

CHAMBERS' DAUGHTER ON STAND

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

We have applications of two boys for work after school hours, and that of a young girl who needs employment at once.

We have calls for a family, or at least enough cotton pickers to pick a bale per day; for two women to do housework, permanent positions for the right party.

Please call if you wish to take either of these places or to hire any of the applicants.

When the Texas & Pacific Northern Railway Company builds its line north from here up the Panhandle, there is one town that is due to be very greatly developed because of it—provided the rails pass through and next to it. We speak of Ackerly, up in the extreme corner of Dawson county, 30 miles from here, and in Big Springs' actual trade territory.

We might say, too, that prospects for the road to be routed by Ackerly are very bright, provided Ackerly wants it, and judging from sentiment expressed there Tuesday night by representative men of the community Ackerly, wants it very badly and will put out some money if necessary to obtain several miles of right-of-way in each direction from the town.

Ackerly is fortunately situated about 20 miles from any county seat and in the midst of one of the finest farming sections in West Texas, bar none. Ackerly, we predict, will be a town of 2,500 to 5,000 people in a very few years after the railway enters there.

However, we must all constantly bear in mind that when the hearing before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner is held on the T. & P. application for a certificate of convenience and necessity the combined forces of the Rock Island, Fort Worth & Denver and Santa Fe will oppose it.

That means that it is to be a hard, bitter, fight. It means that strength and unanimity of public sentiment along the proposed line and throughout the state will be necessary, not to speak of support of the state railroad commission.

You will notice in this issue a news report quoting ginners here that they have been offered substantially more per ton for cottonseed by mills in other parts of the state than the three oil mills to which they are forced to sell under bollworm regulations are paying them.

If this be a real condition it should be remedied at once, as the federal and state entomologists promised a fair market, if not an open one.

We do not believe in kicking up dust on anything when there's no hope of doing any good or when there is not just cause but if there ever was a time when the farmer needs to receive every penny possible for his products this is it.

We ought to present a solid front to the coming legislature and Governor Ross Sterling to obtain remuneration for losses incurred by farmers because of the restrictions, as well as release from the remaining restrictions.

Texas Play-Off Series Is Opened

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 10 (AP)—The eyes of the southern sport world were on Wichita Falls today as the Fort Worth Panthers and the Wichita Falls Spudgers clashed at Athletic Park in the opening game of the playoff series to determine the season's pennant winner. The Spudgers won the first half title, and the Cats the second half title.

Pitchers and definite starting lineups were not announced by Coach Williams, Wichita Falls, and Coach Snyder, Fort Worth, the opposing managers, prior to the starting of the game.

Traffic Signal To Be Installed Near Ward School Campus

Because of increase in traffic and a new hazard created by the opening of school, an electric traffic signal will be placed at the intersection of Fourth and Scurry streets, it was announced today at the Central Ward corner.

The traffic light will be similar to those already in use in the business district.

Statement Of City Finances Is Submitted

Balance Is On Credit Side Smitham's Report Discloses

Condition of finances of the City of Big Spring at the end of the five months of the fiscal year as reflected in a financial statement issued by City Manager V. R. Smitham, shows a decided difference between expenditures and income over this period.

The statement covers five months, ending August 31. It was given members of the city commission at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Total income for the period was $70,740.92, while total expenditures were $36,969.78 leaving a difference of $33,771.14.

At the end of the period the total assets amounted to $1,147,169.51, while the total liabilities reached $715,796.20. The surplus was $431,373.31.

In a detailed account of income, it is revealed the total derived from the water department was $33,230.30. Subdivisions, shows water services, $51,443.75; turn-out fees, $195.90; sale of pipe and fittings, $10; and new taps, $1,570.

The total general income, which includes delinquent taxes of 1929, 1928, 1927, 1928 and 1929, and taxes prior to that time, occupation taxes, interest penalties and costs, gas, electrical, plumbing, building permits, fines and court costs and miscellaneous income, reached $14,497.45.

The sewer department income for the five months was $3,023.43, bringing the total to $70,740.92.

Total expenses for the period was $36,969.78, divided into departments as follows:

Administrative, $11,000.62; police, $4,830.12; fire, $4,737.19; health, $1,725.24; street, $7,516.87; water, $22,091.78; sewer, $4,571.06; park, $427.89.

A slight overrun of five-twelfths of the budget is revealed, the overall amounting to only $1,191.54.

The majority of this overrun was created in the water department, where construction work is now going forward. Three of the departments are under-running their budgets.

Louisiana Fuss Heard In Court

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Judge Wayne G. Borah today discharged the application for a writ of habeas corpus for the delivery of James Terrell and Sam Irby into custody after they had disappeared last Thursday from a hotel in Shreveport, where they had gone with the announced intentions of suing Governor Long in the courts.

Dismissal came after Sam Irby had appeared in court and requested dismissal, saying he had not been held in custody but had been arrested at his own request. He said he had seen James Terrell today as he left for his home in El Dorado, Ark.

The judge dismissed the case soon after Governor Huey P. Long who had been accused of conspiracy to kidnap the men in the application for the writ in federal district court, had said that he had himself obtained signed statements from Irby and Terrell in which they requested dismissal. The statements previously had been presented as evidence in court.

NO 'UNDRESS' FADS FOR MEN IN HAVANA

HAVANA, Cuba (INS)—The Bronx may strip down to its shirt sleeves on these torrid nights and Chicago down to its bullet-proof vest but Havana is meeting Old Sol half way, properly coated.

Those days down here when your butcher hacked off a chunk of meat in his undershirt and street peddlers warbled their various theme songs in a comfortable state of semi-undress are as dead as the mustache cup which hasn't decorated a table since the early part of the century.

Nowadays Havana can boast of being one of the best dressed cities in the world or, at least the most dressed, for Cuban law has at last put the coat on an equal footing with pants.

Havana not long ago tired of the "costless" fad and promptly passed an ordinance making it compulsory to wear a coat in public. Since that time everybody wears a jacket, outside of the home—excepting, of course, American tourists who do pretty much as they please.

Big Spring Mains Cost Less Than In Midland, Under Contract Award

Comparative cost of laying 4,800 feet of six inch water main in Washington Place was $4,176.10.

The cost for the same length of main in Midland amounted to $4,910.

The Big Spring method is to use a local labor under the supervision of the city department, without contract.

The Midland line was laid with contract labor, based on the lowest of nine bids.

The non-contract basis recently was adopted by the city commission.

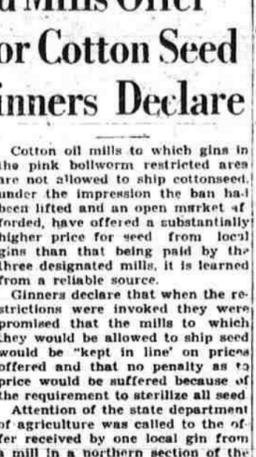

Dennis And A Rat Fight Mortal Fray

WAPELLO, Iowa, Sept. 10 (AP)—Dennis Murphy and a rat have met in mortal combat and settled a long feud. The rat is dead, and Murphy somewhat damaged.

They met in the corn crib of Murphy's farm, where the rodent had been making free with Murphy's crop. The rat raced up his trouser leg and kept on climbing.

At the collar level, while Murphy frantically beat it, the animal, and clawed his neck and chest. The farmer was severely lacerated before he crushed the rat.

Ackerly Agrees To Furnish Part of T.P.N Right-Of-Way If Road Touches Community

DINNER-DANCE PLANS FORMED AT NEW HOTEL

Plans for the dinner-dance to be given at the Settles hotel the evening of Wednesday, October 1, to celebrate the formal opening of the hotel, housed in a new 15-story building at East Third and Ruppels streets, are rapidly being completed, according to F. W. Crow, hotel manager.

With one of the most renowned orchestras of the state as principal attraction, there will be during the dinner hour a floor show of several exceedingly high-class acts, the dance following.

It will be an informal dress affair, Mr. Crow announced. Reservations must be made immediately, as a maximum of 200 guests will be entertained and many reservations already have been made. Cover charge will be $5.

Preparations for the Settles opening are progressing very satisfactorily. Finishing touches to the building itself will be finished early next week. Furnishings now are being placed.

Sheppard Is Found Sane

ANSON, Tex., Sept. 10 (AP)—Having failed after three years of effort to escape the electric chair on a plea of insanity, Joyce Sheppard, 28, alias Bill Smith, today awaited the date set for his execution on Oct. 17, for the killing of two Fisher county officers in October, 1927.

"A jury in district court yesterday held he was sane. According to testimony at the hearing, Sheppard had feigned insanity for three years.

Revised Milk Ordinance Passed By City Commission Over Protests Of Farmers

Despite a last minute protest on the part of a delegation to represent approximately 1,000 Howard county farmers, the long discussed city milk ordinance was passed Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the city commission.

The ordinance, which has caused so little amount of controversy and protest on the part of farmers selling milk in Big Spring, has been before the body several times.

It was read last night in a newly drafted form by City Manager V. R. Smitham, and passed unanimously by the body. It carried an emergency clause and requires only one reading before it will go into effect after it has been duly published.

Glas Protest

A delegation representing four ginners and a group of organized farmers appeared before the commission Tuesday night and asked the ordinance not be put into effect.

Jim 'Feels Out' Friends On Idea Of Voting G.O.P

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 10 (AP)—Former Gov. James E. Ferguson, whose wife was defeated for the Democratic nomination for governor by Ross S. Sterling, today sent out "feelers" to his constituents regarding their attitude toward bolting the Democratic ticket in the general election and rallying to the support of Dr. George C. Butte, Republican nominee. The "feelers" were in the form of an article prepared for publication in the Ferguson Forum.

The article included an attack on the political pasts of both Gov. Dan Moody and Sterling and declared the real Democrats of Texas were "in a pretty kettle of fish" in being forced to choose between Dr. Butte and Sterling. He declared that two years ago, Sterling supported the Republican presidential nominee and that in 1924 Butte had campaigned against Mrs. Ferguson with the support of the Ku Klux Klan.

In his article Ferguson pointed out that the ruling of the state supreme court, holding voters were not conscience bound by the party pledge, gave them free rein in the general election to vote for whoever they saw fit. Ferguson declared that under the law, as construed by the supreme court, the voters would not violate any Democratic duty or pledge by following their consciences.

Ferguson did not commit himself on the question one way or another but asked his supporters to "drop me a line and let me know how you feel about it."

Trouble With Deceased Over Five-Year Period Detailed By Witnesses For Defense

Farm Women Urge Officers Be Retained

High School Coaches, Captain Heard By Luncheon Club

Appeals from Howard county housewives, active in home demonstration club work, for support of the club to prevent abolishment of the officers of county home agent, county farm agent and county health nurse was brought unexpectedly to the Business Men's Luncheon club Wednesday at its weekly luncheon in the Methodist church.

Messames W. C. Rogers, A. J. Stallings, Lee Castle and Spencer Leatherwood spoke to the club.

A motion, made by R. L. Cook and seconded by John Wolcott, was unanimously passed, repeating the club's recent action in going on record as unqualifiedly opposed to doing away with the officers.

E. A. Kelley and M. H. Morrison made talks in support of the motion, the former declaring women in shame if they visited the home demonstration clubs of the county and learned of the type of cooperation and work being done and the latter saying he believed the work of these three officers is worth 10 times more than any county library would be worth.

Johnson introduced speakers of the program, Willard Sullivan as chairman of the day, Coaches Bill Stevens and George Brown, Capt. Delbert Rogers and Superintendent W. C. Flankenship of the high school and Dr. Wofford Hardy were heard.

The club went on record at the close of the meeting in a vote of confidence to the coaches, voicing their policy of playing strictly clean football and pledging real support to the team.

J. E. Kuykendall, wholesale grocer, a Texas league baseball player in his youth, offered the motion in support of the coaches. He declared he had recently heard them accord "the greatest compliment they could receive" when a man declared that "Stevens and Brown do not play dirty enough football to win."

Coach Stevens said he believed this year's team would be the best in history, barring injuries. He urged business men to support the team in various ways.

At Abilene

The Steers will play Abilene high school at the West Texas Fair there Sept. 29. That will be "School Day" at the fair, with all school children admitted. Mr. Stevens urged that a special train be operated to Abilene, with a large delegation from here to stage a parade before the game and otherwise put Big Spring before the fair-goers. He promised that Abilene's Eagles would be given one of the hardest fights of their lives.

Coach Stevens and Coach Brown both declared their squad had a much finer spirit this year, with more boys trying for places on the team. Five of the 11 who played against McCombs Saturday, including the scorer of the only touchdown, were playing the very first game of their lives, he said.

"Those who have played football know what it will do for a boy," said Mr. Brown, Oftentimes football proves to be the only thing that will make it possible to keep a boy in school until he is graduated. Our first class game at home will be Oct. 3. We hope to see every business man out there."

Captain Heard

"The whole club appreciates what the business men already have done for it and promises to bear down in there and do its best in every game," said Delbert Rogers, captain of the 1930 team.

"This is a school problem, of course, but the school is a community problem," said Mr. Blankenship in opening his remarks.

"This year we have done what most of the leading high schools of the state have done—the school itself has taken over financing and complete management of athletics.

"Athletics, properly sponsored, promote honest-to-goodness fair play and unadulterated sportsmanship," he continued. "The players learn their fellowman has rights and they learn to play by the rules.

"The citizenship of the town can help or hinder. If we make a ruling and you back us up you make it effective. They know the attitude of the teachers. Your attitude toward a boy who does well or one who has broken rules decides in the boy's mind his attitude toward athletics. Take an attitude that smiles at infractions and you break the morale of the team," he declared.

Trouble With Deceased Over Five-Year Period Detailed By Witnesses For Defense

The 16-year-old daughter of C. C. Chambers—Mrs. Nita Mae Kiefer—who "picked cotton for Ray Jones for three years" took the witness stand today in defense of her father, charged with murder in the fatal shooting of Jones, May 3, on East Second Street.

The state rested its case at 10 o'clock this morning after a line of testimony and been introduced telling of previous trouble between Chambers and Jones when they were residents of Mitchell County.

Noticeably nervous, the girl kept back tears at times, and at one time broke down as she told her father had "walked out of the house with tears in his eyes" after Jones was alleged to have accosted her.

She testified she had known Jones for five years. She told of driving with her father to the Holiness Church here, to see about a contract for some work. She declared a man was talking with two women who were in an automobile, and the man told her father to get out of the car. He refused, she said.

"Ray Jones and four men," she testified, "came walking toward the car and the man that spoke to us first said the contract for the work had been given to Jones."

"Honked' at Her"

A week before Jones was fatally shot, the girl testified, he was parked in front of the Crawford Hotel and as she passed "he honked" at her and then laughed.

A dirty piece of cardboard on which there was a purported warning crudely smeared in a blue-black ink, played a prominent part in the morning testimony. On one side were the words "C. C. CHAMBERS, WARNING, C. C. CHAMBERS, and on the other WARNING, GET OUT OF TOWN AT ONE YOU ARE NOT WANTED."

Andrew Merrick, deputy sheriff, and first witness for the defense, introduced the written warning, testifying Chambers gave it to him and Sheriff Jess Slaughter a week before the slaying. He testified Chambers "seemed to be afraid" of Jones, on each occasion he talked to him about trouble.

The placard was identified by the daughter of Chambers, she testifying she saw Ray Jones place it in her window the night of April 22. She declared she woke, saw Jones peering in the window and ran "screaming to daddy."

"The next morning," she continued, "I started to the postoffice and when near Yeager's Camp, Ray Jones stopped his car in front of me. He told me to get in the car with him and take a trip for two or three days and have a good time. She also told of the trouble between the two men in Mitchell County, declaring at one time Jones ran into her shetland pony, throwing her off and breaking two ribs.

"He looked back and laughed," she declared.

She also told of the alleged trouble between her father and Jones over some stock which had broken into Chambers' field. She declared a cousin of Jones had a pistol. On cross examination she admitted her father had a shotgun and her mother a pistol during the controversy.

Governor Of New York Out For Repeal

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt today came out for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The governor's attitude was expressed in a letter to United States Senator Robert F. Wagner of New York.

In the letter, the governor declared a condition given birth by the Eighteenth Amendment could be remedied only by the substitution of that amendment with another amendment giving "the restoration of real control of intoxicants to the several states."

The governor declared the sale of intoxicants through state agencies should be made lawful in any state where the people so desire.

"Conversely," said the governor, "the people of any state should have the right to prohibit the sale of intoxicants, if they so wished, within its borders."

"This," the governor said of state rights, "recognizes the undoubted fact that in a nation of such wide extent and with diversity of social conditions, public opinion and practical administration in regard to methods of seeking a greater temperance differ very greatly in different parts of the country and even in different parts of the state."

"There is no doubt that in many states the actual sale of intoxicants would continue to be prohibited at least by statute whereas in many other states the reasonable sale of intoxicants through state agency would, in the opinion of the great majority of the citizens of these states, do much to bring about less intoxication, less corruption, and less bribery and more regard and respect for law and order. This latter applies definitely to the state of New York."

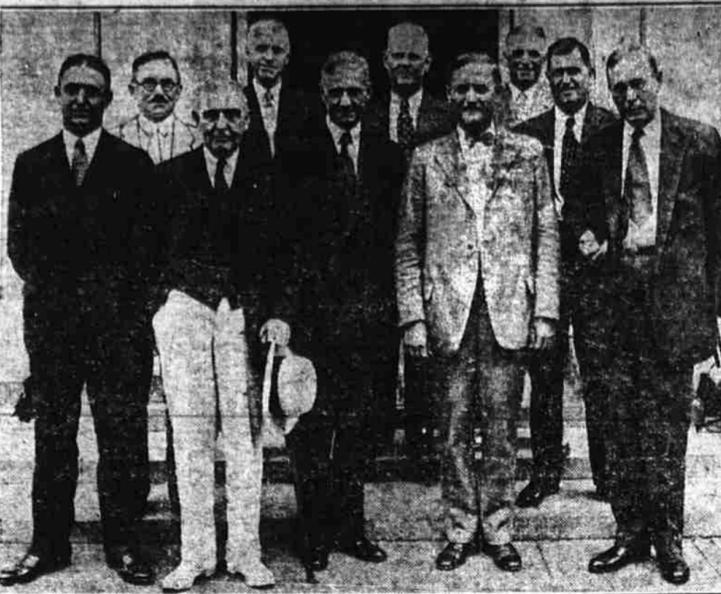

The governor's letter to Senator Wagner delay first with general subjects relative to state affairs, then launched on the subject of prohibition.

NEW ENGLAND MAY IMPORT TEXAS STEERS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Experiments are now being conducted at Connecticut Agricultural college in Storrs, Conn., to determine whether or not Texas steers can be imported into New England and marketed at a profit, thereby assisting in the new economic program of New England agriculture. Thirty-eight, two-year-old, 629 in taxes on 133,620,566 gallons of gasoline consumed in 1929.

now being fed at the college a ration of corn, cotton-seed meal, molasses, oat feed and hay. A carload lot of these steers will be on exhibition at the Eastern States Exposition in September. The purpose of this experiment is to determine the adaptability of Southwest Texas steers to Connecticut and New England climatic conditions, acceptability of such steers to Connecticut and New England farmers; the feeding of such steers with "basic feeds," which any New England farmer can either grow, such as corn and hay, or, buy at basic prices in bulk as water borne feeds such as cotton seed meal and molasses and the dressing out of steers so fed to per cents.

Validity Of Payne Insurance Attached In Company Suits

AMARILLO, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Lincoln National Life Insurance Company took steps yesterday which gave promise of a heated court fight when its attorneys filed suit in the United States district court here seeking to cancel two insurance policies, one on the life of A. D. Payne and the other of his wife, whom he killed June 2 with a dynamite explosion which demolished the Payne family automobile.

The policy on Payne's life was for $10,000, dated August 28, 1927. It was voided until the policy had been in effect a year and a day before ending his life with an explosion in his cell in the Potter county jail here shortly after midnight, August 9. It was believed he hoped in this manner to avoid the suicide clause in his insurance policy.

The policy on Mrs. Payne's life was for $5,000 and was issued several months ago. Payne was the beneficiary. The suits filed were brought against the three orphaned children of Payne and Sidney Payne, as brother, who was appointed a week ago as temporary guardian of the children.

It was expected that only one of several policies involving Payne would be void without protest, that the others would be voided by the Southwest Texas Life Insurance Company 14 years ago for $2,500.

SOUTHWESTERN SQUADS START GRIND

Today, if Monroe Johnson and Willard Sullivan haven't flopped down on the job, Coaches Bill Stevens and George Brown, not to mention the Steer captain and possibly others, will mutilate fried chickens at the Business Men's Luncheon club. We may not go on account of hearing that maybe Doc Wofford B. Hardy may speak. However, the doctor, who has just recently become permanently divorced from his tonsils, may find his throat in no condition for an oration. Tonsils, sometimes, are wonderful assets.

Boyce House, the bespectacled scribbler of the Ranger Times, also saw some shenanigans in the McCamey-Big Spring affair, which the Steers finally copped 6 to zero. Says House:

The Big Spring Steers have played their first game—a 6-0 victory over McCamey, a class B school. A passing attack in the final quarter netted the lone touchdown. The game was played on a plowed-up field, judging from the description in the Big Spring Herald. The visitors, besides stopping the Steers, did some threatening on their own account. However, McCamey has an exceptional B team. An Eastland fan told us that four Mavericks are on the McCamey eleven and in the line-up we observed three familiar names—two backs and one end. Therefore a victory by Big Spring over a club with such class A reinforcements is something to be proud of.

Incidentally House informs that Bailey Thomas—who has won recognition all over the state as the All-State baton waver—has broken his jaw and will probably be back battling this fall. Thomas was trying for a berth on the team. He would never have been eligible. We merely say that in passing.

The Oilbelt league survivors—Magnolia and Merrick and Bristow—decided five games would be required to decide the winners of the silver loving cup, if any. They decided quite correctly. Four games have been played and neither is nearer the crown than when it started. They should have played one game in the first place. Magnolia took the first, Merrick and Bristow the second, Merrick and Bristow the third, and Magnolia the fourth. Magnolia turned the trick Tuesday afternoon over in Merrick's back yard. So it comes down to a tilt Sunday and they're fixing to annex Glasscock county to handle the crowd. It looks as if the final tilt will be the same as the first one—Lefty Lyday versus Guy Rainey, and may the best man win.

Practically all of the district two teams will get into action this week. Most of them have class B set ups on the menu, except Ranger and Ranger is fishing around for a convenient contender. Cleco will play Gorman, San Angelo will meet Big Lake. Mineral Wells will match nickels with Graham.

Singer, McLarnin To Clash Thursday Night

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. (AP)—Their intensive preparations completed, Al Singer and Jimmy McLarnin turned their thoughts toward Broadway today and their 10-round duel at the Yankee stadium tomorrow night.

Second Polo Battle Will Attract Forty Thousand

WESTBURY, N. Y., Sept. 10. (AP)—The Meadow Brook club was a magnet today for 40,000 spectators who desired to see Great Britain and the United States play the second, and perhaps final, game of the 1930 series for the Westchester cup, emblem of international supremacy.

The American Big Four, led by Tommy Hitchcock, needed only to capture today's contest to end the series and retain the cup, held by this country without a break since 1921.

So decisive was the American margin in the opening game on Saturday that the cup defenders have been installed prohibitive favorites to win the series in straight games.

Despite the 10-5 beating they absorbed in the opening assault, the Britons depended upon exactly the same lineup today.

Peggy Duncan Crosses The English Channel

DOVER, England, Sept. 10. (AP)—Peggy Duncan, 200-pound South African girl swimmer, succeeded this afternoon in her effort to swim the English channel. She landed at South Foreland from Cape Gris Nez, France, at 12:35 p. m.

Miss Duncan, who is 19 years old, had hoped to beat the 14 hour, 2 minute record of Gertrude Ederle, established four years ago. Entering the water at about 8:20 p. m., her initial speed was about 1.2 miles an hour. The total time for her swim was 16 hours and 15 minutes.

SEWELL OUT

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10. (AP)—Luke Sewell, veteran catcher for the Cleveland Indians, will be out of the game for the rest of the season. He suffered a broken finger on his right hand as the result of a foul tip off Harry Rice's bat in yesterday's game with the Yankees. Last June Sewell sustained a similar injury and was out of the game seven weeks.

Final Battle Oilbelt Loop Chase Sunday

Magnolia Beats Merrick And Bristow In Fourth Fray

Magnolia Petroleum company met Merrick and Bristow on the latter's battle field Tuesday afternoon and sent them down 10 to 4 in the fourth of a scheduled five-game series to decide the winner of the Oilbelt league.

In taking the "crucial" tilt, the Magnolia outfit tied the game count two all—and the championship will be decided and the hectic race ended Sunday afternoon.

The final game of the saw-off will be played on Magnolia's diamond at 4 p. m.

Cramer tossed the pellet for the Magnolia crew Tuesday and did a right nice job of it. Roy Lamb started for the M. & B. contingent, gave up the job after a couple of innings to be relieved by J. Chapman. Chapman went out of the picture in the ninth, with Lamb re-appearing to toss the final frame.

GEORGE K. MAKECHNIE TO AID BOSTON U. DEAN

BOSTON (INS)—George K. Makechnie, of Everett, was appointed assistant to Dean Arthur H. Wilde, of Boston University school of education.

Makechnie, a graduate of that school in 1929, is well known in scholastic circles and has made an enviable record as a student and organizer.

During the past year Makechnie was acting as dean's assistant, with secretaries in charge of two school branches, the Connecticut Valley Summer School and the week-end teacher's college in Springfield, and the Sargent School of Physical Education in Cambridge.

While at Everett High School, Makechnie founded the student council and was a leader in musical circles and in scholarship. He holds the school scroll in 1925 for best service rendered to the school. In 1929 a similar award was made to him by students in the university's school of education when he retired after serving as student body president.

RACE FOR NATIONAL LEAGUE LAURELS TIGHT AS ROBINS WIN

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The National League race was tighter than ever today.

After Brooklyn's 3 to 0 triumph over the Cubs and New York's 2 to 1 victory over St. Louis yesterday, here is how the four leaders lined up:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.	Behind	Play
Chicago	80	51	.561	...	17
St. Louis	77	59	.565	2 1/2	18
Brooklyn	79	60	.565	2 1/2	16
New York	77	60	.562	3	15

Brooklyn gained a full game on the two teams that are ahead of them, and went into a virtual tie with St. Louis for second place, trailing by only one point.

The Robins' two Babes, Phelps and Herman, figured heavily in the victory. Given great support, Phelps limited the Cubs to five hits as he bested Pat Malone in a pitching duel. Herman put the finishing touch on the struggle in the eighth inning when he slammed the ball into the left field bleachers for his first home run and the last two runs of the game. The other run was scored in the first with Fredrick's triple as the starting point. Second when Fredrick was run down between third and home and tallying on an infield out and Wright's single.

The Giants and St. Louis went seven innings before either team could score against the experienced hurling of Clarence Mitchell and Burleigh Grimes. In the first six games the two veterans allowed only seven hits between them.

The Cards scored first when two singles and a sacrifice gave them a run in the first half of the seventh, but the Giants got to Grimes for a single and a double to open their half of the frame and scored twice on a pair of hits to the infield.

Cincinnati's best losing stream went to six games as the Phillies defeated the Reds, 8 to 6. Frank O'Doul, acting as a pinch hitter, clouted a home run with two on base in the sixth to tie the score and two more runs off Larry Benton in the eighth won out for Philadelphia.

The American League race remained unchanged although Washington's Senators had a long hard struggle to keep from losing ground. It was not until the twelfth inning that the Senators put on one of their characteristic rallies, scoring five runs to defeat St. Louis 8 to 4. The Browns had knitted the count at 3-3 in the ninth inning of a close duel between Hadley and Collins.

The league leading Philadelphia Athletics had their troubles in Detroit and came out on the long end of a 3 to 1 score only through the efforts of their slugging recruit outfielder, Jim Moore, who broke up the struggle between Lefty Grove and Earl Whitehill with his second home run in the two weeks or less he has been with the A's.

The homer provided the margin that enabled Grove to win his 20th game of the season.

The New York Yankee, clung to their slim chance of overtaking the A's by combining some of their 16 hits with gifts from Cleveland pitchers to defeat the Indians, 2 to 0.

CAT PROVES GOOD SNUCK REMOVED

FRANK, Wash. (INS)—A new use for cats was demonstrated at the Westchester Timber Company lumber camp on the South Tottle river east of here when the camp tabby successfully cleared the tent through a schedule of nine game-measurings of a sizeable army of skunks.

For two nights when meals were served to the night crews, the cook was visited by the polecat family which included cats of faint relations. Because the cook had no desire to start drastic outting methods and because his creek shack was a tent, the invaders walked right in and left at the leisure. The cook was at a loss how to rid the camp of the pest invaders until the tabby stalked into the tent at meal time one night.

Instantly the skunks made a dash for the cat who desisted that discretion was more praiseworthy than valor, dashed out with the skunks in hot pursuit.

Three-A-Day Program For Seven Teams

Forecast Wide Open Race, With Frogs, Ponies Favored

By GAYLE TALBOT JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

DALLAS, Sept. 10. (AP)—More than 400 athletes, drawn from every section of the state and nation, were sweating today as seven Southwest Conference football squads piled into the annual period of intensive training, preceding the championship race. The barrier hopped last midnight and by 9 o'clock today footballs were flying through the air.

For the next week it will be a grind, every mentor having announced a "three-a-day" program—a two-hour workout morning, afternoon and "skull practice" night. The Rice Owls and Texas Tech Red Raiders had only eight training days in which to prepare for their opening tussles. The five members had an additional week's open race, with champion Oklahoma Horned Frogs and Baylor Mustangs leading the pack. Coach J. G. "Bud" Floyd, fullback, the only returning member from last year's proud gaining team, Mills, brilliant quarterback, and Conover and Dorsey, halfbacks, were lost by graduation, and Zaranonitis failed in his studies.

Loss of seven regulars from last year, including Geis and Miller, Jackson and Crabb, Gardner, Von Stecke, Moore and Schoonover from the line, left Fred Thomson, youthful Arkansas mentor, pretty well out of the picture. Thomson is not without hope.

The Rice Institute Owls, with Jack Meagher at the helm for his second year, were hailing the dawn of a new era today. According to advice from the Houston school, they really expect to go somewhere this year. The consensus was, however, that it would be 1931 before the Owls reached the contender's class. Meagher had one of the blarney sounds to report today, including a plea collection of letters headed by Captain-elect Bill Morrison.

Reporting to Coach Francis Schmidt today were three backs—Leland, Hinton and Green—who started against the Mustangs in that memorable 7-7 final game that decided the 1929 title. Howard Grubbs, great field general, was the only back of the 1929 team missing, and there were some stellar performances from whom to choose his successor. Such stars as Capt. Brumbelew, Handler, Walker, Moore and Barr were taken from the champion's line by graduation.

But Schmidt was expected to build a new strong forward wall around Ed Adkins, captain and all-conference center. There was a galaxy of material ruminating about the "practice field" today.

numbering more former outstanding high school greats than any conference squad by history. The backfield of "Speedy" Mason, Irv Hopper, Bruce Kattman and Bob Gilbert that carried the Ponies to second place in the last conference race was intact, and only two regulars of the 1929 "line" were missing. They were "Choc" Sanders, Brian Guard, and Cantain-elect, Marion Hamilton, who failed to make the scholastic grade and will be missed at tackle. A regular last year was ready to earn all consideration for every other place on the Mustang line.

A third conference member, the legacy of lettermen was Morley Jennings at Baylor University. Potter, an end, was the only regular misfit from the 1929 line-up. The star outfit failed to click last year in a important game. By all rights it should do better this season.

TEXAS STRONG Led by Captain Dexter Shelley, big all-conference halfback, Coach Clyde Littlefield's University of Texas Longhorns rounded out the conference line-up. The team, as usual, has a great array of talent to fill up the ranks. 1929's fields' finest problem presented to be in finding a successor to "Boss" quarterback and filling in for Burnett's shoes at center.

Coach Mitty Bell at Texas A. & M. faced the task of building a new backfield around J. G. "Bud" Floyd, fullback, the only returning member from last year's proud gaining team. Mills, brilliant quarterback, and Conover and Dorsey, halfbacks, were lost by graduation, and Zaranonitis failed in his studies.

An Obligation To Agriculture

THE lack of year-round, weather-proof, surfaced highways is a tremendous burden to the farmer... Poor roads prevent adequate rural fire protection

Good farm-to-market roads would benefit not only the farmer, but local merchants of all kinds... They would be an attraction to tourists and would help relieve the traffic congestion of main highways

Long-wear, low-cost surfaces have been developed which make it possible to build many miles of farm-to-market roads without incurring heavy indebtedness

Eastern airport crews spent a sleepless night Monday, all because of the non-arrival of Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh, who had taken off from Buffalo for New York City

Last Saturday night the WAE's eastbound Los Angeles-Dallas plane was rolled into the hangar at Kin-selving field, Abilene, where it rested overnight

These incidents graphically emphasize the importance of weather conditions on the science and business of flying

As Uncle Sam's weather sharks perfect and make all-inclusive their reports for flying men, aviation will become safer and safer

Denver (INS)—Bertha Page, an energetic young miss, with not only bulldog determination but also bulldog tactics proved too strong competition for Detective Tom Beary

When that day comes, flying will be safe insofar as the weather, its heaviest handicap, is concerned

How Long Will It Last?... CALVIN COOLIDGE declares that losses due to drought in the United States this year will not be nearly so large as losses due to crime

A recent survey made by an insurance company shows that crime in this country has grown seven and a half times as rapidly as population in the last 10 years

ries a nestmate of about 6,000,000 arrests made in American cities in 12 months... Most of these, of course were for slight offenses

Commenting on the insurance company's survey, Collier's Weekly says in its latest issue: "After the Civil War came an era of unprecedented crime and corruption"

A similar moral breakdown has followed the end of the Napoleonic wars in Europe... The prodigious efforts and sacrifices of long years of fighting seemed to shake civilization to its very roots

"In this country, history is repeating itself... We may expect another swing of the pendulum when the rapacity of our present criminal population—in office and out—is thoroughly understood"

As the weekly points out, it was nearly 20 years after the Civil War that the Cleveland administration ushered in a new period of good order

Twelve years have now passed since the World War ended and it might be supposed, in view of the quicker tempo of our age, that our latest era of widespread lawlessness would be very near its close

We have many evidences that the necessary arousing of public opinion is proceeding rapidly and some of our larger cities appear to be going after their lawless elements in a determined fashion

But the situation disclosed by our latest crime statistics remains appalling

HOW'S your HEALTH... Treatment Of Tuberculosis... The ancient physicians who were acquainted with tuberculosis, prescribed for its treatment a wide variety of medicinal substances and procedures

Certain of these were extremely bizarre, but others were based upon good sense and medicinal observation

Phny, the Roman physician, recommended waler liver infused in wine or the tips of the burnt horns of bullocks

On the other hand, others of the ancient physicians recommended rest, warm vapors, good food and sun bathing

One of the first truly effective and organized efforts to treat tuberculosis was made in the 19th century when George Biedertson opened his first tuberculosis sanatorium

One of the things strongly recommended by Biedertson was fresh air... He urged the tuberculosis sufferer to live and breathe freely in the open air, without being disturbed by the wind or weather

Biedertson's ideas on the treatment of tuberculosis were so contrary to those current that his sanatorium failed, and by the irony of fate, was reopened as an insane asylum

One of America's contributions to the development of the modern tuberculosis sanatorium was begun by Edward Livingston Trudeau

Dr. Trudeau himself was tuberculosis. When still in his early twenties, knowing that he suffered from tuberculosis he left New York City for the Adirondacks

But Trudeau did not die an early death... On the contrary, he lived to a relatively old age

HE IS WILLING TO MAKE AFFIDAVIT... LUBBOCK BRICK-MASON SAYS HE FEELS BETTER THAN IN THE PAST 30 YEARS SINCE TAKING ARGOTANE

"Yes, sir, I would go before a notary any time and testify to the wonderful benefits I have received from Argotane," said James E. Riddle of 1620 Fifth St., Lubbock, Texas, a few days ago

"My health has been badly broken up for the past twenty years," Mr. Riddle continued, "I was in a general run-down condition and suffered from some ailment or other all the time

"I reckon I took fifty different kinds of medicines trying to get relief but nothing did me any good and no one can realize what terrible feelings I had unless they had the same troubles

"I certainly very grateful for the results I have received. I feel better than I have for the past twenty years and am enjoying about as good health as anybody

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Collins Bros. Drug Co., adv.

THE DANCING SILHOUETTE

BY NATALIE SUMNER LINCOLN... Synopsis: J. Arnold Winslow, wealthy retired lawyer, is seeking to prevent his adopted son, Jack, from marrying Elsa Chase, a beautiful girl whose legs are paralyzed, and who is a guest in the Winslow home at Washington, D. C.

Elsa is not all she pretends to be, and seeks the services of G. Thorne, detective, to find a way to prevent the marriage

A mysterious woman in blue has been seen talking to Elsa several times. Winslow brings Dr. Kane, Boston surgeon, to his home to examine Elsa in hopes of curing her paralysis

Elsa seems panic-stricken at the idea of being examined, but finally consents. Winslow pays poker with some friends downstairs while awaiting Kane's report

About 1 in the morning, Ferguson, the gardener, bursts in with news that Dr. Kane is lying on the ground under his window, dead

Chapter 3 THE CORONER TAKES A HAND... Arnold Winslow eyed the undertaker in speechless amazement

"Do you mean you haven't embalmed the body?" he demanded, recovering his breath

"Just so the law requires that I have a doctor's certificate," Payne replied

"Oh, that's all right," Winslow's relief was manifest. "McLane will fill out the necessary papers. Dr. Kane lived in Boston, will you arrange to have his body taken there, or shall I?"

"I can," the undertaker answered. "But I don't think you have quite grasped what I have been saying, Mr. Winslow. Dr. McLane has held up the death certificate"

Winslow took a step backward. "What's the matter with McLane?" "Nothing," shortly. "But in case of accidental death..."

"It's a pity you didn't call the coroner at once," Dr. Lane is my family physician. Winslow spoke with some asperity. "I naturally thought of him first. Did you call the coroner?"

"No," Dr. McLane called to him on the telephone. Payne drew the door behind him while still speaking. "Why don't you see the doctor? He'll advise you about the technicalities of the case"

Winslow continued to stare blankly at the front door for several seconds after the undertaker's departure, then he turned heavily and walked over to the small telephone stand

"Oh, Dad," Jack hailed his appearance with a note of relief in his low-pitched voice. "Coroner Penfield wishes to see you"

Winslow advanced with outstretched hand. "I am glad you're here," he said. "I wish that I had kept my wits about me and telephoned for you immediately"

The coroner nodded. "It would have been best," he responded dryly, and his air clearly indicated disapproval. "Your son tells me that you found Dr. Kane here. The body should not have been removed; I cannot understand why McLane permitted it"

"He wasn't here then," explained Winslow. "We were on our way to the hospital when I thought clearly, and my idea was to see poor Kane indoors and resuscitate him. He paused and glanced in awe at the upper window. "Kane must have died instantly when he struck the ground"

Penfield measured the distance from the window to the ground with his eye, then bowed his head. "A fall from there might break any body's neck," he agreed. "But such speculation is idle. Where is the body now?"

PARIS DEPUTIES VOTE BY ELECTRICITY

PARIS (INS)—Voting by electricity is the latest introduction in the Chamber of Deputies here. This follows a long series of verbal combats staged after each voting session in the Chamber, when numerous deputies changed their minds and voting tickets before during and after casting their ballots

This was discovered to waste so much valuable time that the price of an intricate new-fangled electrical machine could better be afforded. Reactionary members of the Chamber protest against the installation of this representation of the machine

Commission Refuses To Return Check Of Contractor For $1,000... The city Commissioners, in regular session Tuesday night, refused to return to Meyer and Suppler, Sweetwater contractors, a "good faith" check in the amount of $1,000

The check was attached to a bid for construction of two reservoirs for the water system, with a total capacity of 1,215,000 gallons

On July 22 the contract for the work was awarded to the Sweetwater firm on a bid which was approximately $2,800 lower than the nearest low one

At that time the representative of the firm was asked if an error had been made in estimates, but he declared the bid was correct it is reported

Later it was discovered an error had been made and when time for signing the contract had expired the work was given to the next lowest bidder, an Amarillo construction firm

A written request for the return of the check was not allowed by the commissioners

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Why is it that poets like Milton and statesmen like Washington are not loved as Burns and Lincoln are loved? If love is based on esteem which is more deserving of it than such great men as the two first named?

It may be true that the rank and file have a sympathetic relation to Burns which they do not have to Milton, and to Lincoln which they do not have to Washington. Affection is kindled by that fellow feeling which makes men and women won-derously kind. Their likes and dislikes often spring from intuition rather than from reason.

These preferences prevail in literature and in statesmanship. Milton was a magnificent intellectual aristocrat, austere and remote from the multitude. Burns sang the inmost heart of the people as a whole. Similarly Charles Lamb, who was inferior as a writer to either Steele or Addison, is generally preferred to them because of his sheer humanness.

Washington was by birth a Colonial gentleman, an eighteenth century Virginian squire and landowner, conservative by nature and disinclined to radical action until circumstances forced it upon him. Lincoln was a western frontiersman, reared amid primitive conditions of the great migration into Kentucky and the prairie states of the Mississippi Valley. He brought to the jaded discussions of our national problems a freshness, originality and power of lucid statement directly derived from his contact with the experiences of the vigorous democracy of the plains.

These facts combined with Lincoln's tender and inclusive magnanimity, account for his hold on the popular mind. But, though the passion may be more restrained, Washington is not less loved than Lincoln and Lincoln also shared with Washington a certain grandeur of personality which cannot be defined. The distinction you draw between them is by no means as clear as that existing between Milton and Burns.

Raleigh, N. C.
Do you not think Francis Asbury should have a place in the Hall of Fame established at New York University?

I do. He was in realistic and far-reaching senses one of the markers of our republic, a saint married solely to the church, who became the prophet of God in our frontier wilderness. It is more than probable that Abraham Lincoln's mother, Nancy Hanks, heard him in her youth. Adams and Jefferson must have known him, and Andrew Jackson have seen in him a flaming soul as unconquerable as his own.

He became the first American bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in the colonies and the young republic. He helped to found our nation upon that reasonable faith in God from which its citizens derive their reverence for truth and justice and their love for freedom and equality. When, on April 30, 1789, Washington was inaugurated as our first president, Bishop Asbury sent him the first congratulatory address presented by any religious body in the newly born United States.

President Coolidge in paying the bishop a noble and deserved tribute, said: "The government of a country never gets ahead of its religion. There is no way in which we can substitute the authority of law for the virtue of man. Peace, justice, humanity, charity—these cannot be translated into being. They are the result of a divine grace."

Quite true, and if we honored those who are most worthy of our emulation Francis Asbury would have a prominent place in the Hall of Fame and in all American hearts.

Fort Wayne, Ind.
The Roman Catholic church

teaches there are saints in heaven who are intercessors and mediators between man and God. We are taught in the Bible that there will be a general resurrection and a day of judgment. How comes it that saints are in heaven and so seemingly have anticipated the general resurrection?

The idea that resurrection and judgment are wholly in the future should be re-examined in the light of New Testament teaching. For instance, many Christians believe that the restoration of the soul to its former body takes place at the resurrection. Yet this belief is nowhere taught in the New Testament and it is utterly opposed to all we know concerning the body after death.

Again, the general judgment is conceived as a great assize, a magisterial court of justice in which all souls must appear. This is an affective symbol of the process of divine justice. But as a matter of knowledge God judges us and we judge ourselves moment by moment, conscience itself accusing or sustaining us in our daily behavior.

How is there nothing to prevent the belief that saints are already resident in heaven. If they are, do you not suppose they are deeply interested in their friends left on earth? I address my personal applications directly to God in the name of Christ. But I see no reason why we may not continue with our departed ones, and no reason why they may not pray for us.

No saints in heaven now? Where do you think St. Paul, St. John, St. Peter and all the illustrious band of the faithful and the good are located?

with the stream never ending until they roll themselves against the judgement bar of God, will rear a mountain of ruined lives that will send back a horrible and dismal echo. "God's great judgement day will be a mighty echo of all the other days that have burned themselves out, and eternity itself will be a mighty echo of time. Only as in the natural world, sometimes the echo will be returned octaves upon octave higher, and sometimes octave upon octave lower than at the first."

Preceding the sermon Rev. Paul Campbell drew a chalk picture illustrating the hymn "Shall We Gather at the River?" The picture was five feet long and three feet high and was completed in a brief time of four minutes. The messages which Rev. Mr. Campbell has been bringing in picture from night to night has been the cause of much favorable comment. As he draws his pictures he keeps up a rapid flow of speech explaining the spiritual meaning of the various phases of his drawing.

Additions To Congregation Follow Talks

Following a message by Rev. D. R. Lindley, pastor- evangelist, at the First Christian church last night, the church again received several new members into its ranks. Interest continued to run high as there were only a very few available seats untaken in the church auditorium.

The subject of the evangelist's message last night was "The Echoes." Using as his text the words of Ezekiel "The sounding again of the mountains," he said: "There is a law of the echo in the spiritual world just as in the natural world. The law of the echo in the spiritual world is stated by Paul in his letter to the Galatians: Be not deceived; God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap. We see the law of the echo working among us every day. The lives of the parents find their echo in the character of the children. One beastly life debases a dozen others, which in turn will debase others,

NEW ENGLAND HOBO RETURNS TO OLD HAUNTS The hobo is with New England again. It required the old-time policeman to recall the fact that the wanderer was nothing new. The new policeman couldn't quite make it out when husky men asked for a lodging for the night in various station houses throughout the state of Connecticut.

Roads Fight Lower Rates WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—A petition asking the Interstate Commerce Commission to reconsider its recent decision granting a general reduction in freight rates on grain and grain products in the West and for export was filed today by Western railroads. The petition, filed by all western carriers, asserted that the decision required rates which would substantially reduce revenue "in the face of a general rate level which at present is and for years past has been insufficient to provide a fair return."

Ransdell And Blease Lose

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10. (AP)—The majority of Gov. Huey P. Long over Sen. Joseph E. Ransdell for the Democratic nomination for the United States senate continued to mount today as belated returns came in.

On returns from all precincts except 144 scattered over the state, the governor led the senator by 31,838, the vote standing Long 141,262, Ransdell 106,624.

(By The Associated Press) Sen. Joseph E. Ransdell lost in Louisiana and Sen. Cole L. Blease apparently did likewise in South Carolina in the primaries held yesterday in eight states. Michigan Republicans chose to return James Couzens to the senate seat he has held since 1922.

The Democratic nominations amount to election in the two southern states. Gov. Huey P. Long won from Ransdell, and James F. Byrnes held a commanding lead over Blease with some returns from outlying districts lacking.

The only other senatorship involved in yesterday's balloting was in Colorado and New Hampshire. Henry W. Keyes was unopposed for the Republican nomination which means election in the latter state.

Results from two thirds of the precincts in Colorado indicated George H. Shaw had won from William V. Hodges the contest for Republican nomination to the senate being given up by Lawrence C. Phipps. Edward P. Costigan at the same time led the race for Democratic nomination.

Decision On Julian Plea Is Awaited

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 10. (AP)—A generous stream of oil continued to flow through the single menacing leak in the Midcontinent's conservation structure while justices of the Oklahoma supreme court pondered what their ruling will be in a case attacking the state's right to compel production—the mutual agreement of producers not to produce.

Arguments pro and con were laid before the court yesterday by attorneys for the state and for C. Julian Oil and Royalties company. The Julian concern, which only recently entered the Oklahoma City market from the Pacific coast, sought to have made permanent a temporary writ of prohibition obtained two weeks ago, preventing the state corporation commission from interfering with the company's new found fusers.

Pending a formal ruling, the temporary writ remains in force. The court decided when its decision will be reached was not indicated. Julian, who contends prohibition is price fixing, out of the domain of the commission's authority to prevent waste, produced his wells "on the line" today while protesting operators on nearby leases waited and wondered apprehensively.

How serious the matter is regarded was pointed out at yesterday's hearing by a conservation authority. C. B. Ames, Texas company counsel, who assisted the state's attorney general in pleading for "immediate dissolution of the company's writ. Ames said that if the commission's right to enforce prohibition order was found invalid, the ruling would wreck the entire production program in the United States, which Oklahoma inaugurated.

At the same time, he said, the flood of oil resulting from wide open production here and in other pools would destroy the already hazy crude market.

The argument that the commission is exceeding its authority in issuing and enforcing prohibition order came from John Head, Julian counsel in chief. Head went even further and charged the Oklahoma conservation act is unconstitutional. He said the commission "has no right to tell me how I shall handle my private property or how much I shall get for it."

SARAZAN WINS FLUSHING, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—Gene Sarazan led the parade into the third round of the P. G. A. championship, today by defeating Bob Crowley, Haverhill, Mass., seven up and six to play.

Sutter Defeats Berkeley Bell

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10. (AP)—Bill Tilden entered the quarter final round in defense of his national tennis championship today by administering an artistic straight set trimming to the biggest player in the world, six foot, seven inch Lyttleton Rogers of Ireland, 6-4, 6-1, 6-2.

Samuel Gilpin, of Philadelphia, conqueror of Bryan Grant of Atlanta yesterday, proved easy for Sidney Wood, New York's latest tennis sensation, who won by scores of 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

Johnny Doeg disposed of the leading English contender, Harold G. Lee, the Scots Monica, California, winning by scores of 8-6, 6-1, 6-4, on an outside court. The last of the foreign contenders went out of the tournament at the hands of Gregory Mangin. The curly-haired Newerik, N. J. boy, defeated John Olliff of England, 6-3, 6-3, 10-8.

In a great match whose outcome was in doubt until the final stroke, Berkeley Bell, the fighting Texan, who conquered Jean Borotra of France in the first round, was defeated by Clifford Sutter of New Orleans, 7-9, 6-4, 6-1, 2-6, 8-6.

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 10 (AP)—Young America stood over England in the first of four international matches on the fourth day program of the national tennis championship this afternoon. Johnny Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., defeating Fredrick Perry, hard driving English victory, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1. The victory carried Van Ryn into the quarter-final round.

Texas Points Are Drenched

BASTROP, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—Drenching rains last night and this morning stopped a forest fire in the pine woods east of here that had been going for two days and which had baffled efforts of fire fighters. The fire had burned over an area of a half-mile before the rainfall. No estimate of the damage caused by the fire had been made today. Workmen were hampered in battling the blaze by inadequate equipment.

SAN MARCOS, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—The drought was broken in this area by a 1.68 inch rain last night and today. The ranches were particularly in need of rainfall.

LOCKHART, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—Three inches of rain, the heaviest this year, fell here yesterday.

OLNEY, Texas, Sept. 10. (AP)—An inch and a half of rain fell in this 15,000 catfish.
