protracted period.

As usual, Alex Kasaboski, who worked the second match, gave the audience plenty to scream about with his customary "bad boy" tactics while being put through his paces by George Cur-

The Russian won the first fall in 11 minutes with a give-up hammer lock which gave Curtis plenty of trouble.

Curtis retaliated eight minutes later by giving the big Russian the secret of the atomic bombrather, the atomic drop, with which he laid Kasaboski low for Kasaboski, seeking his revenge, got it as he put Curtis on the floor in six more minutes with a one-legged crab.

Alex was plenty rough with Curtis, who preferred to wrestle more by the rules than with his fists. Curtis gave it to Kasaboski when the latter insisted on opening up, however.

Gene Detton of Amarillo was the third man in the ring. Wrestling fans got an added attraction between bouts as Russell Bradshaw, internationallyescape artist, put on an enlightened exhibition of his bag of tricks.

Four men from the crowd were nvited into the ring to manacle Bradshaw for his various stunts. For the first one, they laced him up in a straight jacket, which he shed in five seconds. Next they used chains, padlocked him and tied him with ropes. He escaped from this in a few seconds.

Single Girl Lists "Types" Of Bachelors In Article

(The following article was submitted to The Brand following our two features on pictures of eligible bachelors. The story explains what's wrong with bachelors.-Ed.)

By "TOOTS"

I am tired of all these stories and feature articles on "how to catch a man." For the past several years not one new, sensational idea has been introduced, yet papers and magazines are still capitalizing on the subject. Oh, yes, I read these new items, because even though I am not yet an old maid, friends refer me to articles that are cleverly written and are rather amusing reading material. Since the usual 10 rules are so well stipulated, why is it that there are still some bachelors on the loose? Maybe it is true that we women can't catch them. but they don't need to be so smug about their freedom. Did it ever occur to anyone that even if women are not perfect, something might be wrong with the bachelors? After all, when a man has accumulated a few idiosyn- going to the movie due to start

What's wrong with bachelors? things. It is not their looks. Most of them are good looking, in fact, handsome. Perhaps they do have a few grey hairs at their temples even at the early age of 30, but their faces are erased by the wrinkles possessed by married men of the same age. It's not their clothes that are annoying, either, for bachelors are the bestdressed men. They have known plenty of women and have been advised against wearing plaid socks, striped shirts, tweed trousers and polka dot ties as harmonizing ensembles. We won't discuss intellect, culture, morals, etc., because I have found most bachelors rate above average. Now just what is wrong?

Let us discuss a few of the species. Bachelors are in every town, city, and country and I bet dollars to doughnuts you girls will be able to name a bachelor of your own acquaintance for each one that I mention. (I am chatting with you girls because I doubt if a bachelor would read

Everyone knows Dan. He dates all the new girls first. Usually he dates them only once, so that within the young women's circles, he is known as "one-date Dan." All the townspeople think he is the most eligible young man around, and he is so friendly.

We know glamor-boy Glenn who goes to all the parties. He will always fill in as a canasta partner. He compliments all the women and he is crazy about children. If he tells you he loves you, take it with a grain of salt, because lovemaking is as natural as breathing for him.

Chivalrous Charley does things for you. If you spill Coke all over your dress, he will gladly sponge it out. He's always opening doors, carrying packages, mailing let-ters and doing things for others. There's nothing wrong with that, but he is so busy serving he forgets to relax and enjoy you. Does he ever notice the gold of your hair or the sparkle in your eyes?

As Charley's opposite, there is 'take - me - as - I - am - Tom" who never understands why you fume when he calls for you dressed in taffeta and he is wearing work clothes. Of course, since he is God's gift to women (or so he thinks) he doesn't even bother to open the car door and he doesn't remember that all fenaics and invers for banquets, dances, or surprises. (Well, you aren't married to the dope yet!) Possessive Pete wants you to be a one-man woman, and he wants to be the man. So what if he only wants to see you once a week? If he goes out of town for a month, you are supposed to be logal to him and not look at another man. Of course, he will date every cute waitress that winks at him, yet he will tell you he likes å girl that isn't aggressive. When you do go with another man, he becomes insanely jealous and will insist upon discussing this other man on all succeeding dates.

Women are mere accessories to some bachelors, especially for egotistical Earl. He really doesn't need you, but since it is ladies' night at the lodge, he will take you along because he wouldn't want his associates to think he couldn't date any girl in town. If you are wearing a dress he doesn't like, he will be sure to tell you, and furthermore, he will insist that you change. Should this dominant male date you for a movie, when you get to the theater he will probably find the picture boring and the only thing to do will be to walk out even if you are intrigued by

Legume Planting Prospers Despite Drouth In State

COLLEGE STATION - Texas farmers, come dry or wet weather, have recognized the value of using legumes in their crop rotation plans. Despite the prolonged drouth during the fall and winter of 1950 and 1951, seed purchases were heavy.

The state office of the Production and Marketing Administration at College Station has just released a report covering the amount of legume seed farmers secured under the purchase order program for the 1951 legume production program. The report shows that 32,677,172 pounds of all types of legume seed were secured by farmers under the program. The total included 10,-631,089 pounds of lespedeza.

Other large orders were for winter peas, both Austrian and Dixie Wonder, hairy vetch and hubam sweetclover. Smaller orders were for Madrid sweetclover, melitotus indica (animal yellow blooming sweetclover), Singletary peas, Willimette and com-

WHAT ARE TODAY'S FACTS ABOUT NEW CAR ENGINES AND POWER STEERING?

LAST YEAR Chrysler introduced its new FirePower
V-8 engine, and America's first passenger-car full-time power steering. Both new ideas "took hold" in a big way.

Today, others are announcing "new engines" and "power steering" . . . but with some basic differences worth keeping in mind if you're buying a new car.

First: about "new engines." The fact is, a really new engine design happens only once in a great while. It did happen in the FirePower V-8. Its 180 h.p. was only incidental to its basic new design. Its key idea is a hemispherical combustion chamber, which makes even non-premium gasoline develop more usable power than other designs can get from premium fuel.

Only Chrysler engineering has so far-mastered this design. Several cars do have some power increase, in terms of previous designs. The important fact is that FirePower is not a "warmedover" engine, but brand new in performance, construction, and efficiency.

In power steering, too, there are basic differences.

Chrysler uses hydraulic power, always in effect, to do two things. First, it does 4/5 the steering work as you turn the wheel. Second, we've cut the amount of wheel turn needed by over 1/3.

Parking or cruising, you get more and easier. control than ever before. In sand, snow, or ruts, the hydraulic power is always there to keep the front wheels from "steering back" at you. You get the same amount and feel of control all the time ... full-time ease and full-time safety.

Actually, the differences, both in engine performance and in steering safety and ease are impossible to put in words . . . but just as impossible not to feel the moment you get into a Chrysler and drive it! Why not see your Chrysler dealer and do that, soon?

BLUE-PRINT FOR LIVING

He is a wise builder who sits down to count the cost and make careful plans for the construction of his house. Rock and tree and mine and gravel pit, materials from many sources, are to be brought together and assembled into a unity. There must be a clear understanding of what is wanted. The plan must be drawn for all workmen to follow. The laws of nature must be obeyed. How important then that the builder shall sit thoughtfully before the drawing sheet, before he sets his hands to square and compass and rule and all the tools of the builder! Architect, contractor, carpenter, mason and all the rest must follow a common plan, if a good house is to be the result.

How much more important is the building of a home! Persons are here to live together. Minds and wills are to be harmonized, women and men and children are to get on in sympathy and understanding. The builders of a home need a plan, a blueprint, a guide for all to follow, if there is to be a genuine home. The Bible has served as the sacred blueprint for Christian homes for eighteen hundred years. Differing minds and wills work together better, if each knows the other to be seeking to follow the divine will. Forgiveness flows from love and trust which have been inspired by common prayer and worship. The Bible in the hands, love in the hearts, prayer upon the lips, a common purpose to do His will; these are the promise of a good home. These are our blueprint to living.

proposal be adopted, it would be the "foot in the door" for federal control that could well be the death knell of Texas' hopes to recover property that rightfully belongs to Texas. I witnessed a recent television program in the nature of a debate between Senator O'Mahoney and Senator Long, of Louisiana, concerning the tidelands question. I noted with interest one of the arguments of Senator O'Mahoney. He stated that since the Louisiana purchase was paid for out of the federal treasury, it became the property of the federal government and that Louisiana, as a part of the territory so acquired, had no more right to claim the tidelands than would the other states included in the Louisiana purchase and the rest of the United States. He also pointed out nineral leases covering submerg- familiar with the background of that the California territory was ceded to the United States by Mexico. The interesting thing to me was that he never once mentioned Texas or referred to how Texas came into the Union. The truth is that the above arguments could not possibly apply to Texas. The Texas case is entirely different. The unanswerable fact in the Texas case is that Texas retained title to its public lands and the source of the title to the land that you live on is a Texas patent, and not a United States patent. When Texas came into the union, changing her status from a sovereign power to a state, and by the resolution of annexation retained her public lands, she owned the 10 1/2 mile strip of submerged lands along her coast, and she still owns them under every conceivable law of mankind. For the federal government to assume ownership of these lands is nothing less than lacerny, whether it be by judicial decree or legislative edict. The Texas delegation will continue the fight to protect our property rights until this question is settled right, and it will lands are returned to the rightful owner, the State of Texas.

Beginning a Second Life

Ten years ago the advice given about this house was: "Tear it down." However, the family that had just bought it took a second look. This led to a second life for the house because they decided the basic structure was sound enough to justify remodeling. The old screened porch was converted into an open one leading onto a concrete terrace. Asbestos siding was placed over the old clapboards. New asphalt roof shingles were applied directly on top of the old wood roofing, a reroofing method that eliminates the expense of taking worn material off. Asphalt shingles were chosen for two main reasons-fire-resistance for safety, and color for attractiveness. A soft red was chosen from among the many solid and blended colors in which asphalt shingles are made.

Built-ins Suit Modern Living

This combination of a bookcase and cabinets shows how charmingly hardwood plywood built-in furniture fits into a modern living room.

Built-in furniture has become a mark of the most livable new American homes. Built-ins are liked because they suit the easy casual manner of living that many people have adopted during the last few years.

Among favorite kinds of built-in furniture are cabinets, cupboards, closets, bookcases, shelves, desks, radio and phonograph cabinets, tables, benches, storage walls, counters, bunks, dressing tables, bars, bins, and racks for toys, magazines, towels, phonograph records and sports equipment.

Built-ins are popular for their attractiveness as well as for functional suitability. They usually are made in clean-lined designs that appeal to the modern is signs that appeal to the modern in figures.

Laste. The hardwood plywood of which they are often constructed has always been prized for its beauty and decorative fitness.

Hardwood plywood is faced with wood veneer, which adds the attractiveness of wood grain figures.

Some advantages of hardwood plywood are that it resists warping and swelling and maintains its balanced construction and dimensional stability. It can be nailed close to the edge without splitting. The 'smooth surface cleans easily. Occasional wiping with a soft cloth and periodic waxing usually are all that is required.
