Rioting And Burning Goes On In Spain

Churches Fired In Southern Section Of Troubled Republic

MADRID, (AP)—Rioting and burning prevailed in much of Southern Spain Friday. One man was killed and three wounded at Santa Fe when civil guards dispersed a group burning the Agrarian Casino. A civil guard was killed in Seville in a mob attack upon the jail. Cordons of troops were posted around religious houses and heavy guards patrolled the streets. Mobs set fire to churches in town of San Lucar and Andalcoer. A mob burned the convent at Albalade and a church at Santo Tomas, near Granada, afterwards stoning the place and setting fire to a factory. Some southern republican leaders Friday demanded the death penalty for General Sanjurjo, leader in Wednesday's abortive rebellion.

Home Town Talk by Betty

If cotton keeps climbing, and makes eight, nine or ten cents per pound some folks are going to die of grief over lack of something to gripe about.

Happily, however, nearly all people will be truly glad and this fall you may begin thinking that Prosperity Corner itself is Third and Main streets, Big Spring, Texas, U. S. A.

Generally speaking agriculture is and will ever be the basic industry of the southwest, the entire nation for that matter. However, in some localities, such as this, oil has as much to do with economic conditions as cotton in other localities live stock prices are the deciding factor.

The oil business locally has improved in some respects, but practically all improving in price of crude oil has been offset by the fact that major companies operating pipe lines into the Howard-Glascock county field do not want this oil at this time, and therefore, have reduced the daily allowable for the field in greater proportion than any other field in the United States has suffered in the past three or four months.

People working or producing, transporting and refining concerns in the oil business have fared better, generally, than those who farm for a living—far better in most instances. Many men who had regular jobs in the oil business have been cut off, of course, but practically all the farmers have been cut off from any profit at all on their labor and investment in tools, land and seed.

So, if the cotton market continues to improve, you are going to see a lot of smiles where frowns have been, a lot of kids going to school with new shoes and dresses and suits who have been staying at home and living on reduced rations. The sum of it all will be a lot less complaining, suffering, arguing and a more thanksgiving, happiness and neighborliness.

When economic conditions become materially better the people of this country are going to have stronger confidence in their country and its future than ever before. They are going to reason thus: "Well, we could go through a depression as long and as tough as that one then no depression will ever be able to keep us down permanently."

And, when that time comes, the great majority of the American people are going to rise up on their hind legs and chase about a thousand brands of agitators, destructionist, factionalists, communists, anarchists, grafters, leeches and belly-achers clear off the reservation. They're going to be able then to see just how much worse this depression has been because of those groups.

If business can improve while a Republican administration of the type now existing in Washington still is in office, then conditions certainly will improve much more rapidly after November when the Democratic ticket has been elected.

We have never had any patience with widespread criticism and abuse of the president of the United States as an individual. Criticism of the party he represents, the administration he heads, the policies his party has advocated and enacted into law is merited. No matter what the name of the president had been during the past three and a half years, under Re-

$71,724.11 In County Fund On August 1

Other Assets $10,826; Total Bonded Debt $238,000

The county of Howard had in its funds July 31, a total of $71,724.11, according to the monthly report of E. G. Towler, county treasurer. The total assets of the county totaled $10,826.66, represented by $1,826.66 cash balance of a county road bond issue, five $1,000 Howard county special road bonds and four $1,000 bonds of Howard county common school district No. 8.

Balances in various funds at the end of July were: jury fund, $10,194.75; road and bridge fund, $14,155.91; general fund, $10,035.40; Howard county road bond fund, $1,826.66; Howard county special road bond fund, $1,292.72; jail improvement bonds, $3,495.65; paving warrant fund, $1,737.83; permanent improvement fund, $6,481.84; court house and jail warrant fund, $1,935.77; viaduct warrant fund, $1,349.88; highway fund (motor vehicle license fees), $15,846.61; jail improvement warrant fund, $3,495.65; court house and jail fund, $3,553.57; special fund No. 1 $42.81; special fund No. 2 $2,295.96; special fund No. 3 $358.95. During the month $20,000 was transferred from the highway fund to the road and bridge fund. The highway fund really is a part of the road and bridge fund. It contains the county's share of the motor vehicle license fees, which are retained by the county up to $50,000. The separate fund is set up on the county's books so that income from this source may be more clearly known at all times.

The three 'special' funds also are in reality parts of other funds. No. 1 special fund belongs to the jury fund. No. 2 to the road and bridge fund and No. 3 to the general fund. They were set up for the purpose of keeping a better record of the income of these funds from sources other than taxation such as interest on daily balances and trial fees. The law provides that money may be transferred from the jury, road and bridge or general funds to either of the other two.

Receipts of the various funds for July follow: jury, $1,477.81; road and bridge (overdrawn $2,274.32 at July 1, $20,000 transferred from highway fund), other receipts $1,049.62; general fund, $3,694.27 ($1,848.33 transferred from this to other funds); county road bond, $1,748.01; county special road bond, $3,273.65; jail improvement bond, $2,218.19; paving warrant, $289.51; permanent improvement, $889.45 ($846.84 transferred from this to other funds); court house and jail warrant, $2,221.01; viaduct warrants, $442.43; highway, $536.23; jail improvement warrant, $222; court house and jail bond, $234; special No. 2, $18.70; special No. 3, $408.59.

Disbursements during the month from the various funds were: jury fund, $24; road and bridge, $4,619.9; general, $846.84.

Cotton Price Declines On Profit-Taking

Futures Close Steady 30-33 Points Lower; October At 7.15

NEW YORK, (AP)—Cotton prices declined sharply during late trading under heavy Wall street and southern selling. Late weakness was noted in the stock and wheat markets. Futures closed barely steady at 30 to 33 lower, October being 7.15 to 7.17 and December at 7.33 to 7.34. The heaviest barrage of selling the stock market has seen in some time swept the list at the last hour Friday, bringing extreme losses of one to five dollars in pivotal issues and declines ranging to more than $12 in some recent speculative favorites. Shares were offered in blocks of moderate size but were persistent and the tape fell six to seven minutes behind actual transactions on the floor.

Captor Takes Automobile, Fills Tank, Refuses To Pay Bill

At the point of a gun Clyde Sanders was forced Thursday night to carry a hi-jacker from the business district to a point north of town where he was relieved of his car. Sanders was parked near the Ritz theater waiting to carry his brother, Archie, home when accosted by the captor. Commanded to drive out of town, Sanders hinted of a low supply of gas. He was released and made to walk back to town. The hi-jacker then returned here, had his tank filled, and fled westward without paying.

Sweetwater Man Introduced John To "Miss Ettie," Who Became Wife Of Noted Texan And His Secretary

SWEETWATER — A courtship that has thrived as only few do—leading through a happy and cooperative married life and now possibly to the high honors accorded a vice-president and second lady of the land—that of Miss Ettie Rheider and John Nance Garner of Uvalde, Tex., was started 'way back yonder by Dr. R. G. Davenport of Sweetwater and Hermleigh. Naturally, therefore, the Sweetwater ranchman and former Uvalde physician, feels an unusual interest in the Democratic campaign this year, and will do all in his power to see "Cactus Jack" elevated to the vice-presidency. Dr. Davenport introduced Miss Rheider to Mr. Garner on a train between Sabin and Uvalde, he recalls. He and Mr. Garner were seated together when Miss Rheider came into the coach to take a seat.

Applause In Hoover's Ears After Speech

Few Messages Comment On Position Toward Prohibition

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Applause that greeted President Hoover's speech of acceptance last night continued to echo at the White House Friday in a flood of congratulatory telegrams so great that secretaries lost count of the number. Most messages came from people little known outside of their own communities. There was a noticeable lack of comment on the President's prohibition utterances. Few, if any telegrams were signed by outstanding prohibitionists or anti-prohibitionists. The speech gained President Hoover at least one vote, Herbert S. Traus, Savannah, Georgia wired "while the past thirty years I have voted the Democratic ticket, I am happy to state my vote will be for you in November." President Hoover apparently dropped into customary routine immediately after the speech, retiring before midnight.

Lease Rentals In Sutton Equal To Tax Collections

Seventeen oil companies holding acreage in Sutton county paid Howard county land owners an amount equal to the approximate total of city, state, county and school taxes collected here on 1931 assessments, a check of local figures reveals. With total acreage leased in the county revealed as 483,748 acres, and with the average lease set at 25 cents an acre (although there are several instances where higher leases were paid), the amount received by the ranch owners was $120,937. Total tax collections were about $124,000, of a total assessment of slightly over $150,000.

It is interesting to note that Sutton has a larger percentage of its total area under lease than either Crockett or Pecos counties, both of which have been the scene of many tests and of valuable production. The Sutton total is greater than the Crockett total, 417,083 acres, in spite of the much greater total area of the latter. The Pecos lease total is 589,777, but its percentage is lowest in the group, since its area is much greater.

The Basin Oil Co., high in Sutton county, has 165,822 acres, with the Sun second, 52,091 and Humble third, 39,363. Other holdings are: Gulf, 32,607; Texas Co., 30,447; Standard, 24,166; Atlantic, 22,154; Phillips, 19,548; Republic, 18,853; Empire, 17,250; Texas-Pacific, 15,539; Indian Territory, 13,520; Continental, 11,662; Shell, 9,622; California, 8,823; Tidal, 1,280; Simms, 1,271.

Clues To Death Of Sheepherder Sought In Angelo

Sheriff Jess Slaughter and Deputy Andrew Merriek Friday were in San Angelo investigating the murder of Anisito Martinez, sheepherder on the Tom Keeling ranch, a mile and a half northwest of Forsan. Martinez's body was discovered Wednesday afternoon a short distance from his camp, with his skull crushed in two places.

Martinez was buried at 10 a. m. Friday. Authorities were unable to trace any relatives. Officers hoped to uncover clues concerning the crime in San Angelo since it was from this place that Martinez came to the Keeling ranch in early May. Motive for the murder was still missing. Evidence of a struggle were found in scratches and bruises on the dead Mexican's arms. An axe with blood and black hair on the blunt end was discovered near the camp. Martinez was last seen alive Monday evening.

Roosevelt Is Cited To Show Right To Act

Walker Resumes Role Of Witness At Hearing In Albany

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—An order requiring Governor Roosevelt to show cause why he should not be restrained from passing on the right of Mayor James J. Walker to continue in office was issued Friday by Supreme Court Justice Harold Hinman. The order was returnable to Albany August 19 before Supreme Justice Ellis Staley for argument in the appellate division. Governor Roosevelt agreed to withhold his decision on the demand for Walker's removal until after the 19th. The order, delivered by General John J. Bennett who began to study with the view of advising the executive, does not have the effect of stopping present proceedings.

Resuming the role of a witness in executive hearing of ouster charges, Mayor James J. Walker Friday disclaimed any financial benefit from granting of a franchise to the Equitable Bus Company. He disputed testimony of Park Commissioner Walter R. Herrick that he had bought for the mayor 300 shares of stock, later used as collateral for a loan by the Equitable officials.

Court action Friday subordinated events of the hearing, presenting the possibility of delaying the governor's decision until after the November election.

STATE CAPITOL, Albany, N. Y. (UP)—James J. Walker, mayor of New York, went on the witness stand in his own defense Thursday to tell Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt why the state executive should not remove him from office on charges of incompetence and corruption. Roosevelt sat as judge and jury in an unprecedented hearing in the executive chamber of the state capitol.

With dramatic suddenness, Mayor Walker strode to the stand. His slight frame appeared agitated and he was nervous. But his usual state presence returned, and within a few moments his voice was rising in a savage attack against the methods and tactics of the Hofstadter committee, which brought about his present plight.

"There was a legislative investigation of New York City," he shouted, "but counsel for that body submitted his conclusions, not to that body but to others."

"I am being railroaded and ruined in ex-parte proceedings," Walker cried. "The mayor's voice at times low and penetrating, broke into a half-sob as he vented his indignation and hatred against his political antagonists."

"After 23 years of political life," he continued, "I have never been snuffed out without my ever having an opportunity to confront my accusers."

The Twentieth Amendment

WHEN YOU SPEAK of amending the constitution this summer and fall, most of your hearers will take it for granted that you are talking about the prohibition law. But it is worth remembering that another amendment to the constitution is now pending, and it is an amendment that deserves to pass in its time.

This is the 20th amendment—the "lame duck" amendment, as it is called—which would set forward the inauguration of a newly elected president to the first week in January and abolish those congressional sessions in which politicians who have already been rejected at the polls meet to make laws for the nation.

Already more than half a dozen states have ratified this amendment, and the rest should do so before another year has passed. Legislators must be reminded that the amendment is badly needed, even though public attention may be focused on more spectacular issues.

Members Of Cub Club Gambled On Race Says Rumor

PITTSBURGH—If there was truth in reports that Commissioner K. M. Landis came to Pittsburgh Thursday to investigate charges of gambling among the Chicago Cubs, the baseball "club" kept his mission to himself.

Beyond stating "I always am investigating something," Landis refused to comment on the purpose of his visit.

The reports had it the high commissioner is investigating charges the Cubs gambled heavily on horse races while Rogers Hornsby was their manager. Hornsby was ousted last week and was succeeded by Charley Grimm, first baseman.

Landis said he may have a statement later, but that it probably will not be forthcoming while he is in Pittsburgh.

The Chicago Daily News published a special dispatch saying Landis opened a sweeping investigation of charges that several players on the Chicago team, including Pitcher Guy Bush, gambled on the horse during the Hornsby regime.

This dispatch said the commissioner came to Pittsburgh to open the inquiry and that while he refused to discuss the investigation, he told reporters to "draw your own conclusions."

Both Manager Grimm and Bush said Landis said nothing to them regarding the charges. Grimm put in a word for Bush.

"You can say that Pitcher Bush not guilty of gambling," he stated. "Bush's ticket has been bought for St. Louis, and he will accompany the club there."

McGintys Have Great Night In Ring At Casino

Neill's First Show Has Plenty of Action For Crowd

The McGintys—Irish extraction, if you please—handled the situation very well in the Casino amateur fight-fee Thursday night. Shade and Red McGinty, accompanied by Papa McGinty from Amherst could take 'em and give 'em.

In the opener Shade McGinty battered Bob Luton mercilessly for nearly three rounds before dropping his lighter opponent with a powerful right. Luton trickled thru the ropes and reclined in sweet repose while the referee counted him out in the third.

By working consistently on the tender mid-section of Bob Cross, William Gray won his fight, more or less, by what some might call a knock out. However, it was only poor physical condition that made Cross cling to the mat too long to remain in the fight.

Mixing it from the very start, Curt Simmons, Sweetwater, and Leon Callahan packed more action into their two round scrap than most any fight of the evening. After missing several hay makers at Callahan's head, Simmons finally got his range and pounded the red head from every side and angle, being stopped by the bell just as a gusher blew in from Callahan's nose.

One Minute

It took one minute of the second round for Simmons to drive Callahan to the canvas in such a decisive fashion that Referee Simmons stepped in and stopped the slaughter. The Sweetwater boy was given a technical knockout.

T. Jimenez, 120 pound Mexican, made life miserable for Kid Smith, 170 in the next three round preliminary. Smith was content the first round to keep boring in under cover while Jimenez tossed long rights and left shots at the head. Smith opened up somewhat in the second, but for two right to Jimenez's mouth could not get hold of the elusive Mexican.

A combined right cross and a tumble placed Jimenez flat on the mat in the third where he surely took the count for rest. However, he waited a fraction of a second too long before he sprang from the floor at the count of nine to clout Smith. Referee Simmons ruled he had been counted out, and so he had. Besides being hand-capped by some fifty pounds difference in weight, Jimenez is just up from injuries received when five shots penetrated his body in a shooting scrape.

Amusement

Much amusement came from a kid fight between Herschall Freeman and Tough Jackson, the latter taking a decision in the second when Freeman could not phase Jackson with his strongest blow.

No decision was announced in the main event, six rounds between Tommy Irwin of Midland and Red McGinty of Amherst. However, the Herald score sheet gave three rounds to McGinty, one to Irwin, and two even.

McGinty entered the ring at 142 pounds, Irwin's weight was announced very conservatively at 140. Although failing to show an excess of action, McGinty managed to take a light edge in the first round by ducking under Irwin's side-swiping left. The Irishman continually bounced long rights off Irwin's skull and administered short punches to the body and head in the clinches.

Irwin brought his left into play during the second and speared McGinty several times as the latter sought to bobble under the Midland boy's guard and come in close. But Irwin fell back to his old tactics and allowed McGinty to weave in and administer solid rights and lefts to the body and head as the bell rang, losing what advantage he had gained.

Third

In the third Irwin went into a crouch and stuck lefts to McGinty's head as he tried to come in. In close quarters Irwin drove powerful rights home and slung long rights at McGinty's head as they danced about the ring. They swapped lefts and rights to the face as Irwin pushed his lighter opponent to the ropes. McGinty took the count of six before bouncing out ready to go at the bell.

There was no doubt about the next two rounds. McGinty dodging and slinging long rights and short lefts to Irwin's body and head. Irwin continually was hanging on in the fourth McGinty had a distinct advantage and was wearing Irwin down. In the fifth McGinty hooked terrific upper cuts as Irwin groped for a way to cover up. McGinty drove him around the ring pecking at his head.

After a brilliant start in the sixth that promised a repetition of the fourth and fifth, Irwin bounced long rights against McGinty's head and then sought to slip hooks as he sought to swap hooks at close. Irwin was wearing McGinty down at the end of the round with these tactics. However, he waited too long.

CHAPTER XV
Mona's voice trembled. "But I don't know what you mean, Steve!" she said. "Why did you say I won't see Bud for a long while? What's happened? Where are you?"

She sat at her desk in the down town law office. Steve's voice came to her over the telephone.

"Am talking over long distance," he reassured her. "Bud is with me and he's okay. I'll explain it all when I see you. Let me meet you tonight, will you?"

"Where are you?" Mona asked. Then, "Yes, I'll meet you at five."

She put down the telephone in bewilderment. Steve in Boston and Bud with him! What could it mean? She had left Steve last night about to go to his club with Barry. Bud had taken Lottie home and had not returned. Bud and Steve could hardly be called close friends. "Wise guy," was Bud's withering comment when Steve's name was mentioned.

At five o'clock Mona found Steve on the curb in his roadster. She listened carefully while he explained. Without sparing her Steve sketched the previous night's happenings. Bud's affiliation with the gang which was after the Empress, his return to Steve's apartment, his reception and finally the drive to Boston were all described.

"Bud is out of their way by this time," Steve said, eyeing his wrist watch. "Four hours out at sea."

"But won't they suspect?"

Steve shook his head. "I don't think so. You see, even if they think we helped him get away, I don't doubt they won't think of the Canadian boat. We're shipping our machinery via the Miranda. They might think we'd smuggled Bud aboard."

"The machinery didn't go on the Lady Bradford?"

"English boats—or Canadian, either—can't pick up American freight."

For a moment Mona was silent. "Then this means that beside rescuing Bud from the gang, you've risked your life—"

"I have nine of them," Steve interrupted. "You have only one brother."

"And you paid Bud's fare to South America. We owe you all that!"

"You owe me nothing. He's going down there on a job. He's going to make good at it. Just being free from this crowd will be a godsend. Steve put his hand over Mona's tiny gloved one and looked at her. "You mustn't blame Bud too much. There are a dozen ways kids get caught in these things. Promise of big money, assurance they won't be asked to break the law, bluffs, and then, too late, the realization that things have gone so far there's no road back. I—" lary, didn't he?" asked Mona cautiously. If he had not done that this plan of Steve's would have the way, perhaps, to lessen motherly anxiety at Bud's departure.

"He did not!" Ma answered promptly. "Oh sure, bring it in he would and borrow it out again. I hardly held it in my hand."

"He'll straighten out," said Mona confidently. "He's young."

"Young! He's old enough to be a better lad, surely."

"Mother," Mona began, "what would you say if I told you that Steve had taken a hand with Bud?"

"Then, without dwelling too much on the fact of Bud's connection with the gang, without mentioning the famous diamond, Mona told her mother of Steve's interest in the boy.

Steve had found him a job, "down south," she said. Half of Bud's pay would be sent each week to the family. Steve had promised the job would make a man of Bud.

"Steve gets my boy a job? His interest, I'm thinking, is in you, Min, not Bud."

Mona smiled. The task of the telling had been simpler than she had dared hope. Ma seemed undisturbed at the departure of her son.

"He's been such a worry to me, Min, I do declare," Ma said presently, as if in answer to her daughter's thoughts. "I never liked to tell you. Maybe this job will be the making of him!"

"But," Mona reminded her, "we're not to tell anyone—anyone. Mother—where he is. We aren't even to say 'down south.' Just say he's out of town or in the country."

Busy plying her needle through a sock which Bud would never wear, Mrs. Moran sighed. She was not to be diverted from her original line of thinking.

"I'd like to see you married to some good man, Min," she announced. "Though how we'd get along without you, God knows!"

"That's what you said about Alice," remarked Mona. "She's no better off. She's not as well off as she was when she was single."

"Jim Halliday's a good man," Ma replied conscientiously. Never thinking of as she prepared slowly for the night. What would her mother say if sometimes—later, of course—she were to marry someone like Barry?

Dreaming sweet dreams at last she fell asleep.

Stock Advance Like Beer Foam Says Bill Murray

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., (UP)—The rise on the stock exchange was compared by Governor W. H. Murray with a glass of beer foam.

Warning the American people "not to lose their heads and thereby their money by becoming excited over the upturn on the stock exchange," Murray predicted the rise would be followed by another crash.

"The flurry on the stock exchange is like unto a glass of beer foam, possessing the smell without the substance of beer; and the crash were surely follow as in 1929, irrespective of the successful candidate for president," said Murray.

"The rise of cotton is due to the report of 6,000,000 bales shortage and other rises, confined to small in wheat, railroad stock and oil, are but the success of one group of gamblers."

"There is no reason under the sun why railroad stocks should rise. Such movements run three to six months and it is an indication to me that by December or January they will fall again leaving the country worse than at present."

Miss Pauline Menger who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Ira Thurman, has returned to San Antonio.

Mother Of Tiny Screen Star Believes Jelly Necessary In Child's Diet

Mitzel Green enjoying a mid-afternoon snack of bread and jelly in her tiny dressing room.

By ALICE BLAKE Mitzel Green, the diminutive screen star, who has endeared herself to many millions of children and their mothers by her vivid portrayals of the lives of youngsters, radiates health and happiness everywhere she goes. Mitzel's mother, Rose Green, who was an unusually clever actress, claims that proper feeding is responsible for Mitzel's health. Mrs. Green herself, directs the preparing of the foods which make up Mitzel's daily menus.

Along with a plentiful supply of fruits and vegetables, a lamb chop or some chicken, Mrs. Green believes that sweets are an absolute necessity in the diet of every growing child, especially those who use up a great amount of nervous energy. Homemade jelly, generously spread on slices of bread, with a glass of milk, supplies a quick energy pick-up in mid-morning and afternoon.

The careful mother will see that her jelly cupboard is well filled with delicious jams and jellies made from the fresh fruits that are daily coming into the markets.

And she will use bottled fruit pectin in making her jellies because she can take advantage of fully ripe fruit, can cut down the cost of her jelly per glass, and save from three-quarters to an hour's boiling and stirring over a hot fire. Here are several of Mrs. Green's favorite recipes:

Current and Raspberry Jelly 4-14 cups (2-14 lbs.) juice, 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar. 1-2 bottle (1-2 cup) fruit pectin. To prepare juice, crush thoroughly about 2-2 quarts (3-1-2 pounds) fully ripe currants and raspberries in equal amounts. Add 1-2 cup water and bring just to a boil. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 8-ounce glasses.

Raspberry Jelly 4 cups (2 lbs.) juice, 7-1-2 cups (3-1-4 lbs.) sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin. To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about 3 quarts fully ripe raspberries. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1-2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 8-ounce glasses.

Robberies Of Bank Cleared By Confession

Man Under Arrest In Oklahoma Tells Of Aiding In Holdups

McALISTER, Okla. (UP)—Authorities claimed they had a confession from Lige (Shorty) Brown cleaning up a series of bank robberies in Oklahoma and Texas in recent weeks. The suspect was arrested at Deport, Tex., and returned here. He pleaded guilty to an armed robbery charge in the holdup of the Halleyville bank eight months ago.

In the asserted confession, he implicated Bill Tidwell and Lee Peabworth, as accomplices in the Halleyville raid. He also said he believed he was the one who shot Sheriff Bob Lackey through both arms in a gun battle at Clayton.

Brown calmly told officers that after the Halleyville robbery blood-hounds from the state penitentiary came up to the men hiding in a woods. They sniffed, it rned and trotted off, he said. "I suggested we tie a $5 bill to the tail of one," he related, "but we didn't." The confession further said that Brown and Tidwell went to Clinton, Okla., and Gunnerville, Ala., to rob banks, but did not carry out their plans. The statement said that Brown received $5 from the Broken Bow robbery recently and that this raid was committed by Tidwell, Peabworth and A. C. Hunneysuckle. He said this group was near the O'Donnell, Tex., bank when it was robbed. They did not participate although they received part of the loot, the statement said.

Tidwell is serving a sentence in the Texas penitentiary in connection with this crime, officers said.

Game Of Alleged Baseball Won By White Collar Boys

The White Collars chased each other ragged around the bases Thursday afternoon as forty-three men reached first base, twenty-five scored, and eighteen were left stranded to give Lex James' team a 25 to 4 victory over Midway.

Every member of the White Collars contributed a base hit and scored during the contest. Nine errors, five hit batsmen, and five bases on balls and twenty-eight hits were gleamed off of Robinson, Patterson and Barbee.

Bert Prescott hurled air-tight ball after the first two innings and chalked up his third consecutive win of the season.

Albert Garcia and Perfidio Fierro, making their first appearance with the Jameses, secured four hits. J. Bishop led the slugging parade with four singles and a double.

United States Craft Reach Finals In Five Of Seven Regatta Events; Eleanor Holm Back Stroke Winner

MARINE STADIUM, Long Beach, Cal.—The halting duels were cleared Thursday for the championship finale of the Olympic regatta with the United States leading among a dozen nations by qualifying its craft in five of seven events.

Four championships will be decided Friday with Bobby Pearce, Australian sculler, defending his Olympic title in the feature race over the 2,000 meter straightaway against Bill Miller, American, by qualifying its craft in five of seven events.

The remaining three are varied for Saturday afternoon when the unbeaten University of Colorado crew, seeking to keep America's record of unbeaten triumphs intact in this blue ribbon event, tackles the hostlands of Italy, Canada and Great Britain.

B-classification victors—The British and Canadian sculls beaten in their first trials, came back yesterday to clinch the remaining places in the four-cornered final battle. Their victories were the climax of the reclassification trials in six events, run off to determine which of the previously seeded boats were to continue in the regatta.

Both came through decisively, the British crew, composed of Cambridge university oarsmen, handed a one-length beating to New Zealand after the Brazilian eight withdrew from this heat. The Canadian leaders then rowed away from Germany in the closing heat, winning by nearly two lengths, with Japan's last bid for a place in the finals a failure.

The United States broke even in the four trials in which its candidacy for places in the championship picture.

Miller, the national sculling king, turned in the best performance when he whipped Douglas and Joe Wright Jr. of Canada and established himself as the most likely oarsman to extend Pearce Friday.

Yankows News Out Britons—The United States four without coxswain from the Penn Athletic club, came through with a great spurt to beat out Canada for the last qualifying position in a close race, won by Germany. The three boats in this trial finished only three seconds apart.

Gene and Tom Clark, Philadelphia twins passed from the regatta in the pair coxed without coxswain finishing last in a race won by Holland, with New Zealand second and France third. The featherweight American boys never were able to get going.

The Penn A. C. four, with coxswain also was eliminated. They were third in the first event of the day, won by New Zealand, by a three-fifth second margin over Germany.

The pair-coxed, with coxswain fifth representative of the United States gets into the final without a struggle. There were only four entries and no trials called for.

Italy and Great Britain, with four finalists each, were the closest rivals of the United States in the final lineup. Poland and Germany qualified three each, Canada and New Zealand two each, Australia, Brazil, Holland, France and Uruguay one each.

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—Holland took the fourth and final Olympic yachting championship Thursday by finishing the 11 race monotype series with a point total of 87, France was second, Spain third, Germany fourth, Canada fifth and Great Britain sixth.

Sailing in a field of 10 of the 12-foot one-man craft, Jan Maas, the Dutch skipper, finished only eighth and ninth, respectively, in the two concluding races, but these places gave him enough points to win the series.

The final race, won by Italy in 1 hour, 5 minutes, 19 seconds, was one of the most spectacular of the tournament. The boats sailed twice around a two-mile triangular course in a 15-mile breeze and the first six finishers were separated by only a few seconds. Sweden was second, Great Britain third, Canada fourth, France fifth, and Germany sixth.

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STADIUM, Los Angeles—Eleanor Holm, New York women's swimming association star, Thursday won the 100-meter back-stroke championship of the tenth Olympiad aquatic meet before 12,000 wildly cheering fans. Bonnie Mealing of Australia was second, only a foot behind.

The winners' time was 1 minute 19.4 seconds, one and 1-10 seconds slower than her new Olympic record of two days ago in the preliminary heats. Maria Braun, Holland, defending champion, didn't start although she qualified for the finals.

The Olympic records fell during the long day taken over almost entirely with preliminary trials and semi-finals. Lorne Kight, United States, bettered Martha Norelius mark in 1928 in the preliminaries of the 400-meter free-style, swimming the distance in 5:40.9.

Two Japanese boys bettered the 200 meter breast-stroke record in the preliminaries of that event. Yoshiyuki Tsuruta, 1928 champion, broke his own mark in 2 minutes, 46.2 seconds, only to have Heizo Kolke come back and equal the performance in the second heat.

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Los Angeles—Scoring goals faster than the approximately 4,000 spectators could count them, India trounced the United States 2-1 to win its second successive Olympic field hockey championship.

LOS ANGELES—American gymnastic experts finished second to Italy Thursday in the four days of team competition in the Olympic games. Another day of competition remains.

Official team scores announced gave Italy 541.85 and the United States 522.275. Finland was third with 509.775; Hungary fourth with 465.65 and Japan last with 402.00.

OLYMPIC AUDITORIUM, Los Angeles—America received its second setback in the Olympic boxing championships when Nat Bor, Fall River, Mass., national A.A.U. lightweight champion, was defeated in

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

Juan, the brown-skinned publicity man for the Tigers, reports that Albert Garcia, the hard-hitting third baseman, and Perfidio the catcher who has the whip of an army cannon, have deserted the ranks of the Felines. Juan, who is making the mistake of entertaining ambitions to be a sports writer, goes on to comment that little Joe Valdez is spending a week visiting friends in New Mexico, that Lopez, the young hurler, has also deserted the North Side team, and that "Lefty" Woods, former shop hurler, was a spectator at the Stanton-Tiger game Tuesday.

Woods lost his job in the Arizona State League when that organization tossed in the towel. He pitched only one game for the Shop team here, but was a regular moundsman for Lubbock in the West Texas League.

Cosden Refinery dealt the Tigers their sixth straight defeat yesterday, winning a close game 4 to 3. In the other sand lot game the White Collars and the Catholic Athletic Club tied 5 to 5 in eleven innings.

This afternoon Lex James, who whispers the secret that his club will be considerably strengthened before the day is over, will lead his team against Midway on the West Third field.

Babe Didrikson, the Texas girl who shattered two world records in the Olympics, who is the star of the national girls' championship basketball team, who single-handedly carried the Cyclones to the national A. A. U. track title, who shoots in the low eighties in golf, who bats 400 and fields like a veteran in the Dallas baseball sandlot league, passed through Big Spring Thursday morning. We did not interview her. Unfortunately she passed over an unreasonable hour and therefore did not receive the ovation due her as the outstanding Texas athlete of today.

That honor is undoubtedly her's since the glory of Roger Hornsby has almost departed.

The Pittsburgh Pirates broke a ten game losing streak to beat Boston in the first game of a double-header yesterday 5 to 2. Ed Brandt, Braves southpaw, tumbled the Corsairs into practically a tie with the Cubs for first place in the nightcap, outpitching French 3 to 2.

Gene Sarazen may not win the Professional Golf Association tournament after all. The leading links luminary for 1932 failed to qualify at Rockville Center, New York, and apparently his only chance to be among those eligible for competition at St. Paul is for some successful qualifier to withdraw.

Lois Madison, the hard-hitting outfielder and manager, informs us that he has played his last baseball game this season, explaining that some form of an operation, too technical for us to quote, will prevent his hitting three home runs the next time his club plays Forsan.

we hear about the man who sawed the limb off between himself and the tree.

A certain man worked for a dry goods firm as a salesman, selling quality merchandise at prices consistent with good business—each sale showing a clean profit. For his services he received fair wages. On the other hand he and his family were bargain hunters, refusing to pay profits on purchases they made. Today this man is looking for a job. There being no profit in business, there is no room for him.

This man probably blames the depression. If he has had occasion to think, he will probably not laugh at the yarn about the one who sawed the limb off between himself and the tree.

Those who still have employment could very easily find an intelligent excuse to buy, boost and use COSDEN LIQUID GAS in preference to cheap substitutes or foreign gasolines in direct competition.

Unless you happen to be an invited guest of the British Royal Family, the best way to "see" Windsor Castle is under the convoy of a uniformed guide. In a sing-song patter, he will tell you its history... point out things of interest whose full significance would escape the unattended tourist.

It also saves time and shoe-leather to use "guides" when you do your marketing at home. These guides are the advertisements in this paper. They tell you where, when, and the equally important "how much."

By consulting the advertisements, you know in advance what the stores have to offer. If you are pressed for time, you can do your shopping by telephone, with the newspaper before you as a definite guide. Read the advertisements... the big ones and the little ones.
