SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

A. W. Erickson, the most outstanding private individual crop reporter in the business, presented a gloomy wheat picture at the Rotary club meeting Friday at noon. Erickson covers the hard winter wheat belt and the spring wheat belt of the North Central United States and Canada.

He stressed the damage done by greenbugs, stating it is more severe than anyone realized. Much of the damage was done last fall when people didn't realize it was being done, he said.

Erickson illustrated his talk with a number of slides of wheat roots, wheat plants, and fields showing the actual damage done.

Clever St. Patrick's Day trav favors were made by the fourth grade students of Shirley school and filled with mints for Deaf Smith County hospital yesterday. Green hats decorated with shamrocks, made of construction paper held mint cups. Teachers supervise the work were Mrs. Ben Malone, Mrs. Charles Hodges, and Mrs. Mary Melms.

SPRING WEATHER, peculiar to the Texas Panhandle, made Easter shoppers in Hereford Friday and Saturday wonder just what to buy for Easter just one week away. Regardless of what they wear, the children are going to be sure they have Easter baskets on hand, as evidenced by the group in the photo who didn't let Friday's wind and dust keep them from shopping. Saturday at noon when big wet snow flakes started falling, other children threw snowballs while shopping for Easter eggs and trimmings. ## Dark Picture Painted of Chances for Wheat Crop Prospects for making a wheat crop in Deaf Smith county this year are very slim, producers and agricultural advisors agreed this week.

A considerable amount of the nearly 300,000 acres planted to wheat last fall is already dead—killed by greenbug and cutworm infestation.

One source estimated Saturday that more than 30% of the wheat is already killed. Another considered this a "very conservative estimate".

The picture is not completely dark, however, for there are several sections of the county where the wheat crop looks fine, but the prospects for a crop of major proportions have already gone by the boards.

Some sections of the county have reported considerable increase during the last 10 days in the red spider which some call the clover mite. This insect sucks the juice from the leaves of the plant.

The Deaf Smith county Production and Marketing Adminstration office said this week that they have received more release requests from farmers covered under the federal crop insurance program, bringing the total of releases to 25% for insured fields.

Agricultural advisors who visit producers in the county say the damage from the greenbugs and cutworms is not confined to any one section of the county. Neighboring farmers have given completely different reports as to damage. Cutworm and

Draft Board Has March 29 Call; Three Men Delinquent

Mrs. A. Petersen, clerk of Selective Service Board 18, announced that eight men have been called by the local board for induction on March 29.

On April 4, 24 men will be called for induction and 44 for physical examinations, Mrs. Petersen said.

Three men, Murle Francis Ferris of Umbarger, Zamarippo Reyes of Hereford, and John Orosco of Bovina, are now listed with the local board as delinquent. Mrs. Petersen said these men should contact the board as soon as possible.

To leave March 29 for induction are Robert Payton Ramey of Hereford, Bascom M. Nelson and Everett J. McBroom of Canyon, James L. Pope and Loyd G. Messenger of Friona, Bobby Kelly of Bovina, Isaac L. Allen of Springlake, and Raymond L. Altum of Dawn.

Two of these men, Nelson and Ramey, are being postponed from induction until the end of the college year. Mrs. Petersen pointed out.

Hotel Jim Hill is Facing Foreclosure on March 20

Water Decision for Farmers is Postponed Until March 31

Tom McFarland, president of the Deaf Smith County Water Users Association, says it is time for farmers to decide whether they want to join the 21-county water users organizations or form an organization of their own.

The issue was discussed Friday afternoon at the meeting of irrigation farmers in Hotel Jim Hill ballroom, but nothing was decided, definitely as not many farmers were in attendance.

McFarland announced a meeting of farmers is being planned for Saturday, March 31, to discuss the issue and urged each farmer to plan to attend the meeting.

If the 21-county organization is chosen as the best method of meeting irrigation problems, a bond issue will be necessary with about one cent per acre tax on any well that will produce 150,000 gallons of water a day, or on all farms in the designated area which operate wells of any kind.

Faced with the probability of foreclosure on March 20, stockholders in the Hereford Community Hotel Corporation last Thursday night took a candid look at conditions after one year of operation of Hotel Jim Hill.

Directors of the local corporation, after reviewing conditions, called the meeting in order to "place the facts before the stockholders". Henry Sears, newly elected president said. He also summed up the situation as follows:

"We can stand by and let R. F. C. foreclose. We can take the present payment over and try to sell the corporation, or we can raise more money and clear the corporation of debt. We are not telling anyone what to do," Sears continued. "The directors have called this meeting so you people, as stockholders may know the facts—and so you can tell us what you want done."

A report of general conditions was presented, disclosing the fact that the Hereford corporation owes a total of approximately $44,000, including $6,397.25 principal and interest due R.F.C. on February 24.

"The directors secured an extension to March 20 so that you stockholders could meet and decide what you want to do," Sears said.

Of the approximate $44,000 indebtedness, reports showed that $37,613.11 was in the form of unpaid accounts which have been due since the hotel opened here in 1950. Approximately $22,000 of the amount, was said due on furniture and around $9,000 was reported due on kitchen equipment and coffee shop fixtures. A suit was reported having been filed on the Hereford corporation and on Dr. L. B. Barnett as an individual by the Grauman Company of Colorado in the amount of $10,500 for payment of the kitchen equipment.

Bruce Miller, attorney, reported on the suit, pointing out that payment had not been made, due to excess billing. He said that the federal courts in Colorado had dismissed the case, but that the Denver firm has secured a judgment in Colorado State Courts. Service had been attempted on the Colorado judgment and the case, as Miller put it, will be tried "in home country", or Texas courts.

A survey of stockholders present indicated that the group did not wish to protect their stock by investing an estimated additional 20 per cent in the hotel corporation. The group did vote, however, to allow preferred payment to any group which might place additional funds in the corporation to tide the situation beyond its present difficulties. Such action, it was pointed out, would be subject to release of second and third mortgages now held by the Hill Estate and by a group of debenture bond holders.

A financial report showed a net profit of approximately $9,000 to the Hereford corporation during the first 12 months of operation. Hotel Manager Paul Holland said that approximately $4,000 in opening expense had held the hotel down by that amount during its first year. He also pointed out that a first year is the poorest for most hotels, due to the fact that they have to become established.

Sears said that a minimum profit of $23,000 annually will be required to meet annual R.F.C. payments on the building. Payments on principal, he said, figure $10,400, interest $7,947, a total of $18,347. "To clear this minimum amount, it would also be necessary to pay around $3,466 in federal income taxes, he estimated. It was also pointed out that no county, city or state taxes were paid during the first year of operation.

Reaction of the stockholders was varied. Some felt that would be best to let R.F.C. foreclose; others favored trying to tide the corporation over the pressing situation and still a few others wanted to raise additional funds to operate the hotel.

Old directors of the corporation also reviewed conditions leading to the emergency. Wayne Evans attributed the situation largely to a matter of "under-financing of the project" pointing out that the corporation started out to build a $325,000 hotel and, due to increased building costs, wound up with $515,000 investment.

The meeting adjourned without definite action, except the vote to allow priority payment to any group which might work out an immediate financing plan to weather the corporation over its immediate difficulties.

Mrs. Pearl Sadler was a guest this week in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Lama Beavers. She en route to her home in Flin view from an extended visit to relatives in California.

Trustee Election Will Be Held on April 7

Three members of the board of trustees of the Hereford Independent School District, Major A. J. Schroeter, president of the Board, Sylvester Slagle, and W. T. Kelly, have been requested to run for re-election on April 7, the regularly scheduled trustee election day.

Names of other candidates seeking election must be in the office of Fred W. Baird, school tax collector, at the court house, 10 days before April 7 in order to be placed on the ballot.

Schroeter pointed out that any group wishing to run a candidate or candidates may present a petition to Fred W. Baird with the signatures of five or more qualified voters of the district 10 days before the election.

School board members are elected for a term of three years, with a third of the board retiring each year.

Trustees whose terms do not expire are Lyle Woodford, H. H. Miller, Howard Gault, and Robert Viegel.

Hereford Boys' Ranch Donations $275.83 Monthly

Representing the contribution of many individuals, $275.83 per month has been pledged by Hereford citizens for Boy's Ranch, according to Mrs. Roy Ford, chairman of the Boy's Ranch Round-up committee, who believes Hereford may reach a goal of $300 per month for the boys.

Mrs. Ford said the committee received several larger per month contributions, but the largest per cent were $1 contributions, thus making the total amount represent the work of many people.

Other persons wishing to join the round-up may contact Mrs. Ford, Mrs. Wayne Edwards, Mrs. Bruce Woodell, or Mrs. Cecil Williams.

Hereford's first industry of its kind—the Campbell and Womble Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of ladies and children's lingerie for wholesale distribution, is preparing to swing into full scale operation in the next few days.

Owners of the wholesale company, L. L. Womble and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Faye Campbell, say they are starting on a small scale; however, with eight power-machines and power cutter which they completed installing this week, they plan to average 300 dozen garments a day—a total of 3600 garments.

The new business is located upstairs at the southwest corner of Second and Main where ladies and children's underwear, gowns, pajamas, and play clothes made in fancy and plain designs are being manufactured.

The brand to be used on the garments has not yet been definitely determined as the owners are waiting to hear from the copyright office.

Manufacturers of Texsheen garments, Mrs. Campbell was employed with the Denton plant at the time it opened with exactly the same number of machines being used here. Today the plant employs 300 people.

Three months ago Mrs. Campbell came to Hereford and since that time she and Womble have been completing arrangements for officially opening the company. Beginning operations was delayed because of slow delivery of machines; however, Mrs. Campbell has a large number of garments nearing completion.

Mrs. Campbell says the company has on hand a fairly good stock of materials and she foresees no immediate shortages, although obtaining materials is slow.

Owners of the new company indicate they will start their business with only a few employees and expand gradually in order to let each learn the new machinery.

The eight machines include a tacker, bander, insert and outside elastic stitcher, sheerer, serger, leg elastic machine, and zig zag machine.

Allowed 2000 More Acres Of Castor Bean Seed Here

Latest developments opened the way Saturday for test growing 2000 more acres of castor beans in Deaf Smith county, Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, reports.

McFarland said there are 2000 acres of certified dwarf variety seed available, but at a cost of 25c per pound. This seed will be distributed to farmers for growing without acreage limitation and without distance limitations.

A meeting for farmers interested in castor beans has been tentatively set for March 24 at Hotel Jim Hill. At that time, a movie will be shown and a lecture will be given explaining the castor bean situation.

In explaining the increased seed available for local tests of castor beans, McFarland said one of the outstanding advantages of castor beans is that no insects can bother them; it is a government-subsidized program, guaranteeing at least 10c per pound (market price today 12 1/2c per pound).

Local producers who have contacted representatives of the Baker company have been told they can expect 1500 to 1500 pounds per acre average in irrigated areas off castor beans. Castor beans can be raised for $10 per acre.

McFarland further explained that the Baker men said that on a large acreage, a combine can be hired to cut the beans and a portable field to field huller can be used to hull the beans, leaving the burrs and residue in the field as fertilizer. The residue has been proven valuable in chemical content. McFarland has been informed.

Farmers interested in taking advantage of this increased test program are asked to contact McFarland at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Ten farmers have agreed to plant a total of 400 acres in castor beans as a test toward a possible new cash crop in the Hereford irrigation belt.

Tom McFarland, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, who was in charge of signing up farmers for the test, said twice as many volunteered to plant castor beans. The 400-acre limit was set in the test as that is the number of acres one harvester can handle.

The ten farmers signed up as certified seed growers and will get one cent premium per pound. Present market price of castor beans is 12 and a half cents per pound, while the government support is set at 10 cents per pound.

Walter Galley will plant the largest acreage for any one farmer—80 acres, while Floyd Walton Sr. will plant the smallest acreage, 10. Others who plan to

April 1 Deadline for Rural Phone Signup

April 1 has been set as the deadline for making application for service from the West Texas Telephone Cooperative, Leo Forrest, manager of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative, said this week.

At a board meeting held earlier in the week, the cooperative's engineer expressed belief that sufficient equity would be accumulated by the first of April to secure release of the loan funds for construction of the lines.

Due to the fact that the drive for rural phones has fallen considerably in some areas, the minimum number of subscribers is not as high as previously, nor is the total miles of lines to be constructed.

plant castor beans are Haskel Benson, 40 acres; J. E. Stengel, 40; Wayne Johnson, 40; J. A. Schulte, 40; Lloyd Bentley, 40; Carl Wimberly, 40; W. W. Wimberly, 40; F. H. King, 30.

After the release of loan funds, maps and material lists for each of the lines will be prepared.

Rural telephone service in Castro county may have to be left until a later date because of lack of subscribers, Forrest said. This includes the proposed servicing of Dimmitt, Nazareth, and Flagg.

Forrest said that telephone service for the Wythe community and for the area north of Friona is doubtful. The total number of miles of wire may have to be reduced in that area.

Negotiations for agreements with telephone companies in the area of the proposed new rural telephone lines are being carried further this week, according to Forrest.

The third opening, for two miles, will be made in precinct 2 on the request of Thurmond Atchley, C. R. Walsler, Fred S. Barrett, and H. H. Lanford.

FRIONA NEWS

City Officials Reject City Hall Bids; Wreck Causes $325 Damage

Mrs. E. R. Day

Friona city officials turned down all bids submitted for the construction of a new city hall because they were higher than their original cost estimate for the building. Cost of constructing the city hall under the contracts submitted would have been too high for the money allotted for that purpose. Money was also set aside in a bond issue approved last fall to pave some of the streets and laying larger water mains where needed in the city.

A serious accident on Highway 60 was averted Thursday at about 7:30 p.m. when Mrs. Hardy May, driving a 1949 Dodge drove out onto the highway in front of a pickup driven by Wineford Rozell. Mrs. May said she stopped on the North side of the highway and looked but did not see the approaching car coming from the west and drove onto the highway. Charles Sanders, coming from the south, had stopped and was waiting for the pickup, so his car was hit in front by the other two cars, but no damage was done to his car. An estimated $300 damage was done to the May car and $25 to the pickup. Mrs. May's two children were with her in the car at the time. No one was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Reppard Shirley and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hatter were in Dumas Wednesday on business.

Miss Lila Rue Day will arrive home Saturday to spend the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day Sr. and be with her brother, Emmett Jr., who will arrive home Saturday from San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Day and Jerry will leave Saturday to visit with his sister, Mrs. L. P. Cantrell, who will undergo surgery Saturday morning at Pampa. The Cantrells live at White Deer.

The Friona high school girls, under the direction of Glenn Cunningham, presented a concert at the Methodist church Wednesday evening. The choir is arranging a 500-mile tour on March 29-31. They will present a concert at Crane, Odessa, Imperial, and other Texas towns.

Band director Glenn Cunningham and his high school grade school band were in Plainview Tuesday evening for the band concert given by the North Texas State college school of music. The band was accompanied by several of the band parents. Those going were Mr. and Mrs. George Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day, Mrs. Jim Shaffer, and Mr. Blankenship. All reported a very good concert.

Letter To Editor

Dear Jimmie:

In view of the fact that the Hereford School Board believes the citizens should be kept informed in regard to the policy and administration of our schools and since we, the undersigned members have been requested to present our names for re-election in the coming trustee election on April 7th, we feel that we should make the following statement in regard to our position in the operation and needs of our school in the future.

We believe that a new high school is necessary at this time not only to care for the increase in the high school classes of 1952, but to make provisions for 300 junior high students who have been cared for since 1946 in the temporary army barracks, which are not adequate for a proper school program. These students do not have facilities for physical education or assemblies except by dividing time with the high school, which is inadequate even for the high school students.

We believe that a physical education building and auditorium is essential to the plans for a well rounded school program. The extra-curricular activities, assemblies and interest in sports, which is a natural characteristic of any student, is very important in building school spirit, holding the interest of our students and creating a greater interest in their studies. It is our thought that the prevention of juvenile delinquency alone would be worth the investment. There is no way of telling how much delinquency our present program prevented. Last year about 180 requests for the use of the auditorium outside of school activities were rejected. Most of these were requests for some worthy project by good organizations. The high school auditorium is the only one in town for that purpose.

We believe in planning a school program in advance, just as a businessman or farmer plans his operations for the future. We are also in accord with the policies of the board as they now stand. We believe in economy insofar as conditions will permit, but not to the extent of jeopardizing the successful operation of a good school system.

We feel that our students are the town's greatest asset. Since the schools are turning out the future citizens of Hereford, we feel that they should have the proper facilities for education.

Each of us has served on the school board from 5 to 6 years or more and we feel that the interest of the school district would be better served if more interest were shown in school elections and the members of the board changed more often.

The recent bond issue was defeated. We as individuals and as members of the present board know that we blundered in many instances, but we did try to explain to the people the issues involved. We know too, that when this issue is renewed, it must have the wholehearted support of the people who want to see our schools progress.

Anyone wishing to run for trustee can request that his name be placed on the ballot at least 10 days before the day of election. Any group that would like to run a candidate or candidates may present a petition to Fred W. Baird with the signature of five or more qualified voters of the district 10 days before the election.

Yours very truly,
Sylvester Slagle

Izzard Calls "Public Morality" Cause of World's Problems

Pointing to "public morality" as the chief cause of unsettled national conditions in the United States, Wes Izzard, Editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, Friday night spoke to a crowd of 170 persons at The Presbyterian church "Family Night" gathering.

"It all really started when they quit using McGuffey's Readers in our public schools," Izzard declared. He said that Buck Rogers and Lil' Abner have been used to replace stories about the boys who worked hard, paid their debts and followed a pattern of honesty and tell to success.

"The situation has been emphasized by the fact that our modern day children have no chores," Izzard continued, and he launched into a review of "the good old days" when sewing and cooking was taught at home rather than in school and when boys were kept busy doing farm and household chores.

Izzard's down-to-earth discussion of general conditions also crossed personalities. Lack of personal morality, he said, is the failure of the individual to vote like he feels is right—because of personal gain by voting for a friend or benefactor.

Carol Hays of Dimmitt spent several days last week with her grandmother, Mrs. H. G. Conkwright.

A GOOD-SIZED egg for any chicken was laid Tuesday morning by a New Hampshire Red owned by Billy Bob Jackson. The egg, which measures more than 3 inches in length and 6 1/4 inches in circumference, is the first over-sized egg laid by this particular hen, although some of Jackson's hens have previously laid longer, thinner eggs. This particular hen lays double-yolked eggs about every third day, according to Jackson. He feeds the hens on El Rancho feeds, he said.

Boy, those whiskers are beginning to sprout. If they held the contest today only one man could possibly win. He would be Don Boles, general manager of Station KPAN. Already he looks like a bear and he has only been letting his beard go for three or four days. However, Don maybe had an unfair advantage. He is one of those fellows who can finish shaving and still have a 5:00 o'clock shadow at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Carl Sundeen, Brand ad manager, saw Don's beard — and it is worrying him to death. He just don't like to let the radio station get ahead of him in any form or fashion. He was around wanting to know if yogurt will grow whiskers as well as hair. He finally started some sideburns — but he hasn't a ghost of a chance. His efforts are futile and feeble. Carl has seven children and I am not denying that he is a pretty good man — but he just isn't the whisker type. When it comes to handling advertising and singing and a lot of other things he is tops, but the blond fuzz on his face is just plain sissy when compared to Boles' prolific growth of real he-man beard.

Glewe Owen has another disappointing crop of whiskers. Glewe had a nice black beard in the 1939 display — but it is grey and faded now. Glewe can't understand this at all. He figures if you grow good whiskers one Pioneer Day, you should be able to repeat on the next. What happened to Sank Ramsey? As I recall he had a fairly good set in '39. Maybe Sank is having the same experience as Glewe.

Rev. Don Davidson has brought up a good point on this whisker business. He says he heard that they are going to put in a big tank to duck all fellows who fail to co-operate. He further says this is alright — for the Baptists. However, he feels like they should merely sprinkle the Methodists. Maybe he has something, here. How about it Mr. Committee? Let's have an answer.

Heard the other day that Cecilia Guseman has signed up to become a hostess on United Airlines. This is swell. Cecilia finishes school in Denver this week and is scheduled to start training on March 28. She will be on one of the big four motor planes. She had a little trouble with her dad but finally convinced him that the job was OK. Since she was a kid in high school Cecilia has yearned for a job as airline hostess. I think she will be a regular whiz. One of the best, which is saying a lot. I don't know how they do it, but the airlines have a way of getting the very best girls available for these jobs. They are always nice, agreeable, courteous, intelligent — and very, very pretty.

Have talked with several people who saw the preview of "I Climbed the Highest Mountain", a picture which Francis Hardwick claims to have literally stolen from a much larger town. He is capable alright, so I guess he is telling the truth. Anyway, these folks say he really has a wonderful picture. They say the story is superb — and that the film is one to be considered truly outstanding.

They have a new story going around about Bob Thompson, who is driving a new car. Deward Roberson says that Bob had some kidney stones removed last year and insisted on the doctor preserving the stones in bottles. Someone happened along with a Geiger counter — and discovered uranium in the stones. Bob was able to sell them for enough to buy a car. That's what Deward is telling, but it sounds like one of R. C. McGilvary's fish stories to me.

Another story also emerged about Alex, the other Thompson. I think he started it himself. They say he was away from the office all day when the Park Ave. Village explosion occurred. When the girls asked Alex why he didn't get back, he replied that he was taking pictures of the disaster. He said that he heard a woman was in the steam bath in one of the shops when it occurred — and he waited there until sun down, but she never did emerge.

MORE ABOUT WHISKERS
Dear Jimmie:
I was going my merry way, feeling very proud of the progress of my beard when I read your "Bull" column Thursday morning. You have wounded me deeply!
I have a sneaking hunch you are just jealous and that even with yogurt you can't grow hair on your chin either.
By April first (Tom McFarland set that date as deadline because he is afraid he won't have enough beard to show before then) if you don't have a beard, we bearded men will have a big square marked in the middle of that horse tank reserved for James M. Gillettine.
Dick Lucas

This sounds serious. These Jaycees are after me for sure. However, if it takes as long as it does for their projects to have to materialize, I won't worry until around 1956 or 1957. Why use a "HORSE TANK"? Don't answer, please. I already know.

Otis Dickey says he will take a ducking every day if necessary. I also understand that Travis Bain is a non-whisker man. I am going to see if he can't find something to keep Dick busy. How about it, Dick, will you personally duck Mr. Bain at the same time I hit the water? This is only fair. Furthermore, I notice that Jim Bob Allison is also clean shaven. How's about dunking him along with Travis and I?

MORE ABOUT YOGURT
Dear Jimmie:
I notice in your Thursday's issue of the Hereford Brand, you said you had discovered the secret for growing hair on billiard balls such as you carry above your coat collar. Under separate cover I am forwarding to you one quart of Yogurt and if the sample I am sending is successful in growing hair on YOUR head, believe me Brother, your fortune is made.
I hope Clara will serve this to you with every meal, as I understand that it is primarily for fallen chests such as you were developing the last time I was in Hereford and since you have quit taking Hadacol, apparently, this perhaps will take its place if you can keep it down.

Let me assure you that we have an inexhaustible supply of Yogurt in Fort Morgan, as all of the boys here take it to help them catch fish as it gives you the strength and the will power to cast a fly in the right spot at the right time and by spitting on the bait with Yogurt on the breath, catching fish is a simple matter. They fight for Yogurt... Give my best to Clara and the youngsters and come to see me sometime.
Sincerely,
John Roberts

I still haven't received the quart of yogurt. This is about like John. He means well, but isn't on the ball. Some of you old timers will recall when John was manager of the Star Theatre. He has done a lot of things for Hereford. Probably the finest of all was when he moved to Colorado. Anyway, it was nice to hear from him — especially if he will follow through and send the yogurt.
Meanwhile, it looks as if Hotel Jim Hill is in a tough shape. The local corporation made about $9,000 last year. They estimate that $23,000 will be required for minimum operation to retire the RFC loan, pay taxes, etc. This would still leave an outstanding balance of approximately $44,000 due creditors for furniture, kitchen equipment and similar installations over 12 months ago. Something may be done to delay the pain — but it is bound to come. Sooner or later, the RFC will have to foreclose on the $210,000 indebtedness, someone will get the furnished building for this amount — and it will have a chance for successful operation.

A lot of folks are, of course, disappointed. However, I can't see why. Most people considered the stock a donation. The hotel is a wonderful thing for the community and, like I said before it was built, they sure can't move it away from Hereford. An oil boom might have made it a good, sound investment. It might still do the same thing. However, if you know anything about hotels, you know this is history. It had to happen. The hotel is still here. Let's take our medicine and make the most of having a dandy little hotel, second to none in the Panhandle.

This may come as a surprise to many farmers, but statistics show that the farmers of Deaf Smith county are more prosperous than those of any county in the top 23 Panhandle counties of Texas. The statistics on Farm Income, released by Progressive Farmer, showed that Deaf Smith farmers received 9.4 percent of the farm income of the whole 23 counties (District No. 1-N); Ochiltree County (Perryton) was next with 8.6 percent. The two counties together take in 18 percent of the farm income for the 23 counties. Doc Kirby noticed this item and was nice enough to call it in. Thanks, Doc, and may the Lord help the other 22 counties. No further than our top income goes, they are bound to need it.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill have been in Dallas where they attended the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association convention.

Hereford Cops Second Win In Track Meet Here Friday

Hereford high school cindermen racked up their second track win of the season at the Whiteface field Friday, running up 39 points to take the nod over Canyon, Tulla, Dumas, and Floydada brought in a close county invitational meet.

Canyon took second place in the meet with 33 points, and Floydada brought in a close third with 30 1/2 points.

Tulla edged out Dumas for fourth place honors 23 1/2 to 22 1/2.

The Hereford "B" squad took six points in the meet.

Coach Dalton Criswell's squad, in compiling their 39 points, took three first, four seconds, and six thirds. The locals topped the field in the 120 yard high hurdles, the broad jump, and the 200 yard low hurdles.

The only new mark set on the local field was in the shot put, with Canyon and Tulla tying with marks of 42 feet 2 inches.

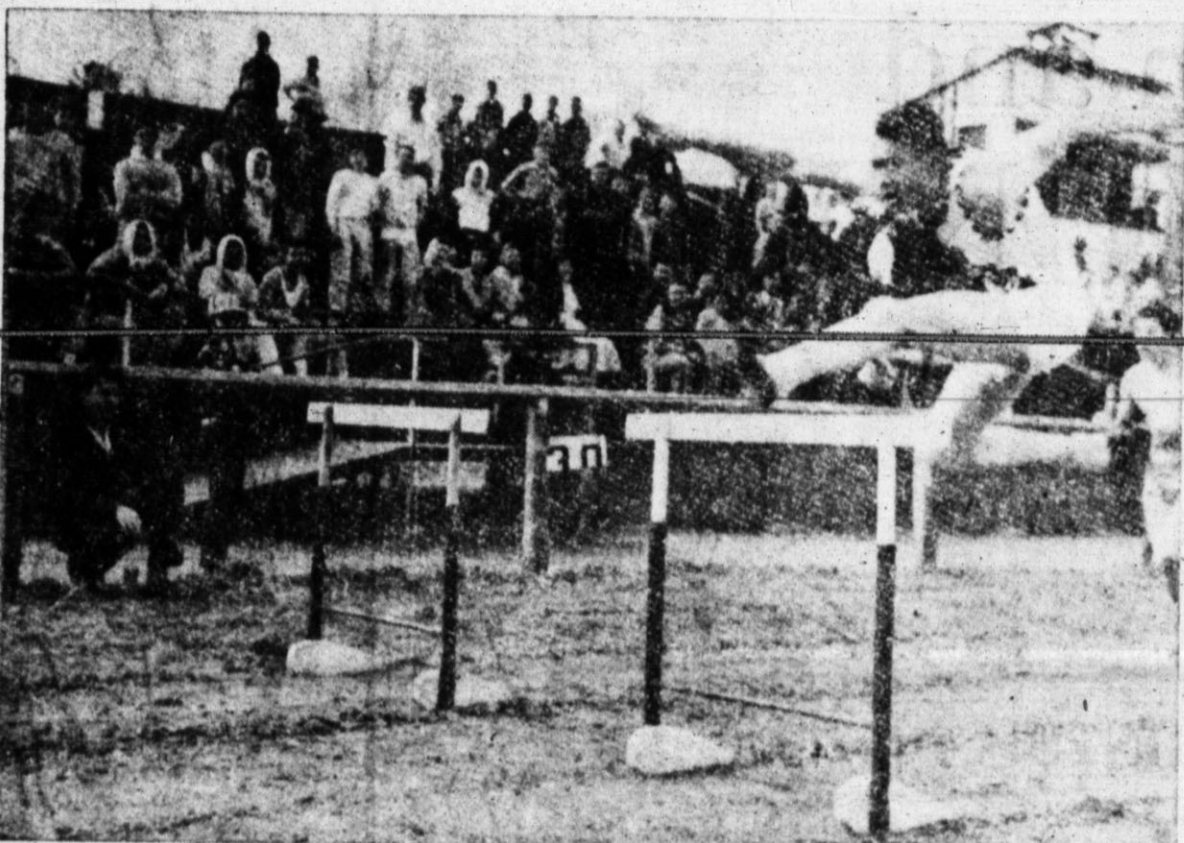

The local squad was without the services of two of its stellar performers—Kelly and Slagle. Kelly, the low-hurdle, 220 dash, and mile relay specialist, was not in town for the meet. Slagle, the Herd's prize high-jumper, was on the sick list Friday.

Hereford scored in 14 events and failed to place in the scoring in three of them. Hereford's point scoring came as follows:

High hurdles, 7; 100-yard dash, 2; 220-yard dash, 5; 440-yard relay, 2; mile relay, 2; high jump, 2; broad jump, 5; pole vault, 3; discus, 3; shot put, 3; 880-yard dash, 5.

Winner of the various events in the order run off) are:

Coach Criswell expressed his thanks for help given by local people in running off the meet. The meet was well accepted by local fans and Criswell placed much of the success to the cooperation given in preparing the grounds for the meet. He especially thanked Mr. Janssen for wetting down the track, the city for grading it, members of the high school faculty, and high school students who helped run off the meet.

Criswell said he is issuing invitations to schools for another track meet in Hereford possibly next week.

HERE ARE MEMBERS of Hereford's track team which took its second win of the season Friday nosing out four other teams in the five-county invitational. ### Red Cross Was Ready Monday For Emergency

One of the delights of the explosion Monday at the Park Avenue Village shopping center that many persons may not have been aware of is the preparations made by the local Red Cross disaster committee.

Mrs. Dvalthia Brady, executive secretary of the Red Cross in Hereford, notified Disaster Chairman A. J. Schroeter when she heard the explosion and inquired as to its location. Schroeter went immediately to the scene of the explosion while Mrs. Brady stood by at the local office to make immediate contact with national headquarters had the severity of injuries from the blast made it necessary.

Fortunately, there were no injured persons to be cared for, but the Red Cross did provide payment for a guard to watch the gaping hole at the rear of the building on Monday night.

Twenty-Eight U.S. 60 Members Here

Twenty-eight Hereford business men and women are now members of the U. S. Highway 60 Association, according to A. J. Schroeter, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee.

Schroeter this week collected more than $200 in memberships in the association for the coming year.

Several Hereford members of the group are planning to attend the national convention of the group May 17-19 at Riverside, Cal. One of the projects of the association this year will be to try and make the route an ocean to ocean highway, with a western terminal at Long Beach, Cal. The eastern end of the highway begins at Newport News, Va.

Part of the $200 raised this week by local memberships will be used to advertise Hereford at the national meeting and along the way, Schroeter said. If possible, a lobby display at the Mission Inn in Riverside will be set up, telling of Hereford and Deaf Smith county agriculture.

Since its organization, the Highway 60 association has been instrumental in increasing traffic over the route many times, Schroeter said, and local members are aware of the fact that every car traveling over U. S. 60 is a potential customer for some business place in Hereford. Schroeter reported that Highway 60 is now the best road to the west coast. It is paved solidly and there are tunnels through some of the mountains around Globe, Ariz. which have just been completed, going away with some of the high mountain curves.

Members of the association locally are: Mrs. P. A. Wineet, G. D. Caison, Mrs. Francis Neff, Jimmie Allred, Earl Phillips, Guy Lawrence, W. O. Shelton, Jerry Albracht, R. J. Richardson, Odice Bulls, Ed Bulls, D. B. Roberson, Alton Fraser, Bud Cawthon, Mark Benefield, Lee Benefield, C. J. Crumo, O. E. Sherman Jr., Lee Little, Sully Gleston, Earl Hendricks, D. C. Kinsey, Jiggs Hartman, Paul Holland, Merris Easley, R. J. Schroeter, A. J. Schroeter, and Henry Sears.

Anyone interested in joining the association to promote more traffic over Highway 60, is urged to contact A. J. Schroeter, Chamber of Commerce Highway chairman, C of C office, Hereford.

All wishing to attend the national convention of the group are urged to contact Chamber

Secretary-Manager Tom McFarland.

City Police Have Five Dogs in Pound

Chief Floyd H. Reeves reports the city police have picked up "quite a few" dogs in Hereford in the last few days. Reeves warned "Everyone should keep his dog tied up even if he is tagged and vaccinated."

Only 48 dog tags have been sold up to yesterday, 33 of which were sold since March 12 despite the fact city dog tags for 1951 were to have been purchased in January; however, the '51 record is now ahead of 1950 when only 28 tags were sold for the entire year. Price of the dog tag is only $1.

The police as they make their rounds are picking up untied dogs in the streets, Reeves said. Several dogs have been claimed by their owners, but there are five in the pound at present.

The police are still receiving complaints of dogs damaging flower beds and other property in town.

Bay View Club Members Hear Review of Book "Grandma Moses"

Mrs. J. R. Allison was hostess for the Bay View club meeting in her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Paul Mathers, president, conducted the business meeting and announced the annual seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs convention to be held in Amarillo April 9, 10, 11. Mrs. Mathers was elected delegate to the convention with Mrs. A. M. Jones named as alternate.

Mrs. F. T. Roloson read a letter acknowledging the club's contribution to the welfare program in Greece which has been sponsored by the General Federation.

Mrs. Wayne Evans was in charge of the program, presenting a review of "Grandma Moses" by Otto Kallir. She began her dissertation by quoting "Her heart is like her garden. Old-fashioned, quaint and sweet" in description of Grandma Moses whom she styled as one of America's most beloved artist who paints country scenes and villages she has known and loved for 86 years.

Continuing, Mrs. Evans said in part: "Grandma Moses, the grand old lady of American Art, New York farm wife, began to paint in 1938 at the age of 78. Throughout the art world she is known as authentic, American primitive; and the general public has become familiar with her "nostalgic" New England rural scenes in numerous reproductions, including those on Christmas cards. Grandma Moses' paintings have been acquired by many museums and collectors, she is courted and feted all over the country, but she remains unflustered by her fame and the wealth that goes with it."

Members of the club attending the meeting were: Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, Colby Conkwright, H. G. Conkwright, Wayne Evans, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, Frances

Many Favorite Fish Dishes Are Excellent for Lenten Season

Two considerations of current interest to housewives are the cost and convenience of food. Canned fish is comparatively inexpensive and decidedly convenient and makes a delightful substitute for meat during Lenten season. Contrary to what some cooks think, there are more ways of salmon, and other canned varieties, than the familiar baked loaf or fried croquette.

The season of Lent gives a ly meal, is presented. Here is a menu for a Lenten dinner suggested by Mrs. Bruce Wooddell who has used it often with her recipe for Lenten Casserole.

Salmon Casserole (with Browned Biscuit Topping)
Favorite Dessert—Hot Coffee

Salmon Casserole
 Prepare 1 cup of cooked dried celery and 1 cup English peas and set aside to drain, reserving liquid. Take a 1-pound can of red salmon, remove bones and skin and break in large-sized pieces.

Saute 1/2 tablespoons of minced onion in 4 tablespoons of butter for 2 minutes, remove from heat and blend in 6 tablespoons of flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon paprika.

Combine 3/4 cup vegetable and salmon liquid with above mixture, add 1 1/2 cups milk and bring to a boil over low heat, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute, remove from heat and add 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Add the salmon, celery and peas and place in a deep casserole. Cook in oven at 425-F. deg. for ten minutes. Make biscuits 1/4 in. thick (or use prepared ones) and place on top of casserole. Return to oven and bake 10 or 15 minutes or until biscuits are brown.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough is New Member of Pioneer Study Club

Mrs. Ralph McCullough was welcomed as a new member of The Pioneer Study club at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Rex Tynes. Mrs. B. E. Brumley was cohostess.

The program featured a study of India and its leaders with Mrs. C. B. Williams as leader.

Madame Pandit, who was India's first ambassador to the United States, was the subject of discussion by the leader who quoted from an address made by Madame Pandit to the graduate of Vassar University in 1950: "Man's mental and material progress are so inseparably linked that one is not possible without the other—and both are necessary to safeguard the democratic way of life. The changes in India since their freedom from British domination, provide an opportunity for America and India to come closer together for mutual advantage."

"Independence and After — Nehru" was reviewed by Mrs. Tandy Legg. She told something of Nehru's life, a man of wealth who renounced a privileged life to one of sacrifice and service to his country and its 400 million people. On a recent visit he said: "We have not got the A Bomb—and we are glad we do not have it" Mrs. Legg told club members.

Highway Fatalities Rival Those of War

While we are concerned about those who die in warfare, it might be a good idea for us to think about the hundreds of Americans who die terrible deaths every day in automobile accidents.

This is a fearful price for a nation to pay for transportation. Naturally, some citizens will be killed on the highways, due to causes that are not preventable. This does not excuse us for ignoring the death of those who die from human carelessness and individual acts that are reprehensible and criminal.

Most of the American states have competent highway patrolmen. They do their best to make highway traffic safe for everybody. Frequently, they arrest speeders; at times, they apprehend drivers operating vehicles under the influence of alcoholic beverages. Formal charges are made against the offenders and many are convicted and punished.

It happens occasionally, however, that one who violates the highway law demands a trial before a jury and the men sworn to try the case, out of sympathy or other maudlin excuse, turn loose individuals, who, they are convinced, have violated the law. The jury in such case exercises its right and there is no appeal from the verdict rendered.

Frankly, a man or woman, who sits on a jury in a case involving the operation of a motor vehicle by a driver under the influence of alcoholic beverages, has a responsibility to society. He, or she, should not hesitate to join in a verdict that will speak the truth, regardless of what happens to the accused. Other citizens, using the highways, have a right to protection and it should not require a fatality, upon the main street of a town, to create a sentiment that demands enforcement of the law.

Keep It "Non-Partisan" "Independent"

The American Association of School Administrators, recently in convention, passed a resolution urging that Congress establish a National Board of Education, made up of representative laymen, with authority to appoint a professional educator as Commissioner of Education and that the office be completely "non-partisan" and "independent."

The president of the Association, Warren Travis White, superintendent of schools in Dallas, Texas, stressed the importance of taking steps to keep education free from political domination. He thought that the education office should be able to attend to its work without concern for politics or political parties and pointed out that the movement for a completely independent agency was not based upon personalities.

The Association reaffirmed its stand for Federal aid for public education without Federal control and urged Federal aid for public school buildings. This is not only in line with the vast majority of opinion in the United States but a practical necessity if public education is to competently serve the boys and girls who are entitled to educational opportunities.

The opposition to Federal aid to education has relied largely upon a contention that Federal funds will mean Federal control. In this, we think, the opponents have overlooked the natural desire of educational authorities in every state to control their own program. Obviously, such control could come into existence only if educators and the public acquiesce in its existence.

Nevertheless, it is just as well to make every effort to insure that the activities of the United States Government, in the field of education, shall be free of the domination of politicians and party organizations. Reassurances of this fact will do much to secure an adequate Federal contribution for the work of educating young Americans in every state upon an equal basis.

Chinese Admit Resistance

Communist China, it seems, is willing to concede that resistance against Communism has developed strongly since the outbreak of fighting in Korea and that the underground has killed thousands of Communists militia-men.

The announcement comes from Peiping and is designed, it is thought, to justify a purge which is increasing in intensity. The announcement admits present opposition to land reform, "armed defiance" to the Communist regime and that "counter-revolutionary" agents have killed many Communists.

This may be interesting to Americans but it is just as well not to pin our hopes upon reports of trouble in enemy countries. The chances are that the reports are exaggerated and that the government in power will maintain its control.

Replace Arm Chair Soldiers

We hasten to applaud the investigation announced by the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which plans to survey the armed forces to ascertain whether women might be used to relieve "arm-chair" soldiers for combat.

As everybody knows, the men on the fighting lines constitute only a relatively small proportion of those in the armed services. In every war, there have been many thousands who have enjoyed the security of safe spots, behind desks, without risking anything in the conflict.

It is also worth noting that, in many instances, the most vociferous of our super-patriots, among the veterans of the last two wars, are those who saw no combat whatsoever. It seems that the members of the armed services who were without actual contact with the enemy, in time of war, make up for their escape by becoming the leaders of veterans' organizations in times of peace.

Helicopters Saving The Wounded

Helicopters, the delicately balanced flying machines that move up and down with ease, are doing a good job in Korea in evacuating the badly wounded.

When a call comes for emergency service, the pilot takes his craft to the scene of combat, drip down to a convenient spot and take on the patients. Several hours are saved in getting the wounded to field hospitals for emergency surgery but, even more important, is the elimination of ambulance bounces in rough roads, which often take a painful toll of patients.

After the patients have been given emergency treatment, they are often flown to Japan, Hawaii or the United States for continued treatment. This means that a fighting man, wounded in Korea, is often hospitalized in the United States within a very few days. What it really means is that the wounded have a better chance to recover.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Labor vs Truman

WHETHER JUSTIFIED or not, organized labor is near the breaking point with the administration, with top labor leaders as full of venom against Harry Truman as a union league club discussion of the late FDR.

In private conversations, AF of L's Bill Green and CIO's Phil Murray make no bones of their bitterness. But since they begged union members to vote for him in 1948, it's a little hard to attack him publicly.

But a telltale sign of labor's revolt is a stinging editorial, "Wake Up, Labor," in the newspaper of the brotherhood of railroad trainmen now being reproduced in labor papers across the country without comment. It says: "If the rest of the labor movement still has any fair deal stardust flecks obscuring its vision, now is the time to apply the towel and face reality. Labor's interests were sidetracked in practically every move and major appointment the President has made since his re-election by the U.S. working men and women."

The editorial opens the gate for reappraisal with the Republican party, and recommends Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon as COP standard bearer. Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois is suggested on the Democratic ticket.

The disillusionment of the labor leaders who went down the line for Truman in 1948 began soon after his inauguration when they found themselves no longer invited to the White House for conferences. Instead, Mr. Truman insisted that labor relations be handled through amiable John Steelman. Within weeks, both Green and Murray were complaining to sympathetic congressmen that Steelman was not carrying their messages to the President, that labor's requests for policy appointments were sidetracked.

It's Mutual

Labor's coolness also had an effect on the 1950 elections where Democratic losses in the cities were heavy.

What brought the rebellion to a head were:

1. Truman's failure to consult with labor chiefs on the price-wage freeze formula. Roosevelt, though often disagreeing with Green and Murray, always made it easier for them to sell disagreeable news to their members by frequent consultation.

2. The absence of a top-flight labor man on Charlie Wilson's staff. When Stuart Symington ran defense mobilization, he appointed a labor advisory council, but not Wilson.
3. Truman's crack comparing railroad strikers to Russians. This convinced labor chiefs that the President was against them for keeps.

Now it's mutual.

Heroic 2nd Division

One of the best things about the new and victorious advance in Korea is the way the gallant 2nd division has staged a comeback. Last November, in the tragic retreat from Korea, the 2nd division took the heaviest punishment of all. It was given the tough assignment of holding off the enemy while the rest of the 8th army pulled back below the 38th parallel.

This resulted in some bitter, bloody punishment, with casualties so heavy that General MacArthur cabled Washington that the 2nd division was "unfit for further combat."

However, the 2nd division has now staged one of the most magnificent comebacks of the Korean war. Under Lieut. Gen. Matt Ridgway, it went back into the line along the Taebak mountains in the bitterly contested Wonju area and heretofore stopped a North Korean end run around the U.N. right flank.

Then the 2nd division reversed the tables, pulled back 12 miles, drew the North Koreans into a trap, hit the trapped Communists on their flank and wiped them out. It was a brilliant maneuver, proving that this division, with an outstanding record in two previous wars, is now carrying on its tradition as proudly as ever.

Washington Pipeline

Senator Taft refused to allow one of his speeches to be broadcast over the mutual broadcasting system recently until the network deleted criticism of Taft from the script of mutual commentator Frank Edwards, who is sponsored by the AF of L.

Thus Taft, who has been critical of labor, was in the position of denying a labor-sponsored commentator the right to criticize him. Taft's terms were delivered to the network by his administrative assistant, Jack Martin. Later, network officials examined Edwards' script, found it wasn't as critical as Taft had thought. . . . GOP colleagues are needing Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, long considered the leader of Ohio congressmen, about the activities of brilliant George Bender. Bender, they say, is stealing Brown's spotlight.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Well, we've crept over the hump and as we look back to the first half of March we are pretty much pleased with the weather man who has dished out little dust in our locality though to the south in Castro County some farmers are already battlin' to save their soil we notice.

Course there is still April to dread with more wind on an ayeage than we have in March.

And while we fume over clouds that you can't seem to wring a drop of moisture out of our sister writes that they are wadin' around in 26 inches of snow on the level up near Phillip, South Dakota which should make that tall grass wave even taller this summer. Unless one of those chinook winds melts it all so fast that they may be on their way to the Mississippi on a cottonwood log some warm mornin'.

All this talk about a Pioneer celebration in May has caused us to wonder what the next fifty years will bring—especially in medical science. We can't recall being fed any sulphur and molasses but every time an epidemic broke out we were stuffed with sulphur and cream of tartar and finally finished up what should have been childhood diseases with measles and whoopin' cough at the same time when we were seventeen.

Just what sulphur and cream of tartar might have had to do as a delayin' action on disease germs we've never figured out but it isn't hard to understand why asfoetida would be effective because anybody with even a fair sense of smell wouldn't get close enough to the one who was wearin' it to give him anything.

Louisa's Letter

Dear Louisa:

I am in high school and I can't understand why I am not as popular as most of the girls. I am good looking, dress well and have a good line. And yet I see others who are not as attractive as I am getting the dates. What do you think can be the matter?

Louis.

Tennessee
Answer:
It is rather hard to answer such a question without knowing the person who asks it. Perhaps you are a bit conceited and your companions resent the fact that you consider yourself so attractive. Someone has made the observation that a sensible girl has too much sense to look sensible, and I think that a really attractive person should have more sense than to let people know that she considers herself attractive. It is all right to know your good points and make the most of them, but don't ever let people know that you know them.

On the other hand, your trouble may not be conceit, but may be the fact that you try too hard. In fact you may work so hard at being attractive that you are unnatural and tiresome. Have you ever been with a girl who thinks she has to talk all the time? Well, nothing wears out a person more than stream after stream of senseless chatter. While it is an advantage to be able to keep a conversation going, the average boy appreciates a good listener much more than he does an incessant talker. A surfire hit is to bring the conversation back to his life history or his ambitions.

And if you want to be popular with the boys, don't neglect the girl friends. The girl who attains lasting popularity with boys is usually the one who is also liked by the girls. So be clever and cultivate both sexes. Last but not least, if you wish to be liked by people, you must like them. This doesn't mean that you must pretend to like them, but it means that you mus really be interested in what they are doing and in what they are.

LOUISA.

I am 19 years old and am married to a boy the same age. We have been married two years and have a baby. Ever since the baby came, my husband has been leaving me alone at night and going out by himself. He goes to movies and even to parties, while I sit home and nurse. He says he's not going to tie himself down and not have any fun. And here lately he has hardly been giving me any money to run the house with or to buy clothes. I am all upset and thinking of going home to my mother. She didn't want me to get married anyway.

What would you advise.

Ohio.
Answer:
It is pathetic for children to marry so young—before they are ready for the responsibilities and sacrifices that matrimony entails. Neither you nor your husband had your playtime before you married, but you probably refused to listen to your parents when they advised you to wait until you were older. You got your way and now you are paying for it.

I see no future in such a life for you; unless you two have a show down. Whatever money he makes over your living expenses should go in savings and recreation for you both. If he has been going out several times a week, he can take the same amount that he has been spending, hire a responsible person to stay with the baby, and take you out for one evening. Other evenings can be spent reading, listening to the radio, playing games and doing a little inexpensive entertaining at home.

I hate to advise any wife to leave her husband but if your husband will not agree to some such plan and insists on behaving as he is doing, I should advise you to go home and to try and get a job.

LOUISA.

New Oil Interest

For the past several months considerable oil play has been developed in the west side of Oldham County, and two wells have been drilled in recent months in that area southwest of Vega, or more exactly in the vicinity of Adrain. The Joe Kelly No. 1 Howard in section 85 block 6-K, GB&CNG survey, which began about a year ago and which actually started the present oil interest in the county, was shut down at 6.514. Considerable difficulty, both financial and drilling, was encountered in the drilling of this wild cat. The rigging has since been moved away.

Scholastic Increase

Wellington's increase in scholastics as well as the State's increase of the index factor for the district has been presented the Wellington school board with a problem that will become more serious each year for the next five years if not solved immediately. School board members believe that the only solution is an increase in the valuation of the property in the district.

Pen Chickens

Since gardening and flower planting season is now at hand, Mayor R. H. Forester this week issued an appeal to all persons living in the city who raise chickens to please pen them at once if they are not already penned.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Opinions Vary on Congressional Investigations Now Being Made

What is your opinion of the various congressional investigations now being made, such as the crime probe and RFC investigations?

Mrs. Baxter London—I think something ought to be done about some of the things, but in lots of ways I think it is just a political move. I really think investigations should be made at least in some cases. There are some I think that don't really need it.

G. B. Miller—I think there is a lot of politics involved, but still I think there is a lot of need there. I don't know whether these investigations are going to be worth much to the public, but we need to clean up our government.

Mrs. Forrest Minton—Sounds as though there might be a little too much politics being played. I think it should be aired out. It looks to me like Washington is in a pretty rotten state.

Mrs. J. N. Brink—I do think congressional investigations are very good things and I think such conditions as that should be cleaned up.

J. R. Fowkes—Seems like we are spending a lot of money up there. I think it's all right to do it if they are doing good. I don't feel like they should spend the money just to quibble. I think they should investigate and so something about it.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his fram-near-Bootleg seems to be rattifying the state redistricting bill, with some amendments, in his letter this week.

Dear Editor:

I was in town Saturday and borrowed a newspaper off the counter at City Drug and will return it next week if they insist on it and took it home and got out of earshot of my wife, ain't nothin worse than tryin to read a newspaper and take orders at the same time, and read where the Texas Legislature after 30 years, they're like me, ain't no use bein in a hurry about things, has passed a re-districtin bill.

I ain't seen the bill, but according to an article in the paper it means, among other things, that the rural areas of Texas has lost control of the Legislature to the city people, on account of the city people gettin more representatives under the new bill. "Rural domination of the Texas Legislature, which has prevailed through 105 years of statehood, will be gone forever," the article said.

Now I don't like to argue with an expert, but it hadn't never occurred to me us country folks had control of the Legislature, even for a few minutes, not to mention 105 years. Don't believe we could have run up 241 different bureaus and departments in Austin without some help from the city people.

Furthermore, what I would like to know is, if the county people have had charge of the Legislature up to now, how come all the plums, the state hospitals, schools, medical foundations, etc., are located in cities? How is it there ain't a city in the state that ain't may-poled with concrete highways runnin out in every direction, while I'm still workin on my commissioner just to get him to drag the road runnin by my house to get the ruts out of it?

Nope. We might have had em out-voted when it come to openin and closin the squirrel season in Deaf Smith county, but when it got down to vital matters like good roads, a lot of us was left in the dust.

I'm in favor of a re-districtin the state, but I don't look for no great change in things. I ain't afraid of the cities' havin control. They had it all the time, and I ain't sufferin too much.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

BOOKS ON PARADE

You Can Start All Over Is Witty Guide for Widows and Divorcees

By Corinne Jennings

Marjorie Hillis' "Live Alone and-Like It" brought her fame. It was a guide for the extra woman. Her new one, "You Can Start All Over" is a guide for the widow or divorcee, and makes a good companion book for the first.

Since writing the first one, she has added Roulston to her maiden name, and from here say not experience, she claims she has obtained information for her latest book.

Each of the ten chapters that make up the volume are full of advice, suggestions and ideas to help the lonely woman, with plenty of wit, satire to act as a spur, and words of encouragement. There are plenty of quips about the men which they will not like but since it is a book for women they will not read it anyway.

Winifred Murry has done a clever bit of illustrating each chapter with suggestive pictures of the little woman as a weeping willow, the clinging vine, the too blue forget-me-not, the rambler or the wall flower, the bachelor's button and the bleeding heart, the poor man's daisy, the modest violet, bridal wreath, second blooming, the full blown rose and the hardy perennial. They each tell a story as if to say which one are you?

The greatest help for the widow or divorcee, writes the author, usually comes through her doctor, minister or lawyer. These women, though in two separate classes, go through the same periods of depression, unhappiness and readjusting and what will do for one will work for the other, she says. There are some that no one can help, and they have the hardest time of all because they carry the load alone.

Often the biggest problem is how and when to make a fresh start in life. The decision of moving away or staying in the old home has to be made. If you show spunk, she says, people think you are flippant. If you don't they think you are weak. She advises that you keep them out.

"A good standard for any woman alone (or anyone else for that matter) is to fill life so full of interesting occupations that there is no time to kill. Four things will do it completely. They are, in order of their importance, your home, your friends, one consuming interest, and your hobbies. She suggests a long, and completely new idea in her list of hobbies that might be taken up for fun, a livelihood or a career.

Sagely she remarks, "men would be surprised to know how few women in this group really want to marry again and if they did, they would feel more free to cultivate a platonic friendship which would be beneficial to them both."

Any woman can find things of interest in such a volume and be amused at the same time, whether they fall into this category or not as they never know when they might. For this reason the librarian, Mrs. J. J. Boydston recommends it wholeheartedly.

In Appreciation

We the merchants and employees of Park Avenue Village wish to express our appreciation to the many people of this area who have visited us and given us encouragement since the explosion of last Monday.

There were, of course, many who were ready with special services so quickly that we feel especially indebted to them. It would be impossible to recall all of them but among them were: Mr. Jerry Albracht and the Little Diner for coffee, The Fire Department for quick action in cutting off gas and getting here nearly as soon as the sound of the explosion died. The Cleaning shops and others who offered their facilities for our use during the inevitable interruption of business.

The City Mayor and the Police Department for their aid and protection throughout the day and night.

McCaslin Lumber Company for board fronts on the entire village, Major Schroeter of the Red Cross who was on the job in minutes to see if assistance was needed.

Radio Station KPAN for their on the spot coverage and free services to the affected stores. And of course the Hereford Brand, the Insurance Companies, and many, many others who in a few minutes convinced us that there just isn't a better place to do business than Hereford. in unfortunate times as well as good.

Accident Fever Reigns During Past Week in Hereford, County

If misery really loves company, it wasn't lonesome in Hereford and Deaf Smith county during the week just ended Wednesday night.

The seven days just past produced more than the usual run of accidents and disasters, topped off by the explosion at Park Avenue Village Monday.

On Thursday night, R. A. Burrus of Canyon ran his car off the Harrison highway 18 miles fortunate occurrences was started by non-residents. The first in the "chain" for the week was the Wednesday night collision at Highway 60 and Main St. between Wallace Miles of Hereford and Joseph S. Pluta of Big Springs.

On Thursday night, R. A. Burrus of Canyon ran his car off the Harrison highway 18 miles west of Hereford. All was quiet until Saturday night when an intersection accident at Miles and 9th street caused $600 damage to trucks driven by Emmett Brown and James Sirkle.

On Sunday, four high school youths were uninjured in a two-car collision at the northeast corner of Clover airport with damage totaling about $1600 to the two vehicles.

Monday's explosion at Park Avenue Village brought the disaster toll to about $37,300 more. The same morning, a car driven by Elmer Lowery of Bovina tore through a double bathroom at the Tierra Blanca Tourist courts, with damage totaling nearly $2000.

Miss Thelma Hershey, student at WTSC, Canyon, spent last weekend here with her aunt, Mrs. M. T. Rutter. On Sunday she accompanied the Rutter family, Mrs. J. J. Clayton and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hershey of Dimmitt, to Levelland where birthday celebrations were held for members of the family in the home of Mrs. Curtis Ward.

To give you a lasting recollection of "The Thing" . . . which up to this moment has been shrouded in mystery . . . we must ask a few questions.

DID YOU EVER SEE?

- A brand new house that when you turned on the water in the bathroom, the faucet came off in your hand?
- When you flushed the stool, the water comes out on the bathroom floor instead of going to its rightful destination . . . or the . . . (2 words censored here) . . . just keeps on running?
- When you walk on the floor, it sags like an old beat-up cotton mattress?
- And the cracks between the flooring are so big that you can go to the basement without using the cellar stairs?
- And the kitchen cabinetry is so badly fitted and warped that the result looks like a drunken artist's conception of "Ten Nights In A Barroom"?
- Or the windows are so tightly shut that you must live the rest of your life with them shut . . . winter or summer?
- And the fireplace dispels the smoke into the living room instead of the chimney?
- And the plaster from the ceiling drops down into the food and seasons it?
- And the porch stoop has sunk so badly that the posts swing back and forth in a gentle rhythm to the accompaniment of the singing wind? And the roof shingles play a drum tattoo overhead whenever we have a wind?
- Or when it rains you have so many pots and pans catching the drippings that your living room resembles a water jump in a steeplechase?
- And the wind whistles through the wood casings with the noise like "THE WARSAW CONCERTO"?

Chinchillas—That's Gold in Their Fur!

Nestled in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley, at New Market, Va., is the Greer-Hale chinchilla ranch, second largest producer of the world's most valuable fur-bearing animals.

Chinchillas are worth their weight in gold, literally. Coats of chinchilla start at $35,000—hardly a bargain basement item—with the top around $100,000, and are understandably rare.

Trapped by the China Indians in the Andes Mountains hundreds of years ago, chinchillas were introduced to this country in 1923 when 11 of the little animals were brought here from South America. This was the nucleus of a great new industry, but there's still no large-scale commercial use of the furs, nor will there be until the chinchilla population reaches a level permitting such operations.

Sold for breeding purposes, chinchillas command $1,200 to $1,600 a pair. The Greer-Hale ranch, with a respectable inventory of more than 700 pairs, ships several hundreds annually to all parts of the United States, Canada and Europe.

Careful planning went into the substantial but handsome ranch building which protects this million-dollar investment. A warm, dry shelter, providing proper ventilation was essential to the health and well-being of the precious chinchillas. Fire safety was equally important.

These requirements were met by building the structure of tile and covering it with a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles. This combination also achieved another objective—an attractive appearance, harmonizing with the coloring of the rolling Virginia countryside. The roof of dark green blends with the natural red tile walls and white trim. Standing out against a panel of even darker green shingles, large, white letters proclaim the name, Greer-Hale Chinchilla Ranch.

Unique is the chinchilla. It has a head like a rabbit, tail like a squirrel, stands on its hind legs and its actions are suggestive of a kangaroo. The silvery gray fur with blue undertones is incomparable in beauty and durability, each hair finer than a strand of spider web. One yard of precious fur, so soft that it can be touched without "feel," weighs the same as a yard of pure silk.

The attractive building shown above, at New Market, Va., shelters more than 700 pairs of chinchillas, prized for the beauty of their silvery gray fur, while girl at right displays luxurious chinchilla coat—priced at upwards of $35,000. Chinchillas sell at $1,200 to $1,600 a pair as breeding stock. The ranch house, protecting a million dollar investment, has a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles in dark green to blend with the natural red tile walls and white trim. The name is painted in white on a panel of shingles of a darker green.

Chinchillas mate at an early age and, if permitted, stay together for life. Papa chinchilla helps with the babies, but you know who's boss. Born with their eyes open, the little ones walk immediately. Litters number one to four, but two is the average.

Among the cleanest animals in existence, chinchillas take daily sand baths. Herbivorous, they live on small prepared pellets of grain costing an average of $2 per year per animal.

Owners of the flourishing enterprise at New Market are Dr. E. E. Hale and W. W. Greer, Jr., the former a dentist who continues to practice his profession "for the love of it" in a West Virginia coal mining community.

Garcia Farmers Are Combatting Worms and Greenbugs in Wheat

By Mrs. N. A. Brown
Greenbugs and worms are the topic of conversation of the wheat farmers in the community. Spraying for worms is general over the wheat area; however, some farmers have decided to wait and see what happens. Some fields of wheat are pretty and green, but many farmers report plenty of greenbugs.

Many farmers believe a "good old fashioned rain" would probably cure most of our ailments. Some wheat fields are already being plowed in preparation for planting row crops.

DiSalle Admits Cotton Industry Advised Against Price Ceilings

Here is part of Congressman Walter Rogers' newsletter telling the fight by Texas legislators in Washington on the recently-announced cotton price ceiling.

The excerpt pertaining to the cotton inquiry follows:

RAW COTTON CEILING: OPS Administrator DiSalle and Secretary of Agriculture Brannan had a rough time of it before the Joint Committee on Defense Production. Senator Maybank of South Carolina was chairman of the Senate group and Honorable Paul Brown of Georgia was chairman of the House group. The committee room was crowded to overflowing. The question was the advisability of price ceilings on raw cotton. DiSalle admitted under questioning that people from every phase of the cotton business, from producers to retailers, had advised against ceilings on raw cotton; also that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan had suggested that such ceilings would not be enforceable and that such program would be unworkable. All testimony at the hearing, with the exception of DiSalle's, was against the price ceiling on raw cotton. However, Mr. DiSalle said that he had not changed his mind and that the price ceiling would remain. This attitude on the part of Mr. DiSalle will require immediate legislation by the Congress to remove the raw cotton price ceiling. Several Members of the House, including myself, appeared and made statements in opposition to the price ceiling.

Council Banquet Stresses Work Of Entire Family in Camp Fire

"Camp Fire is a job for the whole family", Sproesser Wynn, president of the Fort Worth Camp Fire Council, emphasized at the annual banquet of the Camp Fire Council Tuesday evening at Hotel Jim Hill, where approximately 90 leaders and special guests were present.

Wynn brought out the part "Dads" can play in the camp fire work. He discussed the function of each age-group in the organization, stating that Blue Birds, age 7 to 10, have leaders who plan their programs for them; Camp Fire girls, 10 to 15, have guardians who work with them in planning their work; and the Horizon Club girls, 15 years old and over, plan their work with adult leaders to ad-

Urlin Streu led the group singing, accompanied by Mrs. J. C. McCracken. Bob Wear gave the invocation, after which D. C. McWhorter, toastmaster, introduced the special guests, Mavor and Mrs. W. E. Dameron, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Woodell, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Witherspoon, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wear, and Rev. Russell Wingert.

The Jolly Teen Horizon club was in charge of special music, directed by Jerry Patterson who accompanied her sister, Nancy Patterson, who sang a new Camp Fire song expressing the 1950 birthday theme, "Everybody Counts". Mrs. McCracken then accompanied Jerry and Nancy who sang "Without a Song". An excerpt from "Finlandia" was played by Bobby Drury.

A clever choral reading on the birthday theme was presented by the Tawanka Camp Fire girls, led by Mrs. Earl Plank.

Men From Community Helping Erect Garage at Home of the Pastor

By Mrs. Owen Andrews
Several of the men were working Tuesday and Thursday on a garage at the pastor's home. The garage adjoins the house on the north side and will provide a storage space for the family in addition to protection for the car. It will connect with the kitchen through an inside door. W. H. Andrews and W. H. Thompson hauled materials on Monday for starting the construction which will only take a few days.

Cole and Jana accompanied him. They visited Mrs. Cole's aunt, Mrs. George Bentley, of Grand Falls, who was hospitalized in Lubbock.

When T. L. Sparkman Sr. and Clark Andrews were in Dimmitt Monday where they went to see Mr. W. S. Dixon, they reported he was able to be sitting at the table to eat. He seemed to be feeling better and in better spirits also.

Rev. R. L. Shannon visited at Lazbuddy and preached at morning and evening services there.

Rev. E. L. Harper of Hereford preached at Frio Sunday. He was accompanied by several friends and his folks.

Mrs. W. A. Sprinzer went by bus to visit her mother, Mrs. J. H. Store, and Mr. Stone at Tonkawa, Okla., last week end.

Frio Home Makers club met in the home of Mrs. C. N. McClure on Wednesday. The program was on home nursing with Mrs. E. F. Vosler telling about bathing a patient, in the bed and how to visit. "Never be a 'Gloomy Gussie', an 'Inquisitive Irene' or a 'Plying Pearl'", was her advice. "Be a 'Sunshine Sue' and leave your friend feeling more cheerful by talking of interesting and pleasant things instead of leaving him worn out, upset, and probably set back three days in recovery, by a lengthy discourse on all of your illnesses and the seriousness of his own.

Mrs. E. H. Little gave a demonstration on changing a bed with the patient in it, stressing the importance of keeping the sheets tight and smooth. At the business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Glenn Gripp, it was decided to
